Negagri, neque vrbis odium me vnq percipit, I am neuer throughe weerie, neyther of byng in the countreie, nor in the citee.

Percipere vsum alicuius rei, to vse a thyng.

Percipere opinionem, to conceyue of haue an opinion of a thyng.

Diligenter quæ dicuntur percipere, to heare and vnderstande diligently what one doeth saie.

Percipere artem, disciplinas, doctrinam, To learne, to perceyue, to vnderstande.

Acerbissimos dolores percipere, To take of haue great sorowe and trouble.

Fructum ex arbore percipere, to haue, gather, of take fruite of a tree.

Memoria percipere, To comprehend in the memorye.

Nomina omnium ciuium percipere, to comprehend and retegne in memorye all the ciues sens names.

Oculis percipere, to see perfectly.

Percipere voluptatem, iucunditatem, Leticiam, &c. to take pleasure. &c.

Perclam, betate ppiuply.

Perclamo, aui, are, to crye out.

Perceptio, ónis, f. g. a taking, retepyng, a percepyng of vnderstandyng.

Perceptio animi, knowlage, intelligence, when the mynde comprehendeth of compaseth a thyng.

Perceptio fructuum, the taking of the profite of frutes.

Percnos, ni, maf. ge. the birde, whiche wee call a baldbuffard.

Percitus, a, um, stirred, greatly moued of bered.

Ira percitus, & atra bili percitus, verate angry, wood angry.

Percitus infania, madde.

Percoarcto, aui, are, to byng into a litle romme, to streigne verate hard together.

Percoctus, a, um, wel boiled, throughe boiled.

Percognosco, noui, scere, to knowe throughe and perfectly.

Percolo, lui, lere, to worzthp muche, to loue and reuerence greatly, to make perfecte, to trymme by, to polyphe, to synpse.

Percolo, aui, are, to straine throughe.

Percomis, me, verate gentyll and gracious.

Percommode, verate well, ryght well, verate easly.

Percommode facis, Thou doest wonderfull well.

Percommode accidit, it hath chaunced ryght well.

Percommodus, a, um, verate good, verate easly of handsome.

Perconditus, a, um, obscure, hydde.

Percontatio, ónis, f. g. an inquiryng of seard thyng, an askyng of demaundyng.

Percontator, áris, m. gen. one that requirerh of asketh many questions.

Percontor, áris, ari, to searche busily, to inquire, to demaunde diligently. Somtyme for Expectare, to abyde and loke for.

Percontatum ibo ad portum, quo ad se recipiat, I wyl go and tarpe for hym at the haven tpe he come: of I wyl go know and inquire at the haven, when he wyl returne.

Percontari aliquid aliquem, to aske of inquire a thyng of one.

Percontari de, ex, ab aliquo, idem.

Percontumax, ácis, om. g. verate stubburne.

Percopiosus, a, um, verate copious, abundant, plentyfull.

Percoquo, percoxi, coquere, to seethe of boyle throughe, to concoct perfectly, to make those roughly rype.

Terra dicitur percoquere messem, dum ad maturitatem fouet.

Sol percoquit fructus, the sunne ripeth fruit.

Percofius, a, soothsaier, whiche fauoured the Croianes.

Percofius, a, um, that dwelleth in the citee Percofote.

Percote,

Percote, a titee of the countreie of Croas.
 Percresco, bui, scere, to bee publyshed of so wen abode in all places, to be commonly kno wen and talked of abode.
 Percubierat antiquitus, the brytte was in olde tyme.
 Quum fama per orbem terrarum percubuit fer, whā the bzate of fame was sowne thozough out all the worlde.
 Percupo, pui, are, to make a great noyse.
 Percresco, ui, scere, to increase euen to the ende.
 Percutio, aui, are, to tourment greatly.
 Percutus, a, um, beate rawe, nothng epte.
 Percudo, di, dere, to bzeake in peeces.
 Percussus, a, um, striken, ouerthzowen, soze a bashed or astonied.
 Percussio, onis, an inquiryng or demādyng.
 Percussor, aris, ari, to enquire, to demaunde diligently.
 Percupidus, a, um, beate despyous.
 Percupio, percupis, cupiui, ere, to desire gretly.
 Percuriosus, a, um, very curious, very piket.
 Percuro, aui, are, to cure of heale perfectly.
 Percurato vulnere, Whā the wounde was throughly and perfectly made whole.
 Percuro, curri, oz cucurri, ere, to renne apate, to renne stytle and neuer reste, to renne euery foote, to passe of renne ouer a thyng quickly, to recite a thyng bzeafely of roundely, to tell of reade a thyng quickly oz apate.
 Curriculo percurrere, to renne euery foote a great pace.
 Percurram breui, I wyl renne ouer, oz recite
 it bzeafely.
 Per omnes ciuitates percurrit oratio mea, id
 est, recenset omnes ciuitates.
 Percurrere animo, to vnderstande, know, oz percepe perfectly.
 Ad te properans percurro ad forum, I ran to you euery foote, to the common place with all speede possible.
 Percurritur, the impersonall.
 Percurrere mensas, to bee mushe bled, oz a commune seruite at the table.
 Percursatio, onis, f. g. a rennyng ouer in haste.
 Percursio, onis, a quick vnderstandyng of thyng ges, I bzeife reherseyng of thynges.
 Percursio, aui, are, to ouer renne often.
 Percursus, a, um, ouerrenne, passed thzough, quickly recyted oz tolde.
 Percursum animo, perfectly knowen.
 Percussio, onis, f. g. a stryhyng, an hyspyng.
 Percussor, onis, m. gen. a murderer, he that is hypped to hyl men.
 Percussus, us, m. g. a stryhyng, a beatyng.
 Percussus, a, um, stryhen, beaten, hytte, striken with lghenyng.
 Percussus forma aliqua, coyned, that hath any fourme prynced in it.
 Percutio, percus, cussi, cutere, to stryke oz smite, to hytte.

Per cutere fores, to knoeke at the dore.
 Percussit animum, it bzeake his herte, it strake hym to the herte, it made hym suspect, oz put hym in a fantasie.
 Percuti sydere, to be taken, oz haue the bles of his membris taken from hym, to bee stryken with a planet.
 Percussæ de celo turres, the towres beaten
 downe with thunder.
 Percutere fœdus, to make a league of alpanne, one pynce with an other, oz one countrey of tee with an other.
 Percutere fossam, to dygge a dyche of french.
 Fulmine percus, thou flatterest me.
 Palpo me percus, thou flatterest me.
 Litteris atrocissimis percus, to be soze tress bled oz abashed with letters that byng verie heauie tydynges. Whā haue verie heauy tydyng ges brought to hym in letters sodainly.
 Perdecorus, a, um, beate comely and honest.
 Perdensus, a, um, verie thycke.
 Perdespuo, spui, spucere, to moche, contemne, to detest greatly.
 Perdica, a part and a pozte of Apta.
 Perdicas, a noble man of Spacbonie.
 Perdicium, cij, neu. g. an herbe called pellytole of the wall. reade Helxine, & Paricaria.
 Perdifficilis, le, verie difficile and harde.
 Perdifficiliter, very difficultly.
 Perdignus, a, um, very worthy, right worthy.
 Perdilgens, entis, beate diligent.
 Perdilgenter, tyghly diligently.
 Perdisco, didici, scere, to learne perfectly, to learne to the ende.
 Perditæ, extremely, corruptly, desperately, wret chedly, greatly, bechmently.
 Se perditæ gerere, to bechaue hym selfe naught tily and corruptly.
 Perditæ amare, to loue desperately oz out of measure.
 Perditæ conari, to endeuour beate earnestly and spitefully.
 Perditio, onis, perdition.
 Perditor, onis, m. g. one that destroueth oz bryn geth to naught.
 Perditor & conseruator reipublicæ, contrary.
 Perditus, a, um, losse, perished, without recou erie, out of hope, bitterly vndooren and cast away, desperately naught.
 Perditus homo, a mischeuous and desperate knaue, in whom is no hope of recouerie.
 Aere alieno perditus, vndooren with debte.
 Perditus nihil est, There is no man in the worlde moze desperately naught than he is.
 Tu rem impediam & perditam restituas.
 Canst thou restoze a thyng intricate and past hope of recouerie?
 Perdita valetudo, suche sykenesse that a man dyspaiteth of his helthe.
 Perdiu, beate long.
 Perdiues, perdiuitis, beate ryche.

Perdiu,

Perdiu, dii, m. ge. that abydeyth oz watcheth all the daie long.
 Perdis, icis, f. g. a partyche.
 Perdis rustica, a tale, which is counted a kind of partyches. Perdis is also the name of a lame bitaller in Aristophane.
 Perdis, didi, ere, to lose, to lesa, to corrupt with all maners, and (as wee saie) to stroye, to marre, to caste away, to make vnythpyfy, also to afflicte, to vndoore, to byng into muche wo and trouble.
 Perdis gnatum, pe lese pour sonne, and make hym an vnythpyte.
 An id laudi sibi fore putat, si perdidit gna tum? If he byng his sonne to confusion?
 Cur perdis adolescentem nobis? why doost thou marre corrupte oz caste awaie this yonge man our sonne?
 Perdere aliquem, to byng one in dangier of his lyfe, oz in so muche trouble that he can not escape it.
 Vbi illic est scelus, qui me perdidit? where is that vngacious knaue, that hath vndooren me?
 oz brought me into all this trouble?
 Quem ego capitis perdam, whom I wyl lesa oz hylle.
 Aquam perdere, pzouerbially to spend tyme,
 to lose tyme in vayne.
 Licem perdere, to lose his pzoesse oz suite.
 Famam perdere, to lose his fame oz name.
 Fidem perdere, to lose his credence.
 Formam perdere, to be no moze so well fa uoured as he hath been.
 Gratiam perdere, to haue no moze that grace that it was wonte.
 Nomen perdidit, I haue fozgotten his name.
 Oculos perdere, to lose his syght.
 Operam perdere apud aliquem doctorem, to lose his laboz vnder one that techeth hym.
 Operam & oleum perdere, to labour in vayne to lose his labour and coste.
 Nisi id verbum in omne tempus perdidissem,
 If I had not lost and fozgone that worde foz euer and a daie.
 Mores perdere, to chaunge his maners.
 Libertatem perdere, to be brought into seru
 tude and bondage.
 Prandium perdere, to lose his dincr.
 Stomachum perdere, to be in that case, that he can be no moze moued to anger.
 Perdere verba, to lose his speache.
 Perdoceo, perdoces, docui, docere, to teache oz enstruete perfectly.
 Perdocto, very connyngly.
 Perdoctus, a, um, verie connyng.
 Perdoleo, perdoles, dolui, lere, to be beate soze.
 Perdomitus, a, um, made beate tame, bitterly subdued, brought into full and due obeplance.
 Perdomo, mui, are, to make verie tame, to sub due bitterly.

Prouinciam aliquam perdomare, To byng a prouince oz countrey in subiection oz due obe dience.
 Terram perdomare, to tyll grounde that is rough, tough, and stubburne.
 Perdormisco, scere, to slepe a full slepe, to slepe all nyght longe euen to the moynyng.
 Perduco, duxi, ere, to byng to an ende, to byng oz leade by force oz other meanes. Sometyme to induce oz perswade.
 Ad centesimum annum vitam perduxit, he lia ued full an hundreth yeres.
 Perducere ad exitum, culmen, vel summum, to finishe, to make perfect, to byng to an end.
 Perduxit omnes in suam sententiam, he indu ced oz brought them all into his opinion.
 Ad mendacium perducit, to be perswaded oz induced to make a lye.
 Rogat, vt eas ad ducenta talenta perduce rem, he pzieth me that I wouide induce oz byng them to paie. 24000. li.
 In odium perducere, to make one hated oz odypouse.
 Oppugnatio ad media noctem perducta est,
 the assaue was continued till mpyndnight.
 Ni altercationem in serum perduxisset, pf he had not prolonged the alteration till it was longe in the nyght.
 Murum in sexdecim pedum altitudinem per ducere, to reple oz make by a walle. xvi. foote hygh.
 Perducere ad aliud iudicium, to byng befoze
 othet iudges.
 Nequis perducit, thou canste not bee perswa
 ded oz induced.
 Perducto, aui, are, the frequetatiue of Perduco.
 Perductor, onis, m. ge. he that byngeth one to a man agaynst his wyl, a baude that byngeth women to men whether they wyl oz no.
 Perductus, a, um, ledde oz brought thzough, oz to an ende, also induced.
 Perduellio, onis, m. g. treason agaynst the byng oz the countrey, also a traytour.
 Perduellis, lis, m. gen. an ennemie, a stubburne ennemie that maintenyeth warre.
 Perduro, aui, are, to continue thzoughly oz to
 the ende.
 Perduratus, a, um, hardned, strengthened, con firmed.
 Percedo, peres, oz peredis, peredi, peresse, vel dere, to cate all, to cate thzough.
 Peredia, and Biberia, Plautus vsed foz a gredie appetyte to cate oz dyntie.
 Peregre, out of a mans pzoptye countrey.
 Peregre vado, I goe out of the countrey oz on ppygreimage, oz into a strange countrey.
 Peregre venio, I come out of strange couns treys, oz from ppygreimage.
 Peregre sum, I am farre out of my countrey.
 Peregrinabundus, a, um, that is wont to go oz dwell in straunge countreys.

Fff

Pere-

Peregrinatio, ónis, f. ge. pplgremage, goynge in to straunge countreies.
Peregrinator, óris, m. ge. he that is wont to go into straunge countreies, a pplgrime.
Peregrinitas, áris, f. m. g. straungenesse, beyng in a straunge countreie, also straungenesse of pronounciation that sheweth one to be of an oþer countreie.
Peregrinor, áris, ari, to go into straunge countreies, oþer pplgremage, to dwell oþer bee in a straunge countreie.
Vestra aures peregrinantur, your eares bee on pplgremage, oþer you set so litle by the matters of the citee, that you heare not that whith the euery man speaketh.
Longe lately peregrinari, to go far abroade in diuers straunge countreies.
Peregrinus, a, um, a stranger oþer alian, that is of an other countrey, straunge.
Facies peregrina, a straunge fauour.
Perelegans, ántis, om. ge. verate elegant, verge pteate, that hath a great grace.
Pereleganter, with a great grace.
Perelequens, éntis, om. g. verate eloquent.
Peremptalia, among Augures, wer those lightnynges, whiche dyd vterly destroy and putte away the signification of other lightnynges and tokens proceeding.
Peremptorius, a, um, that killeth, deadly.
Peremptorium edictum, a preemptorie warning geuen to him that maketh default of appaance, after the whiche he shall neuer haue any daye geuen hym, but the iudge shall procede to the knowledge and determination of the matter.
Peremptus, a, um, slayne, kyled.
Perendie, the daie nexte after to morowe, the thirde daie after.
Perendinus dies, idem.
Perendinus, a, um, belonging to the thirde daie.
Perenne, f. oþer euer, alwaies, perpetually, continually.
Perennia, órum, n. ge. certaine ceremonies obserued of the diuinours.
Perennis, ne, om. gen. perpetuall, euer durynge, continually.
Perennis fluuius, a riuer that renneth alwaies, fluewye, Perennis riuus, & perennis fons.
Studium perenne, continually studie.
Perenniferuus, ui, ma. gen. he that feruently one maister alwaies.
Perennitas, áris, f. g. continuance, long abiding.
Pereno, aui, are, to dure oþer continue f. oþer euer.
Pereo, iui, and perij, ire, peritum, to be lost oþer consumed, also to die, to perishe, to wyther awaie, to miscarie, to be caste awaie, to be vterly vndone.
Perire ab aliquo, to be slayne by one.
Perierunt ades, the house is down oþer in ruine.
Perire illi pudor, he is not ashamed, he is past shame. Nullus otio perit dies, no daie is lost with idleness, oþer he passeth no daie idly.

Tua arte viginti minæ pro psalua perire, by thy craft I haue caste awaie. ff. li. vpon the spynge wenche.
Ne pueri periant fame, that the children be not f. oþer hunger.
Quod si fit, pereo funditus, if it be so, I am vterly vndoen.
Perire morbo, to die of a sickness.
Peream, I woulde I shoulde die than.
Perit ab animo, his courage faileth hym.
Perire mulierem, to die f. oþer the loue of a woman, to loue a woman desperately.
Prudens, sciens, viuus, videlicet pereo, I am wylfully taste awaie.
Perij, aui, aui, I am caste awaie oþer vndoen.
Ne illi nihil profis, & tu pereas, lest thou doo hym no good, and cast awaie thy selfe.
Male pereat, a mischance take hym.
Perij animo, aui, aui, my heart is dooen.
Crudelius perire, to be more cruelly slayne.
Fortiter perire, to die manfully.
Periquiro, aui, are, to ryde rounde about oþer euery parte.
Periratus, a, um, that hath been wandryed oþer one ouer.
Perro, aui, are, to go oþer ryde about, to wandre ouer and ouer.
Luminibus pererrare aliquem, to loke rounde about one.
Pererrudius, a, um, verie counnyng, ryght well learned.
Perexerucio, aui, are, to torment one greatly.
Perexiguus, a, um, verie little oþer small.
Perexiguum tempus, a verie thorte tyme.
Perexilis, le, verie slender oþer small.
Perexpeditus, a, um, verie prompt oþer ready.
Perfabrico, aui, are, to make an end of building.
Perfacet, verie pteat oþer ready.
Perfacetus, a, um, verie pleasant.
Perfacile, verie easly, verie lighty.
Perfacilis, le, verie easie.
Perfacul, the aunciente wyters used f. oþer Facile, lyghtly.
Perfamiliaris, re, verie familiar, of verie great acquaintance.
Perfecte, perfectly.
Perfctissimatus, tus, masc. gen. a high dignitee oþer office.
Perfectio, ónis, f. ge. perfection, fully dispat thyng oþer finyng of a matter.
Perfeitor, óris, m. ge. he that bynyngeth a thyng to passe oþer to appoynte.
Perfectus, a, um, perfect, accomplished, obtained.
Perfero, peruli, ferre, to beare oþer suffer to the ende f. oþer throughly, to bynge in conclusion.
Allo to bynge oþer tell thynges, to endure oþer abide patiently.
Opem perferre, to apde.
Litteras perferre, to bynge letters to hym, to whom they were sent.
Clamor per totam concionem fertur, there was was a great thout of reuer all the concion oþer assemble.

Laudem in urbem perferre, to cause his citee oþer countrey to haue the pte of commendatis on of a thyng, oþer to dooe a thyng to the honoꝝ and praise of his countrey.
Legem perferre, to make a lawe.
Mandata perferre, to beate a message.
Nuntium perferre, to beate thynges.
Omnia nuntijs perfertur, euery m. a telleth, oþer euery man bynyngeth that thynges.
Rumor hoc pertulit nobis, we hearde this by the rumoꝝ and speaking of the people.
Patri omnem rem illuc perferat, leat hym go thither to my father, and tell hym the whole matter.
Deficere animo, & perferre, contraty.
Perferre famem ac sitim, to suffer, sustine oþer abide hunger and thysse.
Perferre crudelitatem, cruciatum, frigus, vigilias, dolorem, &c. to suffer, to abyde, to endure, &c.
Supplicium pro meritis perferre, to be punysshed f. oþer his offences.
Perferre rogationem, to declare the matter to the people and aske thepp opinion.
Perferre fructum, to beate fruite.
Cum ad eum fama perlata esset, whan he herde that rumoꝝ.
Perferuidus, a, um, veray hotte.
Perficio, perficis, feci, ficere, to accomplish, to bynge to appoynte, to obtaine, to bynge to passe oþer effecte, to atchieue his purpose.
Cibum perficere, to concocte by digest meate.
Promissa perficere, to accomplish and perfourme promyses.
Quam rem voluisti a me, quin perfeceris! What thyng dyd you euer require of me, but that you had your purpose? What thyng haue you euer wylled me to doo, but that you haue had your mynde, oþer but that you haue brought it to passe oþer effecte?
Perfecit sibi ut inspiciundi esset copia, he dyd so much, that he had licence to beholde it.
Pelles perficere, to dysse selles and make les ther of thepp.
Perfidus, le, verate faithfull and trustie.
Perfidia, e, f. ge. falschode agaynst promise oþer truste, disloyalte, vntreuth, vnfaithfulness, treason, trecherie.
Perfidiose, disloyally, trapterously, falsely, vnfaithfully.
Perfidiosus, a, um, ful of disloyalte, ful of falses hode and vntreuth, traiterous and falle.
Perfido, to haue a great confidence.
Perfidus, a, um, falle of promise, that dooeth any thyng agaynst the trust that is put in hym, disloyal, trapterouse.
Vappa perfida, venemous.
Perfixus, a, um, perced, stricken through, thrust through, stricken through.

Perforabilis, le, that may be blowne through.
Perforatus, us, m. g. a great blaste of wynde.
Perfuso, aui, are, to blowe vehemently oþer strongly, to blowe through.
Perfluctuo, aui, are, to flowe oþer ren ouer muche.
Perfluo, fluxi, ere, to renne out as water dooeth out of a broken vessel, to renne out on euery parte, to leake on euery syde.
Plenus rimarum sum, hac atque illac perfluo, I am full of chappes oþer holes, and tenne out oþer leake at this place & that place on euery syde.
Perfluere voluptatibus, to swymme in sensus altee, to lye all at pleasure.
Perfluere, sometime f. oþer fluere.
Perfodio, perfodis, fodi, dere, to boze oþer perce through, to strep through, to dygge through oþer to the bottoome oþer deppth of any thyng.
Perfodere parietem, to bzeake a walle, to make an hole through a walle.
Perfodere montem, to make a way oþer passage through a mountayne oþer hill.
Perfodi gladijs, to be stricken oþer gozed in with swordes.
Perfodere terram, to dygge deepe in the grounde.
Perforata, an herbe, called also of Diosc. Hipericon, vel herba S. Ioannis.
Perforatus, a, um, bozed oþer perced through, that hath an hole made through.
Perfore, to come well to passe.
Performidatus, a, um, greatly feared.
Performo, aui, are, to faction out a thyng.
Perforo, aui, are, to perce oþer to make an hole through, to boze through.
Perfortiter, myghtly, veray manfully, ryght verayly.
Perforatus, a, um, perced through, stricken oþer digged through.
Perfract, oþer after the better copies, Præfract, stubburnely, obstinately.
Perfractus, a, um, broken in pieces.
Perfremo, fremui, ere, to make a great grunynge oþer roynge.
Perfretio, aui, are, to passe ouer oþer through.
Perfrictio, ónis, f. ge. a rubbing oþer frotynge harde.
Perfrico, fricui, are, to rub muche, to rub harde.
Perfricant sale minuto, they pouder it with a litle salt.
Perfricit faciem aut frontem, aut os, is a prouerbe, as much to saie, as he hath laped a parte of him, oþer he is shamelesse, oþer without abashment.
Perfricta frontis, without shame oþer honestie.
Perfrigefacio, feci, facere, to make very colde.
Perfrigeo, frigens, frigi, gere, to be greatly oþer throughly a colde.
Perfrigerio, aui, are, idem quod Refrigero.
Perfrigefco, scere, to waxe veray colde.
Perfrigidus, a, um, veray colde, through colde.
Perfringo, frégi, gere, to bzeake in pieces.

Ne perfrigerit aliquid, least he haue broken any thyng.
 Perfrutor, perfruitus sum, perfrui, to take all the profite of commodities, to take great pleasure of recreation in any thyng.
 Perfruitus est, he hath taken the fruite of pleasure of a thyng, he hath used of exercised a thyng, or els hath left the vse of exercise therof.
 Perfuga, a, m. ge. he that fleeth to the contrary part in battaile, or that forsaketh his capitaine.
 Perfugio, perfugis, fugi, etc, to renne vnto one for succour.
 Perfugium, n, g. a place, wherunto a man renneth to haue succour, or to be kept from daunger. It is also taken for any thyng, whereby a man may be succoured, a place of refuge. also a sanctuarie.
 Perfugium & spes, refuge and hope.
 Laborum omnium perfugium somnus est, slepe is the reste and quiete of all labours.
 Portus & perfugium miseræ fortunæ, a place of refuge in aduersitee and trouble.
 Vti perfugio, to saue hym selfe in a place.
 Illo perfugio vti possit, he maie vse this excuse.
 Perfusio, ciui, ire, to stay or holde vp well.
 Perfunctio, onis, f. g. a doynge of exercising of a thyng euen to the ende.
 Perfunctio laborum, indurynge of labour and trauaile euen to the ende.
 Perfunctorie, passynge ouer lightly, negligently, for a facio only, to be quited or dispatched of it.
 Perfunctorie munus suum implere, to do his dutie, or that is committed to his charge, negligently, and only for a facio to be discharged.
 Perfunctus, a, um, that which passeth lightly away, or tarteth not longe. That is done negligently, or onely for a facio.
 Perfunctus, a, um, he that hath done his dutie of office diligently, also dispatched, deliuered.
 Perfunctus consulatui, he that hath ben consul.
 Perfunctus honoribus, he that hath bene in great office and authoritee in the comon weale.
 Perfunctus fato, deade.
 Perfunctus laboribus, he that hath endured labour euen to the ende, that hath dooen his labours, deliuered of his labours.
 Perfunctus a feбри, deliuered of a feuer, whole of the feuer.
 Perfundo, fudi, dēre, to poure out, droppe out, or fil out, to poure out on euery parte, to wat all about, altowasthe, altothed vpon, to poure vpon all ouer and ouer.
 Perfunditque genas lachrymis, the teares dropped downe on his chiekes.
 Perfundere animum religione, to make scrupulous of religion.
 Perfundere animos suauitate, to delite mens myndes verp pleasauntly.
 Perfundere tecta auro, to gylte houses.
 Aceto quempiam perfundere, to ke Acetum.

Perfundi iucunditate, lætitiā, &c. id est repleri, to be verie iocunde and pleasaunt, to be mery. &c.
 Perfundi voluptatibus, to lye all in voluptie and pleasure.
 Perfundere aliquem iudicio, to force one to come before a iudge and make his answer.
 Qui me horror perfudit? how soe aspe was I? how dyd all my body tremble?
 Aqua feruenti perfunditur, he hath hot water cast or poured vpon hym.
 Perfundor, to be all embued.
 Perfungor, functus sum, fungi, to doo his dutie, office and charge euen to the ende.
 Perpetui & perfungi, to suffer and endure euen to the ende.
 Perfuro, perfuris, perfurere, to bee in a great furie of woodnesse, to rage extremely.
 Perfusio, onis, f. g. a shedynge vpon.
 Perfusorie, confusely, obscurely, not with sufficient declaration of the matter.
 Perfusus, a, um, altowasthed, embued.
 Perfusus cruore, all bloudie.
 Perfusus metu, soe aspe.
 Vestes perfusa ostro, dyed scarlet.
 Perga, a towne in Damphilia, wherof Diana was called Pergæa.
 Pergama, drum, the toures of Trope. It is taken also for the cite of Trope.
 Pergameus, a, um, and Pergamenus, a, um, of Trope.
 Pergamena charta, parchement.
 Pergamus, or Pergamum, the cite of Trope, the cyuer Silenus passeth through it.
 Pergadeo, gauisus sum, gaudere, to reioyce greatly, to bee verp glad.
 Pergigno, pergenui, Pergignere, idem quod Gigno.
 Pergo, petrexi, pēgere, to go, to procede, to endeuour to done a thyng, to continue as one hath begonne, to make haste, to assaie.
 Perge, go to, passe forth.
 Perge in uirum, play the man, go to lye a man, go to hardilie.
 Pergin? wylt thou not leaue? wylt thou not be gone?
 Si pergis, abiero, yf thou make any moe a do I wyl be gone.
 Quo pergam, whether I go.
 Qui hic pergit, whiche cometh hither.
 Hac pergit, go on this way.
 Obuiam pergere alicui, to go to meete with one.
 Pergam quo capi hoc iter, I wyl continue in this iourney as I haue begun. or I wyl procede in the matter that I haue begonne.
 Ad litora pergens, goeing forwarde toward the sea syde.
 Perge porro dicere, tell on thy tale, goe to tell vs.
 Eadem via pergere, quo ceteri, to procede or go on the same way that other doo.
 Tene

Tenere viam quam instituiti perge, goe to, kepe on the waie that thou haste begonne.
 Perge ad cetera, goe to, tell on the residue that is behynde.
 Pergit ire ad Phaurinum, id est incipit, he begynnethe to go.
 Pergunt domos eorum, &c. they go to the houses. &c.
 Pergo praterita, I wyl leat passe and wyl not speake of those thyngs whiche are passed.
 Domum ire pergam, I wyl make haste to go home.
 Pergracilis, le, verie skilender or small.
 Pergracor, aris, ari, to be riottouse in eatynge, dunkyng, and haunting of harlottes.
 Pergrandis, de, verie great.
 Pergrandis nam, verie auncient.
 Pergraphicus, a, um, verie counnyngly made, as it were wrought with a pensell.
 Pergratus, a, um, verie acceptable, verie pleasaunt.
 Per inquam gratum feceris, you shall doe me great pleasure I saie, or ye shall doe euen as I woulde haue it.
 Pergrauis, ue, verie greuouse.
 Pergrauiter, verie greuouely.
 Pergula, a, f. g. a close or open galarie, where men bled in olde tyme to set ware to sell, or to teache. It is also the place in a shyppe, wherein men doe walke, the hatches. Also a vine rapled in the fourme of an hearber. somtyme the company of workemen obeyng to the chief workman, after Calpeine.
 Pergulanus, a, um, that resteth on a frame.
 Pergulana vitis, a vine tennyn on a frame.
 Perhibeo, perhibes, perhibui, ere, to saie, to geue, to asseure. somtyme for Exhibere, or of ferre. Nolentibus nobis se perhibet, it offeseth it selfe to vs, whether we wyl or no.
 Precium perhibere, to set a price.
 Verbera testimonium, to beate wptnesse.
 Verba perhibes, so far as I heare you say.
 Si vos vultis perhiberi probos, yf you wyl be called godd and honest men.
 Vt perhibent, as they saie.
 Suo nomine aliquem perhibere, to call one by his name.
 Porus quam cibum perhiberem, rather than I woulde geue meate.
 Alia verba perhibeas, thou wouldest saie of ther wyse.
 Honorem perhibere, to geue honour.
 Perhibendus, a, um, woorthy to be spoken of.
 Perhonorifice, verpe honourable, verie woorthy shpyfully, with great honour.
 Perhonorificus, a, um, verie honourable, that byngeth great honour and woorthyp.
 Perhorreo, perhorui, perhorre, to be soze as fearde, to make or tremble in all the body for feare.
 Perhorresco, idem.

Perhorrudus, a, um, verie horrible.
 Perhospitālis, le, that vseth great hospitalitee.
 Perhumane, & perhumaniter, ryght gently.
 Perhumānus, a, um, verie gentyll, verie humayne.
 Perhyemo, aui, are, to endure all the wynter.
 Peri, a greke preposition, signifying sometyms De, sometyms Ultra, sometyms Circum.
 Perianther, one of the vii. wysemen of Grece and kyng of Lozinthe.
 Peribocron, famousse, muche spoken of.
 Peribolus, a compass of circuite.
 Pericarpum, pi, n. g. a tynd of herbes that haue round heades lyke onyons.
 Pericles, the noble and valyaunt capitayne of the Athenienses, excellent in wytte and naturall eloquence: he was instructed in philosophie by Anaxagoras, so that thereby he attained vnto meruapulous great knowlage, noble courage and patience, in so muche that whan a lewed persone folowed hym to his house, reuylng hym all the waie: whan he was come to his doze (than beynge nyght) Pericles commanded one of his seruantes to take a torch, and bynge hym (who had rebuked hym) home to his house. Also he bynge in great estimation and authoritee among the people of Athens, wolde neuer be at any feastes or bankettynge, nor receiue of any man, any presentes or giftes, nor did go to euery assemble or counsaill, or beynge there, dyd speake of reason in euery matter, but reserued hym selfe to thynges of verie great importance. And yet seemed he than to be verie timorouse. But yet his eloquence was so excellent, his voyce and pronounciation so pleasaunt, his sentences so ponderouse and behement, that he neuer spake, but that therto all men consented. And therfore it is written of hym, that he dyd fulminate his woordes, that is to saie, that they proceeded from hym as thunders, and lychtynge. He was of such temperaunce, that all thought he seemed to haue all the Athenienses at his commaundement, yet he neuer increased his owne reuenues, the wothe of one earthyng, but augmented the comon treasure exceedingly. And such spoule as came to his parte in the warres, he dydde employe vpon grayne and vitayll, diuidynge it amonge the people in the tyme of necessitee. He was infortunate onely in his owne children, his eldest soonne Xantippus, persecutynge hym with sundry displeasures, and openly mockynge hym. Notwithstandynge (as it was reason) he dyed miserably before his father. Finally Pericles beynge syke vnto deathe, the noble men came to coumforte hym, speakynge softly they communed of his prowes, where he had victorie in nyne great battaylles. He hearyng what they spake, saied vnto them, that he muche meruapled, that they so greatly extolled that thyng, whereof the more parte perterneyed to Fff iij fo34

fortune, and had hapned to dyceus other capts capnes as well as to hym, and that they spake nothyng of that which was most to be prayd.
For neuer man, saied he (by myne occasion) had cause to put mourning garment vpon hym.
Plutarchus in vitis. He was afoze the incarnastion of Chytle. 441. yerres.
Periclitatio, onis, f. m. g. experience of assaie, a prouse, aduenturyng.
Periclitatos mores, for Spectatos, dixit Tullius, proued, tried.
Periclitatus, a, um, put in daunger. also proued,
saied, aduentured.
Periclitator, aris, ari, to bee in peryll, also to experience of proue a thyng, to assaie, to aduenture, to ioparde.
Periclitator fama, I am in daunger to leaue my good name.
Periclitator sui, I am almoste deade of lyke to die for thurst.
Periclitari cancro, to bee in daunger of a canker.
Periclitari omnia, to aduenture or assaie all thynges.
Rumpi periclitatur, it is in daunger to bee broken.
Ne inops fieri periclitetur, leaue he bee in daunger to bee made a beggar, or a verate pooze man.
Periclitatur capite, he is in daunger of his life.
Periclymenion, ni, n. ge. an herbe called wood-hyne, whiche beareth the honysuckle.
Periclymenus, Nestors brother.
Pericornos, ni, m. ge. a shynne that compasseth
all the skulle.
Periculator, aris, ari, to bee in daunger, or to put hym selfe in daunger.
Periculose, daungerously, peryllously, with great daunger.
Periculose facere, to doe a thyng with great daunger.
Periculose agrotans, so syke that he is in leas-perdie of his lyfe.
Periculofus, a, um, daungerouse, perillouse, full of daunger, full of perill.
Periculum, i, n. ge. perill of daunger, sometyne experience of proue.
Periculum facere, to proue, to assaie, to iopar-de a ioynte.
Periculo, meo, tuo, suo, on myne, thyne or his perill.
Subtrahere periculo, to deliuer out of daunger.
Huius periculo fit, all is done on this mans peryll.
Venire in periculum, to come in daunger.
Creare periculum, to put one in daunger.
Facere & facessere periculum alicui.
Ducere and Adducere in periculum, & Adferre alicui periculum, to byng one in daunger, to worke one mischiese.
Inncere alicui periculum mortis, to put one in daunger of his life.

Moliri periculum alicui, to go about or enbeuour to worke one displeasure or mischiese.
Periculum fortunatum negligere, not to passe se for the hasard, daunger and losse of all his gooddes and substance.
Propulsare periculum, to put awaie daunger that is lyke to ensue.
Subijcere periculo, to put in daunger.
Haud sane periculum est, there is no daunger, or it is not to be feared.
Nihil tibi periculi est a me, I will doe the no harme, thou needest not to feare any thyng that I will doe to the.
A securi negari ei esse periculum, he saied he was in no daunger to lose his life, or to be beheaded, or that he neede not to feare the danger of his life.
Fac periculum in literis, proue hym in lea-nyng.
Aliis aliunde est periculum, some bee in danger one waie, some an other.
Periculum famae mihi est, I am in danger to lose my good name.
Si periculum vllum in te est, if you be in any daunger.
Non procul absuit a periculo vitae, he was in great daunger of his lyfe. or it had almoste cosse hym his lyfe.
Peridoneus, a, um, verate fitte or conuenient.
Peridromis, idis, f. g. a walke of galathea about the plate of exercyse.
Periegesis, sis, f. g. a compasse of circuite.
Periergos, verie curiouse.
Periergia, a, f. m. gene. to muche curiouse, to muche diligence.
Perileucos, a certaine pyrcious stone.
Perillus, an artificer, which made a bull of brasse, wherinto (beyng glowing hotte) men shoulde be put, that in tormentyng of thepm, by thep cryng, a noyse shoulde issue out lyke the lowweyng of bellowsyng of a bull. The whiche engenne whan Perillus had geuen vnto Phaslaris the cruell tyranne: he caused hym fyll to be put into it, to proue his owne experience.
Perillustri, stre, verate noble, ppyt notable and famous.
Perimbecillus, a, um, or Perimbecillis, le, very weake or feeble.
Perimetros, id est, immensus.
Perimo, emi, ere, to kylle, to take awaie.
Perimere reditum alicui, to let of stoppe one of his waie.
Perimere consilium alicuius, to breake or dist-apoynte ones enterpryse.
Perincommodus, a, um, verate yll of incom-modious.
Perincommode, verate incommodiously, verate vnhantomely.
Perinconsequens, entis, nothyng consequent of agreeyng.

Perin-

Perincertus, a, um, veray vncertaine.
Perinde, so in lyke wyse, euen lyke, veray muche, euen as, in this facion: and requirerth after
hym. Acti or atque si, and with a negacion quam, if it haue none of these, it is taken for exque.
Perinde atque capta vrbe, lyke as if the citee had been wonne.
Nulla re perinde motus quam responso, he was not so muche moued with any thyng, as with the aunswere.
Sed perinde erit vt acceperis, but it shall be esuen as thou wyll take it.
Aduentus non perinde gratus fuit, his com-yng was not veray pleasaunt or acceptable.
Perinde quasi factum sit, as though it had been dooen.
Hoc perinde est, tanquam si ego dicam, this is euen as though I shoulde saie.
Et perinde dominos laudaret, castigaretq, id
est, ita, and so, or, and by that meanes.
Et perinde reliquas commutet, and lyketwyse shoulde chaunge the other.
Perinde vt dicā, euen so as I, wil speake them.
Clarissimi ciuis & perinde felicitis, id est, aque, or pariter.
Fac sis perinde adeo, vt me velle intelligis, see that you bee euen as you knowe that I woulde haue you.
Perinde tuebar, ac si vltus essem, I dydde des-sende it, euen as though it had done me fere-ure.
Perinde coniecturam de moribus suis homines facturos, pro vt hoc vel illud egerint, that men wyll so coniecte of thep maners, as they dooe behaue them in this or that.
Perinde diu q lauauit, so longe as they wathe.
Non perinde, id est, non multū, non valde.
Perindulgens, entis, he that is veray gentill and pardoneth muche. Perindulgens in patrem, very obedient, and shewyng great reuerence to his father.
Perinephra, a, f. g. the fat places about the kydsneies.
Perinfamis, me, that hath a veray yll name.
Perinfirmus, a, um, veray feeble, of small force or value.
Peringeniosus, a, um, very witty.
Periniquus, a, um, very vniuste.
Perinignis, ne, veray notable.
Perinteger, gra, grum, verate entiere, pure and vncorrupte.
Perinthius, a, um, of Heraclia.
Perinthus, a citee of Thrace, whiche nowe is called Heraclia.
Periocha, cha, f. g. a bryefe argument, conteynyng the summe of the wholle matiere.
Periódicus, a, um, that goth and cometh by courses.
Periódica febris, a feuer, which cometh by cours-ses, as tertians, and quartans.

Periodus, di, f. g. a clause, a circuite in wordes, or continuance in speakyng, a periode, a full sentence. Also a certaine game of exercise as monge the Greekes.
Periacci, companions or dwellers together in one house.
Peripatericus, a philosopher of Aristotles secte of opinion.
Peripetasma, atis, n. g. the hangyng of a house, tapestry, or other lyke thynges.
Periphas, a mannes name in Virgill.
Peripheria, a circumference.
Peripheroma, or Perisleroma, atis, n. g. a feregure, whan a partie of a sentence nothyng necessarie, is added vnto a verse.
Periphrasis, seos, f. g. circumlocutio, one word expressed by many.
Peripneumonia, a, f. g. an impostume in the lounges, proceyng of thicke humours, and commonly soloweth pleuresie.
Peripneumonicus, a, um, that hath that disease.
Peripsēma, mātis, n. g. the powder of duste that cometh of filyng of chaunge of metall or wood. also the paring of a hous, entre, or other place, whiche cometh by reason of goyng.
Periscelis, lidis, f. g. shoppes, whiche women were wonte to weare.
Perissologia, a, f. g. a superfluous speakyng.
Perisson, vncquall, vneuen.
Peristēra, house coulers or doones.
Peristēron, a couler house.
Peristēreos, rei, f. g. or Peristerion, onis, m. g.
or Peristerium, rei, n. g. an herbe, called also so Verbenaca, or Veibena, Maruin.
Peristērotrophium, ij, n. g. idem quod Periste-reon.
Peristroma, atis, ne. g. tapestry or couerlides of bras or merdure.
Peristylum, lij, or Peristylum, li, n. g. a place set about with pillars, a cloister: also a longe en-trie in an house.
Peritē, aduerb. wisely, counnyngly.
Perito, aui, are, to perishe or be losse.
Perithous, the companion of Theseus.
Peritia, a, f. g. counnyng in any science.
Peritus, a, um, counnyng, perfecte in a science, expte.
Multarum rerum peritus, expte in many thynges. Peritus, operum, iuris, legum. &c.
Peritus vsu, counnyng and ready by experie-ence and vse.
Periucunde, veray pleasauntly.
Periucundus, a, um, veray pleasaunt.
Periuratio, onis, f. g. forswearyng.
Periuratiuncula, la, a diminutue of Periuratio.
Periuriōsus, a, um, that is often forsworne.
Periūro, aui, are, to sweare vntreuly, to bee per-iured, to breake ones othe, not to dooe that he hath sworne to dooe.
Periurus, a, um, forsworne, periured, that hath broke his othe.

Ff iij

Periu-

Perinior, more forsworne.
Periurium, ri, neu gen. perjurie, forswearing, breaking of ones othe.
Perizoma, as, n. g. a bziuche, a codpiece.
Perizonium, a cozie of bzode girthe, wherewith maidens were wonte to be girt vnder thei pappes, after some a vesture much lyke an apzone, which maidens wore fro their breastes downe
 warde.
Perlabor, laboris, bi, to slowe of ren by a place, to styde downe, to styde by.
Perlatus, a, um, verate mery, veray glad.
Perlatus, verate bzonde, farre abzoade.
Perlatus, patere, to petyne to many uses.
Perlatus, a, um, verate bzonde.
Perlecebra, a, f. g. a thyng, which pleasauntlye draweth a man to fauour it.
Perlecto, aut, are, to allure to it often.
Perlego, perlegis, legi, legere, to reade ouer, to reade from the begynnyng to the ende.
Perlegere oculis, to viewe and beholde dyl-gently ouer and ouer.
Perlepidus, a, um, verate pleasant, that hath a good grace.
Perleuis, ue, very lyght of sodaine, of very little value.
Perleui saepe momento fortuna, with the least change of fortune that can be.
Perleui momento victi sunt, they were ouer-come with the least thyng in the worlde.
Perleuiter, verate lightly, verate quickly.
Perlubens, bentis, that dooeth a thyng with a veray good will.
Perlubenter, with a veray good will, veraye gladly, ryght gladly.
Perluberalis, le, veray liberrall.
Perluberaliter, verate liberrally.
Perlucio, perlucis, lexi, licere, idem quod Pellicio.
Perlucere in amicitiam, to allure one by saye means to be his frende.
Perlubo, aut, are, to weighe diligently, to make euen, to leauell, to trie by the plumme rule of leauell.
Perlugo, aut, are, to bynde harde of faste.
Perlunio, perlunio, liniui, nire, to rubbe of and nomie harde with any lycoure.
Perluno, lmi, liui, of leui, linere, to annoynte of smere all about.
Perluto, aut, are, to dooe sacrifice solemnely with all accustomed ceremonies, to please god with sacrifice, and obtayne his desyre.
Perlutus, a, um, annoynted harde.
Perlunge, very farre.
Perlunge est, it is verate farre hence.
Perlunquus, a, um, farre of, that is a great wate hence.
Perlunus, a, um, verate longe.
Perlunum est, it is verate farre hence, it were very longe to tari.
Perloquor, qui, to speake out all to an ende, to speake perfectly.

Perlubet, it lyketh me well, with a veray good will.
Perlubet hunc hominem colloqui, I woulde verate faine, or I haue a great desyre to come mon with the man.
Perlubens, entis, that is veray wel content to do, or suffre a thyng to be dooen.
Perlucio, ludo, luxi, lucere, idem quod Pellu-ceo, to thyne bright, to shine thozough.
Perlucidulus, a, um, a diminutive of Perlucidus.
Perlucidus, a, um, and Pellucidus, a, um, clere, that a man may see thozough, as water, glasse, honye.
Perluctuosus, a, um, verate lamentable, full of sorowe.
Perludo, lusi, ludere, idem quod Ludo, to play all about.
Perluso, perlui, luere, to washe ouer all, to rince or washe cleane.
Perlustro, aut, are, to beholde al about diligently.
Perlustrare oculis, to viewe of lyke rounde as bout diligently.
Perlustrare animo, to regarde of consider nestly in the mynde.
Perlutus, a, um, washed all ouer, rinsed cleane.
Permacer, cra, cium, verate leane, veray bare reine of byp.
Permadesco, idem quod Permado.
Permadesco, defacis, feci, cere, to make very moyst, or to wete muche.
Permado, permades, dui, dere, to be wete of uer and ouer, to be thzough wete.
Permagnus, a, um, veray great.
Permagna res tua agitur, a great matter of yours is in controuersie: or the controuersie is of a weightie matter of yours.
Permagno aestimare, to set at a high pryce, to value a thyng veray deere.
Permagno vendere, to sell veray deere of at a hygh pryce.
Permagnus existimare, to thynke it a veray great matter.
Permagni inter est, it maketh a great matter.
Permagni referre arbitror, I iudge it to make a great matter.
Permagni nostra interest, it is veray necessary or requisite for vs.
Permaneo, permanes, mansi, nere, to abyde to the ende, to abyde tyl al bee dooen, to remayne byll, to continue.
Stabilem permanere, to continue sure and stedfast to the ende.
Incepto permanere, to continue in his purpose that he hath enterprised.
Permanere in eadem mente, to be in the same mynde still.
Permanere in officio, to continue in due obedience.
Permanesco, scere, to come to ones knowlage.
 Vnde

Vnde ad eum potest permanescere, wherby it may come to his knowlage.
ermananter.
ermano, aut, are, to renne all ouer, to renne in to, to be declared openly, to bee diuulgate of knowne abzoade, to come to ones knowlage.
Ne permancer palam, that it come not abzoade to the knowlage of men.
Ne aliqua ad patrem hoc permancer, least it come to my fathers eares by any meanes.
Permanare ad plures, to come to the know-lage of many.
Permanauit in hanc ciuitatem doctrina Pythagoræ, the doctrine of Pythagoras came into this citee.
ermanatio, onis, f. g. a continuing of abyding longe in a place.
ermanuresco, turui, scere, to waxe thzough ripe.
ermediocris, cre, very meane.
ermeo, aut, are, to go, to passe ouer.
ermentus, a, um, measured diligently.
ermerdo, to defile ouer all.
ermentus, aut ermentis, scidos, a ruuer in Grece, dedicate to the Muses.
ermentis, tiris, tiri, to measure, to measure dis-gently, to passe of go thzough or ouer.
ermentis aquor, to passe of saile ouer the sea.
ermentis, metui, metuere, to be soze afterd.
ermentis, a, um, very littell, very small, of very littell value.
ermentis, a, um, veray meruaylous.
Mihi permirum videtur, it is great meruayle to me.
ermentis, miscui, mistum, or mixtum, miscere, to mixe all together.
ermentis omnia, to make a great businesse, to trouble and confounde all thynges.
ermentis Graciam, to trouble all Grece, and set it in an bypze.
ermentis & Confundere.
ermentis conubio, to be married.
ermentis vino, to be tempered with wyne.
ermentis, onis f. g. a sufferance.
ermentis, a, um, permitted, suffred.
ermentis, us, m. g. and plu. ermentis, orum,
 n. g. sufferance, permission, licence, graunt.
ermentis, one with an other consufely.
ermentis, onis, f. g. a mixture of minglyng.
ermentis, a, um, mixed, mingled.
ermentis, te, veray gentyll and milde. Also thoz rough ripe.
ermentis, missi, mittere, to suffre, to permitte, to graunt, to geue lycence, power or authoritee to dooe a thyng: also to pardone, to yelde of de-lyue, to thurst in, to thzow downe, to commit, to sende sozthe, to let downe, as to let downe one by a rope, or other lyke thing. sometyme for lmmittre: as, Concitant equos, permittit tantque in hostem, they thurst the spurres to thei hoyses, or fetched by thei hoyses with the spurres, and galopte sozthe agaynst thei enimies.

Permittere equum, to geue the hoise the bzid-dle, or to let hym go at his pleasure, to galope sozthe.
Permittere sese, to yelde him selfe.
Permittere se in deditionem alicuius, idem.
Permittere iracundia alicuius, to geue place to one whan he is angrie, to beare with one in any popynte whan he is angrie.
Permittere omnia iudicio alterius, to submit hym selfe to the iudgement of one: or to make one iudge, and suffre the whole matter to be tried by hym.
Permittere se fidei, or in fidem alicuius, to yelde of submitte hym selfe into ones handes, to put hym selfe in ones tuition.
De eo permillum ipsi erat, faceret, quod. &c.
 as concernyng that matter, authoritee of leaue was geuen to hym, to dooe as he.
Neq enim liberum id vobis permittet Plilippus, for Philip will not suffre you so to do:
 or, Philip will not permit you to doo therunt
 as you will pour selfe.
Equo permittere habenas, to let the hoise
 haue the bzidle.
Inimicitias cum aliquo susceptas, reipublicæ permittere, for the comon weales sake to leaue of displeasure of enimies, that he hath conceiued agaynst one.
Precibus alicuius permittere aliquid, to graunte a thyng at ones desyre.
Permodestus, a, um, very modest, very demure.
Permodice, in verate small pieces, veray moderatelly.
Permodicus, a, um, verate littell.
Permolesce, veray greuously.
Permolesce tui, I was very greatly displeased.
Permolescus, a, um, veray greuous, that com-byeth or letteth a man muche.
Permotio, onis, f. g. a motion or mouyng.
Permoceo, permoues, moui, mouere, to moue or stee greatly, to angrie.
Permotus, a, um, moued, stered.
Permotus inente, madde, out of his witte.
Permotus metu, soze afraid.
Permotus iracundia, verate angrie.
Mare permotum ventis, the sea troubled with wyndes.
Permulceo, mulsi, cere, to appease, addulce, or mitigate a mans displeasure, to please, to deslyte, to stroke one softly.
Aures permulcere, to please or deyte the eares.
Terque manu permulsi eum, and thise he stroked hym with his hande.
Permulcere iras, to mitigate or asswage ones
 angrie.
Permulcere atq tractare plebem, to please the people and handell theym gently.

Permulti, verap many.

Permultus, a, um, verap muche, verate mang.
Permulto, and Permultum, aduerbes, verate muche.

Permultum interest, there is a verap great difference.

Permundus, a, um, verap cleane and pure.

Permunio, munis, nini, nire, to fortifie strongly, to finish the fortification that one hath begunne.

Permunis, a, um, strongly fortified, fenced rounde about.

Permutatio, onis, f. g. an exchange, bartering, chaungeing one thyng for an other, chaungeing from place to place.

Permutator, oris, m. g. he that exchangeeth.

Permutio, aui, are, to chaunge one thyng for an other, to chaunge from place to place, to barter, Sometyme to bye.

Permutare locum cum altero, to chaunge place with an other.

Nomina inter vos permutastis, You haue chaunged your names one with an other, or one of you hath taken an others name.

Permutare rem publicam, id est perturbare, to trouble and alter the state of the common weale.

Permutare pecuniam, to exchange money with bankers.

Permutare precio vel merce, to chaunge for money or for marchandise, to barter.

Permutare aliquid ere alieno alterius, to take a thyng of a man to the intent to discharge and paie that he oughteth.

Perna, e, f. g. the pestil, & also the gamonde of bakon, also a certaine kynde of shell fishes.

Pernarigo, aui, are, to saile or passe through.

Pernecessarius, a, um, verap necessary. Also be rie familiar, a great friende.

Pernego, aui, are, to denie stiffely, to denie bitterly.

Perneo, nes, cui, ere, to spinne out the threde to an ende.

Perniciabilis, le, deadly, mortall

Pernicialis, le, that bringeth destruction, that causeth death.

Pernicies, ei, f. g. death, great damage, destruction, vndoing.

Ve scias, quam instructa pulchre ad perniciem sit, that thou maiest knowe, how goodly he is appointed to vndooc or cast away any man: or to bynne any man to nought.

Ipse sibi perniciem accersuit, he was cause of his owne hurte, or he made a rod for his owne taple.

Pellere perniciem a patria, to saue his countrie.

Incumbere ad vel in perniciem alicuius, to labour all that euer one can, to cast a man away, or to worke his destruction.

Inuenire sibi perniciem, to be occasion of his owne destruction.

Perniciose, naughtily, hurtfully, to ones destruction and casting away.

Perniciose de republica mereri, to be cause of great mischefe to the common weale.

Perniciosus, a, um, deadly, mortall, that inflicteth death, destruction, great hurte or damage.

Pernicias, atis, f. g. swiftnesse.

Perniciosissimus, a, um, wastefull, most dangerous.

Perniciter, swiftly, quickly.

Perniger, gra, grum, verap blacke.

Perminium, verp muche, wonderfull muche.

Perminium interest, there is a wonderfull great difference.

Pernio, onis, in. g. a hybe on the heele.

Perniunculus, li, m. g. a littell lube.

Pernix, nicis, om. g. swifte, swift, somes tyme stubburne.

Vento pernicior, swifter than the wynde.

Pernobilis, le, very noble.

Pernoctio, aui, are, to tary all the night, to watch, to pray, to reste, to walke, to stande, to dwell, to slepe, to lie out of his owne house all nyght longe.

Pernoctare in publico, to be all night abroade.

Pernoſco, noui, noscere, to knowe perfectly, to knowe thyngly.

Non satis me pernoſti, etiam qualis sim, thou doost not yet know me thyngly, what a man I am.

Pernox, noctis, om. g. that continueth wate cheth of abyde all night longe.

Pernumero, aui, are, to tell out money, to recken to the ende, to make an ende of numbyng of tyllyng.

Pero, the daughter of Helens, and sister of Astor, a woman of exceeding beaute.

Pero, onis, om. g. a shoe of rawe leather, also a lacke, a startup.

Perobſcurus, a, um, very obscure or darke.

Perobſcura fama, a fame or byme that very fewe men here of.

Perodiſus, a, um, very edious.

Perogigamus, mi, m. g. he that putteth the stalle to the mare to season hir.

Peroleo, peroles, olui, or oleui, olere, to labour or sinke muche, to haue a stronge labour.

Peronatus, a, um, that weareth rawe leather shoes, boots, stirrups, or cobars, lyke a plough man.

Peroportunus, a, um, verap conuenient and meete for the purpose, that cometh in very good tyme.

Peroportune, verate oportunately, in very good season.

Peropus est, it is very necessary or expedient.

Peroriga, ga, he that putteth the stalion to the mare.

Perorior, rixis, riri, to begynne, spryng of grow by the

by the occasion of some thyng.

Perorno, aui, are, to adourne greatly, to dooe great honour, to set forth the ones commendation greatly.

Perornatus, a, um, adourned, eloquent.

Peroratio, onis, f. gen. the laste parte of an oration, wherein the effectes of the heretors are chiefly stered.

Peroro aui, are, to speake of reason to an end, to reason perfectly, to tell a tale to an ende, to make an ende of an oration. sometyme to moue the heretors to indignation.

Perorare in aliquem, to pleade agaynst one, to accuse one.

Concludere & perorare.

Nunquam perorari potuisse, that he coulde neuer pronounce his oration to an ende.

Perorare causam, to pleade a cause thyngly to the ende.

Perorare orationem, to pronounce an oration to the ende.

Perosi, a people of Aethiopia.

Perosus, a, um, that hateth extremely.

Perpaco, aui, are, to set all thyng in peace and quiet, to make caulme.

Perparum, verp littell.

Perparce, verate startely, verpe ngghlye, or ngghardlye.

Perparus, a, um, a very littell one.

Perpascio, aui, scere, to feede to the bittermoste.

Perpauulus, a, um, a very littell preatie one.

Perpauulus, a, um, very fewe.

Perpauus, a, um, very fewe.

Perpauacio, paucafis, feci, facere, to make fore affraide.

Perpaulum, verp littell.

Perpaulum, and Perpauillum, wonderfull littell.

Perpauper, verp pooze.

Perpello, perpuli, perpellere, to constreint, to moue or induce one to dooe a thyng.

Donec perpuli vt dicerem, vntyll he hadde made or caused me to saie it.

Perpellere ad deditionem, to make to yeld by.

Perpendicularis, re, that is directly downe right, that hangeth streight downe.

Perpendicularum, li, n. g. a plumme lyne, suche as masons and carpenters haue with leade at the ende, whereby they dooe proue the euenness of their squares and wallies.

Ad perpendicularum facere, to make euen with the plumme lyne.

Perpendo, di, dere, to examine or consyder diligently, to weigh the matter exactly.

Perpense, aduisedly, with good consyderation.

Perpensus, a, um, weighed or consydered diligently.

Perpensa, an herbe called Cabaret.

Perperam, amisse, ouerthwartly, unhappilye, wrongfully.

Perperam insimulatus, accused wrongfully, and without cause.

Perperam pronunciare, to pronounce falsely and falsely.

Perperus, a, um, shrewed, rude, a lyer.

Perperitudo, dinis, shrewdnesse, falsitynesse.

Perpes, perpetis, om. g. perpetuall.

Noctem perpetem dormire, to sleepe all nyght longe.

Perpessio, onis, enduring, suffering, abiding.

Perpessus, a, um, that is accustomed to endure suffer or abyde.

Perpessus, a, um, that hath suffered or sustained.

Perpessu asperum, verp pynfull and greuous to be suffered.

Perpetim, perpetually, without ceasing.

Perpetior, pessus sum, perpeti, to abide, endure, or suffer patiently.

Nunquam perpetiar, I will neuer abide it.

Perpetio, tui, ti, perpetere, to alie importunately without ceasing, to perforce, to continue.

Perpetro, aui, are, to dooe, or to committe an acte wrongly, or moste commonly ill.

Perpetrare cadem, to committe a murder.

Perpetrato bello, after the warre ended.

Perpetratus, a, um, doone, finished, atcheued.

Perpetratio, onis, an acte good or badde.

Perpetualis, le, perpetuall.

Perpetuarius, ri, m. gen. he that hireth a ferme, house, or ground in perpetuice, for euer. sometyme he that alwaie attendeth his worke of labour.

Perpetuitas, atis, f. ge. eternitie, an euerlastyng continuance, perpetuice.

Sermonis perpetuitas, continuall speache without interruption.

Perpetuo, aui, are, to continue on a thyng without out ceasing.

Perpetuare verba, to speake on styll without fetchyng of breathe.

Perpetuo, and perpetuum, aduerbes, signifyng continually, alwaye, for euer, euermore, still without any ceasing or intermission.

Perpetuo perij, I am utterly vndoone, I am utterly cast away for euer.

Perpetuus, a, um, perpetuall, euerlastyng, continually, whole, not in portions or deuided.

Triduo hoc perpetuo, all these thre daies continually without ceasing.

Si perpetuum vis affinitatem hanc, if you will haue this affinitie to continue for euer.

Aedes perpetua ruunt, the whole house falleth downe.

Alimentis perpetuis donari, To haue meate and drynke founnen all his life of free coste.

Febris perpetua, a continuall feuer.

Prada hac perpetua est mea, id est, tota.

Trabes perpetua, beames that bee all of one piece.

Non est perpetuum, it cometh not alwaie so so passe, it is not alwaie true,

Perp

Perpetui montes, continuall hills, e stoppyng one to an other.

Perpetua oratio, a continuall oracion without interruption of stoppyng.

Palus perpetua intercedeabat, There was betwene a continuall marishe, and no other grounde.

Perpiscus, a, um, pyncted.

Perplaceo, perplaces, perplacui, placere, to content very muche, to please right well.

Perplexé, ambiguously, intricately, doubtles fullge.

Perplexé loqui, to speake nows one thyng, nows an other, that a man wotteth not what he meaneth, to speake ambiguously.

Perplexé & palam, contrary.

Perplexim, idem quod Perplexé.

Perplexor, aris, ari, to speake doubtfullge, as woordes wherein are two intendentes, to bynde of twyff hard and fast, to mingle so together, that a man can not knowe what the thyng meaneth.

At scio, quo vos pacto soleatis perplexarier pactum, non pactum est, non pactum, pactum est, quod vobis lubet, wel I know well enough, in what facion you are wont to speake that a man can not tell how to take you: it was promised, it was not promised: it was not promised, it was promised, euen as it listeth you.

Perplexabilis, le, a woorde spoken, whiche hath two dyuers understandynges: o: that whiche is one thyng in herpng, an other in vnderstandyng.

Perplexabiliter, doubtfully, with great perplexitee.

Perplexus, a, um, perplexe, twisted together, o: harde to bee lousd, intricate, doubtfull, ambiguous.

Perplicatus, a, um, platted together.

Perpluo, plui, pluire, to rayne throughe, to let the rayne come throughe.

Perplurimum, very muche more.

Perplus, pluris, n. g. muche more, many mo.

Perpol, an othe, signifying by Pollux. Sometyme the woorde, Per, doth ptepeyne to the woordes des folowynge.

Perpol quam paucos reperias meretricibus fideles euenire amatores, by god thou fyndest very few true louers happen to comen women. where per belongeth to paucos, & not to pol.

Perpoleo, perpolis, liui, lire, to polishe trimme, to make very nete, to make perfect.

Perpolitio, onis, f. g. a polishing.

Perpolitus, a, um, polished, trymmed by persectip.

Perpolitus literis, of great knowledge and lernyng, a man excellently well learned.

Perpopulor, aris, ari, to destroye, waste and spoyle ouer all.

Perpoto, aui, are, to drynke all daie, o: to drynke styl o: continually tyll one be drunke, to dooe nothing but drynke.

Perpotatio, onis, f. g. a continuance in drynkyng, drunkeherpe.

Perprurisco, riscere, to haue a great itche, o: to trye to clawe o: scrathe hym selfe.

Perpulcher, chra, chrum, verpe faire, verpe goodlye.

Perpulchre, verpe well doone, iolily well.

Perpurgo, aui, are, to make all thyng cleane o: nete.

Perpurgare locum aliquem, id est, expedire, to dissolue all doubtres and difficultes that be in a matter.

Perpusillus, a, um, very littell.

Perpusillum, an aduerbe, very littell.

Perputo, aui, are, to declare all.

Nunc operam date, vt ego argumentum hoc vobis plane perputem, now take ye heede, that I maie plainly declare all this matter to you.

Perquam, added to any nowne adiectiue, augmenteth his power.

Perquam doctus, very well learned.

Perquam stolidus, very foolish.

Perquam flebiliter, very lamentably.

Perquiro, quisiui, quirere, to make diligente serche, to exampne, to aske and enquire diligently.

Perquisit, with diligent serche and inquirie.

Perquisitor, onis, mal. gene. one that inquirith o: sercheeth.

Perquisitus, a, um, sought o: inquired out.

Perraro, verpe selde.

Perrarus, a, um, that is very selde times seen.

Perrépo, répsi, répere, to crepe into o: throughe.

Perrepto, aui, are, to crepe about in euery corner, and serche diligently.

Perreptui visy omne oppidum, I haue gone about all the towne to see.

Perrideo, perrisi, perridere, to laughe heartly.

Perridicule, verpe foolishly.

Perridiculus, a, um, very foolishly, wosthy to be mocked and laughed at.

Perródo, rosi, ródere, to cate o: knaw throughe, all to knawe.

Pétrrogo, aui, are, to desire heartly, to requize euery mannes opinion and sentence.

Perrumpo, rúpi, rumpere, to breahe in sunder, o: in the middes, to breahe in pieces, to breahe in o: entre by force, to breahe throughe wost lenately.

Perrumpere nituntur, they endeuour to entre in by force.

Perrumpere ad suos, to breahe throughe wost lenately to their companie.

Acem perrumpere, to breahe and disturbe the arraye.

Perrumpere castra, to breahe in and assaue the ennemies in their campe.

Leges perrumpere, to breahe and violate lawes.

Perrumpere periculum, to escape and ad

uoyde daunger.

Perrumpit omnes difficultates, there is no stop o: leat, but that he passeth throughe it.

Perruptus, a, um, broken throughe.

Perfa, a man o: woman of the countrey of Persia.

Perfape, very often.

Perfalte, verpe wittily.

Perfalus, a, um, verap fatte. also verap wittily and preaty.

Perfalus, aui, are, to salute often and muche.

Perfante, verpe deuoutely o: solemnely.

Perfante deierat, he sweareth solemnely and deuoutely, he sweareth a great othe.

Perfano, aui, are, to cure o: heale perfectly and throughe.

Perfapiens, entis, om. g. verpe wise, right sage.

Perfapienter, verpe wisely, full sagely.

Perficienter, right cunningly, with great knowledge.

Perfciendo, perficidi, scindere, to cut in two, to cutte o: diuide in the middes.

Perficus, a, um, cutte, diuided, o: tope in the middes.

Perficius, a, um, verpe preaty and wittily.

Perfcriptio, onis, f. g. a bede of a mannes owne hande wrytynge, a registre.

Perfcribo, scripsi, scribere, to wryte a thyng throughe, o: to an ende, to wryte at lengthe, to wryte at large, to registre o: inrolle a thyng.

Perfcribere in tabulas, to registre.

Diligentissime, a te scripta sunt, they were wryten of you at length with great diligence.

Perfcribere pecuniam, to cause the bankers to delquer money to one by lone, for dette, o: o: therwyse.

Perfcriptor, onis, m. g. he that regesthereth o: kepeth a booke, o: that maketh wrytynge and dedes.

Perfen, a tree, whiche groweth verpe highe, the woodde is blake, the leafe and floure lyke to a pearre, the leafe neuer falleth, and beareth alwaie fruite, of the quantitee of a pearre, in foume longe, and inclosed in a hushe lyke an almonde, greene in colour, and hath within it a nut lyke a damson, but lesse & softer, the fruite is swete and delectable, lyght of digestion, and all though it be exceedingly eaten, it hurteth not, the roote is very great.

Perfeco, aui, are, to cutte throughe, to diuide.

Perfector, aris, ari, to folow, pursue, o: serche diligently.

Perfécutio, onis, f. g. pursuite, persecucion.

Perfécutor, aris, ari, to serche o: inquire diligently.

Perfedeo, perfedes, sedi, sedere, to abide o: sit still euen to the ende.

Perfescalo, the olde and auncient wryters used for Perfacile, verpe lyghtly, o: verpe easly.

Perfegnis, ne, verpe slowe.

Perfais, a nimphe, one of the daughters of Perceus.

Perfais, seidis, f. g. of Persia.

Herba perseides, id est, magica.

Perfenex, perfenis, om. g. verpe olde.

Perfentio, sentis, sentire, to feele, to perccide.

Perfentisco, senti, scere, to perccue.

Quot res dedere, vbi possem perfentiscere? howe many occasions gaue they, whereby I might haue perccued?

Persephone, the surname of Proserpina, and signifieth the vertue of seedes in spryngyng.

Persephónion, looke Rhamnus.

Persepolis, a citee in the contrey of Persia.

Persequor, eris, qui, to pursue, to continue in that, whiche is begunne, to folowe, to persecte, to bee auenged, to dooe, to fulfill, to accomplishe.

Persequi aliquem bello, to warre against one, Persequi aliquem vestigijs, to folowe ones steppes, to folowe one steppe by steppe.

Vestigia persequi, idem.

Persequi numeris cursus syderum, to calculate the course of the sterres.

Persequi iniurias, to reuenge inturies.

Persequi factis, quod dicimus, te dooe as we speake o: saie.

Persequi imperium patris, to doo the fathers commaundemente.

Persequi ius suum, to defende his right.

Persequi pœnas alicuius, to reuenge ones death.

Persequi promissa alicuius, to sollicite o: call vpon one to kepe his promises.

Persequi vita disciplinam recte viuendi, to lyue accordyng to the doctrine of honest lyfe and behauiour.

Persequi voluptates, to addicte o: geue hym selfe to liue pleasantly.

Iudicio persequi, to sue one in the lawe.

Feras persequi, to hounte wilde beastes.

Incepta persequi, to pursue o: continue to an ende, that he hath begunne.

Mores patris persequi, to endeuour to folowe his fathers maners, o: to bee lyke his father in conditions.

Commodissime has res persecutus est Xenophon, Xenophō hath wryten very wel of those thynges.

Stylum alicuius persequi, to imitate ones stile.

Verfibus aliqua persequi, to wryte thynges in verses.

Voce aliquid persequi, to speake of a thyng, to declare a thyng in woordes.

Persequi artem aliquam, to employ his studye and tyme to learne any art o: science.

Persequi scriptura, to wryte.

Perfero, perfert, perferere, to sow all, to sow o: plant about o: abrode.

Perfes, the sonne of Perseus, of whome came the Persians. also a hyng of Macedonie, banquished by Aemilius: an other was brother of Hesiodus the poete: an other, brother to Aetia, father

Father of Mercate.
Perseuerantia, a, f. g. a stable abidinge in any thyng reazonable, constancie.
Perseueranter, constantly.
Perseuero, aui, are, to continue with a stedfast mynde.
Perseuerare & transigere aliquid, to continue in a thyng and bring it to an ende.
Ad vltimum perseuerare, to continue constant ly to the ende.
In eo perseuerat, he continueth in that mynde stpille.
Perseuerus, a, um, very seuerer of rigorous.
Perseus, sei, & Perseus, sis, ior si, a noble knight, whiche deliuered a faire lady (called Andromeda) from a whale, & also slew Medusa, which turned men into stones. Also it is a signe amonge the sterres.
Persia, a, Persis, persidis, and Persida, da, a countrey in the easte parte of the worlde, which hath on the northe Media, on the weste Bactriana, on the east Armenia, on the south the Persian sea, called Sinus Persicus, where now Shaphi reigneth.
Persica poma, a fruite called peaches.
Persicaria, a, some iudge to be the herbe called arsefmarie.
Persiconapy, the herbe called also Raphanus maior.
Persicus, a, um, of Persia: sometyme riche.
Persici apparatus, sumptuous and riche pountsion.
Persideo, persides, sedi, dère, to sitte by, to aspyde still.
Persido, sidis, sedi, fidere, to perse or get downe unto the bottomme.
Persigno, aui, are, to signe.
Persimilis, le, very lyke.
Persisto, persiti, stere, to abyde: also to tarp, to continue to the ende.
Persius, a learned man of Rome.
Perfolata, ta, f. g. an herbe called clove leaues, whiche beareth great burres.
Perfolido, aui, are, to make sounde of harbe, to congele, to freeze.
Perfoluo, folui, uere, to paie truely, to pay all, to accomplishe.
Perfoluere grates, to geue thankes, to rendze thankes.
Perfoluere amico, to requite a friende for pleasures that he hath doone.
Quantum perfoluere difficile est, as I am trant able to requite.
Perfolui prima epistolæ, I have answered to those thynges that ye wrote in your fyrste latters.
Perfolui gratia non potest, it can not be requited or recompensed.
Officium receptum perfoluere, to persourme the pleasure of benefite, that he promysed to dooe.

Perfoluere penas, to be punished, to make one amendes.
Promissum perfoluere, to fulfill of hepe his promise, to doe that he promysed.
Ille rei publicæ penas graues, iustasque persoluit, he was greuouly and rightously punished for the mischiete of displeasure, that he had wrought to the common weale.
Perfoluere votum, to accomplishe his vow.
Perfoluere rationem officii, to make an account how he hath doone his duetie.
Perfoluere stipendium, to pay wages.
Perfoluere quætionem, to soyle a question.
Perfolus, a, um, alone, without companie.
Perfolæ nugæ, id est, meræ nugæ.
Perfolata, or Persolytyn, an herbe, wherof they make garlandes in Egypte.
Personæ, a, f. g. a visour lyke to a mānes face: also person or personage, the qualite, wherby one man differeth from an other: as Hector from Priamus, by the person of a sonne. Sometyne a man or woman.
Pacificæ personæ, a pacible man.
Imponere alicui personam calumniæ, to make one to be taken for an vntrue or false accuser.
Imponere alicui personam, to geue one a charge or an office to dooe.
Imponere personam improbam alicui, to make one seue his touene in committinge a naughty acte.
Mea personæ ad istam pacem conciliandam, minime fuit diligenda, id est, non debui miti legatus, it was not conuenient, that I shoulde see sente as ambassadour, to make this peace.
Personæ seruire, to behaue him selfe according to the parte that he playeth.
Personæ, be also gargelles and suchelike images made in buildynges.
Personata, ta, and personata, a, an herbe, growynge by the water syde, hauinge great brode leaues lyke gourdes, but greater and harder: it is supposed to be the herbe, in some countrey called Donye: it semeth by some herbals, to be the same that Perfolata is, clove of great burr, called of Apothecaries Lappa maior.
Personalis, le, belonging to the persone.
Personatus, a, um, a masker, he that weareth a visour, disguised, he that taketh upon hym of therwise than he is.
Personatæ felicitas, a counterfeite felicitie.
Personatæ vulnera, hidden woundes.
Personatus, us, m. g. a masker.
Persono, sonui, personare, to towne out of some perfectly, to make a great noyse, to row out aloud, or speake aloud with full mouth.
Personare aures alicuius uoce aliqua, to speake a thyng often that one may here it.
Personatæ domus cantu tibiarum, all the house ringeth with minstrellie and pypyns.
Vlulatus personatæ tota urbe, waing and weppyn is hearde ouer all the cite, or in every place.

place of the cite.
Perforatus, a, um, that towneth all ouer.
Perforbo, forbut, or forpsi, forbere, to suppe all up.
Perpecte, diligently, discretely, counnyngly.
Perpecto, aui, are, to loke wel about, to behold euen to the ende.
Perpectus, a, um, playnely perpeved or knowen, manifest, euident.
Perpēcularis, aris, ari, to beholde, viewe or loke about wisely and diligently.
Perpergo, sperfi, spergere, to spynkle or cast all ouer a thyng, to spynkle duste or licour.
Perpicacitas, aus, and Perpicacia, a, f. g. gen. quickenness of sight, or perpeuyng of a thyng, consideration.
Perpicaciter, aduisedly.
Perpicentia, a, f. g. ge. perfecte knowlage, full perpeuyng of a thyng.
Perpicax, acis, om. ge. that seeth quickly, and doeth all thynges with consideration, quicke witted, that perpeueyth a thyng quickly.
Perpicio, perpiscis, spexi, spicere, to see or vnderstande playnly, to perpeue manifestly and clerely.
Perpicue, clerely, openly, euidently.
Perpicuitas, aris, f. g. ge. clerenesse, propely in wordes or sentences, clastelle, perspicuitie.
Perpicuus, a, um, that one maie see throughe, also to clere, playne, easy, euident.
Perpicua aqua, clere water, that one maie see to the bottomme.
Perpicuum facere, to make euident and playnly known to euery man.
Perpicuum est omnibus, It is euident and playne to all the worlde.
Mors perpicua, present deathe, when one perspectly there is none other waie but deathe.
Perpiratio, a drawyng of breath throughe.
Perpissio, an aduerbe, very late, slowly.
Persterno, straiui, sternere, to paue all throughe.
Perstimulo, aui, are, idem quod Stimulo.
Perstino, aui, are, to set a pyce on a thyng.
Persto, stiti, perstitum, and perstatum, stare, to abide firmly, to stande surely, to continue to the ende.
Perstare incepto, to abide stil in his purpose.
Perstratus, a, um, all paued, paued throughe.
Perstrepo, pui, pere, to make a great noyse or rustelyng with the teete, or otherwyse.
Perstrictores, iuglers, that by leiger demayne make thynges appere to men that be not.
Perstrictus, a, um, wronge harde.
Perstringo, strinxi, stringere, to wyng harde, to touche a thyng shortly in speakynge or wyng, to dull or darke with to muche lycht, to dafell, to rezechende in few wordes, to make one somewhat greued.
Perstringere aures, to fille the eares with noyse.
Perstringere nomen aut famam, to geue a man an yll name, to geue one a shrewed quipspee in fewe wordes.

Perstringere oculos splendore, To dull or darke the eyes, to dafill the syght with brightnesse.
Perstringere aciem mentis, to dull, darke, or abathe the strength or quickenness of the witte or mynde, to decheue or delude.
Terram aratro perstringere, to labour or till the grounde.
Horrore perstringi, To bee in such a feare, that all the body trembleth, or is a colde and chylleth.
Perstringere aliquem, to tourhe or rezechend one a litle in wytyng or speakynge.
Suspiciōe perstringere, to make one somewhat suspected.
Perstringere rem aliquam, to touche a thyng in fewe wordes.
Perstudiosus, a, um, very studious.
Persuadeo, persuasi, persuadere, to perswade, to make to beleue or truste, to put or bynng in ones mynde, to induce or moue one to dooe a thyng. Sometyme for Suadere, to exhort.
Et (quomodo mihi persuadeo) æquorem, and (as I perswade my selfe) or, (and in my phantasy) more rightfull.
Velim tibi ita persuadeas, I wolde you shoulde beleue this surely.
Is mihi persuadet, nuptias quantum. &c. he exhorteth me. &c.
Ita persuasum omnibus, euery man beleueth this for a certayntee.
Persuabilis, le, that maie be perswaded, easie to be perswaded.
Persuabiliter, in such wise as it may persuade.
Persuasio, ōnis, f. g. a persuasion, a sure beleue that one hath in a thyng.
Persuasorius, a, um, that perswadeth.
Persuasor, ōris, m. g. a perswader or inducer to dooe a thyng.
Persualtrix, triciis, a woman, whiche induceth or moueth one to dooe a thyng.
Persuasus, a, um, brought in mynd, perswaded.
Mihi persuasissimum est, and persuasissimum habeo, I beleue as surely as can bee, I am throughe perswaded.
Per subtilis, le, very subtle, very fine.
Perulto, aui, are, to leape and skip for great ioye. it is propely spoken of beastes.
Peruo, ere, to low up all.
Pertadet, tæditi, tæsum est, tædere, to lothe greatly, to be very wery.
Pertaxus, a, um, displeased, annoyed, that lotheth or hateth, that is very wery of a thyng.
Sermonis pertaxus, wery of communication or talke.
Pertaxus ignauiam suam, hatynge his owne slouthfulness, or displeased with his owne slouthfulness.
Priuatam vitam pertaxus, lothynge or hatynge a pte

Perucllere aliquem, to touche plucke or pull at one, to moleste or greue one.
 Perucllere ius, to depraue the lawe.
 Perucllere fidem alicuius, To styte or sollicite one to kepe his promise.
 Peruenio, peruenis, ueni, ire, to come to a place or to an ende, to come to the place that one goeth to, to attayne to.
 Peruenire ad nummos, To gette obtayne or come to the money that is owyng.
 Si ad herum hac res peruclnit, peristi pulchre, If this thyng come to the matters care, thou haste spon a fayne threde: or if this bee tolde thy maister, thou maist geue thy lpe for an haulte penie.
 Sine me peruenire quo uolo, let me speake that whiche I intende to speake, let me come to that poynt that I wolde, or suffre me to saie that I would saie, or suffre me to telle out my tale.
 Peruenire ad manus, to come to hand strokes.
 Peruenire ad primos, to be reckened or nummbyed among the beste.
 Peruenire in potestatem, to be in subiection.
 Peruenire in tutelam, to be in warde.
 In crastinum peruenire, to lye or continue wylle the morowe, or yll the next daie after.
 Ad mauram frugem peruenire, to continue wylle it be throughe ripe.
 Ne in illius manus perueniret, that it might not come into his handes, or that he myght not get it into his handes.
 In meam notitiam decem modo perueniunt, I knowe no moe but ten.
 Magnum in timorem perueniunt, they are soze afraide, or they be in great feare or doubtte.
 Fama ad aures meas peruenit, it was tolde me.
 Peruenire in desperationem, to be in vnter despayre.
 Peruenire in maximam inuidiam, To bee in great hatred and displeasure of men.
 Peruenor, aris, ari, to hunt ouer all, to hunt or serche diligently.
 Peruerse, maliciously, mischeuously, ouerthwartly, peruersely, frowardly, contrarie wise to that he shoulde doe.
 Peruerse uides, thou seest naughtily, thy eye sight deceyeth the.
 Perueritas, aris, f. g. frowardnesse, ouerthwartnesse, naughtynesse of nature, whan one delieth to do contrarie to that he shuld do.
 Peruerfus, a, um, frowarde, ouerthwart, vnfortunate, corrupt, naught.
 More peruerso aliquid facere, to do a thyng ouerthwartly and naughtily.
 Peruerto, ti, tere, to make ill, to peruert, to depraue, to corrupte, to marre, to turne vpsyde downe, to subuert, to caste downe.
 Peruerrere aliquem, to destroy or cast awaie a man with false accusations.
 Vestigalia peruerrere, id est subuerrere,

Labefactare & peruerrere.
 Peruestigatio, onis, f. g. a diligent serching or sekynge out.
 Peruestigator, oris, m. ge. he that sercheth or lookeketh for a thyng.
 Peruestigo, aui, are, to fende in sekynge, to serche out diligently.
 Peruetus, veteris, om. g. verae olde.
 Peruetus epistola, a letter that hath ben verae longe wyitten.
 Peruetustus, a, um, verae olde.
 Peruicaciter, obstinately, stubburnly, constantly.
 Peruicacior, oris, more obstinate, more stubburne, sometyme more constant.
 Peruicax, acis, om. gen. harde, ouerthwart, yll to interate, stubburne, obstinate headie, contentious. Sometyme constant.
 Ira peruicax, he that kepeth his anger longe.
 Peruicacia, e, f. gen. obstinate, headynesse, stiff neckednes. but sometyme it is used in a good part, and taken for perueruence, and constantie in a good acte, Peruicacia, alwaie in an yll parte, as Nonius despynteth them.
 Peruico, or Peruicus, for Peruicax.
 Peruideo, peruides, uidi, ere, to se and regarde diligently.
 Peruigeo, peruiges, uigui, uigere, to bee of great vertue and strengthe.
 Peruigil, lis, om. g. that watcheth alwaies. also diligent and industrious.
 Peruigilatio, onis, f. g. gen. a watchynge all nyght longe.
 Peruigilatus, a, um, watched from the begynnyng to the ende.
 Peruigilium, lij, n. g. muche watche. also a watchynge or uigile before solenne daies.
 Peruigilo, aui, are, to watche all nyght, not to slepe all nyght longe.
 Peruilis, le, verae uyle, of no value, of a verie small pryce, excedynge good cheape.
 Peruincia, loke vinca peruincia.
 Peruincio, uici, peruincere, to surmount, to passe or excede, to ouercome.
 Dictis peruincere aliquid, id est, probare.
 Peruiridis, de, very greene.
 Peruitere, the olde wytters used for Perire, to be losse, to peryshe.
 Peruio, uixi, uiuere, to lye longe, or vntyll the uttermost, to lye to the ende.
 Est peruiuo vsq; ad summam aetatem, tamen breue spatium est perferendi, quia minias mihi, although I lye euen to the uttermost age: yet is the tyme litle to suffer all, wherewith thou threarest me.
 Perula, e, f. g. a little scrippe or satchell.
 Peruius, a, um, that maie be gone in, penitrible, that maie be gone throughe.
 Aedes sient peruius, ye maie come into the house whan ye lust.
 Peruix naues, when one may goe from one in to an other.

Peruia

Peruia ventis domus, open to all wyndes, a windie house.
 Id angiporum non est peruium, you can not passe throughe that lane.
 Perunctio, onis, f. g. an ointynge.
 Perunctus, a, um, annointed all about.
 Perungo, vixi, ungere, to annointe muche, to annoint rounde about.
 Peruolito, aui, are, the frequetation of Peruolo.
 Peruolo, aui, are, to wander about.
 Peruolo, aui, are, to call them all.
 Peruolo, peruis, peruult, to despye earnestly.
 Peruoliscire, I woulde veray fayne knowe.
 Peruolo, aui, are, to flee out of the ende, to fle swiftly, to come or go a pase.
 Peruolo, uolui, ere, to tumble or rolle apace with great violence.
 Peruoluere librum, to reade ouer a booke diligently.
 Peruoluto aui, are, to tumble or rolle often.
 Peruolutare libros, to reade ouer booke with great diligence.
 Perurbanus, a, um, veraye curteyse and gentyll, veray ciuile and of honest behauiour.
 Peruro, vixi, urere, to burne all or euerie where, to burne much or vehemently.
 Perurere cor alicuius, to burne ones stomake, or set ones herte on fyre, with doyng a thyng dispensant to hym.
 Perusia, a citee in Italic called commonly Perugia, Perouse.
 Perusinus, a, um, of Perouse.
 Peruulilis, le, veray profitable.
 Peruulgatus, a, um, veray commonly used or knowne, muche accustomed.
 Peruulgo, aui, are, to publishe or sowe abroad.
 Se omnibus peruulgat mulier, the womā maketh hir selfe commune to all men.
 Peruulgare librum, to publish or set abroad a booke.
 Pes pedis, m. g. a foote, the measure or space of a foote, whiche nowme conteyneth .xii. ynches: the olde foote contreynd .xvi. fngers breadth: sometyme it is a louse. Also the halfe in a ship, wherewith they hope by the sayle.
 Pedes, aduerbium, on foote.
 Pedibus, idem.
 Pedibus stipendia facere, to bee a footeman in warre.
 Pedem nusquam, I moued not one foote.
 Pedem efferre, to go footly.
 Per me pedibus ista trahantur, dooe what they wyl with these matters, I passe not.
 Pedem referre, to retraye or retraye.
 Pedibus ire in sententiam, to be of the opinion that other ar. It was the facion of the Romanes, that the senate whan dyuers had shewed theyr opinio, the residue (loke what parte they leaued vnto) went fro their places to those whiche had reasoned accordynge to theyr myndes and opinions, and these were called Pedes nij Senatores.

 Pede pressio, fayne and softe, a softe passe.
 Pedes agmen circumibat, the host went about on foote.
 In agmine, nonnunq; equo, sapius pedibus anteibat, in the hoste he wente alwaie afore, sometyme on horsebacke, but more often on foote. A pedibus, vel seruus a pedibus, a softe man.
 Imus pes, the sole of the foote.
 Tardus pede abire, to go awaie slowly.
 Adicere se ad pedes, Accidere ad pedes, Aduolui ad pedes alicuius, to fall downe at ones feete and beseeche hym.
 Conferre pedem, to cope together in battayle, to ioyne with his aduersarie in reasonynge.
 Conicere se in pedes, to renne away.
 Ad pedes desilire, to llyght on foote.
 Vnum mihi solum pedem dat, prouerbially, he sheweth me but meane fauour, or he dooth not the best for me that he can.
 Omni pede nui, to shewe all the fauoure that one can for a man, to dooe the uttermost of his power.
 Ferte pedem, come you hyther.
 Meiri suo se pede, prouerbially, to bestowe or spende accordynge to his abilitie.
 Ponere pedem cum aliquo, to goe foote by foote with one, neyther softer nor slower.
 hedem vbi ponat, non habet, he hath not a foote of grounde of his owne.
 Pedibus ire non queo, I can not goe on foote.
 Pes vinearum, the stalk of the grapes.
 Pes milui, an herbe.
 Pes coruinus, read in Batrachion & Ranunculus.
 Pes leonis, the herbe called tow mallow, or our ladies mantill.
 Pes leporis, the herbe called harefoote, a kinde of trifolie.
 Pes pulli, an herbe called also caucalis.
 Pes galliaceus, one of the kyndes of fumitory, growynge in walles and hedges, and hath leaues not vnlyke in facion, but greener, and a purple floure.
 Pessennius, a mannes name, a great frende of Lyncros.
 Pestis, in olde tyme used for Pestis, pestilence.
 Pessnas, olde wytters used for Pennas.
 Pessi, a kynde of medicines or glitters ministered to women.
 Pessimus, veray yll.
 Pessimus, a, um, veray yll, sharke naught, worst of all.
 Pessinuntius, a, um, of or belongynge to Cybele.
 Pessinuns, unis, a towne in Phrygia, where was a temple dedicate vnto Cybele.
 Pessulus, li, m. g. a barre or bolte, wherewith doores or gates be made faste.
 Obdi foribus pessulum.
 Pessum, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth backesward, Ggg ij wayde, warde, downwarde, underfoote.

Pessum ire, to sinke to the bottomme, and by translation to be cast away, to come to naught.
Pessum premere, to treade downe or underfoote.

Pessundo, fundedi, fundare, to cast underfoote, to put to the worke, to cast away, to vndoe, to cast to the ground as an horse doeth his rider.
Pessundare aliquem, to bynge one to naught, to vndoe or cast away one.

Pestana, certene balles in Campania, where flowers doo springe twise in a yere, wherof the mooste perfecte roses be called Pestana rosa.

Pestifer, mischeuouus, perniciously, with great hurt and daunger of one.

Pestifer, a, um, and Pestiferus, a, um, that whyle the byngeth in pestilence, mortall, deadly, that byngeth death or destruction, vnholefome.
Pestiferum bellum, mortall warre.

Pestilens, entis, om. g. pestilent, vnholefome, that ingendereth pestilence.

Pestilentia, a, f. g. idem quod Pestis.

Pestilentia, a, f. gen. used of olde wyters for Pestis.

Pestis, is, f. g. a pestilence, a mortallitee of men. Sometime a thyng of persone that is the confusion of other, a mischeue, sometime death.
Pestes, is sometime used in the plurall numbre for pernicious persons, or thynges byngynge confusion or destruction.

Petalides, fette hogges.

Petalismus, mi, m. g. a punishmente in the citee of Syracusis in Sicile, whiche was, that the rulers there, wytyng theyr names in Olyue leaues, and diuidynge them selves, banished the offenders.

Petalitis, tis, f. g. an herbe called hartes tongue.

Petalum, li, n. g. a leafe.

Petalus, a mans name.

Petafari, were the surnames of Castor & Pollux.
Petafatus, he that weareth an hatte. it is also (after some) he that weareth bootes or steeppes.

Petasio, and Petasio, onis, m. ge. a gammon or dyche of baron.

Petalites, tis, f. g. an herbe haupng great boade leaues lyke an hatte, of the kynde of clothes or burres, the butter burre.

Petascinculus, li, m. g. a littell gamon or dyche of baron.

Petatus, si, m. g. an hatte, a rounde couerynge of an house. also after some a kynde of steeppes or bootes.

Petaurista, a, m. g. a iuglar, a tumbler.

Petarum, i, n. g. a corde, a staffe, a bourde or other lyke thyng, wheron lyght personages doo daunce and pzooue maistries. it is also a roust, where pultrie dooe sit a nyght tyme. it is also thyngie, wherewith houses bee covered, and a kynde of game used in olde tyme, wherein men by collyng of wheeles were cast by alofte, Petesso, scere, to aske or require, id est quod Peto.

Petigo, tiginis, f. g. a letter that remeth one all a mans face.

Petilanfura, ra, f. am. ge. the house of a white horse.

Petilara, thynges that are dyie.

Petilia, scire in Lucania.

Petilus, a, um, small, thynne, slender.

Petilius, li, m. ge. a floure that groweth amonge brymbles in the later ende of summer, & is lyke a white rose in colour, and hath fyue small leaues, the bud of dyuers colours, haupng with in it pelowe seedes.

Petimen, timinis, n. g. a soze in the shoulders of beastes, whiche I suppose to be a facion.

Petiolus, i, m. g. a littell foote, also a perch, wher on frutes or onyons be hanged, or rather the stalk of fruite, wherby it hangerh on the tree.

Petisco, scere, olde wyters used for Peto, to aske or demaunde, to go to.

Petitia, orum, n. g. a certene kynde of appalles.

Petio, onis, f. g. a petition, a labourynge or sayng for an office or come, an assaut or violence settyng vpon, a suite or demaunde in the law.
Implere petitionem, in the lawe is to declare and pzooue, that to be his, whiche he claymeth or demaundeth.

Petitor, oris, m. ge. he that askech or demaunds deeth, amonge lawyers he is called the demaundant, also it is a beggar that askech almes from doze to doze.

Petitorium, rij, n. g. a chariotte or wagon.

Petitorius, a, um, that belongeth to a petitioner, demaundynge or claymynge of a thyng.

Petitor, i, n. g. a thyng required or demaunded.

Petitus, a, um, despyed or wished for, strephen, assaulted, set vpon.

Adquirit extremi lapides oriente petitos, id est quasitos, apporatos, aduectos.

Petitus, us, mas, gen. a request, a demaunde, a petition.

Peto, tiui, & tij, ere, to aske vmbly, to despyre to haue, to couet, to seke for, to make suite or labour for an office or lyke thyng, to take of chose out, to strike, to pzofer to strepke, or offer to geue a blowe, to assault or set vpon violently. also to get of attaine, to late awayre, to abyde, to go to a place, sometime to reherse or mention, after Nonius, also to folow, to leade awal. Peto regladio, to strike with a sword. Peto vene no, to seke meanes, or go about to pzoofen.

Petere blandijs, to flatter.

Petere tactu, to seile.

Petere murum, to bozowe.

Petere iugulum, to kill.

Petere auribus, to heare.

Petere naribus, to smell.

Petere oculis, to beholde.

Petere oculis, to kysse.

Petere vi, to enforce, to set vpon violently.

Precib? omnibus petere, to desire as earnestly one can possible.

Pem petere, to aske helpe or ayde.

eniam petere, to despyre pardone or forgiue. esse. Quid petis istis, id est ab istis, after Serz.

his. Peto tibi, for Peto te.

missionem militibus petere, to require that the uiditors maie haue licence to depart.

accusationem in aliquem petere, to require that maie accuse one.

Augusti filius inde gloriam petiit, id est, deus est. Petere somnum, to couet or haue a despyre to slepe, to go to slepe.

Petere pecnas ab aliquo, id est exigere, to pzo-uere, to require that one bee punished, or to be turned, to seke meanes to bee reuenged.

principio sedes apibus petenda, firste and for-most you muste take and chose out a place for the sees.

rogasse vellem vnde peterem cibum, I wolde had asked hym, where I should require or seke or my meate and drynke.

Consilium a se ipso petere, to take counsaile of ym selfe.

Petere exemplum, to take an exemple.

Petere e flamma te cibum posse arbitror, I thinke the so pzooue a knaue, that to get a mortell meate thou wilt thurst thy nose in the fyre.

Exordium petere, to take a begynnyng, to bes gynne.

Petere ad Aethiopas vsque, to fetch it euen as farre as Ethiopie.

Petunt in Carmanos, id est, a Carmanis.

Petunt in Indos, id est, ab Indis, they fetch it or for it as farre as Indie.

Petere in sepulchrum, hoc est, e sepulchro, to fetch out of the sepulcher or graue.

Petere aliquem dextra, to stretch or put out the ryght hande to one.

Aliquem litteris petere, to write to one, to pzouoke one in wytyng, to write a sharpe quicke or hauntyng letter to one.

Petere aliquem fictis criminibus, to accuse one falsely, to lay false thynges to ones charge.

Cornu petere, to bushe with the hozne.

Punctum petere hostem, to foyne with a sword or other weapon.

Casum petere, to strike with the edge of the sword.

Caput petere, to strepke at the head.

Petere aliquem telis, to hurle dartes or iauelens at one.

Petere aliquem, to assaile or set vpon. also to late waite for one.

Petir, used amonge poetes for Petijt.

Ad hostem petendum armatus, redie armed to assaile his enemies.

Petere fraude, or Insidijs, to late waite to des cepe or kill one.

Troianos hac monstra petunt, id est, manent, expectant, or after Seruius appetunt.

Quem petir, & summis annexus viribus, vrs get, whom he foloweth. &c.

Petuntur in vincula, qui parentes non alunt, they bee ledde awal to prison, or they bee requered to be put in prison. &c.

Athenas petere, to go to Athens.

Celum petere, to fleye up into the ayre.

Fuga salutem petere, to flee awal, to the chasent to saue hym selfe.

Secretum petere, to go into a secrete place.

Periculo vehementi peti, to be assailed with foze perille.

Supera semper petunt, they couet alwaies to be about, or in high places.

Roman petir fons ille, that well renneth to Rome.

Alum flamma petit, the fyre or flame mounreth up on hygh.

Ardua petere, to clime by hylles.

Petorum, ti, n. ge. a kynde of wagons or chariottes used in Fraunce.

Petolus, a famous astronomer of Egypte.

Petra, a, f. g. a rocke, a stone.

Petra, a towne in Sicilie by Hybla, also a towne of Arabie, wherof Petra Arabia is named.

Petra Sirenum, a towne of Lucania.

Petracorn, a people of Fraunce called commonly Perigort.

Petrea, a nymph of the sea.

Petrea, a woman goyng before common pzocessions in the countrey, sepyngge hyr selfe drunke.

Petroleon, lei, ti, gen. an oyle, which naturally renneth out of a stone.

Petrus, a, um, of a stone.

Petricolus, a, um, idem quod petrosus.

Petrificatio, a disease in the eye and eye liddes.

Perrina, the herbe Tusilago.

Petroleum, an oyle, that naturally issueth out of stones.

Perrones, carres of the countrey, also whether sheepe.

Petronia, a, a littell brouke rennyng into the ri-uer of Eiber. also the wife of Vitellius the emperour.

Petroselinum, ni, neu. ge. an herbe of the kynde of Parsely, and after some hedg parsley or stone parsley. Gessner saith, it is called in the Alpes Ostratum, whiche they vse agaynst all diseases. Hieronymus Tragus calleth it Pimpinellam.

Petrophiles, the herbe called Aizoom paruum.

Petrus, a, um, stonie, or full of stones.

Petulans, antis, om. gen. wanton, dishonest, res prochefull, proude, vicious, rebp to do wrong, malapert, saucie, that passeth not howe yll he speareth or doeth to a man.

Effuse petulans, malapert and saucie without measure, that hath no moderacis in his tounge and behaviour.

Petulanter, wantonly, proude, dishonest, vnta-shamefastly, imprudently, malapertly, saucily.

Ggg iij Petu-

Peulanter inuehi in aliquem, To inueghe agaynst one with proude and reprochfull woordes.

Peculanter inuehi in filiam alicuius, To rayle cypfully and saucily against ones daughter.

Peculātia, a, fem. gen. wantonnesse, vicioussesse, proude, malapertnesse, impudencie, saucinesse, reprochfull and proude speakeynge of chaitynge.

Petulus, a, um, wanton, lasciuious.

Pétulus, li, m. g. a diminutiue of Petus.

Petus, or parus, i, m. g. he that hath one eye lasse than the other.

Petulcum, a part of the citee of Rome.

Peuce, an ile in the riuer Ister, also the wilde pine apple tree.

Peucedanum, or peucedanus, an herbe, whiche hath a litle stalk, lyke a fennell, bulshie by the grounde, & hath a yelow flower, a blacke roote, a great sauer, and is full of iuite, he that doeth gether it, feleth peine and whizzlyng in his heade, excepte his heade and nostrylles be annoynted with oyle of roses, Dioscorides. Iohn Agricola supposeth it to be that, whiche is called Faniculum porcinum, which I suppose we call dogge fennell. some call this, Peucedanum, balde money.

Pexātus, a, um, that weareth a garmēt of rough frysse, or frysse adowe, or such lyke cloth.

Pexitas, ātis, f. g.

Pexo, aui, are, to hembe.

Pexus, a, um, hemmed, carded, curled, stryken with the flage in weayng.

Pexa vestes, some men in expounding Plutarche, suppose to be of such thyng as is thorne, as fyne woullen clothe or beluēt, but it seemeth rather to be garments frysed, or that haue longe woulle, as thyeke frysse or frysse adowe.

Pexa toga, a gowne of frysse adowe, or other clothe that hath the woulle frysed.

Pexa munera, garments of frysse adowe, or other lyke clothe geuen to men.

Pexa folia, leaues thyeke and cryspe.

Doctor pexus & pinguis, a grosse and rude teacher.

Peziza, mousscheromes growng at the rootes of trees.

P ANTE H.

P Hacas, idem quod lens.

Phabiranum, a citee in Germany called Bremen.

Phacea agria, a kynde of lintels growng in watre places.

Phaces, people of the Ile of Corcira, vnder the dominion of Alcinous.

Phaeus, a, um, & Phaeusius, a, um, of the people Phaces.

Phaax, acis, Phoaxe bseth for one that is fat, wel fed, and deyntely brought vp.

P ANTE H.

Phacastātus, a, um, that weareth shoes called Phacast.

Phacastum, ij, n. g. & Phacastus, i, m. g. a bynd of shoes.

Phadimus, one of the sons of Amphion & Niobe, also a poetes name of Syranthe.

Phadon, a noble man of Athens, slayne by the thetyz tyānes. an other was a philosopher, whose name Plato made his booke of the immortallitee of the soule.

Phædra, the wyfe of Theseus, and stepmother to Hippolitus daughter of Minos, king of Crete.

Phædrus, one of Platos scholars.

Phæniana, a citee of Aethia, called nowe Behenhusum.

Phænium, idem quod Anemone.

Phæstum, a citee of Crete.

Phæstus, the sonne of Boeotus, slayne at Troy, also an hyl of Crete.

Phæton, touris, a woorde of the syllables, the son of Phæbus and Leucines, who with long desyre, oportunityed at the last of his father, that he mought one daie gouerne or leade the chariote of the son, but being vnable to that effect, the horses ouerthrew the chariote, and burned all the woilde. wherof Jupiter being ascende, hit he also shulde be burned, strykinge Phæton with lyching, thence hym into the riuer called Padus, and Erydanus. Phæton, is somes tyne vsed for the sonne.

Phætonides, the sisters of Phæton, looke Heliades.

Phætonius, or Phætonius, a, um, of Phæton.

Phæteusa, daughter of the sonne, reade Heliades.

Phagedæna, a, f. g. a rennyng canker or poche, whiche thozely eateth the fleshe to the bones.

Phagedenicus, ci, ma. gene. that hath that soze or botche.

Phago, a mans name, whiche was an exceeding glutton, and dyd eate in one daie a whole boyr, an hundred loues of bycadde, a shepe and a pygge, and drank the beestell of wyne called Orca, a butte or other lyke beestell.

Phagineus, a, um, of beech.

Phagus, a beech tree.

Phalanga, a, f. g. a staffe, wheron men do carrie packes, also a playne staffe, a leauer or a roller to lyfte and conueygh thyngs or other thynges that be heauy and weyghtie.

Phalangarij, porters, whiche do carrie packes: also Gouldiours of the bande called Phalang.

Phalangium, ij, n. g. a kind of spiders, that hath in all his legges thre ioyntes or knottes, whose stingng is perillous & all most deadly.

Phalacrocorax, acis, m. g. a water crowe, it maie signifie a cote, but the birde, whiche is properly called of Plinie Phalacrocorax, is the thirde kind of byrdes, that Aristotle nameth haliaetus id est, graculos, loke there.

Phalacron, balde.

Phalacrus, the sonne of Aeolus.

Phalz,

P ANTE H.

Phalz, or Falz, high towers made of tymbre.

Phalangites, a, or Phalangium, gij, an herbe haupge alwaies two stalkes at the leaste, a whyte slowe lyke in facion to a redde lytie, a blacke seede lyke halfe a lentell.

Phalango, are, to moue or dysue a thyng vpon rollers.

Phalantus, the chiefe capitayne of the bastardes that were exiled and put out of thetyr countrey Lacedemonie.

Phalanx, angis, f. g. an host of .viii. thousande foote men, set in such ordre, that they may encounter with thetyr enemies, foote to foote, man to man, wyde to wyde.

Phalanges, are the ioyntes or spaces in the synagres.

Phalangitæ, tårum, an armie of .xvi. thousande foote men.

Phalara, a towne in Attica.

Phalārica, a, f. g. an instrumente of warre, wher in wyde fyre is enclosed, that whan it is by shot fastened to tymbre, it burneth all thozely. there be of it two sortes, a bygger and a lesse.

Phalaris, a tyran of Agrigentyn in Sicilie, also a grammarians name.

Phalaris, an herbe partly lyke cozne, partly lyke grasse: and therefore may be called grasse cozne.

Phalera, an haucn in Athens.

Phalera, a, and Phalera, arum, an ornamente that gentlemen, & men of armes vsed in Rome.

Phalera, arum, f. g. plur. a trappar or barbes for an hoise.

Phalarātus, a, um, trapped or barbed.

Phalarata dicta, gaie wordes, pleasant speache.

Phalereus Demetrius, a philosopher and gouerour of Athens.

Phalerij, a citee in Tuscany.

Phalernus, reade before in Falernus.

Phalisci, a certayne people in Italy on the highest part of Tuscany, called nowe Mount Alston.

Phalora, a citee of Cheshire.

Phanxus, an hyl of Chios, wheron vines are set.

Phanāicus, i, masc. gene. he that hath vaine visions.

Phanes, a mans name of Halicarnassus, whiche conducted Cambyses into Egypt.

Phanera, a, one of the names of Bacchus.

Phanias, is taken of Hyperides, and Lyfias, for an vsurer.

Phanio, sainte Augustine in his epistles sayeth, was take for one that brought good lucke with his comyng.

Phanni, fāstasies, which happē to men in dremes.

Phantasia, a, f. g. is diuersely taken of philosophers & phisitions. Galenus interiorum ratio, the affection called Phantasia, is none of the thyng but the corruption of vnderstandynge. Aristotle de animalibus. 2. Phantasia is an operation of the power phantastical, that is to say, a meuyng from the actuall sense. also

Phantasia, is of the creature or power animal, keeper of the formes and figures first conceived in the common sense or perceiuyng, phantastic, imagination.

P ANTE H.

Phantasma, tasmatis, n. g. a vision, properly of a thyng that is not, a vayne vision or imagination.

Phantasticus, a, um, phantastical.

Phanum, ni, n. g. a temple.

Phanus, ni, a mans name.

Phæon, a saye ponge man.

Pharæ, a citee in Crete.

Pharao, onis, the name of all kynges of Egypte vntill the tyme of Salomon. in the Egyptian tongue Pharaon significeth kyng.

Phāretra, a, and sometyme Pharētra, a, f. g. a quiver for arrowes.

Pharetrātus, a, um, that beareth a quiver.

Pharia, an ple called nowe Aisna, also a citee, wher of the people be called Pharienses.

Pharias, pharia, a serpente, whiche maketh a fosse in the grounde with his taylor as he creepeth, and so litch hym self vp.

Pharicon, ci, n. g. a kynde of popson.

Pharisei, were amonge the Jewes certayne men, which professed a forme of luyng moze strictly and deuoute than other of that people, and were therefore called by that name.

For Phares, in the Hebrew tongue significeth diuider. they professed continence, virginitie, faste, and abstainyng from meate wyse in the sabote daies.

they slepte onely vpon bourdes, some vpon stones or els on thornes, to kepe them fro stirring of fleschly appetyte. they ware on thetyr fores heades scrowles of parchemente, wherin were writte the .x. commandemētes geuen by god to Moyses, which they called Philaterias: they had in great reuerence thetyr elders, in so much that they wolde not with a woorde displease them.

notwithstandyng they beleued, that all thynges happed by constellation, and yet toke they not away free wyll from man.

they affirmed, that soules are immortall, and that god shall come in iudgemente. hereby they came into wound derfull credence with people, wherby they drew to them great multitudes, and of them were dyuers good men, amonge whom was sainte Paule, Nicodemus and other, whiche afterwarde were Chyistes disciples, althoughe the multitude, takynge that profession onely for vaine glory, peruerced that honest forme of luyng into hyppocrisie, deceiuyng the people, whom Chyiste sharply rebuked, and declared thetyr foly.

and yet with some of them (whiche by lphelhode were good men) he dyed, and as therwyse vsed them familiarly.

Pharius, a, um, is put for Aegyptius.

Pharius, and Phariachus, cha, chum, of Pharus.

Pharmacēutice, es, fem. gen. that parte of phisicke that healeth with medicines.

Pharmacutria, a, f. g. a forceresse.

Ggg iij

Pha-

Pharmacodion, thei, n. ge. a diuine medicine.
 Pharmacopola, x, a pothecarie.
 Pharmacum, i, ne. ge. a medicine, sometyme it signifieth popson.
 Pharmacusa, two ples by Attica.
 Pharmaces, kynge Mithridates tooone, whome
 Caesar vanquished.
 Pharphariades, parte of the mountaine Taurus.
 Pharos, a litle ple in Egypte agaynst the mouth of Nilus, by the cite Alexandria. in this ple was set a very high towre, wherein were great lighthtes all the nyght longe, for the comforte & suretee of them, which were in viage epyther on the sea oz on the launde. wherof all other toures made for such purpose, are called Phari.
 Pharusi, oz Pharusi, people of Libya, which are now credynge pooze.
 Pharsalia, a countrey in Thessalia where the battaye was betwene Caesar and Pompeie.
 Pharsalos, a cite in Thessalie, nygh to the which was the great and sharpe battaile betwene Casar and Pompeius, where Pompeius was vanquished and slayne. it is also called Lucanus Pharsalia.
 Phase, a woorde of Hebrew, whiche signifieth passing ouer. it is commonly called Pascha.
 Phaselis, a cite of Pamphilia, whiche was a refuge for pirates.
 Phaselinus, a, um, made of the pulse Phaseolus, Phaselus, oz Phaselus, li, m. g. a litle shyp called a galion.
 Phaseolus, li, a sorte of pulse come, wherof be di-uers kyndes. one is called Dolichus, whiche groweth in gardenes, with a longe stamme, and is succoured with stiches set about it, thei bee shortly corrupted with weate. Aecius saith, that onely they amonge all other pulse were eaten with theyr huskes. Ruellius affirmeth, that it was not the common Dolichus, but they whiche were of dyuers colours, and fashioned lyke to litle kidneys. Looke of them in Smi-lar. An other kynde is called Phasillus, which is verie smal, some beyng white and some red, with litle stalkes rennyng on the grounde, and lyng holowe, hauing leaues lyke in facion to ure, but softer and full of beines, coddres lyke to fengreke, the broth of them nouryseth, and maketh indifferent iuce. an other is called Smilar, of whom reade in his place. an other is called Scopyron, whose leafe is lyke to anyse, and hath on the top litle heades full of feedes lyke to Nigella. I haue no certayne englyshe for this pulse, excepte ye will cal them fasselles oz long peate, as maister Turner doth.
 Phasganon, the herbe Xiphion.
 Phasianarius, ii, m. g. he that breedeth fasantes.
 Phasianus, i, m. g. and Phasiana, x, f. c. gene. a fasant.
 Phasolos, the herbe Scopyros.
 Phatrag, a beaste in Indie lyke a cockatrice, as bygas a litle dogge, haupn a scalie and rough

Chinne, that can not bee pearced with Iron, Aelianus.
 Phatinus panis, a kynde of bread made of linstels.
 Phasis, sis, oz sidis, a great ryuer in the countrey of Colchos. it is also a cite there.
 Phasina, Ais, n. g. an horrible vision oz spght.
 Phaulia mala, a kynde of quinces.
 Phaulia, a kynde of olives.
 Phauorinus, a famous and eloquente philosopher bozne at Viliance in Fraunce. in hym were three thynges principally to be merueyled at. The fyrste, that he beyng a frenche man, was so excellent in the Grecke toung, that besydes his great lernynge, he lefte behynde hym a noble remembrance of the grecke eloquente. The seconde, y being Eunuchus oz an imperfect man, he was accused of adulterie. The thyrde, that haupnge the emperour Edrian credynghly displeased with hym, he notwithstanding ouerlyp-ued hym, neuer haupnge any damage by hym:
 whiche was to the hygh commendacion of that noble emperoure, haupnge this sentence often tymes in his mouth (but in Grecke) the kyng is than to be esteemed moste excellent, whan he beyng displeased with his inferiour, refrayneth his anger. On a tyme whan the emper-oure disputed with hym, and in the ende he semed to suffer the emperour to haue the victo-rie: afterwarde his friendes asted of hym, howe it happened that he, who applied hym selfe to studie and letters onely, and was reputed to be the greatest philosopher in Athens: mought be vanquished of so great a pynne, who was occupied in the great assaies of the empyre.
 He answered, that it was no shame to be vanquished of hym, whiche had .xxx. legions of men at his commaundement.
 Phayllus, a mas name, that wolde leape. ss. foli.
 Phechabatus, Phecasium: looke Phacassius.
 Phegeus, a, um, of Phegeus.
 Phegeus, the father of Alphesibora, Themon and Axion, of whome Alcmæon was purged for sleapng his mother Eriphyle.
 Phelandrios, diij, m. g. an herbe growynge in mar-rise groundes holosome to breake the stone, called of Dioscorides Helioselinon, id est apium palustre. some thynke Phelandrios to be Filipendula.
 Phelloidris, I thinke seemeth to take it for coke, contrary to Theophrastus.
 Phenius, mi, m. g. a certayne medicine agaynst the collicke.
 Phenice, phenix, oz Phenicia, looke Diosc. li. 4.
 cap. 46.
 Phellus, li, m. g. coke.
 Phemonoe, a mayden, prophete of Apollo in Delphos.
 Phenium, a towne of Acadie.
 Pheneatz, people of that towne.
 Phengites, tis, m. g. a certayne cone. Phel

Phenion, an herbe, some wyte it Fremium. it is also called Anemone.
 Phera, a cite of Thessaly. also a place and towne of Achaia, and a towne of Attica, betwene Megara and Thebes.
 Heracles, a famous philosopher and wyter of tragedies, whiche died of the lousie sicknesse, he was Pythagoras maister. There was an oz ther of that name before hys tyme.
 Heracles, the sonne of Hermonides, whiche made the shyppes wherein Paris sailed into Grece, whan he stalc away Helen.
 Heracles, a poete of Athens.
 Herenice, a womans name.
 Heretra, orum, neu. ge. thynges bozne at great feastes oz triumphes, as pageantes oz icewels of golde oz syluer, images, and such lyke thyngges.
 Heretrus, Jupiter.
 Herne, idem quod Dos.
 Heretrum, i, n. g. a thyng, wheron pageantes are bozne, also dead coppies, looke Feretrum.
 Heronobium, wilde lecture,
 Herusa, idem quod Carduus.
 Heruxitron, Aristolochia rotunda, vi Barb.
 in Coroll.
 Phiala, x, f. g. the generall name to all plate that seruethe for wyne oz water, and ppropely of golde.
 Phiale, one of Dianas companions.
 Phidias, an excellent workman in makynge garet images of golde oz Iuorie.
 Phidiacus, a, um, of Phidias.
 Phiditia, x, f. g. the suppers that the Lacedemonians vsed, whiche were openly kepte with a mercurialous temperance, euery man bringynge his mesurable porcion of meate and wyne.
 Phila, la, f. g. an yle in the frenche sea.
 Philadelphia, a cite in Asie, ioynynge to Lidia.
 Philadelphia, x, f. g. brotherly loue.
 Philadelphus, a litle bushe, the bowes wherof standng a sunder, encline and togyne together as it were for generacion, and after departng a sander, budde and byngne foorth.
 Philadelfus, called Ptolomeus, kyng of Egypt, who made a librarie, wherin wer fiftie thousand bookes. He also caused the .v. bookes of Moys-ses to be translated into Grecke, by .lxxii. interpreters, doctours of the iewes.
 Phila, arum, an yle by Egypt.
 Philagathus, thi, m. g. he that loueth goodnesse.
 Philagrus, a philosopher of Cilicia.
 Philalethes, a louer of trouth.
 Philantropia, x, f. g. humanitee, gentylnesse,
 and fauour towards men.
 Philantropos, the herbe aparine.
 Philanthropos, pi, m. g. a louer of mankynde. also gentyll and kynde, also a kynde of buttes.
 Philarchus, one that loueth to beare rule.
 Philaretus, a louer of vertue.
 Phileuterus, a louer of libertie.

Philargyria, x, f. g. couetousnesse, auaritie.
 Philargyris, ri, m. g. couetouse.
 Philautia, x, f. g. loue of ones owne personne,
 loue of ones selfe.
 Philemon, a comical poete.
 Philéma, lématís, n. g. a kysse.
 Phileni, were two brethren of Larchage, of whd it is written, that where they of Larchage and they of Cyrene dyd strue for theyr boundes, it was agreed, that of eche cite two men shoulde issue, and where as they met, shuld be the bound-
 des. than the said brethren beyng sente, wente a great waye into the boundes of the other, er they moughte returne. and whan they of Cy-ren dyd see that they were preuented, they toke it displeasently, and menaced the two brethren, that if they wolde not go backe, they shulde bee put quicke into the earth: but they notwithstanding dyng wolde not departe. wherfore they beyng buryed on lue, theyr countrey men made ouer theym two altars, whiche at this daie be called Ara Phileorum, whiche are now within the realme of Tunife.
 Philenus, he that loueth wyne.
 Phileremus, a louer of solitarines.
 Philesia, temples dedicate to Apollo.
 Philesius, a name of Apollo.
 Phileras, a grammarian in the tyme of Philip & Alexander, instructour to Ptholomeus Phila-delphus.
 Philereria, x, f. g. an herbe called wyld sage. in the decrees of Gregorie thei be takē for charmes oz enchantmentes written. also in Consilio Las-odicensi, we doo reade Philereria facere.
 Philétes, tis, a kysse.
 Philétus, a, um, amiable.
 Phileum, a cite in Seythlande called commonly Grouingen.
 Philippi, a cite in Thessalye.
 Philippica, Demosthenes oracions against Philip, and Ciceros agaynst Anthoine.
 Phillippides, a comical poete.
 Philippopolis, a cite of Macedonia.
 Philppenses, men of that cite.
 Philippus, ei, a certayne coine of golde, sometyme vsed in Grece.
 Philippus, i, a kynde of Macedonia, sonne of Amyntas, father of great Alexander. A prince from his childehode of excellent witte and poswer, of whom these notable thynges be remem-bred. after he had vanquished the Atheniens at Cheronea, he began to reioyce of his feliciztee. but to the entente that he therfore shoulde not be y more pde to iniuries towarde his subiectes, nor to haue indignacion at theym, whom he vanquished: he then and euer after caused a chyld to come to his chaumbyr doore in the mornynge, and to saie aloud, Philip, thou arte a man mortall. Whiche he obserued so constantly, that he neuer went out of his chambre, oz receyued any counsaylours oz suiters, tyll

tyll the chyldre had thise spoken these woordes, notwithstandynge that he was a painme. On a tyme the Athenienses sente an ambassade unto him, whiche after he had paciently hearde, he saide to the ambassadours, whan they shulde departe. knowe you (sayde he) any thyng that may be pleasure unto your citie? amonge them was Democritus (for his tongue called Theristes) he foorthwith answered the kyng: if thou (saide he) wyllt haunge by thy selfe: whiche answer troubled the residue of the ambassadours, and dyd set all the other heres in an indignation, with a great chere.
but Philup most gently and coldely answered.
Saie you to the Athenienses, that they whiche for anger can not absteyne from suche woordes, deserue muche prouder of courage, than they that suffer it spoken withoute any punishmente, and dooe easilie digesse so proude an iniurie. also, where one named Machatas had a matter in variance before hym, Philippe takeynge littell heede, what was spoken, and sometyme sleepeynge, at the laste gaue iudgemente agaynst Machatas: who crynge out with a lowde voyce, appealed. Wherewith Philippe beyng sore moued, with a greuous look, sayde: to whome dooest thou appeal?
I appeale, (sayde Machatas) unto your selfe, but beyng better awaked, and takeynge heede what is spoken. Philippe beyng thoroughly awaked, and hearinge effectuously the matter, perceyued, that Machatas had wronge.
he woulde not reuerse the iudgemente, but the summe of money, wherin Machatas was condemned, he payed of his owne treasure. of his patience, subtiltee of witte, and valiaunte courage, many haue written abundantly, whiche in the readyng are bothe pleasaunte and profyttable. he was afore the incarnation of Christ
358. yeres

Philiste, certayne robbers amonge the Egyptians, whiche impace a man to the ende to strangle hym.

Philistus, an historiographer.

Philo, a philosopher of the secte Academicke, and a Jewe, borne at Alexandria, a man of great eloquence and wysedome.

Philocalus, li, m. g. a good man, a chensly man or eleganc.

Philocolia, f. g. delight in fatteresse and cleane-nesse.

Philocares, an herbe called horehounde.

Philocles, a tragicall poete of Athens.

Philocompus, pi, m. g. a bragger, a craker.

Philocrates, constant in loue.

Philocrémator, a courteous man.

Philoctetes, the sonne of Pean, was Hercules companion, and buried hym, and had his ar-rowes.

Philodamus, a noble man of the people called Lamfacent.

Philodici, they whiche desyre to bee pratyng in the lawe.

Philenus, a louer of wyne.

Philodolus, he that loneth his seruantes.

Philogracus, he that delighteth or hath a pleasure to use greke woordes.

Philoginia, a, f. g. doteing on women.

Philoginos, he that dotech on women.

Philolaus, one of Corinth, whiche gaue lawes to the Thebanes.

Philologia, a, f. g. loue of studie, babylng, delectation in to muche talke or many woordes.

Philologus, gi, m. g. studious, or a loue of letters. also a great speaker.

Philomachus, desirous to learne.

Philomachia, desire to learne.

Philomela, a, f. g. a nyghingale. also a fayre mayden that was deflowred by Thereus, hys bande to her sister: whom poetes feigne to bee transformed into a nyghingale.

Philomusus, si, m. g. amouze of the muses, that loneth or fauoureth good letters.

Philonicus, a bawler. sometyme a loue of vices toye.

Philonides, a great bigge lubbour of Melite, so bitterly intwile and vnturned, that of hym grew a proverbe, Indoctior Philonide.

Philonium, a newe friende.

Philopamines, a famous capitaine of the people
Theat, whiche vanquished the Lacedemonians and Messenians in diuers batailles.

Philopas, he that loneth chyldren to dishonre.

Philopolemus, mi, m. g. a loue of warre.

Philopolites, a loue of his countrey.

Philoponia, loue of labour.

Philopychia, a, f. g. desire of lifte.

Philoparchus, volupuous, sensuall, desirous of pleasure.

Philoponus, ni, m. g. laborious, painefull.

Philosophaster, stri, m. g. he that woulde bee lyke a philosopher, a smatterer in philosophie, a counterfeit philosopher.

Philosophia, a, f. g. philosophie, the loue of wourpne of wysedome.

Philosophice, lyke a philosopher.

Philosophicus, a, um, philosophicall.

Philosophor, aris, to study wysedome, to dispute and reason of philosophie, to serche the causes and natures of thynges.

Philosophus, i, m. g. a philosophier.

Philostorgia, the loue of parentes towarde theyr chyldren.

Philostatus, a learned man in the tyme of Se-uerus the emperour.

Philothéoros, ri, m. g. one that is geuen to speculation and contemplation of thynges.

Philothesia, a solemn feast amonge the Grekes.

Philotimus, desirous of honour.

Philoxenia, a, f. g. hospitalitee.

Philozous, verie desirous to lieue.

Phil-

Philoxenus, he that kepeth good hospitalitee. also the name of a grammarian, of a poete, of a famous pyncter, and of a parasite, which willed hym selfe to haue a necke as longe as a crane, that he myght haue moze delectation in sweete meates and drynkes.

Philiron, of some is taken for sarrets.

Philtrum, i, n. g. a drinke charmed, whiche causeth a man to dote or to be mad for loue.

Philura, or Philira, a, f. g. a thynne thyn be-twene the barkes and the wood of the tre called Ephra, wherin they vsed in olde tyme to write, after some it is the tree it selfe.

Philyra, a, a nymph, on whom Saturnus begate Chiron, who therfore is sometyme called Phi-lirides.

Phyma, a, n. gen. a soze on the synger, whiche maie be called a whitblowe.

Phimus, est praelusio hostioli vuluæ.

Phimosi, quum glans membri virilis ita tegitur vt nudari non possit.

Phineus, kyng of Arcadie, who by the enticement of a seconde wyfe, put out the eyes of his son-nes, whiche he had by his first wyfe. But by the iust vengeance of god, he was also made blind, and the foule rauenslike birdes called Harpie, despyed and deuoured the meate that was prepared for hym. But those byrdes were at the last driuen away by Zetus and Laïs, whom he had curteysely entercyneyd. An other Phi-neus was brother of Lephreus, that was turned into a stone by Hercules. An other of that name an Athenien, was turned into a byrde.

Phison, one of the riuers of paradise, which come calle Ganges, some Nilus.

Phianates, people of Illiria.

Phlebs, phlebis, f. g. a veyne.

Phlebotomia, a, f. g. bloodlettyng.

Phlebotomum, mi, n. g. the instrument, wherwith bloude is letten, a fleume.

Phlegeton, onis, a rupe of hell, whiche alwaie boureth.

Phlegetonteus, a, um, of Phlegeton.

Phlegias, the sonne of Mars, a kyng in Thebastie, and father of Arion.

Phlegma, mātis, n. g. fleume.

Phlegmaticus, a, um, fleumaticke.

Phlegmone, ones, f. g. an inflammation of bloude, whiche groweth into an impostume in some parte of the body or members.

Phlegon, one of the hoyses of the sonne.

Phlegontis, tidis, f. g. a precious stone, wherin appareth as it were a flame of fyre.

Phlegra, græ, or Phlegre, gres, a citee of Macedonie.

Phlegreus campus, after some a fælde in The-satie, after some in Macedonie, after Idmie and Strabo in Campayne, by the citee Lus-me, where the gigantes were overcome by Hercules.

Phlegyas, lyke Phlegias.

Phlegia, people of Thebasie, named of Phleg-ias Arions father, whiche were dispisers of god and man, and therfore distroyed with a deluge by Neptune.

Phleas, phlei, f. g. a certayne herbe.

Phlias, the son of Bacchus, that sailed into Col-chis with Jason.

Phliasius, a, um, of Phlias.

Phlius, untis, a place in Grecia, wher the was wooly shipped.

Phletoricum, a bodie full of greete humours.

Phlonos, the herbe Verbascum.

Phlonius, the herbe Onosmon.

Phlox, phlogos, f. g. gen. in greke, is in latine Flamma, a flame.

Phlox, a pelowe floure like a violette.

Phloxenus, a greke poete.

Phlobetor, oris, the sonne of Somnus.

Phlum, a certayne herbe, that women vsed to make lye with, of colour ruddie: of it be two kynedes, the male and the female.

Phlyctena, næ, f. g. a wheate, a pusch, a blister.

Phlyctis, the sozenes of the eyes.

Phoca, cæ, f. gen. a sea cause, it maie be supposed to be a seale, which is fishe, and byedeth on the lande.

Phocæ, phocarum, illes nere to Crete.

Phocæa, a citee of the lesse Phrygia, belongyng to Athens, the people therof builded Phasilia in Phounee.

Phocais, caidis, patronymicum fæ. of Phocæa.

Phoce, ces, a citee of Saxonia.

Phocides, and phocei, they that builded the citee of Phasilia.

Phocenses, people of Phocis.

Phoceus, & phocæus, a, um, perteynyng to Phocæa.

Phocion, the discipule to Plato and Xenocrates, one of the chief gouernours of the citee of Athens, a man of suche wonderfull graunce and constancie, that he was not lightly sene to chaunge his countenance, either to laugh or to mourne, nor to haue his handes out of his ha-bice, excepte in warre: and whan he was in the countrey, he went alwaie barefooted, excepte it were in the colde winter, wherof there was no better token, than to see Phocion go shodde.

His speche was shorte, graue, vehement, and full of quicke sentences: and therfore the moste eloquent oratour Demosthenes called hym the hatchet that did cutte of his woordes. He was of suche a constancie, that wher Apollo at Delphos made answer, that one man in Athens was of a contrarie opinion to all the citee: which that was reported, Phocion rose up and saide:
Leaue countrey men to serche whom your god meaneth: for I am that one man, whom no thyng lyketh, whiche is nowe done in the common weale of this citee. Whan he had made an oration to the people, and they prayeing hym consented to hym: he turned to them that were next

next hym and saved: Alas what haue I doone,
I feare lest some foolish wozde hath escaped me bywares: signifyinge, that the people let doone allowed any thyng that was good, or not foolish. On a tyme whan he reasoned contrastie to the magde of the people, wherfore they murmured and wolde haue let hym: He is at your pleasure countrey men, said he, to com-pelle me to dooe that that I wolde not, but to speake otherwise then I thinke, that no man liuynge can cause me. He was so reuerende a personage, that the great kynge Alexander, in the beginnyng of his letters, after he had vanquished Darius, saluted no man but hym, and Aus-tipater. He refused infinite treasure sent vnto hym by Alexander, and although he had ben the generall capitayn of the Atheniensis in sundry warres, and honourably achieved his enterprises: yet was he better content to lyue poorly.
Finally he was of his vnhynde countrey men condemned to death, whereto he went with the same countenance that he had in auctoritee.
Whan one, whiche was condemned with hym, lamented and feared to die, Phocion turnyng to hym, said: why, arte thou not gladd, that thou shalt die with Phocion? And whan one of his frendes asked hym, if he wold any thing to his son: I wolde (said he) that suche wrong as the Atheniensis doe to me, he shoulde not remembere. what a wonderfull woorde of a patrium was this: who followed Alysides doctrine etc. This was bozne. 333. peres.

Phocaea, one of the isles called Sporades.
Phobus, bi, m. ge. Apollo, the sonne of Iupiter and Latona, and is taken for the sonne.
Phoebia, an herbe called of the latines, Hordeum murinum.
Pharbus, and Phaebeus, a, um, of Apollo, or of
the sonne.
Pharmon, a poole in Arcadie.
Pharmonia, the daughter of Phoebeus, whiche first inuented the meter called Heroicum.
Phoebe, badis, f. g. a prophete.
Phoebe, bes, f. g. the moone.
Phaenicea, an herbe: loke Hordeum murinum.
Phoenices, people in Syria.
Phoeniceus, a, um, right Crymson, or scarlet.
Phoenicia, or Phoenice, a region in Syria nexte to Judea.
Phoeniceus, a, um, and Phoenissus, a, um, of Phoenicia.
Phaenicolabanus, the frute of the date tree.
Phaenicoptirigium, a diminutive of Phaenicopterus.
Phaenicopterus, ri, m. ge. a great birde, haupng feathers of crymson colour.
Phaenicurus, a litle birde called a rede tale.
Phaenigmi, redde places in the thynne, commyng of rubbing.
Phaenissa, a woman of Phoenicia.
Phaenix, nicis, faem. gen. a birde, whiche liueth aboue. 600. peres: and finally carryng sweete spices vp to a highe mountayne, by the heate of the sonne, and labour of hir wynges, kindly fire, wherewith the beynges all bourned, of hir ashes riseth a nother lyke birde. It is also a date tre, or palm. also a litle river in Grece, it was also the brother of Ladmus, or after some, Agenors father, after whome Phoenicia was named, where he reigned. Also one whiche was turore to Achilles.

Phoenix, as Dioscorides describeth it, semeth to be the wode, that is called way bent, it is lyke barley in the eare.
Pholoe, a mountayne in Arcadia, full of wood.
Pholus, one of the Centaures, the sonne of Zilon and Rubus.
Phollis, lis, m. g. a certayne tribute, whiche noble men payed: also a weight called Balanum, weighyng. 250. Denos, that is. 12. libras, and sixe ounces: There is an other Phollis, conteynyng. 208. of weightes named Ceratium.
Phollis in Suidas, is the same that Obolus is loke there, it in this sense is taken in S. Augustine de ciuitate dei.
Phonos, idem quod Attraxilis.
Phonascus, ci, m. g. he that teacheth one to pronounce and moderate his voyce.
Phorbas, banis, a shepheard, that found Oedip-pus, after that he was hanged vp by the fate.
Phorcus, one of the sonnes of Neptuneus, whiche was taken for a god of the sea.
Phorcys, Medusas father, of whom she was called Phoegeia.
Phorcys, phorcydos, patrony. of Phorcys.
Phormio, a capitayn of Athens, in the warre of Peloponessus. Also a philosopher in the tyme of Annibal.
Phormium, an herbe holtsome against the pinne and the werbe in the eye: and to draw out thyn-ges, that sticke with in the flesh.
Phorinus, a comical poete of Syracuse of Sicile.
Phoroneus, the most auncient kynge of Grecia.
Phoroneus, a, um, of Phoroneus.
Phoronides, patrony. mascul.
Phoroides, nidos, patrony. femi.
Phosphorus, ri, m. g. the date stre.
Phragmon, the name of an image maker and painter.
Phraortes, a king of India, a man of great temperance. In other Phraortes was kynge of Persia, who slew his owne father Herode.
Phraus, lis, f. g. the proper fourme of maner of speache, whiche in one countrey is oftentimes diuerse, as Sothene, Nothene, deumyshe, kennehe, Frenche, Picarde, Galloigne, watow.
some do set the negatiue before that affirmatiue, some contrarie: some speche is quicke, some graue, some flourishyng, some temperate.
Phratia, conuencions or assemblies of men, has vnyng peculiar sacrifices or facions of religions.

Phre

Phregema, a citie in Meturia, an other in Latium.
Phrene, the midriffe, whiche diuideth the vmbles of a man or beaste from the bowels. Aristotle semeth to take phrenes for the intrals.
Phrenicus, a, um, that is vexed with a phrenesy.
Phrenitis, tidis, of Phrenesis, sis, f. g. a sick-nesse called frenesy.
Phronimos, prudent, wise, wittie.
Phronesis, sis, f. g. prudence.
Phrygia, a royaume in Asia the lesse, haupng on the east Cappadocia, on the southe Lycania, on the west Troas, on the north Galatia. also to the herbe Asplenium.
Phrygiannus, a, um, embrodred.
Phrygian vestes, garments embowdered.
Phrygio, onis, m. g. a broderer.
Phrygius, a, um, of Phrygia.
Phrygium melos, a melody or tune in instrumen-tes, wherein seemed to bee (as Lucianus saith) a maner of diuine furie, all be it Phosphis-rias calleth it barbarous. Cassiodorus saith, that the melody, called Dorus, geueth wisesdome, & geueth chastitee. Phrygius streeth to battail, and inflameth the desire of furie. Neoslus appeareth the tempestes of the minde, and bringeth in slepe. Lydius quickeneth vnder-standing in them that be dull, and induceth appetite of celestiall thynges.
Phryne, a famous harlotte at Athenes.
Phrynichus, an Athenien writer of Tragedies.
Phrynonidas, a man so double, so disceyfull and pl, that of hym rose a prouerbe.
Phrynon, the herbe, whiche some call Lunaria minor.
Phrygos, a lyarde, some take it for a kinde of great frogges.
Phryx, gis, a man of Phrygia.
Phryxus, the son of Athamas, kynge of Thebes.
Phulia, a citie in Thessalie, Achilles countrey.
Phuliora, one that dwelleth in Phulia.
Phuliothia, one of the foure partes of Thessalie.
Phulitias, sis, f. g. a sicknesse, in the which lieth do growe in such multitudes, that they deuoure
the body, the lowly euill.
Phulirophagi, people dwellynge nigh to the greates sea, whiche lyued onely by fishe.
Phulirion, the herbe Staphisagria.
Phuliscos, he that hath the consumption of the luniges.
Phulitis, flos, f. g. a disease in the luniges, with a consumption of all the body, compyng of a fe-uorous heate consumpyng, or of a heate artifi-ciall and humours in the stomache. The cause is a reume, Charpe and longe continuynge of choler or false fleume, it happeneth of a quince or unspossum in the vuula, whan by the rupture of the, the putrefied matter descendeth to the lunges, or of a pleurisie, or Peripneumonia, wherthey beyng healed, the putrefied matter is not purged within the space of .ij. dates, or by log stoping of hemeroids or flours: or by the coldnesse of the ayre receiued, streynynge the spirituall membris: or by the heate of the ayre, byynge and stoppeynge the luniges: or by a great and longe cough: or by other inforzementes, in singyng high, or bearyng a heauy burden.

Phulitis, the peisonie.
Phthonia, medicines, that procure abozion, or delpuerance before the tyme.
Phithongus, gi, m. g. a towne.
Phu, a plante of herbe, whiche is called valeriana nam maiorem. Some call it setwall or capons taple.
Phy, an interfection of meruailynge.
Phycis, a certaine fishe.
Phycites, a pterious stone.
Phycos thalassium, called in latine Fucus marinus, an herbe lyke vnto lettuce, very good as gagnt all Joineite diseases: of it be thye hides.
Phicus, unis, a promontorie of Epzene.
Phygechilon, li, n. g. a litle smellyng or botche,
harde and redde, burnyng and prickyng.
Phylaca, ca, fae. g. a pison, a warde, a gayle.
Phylacista, ta, m. g. a gaplour, a keeper of a pris-son.
Phylace, a citie of Thessalie.
Phylacteria, scrolles of parchment, that the Phastes vsed, wherein the commaundementes were written.
Phylarchus, the chiefe of the people.
Phyleus, one of the grecke capitaynes, that came to Troie.
Phyllandron, vide Barb. in Coroll. lib. 3. cap.
141.
Phyllanthion, an herbe vsed to dye purple.
Phyllantes, an herbe, loke Barb. in Phyllioidis.
Phyllis, lidis, the daughter of Lycurgus, kynge of Thrase, which kynge her selfe, despairing of the comyng of Demophoon, whome poetes seigne, to be turned into an almon tree, wherof that tree is called Phylla. Phyllis is also a ryuer of Bithynia.
Phyllitis, an herbe called hartes tongue, loke
Fuchsius in Hemionitis.
Phyllon, li, a leafe, also a kynde of mosse.
Phyllus, a citie of Thessalie.
Phylodoc, an nymphe.
Phylura, loke Philura.
Phyma, a beaste, on whiche pfa man dooe looke he falleth in to a great palenesse and leannes for many dayes space.
Phymosis, loke Phimosis.
Phyeter, teris, m. g. a great fishe in the frenche ocean sea, whiche riseth lyke to a pillar aboue shyppes, and spouteth out water.
Physica, x, f. g. the science of thynges naturall.
Physica, orum, n. g. booke that treat of naturall causes.
Physice, naturally.
Phyiscus, ci, m. g. a naturall philosopher, he that Audy

Radeth the causes of thynges naturall.
Physiognomia, a, f. g. a rule to know a mannes naturall affections by his vylage of fourme of his members.
Physiognomus, mi, or Physiognomon, monis, he that iudgeth ones maners and affections by his visage and faction of his body.
Phylogia, a, f. g. reason of naturall causes.
Physiologus, gi, m. g. he that disputeth of naturall causes, a naturall phylosopher.
Physis, nature.
Physionus, bene mentulatur.
Phyrcula, an ple in the sea Citerium.
Pythion, or Phyton, looke Pythion.
Phyronicus, and Phytonica, he or she that hath a spirite within them, that geueth answer of thynges to come.

P ANTE I.

P labilis, le, for the whiche satisfaction maie be made, and god pleased.
Piacularis, re, that which pertaineth to purgynge of sinne, or is geuen or offred to god for satisfaction.
Piacularia auspicia, tokens in sacrifice of some heauy chance to come.
Piculum, li, n. g. any thyng done for satisfacti on of some greuous sin. sometyne a great and hagnous offence.
Piamen, minis, or Piamentum, ti, n. g. that whiche was geuen or occupied about satisfaction.
Piatio, onis, for. g. a sacrificyng, a purgynge by sacrifice.
Piator, oris, m. g. he that purgeth sinne by sacrifice.
Piatrix, eris, for. g. she that made sacrifice to purge sinne.
Pica, ca, f. g. a byrde called a ppe: a Flape is also contained vnder this name, which in Italse at this day is called Pica granata. Pica, is also the lothyng of the Romake in theym that bee with childe.
Picatus, a, um, pitched or raised with pitche, also that fauoureth or smareth of pitche.
Picea, a, f. g. a pitche tree.
Piceastrum, stri, n. g. a wilde pitche tree.
Piceatus, a, um, pitched, smered with pitche.
Picenum, a countrey in Italie called Marca Anconitana.
Picenus, and Piceatinus, a, um, of Picenum.
Picentes, or Picentini, people of that countrey.
Piceus, a, um, of pitche, or blacke lyke pitche.
Picinum, a bynde of oyle made of pitche.
Picra hiera, a bitter medicine, commonly called Hiera pigra.
Picras, the herbe Androsace.
Picrocholi, amara bilis homines.
Picris, cris, f. g. wyde lettuce of Lichozie.
Pictacium, cii, n. g. a table pertainynge to iudges or bisshoppes: it is sometyne a plaister for the Romake of head.

Pictes, a, waslar.
Pictones, a countrey in Fraunce called Picters.
Pictor, oris, m. g. a printer.
Pictura, a, f. g. peyntynge, the crafe of seate of peyntynge.
Picturatus, a, um, peincted, that hath diuers colours.
Picturata vestes, embrodere apparayle, or rather of baudekyn.
Pictus, a, um, peincted, garnished, gaily sette forth, that hath in it diuers colours.
Picumnus, a god amonge the Romayns.
Picus marinus, a birde, whiche maketh a hole in trees, wherein he breedeth. of this bee three kyndes, the fyrst is called a Specht, the seconde a herway, the thirde, which Specht faith is as bygge as a hen, is not in Englaunde. Picnic maketh the fourth kynde, whiche cometh to bee the witwall. Picus, was also the name of an olde kyng of Latines.
Picunus, a, pte.
Pic, mercifully, deuoutely, loungeyly, godlie, with a naturall and honest loue and affection.
Pieria, a mountaine and cite of Bœotia dedicate to the muses.
Pieria, a mayden boyme at Myose a cite of Ionis, a daughter of an honorable man, called Pythes, of whome is this hystorie woorthy of remembrance, there happened to bee warre betwene the inhabitantes of Philetum, and them of Myos, but in suche gentill faction, that the women of Myos might alwaies, on the solemne feast of Diana, come to Philetum, and doe sacrifice to Diana, whiche was there chiefly honoured: Pieria comynge thither with her mother, one Phygyus, the eldeste sonne of Phobus duke of Philetum, beholding her beaute, beganne to loue her exceedingly, and after the manner of louers, desirynge to dooe some thyng thankfull to the mayde, demaunded what he myght dooe to hir most pleasant and acceptabile. The mayden beyng witty, and also loyng to hir countrey and frendes, answered, that to hir it shoulde bee the greatest pleasure, if he woulde endeuoure hym selfe to byngne to passe, that she mought oftentymes, with a great fozte of hir companions repayre to Philetum without any damage. Phygyus perceiuyng, that nothyng mought to muche contente the mayden as peace, he callynge the people together, exhorted them to conclude a peace with theym of Myos, to bee with them in alliance: wherunto they accorded, and the name of Pieria was euer after in so honorable remembrance, that all honeste women vsed for a prouerbe, to wishe so to be loued, as Phygyus loued Pieria.
Pierides, were daughters of one Pierus, whiche compared in singynge with the Muses: but be-pgs

beyng vanquished, and geuynge to the Muses so repposethfull woordes, they were by them turned into ptes. They be sometyne taken for the Muses of an hill in Thessalie, called Pieris, or Pierus.
Pierides, the Muses.
Pierus, a, um, of the muses.
Pierus, the father of the foresaid maidens Pierides.
Piens, tis, metrifull. &c.
Pienor, pienissimus, more & most mercifull, most lounge towarde his parentes or countrey.
Pieras, ais, f. gen. the reuerente loue towarde a mannes propre countrey and parentes, of diuines it is taken for the loue and honour due vnto god. Lactantius calleth it iustice and deuout wothshipynge and knowlage of god, godlynesse, godly affection, naturall loue towarde the parentes or kynsfolke, naturalnesse, naturall zeale of affection.
Pigo, gui, gere, to be forie or agreed, to be lothe, to be ashamed: it is most commonly used impersonally, sometime to be slow, also to repert.
Obicero, ne quid plus minifue faxit, quod nos postea pigeat, I require you, let hym not dooe any thyng more or lesse, wherof we maie after repert vs.
Id non piger, he repenteth not of that he hath doone.
Quin me pigeat perdere, but that I wolde be lothe to lese it.
Atte nullo modo piguit facere, but thou were nothyng lothe or ashamed to dooe it.
Num facti piger, is he any thing forie for that he hath done?
Piger me laboris, I am lothe or vnlustye to labour.
Piger, gra, grum, slowe.
Piger annus, a yere that passeth slowly awaie.
Bellum pigrum, a longe warre.
Pigmalion, the sonne of Belus, kyng of Cypr, and brother of Dido.
Pigmalioneus, a, um, of Pigmalion.
Pigmentum, ti, neu, ge. peyntynge that women vsed. Also peincters colour.
Pigmenta, are also false colours in speakynge breytfull woordes, pleasant lies.
Pigmentarius, rij, mas. gen. a maker or seller of peyntynge.
Pignatocaris, veratrum album.
Pigneratio, onis, f. g. a pledgynge or gageynge.
Pigneratius, a, um, that which is laied in pledge.
Pigneratius creditor, he that maie take a pledge, or gage.
Pignero, aui, are, to late to gage.
Pigneror, aris, ari, to take a pledge or a gage of a man for suretee of rent or paiement of money. sometime to late to gage.
Mars ipse ex acie fortissimum quent pignetari solebat, the most valiant men be they, which in battayle be soonest dispatched: or Mars bleth to lese for hym selfe the valianttest meth.

Pignerati animi, the mindes of herres of men in daunger, and as it were laide to gage.
Pignus, pignoris, or pigneris, n. gen. a gage or pledge geuen for suretee of dette or rent, also a pawne in laipyn a wager: by translation a certayne token, or sure signe, or testimonie of loue or frendship.
Dare pignus cum aliquo, to lay a gage agaynst one.
Ponere pignori, to lay in gage or pledge.
Pignori opponere, to gage or leie to gage for suretee of rent or paiement.
Pignora auferre, To take a distresse. also to take or seile ones gooddes for disobedience.
Pignus amoris, a token of loue.
Beneuolentie pignus, a token of fauour.
Pignora capere, idem quod pignora auferre.
Ager oppolit, est pignori, the piece of ground is laied to mortgage.
Contendere pignore, to late a wager.
Pignus rei publicæ, id est fiducia & securitas.
Pignora, is sometime taken for childe: en, beyng as pledges betwene man and wife.
Ascita pignora, childe: en by adoption.
Pignoris captio, a nouwe, signifieth takynge of a distresse.
Pegnerator, oris, m. g. he that taketh a gage for suretee of dette or paiement.
Pigre, slowly.
Pigredo, gredinis, farm. ge. slouthfulness, vnlustyness.
Pigresco, fieri, to be made slowe.
Pigresco, scere, to be or waxe slowe or vnlustye.
Pigres, the brother of Artemis.
Pigritia, a, f. g. slouthfulness.
Pigrities, ei, f. g. idem.
Pigritudo, dinis, and Pigritas, ais, f. ge. slownesse, vnlustiness.
Pigro, aui, are, to holde backe or tarie one.
Pigror, aris, ari, to be slow, to be lothe or vnlustye to dooe a thyng.
Scribere ne pigrere, be not slowe, lothe, or vnlustye to wryte.
Pila, le, f. g. a moyter, wherin any thyng is beate with a pestill. also a pillar, a balle, or any thyng rounde as a balle. also a pile, heape, or damme made in the water.
Pila ludere, to plaie at tennys.
Pila se exercere, idem.
Mea pila est, the ball is in my handes, prouers biailly, I maie doe now with it as me listeth.
Pila lanuginis, a littell round ball of Moly nesse, suche as is in gourdes when they be ripe.
Pilades, a gentill man of Phocæa, whiche was so faithfull a frende to Orestes, (with whom he kepte compaignie whyles he was madde) that he wolde neuer forsake hym, but followed hym in to the countrey called Taurica, where Orestes were sacrificed vnto Diana, where Orestes beyng appychended, when he shoulde be slayne, Hayne, Phylades wolde nedes die for hym, that he might escape.

 Pilani, they whiche fight with darters.
 Pilani, rij, m. ge. a jugglar, whiche maketh as he did by legerdemayne conuey littell balles.
 Pilares, tis, m. ge. a certayne stone that is white.
 Pilanus, ni, m. g. a capitayne in warre, leadyng a certayne bande of men.
 Pilatim, one pillar by an other, by or at euery pillar.
 Pilatus, a, um, armed with darters.
 Pileatus, a, um, capped, that weareth a cappe.
 Pileatus seruus, a slave that is solde with his cappe on his head.
 Pileum, ti, n. ge. a wagon or chare with foure wheles, wherein women were wont to be caried.
 Pilcolus, li, m. g. a littell bonette.
 Pileus, lei, m. g. or Pileum, lei, n. g. a cappe or bonette. sometyme libertee: for as muche as bonde men, when they were enfranchised, were capped cappes.
 Pilicrepus, pi, m. ge. he that in hotte baynes casteth littell rounde balles into the fire, to make it burne.
 Pilo, au, are, to begynne to be heary, or grow in heare. also to pull of ones heare.
 Pilosella, x, fem. ge. an herbe, called commonly mouse eare.
 Pilosus, a, um, heary, full of heare.
 Pilula, lx, f. ge. a littell balic. also a pille made for purgations.
 Pilum, li, n. g. a barbour knyfe or rasour, also a darte or iavelyn of fyne fote long and a halfe, also a pestill, to bzaie or powne in a moztar.
 Primum pilum, the chiefe band of the Romans about the standerd, whiche were chiefly armed with darters.
 Pilunius, ni, m. gen. a man whiche founde the maner to dong lande, and to grinde coyne.
 Pilus, li, m. g. an heare.
 Pili non facio, I set not a heare by it.
 Pilus, or Pilum, a pestill, to bzaie or bzaie any thyng in a moztar.
 Pimpinella, lx, f. g. an herbe, called Pimpernell.
 Pimpla, a place by the mountayne called Perna-sus, of the whiche the Muses be called Pim-pleides.
 Pimpleus, a, um, of Pimpla.
 Pina, nx, a fyne that hath two great shelles.
 Pinaces, per diminutionem, Pinacidia, tables in booke: Pinaces be also wytyng tables.
 Pinachotheca, x, f. ge. a case or place, wherein peincted tables, plate, ieweltes, and ornaments were kepte.
 Pinarii, an ancient house or familie in Italie, of the whiche were the priestes, that sacrificed to Hercules.
 Pinarius, and Potinius, two olde men, to whom Hercules reuled, how he wold be worshipped.
 Pinastallus, the herbe Peucedanum Pinaster, a wilde pine tree of excedyng great height.

 Pincerna, nx, a butler, or one that waiteth on mannes cuppe at the table.
 Pincerna pluarum, the southwynde, so called, because it byngeth muche rapne.
 Pindarus, a Theban poete, and chiefe of them which were called Lirici. wherfore Alexander, when he destroyed the citee of Thebes, caused the hous of Pindarus to be preferred, with all his familie. an other Pindarus was a tyranne of Ephesus.
 Pindo, dis, di, dere, idem quod Pinfo.
 Pindus, a mountayne in Thessalia, also a citee there.
 Pinea, x, f. g. a pine apull or a pine tree.
 Pincum, ti, n. g. a wood or a groue of pine trees.
 Pineus, a, um, of a pine tree.
 Pingo, pinxi, pingere, to peincte, to deuise, to set in order, to drawe out the shappe or forme of a thyng, to distincte with diuers colours: by translacon, to discerne.
 Pingere humum variis floribus, To strawe floures of diuers colours upon the grounde.
 Pinguedo, guedinis, f. g. fatte of fatnesse.
 Pingue, guis, n. g. fatte, most fatte, greafe.
 Pinguetacio, guetacis, feci, facere, to make fat.
 Pinguetio, pingues, or Pinguetio, scere, to be fatte, to become fatte.
 Pinguetarius, rij, m. g. he that louteth that thyng that is fatte.
 Pinguis, gue, om. ge. fatte, that is fatte, cozie, unweildy, grosse, also fruitful, fertile.
 Pinguis ferina, fatte venison.
 Mensæ pingues, tables furnished with manie good dishes.
 Pingues horti, gardenes that byng loofly good herbes.
 Pingui Minerva, grossely, endely.
 Pingue otium, muche ease or relee.
 Pinguis toga, a gowne of course clothe.
 Pingue & concretum calum, thicke aire.
 Pinguiter, greatly, grossely, with a fatyness.
 Pinguitudo, dinis, f. g. fatnesse.
 Laborare nimia pinguitudine, to be to grosse.
 Pinguus, is sometyme used in the ciuile lawe for plenius, and Largius.
 Pinna, nx, fem. g. a quille or penne, the hardest parte of a fether, the batulment of a wall, the finne of a fishe, and a certayne shell fishe. sometyme the creste of the helmette.
 Pinnaculum, li, n. g. a pinnacle of a towre.
 Pinnatus, a, um, that hath feathers or winges, or that hath finnes or batulmentes.
 Pinnatus Cupido, id est, alatus.
 Pinnata folia, leaues ragged on bothe sides lyke feathers.
 Pinniger, ra, rum, that hath fynnes.
 Pinnirapax, he that plucketh awaie the creste of his enemies helmette.
 Pinnotheres, m. g. a shell fishe, called also Pinn-na, bredyng in muddie places.

Pinnula, lx, f. gen. the ouer parte of the care, a littell quill, a littell feather, a littell fynne. also a parte of the fleshe growyng ouer the naye in the toes of fyngers.
 Pinfo, au, are, to bzaie in a moztar.
 Pinfo, a, um, beaten in a moztar.
 Pinfo, sui, fere, to bzaie or grynde, to make or baze breadde.
 Pinfo, au, are, idem.
 Pinfo, oris, m. g. he that grindeth in a querne, or beate in a moztar. also a baker.
 Pimia, a towne in Spayne called Valladolid.
 Pimion, an ile between Sardinia and Corfyca.
 Pinus, nus, or ni, f. g. a pine tree.
 Caua pinus, is taken for a shippe.
 Pinus trinita, the herbe Astragalus.
 Pio, au, are, to reuerence or honour. sometyme to pollute or defile. also to beare a naturall zeale or affection to a man. also to poure synne, or please god with sacrifice.
 Piones, people in Mysia, named of the citee Pione.
 Piper, piperis, n. g. pepper.
 Piperatus, a, um, peppered, condite with pepper.
 Piperitis, fem. ge. called also Siliquastrum, an herbe, whiche Ruellius saith is alercoast.
 Pipo, iui, ire, to peepe like a chiche.
 Pipo, onis, m. g. a ponge pigeon.
 Pipilo, au, are, to chirpe like a sparow.
 Pipo, au, are, to clothe like a henne.
 Pipo, idem quod Picus martius.
 Pipleus, an hill, called also Pimpleus.
 Pipulum, li, n. g. a rebube, a chiche, a scoldinge.
 Piquentum, a citee of Atria.
 Pirata, tx, masc. gene. a rouer or robber on the sea, a pirate.
 Piratica, x, f. ge. the practyse of pirates or robbers on the sea.
 Piraticam facere, to vse robberyng and rousing on the sea.
 Piraterium, rij, n. g. a place where pirates dwell.
 Piraticus, a, um, of or belongyng to pirates or robbers on the sea.
 Bellum piraticum, warre agaynst pirates, and them that trouble the seas.
 Pira, a famous citee, sometyme called Aminus.
 Pireus, an haue of Athens, whiche maie receiue 400. shippes. There is also an haue of the same name at Loxithe.
 Pirithous, the sonne of Erion, one of the Lapithes, whiche went to hell with Theseus, and was there deuoured of Cerberus.
 Pirhica, loke Pyrrhica.
 Pirum, ri, n. g. loke Pyrum.
 Pirus, a prince of Thrace, slayne at the siege of Troie.
 Pira, a citee in Greece, betwene the two mountaynes Olympus and Ossa. also a citee in Aetolia, from whiche came the people that inhabited Pise in Italy.
 Pira, arum, a citee in Italie called Pise.

Pisani, people of the citee of Pise.
 Pisandrus, a poete of the citee Lamprus in Rhodes, before the tyme of Hesiodus: an other Pisandrus was in the tyme of Alexander Seuerus.
 Pisaurensis, that dwelleth in the citee Pisaurum.
 Pisaurus, a river in Italy.
 Pisaurum, a citee in Italie called Pesero.
 Piscaria, x, fem. g. the fishe markette, or fishe selling.
 Piscarius, a, um, pertainyng to fishyng.
 Hamus piscarius, a fishyng hook.
 Piscaria copia, great abundance of fishe.
 Piscarius, rij, m. g. a fishmonger.
 Piscatus, us, m. g. the acte of fishyng.
 Piscatio, onis, f. g. idem.
 Piscator, oris, m. g. a fisher.
 Piscatrix, uris, the feminine.
 Piscatorius, a, um, pertainyng to a fishe.
 Pisciculus, li, m. g. a littell fishe.
 Piscina, nx, f. ge. a fishe ponde, it is also generally euery ponde, although therein be no fishe: a place with warme water or colde made for men to swymme in. also a great batte or trien vessel, to holde water.
 Piscinalis, le, of or pertainyng to a fishe ponde.
 Piscinarius, rij, m. g. he that nourisheth fishe. he that hath diuers fishe pondes.
 Piscis, cis, m. g. a fishe, properly that hath scales.
 Captare pices arundine, to angle for fishe.
 Pices, also one of the twelue signes.
 Pisor, aris, ari, to fishe.
 Piscari in aere, prouerbially, to labour in vain.
 Piscosus, a, um, that maie be fished, or is full of fishe.
 Pisculentus, a, um, idem.
 Piser, people of the citee Pisa in Grecia.
 Pisenor, a Centaure, the sonne of Erion.
 Piseus, he that first inuented the brassen trumpet.
 Pisida, people in Asia, called before tyme Solymni, of Solimus Iupiters sonne.
 Pisidia, x, a countrey of the lesse Asia.
 Pisistratus, a noble man of Athens, whiche chanced the common weale of that citee from the rule of the people. to the rule of one gouernour: and therfore was called a tyrann, not with standyng (as he wrote vnto Solon, whiche maintained the popular estate) he ruled by their owne lawes, and was righte and gentyll vnto the people.
 Piso, pisis, pisere, to purge or beate of the huske of coyne, or other grayne, as they did with powernyng in olde tyme.
 Piso, au, are, idem.
 Piso, sonis, the name of a noble familie or house in Rome.
 Pissa, se, f. g. pitche.
 Pissaphalus, ti, m. g. pitche and the lime called Bitumen, mingled together.
 Pisselaxon, lxi, n. g. an oyle made of pitche.
 Pissoceros, ri, m. g. a raue or humour of warre or pitche mixte with gume or rosin. & is the second part parte of bees labour in making honey & waxe.

 Pistacium, cii, n. g. a hynde of nuttes.
 Pistillum, li, neu. ge. a pestill to powne oz bzaie with.
 Pistolochia, the fiste kynd of Aristolochia.
 Pistor, oris, m. ge. he that was wonte to poune coyne in a moyster, nowe a baker.
 Pistorium, a citee in Italie.
 Pistoricus, ca, cum, and Pistorius, a, um, pers teinyng to bakynge.
 Ars pistoria, bakers crafte.
 Pistrilla, la, f. g. a mille.
 Pistrinenis, se, belonging to a backe house, oz grendyng houle.
 Pistrinum, ni, n. g. and Pistrina, na, f. g. a backehouse, a mylle, oz grendyng houle. it was a place, where they vled to bzaie, powne, oz grinde coyne, and make breadde, where (bez cause it was a peinesfull thyng) men vled to put their seruantes for a punysshement, and therfore it is sometyme vled for a prisone oz peynesfull seruice.
 Pistris, tris, f. g. a shippe: also a signe oz planet, called Cetus and Pistrix.
 Pistrix, tris, f. g. a woman baker, also a monstrous fishe in the Indian sea, and a planet in the firmament.
 Pistura, a, f. g. the crafte of bakynge.
 Pistus, a, um, grounden oz bzaied.
 Pistum, si, n. g. a pease.
 Pitus, a, um, powdered, bzaied.
 Pitane, a citee of Aeolis in Asia, the people whers of be called Pitanei, oz Pitane.
 Pithécium, cii, n. g. vled of Plantus for a defoz med oz ill fauoured woman like a she ape.
 Pithécusa, an ile in the sea agaynst Campania, so called for the great plentie of apes there bzed, after some.
 Pithécus, ci, m. ge. an ape.
 Pithéra, f. g. a comete oz impression in the firmament, whiche is lyke a tunne, and doeth appere as it were thzough a myste.
 Pitheus, the sonne of Delops, whch buylded the citee Traxena.
 Pitio, oz Pithus, the ladye and president of eloquence to perfwade, called of Ennius Suada, of Hoaze Suadela.
 Pithodemus, a famous wraistlar.
 Pithodius, idem quod Vascularius.
 Pithag'gia, orum, n. ge. a certayne sacrifice, vled in Grece in the monthe of Ianuarie, at the tazyng oz setting of wyne abrocher in the whiche they gaue wyne to their seruantes and slaues.
 Pithonofcomes, a place in Asia, where after the Idus of August, great flockes of stozkes dooe assemble together.
 Pithumnus, a god among the Romayns, whiche first inuented to grende coyne to make breadde.
 Pituiso, aui, are, to sippe oz drinke littell.
 Pitpit, in the olde tongue of Askes, signified quicquid, what so euer.

Pittacium, cii, neu. gene. a littell clothe, whiche beyng noynted with some salue, is laied some tyme to the forehead, sometyme to the stomack, to ease payne.
 Pittacus, one of the seven sages of Grece, and was of the citee Mitylen.
 Pituita, ta, form. g. reume of reume descendyng from the head, as in them that haue the poxe, also the pippe, whiche thektins haue.
 Pituitaria, a, f. g. called also vna agrestis, an herbe, whiche dyeth vp the reume in the mouth.
 Pituitosus, a, um, steumatice.
 Piturum, ri, n. g. a kinde of oliue trees.
 Pitrides, the innermost birnell of the pine apul.
 Pitylisma, mais, an exercise, wher a man goeth faste on his toes, and moueth his armes forwarde and backward.
 Pityliso, aui, are, to exercise in that fourme.
 Pityocamparum, f. g. wourmes, whch be in a pine apul tree, whose byyng is benemoufe.
 Pityonices, cis, m. ge. he that was victour in the games of Grece, and had geuen to hym a garlande of pine tree, whiche was celebrate in the honour of Archemozus.
 Pityron, ri, n. g. bzanne.
 Pityri panes, hoze breadde, oz breadde made of bzanne.
 Pityroforis, the herbe Riaga.
 Pityusa, an ile by Grece, called also Myletus: it is also an herbe of the kynde of spurge, whiche the apothecaries call Esula. Actuarius wytteth, that the barbarous people call the roote of Pityusa, Turbit: but it is the Turbit, whiche is white and thycke, and cometh from the hill of Garganus, whiche is of the seconde kynde of spurge, and is not that Turbit, whiche apothecaries now haue, rebe moze in Turbit.
 Piulcum, ci, an instrument to draw out matter.
 Pius, a, um, religious, deuout, pitous, gentill, mercifull, benigne, chaste, he that loueth his parentes, oz countrey, naturall towarde his parentes, countrey, oz chyldren.
 Pixacanthum, a kinde of thoyne, called also Chironium.
 Pix, picis, f. g. pitche.
 Pix liquida, tarre.
 Induere postes pice, to laie pitche vpon.

Placabilis, le, easy to be pleased, gentille, soone qualified.
 Placabilis and Irritabilis, contrarie.
 Præbere se placabilem alicui, to shew hym self gentill to one, and easy to be pleased.
 Placabile ingenium ad preces, a gentill nature, soone intricated to be contente.
 Te ipsum purgare ipsis coram placabilibus est, you shal please them the better, if you make your excuse before them your selfe.
 Placabilitas, aui, f. ge. gentilnesse, the vertue to be soone contente and pleased, placabiliter.

 Place, plates of golde oz syluer.
 Placamen, caminis, and Placamentum, ti, n. g. a thing that one is pleased in, oz qualified with.
 Placare, pacifibly, quietly, gentilly, without any hastie affeccion of the mynde.
 Placatio, onis, f. g. a swagynge, mitigatynge, pleasynge.
 Placatus, a, um, pleased, gentyll, quiete, appeased, pacified, qualified. also caulme.
 Placendus, a, um, that oughte to please and be thankfull to a man.
 Placenta, a, f. g. a tart, a wafer, a fine cake, a bunnet, oz any pleasant thyng made of paste.
 Placencia, a citee in Liguria.
 Placentini, people of the citee of Placentia.
 Placere, cui, cere, to please, to deelyte, sometyme to flatter, to lyke, to glorie.
 Positidie placuit, vt breuiter. &c. the nexte daie after they mynde was, oz they thought it best, that. &c.
 Vt sapientissimis placuit, after the opinion of the mozte discrete persons, oz as the wisest men thought conuenient and beste.
 Fac vt placeatur nobis, see that the be qualified to vs.
 Expecto, puid istis placeat de epistola ad Casarem, I desyre to know, what they mynde is concerninge the epistle that was sente to Casar.
 Placitum est mihi, I thought it good, oz my will and opinion was.
 Placet, the impersonall, it liketh me, oz hym: oz it is his pleasure oz aduise, he oz I thynke it best, he is of this opinion.
 Senatus placet, the Senate hath ordeyned oz thynketh it beste.
 Placet sibi, he standeth well in his owne consente, he is baine glorious.
 Placia, a towne of Aethia.
 Placide, quietly, patiently, pacifibly, pleasantly, gentilly, still without noyse oz trouble, softly.
 Placide pulsare fores, to knocke softly at the doore.
 Placide ap'rire fores, to op' the doore softly without noyse.
 Ferre placide iniuriã, to take oz suffre wronge oz displeasure patiently.
 Vt placide accubat canis, how still the dogge lieth, without steryng oz barhyng.
 Placide currere, to renne softly without streynynge.
 Loqui placide sedateq, to speake quietly and temperately, without bzaing oz cryng out.
 Placidus, aui, f. g. quietnesse.
 Placidus, a, um, gentill, meche, patient, quiete, caulme, still, without trouble. also tame, tractable.
 Placidus dies, a pleasant and sayre daie.
 Feruere & placidum esse, contrary.
 Annis placidus, a yguer that renneth veray quietly, a still water.

 Animalia placida, tame beastes that be tractable.
 Arbor placida, and Syluestris, contrary.
 Placidum calum, a caulme wither without tempeste oz wynde.
 Mare stat placidum, the sea is caulme & quiet.
 Venti placidi, gentill and soft wyndes.
 Vrbes placidæ, citees quiete without trouble oz businessse.
 Placidis moribus boues, oxen that be tractable and not wilde.
 Placidissima pax in animo, whan a man is without all trouble and affection of wynde.
 Placito, aui, are, the frequentatiue of Placere.
 Placitum, ti, n. g. a firme consent in an opinion, an ordinaunce, a decree.
 Placitus, a, um, that lyketh oz contenteth.
 Placo, aui, are, to pacifie, to appease, to qualifye, to please with sacrifices oz gesstes, to consent, to quite, to make caulme.
 Pladatores, a disease, whereby the eye liddes ware feeble, and wyllynch be plucked vp.
 Plarunq, looke plerunque.
 Plaga, a, f. g. the first syllable longe, signifieth, a wounde, a cutte, a chappe in a tree, a stripe, the printe of a stripe: and by translation a great losse, hurte, oz displeasure, an heauie chaunce: the first syllable beyng mozte, it signifieth a great net to take wilde beastes in: also the arwying coorde of a nette: also a great space of heauen and earth, called Klima.
 Accipere plagam, to be wounded.
 Nodi plagarum, the printes of strepes.
 Altra plagæ, a depe wounde.
 Grauiorem plagam accipiebat, vt leuiorem depelleret, he toke the greater hurte, that he myght put away the lesse.
 Luculenta plagæ, a soze and greuous wounde: and by translation, a greuous losse and displeasure.
 Facere plagam, to cut, to launce.
 Imponere plagam insanabilem alicui, and Affligere plagam mortiferam alicui, to geue one his deathes wounde: to dooe one suche a displeasure oz hurte, as he shall bee neuer able to recoure.
 Ferre plagam, to strepe.
 Crepitus plagarum, the noyse oz cowne of strepes.
 Tendere plagas, to pitche oz set nettes to take beastes.
 Cadere, and Incidere in plagas, to come by chaunce into the net, to fall in daunger.
 Texere plagas contra se, to make nettes to take hym selfe in, to bynge argumentes to consounde hym selfe.
 Plagæ, tapeffer, counterpointes, carpettes.
 Plaganiõ, ni, n. g. a certayne opntement.
 Plagiarius, ri, mal. ge. he that bieth a man for a slau, knowyng hym to be free. also he that in itself a mans servant to go from his maister, or keepeth hym secretly, without the knowlage of his maister, or stealeth away a mans childzen. also a stealer of booke.

Plagiator, toris, m. g. idem.

Plagiaria lex, a law made agaynst them that were called Plagiarij, whiche for theyr offence were whipped.

Plagiar, gigera, rum, as it were bozne to bee whipped and beaten.

Plagium, gij, n. g. the offence of Plagiaris, the stealing of ones seruantes or childzen.

Plagiosus, a, um, ful of stripes, all to beaten. also to he that beatech muche, a great beater.

Plagula, a, f. g. a shete of paper, a counterpoint, a couerpyng, a carpet.

Plagusia, a, f. g. a certayne fyssh.

Planaria, an ile beyonde Corsica.

Planasia, an ile in the sea Tyrrhenum.

Planca, ca, f. g. a planke.

Planctus, us, m. g. stryng, beatyng, knockyng, waspyng, tozowpyng.

Liuentia planctu brachia, armes blake and blew with beatyng.

Planctus, a noble man of Rome.

Planctus, ci, m. g. he that hath a spay foote.

Plane, truly, cleerly, evidently, manifestly, playnely, certeinly, without fayne, utterly, all together, quite and cleane.

Parum plane aliquid dicere, to speake a thyng obscurely. Non possu planius commemorare, I can not reherce them moze playnely and evidently. Plane ca est, certaynely or without fayne it is euen so.

Tu quidem illum plane prodis, thou dooest euen playnely or utterly betray hym.

Ad restim res mihi redijt planissime, I am lyke to be hangd vp for this without fayne.

Si plana a nobis deficiis, if you utterly forsake us. Vt ibi te plane confirmares, that you myght there strengthen your selfe throughe.

Nisi plane nihil sapit, exepte he be a starke ides etc. Plane hercule hoc quidem est, certeinly, without fayne, it is euen so.

Planeta, te, f. g. a planete.

Planga, ga, f. g. a birde, by the description of Plinie and Aristotile, mozte lyke to bee that, whiche we call a balde buffarde.

Plango, xi, plangere, to wepe or bewaile, to strike or hit, to thumpe, to knocke.

Plangunt littora fluctus, the waues beate agaynst the bankes.

Pectora plangere manu, to knocke ones breast with his hande.

Humum pectore plangere, id est, percutere.

Plangere aliquem, to wepe & lament for one.

Nunc nemora ingenti vento, nunc littora plangunt, id est, resonant, inquit Seruius.

Plangor, plangoris, m. g. stryng, beatyng, also to wepyng, wailyng, cryng out.

Planiloquus, a, um, that speaketh his mynde boldely and freely.

Planipedia, a, f. g. a comedie, wherein the players plate barefooted.

Planipes, nipedis, om. g. that goth without shoes. also one y plateth in an interlude bare foote.

Planities, ei, f. g. a plaine fiede, a leuel grounde.

Plantatio, onis, a setting of ponge plantes.

Planta, te, f. g. the foote with the toes. Cometyne onely the sole of the foote. also a plante of tree newly set. Cometyne an herbe, that groweth lowe.

Plantago, taginis, form. g. an herbe called plantaine.

Plantarium, rij, n. g. a set of plante, of the place, where plantes be set.

Plantaris, re, pertynyng to the foote.

Plantarius, a, um, mette of redy to set.

Plantiger, ra, rum, that beatech plantes of grates.

Plantigeræ arbores, trees whiche bynge for thy fettes.

Planto, au, are, to set, of plante.

Planula, a playne, a toyners instrument.

Planulae, arum, hynges of a dooze.

Planus, a, um, playne, euen, cleere, apparant, euident, manifest, if it bee applied to a round tresp, champion.

Platum facere, to declare or expounde.

Plani pisces, fyshes, whiche bee flatte and not rounde.

Planior aditus, a moze open or easie wate to entre.

Ad planum reducere cicatrices, to take away scars of woundes, that they be nothyng seene.

Iudices aut e plano, aut e questoris tribunali admonerat, id est, e solo, in quo populus stabat, or setting in the questours seate of beyng where the people standeth.

De plano interlocutus est, he spake to hym beyng amonge the people, and not in the iudges ment seate.

De plano quoq; libellus dari potest, id est, iudice non sedente, & diebus feriatis.

Plani pedis edificium, an house that hath no celar, nor vault.

Plani dentes piscium, and Serrati, contrarie.

Venter planus, id est, non rugosus, smothe of plaine without wrinkles.

Quum planum fieret, when it was evidently declared and proued.

Planus ni, m. g. a deceiver or mocker, a false accuser, a tale bearer, a waderer. also a jugglar, whiche maketh thynges to seme in apparant, where in dedde no such thyng is: as water to come into the house, or trees to growe, or moztrey of leaues or stones.

Plasma, plasmatis, & Plasmati, ti, n. g. the worke of a pottar, or of hym, whych worketh in earth.

Plasma is also a plaster.

Plasmo, au, are, to make pottes, or anye other thyng thyng of earth.

Plastes, te, m. gen. a worke of images or other lyke thyng in earth.

Platice, es, f. g. the craft of workyng or making of images in earth.

Planchiorialis, sis, form. gene. a discafe that hoys sis haue.

Platalea, lex, f. g. a byrde, which foloweth water fowles that doe sake fyshes, and dooeth perche them so on the heade, that they leat goe theyr prop, whiche she taketh and lyueth therewith, he is called a Mouclar.

Platanetum, ti, n. gen. a place where plane trees doe growe.

Platanus, a, um, of a plane tree.

Platanista, a, f. g. a fysh in the ryuer of Ganges. is rubites longe, and hath a beke and a tale lyke a Delphin.

Platanodes, a promontorie of hill of Achaia.

Platanus, ni, f. g. a plane tree.

Platen, a, f. g. gen. a byge waie or strete. also a court in great places. moztouer the byrde called Platea, looke there.

Platen, a citee in Beroia, not far from Thebes.

Platenenses, people of the citee of Platen, in Grece.

Platiphthalmos, mi, n. g. a bynd of white stone of alabastr, founde in Syluer mynes.

Platiphillon, li, n. g. a bynde of spurge.

Plato, the prince of all philosphers (in wises dome, knowlage, vertue, and eloquence, farre excydinge all other gentyles) was bozne in Athens, his father was named Ariston (of an aunciente and honourable house) his mother Perictiona, descended from Solon. Aying in his cradell, bees were founde to bynge hony into his mouth, without hurtynge the childe: whiche diuinitours dyd interprete, to signifie, that from hym shulde flowe eloquence mozt sweete and dilectable. Socrates dreamed, the nyght before he was brought to hym to bee instructed, that he helde betwene his knees a whyte egget, who haupng feathers quickly growen, flew vp towards heauen, & filled the ayre with mozt sweete tunes: So the daie after, Plato beyng brought by his father, Socrates beholding hym well, said: This is the byrde, whose image I behelde the laste nyght. His name was fyfthe Pythocles, and after called Plato, because (as some suppose) he was bozne in the shoulers: other wyte, because he had a brode visage. In his youthe he exercised wrestling and other feates of actiuite: and tellyng was. xx. yere olde, he gaue hym selfe to make amorous verses, whiche after he came to here Socrates, he threwe into the fire and burned, and than mozt ardently and attentively hard Socrates doctrine, during the tyme that he liued. After that, he not onely hearde the mozt famous philosphers and Geometrists in Grece, but also went into Italic, into Egypt and Egypte, to here the mysticall sciencess. and it is thought, that he hearde some of the prophetes, sens there be founden in his woorkes sentences not abhorryng from our catholicke feithe. He was experte in marciall affaires, for he had fought in the great battailles. He chose a place by Athens, called Academia, where he taught: and therfore his disciples were called Academici. There was in hym a mercapulous sharpnesse of witte, with an incomparable dexteritee in disputyng and making of aunsweres: his constauce, tempered raunce and grauitie, with courtesie in language, were of all other incomparable: he was to despiuous of knowlage, that he was to lesse studious to leaerne, than he was to teache. Wherfore beyng scorned of one, whiche asked of hym, howe longe he woulde be a scholar, so longe (said he) as I repent not to bee wised and better. He is called diuinus Plato, for his excellent doctrine, whiche conteyneth many thynges (as sainte Augustin saith) whiche accord with holy scripture: so that therein is persciuded the fyfth part of Genesis vnto Spiritus domini ferebatur super aquas, and the misterie of theee persons in diuinitie is there exprested. He died wytyng, of the age of. 81. yeres, afore the incarnation of Christe. 342. yeres, trade mozt of hym in Dionysius.

Plaudi, they whiche haue great hangyng eares.

Plaudo, plausi, plaudere, to reioyce with countiaunce, to clappe the handes together for ioye.

Pedibus plaudunt choreas, they daunce.

Nec iple tibi plaudis, you doe not please your selfe.

Plaudere aliquem, to shewe with clappynge the handes, that they dooe allowe & prais one.

Ne victoria quidem plaudium. The victorie was not receiued with ioye and clappynge of the handes.

Plausibilis, le, that whiche the people doeth receiue with ioye and clappynge of their handes, acceptable, pleasaunt, plausible.

Plausito, au, are, to crye or syng lyke a woodde culter.

Plausor, oris, ma. gen. he that sheweth ioye with clappynge of the handes.

Plausus, us, mascu. gene. the consent of people with voyce, clappynge of the handes, or other noyse.

Galli, cantum plausu laterum, indicant, crows clappe theyr wynges before they crowe.

Plangor & Plausus, contrarie, bewailyng and reioyng.

Captare, and querere plausus, to seeke for laude or playse.

Comprobare plausu & clamore, to allowe with shoutyng and clappynge of the handes.

Dare plausum, to clappe with the handes, to playse, to allowe.

Dare plausum pennis, to clappe the wynges

Alh in toget

together.
 Excipere aliquem plausu, to clappe toponself with the hands at ones comyng.
 Plaustrum, stri, neu. gene. a carte, a wayne, a chariotte.
 Vuda hospita plaustris, when riuers beynge frozen haue cartes passing ouer them.
 Plaustrarius, rij, m. g. a wayne man.
 Plautius, a certayne poete.
 Plautus, ti, m. g. one that is splee footed.
 Plautus, a comicall poete, bozne in Umbria: whan he had spent all his substance on playes gar mentes, and thereby was brought to extreme pouertee, he was sayne for his hupng to serue a baker in tournyng a quene, or hand mill.
 Whan he was vacant from that labour, he wrote most eloquente and pleasaunt comedies, wherein he was reputed so excellent, that Epus Stalo saide of hym, he doubted not, but that the mulcs would speake as Plautus did write, if they shoulde speake latine. He was in the tyme of Cato Censorius.
 Plexaura, a nymph, the daughter of Decanus.
 Plebeia, a, f. g. the poore people.
 Plebeius, a, um, of the common or meane peo ple, of the common foite. also poore, meane, of littell value.
 Purpura plebeia, purple, not of the best and fynest foite.
 Plebeij philosophi, me me philosophers.
 Plebeius sermo, tye simple and homely speas che, that the common people vse.
 Vestis plebeia, a poore garment.
 Plebeius fieri, whan a gentill man is adopted into the familie of a commoner.
 Plebeius, plebeij, one of the communaltee, not beynge a gentill man.
 Plebeus, idem.
 Plebicola, la, m. g. a fauourer of the cōminaltee.
 Plebiscium, ti, neu. gene. a lawe, statute or or dinance, made by the onely consent of the com mon people of Rome, without the auctoritee of the Senate.
 Plebs, bis, seu plebes, plebei, f. g. the common or meane people. It is sometime taken for Ple beius, and is spoken of one.
 Plectilis, le, that is platted or wounden.
 Plecto, plexui, plectere, to intangle, to knitte,
 to platte, to weaue.
 Plecto, plexi, plectum, after Plectiani, or after other, plexui, plexum, plectere, to punge, to strike, to beate.
 Plecti capite, to be beheaded.
 Multis in rebus negligētia plectimur, in ma ny thynges we be punyshed, or haue displeasure for our owne negligence.
 Iure igitur plectimur, therfore we be worthily punyshed.
 Plectronia, the great Centaure.
 Plectrum, tri, neu. ge. an instrument, wherewith anen plaid on the harpe, or dulcimers, for hurz ting of their fingers. also a spurre set on a tigh tynge cocke, whan he lacketh naturall spurres.

 Plectrum coxe, the holowes of the huchyll, or hippe bone.
 Pleiades, the. vii. sterres, whiche mariners vse in tryng of coastes, poetes feigne them to be the
 vii. daughters of Lyrurgus, or Atlas.
 Pleias, pleiadis, Whar, the chiefe of the. vii. ster res, called Pleiades.
 Pleione, the daughter of Oceanus, and wyfe of Atlas.
 Plemmyrium, a tpyer in Sicilia.
 Plene, largely, abundantly, tully, perfectly.
 Plenissime dicere, To speake largely of a thyng, and as muche as can be saide of it.
 Quam plenissime ad me scribas, write to me
 all the matter at large.
 Plenes, a bzaunche of the male date tree.
 Plenum, um, n. g. the full moone.
 Plentudo, dinis, tē. ge. fulnesse, sometyme for Crassitudine, thickenesse, grossenesse.
 Plenus, a, um, full, perfect, also tpyche, that hath all plentie and abundaunce.
 Plena manu, abundantly, liberally.
 Illum ingressum pleno gradu cohortari non intermittemus, we will not cease to exhort hym diligently, beynge ones fully and throughe entred into the matter.
 Graue & plenum carmen, a verse whiche syl
 leth well the eares.
 Pleniore ore laudare, To geue more abun daunce of praises, to praise more earnestly and effectuouly.
 Plenisimum testimonium, a verie large testi
 monie or witnesse.
 Plenus animi, verate couragious, full of cour rage or Romache.
 Plenus officij, redie to doge pleasure and ser
 uice to euerie man.
 Plenus vini, drunken, likewise plenus cra pulæ.
 Plenus sanguinis, a great murderer, a bloody persone.
 Plenus somni, sleape, drowie.
 Adolescentia plena spei maxime, yowthe, wherin men haue a speciall hope.
 In plenum dicere, to speake generally, or of al.
 leius & plenus orator, contrarie.
 Corpus plenum, id est, repletum cibo.
 Plenus a summo, full to the toppes.
 Plenus ad marginem, full to the bymme.
 In alienam pecuniam plenam ac praelaram inuadere, to entre by force & wrongfully into an other mans house, replenished and well fur nished with gooddes and substance.
 Ire vidi milites plenis viis, I sawe the wayes full of souldiours goyng to warre.
 Velis plenissimis nauigare, to haue a prosper tous and good wynde in saylyng.
 Grandis & plena vox, a great and full voyce.
 Actatis plenus, verate aged.

Amoris

Amoris plenus, very amorous, greatly in loue.
 Animorum & irarum plenus, very fierce and angrie.
 Plenus annis, he died beynge veray aged, or a veray olde man.
 Plenus corporis, externisq; bonis, hauyng all gettes of the body, and wozdely felicitie abun dantly.
 Plenus sum expectatione, I would veray faine knowe, or I haue a great desyre to knowe.
 Gloriarum plenus, a vayne glorious man.
 Ingenij plenus, veray wittie.
 Quis plenior inimicorum fuit? who had mo enemies?
 Vxor plena lachrymarum obtestans, his wyfe all blouberyng and weeping, besekyng hym for goddes sake.
 Lium plenus, a besy felow, alway in suite and contention.
 Negotij sum plenus, I haue as much busi nesse as I can turne me to.
 Plena festinationis epistola, a letter wrytten
 in great haste.
 Plenus spei, that hath conceiued a great hope.
 Plenisimum remuneratis, dooen with great rethennesse, and vnadvisednesse.
 Domus plena, id est, referta opibus, tpyche and full of gooddes.
 Plenam operam exigere, to require the full taske.
 Plena proprietates, whan one hath the full pro priette, with the whole vse and profyte of a thyng.
 Pleo, ples, pleui, to fyll.
 Pleonasmus, a fygure, wherin is superfluitee of woordes.
 Pleriq; plerq; plerq; many, a great foite,
 most parte.
 Pleriq; signifieth some.
 Pleriq; omnes, all, or all for the mote parte.
 Plerus, plera, plerum, of olde tyme was used for more.
 Plera pars, the mote parte.
 Plerumq; oftentymes, sometymes.
 Plethora, tē, f. g. abundance of humours in the body.
 Plethoricum corpus, a bodie full of humours.
 Plethrum, tri, n. g. a measure of lande contey nyng a hundred fecte: or, after Valla, idem quod iugerum, that is . 242 . foote.
 Pleuritis, tidis, f. g. a sickenesse in the syde, cal led the pleuresie.
 Pleuriticus, a, um, that hath the pleuresie.
 Pleuitas, or after Sipontinus, Plenitas, aris, was used of olde wryters for Ignobilitas.
 Pleuron, onis, a citee of Aetolia.
 Pleuronius, a, um, of Pleuron.
 Plexus, a, um, wounden or bounden, wouen, platted, tied together.
 Plico, aui, vel plicui, are, to fold, to knit, to plait.
 Plicuilis, le, that may be folded, knit or platted.

Plicatura, a, f. g. a foldyng or plaityng.
 Plinius, the name of two noble learned men, the one wrote the moste excellent woorkes, called the historie of Nature: the other wrote eloquent epistoles, & an oracion to Traiane in his com mendacion, whiche oracion is called Panegy ricus. There is also a woork of the practise of physike in the name of Plinius, but whether it were of the first Idine or no, it is not very cer tayne: some call hym Valerianus.
 Plinthenes, an unchaste and wanton person.
 Plistonium, ci, n. g. a certayne disease.
 Plistonius, the name of a learned man.
 Plodo, si, dere, to make noyse with handes or fecte, idem quod plando.
 Plorator, oris, m. g. he that weepeth.
 Ploratus, a, um, wepte for.
 Ploratus, us, m. g. weeping, cryng out, wailing.
 Plorabundus, a, um, that wepeth muche.
 Ploro, aui, are, to weepe, to waile, to crie out.
 Plostellum, li, n. g. a littell wayne, a littell carte that chyldren play with.
 Plostrum, stri, n. gen. for Plaustrum, a wayne or carte.
 Plostrarius, a, um, that belongeth to a wayne or carte.
 Plota, a lamprey.
 Plota, two tles of Aetolia, called also Strophades.
 Plotina, a woman of great vertue and courage,
 wife to Traianus the emperor.
 Plotinus, a philosopher of Platos secte.
 Plotius, a Rhetorician that taught Cicero.
 Plorus, looke Plaurus.
 Ploxemus, a maans name, after some a chesse or coffer.
 Pluma, a, f. g. a fine or littell feather.
 Plumarius, a, um, of feathers.
 Plumarius, rij, m. g. an emboderer.
 Plumalis, le, made of feathers.
 Plumatus, a, um, feathered.
 Plumbago, aginis, tē. ge. a beyne of mettall or oore, wherin is bothe situer and lead: it is also an herbe, whiche hath leaues lyke foxrell, and a great rough roote. also a faule in the buddes of vines, whan they seeme in the soonne of a ruddish colour.
 Plumbarius, rij, maf. gen. a plumber or worken in lead.
 Plumbata, tē, f. g. a pellet of lead, or a plummet of lead, used in olde tyme for a weapon in the warres, and had yron pykes in it lyke caltrops.
 Plumbatio, onis, f. g. scaldyng.
 Plumbarius, a, um, belongyng to lead or plumb mers crafte.
 Plumbatura, tē, f. g. scaldyng with lead.
 Plumbeus, a, um, of the colour of lead, leadie or heauie as lead, any thyng that is of the pro priette of lead: and by translacon, blunt, dull, lumpyfche.
 Plumbeus homo, a lumpy man, without con rage or spyrte, an heauy head, a dull heade.
 Hhh iij Pluma

Plumbea ira, wꝛath whiche longe continueth.
Auster plumbeus, that maketh men heauy and drowfie.
Plumbeo iugulare gladio, to cut ones throte with a leaden swoorde: by transfacion to conuince with a weate argument.
Si quid peccati est, plumbeas iras gerunt, yf any offence be doon, theyr displeasure is as heauie as lead, or continueth longe in theyr stow make.
Plumbeum ingenium, a dull witte.
Plumbeum esse in realiqua, to bee very blozkyt, and to vnderstande littell or nothyng in a matter.
Plumbo, aui, are, to lead, to soulder or iopgne mettall.
Plumbosus, a, um, full of lead, that hath muche lead mixed with it.
Plumbum, bi, n. g. lead, sometyne a plummet or ball of lead: also a disease in the eyes: sometyne a cundite pipe.
Plumescio, scere, to be or waxe feathered.
Plumeus, a, um, of feathers.
Plumea culcitra, a feather bedde, a bedde of downe.
Plumipes, mipedis, that hath feathers on the feete.
Plumiger, a, um, that beareth feathers.
Plumo, aui, are, to beginne to haue feathers: also to embroder.
Plumosus, a, um, full of feathers, that hath many feathers.
Plumula, a, f. g. a littell feather or plume.
Pluo, pluui, and pluui, pliere, to rayne.
Lapidibus pluere, to rayne stones.
Pluralis, le, plurali, that containeth many.
Pluranius, a, um, idem.
Plurifarius, a, um, of dyuers facions.
Plurifarius, many waies, in many places.
Plurimisacio, feci, facere, to set much by.
Plurimum, veray muche: also for, vt plurimum, moſte commonly, for the moſte parte, often tymes.
Pariunt plurimum quinos, they byynge footy for the moſte parte fyue.
Hoc ego vtor vno omnium plurimum, that one thyng I do vse more than any other man.
Ibi plurimum est, he is moſt often there.
Plurimum aetatis, the moſte parte of my lyfe.
Plurimus, a, um, moſte of all, veray muche, many: sometyne for Longus.
Plurimi æſtimare, to ſet moſt by, or to ſet very muche by.
Plus, n. g. ſingulariter, in plurali, plures, & hæc pluria, or plura, moze, many.
Plusis vendo, I ſell for moze, or deere.
Plus decem millia capta, there were taken moze than ten thouſande.
Vt cum matre plus eſſet, that he myght bee the longer with his mother.
Plures, for Multi.

Plusue minusue, moze or leſſe, or about that numbre.
Pluris æſtimare, to ſet moze by.
Pluris ædificare, to builde deere.
Plurima ſtragula, good ſtoze of tapeſte.
Ne quid plus minusue faxit, that he do neyther moze nor leſſe.
Plus virium habet alius alio, one is moze puiſſant and ſtronger than an other.
Plus quingentos colaphos infregit mihi, he gaue me aboue . 500. blowes.
Ne plus pateat palmum, that it be not paſſyng a hande byade.
Plus annum obtinere prouinciam, to haue the gouernance of a prouince a yere and moze.
Tecum anno plus vixi, I liued with you a yere and moze.
Media plus parte, moze than halfe.
Plus æquo, moze than enoughe.
Adhibet plus paulo, he hath drunke a littell to muche, he hath taken a cuppe of maius.
Plus proficit, it moze auayleth.
Plus ſcis quid factu opus eſt, you know better what is expedient to be doon.
Dies plus minus triginta, id eſt, circiter.
Eum plus plusq; in dies diligo, I loue hymes uery day moze and moze.
Caleſces plus ſatis, thou ſhalt bee as hotte as coles.
Non plus refert, it maketh no moze matertice.
Eoꝝ eſt noſtra plus autoritas, and ſo muche the moze our auctoritee is moze eſteemed and ſet by.
Plus eſt, it is moze woꝛthe, it is a greattes matter.
Pluſculus, a, um, a littell moze.
Pluſculum, li, n. g. a littell moze, ſomewhat a greatter porcion.
Pluſculum, an aduerbe, ſomewhat moze, a littell moze.
Plutarchus, a noble philoſophier in the tyme of Crapane.
Plutealis, le, that whiche is kepte or ſet in a table or caſe.
Plutealia ſigilla, ſmall images in tables or caſes.
Pluteus, tei, m. g. an ingin of warre made of hurdel, huccred with leather or ſacke clothe, whiche kept men whyles they wꝛought, from danger of ordinaunce: and vnder the whiche men appoche to the walles of a towne: also a hutzche, a great coſſer, or other lyke place, wherein bookes, tables, or ſuch thynges are kept. Suetonius ſemeth to vse it for a bedſtede: also it is a littell holowe deſke lyke a coſſer, wherupon men do write: also a ſpace or diſtance, wherby the lower pillers were diuided from the higher in the front of foze parte. Plutei bee also bouzdes, with the whiche a thyng is compaſſed or shut in.

Plu-

Pluto, vel Pluton, tónis, & Plutus, ti, called god of hell, and of riches, the ſoonne of Saturnus, he was peincted blynde.
Pluvia, a, f. g. rayne.
Pluuialis, le, raynie, or of rayne.
Pluuiatilis, le, idem quod pluuiialis.
Heda pluuiates, two ſterres, that the ſigne Auriga holdeth in his hande.
Aqua pluuiialis, rayne water.
Pluuius, a, um, raynie, of rayne, that is rayned.
Arcus pluuius, the rayne bowe.
Auſter pluuius, id eſt, pluuiam inferens.
Pluuium cœlum, raynie weather.
Pluvia aqua, rayne water.
Pluuiatia, a, um, one of the ples called Fortunata.
Pluuiosus, a, um, full of rayne, raynie, that hath muche rayne.
Plyſima, auncient wꝛiters bleſed for plurima, beſt and many.

P ANTE N

Pneuma, pneumaticis, n. g. ſpiritte, winde, or breath.
Pneumatica, the partes, wherein the breathe is and paſſeth.
Pneumaticus, a, um, wherein wynde or breathe is bleſed, or belongyng to wynde or breathe.
Pneumatophali, they whiche by wynde or inſaſtion in the bealy haue theyr nauil thruſt out.
Pneumonici, they whiche be ſicke of the longes.
Pneumon, monis, m. g. the longes.
Pneumonia, a, f. g. a diſeaſe, an inflamaſion of the longes.

P ANTE O.

Pocillator, óris, m. g. he that bringeth cuppes to the table, a cup bearer, or he that waiteth on ones cuppe.
Pocillum, li, n. g. a littell cuppe.
Pocernium, a banquet after ſupper.
Poculum, li, n. g. a cuppe, ſometyne a draught, a porcion, a drynke.
Amoris poculum, a drynke charmed to make a man to loue.
Deſyderij poculum, idem.
Adminiſtrare, and Milcere pocula, to ſerue one of drynke, to waite on ones cuppe at the table.
Exhaustire poculum, to quaffe, to drynke by.
Inſicere pocula veneno, to put poiſon in ones drynke.
Inuiare aliquem poculis, to drynke to one.
Ponere pocula, to ſet drynke on the table.
Tingere aliquo poculis, to make one drynke.
Poſcere maioribus poculis, to drynke muche, to quaffe to other largely.
Poculentus, a, um, all thyng that may be drynke.
Poculentus, ſome wyte it Potulentus.
Podager, gra, grum, that hath the goutte,

Podagricus, and Podagrósus, a, um, idem.
Podagra, a, f. g. a pynfull diſeaſe in the legges or feete, called the goutte, whiche cometh of a ſuperfluous humour, ſpecially ſeume raw and viſcus, mixt with choler of Marpe blond, reſpyng by the veynes Capillares, and the beſſe partes of the membes, vntill it bee come betwene the bones of the ioyntes: yf the humour bee hotte, the place is red and excedyng hoite, the pynne beate greuous, with muche ſwellynge, the brine red: if the matter be ſanguine, and the humour colde, the redneſſe of the place is littell, but moze extendyng to white, muche ſwellynge and blewneſſe of matter melancolic: also moze hardneſſe, and the brine moze clere.
Podalirius, one of the ſoonnes of Aſculapius, & a great ſurgeon, he came to the ſiege of Troys with his brother Machaon.
Podarge, one of the Harpys.
Podaris, ris, or reos, f. g. a ſtreitte garmente of linnen cloth downe to the feete, without pleiſtes or wringles, which ſouldiers in olde tyme bleſed in warfare.
Podex, podicis, m. g. the arſe hole.
Podea, a, f. g. the cozde, wherwith the ſayle is ſpredded.
Podium, diſ, n. g. a place made without a wall for men to ſtande and beholde thynges, an open gallerie: also a ſtage, wheron is ſet candels or bookes.
Podoniptrum, tri, n. g. a veſſell, wherein mens feete were waſhed.
Pœan, anis, the father of Philoptetes, o ſwhom he was called Pœantius.
Pœcilafium, a citee of Crete, called commonly Pœulalo.
Pœcile, les, f. ge. a place in Athens, where the ſtoicke philoſophiers dyd reade and teache.
Pœma, ematis, neu. g. a poeſtes function, a poeme.
Pœmenis, a dogges name in Guide.
Pœna, na, f. g. pyn, tourment, execution, punyſhment.
Pœnam pendere, dependere, expendere, dare, exoluere, perſoluere, to be punyſhed, to ſuffer punyſhment, to paie a foꝛſaite.
Petere pœnas in imperatorem, to require theyr capitayne to be punyſhed.
Pœnas reddere, ferre, perferre, ſufferre, Lues re, ſubire, ſuſtinere, ſuſcipere, to be punyſhed, to ſuffer punyſhment.
Afficere pœna, irrogare pœnam, ſumere pœnas, multare pœna, to punyſhe.
Committere pœnam, to renne in the daunger of pynne for doyng or nat doyng a thyng.
Conſurgere in pœnam, to aꝛſe to punyſhme one, or to ſee one tourmented.
Exigere pœnas, to cauſe one to bee punyſhed, or to require that one be punyſhed.
Perſequi pœnas, to be reuenged.
Repetere pœnas homicidij, to byynge an apꝛake

the flour is sieved from the by anne: it maie be called also a boultar.

Pollinco, lincui, lincere, to deuide oz parte flowe that is gotte in the bake house.

Pollincio, linci, lincere, to dresse a dead body with oynmentes . it maie be nowe taken for the chesying and dresying of men with swete gummes, that the dead bodie maie be the longer without ill sauour.

Pollinctor, oris, m. ge. he that dooeth that maner of businesse.

Pollinctura, a, the ministracion in baulmyng oz chesying dead bodie.

Pollinctus, us, m. g. idem.

Polintio, onis, fœm. gen. a deuidyng oz partying of meale.

Pollitor, oris, m. ge. a baker that sifteth oz boulteth meale.

Pollio, a noble man in Rome in the tyme of Augustus.

Pollis, pollinis, m. ge. & Pollen, linis, n. gen. meale oz flour.

Pollit, for Pila ludit.

Pollubrum, loke Polubrum.

Polluceo, lúces, luxi, cère, to minstre sacrifice, specially to Hercules also to prouide and make redy a sumptuous and costly bankette.

Pollucere, for Pellucere, to shyne bright, to be faire and beautifull.

Pollucibilis, le, sumptuous, gaie.

Pollucibilis cena, a costly and sumptuous supper.

Pollucibiliter, costely, gorgeously, deyntly, gailep.

Polluctum, ti, neu. ge. a magnifike, and costely bankette.

Si esset quicquam pollucti domi, if there were any good fare oz deintie meate at home.

Polluo, pollui, luere, to pollute oz defile, to dishonest, to make filthp.

Pollutus, a, um, polluted, defiled, distained, corrupted.

Pollulus, a, um, bled of olde wyters for Paulus, oz paruulus.

Pollux, lúcis, was brother to Castor, bothe beynge boine at one burthen: whiche poetes feigne to come of one egge, leighed oz brought forth of a woman, called Leda, with whom Iupiter companied in likenesse of a swanne.

Polubrum, bri, n. g. a bason to washe ones handes in.

Polus, li, m. gene. the pole. There be imagined to be two certayne poyntes in heauen, as it were the endes of an exte, whereabout heauen is meaued: the one is in the north, and is called Polus Arcticus: the other is in the south, and is called Polus antarcticus. it is somtyme taken for heauen.

Polus Agrigentinus, a sophister, the scholar of Gorgias.

Poluticus Apulcianus, the herbe called mai den heate.

Polyacanthos, thi, m. gene. an herbe that hath rough pricking leaues, whiche Plinie mentio neth.

Polyarnus, a, a lerned man in the tyme of Julius Cæsar: an other borne at Thracie, whiche wyote of Thebes and of the states of warre.

Polyandrium, dri, n. g. a place, where be many common sepulchres.

Polyanehemum, an herbe called of some Batrachion: Ruellius supposeth it to be that, whiche they call commonly pes coruinus, of some viceraria.

Polyarna, a, m. g. he that hath many lambes.

Polybius, a lerned man of Magalopolis in Arcadie, master to Scipio Africanus. he wyote the Romayne hystorie in .40. booke.

Polyanodinos, the herbe Cicuta.

Polyandros, dri, m. g. haung many men.

Polyanthropon, pi, n. ge. a populous cite, a cite that hath much people.

Polybotes, a gygant, whom Neptuneus slewe.

Polycarpia, fructifalence, fertillite, abundance.

Polycarpus, pi, m. g. he that hath muche fruite, fructifull: also a mans name.

Polyceros, ri, m. ge. hoined, that hath many hoines.

Polycletus, a notable image maker oz grauer.

Polycnemon, mi, neu. ge. an herbe called wilde organie.

Polyerates, a tyran to fortunat, that he neuer suffered any aduersitee oz greefe: wherfore he at the laste, dyed the change of fortune, haung a rpyng with a stone of an excellent value, did cast the same into the sea, to the intent he wolde suffer some displeasure, and so satisfie fortune. but a fishe deuouryng the rpyng, was the same daie taken of a fissher, & geuen to the kyng, for the greatnesse of the fishe: which beynge opened, the sayed rpyng was founde and brought to the kyng, wherat as well he, as all other about him, meruayled. some after the same kyng was taken of Diontes a Persian and hanged.

Polycrematos, ti, m. g. well monged, that hath muche money.

Polychronius, nij, m. ge. that liueth longe, that continueth a long tyme.

Polydamas, a Troian, one of them that betrayed the cite with Aeneas and Antenor. Polidamas, was also a famous wyselard, a man of great strengthe.

Polydorus, the son of kyng Priamus and Hecuba, who was by his father (in the tyme of the warres at Troie) sent to Polynestor kyng of Thrace, with a great summe of golde, to be kepte out of the perill of warres. but the cite of Troie beynge taken, Polynestor, to inioye the treasure, slewe the chyld, wherfore afterwarde queene Hecuba scratched out the eyes of Polynestor.

Polydora, a nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus.

also an yle of Propontis.

Polydoria, a, f. g. magnificence, liberalitee, bountie, largesse.

Polydeses, the soonne of Magnes, whiche nourished Perseus, the soonne of Jupiter and Danaüs.

Polygala, la, oz Polygalon, an herbe, which beynge dronke, causeth great abundance of milke in womens breastes.

Polygnorus, an auncient pestifer.

Polygonaton, an herbe, which Ruellius sayth is called commonly Sigillum Solomonis. Mars nardus affirmeth it to be that whiche the Arabians call Secacul, of some Genicula, oz Sigillum sanctæ Mariæ. of John Agricola it is supposed to be that, which Italians call Fraxis nella, some name it scala cæli.

Polygonius, a, um, that hath many corners.

Polygonoides, semeth to Plinie to be that, which Dioscorides calleth Polygonaton.

Polygonum, ni, n. g. an herbe, which is also called Sanguinaria, and hath leaues lyke to rewe, but it renneth on the grounde lyke gras, the iuice therof put into the nose, stoppeth blesdynge. It is supposed to be the gras called swynes gras, oz knot gras.

Polygrammos, a pteious stone lyke to smaragdus, haung many white lines ouerthwarre.

Polygynæcon, a great assemble oz companie of women.

Polyhistor, oris, he that knoweth muche oz many thynges done.

Polyides, an herbe, called of Dioscorides, Staphisagria. Erasimus saith, they call it Draco.

Polylogia, a, f. g. muche talke, many woordes.

Polylogus, he that hath many woordes.

Polimedia, a towne in the countrey of Troas.

Polymitarius, a, um, of oz belongyng to the weayng with threedes of diuers colours, oz byoz theryng.

Opus polymitum, embrodering.

Polymitarij, embroderers, oz weauers with threedes of diuers colours, workes with silke and golde.

Polymitus, a, um, of twyne oz twisted threede of diuers colours.

Vestis polimita, a garmente made of twisted threede, oz silke of diuers colours, a garmente embrodered.

Polynestor, oris, a kyng of Thrace, to whom kyng Priamus sente his soonne Polydorus, with a great summe of golde.

Polyomia, one of the muses, whiche wyorde signifyeth muche memorie.

Polymorphus, pli, m. g. of many fourmes oz fashions.

Polymyxos, a laumpe with diuers matches, oz a branche, where dyuers candles oz lightes be made in one.

Polyonices, the son of Oedipus, kyng of Thebes, who contended with his brother Eriochles for his fathers hyngedome.

Polyphagus, gi, m. g. a great eater.

Polypharmachus, that hath many medecines oz popsons.

Polyphemus, a gygante that had one eye in his foreheade, whiche was put out by Atides.

Polyphissus, si, m. g. one that is very ryche, a ryche cobbe.

Polyplusios, well monied.

Polipodium, di, n. g. an herbe lyke to scaene, growyng on trees, polipodec, oz one ferne.

Polypodus, he that hath the foze in the nose called Polypus.

Polypates, the soonne of Perithous and Hypodamia.

Poliprôton, ti, n. g. that hath many cases. also a figure, where one woorde beginneth diuers clauses, and at euery one vartieth his case.

Pôlypus, i, oz ypodis, m. g. a fishe haung many secte, which changeth his colour often. The heade of this fishe is most pleasant meate: but it bredeth heauy and wonderful dreames. And therof cometh the prouerbe, Polypti caput. also a piece of fleshe growyng in the ouermoste parte of the nose, whiche causeth a stynge agze out of the nose.

Polypti, is used prouerbiually either for fooles and idocotes, oz else for such as holde faste that they haue gotten, whether it bee by ryghte oz wyngone: it may be take also for vncōstant and mutable persons.

Polyppyon, of muche fruite: oz that hath great plentie of coyne.

Polyrrizon, zi, n. g. that whiche hath many rootes. an herbe called Epimedium of Dioscor. the fourth kynde of Aristolochia. also a kynde of the blacke Elleborus.

Polyindeton, a figure when a sentence is knit together with diuers coniunctions, as Tectumq, laremq, armag, Amicelumq, canem, cres famq pharetram.

Polysinheton, a figure where as a sentence is aply knit together with diuers articles, as Ille trahabat, hic vociferabatur, he dyawe, and he cryed out.

Polyteba, a citee of Mesopotamia.

Polites, one of kyng Priamus soones, slayne by Pirrus, when Troie was taken.

Polytrichon, an herbe called Venus heate.

Polyxena, the daughter of kyng Priamus, whom cruell Pirrus slewe on the tombe of Achilles his father.

Polyxenus, one of the gecke capitaines that came to Troie.

Polyxo, polyxus, one of the Amazons and prophyete of Apollo.

Polyzonos, a pteious stone haung many blacke circles.

Pomarium, ij, n. g. an orcharde: sometyme a place, wherin fruites be kepte, an houte house.

Pomarius, ij, m. g. one that selleth fruite, a coltarde tarde mungre, a heper of an orcharde.

 Pomeridianus, & postmeridianus, a, um, any thyng done at after none.
 Pomifer, or Pomiferus, a, um, bearyng apples,
 haupng plenty of Apples.
 Pomilius, & pomilio, onis, m. g. a little persos nage, a dwarfe, and is spoken as well of beas-tes as men.
 Pomacrium, ij, neu. g. the grounde without the walles of the cite, whiche mighte neither bee plowed nor inhabited, the territorie.
 Pomona, nae, f. g. the goddesse of fruite.
 Pomolus, a, um, that hath muche fruite of many apples.
 Pompa, a, fem. g. a pompe or sollemne sighte, a longe companie of men goyng in order, a procession, a sollemne trayne or companie goyng with a great man, any maner of glorious or solemne ostentation & shewe, as well in prosperitee and triumphe, as in aduersitee and fynes ralles.
 Pompeius, called Magnus, for his intomparable victories (whose father was called Pompeius Strabo) had so good a grace in his visage, that from his childehode, he meued the people of Rome moste entirely to fauour hym for his singular beneuolence, continence of lyeuynge, martiall experience and knowlage, pleasauntnesse of speech, fidelitee of maners, and ear-sinesse in speakynge to. He neuer required any thyng without thankesfastnesse, nor graunted any thyng but with a glad countenance, in his visage appeared alway both nobilitie and gen-tilnesse, so that in his florishyng yowth, there shined in hym maners bothe princely and reue-rende. Scilla, the cruell and proude tyran had hym in such estimation, that where he woulde not aspe to any other mā, wer he neuer so hygh in dignitee, he met with Pompeius comynge towarde hym, and puttyng of his bonet, saluted hym by the name of great capytayne, called in latine at that tyme Imperator. he triumphed for his victories in Affricke, beyng almoste a childe, nor yet admitted into the Senate, con-straic to the aunciente order of Rome: he vanquished the valiant capitaine Scertorius, a man at that tyme moste famous in prowesse, beyng an exile in Spaine, and befoze was inuincible.
 he also vanquished Mithridates, the greate kyng of Pontus: and where a great numbre of the concubines of Mithridates, women of excellent beaute, were taken and brought vnto hym, he woulde not companie with any of them, but sente them to thepp frenedes. He subdued these realmes, Armenia, Cappadocia, Baphlagonia, Media, Cilicia, Mesopotamia,
 Iudea, Arabia, Cholidis, Iberia, Albania, Syria, for the which he triumphed after he had wyffe befoze triumphed, for the wyppynge of Sparne & Affricke, in this triumphe he brought into the common treasure of golde and syluer in money and plate. 2000. talentes, whiche if they were common talentes, amounted to .xx.

 hundred thousand pound, if they were the great talentes .xxvii. hundred and .xxvi. thousand, 600. fl. li. xlii. s. liii. d. in our money: besydes that was giuen to the men of warre, whiche he had serued hym, and that was to euery one a .1500. brason pence, of our money. vi. li. v.
 s. which in so great an host as perteyned to the conquest of so many countreies, extended to a wonderfull summe of money, wherby may app-peare the riches of the Romanes. afterwarde by the mediation of the frenedes of bothe par-tes, Pompeie toke to wyffe Julia, the daughter of Julius Caesar, whiche lyued not longe, and the amitie betwene Pompeie and Caesar decreased, and at the laste the vnvariable ambition of them bothe brast out, the one not sustaynyng the others honour, wherof came the warre in uile, wherin Caesar with a fewer numbre vanquished Pompeie, who perished by sea in to Egypt, where vnder the saule conducte of the kyng Ptholomeus, he was daine in a bote, his head beyng stricken of, and his bodie cast on the stronde, where it was porsely buried, when he had lyued .lx. yeres and aboue, & from his yowth in most hygge honour, welthe, and prosperitie, on whom it did seme, that fortune had powred all hir treasure most prodigally.
 Pompeianus, a, um, of Pompeius parte, or a fauourer of Pompeius.
 Pompeiopolis, a cite of Cilicia, called afterwarde Traianopolis.
 Pompholix, as Manardus wytteth, is that, whiche the apothecaries dooe call Ryll. looke Manardus in the epistle de spodio, and Dioscori-des, li. 5. cap. 76.
 Pompelon, the chiefe cite of Hauc called Pampa-pilona.
 Pompilius, the surname of Ruma seconde kyng of Romaynes.
 Pompius, li, m. g. a certayne fythe.
 Pomponia, Scipios mother.
 Pomponiana pyra, a kynde of pearce.
 Pomponius Atticus, an honorable Romayne, of a gentle and aunciente house, from his childe-hode amiable of visage, with a swete voyce and pronounciation, and therewith haueyng a sharpe witt and apte vnto learnynge: for the diuision and partes taking at Rome, he went and dwelled at Athens, where the people moste tenderly loued hym, as well for his honorable vertues, as for his benefites towardes them, for beyng lesse ryche by his fathers substaunce and great reuenues, he often tymes relused the necessities of the common people. wherfore he was there had in a singular reuerence, and for his ashode in Athens and excellencie in their eloquence, he was called Atticus, he dyd not onely with his treasure hepe the people out of vburie:
 but also in a tyme of fearfitee, he gaue to euery citizen, vii. measures of wheate, called Me-dimni, whiche was of due measure. v. busselles and halfe, one pecke, one gallon, and one quarte to euery one: he was loued of euery man, and he was charitable to all men. when Cicero wente in exile, he gaue hym .250000.

 Sesterces, whiche amounteth of our money to
 99. li. li. xiii. s. liii. d. Scilla, notwithstanding his grea- pride, had hym in reuerence: he moste loued Pompeius and Cicero, princes of eloquence: and though he him selfe were as well in the latine tonge, as in greke, perfect as any man, yet woulde he neuer practise in matters, nor woulde aske of sue for auctorytee. he released with his money contrarie partes, as Antos-tius and Brutus, one to the other mortall enemies. he lent great summes of money with out takynge of vburie, and holpe ladies, whose hous-bandes were banished, as well with monney as with his counsaile and consolation. of Pompie and Caesar he was equally loued when they were enemies together. swallie his quiete lyuynge was to no man annoyance, but to euery man thankfull. his house was pleasant & not magnifike, nete, and not berie sumptuous, all his seruantes were berie well learned, red well, and wyate berie faire, nor there was so symple a hope in the house, but he coulde doe bothe. the residue were artificers, suche as made thynges necessarie and conuenient for his house. whan Augustus Caesar most flourished, he made ali-ance with hym for his excellent temperance and honestie in lyeuynge, for the whiche all noble men fauoured hym. also he married his wyue sonne Tiberius (who was afterwarde emper-our) to the daughter of Atticus, and no dape escaped that the emperour wote not vnto him:
 semblably dyd Antonius the emperours ene-mie, such grace had he to be fauoured of all men, to luc out of the danger of enuious authoritee, to passe his tyme in the moste delectable paradise of knowlage, and to haue as well therof abundante, as also lyeuynge sufficient for the maintenace of his estate beyng a knight, and to aide his frenedes and countrey men in thepp necessitee. when he had lyued .77. yeres, he dyed of a fistula, with a wonderfull pacifce, and voluntarie abstinence, and was buried at Rome, all god men folowynge the corpe, & the people and all other lamentynge. he wyate discre excellent markes in greke & latine, whiche are perished, to the inestimable detriment of them that be studious.
 Pomum, i, n. g. the general name of all frutes, it is moste bfed for an apple. Plinie comprehens-deth nuttes with harde shales and berries vnder that name.
 Pomus, i, f. g. an apple tree.
 Pondero, aui, are, to weight, to ponder, to examine, to consider, to esteeme.
 Ponderare fidem ex fortuna, To esteeme or iudge a mans faithfulness and honestie accord-yng as he is riche or poore.

 Officia alicuius ponderare, to ponder or consider the benefites or frendly pleasures that one hath done.
 Consilia euentus ponderare, to esteeme or iudge a mans counsailes by that that cometh to passe of them.
 Ponderofus, a, um, wrighty, ponderouse.
 Ponderosa epistola, a long epistle, contrepnyng manie weightie matters, or pythye and substanciall in wordes.
 Pondo, indeclinabile. n. g. a pounce wepyght.
 Olei pondo octoginta, foure score pounce wepyght of oyle. sometyme for Pondus, wepyght of poies.
 Corona aurea libra pondo, a croune of golde of a pounce wepyght. sometyme it signifyeth a value of monney, whiche lyke as Mina among the grekes contained an hundred Dragmas: so Pondo amonge the Romaynes conteyned an hundred Denarios of syluer.
 Quot pondo re esse censet nudum? how mannie pounce wepyght thou beyng naked?
 Amomi pondo quadrans, a quarter of a pound of Amomum.
 Adde pondo libram, put a pounce wepyght
 more.
 Cum dodrante pondo mellis, with. ix. ounce of hunnye.
 Bina aut trina pondo non dicimus, sed duo aut tria.
 Pondus, ponderis, n. gen. poise or weight, also the thinge that is weighed in a balance. some-tyme a burden or lode, a charge. also grauitie, estimation, authoritee.
 Magnum auri pondus, a great weight or summe of golde.
 Habere pondus apud aliquem, to haue authori-tiee about some man, to be in great estimation with one.
 Eius filius eodem est apud me pondere, quo fuit ille, his sonne is with me in the same, or as much estimation, as euer he was.
 Gemuit sub pondere cimba, the bote beyng ouerladen cracked.
 Cedere ponderi, To be vnable to beare the burthen.
 Magnum pondus omnium artificum, id est, numerus. Pondus conscientie, the charge or burthen of conscience.
 Testimonij pondus, substantialemente or auctoritee of testimonie or wytnesse.
 Verborum ponderibus utendum, we muste vse weightynesse, auctorytee, and grauitie of wordes.
 Pondus habere, to be weightie & substantiall.
 Tuae litterae maximi sunt apud me ponderis,
 I doe greatly esteeme your letters.
 Pondusculum, li, n. g. a little or small weight.
 Pone, after or behynde.

Pono, posui, ponere, to put, to set, to place, to edifice, to build, to laye as one layeth a foundation, to lye downe in wager or gage, to leaue of lease, to laye asyde, to laye aparte, to put of, as one doth his clothes, to set before one as they do meate at the table, to employ, to bestowe, to plant, to set also for Propone, to propose, or put forth a question or doubt. Sometime to pyncke or drawe out the fource of a thyng in a table.

Ponere spem, to hope, also to hope no longer. Accusatore ponere, to suborne or hye one to accuse a man.

Ponere ante oculos rem aliquam, to set before his eyes, to cause hym to remembre, to make a thyng appeare euident and playne.

De rebus ante oculos positus disputare, to dispute of thynges cleare and out of question.

Quod erat ante oculos positum, that no man had any doubt in, or that no man doubted of. Bene ponere beneficium apud aliquem, To doe pleasure to one that will requite it.

Castra ponere, to pitch or sette a campe in warres.

Positum consilium in fortuna, fortune hath therof the disposition, or it is at the will and pleasure of fortune.

Ponere curam, to set asyde care.

Ponere curam in re aliqua, To take care for a thyng, to studie, labour, and take payne about a thyng.

Custos in frumeto publico est positus, he had the charge geue to him of the comon grayners. Ponere dies multos in rem aliquam, to employe or spende much tyme about a thyng.

Est in positum in re totum, it is in thy handes wholly, whethere it shall be done or not.

Ponere exemplum, to alledge an exemple.

Ponere se extra culpam, to discharge hym selfe of that whiche is layed vnto hym.

Ponere fundamenta, to laie the foundation.

Ponere in admirandis, to tell it for a meruaile.

Ponere aliquid in admiratione, to meruaile at a thyng.

Ponere aliquem in æquo duobus summis, to esteeme one equally, as muche as two of the greatest, or to be equall with two of the greatest and most excellent.

Ponere in æqualitate, To esteeme the one as muche as the other.

Nep ego hoc in tua laude pono, alia sunt tua facta acque consilia summa laude digna, and I accompte not this amonge thy praises, there be other of thyne actes and procedynges, that do deserue as muche praise as maye be geuen.

Ponere in promptu, to disclose to all men.

Ponere in solem, to set agaynst the sunne.

In optima spe sibi ponere aliquid, To haue good hope in a thyng.

Ponere in uitio, to cause a thyng to be taken in the yll parte, or to enterprete a thyng to the warite.

Ponere mala initia, to begyn ill, to make an yll begynnyng.

Ponere loco contumelia, to reproche one of any thyng, to laye a thyng to one as a reproche or rebuthe.

Ponere in beneficij loco, to take it for a frendly tourne or pleasure.

Tantum in ea arte ponitis, ye set so muche by that arte.

Munus bene positum, a geste well bestowed.

Ponere nomina rebus, To geue names to thynges.

Ponere omnia in voluptate, to esteeme nothing so muche as voluptie or carnall pleasure.

Ponere operam, to bestowe labour.

Bene opera posita, paynes well bestowed.

Ponere operam alicui, to attend about ones busynesse.

Ponere oua, to laye egges, as an hen doth.

Ponere pro certo sum veritas, I dare not assure it for trowth, I dare not assure you that it is so, I dare not write it for a certentie.

Bene ponere officium apud aliquem, not to lose his labour in dooing one pleasure.

Sumptus nusquam melius potest poni, a man could neuer haue better bestowed his money.

Ponere multum temporis in aliquo loco, to tarry a great while in a place.

Vbiunq; posuit vestigia, by all the way that he passed, where so euer he wente.

Ponere iubebam, de quo quis audire vellet, I bad theym pourpose what so euer they lusted to heare.

Tum veni posuere, than the wynde ceased.

Ponere consilium, to leaue his enterprise.

Ponere de manibus, to lay out of his handes.

Ponere dolorem, to cease to be sorrowfull.

Ponere feroces animos, to leaue his fiercenesse and crueltie, to wate more tractable or gentle.

Ponere arma, To laye asyde theyr weapons of harnaile.

Ponere metum, to take a good herte.

Ponere pudorem, to be shamelesse.

Ponis mihi porcum, thou seruicke me at the table with porke.

Ponere pallium, to lay his garment in pledge.

Pone eum esse victum, put the case that he be vanquished.

Ponunt philosophi, The philosophers doo write &c.

Ponere in gratia vel gratiam, to bringe into fauour, to reconcile.

In auribus omnium positum, spoken through all the world, or that euerie man heareth of.

Tantis beneficijs in re publica positus, When he had done so great pleasures to the common wealthe.

Castella in his locis posuit, he edified castels or towers in these partes.

In conspectu ponere, to set before one that he may see it.

Ponere in infamiam, to bypyn in an infamie, or obloquie of the people.

In casario crimine aliquid alicui ponere, to lay a thyng to ones charge as an haynouse or greuous offence.

Ne in suspicione ponatur stupri, that he be not brought in suspition of detestable auourie.

Castodias portis ponere, To set watche men to kepe the gates.

Diem recum libentius posuerim &c. I had rather lye or abyde one daye with you then &c.

Fidem pigri ponere pro aliquo, To pledge his faith and trowth for one, to be suretie or vnsuretie for one.

Maiorem fructum ponere in perpetuitate laudis, to esteeme moze worth that his renoume and praise continueth for euer.

Qui ciuitatis incommodom in gloriam suam ponit, whiche esteemeth the hurte and incommoditie of his countrey, to be glorie and praise to hym, in which turneth the hurte of the citee to his praise and glorie.

Non in gloria posuerim, I would not compt or esteeme it a glorie or honour.

Ponere insidias contra aliquem, to lay waite for one to deceyue him, or to wryke him displeasure.

In pari laude ponere, To geue euen as muche praise, to praise or esteeme the one as muche as the other.

In lege posuere, they dyd this enacte, ordeine and decrete.

Id ego in lucris pono, that I take for aduantage, or for a good turne moze then I loke for.

Rem in medium ponam, I will open the matre manifestly to you.

Ponere in metu aliquid, to feare.

In minimis suas res ponere, to esteeme or taken his owne matters nothing.

Modum ponere, to keepe a meane.

Mortem in malis ponere, to taken death an yll thyng.

Est hoc in more positum institutoq; maiorum, this is a thyng that was accustomed and ordeined of our forefathers.

Opus ponere, to make a marke, to build.

Longam oratione ponere in re aliqua, to make many wordes of a great long tale of any thyng.

Quam in oratione mea ponere, then to speake of wyse of it my selfe.

Pecuniam ponere, to lend out money to vsurie.

Principem ponere aliquem, to esteeme a man notable and excellent aboute other.

Salus nostra in vno te posita est, our helthe and safegarde consisteth in you onely.

Posuit extra omnem ingenij aleam, that hath not his like in all the world.

Setotum in re aliqua ponere, to geaue or applye hym selfe wholly to a thyng.

Posita in coniectura, thynges that one maye conjecture of.

Semina ponere humo, to sowe seedes.

Omnes in fuga sibi subsidium posuerunt, that all had none other hope to saue them selfe, but onely by flyght.

Ponere summum bonum in virtute, to esteeme the chiefe felicitie, blisse or goodnesse, to bee in vertue.

In culpa sunt ac suspicione ponendi, they are to be suspected and blamed.

Ponere tempus, studium, sumptum, operam, diem, curam, diligentiam in re aliqua, to bestowe, to employe, to spende.

Verbum diuinit in quo homine ponimus, to whom doe we geue the name of a rich man, or what man doe we call rich?

Ponere verba alicuius in re aliqua, to cite or alledge ones owne wordes in a matter.

Vitem ponere, to set or plant a vine.

Dum tunicam ponit, while he putteth of his cote.

Barbam ponere, to be shaven, to leaue of his bearde.

Consilium ponere, id est, desistere a consilio.

Odiu ponere, to lay asyde grudge or malice.

Onus vteri positum est, the is deliuered.

Pons, ontis, m. g. a bridge.

Iungere ponte fluuium, to make a bridge ouer a water.

Pons, is sometyme used for the ladder in a shyppe.

Pontia, an ile in the sea called Ligusticum, on the south parte of Italie, wherein Pilatus was borne, and therof was called Pontius Pilatus.

Ponticus, a poetes name.

Ponticus, a, um, of Pontus.

Ponica nux, a kind of flsherdes, which came from the countrey called Pontus in Asia.

Pontica radix, that whiche we doe nowe call Rheuponticum.

Ponticulus, li. m. g. a litle bydgc.

Pontifex, tificis, mascu. gen. an archbishop, a prelate.

Pontificalis, le, pontificali, belongyng to an archbishop.

Pontifex, tificis, mascu. gen. an archbishop, a prelate.

Pontificatus, atus, m. gen. the dignitie of a bishop, prelate.

Pontificium, ti, neu. ge. the power or office of a bishop.

Pontificus, a, um, of a bishop.

Pontificia, orum, n. gen. the byshoppes booke, wherein thynges of religion were written.

Ponto, onis, m. g. a wherie bote, a feris bote.

Pontus, ti, m. g. the sonne of Hæcæus, of whom the sea Pontus is named.

Pontus, ti, f. g. is the sea, whiche is betwene the sea called Mæotis, and the Ile Tenedos. it is also a great countrey ioyngnyng to the same sea, which containeth these royalmes, Colchis, Cappadocia, padocia, Armenia, and other diuers countreys. it is sometime put generally for the sea.

Popa, v, m. g. he that hath beastes or other thinges for sacrifices to sell, or he that helieth the sacrifices at the aultar. by translation a glutton or foule eater.
Popana, fat opmtities, after Lalepine. but the place in lunenal, hath Poppeana.
Popanum, i, n. g. a broode, rounde, and thynne cake, which they used in sacrifice. it may be now taken generally for every cake of bread.
Popellus, li, m. g. the little or poore people.
Popili, the name of dyuers Romaines, one of them flewe Cicero.
Popina, na, f. ge. a tauerne or bittailng house, wher meate is eat out of due tyme, a cohes shop
Popinalis, le, perteyning to riote or places of riote.
Popinatio, onis, f. g. riote or gluttonie, or much resortinge to typling houses.
Popino, nois, m. g. a commune haunter of bittailng houses.
Popinor, aris, ari, to eat out of due tyme, to be riotouse.
Poples, póplitis, m. gen. the hamme of a mans legge behynde the knee.
Poppea, stercos secunde wyfe.
Poppeanus, a, um, of Poppea, or that Poppea was wont to vse.
Poppima, pissuatis, n. gen. the noise made with the mouth and handes in ryding, or wanton ballance, a whistlyng with the mowthe, and stroking with the hande, as men vse to hande the hoxses that be couragious and fierse.
Poppismus, mi, m. gen. a sowne made with the two handes clapped together, a clapping of the handes together.
Popizon, onis, m. ge. one that whistlyeth to an hoxse, and stroketh him gentelly.
Populabilis, le, that may be destroyed or wasted.
Populabundus, a, um, wastepnge the countrey, or he that goeth in foragepng or robbing of countreys.
Populans, antis, wastepng, destroyng.
Popularis, re, perteyning to the people, accepted or fauoured of the people, that delieth & pleaseth the people, that fauoureth the part of the people. also it signifieth a familiar friende, a companion of the same towne or citee, a citizen, or as we vse to call countreyman. also one of the meane people, or comminallie.
Nihil tam populare q̄ bonitas, nothng moze pleaseth the people then godnesse or vertue.
Præstat diuitem esse ac popularem, quàm nobilem ad mendicum, it were better to be of the comminallie and riche, then of the nobilitie and a beggar.
Popularia loca, places where the comminallie doeth assemble, or places where the common people doe sit in a theater.
Populari nomine a nobis appellantur, in the common soyme of speakng they be called. Populare ingenium, holdng with the libertie of the people.

Aura, and Fama popularis, the preise and commendation of the people.
Lex popularis, a lawe made by the people.
Ad vsum popularem, after the vse and faction of the common people.
Sacra popularia, solemnities kepte of all the comminallie, and not of certain families onely.
Popularis ciuis, a citizen that fauoureth the parte of the people.
Fieri popularem, to become a maintener and fauourer of the libertie of the common people.
Tentare popularium animos, to feele & proue the myndes of his subiectes.
Popularis meus, my companion, of my estate, hauiour or condition.
Populares coniurationis, the companions or confederates of any conspiracie.
Popularis, id est, Assentator & leuis ciuis.
Popularia, id est, nugatoria, puerilia, boyes playes, childyshe games.
Populatus, avis, f. g. frendeshipp, by occasion that they be countrey men. also the fauour that one beareth to the common people, and fauour of the people towards one.
Populariter, homily, lyke the people, accordng to the maners of the people, with fauour & loue of the people, after the faction of the people.
Populatum, of all the people, also euery one also together.
Populifugia, was a day in the moneth of June, at the whiche daye by reason of a ramour the people fled.
Populatio, onis, f. g. a wastpng of the countrey, a destroyng, vpyllyng, or robbing of the countrey.
Populatio, oris, m. g. a robber, waster, destroyer, or spoyler of the countrey, a forager.
Populatrix, trix, f. g. the feminine.
Populatus, us, m. g. idem quod populatio.
Populatus, a, um, wasted, destroyed.
Populatum, ti, neu. gene. the place where poppiars growe.
Populeus, a, um, of a poplar tree.
Populifer, a, um, that beareth poplars.
Populus, & Populneus, a, um, idem.
Populonia, a citee of Etruria, called now Plumbinum.
Populonium, a promontorie of the Tusciens.
Populo, auis, are, to get the fauoure of the people.
Populo, auis, are, and Populor, aris, ari, to wast or destroy a countrey, to robbe, to spoile.
Populosus, a, um, full of people, populouse.
Populus, li, mas. g. people, properly it is all the states of the people, bepyes the souerayne govt uernour. all bee it the Romaynes made a distinction betweene the senate and the people, wytyng in theyr stardres and corne, Senatus populusq̄ Romanus, the senate and the people of Rome.

Popu

populus, i, f. g. a tree called a poplar, wherof one is called white poplar, whose stemme is longe, and playne, and the leaues alwaie thakng, greene within, and white on the backe. the other is called blacke poplar, which hath the barke rough, and fewer leaues then the white.
Porca, a, f. g. a sowe, a ridge of land betwene two sowes, a balke after Marro, thei called it also Porca, when it was in breadth .30. fote, in length .125. Porca is also a plot of ted in a garden.
Porcarius, a, um, of a swyne.
Porcarius, ri, m. g. a swyne herde.
Porcellus, li, m. g. a pigge.
Porco, ere, bled of olde wyters to prohibite.
Porcetra, a ponge sowe or pette.
Porcia, a noble woman of Rome.
Porcinarius, is, m. g. he that sellethe porche, bason, or other swynes flethe.
Porcinus, a, um, of an hogge.
Porcius, the surname of the elder Lato.
Porculario, onis, f. g. bringng up of swyne, fattpng of swyne.
Porculator, oris, m. g. a fatter of swyne.
Porculum, i, n. g. idem quod Porca, a plot in a garden, wherin be diuers beddes.
Porculum, li, n. g. a thyng set in the parte of a vine prelle called fucula.
Porculus, li, m. ge. a pygge, a swyne, a shoote, a popket.
Porcus, i, m. g. an hogge.
Porcus lacteus, a suckpng pygge.
Porcus troianus, an hogge roasted, with many other beastes and fowles in his bealy.
Porgam, vled of the auncient wyters for Porrigam, I will deliuer or take to one.
Pori, pores in the bodie, out of the which issueth sweate.
Porphyra, ra, f. g. purple.
Porphyriacus, a, um, of purple colour.
Porphyrio, onis, f. g. a byrde, which dyinketh as though it dyd byte the water, he hath longe red legges and byll, some call it Pellicanus.
Porphyron, a gyantes name.
Porphione, an ile in Propontis.
Porphyris, an ile in the goulfe Laconicum, called after Cythera.
Porphiris, idis, f. g. a purple garment.
Porphyritis, itis, m. g. a red marble.
Porphyriticus, a, um, of red marble.
Porphirus, a serpent that hath no teeth.
Porphyrius, a notable philosopher, and enemye to chistian religion.
Poraceus, a, um, of tecke blades, like to tecke blades.
Poraceus color, the colour of tecke blades.
Porrecte, streight out.
Porrectio, onis, f. g. a stretchpng out.
Porrectus, a, um, extended in length or breadth, stretchd out.
Porrectiore fronte loqui, to speake moze me

risly and boldly, to speake with a merke thers and countenance.
Porricio, porricis, ricere, a worde vled properly in sacrifice, for porrigere, to stretch or pzoa fer vp.
Porriginosus, a, um, scurue.
Porrigo, porrex, gere, to spreade out, to stretch the out, to offer, to ouerthrow, to lay on long.
Herba porrigere, to confesse to be vnguilted.
Porrigere manum, to geue ayde or succours.
Dextram porrigere alicui, looke Dextra.
Sol porrigit horas, i. i. Prodcit.
Porrigere manum ad aliquid faciendum, to put out his hande to do a thyng.
Porrigere in longitudinem, to stretch out in lengthe.
Porrigere poculum, to profer or reache one the cuppe.
Porrigo, iginis, f. g. scurfe in the heade, beards or browes, scales that fall from the head, beards or browes.
Porrima, the sister of Carmenta Euanders mothe.
Porro, an aduerbe, surely, certainly, also longa before, far of, after, in tyme comng, beyonde, forsothe, mozeouer, hereafter, after this, from henceforth, afterwarde, notwithstanding.
Si ire porro pergas, if ye go further, if you continue and goe on forwarde.
Ut quiescant porro mones, finally I aduise them to leaue or sette styll, or I aduise theym, from henceforth or hereafter to cese & be content.
Quid restat, nisi vtiham porro miser what remaineth, but that in the ende I bee vndone, or become wretched and miserable.
Etiā ne est quid porro is there any thyng elles? Quid deinde porro what moze followed after?
Porro, is sometime a conjunction, & is as much as Sed, sometime it is a conjunction expletive, to fill vp onely the nombre of the sentence.
Porro autem, for Et vero, Et porro, and that moze is, and moze ouer, and furthermoze.
Neg porro for Neg etiam.
Porro, for valde, as.
Et porro minima, for valde minima, and that moze is, very small or littel.
Se porro pueros a senibus audisse dicebant, that they beynge veray yonge, hearde olde men saye .3c.
Porro hortantis, as Perge porro, nam de isto magna dissensio est, go to, saie on I praye you, for of this matter. 3c.
Porro aduerbium temporis: as, Licurgus non porro ab Homeri temporibus fuit, not longe after, or from the tyme of Homere.
Porro aduerbium ordinis: as, ut quid velim porro intelligas, that you may know what I woulde haue you doe afterwarde.
Eunuchum porro dixi velle te, than afterwarde, or moze ouer thou saidst, thou wouldest dest sayne haue an Eunuche.

Quod ad hanc rem opus est porro consule, id est, in futurum, in reliquum, herafter: or as yet some, afore hande.

Iace pater talos, vt porro nos iaccamus, that we may caste afterwarde.

Porro for Tandem, as Cessatum est vsq; adhuc, nunc porro Eschine expurgiscere, id est, tandem vel certe deinceps.

Porrus, i, m. g. & porrum, i, n. g. a lecke.

Porfena, the name of a hynde that besieged Rome, to haue brought in Tarquinius.

Porta, a, f. g. a gate.

Porta angula, a citee of Spaine called Torquemada.

Portendo, di, dere, to signifie befoze a thyng hapneth.

Portentiferus, a, um, that signifieth straunge or monstrous thynges compynge.

Portentificus, a, um, idem.

Portentofus, a, um, monstrous, signifyinge piluche or aduenture to come.

Portentofus, a, um, idem.

Portentum, i, n. g. a thyng monstrous, or beate seldome seene, whiche maie signifie some what to come, a signe of some euill chance or misfortune to come, sometyme a vaine phantasie or inuencion.

Portentum malum, id est Præmonstratum.

Portuensis, mei, m. g. a ferie man, one that consweigheth ouer in a shipp or bote.

Portuensis, midis, f. gene. a ferie bote, a whyzie bote, a littell shipp to passe ouer in.

Porticula, a, f. g. a littell porche, or gallerie to walke in.

Porticulus, li, m. g. a littell haueu.

Porticus, us, f. g. a porche, a walke, a gallerie, or large place made to walke in, either for pleasure or for the rayne, philosophers taught and disputed in such.

Portio, onis, f. g. a porcion, a parte.

Pro portione rerum, accordyng to the proportion, measure or quantitee of thynges.

Pro virili portione, as muche as laie in the.

Vocem habet portione maximam, it hath a very hygge voice for so small a beast or flic.

Cerebrum habent omnia animalia, quæ sanguinem, sed homo portione maximum, all beastes that haue bloude, haue also the braine, but man for his quantitee and bygnes, moze than any other. Circa quod magna mortalium portio heret, the most parte of men.

Porticulus, li, m. g. the pylate of a shipp, whiche ruleth the mariners.

Portito, ani, are, to beate about with a man.

Portitor, oris, m. g. the customer of an haueu, also a porter that dooeth beate thynges that be bought, whither as the byer wyll haue hym, also he that beareth men from the haueu to the shipp, or from the shipp to the shore.

Porticula, a, f. g. a littell porcion.

Porto, ani, are, to beate, to bynge, to carie, to ther on a beaste, or his owne backe.

Ex toto portare, to beate all together, or quite and cleane from the grounde.

Collo portare, to beate on his necke.

Pellago portare, to conuey by water.

Auxilium portare, to succour.

Bonum portare, to bynge good thynges.

Boni quid porto? what good thynges dooe I bynge?

Porto hoc iurgium ad vxorem, I wyll goe chyd with my wyfe for this, or my wyfe shall be sure to here of this.

Hic me credit aliquam sibi fallaciam portare, this man thinketh that I come now with some craft or wile to deceiue hym.

Omnia mea mecum porto, I beate all that is myne owne about me.

Nescio quid peccati portat hac purgatio, this purgation or excuse mayng impoeth, argueth, signifieth or proueth some offence or faule to be dooen, what so euer it be.

Portorii, ij, n. g. the fraite paid for passage or cariage of marchandise, also custome or tallage.

Portula, a, f. g. a littell gate.

Portulaca, ca, f. g. an herbe called purselane.

Portunus, a god of the sea, and hath tuition of the haueus.

Portuosus, full of haueus.

Portus, us, m. g. an haueu, and by translation a place of refuge and succour.

Res est in portu, the matter of thyng is saule; the matter is out of danger.

Ego in portu nauigo, I am out of danger.

Aditus & os portus, the entre into the haueu.

In portu impingere, to offende or doo amill, to erre at the very beginning.

Portus & periculum.

Portus fugæ erat in tuis castris, thy camp was a refuge or place of succour for all the worlde to flee to.

In otij portum confugere, to geue hym selfe to lye quietly without busynesse & trouble of the worlde.

Nisi me in philosophia portum contulisset, except I had geuen & bent my selfe to the studie of philosophie, wherein I quere my mynde.

Porus, a hynde of India, whom Alexander vanquished.

Porus, the passage of the scede of man or beast: also the fundament.

Pos, was used either for Pons, or for Potens.

Posca, a, f. g. a hynde of saure or dyne made with vineger and water, or a hynde of wyne, mixed with water in the pycke, small wyne, householde wyne.

Poscinumius, a, um, that which requirerh money.

Posco, poposci, scere, to aske, to requyre, to prouoke, to assay, also to desyre, to clayme.

Poscunt pugnam, they offer to fyght or do battaile, they requyre battaile.

Pos

Poscere maioribus poculis, To quasse or drinke deepe one to an other.

Poscere aliquem clamore, to crie after one.

Vbi res poscit, where it is requisite.

Cum vltus poscit, when neede is, when it is expedient. Filiam tuam mihi vxorem posco, I require to haue your daughter to my wife.

Poscere ad raum, to aske, crie or call for a thyng till one be hoarse.

Poscere & flagitare. Honorem deum sibi poscere, to require to be honoured like a god.

Opem poscere, to desyre helpe or ayde.

Questionem poscere, to byd men aske what question they wyll of hym.

Poscere reum, to accuse one.

Veniam peccatis poscere, to desyre pardon for his offences.

Puerum aliquid poscere, to aske a thyng of a childe.

Veniam deos poscere, to desyre pardon of the goddes.

Acrem in praelia poscere, Turnum, to prouoke the valiant and fierce Turnus to fyght with him hande to hande.

Posidippus, a comicall poete.

Posidonia, a towne of Syrie called comonly Pualo.

Posidonius, the name of a philosopher, and certayne other learned men.

Positio, a settyng, a placeyng, the situation of a thyng: also an argument of theme to declaim on, a case amonge lawyers.

Positio vrbis, the situation of a citee.

Positius, a, um, positue, that is of it selfe, and not diuersed of an other.

Positor, oris, mas. gen. one that putteth or setteth in a place.

Positura, a, f. g. a placeyng or situation, a puttynge, a pointyng of sentences.

Syllaba longa est positura, the syllable is long by position.

Positus, a, um, put or set, laide asyde, loke Pono.

Positus, us, m. gene. a settyng or puttynge, a placeyng, a situation.

Possessio, onis, f. g. possession, the propriete of rightfull vse of a thyng, sometyme substance or goddes immouable possessed.

Possessio fiduciaria, a possession, whiche one geueth to an other vpon condition, that he shall redelure the same possession, vpon certayne thynges perfourmed, or when he were thereto required, of hym which gaue possession, it myght haue bene called a possession in vse, when freemen of trust were used in Englande.

Cedere possessione, To leaue the possession of a thyng to an other.

Depellere, deturbare, exturbare, dimouere, dechere, mouere, pellere aliquem possessione, or de possessione, to put one wrongefully from his lawfull possession.

Posseiniacula, la, f. g. a small possession.

Posseiusus, a, um, possessiue, that is possessed.

Posseiusus, a, um, possessiue, that is possessed.

Posseiusus, a, um, possessiue, that is possessed.

Possessor, oris, m. g. he that hath the possession, the owner, the possessor.

Possessus, a, um, possessed.

Possibilis, le, possible, that maie bee broughte to passe.

Possideo, possides, sedit, dero, to possesse, to haue in ones vse or possession.

Bona ex edicto possidere, when one hath goddes geuen hym by iudgement or decree.

Bona publice possidere, id est, in manum regiam ponere, to conspicate or take gooddes forsaited to the kynges vse.

Possidere palmam, to gette the price, to obtaine victorie.

Breui tempore totum hominem totamq; eius præcuram possederat, in a littell while, he had gotten into his handes, bothe the man and his office wholly, or he had in short tyme so gotten into the mans fauour, that he might orde bothe hym and his office euen as he listeth.

Regnum possidere, to haue a kyngedome, to be a kyng.

Forum armatis cateruis possidere, to bee in the common place with great routes or companies of harneyed men.

Possessum publice in bona alieuius mittere, to sende men to take ones goddes into the kynges handes, or to the vse of the people.

Possidere aliquod communiter cum aliquo, to possesse a thyng ioyntly with an other.

Possum, tui, posse, to maie or can.

Non potuit, quin suo sermone aliquem familiarium participauerit, he coulde not for beare, but with his talkynge he woulde nedes make some of his companions prauie, or of his countaile.

Huc fac ad me vt venias, siquid poteris, do what ye can to come hither to me, if it be possible, or if you can byng any thyng to passe, see that you come hither to me.

Potest plurimum apud Cæsarem, he maie do much, or is in godd eridence with Cæsar.

Potius vt definas? canst thou not let alone & Incende hominem amabo te quoad potest, on godd fellowshipp inente or prycke forwarde the man, as muche as is possible.

Assequi nullis literis possum vt exprimam, I can not expresse in writyng.

Quid ad morsus serpentum possit, what becometh or strength it hath against the bytynge or styngynge of serpentes.

Potest per se, he can of hym selfe.

Aliquid ad perniciem innocentis posse, that he can any thyng do or preuaile, to the confusion or vndoing of an innocent person.

Si poterit fieri, if it maie be, if it be possible.

Fieri potest vt fallar, I maie be deceiued.

Non possum quin exclamem, I can not chuse but crie out. Non potest, it is not possible.

Quam possum maxima voce, with as towde a voyce as I can.

Quam possunt mollissime, as softly as they can possible. Quoad possem, and vt possum, as farre as I can, or as well as I can.

Vt potest in tanta hominum perfidia, as well as it wyl be. &c.

Tantum autoritate potuit, he was of so great auctoritee, or he might dooe so muche with his auctoritee.

Poterat virumq; præclare, id est, virumq; fieri poterat.

Gratia & largitione plurimum potest apud Sequanos, he is in great auctoritee, or he can doe muche with the people Sequani, by meane of his liberalitee and great pleasures, that he hath shewed them.

Ingenio parum possum, my wit or inuention is but small.

Possunt oculi, potest caput, latera, pulmones possunt omnia, id est, Bene valent, they bee not sicke or diseased, they ake not, they be not opened.

Post, afterwarde, after, after that, behynde.

Post diem quartum quam ab vrbe discessimus, foure daies after we departed from the citie.

Post id locorum, for Postea. Post iudicia hinc constituta, id est, ex quo constituta sunt.

Post hominum memoria, sens men were men, sens the word beganne, that euer man could remembre, that euer man hearde of.

Post homines natos, idem. Optimus longe post homines natos, the beste that euer man could remembre sens the word beganne.

Vinxerat post terga manus, he has bounde his handes behynde his backe.

Repente post tergum equitatus cernitur, id est, a tergo, at their backes.

Ne nostros post tergum adoriretur, that they might not set vpon our men at their backes.

Post, aduerbially, afterwarde.

Veni post insaniens, he came after stamping and staryng, lyke a madde man.

Post aliquanto, a littell while after.

Post deinde, than afterwarde whā that is dooen.

Postea, afterwarde.

Quid tum postea, what than, what matter maketh that.

Postea aliquanto, a littell after.

Posteaquam, after that, whan that, as sone as.

Posteaquam mihi renuntiatum est, after that it was tolde me.

Postergo, onis, f. ge. a contemning or neglesctyng, a castyng behynde.

Posterior, oris, m. ge. he that casteth a thyng behynde his backe, he that regardeth or esteemeth not a thyng.

Postergo, aui, are, to leaue behynde, to caste backe, not to regarde, to regarde lesse, to esteeme lesse.

Posteri, orum, m. g. plura. they that do succede vs in bloude, as soonnes, theyr chyldren, and theyr succession.

Posterior, posterius, that cometh after, inferior, later, slower, byler.

Non posteriores eram, subaudiatur partes, I will not be the last, I will not be inferior to any, I wyl not be the worst.

Paulo atate posterior, a littell ponger, not alze thyng so ancient, somewhat after his time.

Omnia libertate posteriora ducere, to regarde nothyng, or passe vpon nothyng but libertee, to esteeme nothyng more than libertee, or so muche as libertee, or to sette more by libertee, than all other thynges.

Salus patriæ posterior illi suis commodis, he setteth lesse by the sautegarde of his countrey, than his owne aduantage: or he esteemeth more his own profite, than the weith of his countrey.

Posteriorē ducere, for Posthabere, to esteeme lesse, to set lesse by, not to regard so muche.

Posterior, an aduerb, afterwarde, hereafter, in tyme to come, an other daie.

Ne posterior in me culpam transferas, laie not afterwarde the faulte in me.

Si posterior fuisset, if he had ben in the tyme after. Sentiet posterior, he shall fele it or persceue it in tyme to come, or an other daie.

Posterior, aui, f. ge. the word to come, posterius, men that shall come after vs.

Postero, aui, are, to shewe it selfe inferior or worse then an other in any thyng.

Posterus, a, um, that cometh after, that foloweth after. Postera dies, the nexte daie after.

Posteri pedes, the hynder feete.

Posteriorum tempus, the tyme to come.

In posterum differre, to deferre or delaye tyll an other time. In posterum prospicere, to prouide for the tyme to come.

Hac in posterum gratior erunt, these thynges will be more pleasant hereafter, or in tyme to come.

Postero, postuli, postferre, to sette after or behynde, to set lesse by, to esteeme lesse.

Postfuit, it was lesse set by.

Postgeniti, posteritee, men that come after vs.

Posthabeo, posthabes, habui, habere, to putte backe or set lesse by, to esteeme lesse.

Seria ludo posthabere, to set more by plaie and pastyme, than by serious matters.

Posthac, aduerbium, from hens forth, hereafter, after this.

Posthinc, afterwarde, whan this is dooen.

Posthumia, a virginē vestall.

Posthumus, i, the sonne of Beneas, by Launina, called also Siluius: also the name of dyuers other men.

Posthumus, mi, m. gen. a chyld borne after the father is dead.

Posthumus, a, um, folowynge, or to come.

Postica, æ, f. g. and Posticum, ti, ne. g. a backe doze, a postene gate.

Postico recedere, to scale awaie priuilie.

Posticulum, li, n. g. a diminutiue of Posticum.

Posticus, a, um, that dwelleth on the backe syde of ones house. also all that is behynde vs.

Postica linea, a lyne that deuiderth the fieldes from the east to the west, and in diuision of landes, that which is towarde the east is called Antica, that is towarde the west Postica.

Iphewse that parte of the firmamente that is from the son towarde the southe, is called Antica, that is towarde the north Postica.

Postica fama, a moche or scozne behynde one.

Dextram Ancam, Sinistram Posticam dicimus.

Postidea, in Plautus, for Post id, or Postea.

Postilena, æ, f. g. a crupper.

postilla, for Postea, afterwarde.

postis, is, m. g. a poste.

Postliminium, ti, n. g. a lawe, by the whiche we receiue againe that which we lost in warres, or was aliened from vs by anye other vnlawfull means.

Postliminio recipere, to recouer againe the possession of a thyng that was aliened from vs.

Postliminio redire, is whan a man hapneth to go fro vs to our enemies, and after returneth againe: or whan any thyng that we haue lost or ben put from, cometh into our handes agayne.

Postmeridianus, a, um, that is done in the after noone.

Tempus postmeridianum, the after noone.

Postmitto, si, tere, to leaue behynde, to negleete, to set littell by, to contemne.

Postmodum, and Postmodo, afterwarde.

Postomnis, idis, f. g. a snaffle, or rather a barnasle set on the horse nose, to make hym gentill and stonde still, or a brake, wherewith an horse mouth is broken, and is made to beare his head gently.

Postpono, pōnis, pōui, ponere, to set behynde, to esteeme lesse, to omitte.

Postprincipium, the conclusion or ende of a thyng, said in the beginnyng or prohemie.

Postquam, afterwarde, after, after that, whan that, as soone as: also sens that.

Postquam a me abiit, after he departed from me, or sens that he departed from me.

Nunquam postquam sum natus, neuer sens I was borne.

Hic annus sextus est, postquam huic rei opes ram damus, this is the sixte yere that I haue laboured and studied about this matter. or it is thre yeres sens. &c.

Anno postquam primum consul fuerat, a yere after he had ben fyrst consull.

Vndecimo die postquam, &c. the xi. daie after. &c.

Postquam poeta sensit scripturam, &c. for so muche as, or because that, after Donatus.

Postremissimus, olde writers used for Postrem.

Postremo, finally, last of all, after all this, at the last.

Postremum, superlatiuum aduerbium, the laste type, last of all, neuer after.

Si id facis, hodie postremum me vides, if you dooe, you shall neuer see me alyue after this daie.

Postremus, a, um, the last, the vilest, the basest.

Postremi homines, moste vngacious and naughty persons.

Non in postremis esse, not to be one of the worst, or vilest sorte.

Postridianus, non dicitur.

Postridie, the daie folowynge the daie befoze expressed, the nexte daie after.

Postridie eius diei, the next day after that.

Postridie mundinas, the nexte daie after the fayre or market.

Postridie idus, the nexte daie after the ides.

Postridiequam tu es profectus, the nexte daie after ye wente forth.

Postriduo, plautus used for Postridie.

Postuenio, postuenis, postueni, to come after.

Postularia fulgura, lightnynges that signifie religion of sacrifices and bowes to be neglected.

Postulatio, onis, f. g. a request, a demaunde, a complaigne, a supplication made to a pynce.

Postulationibus vacare, to dispatche suiters, to here complaintes.

Postulationibus respondere, idem.

Postulationes decretæ Ioui, supplications appoynted to Jupiter.

Postulationes, supplications or billes of complaynte.

Postulatus, us, m. g. a request, a demaunde.

Postularius, a, um, that belongeth to requestes or demaundes.

Postulator, oris, m. g. he that requireth or demaundeth, a suiter, one that maketh a supplication or complaigne.

Postulatum, ti, n. g. a request, a demaunde. some tyme an accusation, a complaigne.

Intolerabilia postulara referre, to shewe that one requireth thynges intollerable, or that ought not to be graunted in any wyse.

Postulatus, a, um, required, demanded, accused.

Postulo, aui, are, to require, to demande a thyng, whiche is due to the after. also to accuse or sue one in the lawe, to complaigne on one: some tyme to desyre, to wyl, to court.

Abiitro & vide quid postulet, go thy waye in, and see what they lacke, what they woulde haue, or what they call or aske for.

Res, locus, persona, tempus, causa, ratio postulat.

Per oppressione hanc mihi eripere postulet, id est, velit, aut speret, that he shoulde court or desyre to take hym away from me wponge fully by violence.

Familiariter postulare, to require a thyng of a man familiarly.

Quam maxime abste oro atq; postulo, I desyre and praye you with all my beaie herte.

Me presentem aduocatu postulauerunt, they sequit requiréd me, there begynge present, to bee theye attourney.

Fidem publicam postulare, to require a saulfe conducte.

Impietatis reum postulat, he accuseth hym of unnaturalnesse toward his parentes, or countrey.

Reperundarum postulauit, he accused hym of wrongfull receyving of mens gooddes, or exaction.

Qui postulabatur iniuriarum, whiche was accused of trespass.

Papinius de ambitu est postulatus, Papinius was accused of vntlawfull suite to opteine his office.

Postulare quæstionem, to desyre that the parties might be strictly examined, properly by tortures or tourmentes.

Postulare reum, to accuse one.

Postulare ius, to make a reasonable requeste.

Postulat pro fratre Scipio, Scipio maketh intercession for his brother.

Postulatum est, they required.

Poramus, a towne of Attica.

Poratio, ónis, f. g. a drynkyng.

Poramentum, ii, n. g. idem.

Porátor, óris, m. g. a great drynker, a drunkerd.

Porátus, a, um, drynke.

Pore, for Potis.

Qua pote quisque, id est, quantum quisque potest.

Sive id non pote, sive pote, whether that bee possible or not, whether thou canste not doo it, or dooe it.

Potens, entis, adiectivum, that can dooe muche, that hath great power, myghte, puissance, as ble.

Potens, entis, partic. of possum, that can or may, that is able.

Potens maris, that is of great power on the sea, that hath dominion of the sea.

Potens corporis, able to rule his body, able to stande wyppght.

Imperij potens, that hath empyre or dominion.

Neq; pugna, neq; fuga satis potentes, they coude neyther well fyghe nor get flece.

Regni potens, id est matus regno, able or of age to take vpon hym the kyngedome.

Dum mei potens sum, whyle I am able to rule my selfe, whyle I am myne owne man.

Armis potens, puissant in armes.

Potentissimus odor, a very stronge sauour.

Potens, entis, substantivum, a great man, a man of great power.

Poténtia, æ, f. g. power, puissance, habilitie, great rule, force, might, auctorite, great might, myghte.

In magna potentia esse, to be in great auctoritate, to beare great rule.

Potentátus, us, m. g. idem.

Potenter, myghtly, puissantly, with great power, substantially.

Potentia, a citee in Italic called Sancta Maria de Lorretto.

Potentilla, læ, f. g. wyldetansie.

Poterium, teij, a græcis dicitur, quod nos poculum dicimus, a cuppe: also a certayne herbe full of prickes, called of Galene Beuras, because it helpeth the sinewes: it is also named Phrynon, because it is of great vertue against todes.

Potestum, for possum.

Poteste, for posse.

Sed nihil poteste, but that they coude doo no thinge.

Potestas, áris, f. g. power, auctorite, office, dominion, rule, also abilitie, facultie, leaue, counsaile and reason.

Potestatem sui facere, to suffer men to come to hym, or to speake with hym.

Potestatem gerere, to exercise an auctorite or office.

An erit hæc optio & potestas tua, shall it bee at thy choysce. &c.

Præsertim cum tota potestas huius rei tua sit, specially sens all the matter resteth in the, or is in thy power to bynge to passe.

Quæ tum erat potestas, accordyng as it was liell at that tyme, as it myghte haue been doo en than.

Vix adipiscendi potestas modo fuit, vneth or with great payne I myght come by it.

Potestas mittendi non fuit citius, I soude no sooner sende.

Quoties mihi certorum hominum potestas erit, quibus recte dem, non prætermittam. &c. whan or as often as I may haue sure men, to whom I may deliuer my letters, I will not forget to wyte to you.

Cum potestate proficisci in prouinciam, to go into the countrey appointed hym, haueing auctorite to rule there.

Potestate dare, to leat or suffer, to geue leaue.

Potestatem facere, idem.

In potestate alicuius esse, to be vnder an other mans rule or obedience, or to bee at his commaundement.

Peruenire in potestate alicuius, to be brought in subiection, to come vnder ones handes or subiection.

Ponere in potestate alicuius, to put hym to his merey.

Potestates, magistrates, rulers, men in auctorite, noble men of a realme.

Eligendi potestatem dare, to geue the choysce, to geue one leaue to choosce.

Exisse de potestate iratos dicimus, id est, de consilio, de mente, de ratione, to bee besyde theym selfe, not to bee able to rule theyr affectiõs.

Magna ex parte tua potestas erat, it was chieflye in your handes, whether it shoulde bee or no.

Habere summam potestatem in aliquo loco, to be chiefe ruler or gouernour in any place.

Habere potestatem alicuius, to haue one in subiection.

Habere aliquem in sua potestate, idem.

Vix necisq; potestatem habere in aliquem, to haue power of lyfe and death ouer one.

Pater late potestas eius, he is of great power, and dominion.

Permittere potestatem, to graunt libertie, to geue auctoritee.

Id oportet totum poni in potestate sapientis, that must be wholly put in the handes and power of a wyse man, or lesse and permitted wholly to his choysce, rule or orderyng.

Reddere potestatem, to make that one may doo a thyng agayne.

In suam potestatem redigere, to bynge vnder his subiection or obedience.

Cum potestate esse, looke Cum.

Seruandi mei summa potestas tibi datur, it listh becare muche in your handes to saue my lyfe.

Potestas fuit liberius viuendi, he myghte lyue somewhat more at his libertie.

Priuare aliquem potestate faciendi aliquid, to make that one can not doo a thyng.

Sua est in eorum potestate nostra salus, our lyfe or saulsegarde is in theyr handes.

Potestas tibi fuit, you myght.

Quasi non ea potestas sit tua, id est quasi non possis.

Suscipere in potestatem, and Dimittere ex potestate, contrary.

Tradere potestatem alicui, to geue one auctoritee.

Simul ac potestas data erit, incontinentie as soone as I can haue oportunitie and leysure: or as soone as I can conueniently.

Potesta, viced of Plautus for Potestas.

Potestur, for Potest, he maie.

Potidea, a citee of Thracie, called before Castandria.

Potidius, a mans name.

Potina, a citee of Boetia.

Potio, ónis, f. g. a drynke, a drynkyng, a potion.

Potio, au, are, to geue a medecine.

Potior, áris, ari, to haue a drynke or potion ministered to him. sometime to bee poisoned.

Potior, póteris, vel potiris, potius sum, potiri, to haue in possession, to opteyne, to wyne, to conquire, to atchieue, often tymes in the present tense for Fruor, to take pleasure of a thyng. Potior gouerneth euer more the gentiue plurall of this nowne Res, whan it is set alone without an adiectiue, and signifieth to beare a rule, to haue in our subiection to, haue in our dominion, or to gouerne the empyre: as, Augusto rerum potius, whan Augustus had ruled the empyre. It is also signified with other gentiue cases, besydes Rerum: as, Postquam rex hostium potius erat, after the kinge my master had subdued, conquered or gotten the vpper hande of his enemies. With other casual woordes Potior will haue an ablatiue case, and signifieth to opteyne or get a thyng by labour. Sometime it hath an accusatiue: as, Fortiter malum qui potitur &c. he that suffreth and manfully endureth the sorow. &c. Hic potitur gaudia, he hath all the ioye and pleasure.

Sine labore patria potitur gaudia, without payne or labour he hath all pleasures and commodities belongyng to a father, or that a father shulde haue.

Potiri vrbis, or vrbis, to wyne, or conquire the citee, or to be lord of it.

Potiri voluptatum, to lye in pleasure.

Potiri rerum, to be kyng or master of all.

Potiri regni, to wyne the countrey, to make hym selfe ruler of any countrey.

Potiri laborem, to endure payne.

Qui bello potiri sunt, whiche haue wonne it at the twooydes poynte.

Potiri hostium, to conquire his enemies. Sometime to be taken prisoner of his enemies.

Potius sum victoria, I had atchieued and wonne the victorie.

Miseriam omnem capio, hic potitur gaudia, I endure all the payne and trouble, and he hath all the ioye and pleasure.

Voto potiri, to opteine a desyre, to haue atchisured.

Potior, & hoc potius, better.

Potior sit, qui prior ad dandum est, leat hym be in better condition, or haue more aduantage, that fyste geueh.

Iudicabit nulla ad legendum his esse potiora, he shall iudge none more woorthye to bee redde, then they.

Nihil mihi potius fuit, q; vt Masinissam conuenirem, there was nothyng, that I more longed for, than to meete with Masinissa, the first thyng that I dyd, I went to see Masinissa, I desyred nothyng more than to see Masinissa.

Potissimus, a, um, the best of all other, the chiefe or the principall.

Potissimum opus, id est, præcipuum, the best of all other, the moste singular.

Quod est potissimum, that is the speciall and chiefe thyng of all.

Potus, & hoc pote, able, good.

Si tibi placere potus est, if it may please you.

Potus sum, I maie.

Neq; ferri potus est, neyther can any man as byde his vnreasonable faction.

Potissimum, or Potissime, most specially, chiefe ly, principally,

Nel-

Nescio quid expediam potissimum, I can not tell what is best to dooe first.
Ex consularibus te creauit potissimum, he created you before all other of the senators, as a person most meete.

Portua, a citie in Scotia, not farre from Chesbes.

Potius, rather.

Potius, was an auncient familie of kinrede amōge the olde latines, whom Hercules called to his banquet, after he had slaine Larcus: & they were afterwarde constituted the priestes of Hercules. reade Fenestella.

Potius, Hercules prieste.

Pōito, pōitas, aui, are, to use to drinke, to drinke often.

Poto, aui, are, to drinke: also to geue drinke to one.

Potare totos dies, to sit all day drynhyng, to be drunken.

Potum dare, to geue drinke to one.

Potor, ōris, m. g. a drunken knaue.

Potōrius, a, um, that belongeth to drynhyng.

Ampulla potoria, a drynhyng glasse.

Potorium, ri, n. g. a cuppe.

Potulentus, a, um, any thing that may be drunke, also halfe drunke.

Potus, a, um, that whiche hath drunke, and that whiche is drunke.

Potus, us, m. g. drynke: sometyme drynhyng.

P ANTE R.

PRACTICUS, a, um, actiue, practike, that consisteth in wooyhyng or doyng.

Practius, a citie of Pontie.

Præ, a prepositio, serving to the ablative case, signifieth before, in regarde, or in comparison, for: and is veray eloquently used, importunge a certayne respecte and comparison to an other thyng.

Præ amore, for loue, by reason of loue.

Modestior nunc quidem est de verbis, præ vtdudum fuit, he is moze softe or gentle of wordes, than he was wonte to be, or than he was late: or he is moze softe in his woordes than he was while ere.

Præ se ferre, to make semblaunt, to shewe by his countenance and visage his affection and phantasie in a thyng. also to confesse and acknowledge.

Sanus si sim, præ te medicum mihi expetam, if I be wel aduised, I will looke to haue a better physician than thou arte.

Nihil hercle hoc quidem præ vltia dicam, this is nothyng in regarde of that that I will tell the.

Præ formidine, for great feare that he had.

Præ gaudio, for ioye.

Præ manu, & præ manibus, before hande.

Præ se armentum agens, drynge the herte of beastes before hym.

I præ, sequar, go before, I will follow.

Sed præ nobis beatus, but in respecte of comfort of vs, euen in heauen, or moze happye and fortunat than we.

Ego illum contempsi præ me, I thoughte myselfe muche better, and muche moze honest man than he.

Qui omnia sibi post putarit esse præ meo commodo, whiche regarded set by nothyng so muche, as my commoditee and profite.

Præ tuis facultatibus maxima putentur, id est, si cum tuis facultatibus conferantur.

Præ his, quæ à te. &c. in comparison of those thynges, whiche. &c.

Non possum præ lachrymis, I can not for weepng.

Fiduciam præ se ferat orator, leat an oratore shewe in his countenance a sure confidence and trust that he hath in his matter.

Res omnes relictas habeo, præ quod tu velis, I late asyde all thynges, to do that you woulde haue me dooe.

Vide, quoniam sis præ studio, see how vnreasonable be are for affection.

Sed hoc etiam pulchrum, præ quod vbi sumptus petunt, but euen this is a toly or goodly thing, in comparisō of whan they requyre cost, charge, or expence of money.

Parua res est voluptatum in vita, præ quam quod molestum est, there is small pleasure in this lyfe, in comparison of trouble and cares that be in the same.

Parum etiam, præ vt futurum est, Prædicas, thou saiest or speakest euen veray littell, or in a maner nothyng, in comparison of that shall be in deede.

Præcūsus, a, um, veray sharpe.

Præaltus, a, um, veray deepe, veray hygh.

Præbeo, bui, bère, to geue, to shewe.

Præbere aures, to hearken.

Præbere aures conuictis, to suffre patiently rebukes.

Seruices præbere, to offer his head to be strept ken of.

Præbet errorem, it geueth occasion of error.

Præbere indignationem, to be cause of indignation.

Iusta præbere, to kepe tache, to geue that is due.

Non possum satis narrare, quos ludos præbueris intus, I can not well tell, howe many moches thou hast gotten amonge them, or how they laugh at the within in the house: or I can not well expresse, what sporte and laughyngs we haue had at the within.

Os præbere, to take blowes, or suffer to be bobbed.

Os præbere ad malè audiendum, to suffer one to speake ill to his face, to be in pience when he is all spoken of,

Sue

Strenuum hominem præbuit, he played the man, he shewed hym selfe valiaunt, or dydde valiantly.

Se æquum præbere, to be indifferent, to doe iustice without rigour.

Se æquabilem præbere, to be alwaie of one sort, to kepe alwaie one faction.

Se attentum auditorem præbere, to be a diligent hearer.

Quoquomodo se in ea questione præbebat, &c. howe so euer he behaued hym selfe in that matter. &c.

Se credulum præbere, to geue haste credence, to beleue a thyng quickly.

Se docilem præbere, to be easily taught.

Se alicui facilem præbere, to graunt gently to ones desyre.

Se facilem præbere in hominibus audiendis, adiuuandisque, to bee willing and gentill to heare men, and to be spoken with all.

Gladu speciem præbet, it is lyke in facion to a sword.

Erroris speciem præbere, to geue occasion of error.

Speciem triumpho præbere, to sette forth the triumph to the best shewe.

Tyrannum præbere, to behaue hym lyke a tyranner, to plaie the tyranne.

Vim glutini præbet, it is as good as glewe, or it is of the same force that glewe is.

Baculorum vsum senectuti præbet, it serueth olde men in the sterbe of a staffe.

Præbere de manucubum, to frede, to put meate in ones mouth with his hande.

Pro ponibus præbere accessum possunt, men may entre of go in vpon them euen as it were vpon bridges.

Præbere auxilium, to ayde.

Præbere curam, to make solicitous and careful.

Peccandi locum præbet, it geueth occasion to offende or doe amisse.

Iustitandum præbuit, he swoze to hym.

Metum præbere, to cause to feare.

Lumen præbere dicitur fenestra, to geue light.

Operam præbere reipublicæ, to helpe or serue the common weale.

Miraculum præbere, to make men woonder.

Vt modeste orationem præbuit, howe modestly or temperately he spake.

Duriorem se præbere, to shewe hym selfe rigorous and harde.

Nimium se exorabilem præbere, to bee to sone intreated, to shewe hym selfe to gentill.

Præbere sonitum, to make a noyse.

Præbere latum spectaculum, to set forth a ioyous and pleasaunt sight.

Sponsalia alicui præbere, to affiance or betrooth, to make a solemne feaste at ones betroothyng.

Terga præbere, to renne awaye.

Se facilem præbere dicitur res aliqua, to be easy.

Præbenda, ōrum, neu. gen. plur. all thinges necessarye prouided for magistrates, or ambassadours compng into any countreie: after some it is woode and salte onely: and they whose office is to make the said prouision, are called Párochi, or Copiarj.

Præbia, ōrum, n. g. plur. thynges geuen to sicke men, medicines.

Præbitere, to passe by or passe forth in iourney. sometyme Peire, to leste, to cast awaye.

Præbitor, ōris, ma. gene. a geuer, an almoner, a purficer.

Præbitus, a, um, geuen.

Præcalus, a, um, balde before.

Præcantio, ōnis, fem. g. a syngng before, a charmpng, an inchaunting.

Præcantrix, tris, f. ge. an inchantresse, a sorceresse.

Præcānus, a, um, that hath a hoze head before he be aged.

Præcārus, a, um, veray deere.

Præcauo, præcaues, cāui, uere, to prouide that a thyng happen not, to beware of take hede before hande.

Vt ab insidiis præcaueret, that he shoulde take hede, that he fell not in an ambushment ere he were ware, to take hede of deceites, to beware that no treason be wrought.

Præcautus, a, um, forscen, well taken hede of.

Sed præcauto opus est, but we muste take good hede.

Præcautor, ōris, m. g. he that taketh good hede, he that prouideth for a thyng aforehande.

Præcedo, celsi, dere, to go before, by translation, to be moze excellent, to passe, to excell.

Præcedere auctoritate, sapore, suauitate & similibus.

Præceler, celeris, re, veray swifte, exceedingly swifte, veray sodaine or quicke.

Præcelero, aui, are, to renne before.

Præcello, lui, lere, to excell, to passe.

Præcellere alicui, pro impetare & dominari, to be master or ruler.

Præcellens, entis, ōm. gen. excellng, passng, muche better then other.

Præsentio, ōnis, f. g. that is songen or plaid at the beginning of a song or balade, voluntarie.

Præcentor, tōris, m. ge. he that first syngeth: it may be taken for the chaunter in a quire.

Præceps, cipitis, ōm. g. headlong, veray sodaine, veray hasty, exceedingly swifte, without consyderation, on head, veray raffe.

Præceps homo, he that is to hasty in his busynesse, and doeth thynges vnadvisedly.

Præceps ingenio in iram, hote or hasty, greatly inclined to anger.

Præceps in auaritiā & crudelitatem animus, the mynde greatly inclined to couctousnesse and crueltie.

Quo iure, quaque iniuria, præcipitem me in pistrin pistrinum dabit, be it right, be it wrong, he will thrust me headlong into the mill house to grinde.

Præcipitem dare, to thrust one out headlong.
Præcipitem abire, to come to miserie, to come to extreme pouertie and needynesse.

Agunt cum præcipitem pœnæ ciuium Roma no um, quos securi percussit, the cruell punishment of the Romans, whom he hath beheaded, causeth hym to fall to hastily, or byngeth hym headlong to confusion, ruine, or mischiefe.

Præcipitem ferri, to renne down, or fall down from a high place, to renne headlong or with great violence.

Præceps in occasum sol, the sunne goynge downe.

In præcipiti esse, to be in great danger.

Præcipitem trahere, to pull hym downe from a high place, or astate, to pull downe with it violently.

In præceps, for Deorsum, downwarde with a great fall or discent, also sodenlye, hastily.
Bis pater in præceps tantum, it is twice or two tymes so drepe.

Præceps animi, rashe and hasty in doyng a thyng, he that doeth a thyng without consideration and aduysment.

Præceps senectus, olde age almoste at the pitees bynke.

In præcipiti est ægrotus, the sicke man is in great peryll and daunger.

Præcipiti iam die, when it was toward night, when the sonne wente downewarde.

Præcipes fossæ, deepe ditches.

Præceps periculum est, the danger is very perillous.

Præceps in terram datus, fallng down headlong to the grounde.

Deicere præcipitem, to caste downe headlong.

Fertur præceps in hostem, he renneth against his enemies with great violence.

Præceps amentia ferebare, thou wast in suche a furie or madnesse, that thou passedst not what thou didst.

In præcipitem locum se committere, to venture hym selfe in a very daungerous place to fall in.

Præceptio, ônis, f. g. idem quod Præceptum.

Præceptor, ônis, m. gen. a maister, a teacher, an instructour.

Præcatrix, the semine.

Præceptum, ti. n. gen. a præcept, a rule geuen, a commandement, an admonition, a good lesson or instruction.

Præcepta virtutis, godd lessons of vertue.

Præcepta medicorum, the counsailes of physitions.

Monita & præcepta.

Dare præcepta, to geue instructions.

Facere alicuius præcepta, for facere,

Præceptus, a, um, taken up before, fasted before.
Præcepto, aui, are, to geue commandement or charge often.

Præcerpo, cerpsi, cerpere, to take, to gather or plucke before an other.

Non præcerpo fructum officij tui, I doe not pteuent you, and take from you the benefite of your duetie and office.

Præcertatio, ônis, f. g. a contendng before.

Præcidæus, a, um, that whiche is byt hym, that is cutte before.

Præcidanea porca, a swyne whiche the papynims dyd sacrifice, before they dyd cut downe their cozne.

Præcido, cidi, dère, to note or marke a thyng, as a carpenter doeth rymber or boundes with a strike of chalte line, before he saweth it of, or to cut a lytell before, as dyapers doe in sellngge their clothe, after they haue measured it, to rent out the residue: by translation to tell of thyng precisely, what matter one will speake of or against, to strike, to cut of choppe of, to beate, to denie stiffely, to take awaye cleane.
Plane sine vlla exceptione præcidit, truly he stiffely denyed it without exception.

Præcidere spem, to put out of all hope.

Præcidere causam belli, to pteuent and take awaye cleane the occasion of warre.

Dubitacionem præcidere, to take awaye all doubt.

Præcinctus, a, um, compassed or gyrded in before.

Præcingo, cingi, cingere, to gyrd about, to edd passe of inclose in before.

Præcino, ciniui, nere, to begynne the songe, to syng before or first, also to tell a thyng before it happeneth.

Præcipio, præcipis, cépi, cipere, to pteuent or take first, to take before an other, to geue commandement or charge, to instructe, to teache, to geue instruction or counsaile, to shewe how, to aduertise, to commaunde, to forsee, to consere in the mynde before.

Præcipere animo, and animis, To conceyue before in the mynde.

Præcipere cogitatione futura, to forsee in his mynde and imagination, what will come of chaunce hereafter.

Spe iam præcipit hostem, he imagineth in his mynde all redy, that his enemy is come.

Hic artem nandi præcipit, this man teacheth to swimme, or sheweth the facion howe to swimme.

Si lac præcepit æstus, If the heate of the sonne doeth drye up the milke afore hande.

Præcipiunt medici, the physitions doe counsaile, entoygne, or charge.

Præcipitur, the impersonall.

Præcipitans, autus, castng or fallng downe headlong.

Amnis præcipitans, a river that renneth down violently from any high place.

Præcipitante republica, when the common weale decayed or fell in ruine.

Præcipitatio, æ, f. g. tumblng or fallng downe from any high place.

Præcipitatio, ônis, f. g. a castng downe headlong, also ouermuche rashnesse, and vnaduisednesse in doyng a thyng.

Præcipitatus, a, um, decayed, fallen in ruine, cast downe from high places.

Præcipitata ætas, olde age, when it draweth nere his ende.

Præcipitante, headlong, vnaduisedly, without consideration, rashly.

Præcipitium, ti, neu. ge. a downe right place or steepe, daungerous to bee gone on, a steepe downe pitche of fall.

Præcipito, aui, are, to caste, hurle, byngge, or shoue downe headlong: sometyme to fall downe headlong, to renne downe violently, to drawe toward the ende, to do vnaduisedly and rashly, to dooe to hastily.

Præcipitare palmitem, flagellum, & huiusmodi, id est, deorsum flectere, to bow downe warde.

Quæ pars palmitis præcipitata est, fructu in duntur, that parte of the vinebranche, that hangeth or is bowed downewarde, beareth muche fruite.

Ex altissimo dignitatis gradu præcipitati, to be brought or cast downe, from high auctoritee and dignitee.

Præcipitare ad mortem, id est, præcipitem agere, to byng to death sodainely.

In insidias præcipitatus, brought into the handes of his enemies ere he was ware, or falling into the ambushment ere he was ware.

Præcipitathymus, id est, vergit ad finem, winstet draweth toward the ende.

Præcipitar Nilus, the ryuer Nilus falleth steepe downe with great swiftnesse and violence.

Præcipitare moras, id est, festinanter abijcere, to cast awaye all delaie, to make hast.

Præcipitare se in flumen, to leape downe in to the ryuer.

Priscosq; referre labores præcipitat, id est, festinat.

Præcipue, chiefly, specially, principally.

Præcipue sum ab illo adiutus, I was holpe of hym chiefly, or more than of any other.

Præcipuus, a, um, chiefe, speciall, principall, for vrayne, singular, also peculiar, propre, particular, not common to other.

Commune & præcipuum, contrarie, propre or peculiar to one, and common to other.

Negat præcipuum mihi incommodum impendere, you saye, that I shall haue no peculiar incommoditee or displeasure: or that I shall haue no hurte, but that other shall haue it as well as I.

Præcipua remedia, conerayne and excellent medecines.

Idem ius cum ceteris, & præcipuū, contrarie.

Contra morbus præcipuū remedium, a veray holisme or singular remedy against bypnges.

Præcise, precisely, determinately, cuttedly, shortly, hardely, with to muche breuitie.

Præcise dicere, to speake a thyng brefely, so that somewhat is to be vnderstande.

Præcise negare, to denie stiffely.

Præcisum, harde, intractable, cutted, very short.

Qui præcisis conclusionibus obscuri, Salustium atq; Thucididem superant, they whiche be so obscure in theyr short and cutted sentences, that they passe both Salust and Thucidides.

Præcisus, a, um, cutte of, cutte shortly, taken as way cleane.

Præcisa narracio, a brefe narration.

Præciso omni verborum ornatu, taking away all garnishng of wordes cleane.

Præcisum, si, a parte of the intrayles.

Præcisus, one abused contrary to nature.

Præcisio, ônis, f. g. a breuitee in writngge or speakngge, whan somewhat is lesse to bee vnderstande.

Præclamatôres, trices, that wente before Jupiters pyeste, named flamen Dialis, calling to men, that they shoulde reasse from theyr workes: because it was not lesfull for him to see any man working.

Præclamo, aui, are, to crie before.

Præclare, very excellently, very nobly, very well.

Præclare nobiscum actum erit, it shall bee right well with vs, or we shall bee right well delte withall.

Dicitur præclare à sapientibus, it is wonderfully well said of the wyse men.

Præclare dantur, they be very good to be geuen in medicine.

Præclare medetur, it healeth or cureth excellently well: it is very medicinable or holisome.

Præclare facere, to do right nobly, to doe very well.

Præclare gessit suum negotium, he atchieued his matter right honourably: or he did right well.

Præclare memini, I remembze as well as can bee: or I remembze right well.

Præclare, is oftentimes used in approungge, allowngge or consentngge, as one shulde saye, wonderfully well done or said of you. also in mortgage, shortly well said.

Præclârus, a, um, veray clere & bygght, also very noble: sometyme very excellent, right god.

Optima & præclara præda, a rich and wonderful good bootie.

O præclaram defensionem, o goodly defence or excuse.

Præclara indole iuuenis, a yonge man of excellent towardnesse.

Præclâuum, ui, n. g. a part of a senators garment, called Lacus clâuus.

Præcludo, cludi, cludere, to shutte or stoppe by, that one can not entre or passe.
Iter præcludere, to stoppe ones iourney, that he can not passe.
Præclusus, a, um, shutte, stopped before, that one can not passe.
Præco, cōis, m. g. a common crier, a publisher of thynges, he that in portecale notificth the gooddes, that are to be solde, and setteth the price on them: it may be used for a preacher.
Præco ferialis, the bell man, whiche in some town goeth about, declaring who is late dead.
Sub præcone subicere, to committe to the crier, to be published and solde.
Per præconem vendere aliquid, to sell a thing by the common crier or officer.
Voci præconis bona ciuium subicere, To cause the ciuils gooddes to be solde by the crier or common officer.
Præco virtutum alicuius, he that with all his endeour publisheth or setteth forth a mans vertue and noblesse.
Præcognitus, a, um, known before.
Præcognosco, noui, noscere, to knowe before, seidome used.
Præcolo, cōlui, cōlere, to trymme, to decke before, to prepare.
Præcompōitus, a, um, facioned before, prepared.
Præconceptus, a, um, conceived or taken in before.
Præcōnium, nij, n. ge. a solemne crite, the criers office, publishing of a thyng to be solde. somes tyme it signifieth pypse, glorie, renouwe.
Facere præcōnium, to be a common crier, to make cries, to publish proclamacions, or other thynges, to dooe the criers office in common sale of thynges.
Tibi præcōnium deferam, I wyl make you crier or publisher of the matter, or I wyl geue you the charge to sell it.
Tribuere alicui præcōnium, To geue one the office to pypse or laude.
Præconsumo, consumpsi, sumere, to consume, waste, or spende before. somes tyme to consume onely.
Præcontrasto, aui, are, to handle before, somes tyme to view or consider before.
Præcoquo, coxi, cōquere, to make rype before, to sicke or boyle.
Præcoquor, queris, qui, to be soone rype.
Præcoquus, a, um, idem quod præcox.
Præcōrdia, ōrum, n. ge. plu. the shyne, whiche diuideth the ouer parte of the body from the nether. it is also taken for the place vnder the ribbes: somes tyme all the nubles, as the herte, the spleene, the lunges, the liuer, the intrailles.
Aperit præcordia, he telleth the secrettes of his herte.
Præcorrumpto, rupi, rumpere, to corrupt before.

Præcox, cōcis, or after some, cōquis, om. gen. sene rype, or tynely ripe, ripe before the tyme.
Præcoquem maturitatem contrahere, to waxe rype before the tyme.
Udi pueros præcoci sapientia, soone rype, soone rotten: a proverbe noting to muche wit in a child for his age.
Præcox ingenium, a wit to wise for his age.
Præcox fuga, a sleping before one hath neede.
Præcrassus, a, um, very grosse, very thicke.
Præcurro, curri, currere, to renne before, to ouertenne, to go before quickly, to go before as a signe of token before any thyng that foloweth. also to preuent, to passe, to excell.
Pateris vno te præcurri exemplo, suffice one example to be mencioned before you.
Appetius ne præcurant rationem, lette not the sensuall appetites renne before reason, or ouertenne reason.
Quarum maturitas præcurrat hyemem, whiche be rype before wynter.
Horum vtrique socratem atate præcurrit, bothe these were before Socrates tyme.
Vita præcurrit alicui, to haue a better life, to haue a more happy life.
Præcurrere alicui, to ouertenne, to preuent, to passe.
Qui mihi studio præcurritis, whiche be more ardent and desirous then I.
Præcurrere aduentum alicuius in aliquem locum, to preuent ones coming to any place, to come thither before hym.
Vobis illum tanto minorem præcurrere, viz honestum est, it is scant for your honestie, that he begyn to muche yonger, shoulde passe or excell you.
Præcursor, ōis, f. g. and Præcursor, us, m. ge. a rennyng before. somes tyme a cause of matter that goeth before.
Præcursor, ōis, m. g. one that renneth or goeth before, afore messenger, afore rider or goer.
Præda, æ, f. g. a pzaie, a thyng gotten or taken in the warres, a bootie.
Accingere se præda, to prepare them, selues diligently to take their pzaie or bootie.
Præda esse, to be a pzaie or bootie.
Prædabundus, a, um, goyng on forageyng in the tyme of warre, that robbeth or spoyleth.
Prædaceus, a, um, of or belongyng to a pzaie or bootie.
Prædamno, aui, are, to condemne or geue iudgement on one before.
Prædamnata spe dimicandi, id est, præscila.
Prædāto, ōis, f. g. a robberyng, a forageyng, a scalpyng awaie of meate.
Prædātus, a, um, of a pzaie or bootie.
Pecunia prædātia, or Prædacea, money that the bootie is solde for.
Prædator, ōis, masc. gene. a seker for a pzaie, a robber, one that goeth about to geite a bootie or pzaie.

Præ

Prædatrix, trices, f. g. the feminine.
Prædatorius, a, um, that belongeth to robberyng or spoyleyng.
Naues prædatoriæ, pirates shippes, that robbe and roue on the sea.
Prædellatio, aui, are, to make wery of seynt desfoze, to bryake, to weaken afore.
Incurtus prædellatio aquarum, it breaketh the course of violence of the water.
Prædensus, a, um, made very thicke.
Prædensus, a, um, very thicke.
Prædes, vide Præs.
Prædestinatio, ōis, f. g. prædestinacion.
Prædestino, aui, are, to purpose before, to pzedestinate, to ordeyne or appointe before what shall come of one.
Prædicator, ōis, m. ge. a man of lawe expert in actions reall, or matters concernyng landes.
Prædicatorius, a, um, ptepreyng to landes.
Prædātus, a, um, that hath good landes or manours.
Prædicabilis, le, to be tolde or spoken of abrode.
Prædicatio, ōis, f. g. a publishyng or optn declaration, a common talke, or an open talke.
Prædicator, ōis, masc. gen. a tellar or publisher abrode.
Prædicatus, a, um, published or tolde abrode.
Prædico, aui, are, to publishe, to tell a thyng openly, to tell abrode, to make good repute, to talke, to tell out, to praise.
Prædicas notis, thou telleste to them that knowe it already.
Siquidem hæc vera prædicat, if it be true that this woman saith.
Prædicat præco, dum aliquid promulgat.
Taceam, an prædicem: Quid I tell it, or hold my peace and saie nothyng.
Prædico, dixi, dicere, to tell before.
Hoc primum tibi prædico, I tell the this first and foremost.
Prædictio, ōis, f. gen. a prophesie in tellyng of thynges to come.
Prædictum, ti, neu. gene. a prophesie, a thyng to be before.
Prædicta cœna hora, an houre appoynted to go to supper.
Prædicto, absolutly for Cum prædictum esset.
Prædiolum, li, n. g. a lytell manour.
Prædisco, didici, discere, to vnderstand before, to lerne or cunne before.
Præditus, a, um, that hath abourned.
Præditus morore, repleant with heauynesse, heauy or sadde.
Præditus lachrymis, washed with teares, or full of teares, wepyng, or that wepeth.
Præditus autoritate, in authoritee.
Præditus spe optima, that hath a very good hope.
Præditus sum humanitate, virtute, diuinitis, dignitate, viribus, id est, habeo.
Quid faceret illa atate præditus: What

Quid he dme begyn of that age?
Amentia præditus, madde, besyde hym selfe, in a furie, out of his wittes.
Sensibus præditus, that hath sense or feelyng.
Audacia præditus, presumptuous, wyl, hardy.
Summo ingenio præditus, that hath an excellant good witte.
Paruis opibus ac facultatibus præditus, poore and of small substance.
Præditus crudelitate, cruell.
Præditus leuitate, lyght, vnconstant.
Prædiues, diuinus, om. gene. very rych, very abundant.
Prædiuinatio, ōis, f. g. a diuination or gessyng of thynges to come.
Prædiuino, aui, are, to diuine a thyng before it chaunce.
Prædiuinus, a, um, very diuine and godly.
Prædium, dñ, n. gene. a manour, a place in the countrey haupng ground about it, a ferme.
Optimo iure prædia, fermes or manours, whiche be cleare discharged f. om all taskes, customes, quiterentes, and other paymentes.
Prædia bona, lone Præs.
Prædomo, domui, are, to tame or quiete before, to mitigate or allwaie before.
Prædonulus, li, m. g. a lytell robber.
Prædo, ōis, m. g. a robber, a spoylar, a pillar, a thefe, he that entreth on a mannes gooddes or heritage, haupng no laifull clayme or title to it.
Prædor, āis, āri, to robbe a countreie, or to take pzaies.
Præduco, duxi, ducere, to leade before.
Præducere fossam homini obfesso, to caste a ditch about one that is besieged.
Vallum præducere, to make a trenche.
Prædulcis, ce, very swete, very pleasant.
Præduro, aui, are, to make very harde.
Prædurus, a, um, very harde.
Prædura ætas, and tenera, contrarie.
Præeo, iui, ire, to go before, somes tyme to reade, speake, or saie before.
Præi verbis quod vis, tell me before what you wolde haue me saie or dooe.
Præire verba, to speake or pronounce certain woordes, that an other must saie after.
Præire obsecrationem, to pronounce or saie before, a pzaier, or petition, that an other must saie after.
Præire voce, to speake before, to tell what one shoulde saie.
Præire de scripto, to reade vpon a paper, that one must saie and pronounce after hym.
Præire in amentia, to minisre or geue an o. he.
Præire alicui de re aliqua, to tell before what one shoulde doe in any thyng.
Præcunt discipulis præceptores, they reade before or tell them before, what they shoulde doe in euery thyng.
Præiens, præeuntis, goyng before.
Præeunte natura, nature hir selfe leadyng or goyng goyng before vs.

Præfacilis, le, very easy.
Præfacio, præ facis, feci, facere, to set moze by, after Calpurne: the place of Quinctilian hath nowwe Præfari.
Præfari, vel re, fatus sum, fari, to speake of safe before.
Præfari honorem, to speake woordes of reverence before.
Præfari honorem auribus, to saie, sayng your reverence.
Præfari diuos, to praye to god before one ensterrysse any thyng.
Præfari veniam, to aske licence afoze.
Præfari pacem, to shew that he cometh in peace fible wise.
Præfari carmen, to speake of pronounce woordes before, that other muste saie after.
Præfari aliquem in scribendo opere, to speake reverendely of a man in the begynnyng of his booke of worke that he maketh.
Præfatio, ónis, f. g. a p̄face, a thyng spoken of wryten before.
Præfectura, re, f. ge. a capitayne shipp, a lieutenant shipp, an autoquitee or rule.
Præfectura, may be called thirce wythes: among the Romanes it signified the p̄vinces, where the saied officers had iurisdiction.
Præfectórius, a, um, that belongeth to a capitaine or lieutenant.
Præfectórius vir, he that hath bene greāt master of the emperours palace.
Præfectus, ti, m. g. a ruler, a capitayne, a lieutenant, an officer appointed to doe a thyng, or that hath the overseygh and charge of a thyng.
Præfectus moribus, he that hath the charge to see ill maners reformed and amended.
Præfectus annonæ, he that hath the charge to provide corne and vitayle.
Præfectus pratorio, was with the emperour the p̄ncipall officer in his court: as nowe in Fraunce the great maister, and was capitayne of the souldiours called Prætoriani, whiche were as a garde about the emperours palace and person.
Præfectus urbis, was a great officer in Rome, to whom it belonged, to see that the high waies to the citee were well maintained, that the waters were kepte cleane, that the channell of the river of Tiberis were scoured and kepte from shelues, also to deliuer grain out of the common grainiers, and diuide it among the people. he was also called Præfectus latinarum, as Gellius writeth.
Præfecti prouinciarum, lieutenantes and deputies of p̄vinces: it may be taken among vs for suche as haue lyke iurisdiction, as the chamsberlaine of Northwales, and the high stewards of Southwales were wont to haue, that is to saie, peculiar authoritee to determine matters within the compass of their office.

Præfecti ararii, were they, which had the charge of keepyn the common treasure.
Præfectus fisci, was he, whiche kepte the emperours treasure.
Præfectus scriniorum, was a lyke officer, as the maister of the rolles is now, and was also called Præfectus libellorum, in the which office was Papinianus the great lawier, in the tyme of Seuerus the emperour.
Præfero, præ tuli, ferre, to beare before, to esteeme moze, to p̄ferre. Sometime for Præ se ferre.
Præferi cautas manus, he gropeth with his handes before hym, as men doe in the darke.
Præferre facem alicui, to carie a tozche before one.
Præferre alicui facem ad libidinem, to aide of conducte.
Præferitur opinio, id est, iactatur.
Qui mex menti lumina prætulit, whiche haue inspired me.
Salutem reipublicæ suis cōmodis præferre, to esteeme the safetie of the common wealthe moze then their owne p̄osites.
Glans Syriaca præferitur bonitate olei, it is moze esteemed for the good oyle that cometh of it.
Multi prætulerunt carere poematibus, many haue thought it better to lacke the woordes of poesies.
Qui sapientiæ studium habitu corporis præferunt, id est, præ se ferunt, whiche shewe themselves to be philosophers by their apparell of faction and state of their body and countenance.
Vultus tuus nescio quod ingens malum præfert, thy visage of countenance sheweth some great euell what so euer it be.
Præfericulum, li, n. g. a great bason, which was caried before hym that did sacrifice.
Præferox, rōcis, om. g. very fierie or hasty.
Præferratus, a, um, that is pointed of shodde with iron, as a speare or other like.
Pilum præferratum, a pestill, that hath iron at the one ende.
Præferratus, is sometime used for bounde in chaynes.
Præferuidus, a, um, very hotte.
Præfestinatum, and Præfestine, to hastily, with to muche haaste.
Præfestinatus, a, um, done to hastily, or to soone.
Præfestino, aui, are, to make to muche haaste, to make haaste before the tyme.
Præfica, re, f. gen. a woman, whiche is hyed to lament at the buryng of men or women, and to praye their ates.
Præficio, præ facis, feci, ficere, to put in auctoritee, or to geue rule, to ordeyne one a capitayne, ruler, lieutenant, or deputie, to make overseer of chiefe doore.
Cheriam ei rei præfecimus, we made Cheria capitayne, overseer, or doer of the matter: and haung haung respect to that place of Cerence, we made Cheria our stewarde and maister of p̄osider of the feast.

Imperatorem alicui bello præficere, To appoint one to be chiefe capitaine in any warre.
Præfido, fidi, fidere, to truste very muche, to haue a great confidence, to put to muche trust in a thyng.
Præfigo, fixi, figere, to fasten or stycke before, to shut vp.
Capistris ora præfigere, to mounill, to tie vp the mouthes.
Præfixus, a, um, fastened or set on the fore parte of a thyng.
Præfixa ferra iaculo, darts that be headed.
Præfixa ferra cornua, horynes tyyed with iron.
Præfinio, præ finis, niui, nire, to determine before, to assigne or appoint what and how muche shall be done.
Præfinire diem, to appointe a daie.
Præfinito, the aduerbe, accordyng as it was appointed.
Præfinito loqui, to speake at the tyme appointed: or to speake no moze then an other dooeth bydder hym.
Præfinitus, a, um, appointed afoze, determined.
Præfiores, flores, flōui, florere, to blossome before the tyme.
Præfioro, aui, are, to take the firste floure, also to take the summe parte of the p̄ofite of fruite before an other.
Præfluo, fluxi, ere, to flowe or renne before a place.
Præfoco, aui, are, to strangle or choke.
Præfodio, præ fodis, fōdi, fodere, to digge, to digge depe, to digge before.
Præfodere portas, to digge before the gates.
Præfocundus, a, um, verie fruitefull or plentifull, ranche.
Præfor, non dicimus, loke Præfari.
Præformido, aui, are, to be aferde ere the stroke come.
Præformo, aui, are, to make, facion, or fourme a thyng before, to shewe the facion of a thyng to one before.
Præfractē, obstinately, stubburnely.
Præfractus, a, um, harde or vnflexible, that wyll rather bryake then bowe, stubburne, obstinate. also that whiche was before broken.
Præfrigidus, a, um, verie colde.
Præfringo, fregi, gere, to bryake, to bryake of, to bryake in pieces, to bryake before.
Præfulcio, fulsi, cire, to fortifie, to make strong, to fence, to stay or vnderfet.
Præfulgeo, fulsi, gere, to shine much, to shine to muche, to be to bright.
Præfulguro, aui, are, to lighten before, to make a glistering before.
Præfurnium, nij, neu, ge. the mouth of an oven or fornaise.

Præglidus, a, um, exceedyng colde.
Prægermino, aui, are, to bud before the tyme.
Prægestio, fire, to reioyce, to leape for ioye, to haue a very great desire of appetite.
Prægigno, nui, gignere, to begyn, to byng in firste, to beget before.
Nolebam ex me morem prægigni malum, I wold not that an yll custome should be brought up by me, or I woulde not be the first authour of an yll custome.
Prægnans, anus, om. g. a woman with childe, it is the same of any beast, great with childe, or with yonge.
Prægnans sus, a sowe with farrowe.
Canis prægnans, a bitch with whelpes.
Prægnans arbor, a tree haung good sap or iuice, before it bud or blossome.
Prægnatio, ónis, f. g. a begyn great with childe or with yonge.
Prægrandis, de, very great, exceedyng great.
Prægrauatio, ónis, f. g. a great griefe.
Prægrauis, ue, very greuous or heauy.
Prægrauo, aui, are, to make verie heauy, to make moze heauy, or to poise downe one syde moze then an other.
Corpus prægrauat animum vitiis, the bodie burtheneth or lodeth the mynde with vices.
Quam prægrauaret multitudo, seeyng that the multitude of his ennemys was greatten then his.
Prægreddior, gressus, gredi, to go or come before. Sometime for Prætergredi, to passe by, also to p̄uent, to passe, to excell.
Non solum nuntios sed etiam famam aduentus sui prægressus, not onely p̄uenting and comyng before the messengers, but. &c.
Ve prægressi hominis vestigia occupent, for Prætergressi.
Qui tantum alios prægressus est, whiche so farre passed and excelled other.
Prægredi gregi, to go before the flocke.
Prægressio, ónis, f. g. a goyng before.
Prægressus, a, um, that p̄uented or wente before.
Prægustator, óris, m. ge. that taketh the taste of taste before, a taster.
Prægusto, aui, are, to take a taste, to assaye before.
Prægunij, p̄ople of Italia, called commonly Abruzi.
Præiaceo, præ iaces, iacui, ere, to lye before.
Præiácio, cui, ere, to caste before.
Præiudicatio, ónis, f. g. a geuyng of a iudgement of sentence before, the concepyng of a iudgement before the tyme, afoze iudgement.
Præiudicatus, a, um, iudged or condemned by a former iudgement.
Præiudicium, ij, n. ge. a thyng, whiche beyng ones decided and determined, maketh a rule or example to men that do folowe, to discusse semablablye in a lyke matter, as those whiche we Do call ruled matters or cases in the law, whiche be as examples to iudges. also a sentence geue before the iudge. mē. rather with or against one, as if two did contende for ante office, and the magistrate (because the controuersie wyl cōtinue longe) dōeth appoint the one to minstre the office in the meane tyme, wherby he semeth to geue a iudgement before, for hym whom he fauourith it is also taken for hurte or losse.

Præiudico, aui, are, to iudge before the tyme, sometyne to iudge by example of an other like matter before iudged or decided, to conceiue an ill opinion or iudgement of a thyng or persone, before he knoweth the cause.

Præiudicare alicui, To hurte or hynder ones cause.

Præiuratio, ōnis, f. g. the othe that is taken by hym that first sweareth.

Præiurātor, ōris, m. gene. he that first taketh an othe, as the forman of a iurie, or the first witness, or any other, after whom other men doe sweare, accordyng to the othe geuen vnto hym.

Præiuro, aui, are, to sweare before other.

Præiuuo, iuuui, are, to helpe before.

Prælabor, beris, bi, to fall first, to slide before.

Prælambo, lambi, lambere, to liche or lap before, to taste before.

Prælego, legi, gere, to rede to, as a maister doth in expownyng to the chylde. also sometyne to gather before the tyme, sometyne to passe by.

Prælectio, ōnis, f. g. a lecture, a redyng to other.

Prælector, ōris, m. g. a reader to other.

Campaniam prælegebat, he passed by Campania.

Præliaris, re, pertaynyng to battaile.

Præliator, ōris, m. g. a warriour.

Prælibo, aui, are, to taste or sate before.

Prælicenter, very wantonly, very licenciously, with to muche libertie.

Præliganeum vinum, a præligando, whiche I suppose to be so called, either because it is first tunned or put into vessels, or else because it is put into a sacke, whiche is faste knit afoze. but it is so named rather of Prælegendo, because it is made of grapes either tyme before theye tyme, or else gathered before other.

Præligo, aui, are, to binde afoze or in the inside.

Prælior, aris, ari, to fight in battaile, by translation to contende or strue in wordes.

Prælium, li, n. gene. a battaile, also the fight in battaile, sometyne (by translation) the acte of generation.

Aduersum prælium, an ouertrowe or discomfiture.

Dubium prælium, an vncertaine battaile, wherin one can not tel whiche hath the better.

Conferere prælia, to iugne battaile, to fight.

Secundum prælium facere, to feght piosperously, to put his enemies to the worse.

Dirimere prælium, to ende the fight or battaile.

Detrectare prælium, to refuse to fight.

Prælongo, aui, are, to make verie longe.

Prælongus, a, um, very longe.

Præloquor, eris, præloqui, to speake or tell before.

Præluceo, præluces, luxi, cēre, to beare light before one, as a torch of candle, also to geue more light then an other, to geue a great light before.

Præluce, aliis virtute, to shine in vertue before other.

Præluce, maioribus suis virtute, To make his auncelours renowned and famous by his vertue.

Prælucidus, a, um, very bright, that geueth a great light.

Præludium, ij, neu. g. a proleme, or that which musicians and minstrelles plaie at the beginning or they come to the songe, which they purpose to plaie, a voluntarie, the men of fence call it a flozthe. sometyne it is taken for a preambule, or entrance to a matter, and as ye would sate, signes and pofers: it maie also be called a preparatiue.

Præludo, si, dere, to plaie before, in muscalle instruments to plaie a voluntarie, at the weapons, to flozthe.

Præludio, ōnis, idem quod Præludium.

Prælum, li, n. g. a pisse.

Prælumbo, aui, are, to breake ones lynes.

Præluo, lui, ere, to purge or washe cleane afoze, to flowe or renne before.

Prælustis, stre, very famous and notable, verie high, in the sight of all men.

Præmando, aui, are, to sende before, to geue charge before.

Præmature, to sone, or before the iuste tyme.

Præmature vita careo, I die afoze my tyme.

Præmaturus, a, um, not yet tyme, also tyme before the tyme, also out of season, that cometh to sone.

Præmaturus fructus, fruite that is ripe before the tyme or before other.

Præmatura mors, vntymely death, death before naturall tyme.

Præmatura hyme, a, partly wynter.

Præmaturum & serum, contrary.

Præmatura denuntiatio, a denownyng before the tyme or season.

Præmedicatus, a, um, that hath medicines prescribed before hande.

Præmeditatio, ōnis, f. g. a meditation, musyng or thynnyng on thynges before they come or chance.

Præmeditor, aris, ari, to aduise before a man do the thyng, to muse and thinke on a thyng before hande.

Præmercor, aris, ari, to bye afoze hand, to fozes all markettes, or to by a thyng out of ones hande that chepeneth it.

Præmen-

Præmensus, a, uni, measured before, or passed over before.

Lucis præmensa tempora, the parte of tyme of ones lyfe that he hath passed or lynced.

Præmensum, si, neu. g. a sacrifice or offeringe to xces, of the eares of coyne that were first reaped.

Præmeto, metui, mētere, to reape splaye or beset.

Præmiator, ōris, m. g. a thefe that stealeth by night, as we mought sate, whiche committeth burglarie. also a rewarder.

Præmigro, aui, are, to go before.

Præmior, aris, ari, to geue rewardes. sometyne for Lucrari.

Præmiōsus, a, um, riche of money.

Præmissio, ōnis, f. g. a tendinge afoze.

Præmissus, a, um, sent before.

Præmitto, misi, tere, to sende afoze.

Præmium, ij, n. g. a rewarde geuen to hym that hath done any notable and laudable thyng, a recompence. sometyne it is taken for money, also wages that one hath for goynge a iours nepe.

Digna præmia ferre, to be woorthily rewarded.

Legis præmio licet, id est, legis beneficio.

Sine præmio sum, I am without money.

Præmoderor, aris, ari, to plaie before on an instrument.

Præmodum, an aduerbe, aboue measure, beyond all measure. sometyne for Admodum, verie muche.

Præmolestia, x, form. gene. feare of a thyng to come.

Præmolliō, liui, lire, to make soft or tēdre before.

Præmolior, lris, ri, to make all piouson afoze hande for a thyng that can be, to prepare, to goe aboute to make a thyng tēdre before.

Præmolliis, le, verap tender or delicate.

Præmolitus, a, um, made verie soft or tēdre, made verie fauourable or gentyll.

Præmōneo, præmōnes, ui, ere, to fozewarne, to geue one warnyng before the thyng come, to tell of aduise one before hande.

Præmonitio, ōnis, f. g. a warnyng or aduertisement before hande.

Præmonitus, a, um, warned or tolde before the thyng came or chaunced.

Præmonitus, us, m. g. a warnyng or aduertisement geuen before hande.

Præmonstrator, ōris, m. g. he that telleth a thing before that it hapneth, he that goeth before a man to guide hym and shew hym the waie, and as who shoulde saie, to leade hym by the hande, a leader or pointer of the way. Hic adiutor meus, & monitor, & præmonstrator, this myne helper and counsaillour, and leader or pointer of the waie.

Præmonstro, aui, are, to shewe or tell before, to teache, to go before one and shew him the way.

Præmordeo, præmordes, di, or morfi, dēre, to byte or rebuke before.

Præmorior, riris, or mōteris, ri, to die ere the tyme come.

Præmoritur visus, auditus, incessus, whan the sight, hearing, or goynge splaye before the tyme.

Præmunio, præmunis, iui, ire, to prepare to fozestie a place, before that the enemies come.

Prænarro, aui, are, to tell before.

Prænato, aui, are, to swimme afoze, sometyne for Præterfluere, to passe or flowe by.

Prænaugo, aui, are, to saile or rowe by, to passe by in a shyppe.

Prænaugatio, ōnis, f. g. a sailyng before or by a place.

Præneste, a citee in Italie.

Prænellini, people of Præneste.

Prænestinus, a, um, of Præneste.

Prænimis, to farre, to muche.

Præniteo, prænites, nitui, tēre, to bee verie bright and clere, to shyne bright.

Prænomen, inis, n. g. the first name, as Marcus, Quintus, Lucius, & as we haue now the name of baptisme.

Prænoscio, nōui, noscere, to knowe afoze.

Prænotio, ōnis, f. g. the knowyng of a thyng before.

Prænoto, aui, are, to make annotations or inscriptions.

Prænubilis, le, verap cloudy and darke.

Prænutio, aui, are, to shewe afoze.

Prænutius, a, um, that fyrste bringeth tidynges, that goeth before and bringeth tidynges, that sheweth a thyng to come.

Præoccido, occidi, occidere, to go downe before, as one sterre before an other.

Præoccupatio, ōnis, f. g. a figure in Rhetorike, whan we wyl saie that we will not tell a thing, and yet thereby covertly we wil declare the matter or make it susparte.

Præoccupo, aui, are, to take or possesse a thing by pteucion, to pteuent, totake before an other.

Præoccupare partes alterius, to take up hym to do that an other man shulde do before hym.

Præoccupauit ferre legem, he pteuented hym in publishyng and makyng the lawe.

Præoccupare hominem, to hynde a man to hym, or to wynde his fauour before an other, by some benefite or pleasure.

Præopto, aui, are, rather to desyre, to wyl the rather, to desyre greatly.

Præoptare mortem, to chose rather to die.

Præordinatio, ōnis, f. g. the first ordinaunce.

Præordinator, ōris, m. g. he that made the fyrste ordinaunce.

Præordino, aui, are, to ordeyne afoze.

Præpando, pādi, pandere, to open before, come tyme for Præendere, to splaye or set a byode.

Præparatio, ōnis, f. g. a preparation.

Præparato, an aduerbe or ablatiue case set aduersally, with preparation or piousion.

Kkk ij Præ

Præparatus, us, m. g. a provision of preparation before hande.
 Præparatus, a, um, provided, prepared or made ready before.
 Præparcus, a, um, veray scarce or nigarde, a great sparer.
 Præparo, aui, are, to prepare, to make ready, to make provision for thynges necessarie before hande.
 Præparare hyemi cibos, to prepare meate as against winter.
 Animos præparare ad aliquid, to make the mynde apt or ready to a thyng.
 Præpeditum, ti, n. g. a leat before.
 Præpedio, præpeditis, diui, ire, to tie or bynde of ones legges, & by translation to let, to let much.
 Præpeditus, a, um, leat.
 Aut gaudio sumus præpediti nimio, aut ægritudine, we be letted, that is to saie bynded, that we can not see or iudge, by reason of to muche ioyfulness, or els of sorowfulness and disquiet of the mynde.
 Præpendeo, pendi, ere, to hange or be hanged before.
 Præpendo, pendi, ere, semeth to be used of Latine in the thirde coniugation, and actively, to hange before.
 Præpender mento tibi barba, thou haste a bearde growyng on thy chinne.
 Præpes, præpetis, om. g. swifte, light in flight.
 Præpetes aues, the byrdes whiche shewed them selues first to the diuynours called Augures, wherby they supposed to knowe what shoulde ensue.
 Præpeto, tiui, tere, to beginne first, to go first.
 Præpilatus, a, um, headed with yron, as a iauers line of darte, also sharpe afore, lyke the head of a darte, though it haue no yron, as the hoynes of a loppier, wherewith he swimmeth.
 Præpinguis, gue, om. g. veray fatte.
 Præpelleo, lui, lere, to excede other, to bee of greater power, auctozitee or richesse than other.
 Præponero, aui, are, to ponder or examine before, to pople or weigh more, to bee of greater price or value, to bee more woorthy, to bee more esteemed, sometyme for Anteferre, to preferre or take for the better.
 Præpono, sui, ere, to put or set before, also to preferre, to esteeme, to geue one the charge of a thyng, to make one ouerfear or doer of a matter, to make ruler, to set more by.
 Se ire præpositum tibi apud me, that he shulde be preferred before you, or more esteemed with me than you.
 Præponere aliquem negotio, to geue one the ouersight or charge, or doyng of a thyng.
 Bello præponi, to be made chiefe capitayne of the warre.
 Nunquam præponens se alijs, neuer esteeming hym selfe more than other, or about other.
 Luchrum præposui sopori & quieti, I dyd set more by, or dyd more esteeme my sayne or aduantage, than slepe and rest.

 Præporio, aui, are, to carie or beare before.
 Præpositio, ónis, f. g. a setting or putting before.
 Præpositum, i, n. g. that is set or preferred before other.
 Præpositus, a, um, set or aduanced about other, set in auctozitee.
 Præpositus, ti, m. g. he that is in auctozitee, or chiefe in any office.
 Præpossum, præpotes, potui, posse, to be more able than other, to be of greater power than other.
 Præposterè, backward, ouerthwartely, aduersely, contrary to all good order.
 Præposter fieri, to be doen against al good order, as when the scruaunt commaundeth his master, the people theyr rulers, or a foola wyse man.
 Præposterus, a, um, ouerthwarte, out of order, cleane contrary to all good facion and order, Also for Contrarius or Aduersus, agaynst.
 Præposterii homines, they that do that thyng last, that they shoulde haue dooen first.
 Præpostera consilia, counsaile cleane contrarie to the purpose.
 Obsequium præposterum, id est, importunum & exitiosum.
 Præpotens, entis, om. gene. veray puissaunte or myghty, of great power, also very riche.
 Præpropere, to hastily.
 Præpropereus, a, um, very quicke or hasty, to hastily, rashly.
 Præproperum ingenium, a rashe witte.
 Præputium, ij, n. g. the chinne that couereth the head of a mannes yron membze.
 Præradio, aui, are, to thyne or cast bright beames afore.
 Prærado, rasi, radere, to shaue or scrape.
 Prærancidus, a, u, very unsauoury, veray rancid, that hath a veray stinkyng sauour, lyke thynges benewed and rotten, by trāllacion, very vnpleasent, out of vse.
 Prærapidus, a, um, very swifte.
 Præreptus, a, um, taken or caught away before.
 Præreptus immatura morte, dead before his tyme.
 Præripio, præripis, pui, ere, to pzeuent, to catch away before an other, to take fro an other, to haue it hym selfe.
 Iter præripere, id est, præoccupare, to goe as fore.
 Præripere hostiū consilia, to spie out and pzeuent theyr enemies intentes and purposes.
 Coniungere præripere, to marie the woman that an other shoulde haue maried.
 Præripuit tibi ne cessus primus, he tooke this praise fro you, that ye shulde not be the chiefe of most excellent.
 Præripere, to take to his owne vse, Eripere, to take from an other that he can not vse hym selfe, selfe, as Eripuit illi vitam.

 Prærodo, si, ere, to gnawe, to gnawe or eat besaie much, to gnawe all about, to gnawe the bitter parte of a thyng.
 Prærogatia, æ, f. ge. and sometyme Prærogatium, a prerogative, where one is preferred afore an other, auctozitee or preheminence, also pzeuidice or fauour shewed more to one than to an other.
 Prærogatiuus, a, um, that is demaunded or asked his sentence before an other, that whose voyce or consent is of more auctozitee and effect than other, that hath prerogative or preheminence about other.
 Prærogatiua tribus, The tribe that geueth voyce first.
 Prærogatiua beneficia, benefices afore employed.
 Prærogo, aui, are, to aske a mans sentence, opinion or voyce before other, to paie or geue before hande, to paie money before his daie.
 Prærumpe, rūpi, rumpere, to bzeake a sunder, to bzeake in pieces.
 Prærupta, is sometyme taken for roches.
 Prærupte, styte without any benyng.
 Præruptus, a, um, all to broken, it is sometyme taken, where an hyl is broken by the side and harde to go on.
 Prærupta loca, places broken here and there that no man maie passe.
 Præ, prædis, m. gen. a suretee, which beynge asked of the magistrate, undertaketh for any common recepuour, or one that hath the dispensation of the treasure of a prince or commonalte, and is bounde to make full satisfaction, what so euer shall befall. it is also a substantiue man, bound for any persone before a iudge, that he (mis)trustynge his cause, shall not impeyre the thyng that he hath in his hande, for the whiche the suite is, also he that is suretee for one in a money matter.
 Bona prædia, the gooddes of hym that is suretee for any common recepuour, whiche he soide, if the person (for whom he is bound) fall in arreare.
 Prædes, is sometyme used, for Bona prædia.
 Præfagio, præfagis, giui, ire, to diuine or tell what shall happen, to perceyue or haue a gesse before what wyl folowe, to perceyue a thyng that is towarde before it come.
 Præfagibaz animus, fustia me ire, cum exirem domo, when I went out of my house, my herte gaue me, that I shoulde go in vaine.
 Nescio quid profecto mihi animus præfagit mali, in good faith me hert geueth me, that some ill shall happen, I wot not what, or I can not tell howe my mynde geueth me that all is not well: or I can not tell howe my hert geueth against some ill to come.
 Dicimus præfagit animus & præfagio animi, we geue hert of my mynde geueth me, Præfagior, iris, iri, the Deponent, is reade in Plautus.

 Præfagis, ónis, f. ge. a diuination, gessing, feelinge, or perceyuing of any thyng that is towarde.
 Præfagium, ij, n. g. a perceyuing of a thyng before that it happeneth. sometyme a coniecture.
 Præfagus, a, um, that diuinely or perceyue thynges that be towarde before they come.
 Præsanatus, a, um, healed or cured before.
 Præsanasco, scere, to be made hole before.
 Præscateo, præscates, scatur, scatur, to be full and replenished with any thyng, to haue great plentie of any thyng.
 Præscientia, æ, f. g. an vnderstandyng and perfect knowledge of all that shall happen.
 Præscindo, sciui, scire, to knowe afore.
 Nonne oportuit præscisse me? had it not ben mete that I shulde haue knowen it before?
 Præscisco, sciscere, to knowe before.
 Præscirum, i, n. g. a thyng knowen before. Plinius often tymes vseth Præscira, for that the Grekes call Prognostica.
 Præscius, a, um, that knoweth perfectly thynges ere they happen, hauping afore knowlege.
 Præscribo, psi, bere, to write first or before, some tyme for Inscribere, to write vpon in the besynnyng, to intule, to note: also to assigne, to appoynte, to determine, to limite, to prescribe, to shewe howe or what to put: sometyme for Prædicere, to tell afore: also to late before.
 Præscribere & imperare.
 Finem præscribere, to appoynde or lymitte an ende, to set a tyme when thynges shall cease.
 Vt lege præscribitur, as the lawe ordeineth & appoynteth, as it is determined in the lawe.
 Præscribere quæ sunt gerenda, To shewe or geue aduertisement what is to be doen.
 Iura ciuitatibus præscribere, to make and ordeyne lawes for ciities.
 Præscriptum erat, it was determined or appoynted.
 Præscribere, is used in the lawe ciuile for Excipere, or Exceptionem summotoriam obijcere agenti.
 At idem tibi præscribo, but euen I warne the before.
 Præscriptio, ónis, f. ge. a rule, a lawe, an ordeinance, a fourme, a limyting, appoyntyng, or determining, sometyme for Prætextus, a pretence or colour.
 Præscriptio, Exceptio, Translatio, idem significat in re forensi.
 Vt honesta præscriptione rem turpissimam regetur, that he myght cloke or hyde a verie dishoneste or shamefull matter, vnder some honest colour or pretence.
 Præscriptum, i, n. g. a pzecept, a fourme, a determinate rule or facion, in the lawe an exception or refusall excludyng the action.
 Kkk ij Præ

Præfeco, ſecui, are, to cut befoze, ſomeþyme to cut in ſunder, to cut of.

Præſegmen, ſegminis, neu. gen. a ſuperfluous part of the bodie cutte awaie, the parþnge of ones naile.

Præſens, entis, om. gene. preſent, ſpedie, redie, prompte, wyllyng, alſo fauourable, ſure, effectuell, boþhe in the god part and in the ill, þroſperable, good, veriaie hoſſome, verie pernicious and deadely.

Præſens animus, a ſtronge of good courage, a bolde ſpirit, an herie that ſhypheth not, a redie wit, that is not to ſeeke what to doe of ſaie.

Præſentia colamus, let vs make muche of that we haue, for ſeldome cometh the better.

Fac animo hæc præſenti dicas, ſee that thou ſpeake this with a bolde ſpirit, or that thy wyltes bee thine owne, and that thine herie ſaie the not whan thou ſhalt ſpeake it.

Deum præſentem habet, he hath god fauourable vnto hym, & redie to aide and helpe hym.

Mihi tua domus te præſente abſente pateat, let thy doze bee open to me whether thou be at home or no. Or leat me be welcom to thy houſe, whether thou bee there or abſoade.

Præſens deus, god geueth to vs incontinent that that we demaunde.

Præſens medicina, a medicine that cureth ſoþwith, a ſoueraigne medicine, a redie medicine that wyl eate one out of hande.

In præſens, in præſenti, in præſentia, & ſomeþyme in præſentiarum, at this preſent.

Mors præſens, id eſt, parata & in promptu. Adſum præſens præſenti tibi, I am here preſent befoze your face.

Præſente hoc nolebam dicere, I wolde not ſpeake it in this mans preſence.

Præſente nobis, for præſentibus.

Nec nobis præſente aliqui, niſi ſeruus Afri-

canus adeſt, neither any man, but the ſeruaunt that came out of Afrike was preſent, whyle I was there.

Apud forum præſente teſtibus, mihi vendidit, he ſolde it me openly in the ſtrete befoze wyneſſe. In theſe examþles is an imitation of ſpeakyng in the olde tyme, and the figure called Archaiſmus.

Non quia ades præſens dico, I ſaie it not becauſe you be preſent, or I ſaie it not to flatter you befoze your face.

Præſenti argento, vel pecunia, mercari vel vendere, to by or ſell for redie money.

Pecuniam præſentem ſoluit mulieri, he paid money out of hande to the woman.

Præſens quandoq; dicitur, non quod nunc ſit, ſed quod ſiebat tempore illo, tunc præſente.

Vivus & præſens, a maner of ſpeakyng, vſed to expreſſe moze plainly the preſens of a thyng or perſon.

Cætera præſenti ſermoni referuentur, leat the other thynges be referred, vntyll we mete and talke together preſently.

Præſentius remedium, a moze ſpedy remedy. In rem præſentem venire, to come to or vpon the place, for which the controuerſie of contention is, to make a viewe of the place or ground: as whan the iudge appoynteth, or the parties agree, that the grounde of lande be conſidered howe it lieth.

Præſentius, a, um, percepued befoze it come.

Præſentaneus, a, um, ſpedie, redie, effectiuous.

Præſentaneum argenti, money to be paid out of hande.

Præſentaneum remedium, a ſhozte and ſpedie remedy.

Præſentarius, a, um, redie, ſpedie.

Præſentarium argenti, redie money.

Præſentia, æ, f. g. preſence.

Præſentia animi, valiantneſſe of mynde.

Præſentio, ðnis, f. g. a percepyng of ſelyng of a thyng that is towarde befoze it come.

Præſentio, ſi, tire, to ſmell or ſent befoze, to ſeele or percepe befoze, to haue percepuance of a thyng befoze hande, to doubt of a thyng.

Præſentiſco, ſcere, idem quod præſentio.

Præſentiſſimus, a, um, the beſt, the ſureſt.

Præſentiſſimum venenum, the greateſt and moſt feruent poiſon: alſo ſtronge.

Præſentiſſimum remedium, the moſt ſpedie or ſure remedy.

Præſentiſſimum periculum, a great daunger that is ſure to folowe.

Præſentio, aui, are, to haue redie, to preſente ſomeþyme to repreſent, to reſemble.

Præſepe, is, n. g. & præſepes, piſ, f. g. a ſtable, a ſtall, a ſhepehouſe, ſometime a bꝛothel houſe.

Præſepelio, ſepilis, liui, lire, to burie befoze.

Præſepio, præſepis, piui, pire, to hedge aſoye a thyng, to hedge or encloſe about, to enuiron, to compaſſe.

Præſepium, ij, neut. gene. a crache, a crache of a mainger: alſo the herbe Auracilis.

Præſero, ſeui, ſerere, to ſowe befoze.

Præſertim, ſpecially, chiefly.

Præſeruatio, ðnis, f. g. a preſeruacion.

Præſeruo, uiui, ire, to dooe ſerue to one, to helpe of ſerue one.

Præſeruo, aui, are, to preſerue, to keepe from daunger.

Præſes, præſidis, com. g. he that hath auctoritee in a prouince next vnder the kyng, a lieutenant, or viceroy, that hath the tuition of protection of any thyng or countrey, a prouoſt: ſometime it ſignifieth a defendour, one that helpeth or aydeþ: alſo ſure, ſaſſe.

Præſes locus, a ſure place.

Præſideo, præſides, ſedi, ere, to be in moze auſtopitee, or of a moze dignitee: alſo to haue auſtopitee or rule to ayde and ſuccore them that neede, ſpoken boþhe of god and man, to haue the tuition of any thyng, prouince, or people.

In proximum exercitum præſidebat, he was capit capitayne, or had the gouernance of the armie that was nexte them.

Omnes dii, qui huic vrbi præſident, all the goddes that haue tuition of this citee.

Sociorum manus litora præſidebat, the compaie of our confederates and ſelowes kepte the ſea bankes.

Præſideratio, onis, f. g. tempeſt, whiche cometh at the beginnyng of winter, ſooner than it is looked for, or is accuſtomed to happen.

Præſidero, aui, are, where tempeſt cometh verp ſoone, and befoze the tyme accuſtomed.

Præſidiarius, a, um, that is ordeined to be ayde to an other thyng.

Præſidiari, in vines be littell bzanches, that be nouriſhed to mainteine the vine.

Præſidium, dii, n. g. a gariſon of men with a capitayne ſet by the chiefe capitayne to defende a forreſſe, ſomeþyme it is taken generally for all maner ayde or defence, a place of refuge or ſaſſore: alſo a forrification of a thyng, a forre: ſomeþyme onely a campe.

Gerere præſidium, to aide, to ſuccoure.

Quibus in præſidijs fuerit quare, aſke hym in whole campe he was.

Confirmare præſidijs aliquam prouinciam, to ſet a gariſon in a prouince.

Decedere de præſidio & ſtatione vitæ iniuſſu imperatoris, to murther or kill hym ſelfe befoze his tyme appoynted of god.

Vrbs nudata præſidio, a citee hauyng no defence of gariſon at all.

Præſidio meo atq; hoſpitis, by my good helpe and this ſtraungers.

Perſugium & præſidium ſalutis, a place of refuge and ſuccour to ſaue one in, in tyme of aduerſitee.

Præſidium eſſe alicui, to ſuccoure or helpe one, to be an ayde or comforte to one.

Ibi tua ſtultitia ſemper erit præſidium, there ſhall be alwaies a place of refuge or ſuccour for thy fooliſſhneſſes.

Præſignifico, aui, are, to ſignifie or notifie befoze, to ſhewe befoze.

Præſignis, ne, verp excellent, that paſſeth or excelleth other.

Præſigno, aui, are, to note or marke befoze, to ſigne or ſcale firſt or befoze.

Præſilio, præſiliis, lui, lire, to leape befoze, to ſtete out.

Præſtitia lachryma præſiliunt mihi, for ſop I haſte out in weepynge, or the teares tricle downe my chekes.

Præſiſto, ſtiti, tere, to ſtande or be ſet befoze.

Præſpargo, ſparſi, ſpargere, to ſtrawe or ſcatter befoze.

Præſpeculor, aris, ari, to looke aſoye.

Præſpicio, ſpei, ere, to ſee aſoye.

Præſtabilis le, excellent: alſo that may be doon or perſourmed.

Præſtabilius, better.

Præſtans, antis, om. ge. excellent, verap good, that paſſeth, excelleth: or is better than other.

Præſtans animi, he that hath a valiaunt courage, or that hath a noble herie.

Præſtans virtute homo, a man of excellent vertue.

Literis doctrinæ præſtans, a man excellently learned or of great knowlage.

Nihil præſtantius, there is noþyng moze excellent.

Præſtantia, æ, f. g. excellencie.

Animi præſtantia, excellencie or nobleneſſe of courage.

Præſtega, æ, f. g. a place open befoze and couered behynde lyke a porche, where men dooe ſit for recreation after theyr buſyneſſe.

Præſter, ſteris, m. g. a venomous ſerpent of whom he that is ſtricken, dyeth for thirſt, loke Preſter.

Præſterno, ſtraui, ere, to lay abꝛoade befoze: alſo to prepare, to make redie.

Præſtes, præſtins, m. g. of the auncient wyters called a prelate.

Præſtigiator, ðris, m. ge. a iuglar, he that wyllyngly deceiueþ and deludeth men.

Præſtigiatrix, icis, the feminine.

Præſtigia, arum, f. g. plu. thynges that doo ſeeme to be that they be not, deceites, inchaniments, deluſions, leggedemaine, conueyghaunces that iuglars dooe uſe.

Præſtigitum, ij, n. g. is read in ſome printes for a deluſion, a iuglyng caſe, an inchantment.

Præſtimo, aui, are, to bie, in byng to holde a thyng.

Præſtino, ſtui, ere, to determyne befoze, to preſcribe or appoynt befoze what ſhal be doon.

Præſtituere diem, to appoynt or ſet a daie.

Tempus præſtituere, to preſcribe a tyme.

Præſto, ſtiti, are, to be better than an other thyng, wherwith it is compared, to excelle: alſo to undertake for an other, to warrant, to take vpon hym to make good all the loſſe or harme that cometh of a thyng, ſomeþyme to graunt: alſo to doe, to be beneficial, to bee ware, to eſchew, to ſcare, to dooe or perſorme, to geue, to exhibite, to repreſent of ſhew, to lende, to aſſigne or apoint to doe a thyng, to trie, to proue.

Plura mihi præſtitit quam parentes, id eſt, ſecit, he hath doon moze for me, or bene moze beneficiall to me, than my father and mother.

Præſtare alicui beneuolentiam, to ſhew his fauour, good wyl, or hertly loue towarde a man.

Diligentiâ præſtare alicui, to behaue him ſelfe lyke a ſure friende, to ſhewe hym ſelfe diligents towarde one or in his buſyneſſe.

Debitum honorem patri præſtare, to doe due honour to his father.

Mare tutum præſtitit, he ſcoured the ſea, and made that men mighte haue ſaſſe paſſage.

Principem præſtare, to behaue ones ſelfe lyke a prince or ruler, to dooe the office of a kyng or gouernour.

Questum præstare, to bee bantageable, to byngs gayne or profite.

Præstare operam in re militari, to helpe or serue in the warres.

Réuerentiam præstare, to reuerence & feare.

Sapientiam & grauitatem præstare, to liue wisely, and sagely, to behaue hym selfe in his bywinge with great wisedome and grauitie.

Se incolumem præstare, to recouer his helth as gaime.

Præstare se acerrimum propugnatorem, to defende and mainteine a thyng very earnestly.

Silentium præstare, to be still.

Præsta te eum qui mihi. &c. shewe thy selfe to be the same man that I. &c.

Vicem alicuius rei præstare. &c. to be or serue in the place or stede. &c.

Præstare, plus significat quam dare.

Ego illum ante ades præstabo, I wil byng hym hither before the doore.

Præstare alicui alicui negotio, id est, Præstare, to make one ruler or oier fear of any bulis nesse.

Quamcumque ei fidem dederis, præstabo, what so euer thou shalt promysse hym, I wyll be agreeable, and perforce it or make it good.

Quod ab homine non potuit præstari, id est, caueri, prohiberi, that a man could not beware of or eschewe.

De me præstare possum, as for my parte, I can undertake and warrant it.

Præstare rem publicam, to saue, mainteine, and kepe the comon weale from all harme and daunger.

Homini homo quid præstat, how much one man is better than an other.

Toridem annis mihi ætate præstabat, he was so many yeres elder than I.

Præstat ingenio alius alium, one excelleth an other in wit: or some one man hath a better witte than an other.

Hac re maxime bestiis præstant, for this thyng especially, they excell bestes, or bee better than bestes.

Is periculum iudicii præstare debet, qui se nexu obligauit, he (that is the seller) which bound hym selfe solemnly before witness, to stande to the warrantise, ought to saue the buyer harmelesse, and defende hym in the iudgement.

Præstare damna aut vitia, to make good.

Horum non modo facta, sed etiam dicta omnia præstanda nobis sunt, we muste answer for, or satisfie and make good, or we must take vpon vs what so euer they offende either in worde or dede.

Emptori damnum præstare, to recompence the buyer for all his losses & damages, to saue the buyer harmelesse.

Emptorem indemnem præstare, idem.

Præstare culpam, to take the charge or damage vpon hym.

Istam enim culpam quam vereris, ego præstas bo, for the blame whiche thou fearest, I wyll take vpon me.

Nihil est sapientis præstare, nisi culpam, a wise man is not bounde to undertake or make answer for any thyng, but that cometh thos rough his owne default, and not that hapneth by fortune or otherwyse.

Præstare fidem, to be faithfull.

Præstare fidem publicam, whan the consull or other great officer perforcemeth that whiche he promised.

Præstare nihil debeo, no man ought to laie that to me, I am not bounde to make answer for that, or to warrant that.

Messalam Cæsari præstabo, I wyll undertake that Messala shalbe Cæsars friende.

Præstare officium, to doe his dutie.

Præstare iusiurandum, to take a solemne oth.

Præstat, præstabat, præstitit, præstare, it is better.

Præstat furi hic suspendi, & apud inferos arde, it wer better for a theefe to be hanged here, than to lie in the fyre of hell, or than to burne in hell.

Præsto, an aduerbe, after Sypontinus, after of ther a nounce vndeclined, and significth, ready at hande.

Me dixeram, præsto fore apud Veneris pladium, I tolde the that thou shouldest fynde me at the temple of Venus.

Ibi mihi præsto fuit Lucilius cum litteris, id est, occurrit, there Lucilius met me, or came to me with letters.

Hero vt omnibus locis præsto sim, that I may be ready at hande to my mayster in euery place.

Domus præsto esse apud me aiunt, they say that he is all ready at home at my house.

Præsto adest, for Præsto est.

Amicis præsto fuisti, thou didst defende and helpe thy frendes.

Ad horam octauam præsto est, he appeareth there, at. viii. of the clocke.

Præsto est ad nuntium, he is ready at a becke.

Præsto sis, helpe me.

Præsto esse, to appeare as men doe in places of iudgement: also to be ready to helpe.

Præstolor, aris, ari, to tarie, to be at hande or ready to dooe seruice, to abyde for.

Quem præstolare hic ante hostium? whom dooe ye tarie for here before the doore?

Præstringo, xi, gere, to bynde fast, to thutte, to dasell the eyes, to touche quickly or shortly, to shawe, to greue somewhat.

Præstringere oculos, to dasell the syght, to caste a wyke before ones eyes, to deceiue or deade one with legierdamaie.

Præstringere aciem ingenij, to deceiue, to dedade.

Præstringere aciem ferri, to dull, to tourne the edge.

Præstringitur eboris nitor, the brightnesse of præstare

tuoris defaced or made duske.

Præstructus, a, um, furnished or bulbid before, also dooen of purpose, or for the nones.

Præstruo, struxi, ere, to ordeine first, to buld, sometime for obstruere to stop vp. Præstruere viam, to make waye before: pproberially, to geue an occasion of any thyng.

Præstido, aui, are, to sweate or labour before, to exercise hym selfe before.

Præsul, præsulis, a pzelate, it significth hym that leadeth the daunce.

Præsulatus, us, m. g. the dignitie of a pzelate.

Præsulatus, a, u, very salte, that was salte before.

Præsulito, aui, are, to leape or daunce before.

Præsulor, oris, m. g. he that leadeth a daunce.

Præsum, præsum, præsum, esse, to be afoze or aboue an other, to bee of more dignitie, to be in aucterities, to haue the charge of rule, to haue the chiefe dogne in any thyng.

Præesse negotio, to be chiefe in the businesse.

Exercitui præesse, to be chiefe captayne of the armie.

Populo magistratus præsum, the magistrates haue the rule of the people, or haue auctoritee or uer the people.

Prouincia præesse, to be lieutenant or chiefe gouernour of any prouince.

Nauius & classi præesse, to bee admirall or chiefe captayne of the armie by sea.

Præesse questioni dicunt iudex, to decide or set in examination of any matter.

Reipublicæ præesse, to haue the rule or gouernance of the common weale.

Præsumo, psi, mere, to take first, or ppreuente.

Præsumere animo, to coniecte, to perceiue a thyng before it chaunce.

Spe præsumite bellum, hope and looke surely for warre afoze hande.

Supplicium in aliquem præsumere, to punish one before.

Præsumptio, onis, a taking or receiuing before, it is also that whiche is called ppreoccupation, whan we declare first what our aduersary wyll saie, or what is the iudges opinion, and against that we dooe argue to dissolue it with reason.

Præsumptus, a, um, taken or conceiued before.

Præsumpta opinio, a suspicion, an opinion that one hath conceiued.

Præsumo, præsum, ere, to fowe afoze.

Præsurgo, gere, to rise afoze or fiesse.

Prætego, tecti, gere, to hyde or couer chiefly.

Prætendo, tendi, dere, to laie for a thyng ere it come, to haue, set, or hange a couetise or of ther thyng before, to couer, to hyde with any thyng, to lay for ones selfe or agaynst an other, also to beate or carie afoze. also to shew or pprende, to allege, to set a thyng about for an ens closure.

Prætendere auribus, to stop the eares.

Prætendere retia, to set or lay nettes.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Prætendere seipem, to make an hedge about.

Ignorantia prætendi non potest, ignorantie can not be alleged or laied for an excuse, or they can not excuse them selfe by ignorance.

Vultum & tristitiam pessimis moribus prætendebant, they cloked their naughtie facions with grauitie and sadnesse of countenance.

Prætendebat se id metu facere, he shewed, that he dyd it for feare.

Prætendere manu, to carie or beate before in ones hande.

Prætener, tenera, um, veray tender or softe.

Prætentatus, us, m. g. assaying or prouing before, a groppng or felphge of the waie, as one goeth in the darke or blindesight.

Prætento, aui, are, to tempte, to assaie afoze, to feele or grope with ones hande, secte or other thyng before hym.

Ad prætentandum iter, to grope or feele the way before hym.

Prætentar pollice chordas, he assaith or proueth the stringes of the harpe or lute.

Vires prætentare, to proue his strength before, to assaie what he is able to dooe.

Prætentus, a, um, set, drawn or hanged before to hyde a thyng.

Prætenuis, e, very small, thynne or slender.

Prætēpeo, prætepes, tēpui, ere, to bee luke warme or halfe colde.

Præter, except, also beyde, ouer and aboue, beyde, contrarie or against.

Præter oculos, before the eyes.

Præter morem, against the custome or fashion.

Præter spem, vnloked for.

Præter opinionē, otherwise than I thought.

Præter cetera, more than the other.

Præter æquum, agaynst reason.

Præter, for Ultra, as,

Multa erant præter hæc, there wer many thynges mo than these, or beydes these.

Præter ætatem stultus es, it is not mete or conuenient for one of thy age to be so very a foole.

Videre mihi præter ætatem tuam facere, mo thyngkerh ye do otherwise than is conuenient for your age.

Erat forma præter ceteras honesta ac libera, li, she was of beautie and fauour more comly and goodly than the other, or than the mooste part be.

Præter consuetudinem, contrarie to your wont and custome.

Præter hæc, is often readde in Plautus for Post hæc.

Fortasse iniquior erat præter eius libidinem, contrarie to his appetite or phantasie.

Præter modum, aboue measure, be ponde all measure, without measure, out of course.

Omnia mihi eueniunt præter sententiam, or therwyse than I would haue had it.

Vt præter spem euenit, howe muche otherwise hath it chaunced, than I thought or loked for.

Præter suorum ora, before the face of his men.

Præter suorum ora, before the face of his men.

Præter suorum ora, before the face of his men.

Præteragere, to dyue further or beyonde.
Præterbito, aui, are, to go by, to passe by.
Præterduco, duxi, ere, to leade afoze, to leade foorth.
Præterea, mozeouer, furthermoze, beside, none els.
 Mihi credis, præterea nemini, thou beluest me and none els, also it signifieth afterwarde.
 Et quicumq; nomen lunonis adoret præterea, id est, Postea.
Præterea, includeth sometyme a pronoun etz ther of the singular or plural nombze.
 Si duo præterea tales Idea tulisset terra viros, id est, Præter eum Aeneam.
Præterea quidē de consularibus nemini. &c. id est, præter eos.
Prætereo, præteris, iul, or ij, ire, to go ouer or passe, to passe by or goe beyonde, to go past, to make no mention of, to shuppe ouer, to leaue out a thinge, that shulde bee spoken of, to passe ouer, also to excell.
 Hunc non ausim præterire, quin. &c. I dare not passe by this man, but that. &c.
Præterij imprudens villam, I was gone past my house in the cuntry, ere I was ware.
Præterire malum, id est, elugere, vitare, to escape, to eschewe.
 Et quod pene præterij, and that I had almost let passe and forgotten to speake of.
 Non quo silentio præterire, I can not chose but speake of it.
Præterire non potui, quin scriberem ad te, I could not forbear, but that I muste uedes write unto you.
Præterit me hæc res, I had forgotten this matter.
 Et hoc te præterit, non id solum spectari solere, and doest thou not knowe, that not onely that thing is to be considered.
 Non me præterit, I know well enoughe.
 Hos nobilitate Mago præterit, Mago was the beste bozne of theym all, or was of a greater bloude then any of theym.
Præterequio, aui, are, to ryde by or passe.
Præterferor, to be caried beyonde, to be gone passe.
Præterfluo, fluxi, ere, is of the water, to renne by a place, to flowe by, and by translation, to shippe or passe by.
Prætersuere sinet, he leat it slyp or passe by, he regarded it not, he neglected it.
Prætergredior, deris, gredi, to passe by, to go beyonde.
Præteriens, entis, passyng by, goyng beyonde.
Præteritus, a, um, passed, that is gone past.
Præteriti, deade, departed, deceased: also they which in supge for an office dyd suffer repulse or were put backe.
Præterlabor, liberis, labi, to ren or flowe by.
Prætermeo, aui, are, to go by.
Prætermisso, onis, forgettynge or leaung out of a thinge.

Prætermitto, misi, ere, to leaue untouched, to forget, to leaue out, to passe ouer a thinge, leaueynge a thinge vndooen or vnspoken, not to speake.
Prætermittitur, quod ignorantia, obliuione, aut negligencia præteritur: omititur, quod de industria relinquitur.
Prætermittere silentio, to let passe, and not to speake of.
 Nihil prætermisi in te exornando, I dyd leat passe nothing, wherwith I might aduance and set foorth your honour.
Pœnam prætermittere, to pardone and to forgiue.
Præternaugatio, onis, f. ge. a saylyng or passyng by.
Præternaugo, aui, are, to sayle or passe by or beyonde.
Prætero, triui, tētere, to chaw the meate with the fozge teethe.
Præterpropter, for an other cause than that is mentioned.
Præterpropter vitam uiuitur, hoc est propter aliam causam uiuitur, quam ut uiuatur.
Præterquam, but onely, otherwise than, moze or uer, besyde, it requirith alwaye the case that it had before it.
Præterq̃ quod, but sayng that, also ouer and besyde that.
 Nemo id dixerit præterq̃ Cicero, saynge, or excepte Cicero, or but onely Cicero.
 Nulli id placuit, præterquam Cæsari, sayng onely Cæsar.
 Verbum mihi vnum, præterq̃ quod te rogo, fac sis caue, but that that I aske the, or moze than that I demaunde of the.
Præterq̃ tui carendum quod erat, sayng that I could not haue your companie, also ouer and besyde that. &c.
 Nullo remedio, præterq̃ si confestim partes contactæ amputentur, with no remedie, except onely that the partes. &c.
Præterq̃ semper aliās, tum vero minimum &c. id est quum semper aliās.
Præterq̃ capiti, etiam stomacho prodest, it is good not onely for the heade, but also for the stomache: or ouer & besyde that it is holisome for the heade, it is also good for the stomache.
Præterrado, rasi, radere, idem quod Rado.
Præteruho, uexi, uelere, to carie thyngh, to carie or conueigh ouer or beyonde.
Præteruhere aliquid silentio, to leaue a thing vnspoken of.
 Vi tuto præteruherentur ora Italia, that they myghte passe saulily by the sea coaste of Italy.
Præteruhere, sometyme for Præteruchi.
 Quod ludæam præteruehens, apud Hierosolymam. &c. id est, præteruectus.
 Scopulos præteruecta uidetur oratio mea, me seemeth, that I haue now passed and spoken of the most harde and difficulte matters.

Præ

Præuēctio, onis, f. ge. a conueghyng or carryng further or beyonde.
Præuerto, uerti, uertere, to put one thing before an other, to pꝛeuent, to speake before.
 Si habes aliquid, quod huic sermoni præuertendum putes, if ye haue any thing, which ye thynke ought to be spoken before that ye will speake of this matter.
Præuulo, aui, are, to passe thyngh quickly, to passe by or beyonde quickly.
Præxero, texui, ere, to make or ordeyne fyst, to couer or hyde, to speake colourably, to colour, to cloke, to pꝛetende. also to bozder, to couer the bozders, edges, bypms or shypes.
Præxere autores, quos sequamur, to recite them by name and in order.
 Hoc prætextit nomine culpam, with this name he doeth hyde or cloke the faute.
 Ut non prætextat cupiditatem triumphi, but that he muste laie this for his excuse: or make this pꝛetence of colour, that he woulde sayne haue triumphe.
Præxere retia, to make or knytte nettes.
 Quibus Danubij ora prætextitur, whiche lie or inhabite vpon the bozders of Danubie.
Prætexta, f. g. a longe robe or gowne, garded about with purple silke, that noble mens thilz dyen bled to weare, vnto the age of. xlii. yeres, and therefore they were called Prætextati, but they had also about their neckes, a littell round tewel of golde, facioned lyke an herse, wherein was inclosed some thing of great vertue. Prætexta, was also the robe of astate, whiche the kyng of Romaynes, or the other chiefe officers did weare, when they sate in their maiestie, and was wonte to bee burned with them that died in the tyme of their office: neither might any iudge geue sentence on any man, till he had put of that robe. it was also a cote, that capitaynes did weare in their triumphe: and whereby their natours were knownen from them of the order of gentyllmen.
Prætexta comœdia, an enterlude, wherein are personages of high dignitie, as princes and great rulers.
Prætexta toga, idem quod Prætexta.
Prætextas docere, supple comœdias.
Prætextatus, a, um, that weareth the robe of garmēt called Prætexta.
Prætextati anni, youthe.
Prætextata ætas, idem.
Prætextati mores, honest condicions.
Prætextatus sermo, communication without rebaudie: or after some, filthy and vnclene woordes or communication.
Prætextus, a, um, bozdered, that hath the edges embzoured or garded.
Prætextum, ti, n. g. a pꝛetence of colour.
Prætextus, us, m. g. idem.
Præuamitatores, officers, whiche wente before the pꝛelates, called flamines, pꝛorogayng openly, that all men shoulde cease of theyr worke, because it was not lesull to those pꝛelates to beholde any man woorthyng.

Prætimeo, prætime, timui, ere, to be soze as ferde, to feare greatly.
Prætingo, gere, to touche afoze.
Prætōdeo, tondi, dere, to shere, clippe, or rounde before.
Prætor, oris, m. ge. in the olde tyme was euer officer, which had the rule of any armie. Asconius. Afterwarde he had iuridicall authoritie, beyng as it were the chiefe iudge, and had other iudges sitting vnder hym, whereof the full numbze in the citee of Rome, was. lxxv. Cic. in Pisonem. But Asconius, vpon the oration Pro Milone, saith: that the iudges appointed, were. lxxi. & after that, as well the plaines as the defendants had eche of them. dyawen out. v. there remayned but. lxi.
Prætorianus, a, um, of or belongng to the Prætors, or that waiteth or attendeth on the Prætors.
Prætoriani milites, a bande or companie of souldiours, that alwaie kept the citee of Rome: and their Campe was called Castra prætoriana.
Prætorium, tij, neu. gen. the hous or paviilion of hym that was Prætor. it is also a princes palace or manour, and a great and sumptuous hous builded in the cuntrye: it is sometyme the place, where iudgements are geuen: somtyme the countayle, wherunto Prætors are assembled.
Dimittere prætorium, to dissolue the counsaille of the Prætors.
Prætorius, a, um, belongng to the office of Prætor.
Prætorius vir, that hath bene Prætor.
Prætoria cohors, a companie or band of souldiours, that alwaie attended vpon the Prætor or Capitayne.
Naui prætoriana, the capitayne or admirall shyppe.
Prætoriana porta, the gate, by the which the Prætor ledde foorth his armie.
Prætorium ius, law made by the Prætor.
Prætoritius a, um, for Prætorius.
Prætorius, a, um, very crooked.
Prætrepidans, anis, om. g. soze as ferde.
Prætrunco, aui, are, idem quod Trunco, to cutte of.
Prætimidus, a, um, greatly swollen, or puffred by.
Prætura, f. g. the dignitie and ministracion of hym that is Prætor.
Prætorium, a, town in Italie.
Præualeo, præuales, ualui, lere, to pꝛeuaile, to be better of or moze value, to be moze woorthye.
Præualeco, lescere, idem.
Præualet, the impersonall.
Præualide, mightily, strongly.
Præualidus, a, um, very strong or mighty. some tyme

tyne very great, of great power.

Præuaticatio, ònis, f. gen. a collation: also it is wher one toucheth a thyng lightly, which ought to be inculked with a moze playne declaration, or els repeted, as makynge muche to the purpose. also the corruptyng of the accuser by the persone arraigned.

Præuaticor, aris, ari, to swaue from truthe, to go out of the ryght waie, to leaue vnfaied that, whiche shoulde be spoken, and moze earnestly declared, as effectually to the purpose, to touche a thyng shortly in speakhng, to worke by collusion, in sufferyng his aduersarie to obteyne to hurt an other persone, to make semblance to do a thyng, and do cleane contrary.

Præuicatori accusatori, id est, præuaticando subseruire, to pleade by collusion with the accuser.

Præuicator, ònis, m. gen. he that leaueth the right waie, or speaketh not that, whiche ought to be spoken: also he that in speakhng for hym selfe, alideth the cause of his aduersarie, or doeth any thing by collusion: an attourney, that maketh ptesence to defende a man, and betraileth his cause to his aduersarie: an accuser corrupted with money by the person accused.

Præuho, uxi, uhere, to bypnyng fyre, to carie before, to leade before.

Præuello, uulsi, uellere, to pull or plucke afoze.

Præuēlo, aui, are, to couer or hide afoze.

Præuēlox, hōis om. g. very swyfte.

Præuēnio, præuēnis, uēni, uenire, to come before or pteuent.

Præuentus, a, um, pteuented.

Præuentus, a, um, that whiche is doone or sped first or before any other.

Præuentum fulgur, lightnyng, whiche is not knownen, whether it be by daye or by nyght.

Præuerto, uerti, uertere, and Præuortor, the desponēt, to set moze by, or to care moze for. also to go before. also to be turned forthe or putte out, to geue moze diligence to one thyng then to an other: to doe a thyng first and before an other, that shoulde haue bene done after, to ouergo, to ouerrenne or see.

Curli pedom præuertere ventos, to be moze swyfte of foie then the wynde.

Fuga præuertere metum suppliciorum, to renne awaie before for feare of punishment.

Nec me vxorem præuortisse dicant, præ repub. and let them not saie, that I set moze by my wyfe, then by the weale publike.

Neg præripio pulpamentum, neg præuorto poculum, neither doe I snatche away the meate, nor take the cuppe before the.

Inde illico præuortor domum, from thens I went home afoze.

Foris enim clausit, ne præuortetur foras, he hath shutt fast the doze, lest he shulde be putt forthe of dozes.

Præuortu hoc certū est rebus aliis omnibus, surely this shall be done before any other thing, Si quid dictum est per iocum, non æquum est, id te serio præuortier, if any thyng be spoken in game, it is not reason to turne it to earnest.

Præuerti pigritia, to be takē or lett with slouth, Cause pigritia præuortier, beware that thou be not taken or lett with slouth.

Præuertere aliquem præ republica, to set moze by one then by the weale publike.

Præuerti rebus omnibus, to be moze sette by than any other thyng, or to bee first down.

Mandatis rebus præuerti volo, I will firste doe these thynges, which I am commaunded.

Nec aliam rem præuerti censebat, nor he wolde that any thyng shoulde be doone before that: or his mynde was, that nothyng shuld be done before that.

Præuertere animum alicuius, to obtaine ones fauour before an other man.

Illuc præuertimur, let vs first speake thereof, ere we come to the matter, or let vs turne to this parte firste.

Iusturandi religionem amori præuertere, to esteeme the othe moze then the loue.

Vt bellum præuerti sinerent, that they wolde suffer any thyng to be done before the warre.

Cæsar huic rei præuertendum ratus, Cæsar thynkynge it beste that this matter were pteuented.

Præuideo, præuides, uidi, uidere, to see before.

Præuincio, uinxi, uincire, to bynde before.

Præuicio, aui, are, to corrupt before.

Præuius, a, um, that goeth before, or leadeth the waie.

Præumbro, aui, are, to shadowe, to make obscure or darke.

Præuolo, præuolas, aui, are, to flee before.

Præustus, a, um, burned at the foze ende.

Præuro, uulsi, urere, to burne firste, or to burne muche, to burne the foze parte or pointe of a thyng.

Pragmatis, n. gen. in greke, is in latine negotiatio, an acte of busynesse. also an exercise of marchandise.

Pragmaticum, ci, neu. gene. any thyng done or wrought in the common weale.

Pragmaticus, ci, m. gen. a practiser in the lawe, one that was wont to stande by orators in pleadynge, to instructe them in termes and popnytes of the lawe.

Pragmatica sanctio, a determination of practisers of the lawe.

Prandeo, prandi, & pransus sum, prandere, to dine.

Prandiculum, li, n. g. a littell diner or bychekast.

Prandiolum, li, n. g. a littell diner.

Prandium, di, n. g. a diner.

Pransio, aui, are, to dine or eate often.

Prasum, called also Marthubium, the herbe named hozechound.

Prasor,

Prasor, òris, m. g. he that is at diner, or he that is bodden to diner.

Prasorius, a, um, of or pteinyng to diner.

Prasus, a, um, that hath dined.

Prasus, were taken not onely for them that had dined, but also for them that lacked nothyng.

Prasus, people of Indie.

Prasus, a, um, greene lyke leekes.

Prasum, called also Marthubium, the herbe named hozechounde.

Prasus, a greene stone.

Prasoides, a stone of the colour of leekes.

Prascurides, littell greene woozmes, which eate lecke blades, colewoozytes, and letuse.

Prasium, an herbe called hozechounde, reade Marthubium.

Prasus se, of the medowes.

Prasense fornum, medow hepe.

Prasulum, li, n. g. a littell medow.

Prasum, ti, n. g. a medow.

Prasus, the word, naughtily, unhappily, ouerthwartly.

Prasus facta, offences, naughtie deedes.

Prasus, atis, f. g. the wordnesse, unhappinesse, ouerthwartnesse, crookednesse.

Membrorum vel corporis prauitas, when any parte of the body is awry, crooked, or out of facion.

Prauitate oris alicuius imitari, to countresfaite the ill facion of a mannes mouth in pronunciation.

Prasus, a, um, crooked, the word, euell, naught.

Prasus homo, is taken of Seneca, for præs fractus, stubbourne, obstinate.

Rectum & prauum, contrarie.

Prasus, a, um, a noble man of pcesia.

Praxis, praxeos, f. g. action.

Praxiteles, an excellent caruer in stone.

Praxitelius, a, um, the adiectiue.

Præcarius, a, um, that whiche by pzaier, instance, and petition is graunted to one to vse, occupie or inioy, so longe as it doeth please the partie, that doeth lende it, and no longer.

Homo præcarius est spiritus, the tyfe of man doth continue at the pleasure of nature or destenie.

Mihi vel vi, vel clam, vel præcario fac iradas, see that thou get it me either by strength of handes, or els by pziue conuigiance and stelye, or els of lone for a littell whylle, and then to bee restored agayne.

Præcario, the ablatiue case used aduerbially, by desire at an other mans will.

Mori præstat, & præcario imperator esse, better it is to die, then to be a kynge or capitaine at the pleasure of other men, and no longer.

Quasi præcario regnari capis, he beganne to reigne at the will and pleasure of the people, and so longe as they wolde permit, and no longer.

Præcario cedere, to lende or graunte a thing till one shall require it agayne.

Præcario petere vel rogare, to desire to haue a thyng so longe as pleaseth the owner, and then to make surrender or deliuerie of it as gaine.

Præcatio, ònis, a desyring, a pzaing.

Præcator, òris, m. ge. one that intreatheth or maketh intercession for an other, a spohesman, a petitioner, an intercessour.

Precis, ci, cem, ce, a pzaier.

Nihil est preci loci relictum, pzaing mai haue no place, or it is past intreating.

Omnibus precibus aliquid petere, looke peto.

Addere precibus lachrymas, to beseeche or pzaie with teares.

Adduci precibus, to bee perswaded, to be induced.

Cedere precibus alicuius, to be overcome with ones intreate.

Dimittere se in preces humiles, to make humble intreatie.

Erubescere preces, when one is ashamed to make intreatie.

Despuere preces alicuius, to contemne ones pzaing or intreating.

Fatigare aliquem prece, to overcome and weary one with continuall pzaier.

Te oro nunc per preces, now I doe intreate you.

Cum magna prece scribere, to make great intreatie to one in a letter.

Præcor, aris, ari, to pzaie, to intreate.

Vultu præcari, to make signe and token with countenance, that it woulde haue a thing.

Mortem præcari, to desyre death, to wishe for death.

Bene, or bona præcari alicui, to wishe well to one, to desire god to sende one good fortune.

Male, and mala alicui præcari, to curse, to desyre god to sende one a mischicfe.

Præcari ab aliquo, passiuely.

Præhendo, prehendi, dere, or prendo per synecopen, to take.

Et manum prehendi, & osculum detuli tibi, I toke you by the hand, & also gaue you a kisse.

Præhendo hominem solum, I gette the man alone to common and talke with hym.

Præhensio, vel prensio, aui, are, to sollicite or labour men to geue their voyces to some man.

Prelum, li, n. g. a pzeffe.

Premo, prelsis, premere, to pzeffe, to pzeffe downe, to treade downe, sometime to vere, to greue, to be urgent or instant vpon, to dygge, to pzease on, to streigne, to thurst, to destroye, to be contrary or agaynst, to thurst downe, to constreigne, to restraine, to weigh downe, to pursue them that flee, to reppehnd and blame in woozdes, to shutte or close.

Premere dolorē, to hyde heauinesse or sorowe.

Premi alio corde dolorem, he hydde his sorowe in the fereete parte of his herte.

Presiq; oculos, ac vulnera laui, I closed his eyes and etes, and washed his woundes.

Premere, to cut away.

Et ruris opaci falce premeas vmbram, and with a sickle thou shalt cutte away the shadowe of the darke fieldes.

Veluti qui lentibus anguē pressit humi nitens, like as he which thrusting his foote to the ground, treadeth downe the snake, that lieth in the byem- bles.

Premere testimonio, to conuict a man by wit- nesse.

Arcte premere, to presse or streigne downe harde.

Premere, was vsed for Prohibere, and of Lato for vitare.

Præcipue autem prefferunt eum, qui videri au- corum imitatores volebant, they chiesely rated hym, or spake moste vehemently agaynst hym, whiche. &c.

Nihil magis pressi, quod. &c. I was not moze urgent or instant in any poynte, then. &c.

Fugient Grai, premeret Troiana iuuentus, Id est, insequeretur.

Pressa est insignis gloria facti, the authour of doer was not known.

Premere aliquid in annum non, to kepe a thing the space of .ix. yerres, before it come abrode.

Aer alieno premi, to bee ouercharged with debte.

Facta premunt annos, the deedes of actes be moze or greater, or weigh them downe.

Angustis premi, to be in a streite, to be kepte harde or thorte.

Tantum cortices Arabice glandis premunt, they doe onely bruiſe and presse out the iuice. &c.

Crimen eleuare & premere, contrary.

Doloribus premi, to be greued with sorow or weyne.

Faucibus premi, to be so harde layed vnto in read- song, that he can escape no waie.

Imperio ventos premere, to kepe vnder and res- traine the wyndes, to kepe in subiection.

Locus, qui ipetu hostium premebatur, & place which was moste fiercly assauted of the enemies.

Premi inopia, to be in great pouertee.

Premi odio, to be in great hatred & displeasure of men.

Pressit iras, he refrayned his anger.

Mammam premere, to sucke.

Necessitas te tanta premebat, thou wast in so great necessitie.

Vrbem obsidione premebat, he besieged the cy- tee very strictly.

Oppugnatione premere, to assaulte vehemently and fiercly.

Odiū premere, to hyde ones displeasure or grudge.

Onere premi, to be ouercharged or lobed.

Proposium premere, id est, non desistere ab incepto,

Vestigia premere, pro consistere, to stoppe for dayntie, also to folowe immediately.

Vocem premere, to hold ones peace, to kepe silence.

Fata me premunt, fate of disſente is agaynst me. Inuitam pressit ab ædibus, he thruste hir out of the house agaynst hir will.

Canitiem galea premimus, I couer my hope head with a bassnet.

Premi bello, to be combyed or ouerlaid with warre.

Hoc vno vitio maxime premi videntur, as mong many other thynges, me thyndeth this one fault doeth most charge or burden them.

Prepon, of the latines called Decorum.

Prendo, looke Prehendo.

Prensare, looke Prehensare.

Pressa porca, a swine, whiche was offered in sacrifice to Ceres, in satisfaction for a whole household: for as muche as a parte of that sac- rifice was made in the presence of the corpes, whiche than was to be buried.

Pressbyter, byteri, m. gen. an auncient or father in peres or dignitee, an elder. it is vsed for a pzeſſe.

Pressatus, a, um, oppressed, charged, troden downe, squished.

Pressa, in fewe woordes, briefly.

Pressio, aui, are, to presse or thurst together, to squite.

Pressare vbera, to milke.

Parce pressare, id est, vide ne premas.

Pressorius, a, um, any thyng that belongeth to pzeſſyng.

Pressus, a, um, subtile, compacte, heauy, pzeſſed. Sometyne & hath a marke printed or cyphred on.

Pressus & Redundans, contrarie.

Pressio gradu incedere, to go a rounde and ste- dy pace.

Pressus homo in explicanda re aliqua, thort, compendious, nothyng superfluous.

Ore pressio obmutuit, he helde his tongue and spake neuer a woorde.

Verba pressa, thorte, compacte.

Pressura, x, f. g. a pzeſſyng.

Pressus, us, m. g. pzeſſyng.

Prester, prestetis, m. ge. a benemous woorme, called also Diptas. also a kind of whyle wind.

Pretiose, pzeſſiōis, richely.

Pretiosior, pretiosius, moze pzeſſious or deere.

Pretiosus, a, um, pzeſſious, deere, of great estimas- tion, sumptuous.

Emptor pretiosus, he that geueth much for a thyng.

Pretium, tij, n. g. the price or value. also the res- warde. Sometyne perill or daungier.

Pretio emptas meo, bought with my perill or daungier.

Pretium ob stultitiam fero, I am well reward- ed for my folly, I am serued lyke a foole.

Hominē maximi pretij te iudicauit, I thought the a man woorthy to bee muche set by of esteem- med.

med.

Parui preth homo est, he is a man that is but littell woorthy, or littell to be set by, or esteemed.

Pretium facere alicui rei, id est, imponere, to set or make a price.

Prostare pretio, to lie abrode to be solde.

Corricis ad medicamenta pretium est, The rynde of barke is muche woorthy or esteemed in phisike.

Iacent pretia prædiorum, fermes be littell set by, or compted littell woorthy.

Nisi pretium foret nescere. &c. except it were a matter woorthy the mentioning to know. &c.

Pretium operæ, loke Operæpretium.

Priapeion, viola purpuria. Diost.

Pri, of olde tyme was vsed for Præ.

Primides, the sonne of nephew of Idamius.

Priamus, the noble kynge of Troie, whose histo- ric is notably known.

Priapismus, mi, m. ge. a sicknesse, wherein the priue membe of a man alwaie standeth, withs- out haupng any appetite to lecherie.

Priapus, an idole, vnto whom the paynyms com- mitted their gardenes to kepe. also a title of Hellespont.

Pridem, late, sometyne long agone.

Non ita pridem, not long before that tyme.

Pridianus, a, um, that whiche is done the daye before.

Pridiani cibi, meates dyessed the daie before.

Pridie, on the daie before.

Vig. a. j. pridie calendæ, vntill the daie before the calendes.

Pridie citius diei venit, he came the daie before.

Priena, a cite of Honia.

Primæus, a, um, the elder.

Primæus, ni, m. g. the tribune that assigned tris- bute to the firste legion.

Primarius, a, um, chiefe.

Primarius lapis, the stone that is firste lated in the foundation.

Primarius vir, the chiefe man in the citee.

Adolescens primarius, an excellent yong man.

Primas, atis, m. gen. chiefe in authoritee among the peopple.

Primæ, the chiefe pzeſſes, loke Primus, a, um.

Cui primæ sine controuersia deferrebantur, to whom without controuersie the chiefe laude and prayse was geuen.

Primatus, us, m. g. the chiefe authoritee.

Primatum dare alicui rei, to esteeme a thyng moze then any other.

Primetium, tij, neu. gene. sacrifice of the eares of coyne, whiche were first gathered after they were reaped.

Primicerius, tij, masc. ge. a yntres chiefe secre- tarye. also the chiefe of any other authoritie or dignitee.

Primigenius, a, um, that cometh naturally of it selfe, and is vnmixte, that hath not the begin- nyng of an other,

Primigenia, the title of the eldest childe in inher- itance.

Primigenus, a, um, first bozne or growen.

Primipara, x, f. g. she that hath hir first child.

Primipes, he that in battaile fighteth first with a swoorde, and after changinge his fourme of fightyng, vseth a saucyn or darte.

Primipilaris, ris, is he that fighteth nexte to the standarde. it is most ppropely the capitaine of a companie in the forwarde.

Primipilus, li, m. g. a capitayne of a companie in the forwarde or vanguard, whiche had vnder hym. 400. souldiours.

Primitæ, & primitus, firste.

Primitia, arum, form. ge. plu. the first frutes, whiche be offered to god.

Primitus, a, um, the first or formoste.

Primitius, a, um, that whiche hath none other beginnyng.

Primo, an aduerbe, significth firste, at the firste syght.

Primodium, for Primo.

Primogenia verba, woordes, whiche be not der- rived from any other.

Primogenitus, a, um, firste begotten, although none be gotten after.

Primordium, di, n. g. the first beginnyng.

Primoris, gen. sin. plur. Primores, morum, the firste, the chiefe.

Primores viri aut feminae, noble men or wo- men, or gentlmen or gentlwomen.

Digitulis primoribus, with the fingers toppes, or endes.

Labris primoribus, with the fore parte of the lippes.

Primoribus labris gustare, to touch a thyng scantly, to smatter of a thing, and not to know it substantially or perfectly, to haue a superficiall all knowlage.

Primulus, the diminutiue of Primus.

Primulum, forthwith, firste.

Primum, an aduerbe, whiche significth firste, ere- uer, at the beginnyng, firste and formost, for the firste poynte.

Vt primum, as sone as.

Vt primum illam vidi, nunq̃ vidi postea, I neuer sawe hir but once: or I neuer sawe hir sens I saw hir firste.

Primus, a, um, firste, beste, the chiefe, the moste excellent and principall.

Primo quoque tempore, at the firste tyme, as sone as any occasion, tyme, or oportunitie shall be geuen.

Prima quaq̃ occasione, at the firste occasion that shall happen.

Primas tenere, vel ferre, to haue the prehemis- nence, to be chiefe, to holde the better part, to haue the soueraintie, to beare the bell.

Primas dare, to esteeme aboue other, to geue the soueraintie.

Primam mammam dedit hæc, this woman gaue gaue hym first luche.

Hoc ego vel primum puto, this do I thinke to be the first principall and chiefe of all.

Primam dices scio, si uideris, I know well thou wilt saie, there is none to be compared to hir, if thou didst once see hir.

Sum apud te primus, you loue me beste of all men: or no man is in so great fauour, truste or credite with you as I am.

Qui esse primos se omnium rerum uolunt, whiche wolde haue pzeheinance aboue all of ther: or whiche desyre to be highest of all and be moste had in honour: or that wolde rule the roste, or bee the rigne leaders in all thyng.

Primo mane, prima luce, primo diluculo, in the dawning of spyng of the day, pearly in the mornynge.

Prima fronte, primo aspectu, prima specie, at the first sight.

Laus prima illis est, they are most esteemed, pzepted or set by.

Prima, in the plurall nombze, for Principia, the begynnyng.

Si prima satis prospera fuissent, if he had had good prosperitee, or good successe at the beginsynge.

Primo accessu, incontinente at his firste comynge.

Aestas prima incaperat, summer was nowe begunne.

Labris primis gustare, idē quod primoribus. Quae tu putaris prima, that you haue thought chiefe, best, and principall.

Primis tenebris, id est, cepta nocte, in the begynnyng of the night, in the euening.

Uespera prima, by and by as soone as the euening came.

A primo, for Ab initio.

A primo homo insanibat, at the begynnyng the man was veray sicke, woode, or stark madde.

In primis, chiefly, specially.

Prinula ueris, some suppose it to be daises. Rustellius supposeth it to be a kynde of Verbalis cum.

Principes, cipis, com. g. a prince or pzeince, a gouernour, a chiefe head of rular, he or she that hath the souerainie or dominion, a noble man or woman, a chiefe man in a citee or countrey. also the firste or chiefe.

Princeps praelium inibat, id est, primus, he firste beganne the bataille.

Postremus and Princeps, contrary.

Princeps esse ad pericula, to be the first or firste moste in al perils and dangerous aduentures.

Principes, is sometyne the order among the capitaynes, or leaders in the bawarde, or rather among the moste experte and strongest souldiours, called of the romaines Principes.

Octauum principem duxit, id est, octauum ordinem inter principes.

Princeps legis agrariae, id est, 'author, the chiefe doer, or first beginner.

Princeps sermonis ordiendi fuit, he was the firste beginner of this communication or tras songe.

Princeps, is used adiectually.

Principem locum inter grammaticos tenuit, he was chiefe of principall amonge the grammarians.

Dies imperij princeps, the firste daie of his empire or reigne.

Princeps mensis, Ianuarie.

Principem habuimus Pansam, we had Pansa our chiefe fauourer and helper.

Principalis, le, principall. also pteinyng to a prince, that belongeth to the firste or chiefe.

Principaliter, principally, lyke a prince, as it becometh a prince.

Principalis, us, mas. ge. the souerainie or lordship, domination, the principallitee or seignorie. Dare principatum alicui rei, to esteeme a thing more than any other, to geue the pzeche and pzeice to any thyng.

Ferre principatum alicuius belli, to be foueraine capitaine of any warre.

Ut quisque aetate antecellit, ita sententia principatum tenet, euerp man accordyng to his age pzeonounceth his sentence, or saith his opinio on.

Principatu Claudii, in the tyme while Claudius was emperour.

Principatum dare homini, to pzeise a man as boue all other. also to attribute to hym the fouerainie or dominion.

Tenere principatum alicuius rei, to bee the principall or chiefe doer in any matier.

Penes ipsum est principatus, he hath the chiefe parte.

Principio, an aduerbe, firste, or at the begynnyng, first and foremost.

Principio atque, id est, quum Primum, vel statim postquam.

Principia, orum, n. g. plu. the place in a campe, where as are pight the pavilions of the head capitaine: but the more propre signification therof is, that it is the seconde warde in bataille, where in olde tyme were the princes and noble men, or the chiefe and principall souldiours. Also it was taken for the order or rale of noble men, or of the moste experte and principall souldiours, whose bandes is also called Principes.

Esse post principia, to stande in the rale beynde the chiefe and principall souldiours out of danger.

Principium, pii, neu. ge. the begynnyng, an entrance, a pzeheme, the fountayne, the well springe, the chiefe originall of any thyng.

Bene habent tibi principia, thou hast good fortune of successe at the begynnyng.

Prior, prius, the firste, the foremost.

Prior

Priora tempora, the olde tyme.

Priora libro, id est, pzeedente.

Piores nostri, id est, maiores.

Prius, aduerbium, after the maner of olde tyme, or of tyme past.

Prius, a notable grammarian.

Prius, the name of diuers men.

Prius, a, um, auncient or of the olde tyme.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

Prius, a, um, that is certayne peres monethes or daies passed, within the tyme that we were remembre. also firste.

not slepe.

Prius, an aduerbe, significth before, more excellent.

Nihil prius, there is nothyng better or more excellent.

Prius tua opinione hic adero, I will be here sooner then ye thinke for.

Prius or to sole, before the sonne risynge.

Prius, before a nat.

Prius, a, um, priate, singlar, euerp mans owne or propre, also for Singulas, euerp one by hym selfe.

Ut prius lapides secum ferrent, that euerp one shulde beare a stone with hym.

Pro, for, before, because, also in, in the steede or place, as, as it were, also after or accordyng.

Pro rostris, at the barre or place of pleadyng.

Pro tribunali, in the place of iudgement, before the iudge.

Pro Platonis sententia, accordyng to the sentence of Plato.

Pro opere, in the woork.

Pro merito, accordyng to his deservynge.

Pro curia, before the court.

Pro virili, to my power.

Pro comperto, for a suretie.

Pro explorato, idem.

Pro indulto, without diuision.

Pro nihilo ducere, to set naught by.

Pro ridiculo putare aliquem, to laugh at one and make hym a foole, to repute one as a laughing stocke.

Nemo satis pro merito gratiam regi refert, no man doeth requite the king accordyng to his merite.

Pro opibus nostris, according to our power.

Pro mea consuetudine, accordyng to my custome.

Pro spe nihil contigit, nothyng happened accordyng as men hoped: or it happened nothyng, as we hoped that it wolde.

Pro virili parte, to my power, or his power.

Pro rata parte, accordyng to his rate or portion.

Consilium pro tempore & pro re capere, to take counsaile accordyng as the tyme and matier requirerth.

Pro horum temporum perturbatione, conspexerunt the troublous state of this tyme.

Pro mea auctoritate videor posse, me thinkerth that I maye doe it by myne office or authorite that I am in.

Pro re nata, accordyng to this present case, or as the present case requirerth.

Pro meo ture dico, I tell you frankly.

Pro me iure, by myne auctorite.

Pro suo iure agere omnia, To doe all thynges at his owne pleasure, or by his owne authorite.

Pro cetera tua diligentia admones me, accordyng to the diligence that you haue used afore tyme.

epme, or as you haue ben diligent afore tyme alwaie, so you are now to warne me, or put me in mynde. &c.
 Excubare pro templis, to watch in the temple or church.
 Laudare pro concione, prepsed before all the people, or at a great assembly.
 Pro suggestu, in the pulpitte.
 Pro aede iouis, before the temple of Jupiter.
 Pro se quisq, euerp man to his power.
 Pro testimonio dicere, to beare witnesse.
 Maior quam pro numero hominum additur pugna, the battaile was greater then one wolde haue thought shoulde haue ben of that numbre of persones.
 Pro eo ac debui grauitate molestie tui, I toke it greuoufely euen as I had cause, or as my queztie and parte was.
 Gerere se prociue, to vse hym selfe as he were a citiezin.
 Pro derelicto aliquid habere, to forsake a thing, to esteeme it nothing.
 Vnus Cato mihi est pro centum millibus, onely Cato is to me as it were a hundred thousande.
 Verbum pro verbo reddere, to translate worde for worde.
 Pro mea parte adiui, I dyd helpe hym as muche as I coulde.
 Pro ignoto aspernari, to contemne a man as it were one that he neuer knewe before.
 Amaui pro meo, I loued hym as it had ben myne owne sonne.
 Pro certo est, it is for certayne, it is for a suretie.
 Pro delictis crudelitas illi fuit, he toke pleasure or delict in his crueltie.
 Pro damnato esse, to be as a person condemned.
 Pro parente colere, to haue in as great reuerence as though he were his father.
 Pro rupto fœdus habebant, they reputed the league to be broken.
 Pro opinione vulgi, after the opinion of the common people.
 Hæc pro amore mutuo scripti, these thinges I haue writen for the mutuall loue that is betwene vs.
 Duo talenta pro re nostra decreui esse satis, I haue determined, that one. &c. it is enough for one of my substance.
 Pro meo iure imperitabam, I did commaunde you on the vertue of mine authoritee.
 Non necesse habeo, omnia pro meo iure agere, I neede not to doo all thynges so rigorously and extremely, as I maie do them.
 Satis pro imperio quisquis es, impertoufely spoken who so euer thou be.
 Pro agricola, for the plough mans profite.
 Si modo id pro me erat, if so bee that made for my parte, or were profitable for me.
 Pro eo acti confessum sit, euen as though it were confessed.

Pro eo est acti adhibitus non esset, it is euen as though he had not ben taken for any of the.
 Pro aliquo stare, to defende one, to speake in his parte.
 Pro, an interiection of indignation, and is tolged sometyne to an accusatiue, sometyne to a vocatiue.
 Pro sancte Jupiter, O blessed Jupiter.
 Pro deum atque hominum fidem, O the faith of god and man.
 Proædifico, aui, are, to build forthe.
 Proædificatum, that is builded further then a mannes owne grounde vpon the henges high wage.
 Proagogium, gij, n. ge. aduouerie, hoopedome, baudes crasse.
 Proastia, pleasant places in the countrey, which a man hepeth rather for pleasure then profite.
 Proauthor, oris, m. gen. the chiefe authour of beginner.
 Proauus, ui, m. g. a great grandfather.
 Proauia, æ, f. g. a great grand dame.
 Probabilis, le, g. probable. also that is to be allowed or liked.
 Probabiliter, probably.
 Illa cur eueniant, quis probabiliter dixerit, how those thynges maie come to passe, who can tell any reasonable cause.
 Probabilitas, atis, f. g. an apparance of trouth, probabilitye.
 Probatica piscina, a ponde, where sheepe were washed when they shoulde be sacrificid.
 Probatio, oris, f. g. a proue.
 Probatio futura est tua, it is thy parte to see the thyng done, and to allow it.
 Probator, oris, m. g. a prouer.
 Probatus, a, um, p. p. tried, allowed.
 Probe, honestely, well, wisely, toygned with a noun adiectiue, it signifieth Valde.
 Probe apponit, that hath well dunkte.
 Curasti probe, thou hast handled the matter well: or thou hast ben diligent in the matter.
 Habeo pro illa re illum quod moneam probe, I knowe what to tell hym in his care for that well enough.
 Percutere probe, to strike harde.
 Probe, it is well done or said of the.
 Probe memini, I remembre very well.
 Probissimus, the superlatiue.
 Probitas, atis, f. g. honestie, goodnesse.
 Probitus, used of olde writers for Probe.
 Problema, blematis, n. ge. a sentence proposed, haupge a demaunde thereto annexed.
 Probo, aui, are, to proue, to praise, to approue, to assure, to shewe by reason or exaple that a thyng is good, to perswade one, to approue a thyng as good, honest, and standyng with reason.
 Probare se, to declare him selfe an honest man.
 Tuo ex ingenio alienos mores probas, thou esteemest other men to be lyke the, or to be as soydyng to thy condicions.

Non

Non vereor, ne hoc officium meum iudici non probem, I feare not, but that I am able to perswade the iudge, that this friendly seruice of myne is honest and good.
 Mihi neuq, probari potuit, I coulde not bee perswaded to thinke that it was honest.
 Laudare, & probare.
 Probare aliquid in aliquo, to allowe or approue a thyng in one.
 Quæ non probantur in vulgus, whiche the common people dooe not approue or allowe.
 Probare diligentia suam in re aliqua, to shewe in any matter that he is diligent.
 Facile vi pro euncho probes, that ye may easily feigne and make men beleue that you are an eunuche.
 Nemini probatur, none dooeth prayse or allow it.
 Amicos probato, proue and assay thy frendes.
 Probare causam suā alteri, to proue his cause good before one.
 Proboscis, boscidis, f. g. a longe snoute, as an Elephant or swyne hath.
 Probro, aui, are, to repproche or rebuke.
 Probror, a, um, repprochfull.
 Probrum, bri, n. g. a repprochfull acte, as hoopedome, aduouerie, billaine. Also a repproche or rebuke, an infamie, dishoneste.
 Epistole plene probrorum, letters full of repprochfull wordes.
 Probra ingerere, intendere, iacere, iactare, dicere alicui, or in aliquem, to speake repprochfull wordes or rayle agaynst one.
 Insimulare probri mulierem, to accuse a woman of aduouerie.
 Magno tibi probro futurum est, it will bee great repproche or dishonour to you.
 Probus, a, um, good, honeste.
 Probus Beritius, a grammarian.
 Proca, æ, f. g. a faune, a ponge doe.
 Procius, atis, f. g. unlesperence, or wantonnesse in aspyng or crauyng, saucynesse.
 Prociiter, malapertely, wantonly, without shame, without grace, saucily.
 Procampion, idem quod Abrotonum. Diole.
 Procaps, a progenie, which cometh of one head.
 Procax, acis, om. g. malaperte in aspyng or despyng, shamelesse, wanton in crauyng, alway crauyng, yll tounge.
 Procalo, aui, are, to call one to.
 Procedo, celsi, cedere, to goe or walke forth, to proceed, to prospere, to goe out of the house wth a great pompe or solenne companie or trayne.
 Procedere in hac, come thou hysiter.
 Procedere obuiam, to goe to meete with one.
 Procedite in medium, goe forth.
 Procedere in philosophia, to profite in philosophye.
 Processit ætate, he became or waxed olde.
 Processit eo insolentia, he waxed so arrogāt and proude.

Eo ira processit, the anger so increased, or they waxed so angrye.
 Toridem dies procedent emptori, the byer shall haue so many daies profite.
 Nihil procedit, the thyng goeth nothing forwarde, or prospereth nothing.
 Aliquantum via processero, I shall be somewhat forwarde on my way or iourney.
 Obuiam morti procedere, when death appoacheth to profe our selues and shewe that we be willing to die.
 In multum vini processerat, he had dunkte somewhat to muche.
 In pedes procedere nascentem, to be bozne in to the worlde with the feete forwarde.
 Processit aliquantum ad virtutis aditum, he somewhat prospered in the studie of vertue.
 In virtute procedere, to increase in vertue.
 Ad opes procedere, to wate riches.
 Longe honoribus processisset, he had come to higher authoritee or dignitee. &c.
 Cum ea voluntate processit, he came forth hauyng this will or intent.
 Processit e castris, he departed out of the campe.
 Procedere ad opus, to go about his busines or worke.
 In publicum procedere, to come abroad to shew hym selfe.
 Procedunt in sublime vites, vines growe by a great heygth.
 Vsq, ad adolescentiam meam processit ætate, he liued vntill the tyme that I was a yong man, or he was alyue when I was a yong man.
 Num quid ad forum processit hodie noui? was there any newes to daie abroad.
 Tempus processit, the tyme passed on.
 Procecidit lepidè ex sententia, it prospereth or goeth forwarde pleasantly euen as we wolde haue it. Primo parum processit, it wente shewly forwarde at the first.
 Procedens, entis, procedyng, that poredeth or goeth forth. Die procedente, the daie passyng on. Tempore procedente, in proesse of tyme.
 Proceumaticus, a note in metter, consistyng of foure mozt syllables.
 Procella, læ, f. g. a great tempest of wynde, specially on the sea, and by translation, a trouble or ruffling in a common weale.
 Procello, procelli, lere, to strike, to turne byset downe.
 Procellus, a, um, stormie, tempestuous.
 Próceres, procerum, plurali. nu. the heades or endes of the beames in building, that lie with out the wall: and by translation the head men of a towne, gouernours, rulers.
 Próceres gula, deinty mouthed felowes, that set all theyr delite on delicate feedyng.
 Procerem, is read in Juuenall.
 Procere, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth longe or lengthe.

Proceritas, ātis, f. g. lengthe, tallnesse, height.
Proceritus, a, um, incensed or prouoked with an ill spirit, wadded or woode.
Proceritilapides, vengeable.
Procerus, a, um, longe, tall, high.
Procerissimus, in Plinie.
Procer, for prouocer, let hym prouoke, let hym appeale.
Processus, us, m. g. proesse of successe.
 Habere processum in literis, to haue profited well in learning.
Procestrium, strij, n. g. an open place or galerie to goe from one chambze to an other: also the ouermoste parte of the walles within the imbastilmentes, where men maie go: some doe call it a trench before the campe, in the defence ther-of from artillery.
Procheton, the herbe Tusilago.
Prochirus, ri, m. g. a clerke, scribe, or notarie, that hath a quicke hande.
Prochyta, re, or Prochyte, tes, an ile in the sea, in the goulfe of robe of Duceolis, a citee in Campania, also a certayne vessel.
Procidencia, a, f. g. whan any thyng falleth out of his place.
Procidencia ani, whan the humme of the sundament appereth out.
Procidere, cidi, dere, to fall downe prostrate.
 Ad pedes alicuius procidere, to fall downe at ones feete.
Prociduus, a, um, that falleth downe or out of his place.
Procieo, ciui, ciere, to prouoke or call from farre of, to desire, to aske.
Prociulus, a grammation.
Prociulus, us, m. ge. the prouision before that any thyng is doen. also the state of an armie, whan they be readie to geue battaile.
 In prociutu facere, to doe a thyng readilie and promptly.
 In prociutu stare, to be in a readinesse.
 In prociutu habere, to haue in a readinesse.
Prociutus, a, um, redy, prepared, in a readines.
Prociuta classis, a naue of shippes prepared ready to fyght.
Procingo, xi, gere, to prepare, to make ready.
Procio, ciui, cire, to bryake of, to make vayne and of none effecte.
Procio, aui, are, to prouoke.
Prociutus, a, um, made voyde and of none effecte.
Proclamator, oris, m. g. a crier.
Proclamo, aui, are, to crie out, to proclayne.
Proclinatio, oris, f. g. a declininge or bendinge downewarde.
Proclino, aui, are, idem quod Inclino.
Procliuis, ue, redy to fall, inclined. also redy or easie to be doen. Ingenium procliue, a nature inclined or bent to a thyng.
Procliue dictu est, it is an easie thyng to say.
Procliuiosiores alij ad alios morbos sunt, some are moze inclined or subject to certayne diseases than other be.

 Id faciam in procliui quod est, I will do that that is easie to be doen: or that may sone be done.
Procliuitas, ātis, f. g. inclination or disposition to any thyng, facilitie.
Procliuter, easily, redily.
Proclus, a noble philosopher of Platos secte.
Proco, aui, are, to desire, to demaunde. and therefore woovers be called Proci. to aske malepersly. also to dally with wanton langage, to eie or beholde a woman wantonly.
Proconon, oris, m. g. a porche or entree before one come into a chambze.
Proconion, both made of new barley.
Proconneus, an yle in Propontis.
Proconsul, lis, m. g. he that was sent with an extraordinarie power of Consull into a prouince of the Romanes.
Proconsularis, re, pertaining to the Proconsull.
Proconsulatus, us, m. g. the dignite of hym that was in the consules seede.
Procopius, a learned man bozne in Cæsaria, als so a tyran of Constantinople, that rebelled as gainst Valerius the emperour.
Procrastinatio, oris, f. g. a delate, a delaying of from daie to daie.
Procrastino, aui, are, to prolonge the tyme, to deferre, to make delate, to dyue of from daie to daie.
Procreatio, oris, f. g. an ingendyinge of begettyng of children.
Procreator, oris, m. g. one that ingendryth or begetteth.
Procreatrix, tris, f. g. a mother, a damme.
Procreatus, a, um, begotten, ingendryed.
Procreo, aui, are, to beget children, to ingendrye.
Procreare alicui periculum, to put one in dauns-ger, to bryng one in perill, to procure ones destruction.
Procreresco, creui, crescere, to growe by.
Procris, the daughter of Aphyu, and wyfe of Cesphalus.
Prociutor, oris, m. g. he that kepeth watche and warde without the campe.
Prociubo, aui, are, to wathe.
Prociudo, cudi, dere, to strike or beate a thyng to make it lesse or thinner.
Prociudere dolos, to inuent deceites and gyles.
Prociudere linguam, to frame or fashion the tongue to speake.
Procul, an aduerbe, farre of, from farre.
 Cuius vox auribus sonat procul? Whose voyce doe I here a farre of?
 Procul errant, they are farre out of the way,
 they be greatly deuiated.
 A me culpam hanc esse procul, that I am not thyng gyltye in this matter.
 Quis tam procul a literis? quin. &c. who is so vterly vnlearned, but that. &c.
De procul, a farre of.
Procul, is sometime a preposition, and serueth eyther

either to an accusatiue, or an ablatiue case.
 Nec procul exde aberant, They were almost naue.
Procul muro, farre of from the wall.
Procul dubio, surely, without doubt, without question.
 Illud procul vero est, that is farre from the truth, or vtraiue false.
Procul vibem, farre from the citee.
Procul muros, farre from the walles.
Proculco, aui, are, to recade downe, to go byon.
Proculcio, ere, to extend, to promple.
Proculcius, a gentleman of Rome, veraiue familiar with Augustus.
Proculiant, olde wyters used for Promisunt,
 they promple.
Proculus, li, m. g. he that is bozne whan his fas-ther is farre out of the countrey: or after some, whan his father is veraiue olde.
Procumbo, cubui, cumber, to lie flatte or prostrate, to come narowe together. sometye to bende downe towards the ground, as the tops of some herbes dooe.
Procumbe genibus, ad genua, & ad pedes,
 to fall downe prostrate at ones feete.
Testa super habuantes procumbant, the housses fall downe upon them that dwell in the.
Procuratio, oris, f. g. ministracion of thinges concerning an other man. also purgynge or pleasynge of god by sacrifice.
Negocij publici procuratio, the charge, minis-tracion, and doyng of a matter concerning the common weale.
Procurator, oris, m. g. a proctour, or factour, a solicitor.
Procuratrix, tris, the feminine.
Procuratorius, a, um, pertaining to a proctour, factour, or solicitor.
Prociuo, aui, are, to doe or sollicite an other mans businesse, to haue the charge of an other mans businesse. also to purge by sacrifice, to inte: the diligent, to helpe, to keepe or succoure. some-tyme for Curare, to take heede of a thyng.
Procurare prouinciam, to gouerne and rule the countrey.
Procurare prodigia, To vse certayne ceremonies and sacrifice, to the entent that thynges monstrous shoulde not take any ill effecte.
Corpora procurare, to cherishe and refrethe their bodies.
Procurare arbores, To housbande and keepe trees, that they maie growe and prospere.
Procurrens, entis, rennyng out, extendynge out in length.
Procurro, curri, currere, to ren forth or beyonde.
 Procurere in vias, to ren forth into by stetes.
Procuratio, oris, a rennyng out to shurmishe or fyght.
Procurio, oris, f. g. a rennyng out. also a dis-gression, a course.
Procurio, aui, are, to ren out often to shurmishe or fyght, to renne out vpon the enemies.

Procurius, us, m. g. a course or rennyng out of soundours to shurmishe or fyght with their enemies.
Procurius, a, um, veraiue croked.
Procuratores, foreriders in battaile.
Procius, i, m. g. a wower to haue a woman in marriage, but most properly where there be. u. whis-che wower euerie one for hym selfe.
Proci Penelopes, a name giuen to them whis-che in wanton pastymes dooe consume bothe their owne gooddes and also others, whom they haunt vnto.
Prociutes, a notable robber of Antica, slayne by Hercules.
Prociyon, a sterre called the dogge sterre, whiche appeareth in the canicular daies.
Prodeambulo, aui, are, to walke forth, to walke
 abroade.
Prodeo, iui, vel, dii, ire, to goe forth or out of an house, to come before one.
Prodire in aciem, to set them selfe in arais of battaile and marche forth to fight with their enemies.
Prodire obuium, to go against one, or to goe to mete one whiche is comyn.
Prodire in publicum, to goe or come abrode to be sene, to goe abrode in the streets.
Ad me prodeunt, they come forth a dozes to me. Exia modum prodire, to passe measure.
In conspectum alicuius prodire, to come in ones sight.
Prodire, the impersonall.
Pro dico, dixi, dicere, to speake more, to prate.
 Quamobrem excuramus omnes istorum destinus, omnes inquit, si prodixerint, wherfore we will set forth all these mens pleasures and phantasies, if they will prate any moze.
Prodictator, oris, m. g. he that extraordinaryly is ordeined dictator, for some sodein necessitee or perill.
Prodicus, a rhetorician, Thracianes master.
 also a sophister.
Prodigaliter, monstrously, out of all course.
Prodigiöse, monstrously, straungely, contrary to all naturall course.
Prodige, expressly, outragiously, prodigally,
 wastfully.
Prodigialis, le, that which pertaineth to the procurynge of strange tokens or signes.
Prodigiator, oris, m. gene he that by straunge signes or tokens telleth before what shall afterwarde happen.
Prodigiösus, a, um, that whiche maketh strang signes or tokens. also that is monstrous or contrary to the common course of nature.
Prodigiösa pretia, unreasonable prices.
Prodigiösus, ātis, and Prodigennus, a, f. g. pro-digalite, immoderate spendynge.
Prodigium, i, neu. gen. a thyng seldom scene, whiche signifyeth that some thyng shall happen verie good or ill. As blaspheming scerres, fynes or fignes in the firmament, thynges monstrous or against nature.

Prodigio finile, a monstrous thyng, a wond-erfull matter.

Prodigo, dégi, digere, to letthe out money in vaine, or in thynges not necessarie, to consume or spende riottously, also to dnye farre of.

Cum maribus in pabulum prodigunt, they dnye them forth with their dammes to pasture or feeding.

Prodigus, a, um, prodigall, wastfull, an outrasgiouse spender, riottous, sometime it is used for liberall.

Prodigia hostia, sacrifices that be consumed.

Animæ prodigus, he þ passeth not for his life.

Prodimentum, n, n. g. a treason or betraying.

Produnt, used of Ennius, to issue or come forth.

Proditio, ónis, treason, discipynge, betraying.

Proditor, óris, m. gen. a traitour, one that bet-rayeth.

Proditus, a, um, betrayed, bewrayed, discied, deceivd, also utterd, declared.

Dies prodita, id est, adita.

Prodius, further in.

Prodo, didi, dere, to put of or dnye of or from,
to cast farre of, to shewe, to disclose, to appea-che, to accuse, to bewraie, to utter, to discie, to betraie, also to name, to decyue, to forsake one in his neede, to leaue without succour or helpe, to prolonge, to deferre, to delaye, to yelde geue or rendre vp into ones handes, to write, to put in writing.

Tibi nos prodimus ac confitemur cistellam habere, thus we saie and confesse vnto you, that we haue the casket.

Prodere confcios, to appche, discie, and bewraie his felowes.

Prodere dogma, to disclose the secretes.

Prodidiſti & te, & illam miseram & gnatum, thou hast deceivd and betrayed thy selfe, and also the poore woman and thy sonne.

Antequam arcem proderent hostibus, before that they had rendered vp the castell to their enemies.

Prodere posteris, to lene to the memoie of them that come after vs.

Prodere patriam, to betraie his own countrey.

Prodere exemplum, to punyſhe men to the example of other, also to shewe and geue an example to other.

Prodere fidem, to falsifie his faith, to doe cō-trarie to his alegiance, or his solemne promise.

Prodere legem, to frustrate the entent of the lawe, as whan one taketh vpon him to accuse a misdower, and doeth not pursue it.

Prodere officium, to be contrarie to his duty or not to dooe his dutie.

Prodere gloriam & laudem posteris, to leaue after him example of praise and renoume.

Prodere vitam, to put his life in jeopardy.

Prodere interregem, to name hym that shall occupie the roume of a kynge or ruler whyle an other be chosen.

Proderit memoria, it is written.

Vt quidam poëta prodiderunt, as some poëtes haue written.

Vt aliquot saltem nuptiis prodar dies, that he will at the least wyse prolonge or delaye the marriage, for two or thre daies.

Ad memoriam posteritatem prodendam, id est, propagandam.

Caput & salutem alicuius prodere, for money to betraie one and put his life in jeopardy.

Prodere imitationem exempli, To shewe or geue an exemple for other to folowe.

Prodere memoriam alicuius facti, to cause an acte to be remembred.

Prodas primum pecuniam omnem, & abs te amittas filium, depart rather with all the money that thou hast, &c.

Prodere literis, monumentis, & prodere memoria, to put in writing.

Fama prodidit, it was a saying or rumour.

Prodrumus, i, m. ge. he that renneth before as a lackey, or he that byngeth tidings of ones comynge.

Prodrumi, be also scerres in heauen, whiche doe rise in the noythe east. but daies before the canicular daies.

Ficus prodromi, figges that bee ripe before the other.

Produco, duxi, cere, to prolonge, to drawe in lengthe, to stretche out, to bynge forth, to co-sume or spende, to set forth to hye, or to bynge forth to be sold, to folowe.

Conuiuium ad multam noctem vario sermo-ne producimus, with talkynge of diuers matters, we prolonged the supper, vntill it was late in the nyght.

Paulatim hunc diem producam, I will passe forth this daie by litle and littell.

Vt huic malo aliquam producam moram, that I maye finde some meane to deferre or delaye this mischiefe.

Noctem producere vino, to passe the nyght in byngynge and quaffynge.

Pelles dentibus producere, to drawe or stretch the out thynges with ones teeth.

Vitam producere, to prolonge the lyfe.

Quos ante ades huc produci iussi, whiche I comanded to be brought hither before the doore.

Authorem vel testem producere, To cite or bynge forth an authour or witnesse.

Producere aliquem, to dnye of one with word-des and promises, also for Promouere, to promote or aduance one.

Falsa spe producis, thou leadest or feedest me forth with a vaine hope, thou byngest me in a foles paradise.

Producere aliquem ad aliquid, pro inducere.

Proo

Producere filios, to bynge forth children.

Filiam producere, id est, Prostruere, to see baude to ones owne daughter.

Producere scelus, to commit a naughtie act.

Producte, an aduerbe, signifieth longe.

Producte dicitur, it is pronounced longe.

Productilis, le, that whiche is made out at length with beating.

Productio, ónis, f. g. the makinge of a thyng
longe.

Productus, a, um, made longe, or set out at length,
also brought or put out.

Flagellum vitis productissimum, a beate longe steepe or branche of a vine.

Præus, a kynge of Argues, the son of Abas.

Profanatio, ónis, f. g. the makinge of a thyng profane that was halowed, profanation.

Profanatus, a, um, suspended, unhalowed, profaned.

Profanatum templum, the churche suspended,
where any horrible crime is therein committed.

Profano, aui, are, to conuerſe thynges beyng halowed, to a temporall vse.

Profanum facere, idem.

Profanus, a, u, that whiche is not halowed, tem-porall, a man buteard, and that doctly hate learned men, a lay man, also vngodly, wicked, not consecrated or geuen to God: also that whiche is ioygned or annexed to the temple.

Profaris, vel profare, fatur, fari, to propheticke, to pronounce, to speake abroade, to tell thynges to come.

Profatus, us, a pronouncynge or speakinge.

Profectio, ónis, f. g. a passage or settinge forth towards, a voyage, a departinge from the place where a man is, a goynge forth.

Profectus, a, um, an adiectiue.

Dos profectitia, dower that a woman hath bespdes hir owne parentes.

Profecto, in vber deder, forth, truly, doubtles.

Profectus, us, m. ge. proficite that one taketh in or
of any thyng.

Profectum facere, to profite or goe forwarde, propely in study or learning.

Profero, tuli, ferre, to bynge forth, to shewe forth, to take out, to pronounce, to speake, to tell abroade, to disclose, to utter, to carie, to beare forth, to allege, to laie for hym selfe, to recite, to reckon, to deferre, to delaye, to drawe in length, to enlarge, to dilate, or make great-ter, to prolonge, to laie to ones charge, to lay agaynst one.

Proferre dolum, to put a decette in experiente.

Proferre gradum, to aduance hym selfe and goe forwarde.

Proferre audaciam, id est, ostendere.

Beneficium in aliquem proferre, to doe a benefite or pleasure for one.

In solem proferre, to bynge forth into the sonne.

Gradum proferre, to make specede.

Rem profer palam, utter the matter plainly.

Custodire & proferre, contrarie.

Aliquid foras proferre, to tel a thyng abroade out of the house.

In lacem proferre, to set abroade to the know-lage of men.

Proferre se, to utter them selfes.

Proferre fines imperij, to dilate or extend the boundes of ones realme or dominion.

Imperium proferre, idem.

Aliquot dies profer, deferre or prolonge the matter a daie or two.

Proferre beatam vitam vsq; ad rogum, to see happie or fortunate euen to his dienge daie, to continue in felicitie and wealth, euen to the houre of his death.

Lingua proferre, to put out his tongue.

Proferre digitum, to holde out his finger.

Proferre gaudium oculis, to shewe by his eyes that he is iopouse and glad.

In conspectum proferre, to bynge forth before men.

Quum lineam protulisset longissimam, whan
he had made or drawn a verie longe line.

Legem quæ fecerit proferat, leat hym alleage or shewe the lawe wherby he wyl doe it.

Profectio, ónis, f. g. an open cōfession, an open reading or lecture.

Profeſſor, óris, m. g. a reader in open scholes.

Profeſſorius, a, um, that belongeth to open profession or reading.

Profeſſus, a, um, manifest, confessed.

Profeſti dies, woofke daies.

Profeſtum vulgus, the common people.

Proficio, proficis, feci, ere, to profite, to pro-cede, to goe forwarde in a thyng, to doe good, prouaile or helpe muche in a thyng, also to be holeſome or medicinable.

Sed adhuc nihil profecit, but hitherto he hath nothyng profited or prouailed, or he hath doo-en no good in the matter.

Adeps plurimum proficit, the fatte helpeth much, or is verie holeſome or medicinable.

Profeſſor, ciſceris, ciſci, to goe forth, to come forth or from, to departe, to begynne, to haue his beginning of any thyng.

Profeſſor Roman, I goe to Rome.

Profeſſor Roma, I come or retourne from Rome.

Quo profectus sum ibo, id est, quo ceperam,
I wyl goe forth and continue on my iourney
as I beganne.

Profecta est illinc grandiuſcula, the departed thens beyng of a good stature or age.

Profeſci ad ſomnum, to goe to sleepe.

In exilium proficeſci, to goe in banishment.

Nam profectus est, he went in a ſhypp.

Profeſci ad reliqua, id est pergere, to tell on the residue that is behynde.

Ex numeris proficeſci volumus omnia, they wyl haue

have all thinges to procede or have their beginnyng of nombres.

Omnia a me in te profecta sunt quæ ad tuum commodum pertinerent, I have doen al thinges for you, that I thought to be for your commodities and profite.

Proficiscitur a meis consilijs tua laus, it is my counsaile that you have gotten to great praise, or that you are come to so great honour and renowne.

Ab his initijs noster in te amor profectus. &c. our love towards you hauyng this beginninge. &c.

Quæcunq; a me ornamenta ad te proficiscuntur, what thinges so euer I do to the advancement of your honour, or what to euer honorable benefites and pleasures I do for you.

Profundo, profundi, ere, to cleave.

Profiteor, eris, eri, to promise openly, to tell frankly or boldly, also to tell or declare how much a man hath of monney, cattell, coyne, or any other thyng, as men doe to visitors or other officers, also to speake of auant, to take upon one, to confesse a thyng openly and freely. Also to discover or confesse a thyng, also to reade a lesson openly.

Profiteri quod non possis implere, to professe or take upon the, that thou canst not performe.

Profiteri operam suam, to promise his ayde helpe or service in a thyng.

Qui se sapientem profiteretur, which sayde or made his auant openly, that he was a wise mā.

Hoc me profiteor suscepisse, I graunt or confesse to you, that I have taken this upon me.

Studia sua profiteri, to declare openly how they be affectioned or mynded.

Profiteri res alienum, to confesse his debte, to confesse how much he oweth, or what debte he is in.

Profiteri nomen, to tell his name and be enrolled.

Profiteri indicium, to appeache, accuse or bewraie hym selfe and his companions.

Profiteri se medicum, to take upon hym to be a physician, to practise physike.

Profatus, us, m. g. a blowyng or blastyng.

Profligator, ōis, m. g. a naughty packe, a riotous person.

Profligatus, a, um, ouerthrowen, driuen away, put to flight, destroyed, sometyne it signifieth finished, brought to a poynt.

Profligauit homines, men that haue wasted theyr substance in folie, very naughty packes, very lewde persons.

Profligata ad perniciem, id est, redacta.

Quæstio profligata est, the question is dissolved.

Profligo, aui, are, to ouerthrowe, to dyspue away, to brynge to destruction, to put to flight, also to dispatche or brynge to an ende.

Rem publicam profligare, to brynge the roma mon weale almost to utter confusion.

Profligauerat bellum, he had almost finished the warre and brought it past the worst.

Profligo, is, ere, to strue muche.

Profluo, aui, are, to blowe, to blowe downe, to breath of paffe out.

Profluens, us, m. g. a riuer.

Profluens, entis, om. g. flowyng or rennyng plentifully like a ryuer.

Profluenter, abundantly.

Profluentia, æ, f. g. a flowyng or abundance.

Profluo, xi, ere, to renne downe, to renne out of a thyng, to renne from farre.

Profluuium, ij, n. g. a flke or lakke.

Profluuium mulierum, womens naturall purgation.

Profluuium narium, the nose.

Profluus, a, um, that that floweth.

Profluus amnis, a riuer that floweth or renneth away.

Proforem, res, ret, fore, to profite.

Quæ nocuit sequar, fugiam quæ proforem credam, that which hath doen harme will I folowe, & eschewe will I those thynges, which I beleue will profite me.

Profugio, profugis, fugi, fugere, to flee farre, to flee or renne awaie as muche as one can.

Gnatus eius profugit inopia, his son is renne awaie, and hath forsaken the countrey for want.

Profugere ex tempestatum periculis, to escape out of perille or daunger of any troublous tyme.

Profugium, ij, n. g. a place wherunto a man fleeth for succour, also a thyng wherunto one resorteth for succour, a place of refuge or helpe.

Profugus, i, m. g. he that goeth or is driuen farre out of his owne countrey.

Profunditas, ōis, f. g. deepnesse.

Profundo, fudi, ere, to poure out largely, to spende eccedyngly, to spende out of measure.

Profundere palmites, is of a vine whan it sendeth out a great numbre of bryanches.

Profundere clamorem, to cry out as lowde as one maie.

Profundere se in aliquem, to do to one al the pleasure that lieth in his power.

Profundere vires animarum ingenij, to endow all his power & wit in brynge a thyng to passe.

Profundere vitam vel sanguinem pro patria, to spende his life in defence of his countrey.

Ignes profundere, id est, emittere.

Laborem profundere, to spende or waste his labour in vaine.

Profundere lachrymas, to wepe much and bitterly.

Odiū inclusum profundere, to utter the grudges and hatred that hath lye longe byd in mennes stomaches.

Profundus, a, um, depe, sometyne hygh.

Calum

Calum profundum, the hygh heauen.

Profunda altitudo, excedyng great height.

Nox profunda, mydnyght, late in the nyght.

Summum & profundum, contrarie, the top and the bottoe.

Profundum, is sometyne taken for the sea.

Profundi pater, Neptune.

Profunda auaritia, insatiabile couetousnesse.

Profunda cupido imperij, insatiabile and immoderate desyre of empyre and dominion.

Profunda libido, insatiabile lecherie.

Profusè, in great abundance.

Profusus, a, um, excedyng lyberall, berie abundant, verie muche, verie sumptuous, also lying downe flatte, prostrate.

Profusa epula, excessive banquettyng.

Profusus sui, a riotous and superfluous spender of his owne substance, a waster.

Profusa lachryma, teares plentifully rennyng downe.

Profusa hilaritas, dissolute or inordinate ioy or mysthe.

Progener, generi, m. ge. the householde of my daughters daughter, of sonnes daughter, sometyne the soone in lawes daughter.

Progemmo, aui, are, to burgein.

Progeneratio, ōis, f. g. an engendryng.

Progeniero, aui, are, to engendye or brynge forth issue.

Progenies, ei, fæ. gen. a progenie or successe in bloude, offsprynge.

Progenitor, ōis, m. g. a graundefather.

Progermino, aui, are, to brynche out abundantly.

Prōgero, gelsi, ere, to cast or put out, to carie forth.

Proigno, genui, nere, to get a childe.

Prognare, openly.

Prognatiter, hardily, boldly.

Proglōsis, the fore ende of the tongue.

Prognati, children.

Prognatus, a, um, bozne.

Prognæon, loke Pronæon.

Prognipion, pñ, n. g. the turneps or place where the type is made in the hore house.

Prognosis, sis, f. g. prescience or knowlage afoze that a thyng hapneth.

Prognosticon, a pronostication, a signe or token of a thyng to come.

Progreddens, entis, goyng forth, procedyng.

Progreddior, gressus sum, progredi, to go forth or before, by translation, to procede further in a matier, and to saie more in it.

Progredi obuiam, to goe forth to mete with one.

Sed progrediamur longius, but let vs proceede in this matier and speake further of it.

Tridui viam progressi, rursus reuerterunt, after they had gone forwarde in daies iourney, they returned againe.

Quicquid progredior in vastiorem altitudi-nem inuehor, the further that I goe in of forward. &c.

Digitum progredi non possunt, they can not goe forwarde one fingers breadth.

Eo progressus est quo non audeo dicere, he became so naughtie and lewde in diuers thynges, as I dare not expresse.

Progressio, ōis, f. g. a proceeding or going forwarde.

Progressus, a, um, that hath passed or gone forwarde.

Progressus, us, m. g. a marchyng forth, or passyng forth, a proceeding or goyng forwarde.

Facere progressu in studiis, to profite in learyng.

Habere progressum, idem.

Progymnasma, nāsmas, n. g. an assaie or pofe in exercise.

Proh, looke Pro.

Prohedri, certayne magistrates, to whom all other arose and gaue place to sitte.

Prohibeo, prohibes, but, ere, to prohibite, to forbid, to let, to kepe vnder, to kepe short, to kepe in.

Prohibete a vobis vim meam, take heed that I dooe not you displease.

Prohibete aditum marris a filij sanguine, leat or suffer not ye the mother to lea her soone.

Prohibere potione per triduum, to keepe one thre daies without drinke.

Prohibere itinere, to stop him of his waie.

Prohibet facere tuā presentia, thy beyng here letteth me to dooe it.

Dum magister prohibebat, whilst his master kepte hym vnder, or letteth hym that he coude not haue his will in thynges.

Dñ prohibeat, god forbid.

Lachryma prohibent loqui, he can not speake for wepyng.

Senon facile ab oppidis vim hostium prohibere, that they with great peines are scant able to defende the towne from the assaulte and violence of enemies.

Prohiberi aqua, commeatu. &c. to be kepte from water, forrage. &c.

Aditū prohibere, to let that one can not enter.

Agicula prohiberi, to bee kept from tilling of the grounde.

Dolorem dentium prohibet, it maketh that the teeth shal not ake, or that one shal not haue the tooth ache.

Prohibere domo, to kepe one that he can not enter into his house.

Prohibere iniuriam, to withstand or leat iniurie or wronge.

Prohibere prados ab insula, not to suffer robbers to enter.

A periculo rempublicam prohibere, to saue or kepe the common weale from daunger.

Sepultura aliquem prohibere, not to suffer one to be buried.

Voce prohibere aliquem, to let or forbid one to speake. Prohibetis, vñd of olde witters for Prohibetis.

Prohibitorius, a, um, prohibitorij, that pertaineth to forbidding.

Proiecta, orum, neu. g. plu. the ouer partes of a house, which do leane outward from the nether partes, as they be now in some towne towards the stretes, some men call them garrettes, they be any kynde of buildynges tuting or standyng out from the parte of the house, as standyng wyndowes or suche lyke.

Proiectio, onis, f. g. a casting forth.

Proiectivus, a, um, a chylde that is cast forth and nourished of a stranger.

Proiecto, aui, are, to cast out often.

Proiectare aliquem probris, to rebuke one.

Proiectura, a, f. g. a penthouse to conueighe raine from a wall, also the copping or water table of a walle, the tutting or leanyng out that is in pillars and other buildyng.

Proiectus, us, m. g. the casting out of a thyng, the tutting or leanyng out in buildyng.

Proiectus, a, um, thowen out afarre, cast forth, stretched out, luyng downe alonge, luyng prostrate, also byle, contenned, of littell value.

Proiecta audacia, foole hardynesse.

Proiectus puer, a chylde which is lated abroade in the stretes, no man knowyng who is the father or mother.

Proiectus ad audendum, foole hardie.

Brachium proiectum, the arme cast or stretched forth.

Vinea humi proiecta, a vyne luyng on the grounde.

Ad libidinem gens prociatissima, most enclined, geuen, and prone.

Proicio, prociis, icci, ere, to throwe or cast, to set forth, to leane, to extende or holde out a thyng at length.

Proicitampullas & sesquipedalia verba, he speaketh proude and loftie wordes.

Diem proicit, he died.

Lachrymas proicere, id est, effundere.

Ne me proiciam, that I shulde not despayre and cast away all hope.

Se ad pedes proicere, to fall downe prostrate at ones feete.

Se ex vrbis proicere, id est, subtrahere, to conueighe or get hym selfe out of the citee in all haste.

Se in forum proicit, he went in great haste to the common place.

In mulieres fletus se proicere, to make a weeping and wailing lyke women.

Et patriam virtutem proiciissent, and had lost and forgotten the valiantnesse of their fozes fathers or auncestours.

Proin, therefore.

Proinde, therefore, wherfore, somtyme for Perinde, euen as, lyke as. Perinde expiscare quasi non nosces, thou dost not enquire, as though thou didst not knowe it.

Prolabor, beris, bi, to lide or slippe forth, to fall.

Prolabi timore, to fall downe for feare.

Prolabi longius, to wander farre of, to speake somewhat more of a matter than is conuenient.

Prolabi in misericordia, to become mercifull.

Prolabi cupiditate, to be abused by his couetousnesse.

Prolabi ex equo, to fall from his horse.

Prolapsio, onis, f. g. a falling or slipping downe.

Prolapsus, a, um, slidden or fallen downe.

Prolapsa huc libido, his wilfulnesse is come to this.

Prolatio, onis, f. g. a delating, also a deferring or prolongyng.

Prolatius, a, um, prolonged, deferred, diuyn of for a tyme.

Prolatio, onis, f. g. an extendyng forth, also pronouncing or pronouncing, somtyme bynnyng forth the shewing of a thyng, also delating or deferring of a matter.

Prolatio, aui, are, to deferre or put off till a longer tyme.

Dies prolatore, to deferre or prolonge from date to date.

Diem ex die prolatore, idem.

Prolatus, a, um, set forth, brought forth, pronounced, spoken, also lowne abroade.

Prolatus est de te rumor, there is a rumour spreade of lowne abroade of the.

Prociabilis, le, that whiche ticketh of pleasantie mouth one.

Prociat, aui, are, to prouoke pleasantly, to entice.

Prolepsis, is, f. g. a figure in speakyng, where we doe puerue to discorde by reason, that whiche we thynke to be in the opinion of our aduersaries or of the iudge.

Proles, is, f. g. issue or fruite of a mans bodie, also of a beaste.

Proletarij, among the Romans were they which for pouertie were not able to go to the warres, and therefore were neuer chose but at great neede and for lacke of other, & had they colles bozue of the common treasure: they were called Proletarij, because they dyd onely helpe the citee with increase of children, where as they were not able with theyr substance.

Proletarius, a, um, belongyng to children: also of the people called Proletarij, & by translati on, byle, that the comon sort of people do vse.

Prolibo, aui, are, to taste or doe sacrifice afore.

Prolicio, prolicis, prolexi, prolicere, to induce or drawe.

Eius amor cupidus huc me per tenebras prolicat, the loue of hym hath drawen me hither in the darke, beyng desirous of his companie.

Prolix, lyberally, abundantly, plentifully, sumptuously, at length.

Pro

Prolix promittere, to promise largely and liberally.

Accipit hominem nemo prolixius, no man in the world more sumptuously, more abundantly and plentifully.

Prolixus, a, um, large, large, somtyme superfluous, free, liberall, sumptuous, bountifull.

Accipit hominem nemo melius, neq; prolixius, he entertaineth a man, none in the world better nor more sumptuously.

Prolixus animus, a liberall free and honest herte.

Prolixior in Pompeium, id est, propensior.

Prolixa oratio, a long and a superfluous oration.

Prolixitas, atis, f. g. & Prolixitudo, inis, length, largenesse, liberalitee.

Prologium, ij, n. g. the first speche, or first entrie into communication.

Prologus, i, m. g. a prologue, or he that entreteth or placeth the prologue.

Prolongo, aui, are, to prolonge, to deferre, to make longe.

Proloquium, ij, n. g. the beginnyng of an oration or sentence, a perfecte sentence, wherein nothing lacketh.

Proloquor, queris, qui, to speake at length, to tell a long tale, also to speake before, to speake that whiche we thinke, to declare our opinion, to utter our minde.

Prolubium, bij, n. g. a delite, a pleasure, a desire, an appetite.

Proladium, ij, neu. gen. a flourish, a voluntarie, a preamble, an entrance or beginnyng of any matter.

Prolado, si, dere, to flourish as musicians doe afore they come to the principall matter, and as fence men do with the sword or two hand staffe, to proue or assure what one can doe ere he come to the thyng.

Prolugeo, xi, gere, to mourne longer than hath ben accustomed.

Proluo, prolu, ere, to washe muche or longe, to drowne, or surrounde.

Prolutus, a, um, washed muche.

Proluuius, ei, f. g. the filthe or ordure whiche is washed of from any thyng.

Proluuium, ij, n. gen. idem, also prodigalitee, vnnecessary spendyng and consumyng ones gooddes.

Prolytae, they whiche haue studied the lawe five yeres.

Promellere, to promote or set forth a suite in the lawe.

Promerialis, le, any thyng that is set to sale, after a man hath stozed him selfe of it sufficiently for hym and his household, specially that is sold by retails.

Promercales vestes, garmentes that be sold after a litle wearing, either because the colour faileth, or else that he hath more then he needeth.

Promercales, are suche thynges as are bought at a vantage, to the intent to be sold afterwarde at an higher price.

Promercale aurum, golde that a man selleth or purcheth away, besides that he keepeth for his owne vse.

Promerco, caris, ari, to bye thynges good chepe, to the intent to sell them againe dere, to bye at the first hande to sell agayne at retails.

Promere, promeres, ui, e, e, and Promereor, reris, reris, the deponente, to deserue, to doe pleasure or seruice to one, to doe well & deserue thankes, also to bynde one by his actes to doe for hym: also to helpe, to profite.

Promereri de aliquo, to dooe a man a good tourne.

Promerens, entis, om. gen. he that doeth pleasure or seruice.

Promerenti optime hocce pretii redditur, Shall he that hath done you very good seruice or pleasure, haue this reward for his laboure.

Promeritum, ij, neu. ge. desert, pleasure or seruice done.

Promeretur, olde witters vñd for Monet, he exhorteth or warneth.

Prometheus, the sonne of Japetus, first inuented in thyng of images, wherfore the paynymes supposed that he made men, and feigned that he went by into heuen, and ther dyd steale fyre to make his image lyke lyfe, wherewith Jupiter beyng wroth, caused hym to be bounden on the hill called Caucasus, and an eagle standing by him eatyng his lere: by the whiche is signified, that he was studious and a great astrologer.

Promico, aui, are, to extend, sette by caste out at length.

Prominentia, the extendyng, tutting, or haggng of a thyng out of ouer other.

Promineo, promines, nui, nere, to appeare or stande out further then other, or about and besyde other.

Prominere a cetera acie, to stande further out then the other ranke or companie.

Promiscus, olde witters vñd vñd for Promiscue.

Promiscue, one with an other mixte, confusely.

Promiscuus, a, um, confused, myngled one with an other.

Promiscuum operam dare, one to doe for an other, to healepe one an other.

Promiscua connubia, when states or degrees are myngled together by marriage, with out order or consideration.

Diuina ac humana promiscua habere, To make no difference betwene worldly thynges and godly matters.

Promisse, longe, in length.

Promissio, onis, f. g. a promise.

Promissor, oris, m. g. he that promisseth.

Promissum, ij, n. g. a promise.

Ab

Aboluere, complete, conficere promissum, to do that one hath promised.
 Stare promissis, to kepe his promise.
 Promissus, a, um, promised, also long, hanging downe, growng downe, growng long.
 Promissa barba, a longe beard.
 Promitto, misi, mittere, to promise, to let growe in length, also to threaten.
 Promittere ad cenam, to make a promise to go or come to supper.
 Ad fratrem promiserat, he had promised to go to his brothers.
 Ego tibi mea fide promitto, I promise the on my faith and trouche.
 Promittere vadimonium, To promise to appere at a daye appointed.
 Promittere barbam, to let the beard growe longe.
 Nec villa arbor audius se promittit, groweth higher and brier.
 Promo, prompsi, mere, to speake out, to tell that one knoweth or thinketh, to take out of a coffer or other lyke thyng.
 Promere vinum, to drawe wyne.
 Promere confina, to shewe or declare his pures poses.
 Promonstra, monstrous and strange thynges.
 Promontorium, n, n. gen. a mountayne or high place of a lande or countrey, whiche lyeth as it were an elbowe into the sea warde.
 Promoueo, promoues, ui, uere, to go or moue forwarde, to aduance or profite, to enlarge, som tyme to go backe, som tyme to pprolonge, to deferre.
 Promouere nuptias, to prolong the marriage.
 Praesens quando pro noueo piram, seynge that I present or profite littell with my presence.
 Pro notus, a, um, moued forward. also promoued, aduanced, sette forth.
 Promptarius, a, um, idem quod promptuarius.
 Promptaria cella, a cellar or speche, out of whiche any thyng is taken. Plautus vserth it for a prison, fro whence men be brought to be whippid or hanged.
 Promptarium, ri, neu. gen. idem quod promptuarium.
 Prompte, promptly, redily.
 Promptior, more prompte or redy.
 Promptissime, very redily, forthwith, by & by.
 Promptitudo, diuis, f. g. promptnesse.
 Prompto, aut, are, to byng often fowth, to take out often.
 Promptuarius, a, um, that, from whence any thyng is brought or taken.
 Promptuarium, ri, n. g. a cellar, a storhouse, a spence.
 Promptum, ti, n. g. a thyng that is taken out of set abrode.
 Promptus, a, um, prompte, in a redinesse, redy to do a thyng without taryng, also redy, easy.

Promptum ingenium, a redy witte.
 Res est in promptu, the thyng is redy. also the thyng is manifest and playne.
 Manu promptus, an hardy and valiant man that will strike and fight quickly.
 Promptus ingenio, quicke spirited, or hangng a liuely witte.
 Nec promptum est dicere, it is not easy to tel.
 Quam illa pateant, atq in promptu sunt omnibus, where as these thynges be manifeste and apparant to all men.
 In promptu ponere, to sette open that thyng male bee seen.
 Haud promptum est, that is rare and harde to be founde.
 Promptus lingua, that hath a good tongue of biterance, that is eloquent and well spoken.
 In promptu habere, to haue at hande and in a redinesse.
 Qui torannos ingenium, laborem, fidem suam populo Romano promptam exposit inque praebuerit, which so many yeres space hath ben to prompte and redy to helpe the people of Rome with his witte, labour, and trusty dealing.
 Prompta & aperta, occulta & recognita, consuetudine.
 Promulco naus agitur, the shippe is drawen with a boie.
 Promulgatus, a, um, published.
 Promulgator, oris, ma gen. & Promulgatrix, trices, fem. g. he or she that dooth publish a thyng.
 Promulgo, aut, are, to publish.
 Promulgatio, oris, f. g. a publication.
 Promullis, idis, f. gen. merde made with water and honp.
 Promurale, lis, n. gen. a countremure, one wall without an other.
 Promulsus, muscidis, f. ge. the hande of a snout of an elephant.
 Promus, mi, m. g. he that hath the heppng of the store house or dyne larder. it is used commonly for a butlar.
 Pronecto, nexui, or nexi, nectere, to knitte.
 Pronepos, pous, m. g. a nephews sonne.
 Pronepus, tis, f. g. a nephis daughter.
 Pronis, olde writers used for Prona, prostrate or on the grounde.
 Pronomen, minis, n. g. a pronowne.
 Pronuba, br, fem. gen. she that bringeth home the bride to the bride grownes house, and was chiefe maier of the marriage on the womans parte.
 Pronubo, nupsi, bere, to haue a rule in weddinges or togyngng of couples.
 Pronubus, he that leadeth the bride home to his housewifes house, and hath the surueighng of the house during the tyme of solemnization. also he that doeth celebrate the solemnity in marriage: it male be nowe taken for the priest, whiche doeth minstre the solemn words of matrimony.

matrimony.
 Pronuntiatio, oris, f. g. a pronounciation or utterance of speche.
 Pronuntiator, oris, m. g. a writer or reporter, that reciteth a tale or historie.
 Pronuntiatio, ti, n. g. a proposition conteynng any sentence true or false.
 Pronuntiatus, us, m. g. idem quod Pronuntius.
 Pronuntiatus, a, um, pronounced.
 Pronuntio, aut, are, to pronounce, to saie by hert, to declare openly, to make expresse mention of any fault that is in a thyng, whiche we purpose to sell, to tell precisely and expressely, to proclaim by a trumpet, to promesse openly & plainly, to name as men dooe officers at an election, to iudge, to geue sentence, to saie.
 Pronuntiare per praconem, to make a thyng to be openly cryed.
 Pronuntiare praelium in posterum diem, to pronounce or declare the battayle to bee the nexte daye followng.
 Pronuntiare militi praemia, to make open promise, that he will rewarde the souldiours.
 Pronuntiat eos praetores, he nameth or declareth them to be praetors.
 Non cuius est pronuntiare, it is not euery mannes parte to iudge or to saie precisely.
 Pronuper, very late.
 Pronurus, rus, f. g. the wyfe of my sonnes sonne, or daughters sonne.
 Pronus, a, um, ready, inclined, stowpyng downe, prone, easy, nigh at hande.
 Pronus ad meridiem locus, a place lyng towards the southe.
 Sapius & Pronus, contrarie.
 Volo de ponte mittere pronum, id est, praecipitem.
 Pronum ad honores iter, a redie and easy way to promotion and dignitee.
 Proni petit maria, id est, luxuri vicinia.
 Pronior huic rei, for in hanc rem.
 Pronior Dolobellae, more inclined to fauour Dolobella.
 Proniores paci, more willng to haue peace.
 Ad fidem pronius est, it is more veritable, it is more credible or soner beleued.
 Pronitas, atis, f. g. pronenesse, inclination to good or euill.
 Proremium, mij, n. ge. a prohemie or beginnng of a matter.
 Proxior, aris, ari, to beginne an oracion.
 Propagatio, oris, f. g. a spreadng a settyng or plantng of many yonge vines, enlargng, increasng.
 Propages, a longe rewe.
 Propago, aut, are, to cut downe an olde vine, that in a newe mate be set thereof, to spreade as a tree doth on the toppe, to make to spread, to sende farre of, to extende, to delate, to pprolonge.

Posteritati propagantur, they be continued or reserved enen to the memoie of them that come after vs.
 Arbitria propagare, wher the arbitre pronounceth, that the matter muste be decided by an or ther arbitre or vmpire.
 Imperium in annum propagare, id est, prorogare.
 Laudem hominis ad sempiternam memoria am propagauit, it got the man immortal praise, laude or renoune, that neuer shall bee forgotten.
 Propagare vitam, to pprolonge and leade forth the lyfe.
 Propagator, oris, m. g. one that enlargeth, multiplieth or increaseth.
 Propagatus, a, um, spred, enlarged, increased.
 Propago, priore correpta, a stocke, wherof a man is descended.
 Propago, ginis, or Propages, gis, f. g. an olde vine cut downe, that many yonge male be sette thereof.
 Propalam, openly, clerely, in the sight of all men.
 Propalo, aui, are, to tell abroad, to growe in lengthe, after Calpine: but the place of Soltau mella hath ropagare, and better.
 Propatrus, trui, m. g. my great grandfatheres brother.
 Propatulus, a, um, wyde open.
 In propatulo, openly in the sight of men.
 Prope, a preposition scrupnge to an accusative case, or an ablatiue with a preposition, nigh, nere to, by.
 Prope, an aduerbe, nere at hande, nigh, als moste, in a manner.
 Prope est, it is nere hande. also it lacketh but littell, the tyme is almost come.
 Prope adest cum alieno more uiuendum est mihi, the tyme is almost come that I must liue as other men will haue me.
 Prope intueri, to beholde a thyng harde by.
 Prope est ut omnes sint, id est, parum abest.
 Prope iam ut pro vxore haberet, so that he was set hir in maner as his wyfe.
 Annos prope quinquaginta, almoste fifty yeres.
 Tam prope a muris habemus hostem, we haue our enemies so nere the walles.
 Prope dicam, I male in a maner saie, or I male almoste saie.
 Prope est factum. &c. it came almost to passe, or there lacked but littell but that &c.
 Propecto, pexui, pexi, or Pectui, propectere, to hembe streight downe, to hembe out alonge.
 Propectiem, nowe enery daye, mostely, ere it bee longe, within these fewe daies.
 Propello, propuli, pellere, to dzyue or put away farre of.
 Pecus propellere pastum, to dzyue forth the cattails to pasture or graffe.

Periculum vitæ mihi propellere potes, thou maist deliuer me from daunger of my lyfe.
 Propemodum, almoste, in a maner,
 Egomet habeo propemodum quam volo, I my selfe haue in maner founde hit that I wyl haue.
 Propemodum habeo iam tibi fidem, I dare almoste truste the or belue the nowe.
 Propendeo, di, dère, to hange downe heauier on the fore parte, to incline moze fauourably to the one, and leane moze to his parte, then to the other.
 Propendere in aliquem inclinatione voluntatis, when a mannes affection inclinetly moze to one than to an other.
 Nec dependes, nec propendes, quin malus & nequam sis, thou arte a very egypt naughtypacche, and an vnylasyfynnaue.
 Propendens, entis, hangyng downe.
 Propense, fauourably, with god wyl, with harte and mynde, redily.
 Propensio, onis, f. g. inclination of the mynde.
 Propensius, a, um, greatly inclined, very ready and prone.
 Propenso animo facere, to dooe it with a god wyl.
 Propensior in neutram partem, indifferent.
 Propensa munera, id est, multa & magna.
 Ad ignoscendum propensus, of nature inclined to forgyue and pardone.
 Ad similitudinem veritatis propensior, moze inclinyng to the truthe, moze lyke to the truthe.
 Natura propensio ad liberalitatem sumus, we be o nature prone and inclined to liberalitee.
 Propenso animo aliquid facere, to doe a thyng with a ready mynde and fauourable affection.
 Propensus ad bene merendum, ready and inclined to dooe pleasure.
 In eum voluntas nostra propensior, our affection or fauour inclinetly moze to hym.
 Propere, quickly, hastily, with speede.
 Eloquere propere celeriter, tell on quickly and make no taryng.
 Properans, antis, makynge speede or haste.
 Properans venit, he cometh in hast.
 Properantes aqua, waters that renne veray swiftly, and with a full streame.
 Properantim, properanter, & properiter, quicquid, hastily, speedily.
 Properantia, æ, & properatio, onis, f. g. haste, speede makynge.
 Properato, an aduerbe.
 Properato opus est, it is neede or expedient to make haste, or to hygh a pace.
 Properatus, a, um, hastened, done with speede.
 Properus, a, um, quicke, hasty, swift, speedie.
 Propera video ancillam uenientem, I see the wenche comyng hither apace, or makynge great haste hitherwarde.
 Ira properus, quickly angry.
 Própero, aui, are, to goe quickly or hastily, to saie or doe any thyng quickly, to make haste, to make speede, to goe apace, to hygh quickly.

 Properare aliquid, to make haste or speede in doynge a thyng.
 Ni dedicationem properassent, excepte they had made speede and petted them quickely.
 Ni voluntariam mortem properauisset, if he had not kilted him selfe before his tyme.
 Properare in Cyprum, to make haste to goe in, to Cyprusse.
 Qui nimium properat, serius absoluit, the moze haste the lesse speede: perly by and neuer the nere.
 Propertius, a poete bozne in Aruana, a towne in Umbria.
 Propexus, a, um, kemed downe longe.
 Prophanus, looke Prophanus.
 Propetro, aui, are, to commaunde that a thyng be doone.
 Prophasis, an excuse.
 Propheta, ta, or prophetes, ta, m. g. a prophete, he that telleth thynges whiche shall happen.
 Prophétis, tidis, and prophetissa, æ, f. g. a woman prophete, a prophetesse, she that telleth thynges to come.
 Prophétia, æ, f. g. a prophetic.
 Propheto, aui, are, to prophesie, to syng pteses to god. Sometyne it signifyeth to preache or interprete.
 Propilo, aui, are, to make sharpe before.
 Propina, a place by the comon baynes, where after baynyng men take theyr refectiō.
 Propinatio, onis, f. g. a dymnyng to one.
 Propino, aui, are, to dymne to an other man, to quasse, to bynne to, sometyne to geue, to propose.
 Propino tibi salutem plenis faucibus, god speede with all myne herte.
 Propinator, onis, m. g. a cupbearer, he that dymneth or beginneth to one.
 Propinquus, a, um, a neyghbour, of kinne, of alliaunce, also harde by, nere hande.
 Quod ego in propinqua parte amicitia putto, whiche I thinke to be one of the chiefe causes of amities and frendshippes.
 Ex meo propinquo rure, of my pte of ground, that I haue herte by without the citee.
 Stipendiū spem propinquam facere, to make men hope they shall receiue theyr wages shortly.
 In propinquo sunt castra, our campe is hereby or not farre hence.
 Propinquitas, atis, f. g. affinitie, allyaunce, neyghbourhoode.
 Propinque, nigh, harde by.
 Propinquior, quius, nerer.
 Propinquo, aui, are, to appoche, to come nigh.
 Propior, propius, nerer.
 Gradu sanguinis propior, nere kyn, or nere of bloude.
 Vel (quod propius vero est) &c. or (that is moze more lyke to be true, or moze consonant to the truthe) &c.

 Propius fidem est, it is moze credible.
 Propius nihil factum est, quam ut occideretur, he was in very great daunger to be slayned of the least thyng in the worlde moze he had ben slayne.
 Propitiabilis, ic, that whiche is toone turned with supplication or prayre: also that is mete to doe sacrifice with, or inclined to despyse.
 Propitiatio, onis, f. g. sacrifice to appease or pacify gods displeasure.
 Propitiatorium, ri, n. gen. the place where god was pleased with sacrifice done to hym, a table set on the arke of the olde testament.
 Propitio, aui, are, to reconcile and appease god with sacrifice, to please.
 Propitiare sollicitudinem animi, to appease the care or sorowe of mynde.
 Propitius, content, not displeased, or angry.
 Propitius, preabile men, or men soone appeased or satisfied.
 Propius, nerer, or nerer.
 Propitice, ces, f. g. the crasse to make mouldes, in the whiche any thyng is cast or fourmed.
 Propinqueon, get, n. gen. the place in a baue or horre house, in the whiche fire is inclosed, sendeth forth heate, the mouthe of a founaine or ouen.
 Propitior, atis, ari, idem quod propitio, to appease, or to make mercifull or fauourable.
 Propula, ta, mas, gen. he that selleth any thyng at retaple, specially vittayle, a husbar, a restatoure.
 Propolis, lis, f. m. ge. a suburbe of a towne. it is also that whiche bees doe make at the entrie of the hye, whereby colde & other annoyauces is defended.
 Propoma, a dymne made with honny and wine.
 Propos, posui, ponere, to purpose, to be aduisid, to promise a price or rewarde for any notable acte, to sit out to the theme. also to purpose or set abroad to the people.
 Animo or animis proponere, to conceiue, conspice, or imagin in the mynde.
 Bona ciuium tibi ad prædam proponere, To determine with hym selfe, that the gooddes of the ciuizens be as a botte or pray vnto him.
 In exemplum aliquid proponere, To take a thyng for an example to folowe.
 Finem sibi proponere, to appointe how farre they will traualle in a matier.
 Lex in publicum proponitur, the lawe is published abroad to the people.
 Minas proponere, to threaten, to menace.
 Magni sibi proponunt, they imagine with the selfe to come to great honour and dignitie: or purpose with them selves to entrepise great matters.
 Venale aliquid proponere, to set a thyng as to be sold.
 Qui voluntatem ei Senatus proponunt, which male declare and open to hym the mynde of the Senate.

 Vilitatem rei publicæ sibi proponere debent, they ought to haue respecte to the commoditie of the weale publicke, or to conspice & regarde, what shall be good and profitable for the comon weale.
 Propositum est mihi, myne intente or purpose is.
 Proponit sua in illis merita, he rekeneth by the god turnes or frendly pleasures that he had done for them.
 Proponere mortem acerbam, to menace cruell death, to threaten that he will put one to cruell death.
 Proponere impunitatem, To promise or purpose blisse, that men shall escape without punishment what to euer they doe, to geue men licence to doe what they will without punishment.
 Proponere ante oculos periculum vitæ, To conspice in the mynde diligently, what danger of the life they are in.
 Proponere spem, to geue men an hope, to put men in hope.
 Premium proponere, To promise a rewarde for ones labour.
 Rem in medium proponere, To open and declare the matier plainly, that men maie perceiue it.
 Propetides, the daughters of Amarthunta.
 Propontus, a sea betwene Grece and Asia.
 Proporrio, onis, f. g. a propore on, measure.
 Proporro, further moze, moze ouer.
 Proposito, onis, f. m. ge. a matier proposed to be disputed or reasoned. it is also that, whereby we shewe generally, whereof we will speake.
 Propositum, ti, n. ge. a purpose, an intent.
 Aberrare a proposito, to goe from the purpose, to make digression from the purpose.
 Propositas, a, um, set abroad or before mennes eyes.
 Propator, toris, m. g. he that was sent extraordinarily as pctor into any countrey.
 Proprie, propriety, particularly.
 Et proprie, for Et maxime.
 Proprietarius, a, um, wherunto the propriete of a thyng belongeth.
 Proprietas, atis, f. g. propriete.
 Proprietas terra, the nature and propriete of the grounde.
 Proprium, idem quod proprius.
 Proprius, a, um, proprius or particular, sometyne it signifyeth perpetuall.
 Voluptates decorum propriæ sunt, The pleasures of the goddes be perpetuall.
 Culpa mea propria, by myne owne defaulte.
 Nec sum vilo in proprio periculo, they be not in any priuate daunger, but that other men be in it as well as they.
 Proprium est eius, it is imputed to hym, or ap appertayneth to hym.

Proprium oratorum, the thing that orators ought chiefly to observe.
Perenne ac proprium manere potuisset, it might haue ben perpetuall & continued for euer.
Propter, for, also nigh: and is sometime an aduerbe, sometime a preposition.
Ibi angustiorum propter est, there is a lane harde by.
Hic propter huc assiste, stande here ha. d by him.
Hec turba propter te facta est, this businesse or trouble hath chaunced for your sake, or your cause, or for loue of you.
Propterea, therefore, for that cause.
Propterea quod, because that.
Propolis, is, fem. gen. a disease, where the eyes meued with inflammation, doe fall out of their places.
Propudium, dii, n. gen. shame, dishonestie. also the most abhominable use of lecherie in an incontinent fowle. also the person that is naughtily abused.
Propudiosus, a, um, that is filthily abused in lecherie.
Propugnatio, onis, fem. ge. a defendyng or fightyng for the maintenance of a thyng.
Propugnaculum, li, n. ge. a fortresse, a stronge holde, a bulwarke.
Propugnaculo esse, to defende other.
Propugnator, onis, masc. gene. a defendour, a mainteyner, one that fighteth in the defence of a thyng.
Propugnare, ui, are, to fight for, to fight valiantly, to defende.
Propugnare commoda patrie, to defende or mainteyne his countrey against enemies.
Propulsio, onis, f. ge. a puttyng awate, a puttynge backe.
Propulsor, oris, m. g. that resisteth a thyng, or driueth any thyng awate.
Propulso, aut, are, to put of, to driue awate, to repelle.
Propallus, us, m. g. a putting or driuing backe.
Propyleum, lei, n. ge. a porch of a temple, a palace or great house.
Proquestor, onis, m. ge. he that extraordinarily is sent as Questor into any countrey.
Proia, re, f. g. the fore parte of a shippe.
Prora & pappis, proverbially, the whole summe and effecte of our purpose.
Prorogare, prorepit, repere, to creepe further, to steale forth by litle and litle.
Prorogari, re, m. gene. he that hath the rule of the fore shippe or decke.
Proreus, disyll. ide n.
Proripio, proripis, pui, pere, tormented with me. or se, signifieth to withdraue or depart, to get or conuighe hym selfe quickly out of a place or companie.
Domum se ex curia proripuit, he departed or withdrew hym selfe homeward from the court.

Proripere aliquem, id est, rapere.
Proripio, ui, are, to prouoke, to murre, to allure, to steale by.
Prorogatio, onis, a prolongyng or delayng.
Prorogare, ui, are, to prolonge, to put of till a longer date, to prorogare, to deferre.
Ne quid nobis temporis prorogetur, that our tyme be nothyng prolonged.
Imperium prorogare, to appointe one to be capitayne ouer an armie longer then his tyme prefixed befoze.
In hyemem prorogant moras, they deferre it or prolonge it vntill winter.
Prorsus, or prorsum, utterly, alwaie, in any wise, straight towards a place, surely.
Prorsus, cum negatione, for Nulla modo.
Prorsus tacere non queo, I can in no wise holde my peace.
Nihil prorsus, nothyng at all.
Huc prorsus illum non dat, he geueth not his to this man in any wise.
Sed prorsus omnibus, but vniuersally, or generally to all.
Stimulatus quasi eas prorsum in nauem, make as though thou wouldest go straight waite to take shipping.
Nulla modo prorsus, in no wise in the world.
Cursari rursus prorsum, that they runne forwards and backwarde.
Prorsus, a nowise. Prorsus, limittes in boundyng of landes directed in to the caste.
Prorumpo, rupi, rumpere, to breake forth, to sende forth with violence, to leape or go out of a place with violence, to braste out.
Prorumpere in hostes, To rushe forth violently into the middes of his enemies.
Illa pestis prorumpere, that pestilent or mischieuous naughtynesse will once burst forth.
At iam prorumpit ad aethera nubem, it casteth or sendeth out violently a foule blacke smoke, euen to the skye.
Prorupit, a, um, broken, burst. also flowynge or rennyng with great violence.
Prorupta audacia, foule hardynesse, rather boldnesse.
Proruo, prorui, ruere, to driue downe, or beate downe, to caste downe violently.
A fundamentis prorumpit, they ouerthrowe and cast it downe euen to the grounde.
Foras simul omnes prorumpit, they rushed out at the doore all together in a clustre.
Prorutas, a, um, caste downe, ouerthrowen.
Prosa, a certain goddess among the Romans.
Prosa, se, f. g. that whiche is not metere.
Prosaicus, a, um, of prose.
Proslapia, re, f. g. a prorenie, a descent of blood, a pettigree, a generation.
Proscenium, un, n. ge. the place befoze the stage folde, out of the whiche the players came.
Proscindo, proscidi, scindere, to cut out or vnder, to infame, to rebuke shamefully. Proscindere

Proscindere terram, to eate the grounde, namely when it is firste broken by.
Proscissio, onis, fem. gen. the firste caryng of the grounde.
Proscissum, si, neu. gen. the earthe first broken by or tilled.
Proscissus, si, um, eared or cutte by.
Proscribo, scripsi, scribere, to sell openly, to proscribe any thyng to be solde, to banishe, to condemn: to cause by ordinaunce to be proclaimed, that who so euer findeth one, he maie lawfully slea hym, and haue a rewarde for his labour.
Proscribere venale, to proclaime a thyng to be solde.
Proscribere domum, or aedes, to write on the doore, that the house is to be solde or let.
Proscriptio, onis, fem. gen. that manner of condemnation, when it is ordeyned, that who so euer findeth one, he maie lawfully slea hym, and haue a rewarde for his labour. also an attempder.
Proscriptor, oris, m. gen. he that proscreibeth or banissheth men.
Proscriptorio, scripturis, rui, rure, to imagin a proscriptio, to haue a despye to proscribe and banishe men.
Proscriptus, a, um, he that is proscribed or banished, so that any man maie kill hym lawfully.
Proseco, secui, are, to cutte asunder.
Prosecta, bowelles cutte in sacrifice.
Prosecta, re, f. g. a trumpet or common harlot.
Prosedamum, sedami, neu. g. a disease, whiche happeneth to rammes, goates and other beastes, whiche is vnaptynesse to generation though to much labour.
Proselenus, a, um, befoze the moone.
Proseleni, the Archadians, whiche were supposed to be befoze the moone.
Proscilius, ti, m. ge. a stranger bozne, connected to our fourme of lpyng.
Proscimino, ui, are, to sow forth.
Prosequium, an affection.
Prosequor, prosequeris, prosequi, to followe after, to pursue.
Prosequor amore, I loue.
Prosequor odio, I hate.
Prosequor honore, I honour.
Prosequor verbis, I chaufe him with wordes.
Prosequor officiis, I shew to hym great kindnesse, I doe hym many pleasures.
Prosequi praemio, to rewarde.
Prosequi dicto improbum verbum alicuius, To rebuke one sharply for speakeynge dishonestly.
Prosequi vsq; ad aliquem locum, to conducte or go with one to any place.
Prosequi decedentem domum, to go with one or hepe hym companie.
Prosequi aliquem lachrymis, to wepe at ones departyng.

Prosequi aliquem cum donis, to geue one presents and giftes at his departyng.
Prosequi funus, vel exequias funeris alicuius, To go with the coffe to buryng, to be at ones interment.
Altius prosequi, to speake further and more deeper of a thyng.
Ne plures prosequar, that I maie let passe of ther and not speake of them.
Prosequi aliquem, to shewe the mynde or affection that he hath toward one.
Prosequi laudibus, to praise.
Lachrymis prosequi mortuos, to wepe or lament for them that be deade.
Prosequi laudes alicuius ad cantum, to syng the praises or commendations of a man.
Libello prosequi memoriam alicuius, To make reuerende mention of a man in wrytyng of a boke.
Memoria prosequi, to runne by herte.
Prosequi mentionem alicuius cum honore summo, to make honorable mention of a man, to speake honorably of one.
Prosequi odore, to follow by the trace.
Prosequi stylo, to write.
Prosequi aliquem suffragio, to helpe one with his voyce.
Improbum factum dicto prosequutus est, he spake as knauishly as he hadde doone naughtily.
Proserpo, serpsi, pere, to creepe or slide softly like a serpente.
Proserpina, the wyfe of Pluto, daughter to Iupiter and Ceres: she is taken sometime for the moone.
Proserpinaca, re, f. ge. an herbe called also Polygonon, rebe there.
Proseuche, a, praier to god. also a beggyng.
Proseucha, cha, f. g. a begger, or rather the place where beggers stande to begge.
Proserari, to be obtained.
Proscium, cii, n. g. that whiche is cutte off from any thyng, and caste awate.
Proslilio, proslilis, prosliliui, or silij, lire, to leape softly.
In altitudinem proslire dicuntur frutices, to growe by in height.
Quidam proserans proslit: Wherefoze cometh he softly thpyng and leapyng.
Prosimium, a place without the walles of Rome, where the bishops of the gentiles made theyr diuinations, or toke their significacions of thinges to come.
Prosum, olde wryters used for Propositum, purposed.
Prosocer, ceri, m. gene. the father of my wyues father.
Prosochia, the crafte of accentyng.
Prosonomafia, the lykenesse of one woorde or name to an other: as Locus, and Lucus, orator and arator.

Protopis, the clove leafe of great butte. It is also the name of an isle in the mouth of Atlas called Delta.

Protopopia, where as personages are supposed of feigned to speake, as one man to another, a man to a beaste, one beaste to another. &c.

Proptete, aduisedly.

Prospetus, us, m. gene. a sight farre of, a prospecte.

Prospeto, aui, are, to beholde, propetye as farre of.

Prospero, ra, um, that geueth prosperitee, comes tyme that recepueth prosperitee, prosperous.

Prosperus, a, um, is some tyme redde.

Prospera ualeudo, godd helth.

Successus prosperos dare, to make a thyng to haue a godd ende.

Prospera fortuna, prosperitee.

Prospero, prosperously, euen as we wolde haue it of wysheit.

Prosperitas, aris, form. g. prosperitee, good fortune, when thynges come to passe as we wolde haue them.

Prospero, aui, are, to geue prosperitee, to make prosperous.

Prospergo, spergi, spargere, to spynke abroad.

Prospica, & prospicus, he that beholdeth a thyng farre of.

Prospiciencia, prouidence, circumspection.

Prospicies, for prospice, beholde.

Prospiciencia, circumspectely, aduisedly, with godd foresight and consideration.

Prospicio, spexi, spicere, to see farre, to foresee, to prouide, to beware. also for Videre, to see, to loke of see vnto, to prouide of thys for, to see and prouide a remedie agaynst ill, that might els haue chaunced.

Parum oculi prospiciunt, myne eyes be not beset clere of sight, I doe scant see from me.

Illa quæ futura sunt prospicere, to foresee thynges that be to come.

Prospicere animo, to consyder in ones mynd,

Prospicere in posterum, to prouide for the tyme to come.

Prospicere senectutem, to be almost an olde man.

Ego mihi prospiciam, I will prouide for my selfe.

Tibi prospexi & tuæ stultitiæ, I did it to help the and thy foolishnesse.

Malo ego nos prospicere, quam hunc vicisci accepta iniuria, I had rather we prouide for the matter afoze, then to be reuenged on hym after we haue receyued a shewde turne.

Patriæ prospicere, to loke and see to the saufs garde of his countrye.

Prospexi tempestatem futuram, I foresaw the tempest to come.

Prospicuum nobis est, we be prouided for.

Ex castris prospicere in urbem, to see out of the campe into the citee.

Prospicius, a, um, goodly of saye to see of best holde.

Prospiro, aui, are, to breathe farre of.

Prostacis, prehemine.

Prostates, a capitayne that cometh to helpe in warres.

Prosterno, strauit, sternere, to ouerthrowe, to banyquish in bataille.

Prostrauit se ad pedes lacrymans, he fell downe at his feete weeping.

Prostibula, la, f. g. an harlotte, a strompet.

Prostibulum, li, n. ge. a common brothelhouse, also a common harlotte.

Prostituo, stitui, tuere, to set open to euery man that cometh.

Suam pudicitiam prostituere, to abandone his chastitee to any man that will companie with him.

Prosto, prostiti, stare, to stande farre of, of as fore, to stande farre out. also to stande to be solde of byed.

Anguli prostantes, corners standyng farre oute.

Pretio prostare, to stande redy to be solde, of hired for money of euery man that cometh.

Profubigo, subegi, gere, to digge depe.

Pede profubigit terram, with his fote he digged harde into the grounde.

Prosum, fui, desse, to be profitable, to profite, to doe good, to be holpome, to be of strength and vertue agaynst a disease, to aide, to help.

Mirum quantum profuit concordiam ciuitatis, it is a wonderfull thyng how muche good it did to maintein concordie in the citee.

Prosumia, a, f. g. a littell barbe.

Prosupero, aui, are, to excede of haue more then enough.

Prosymna, a citee, in the whiche Juno is worshipped.

Protagoras, a notable philosopher of Grece.

Protaia, a proposition.

Prote, an ile in the sea Ionium.

Protestus, a, um, couered, defended.

Protesta, & Proiecta, partes of houses made further forth than other.

Protestio, ônis, f. g. a defence.

Protestor, ôris, m. g. a defendour.

Protego, texi, tegere, to couer and defende, to saue from, also to make a rooffe of upper floure in building.

Procolo, aui, are, to deferre of tracte the tyme, to put out, to dyue of thare awaie, to put of thys of, to dyue backe againe, to keepe at the staues ende, to bere, to strike, to trouble.

Procelum, li, n. ge. continuall fyght, longe sute, continuation of prolongyng.

Protendo, tendi, tendere, to sette forth of put forth, to stretche forth. Also to deferre, to prolonge.

Digitus medius longissime protenditur, the middill finger is longer then any of the other.

Comitia

Comitia in Ianuarium protendimus, we ptoe longe of deferre the assembly of the people vnto Ianuarie.

Protenus, a, um, stretched out.

Protenus in octo pedes, viii. foote longe.

Protenus, a great way hence, farre of, looke

Protenus.

Protermino, aui, are, to inroche, to extende the boundes of limites.

Protero, triui, tere, to treade downe, to treade vnder fote.

Protereo, terrui, terrere, to make aserde farre of.

Proteruia, a, f. g. wantonnesse, arrogancie. it was also a sacrifice, wherein the maner was, that as muche as was lefte vneaten, shuld bee consumed with fyre, wherof came the prouerbe next folowpng. loke Proteruius.

Proteruiam fecit, he hath consumed all that is left.

Proteruio, uiui, uire, to plaie the wanton, to be sauey, of malaperte.

Proterue, proudey, immoderately, shamefully, saulily, knappishely.

Quis est qui tam proterue foribus facit iniuriam? who is he that so saulily rappeth at the doore?

Ecce autem tu quoz proterue iracundus es, lo and thou also arte shamefull angrie.

Proteruiter, idem quod proterue.

Proteruitas, aris, f. g. prude, folie, saucinesse, malapertnesse.

Proteruius, a, um, proude, fierce, arrogant, saulie, malaperte, knappish, knauish.

Proteruius, duke of the citee Phylax in Chetalie, wente with other to the siege of Troie. And when there was aunswere geuen to the Troians, that who so euer byd fyfte take lande in the countrey of Troie, shoulde be slayne: Proteruius, with a balpaunte courage, arpued bes foze any other, and was slayne by Hector, whose wyfe wepte so much for him (and would neuer be comforted) that he dyed.

Protestatio, ônis, f. g. a protestation, an open declaring of ones sentence and mynde.

Protestator, ôris, m. g. he that manifestly declareth what is to be eschewed and not doen.

Protestor, aris, ari, to declare manifestly, what shoulde be eschewed and not doen.

Proteus, the sonne of Oceanus and Cethys, called of the painumes the god of the sea, whom Homere nameth to bee the herderman of the fishes called: Phocæ, and also a prophete, not withstandyng he wolde not geue aunswere, but being constrained by Minos. He also toured hym selfe into sundy fygyres, Sometime being lyke a flame of fire, sometime lyke a bull, an other tyme lyke a terrible serpente. Ho-merus Odysse. Vergilius Georgicorum quæ.

In beray dedde he was hyng of Egypte in the tyme of Ptolemus hyng of Troie. Of hym came this prouerbe, Proteo mutabilior, more changeable than Proteus, applied to hym that in his actes or wordes is vnsstable.

Prothenor, one of the true capitaines of Hector, that came to Troie.

Prothesis, sis, f. gen. an addition of a letter, as Gnatus, for Natus.

Prothous, one of the Greeces that came to Troie.

Prothymata, ôrum, n. g. thynges doen of offered before sacrifice, as bouenpge of incence and such lyke.

Prothymia, a, f. g. promptitude, also gentill entertainment.

Pro qd immortales, quot ego voluptates fed ro, quot risones, quot iocos, quot suauia, sald taones, bladias, prothymias? I loide god, how many pleasures haue I, what laughynges, what pastymes, what bassynges, daunsynges, balpaunces and sweete enterpynementes?

Prothysum, thysri, n. g. a porche at the vter doze of an house.

Prothymus, a, um, prompte, readie.

Protina, for Protinus, forthwith.

Protinus, a farre of. Also forthwith without tadyng. Sometime altogether. Sometime for Deinceps, than after, euer after, from then forth, continually, by and by, at the very beginnyng, euen fyft of al, at the fyft choppe, at the fyfte dash, at the same tyme.

Protinus qd detraxere vinbus, forthwith, the continent, of by and by, as soone as they haue plucked them from the vyues.

Alique fibres protinus a calore incipiunt, by and by, at the beginnyng, fyft of all.

Protinus acri melis dona persequar, than by and by after.

Lacu protinus stagnate, id est, ingiter, continually.

Parui refert protinus libertus patrono cogatur dare, an per interpositam fideiussoris vel rei personam, immediately with his owne hande, of by the meane of an other person.

Mos erat &c. quem protinus verbes coluere Albanæ, continually, euer after.

Qua protinus omne inuenit nemus, a farre of.

Quam protinus viratq telus una foret, whan both the landes were all one.

Proton, the herbe called Veratrum nigrum.

Proton opus, an image of faurme, wherof muldes be made. in the whiche thynges be cast of metall or ethe.

Pratocolum, i, n. g. that is first made of wyitten, whiche requireth correction.

Protocomos, primus comans.

Protogenes, of the first hunted of familie. it was also the name of an excellent painter.

Protogénia, the daughter of Deucalion and Pirrha.

Protogonus, the fyft chyld.

Protollo, tollere, to p[ro]longe, to aduance, to put forwarde.
Protologia, a, f. g. a p[re]face.
Protomartyr, martyr, com. g. the fyrste martyr of myneste.
Protomedicus, the chiefe physician about a prince.
Protomysta, a, m. g. the chiefe priest of deane.
Prorono, tonui, are, to thundze of make a great noise before, to speake with great anger and wrath veray fiercelly.
Protonotarius, a protonotarie, chiefe scrbye of secretarie.
Protopages, & Protopagus, fyrste made of wrought, or late made.
Protoplastes, a, m. gen. the fyrst fourmer of matter.
Protoplastus, i, m. g. he that is first fourmed of made, Adam was so called.
Protas, the fyrst.
Prototocos, the that first brought forth, Eua was so called.
Prototomus, i, m. gen. the stalk that is fyrste cutte.
Prototypus, i, the fyrst example of paterne.
Prouactus, a, um, p[ro]longed, deferred, drawne out.
Protraho, axi, ere, to deferre of p[ro]longe, to draw forth with violence.
Protrepticus, ci, m. g. a booke to enstricke one, a doctrine.
Protrimenta, meate minced small.
Protropum, i, n. g. a certayne dynke, whiche is a vice dyscylng out of grapes before they be pressed.
Protrido, tridis, tristi, ere, to steppe forwarde, to thrust forwarde, to thrust in ones lappe of bosome.
Protrubo, aui, are, to thrust out by force, to thrust from one.
Protypum, i, n. g. that is made for an example or a paterne.
Prouectus, a, um, p[ro]moted, aduanced forth, raised.
Prouectus ad dignitatem, p[ro]moted of aduanced to honour.
Prouectum ingenium, a longe p[ro]ued witte.
Prouectus arate, aged, ronne farre in peres.
Proueho, uexi, ere, to bynge of carie forth, also to promote, to aduance.
Vbi sumus prouecti in alium, whan we be entred a good way into the sea.
Prouehi equo, to ryde forth on horsebacke.
Prouehor amore, id est, raptor, I am rauyshed with loue, and forced to speake moze of the matier than I purposed.
Prouehi longius in scribendo, vel orando, to haue writen or spoken moze of further of a matier than one purposed, or than nede was.
Prouehi in alium, by translation to haue entred into the middes and chiefe parte of the matier.

Prouehi in maledicta, to speake to farre, that he falleth to railing and reprochefull wordes.
Sentio meliorius prouectum q[ua]m proposita ratio postulare, I perceiue that I haue spoken further of this matier, than I shold.
Prouexit orationem meam vestra benignitas, your gentleness hath caused me to bee longer in this matier, or to speake further in this matier than my mynde was.
Prouehere vitam suam in periculum, to put his lyfe in daunger.
Prouehere aliquem ad dignitatem, to aduance one to honour and dignite.
Vbi ad extremum spiritum prouecta ast prudentia, his wisdom continued to the last houre of his death.
Prouenio, prouenis, ueni, ire, to come forth, also to grow of increase, to be borne of brought forth into the worlde, to happen of chaunce, to come to passe.
Nimis prouentum est nequiter, it hath chaunced veray unhappilie.
Prouentus, us, m. ge. the increase and fruite of all thynges, as well good as euill, reuenues, p[er]ely p[ro]fyttes, also successe.
Prouelium, ij, n. ge. a p[ro]uerbe, an olde sayde sawe.
Prouide, circumspectely, wysely, diligently.
Prouidens, entis, prouidentie, wylf, he that seeth thynges before they come, and taketh hede of theyn, foresyng.
Prouidenter, prouidently, with great foresyght and wisdom.
Prouidentia, a, f. g. prouidence, foresyght, some tyme it is used for god.
Prouideo, prouides, uidi, ere, to prouide, to foresee, to be ware, to se thynges before they come, and to eschewe theim. Also to purueyge for.
Prouit me plus prouidere quam seipsum si bi, he thought that I coude foresee what was most expedient for his p[ro]fytte, better than he coude hym selfe.
Publice prouidere, to prouyde for the comon p[ro]fytte.
Prouidere rebus necessarijs, to purueyge for thynges necessarie.
Prouidere in huiusmodi pabulum, to prouyde for forage agaynst wynter.
Prouisum hoc legibus, the lawe hath ordeined this.
Prouisus, a, um, prouident, circumspecte, diligent, foresyng.
Prouincia, a, f. g. an out region of countrey, that the Romaines had subdued to theyr dominion, and helde the same, vnder theyr iurisdiction, by a litle tennante, whiche was sente thither with commission and great charge to rule and gouerne the prouince. And therefore the veray office of rule in any countrey is called Prouincia, and by a metaphore all the burthen, labour of byndes in any office of thing to be don, is lyke is lykwyse called Prouincia.

Prouinciam suscipere, To take charge of a thyng.
Prouinciam cepisti duram, thou hast taken a matier vpon the, harde to bynge about.
Hinc nostri nadia est prouincia, the matier is committed to this fellowe of myn.
Obtinere prouinciam, to haue the charge of gouernaunce of any prouince.
Prouincialis, le, of of belonging to a prouince, or that dwelleth in a prouince.
Prouinciatus, from countrey to countrey, or one countrey with another.
Prouisio, onis, f. g. a foresyng of a thyng, p[ro]uising, p[ro]uising.
Prouiso, uisi, ere, to see of beholde, to goe to see, to come forth to see.
Prouisor, oris, m. g. a foreser, a purueygher of prouyde for thynges before they come.
Prouisus, a, um, foresene, considered before.
Prouisus, uixi, ere, to lue longer.
Prouocatio, onis, f. g. a prouoking, a chalenge, an appcale to an hygher court.
Ex prouocatione dimicare, To fyght by challenge.
Prouocator, oris, m. g. he that prouoketh one, he that appealeth, the appealant.
Prouocatorius, a, um, p[re]cepting to prouoking, or chalenging.
Prouocatus, a, um, p[ro]uoked, accerd, challenged.
Prouocatus ab hoste ad dimicandum, challenged of his enemy to fyght.
Prouoco, aui, are, to call from a farge, to call forth, to steere, to saute, to prouoke, to challenge, to chaire, also to appcale to an hygher iudge, to desie one in battail.
De Casare mansum est, neq[ue] iam prouocari in integrum potest, as touchyng Cesar, that is at a poynt, nor it can in any wyse be called agayne, or that whiche is doon can not be vndoone.
Heres si domi est quin prouocas if thy matier be at home, why doest thou not call hym forth?
Prouocare ad pugnam, to desie, to challenge to fyght with one.
Didicit homo naturam prouocare, id est, vincere.
Prouocare iniurijs, by dooepage inturie or wronge, to prouoke of steere a man to doe hym displeasure.
Ad populum prouocare, to appcale to the people.
Pamphila can' au' prouocemus, let vs p[re]aise Pamphila to spnge: o., let vs call Pamphila to spnge.
Prouolo, aui, are, to steere awaie of beyonde, to steere farre, and by translation, to renne of ryde out a pace as one d[ro]we.
Prouoluo, uolui, ere, to rolle of tumble a great stone or other like thyng. Some tyme to lye downe

Prostrate.
Prouoluere se ad genua, to fall downe p[ro]strate at ones knees.
Prout, for Sicut, as, lyke as, euen as.
Prout cuiuslibet est, euen as euery mans pleasure or phantasie is.
Prouulgo, aui, are, to promulgate.
Prox, of olde wyse was taken for Proba vox, a good voyce of noyse.
Proxenia, a, m. g. a broker.
Proxime, nexte.
Is quem proxime nominavi, he that I named last.
Proxime quum in patria fui, whan I was last in my countrey.
Proxime ianuam, next to the gate.
Proxime morem Romanum, as nere the fashion of the Romaines as coude be.
Qua proxime accedat ad verum, whiche are most lyke to be true.
Vt proxime vniuersae differentiam signem, that I maie note the difference of them bothe as ageris can be possibill.
Proxime, first of all, Mox, then after, Tertio, thyrde.
Proximi, for Proximo: die Proximi, the nexte daye.
Proximitas, atis, f. g. nighnes, neighbourhood, the nyghest degree of kynred.
Proximior, more nere.
Proximo, aui, are, to appoche of drawe nere, to be next.
Proximurum, rij, n. g. a place without p[ro] walling to the citie, where byshops d[ro]w also senle in their conuocation.
Proximus, a, um, nexte.
Sedye proximum ad aliquem, to sit next vnto one.
His mensibus sex proximis, these six monethes last paste.
Proximo seculo, the next age after.
In proximum senatum, vntill the next parliament of counsaile.
Proximus vicinus, the nexte neyghbour.
Proximus, the laste of all, Superior, the other before, Primus, the first of the thier.
Optimum, the beste, Proximum, the nexte, Tertium, the thyrde.
Proximus ante me fuit, he was next before me.
Proximus post Lisandrum, nexte after Lysander.
Laudem Planco proximum assequutus est, he was praised for the best next after Plancus.
Proximus sum egomet mihi, I must be best friende to my selfe, or I muste true my selfe firste, or, I loue you well, but I loue myne owne selfe better.
Proximus Pompeium sedebam, I sat nexte to Pompey.
Proximus optimis, he that is alwaie in company with the beste and most honest men.

Proximum vino gustu, as lyke the taste of wyne as can be.

Proxima ab Egypto Campana est copia rosarum, excepte Egypt, no place in the world hath greater plentie of roses than Campaine hath. Tibiamanti patriam amore nos proximi sumus, nexte after your country, you loue vs moste entierly.

Proximum, a substantiue.

Eamus ad me, ibi proximum est ubi mutes, goe we to my house, there is the nexte place where thou maist most conveniently change thy raiment.

In proximo, here harde by, not farre hence.

Prudens, entis, om. g. wyse, prudent, knowyng, experie.

Quia prudens omitto, whiche I doe wyllyngly and of purpose let passe.

Prudens, sciens, viuus, vidensque pereos, I die beyng ware of wityng and knowyng thes of, beyng on lyue and sepyng, I wilfully cast awaie my selfe.

Ob ea se pen prudens, knowyng that he is pursued for them.

Prudens administrandi, expert, cunnynge and knowyng howe to gouerne.

Prudens agricolationis vir, a man well expert in housbandrie.

Prudens locorum, he that knoweth the waters, places and passages.

Prudenter, wyfely, circumspectly, prouidently, expertly.

Prudentia, æ, f. g. prudence, wysedome in despyrnyng and eschewyng of thynges.

Prudentia iuris ciuilis, knowlage of the lawe civile.

Adhibere prudentiam, to vse wysedome in dooynge a thyng.

Prugnum, olde wyters used for Pronum, prone or apte.

Pruina, æ, f. g. froste.

Pruinofus, æ, um, frostie, of that is in daunger to be hurte by froste.

Pruna, æ, f. g. a burnyng cole.

Prunella, æ, f. g. an herbe called commonly Bruynella, Burnette, after other selfe heale.

Prunolum, or Prunulum, a wylde floe.

Prunolus, the tree that beareth wylde floes.

Prunetum, ti, n. g. an orcharde set with damasene trees and plumme trees.

Prunioli, smalle muthions.

Prunum, i, neu. g. a damasene, pyune, plumme, floe or bullasse.

Pruna sativa, damasene.

Prunus, i, for. gene. a damasene tree or plumme tree.

Prurigo, riginis, fœm g. idem quod pruritus, ptyngyng with a delectacion, as in the scrypyng of lecherie.

Prurio, riui, ire, to ptyche, by translacon, to haue an appetyte of desyre to doe a thyng.

Pruritus, us, m. g. ptyngyng.

Prusa, a citee in Grece at the foote of the mountaine Olympus.

Prusenses, the people of Prusa.

Prusias, a kyng of Bithynia, unto whom Antiochus fledde after he was banished from Cassia.

Prusis, Mercurius soonne.

Prymnesia, a citee of Macedonia.

Prymnesia, n, n. g. a poste or stake, wherunto the cabull of a ship is tyed: After some, the cas bull is selfe.

Prymno, a nymphe or mayden of the sea, one of the daughters of Oceanus.

Prytanæa, a counsaile assembled of great officers and iudges.

Prytanæum, the counsaile house in the castell of Athens.

Prytanis, the president or chiefe of the counsaile.

Sallo, li, ere, to syng, also to plaie on the harpe or lute.

Psalmodia, æ, f. g. a diuers or myrt songe.

Psalmus, i, ma. gene. a songe, properly to god or of god.

Psalterium, ij, neu. ge. an instrument like to an harpe, but more pleasant and sweeter. also the psalmes called the psalter.

Psalteris, tis, m. g. a syngyng man. Psalterius, idē.

Psaltira, æ, f. g. a syngyng woman.

Psamare, a fontaine in Thebes. also a citee and a mountaine. Also the daughter of Eratopus, kyng of Argues. an other was a nymphe, daughter of Nereus.

Psammenitus, a kyng of Egypte banquished by Cambyses.

Psammeticus, a kyng of Egypte, in whose time 200008. Egyptians forsoke thes countrey and went to the Ethiopians.

Psammos, sande.

Psaphon, a mā of Libya, which affecting a diuine name, taught birdes to speke thus: Psaphon is a great god.

Psecas, psecadis, f. gen. a dioppe or mistyng like dewe, also a nymphe, one of Dianas copans.

Psegrima, ætis, neu. g. the pouder of dust, whiche is blowne of from brass when it is melted. also golden sande, or pouder of golde.

Psellus, the name of an olde wyter, which wyte of diete.

Psenes, wyrmes in figges.

Psephisma, phismatis, n. g. a decree.

Psephopæcta, m. ge. an auditour or caster of accounts.

Pseudo, faulse or countrefaite, and euery other nounce ioynd therewith is thereby made faulse or countrefaite, as Pseudopropheta, a faulse or countrefaite prophete.

Pseudadelphus, i, m. ge. a countrefaite brother.

Pseudo, faulse or countrefaite, and euery other nounce ioynd therewith is thereby made faulse or countrefaite, as Pseudopropheta, a faulse or countrefaite prophete.

Pseudangelus, li, m. g. a false messenger.

Pseudobonium, a certaine herbe.

Pseudocaro, a countrefaite Carot.

Pseudographus, i, m. g. a countrefaite wyter.

Pseudologus, a lyar, a false speaker.

Pseudolus, li, m. g. a faulse seruant.

Pseudonardus, di, spike.

Pseudo martyr, a faulse witness.

Pseudomenos, a lyar.

Pseudonymus, that hath a faulse and countrefaite name.

Pseudopales, Staphisagria.

Pseudopropheta, æ, m. g. a faulse prophete.

Pseudophryum, ii, n. g. a faulse or countrefaite posterie.

Pseudobana ædificia, houses in the countrey trimmed somewhat lyke the citee.

Philothrum, thri, n. g. an ointment to take away brare. It is also a white vine.

Phimythium, n. g. that whiche we dooe call Cerule or white leade.

Phia, æ, f. g. a fische, whiche we call a plaice.

Phineus, ci, m. g. a popynage.

Piole, les, f. g. mentula.

Plophis, the daughter of Erix.

Ploza, æ, f. g. a certaine scurritesse.

Ploza, æ, f. g. an herbe, whiche Quellius doubteth, whether it be that, whiche we commonly call Scabiosa, or that ha. a long leafe, and beyng broken in sandre, hath in the breakynge litell thredes lyke to a copweb, I hath a faulse blew flower, it groweth commonly in oie mesdowes.

Plozosis, hardenesse of the cobbles.

Plozthalmia, æ, f. g. a scurritesse of the browes with an itche.

Plyche, idem quod Tripolium.

Plichium, a kynde of wyne.

Psychrola, æ, m. g. he that wasteth in colde water.

Psycholures, he that delisteth to bathe in colde water.

Psychonantium, ij, n. g. a place where Picromanders doe call by spirites.

Psychrophium, i, n. g. an herbe called betaine.

Psychrophobi, they that be afraid to giue colde water in continuall fevers.

Pylli, people in Libya, whose bodies are besmyte to serpentes, and they also dooe cure the bityng and poysonyng of serpentes, by suckyng the place, whiche is venomd.

Pyllion, an herbe called also Pulicaris herba, in English flea worre.

Pyllium, a citee of Bithynia, called commonly Picello.

Plyra, an yle not farre from Chius, whereof Homer writeth Odyssea. 3. and a citee of the same name.

Plydia, a grape,

P Te, a syllable ioynded oftentimes to the ablative case: as Meaptes, Tuaptes, Suaptes, myne owne, thyne owne, his owne.

Ptelea, the elme tree.

Ptera, æ, for. g. the walles on bothe sydes of a temple.

Pteria, a citee in Cappadocia.

Pternio, onis, a kibe or chilblayne.

Pteris, tis, f. g. ferne, or herbe of munde or brake.

Pteromati, orum, n. g. great arches made ouer roofes lyke wynges.

Pterna, næ, f. g. the lower part of the mast in a shippe.

Pteroforos, a countrey by the mountaines Rhiphei.

Pterygium, ij, n. g. a littell shinne, which groweth from the corner of the eye, and conereth the sight. it is also a griefe vnder the forepart of the nape, whan the fleshe goeth from the nape with pynne: or after other, a swellynge of the fleshe ouer the nape.

Pthia, a parte of Theffalie, where Achilles reigned.

Pufana, æ, f. g. the water, wherin barley is sodden. also barley husked or excoicate. also frumentum made of barley.

Pufaniam, ij, n. g. a moyster, wherin barley is brayed.

Procorophium, phi, n. g. an hospitall for beggars, a spittell house.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Prolotheus, the name of diuers kynges of Egypte.

Pubes, his, for. g. a ponge moſte bearde, whiche ſprungeth in the nether partes of a man at foure ſcuer peere of age, of a woman at ponger peeres, wherfoze a man or woman at thoſe peeres is called Pubes, ſometime poult, or a multitude of ponge men. alſo the priue partes of the boodie. alſo beyng an adiectiue it ſignifieth full growen, almoſt ripe.

Puberitas, yourthe, whan one begynneth to ware a man.

Puberfolia, id eſt, adulta.

Pubefco, ſcere, to begynne to ware a man, and haue a bearde, to growe as a childe dooeth to mans ſtate. it is alſo ſpoken of herbes & trees, to growe bigge, to ware ripe.

Omnis largo pubeſcit vinea form, id eſt, exuberat.

Publicanus, i, m. g. he that toke in ferme of the people of Rome, the rentes and reuenues due to the citee at a rent certayne.

Publicatio, ōnis, f. g. a publiſhing, a making of a thyng common, conſtitution.

Publice, openly in the face of the worlde.

Sumerus publicē dati, his expences bozne of the citee or towne.

Publice redimere, to bye it of the common treaſure.

Publice bona poſſidere, to haue gooddes conſtitute of ſoiſatred.

Publice ad me venit, he came to me openly, that every man might ſee hym.

Venire publice, to come as ambaffadour from a citee or common weale.

Publice dicere, to make an oration before the people.

Publice propter duas cauſas nihil ſcripti, for two cauſes I wrote not to the ſenate, and the people.

Publice & priuatiū oneri eſſe, to bee chargeable bothe to the common wealth, and to his particular friendes.

Publice ſocius, one that is alied or confederate with vs for ſome matter pertaining to the common wealth.

Publicus, idem quod publicē, by common counſaile or aduſe.

Quæ prohibere publicus intereſt, whiche ſhall bee expediente for the people or common weale to be forboden.

Hoſpicio publicus accipi, to bee caſte in the common gaule.

Publicus, a, um, common.

Publico, aui, are, to publiſhe, to maniſeſt, to make openly knowen, to cauſe to bee openly cried, to make common. Alſo idem quod Edeſſe, to ſet abroad, as a man dooeth a booke of other thyng. Alſo to abandon in commune, as harlottes doe. Sometime to conſtitute.

Se publicare, to ſhewe hym ſelfe openly, that the people may ſee hym.

Publicola, a fauourer of the people, which name was geuen to Valerius, whiche was one of the firſt conſulles of Rome.

Publicus, a, um, common, but more properly publiſhe, that is to ſaie, pertaining to euerie ſtate of the people ſpecially and ſeuerally. See the true definition thereof in my booke called the gouernour.

Publicum conſilium, the commune counſaile.

Carere publico, not to come a boarde, or amonge the people.

Publica ſacra, ſacrifices doen in common for the people.

Publica fides, a cauſe conducte, a generall licence.

Publicum omnium eſt, it is comon to all men.

Per publicum vectus, caried abroad thorough the ſtrete.

Publica via, the hinges high wate.

Publica veſtigalia, tolles, cuſtomes, belongs to the common treaſure.

Publica verba, common woordes that all ſoztes of men dooe uſe.

Nemo publicum aſpicere volebat, no man woulde come abroad into the ſtreets, or comon place.

Publicum, is uſed ſometime for the common treaſure or reuenues.

Publior, publioris, Publius hope or ſeruant.

Publius, the name of a Roman, as Marcius is.

Pucinum, a towne of Hiſtria.

Pucinum vinum, wyne growynge ngyht to the gouſe of Hiſtrie, by the towne Pucinum.

Pudefacio, pudefacis, feci, facere, to make ashamed.

Pudefio, ſis, fieri, to be ashamed.

Pudenda, the priue members.

Pudendagra, a diſeaſe about the priue members. it is uſed for the frenche poches.

Pudendus, a, um, a thyng to be ashamed of.

Pudens, entis, om. g. ſhamcaſt.

Animi pudentis ſignum eſt, it is a token of a ſhamcaſt mynde.

Pudenter, with ſhamcaſtneſſe, baſhefully, ſhamcaſtly.

Pudeo, cui, dere, to be ashamed, and is moſt uſed in the theſe perſone.

Puder, pudebat, puduit, puduit eſt, to bee ashamed.

Non te hanc pudens arte thou not ashamed of theſe thynges.

Puder viuere, I am ashamed to lyue.

Puder dicere, I am ashamed to tell.

Cuius nunc pudet me, wherof I am nowe ashamed.

Tanq̃ puditurum eſſet extinctos, as though it woulde make them ashamed that are dead.

Pudibunde, ſhamcaſtly.

Pudibundus, a, um, ſhamcaſte.

Dies pudibunda, id eſt, purpurea, a red moyſnyng.

Pudice, chaſtly, honeſtly.

Pudi

Pudicitia, a, f. g. chaſtitee, cleaneſſe of liuynge, puretee.

Pudicum, aſhamed.

Nonne eſſet pudicum ſi hanc cauſam agerent ſeuere, had it not been a ſhame, if they had purſued that matter rigorouſely.

Pudicus, a, um, chaſte, ſhamcaſt.

Pudor, ōris, m. g. a moderation that letteth the mynde to dooe any thyng wantonly or diſhoneſtly, ſhamcaſtneſſe to ſaie or doe any thyng diſhoneſt. ſometime a naughtie and ſhamfull acte.

Ponere pudorem, to leſe his blegintee.

Incutere pudorem, to make aſhamed.

Pudori eſſe, to make one aſhamed of it.

Puella, a, f. g. a wenche, a gyllie, a damſell.

Puellaris, re, chyldiſhe, of gyllies, propre to gyllies and wenches.

Puellariter, lyke a wenche or gyllie, chyldiſhly.

Puellafco, ſcere, to ware ponge agayne, to bee mapdonly, to ware gyllieſhe.

Pucllula, a, f. g. a littell gyllie, a wenche.

Puellus, i, m. g. a littell chyld, a babe.

Puer, eri, m. g. a childe, a boie, alſo a ſeruant.

A puero, a pueris, a puero paruulo, of a littell babe, euer ſence I was a childe.

Puera, a, f. g. a woman childe, a damſell, called in Cambridge ſhire a modder.

Puerafco, ſcere, to begynne his boies age, to ware a boie after .viij. peeres of age.

Puerilis, ſe, of a chyld, chyldiſhe or boieſhe.

Puerilitas, ſis, for. g. a chyldeſ act, chyldiſhneſſe, boieſheſneſſe, alſo for Pueritia, chyldhoode.

Pueriliter, chyldiſhly, lyke a boie.

Pueritia, a, f. g. chyldhoode.

Puerpera, a, for. g. a woman that lieth in chyldbed, a woman late brought on bedde.

Puerperium, ſi, n. g. the tyme of a woman to traſnaple of chyld, ſometime the chyld. alſo the byrthe.

Puerperus, a, um, that beareth chyldren.

Puerulus, i, m. g. an infant.

Pueris, i, m. g. was uſed of olde wytters, for Puer.

Pugil, pugilis, com. g. a champion.

Pagillans, ris, m. g. & pugilare, or Pugillar, aris, n. g. plur. Pugillares, a payre of tables to wyte in.

Pugillaris, re, that ſleeth the hāde, an handfull in gathering of herbes or other thyng.

Pugilitis, ōnis, f. g. the creerple of champions, or them that fight with theſe ſtyles.

Pugilatus, us, m. g. fighting with the ſtyles.

Pugilice, valiantly, ſtrongly, myghthly, lyke a champion.

Pugilatorius, a, um, that is ſtryken with the ſtyle.

Pugilatorius follis, a balle fylled onely with wynde, whiche is ſtryken with a mans ſtyle and not with the palme.

Pugio, ōnis, m. g. a dagger.

Pugio plumbeus, by tranſlation, a weakie argument.

Pugionculus, li, m. g. a ſhorſte dagger, a popp neadowe.

Pugillus, li, m, g. a littell ſtyle.

Pugna, a, f. g. battaile, fight, contention, ſtriſe. ſometime the acte of lecherie, alſo an aſſaut, a deſente.

Dare pugnam, to geue the onſette.

Dabit hic aliquam pugnam denuo, this ſelow wyll cauſe ſome debate or ſtrife agayne.

Pugnacitas, ſis, f. g. contention, fighting, deſpyre or appetite to fight.

Pugnaciter, valiantly in battaile, with great force and courage, contentiously, obſtinately, inſtantly, eagerly.

Pugnaculum, li, m. g. a place where men dooe fight.

Pugnans, antis, om. g. fighting, ſtriving, conſtendynge, beyng contrarie or againſt.

Pugnantes ſententiæ, contrarie ſentences.

Pugnator, ōris, m. g. a fighter.

Pugnator gallus gallinaceus, a fighting cocke, a cocke of the game.

Pugnator, & pugnaciſſimus, more or moſte fighting.

Pugnatus, a, um, fought.

Pugnax, ſis, om. g. a great fighter, warlyke, contentious.

Pugnacula, a, f. g. a ſtymmyſhe.

Pugno, aui, are, to fight, to repugne, to contende, to bee contrarie or againſt, to ſtrive, to diſpute or reaſon contrarie, to labour or endeavour.

Cum ſenectute pugnare, to ſtrive agaynſt age.

Pugnant de loco, they contende or ſtrive for theſe place.

Ex equo pugnare, to fight on horſebacke.

E muris pugnare, to fight on the walles agaynſt them that aſſaute.

In hoſtem pugnare, to fight agaynſt his enemy.

In frontem pugnare, to fighte fronte to front.

Omnes pro Quintio pugnant, they all defende Quintus, or ſpeake crantly on his parte.

Cum eorum vita pugnat oratio, theſe wordes and lyfe agree not, or are contrarie one to an other.

Quæ tantum inter ſe pugnant, that bee ſo contrarie and repugnant one to an other.

Illud video pugnare te, I ſee that you contende to haue this graunted you.

Non magnopere pugnare, id eſt, non valde laborare. Conuelleret pugnare, he endeuoureth or labourerth to pulle them by.

Pugnat, the imperſonall.

Hoc pugnat, this they contende or labour to bring to paſſe.

Pugnaueris, you ſhall dooe a wonderfull great matter, ſpoken in moſtage.

Pugnus, i, m. g. a ſtyle.

One

Onerare pugnis, to geue one as many blowes with the fist, as he is able to beare.
Impingere pugnū, to geue one a blowe.
Pugnū altis facito, make them an handeful hgh.

Pulchellus, a fayre littell one.

Pulchellus puer, a fayre littell boie.

Pulcher, chra, chrum, fayre, beautifull, gale, godly to see, well fauoured, stronge, tall.

Mors pulchra, a gloriouse death.

Pulcherrime, most beautifull.

Pulcherrimus, a, um, fayrest.

Pulchrâlis, le, fayre.

Pulchre, an aduerbe signifieth fayre, godly, say-ly, tolyp, freestly, beautifull, wel fauoured ly, sometye balauntly. also wisely. some-tyme it is put for Valde.

pulchre suades, thou counsailest me veray wisely.

Pulchre locare operam, to bestowe his labour well.

Pulchre notus, veray well knowne.

Pulchre valet Carinus, Carinus is in veray good health.

Ac dum accubabam. J videbar mihi pulchre esse sobrius & and whyle I late at the table I thought my selfe to be veray sobre.

Pulchritas, aus, f. g. beaute, fayrenesse, galenes.

Pulchresco, scere, to be fayre or ware faire.

Pulchritudo, inis, f. g. beaute, iustesse of personage.

Pulegium, ij, n. g. an herbe, wherof there is male and female, the male hath purple flowres, the female white. It is taken for common penny-royall. Is it Vermolans. Barbas doubte, whether Pulegium be pennyroyall, or a hynde of Saluam. Panardus writeth that there is no difference betwene our Pulegium, and the other, haung in it the same qualities. Theop-hrastus and Plinius do write, that the braun-thes therof hangd up in a larder in the depe of wynter, dooe bynge forth flourcs, whiche als to nowe might be easily proued. also bynge drunke with Hellicare, it purgeth melancolpe excedyngly. Pulegium, is sometye used for pleasauynesse or sweetenesse of wodes.

Puleum, ij, n. g. idem quod pulegium.

Pulex, pulicis, m. g. a flea.

Pulex araneus, a certayne spyder.

Pulcaria, the herbe called Philion.

Pulcinus, a, um, of a flea.

Pulicôsus, a, um, full of fleas.

Pullarius, ij, m. g. a keeper, nourisher or breeder of chickens. also he that by the fedynge of chie-kens woulde diuine what shoulde come.

Pullaster, i, m. g. a sponge cockrell.

Pullastra, a, f. g. a sponge pullet.

Pullitio, ônis, f. g. hatchyng or byngyng by of chickens.

Pullatus, a, um, clad in mournynge apparayle.
sometye a man in pwe apparayle. sometye

tude, vnlearned.

Circulus pullatus, a companie of vnlearned persons.

Pullesco, scere, to spyng of burgen.

Pullicenus, ni, m. g. a netwe hatched chicken.

Pullig, iginis, browne or naturall colour.

Pullinus, a, um, of a colte of yonge chicken.

Dentes pullini, coltes teeth, that be first caste.

Pullities, ei, f. g. a byngyng footyng of hatchynge of chickens. also the folynge of coltes. Sometye the chickens of coltes them selues.

Pullulasco, liscere, to burgen.

Pullulo, aui, are, to spyng, to come by ponge.

Pullulus, a diminutive of Pullus.

Pullus, li, m. g. the yonge of euery thyng. also a colte of sole, also a chicken.

Pullulanum, ponge frogges.

Equinus pullus, a yonge colte.

Pullapum, ponge bees.

Pullarborum, ponge spynges of shootes of trees.

Pullus, a, um, russet, sometye blache, but ras ther pulke colour, betwene russet and blache.

Vestis pulla, a mournyng garment.

Pulmentaris, re, belonging to portage.

Pulmentarium, ij, n. g. portage made with flesh or fyssh, as for cede greull or colse.

Pulmentum, ij, n. g. greull, portage.

Pulmo, ônis, m. g. the longes or lyghtes.

Pulmonaria, a, f. g. an herbe called longe wyrt, or after other broade moss. or after some hase ragge.

Pulmonarius, a, um, that is diseased in the lōges.

Pulmonia, be certayne apples, whiche be called in some place an hundred thylpings.

Pulpa, a, f. g. the wodde of all trees that may be divided by stringes. it is also taken for Carnolitee or fleshye partes. Sometye for the softe matter that is inclosed in an harde shell, as Pulpa casie fistula, for the inner part therof called also Medulla.

Pulpamentum, i, n. g. a delicate dishe, of meate.

Pulpitum, i, n. g. an haulte place or pulpyte.

Puls, pulis, f. g. a meate made of meate, water, honye, checke, and egges, it may be taken for portage, it is lyke that whiche is nowe called white por.

Pulsa, le, that bratech of knocheth.

Pulsaules venæ, the pulses of a mā or woman.

Pulsatio, ônis, f. g. a beatyng. stryngyng, or knoc-kyng, the stryngyng of the stringes, or playnge on an instrumente.

Pulsator, ônis, m. g. one that strytheth or knocketh, one that playeth on an instrument, as an harpe or lute.

Pulsatus, a, um, stricken as an harpe or other instrumente is, whiche hath stringes, knocked, beaten.

Pulsim, as a thyng were stricken.

Pulso, aui, are, to beate, to strike, to hurte, to plaie on an harpe or other lyke instrumente.

Pul-

Pulsare hostium, to knoeke at the doze.

Pulsare lyram, to plaie vpon an harpe.

Pulsula, a, f. g. a littell pulke, wheate, or bliske on a mans spyng.

Pulsus, us, m. g. beatyng, stryngyng, thumping.
also the wrist of the arme, where to the hande ioyneth. but it is more properly the stroke that the arteries of beatyng veines do make, wheres by the strength or debilitie of the sicknesse is knowne in touchyng them.

Pulsarius, ij, m. gen. a portage dishe or a vessell wherein the meate called Puls, was sodden or made.

Pulsula, a, f. g. a littell portage.

Pulsiplagus, a, um, a greate eater or deuourer of portage.

Pulso, aui, are, to beate at a doze, to knoeke.

Pulsero, aui, are, to dissolue into duste, to late ouer with duste, to be dustie.

Pulseresco, scere, to be turned into powder or duste.

Puluerus, a, um, of duste, dustie, full of dust.

Pulueratio, ônis, f. g. a layng of fine earth about vynes, also a dissoluyng into duste, an harrowyng, a breakyng of cloddes.

Puluerulentus, a, um, full of duste.

Puluilus, i, m. g. a pylowe or coushen.

Pulvinar, âris, n. g. a bolster of a bed, also a bed that was wonte to be made in temples, as it were for the gods. it is taken sometye for a temple. also a tabernacle, wherein an image standeth.

Pulvinarium, ij, neu. g. a bedde made to the honour of Juno, or any other god or goddesse in theyr temples.

Pulvinatus, a, um, softe as a pylowe, in facion
lyke a pylowe or coushyn.

Pulvinulus, li, m. g. a diminutue of Pulvinus,
a little bed in a gardeyne.

Pulvinus, i, m. g. a pylowe: sometye a fether bedde, also a coushyn, also a bed of herbes in a gardeine, sometye a place made in a gardeine lyke a bed, where one lyeth for his recreation and pleasure. also grauell or sande harde lyke stone. also an ingyne, wherewith shippes be brought into the doche.

Scortus pulvinus, a coushyn of lether.

Puluis, pulueris, com. ge. powder, duste. Some-tyme the place where games be exercised.

In suo puluere currere, to write or speake in a matter that he is well acquainted with, or hath ben well exercised in.

Citra puluerem contingere, when a thyng chaunceth to one easily without any labour or trauaile.

Puluer, used of olde wyters for Puluis.

Puluis, is used of Latullus in the genitiue case for Pulueris.

Puluisculus, li, m. g. of Puluisculum, li, n. gen.
fyn powder or duste.

Pumex, pumicis, m. g. a pumise to make par-chement smoothe. also to take spottes of letterd cleane out.

Leuior pumice, a nise and effeminate person.

A pumice aquam querere, to seeke a thyng of a man that he hath not, to begge a bytch of a bare aske man.

Pumex, is sometye used in the feminine gender.

Pumicatio, ônis, f. g. pumishyng or polishyng.

Pumicatus, a, um, pumished or polished, made smoth or styke with a pumise.

Pumico, aui, are, to pumise, to make smoothe with a pumise.

Pumicosus, and Pumiceus, a, um, dyce, hollow, full of pores or holes lyke a pumise.

Pumicosus locus, a place where pumises do growe.

Pumiceos oculos habeo, I haue eyes as dyce as a pumise stone, I can not weepe.

Pumilis, le, little in stature.

Pumilo, ônis, & pumilus, li, Púnilo, ônis, and Pumulus, li, m. g. a dwaffe or any thyng little in stature.

Punctim, fopnyng.

Punctio, ônis, f. g. a fopnyng, a pryckyng or spynnyng.

Punctiuncula, la, f. g. gen. a little prycke with a nedle or pin.

Punctum, i, n. g. a prycke with a pyn or nedle.

Punctus, i, m. gen. of more often. Punctum, i,
neu. ge. a poynt, a little prycke. also the least portion of any thyng that can bee, sometye a mans voice, fauour, assent or consent in elation or iudgement. Also the principall poynte of chief propoosition in an argument.

Punctus temporis, a moment, the least part of time.

Omne tulit punctum, he had the fauour or voice of euery man, or he was praised or commended of euery man.

Quantum punctorum nobis detraxerit: howe manie mennes voyces or fauours they withdrew from vs, or lpyndred vs of.

Punctus, a, um, prycked.

Punctus, us, m. g. pryckyng.

Pungo, pūpugi, pūgere, to prycke, to soine, to spynge, by translation to sollicite or make some what carefull, to bere or disquiete a little, to hurte, to greue, and as we saie, to nettle, to byte by the stomake.

Intellexi quid eum pupugisset, I perceiued what had greued or displeased hym.

Extrema pagella pupugit me, id est, offendit, last.

Vnum enim me pungit, for one thyng maketh me solicitous and carefull, or a little troubleth my mynde.

Punicanus, a, um, of Afrike or Carthage.

Punicanæ fenestæ, suche wyndowes as they use in Carthage.

Puniceus, a, um, idem quod Punicus.

Pu-

Punicus, a, um, of Africa, or of Carthage.
Bellum punicum, the warre that the Romans had with the Carthaginians.
Punicum malum, a pomegranate.
Punicus, aut Puniceus color, redde.
Punica fides, faith, hoodie, peritric, vntreth, breache of promise.
Punio, ui, ne, to punish, to chastise.
Punire capite, to beheaded.
Punior, iis, m, the deponent, to punish.
Punior, the paffiue to be punished.
Punitio, ónis, f. g. a punishment.
Punitor, ónis, m. g. a punisher, a chastiser.
Pupa, æ, f. g. a ponge wenche, a gyllie, a modder. it is also a puppet like a girle.
Pupilla, æ, f. g. the ball of apple of the eye, or rather the sight of the eye, that is the hole of the nether chin called Rogoides, in the whiche the vertue visible consisteth, and that parte of the eye representeth the image of any thyng lyke a glasse.
Pupillaris, re, of, or belonging to hym that is a warde by reason of none age.
Pupillaris ætas, the none age of hym that is in warde.
Pupillo, aui, are, to erie like a perotke.
Pupillus, h, m. g. & Pupilla, æ, f. g. a man or woman childe that is in warde, or within age, not able in yeres to occupie his propre lande, also one that hath no father or houe.
Puppis, is, f. g. the hinder parte of a ship, in poeres sometyne the whole ship, by transadon the moſte honozable estate and condition in the common weale.
Puppius, a poeres name.
Pupula, æ, idem quod pupilla.
Pupulus, li, m. gen. a diminutive of Pupus, and Pupula, a diminutive of Pupa.
Pupus, i, m. gene. a yong chylde, a babye, also a puppet or image like a chylde.
Pure, purely.
Purgibilis, le, that maye be easily purged or clenſed.
Purgamentum, i, purgamen, inis, n. g. fylthe, whiche cometh of any thyng that is clenſed.
Purgatio, ónis, f. g. a purgation or purgeng, a clenſyng, a ſcouryng, an excuſe.
Purgatus, a, um, clenſed, purged, excuſed.
Purgo, aui, are, to purge, to make cleane, to ſcoure, also to excuſe.
Piſces purgare, to drawe and waſhe the fiſhe.
Vngues purgare, to pare or make cleane the nailes.
Purgare ſe alicui, or Apud aliquem, de re alia qua, to excuſe hym ſelfe.
Crimen purgare, to purge ones ſelf of a thyng that is laied to his charge.
Fastidium purgare, to put awaie the lotheſomeneſſe of the ſtomake.
Purificatio, ónis, f. g. gen. a purifyng or clenſyng.

Purifico, aui, are, to purifie, or make pure or cleane.
Purimé, olde wyters vſed for Purificum, moſt purely.
Puritas, atis, f. g. pureneſſe, cleaneſſe.
Puriter, purely, cleane.
Puro, aui, are, to make pure.
Purpura, æ, f. g. gen. a purple, whiche is a ſhell fiſhe, whereof purple colour cometh ſometyne a garment of purple. also the dignitee of a maſtiſtrat or officer.
Purpurarius, a, um, pertaynyng to purple colour.
Purpurafco, ſcere, to be of purple colour, to ware of purple colour.
Purpuratus, a, um, apparailled in purple.
Purpurati, be the noble men of a realme, called peeres.
Purpureus, a, um, of purple colour, also faire, goodlie. ſometyne for Ceruleus, colored lyke the ſea. it is red in Bozace for Purpuratus.
Purpurifco, aui, are, to paint the viſage ruddie.
Purpurifum, li, n. g. red peyntyng, wherewith harlottes do peinte their viſages.
Purpuriarius, looke Purpuriarius.
Purulentus, a, um, full of matter or corruption.
Purulente, ſillyly, corruptly, lyke as it were full of matter.
Purus, a, um, cleane, pure, fine, without ſpot or ſelly, also boye.
Aurum purum, gold: ſined.
Charta pura, cleane paper, wherein nothyng is written.
Hasta pura, a ſpeare ſtaffe without an heade, whiche was geuen for a pryce to them that had vanquiſhed in battaile.
Vaſa pura, playne plate not graued, chaced or togedht upon.
Toga pura, that is be of one colour.
Pus, puris, neu. gen. matter or corruption that cometh out of a wounde or ſore.
Pura, is ſometyne vſed in the plurall numbie.
Puſillanimitas, me, faint hearted, feeble courage.
Puſillanimitas, tatis, f. g. gen. ſauie courage, cowardlyſe.
Puſillanimitas, cowardlyſe.
Puſillas, a, um, little, ſhorte, ſmall.
Puſillum, la, amentis, a little correction.
Puſilla epiſtola, a verie ſhorte letter or epiſtle.
Puſio, ónis, m. g. a little boye.
Puſtula, æ, a puſhe, a little wheale or bliſter.
Puſtulus, a, um, full of bliſters, wheales, or puſhes.
Puſtulum argentum, The moſte pure and ſyne ſyluer.
Puſula, æ, f. g. a bliſter or a puſhe that riſeth on breade when it is baken. also the diſeaſe called Ignis ſacer.
Puſulolus, a, um, that hath that diſeaſe.
Puſum, & puſam, olde wyters vſed for Puerum & Puellam, a boye and a girle.

Putat

Putamen, taminis, n. g. a ſhale of a nut, or paſſyng of an apple or pear.
Putamina ouorum, egge ſhelles.
Putatio, ónis, f. g. a prynnyng of trees, a cuttyng of of ſuperfluouſe bowes.
Putator, óris, m. g. he that prynneth, picketh, or diſſecteth trees, he that cutteth of the ſuperfluouſe bowes of trees, a cutter of a vine.
Putatorius, a, um, belongyng to cuttyng or prynnyng of trees.
Puteal, alis, n. g. the ſeate of a great officer, also the couerynge of a well.
Putealis, le, & Puteanus, a, u, of a pitte or well.
Puteana aqua, well water.
Putearius, ij, m. g. he that diggeth a pit or well.
Puteo, tui, ere, to ſinke or haue an yll ſauour.
Puteolanus, a, um, of Puteoli.
Puteoli, a cite in Campania.
Puteſco, puiui, ſcere, to waſke ſtinkynge or begyn to haue an yll ſauour.
Puteus, rei, m. g. a well or pyt.
Puteum, rei, is ſometyne vſed in the neutre gender.
Puteoli, órum, places where the common people were buried.
Puſide, ſtinkyngly, with an yll ſauoure, vnpleaſant.
Exprimere litteras putide, to ſowne or prynnownce the reſonances for affectus to hardely, or curiouſly.
Putide dicere, to vſe to curiouſe and affectate a ſtyle, with woordes not knowne or out of vſe.
Putidulus, a, um, a diminutive of Putidus, ſome what to muche affectate, ſome what to curiouſe, ſome what vnpleaſant to the care.
Putiduli, be they that deſpote not in them ſelfes.
Putidus, a, um, ſtinkynge, vnſauourie, vnpleaſant, to muche affectate.
Putida oratio, an vnpleaſant ſtile, to muche affectate, full of ſtrange woordes.
Putius, a ſoule.
Puto, aui, are, to cut of or plucke a waie & which is ſuperfluouſe, pryncely from trees, to prync trees, also to ſuppoſe, to conſyder, to diſcuſſe, to gather of comforte, to eſtyme, to iudge, to thynke, to reſen.
Putare rationem, to make an accompte, or to take an accompte.
Rem ipſam putati, thou haſte ſayde trouth.
Rationem ſecum putare, to conſyder and weigh the matter with hym ſelfe diligently.
Puta, in the imperatiue mode, is ſometyne vſed aduerbially for ſcilicet, or verbi gratia, and vi puta lyke wyſe.
Quod ego in propinqua parte amicitia puto, whiche thyng I reckon as one of the chiefe partes of entere frendſhipp and amitie.
Bene putas, your aduiſe is good.
Dem hanc puro, while I recounte theſe thynges with my ſelfe.
Putare in aliquo numero, to taken or repute ſomewhat woorthie, to eſtyme ſomewhat.

Rem ipſam putemus, let vs debate and conſider the matter it ſelfe how it is.
Putare pro nihilo, to eſtyme or reckon noſ thing woorthie, to ſet nothyng by.
Magni putare, to eſtyme greatly.
Nunq̃ tanti putaſſem, I would neuer haue eſtymed it to muche woorthie, or accomted it to great a matter.
Diſtum puta, preſuppoſe the matter to be ſpoken all rebe.
Putor, óris, m. g. ſcinche, yll ſauour.
Putredo, tredinis, f. g. corruption, rottenneſſe.
Putrefacio, putrefacis, feci, ere, to corrupte or make rotten.
Putrefactus, a, um, corrupted or made rotten.
Putreo, trui, tre, to be rotten or corrupted, to be reſolued into ſtinkynge matter.
Putreſco, ſcere, to putrefie, to waſke rottē or corrupte.
Putridus, a, um, corrupte, rotten.
Putris, tre, corrupt, rotten.
Putus, a, um, pure, tried, ſyned, purged.
Argentum purum putum, pure ſyluer, ſyned and tried out from all other matter.
Purus putus ſycophanta eſt, he is a very ſtarke ſycophant.
Purus putus eſt ipſus, it is the betaye ſame, it is euen he and none other.

Pychon, the meaſure from the elbowe to the toppe of the knochles, whan the hande is ſet together.
Pynocomon, a certayne herbe, hoſome to leuſe the bealy.
Pynostílon, li, n. g. a houſe, or place builded, where pylars ſtande thicke together, a cloiſtre of lyke place to walke in.
Pycta, æ, or Pyctes, æ, m. g. a wreſlar with a colar, a champion: Columella vſeth it for a ſpyghyng cocke.
Pyctatum, iij, n. g. a table, wherein the names of iudges were written.
Pygargus, gi, m. g. a beaſt lyke to a ſalowe deere, a roe bucke. it is also a birde lyke to a hauke, hauyng a white taylor: I ſuppoſe hym to be that which we call an erne, and is a kinde of haukes or eagles.
Pygiſta, æ, m. g. one that vſeth buggerp.
Pygmachia, æ, f. g. a fightyng with quile battes or clabbes.
Pygmachus, chi, m. g. a champion that vſeth that kinde of fight.
Pygmaei, people betwene Indie and Cathay, whiche are but one cubite longe.
Pygmalion, loke Pigmalion.
Pyla, æ, f. g. a gate.
Pylades, the ſon of Strophilus Dactiles friends.
Pylaea, a place of Areadie.

Pylea

Pylemines, a duke of the Paphlagonians, that came to Troie, and was slayne by Menelaus.
Pylene, a citie of Aetolia.
Pylos, an ancient citie of Achaea. Strabo writeth, that there were many citiees called Pylus, and erhe contended for Nestor.
Pylus, a um, of Pylus of Nestor.
Pympleides, looke Pimpleides.
Pynaches, milke crudded with cethyng.
Pyr, pyros, fyre.
Pyra, raz, f. g. a bone fyre, wherein dead bodies were burned.
Pyracon, one of the Cyclops.
Pyrallis, lis, f. g. a flie, whiche cometh of the fire: and as longe as he is therein, he liueth: and when it is farre from it, he dieth incontinente. also a flie that fleeth into the leame of a candill.
Pyraechines, a mannes name in Homer.
Pyrama, or rather Phyrama, a certayne rosen.
Pyramon, bzeadde made of wheate.
Pyramidatus, a um, made steple wyse, bzode beneth, and small and sharpe bpwarde.
Pyramis, ramidis, f. g. a great thyng of stone, or other matter, which is bzode and four square benethe, and bpwardes is small and sharpe, as it were the flame of fire, a steple.
Pyramus, a ponge man, whiche flewe hym selfe for the loue of a maiden called Thisby. it is also so a river in Cilicia.
Pyzander, a man of Athens.
Pyratium, a kynde of spider called Dery.
Pyrausta, a, f. g. a worme luyng in the fire, it is also a kynde of spiders, which hurteth honycombes. It is also the same that Pyralis is.
Pyreicus, a famous caruer of small images.
Pyrene, a certayne fountayne. also the name of a maiden.
Pyren, renis, f. g. the kernell of an olive or othe lyke: also a cherie stone.
Pyrenei montes, mountaynes, whiche doe disside fraunte from Spayne.
Pyreneus, trisyl. a kyng of Thre.
Pyrethrum, thri, n. g. an herbe, called pelittote.
Pyrethi, certayne inchauntours in Cappadocia.
Pyrethia septa, places inclosed, whiche had in the middell of them an altare, on the whiche was kept fire continually bournyng.
Pyreus, a bournyng feuer.
Pyraus, looke Pireus.
Pyrgi, is thought to be an olde citie of Petruria.
Pyrgitis, tis, f. g. the herbe called hartes tounge.
Pyrgis, sparowes.
Pyrgobaris, a house builded lyke a towre.
Pyrgoles, was a counpunge grauer in stones.
Pyrgus, gi, m. g. in latine a towre. also a bore, out of the whiche men doe cast dyse, when they plaie. it is also a certayne companie of hoyses men in battaile, conteynyng .40. fouldiours.
Pyria, a citie of Lesbos.
Pyriasis, tis, f. g. a certayne plaister to asswage the bournyng of a feuer.

Pyrim, a littell kernell.
Pyrites, tis, m. g. euery stone, out of the whiche fyre may be striken. sometime a myll stone. als to a stone lyke to bzasse founde in Lipzes.
Pyro, a nymph.
Pyrobola, la, f. g. a smithes hammer, wherewith he beateth on hote yron.
Pyroboli, orum, m. g. arrowes or dartes, which sende forth fyre, when they be shot or cast, and doe burne the thyngs that they doe touch.
Pyrobolarij, they whiche doe shoote such dartes.
Pyrocorax, acis, a crowe with a redde byll, I suppose it to be of the kynde that Comitis the choughes are.
Pyrodes, he that first strake fire out of a flint, als to a stone of fire colour, or a flint stone.
Pyromanica, a, f. g. a diuination by fire.
Pyropus, pi, m. g. a kynde of Carbuncle.
Pyros, one of the hoyses of the Sonne.
Pyrois, pyroentis, idem.
Pyrpile, a certayne flandre, where fyre was first founde.
Pyrrha, the wyfe of Ducalio. also a citie of Caria. Erasmus saith, it is a citie of the yle of Lesbos.
Pyrrhia, a womans name in Hozace.
Pyrrhica, ca, vel Pyrriche, ches, f. g. a certayne souenme of dauncyng in harness. Craniullus writeth, that the pynce children of Drie and Bithynie daunced Pyrrhiche. Amonge the lastedemonians, to men most warlyke, this was a peculiar daunce, whose children beganne to learne it from .v. yeres of age.
Pyrrhichista, they exercise this kynde of daunce.
Pyrrhiachus, a, um, of that daunce.
Pyrricharius, ri, m. g. he that exerciseth the sayde daunce called Pyrrhica.
Pyrriadæ, was the aunciente name of the people called Molossi.
Pyrrichius, a fore i meeter of two most syllables.
Pyrrho, a philosopher, which was first a pyrriter.
Pyrrhocorax, acis, a birde, called of Aristotle coracirax, and is translated of Gaza Graculus, the description agreeth in all pointes to a coruix though.
Pyrrhus, in latine Flavius, sine Rufus, he that hath a ruddy or fire visage: a kyng of Epyre was so called, whiche made warre to the Romaynes. also Neptolemus Achilles sonne was called Pyrrhus, a fierce and bolde ponge man, whiche flewe Pyramus at the altare, and Poylyrena at his fathers graue.
Pyrum, ri, n. g. a pear.
Pyrus, ri, f. g. a pear tree.
Pythagoras, a man of excellent witte, borne in an ile called Samos, whiche countrey beyng subdued by the tyran Polycrates, he forsoke, and wente into Egypte and Babylonia, to learne mysticall sciences, and afterwarde came into Italie, where he continued the residue of his life, he was the fyrst that named hym selfe saife a philosopher: where before men of great learning were called wise men, and because he wolde eschewe the note of arrogancy, when one demanded of hym what he was, he said, Philosophus, whiche signifieth a lover of wylle dome. he was in Marpnes of wit passing all othe, and founde the subtile cōclusions and misteries of arithmetike, musike, and geometric. Plato wondzeth at his wiledome: his doctrine was diuine and compendiose: the whiche he teachyng to othe, enioyned them to kepe silence sine peres & here hym diligently, ere they demanded of him any question. he neuer wold do sacrifice with any bloude, he wold eate no thyng that had life, and liued in a meruailous abstinence, and continence, and was in such a reuerence amonge his disciples, that when in disputation they mainteined their opinion, if one demanded of them, why it shoulde be as they spake, they wolde answere onely, Ipse dixit, he said so, meaning Pythagoras: whiche answere was reputed as sufficient: as if it had ben proued with an inuitable reason: so muche in estimation was he for his approued trouth and incomparable learning. he was noted to be experte in magike: and therefore it is written of hym, that nyght to the citie of Tarentum, he behelde an ore bytyng the toppes of beanes there growyng, and treadyng downe with his ferte: wherefore he bade the hiebre man to aduise his ore, that he shoulde absteyne frome grayne: the herde laughyng at hym said, that he neuer lerned to speake as an ore: but thou (said he) that seemest to haue experience thes in, take myne office vpon the. forthwith Pythagoras went to the ore, and layng his mouth to his heare, whistred somethyng of his aere, a meruailous thyng, the ore, as if he had ben taught, leste eatyng of the corne, noz neuer after touched any: but many yeres after mildly walked in the citie, and toke his meate onely of them that wolde geue it hym. Many like wonderfull thynges are written of hym, finally his disciples, for theyr wiledome and temperance were alwaies had in great estimation. He was before the incarnation of Xpi. 522. yeres.

Pythagoricus, he that was of the secte of Pythagoras.
Pythagorista, te, m. g. he that countrefaitheth or imiteth the life of Pythagoras.
Pythagoreus, a, um, that foloweth the secte of Pythagoras.
Pytheum, was the place, in the whiche Apollo gaue answeres.
Pythias, a womans name.
Pythia, thiorum, n. gen. plu. plaies made in the honour of Apollo.
Pythius, one of the names of Apollo.
Pythius, a Lydian, dwellyng at a town in Thracia called Elicene, who had suche abundance of gold, that he receyued Peres kyng of Persia with all his whole armie, whiche was innumerable, and that with great magnificence: and offered more ouer, to geue treasure as well for prouision as also for wages, to haue had his sonne discharged of the warres: whiche Peres takyng displeasently, caused the ponge man in his fathers sight to be cutte in sunder: this man gaue also to Darius, father to Peres, a plane tree of golde, and a vine of the same metall: yet he takyng thought for his sonne, inclosed hym selfe in a sepulchre, which he let make, and there finished his life miserably, and in extreme sorowe.

Pytho, a citie in the countrey called Phocis, the people whereof were named Delphi.
Pythodorus, a famous grauer.
Pythion, onis, m. & for. g. a dragon, which was slayne by Apollo.
Pythionis oculus, idem quod Sticas.
Pythopolis, a citie in Thie in that parte which is called Thessia, an other of Caria.
Pytiliare, to go on tiptoe, stretchyng one hande forwarde, an other backward.
Pytula, maus, neu. g. a spirtynge out of small spirell.
Pyxantha, and Pyxanthos, a barbery tree.
Pyxidula, idem quod Pyxidula.
Pyxidula, la, f. g. a littell boxe, properly wher in medicines are put.
Pyxis, pyxidis, f. g. a bore.
Pyxidatus, a, um, made like a bore.

QVA, CVIVS, CVI, the nominatiue is not used, but in composition: as Aliqua, Siqua.
Quam ad rem vis? for what thyng wouldst thou haue it?
Quam rem agis? what dost thou? or what dost thou haue it to doe.
Qua de causa? Qua gratia? Qua de re? wherof? for what cause? for what intent?
Qua de re agitur, whereabout, or about which matter the controuersie is.
Qua impudentia est, as his impudentie or vnshamefastnesse is: or such is his impudentie.
Qua ratione? how? by what meanes? by what reason?
Qua de re? whereabout? what to doe?
Qua, an aduerbe of place, whiche waite, by what place.
Qua, is somtyme put for Tum, partim, Iuxta, Qua dominus, qua aduocati sibilis consilii, nowe the maister, and then the aduocates, or both the maister and the aduocates, or as well the maister as the aduocates, were hysed at.

Qua de Bushrotijs, qua de Bruto, what for the citizens of Bushrotium, what for the affaires of Brutus: or partly for the citizens of Bushrotium, partly for the affaires of Brutus: or as well for the citizens of Bushrotium, as the affaires of Brutus.

Qua for Quatenus: as, Non qua filius alicuius, sed qua homo estimatur, men have not regard whose sonne he is, but that he is a man: or men doe not so muche regarde him in that he is any mannes sonne, as in that he is a man.

Qua facere id possis, by what meanes ye maie doe it.

Dic mihi, qua sit iter, tell me whiche way our tourney lieth.

Licet illi vagari qua velit, he maie wander whiche waie he list.

Qua cuius proximum est, euerie one the nexte waie that he can.

Omnia qua visus erat, in all places that a man coude see: or all about as farre as one coude see.

Qua sacrum, qua prophanium, bothe holy and prophane: or as well holy as prophane.

Qua cibi, qua quietis immemor, forgettyng as well his meate, as his rest and slepe.

Quacunque, the blarke case of Quacunque.

Quacumq; matre genitus, of what mother so euer he was bozne.

Quacumq; an aduerbe.

Quacunque iter facit, whiche waie so euer he went, or by what place so euer he went.

Quadrantes, for vsque ad aliquam partem, somewhat.

Quadrantenus rubens, beynge somewhat redde.

Quadi, people of Boeme, or Boemia, whiche did cate the fleshe of hoxes and woulfes.

Quadra, x, f. gen. a trencher, whereon meate is cutte. somtyme a losse of breade cutte square, or a peece of breade cutte square lyke a trenchour.

Quadragesarius, a, um, of forty yeres olde.

Quadragesimi, nae, na, forty.

Quadragesima scuta, forty crownes.

Quadragesima, x, f. g. lente. also the fortieth parte.

Quadragesimus, a, um, the fortieth.

Quadragesies, somtyme signifieth forty tymes: but in computation somtyme it signifieth but his owne numbre, and that beynge added to an other numbre, to multiplie it as, Quadragesies centena. xl. hundred: Quadragesies millena. xl. thousande, but beynge set by it selfe, to signifie the quantitie of a thyng, it was multiplied by an hundred thousande: as, Quadragesies sesterium, forty hundred thousande pence. Like wise all other aduerbes of that sorte, as Decies, duodecies, vicies, tricies, centies, tenne hundred thousande, twelue hundred thousand.

ge. L. Sextus suppoeth, that in the olde tyme was some difference, as an xl. or a title added to the word, whan it was multiplied by an hundred thousande: as, Decies, whiche mought be omitted in the defaulte of the wylder of pyn: he putteth an example of Varro de Analogia, & an other of Pedianus, 2. act. in Verrem. This shulde I haue written before in the declaration of Decies, whiche maie be done at the nexte edition of this worke.

Quadragesima, f. g. e. a figure having four corners.

Quadrangulum, li, n. ge. a figure having four corners.

Quadrangulus, a, um, four corners.

Quadrans, antis, m. ge. the fourth parte of As, that is thye ounces. also the fourth parte of any number of measure, in coyne it is a brassen peece, called also Triunx, in value the x. parte of Sestertius. also a quarterne of a pounce. somtyme it signifieth y accorde in rekenyng, where the receyte and allowance be equal.

Quadrans opera, the fourth parte of the taske in labour or worke.

Quadrans pedis, a quarter of a foote, thye inches.

Quadrans vini, the fourth parte of Sextarius, thye of the measures called Cyathus, that is, six ounces of wine, or after Physicians, 4. ounces and an halfe.

Ex quadrante heredem facere, To make one heire of the fourtenth parte.

Vsura ex quadrante, thye in the hundred: as, in a 100. pound, thye pounce.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrantal, le, Plin. Crassitudine quadrantal, four fingers thicke.

Quadrannium, the space of four yeres.

Quadrifarium, on four partes, four waies.

Quadrifidus, a, um, that is of maie be slouen of fute in four partes.

Quadriforis, re, that hath four dozes of holes.

Quadriformis, me, that is of four diuers fourmes of facions.

Quadriformiter, in a square.

Quadrifera, g, f. g. a carte drawn with four hoxes, somtyme a carte hoxe.

Nunq; indispicer quadrigis albis postea, he shall neuer after attene it agayne, though he make all the haste of speede possible.

Quadrigarius, rij, m. g. a carter, a chariot man.

Quadrigarius, a, um, of of belongyng to a chariot man.

Quadrigatus, a, um, that hath the printe of a chariot on it.

Quadrigati, certayne copnes, haupng in them the printe of a chariot with four hoxes.

Quadrigula, a diminutiue of Quadriga.

Quadriginus, a, um, four double.

Quadrungi, or Quadringes equi, four hoxes of beastes yoked together.

Quadringus, a, um, of of belongyng to chariotes with four hoxes.

Quadrilaterus, a, um, with four sides.

Quadrilibris, bre, that which dweth weigh four poundes.

Quadrilinguis, gue, he that speaketh four sundrie languages.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

Quadrimestris, bre, of four partes.

or agree, to be seete, apte, and meete, to serue aptly in a place, to be iustly agreeyng.

Summa rationum quadrans dicitur, When the expences and receytes be equal and dooe agree.

Quadratad opus praefatio, the preface seructh aptly to the worke.

In istam quadrans, thei agree right well to his.

Quadrat in me dictum, the sayng lighteth on me, or maie be well spoken of me.

Quadrans, dri, n. g. a figure of four square.

In quadrans sententias redigere, To dispose sentences aptly and in good order and facion.

Quadrupedans, antis, om. gene. that goeth on four feete.

Quadrupedo, au, are, to go on four feete.

Quadrupes, pedis, somtyme an adiectiue, somtyme a substantiue, that hath four feete.

Quadrupede constringito, bynde hym hande and foote like a beaste.

Quadruplator, oris, m. g. was he that for accusyng of other, had the fourth parte of the gooddes of them that were condemned.

Quadruplicatores beneficiorum suorum, they that geue small giftes, to the intent to haue greater.

Quadruplex, quadruplicis, om. ge. four double, that is of four facions or orders.

Quadruplicatio, onis, f. g. the doubling of a thyng four tymes in restitution.

Quadruplicato, four tymes double, or four tymes so muche.

Quadrupliciter, four maner of waies.

Quadruplico, au, are, to double four tymes, or to make a thyng four tymes as muche as it was.

Quadruplo, idem.

Quadruplor, aris, ari, to apperche a man to haue parte of his gooddes. also to be condemned to paie four tymes double.

Quadruplus, a, um, four tymes double, four tymes as muche.

Quadruplo maior, four tymes greater.

Dare iudicium in quadruplum, to condemne to paie four tymes so muche.

Quadrussis, sis, m. g. four pounce weight.

Quadrus, a, um, four, square.

Qua, cuius, cui, f. g. the whiche woman, or other female bynde.

Qua (malum) est ista impudentia? what (a mischiefe) impudentie is thier?

Qua tua est facilitas, to easy ye are to please, or such is your gentleness.

Qua gerantur accipies ex Pollione, You shall here of Pollio, or Pollio shall tell you what thynges bee doone, or what matters be in hande.

Qua gerantur accipies ex Pollione, You shall here of Pollio, or Pollio shall tell you what thynges bee doone, or what matters be in hande.

Qua gerantur accipies ex Pollione, You shall here of Pollio, or Pollio shall tell you what thynges bee doone, or what matters be in hande.

Qua gerantur accipies ex Pollione, You shall here of Pollio, or Pollio shall tell you what thynges bee doone, or what matters be in hande.

Qua gerantur accipies ex Pollione, You shall here of Pollio, or Pollio shall tell you what thynges bee doone, or what matters be in hande.

Qua gerantur accipies ex Pollione, You shall here of Pollio, or Pollio shall tell you what thynges bee doone, or what matters be in hande.

Qua gerantur accipies ex Pollione, You shall here of Pollio, or Pollio shall tell you what thynges bee doone, or what matters be in hande.

Quaecunque, all that, what so euer, loke Quicunque.
 Quadam, loke Quidam.
 Quarcus, a, um, and Quarcicus, ca, cum, of oke.
 Quarcus, a, um, tolde with a shakng as in a fever.
 Quercus, cus, f. g. an oke.
 Quercitundus, studious oꝝ diligent in sekng.
 Quarcus, and Quernus, a, um, of an oke.
 Quarito, aui, are, to seeke, serche, oꝝ inquire diligently.
 Lana ac tela victum quaritans, gettng hys tyng with spinning and cardng.
 Quaro, quarsiui, quare, to demaunde, to aske to gette, to serche, to examine, to desire to haue, to seeke for, to go about, to labour oꝝ trauaile to gette, to make examination and inquerie, to dispute.
 Quarere liberos, to gette chyliden.
 Liborum quaredorum causa ei credo vxor data est; I suppose he had a wife geuen hym to the intent to gette oꝝ haue chyliden.
 Quarere locum iniuriar, to go about to dooe harue.
 Quarere sitim, to prouoke thirste.
 E monte aliquo in alium transilire quarentes, id est, volentes, contententes.
 Quarere aliquem, to examine one by tourmentes.
 De pecunijs reperundis quarere, to geue in tourmacion agaynst one, of extorcion oꝝ byrberie.
 Quarere rem tormentis, vel per tormenta, to examine a man by manacles oꝝ other lyke tourmentes to make hym confesse the acte.
 Facile victum quarere, to gette his luyngge easily.
 Quaritur inter medicos, phisicians doe dispute.
 Qui fidem promisso huc quare, which seeke for the experience oꝝ pꝛofe of the thyng.
 Fugam quarere, to seeke meanes to flee.
 Gloriam quarere, id est, captare.
 Gratiam ad vulgum quacuerat, it gotte hym in fauour with the common people.
 Inuidiam quarere ex re aliqua, to seeke meanes to byngne one in hatred and enuie.
 Latebram quarere periurio, to seeke a cloke oꝝ pretence to breake his othe oꝝ committe perjury.
 Tu tibi laudem is quaestum, thou goest about to get thy selfe commendacion oꝝ praise.
 Moram quarere supplicio, to seeke meanes to deferre oꝝ prolonge the punishment.
 Liberi ad necem quarebantur, his chyliden were sought for to be slayne, oꝝ meanes were sought to put his chyliden to deathe.
 Sermonem quarere, to seeke occasion of comminacion oꝝ talke.
 Somnum quarere, to prouoke sleape.

Venenum quarere alicui, to go about to poyson one.
 Malum hercle vobis quareis, in faith you go about to purchaise your selfe displeasure.
 Quarere locum gratia apud aliquem, to go about oꝝ endeuoure to get ones fauour.
 Quarere locum seditionis, to go about to reple sedition.
 Quarere rem, to make enquite oꝝ examination of a thyng.
 Quaro de, ex, oꝝ abs te, I aske oꝝ demaunde of you.
 Si verum quareis, pf ye woulde knowe the truethe.
 Quid quareis amplius, what woulde ye haue more.
 Quaestio, onis, f. g. an enquire, an examination, a serche.
 Quasito, aui, are, to seeke, oꝝ serche often.
 Quasitor, oris, m. g. a iustice oꝝ commissioner, to inquire of crimes, defaults oꝝ abuses agaynst the lawe.
 Quasitus, us, m. g. a sekng oꝝ serche.
 Quasitus, a, um, sought for, enquired, also gotten, obtained, demanded, asked.
 Quasfo, si, oꝝ sui, was used of olde wylters to beseeche.
 Quasfo, quasumus, to desyre, to prae.
 Bona verba quasfo, speake faire I prae you; oꝝ ye wyl not doe as you saie I trow, oꝝ geue vs faire language I beseeche you heretly.
 A te maxime peto & quasfo, I prae you and beseeche you heretly.
 De te quasfo etiam atq; etiam, I prae you oꝝ beseeche you as heretly oꝝ earnestly as I can.
 Deum quasfo vt sit superstes, I beseeche god sende it longe lyfe.
 Quasculus, li, m. g. a littell gayne.
 Quasitio, onis, f. g. a questio, an askng oꝝ enquiring, a doubt, a controuersie. Also inquisition oꝝ examination by tourmentes, strep handling to trie out the truethe of a matter.
 Tibi ne quasitioni essemus, to the intent that thou shouldest not seeke oꝝ aske for vs.
 Quasitionem asserre, to moue a question.
 Polliceri in quasitionem seruos, to offer his seruantes to be examined of the truethe.
 Decernere quasitionem, to awarde pꝛocesse in criminall causes.
 Postulare quasitionem, to requyre of one, that examination oꝝ inquisition bee made of a matter.
 Philosophi in magna quasitione habent, it is a great doubt oꝝ controuersie amonge the phisosophers.
 Quasitionem adhibere, to minister tourmentes.
 Exercere quasitionem inter scarios, to set in a commission for the examination of murderers.
 Quasitio tenet eum, qui in ius vocatus est, Whan one is accused and brought before a iudge.

Magna

Magna quasitio est, there is a great question, doubt oꝝ controuersie.
 De omni re qua in quasitionem vocaretur, whiche shoulde be reasoned oꝝ disputed of oꝝ called in controuersie.
 Si quid habet quasitionis, if it be any thyngge doubtfull, oꝝ vncertaine.
 Habere quasitionem de aliqua re, to reasone and dispute of a matter.
 Quare in quasitione versetur, whiche thyngge is in controuersie oꝝ doubt.
 Quasitionarius, an examinator.
 Quasitacula, a, f. g. a small oꝝ littell question.
 Quasitor, oris, m. g. the treasurer of the common treasure, a treasurer of the warres, a lieutenant to the chiefe capitaine in warres. Also a iustice by commission of oꝝer and terminer.
 Quasitores paricidi, iustices assigned to enquire of treasons of murder, we may call the coroners by that name.
 Quasitores urbani, were as the chamberlaines of London be nowe.
 Quasitores xran, officers of the receipt, as the chamberlaines and tellers be nowe.
 Quasitor xran, a generall recepuer, but it lesmeth to bee suche an officer, as the eschequer is nowe in Englande.
 Quasitorium, ri, n. g. was such a place as the eschequer is: also the questours tent in the campe.
 Quasitorius, ri, m. g. he that had been in the office of questours.
 Quasitorius, a, um, pertainng to receipt.
 Quasitorius, a, um, that pertaineth to the office of Quasitor.
 Vinquasitorius, a man that hath been in that office.
 Quasitarius, a, um, that exerciseth a craft to the intent to gayne thereby.
 Quasitaria artes, craftes, wherby mē do gayne moncy.
 Quasitosus, a, um, of muche gayne, studious of great lucre.
 Insula quasitiosa margaritis, an yle that gayneth muche by perles.
 Cuius domus quasitiosissima est falsorum commenciatorum, id est, abundans, whiche hath in his house, many faulse regesters, and gaigneth veray muche thereby.
 Quasitosus homo, one that gayneth oꝝ getteth pꝛofyte by euery thyngge.
 Res quasitiosa, a thyng wherof pꝛofiteth great vprofyte.
 Quasitor, a, f. g. the office of Quasitor.
 Quasitus, us, f. in olde tyme quasit, m. g. gayne, wyngng, lucre. Also the waie, feate oꝝ craft to wyngne moncy.
 Is quasitus nunc est multo vberimus, that is the mooste readie waie nowe to gette money esnought.
 Facere quasitum, to gayne.
 Quasitui habere male loqui melioribus, to gayne oꝝ gette his luyngge by speakhng pꝛ of honeste men.

 Quasitui habere rempublicam, to vse the common weale to his owne pꝛofite and aduantage, to enryche hym selfe by the common weale.
 Lingua primum cepit esse in quasitu, he began first to ge his luyngge by his tongue.
 Qualiter, oꝝ Qualiter, wher it lyeth the.
 Qualiter transiunt praebent, you may goe ouer them in what place ye lyst, oꝝ where so euer ye wyl.
 Qualis, le, what, oꝝ of what qualitee, of what faction.
 Quali pietate existimas eos esse, what naturall affection oꝝ fauour dooe you thynke that they haue?
 Tale quale, suche as.
 Qualis, fomerque for Qualiter.
 Qualisqualis, idem quod Qualiscung.
 Qualiscungue, suche as it was.
 Qualiscungue est, what maner of man so euer he be.
 Qualiliber, of what sorte oꝝ facit so euer ye wyl.
 Qualiter, in the faction oꝝ forme, after the faction that.
 Qualiter nunc est in castris gausape, as they dooe nowe vse the thicke mantell oꝝ dagswapne in the campe in the tyme of warre.
 Qualiter cunque, how so euer, after what faction so euer.
 Qualitas, atis, f. g. a qualitee, as foule, faire, wise, folysch, stronge, weak, diligent, slow, &c.
 Qualus, li, m. g. a baskett, out of the whiche wine renneth, whan it is pressed. Also a baskett oꝝ hamper, in the which women do put theyr spindles, theyr bottomes of theyerde, and such lyke thynges, I paner made of stiers oꝝ twiggcs.
 Some dooe write it with a double, A. it is also a tery that labourers carie moxer in to serus masons, tylars, oꝝ plasterers.
 Quam, than, howe, howe much, as, as much as. Sometyme after that. Sometyme before that.
 Prædie quā occideretur, the daye before that he was slayne.
 Quam bene, howe well.
 Quam fortiter, howe valiantely. Quam, in composition significith Valde, and therfore is toignt with the superlatiue degree.
 Quam paucissimi, as fewe as may be.
 Quam doctissimus, veray excellently learned.
 Cum quo quam familiarissime vixerat, with whom he lyed veray familiarly.
 Duplo accepit quam perdidit, he receiued double as muche as he lost.
 Quam, significith a wishng: as.
 Quam velle in Menedemum inuitatum, howe fayne wolde I that Menedemus were boden.
 Quinto die quam sustuleris, condire oportet bit, the fyfte daye after that ye haue taken them awaie. &c.
 Quampridem non edistis, howe longe is it
 Nun h lens

Scns thou eatest any meate?

Huc euasit, quam pridem pater mihi & mater mortui essent. &c. to this it came, howe longe it was agone that my father and mother dyed. &c.

Tam te diligo, quam meipsum, I loue the as well as my selfe.

Salubrior quam dulcior, moze holefome than pleasaunt.

Libentius quam verius, moze gladly than treuly.

Quam, for Quantum: as, Quam familiariter? how familiarly?

Homo non quam isti sunt gloriosus, a man not so gloriose as these men be.

Quam potero adiunabo senem, I will helpe the olde man as muche as I can.

Quam potui maximis itineribus, with as great iourneys, or making as muche speede on the way as I coulde possible.

Quam timeo, how greatly doe I feare.

Quam, for Tantum quantum, as,

Quam velit sit potens, let hym be of as great power as he will hym selfe.

Quam for Quanto, with the comparatiue degree, as,

Quam magis aspecto, the moze that I loke or beholde.

Tam felix esses quam formosissima vellem, I woulde thou were so happie, as thou arte beuaie fayre and beautifull.

Intra biennium quam. &c. within two yere after that. &c.

Triduo proximo qua sit genitus, the thye firste daies after that he is bozne.

Tam diu quam, so longe as.

Ea quam longa est nocte, all that nighte longe.

Quam, for Plusquam, as,

Feramenta duplicia quam numerus seruorum exigit, twise so many toles as be sufficient for the seruantes.

Maiorem quam pro statu sonum edebat, it made a greater noyse or towne then was lykely for so small a blast or piffe.

Maiorem quam pro numero speciem gerens, making a greater shewe than men woulde thynke for suche a numbze.

Maius quam quantum a nobis exprimeur, greater then we will expresse or saie.

Nihil mirabilius quam quomodo mortem filij zult, there is nothyng moze meruailouse than to knowe or consider how patiently he toke the deatly of his sonne.

Hoc est altius quam ut nos. &c. this is higher than that we. &c.

Nec vnquam iter ingressus quam ut secum, &c. id est, aliter quam ut, but that he. &c.

Contra facis quam pollicitus es, thou doest of therwysse than thou promysedste.

Multiplex quam pro numero damnum est, the tosse or dammage is muche greater than is lykely for suche a numbze.

Quam minime multi, as fewe as can be.

Ad hos prouisam quam mox virginem accersant, I will go to these men to see whether they will goe quickly to call the mayden.

In quamlibet tenuas crustas, in as thynne shaddes as you will pour selfe.

Quam pene me perdiditua proteruitas, how nere thy saucinesse had vndoed me? how the malapertnesse had almost caste me awaie.

Quam plurimam brassicam ederit, tam ciuissimum sanus erit, id est, quanto plus of quanz to magis, the moze cole woortes that he doesth eate, the sooner he shall be whole.

Quam dudum, howe late sence, howe longe as gone, or how little while agone.

Quam mox, how quickly, how soone.

Quamobrem, wherfoze, whye, for what cause, what to doe?

Quamlibet, all though.

Quamplures, howe many, beate many, a great sorte.

Quamplurimus, a, um, beate muche.

Quampridem, longe befoze.

Quamprimum, beay shortly, or soone, as soone as can be possible.

Note that there is great difference betweene Quamprimum, and Quumprimum, for Quamprimum, signifieth by and by, Quumprimum, as soone as.

Quandiu, as longe, during the tyme.

Tandiu, so longe, quandiu, as.

Quando, whan, sence that, for as muche as.

Quando gentium, whan.

Ut quimus quando ut volumus non licet, as we maie, sence we can not as we will.

Quandocumq, whan so euer, or what tyme so euer.

Quandoque, some tyme.

Quandoquidem, for as muche as, because.

Quandoquidem illarum nulla te nouit, bes cause none of them all knoweth the.

Quamq, all be it, although.

Quamq, tamen, although, or not withstanding.

Quanti, for how muche, of what price or value.

Quantillum, how littell, an aduerbe.

Quantillus, a, um, how littell or small.

Quantisper, how longe.

Quantitas, a, is, f. g. quantites.

Quanto, howe muche.

Quanto magis, howe muche moze.

Quanto diutius abest, magis cupio tanto, the longer that he is absent, the moze I coust or desyre to haue hym.

Quanto zuis est animus natu grauior, the greater that pour wyldeome and discrecion is by reason of pour age.

Quanto formosior videre quam dudum, how muche fairer doest thou seme to me than thou wost while ere.

Quanto pere, howe greatly.

Quanz

Quantulum, as muche as, as littell as.

Quantulum visum est, as little as pleasantly hym selfe.

Quantulus, a, um, howe littell, or how bygge.

Quantulus nobis videtur? howe bygge semeth it to be?

Quantum, loke after quantus and his phyzes.

Quantum imperavi, as muche as I bade you.

Quantum est adhibere hominem amicum ubi quid geras, Wh what a thyng it is, or howe muche it helpeth.

Quantum hunc audui facere verborum, as farre as I coulde perceiue by the wordes that he spake.

Quantum ex ipsa re coniecturam facio, as farre as I can coniect of the thyng selfe.

Quantum ex tuto poterat, as muche as he coulde, sauyn hym selfe harmlesse, or out of daunger.

Quantum proximè coniectura potest, as nere as he can coniecte in the worlde.

Quantum ego illum vidi, as farre as I perceiued by that mans faction, contenance or bes hauiour.

Quantum importunitatis habent, so importunate or vncasonable they be.

Comprehendi iube quantum potest, comand hym to be taken with all speede possible.

Quantum maximum potuit, as muche as he coulde.

Quantumuis, quantumlibet, what so euer, alz though.

Quantus, a, um, howe muche, which is referred, to nombze weyght or measure.

Quantus est, id est, Quam magnas res est.

Quantus hominis in dicendo potas esse? howe eloquent should he be? Wh howe great eloquence is it merite that he shulde haue thynke pour?

Quantus animis ferit, with how great courage or somake he went.

Pauit oua quanta anseres, the topzeth as bigge egges as geese doe.

Quanta maxima esse potest distantia, as great difference as maie bee possibly.

Quanta hac mea paupertas est, as poore a man as I am, or as great pouertee as I am nowe in, or not withstanding the great poertee I am in.

Tantus, so great, Quantus, as. Quantum Ros mæ terrorem fecerat, tam letam famam ad hostes tulerat, the feare that it caused at Rome was not so great, as the glad tidings that were brought to the enemies therof, or the aduersaries were as ioyful and glad for that tidnges, as the Romans were soze aserde.

Quantus emi potest minimo, at as lowe a price as it can be bought, or for as littell as maie be possible.

A me argentum quanti est sumico, holde, receiue as muche money of me as it is worth.

Sed quanti quanti, bene emitur quod necesse est, but how so euer the price be, or bee the price neuer so great, it is well bought, or it is bought good cheape, that a man must needes haue.

Quanti est negotij? Ironice, what a small matter it is to dooe?

Quanti est sapere? what a great matter it is to haue perfect wisedome?

Quanti homo sit? howe muche the man is to be esteemed?

Vide quanti apud me sis, se what great stozz I set by you, or howe muche I esteeme you.

Quanti uelherit interrogauit, I asked hym what I shoulde paye for the cariage.

Videtur esse quantumis pretij, he semeth a right honeste man, Wh he seemeth a substantiall honeste man, Wh he appeareth to be as substantiall a man as can be.

Quantus homo in dicendo, Wh what a man he is in eloquence, Wh howe eloquent a man he is.

Quanta mea sapientia est, as farre as my witte can perceiue, as farre as I thynke, as farre as my wisedome can extende.

Quantum, an aduerbe of tyme or quantitee, how muche, as to, as concerning.

Quantum intelligo, as farre as I vnderstande.

Quantum suspicor, as farre as I suppose.

Quantum pro sicur, accorzyng as.

Id de Imperatore romano, quantum euentu postea predictu pauit, Iudæi ad se trahentes, rebellant, the Jewes gathering of the Emperour, accorzyng as the thyng, which was afore theywd appeared afterward, made rebellion.

Quantum potes, in all speede that thou maist, as muche as thou canst.

Quantumuis, howe littell to euer it be, howe littell so euer ye will.

Quantumlibet, how muche or so many so euer it be, Quantumlibet, as great as euer.

Quantus quantus, & Quantusuis, idem.

Quantumcunque possum, as muche as euer I can.

Quantumcunque eo addideris, how muche so euer ye adde vnto it.

Quantus, all be it, although.

Quantus, for Valde.

Quantus, for Quantumuis: as, Quantus paruis Italia latebris contentus essem, I wolde haue ben content with any cozier of Italie, had it bene neuer so littell, or howe little so euer it had bene.

Quapropter, wherfoze.

Quaque tangit, where or on what part so euer it toucheth.

Quaqueuersus, & Quaqueuersum, on euery side.

Quaque, idem.

Quare, wherfoze, why, for what cause.

Miror quid causæ sit, quare consilium mutaueris, I meruaile what cause there is, why ye haue chaunged pour purpose.

Omnia feci quare Lepido resisterè, id est, vr,

Nan iij that that I might resist, or to thentent to resist.

 Quari, people of Harbon.
 Quartadecimani, souldiours of the xiiii. legion.
 Quartana, a feuer quartaine.
 Quartanarius, he that hath a feuer quartaine.
 Quartanus, a, um, that belongeth to the fourth.
 Quartani, souldiours of the fourth legion.
 Quartarius, ri, mas gen. a muletour, or keeper of mules, whiche taketh but the fourth parte of wages or gayne. Also the fourth parte of the measure congius, and may be used for the fourth parte of our gallon, a quarte. Also a quarter of a pounde.
 Quarto, & Quartum, the fourth tyme, all be it properly Quarto significth the fourth in order as, Quarto Consul, he that had thre in the office afore hym.
 Quartum Consul, he that hath ben the fourth tyme Consul.
 Quartus, a, um, the fourth.
 Quartusdecimus, the fourtenthe.
 Quartus pater, id est, Abauus.
 Quasi, lyke as, as if it were, somtyme in a maner, Almost, as who saith, as though.
 Fuit olim quasi ego sum senex, there was once an olde man as I am nowe.
 Ita vita est hominum, quasi quum ludas tessertis, the lyfe of man is euen as it were playing at dice.
 Quasi aduerfem assimulabo, I wyll make semblaunce as though I had been there.
 Quasi de improbitate, as though thou haddest not seene hym before.
 Quasi tu dicas me te velle circumducere, your woordes be so as though you would saye that I. &c.
 Qualitalem ad quindecim, almost or about xv. tales.
 Hora quasi septima, as though it were about vii. of the cloche.
 Amas me quasi filium, thou louest me as if I were thy sonne.
 Tu obicis quod vxorem repudiauerim, quasi tu idem non feceris, Thou embraideste me that I haue forsaken my wyfe, as who saith thou hast not dooen so to.
 Quassillus, li, masc. gene. or Quassillum, a litlett hammer.
 Quassabundus, he that shaketh his heade.
 Quassatus, a, um, shaken, brandysshed, brysed, squised, broken. Also afflicted, oppressed, sore hurt and appared.
 Altitudine casus quassatus, brysed or hurte with falling from so hygh a place.
 Quasso, au, arc, to shake muche or often, to bryandyshe. Also to bryate, to bryste.
 Quassus, us, m. g. a shakynge, a brandysshynge.
 Quassus, a, um, shaken, bryste, brysed.
 Quatefacio, refacis, feci, ere, to make or cause to shake or moue, to expell with violence.
 Quatenus, howe muche, how farre, to what ende, to the extent. Also for as muche. Also howe, howe muche, or as muche.

 Quatenus dicturi sint, howe farre, or howe muche they wyll speake of a matter.
 Quatenus uero possent, as farre as they coulde without daunger.
 In omnibus rebus videndum est quatenus, in all thynges that a man dooth, he ought to consider howe to keepe a meane or measure, and not to doe more than he shoulde.
 Confirmauit quatenus sibi matrimonia male cederent, permausurum, &c. he said plainely, that for so much as he had yll fortune in marriage, that he woulde abyde. &c.
 Quatenus intelligit, nihil putat pratermissum, as far as he can perceiue or vnderstand.
 Quater, foure tymes. somtyme ofentymes.
 Quaterdecies, foure tymes.
 Quaterdecim, foure.
 Quatergemini, foure chyldren at one burdne.
 Quaternarius, a, um, that conteyneth foure, or that is foure fore euer wate.
 Quaternarius numerus, the numbze of foure.
 Quaternio, onis, a quappe: as, in the booke, a lease bynge folded into foure partes, a saice in dice playnge.
 Quaterni, na, na, plur. foure.
 Quatinus, a conjunction, which significth, for as muche, because, somtyme for vs, that.
 Quatio, quasi, tere, to make a thyng violently, to bryandyshe. also to bere, to cast out.
 Quatere aliquem foras, to cast out of the wyce.
 Quatriduum, dui, n. g. foure daies, the space of foure daies.
 Quatriduo, aduerbium.
 Quatriduo quo is occisus est, foure daies after that he was slaine.
 Quatriduo ante, foure daies before.
 Quatuor, or Quatuor, adiectiuum, indeclinabile. plur. numeri, foure.
 Quatuordecim, fourtene.
 Quatuordecies, foure.
 Quatuoruiratus, the dignitie or office of foure men ruling together.
 Quadruplus, a, um, foure double.
 Que, for &, significth and. also that is to saye. somtyme for Quoniam, somtyme for Etiam, somtyme for Sed.
 Non nobis solum nati sumus, or tunc nostri partim patria. &c. because or for as muche as our countrey claimeth &c.
 Iudicium Paulis spreta que iniuria formæ, Hoc est, nempe iniuria, or, id est, iniuria spreta formæ.
 Quid refert vri virgis ferro necari, id est, an ferro necari.
 Quearali, a measure of the tewes conteynyng. ii. ounces and. ii. drammes.
 Queis, for Quibus.
 Queiscum, for quibus cum, with whom.
 Quemadmodum, lyke as, euen as, after the same facion facion that. Sometime interrogatiue, for Quopacto, how, after what facion.

 Quemnam ad modum, in what facion, or after what facion.
 Excogitat quemadmodum comitia haberentur, id est, vt, how the assemble might be kepte.
 Quemadmodum spero, as I trust.
 Quentia, olde wyters used for Potentia, puissance, power.
 Queo, quis, quiui, quire, to mate.
 Non quis, id est, Nequis, thou canst not.
 Quitar, the passion.
 Quercus, a, um, of an oke.
 Quercicus, a, um, idem.
 Quercerus, a, um, quieringe or shakynge for colde. Somtyme it was taken for great and greuous, as Festus saith.
 Febris quercera, a colde feuer that causeth a man to shake.
 Quercetum, or Quercetum, i, n. g. a groue of okes.
 Querculanus, a, um, made of oke.
 Quercus, us, and Querci, of olde wyters, an oke. Quercus is also a place, where the Mediciensi ssewe a great numbze of the Papienses.
 Querela, a, f. g. a complaint, moning, a bewailing, when one syndeth hym selfe displeased or greued.
 Querela temporum, when one complaineth of the present state of any tyme.
 Habere querelam dicitur res, when it dooth not please all men in euery point, but that some synde theyn selues greued with it.
 Queribundus, a, um, lamentable, that complaineth or maketh monie.
 Querimonia, a, for. g. a complaint, a mone makinge, a lamentable expynginge of a thyng that one is greued with.
 Querimoniam habere de re aliqua, to complayne of a thyng.
 Quotidiana querimonia populi, the dailely complainynge of the people, syndynge them selues greued with any thyng.
 Querimoniarius, a complainante.
 Quernus, and Querneus, a, um, of an oke.
 Querna folia, oken leaues.
 Queror, reris, questus sum, queri, to lament or complayne, to bewaile, to make mone, to finde hym selfe greued.
 Questus est de auaritia nostrorum, he complayned of, or founde hym selfe greued with the couetousnes of our men.
 Cum deo queri, to complayne or make his mone to god.
 Lachrymans mecum est questus, he made his mone to me, and shewed hym selfe to be greued, euen with teares and weepynge.
 Multa de mea sententia questus est Casari, he complayned to Casar, and founde hym selfe greued with many thynges concerning my sentence or opinion.

Queris super hoc etiam, ye complayne and sende your selfe greued with this also.
 Meas queror fortunatus, I lament or bewaile my fortune.
 Apud populum questus est, he made his complaynt and mone to the people.
 Querquedula, a, f. g. a water fowle called a teal.
 Quercus, a, um, idem quod Quercerus.
 Querculus, a, um, that whiche complaineth, or is full of complaints. It is put somtyme of the poetes for myll or towde in singynge.
 Cicada querula, grasshoppers, whiche dooe singe lowde, or with a myll voice.
 Quersah, amonge the Jewes did signifie a cotte, somtyme a lambe. somtyme a sheepe.
 Questus, us, m. g. a complaint, a lamentation.
 Qui, an aduerbe, how, by what means, wherefore, why, from whence, woulde to god.
 Qui officio es? what is thine office?
 Efficite qui deur tibi, doe what ye can how or by what means thou maist haue hir.
 Qui vocare? how arte thou called?
 Dauid istuc dedam hegom. S. Non potest. P. Qui? S. Quia habet aliud magis ex sese, I wyll commit this matter to Dauid. S. That may not be. P. Why? S. For he hath an other greater matter to doe for hym selfe.
 Qui istuc tibi incidit suspicio? from whence, how or by what means came this suspition?
 Qui illum dii omnes perdunt, I pray god that a vengeance light on hym.
 Qui for Vt: as, Nam in prologis scribundis operam abutitur, non qui argumentum narrat, sed qui maleuoli veteris poetæ maledictis respondet, for he abuseth his labour in wytyng of prologues, not that he thyght shewe the arguments, but that he myght make aunswere to the euill reportes of the olde enuouse poetes.
 Qui enim beator Epicurus, quod in patria vivebat, quam Metrodorus, quod Athenis? Whether or how was Epicurus more happy than he dyd lyue in this countrey, than Metrodorus that lyued at Athenes?
 Qui, an interrogatiue, for Quis: as Qui locus? what place?
 Qui, cuius, cui, the whiche.
 Qui, for Nempe qui, or Vtpote qui: as, Maluis mus iter facere pedibus, qui incommodissimum nauigassemus, id est, vtpote qui.
 Literæ dantur mihi a te, quibus in extremis scriptum est, I receiued letters from you, in the later ende whereof it is written.
 Qui, for Quis: as, Nescis qui vir fies, thou knowest not what a man he is.
 Quibus in extremis, for Quorum in extremo. Si qui sunt, qui velint, qui pauci sunt, ye there to any I would, which in wde be but fewe.
 Quibus in ipsis inest causa, cur diligantur, whiche haue in them selfe some cause, why they shoulde be loued.

Ut existimātes me tam improvidum, qui ab excitata, id est, ut ab excitata. &c. that I woulde. &c.

Qui minus, for Cur non.

Quia, for because. Also it significth, that.

Sed tamen recordatione nostra amicitia sic fruor, ut beate vixisse videar, quia cum Scipio vixerim, all bee it I take this pleasure in remembering our friendship, that I may seeme to have lived moste fortunately, that I lived in Scipios companie. Also it significth for as muche.

Sed quia multis & magnis tempestatibus vos cognovi fortes fidosq; mihi: eo animus auius est maximum atq; pulcherrimum facinus incipere, but for as muche as in many great storemes or daungers, I have proued you to be valiant and faithfull vnto me: therefore myne herte is bolde to begynne an excellent and commendable enterpryse.

Quianam? wherfore?

Quiane, In deede.

Quas, aris, for Quas, atis.

Quas, a, um, for Quas, a, um.

Quicque, or Quidque, any thyng, euery thyng.

Quicquid, a substantiue, what so euer.

Quicquid est, all that is, what so euer it bee, what so euer come of it.

Quicquid paucillum, neuer so little.

Quicum, for Cum quo.

Quicum loquitur filius? with whom doeth my sonne talke?

Quicunque, who so euer.

Quicunque, for Qualiscunque.

Quicunque in dicendo sumus. &c. suche as we be. &c.

Quicunque sal, any kynde of salte, what so euer it be.

Quodcunque militum contrahere poteris, all the souldiours that thou canst gather together what so euer they be.

Illa ipsa facultate quaecunque habes, with that same eloquence that you haue.

Quicq, any thyng.

Quid? What?

Quid cause est? what is the cause?

Quid aetatis? how olde, of what age?

Quid animi? what mynde?

Quid animi est? what mynde is he of?

Quid captiuorum? howe many prisoners?

Tum captiuorum quid ducunt secum? than howe many prisoners dooe they bryng with them?

Quid id sit hominis cui Lyco nomen flet? what man is he whose name maie be Lyco?

Quid mulieris uxorem habes? what maner of woman hast thou to thy wyfe?

Quid rei est? what is the matter?

Ibo intro, ut quid huius rei sit sciam, I wyl go in, that I maie knowe what the matter is, or that I maie knowe how this matter wyl goe.

Quid rei est tibi cum illa? what hast thou to doe with hye?

Quid sententia sit, what thyne or his opinion is.

Quid istuc verbi est? What meanest thou therby? or what meanest thou by so saynge? also Quid, is taken for Aliquid, somewhat. also Ob quid, for what, or wherfore.

Quid, senem quoad expectas vestrum? but now, how longe wyl you tarye for your maister? Note here, that, after the dailely fourme of speakeing, Quid is reherced, when we passe from one matter to an other.

Quid mecum est tibi? what haue I to doe with the?

Quid faceret aliud? what shoulde he doe els?

Quid eo? what to doe.

Propere curre ad Pamphilum. P. Quid eo? D. Dic me orare ut veniat, renne quickely to Pamphilus. P. what to dooe? D. Saie that I pray him to come.

Quid verbis opus est? what neede many wordes?

Quid multa verba? idem.

Quid multis inoror? what shall I longe tarye? or why doe I make so many wordes.

Quid me refert? what care I? Also Quid significth wherin.

Quid enim indigens Africanus mei? whererein had Scipio any neede of me?

Quid istuc? Si certum est facere, facias: verum ne post conferas culpam in me, what wouldest thou I shoulde doe? if thou be determined to doe it, goe to on goddes name: but afterwarde put not the fault in me.

Quid ni? why not, what els?

Quo ore appellabo patrem, tenes quid dicam? S. Quid ni, with what countenance shall I speake to my father? wottest thou what I wyl saie? S.

wherfore shouldest thou not doe so? Also it significth yea.

Archidemide nosti? P. Quid ni? knowest thou Archidemides? P. yea marie doe I, what elles?

why shoulde I not knowe hym?

Quid agemus? what shall we dooe?

Quid ita, for cur, wherfore, why so?

Quid queris? what wylt thou more? what needeth any mo wordes?

Quid tum denique? Quid ergo? Quid tu post ista? Quid itaq? Quid interea? Quid demum?

All these dooe signifie, whereto speakest thou this? what than, or what meanest thou therby?

Quid te futurum? what shall be dooen with the? or what shall become of the?

Quid illi fiet? what shall become of hym?

Quid tu hominis es? who art thou? or what a man art thou?

Quid gentium caretis morbis? what nation or people in the worlde hath not these diseases?

Signi dic quid est, tell what marke it hath.

Quid aliud volui dicere? what is the other thing that that I woulde haue said?

Quid orationis, quot sunt partes, what sat you of an oration? how many partes hath it?

Quid est quod latus sis? what is the matter that thou art so mery.

Quid est si non hoc contumelia est? what is a reproche or a rebuke if this be not?

Quid tantum properent? id est, quamobrem? Quid est quamobrem? what is the cause why?

Quid pater, vixit ne? what of my father? how doeth he? is he aloue.

Quid quod me etiam occidere vult? what saie yea to this mozeouer, that he wylt kill me to?

Quid quod etiam ad dormientem veniunt? how of this, or what thinke you of this, that they come also euen to one that is a sleape?

Quid sciam? why shoulde I knowe, or what if that I shoulde knowe?

Quid si oparo? what wilt you say if I wishe?

Quid si sic? what if it bee thus, is it well? or howe wylt it be if I dooe this? or howe thinke ye it to be thus?

Quid ita non? why not I pray you?

Quid nostrum? what matter maketh that to vs?

Quid offendet? whererein haue I displeased you?

Quid cum illis agas qui. &c. what shoulde a man meddle with such as. &c.

Quid dicam quantus amor. &c. what needeth me to speake or tell howe great loue. &c.

Quid est factum? What is that that hath chaunced?

Quid respondeam nihil habeo, I haue nothing in the worlde what to aunswere. where note, that Quid, contrarie to his nature is vsed for Quod, as it is often in latine authours.

Siquid his datum sit esculentum, id est, si quod, if any thyng be geuen them to eate, or that is mans meate.

Quidam, quaedam, quoddā, or quiddam, some certayne person or thyng.

Quidam, one, any man, In the plurall numbze, it significth some.

Quidem, an aduerbe, affirmynge that whiche is spoken. Sometime it significth verily. Somes tyme it hath no significacion, but is onely a distinction of thynges: as,

Ego quidem scribo, tu vero legis, ille autem dormit, I dooe wyte, thou readest, and he sleapeth.

Fortius tu quidem. &c. Sed apertius. &c. in deede yeadyd moze valiantly. &c.

Et vehementer quidem, yea and that vehemently.

Rogo te, & quidem valde rogo, I desire you, and that with all myne herte I desyre you.

Quidnam? what? wherfore?

Quidnam ille commotus venit? what is the matter that he cometh so chafed?

Reuiso quidnam Charia hic rerum gerat, I come to see what Theria dooeth here.

Hic quidnam properans prohibet? what is the matter, or what meaneth this, that he cometh out so hastily skippynge and leappynge.

Quidque, euery thyng.

Vnde quidquid aut quanti emeris? of whome or for howe muche boughtest thou euery thyng.

Quidquid, idem quod Quicquid.

Quies, etis, f. g. rest, ease, sleape, quietnesse, ceasing and vacation from labour, the ende of labour and trouble. Also caulme, sayre, and still whethere. Sometyne idleness. Sometyne peace.

In quiete, & secundum quietem, in his sleape.

Quietes, id est cubilia, beastes denes.

Quietem capere, to take his reste.

Trudere se quieti, to goe to take his reste or sleape.

Quiesco, eui, scere, to take rest, to ceasse, to bee at quiete, to be boide of labour, care or butynce, to sleape.

Quiescat rem adduci ad interregnum, id est, Fermittat, sinat.

Quiescas cetera, bee nothyng carefull for the other matters, leat theim alone, care not for the rest.

Quiesci, the impersonall.

Quiescas, holde thy peace, make no moze a dooe.

Quietalis, was the name of Pluto called god of hell,

Quiete, quietly.

Quietus, a, um, quiete, peassible, in rest, still.

Quietus esto, care not.

Numquam per eum quietus fui, I could neuer be at quiete for hym, he woulde neuer leat me alone, he was euer troublingng of me.

Sex ego te menses quietum reddam, I wyl make that thou shalte bee in quiete and reste this halfe yere.

Quilibet, cuiuslibet, cuilibet, who thou wylte, One whiche so euer thou wylte. Also it significth euy byle or bafe in estimation.

Quilibet, what I thou or he wylt.

Quolibet modo, in what maner so euer ye wylt.

Quinatus, us, the space of fyue yeres.

Quin, but, that, why not: Sometyne truly, in deede.

Quin venis? why comest thou not?

Quin pergis? why goest thou not?

Quin dic quid est, goe to tell me what it is.

Quin for Etiam: also.

Pudet me. S. Credo, neg id iniuria, quin mihi molestum, I am ashamed. S. I beleue and not without a cause, and I am also forp therof.

Quin taces, wylte thou not holde thy peace? and cast no moze doubt in the matter: or holde thy peace and care not for it. Also it significth but yet, or but for all that.

C. Peris. S. Quin tu animo bono es. & I am vndoed. S. but for all that bee thou of good there. Also therfore.

Quin tu vno verbo dic quid est quod me veslis, therefore tell me at one woorde, what thou wouldest haue me to doe. Also mozeouer, or that moze is.

Quin ipse pridem tonsor vngues dempserat, collegit omnia, abstulit praesegmina, and that moze is, the other day the barbour pared his nailes, he gathered the paringes together, and caried them awaie with him.

Quin, for Qui non, or quae non.

Nullus est Ephesi, quin sciat, there is not one in all Ephesus, whiche doeth not knowe it. or there is none in Ephesus but y<sup>e</sup> he knoweth it.
Nunq̃ tam mane domum egredior, quin te &c. I neuer come forth to cry in the mozenyng, but that &c.

Quin, for Quod.

Non dubium quin vxorem nolit filius, there is no doubt of this, but that my sooone wyl not be married, or but that my sooone wyl haue no wyfe.

Facere non possum quin ad te mittam, I can not chuse, refraine or forbear, but that I must needes sende vnto the.

Hercle quin tu recte dicis, in faethy you saye true, or your aduiseement is good in deede.

Quin ergo quod iuuat, quod charum estimat, ad semper faciant, marie than, or why than,
what so euer lyeth them, that whiche seemeth pleasunt vnto them, let them doe it as longe as it pleaseth them.

Quin omitto me, but let me goe I saie.

Iube manear. B. Abi. Si. Quin paratum est argentum, nay toe here the money is ready.

Quin etiam, ye further moze, ye that moze is.

Quinarius, a, um, that conteineth the numbre of fyue.

Quinarius lapis, a stone of fyue pounde weight.

Quindrins, ij, m. g. was amonge the olde Ro-maines they haufte penic, conteynyng fyue of the peres of monie called asses, in value & poise halfe a groat sterlyng.

Quincenium, of olde wyters was used for Quingentum, fyue hundred.

Quincunx, quincuncis, of fyue ounces. Also the gape of fyue in the hundred by exchange as monge marchauntes. It was also an ordye in settinge of trees in an orcheyarde or gardyne, veraye exactly, that whiche waile so euer a man did loke, the trees stode directly one agaynste an other, as in this order folow-ynge.

o o o o o o o
o o o o o o o
o o o o o o o

Quincuntilis, le, of fyue pnyches.

Quincuplex, plicis, om. g. fyue double, or fyue folde.

Quindeceremis, a great galley with fiftene orders of rowers in one seate.

Quindécies, fiftene tymes.

Quindécies, fiftene.

Quindécimuir, an officer of Rome.

Quindécuplex, fiftene double or folde.

Quindécuplus, a, um, fiftene tymes so muche.

Quindécim, na, na, fiftene.

Quingénarius, a, um, adiectiue, weighyng fyue hundred poundes.

Quingenti, & quingenti, x, a, fyue hundred.

Quingentissimus, a, um, the fyue hundred.

Quingentarius numerus, the numbre of fyue hundred.

Quingenties, fyue hundred tymes.

Quingentuplus, a, um, fyue hundred tymes so muche.

Quinimo, but rather, but that moze is.

Quinquagenarius, a, um, of fiftie yere olde,

Quinquaginta, fiftie.

Quinquagenus, a, um, of fiftie.

Quinquagesimus, the fiftieth.

Quinquagies, fiftie tymes.

Quinquagesies, idem.

Quinquagulus, a, um, fyue cornerbe.

Quinquatria, orum, a feast dedicated to Pallas, whiche dureth fyue daies.

Quinquatrus, us, m. g. idem.

Quinquatrus dies, a feast so called, because it was after the fiftie Idus of marche.

Quinque, fyue.

Quinquifolium, an herbe called cinke fopie, or fyue leaved grasse.

Quinquelibralis, le, of fyue pounce weight.

Quinquemestris, stre, of fyue monethes.

Quinquennialis, le, that whiche happeneth or is done euery fyfte yere, or that continueth fyue
yeres.

Quinquennis, ne, of fyue yeres, fyue yeres olde.

Quinquennium, nni, n. g. the space of fyue yeres.

Quinquenarius, xis, xis, to diuide in fyue partes.

Quinquenarius, in fyue partes.

Quinquenarius, a, um, in fyue partes diuided.

Quinquuplico, aui, are, to double fyue tymes.

Quinquertium, the exercise of fyue sondy cras-tes.

Quinquertiones, they whiche exercised fyue sond dye crastes, malkrestes, feates of games.

Quinquere mis, mis, f. g. a galley with fyue res-wes of oyes, or that hath fyue oyes in euery seate.

Quinquenarius, us, m. g. an office of authoritee, wherein fyue men were associate.

Quinquenarius, quinquenarius, m. g. one that is in the sayde authoritee.

Quinquies, fyue tymes.

Quinquaginta, a, um, the fiftie.

Quintana porta, the chiefe gate in the campe, whiche was called Pratoria, where the market was wont to be kepte.

Quintia porta, & Quintia prata, was a gate and way medowes at Rome, whiche toke theyr name of one Quintius, a noble consull of Rome.

Quintilianus, the name of a notable Rhetorician.

Quintilis, the month of Iulie.

Quintilius, a mans name, familiar with Virgile and Horace.

Quintipor, oris, the boye or seruante of Quint-tus.

Quintus, and Quintus, the names of diuers
Romaynes.

Quintus, a, um, pertaynyng to Quintus.

Quini, x, plu. nu. fyue.

Quini denarij, fyue pens.

Quintum, an aduerbe, the fiftie tyme.

Quintuldecimus, a, um, the fiftene.

Quipote, howe is it possible.

Quippe, surely, for as muche as, for because,
sometime yea truely.

Sol Demetrio magnus videtur, quippe ho-mini erudito, in geometriaque perfecto, the sunne seemed great to Demetrius, and no meruaile, for he was a great lerned man and perafect in geometrie.

Quippe quas. Plaut. Argenti minas se habere quinquaginta, quippe ego quas nudius ter-tis meis manibus numeravi, I saie that he had fiftie poundes in money, that is to saie, that whiche I my selfe paid hym.

Quippe qui testificetur, for so muche as he doeth witnesseth.

Quippeni, why not.

Quirinalis, le, of or belonging to Romulus.

Quirinalis collis, an hill at Rome, where the temple of Romulus was set.

Quirinalis porta, the gate next to that hill.

Quirinalia, orum, daies in the whiche men dyd sacrifice vnto Romulus called Quirinus.

Quirinus, the surname of Romulus.

Quiris, quiritis, or Quirites, quiritus, or hic & hac quiritis, a Romaine.

Quiriticio, onis, f. ge. a cryng or calling of the Romaynes.

Quiritatus, us, a crye of Monte of the people of Rome.

Quiritatus infantium, a crye of the Romaynes
chyliden.

Quiritis, was a name, whereby the Romaynes were called of theyr first byng Romulus, called Quirinus, as it were Quirinus people.

Quirito, aui, are, and Quiritor, aris, ari, to crye out, to spee by the Romaynes with a crye, to call for helpe of the Romaynes. also to complaine.

Quiritare, to grunte or make a noise lyke a boare.

Quis, whor.

Quis me vult, who is that wolde haue me.

Quis, for Quare, as, Quis ea est, quam vis du-cere vxorem? what is she that thou wilt marie?

Quis est hominum? what man is there in the worlde?

Quis, for Qualis: as,

Quis videtur? what maner of man dooe y<sup>e</sup> thyneke me to be?

Cui scribam video, I se to whom or to what maner of man I do write.

Quem ad finem, id est, Quousq.

Tum mihi nescio quis. &c. then one, I can not tell what he was. &c.

Quisnam, who.

Quisnam homo est? what man is that? or who is that?

Quispiam, some man, also a certayne person.

Quispiam, idem quod Quisnam.

Quisquam, an interrogatiue, as Est quisquam qui, &c. is there any man liuyng that. &c.

Quisquam, any man, it is sometyme bled in the feminine gender for any woman.

An quisquam gentium aequè miser? is there any man liuyng in all the worlde so miserable or in so yll a case.

Quisque, euery man.

Doctissimus quisq, euery well lerned man.

Decimus quisque, euery tenth.

Suo quisq, tempore, euery man in his tyme.

Tertio quoq, verbo, at euery thyrde worde.

Quid quisq, cuiq, prestare oporteat, what esuerie man ought to doe for other.

Quotus quisq, what one among many thous-sandes.

Sua cuiusque animantis natura est, euerye lyuyng creature hath his propre nature.

Suum quisque opus considerari volunt, euery man wyl haue his wyse considered.

Huic pro se quisque nostrum, euery one of vs for his parte.

Quisquid, arum, plu. be those thynges, whiche in makinge cleane of a garden or orcharde, be caried out, as riches, leaues, and weeds: it is bled of Lucero, for naughtie men, the refuse of all other, vile persons of no estimation.

Quisquiliu, li, n. g. a littell branch of a kinde of holp, whiche beareth grapue, wherewith scabs let and crymsyn colours be made.

Quisquis, in the genitiue case, cuiusculus, who so euer.

Quis, in the genitiue case cuiusuis, any man,
any one of them.

Quisuis temporibus, for Quibusuis.

Quo, the conjunction, wherefore, that: also for Quod, or quoniam, because.

Quo tu minus scis erumnas meas, and I wyl tell the, because thou knowest not the troubles that I am in.

Te amo, quo magis qua agis cura sunt mi-hi, I loue the, and therefore I am the moze eas-yfull and sollicitous what thou doest.

Quo minus mihi est, si. &c. and therefore it is the lesse meruaile, if. &c.

Quo minus familiaris sum, hoc curiosior,
&c. the lesse familiar that I am, the moze currious. &c.

Quo minus animus a se ipse dissidens. &c.
how

how muche lesse the minde that agreeth not. &c.
Quo plus potest, hoc prestantior, the more that he can doe, the better he is.

Quo quisque te maxime cognatione attinge-bat, is maxime putabatur, &c. euerie man as he was nerest to you in kynrede, so he was iudged moste. &c.

Non pol quo quenquam plus amem, aut plus diligam, eo feci, in god seithe I did it not because I more loued or fauoured any man.

Forma bona, meminisse videre, quo aequior sum Pamphilo, the is well sououred, I remember that I haue seene hir, wherefore I am the lesse displeased with Pamphilus.

Neque enim id feci, quo tibi molestus essem, nor I dyd it not, that I wold displease you. also quo significeth to what purpose or vse.

Quo mihi fortunam, si non conceditur uti?
for what purpose shall good fortune serue, if I maie not haue commoditie by it: or if I maie not vse it?

Quo, the aduerbe, whither, also from whence.

Quo abis, whither goest thou?

Quo non. Perreptui vsque omne oppidum, ad portam, ad lacum, quo non? I went all the towne about, to the gate, to the poole, there is no place but that I was in it. Also it significeth from whence and where.

Illuc quaso redi, quo coepisti, I beseeche the turne backe agayne, where thou beganste.

Quo gentium, whither.

Quoad, untill, as longe, howe longe.

Quoad fieri potest, as farre as coude bee.

Quoad quenque peruenit, aut peruenit ex præda, ex manubiis, ex auro conuario: how much of the praye or spoyle, gariandi: or crow-nes of victoures is comen, or shall come to any of your handes?

Quoad eius facere possum, as muche as I maie dooe.

Senem quoad expectatis? howe long do you loke for the olde man your maister?

Tam diu autem velle debetis, quoad te, &c.
and so long thou oughrest to be willing, as. &c.

Quoad reliqua multitudo aduenerit, untill the residue of the company shall come.

Quoad vixit, as longe as he liued.

Quoad moriar, untill I shall die.

Quoad tibi æquum & rectum videbitur, as farre as you shall thynke honeste and reason-nable.

Quoadusque, untill.

Quozare, to crope lyke a frogge.

Quocirca, wherefore, therfore.

Quocum, with whom.

Quocunque, with whom so euer.

Quocunque, an aduerbe, whither so euer, or whiche waie so euer.

Quod, that, wherein, whiche thyng.

Sed si quid sit, quod mea opera opus sit, aut tu plus vides quam ego, manebō, but if there be any thyng, wherein ye shall haue neede of my seruice, or that ye perceyue more then I doe, I will tary. Also it is put for Quem.

Alienum hominē introuitū neminem, quod illa aut amicum, aut patronum nominet, the maie let in no man, whom she wyl call desyng or maister.

Nube grauida candicante, quod vocant tempe-statem albam, grando imminet, when there dooth appere a great slowde, that wareth white, whiche they call a white tempeste, ye shall haue hayle shortly after.

Tu velim, quod cum commodo valetudinis tua fiat, quam longissime poteris obuiam nobis properes, I wolde that ye as muche as maie be with the healtie of your persone, make spede to meete with vs as faire from home as ye can. Also it significeth why.

Si ad vitulum spectes, nihil est quod pocula laudes, if thou consider the halfe well, there is no cause why thou shouldst praise so thy pottes.

In viam quod te des hoc tempore, nihil est, there is no cause why thou shouldst take thy iourney at this tyme. Also it significeth wherefore.

Quod te per genium dextramque, deosque penates obsecro & obtestor, vite me redde priori, wherefore I beseeche and praye the for thy god and gels sake, and for the loue betwene the and me, and for the saintes, whiche be thyne auoures, restore me estates to my first life, or to the state that I wast in erst.

Quod absque molestia fiat, so that it be no displeasure vnto you.

Quare pergratum mihi feceris, si cum in amiciam receperis, atque cum (quod absque mo-lestia fiat) si qua in re opus ei fuerit iueris, wherefore ye shall doe me singular pleasure, if ye take hym into your fauour, and (so that it be no displeasure vnto you) when neede requirerth, be god loyd or maister vnto hym.

Quod biremium, those gales that he had.

Quod proxime castrorum sincerum erat, &c.
that parte of the campe, whiche. &c.

Quod roboris in iuuentute erat, amiserant, they had losse all their valiant and lustie yong men.

Quod me accusat nunc vir, &c. as concernynge that, or in that, whiche my housbande dooth accuse me of, &c.

Vt quod ego ad te venio, intelligas, that ye maie perceyue what it is that I doe come to you for: or wherefore I doe come to you.

Quod, for Quæ pluraliter, Et quod nunc iure tecum iratus cogitas, and as concerninge those thynges, that you fretyng for anger thynke now with your selfe.

Quod vitium in mentem non incidisset, and I wold to god it had not come to my mynde.

Ego quoque vna perio, quod mihi est charius, id est, qui mihi sum charius.

Et ipse (quod commodo tuo fiat) cum eo col-loquere, so that it be no leat or trouble to you, so that that you maie conueniently, easily, or without great busynesse.

Quod commode facere possis, idem.

Quod bene vertat, whiche thyng I praye god maie come to god, or be brought to good passe.

Quod licet inter nos dicere, as I maie tell you betwene you and me.

Quod equidem sciam, as farre as I knowe.

Quod satis est, as muche as is sufficient.

Quum sis quod ego, where as thou art euen
as I am.

Ornametorum quod superfuit, id est, quicquid.
Sine vxore, quod nunquam fere, without his wyfe, as he was neuer wonte almoste.

Quod superest, more ouer, but, and further more, to conclude.

Quod quidem in te fuit, as muche as late in the.

Vin' facere quod ego gaudeam? & quod tuo viro. &c. id est, vt.

Quod, for Quocunque.

Cupio illi dare quod vult, I wyl gladly geue hym what so euer he will haue.

Quod, a conjunction, because, for so muche as,
as to that, as touchyng that, also but.

Quod me viuere coegisti, because thou haste forced me to liue

Quod quidam erant improbi, because, or for so muche as there were some lewed and wicked persones.

Quodsi tibi res sit, but if thou hadst to doe.

Quod ad me scribis, as concernynge or touchyng that ye write to me.

Quod cum accidisset, vt alterum statim vides remus, but when it had chaunced. &c.

Quod quia, for Sed quia, or verum quando.

Quod quia nullo modo sine amicitia. &c.

Idcirco. &c. but because we can not. &c.

therfore. &c.

Quod quoniam nobis voluntas accidit, id
est, quando vero nobis, or Cum vero nobis.

Non quod odio habeam, sed quo meliorem efficiam, not because I hate hym, but that I maie make hym better.

Tertius hic dies est quod audiui, this is the thirde daie sens I herd it.

Senatus consulta duo facta sunt odiosa, quod in consulem facta putantur, Catone & Do-mitio postulant, two actes of countage were made verie displeasent, for as muche as they were supposed to be made against the consull at the despye of Domitius and Cato.

Quodsi quiessem, nihil euenisset mali, but if I had leat it alone, there had none ill happes-ned, or it had bene well enough.

Sane quod tibi vir videatur esse, hic nebulo magnus est, as to that that thou thinkest hym a man, surely he is a sturdey vacabunde knaue.

Quod quidem, no that.

Non nouisti me? P. quod quidem veniat in mentem, dost thou not know me? P. no that

I remember me.

Quodammodo, somewhat, after a certayne fas-
tion.

Quamobrem vlti, qui superiores sunt, sub-mittere se debent in amicitia, sic quodammodo inferiores extollere, wherefore likewise as they, whiche are superiour in state or degree, shoulde humble them selves in frendship, so they whiche are inferiour, shoulde somewhat in a certaine facion aduance and set theym selves forwarde.

Quodpiam, for Quoddam.

Quodcumq, what so euer.

Quodcumq militum, for Quotcumq milites.

Vos hortor, vt quodcumq militum contrahas re poteris, contrahatis, I aduise you that as many souldiours as ye can get, ye gather vnto you.

Quominus, for vt non.

Si poterit fieri, vt ne pater per me stetit credat, quominus hic fierent nuptia volo, if it may bee brought to passe, that my father maie beleue, that it is not in my faute that this marriage is not concluded, I am content.

Quominus in eundem portum peruenirent, that they coude not come into the same haven.

Quomodo, how, by what reason, in what manner of facion, by what means.

Quomodo tibi res se habet? how is the matter with the.

Sed quomodo dissimulabat? but in what manner did he dissemble? or but how, or after what facion did he dissemble?

Primulo diluculo abiisti ad legiones, betyme in the morning thou wentest to the armie. Also it significeth wherefore.

Illam quidem nullum sacrificabit. G. Quomodo do? Quid igitur me vult? the wyl doe no sacrifice? G. wherefore? what thing woulde the than with me?

Quomodo, for Quoquomodo, how so euer.

Quomodo potuissim, re conuenissim, si, &c.
how so euer I myght haue done it. &c.

Quomodo for vt, as, Quomodo nunc est pesdem vbi ponat non habet? as the matter goeth now, he hath not a place to set his foote in.

Quomodocumq, how so euer.

Sed tamen quomodocumq, quanq vt sumus pauperuli, est domi quod edimus, yet how so euer it be, though we bee poore folkes, we haue at home somewhat to eate.

Quomodolibet, idem.

Quomodonom, but how.

Quonam, an aduerbe, whither.

Eamus intro, sequere. S. Quo tute agis? C.

Quonam nisi domum? let vs go in, folow me.

S. Whither wilt thou go? C. Whither shoulde
I goe but home to my house.

Quonam, the ablatiue of Quinam.

Quonam inquit modo? how or after what facio on saiety he.

Quondam, sometyne, ones in tyme paste, or tyme to come.

Quondā tua dicere facta tēpus erit, the tyme shalbe ones, whan thine actes shall be declared. also it is put in the tyme present.

Quondam etiam victis redit in praeordia virtus, y e and in them that are vanquished, comes tyme good courage ekeflesch imbrasteth thep stomaches. Sometyne it signifieth alwaie.

Ve quondam in stipulis magnus sine viribus ignis, lyke as in stubble of hoime, fire is alway great without any puissance.

Quoniam, for as muche as, because.

Quoniam quidem, for Quandoquidem.

Quoniam, sometyne for Postq.

Quopiam, any whyther.

Aurane I hats quopiam es? Chais, wylte thou go any whyther.

Quoquam, any whyther.

Quoque, also, lykwysse.

Quoquo, where so ever, towarde what parte so ever, whither so ever.

Quoquo hinc abducta est gentium, to what parte of the worlde so ever the be conueighed from hence.

Quoquo, the ablative for Quocunq.

Quoquo tempore, at what tyme so ever.

Quoquo consilio fecit, by what counsaile so ever he did it.

Quoquomodo, how so ever, by what meane so ever, after what facion so ever, in any wyse, by all meanes and diligence.

Que mihi molestā est quoquomodo, id est, omnibus modis.

Quoquomodo ad iudicandum veni, come to the iudgement, in any wyse, by one meanes or an other.

Quoquomodo se res habeat, howe so ever the matter be.

Quoquomodo hominē inuestiges velim, by all the meanes that can be, with all diligence.

Quoquomodo potes, sic ad me venias, see that y come to me by one meanes or an other.

Quoquopacto, in any maner of wyse.

Tum si maxime fateatur, cum amet aliam, non est vile hanc illi dari quapropter quoquopacto celato est opus, then if he bitterly confesse it, for as muche as he toucht an other, it were not convenient, that he were married to this woman: therefore in any maner of wyse this thyng must be kept secrete.

Quoquouersum, or quoquouersus, euery way, on euery parte, on euery syde.

Eius imperio clauem quoquouersum dimittunt, by his commaundement they dispatched the naue in euery parte.

Rates duplices quoquouersum pedibus triginta e regione solis collocabat, he set thypes double agaynst the sonne, thyppe fete eue ry wale.

Quorū, or Quorsus apud Plinium, whither, towarde what place or thyng, to what intent or ende, to what purpose.

Quorsum istuc, to what purpose or place? Nescio quorsum eam, I can not tell whither or towarde what place I quid go.

Ego nesciebam quorsu iures? thynkest thou that I byd not knowe, to what ende, or for what intente thou spakest these woordes?

Quam timeo quorsum euadas? how greatly doe I feare to what ende poue tale wylt come? Tenes quorsum hac tendant? doest thou percepe for what intente I speake these woordes?

Quorsum hac tandem? to what purpose speake pou this?

Quot, howe many.

Quot homines, tot sententiae, howe many men, so many diuers opinions.

Quot mensibus, id est, singulis mensibus.

Quotannis, pere by pere, euery yere.

Quotennis, of what age? how olde?

Quot annos natus, idem.

Quotenus, how many, to what numbre.

Quotidianus, a, um, a thyng that is of happench daily, or daie by daie.

Quotidiani sumptus, daiecy expences.

Quotidiana forma, a common beaultie of facta on euery daie scene.

Verba quotidiana, woordes vsed in daiely communication of speche.

Quotidie, daiecy, euery daie.

Quoties, how often tymes, as often tymes as.

Toties quoties, so often as euery, as many tymes as.

Quotiens, idem quod Quoties.

Quotiescunq, as often as.

Quotquot, as many as.

Quotuplex, how many foldes.

Quotuplus, a, um, how muche in measure or weight.

Quotus, a, um, of what numbre, how many.

Horā quota est? what is it a cloche?

Dic quotus es? tel of what order or place thou arte. also tell me how many ye be.

Quotas ades dixerit, id ego admodum incertū scio, how many howes he spake of, I am not well asseained, or I remembre not well.

Quota pars, how small a porcion.

Quotuscunq, as many as euery.

Quotusquisq, how many, what one amonge a thousande.

Quous, whither, or to what place ye wylt.

Quous gentium, whither so euery ye wylt in the worlde.

Quousque, how longe, how farre.

Quousque tandem, how longe yet.

Qu & Quor, wherefore.

Quum, or quim, whan, in the whiche, where as, loke for the byzases therof in Cum.

Quum primum, as soone as.

ABIA, olde wylters vsed for Rabies.

Rabide, furiously, madly, outrageously.

Rabere, to be furiose or madde.

Rabidus, a, um, madde or woode, as a madde dogge, furiose, in a rage, rageyng woode.

Rabidus dens, an akyng tothe.

Rabies, ei, f. g. madnesse of a dogge. it is also applied to men, rage, furie, or madnesse.

Rabiose, with a rage, furie, or madnesse.

Rabiosus, a, um, madde or berie angry, woode angry, in a rage, outrageous, furious.

Rabiosulus, a, um, somewhat madde.

Rabirius, a gentelman of Rome. also a poete in Quids tyme.

Rabo, onis, f. g. idem quod Arrabo,

Rabula, la, m. ge. one whiche is hasty or wilfull in any cause, iarglyng of full of woordes, an attorney or aduocate that defendeth ones cause with ouer many woordes.

Racemarius, ri, m. g. a twigge of a vine, of the whiche the grapes doe spryng.

Racematio, onis, f. ge. the gathering of grapes, after the great clusters be gathered to make wyne, the gleyng of grapes.

Racematus, a, um, that hath grapes.

Racemifer, ra, rum, that beareth clusters of grapes.

Racemosus, a, um, full of grapes or berries.

Racemus, mi, m. g. a grape, or a cluster of grapes or berries.

Racha, a reppochfull woorde of hebreu, whiche signifieth thyflesse, byaynclesse. finally it is a rebukefull woorde, signifying the extreme ire of a persone that speaketh it.

Radagafus, a byng of the Gothes.

Radians, antis, thyngs bryght, castyng beames of light.

Radiatio, onis, form. ge. a castyng of beames of bryghtnesse.

Radiatus, a, um, that casteth beames of bryghtnesse and light.

Caput radium, a head that hath bryght beames about it, as peincters were wont to peincte images.

Radicans, a, um, rooted.

Radicitus, from the rote, or by the rote, quite and cleane, bitterly, wholly, so that nothyng be lefte.

Radicitus euellere, to plucke by by the rote.

Radicefco, cescere, to take rote.

Radico, aui, are, to rote or take rote.

Radicosus, a, um, that hath a great rote, or many rotas.

Radicala, la, f. g. a littell rote. also an herbe, the wyse whereof is good to wasthe wound. Ruellus saith, that the apothecaries doe call it Saponaria: and some call it Herba fullonum, the Whoozes doe name it Condifum.

Radio, aui, are, to sende forth beames lyke the sonne.

Radior, aris, ari, to be made to cast beames of lightnesse.

Radiolus, li, m. ge. a littell olife that is longe.

Radius, dii, m. g. a beame of the sonne or other bryght sterre: sometyne of the eyes: also a rodde or parde, that geometricians haue to describe lines, also a weauers spytell, wherewith he throweth yarne into the webbe. also the spoke of a wheele. also an instrument, wherewith meas sures be stricken. also longe olives or oyle bearies. Radius is also a parte of the fyfte called Pastinaca, wherewith he doth fyghe.

Radix, dicis, f. g. a rote.

Radices montis, the fote of an hill.

In radice palatii, at the fote of bottum of the palaice.

Habere radices altas, To haue taken deepe roote.

Agere radices, to take roote.

Rado, si, dere, to shaue or make smoothe, to cut or pull by, to hurte, to reute, to offende, to fastigate, to scrape.

Aures delicatas radere, to offende or fatigate delicate eares.

Radix corus terram, the crowe scrapeth the grounde.

Radula, la, f. ge. an instrument to shaue with, or to scrape olde pitche of barrels or other thyngs ges, that new maie be laid on.

Radulanus, a, um, that which is scraped or shauen of from any thyng.

Ragades, a discaie in the fundament.

Ragadin, a, f. g. idem.

Rage, a towne and castell in Englande called Nottingham.

Raia, a, f. g. a fishe called raie or skate.

Ralla, la, f. g. a thynne garment.

Rallum, li, neu. ge. the staffe, wherewith plough men in tillinge dooe put the earthe from thep share.

Ramale, lis, neu. ge. a seared or dead bough, cut from the tree.

Ramentum, ti, neu. gen. a littell pece cut of from golde, siluer, or any thyng.

Ramenta fluminum, littell thynges in the grass uell of sande of riuers.

Rameus, a, um, that is of a bough.

Ramex, ramis, m. g. a hynde of rupture, when the bowels doe fall downe into a mannes cods des. also a taile of barce, whiche goeth ouerthys warte a pale or gate.

Ramicolus, a, um, that is bursten.

Ramnetes, the thirde part of the people of Rome in Romulus tyme.

Ramenfes, idem.

Ramnus, loke Rhamnus.

Ramofus, a, um, full of bowes, that hath many bowes.

Ramulus, li, maf. gen. & Ramusculus, a littell bough.
Ramus, mi, m. ge. a bough. also the part of the rate of a tree growyng out like a bough.
Ramus montis, the arme of parte of an hill.
Rana, na, f. g. a frogge. also a sickenesse, whiche doeth annoye cattell.
Rana Seriphia, is a prouerbe, applyed to thē, that can not speake in tyme convenient.
Ranceo, cere, to be mouldy or putrified.
Ranceus, idem quod Rancidus.
Rancide, an aduerbe, synhyngly.
Rancidus, a, um, rancid, mouldy, or putrified. also unfauoury, or vnpleasant.
Rancidulus, a, um, a littell mouldy or putrified, that hath somewhat a rotten sauour.
Ranco, au, are, to make a noyse like a tigre.
Rancor, oris, m. ge. filthe, rottennesse of thynges that be mouldy and vined: a rotten and synhyng sauour.
Randus, was taken in olde tyme for xs, byasse.
Randuscula porta, the brasen gate.
Rantum, in the olde tyme was a quarterne of a pounce.
Randunculus, li, m. ge. a littell frogge or frothe, also the herbe called Barrachion, like there.
Rapa, pa, f. g. a plant and rote called rape.
Rapacia, rape leuure.
Rapacius, aus, f. g. rauenie, extorcion.
Rapaciter, rauenously.
Rapax, acis, oim. g. rauenous, greedy, couetous, that useth extorcion and pillynge.
Raphaninus, a, um, of radish.
Raphanitis, itis, f. g. a certayne herbe.
Raphanus, ni, m. gen. a plant and roote called radish.
Rapicium, cū, n. g. a rape leafe.
Rapide, quickely, swyfly, with great violence.
Rapiditas, acis, f. g. swytenesse.
Rapidus, a, um, very swyfte, as a streame of water.
Oratio rapida, id est, concitata.
Rapina, na, f. g. robbery, rauine. also a place where rapes doe growe.
Rapinator, a robber.
Rapio, put, pere, to take or pull by violence, haste, or furie, to snatche, to take hastily: also to rauish a woman, to bypge one by violence before a iudge, or to pynon.
Sublimem hunc intre rape, hope me vp this fellow on thy backe, and carie hym in.
Rapi ad cognitionem rerum, To be moued with a great desyre to knowe thynges.
Rapi cupiditate, to be moued or ledde with the vnsatiatē desyre of any thyng.
Aliquem ad suam disciplinam rapere, id est, attrahere, impellere.
In errorem rapi, to be brought in an error, to be deceyved.
Rapere in inuidiam, to bypge one in hatred and displeasure.

Limis rapere, supple oculis. To speie or loke upon, or reade a thyng with the eyes a shew, or luyng aspe.
Rapere in peiorem partē, to carpe, to blame, to synde faulte with, to interpret a thyng ill.
Illuc se rapuit, he went thither with all spee, or in great haaste.
Rapere ad se, to draw or allure to it, to take to hym selfe.
Virgines ad stuprum rapere, to rauish the maydens.
In fraudem aliquem rapere, To make one to doe a thyng, that shall tourne to his displeasure and hurte.
Huc rapies viam, thou shalt come hither.
Ad supplicium rapere, to take and leade away to be punished.
Rapere aliquem in ius, to arte one, or cause hym to be arrested to appere before iudges.
Rapere, olde writers vsed for Rapere.
Rapsodia.
Rapo, raponis, m. g. for Raptor.
Raptim, hastily, swyfly.
Raptim scribere, to write in haaste.
Raptus, a, um, taken, caried, or drawen away with great violence.
Rapto, onis, f. g. violent taking of a persone.
Rapto, au, are, to take often violently.
Rapto, au, are, to take or drawe violently.
Raptor, oris, m. gen. a rauisher of violent taker, a robber.
Raptum, ti, n. g. a thyng taken or robbed away by violence.
Raptura, a, f. g. idem quod Raptus.
Raptus, a, um, rauished, taken away suddenly.
Raptus, us, m. gen. rauishyng or despoilyng of a woman, or the violent takinge away of a thyng.
Rapulū, li, n. g. a littell rape roote.
Rapum, pi, n. g. a rape roote.
Rapunculus, li, m. gen. a littell rote, whiche is eaten in saletes.
Rare, selborne, or not often. also thynne, not thicke.
Rarefacio, feci, facere, to make thyn or slender.
Rarefio, fieri, to be made thynne or slender.
Rareter, selborne.
Rarefio, scere, to waxe thynne or not thicke growen, to be or happen selborne, to waxe fewer in numbry, to diminish by litle & litle.
Raripilus, la, lum, thynne heared.
Rarior, rarius, more selde.
Rarissimus, a, um, seldest.
Rarissime, moste selde.
Raritas, raris, and Raritudo, rudinis, f. ge. self domenesse.
Raritas arborum, thynne growth of trees, or when few trees grow in a place.
Raro, selde, rare, fewe tymes.
Raro, au, are, to make scant or selde.
Rarus, a, um, selde or not oft, thynne, not thicke growen growen or sette. also precious, excellent.

Rari, a sunder, here and there one, or a fewe.
Rara avis, a birde selborne scene: wherby is signified any thyng that selborne happeneth.
Rari capilli, thynne heare.
Rarus in potu, that drynketh selborne.
Cribrum rarum, a course or wyde sieue.
Turba rarissima, a very small company.
Rarum inuentu, harde and rare to be found.
Rasamentum, ti, n. g. shayng or shyddes, after Lalepine: but the place of Columella hath now Ramenta.
Rasis, a hynde of rawe pitche.
Rasilis, le, that maie be shauen or made smothe.
Rasio, au, are, to shawe ofte.
Rasor, oris, m. gen. a barbour or shauer. also a sibil.
Rasorius, a, um, perteynyng to shayng.
Rasta, a douché myle.
Rastellum, li, n. g. a littell rake.
Rastrum, stri, n. ge. Pluraliter li rastru, & hanc rastra, a rake.
Rasura, a, f. g. a shayng.
Rataria naues, lighters or woodde barges.
Ratare, olde writers vsed for Ratificare, to ratify, to confirme.
Ratum habere, idem.
Rates, ratis, are pieces of tymber pynned together, whercon hay or other lyke thyngs beynge laid, they are drawen on riuers, as on the great streames of Germanie and Fraunce is nowe scene: but they be commonly vsed and taken for shippes, or the side beames of a shippe.
Ratiarius, ri, m. g. the maister of a shippe: or it semeth rather to be a lighter man, or he that occupith a lighter or barge, to transpoyte and conueigh marchandise from place to place.
Ratistum, Amogeis in Docto.
Ratifico, au, are, to ratify, confirme or approue.
Ratificatio, onis, f. gen. a ratification or confirmation.
Ratio, onis, f. g. reason, counsaile, purpose, care, respecte, consyderation, regarde, cause, the manner, the waie, the faction, the fourme, proportion, the trade, the feate, the meane, also an accompte, a rekenyng.
Habenda est ratio rei familiaris, The affaires concernyng our housholde muste be consydered: or we must haue a regarde to our housholde affaires.
Rationem habere cum aliquo, to haue to doe with one.
Nequillud rationis habuisti, you had not that regarde or consyderation with you.
Sine ratione officij, without hauyng regard to his duetie.
A quo mea longissime ratio voluntasq; abhorrebat, the whiche was cleane contrarie to my fantasie or mynde.
Vestram nequeo mirari satis rationem, I can not meruaile enough at your dooynge.

Mea est sic ratio, so is my fantasie, my counsaile or aduise is this.
Cum ratione aliquid inire, to go about a thyng aduisedly, & forseepe what maie folowe: to consyder and weigh a thyng before he begynne.
Nunquam ita quisquam bene subducta ratione ad vitam fuit, quin. &c. neuer man was so well aduised in his life: or neuer man toke so good aduise in his luyng, but &c.
Ut ego oculis rationem capio, as farre as I can docerne or see.
Pro ratione fructuum, id est, pro quantitate, accordyng to the fruite or pofite therof.
Rationibus inferre, To putte into his rekenyng.
Rationes Gallie procurare, to minstre the affaires perteynyng to Gallia.
Multis rationibus prouisum, it is many maner of waies prouided for.
Ut rationem te dicere intelligo, after thine accompte.
Ratio constat, the matter appereth or is shewed, the cause or reason is euidēt.
Rationes referre, to yelde accompte.
Rationem dare, idem.
Rationem dicere, to accompte.
Ratio de integro incunda est mihi, I muste be sayne to begynne my rekenyng or accompte all newe agayne: and by transacion, I must inuent a newe waie or meane to bypge this matter to passe.
Rationes putare, To summe ouer a boke of accompte.
Rationes conferre, to trie an accompte.
Rationibus referre, To registre that he hath receyved.
Rationem vitæ reposcere, to examine one howe he hath ledde his life.
Rationem conficere, to make a registre of any thyng that is done.
Conuenit inter eos ratio accepti & expensi, their receptes and expences agree.
Perfecti operis rationem computare, to caste or compte howe muche the whole woork of buildyng standeth hym in.
Morum prior ratio est, the more respecte must be had to the manners.
Rationem commodi ducere, to haue regard to his pofite.
Habent rationem cum terra, they labour or occupie the ground.
Rationem offendam, qua ista fugiatis, I will shewe you a meane, waie, or faction. &c.
Disimilitudo mea rationis offendit hominē, The vnlikenesse of the waie, trade or faction, that I doe take in the matter. &c.
Ad nostrorum temporum rationem, in comparison of our tyme.
Posteaq; mea ratio mutata est, after that my purpose or aduise was changed.
Propter rationem belli, because of the warre.

Quantum belli ratio postulabit, as muche as the state and condition of the warre shall require.

Ad rationem antiquæ religionis, accordyng to the rule. &c.

Alia ratione, otherwise, by any other meanes.

Ratione aliquid facere, to doe a thing for a consideration or cause.

Ratio honesti, the nature of honestie.

Rationem dicere, to shew a reason of cause why.

Ratiocinatio, ónis, f. gen. reasonyng, debatyng of a matter.

Ratiocinátor, óris, m. g. a raster of an accópte, an auditour, a disputer, a reasoner.

Ratiocinatus, a, um, belonging to reasonyng or debatyng of the matter.

Ratiocinium, nñ, neu. gen. reasonyng and disputyng.

Ratiocinor, aris, ari, to debate or reason to gas ther in argument, to accompte.

Rationabilis, le, reasonable, dooen with reason.

Rationalis, le, that hath the use of reason.

Rationarius, rij, m. ge. he that keepeth the booke of rekenyng, an auditour.

Rationarius, a, um, belonging to a rekenyng or accompte.

Rationarius codex, a booke of accompte, a rekenyng booke. Also a booke belongyng to the counsaile of princes, wherein actes doen and to be doen, are written, a Regestre.

Ratis, tis, f. g. idem quod Rates, tis.

Ratipona, a, citee in Almayne called Rentyburgh.

Ratiuncula, lã, f. ge. a littell accompte or rekenyng, a small reason.

Ratimenna, the name of a certayne chariot man.

Ratus, a, um, stablished, confyrmed, supposed, also thynkyng, iudgeyng.

Pro rata, accordyng to his portion.

Dicta rata, promisses kepte.

Ratum habere aliquid, to approue, to confirme. Also to haue for a certaintee.

Ratum facere, to ratifie, to confyrme.

Ratum mihi est, I approue it, I allowe it.

Rato tempore, at a certayne tyme.

Ratæ preces, prayes or bowes that be heard.

Ratus, a, um, a participle, signifyng supposyng.

Ratus sum, I supposed, I thought.

Rauca, wormes that be in the rootes of trees, and doe eate them.

Rauce, hoarsely.

Rauceo, cui, cẽre, to be hoarse.

Rauceco, scere, to waxe hoarse.

Raucẽdo, dinis, f. g. hoarsenesse.

Raucio, rausi, cire, to be hoarse.

Raucifonus, a, um, that maketh a hoarse noyse, that hath a hoarse voyce.

Raucitas, aris, f. g. hoarsenesse.

Raucus, a, um, hoarse.

Nisi ipse iam rumor raucus erit factus, except that rumour doe cease.

Sonare raucum quiddam, to sowne somewhat hoarsely.

Raudus, or Rodus, a thyng bryngt and was polyshed. it was also taken for as, brasse.

Rauduscula, a brassen gate in Rome.

Raudusculum li, n. g. brasse.

Rauenna, a citee in Italie.

Rauennas, aris, om. gene. that dwelleth of in the rauenna.

Raudus, a, um, an adiectiue.

Raudi oculi, eyes of colour mixte with blacke and yelow, somewhat blewyshe or yelow.

Rauilia, they that haue eyes of colour mixte with blacke and yelow.

Rauis, uis, f. g. hoarsenesse.

Ad rauium poscere, to require a thyng so impossibly, that he is hoarse.

Rauiscellus, a, um, littell browne of colour.

Rauus, a, um, for obtusus: also Rauus color, a dull or sadde colour, mixte with blacke or yelow, a darke yelow.

Raua vox, a voyce that male not bee well heard.

RE, a preposition used onely in composition, and signifyeth sometyme Rursum: as Redifico, to builde againe: some tyme Contra, or Aduersus: as Repugno, sometyme Iterum atq; iterum: as, Repuro. also Inde: as, Remoueo. sometyme Valde: as, Redundo. Sometyme it hath the same significacion that the symple hath.

Redifico, aui, are, to redifie, to builde newe, to builde agayne.

Readopto, aui, are, to chose by adoption agayne.

Reals actio, an action concernyng the gods.

Reapse, in the selfe of verage thyng, in dede.

Reate, tis, n. g. a citee in Italie.

Reatus, us, m. g. a faulte of offence, the estate of a person atrepnyed.

Rebellatio, ónis, f. g. a rebellyng.

Rebellátor, óris, m. g. he that rebelleth, a rebell.

Rebellatrix, the feminine.

Rebello, aui, are, to rebell. also to waxe fowle agayne, as woundes and diseases after they be once cured.

Rebellio, ónis, f. g. and Rebellium, lij, n. g. a rebellion.

Rebellis, le, that rebelleth.

Rebito, aui, are, to retourne, to come agayne.

Atvnum hoc te quæso si huc rebiter e Philocrate, vt elus mihi facias conueniendi copia, but one thyng I praye the, if he retorne from Philocrates, synde the meanes that I may speake with hym.

Reboo, aui, are, to lowe agayne, to lowe or bel lowe agayne.

Recalcitro, aui, are, to stryke with the heels, to hythe.

Recal-

Recalco, aui, are, to treade downe vnder the foote.

Recaleo, recales, lui, calere, to be hotte.

Recaleco, scere, to waxe warme agayne.

Recalfacio, calfacis, feci, facere, to make warme agayne.

Recalaster, tri, m. g. he that is balde before.

Recaluo, uere, to be balde agayne.

Recaluus, a, um, idem quod recalaster.

Recandens, entis, om. g. thynnyng veray whyte.

Recandeo, candui, ere, to be whyte.

Recandescio, scere, to waxe very whyte.

Recano, cinui, cauere, to syngre agayne.

Recantatus, a, um, songe agayne, also put away with charmpyng.

Recanto, aui, are, to charme awaye, to charme out a thyng, which was brought in by inchautesment, as the witches (called wyfe women) are wont to doe.

Recapitulatio, ónis, f. g. a summe of bytise reseruyng of thynges in chapters.

Recedo, celsi, ere, to departe or goe awaie, to goe backe, to retyre, to recople, to goe from thys to retourne, to goe agayne. Sometyme to be dimittid, to be farre of.

Recedere a conditione, a persona, a statu, is to chaunge or auer the condition, person or state.

Quamq; id nomen durus iam efficit vetustas, a peregrino enim recedit. Although auncienter maketh that name now somewhat hard and strange, to be vnderstand. it is altered from the olde significacion.

Recedere ab armis, to reade from warre, to leave off warre.

A causa alicuius paululū recedere, to thynke awaie, to geue backe.

Recedere ab officio, to departe from the olde accustomed facion.

Recedere ab oculis, to die.

Recedere a vitæ idem.

Recedere ab officio, not to doe his duety, not to doe that reason and honestee woulde.

Postq; recessit vita patrio corpore, after that your father was dead.

Recedere a sententijs alicuius, id est, illas taxare.

Romam recessit, he returned or went agayne to Rome.

Recede de medio, get thy way hence.

Recessit venter, his bealy was asswaged, or waxed lesse.

Fragmentum a fragmento recedit, one piece goeth from an other.

Euam quæ procul recessere, euen those thynges whiche are farre of.

A vitio recedere, to eschewe or auoyde vice.

Recello, lui, cellere, to plucke backe or withdraw.

Recens, entis, om. ge. newe, late, soone after, fresh.

Recenti pede recurrere, to ren esteemes after that he hath rested hym, to make a fresh course.

Postq; thermopoli gustur, recipere, & recedente pede recenti, after that thou hast warmed thy throte with good drynke, take thy herte to the and make a fresh course.

Recens & lassus, contray.

Equi recentes, fresh and lusty hofes that are not wepy.

Pullus a partu recens, a colte lately folt.

Quum e proindia recens esset, whan that he was lately retourned out of the prouince.

Qui recens ab illorum astate fuit, whiche was shortly after theyr tyme.

Exemplum recens, a late example.

Homines recentes, id est, nuper nati.

Littere recentissima, letters veray lately writen.

Re recentij, whan the matter was fresh and lately doen.

Recens maritus, a man lately married, a byde growme.

Recens nouus, all fresh and newe.

Recentes Roma venerunt, they came late from Rome.

Recens, aduerbium, newly, freshly, of late.

Recenseo, fui, sere, to numbre or tell, to reckon, to coumpte, sometyme to thwe.

Recensio, siul, fire, vled of olde writers for Recensio.

Recensitus, a, um, tolde or reckened.

Recensus, a, um, reckened, numbrized.

Recensus, us, m. g. and Recensio, ónis, a tale or rekenyng.

Recentior, aris, ari, to be renewed.

Receptaculum, lij, n. g. the place, whiche receiteth thynges. also a place of surtee or comfote, a place of refuge.

Receptio, ónis, f. g. a retourne backe, drawyng or bringyng agayne, a receuyng or takyng in.

Quid tibi huc receptio ad te est meum virum? why drawest thou my housbande esteoonce backe vnto thy house, why dost thou receyue myne housbande hyther into thyne house?

Receptus, a, um, that whiche is refered from other to ones owne vse and commoditee.

Receptus seruus, a seruant that one kepeth for his owne vse, whan he departeth with other of his good.

Receptor, óris, m. g. he that receiveth stolen goodes.

Receptrix, icis, the feminine.

Recepto, aui, are, to receiue often.

Receptum, i, n. g. a thyng that one hath taken vpon hym to dooe.

Receptus, a, um, receyued or taken in, taken in custome or vse.

Recepti in ciuitatem, they whiche of straungers be made citezins.

Receptus, us, m. g. a place of succour, a retraite in battayle, a retiryng backe agayne.

Receptui canere, to blowe the reed pipe, also it is a prouerbe, which signifieth to finish or ende the contention, to retye backe agayne.
 Recessim, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth: goynge backe, with retirynge, with geuyng backe.
 Recessus, us, m. g. goynge awaie or backe, retyr ynge, the secrettest or inmoste place, or corner of any place or thynge.
 Accessus & recessus lunæ, contrarie, the ap- proching and departynge of the moone from vs.
 Recessus in oculo, the hole or holownesse of the eye.
 Recidipnum, or rather Rechedipnum, a gar- ment used in olde tyme to suppe in.
 Recidius, a, um, estefoones restored, sometyme estefoones decayed or fallen.
 Recido, recidi, ere, to fall estefoones, or to fall backwarde.
 Recident in te hæ, contumelia, these rebukes shall lyght on the.
 Recidit ad paucos, it is come to a fewe persōs, or it is come to the use of fewe men, or fewe men doe practise it.
 Recidit in casum, it is come to nothyng.
 Ne sineret eo recidere, that he woulde not suffe it to come to that popnite.
 Quorsum recidat responsum tuum, non mas gnopere laboro, I passe not greatly what ye answer, or it is all one to me whether ye aun- swere yea or noe.
 Ad luctum reciderunt ex lætitia, they be fallen out of gladnesse into sorowe and mournynge.
 Ad nihilum recidere, to come to nothyng.
 Recido, di, dere, to cut agayne, to cut behynde.
 Recinctus, a, um, bngirde, lewse, unbuckeled, or unlaced.
 Vestes induta recinctas, haupng hie clothes all lewse about hie and unlaced.
 Recingo, cinxi, gere, to bngirde.
 Recinnia, they that dyd weare clothes called Res- cinnia.
 Recinium, n, n. g. a square garmente, whiche they that dyd weare them dyd cast the one parte therof ouer theyr shoulers at theyr backs, lyke frenche clothes.
 Recino, cinui, ere, to synge agayne, to sowne agayne.
 Recinus, i, m. g. idem quod Recinium.
 Recipie, Latō vñth for Recipiam.
 Recipio, recipis, cēpi, ere, to receyue or take, to admitte, to allowe, to calle agayne, to bypnye to sauegarde, to saue and deliuer out of daun- ger, to undertake, to take vpon one, to pros- myse. Also to referue to hym selfe, or to excepte a thynge in geupnge or bargaynyng, to referue to a mans owne ble.
 Recipere se, to retourne or come agayne.
 Percunstatum ibo ad portum quoad recipiat se frater, I wyl goe and tarie at the haven, untill my brother come agayne.
 Recipere se ad cenam, to come to supper.

Hic homo ad cenam recipit se ad me, this man wyl come to me to supper.
 Ignorantiam alicuius recipere, to admitte ouer ignorance for an excuse.
 Recipere aliquem domū ad se hospitio, to take one home and lodge hym in his house.
 Recipe te ad me, come hither to me.
 Recipere se ex opere, to retourne from his busi- nesse.
 Recipere se domum, to retourne home.
 Recipere in aures, to heare.
 Non ad ipsos istas tua dicta nunc in aures recipis, in god sooth, I doe not heare now what thou saist.
 Recipere se in portum, to arryue at any haven.
 Recipere se in principem, to take on hym agayne lyke a yauise.
 Recipere. anhelitum, to fetche breathe or wynde.
 Prius recipias anhelitum vno verbo eloquere, vbi ego sum, or euer thou fetchest breathe, tell me at a woorde in what case I stande.
 Recipe animum, take breathe.
 Recipere, to recouer.
 Cum quidem me audierit Salinatori (qui amissō oppido fugerat in arcem) gloriantis atq; dicen- ti, Mea opera, Quinte Fabi, Tarentum recipis sit. Certe inquit, ridens, Nam nisi tu amittis, ego nunq; recepissē, for in my hearng to Salt- nator, whiche (the towne of Tarentum beyng lost) fled into the castell, sayng vnto hym: Thou hast recouered Tarentum Quintus Fabius by my meane. That is true (saide he) laughynge: for yf thou haddeste not loste it, I hadde not recou- red it.
 Pœnas ab aliquo recipere, to punish.
 Ad frugem se recipere, to become thristie and an honest man.
 Ad ingenium suum se recipere, to retourne as agayne to his olde maner of lyuynge.
 Vt merecepi, as soone as I came to my selfe as agayne.
 Recipere ciuitate, to make one free of a cit- tee.
 Non recipit cunstationem hæc res, this matiere can abyde no delaie.
 Detrimentum recipere, to haue losse or da- mage.
 Incrementum recipere, to increase, to growe.
 Recipere aliquem, to receiue one as a friende, in- to a citte, or into his house.
 Recipere aliquem tecto, to geue one lodgyng in his house.
 Recipere aliquem mensa, to geue one meate and drynke at his table.
 Neminem dorio aut in sedem recipit equus, the horse woulde not suffere any other to come on his backe, to leape into the saddle, or to ryde hym.
 Recipere ciuitatem in fidem, to receiue a citte in- to his protection or tutcion.

Reci-

Recipere animos aut animam a pauore, To come to hym selfe agayne after a great feare.
 Recipere se ad aliquem fuga, to flee to one for succour.
 Se ad diem recipere, To come agayne at the daie appoynted.
 Recipi in cibum, to be taken and used for a meate, to be eaten commonly.
 Recipi in tutum, to be rescued and deliuered out of danger.
 Medio ex hoste recipi, to be rescued and des- ligured from the myddes of his enemies.
 Quod semel recepissim, that I had once tak- en vpon me.
 Ad me, or in me recipio, I undertake it.
 Recipiam officium persolueris, To dooe the good turne or benefite that he had promysed or undertaken.
 Vt mihi coram recepisti, as you promysed in my presence, or when I was with you.
 In deditionem recipere, to take to mercie.
 Nomen absentis recipere, to admitte the assen- sation of a person that is absente.
 Onus aliquod recipere, to take a charge vpon hym.
 Si reciperes te correcturum, if you wold ppro- myse that you woulde correcte it.
 Austeritatem annis recipere, by longe tontis nuaunce to waste eyger.
 Seruum recipere, to hopee and reserue a ser- uante to ones owne vse.
 Vtus recipit, vse hath appoynted and allowed it.
 Reciprocatio, onis, f. g. a goynge backe or retour- nyng to the place that he came fro.
 Reciproco, aui, are, to retorne backe, to repete, to goe backe, to retourne or haue recourse thither from whence it came.
 Reciprococnes, was taken of Laberius for ram- mes, for the tournynge backwarde, and othes- sones forwarde of the hojnes.
 Spiritus reciprocatur, quum rursus absor- betur.
 Reciprocus, a, um, that whiche is repeted or othes- soones reherled, that hath recourse or respede thither from whence it came.
 Annis reciprocus, a riuer that ebbeth and floweth.
 Recisamentum, i, n. gen. a littell pice of gobbet cutte off from any thynge.
 Recisso, onis, f. g. a cuttyng off.
 Recisus, a, um, newe cut, sometyme hylled.
 Recitatio, onis, f. gen. a recitynge aloude, read- dyng that other maie heare.
 Recitator, onis, m. g. he that reciteth or readeth a thynge.
 Recito, aui, are, to reade aloud that other maie heare & vnderstande, to recite or tell estefoones, to recite by herte, to say without boke.
 Recitare ex codice, to recite or reade a thynge on the booke.

Reclamatio, onis, f. g. a gayne sayng, a reclai- myng, a cryng contrary or agaynst.
 Reclamito, aui, are, to repugne, to tite or vse agaynst often.
 Reclamo, aui, are, to denie with a lowde voyce or crye, to gayne saie, to repugne.
 Reclamo tibi pro reo, I saie agaynst the in those things that thou haste ppronounced agaynst the person arraigned.
 Reclino, aui, are, to benye or incline to a thynge, to leane downe agaynst a thynge.
 Reclinia, & Reclinium, is whan the fygure of the fpyger is lewse from the naple.
 Reclinus, ie, somewhat bendyng vppwarde.
 Recludo, si, ere, to open.
 Infernas resecudes, & regna recludat pal- lida, vndoe he the lockes of Infernall places, and leaue hym sette wyde open the pale regions of death.
 Reclusus, a, um, opened, Iustinus patetich Re- clusus, for Clausus shutt.
 Recoda, secunde or course cheefe.
 Recodas, a, um, sodde agayne, also well ekes- cised.
 Recogito, aui, are, to remembre, to thynke or co- sider in a mans mynde earnestly, or oftentymes.
 Recognitio, onis, f. g. a knowlage, a con- sidering, a calling to remembraunce.
 Recognosco, noui, scere, to recognize, to con- sider, to recompte, to call to remembraunce, to know perfectly, to ouerlooke, to ouersee a thing, to correcte it, or to see in what case it is, also to rethen, to numbre, to remembre.
 Quam te penitus recognoui, timere desino, whan I dooe once consider in my mynde ear- nestly, or tal to my remembraunce what a thau- ge are, I feare no more.
 Decretum recognoscere, to ouersee a decre- t or ordinaunce, to the entent to amende it.
 Supellectilem Darij & omnem pecuniam re- cognoui, he dyd ouersee and take a viewe of all thynge Darius gooddes and treasure.
 Recognoscere turmas equitum, to muster the hojemen, to see what numbre they be.
 Recolligo, legi, ere, to assemble together, also to reconcile, to appeale, to reuiewe, to get vp as agayne, to gather agayne.
 Quod scribis enam si cuius animus esset in te offensior, a me recolligi oportere, where thou writest, I moze ouer if any man were displeased with the, he shuld be reconciled by my meane.
 Recolligere sensus, to gather his wittes home agayne.
 Recolligere vires, to get vpp his strength agayne.
 Recolligere se a longa valetudine, to recouer or get vp agayne after longe sicknesse.
 Recolo, iui, ere, to rill or discle agayne, to red- freshe or renewe the memoire of a thing, to me- morate or cast in ones mynde, to repete, to tes- pete, to call to remembraunce.

Aulum decus recoluit, id est, restituit, renouauit.
Artes inter se recolare, id est, exercere.
Ingenia nostra, nunc hac cogitatione, nunc illa recoluntur, our wittes be refreshed or renewed, now with one cogitation, now with another.
Intermissa recolare, To renewe thynges that haue been omitted or leat passe for a tyme.
Recommisitor, sceris, recommisici, to remember or call to remembrance.
Recompōno, sui, ere, to compose or sette together agayne.
Recompōsitus, a, um, composed of set together agayne.
Reconciliatio, ōnis, f. g. a reconcylng, a peace making, a rone making.
Reconciliator, ōnis, m. g. a peace maker, a loue date maker, a reconciler.
Reconciliatus, a, um, reconciled.
Reconcilio, aui, are, to reconcile, to restore and to fauour, to make at one.
Reconciliare in libertatem, to set at libertee.
Alienare & Reconciliare, contrarie.
Existimationem reconciliare, to recover or get again the good estimation that men haue of vs.
Animos populi sibi reconciliare, to wnn the hertes of the common people, to gette the selfe in fauour with the common people.
Reconciliare filium domum, to get ones son to come home agayne.
Reconcino, aui, are, to newe mahe, to make mete again, to pypze a garment.
Reconditus, a, um, hpyde, laied vp, secretly kepte, harde to be knowne.
Recondo, cōdidi, ere, to hpyde agayne.
Recondere gladium in vaginam, to put vp the twoorde agayne into the shearde.
In aliquem locum se recondere, to hpyde hym selfe in a place.
Reconduco, duxi, ere, to hpye agayne.
Reconfor, aris, ari, to be blowen by agayne.
Recordatio, ōnis, f. g. remembrance.
Recordor, aris, ari, to remember.
Recordor huius rei, & hanc rem, I remember this thyng.
Recorro, rexi, igere, to amende agayne.
Recoquo, coxi, coquere, to boyle or seethe estes soones, to amende with studie.
Recrastino, aui, are, to delaye from date to date.
Nil recrastines, delay not thy matters, but spede the while the tyme serueth. whē the sunne wyndeth make hay.
Recreatio, ōnis, a recreation, a restoyng.
Recreo, aui, are, to recreate, to refrethe, to restore, to renewe to his olde strength & nature.
Qui e morbo graui recreati sunt, which were restored to theyr strength agayne, after a grea nouse sykenesse.
Ex magno timore se recreare, to come to him selfe agayne after a great feare.

Recrementum, ti, nen. gene. that that groweth superfluously on any thing, or that is cut of or pared awaie.
Recrepo, crepui, are, to tynge or towne agayn.
Recrefo, scere, to growe agayne.
Recrudesco, scere, to wake newe of freshe, to wake soze agayne.
Recrudescit sedicio, the sedicion begynneth a freshe agayne.
Recruduit pugna, the battaille beganne to be fierce of egger agayne.
Recta, a supper where they late all in a rowe.
Rectangulus, li, m. ge. is where lines be set out, that no parte is longer of thoyr thē other.
Recta, an aduerbe signifying straight.
Cur non recta introibas why wentest thou not straight, or the straight waie in?
Recte, well enough, well, rightfully, yea of good right, with good reason.
Quid tu igitur lachrymas aut quid es tam tristis? P. Recte marer. S. Quid fuit tumulus than wherfore doost thou mourne? D. why art thou so heauie? S. it is well enough mocher, what was all this noyse.
Recte dicis, thou saiest truely.
Recte est, it is enough, or I haue enough.
Recte parere, To byngge soothly a chyld of a right shape.
Tum quod dem ei recte est, id est, laus, I haue also enough to geue hym.
Recte facere alicui, to doe good to a man.
Recte ferre, to take payntly.
Si sapis, neq. prateris quas ipse amor molestias habet, addas: & illas quas habet, recte feras, if thou bee wyse, adde no more grieue or trouble, than loue bynggeth with it selfe: and such as it bynggeth suffer patiently.
Recte, signifieth sometyme nothyng, as Dos mate saith.
Rogo nunquid velis, recte inquit, Abeo, I asked whether he wolde any thing, or comande me any seruite, nothyng, saied he, than went I myr waie. It signifieth also, yea straight waie.
S. Tu rus hinc abis D. recte, goest thou nowe into the countrey? D. yea straight waie.
Recte valet, he or she is in good helth.
Recte facitis, it is well dooen of you, I thanke you.
Recte, for In tuto, as,
Quibus recte dem literas, to whom I maye geue letters safely, or without daunger.
Recte admones, you put me well in mynde of it, your aduise is good.
Qui minus ego istic recte esse possem why maie not I be there without blame?
Apud matrem recte est, all is well at my most thers.
Recte meministi, well rememberd of you.
Non recte dicere alicui, for Male.
Recte olere, to smell well, to haue a good sapor, Recte

Recte oneratus, well laded.
Licebit rectius conare, you may suppe better.
Rectio, ōnis, f. g. a gouernyng.
Rector, ōnis, m. g. a ruler, a gouernour.
Rectrix, triciis, the feminine.
Rectus, a, um, straight, whiche is not crooked, byright, iuste, right.
Rectum intestinum, the gut, from whence the ordure passeth.
Recta coma, straight heare.
Conscientia recta, an byright conscience.
Recta tunica, a garment so made that it wyl stande stiffe byright.
Recta via rem narret ordine, that he woulde shewe the matter plainly, as it was dooen, without dissimulation.
Rectum, ti, n. g. right, straightnesse, honestee.
Curuo discernere rectum, to knowe vertue from vice.
Ier non agit in rectum, he goeth not straight forth.
Recubitus, us, m. g. a lypng at recte, a litynge at the table.
Recubo, bui, bare, to lie at rest.
Recudo, cudi, dere, to newe hammer or newe woorte, as it were on an anuilde: also it is taken for to make newe, or newe pinte.
Recula, la, f. g. a littell thyng, a small matter.
Recumbo, bui, bere, to sit at a table, or at meles: sometyme to leane on one, to leane as one leaseth on his elbowe.
Recumbere mecum vir egregius Fidius Rufinus, super eum municeps ipsius, there late with me that woorthyfull man Fidius Rufinus, and about hym his neighbour.
Recupero, ōnis, f. g. was of olde waiters saied, where there was a lawe made: betwene the people of Rome and other nations and citis, wherein they accorded, that priuate thynges taken, shulde be redelivered: whiche is nowe vsed in our leagues & entercourse with straunge countreies and princes, a recoueryng agayne of a thyng.
Recuperator, ōnis, m. g. a iudge assigned, or a commissioner for a priuate matter.
Recuperatorius, a, um, belonging to the recoueryng of a mans gooddes, or to the iudges called Recuperatores.
Recupero, aui, are, to recover, to get agayne.
Si interruptum somnum recuperare non posses, if he coulde not fall on sleape agayne when he was ones awaked.
Recupio, recupis, cupiui, cupere, to desyre muste, to couet earnestly.
Quin ita faciam, vt recupias facere sumptum, & si ego verem, and yet wyl I so handle it, that thou shalt inuche desyre to speede, although I woulde forbyd the.
Recuro, aui, are, to doe a thyng diligently, to take good hede of a thyng.
Recuro, curri, rere, to renne agayne, to goe or come agayne quickly.

Ad initia recurrere luna dicitur, quando res nouatur.
Recurso, aui, are, to renne often backe or agayne, to haue often recourse to a thyng.
Recurfus, us, mascu. gene. a runnyng backe, a recourse.
Recuruatus, a, um, made crooked, or made to bende backwarde.
Recurue, an aduerbe, signifying downwarde, bowyd backwarde, crookedly.
Recuruitas, atis, f. g. a bowynge backe.
Recuruo, aui, are, to bowe backe.
Recuruus, a, um, bowed backe or crooked.
Recusabile, that whiche is worthy to be refused.
Recusatio, ōnis, f. g. a refusal. Also detence, or excusyng.
Recusator, ōnis, m. g. a refuset.
Recuso, aui, are, to refuse. Also to defende, to reiecte a iudge, to repell an accusation, to deny, to saie naie.
Non recuso, quin. &c. I denie not, or I saie not nay, or I say not the contray, but that &c.
Recussus, us, m. g. a strynging backe or agayne.
Recussus, a, um, stricken or shaken agayne.
Recurtus, a, um, that is circumscribed. Also cut throte. sometyme exultate.
Redabsoluo, ui, uere, to discharge or dispatche.
Sequere hac, te redabsoluam, qua aduenisti gra in, tolowe me thither, I wyl dispatche the matter, for the whiche thou camst hither.
Redactus, a, um, brought.
In id redactus sum loci, I am in that case.
Redambulo, aui, are, to returne or wathe backe agayne.
Curā quam optime potes. Er. Bene ambula, & redambula, doe the best that thou canst. Er. hence and come agayne quickly, or god sende the well to goe and come, or god bee with the, and sende the well agayne.
Redamo, aui, are, to loue mutually, to loue one that loueth hym.
Redandro, aui, are, to retonne. Also when the chiefe prelate or bishoppe made certayne gestures in their solemne daunsynges, and the other company made the same agayne, was called Redandruare.
Redardefco, scere, to burne agayne.
Redarguo, gui, guere, to reprove, to reprehende, to blame, to shewe by reason or argument, that it is not true that one hath saied.
Redaspico, aui, are, and Redaspicor, aris, ari, to begyne agayne.
Reddito, ōnis, f. g. a rendyng or geyng agayne.
Redditus, a, um, restored, pryed, deliuered.
Reddo, didi, dere, to rendie or pryde, to deliuer, to restore, to geue, to make, to rechen, to resherse, to resembie.
Reddere certiore, to ascertaine, to certify, to geue knowlage.

Reddere rationem, to make accompte of tethes
nyng.

Flores reddit arbor, the tree blossometh.

Ego te commotum reddam, I wyll beere every bygne in thy herte.

Reddere, to put in other. Tempesta venit, consfringit regulas imbricesque, ibi dominus indisligens reddere alias ne vale, the tempest came and broke the ycles, and the causes, where as the negligent owner wolde not put in other in theyr plasces.

Reddere dictum ac factum. Videre egisse iam nescio quid cum sene. S. De illo quod dudum dictum ac factum reddidi, it seemeth thou haste doen late I wotte not what with the olde man.
S. Meaneest thou that, we spake of of late of the other daie? thou hadst not so soone spoken, but it was dooen, or I haue dispatched it with a worde, or in the tournynge of an hande: I dyd no rather moue the matter, or speake of it, but it was doen by and by: or after Crasimus, I haue doen as much as is possible, or as maie bee dooen in the matter.

Reddidi impetratum, I brought it to passe, I obteyned it for hym.

Reddere operam, to requite a good tourne of an pil, to doe as muche for one agayne.

Reddere alicui, to resemble or be lyke to one.

Tu me reddidisti probum virum, thou hast made me an honest man.

Redde que restant, id est refer, recense.

Redde, for Remouere, to parbrake by agayne.

Quæ suis locis red iam, whiche I wyll recite of eche in their places.

Clodius omnes Casilinas reddidit, id est, aquas uit, repræsentauit.

Anhelum reddere, to bzeathe out.

Animam reddere, idem. also to die.

Reddidisti animum, thou hast reuined my spie-rites.

Reddere beneficium, to requite a good tourne of benefite.

Vini colorem reddit, it maketh a wyne colour, it resembleth the colour of wyne.

Reddere color, to make a thynge to come to his colour agayne.

Clamorem reddere, to crye.

Conciliatum reddere animum alicuius, to appease of qualifie ones mynde.

Se ipse conuiuio reddidit, he came agayne to the table.

Crepitum reddere, to bzeake wynde downes
warde.

Excrementa reddere, to auoide excrementes of nature.

Effigiem virtutis alicuius reddere, to resemble ones vertue.

Depositum reddere, to deliuer that was leste with vs to keepe.

Ferro reddere vitam, to be slayne.

Vxorem grauidam reddere, to get his wyfe with chylde.

Humorem and vrinam reddere, to make was-ter.

Imaginem reddere, to represent the image of a thynge, as a glasse of mirrour dooth.

lus vel iudicium reddere populo, to minstre iustice and lawe to the people.

Laine reddere, to translate into latine.

Reddere alicui nomen, to haue the same name that an other hath.

Odorem reddere, to sauour.

Onera ciborum reddere, to auoide of dure.

Opera reddetur tibi, I wyll doe as muche for the agayne.

Operas reddere, to woozke the full taste.

Paria reddere in vtramque partem, to make esquall.

Promissa reddere, to doe that he promised.

Sententiæ suæ rationem reddidit, he shewed
a cause of reason whye he was of that opinion.

Responsum reddere, to geue an answer.

Sanguinem reddere, to bopde bloude.

Sonum reddere, to make a sowne of noyse.

Spiritus reddere alicui, to put him selfe in danger, or to bee slayne or hylde for his sake that ones saued his lyfe.

Transactum reddere, to dispatche.

Reddere verbum pro verbo, to translate woorde for woorde.

Piperis saporem reddit, it smacteth of tasteth lyke pepper.

Vitam reddere pro republica, to die for the safegarde of the cowntrey.

Reddere humanas voces, to speake lyke a man.

Vicem reddam si reposes, I wyll do as much for the agayne if thou require me.

Vicē lunæ reddens, begyn of seruyng in Rode of the moone.

Sine scripto reddere, to recite a thynge that he hath diuised by herte, and neuer wryte it.

Impendium reddet vsq ad assen, he shall pay euery farthyng of his costes agayne.

Omnibus militibus nomina reddidit, he called all his souldiours by theyr names.

Voia reddere, to accompt the theyr bowes.

Reddit ager, whyan it yeldeth of bryngeth forth freute.

Redditur quis cupientibus, as a seruant to his master.

Restituitur cupiens, as a citezen to his countrey.

Et redditur & restituitur cupiens cupientibus,
as a father to his soonne.

Redemptio, ônis, f. g. redemption, byng, purchasing, raunfompnge, takynge of a thynge in great, seruyng.

Redemptio iudicii, the corruptyng of a iudge-ment with money.

Redemptio, aui, are, to redeeme, bie agayne, or raunfome often.

Re

Redempto, aui, are, to redeeme.

Redemptor, tôris, m. g. a redeemer, a workman,
whiche taketh any woork in great.

Sometyme it signifieth hym, whiche taketh rentes to ferme, a farmer, he that hirerh a thynge.

Redemptores, they that byze lande, or take a-nythng in great of taste.

Redemptor pontis, he that byzeth the custome or toll taken at a brydge.

Redemptor syluar, a keeper of a wood or fozeft, or he that hath byzed a wood, and setteth men to kepe it.

Redemptura, æ, f. g. a byzng of seruyng of a thynge, the takynge of a lease.

Redemptus, a, um, redeemed, bought agayne, raunfomed.

Redeo, diui, dii, dire, to retourne. Also for pro-uenire, to come of growe of a thynge.

Redeo rursum, I come backe agayne.

(Vrad me redeam) that I maye come to my purpose agayne.

Redire pedibus, to retourne agayne on foote.

Sed illuc redi, quo cepisti, but come to the matter agayne, where thou beganst, or turne to thy first purpose agayne.

Redi ad te hereditas, the heretage is fallen to the.

Redeo in memoriam mortuorum, I remembre them that be dead.

Redite in memoriam iudices, call to your resmembraunce.

Vt in patrios redirent mores, that they wolde retourne agayne to the facton and behauiour of their forefathers.

Nihil ad me redit ex his, no profite cometh to me by these thynge.

Menti singula redeunt, I remembre euery thynge.

Ad ineptias redis, thou beginst to speake of trifelyng and foolyshe saynges agayne.

Ad eo res redit, the matter is come to that poynte.

Ad se, & ad mores suos redire, to come to his olde nature and facton agayne.

Redi ad te summa imperii, the soueraintie of imperiall autoritee is come or fallen to you.

Vrad suum vestitum senatores redirent, that the senators shoulde leaue of their mounyng apparell, and vse the theyr accustomed raiment.

Vtalicubum decimo, alicui cum quintodes-cimo redeat, id est, proueniat.

Redis ad ingenium, thou dost after thyn olde facton, or as thou art wonte to doe.

Sed paululum sine ad me vt redeam, but leat me take bzeathe a littell, or suffre me to come to my selfe agayne, or to gather my wittes to me agayne.

Tandem reprime iracundiam, atq ad te redi, nowe leaue thy fume, and remembre thy selfe.

Vt ad pauca redeam ac mitam illius ineptias, that I maie be thoyzte, and passe ouer his folie.

Redi ad rem, goe to the purpose, or to the mat-tier.

Opera tua ad restim mihi quidem res redit, by thy meanes I am brought to the poynt to hange my selfe, or by thy meanes I am lyke to be hanged, or to be bitterly vndoed.

Nam si illi pergam suppeditare sumptibus Menedeme, mihi illac vere ad rastros res reddit, surely yf I should mainteine his expences Menedemus, it wolde bynge me to rake cozne or grasse for my lyuyng: or it wolde surely bynge me to the rake and spade: or as we saie, to digge and delue for my lyuyng: that is, it wolde vndooe me, and make me a verai beggar in dedde.

Redit res in eum locum, the thynge is come so to passe, the matter is nowe come to that poynte.

In eum iam res rerit locum, vt sit necesse, the matter is come so to passe, that there is no resmedy.

Redit mihi animus, my courage is come vnto
me agayne.

Redi animo, it cometh to my mynde.

Redire in concordiam, to be agreed.

Redire in gratiam, idem. also to be ctesones in fauour.

Rediculi, a temple at Rome, without the gate called Capena, where Anniball beynge ascerde retired backe.

Redhibeo, redhibes, hibui, bère, to cause the selslar to haue agayne that, whiche he solde, to geue agayne.

Redhibeo, ônis, f. g. restitution, deliuerynge of a thynge agayne.

Redhibitorius, a, um, an adiectiue.

Redhibitoria actio, an action sued agaynst one, that hath solde some thing that is naught, to cause hym to take it agayne, and to redyze
the money that was paid.

Redhibito, restozed.

Redigo, dégi, digere, to bynge by force or consnyng. sometyme to restoze. also to gather of heape together.

Redigere in ordinem, to compell men to liue accorpyng to thez estate or pofession.

Rem ex difficillima facilem redigere, id est, facilem reddere.

Bona vendit, pecuniam redigit, he sellet the gooddes, and gathereth together the money.

Questum illum totum ad se redigit, he got together all that gayne or lacre to his owne vse.

Eo redigis me, thou byngest me in that case.

In ararium redigere, to toune into money,
and byng it into the common treasury.

Penes alicuius copiam frumenti redigere, to gather of heape together. &c.

Quo redactus sum, to what state I am brought.

In dedicationem huius imperii redegerunt, they constreigned them to yelde, and to become subiects sette to this empire of Rome.

 Ego redigam vos in grauiam, I will brynge you in fauour agayne, I will sette you at one, I will make you agreed.
 In memoriam redigere, to cause to remembre.
 Ad id te redigam miseriam, I will brynge the to suche wretchednesse and miserie.
 Sum redactus ad hanc vltimam tuniculam, I am brought to that case, that I haue no more but this one poore coie.
 In potestatem vel seruitutem redigere, to brynge in subiection or bondage.
 In prouinciam redigere, to make it a prouince.
 Republica in tranquillam redacta, the common weale beynge brought to a quietnesse.
 Capuam rediguntur, they were led or brought to Lapua.
 Hostes in castra redigunt, they droue their enemies backe to thei Lampes.
 Redigi ad vltimam maciem, to become so leane as can be possible.
 Redigere in peregrinitatem, to banishe out of his countrey.
 Redimiculum, li, n. g. the attyre, ornaments or apparayle of a womans head, as it were a velvet bonet, a frenche hood, or suche lyke.
 Redimio, redimis, miui, mire, to adourne, apparayle, or trimme, to crowne, to copas about.
 Redimo, demi, dimere, to redime, to raunsome, to bie, to recoure, to recompence, to take in bargayne, to undertake a thing a great, to hire.
 Redimere, to take in charge.
 Redimere sibi amicos, to purchase men to bee his frendes with money and gesies.
 Pacem redimere, to bye peace.
 Redimas te capium quam queas minimo, res deeme, or raunsome thy selfe beynge taken prisoner, as good cheape as thou canst.
 Vestigalia redimere, to take the reuencues of the common weale to ferme.
 Præteritam culpā redimere, to make amendes for the faute th it is past.
 Redimere opus faciendum, to undertake a worke a great.
 Redimitus, a, um, apparayled on the head, crowned, compassed about.
 Redimitus, us, m. g. apparayling or trimmyng of the head.
 Redinunt, for Redeunt, they retourne or come agayne.
 Redintiger, gra, grum, begunne a fresthe, renewed.
 Redintegratio, ōnis, f. g. a reuynng, a beginning afresthe.
 Redintegro, aui, are, to begynne eftsoones, to renewe or refresthe.
 Bellum redintegrare, to renewe the warre agayne, to beginne the warre afresthe.
 Memoriam redintegrare, to reuene the memory of any thyng.
 Redintegrato animo, with courage reuined, with a fresthe courage, takynge herte of graffe or courage afresthe.

 Vires redintegrare, to refresthe and recreate him selfe, and gather his strength agayne.
 Reditio, ōnis, a returnng agayne.
 Reditor, is returned.
 Redito, aui, are, to returne by and by.
 Reditus, us, m. g. a returne, a comynge agayne, also reuencues or profite that cometh of a thyng.
 Reditus in gratiā, a comynge in fauour agayne.
 Rediua, or Reduua, x, f. g. when the skinn cometh from the nailles of the fingers. also an aduers skinn.
 Rediuuius, a, um, that which returneth eftsoones to life: also that whiche of an olde thyng is made newe agayne, reuined from death to lyfe.
 Rediuuius, uii, a wourme called a tyke, which lures heth bloude from man or beast.
 Redoleo, redoles, dolui, and dolui, lere, to smell or sauour.
 Antiquitatem redoler, that sauoureth of antiquite.
 Fectorem redolet, it hath a stynkinge sauour.
 Vinum redolet, it sauoureth of wyne.
 Redonatio, ōnis, f. g. a geuynge agayne of the thing that is taken.
 Redono, aui, are, to geue agayne.
 Redordior, iris, iri, to vndoe a thyng agayne and beginne it a fresthe.
 Redormio, miui, mire, to slepe agayne.
 Redormitio, ōnis, f. g. a sleppng agayne.
 Redostio, stiui, stire, of olde wyters was taken for to geue thanke. also to returne.
 Reduco, duxi, ducere, to brynge backe or plache backe, to brynge backe agayne, to brynge laulfe, to pacifie or appease, to deliuer or set out of perill, to reconcile.
 Meg oppido in arcem reduco, and I conserue my selfe quickly into the castell.
 Numenq; reducant, let them appeale the wrath or displeasure of god.
 Reducere ad planum cicatrices, to make that woundes maie not bee perceiued, or to make them without a scarme.
 Lachrymæ conficte dolis reducant animum agrotum ad misericordiam, teares deuiusfull by feigned may brynge a loue lyke mynde agayne to pitie and compassion.
 Ad colorem reducere, to brynge a thyng to the colour agayne.
 In gratiam reducere, to reconcile.
 Ad maciem reducere, to make leane.
 In memoriam reducere, to remembre.
 Passus reducere, to goe backe agayne.
 Exules reducere, to brynge men from banishment.
 Inermisum morem reducere, to renewe or brynge in againe a faction that hath ben lesse of.
 Reductio, ōnis, f. g. a brynngng home agayne.

Reductor, ōris, m. g. he that bryngeth agayne.
 Reductus, a, um, brought backe or safe, brought agayne.
 Redulcero, aui, are, to impostume or make an impostume in some part of the body, to ware soie agayne, to begynne afresthe.
 Reduncus, crooked backwarde, or contrarie wise.
 Redundatio, ōnis, form. g. to muche aboundynge, ouerflowng.
 Redundatio stomachi, parbrydng, when the stomake is ouerloded.
 Redundantia, x, f. g. superfluities.
 Redundo, aui, are, to ouerflow, to reflowe or returne backe, to rebounde, to be so full that it runneth ouer.
 Damni periculum ad te non redundat, the danger of this losse or damage shall not rebounde to you.
 Hæsterna corna redundantes, beynge ouerchargd with the supar that they had eaten the daie before.
 Vno digito redundare, to haue one finger to muche.
 Redundat ad meum fructum hæc laus, this pyppe reboundeth to my profite.
 Reduplico, aui, are, to double eftsoones.
 Reduua, idem quod rediua.
 Reduua efca, um, the leauinges of meate that stiketh in ones teeth.
 Redux, redactus, om. ge. that is returned againe safe from exile, danger or captiuitie.
 Gratulari aliquem reducem, to reioyce and be gladd at ones comynge home agayne.
 Refacio, feci, facere, idem quod Reficio.
 Refello, felli, fellere, to proue false, to repretent of falschood, to denie that whiche is objected, to shew by reason and argument to be false that one saith, to confute ones saynges, or that is objected.
 Referio, referis, rire, to strike agayne.
 Refercio, referis, cire, to fill, to replenishe.
 Refercire hominum aures sermonibus, to fill mens eares with babling and talbng.
 Refertus, a, um, full, replenished.
 Refero, tuli, ferre, to brynge agayne, to beare backe agayne, to resemble, to reposit, to red herte, to refferre, to make relation, to reuoke, to sell, to adde to, to regette or write in a boke, to ascribe, to tourne, to renewe, to brynge, to declare or expresse, to geue agayne or reioyce, to answer.
 Referbam me, I returned.
 Refero impensum, I make accompte of that whiche is bestowed.
 Referre rationem, to yelde or make accompt.
 Referre ad aliquem, to aske one counsaile in any matier.
 Referre de re aliqua ad senatum, was when the Consuls purposed a matier in the Senate, despyng the Senators to reason and con-sulte thereof.

 Referre gratiam in maius, to shewe one a greater pleasure then he hath done for vs.
 Eutyche hanc volo rem prius agi, quam meum intro refero pedem, I will that this thyng Eutyche be done before I go in agayne.
 Retulit ad me pedem, he came towarde me.
 Referunt hæc ad rem, these thynges pertaine to the matier.
 Referre acceptum, to ascribe, to impute.
 Omnia quæ vidimus, si recte ratiocinabimur, vni accepta referemus Antonio, all that we see, if we reken wel, we maie impute it onely to Antoni.
 Quod vni, mihi acceptum refert, he confesseth to belong of me, that he nowe liueth: or he confesseth to ough his life to me.
 Verum omnem tranquillitatem & quietem senectutis refert acceptam clementiæ tuæ, but all the tranquillite and quietnesse of his age, he confesseth to procede or to haue receiued of your mercy and goodnesse.
 Referre gratiam, to requite, to doone one for another.
 Nunq; ego illi possum gratiam referre, vt meritis est de me, I can neuer requite hym, or do like pleasure, as he hath deserued of me.
 Spero ego mihi quoq; tempus tale euenturum, vt tibi gratiam referam parem, I trust the tyme shall ones come, that I shall doe you as muche pleasure, or requite your kyndnesse.
 Non enim sperasti mutuum tibi gratiam relaxatum, vt vicissim tuos compellarem, thou didst not thinke, that I would in this wise haue requited the, in remembryng thyngs uncessours, as thou hast doone myne.
 Referre in acceptum, to approue and allowe a thyng as good, and to be receyued.
 Posteaq; reus factus est, primo negabat opus in acceptum referri posse, after that he was accused, firste he denied, that the worke myght bee brought to a rehenng, or approued or allowed as good.
 Referre in melius, to turne it to a better vse.
 Referre mores, to expresse the conditions or manners of an other.
 Referre oculos ad aliquem, to cast the loke vpon one, to loke towarde one.
 Referre par, to requite.
 Ille quem beneficio adiungas, ex animo facit, studet par referre, whom thou givest with benefite, he doeth all thynges with god herte, and studieth to requite the.
 Referre pedem vel gradum, to steppe backe, to retreat, to retire.
 A illa reulit, quæsiuit, quidnam mihi videretur, he tolde me all, and asked what I thought therein.
 Retulit me ventus in Italiam, the wynde brought me backe agayne into Italie.
 Ad se ipsum referre, to perpende and weigh the matier, whether he wolde haue it so hym selfe if he were he were in like case.

Aliquem ore referre, to resemble or be like one in countenance or visage.

Ad arbitrium alicuius referre, to put a thyng to ones iudgement.

Ad me refers, thou askest my aduise or counsaile in the matter.

In codicem referre, to write or registre in a booke. Omnia ad conscientiam referre, to doe all thyng accordyng to his conscience without vayne glorie. Consuetudinem vel morem referre, to renewe or bypnyng by a custome or maner agayne.

Cuius omnes cura ad te referuntur, whiche is carefull for you onely, of whiche hath no care but onely for you.

Diem referre dicitur sol.

Easem vaginæ retulit, he put vp his swoorde agayne.

Eodem referri, id est, reportari, to be caried agayne to the same place.

Mores patris referre, to be like his father in condicions, to resemble his fathers maners.

Numerum referre iussit, he bade hym numbre them.

In numerum referri, to be compted one of the numbre, to be reckened as one.

Referrebam oculos ad terram, I looked downe towards the ground.

Quibus opem referre posset, whiche he might ayde, helpe, or succour.

Referunt me pedes in Tusculanum, I go to my place at Tusculum.

Prunas referre ad aliquem, to geue one the chiefe ppyce, to accompte hym the most excellenc.

Quæsum maiorem referre, to bypnyng moze ppyce or agayne.

Referre rationibus, and in rationes, to wyte that he hath receyued or lated out.

Referre in acta, to registre.

Repullam referre, to be put by in labouryng for an office.

Responsum referre, to make an answer, or to make relation, what answer one hath geuen.

Refereas igitur ei plurimam salutem, you shall therfore salute hym agayne hertly in my name.

Referam me ad ordinem, I will returne to the order that I began with.

Referre se ad studia, to fall to his studies agayn.

Referre vicem, id est, rependere.

Victoriam referre, to atchieue victorie.

Referre omnia ad voluptatem, to reken the chiefe felicitie to be in voluptee or pleasure: to put all his felicitie in pleasure.

Ni argentum referas, id est, reddas.

Quid a nobis referatur? what do we answer.

In ordine referre versus, to recite and saie verses in order.

Ad vos nunc refero, quem sequar, I aske aduise of you now, whom ye wolde that I shulde folowe.

Referre ad vnum omnia, to put all in one maner two handes.

Facta referre, quæ mandata sunt, to accompt the doo that one was charged.

Fructum diligentie referre alicui, to recompence one for his diligence.

In commentarium referre, to registre.

Referre in numerum deorum, to canonise.

In, or inter reos referre, to admytte an accusacion that is brought agaynst one as lausfull.

Referre, the imperfection, it is profitable of experient, it is necessarie.

Cuius consilij magni referebat te interesse, at the whiche counsaile it had ben very necessarie, that ye shulde haue ben.

Parui retulit non suscepisse, it made littell matter that he toke it not.

Mea quid refert? what care I? what matter maketh that to me?

Mea nihil refert, I haue nought to doe with it.

Tua refert, it is for thy profit, it is expedient for the.

Quid refert me fecisse regibus, ut mihi obediunt, si me hodie hic umbraticus derideret? what auayleth it, that I haue made hynges to obey me, if now this idell knaue shall laugh me to scorn.

Nec enim numero comprehendere refert, it is not necessarie to reherse them in numbre.

Nihil refert, it is all one, it maketh no matter.

Refectio, onis, a refectio, a recreatyng, a refectio, a takyng of meate and dypnye.

Refector, oris, m. g. he that reuethly maketh a thyng agayne.

Refectus, us, m. g. a refectio, a refectio, a reuethlyng with meate and dypnye.

Refectus, a, um, refectus, renewed, amended, made effectiuous, refectus.

Referreo, ferui, feruere, to be very hotte, to be scaldyng hotte. Some tyme to be waxed colde agayne.

Referresco, uescere, idem.

Refibulo, aui, are, to unbuckle.

Reficio, feci, ficere, to recreate or restore, to amend, to make newe agayne, to renewe, to repaire, to refecthe, to delite.

Reficior, ceris, ci, to be restored, or recovered from sickenesse, also renewed or newmade.

Anteq tibi ex tuis possessionibus tantum reficiatur, before the reuencenes or profits of your possessions be so muche woothe to you.

Reficere tribunalum, to make one tribune as agayne the nexte tyme.

Reficiendi animi gratia, to recreate the mynd.

Quoad me refecerim, until I haue refectus and strengthened my selfe agayne.

Reficere exercitum ex inopia, to refecthe and relieue the armie with victualles, that hath starved for lacke of victualles.

Reficere vires cibo, to strengthen hym selfe as agayne with meate.

Refectus sum quum tua legerem, I was refectus refectus or delictus, of my spirites were reduced and quickened when I did rede your wytinges or letters.

Refigo, fixi, figere, to faste or set by surely: Comes tyme it signifieth the contrarie, to drawe out of plucke downe that whiche is fastned.

Refigere tabulas & leges, to fordoe or destroy lawes.

Acta Antonij rescidistis, leges refixistis, ye haue cancelled the actes of Antonie, and fordoone or dissolved his lawes.

Fixit leges pretio atq refixit, he stablished lawes for money, and effectiuous dissolved them.

Refingo, sinxi, fingere, to disguise, to refoze.

Refugio, aui, are, to desyre a thyng impossible natly agayne.

Refusus, us, m. g. a contrary wynde, a blowing contrarie.

Reflecto, flexi, flectere, to bowe backe, to turne backe of agayne, also to call agayne, to reuoke, to let of plucke one from dooynge a thyng.

Quem neq fides, neq iusurandum, neq illum misericordia represcit, neq reflexit, who neither promise nor othe, nor yet pittie withdrew of pulled backe.

Reflexus, us, um, bowed, or tourned backe.

Reflo, aui, are, to blowe agayne or contrarie.

Refloresco, florui, fere, to flourish or bypnyng agayne.

Reflo, xi, fluere, to flowe agayne.

Refusus, a, um, that floweth backe agayne.

Refusum mare, the ebbing sea.

Refusus, us, m. g. the tyme when the water floweth.

Refocillatio, onis, a refocillatio, a refocillatio of recreation.

Refocillo, aui, are, to comforte, to refecthe, to recreate, to strengthen and make lusty agayne.

Refodis, refodis, fodi, fodere, to digge out of the earth.

Reformido, aui, are, to feare greatly.

Reformidatio, onis, great feare of drede.

Reformo, aui, are, to reforme, to bypnyng to the olde state agayne, to renewe.

Reformare ad exemplum, to reforme of a mende a thyng by an example or paterne.

Reformator oris, a reformer, he that bypnyng to a newe or better facion.

Refoueo, refoues, foui, fôum, fouere to nourish or comforte effectiuous, to restore or set in his first state.

Refractariolus, a, um, somewhat frowarde or stubbornne.

Refractarius, a, um, obstinate, in a wilfull opinion, stubbornne, frowarde.

Refractus, a, um, broken open.

Refrano, aui, are, to pull backe one from a purpose, to refrayne, to holde of plucke backe, as a man doeth a horse with the bridle.

Refrænatio, onis, a bridelyng, a refreynge.

Refrænatus, a, um, holden backe with the bridle, refrained.

Refragor, aris, ari, to resist with wordes or clamour, to gaine saie, to repugne, to bee as gaynt.

Is cui non refragetur ingenium, he whose nature of witte is not contrarie or agaynt it.

Refrico, fricui, care, to rubbe harde, to rubbe as gayne, to renewe a soze of greese, whiche was out of remembrance.

Animum memoria refricare, to touche one to the herte with the remembrance of a thyng.

Refrigeratio, onis, f. g. a cooling.

Refrigeratorius, a, um, that whiche cooleth, or maketh colde, that hath the strengthe of nature to coole.

Refrigerans, a, um, cooled, also refectus or comforted.

Refrigerator, oris, m. g. he that cooleth.

Refrigeo, frixi, fingere, & Refrigesco, scere, to ware colde, to coole, to begynne to cease, to be lesse vehement.

Refrixit, it is ceased, or it is moze colde.

Refrigo, aui, are, to coole, or make colde, to refecthe or recomforte.

Refrigerare testem, to attorne the witness, and make hym that he can scante tell what saie.

Refrigerato leuissimo hominum sermone, when the bayne brute, communication of talke of men beganne to cease.

Refrina, næ, f. g. a brane, whiche the olde Romans wone to bypnyng home out of the fildes, to doe sacrifice for the good lucke of their toyne.

Refringo, frégi, fringere, to bycake open.

Gloriam alicuius refringere, to diminish the ones glorie and renowne.

Refuga, gæ, f. g. an vnlike persone, whiche will not be ordered or subiecte to any bodie.

Refugio, refugis, fugi, fingere, to flee or reme awaye or backe, also to refuse, to eschewe, to auoyde.

Refugiunt memoria nostra ista, these thynges ben out of our remembrance.

Refugere ab admonendo, to leaue counsaile of one.

Refugere a dicendo, to forbear to speake for displeasure.

A consuetudine refugere, to leaue ones consuetudine, or to become straunge, where one hath ben familiar.

Refugere inuidiam muneris, to refuse a gifte because of the enute and displeasure of men.

Iudicem refugere non deberet, he shoulde not refuse the iudge.

Refugium, gii, n. g. refuge, succour, or a place where one may be succoured.

Refugas, a, um, that goeth awaye, or is lated as parte, that fleeth from daunger, that renneth away.

Refulgeo, fulsi, gère, to shine bright.

Refun-

Refundo, fudi, fundere, to restore that hatheth.
Quicquid deest ex meo refundam, what so ether doth lacke I will make it up of myne owne.
also to paye home agayne, or to yelde.

Id erat non tam accipere beneficium, quam refundere, that was not so muche to receive a good tunc, as to dooe a good tourne. Also to grant up by donne.

Quod hesterni crapula ingurgitauerat, pa-lam refudit, that whiche in his yesterdaies ri-otte he engorged or deuoured, he openly dyd parbake or vomite bp.

Glaciem refundere, to melte or dissolue the ice.

Refuse, abundantly, largely.

Refusus, a, um, poured in againe. also ouerflowng, redounding.

Refutatio, onis, a denyng, a replication, an argument to the contrary.

Refutatus, us, m. g. idem.

Refuto, aui, are, to denie, to replie, to confute, to proue the contrarye.

Tektibus refutare, to conuince with witness, to proue by witness, that it is contrarie.

Regaliolus, li, m. f. ge. a bird, betwene whome and the eagle is continuall hostilitie, and is perfume of colour.

Regalis, le, royall, kyngly, princely, pertaininge to a kyng.

Regaliter, royally, princely.

Regelo, aui, are, to shawe or resolute that whiche is frozen.

Regenero, aui, are, to regenerate or restore ingender, also to represent the faction or nature
of any thyng.

Regenerare auum, to be hoynelike his grandsfather.

Regemino, aui, are, to bourgen or spryng
agayne.

Regero, gessi, gerere, to put in writyng, sa-byng backe, to nomit bp, to cast agayne to one.

In commentariis regerere, to write in rolles or registers.

Regestum, sti, n. g. earthe caste bp. also a res-gestre.

Regestus, a, um, caste bp.

Regesta terra, idem quod Regestum, earthe caste bp out of a furrowe.

Regia, a, f. g. a kynges house, a princes palaice.

Regia herba, eadem que Artemisia.

Regie, the a kyng, royallye, princely.

Regiesco, scere, olde writers used for Crescere, to growe.

Regifico, royally.

Regificus, a, um, royall, princely.

Regigno, genui, gignere, to engender againe.

Regilla, a, f. g. a kynges robe.

Regillus, a, littell kyng. also the name of a riuer in Italie.

Regimen, giminis, and Regimentum, i, n. g. a rule or gouernance.

Regina, a, f. g. a queene also a lady, sometime euerie riche and great woman.

Regio, onis, f. g. a region or countrey, also a coast of quarter, a parte of a towne or cite, a warde, also a limite or bounde.

Regiones calli quatuor, the four coastes or quarters of the worlde, as, easie, weaste, north, and southe.

Regionibus officij sese continere, to kepe hym selfe within the boundes and limites of his office.

E regione, aduerbially, streight ouer agaynst,
in the sight.

A recta regione deflectere, to goe out of the streight or right waye.

Regionatim, place by place, by euery region or coaste.

Registrum, stri, n. g. is used of some for a res-gestre.

Regito, aui, are, a frequentative of Rego.

Regium, a, citee beyonde the mountaynes for warde Italie called Rezo.

Regius, a, um, of a kyng.

Regius morbus, the jaundise.

Reglucino, aui, are, to bnglewe.

Reglutinosus, a, um, veray glewyshe or clam-mye.

Regnator, oris, m. g. he that reigneth. also he that is master or posseseth.

Regnatix, the feminine.

Regnatus, a, um, gouerned, ruled.

Regnata feminis gens, a people gouerned by women.

Regno, aui, are, to reigne, to be in authoritie, to be a kyng, to beate a rule.

Regnor, aris, aris, the pallace, to be ruled or gouerned
med.

Regnum, i, n. g. a realme and the gouernance,
a kyngdome.

Deferre regnum alicui, to iudge, or geue his voyce to one to be a kyng.

Regnum, any thyng wherein one doeth excell and beareth chiefe rule.

Rego, xi, ere, to rule, to gouerne.

Regor, eris, to be ruled or gouerned.

Regredior, eris, sus sum, gredi, to goe backe.

Regressio, onis, a goyng backe.

Regressus, us, m. g. a goyng backe.

Regula, a, f. g. a rule: also a little panier made of osiers, wherein they put alpyes. also a little rodde, wherewith any thyng is holden by streight.

Regularis, re, that whiche is vnder a rule, or that is made accordyng to the rule, or streight with the rule.

Aes regularis, brasse of copper that wyll abyde hammering.

Regulariter, by rule, regularly.

Regulo, aui, are, to rule or directe.

Regulus, li, m. g. a pynne or lorde of a little countrey.

Reguli, be properly the chyldren of kynges. also so Regulus, is a little byrde called a wyzen, and aserpent called a Lachatrice, whiche slayeth a man with his sight. Regulus was also the name of a consull, lobe Atilius. also a great thet-orian in the tyme of Plinie.

Regulo, aui, are, to caste or laye agayne.

Reiectanea, of philosophers be taken for thyn-ges that be abhorred, as sickenesse, pouertie, and sorowe.

Reiectaneus, a, um, that is caste awaye and nes-glected of enerie man.

Reiectio, onis, f. g. parbakyng, reiectyng,
castyng awaye, refusyng.

Reiectio sanguinis, The auoydynge out of bloude at the mouth, the nose or the veines.

Reiecto, aui, are, to reiecte, to caste awaye often.

Reiectus, us, m. g. a vometyng.

Reiectus, a, um, caste out, cast awaye, or putte forth, vomitted, also for Proiectus, cast about.

Res tota in mensum Ianuarius reiecta est, the whole matter is deferred or put off untill
the month of Ianuarie.

Reiectis ad tergum manibus, castyng his handes behynde hym.

Vento reiectus in Macedoniam, caste bathe agayne into Macedonie.

Reicio, reicis, icci, icere, to cast about, to cast away, to bypue backe, to cast off syng agayne, to reiect, to neglect, to contemne as vile, to des-ferre, to delaye, to cast off untill an other tyme, to referre, to refuse, to put awaye, to parbake or vomit.

Tytere pascentes a flumine reice capellas,
Tytere, bypue thy goates that do fede, away fro the riuere.

Me vero tanq inutilem reiecerunt, as for me
they refused as a persone vnprofitable.

Sialtera illa magis instabit, forciat nos reij-ciat, if the other will be importunate, perschate he will put me awaye, or sette me at naught.

Reicere testes, to refuse witnesses.

Reicere iudices, to refuse iudges as corrupte and not for our purpose. also to chose out from other.

Reicere causam ad senatum, to put, referre, or remitte the matter to the senate to be determined.

Reicere sanguinem, To voyde bloude at the nose, mouth or other partes.

Reiect in eum flens, the caste his selfe vpon hym wepyng.

Ad ipsamte epistolam reicio, I referre you to the letter that was written.

Senos sextantes non excessit, aut si excessis-set reiciebantur, he exceded not. xii. ounces, if he passed that, they were cast by agayne.

Fatigata membra reiecer, he layed downe his weire bodie to rest.

Reicula oues, thep drawn out of the folde for age or sickenesse, hebbers, croncs, or culliards.

Reicere, oues, thep drawn out of the folde for age or sickenesse, hebbers, croncs, or culliards.

Reicere, oues, thep drawn out of the folde for age or sickenesse, hebbers, croncs, or culliards.

Reicere, oues, thep drawn out of the folde for age or sickenesse, hebbers, croncs, or culliards.

Reicere, oues, thep drawn out of the folde for age or sickenesse, hebbers, croncs, or culliards.

Reicere, oues, thep drawn out of the folde for age or sickenesse, hebbers, croncs, or culliards.

Reiteratio, onis, f. g. a repetyng of a thyng
agayne.

Reitero, aui, are, to dooe or saye agayne,
to repete.

Relabor, laboris, labi, to syde or fall agayne.

Relabi flumina dicuntur, dum fluxum iterant.

Relanguo, gui, guere, to be veray feble or faynte.

Relanguesco, scere, to waxe very feble or faint.

Relatio, onis, f. g. a repote or a respecte, a resterpyng. among logicians it is the effecte of the relatiue: As the father, the sonne: the master, the seruant: the housbande, the wife: for without the one the other can not receyue his name, for a sonne can not be without a father, nor a wyfe without an housbande: nor a seruant without a master.

Relatiue, hauyng relation to a thyng.

Relatiuum, a relatiue, whiche hath relation to some thyng.

Relatus, a, um, repoted, shewed, tolde, refers red.

Relati in ararios, were they, whiche for some faute were by the masters of maners (called Censores) put out of the numbre of cizeens, and byd onely paye tribute, or head syluer as strangers.

Relaxatio, onis, f. g. a recreatyng, a refreshyng,
a settynge at libertie.

Relaxo, aui, are, to letwe, to vndoe, to sette at large or libertie, to deliuer, to recreate.

Aluum relaxare & astringere, contrarie.

Relaxare animum, to recreate the mynde, with geuyng ouer studie or busynesse for a while.

Interdum animis relaxantur, sometyme they doe recreate and ease them selves.

Si te ista occupatione relaxaris, if ye shall once haue tyd and dispatched your selfe of this let and busynesse.

Relaxat dolor, sorowe begynneth to relent or astwage.

Relaxus, a, um, verie letwe.

Relegatio, onis, f. g. a banishment out of his countrey, an exilyng or sendyng awaye.

Relegatus, a, um, banished, sent in exile, sent or put awaye.

Religo aui, are, to banishe, to remoue, to saue one from an other, to sende away, or to referre.

Relegare alicui causam alicuius rei, To make pretence that one is the cause of a thyng, or to saye, that he doeth it for his sake.

In pradia rustica relegarat, he had sent hym awaye to his fermes in the countrey.

Ad autores relegabo, I will referre them
vnto the authours.

Relegatus mihi videor, I thynke my selfe to be banished.

Religo, legis, legi, ere, to reade agayne, to gather together agayne.

Iter religare, to go agayne the same waye.

Relentisco, rescere, to relent, to waxe soft.

Relentisco, rescere, to relent, to waxe soft.

Relentisco, rescere, to relent, to waxe soft.

Relentisco, rescere, to relent, to waxe soft.

Relentisco, rescere, to relent, to waxe soft.

Relentisco, rescere, to relent, to waxe soft.

Releuo, aui, are, to lyste by agayne, to excuse, to dimittise, to ease.
Animus releuare, to comfort ones mynde, to releue ones spirites.
Releuare labores, to myttise labours.
Molestiis releuari, to be deliuered from troules and paynes.
Relicinus, he that hath a good busshie of heare, well trymmed or curled behynde.
Relicina frons, a faire large & hyghe foreheade, without heare.
Relictio, ónis, f. g. a leauyng, a forsayhyng.
Relictus, a, um, forfaken or lefte.
Relictus ab omni honestate, a man without all honestie.
Relictus sum mihi, I am lefte alone, or I am at my libertie.
Religatio, ónis, f. g. a byndyng agayne.
Religatus, a, um, bounde harde agayne.
Religio, ónis, for. g. religion, holinesse, deuoutnesse, godlinesse, the true wooshypping of god and holy thynges, a reuerend dycede, a solictouse care and feare, a reuerende feare & doubte lest he shall offende in thynges of honestie. also conscience, or as a man mought saie, a scrupulosity of conscience.
In religionem vertere, to feare lest god were displeased, to make conscience of a thyng.
Religionem inducere, to bynge in feare of gods displeasure.
Religio est, it is not leasfull, it is an heynous thyng.
Huc introire, nisi necessario, & caste, religio est, to enter in there, but for necessite and chastite, it is not leasfull.
Religio iudicis, the integritie of the iudge.
Religione obstringere, vel obligare, To charge ones conscience with a matter, to put in feare of conscience.
Exoluere religione, To discharge ones conscience, or to remoue one from scrupulosity.
Religio est mihi dicere, I haue conscience to saie it, I dare not saie it.
Religionem alicui asserre, to cause one to be scrupulous.
Religio non est mihi, quo minus hoc faciam, I haue no conscience therof, but that I maie do it, or I make no scrupulosity or danger of conscience to doe it, or my conscience feareth not, but that I maie doe it well enoughe.
Eximere religionem, to put him out of doubt in his conscience.
Exemplar antiquæ religionis, an example of a good and rightfull conscience.
Testimoniorum religionem & fidem nunquam ista natio coluit, this people had neuer regarde nor feare of conscience or honestie in witnesse bearing or hepyng thep othe.
Religionem colere, To be religious and deuout, to serue god well.
Religio officij, that honest feare that a man hath, to let passe any thyng in dooyng his duetie.

Quæ tanta religio what feare or scruple of conscience is there so greater Dignus es cum tua religione odio, thou art woorthy to be hated for thy scrupulosity superstitious.
Habere religioni, to be asrayde or make conscience to doe a thyng.
In religionem verterunt Pœni, the Affricans did take and interpete that as a signe of gods displeasure, and therefore were asrayde.
Religiosus, seculis, dubitans, dangerously, scrupulosus, curiously, aduersely, religiously, deuoutly, godly.
Religiosus, a, um, religious, deuout, scrupulous, godly. also fastfull, timorous, also scrupulous, superstitious.
Religiosum habere, To make conscience in a thyng.
Dies religiosi, dayes of heauynesse for some misadventure, which hath happened on those dayes.
Delubrum religiosum, a deuoute place, a church of chapel, wherunto men haue great deuotion to come.
Religiosum est id facere, there is a conscience in the dooyng therof.
In testimonio religiosi, honeste and fastfull in bearing witness.
Religo, religas, aui, are, to bynde fast, to bynde harde.
Religare religionibus bona alicuius, to geue goddes to the honour and serue of god.
Relino, leui, liui, relinere, to open that whiche is stopp'd, to let aboche.
Releui omnia dolia, I haue byrched all the vessels.
Nolo ego nos pro summo bibere, nulli reuerimus postea, I wolde not that we dranke all out, for I wyl for no man set any aboche afterwarde.
Relinquo, liqui, linquere, to leaue, to forsaie, to leaue one succourelesse or without helpe, to leaue a thyng to one as his possession.
Relinquere animam, to die.
Relinquit eum animus, his herte or courage sayeth hym.
Relinquere as alienum, to die in debte.
Arraboni relinquere, to leaue a thyng as a gage or pledge.
In medio relinquere, to leaue in doubt.
Locum admonitionibus relinquere, To reterue the monitions, which be geuen vs, to suffer men to admonish the or aduertise vs.
Nec precibus nec admonitionibus reliquit locum, he byd all thynges so diligently, that a man coude neither desire nor aduertise hym to doe moze.
Locum subtilitati nullum relinquere, to doe a thyng so subtilly that it can not be amended.

Locum

Locum vituperandi alicui relinquere, to geue occasion to one to saie ill, or to blame hym.
Memoriam alicuius rei relinquere, To doe a thyng, wherof shall be lesse a perpetuall remembrance.
Pecuniam in quaestu relinquere, to belyue money to haue gayne therby.
Scriptum relinquere, to leaue it in wyting.
Spem relinquere, to hope or truste no moze on a thyng.
Studium alicuius rei relinquere, to care no moze for a thyng.
Suspicionem relinquere, to cause suspition.
Suspicionem quibusdam suorum reliquit, he gaue an occasion to certayne of his familiars to suspecte.
Confestum relinquere, to dispatche.
Ne quas spes in fuga relinqueretur, That they might haue no hope to saue them selfe by flight.
Harredo testamento relinquere, to make one his heire by his laste will.
Relinquitur, id est, restat, reliquum est, it for loweth, nowe it remaineth, now to conclude.
Reliqua, órum, neu. ge. that whiche remaineth vpon a rekenyng, debtes.
Reliqua contrahere, To be in arreage of a ferme.
Reliquator, óris, m. gen. he that is in arreage on his accompte. Also any other, whiche hath in his handes some parte of that whiche he ought to haue paid.
Spes nulla reliqua in te est, I haue no moze hope of the.
Reliquia, árum, f. g. plu. that whiche is left, the reste or remanant, the ashes or bones of them that are dead, reliques.
Reliquias persequi, to pursue that whiche is begonne.
Febrium reliquia, grudgepynges of fevers.
Cœnæ reliquia, that is left of the supper, bishops hen meate, scrappes, fragments.
Reliquia coniurationis, the remanant of a conspiracy.
Reliquor, aris, ari, to be behynde in payment of a certayne summe.
Reliquus, a, um, the remanant, that whiche remaineth, that is lefte, the residue.
Reliquum est, the rest is, moze ouer then this.
Reliquum facere, to leaue, to omitte.
Reliquos facere, to leaue them.
Nihil est mihi reliquit, I haue nothyng lefte.
Qualem in reliqua Græcia neminem, suche one as is none like in all Grece behyde.
Spes nulla reliqua, there is no hope lefte.
De reliquo, as concernyng the residue. also moze ouer.
Quos bellicalamitas reliquos fecerat, whiche escaped the daungers of the warre.
In reliquum tempus, for the tyme to come.
Reliquum feci, I haue lefte.
Reloco, aui, are, to set out to hye agayne.

Reluceo, lúces, luxi, lucere, to shyne or be very bright.
Reluctor, aris, ari, to contende or strue against, to wastle or struggle agaynst.
Reluctatus, a, um, partic. struyng agaynst.
Reluo, reluis, lui, luere, to paye agayne that whiche is borrowed, to fetch home a gage or pledge, also to washe esteleones.
Remacresco, scere, to waxe leane agayne.
Remaledico, maledictis, dixi, dicere, to speake ill for yll, to geue one ill reposte or woordes for an other.
Remancipio, mancipas, aui, are, to sell agayne a thyng to hym, whiche first solde it, or to put it agayne into his handes, of whom he bought it.
Remando, di, dere, to chew the cudde.
Remaneo, remanes, manli, nère, to abyde still, to abyde behynde, to remayne, to continue.
Interea rex, vel spectator pugna cum parte nauium in litore remanet, In the meane while the kynge, as it were a beholder of the battaile, with parte of his nauie remanet on the shore or stronde.
Remano, remanas, aui, are, to tourne or flowe backe to a place.
Remansio, ónis, f. m. g. an abydyng, a taryng behynde.
Remans, antis, retournyng or goyng backe as agayne.
Remeat, us, m. g. comyng agayne.
Comeatus & Remeatus, comyng and goyng.
Remécui, littell shyppe, whiche men of Lemnos vsed.
Remédium, di, n. g. remedie.
Remeligo, lignis, f. g. a fyre, which cleauyng to the keele of a shippe, causeth it to tarie.
Remendo, aui, are, to amende or correct a faulte, after Calpine: but the place in Columella for Tale Oleaster remendauerunt, quide be red, Taleolas terræ mandauerunt.
Rémeo, rémeas, aui, are, to retourne or goe backe agayne.
Videm remeare, to goe agayne to the citee.
Remetior, iris, tiri, to measure agayne, to goe ouer agayne.
Remex, rémigis, m. g. he that roweth in a galley or bote, a water man.
Remigatio, ónis, f. g. a rowyng or sailyng, a rowyng backe agayne.
Remigero, rémigeras, olbe wyters vsed for Remigro.
Remigium, gii, neu. ge. the rowyng of a shippe or bote: sometyme the sleepyng of bydes in the ayre: sometyme a multitude or company of rowers.
Remigo, aui, are, to rowe.
Rémigro, rémigras, aui, are, to goe backe, to retourne.
In nostram domum remigremus, let vs goe backe in to my house.
Remillum, li, n. ge. a thyng crooked and broode

Ipse an ore.
 Reminiscētia, a, f. g. a remembrance of that whiche was ones in the mynde.
 Reminiscor, reminisceris, sci, to call againe to remembrance, to remembre.
 Remisceo, miscui, miscere, idem quod Misceo.
 Remissa, a, f. g. remission, forgiveness.
 Remisse, faintelge, without courage, slackelge, humbly: Sometime merily.
 Remissio, ōnis, f. m. gene. remission, forgiveness, nelle, a recreating of the mynde after studie or labour, lacke of faintnesse of courage, a slackkyng, a lewlyng.
 Remissio & contractio superciliorum, the castying downe and up of the browes.
 Senescens morbi remissio, slackyng of the sicknesse wearyng awaie.
 Remissio vocis, fauouryng of the voyce, temperate speakyng.
 Contentio vocis, contrarie.
 Remissio animi, sayng of courage, sayntesnesse of herte, also recreation from studie or labour.
 Remissarius, a, um, that is sent or put agayne.
 Remissarii vestes, certayne barres or staues, set in the turne of rundell of a vine presse, called in latine Sucula, to bynde or tounne it aboute withall.
 Remissus, a, um, dull, remitted, sent agayne, ceased or deferred, negligent, slacke, gladde,
 dissolute in mirth.
 Remissus animus, whiche hath no courage.
 Remissum corpus, an vnusty bodie.
 Remissus frigus, not verie colde.
 Remissus and tristis, contrarie.
 Remissiorum esse, to be remisse & negligēt, als to not be very earnest or rigorous in a matter.
 Remissus dicendi genus, a temperate stile,
 not verie belement or full of affection.
 Remitto, misi, mittere, to sende, to sende as gaine, to sende backe, to release or forgive, to graunt, to committe, or remitte, to relinquish or leaue, to slacke, to cesse, to leaue of, to lette passe, to vnbende or lewse, to let downe, as one doeth the stringes of an instrument. Also to caste out agayne.
 Remittere animum, to put awaie care, to recreate the mynde.
 Annum remittere, to pardone hym for one peere.
 Ardorem pugne remittere, not to fighte so fiercely and eagerly.
 Remittere aliquid adolescentie, to pardone
 hym somewhat for his youth.
 Remittere frontem, to looke moze pleasantly and merily.
 Remittere saporem, To make the taste of a thyng not to be so stronge.
 Remittere nuntium. Gratia habeo tibi, quum copiam istam mihi & potestatem facis, ut ego ad parentes remittam nuntium, I thanke

the, that thou giest me this leaue and also authorize, that I maye sende to thy frendes, to pro-uide for the els where.
 Contentiōem remittere, To leaue or forsake contention.
 De supplicio remittere, to pardone hym part of his execution or punishment.
 De custodia remittere, not to bee so carefull as he was, to be somewhat moze negligent than he was in keepyng.
 Frānos dolori remittere, to abandone hym to all sorowe, or to leat hym selfe to be possessed with heauynesse.
 Ius alicui remittere, to release all his title or right vnto one.
 Librum remittere dicitur arbor, when the barke is lewse or fallen from the tree.
 Memoriam remittere, to let passe out of remembrance, not to regarde the memoie of a thyng.
 Numeros in cantu remittere, to rest in syngyng,
 as is the vse in psalme songe.
 Nuntium vxori remittere, to be diuorced, to put awaie his wyfe from hym.
 Repudium remittere, idem.
 Officiū remittere, to renunce his dute.
 Cum aures remittunt, when they caste or hange
 downe theyr eares agayne.
 Remittas iam me onerare iniuriis, you wolde cease to ouerlade or combe me with your vnreas-sonableness.
 Integram causam ad Senatum remissit, he referreth of lette the whole matter to the Senate.
 Curam animi remittere, to ease the mynde and put awaie care and studie.
 De voluntate mea nihil est remissum, I haue nothyng changed my mynde, I haue the same will still.
 Debitum remittere, to quite or forgie one that he oweth.
 Frāna remittere equo, to leat the horse haue the bydle at will.
 Vbi primum remiserunt imbres, as sone as the showres of raine ceased.
 Iracundiam remittere, to appease his anger, to qualifie hym selfe.
 Labores remittere, to labour and trauaile somewhat lesse.
 Aquam receptam ore remittunt, they caste out
 agayne.
 Nervos remittere, to leat downe the stringes of an instrument.
 Vim principis complecti, nomen remittere, to take on hym the power and authority of a prince, and refuse the name.
 Opera remittere, to leat the woorkes slacke or cease.
 Opinionem remittere, to leat an opinion.
 Sonum vocis intendere, and remittere, contrastye, to streigne the voyce in speking, and to fauour
 the voyce and speake moze temperately.
 Nullum remittis tempus, Thou doost slacke or leat passe no tyme.

 Remo, mis, remere, idem quod remeare.
 Remolior, liris, liri, to put from his place.
 Remolitus, a, um, partie.
 Remollio, liri, lire, to make veray softie or easist, or to make softie agayne.
 Remollius, a, um, partie.
 Remollesco, scere, to become or waxe softie, also to appeale it selfe and become gentyl.
 Remona, the dwelling house of Remus.
 Remora, ra, f. g. a littell sphe, whiche reteineth a great shippe vnder sayle, also tariyng.
 Remorans, antis, partie.
 Remoratus, a, um, tariet, hindred, prolonged.
 Remorbeco, scere, to fall ceterwises in sicknesse,
 an olde woode.
 Remordeo, mordi, dēre, to byte hym agayne, of whome he was bitte, to bere or trouble hym, of whom he was bere, to tourmente the mynde, to make one heauy, to greue.
 Cura remordet me, care greueth me.
 Remores, bydes, which by theyr sighte or voyce signified, that the thyng purposed was not to be followed.
 Remoria, a place on the toppe of the hyl called Auentinus, where Remus goodde, and by the sighte of bydes aduysed the buildyng of Rome.
 Remoror, aris, ari, to tariet or make to abyde,
 to hynde.
 Remorari gradum, to rest hym selfe in a place.
 Ne quod vestrum remorer commodum, that I may not hynde any commoditee or profite of yours.
 Remotio, ōnis, f. g. a remouyng, a puttynge as waie.
 Remotus, a, um, farre from, farre of, set asyde,
 put awaie, remoued.
 Remotus homo a dialecticis, he that passeth nothyng on logike, or he that is nothyng skilled or exercised in logike.
 Remotares a memoria, a thyng not thought vpon.
 Remoto ioco, in earnest.
 Remotus a culpa, he that is in no faulte, gilty
 lesse, without faulte.
 Remoro delectu, without hauege regarde moze to one than to an other.
 Remotus ab inani laude, he toucheth no vayne glorie.
 A religione remotus, without religiō or feare
 of god.
 Arbitris remotis, alone without companie.
 Fœmina a viris remouissima, a veray chaste and honest woman.
 Longissime a pudore remotus, a veray impudent and shamelesse person.
 Remoueo, remoues, mōui, vēre, to remoue, to take awaie, to put awaie, to set asyde.
 Remouere morā, make you haste, spede you.
 Remouere se a negotiis publicis, to meddle no more with common affayres.

 Remouere aliquem a re publica, to put one out of the office, which he hath in the weale pub-lyke.
 Remouere ab oculis, to hyde, to put out of sight.
 Remouere se arte sua, to leaue or forsake his craft.
 Remouere de medio, to put a thyng cleane as waie.
 Remouere metum, to put away feare.
 Remouere moram, to make haste.
 Remouere operam suam a populari cœtu, to take no moze paine about other mens businesse.
 Aliquem a legibus remouere, to leat one that he can not make suche lawes as he woulde.
 Se ab aliquo remouere, to leaue a mans company, familiaritee, or friendshippe.
 Ex vrbē me remoui, I wente of remoued a gayne out of the cite.
 Hunc tu metum remoue, put thou awaie this feare.
 Remugio, mūgis, giui, gire, to belowe or lowly agayne, to redre a great towne or noyse.
 Remulceo, cēre, to pacifie or allmage agayne.
 Remulco, aui, are, & Remulculo, aui, are, is proprely to draue a great ship or barge with a litle vessel, by transactiō it signifyeth to draw a thyng easily.
 Remulus, ci, m. g. a littell bote or barge, frequently to vnlade great vessels, or to set men as bourde.
 Remulinus ager, Remus fildre.
 Remuncopæ arum, f. g. instrumentes, wherewith shippes be byuen on lande.
 Remuneratio, ōnis, f. g. recompence, a reward
 dyng.
 Remunero, aui, are, & Remunero, aris, ari,
 to reward, to recompence a good turne.
 Remurmuro, aui, are, to murmur agaynst.
 Remus, the brother of Romulus, whiche build ded Rome.
 Remus, mi, m. g. an ore to rowe with.
 Remis venis, p, prouerbielly, with at speede, quickly.
 Ren, renis, m. g. a kidney.
 Renascor, eisceris, sci, to get agayne.
 Renato, aui, are, to tell, to repete.
 Renascor, natus sum, sci, for denuo nasci, to be borne agayne, to ryse or springe agayne, to begyne agayne.
 Renascens annus, the springe tyme.
 Renato, aui, are, to swymme backe, or swimme
 agayne.
 Renatus, a, um, newe borne.
 Renauigo, aui, are, to saple home agayne.
 Renauo, aui, are, to endeuore or doe agayne.
 Renes, the kidneys of the reines of the backe.
 Renidens, enus, shynyng bright.
 Os renidens, a face of countenance veray loy-ons and pleasant.

Renideo, nides, nidi, dère, to thynne, to be bright or to glister, to sauer or smell. Sometime to open the mouth, as one doeth in smylng or laughing pleasantly, to smile.
Renidesco, scire, to waxe byght.
Reniteo, renites, niti, nitere, to be veray bright, to thynne.
Renitor, reniteris, nitus, or nixus sum, niti, to resiste, to labour or thurst agaynst.
Renixus, us, m. g. resistance.
Reno, nui, are, to swimme agayne.
Renodo, qui, are, to unknitte or vndo a knot,
also to knit fast.
Renoues, garments made of skynnes of woulfes or other beastes, wherein the auncient Almaines were wont to lie in the warres.
Renouo, nui, are, to renewe or make esteemes, to refresh, to recreate, to beginne agayne.
Bellum renouare, to renewe or beginne the warre agayne.
Casus omnes renouare, to assay all chaunces or adventures afeist.
Campus renouatur aratro, the fildes is newe plowed or tilled agayne.
Renouabo illud quod initio dixi, I will re-pete or saie againe that I spake in the beginning. Animum renouare, to take courage or herte agayne.
Legendo renouabam, I dyd renewe the message of it in redyng agayne.
A fatigatione renouat, it dooth refresh the men and make them lusty agayne.
Renouatio, onis, f. g. a renewyng.
Renouamen, uiminis, n. g. idem.
Renouatus, a, um, renewed, redified, repaired, cared or plowed agayne.
Renouello, nui, are, to make newe agayne.
Rentifolia, a, f. g. a kinde of wynde roses, which haue neyther good sauer nor faction.
Renunero, nui, are, to pay agayne money which was receiued.
Renuntia, an ile by Ethiopie, so ryche, that the inhabitantes doe geue for an horse by exchange a talent of golde.
Renuntio, nui, are, to tell what is doen, or what one woulde haue, to make relation, to bypge woorde agayne, to reposte, to signifie, to shewe openly, to renounce, to refuse, to forsake for e-uer, to bidde farewell for euer, to resigne, sometime to refuse.
Renuntiare vitæ, to refuse to lyue.
Renuntiator consil, he is declared consill.
Renuntiatu est facilem esse ascensum, woode was brought agayne, that they myght easily gette vp there.
Acta renuntiare ad Senatum, to make reposte or relation to the Senate, what they haue done.
Id ego tibi nunc renuntio futurum, I tell you now before, that it will be so.
Renuntiare amicitiam, to renunce or forsake ones friendship.

Renuntiare repudium, to repudiate or forsake ones wyfe.
Hospitium ei renuntiat, he sheweth hym plainly that he will no more lodge in his house: or haue no more familiaritee with hym.
Societatem alicui renuntiare, to denutte or sende woorde, that they will haue no longer alliance with them.
Tibi renuntia sunt hæc sic fore, it was tolde you before, that these thynges woulde come to passe.
Renuntiatio, onis, f. g. a reposte. also a resignation of an office. also a summons by an officer.
Renuntius, iij, m. g. he that carrieth tidynge from one to an other.
Renuo, renui, nure, to refuse, to dispise, to shew that a thyng dooth displease or mislike hym.
Renutus, tus, m. g. a refusal or deniall with countenance, a bechynge or nodyng agayne.
Reor, reris, ratus sum, reri, to suppose, to thinke, to iudge.
Repagulum, li, n. g. a doore or wyndowe, or of ther thynges that shutteth or closeth, a barre or raille.
Repages, gis, f. g. idem.
Repandus, a, um, bent or bowed, and broad backewarde, as eyes were in the olde tyme.
Repango, pangi, and pauxi, pangere, to set or plant, to graffe.
Repandirostrum pecus, a beast haupng his nose turned vppwarde, a woorde used of Marcus and Lucilius auncient poetes.
Reparabilis, le, that maie be repaired, amended,
or made newe agayne.
Reparatio, onis, reparacion, makynge or restor-yng of a thyng agayne.
Reparamen, raminis, n. g. idem.
Reparator, oris, m. g. one that repaireth or ma-keth agayne.
Reparco, parci, fere, to spare.
Réparo, nui, are, to repayre, to restore to the first estate, to renewe.
Reparare bellum, to make newe prouision for warre.
Reparare exercitum, to repayre or make vp his armye agayne.
Repastinatio, onis, f. g. a newe diggyng about vines. Also a bypynge of grounde to temple with much labour and diggyng.
Repastinatus, a, um, newe digged or brought in temple.
Repastino, nui, are, to digge agayne about vines, to alter lande or grounde with ofte diggyng or labouryng.
Repatrio, nui, are, to retourne.
Repauso, nui, are, to take rest.
Repecto, pexi, or péxui, péctere, to heme ad
gayne.
Répedo, répedas, nui, are, to goe awaie, to goe
backe, to retre.
Repello, repuli, péllere, to put backe, to repelle, to put

to put awaie.
Repellere sanguinem, to leat one bloude.
Repellere vim vi, to resist force with force.
Seruitutem a ciuibus repellere, to kepe or de-liuer his countrey men from seruitute and bondage.
A gubernaculo ciuitatis repelli, to bee putte from the gouernaunce of the citee.
Preces alicuius repellere, not to heere ones request.
Rependo, di, dère, to recompense, to paie or
geue agayne.
Rependebatur duplo argento, one paid for it the double weyght of syluer.
Repens, entis, partic. a Repo, crepnyng: as, Hu-mi repens, crepnyng by the grounde.
Repensius, a, um, paid.
Répens, entis, om. gen. sodaine, vnlooked for:
also crepnyng.
Repens bellum, a sodaine warre.
Repens fama allata, a sodaine rumour or bruite was brought.
Repensio, nui, are, to pöder, to ouersee, to iudge, to recompence, to make amendes.
Repente, sodaynly, by and by.
Repentino, idem.
Repentinus, a, um, todayne, vnlooked for.
Repercussus, us, m. g. a reuerberacion or cry-pnyng agayne, a reflection.
Repercussus solis, the reflection, or reuerber-acion of the sonne.
Repercussus, a, um, beaten or stricken agayne, turned backe agayne.
Repercussio, repércutis, cussi, cütere, to stryke
agayne, to reuerberate.
Repercute dicta, to take aduantage of one
in his wordes.
Repercute aciem oculi, to dash the eye sight.
Reperio, reperis, réperi, or poëice, reperi, rire, to fynde by aduerture: sometime otherwyse, to perceyue.
Reperire causam, to fynde an excuse or occasion.
Reperire negotium in hac re, to haue muche to dooe with that matter.
Reperire gloriam, to gette an honourable res-nowme.
Reperit suos parentes: hath the founde hie parentes, or who is his father and mother?
Reperies hoc non secus, thou shalt fynde it to be none otherwyse.
Non reperitur vllò vestigio, there is no mention made of it, or there is not one woode mentioned of it, or not one letter witen of it.
Reperibitur, it shall be founde.
Reperiri dicitur aliquis, or res aliqua, whan it is evidently knowne and perceyued, what maner of person or thyng it is.
Reperio eum venisse Tarentum, I fynde in wrytyng, that he came to Tarent.
Reperitius, a, um, that is founden.

Repertor, oris, m. g. he that fyndeth.
Repertorium, rij, n. g. an inuentorie.
Repertus, a, um, founde.
Repertus es ingratus, thou art plainly found and tried to be an vnkynde person.
Repetitio, onis, f. g. a repetition.
Repertor, oris, m. g. he that requirerth a thyng
agayne.
Repetitus, a, um, repeted agayne, begon agayne.
Repetito somno, callyng a slepe agayne.
Répeto, nui, or repétij, tere, to aske agayne, to aske often or estones, to reherse agayne, or re-pète, to reuolue, to begynne agayne, to restore estesones to a thyng, to call agayne, to returne or goe agayne to a place, to remembre.
Hem repudiatu repertor, howe nowe, beynge ones refused, I am called agayne.
Alte reperta, reherced from the begynnyng,
farre sought or farre sette.
Repertor pœnas ab aliquo, to bee auenged on one.
Repero, I remembre.
Me quidem adulescentulo, repeto quendam
Principem nomine alternis diebus declamare, alternis disputare, I remembre me, whan I was a yonge stricpelyng, one called Princeps, did one daie declame, an other daie dispute.
Repertore eum, to accuse esteones.
Repertore memoria, callyng to my remembrance.
Fructum repertore, to require fruite or profyte of a thyng.
Castra repertore, to returne or goe agayne to the Lampe.
In Africam repertore, to returne agayne into Africke.
Relicta repertore, to returne agayne to matters or busynesse that he lefte of before.
Repertore consilium, to renewe a purpose or intent.
Casari repertenti negare non potui, I coulde not denie it to Cesar demaundyng it of me oft ten tymes.
Promissa repertens, promisyng agayne, res-newyng his promysse.
Repetita longius interrogatio, a demaunde or question farre off from the purpose.
Consuetudo longo intervallo repetita, a berate auncient custome newly brought by againe:
or a custome renewed, that was not used mas-ny daie before.
Gratiam pro beneficio repertore, to requyre
one to be thankfull.
Pampinationem repertore, to begyn agayne.
Repeto me correptum ab eo. &c. I remembre that I was blamed or checked. &c.
Alte & a capite repertore, to repete the matters
euen from the begynnyng.
Inde vsq; repertens, callyng to my remembrance
euen from that tyme to this present daie.
Repertore memoria, to call to remembrance.

Repetunt verba data fortis, they scanne the wordes of the oꝛacle geuen.

Repetundarum, repetundis, duos tantum casus habet.

Repetundarum accusari, is properly where a man sometime being in great auctoritee, & having the rule of a countrey, is accused and called to a rekenyng for all that he hath receyved, being in his office, above that, which is his oꝛdinarie allowaunce: also for all thyng that he toke wrongfully from any persone or towne: whiche was the most necessarie action for a prince like weale, that might be deuyed.

Repignerator, oris, m. g. he that redeemeth or quietly his gage or pledge.

Repignero, aui, are, to give or redeme a pledge or gage. it may be taken sometime with vs for that, whiche in our lawe is called to repleue: and Repigneratio, a repleuie: and Repignoratitia actio for the Replegiare.

Replaudo, plausi, dere, to make noyse with the handes beaten together.

Replaudere fratre, to strike by the heare before with clapping of the hande to his foreheade.

Repleo, pleni, plere, to fill, to fill up agayne.

Repletus, a, um, replensched, full.

Eruditione repletus, filled with erudition, full of doctrine.

Replicatio, onis, a replication or unfolding of a thyng, a repling.

Replico, aui, are, to unfold, also to reply, to displate, to turne that is forwarde backe agayne.

Replicare in rugas, to folde, to plaite.

Replicare sarculos ad vitis caput, to bowe backe agayne.

Repletus, a, um, unfolded.

Replumbo, aui, are, to unfold.

Repo, repli, pere, to creepe, to renue as rootes dooe in the ground.

Repolio, repolis, liui, lire, to polye agayne.

Repolleo, lere, to be muche able, to bee of power to dooe.

Repollesco, scere, to bee esteemes stronge in force, for Repullulesco, to springe agayne.

Reponeo, sui, nere, to put or sette agayne in his place, to laie vp, to recte agayne, to hyde, to redeliuer or restore, to reuoke, to repasse, to laie to moze, to exaggerate, to heape one on another, to make to growe agayne, to bynge agayne. also to put in writing.

Et quantum longis carpent armenta diebus, Exigua tantum gelidus ros nocte reponet. Loke howe muche the sheepe in the long dates shall byte,

The colde dwe in one nyght with growyng shall requite.

Reponere seruicem, to wrie ones necke nowe on one syde, and nowe on the other, to stretche ones necke in and out.

Reponere aliquem in deos, to doe honour to one as it were vnto god, to make one a god.

Reponere in numero eloquentium, to clement hym eloquent.

Reponere in optima spe, to haue good hope of a thyng.

Reponere in suis, to take hym for his friende.

Reponere inimiam, to doe displeasure to him that hath hurte vs before.

Reponere fidem, to truste.

Fabulas & scripta sua reponere postea dicuntur, when they byng their comedies or tragedies to be played agayne after they haue ben ones or twyse played before.

Honoratum si forte reponis Achillem, if it be thy mynde to putte in agayne the tragédie of the renowned Achilles.

Reponere nummos, To paye agayne money whiche is lent vs.

Reponere aliquid in vetustatem, to laie by a thyng for the tyme to come.

Reponere remum, to rowe no moze.

Peto ite, ne id a me quaras, ne uis idem reponam cum ueneris, I praye the aske not that of me, lest I aske the same of the, or lay some thyng agaynst the when thou comest hither.

Semper ego auditor tantum nunquam uereponam? Shall I be alwaie an herer and neuer a writer?

Plena reponere pocula, to set full cuppes on the table.

Alimenta in hyemem reponere, To laie by store of vittayles agaynst winter.

Intelligere deberes in te repositam rem publicam, that the whole common weale consisteth in you.

Cenam reponere, To make a supper to one, that gaue vs a supper before.

In coronamenta reponere, To set among the herbes that garlandes be made of.

In quibus fiduciam omnem reponebat, in the whiche he put his whole confidence and trust.

Causam reponere in manufacturine iudicium, To referre and putte his whole matter to the gentleness of the iudges.

Seorsum reponere, to sette apart from other.

Reporto, aui, are, to byng backe or agayne.

Reportare laudem ex hostibus, to be praised for his victorie, to gette laude or praise by conquering his enemies.

Reportare victoriam, to haue the victorie.

Reportare laudem, to haue good thanke for ones labour.

Reportare ignominiam, To get of beate as was reproche.

Britannia exercitum reportare, to convey the armie out of Britaine.

Reposco, poposci, scere, to aske agayne that which is myne owne, or is as it were due to me.

Reposcere poenas, to punysh.

Reposcere vicem, to aske one good turne for another.

Datum

Datum auxilium reposcere, to requite one to ayde vs as we haue aided hym before.

Rationem vite ab aliquo reposcere, to require accompte of rekenyng how one hath ledde his lyfe.

Reposcit causa, the cause requirerth.

Aliquem ad supplicium reposcere, to requite to haue one punyshed.

Repositorium, ri, n. g. a store house, or rather a cupboard or dresser to sette meate bypon, or other thyng that is brought to the table.

Repositus, a, um, laied by to hyde, put or set as agayne.

Manet alta mente repositum iudicium Paris, deepe in his mynde remayned the iudgement that Paris gaue.

Repositi & frigidi cibi, colde meate that hath ben set on the table before.

Reposita, neu. ge. plur. nu. after Porphirio, the nexte daie after the marriage, when friends come to dynke with the bypde: after Acron, the vii. daie, when the bypde was wonte to returne to hye parentes. the dynkenges or banquets that are made with them that are newe married.

Representatio, onis, f. g. the representyng of a thyng. Also a paymēt of money out of hand.

Represento, aui, are, to represent, to rendre, to bynge in presence, or present a thyng, to laie before one, to shewe or declare.

Si semper se representauerit, if he be alwaie redy at hande, and not out of the waie.

Representare consilium, id est, ante tempus exequi.

Representare se, to be present.

Si representari morte mea libertas ciuitatis potest, if the ctee by my death may be freed with and immediatly restored to lybertye.

Representare supplicia, to punysh sodainely or hastily.

Cooperat esse praecepta ad representanda supplicia, he beganne to be ouer hasty and rash in punyshyng or puttynge men to execution.

Representare iudicia, to present iudgement.

Representare precium, to paye the money in hande.

Representare diem promissorum, to performe that he promised.

Representare aliquid animo, to renewe a thyng in ones memorie.

Faciem veri maris representare, to bee lyke a veray sea in deede.

Ita representauit imaginem sceleris, it dyd so lyquely set forth the acte, as though it had been than presently dooen.

Representare memoria alicuius rei, to represent & set forth lyquely the memorie of a thyng.

Representare improbitatem suam, to make haste to shewe or declare theyr lewdnesse.

Representans pro opera dignam cuius merce dem, id est, exhibens, geuyng out of hande.

Reprehendo, di, dere, to plucke backe agayne, to repproue, to reprehende, to blame, to rebuke. Reprehendi fugitiui dicuntur, to be caught as agayne.

Reprehendere manu, to take by the hande.

Reprehensi, caught agayne.

Reprehensio, onis, f. g. a rebuke, a pullynge backe, a repprouynge, a blamyng, controuersyng, cheryng.

Si reprehensionem non capit persona, if the personage be such that he can not wel be repproued or blamed.

Reprehenso, aui, are, to rebuke Marpely, to take holde on one and plucke hym backe often.

Reprehenso, oris, m. g. he that rebuketh or repproueth, a correcter.

Repressor, oris, m. g. he that restraigneth, letteth, or keepeth downe: he that stoppeth a thyng and letteth it to goe forwarde.

Repressus, a, um, stopped, lette.

Reprimo, pressi, primere, to restrayne, to lette that a thyng be not dooen, to stoppe, to kepe binder by force, to appeale.

Reprimere sermones seu famam, to cause a great fame or reposte to cease.

Impetum populi reprimere, to appeale or cease the furie of the people.

Reprimere iunera, to abbreviate or make the waie shorter.

Ni reprimas tuum stultiloquium, if ye doe not leaue your foolyshe talke.

Reprime iracundiam, be not so angry, pacifie your selfe.

Cursum represserunt, they stopped.

Conatus hominum reprimere, to stoppe what men goe about of indeuor, to lette or resist theyr enterpryses.

Fletu reprimi ne quid scribamus, to bee leat with wepyng, that we can not write: to bee in that case, that we can not write for wepyng.

Sermones reprimere, to appeale the communiication of the people, and make it to cease.

Reprobo, aui, are, to repproue, to disallowe, to reiecte.

Reprobus, a, um, wicked, naught, cast out of the fauour of god.

Reproces, Marpe, rough: but the place of idleserie, by the whiche this wayde is proued, hath not in Reprocibus, but Imbricibus ac supinis lateribus. &c.

Repromissio, onis, f. g. a promysing, a binding of ones selfe by promys in couenant.

Repromitto, misi, mittere, to bynde hym selfe by promys in couenant. Sometime to promys onely.

Reprabundus, a, um, creppyn.

Repraus, us, m. g. a creppyn.

Reptilis, le, any thyng that creppeth.

Reptilius, a, um, that creppeth secretly.

Repto, aui, are, to creepe muche: also to goe softly or slowly lyke a snayle.

P pp iij

Repu

Repubesco, scere, to ware ponge agayne.
 Repudiatio, ónis, f. g. a refusing, a tozszakynge of his wyfe.
 Repudiatus, a, um, refused, forszaken.
 Repudio, aui, are, to forszake, as a mā forszaketh his wyfe. Also to refuse, to abandone or leaue.
 Obsecrationem alicuius repudiare, to reiecte ones suite, not to here his request.
 Beneficium repudiare, to refuse a good tourne or benefite.
 Repudio consilium quod primum intende-ram, I nowe leaue the counsaile that I fyrste intended to folowe.
 Repudiósus, a, um, an adiectiue.
 Repudiósus nuptia, a wedding that is after dissolued.
 Repudium, dii, n. g. a diuorce.
 Repudium remittere, to be diuorced.
 Repudium renuntiare, to declare a diuorce.
 Is me nunc repudium renuntiare iussit tibi, he wylled me to declare to the, that he hath forszaken the.
 Necessitate me mala vi fiam facis, verum videto, me vbi volēs nuptum dare, ne hac fama faciat repudiósus nuptias, thou compellest me to bee naughte, but take heede, lest whan thou wylte mary me to any man, this fame or bzuite cause me thortely after to be diuorced.
 Repuerasco, scere, to bee esteemes a chyld, or to waxe a childe agayne.
 Repugnans, anis, repugnans, resistens, beyng agaynst.
 Repugnantia, a, f. g. repugnancie, where one thyng agreeth not with an other.
 Repugnax, ácis, om. g. that is in euery thyng contrarious.
 Repugno, aui, are, to repugne or saie contrarie, to resist.
 Repugnare inter se, to be contrarie one to an other, not to agree one with an other.
 Repugnanter, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth contrariouesly, displeasantly, beyng ill contente.
 Non repugnanter, patiently, with a good wyll.
 Repullulo, aui, are, and Repullulasco, scere, to bourgen or sprynge agayne.
 Repulsa, fæ, f. g. a puttynge backe of hym, whiche eýther demaundeth or seketh for auertizet or office.
 Accipere, ferre, pati repulsam, to bee putte backe in labourynge for an office, to bee refused in the election.
 Repulso, aui, are, to repell or put backe often.
 Repulsor, óris, m. g. he that putteth an other man backe.
 Repulsus, us, m. g. a repellyng or puttynge backe agayne.
 Repulsus, a, um, that is put backe, repelled. als to striken or knocked agayne.
 Repunicatio, ónis, a polishynge or slihyng of buddes of trees, made rough with the sharpe nesse of solde in the sprynge tyme.

Repúnico, aui, are, to rase with a pomeite, to make slyke or smoothe.
 Repungo, pūpugi, and punxi, gere, to pryche or gayne or mutuallie displease or offende, to greene or vere somewhat agayne.
 Repurgium, gti, n. g. a purgynge or cleyngynge.
 Repurgo, aui, are, to purge or cleyne diligently.
 Reputo, aui, are, to rhynte often, to conside mythe, to consider and weigh diligently, to cast & rechen in the mynde, to reuolue in the minde, to recompt. Also to cut of esteemes, some tyme for imputare, to impute.
 Non reputat laboris quid sit, he considereth not what paynes and labour is in it.
 Dum hac mecum reputo, whyle I recompte these thynges with my selfe.
 Reputatio, ónis, f. g. diligent considering and reuoluyng in the mynde.
 Requies, ei, or eis, f. g. reste, quiete.
 Requies bellorum, peace and vacation from warre.
 Requiesco, eui, scere, to rest or take rest, to slepe, to be or lye at rest.
 Requiescere in lectione positum, to take pleasure in the redynge of poctes.
 Requiescere in spe alicuius adolescentis, to content hym selfe and quiete his mynde in the hope whiche one hath in a ponge man.
 Requiescam in sermone eius, I wyl take my reste and case my selfe in hearynge his communication or talke, or hearynge hym speake of this matter.
 Non requiescere consilio cuiusquam, not to ceasse for any mans counsaile.
 Et mutata suos requierunt flumina cursus, the ryuers beyng altered, ceassed to renne.
 Requies, a, um, that hath taken reste or case.
 Ager requies, a fildie that hath lye fallowe a certayne tyme.
 Requirio, aui, are, to secke, demaunde, or aske for thynges often.
 Requirio, siui, rere, to seke esteemes or often, to requyre, to enquire or demaunde, to synde lacke of a thyng, to desire a thyng that is not, or that is paste, as expedient or necessarie.
 In quo maiorum nostrorum sepe requiro prudentiam, wherun I synde often tymes, that our auncestours or elders haue lacked discretion.
 Vereor ne literarum officium a me requiras, I feare that ye wylt blame me for wytyng no oftener vnto you: or synde faure with me, that I haue not wrytten to you more often.
 Si quis requirit a te, yf any man dooe aske or require of you.
 Requiri, to be requisite, to be necessarie or expedient.
 In hoc bello virtutes animi multæ & magnæ requiruntur, be requisite or necessarie.
 Requistum est, one demaunded.
 Requisita naturæ, needes of nature, or nature's needes.

necessarie.
 Res, rei, f. g. a thyng, the thyng, the matter, some tyme state, condicion, empire, dominion, businesse, contentio, cause, rycheffe, substance, heritage, money, pprofyte, weale, experyence, occasion.
 Res est, it is matter in dedde.
 Res ad manum recte, it is all come to a bag and a staffe, or a staffe and a walette.
 Res compendiosa, a matter adiouened or defered vntill the thirde day.
 Res iudicata, the matter or cause finally determined and adjudged.
 Res controuersa, the matter in suite.
 Res familiaris, a mannes pproprie gooddes.
 Res forensis, suite and lawe in the common place of iudgement.
 Res publica, a common weale. Also it signif-eth meane.
 Iam repperirem, quo pacto necfur nec socius fies, I haue nowe founde the meane, howe thou shalte be neither a thefe, nor a companion with hym.
 Rem facere, to gayne or wyne, to thyrue.
 Nunquam rem facies, abi, nescis mescare homines, thou shalte neuer gayne penie, get the hence, thou canste not skyle to angle men:
 or thou shalte neuer thyrue, get the hence, thou knowest not how to laie baits for men.
 Rem habere cum aliquo, to haue to dooe with one, to meddle with one.
 Res gerere, to haue or make warres, to fight.
 Scipione Aemiliano res in Africa gerente.
 Sc. Scipio Aemilianus makynge warres in Asfrike. &c.
 Res semper aliquid apportat noui, experyence
 bringeth alwaies some newes.
 Ad rem redi, to the matter or purpose.
 Salua res est, the matter goeth well.
 Amicos res inuenit, richesse findeth frendes.
 Re iuuare, to helpe with deddes and not with wordes onely.
 Is amicus, qui in re dubia, re iuuat, vbi re est opus, he is a frende, whiche in a case that is doubtfall, helpeth me with his deddes, where deddes are required.
 Quid isti credas, res ipsa indicat? what shulde
 I beleue hym, the dedde selfe declareth it: or sheweth it to be so?
 Verba ad rem conferre, to doe as he saith.
 Vsgadeo ego illius ferre possum ineptias & magnifica verba, verba dum sint, verum enim siad rem conferentur, vapulabit, hitherto I can suffre his lewdenesse and bragges, as longe as they are but wordes: but if he doe as he saith eth, he shall swarte therfore.
 Rem augere, to waxe thyrifte.
 Re vera, in dedde, in very trouthe, matter in dedde.
 Re ipsa, idem.
 E re nata non melius fieri potuit quam factum

est, considering the chaunce or occasion, it coulde not be better doone then it is: as it chaunceth, or as the pfect case requirith, it coulde not haue ben doone better than it is.
 Pro re nata, the matter considered, to the purpose that happened, as the pfect case of sodaine occasion requirith.
 Res tua agitur, thy matter is in hande, or the matter toucheth the, this adooe or businesse is for the.
 Si in rem vtrique est, if it be for bothe thez pposites.
 Facere rem diuinam, to doe sacrifice, to serue
 god.
 Tantumne est ab re tua otii tibi? haste thou so muche leasure or vacant tyme from thyne owne businesse?
 Bellicares, and Res militaris, warfare.
 Rei militaris scientia, martiall policie.
 Sed ere ipsa nata videantur, but they may seeme to be inueded at that very present, by the occasion of the matter it selfe.
 Pro re tua, accordynge to thy goddes or substance that thou hast.
 Aliquantum ad rem est audior, he is somewhat courtous to get money.
 Res eos iam pridem deficere cepit, it is a good whyle sens they spent theyr money and fell in porterte.
 Accisa res, a manns substance or goddes decaid
 ed and spent away.
 Ampla res, riches, great substance.
 Vt haud magna cum re, a man of no great substance, not very rich.
 Res vxoria, wedlocke, marriage.
 Rem Romanam magno turbante tumultu, id est, statum reipublicæ, the state and condicion of the weale publike of the Romaynes.
 Domina rerum Roma, the lady and emperesse of
 of all the worlde.
 Potestas summa rerum, the chiefe gouernaunce of the empyre or kyngedome, soueraintie.
 Postquam res Asia Priamiq; euertere gentem immeritam. &c. the empyre or dominion of Assia.
 Res præclare gesta, noble actes of prowesse,
 chualric.
 Res economica, householdynge, houschepynge.
 Res politica, the orderynge of a citee or of a common weale.
 Sed res Romana erat superior, but the Romains had the vpper hande: or the partie and armie of the Romaines was the stronger.
 Rem bellicam administrare, to be capitaine in the warres.
 Rem in calum dare, to aduenture the matter.
 Rutili diffisis rebus suis, mistrustynge theyr parte.
 Ea rerum forma mearum, that is the state or condicion that I am in.
 Res aduersæ, afflictæ, angustæ, dubiæ, bouaduersities.

 Egenus in rebus, in pouertee or necessitee.
 Res secundæ, prosperitee.
 Si mihi secundæ res essent de amore, if all were well concerning my loue.
 Mutatio rerum, mutation of the worlde.
 Res humanæ, worldly affayres.
 Rem miseram, an aduerse of sorowynge, pittie full and heauy chaunce.
 Rescacio, scilicet, scire, to be fierse or vchement agayne.
 Resalutatio, onis, f. g. a courtiers speakynge to hym that speaketh to you, a resalutation.
 Resaluto, aui, are, to salute hym that saluteth you, to salute agayne.
 Resarcio, si, cire, to amende, to resourme.
 Resarcire damna, to recompence damages, to make amendes.
 Resarrio, rui, ire, to werde esteemes cozne.
 Rescindere, rescindi, scindere, to cutte or breake in sunder, to take awaie, to destroy, to abolish, to fordoe, to make voyde or repell an acte or lawe, to breake vp, to breake downe, to launce.
 Cælum rescindere fratres tui sunt conati, thise the byetherne assaied to breake vp heauen for to enter.
 Terræ rescindere, to eare the grounde agayne.
 Vulnere rescisso, when the wounde was launced or ouerred agayne.
 Iudicari rescindere, to reuoke or breake a sentence or iudgement ones geuen.
 Pactiones rescindere, to breake or vndoe cos uenantes that be made betwene men.
 Voluntatem mortui rescindere, to breake or fordoe a mans testament or laste wyll.
 Rescindere summum os viceris, to launce.
 Rescio, sciri, scire, to knowe a thyng, which is hidde and kepte secreete. Also to knowe a thyng after that it is doone, whiche was not howen before.
 Resciso, scere, idem quod Rescio.
 Rescissus, a, um, fordoone, broken downe, destroyed.
 Rescribo, scripsi, scribere, to wyte agayne, to write an aunswere to a letter, to redelpuer, to repaie money.
 Ad has literas statim mihi rescribe, see that ye write me an answer to these letters immediatly.
 Ad omnia quæ quærentur rescribere, to write an aunswere to all that a man requirith in his letters.
 Argentum iube rursus rescribi, bidde that my money be payed me agayne.
 Rescripsum, ti, n. g. the letters of a pynce, making answer to other letters.
 Rescero, secui, care, to cut awaie that, whiche is superfluous, to cutte from a place.
 Resecare ad vitium, to pare to the quiche, to budde the quiche in a matter, to discusse a matyr nellyngly.

Linguam rescare, to cutte out ones tongue.
 Resecare ungues, to pare the nayles.
 Resecare capillos, to clippe of the heare.
 Rescero, aui, are, to praye or desyre esteemes, to pray contrary to that he desyred afore. also to aske one of his auowe.
 Obscuro te rescero, I praye you, and praye you agayne.
 Resectus, a, um, cut of, pared.
 Resecator, moxter.
 Resectio, onis, f. g. a cuttyng of, a parynge.
 Reseda, dæ, f. g. an herbe.
 Resedo, aui, are, to appeale.
 Resemino, aui, are, to sowe agayne.
 Resegmen, segminis, n. g. the parynge of a mans nayles, the parynge of that is cutte of any thyng.
 Resequor, reserqueris, resequi, to folowe.
 His est resequita roga tem, thus the answer red hym demaunding the question.
 Reseratus, a, um, opened, vnloche.
 Resero, aui, are, to open a thyng that is closed, to vnloche.
 Claudere & reserare, contrarie.
 Resero, scui, resatum, serere, to sowe, sette of plante agayne.
 Reservatio, onis, f. g. a reseruacion, a keepynge of some thyng a parte from other, or for the tyme to come.
 Reseruo, aui, are, to kepe aparte from other thynges, to reserue, to kepe for the tyme to come.
 In congressum nostrum reseruo, I wyll reserue or kepe this vntill we meet together.
 Quartam partem agri in pratum reseruare, to kepe in seuerallite th: fourth parte of the fildie for medowe grounde.
 Presenti sermone reseruentur cetera, let the other thynges be reserued vntill we talke toged ther.
 Quæ me ad maiora reseruo, for what greates ter enterpises do I kepe and reserue my selfe.
 Reses, residis, om. g. idell from accustomed labour or occupation, that mouth not, that standeth still, slouthfull.
 Reses aqua, standynge water.
 Reses animus, a slouthfull and heauy mynde without courage or spire.
 Reflex, secis, the vine bianche that is cutte, and spryngeth agayne, and beareth more fruite then it did before. it is also called Custos, and Præsidarius palmes.
 Resido, residis, sedi, sidere, to reste, to sitte, to sitte downe, to stande faste, to be quiete, to rest mayne, to abyde.
 Residet eius rei in te culpa, the faulte thereof is in the, or resteth in the.
 Residere in clunes, to sitte downe vpon the buttockes, as certayne brastes doe.
 Si quid residet in te amoris erga me, if there remaine any loue in your herte towards me.
 Eius

Eius etiam in nutu residebat autoritas, there was a certayne authoritee euen in his becke.
 Periculum tamen residebit, yet shall the perill and danger remaine still.
 Quum ira residisset, when the anger was also swaged, quieted or appeased.
 Residet spes in virtute tua, we haue a certayne hope of confidence yet in your vertue.
 Resideamus si placet, let vs sitte downe if it please you.
 Ardor resederat, the heate was relented.
 Resedit apud eum pecunia publica, he did not bestowe it to that purpose that he was appointed, but kept it to hym selfe.
 Residet in vultu, there dooth reste or appere in the visage.
 Resido, residis, sedi, sidere, to sitte downe, also to abyde, to light downe as birdes dooe after their flight. Sometyme to relent, to sette.
 Nam Viennensium vitia inter ipsos residunt, nostra late vagantur, for the fautes of men of Viennæ doe abyde with the, ours renne abrode, and be euey where knowne.
 Residens, entis, lutyng downe after he hath done a thyng.
 Residuus, a, um, the rest or remnant, that is left.
 De residuis teneri, to be in arreage of money that one had to bestowe for some common use.
 Resigno, aui, are, to open that whiche is sealed: sometyme to scale fast. also to shutte vp. Sometyme to resioye agayne. also to resigne or surrendre, sometyme to abolithe.
 Resignatum æs, wages stopped for negligent seruice in warres.
 Resigno, was bled of olde wyters for Rescribo.
 Resignare literas, To open letters that be sealed.
 Lumina morte resignat, id est, claudit.
 Omnem tabularum fidem resignabat, it dyd put awaie cleane or abolithe all the credite that might be geuen to those registres: or made that no man coude surely beleue them.
 Resignare rationes, id est, dissoluere.
 Resilio, resiliis, resiliui, liui, or li, lire, to leape backe or steepe awaye quickly.
 Ab hoc crimen resiliit, there is no blame to be laied to hym, no fault resteth in hym.
 Resimus, a, um, that hath a camogyle nose, that is to saye, turned vwarde.
 Resina, æ, f. g. rosen, all like gumme, which renzeth out of trees.
 Resinatius, a, um, lyke roseine.
 Resinatus, a, um, rased or dyessed with roseine, or gumme.
 Resinosus, a, um, full of roseine or gumme.
 Resipio, resipis, pui, or piut, ere, to sauour or smell.
 Resipit picem, it sauoureth of pitche.
 Resipisco, resipui, resipiscere, to returne to persecte vnderstandynge, to be esteemes wife, where before he erred, to amende and come to hym selfe agayne.

 Resisto, restiti, resistere, to resist or withstand, to repugne, to be agaynst, to stande still for daynely, to stop as one doeth in goynge, to reste, to pause.
 Resistitur, the remedie is.
 Sed ego in hoc resisto, but I reste and stop here in this matter.
 Incipit eisari, mediæque in voce resistit, and todaynely in the middes of his tale or wordes, he stopped.
 Resistens oratio, id est, intersticiens, non perpetuo tenore fluens.
 Resistere dicitur venenatis pabulis herba aliqua, to be medicinable and of force agaynst it.
 Resistitur vix taminia succo, the iuce of the wyld grape is a good remedie or medicine agaynst it.
 Legi resistebatur, they withstode the lawe.
 Resoluo, ui, ere, to resolute, to destroye, to paye debtes, to remoue, to vndoe, to vnloose, to vnbrynde.
 Humum resolueret, to labour the earthe.
 In puluerem resolueret, to make in powder.
 Resoluit nodos, they vndoe the knottes.
 Fauces resolueret in verba, to open his mouth to speake, to begyn to speake.
 Litteras resolueret, to open letters.
 Nebulae resoluantur a sole, whiche cloudes be resolued with the heate of the sunne.
 Mollire & resolueret hominem, id est, effeminaie.
 Tristitiam animi resolueret, to put away heauynesse of the mynde.
 Cinctas resolute vestes, vn buckle or vndoe your clothes.
 Resolueret ex parte diuersa dicta, To dissolue or shewe by argument, that they be false.
 Resolutio nervorum, the palsy.
 Resolutus, a, um, resolued, lewised.
 Resonans, antis, sounyng agayne with an echo.
 Resono, sonui, are, to sowe agayne, to make an echo.
 Resonus, a, um, that souneth agayne, that maketh an echo.
 Resorbeo, bui, or pi, bere, to sup vp agayne.
 Respectio, onis, a lokyng backe.
 Respecto, vix, are, to se often, to loue, to helpe, to loke backe.
 Respectus, us, m. g. a loke or sight. also respecte or regarde, a reason that moueth a man to doe a thyng.
 Nemo eo respectu commotus discesserat, haueyng no regarde therinto he departed, or he departed beyng nothyng moued therewith.
 Miserabilem respectum fore, that it would be a pitauouse sight.
 Respergo, si, gere, to caste water or other licoure about, to spynkle.
 Respergimen, inis, a spynkelyng or castynge about about of licoure.

Resperus, a, um, spynkled about, or ouer and ouer.
Resperus, us, m. g. & Resperio, onis, f. g. a spynkeling.
Respicio, respicis, exi, ere, to loke backe, to haue regarde, to prouide, to remedie, to hepe, to reserue, to loue, to fauour, to helpe or succour.
 Age me in tuis secundis rebus respice, let see now in thy prosperitee, succour me, or loke on me and helpe me.
Respicit nos deus, god hath pittie on vs, or god dweth fauour and loue vs.
Respicere se, to take hede of haue regarde of hym selfe.
 Neg te respicis, nether doe ye passe any thing of your selfe, or let any stoe by your selfe.
 Non soles respicere te cum dicas iniuste alteri? art thou not wont to take hede of thy self, or to haue regarde to thine owne conscience, when thou saieste wronge of an other man?
 Non tu te cohibes? Non te respicis, non tibi exempli satis sum? wilt thou not beware, wilt thou not take hede of thy selfe? am not I a good example vnto ther?
Instantem tergo Cloanthum respicit, he loseth backe and seeth Cloanthus pursue hym harde at the heeles.
Sero tellus respicitur, it is to late to loke backe to the lande.
Hanc summum imperium respiciebat, he had the chiefe rule and gouernance.
 Si modo rempublicam respicere uolet, if he will haue regarde to helpe the common weale.
 Nisi quid dñ respiciunt, if god helpe not: or exspectat god fynde some prouision.
Sin Casarem respiciunt, &c. but if they haue regarde to Cesar, and fauoure or helpe hym.
Respiramen, inis, n. g. a breath, or a passage whereby the breath issueth.
Respiratio, ònis, f. g. a breathyng, or waspoung.
Respiratio aquarum, the breathyng when the water sendeth out the vaporacions.
Respiratio in oratione, the taking of breath or pausing in speakyng.
Respiro, aui, are, to take breath. also to take resorte, to retourne to the first state, to pause, to rest. also to sende fourth a certayne sauoure.
Ciuitas respirat, when it riseth out of aduersities, and cometh to the olde state agayne.
Respiraro, site uidero, I shal take comfort, if I may see you.
Respirasset cupiditas, thy couetousnesse would haue ben somewhat moderated or diminished.
Resplendeo, splendi, ere, to shine bryght, to be glorious.
Respondeo, di, ere, to answer, to appere when one is called, to agree, to accorde, to consent or be lyke or equal, to be agaynst, as one thyng set or lyng agaynst an other.

Respondere criminibus, to purge vs of thyng that is layed to our charge.
Respondere ad nomina, to appere when he is called.
Non respondere, to make default.
Respondere ad diem, To paie or satisfie his creditour at the date.
Respondere superiori, to accorde to that which he was asoys.
Respondere patri, to folowe his fathers condicions, to be lyke his father in maners.
Respondere, sometyme dooeth signifie satisfacere.
Hoc proprium tuum munus est, vt ita erudatur, vt & patri, & Scipioni nostro, & ubi tam propinquo respondeat, it is your parte specially, that he be so brought vp in lernyng, that he may satisfie his father, and our friend Scipio, and you that are so nigh kynnesman vnto him.
Ad interrogata respondere, to make answer to those thynges that be demaunded.
Respondet frumentum ad pondus & mensuram, it is euen weight or measure.
Ad normam respondere, to be euen with the rule.
Ad septimā respondet, it accordeth or agreeth with the seuenth.
Haud quāq̃ ad spem euentus respondebat, it came not to passe, as he hoped and trusted that it woulde.
Qui vestris paucorum respondeat laudibus, id est, æquet vestras laudes.
Fauor non responder meritis, he is not fauoured so muche as he hath deserued.
Voto tuo respondere possum, I can doe that that you desire.
Si bonitas tua responderit iudicio meo, if your goodnesse be suche as I esteeme or iudge it to be.
Amore, or in amore respondere alicui, To loue mutually, to loue one as muche as he loueth vs.
Nobilitati maiorum respondere, to be like his forefathers in noblenesse.
Aedificare porticum quæ palatio respondeat, whiche may be our right against the palatice.
Quam breui responsu, how shortly they may be answered to.
Responsio, ònis, f. g. an answer.
Responsio, aui, are, to make or geue answer: it perteyneth properly to lawiers, and them, which had the interpretation of ceremonies.
Responsio, aui, are, to answer, sometyme to resist, to gaignesate.
Gallina dura male responset palato, id est, non sapit, non conuenit palato, is not pleasante in eatyng.
Responsor, òris, m. g. a surety, he that promyseth or undertaketh for an other.
Responsum, si, n. g. an answer, also an oracle.
 Dare

Dare responsum, to make an answer.
Responsus, us, m. g. where one thyng doeth agree with an other, a consent, a conueniencie.
Respuo, spui, ere, to refuse or reiect contemptuously.
Respuo hoc sapientissimi cuiusq̃ fides, there is no wyse man wyll beleue it.
Respuere imperium, to refuse to obey hym or be in subiection.
Respuo hoc ferri ictum, one coulde not enter into it with pson, it coulde not be perced or hurte with pson.
Auribus hominem respuere, to be vnwilling to here hym speake.
Respuere aliquid dicuntur aures, when men can not abyde to here it.
Conditionem non respuo, he doeth not refuse the offer.
Respuere secures dicitur lignum, that can not be cutte.
Tergus omne respuens vulnus, a backe so harde, that it can not bee cut nor hurte with any weapon.
Restagnatio, ònis, f. g. an ouerflowyng.
Restagno, aui, are, to renne ouer, to let the water renne out, to ouerflowe.
Restat, restare, to be or remayne of that thyng that is lefte, to stande backe, to resist.
Hoc merest, that abideth or remayneth for me.
Restauo, aui, are, to restore or make agayne, to repayre, to renewe.
Restauratus, a, um, repayred, newe made.
Restibilis, le, that whiche is renewed, or sowne agayne.
Restibilis fecunditas, when the female beareth euerie yere.
Restibilis ager, a fildie whiche is sowne two yeres together.
Seges restibilis, cozne that ryseth of the seede that was caste into the grounde the yere before without any other sowyng.
Vinetum restibile, a vine yerde that is delued euerie yere.
Resticula, la, f. g. a small coide.
Restinctio, ònis, f. g. a quenchyng or puttyng out.
Restinctus, a, um, quenched, put out, stinted, appeased.
Restinctum bellum, when there is no more mention of warre.
Restingo, xi, guere, to stinte or putte out, to quench, to seale, as fyre, light, and thirst, to qualifie, to appease.
Cupiditatum ardore restincto, cleane put out, quenched.
Flammam restinguere, to put out the flame, and by translation, to quiete or stinte a troublous commotion or ruspyng in the common weale.
Sermones restinguere, to cause the communis tacion and talke of men to cease.

Restinguere incensum, to appease or qualifie one that is intenced agaynst vs, or greatly moued with vs.
Studia aliorum restinguere, to be cause that othertwyl study no more.
Sitim restinguere, to quenche thirste.
Restio, ònis, m. g. a roper. also he that hangerhym selfe.
Restio, stitui, stare, to be ready to bee sowne, plowghed, or digged.
Restipulatio, ònis, f. g. a putting in of pledges.
Restipulor, aris, ari, to make answer in the law, to laie in a pledge or gage, to make answer to an action taken agaynst hym.
Restis, is, f. g. a baler of corde, a rope or bunche of garlyke or opynons.
Restem ducere, when maydens and childzen daunce together hande in hande, or with nappes, leadyng one an other.
Ad restim res redat, the matter is in dyspayre or desperate.
Restito, aui, are, to stagger, to stoppe often, to drawe backe, to struggle agaynst.
Restituo, stitui, uere, to restore, to pelde agayne, to repaire or make agayne.
In integrum restituere, to restore it vnto his first estate.
Pugnam restituere, to begynne or renewe the battayle agayne afresh.
Reipublicæ restitui, to be remitted to the same state that he was in before his banishment.
Tu rem impeditam & perditam restituas? canst thou restore a matter intricate and paste cure or hope of recourie.
Restituere aciem, to fyll vp the armie and set it in array agayne.
Restituere animum alicui, to make couragious agayne.
Fraudata restituere, to restore agayne that we haue deceiued men of.
Restituam te in gaudium, I wyll make the iopous and glad agayne.
In gratiam restituere, to byngne in fauoure agayne.
Sanitatem restituere, and sanitati aliquem restituere, to restore to helth, to make one whole.
Corruptum adolescentem restituere, to resfourme and byngne to good facion agayne.
Domum restituere, to repayre the house.
Restitui sibi dicuntur vina, whiche were ones turned, and are come to theyr olde tast agayne.
Restitue is quem me accepisti locum, restore or set me agayne in the same place or state that thou foundest me.
Fores effregit restituentur, did he breake open the doore? it shal bee repaired and made newe agayne.
Restitutor, òris, m. g. he that restoreth.
Restitutio, ònis, f. g. restitution.
Restitutorius, a, um, that perteyneth to restoring.
 Resto,

Resto, restiti, stare, to remayne, to tary, to as byde, to stande still, sometyme to withstande, to stryue agaynst, to struggle.
Hic nunc me credit aliquam sibi fallaciam por tare, & ea me hic restituisse gratia, he thynketh that I goe about to beggyle hym: and that I haue tarped here for that veray cause.
Stoici restant, the stoicke philosophers doe res
siste theyr opinion.
Restat mihi, it tarieth for me, it shall happen
vnto me.
Longa sunt quæ restant, the thynges be longe that remayne and be not yet tolde.
De viginti restabam solus, of .xx. I onely res mayned.
Quid restat, nisi. &c. what remayneth, but that. &c.
Ad Catilinam recipiendum Romæ restite runt, they abode still at Rome, to receyue Las tilyne.
In qua re nunc tam confidenter restas stulte?
in what thyng dost thou now withstande me, or stryue or struggle agaynst me so boldely or so malapertly thou foolyshe fellowe?
Restrictæ, or restrictum, strictly or strictly.
Restrictus, a, um, strictly or harde bounde. also couetous, niggish, that will not departe with a penie.
Restringo, strinxi, stringere, to binde or streigne harde, to bynde harde agayne, to restraine.
sometyme it signifieth to lewse of unbynde.
Apulei. lumentum restrinxit, abireq; stabulo liberum sinis, he lewsed his horse, and let hym out at libertee.
Restrinxit nauseam, it puteth awaye the des tyre to vomite, it stoppeth vomite.
Resulto, aui, are, to leape agaynst a thyng, to res bounde, to rebell, to leape or streppe backe, to hoppe.
Resumo, psi, ere, to take agayne, to resume.
Resuo, resui, ere, to sowe agayne or make a dou ble sittle. also to rippe or vndoe that whiche is sowed, to vnstitch.
Sument virilem togam, tunica lati clauis futa ex viray parte, ad pedes decidit, when he came firste to mannes age, his senatours coate bepynge rypte on both sydes, fell downe to his feete.
Resupino, aui, are, to turne vppwarde or vpright, to reuoke or call backe, to deserre, to peruerse.
Resupinare collum, to holde vp the necke, as chekyns and other birdes dooe when they drynke.
Resupinus, a, um, vprighte, the healy vppwarde.
Resupinatus, a, um, turned or rolled vp agayne.
Resurgo, surrexi, gere, to ryse vp agayne.
Resurgere dicitur herba, quæ iterum crescit,
to growe or spryng agayne.
Resurrectio, onis, f. g. resurrection, risynge vp
agayne.
Resuscito, aui, are, to reyse vp agayne.

Retra, trees growynge on the bankes of riuers, or in the riuers.
Retalio, aui, are, to requite.
Retardatio, onis, f. g. a tariynge, a hinderynge.
Retardatus, a, um, taried, hindered.
Retardo, aui, are, to make to tari, to stoppe, to hoide that one goe not.
Iter retardare, to let one that is goynge on his tourney.
Quem nisi in via caduca hereditates retardat, sent volasse eum, non iter fecisse diceret, whos if the inheritance fallen by escheate to the loyde had not hindered by the waie, ye woude haue said he had flowne and not haue gone.
Retaxo, aui, are, to blame or cheeke one agayne,
that telleth vs of our faute.
Rete, tis, n. g. a nette.
Retis, in the mas. and for. g. is sometyme redde.
Reteo, texti, gere, to discouer or disclose, to open.
Reticus, a, um, vncovered.
Retendo, tendi, tendere, to vnbinde.
Retento, aui, are, of Re and tento, to assaie and goe about agayne, to attempt chesoonnes.
Retentio, onis, f. g. a holdynge, a retynnyng.
Retento, aui, ere, the frequentatiue of Retineo, to receyue often, to holde backe.
Retentus, a, um, holden backe, retined, taried.
Retexo, textui, ere, to vnwyse, or vnwyt, to vnwynde. sometyme to twiste or wynde chesoon nes, to dissolue, to vndoe that is once doone.
Penelope telam retexere, to doe and vndoe.
Non potest nisi retexueris illa, he maie not,
excepte thou change his purpose therin.
Se ipsum retexere, to change or alter his facis on othe wyse.
Retexere orationem, to chaunge and make it cleane otherwyse, then it was before, or to bes ginne it afresh.
Retiaculum, li, n. g. a littell nette.
Retia, x, for. ge. was used of olde wyters for a nette.
Retiarius, ri, m. g. he that casteth a nette, pros pely in fightynge to appryhende his aduersas rie.
Reticentia, x, f. g. silence when one holdeth his peace, properly when one bittereth not that he shuld tell.
Reticeo, retices, cui, cere, to holde ones peace, to speake no wynde, to kepe secreete, to say no
thyng.
Ne retice, tell me, hyde it not from me.
Reticula, la, f. g. a littell nette, wherein a man or womans heare is traile.
Reticulus, a, um, made lyke a nette.
Fenestra reticulata, wyndowes hangynge as it were fyne nettes made before them to kepe out flies and such vermine.
Reticulum, li, n. g. a cosse or call, whiche men or women used to weare on theyr heades, or on theyr faces, to the ende they woude not be know en. also a bagge, wherein meate is caried. also also a racket to plaie at tennis with.

Reticulus, li, a littell nette or calle.
Retinaculum, li, n. ge. what to euer holdeth any other thyng, a state, an holdfast.
Retineo, retines, nui, nere, to holde agayne, to holde backe, to reteyne, to kepe in remembrance, to holde by that a man falle not.
Altreune me obsecro. B. Obsecro quid tibi est? An. Disperij. B. Perij misera, quid stu pes Antiphila? O holde me by I praye the, W.
Blaske what alleth the? A. I am vndoone. W.
Blas that euer I was boyne, why dooth thy herte fayne the Antiphila?
Retinere, to restrayne or lettie one from doyng that that he woude.
Pudore & liberalitate liberos retinere satius esse credo quam metu, I thynke it better to restrayne chyldren from their wanton willes by shame and liberalitee, than with feare.
Suius suum retinet, if he mainteine his title.
In officio retinere, To enterteyne men to be euer redie to doe their dutties, to kepe men still in obedience.
Inuidiam suam apud improbos retinere, To be alwaies hated of vnthysse persons.
Iudicem retinere aliquem, to receyue one for a iudge.
Iudicium suum retinere, To perseuere in his opinion.
Iusticiam retinere, to mainteine Justice.
Memoria retinere, to remembre.
Modum retinere, to kepe a measure.
Morbo retineri, to be sicke.
Morem retinere, to kepe alway one custome.
Nummos retinere, to kepe backe money whis
the ought to be payed.
Officium retinere, to dooe well his duttie.
Sinistra manu retinebat arcum, id est, tene bat.
Existimationem retinere, to kepe still his esti mation.
Grauiam alicuius retinere, to be still in ones
fauour.
Temperatibus retineri, to be let with tempest that he can not departe.
Retinent tamen charitatem in pastores, yet they alwayes loue theyr keepers.
Custoditis retineri, to be kept in prison.
In sermone longo aliquem retinere, to holde or kepe one with a long talke or proesse.
Veritatem retinere, to be alwaies true.
Retinens, entis, om. g. that keepeth still.
Retingo, tingere, to dippe in agayne.
Retiolium, a cause or cosse.
Retondeo, rondi, cere, to clip or sheare all ouer.
Retono, tonui, are, to make a great sowne or nosse agaynst.
Retorqueo, torxi, ere, to caste backwarde, to throwe or throte agayne, to tourne backe agayne violently.
Retorqueri sub terra, to be tournd backe, and put into the grounde.

Retorquere telam, to vntwyst yarne.
Oculos ad urbem retorquere, To turne his heade and loke backe toward the cite.
Retorquere aliquem, to turne one from his purpose.
Retorresco, retorrescere, to be burned with the sunne.
Retorride, as it were burned with the sunne.
Retorridus, a, um, burned, feared or parched with the feruent heate of the sunne.
Retortus, a, um, turned or wrested backe.
Retostus, a, um, burned, tosted to muche.
Retracto, aui, are, to call backe, to reuoke a thyng that is done, to drawe backe, or excuse, to laye to an other man, to drawe vp, to vnspare that one hath said, to handle agayne, to speake as gayne of a thyng, to repete, to wite agayne.
Retracta e librum, to peruse & ouersie a booke agayne, or to wite it a newe, to the intent to amende and correcte thinges that be in it.
Pedamenta retractare, to take vp stakes and faynes out of the grounde agayne, that were set vnder the vine the yere before, to the intent to newe dyesse them, and caste those away that be rotten.
Augemus dolorem retractando, we increase our sorowe with commynge and sayynge of it
agayne.
Vulnera cruda retractare, to handle greene
woundes often.
Retractare dicta, to vnspare that he hath once spoken.
Mecum saepe retractans, reuoluyng the mat ter often in my mynde.
Retractare aliquid, to repete that whiche is spoken.
Retractare largitiones, to cease from libtall
geyng.
Retractare actionem, To begyn his action a newe.
Retractans, antis, om. gen. that will not be led forwarde, that staggereth and draweth backe.
Retractatio, onis, for. g. a retractation, a reuo kyng of ones opinion.
Retractatus, a, um, retracted, corrected, am ended, full of blotches with correctynge and am endynge in wytyng.
Retractus, a, um, drawen backe agayne, taken and brought home agayne after one hath runne awaie. also farre of, farre distant.
Retraho, traxi, trahere, to pull or drawe backe,
or to drawe to.
Retraham hercle ad me illud fugitiuum ar genum tamen, in feith I trowe I will yet for all this pull backe to me agayne that slipper money, that woude so fayne begone.
Retrahere aliquem a republica, to withdrawe one from the affaires or busynesse of the comon weale: or to perswade hym that he doe not bus sie him selfe in matters of the comon weale.
Retra-

Retrahere se, to cease and leave off from doing any thing.
 Retractans, antis, om. g. idem quod retractans.
 Retribuo, tribui, buere, to recompense, to render of good agayne.
 Retrica, ca, fca. g. olde wyters called the water, wherewith gardenes are watered.
 Retrimentum, ti, n. g. the dyegges of a thyng, sometyme of beure or dounge.
 Retro, behynde.
 Est mihi retro vltimis in edibus conclave, I have a certain parlour behynde, or on the backe syde in the furthest parte of all my house.
 Retro vocare, to call backe.
 Retro ambulare, to go backe.
 Retro, sometyme for Contra, or econverso.
 Retro, for Ante.
 Quum te semper ultra omnes retro principes laudari oportuit, aboute all that have bene in tyme past, or before you.
 Tam longe retro, so farre backwarde.
 Retróago, egi, agere, to bypne backe.
 Capillos retroagere, to caste the heare backe.
 Ordinem retroagere, To take that first that shoulde be last.
 Retrocedo, celsi, ere, to go backe, to gene backe, to retye.
 Retróeo, lui, ire, to go backe.
 Retróero, retróuli, ferre, to bypne backe agayne.
 Retroferre se, to retourne backe agayne.
 Retrogradior, graderis, gradi, idem quod retroeo.
 Retrógradus, a, um, that goeth backwarde.
 Retrorsum vel Retrosus, backwarde.
 Retrosus, a, um, turned backwarde.
 Retródo, si, dere, to put of thyng backe.
 Retundo, reudi, ere, to make blunt or dull that whiche is sharpe, to turne the edge of a thyng.
 also to beate often on a thyng.
 Mucronem styli retundere, to moderate the stile in wytyng, that it be not so vehement.
 Improbiter alicuius retundere, id est, reprimere.
 Linguam & sermones quorundam retundere, to stop or cease the naughtie wordes of ill retyers of ceterpe men, or to confound them.
 Retúus, a, um, dull, blant, contrary to sharpe.
 Alix agrorum partes, quæ acuta ingenia gignant, alix quæ reusa, some partes of couns crepes there be, whiche doe bypne forth sharpe wytes, some bypne sooth dull.
 Reualesco, scere, to be recovered from sickness, to waxe whole.
 Reuanesco, scere, to vanishe away agayne.
 Reuelo, uexi, uelare, to bypne of carie backe of agayne.
 Reuelatio, ónis, f. gen. a reuelling of disclosing of a thyng.
 Reuello, uelli, and reuulsi, reuellere, to plucke backe, to pull agayne, to plucke vp, to pull as waxe cleane.

 Ventus clauum reuulsit, the wynde plucked the sterne cleane awaie.
 Reuellere tela de corpore, to plucke the dares out of his bodie.
 Reuellere omni memoria, to pull cleane out of memorie, to leaue no remembrance of a thyng at all.
 Reueláus, a, um, discovered, opened, reuelled.
 Reuelo, aui, are, to discover, to open, to reuelle.
 Reuénio, reuénis, uéni, ire, to come agayne, to retourne.
 Reuenire in gratiá, to come into fauour again.
 Reuera, matter in desce, or for a trueth.
 Reuérbero, aui, are, to beate or strike backe as gayne.
 Reuerendus, a, um, woorthy reuerence of his noure.
 Reuerens, entior, tísimus, he that dooeth reuerence of honour.
 Reuerenter, reuerently.
 Reuerentia, a, f. g. reuerence of honour doome to one. sometyme a reuerend feare.
 Reuéror, réris, réri, to haue in reuerence, to feare.
 Reuérso, ónis, fca. g. a returnyng, a comyng backe agayne.
 Reuerto, uerti, ere, is often used of Etero, but onely in the pterperfect tense, or other tenes fourmed of the same, to retourne, to come as gayne.
 Multa aduersa reuertens, id est, reuoluens, reputans apud se, consyderyng with him selfe, reuoluyng in his mynde.
 Legati Ameriam reuerterunt, the ambassadours returned to Ameria.
 Reuerror, eris, ti, to retourne, to come agayne to a place of thyng.
 Ad Chrysippi laqueos reuertamur, let us now retourne to the subtil and intricate argumens of Chrysippus and speake of them.
 In gratiam cum aliquo reuerti, to come in fauour agayne with one.
 Ad diem reuerti, to retourne agayne at the date appoynted.
 Reuincio, uinxi, circ, to bynde backe or behynde, as to bynde ones handes behynde hym. also to bynde freit of hard.
 Reuincio, uici, uincere, to confute, to confute.
 Reuincere paratus est, which the lawiers doe say, Paratus est verificare, he is redie to auerre.
 Reuincere crimen verbis, to confute a thyng that is layed to our charge with wordes.
 Reuinci in culpa, to be poyued faulte.
 Reuiresco, rui, scere, to become elisones grene, to waxe grene agayne. by translation to reuue, to be renewed, to spynng newe agayne, to waxe yong agayne.
 Reuisito, aui, are, to bisite agayne, to go to se as gayne.
 Reuiso, uisi, scere, to retourne to se. Reuiso

Reuiso quid agant, I come to see what they dooe.
 Reuise ad me, come agayne to me and see.
 Furor reuist, id est, redit.
 Reuulso, uixi, scere, to be reuulued, to recouer life agayne, by translation, to be renewed and come to the olde state agayne.
 Reuuctor, óris, m. g. a seruauit of minister of a surgian or phisicion, whiche anoynted them that for the health used wrytlyng and suche other exercises.
 Reuocatio, ónis, fca. g. a reuocation of callinge backe.
 Reuocatus, a, um, reuoked or called backe, restored from death to lyfe.
 Reuoco, aui, are, to call backe, to reuoke, to byng agayne, to drawe backe, to reple from death, to tourne from an enterprise or purpose.
 Reuocare pedem, to tourne backe, to recule.
 Ad quæ exempla reuocas? what examples puttest thou me for thy defence?
 Ad manus rem reuocare, to bypne the matter to that poynte that men will fyght for it, or trie it by dent of swoorde.
 Reuocare, to restore, to renewe.
 Item, circa omnium ordinum statum domi forisque, aut correxit, aut exoleta reuocauit, aut etiam noua instituit, more ouer, concerning the state of all degrees, as well within his house as without, cyther he dyd amende them, or renewe those thynges that were out of vse, or elles ordeyned newe.
 Reuocare promissum, to denie that he promysed, to reuoke his promys.
 Reuocare testes, to reherse the depositions of wytnesses.
 Reuocare ad curam, to doe a thyng with much diligence.
 Rem ad sortem reuocare, to caste lottes for a thyng.
 In lucem reuocare, to bypne agayne in vse, to bypne to lyght agayne, to bypne to knowlage of men agayne.
 Morem reuocare, to renewe or bypne by a custome or facion agayne.
 Defunctos reuocare, to reisse men from death to lyfe.
 Anne ad M. Antonij frumenti æstimatio nem reuocaturus es? well ye saie that I dyd folow Antone, or dyd any thyng lyke to Antone in bypnyng of grayne?
 Non reuoco ad arbitrium meum, I dooe not desyre to haue the thyng ordeyned or determyned after my pleasure.
 Ab incæpto vel ab instituto reuocare, To turne one from his purpose, to perswade him to leaue of an enterprise that he hath begun.
 Reuocare gradum, to retourne.
 Ab inferis; vel a morte reuocare, to reple one from death to lyfe, to restore one to lyfe.
 Ex itinere reuocare, to call one backe that is goynge in his tourney.

 Libertatem reuocare, To restore libertee as gayne.
 Ad mediocritatem reuocare modum alicuius rei, to kepe a meane in a thyng.
 Reuocare animos vestros ad Mithridatici belli memoriam, I wolde reduce or byng into your remembrance agayne the warre agaynst Mithridates.
 Reuocant se rursum ad morticiam, they byng thegm selfe agayne to heauynesse of sadnesse.
 Omnia ad potentiam suam reuocantis est sententia, it is the opinion of hym, that wold haue nothing at all dooen and ordeyned, but by his owne power and authoritee.
 Ad rationem operum reuocare, To require accompte. &c.
 Se reuocare, to chaunge his opinion, to vnfaie that he saied.
 Ab opere aliquem reuocare, To make one leaue of his wothe.
 A scelere reuocare, to tourne one from doynge a mischeuous acte.
 Ad vitam reuocare, to restore or bypne one to lyfe agayne.
 Reuocabilis, le, that maie be reuoked or called agayne.
 Reuocamen, minis, n. g. idē quod Reuocatio.
 Reuolo, aui, are, to flee backe, to flee agayne.
 Reuolant ex aquare, They flee out of the sea agayne.
 Reuolubilis, le, that maie be reuolued and turned agayne.
 Reuoluo, ui, uere, to tourne vp and downe, to reuolue, to tourne backe, to remoue, to tumble agayne.
 Reuolui retro, to bee tumbled backe agayne.
 Reuolui ad sententiā alicuius, to come of consdescende at length to ones opinion.
 Victoria ad irritam reuoluebatur, the victorie was in vayne, and came at length to none effecte.
 Reuolui in eandem vitam, to bee fallen again into the same kynde of lyfe that he was before.
 Vultus reuoluere, to wryppe or bynde by the wounde agayne.
 Reuolueris eodem, thou art come to the same purpose agayne: or thou speakest nowe of the same matter, that thou spakest of before.
 Reuoluo identidem in Tusculanum, I retourne often to my place at Tusculum.
 Reuoluere librum, to peruse and ouer reade a booke agayne.
 Reuolutio, ónis, a turnyng backe to the fyrste place of poynte, a reuolution or turnyng of celestiall bodies of spheres.
 Reuolutus, a, um, tourned backe, remoued, opened, discovered.
 Reuomo, mui, mere, to parbake by agayne.
 Reuorto, tere, olde wyters used for Reuerror, to retourne.

Reus, rei, mas. ge. he that is sued or accused, the personne arraigned. sometyne he that is gyltie. sometyne a suretie, or he that hath vnderaken for a man.

Reus facti, gyltie of an offence.

Reus agitur, he is sued or accused.

Reus peragitur, he is condemned.

Reus stipulando, he that bargayneth.

Reus voti, he that hath auowed.

Reus de vi, accused of breaking the peace.

Reum subdere, To accuse one of a greaue offence.

Petitor & Reus, contrary.

Reus satis dandi, he that is bounde to bring in sureties to vndertake for hym.

Reus satis accipiendi, he that hath taken sureties of a man for his debte.

Promittendi reus, he that hath made promise for an other man.

Facere aliquem reum, to accuse one.

Reus aui iur, accused of couetousnesse.

Reus aliena culpa, accused for an other mans faulte.

Reum fieri, to bee accused, or haue somewhat laied to his charge, also to become suretie for an other mans debte.

Rex, regis, m. ge. a kynge. also a lord, a great eyche man.

Rex sacrificulus, was a chiefe minister of sacrifices amonge the Romaynes onely.

Reges auri, they that had the keeping of the common treasure.

RHa, a ryuer of Sarmatia, called also Volga, or Volgia.

Rhabarbarum, or Ponticum, Rubarbe, a precious roote, medicinable to purge coler. also to corroborate and strength the stomache and liver.

Rhacoma, m. ge. an herbe, whiche Ruclius supposeth to bee that, whiche is called Rhabarbarum.

Rhadamanthus, a kynge of Lycia, whiche was a stricte executor of Justice, and therfore was supposed of the painnys, to bee afterwarde one of the iudges in hell.

Rhagades, & Rhagadia, neu. g. plur. certayne cleftes in some partes of the body.

Rhagion, gh, neu. gen. a spider, hauing a littell blacke head, and is somewhat white, and hath shorthe feete, whose biting is venomous, as the stingyng of a scorpion.

Rhagoides, the nether thynne of the eye.

Rhagusium, a citee in Dalmatia.

Rhaia, tote Raia.

Rhamnes, & Rhamnetes, certayne gentyll men of Rome.

Rhamnus, nuntis, a famous village in the countrey of Athens.

Rhamnus, m. g. a kynde of brymbles, whiche is white, and beareth moze fruite than other dooe. and also hath flowers, and sendeth forth braunches with freight pyches, not crooked as other are, and hath brode leaues, of this be diuers kindes.

Rhamnusia, was called the goddesse of vengeance.

Rhamnusia, fidiis, of Rhamnusia.

Rhamnusia, a, um, a man of the towne called Rhamnus by Athens.

Rhamponiticum, the herbe and roote called the moze and great Lentorie: it is named of Plinius (as Ruellius writeth) Rhacoma.

Rhaminitus, the name of a certayne kynge of Egypte, as Herodotus writeth.

Rhaphanofagia, a kynde of wylderadyshe.

Rhaphanus, an herbe called radyshe.

Rhaphia, a citee of Palestine, called of the Jewes Rhama.

Rhaphius, phij, m. gene. a certayne beast lyke a woulfe, and spotted lyke a leopard.

Rhaphis, idem quod Napus.

Rhapsodi, the rehersers and interpreters of Homers verses.

Rhea, the mother of goddes, called also Cybele.

Rhea Syluia, the mother of Romulus and Remus, called also Ilia.

Rhebanus, a ryuer in the mouth of Bosphorus, a countrey in Thracia.

Rhebas, an other ryuer there.

Rheda, dā, f. g. a chariotte.

Rhedarius, rī, m. g. a chariotte man.

Rhedones, the citee of Rhenes in France.

Rhegium, a citee in the borders of Italie toward Sicile. also an other citee not farre fro Parma.

Rheginus, a man of the citee Rhegium in Calabria.

Rhegium, a, um, of Rhegium.

Rhemi, people in France, called also Rhenenses.

Rhenæ, one of the isles called Cyclades.

Rheni, orum, people dwelling by Rhenne.

Rhenenses, people dwelling on the ryuer of Rhenne.

Rhenense vigum, thenisse wyne.

Rheno, onis, m. ge. a coate made of a beastes skynne.

Rhenus, a noble ryuer of Germania, called the Rhenne.

Rheon, Reubarbe.

Rhesus, a kynge of Thracia, whiche came to the ayde of the Troians, and was slayne of Diomedes, of whom a ryuer about Troie was called Rhesus.

Rheti, a people in Italie nere the Alpes.

Rhetia, a countrey in Germanie, hangyng on the weste the Heluicians: on the southe it marcheth vpon Danubius: on the east vpon the ryuer called Lycus: on the southe it lieth vpon the mountaynes called Alpes.

Rhe-

Rhetico, onis, m. ge. a certayne mountayne by Rhætia.

Rhéticus, a, um, of Rhætia.

Rhetor, oris, m. g. he that teacheth Rhetorike.

Rhetorice, ces, or Rhetórica, cā, f. g. Rhetorike, of the craft of eloquence.

Rhetorica, orum, the exercise of feates of Rhetorike.

Rhetorice, lyke a Rhetorician.

Rhetoricor, aris, ari, to speake lyke a Rhetorician.

Rhetoricoteros, a better Rhetorician.

Rhetoricus, cā, cum, of Rhetorike.

Rhetorici, orum, bookes that teache Rhetorike.

Retorsio, au, are, to speake in the fourme of Rhetorike.

Rheus, a gyant, whom Dionise beyng tournd into a lyon, slew.

Rheuma, rheumatis, n. g. a reume or distillation of humours.

Rheumatismus, m, m. g. the disease of the reume.

Rheumaticus, a, um, that hath the reume.

Rhexia, the seconde kynde of Ancusa.

Rhexenor, the soonne of Naustithous.

Rhibis, a brymble called Raspis.

Rhibes, reasons of the coran tree.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Iuuenescy, senescy, Et pueri nasum Rhinocerotis habent, younge men, olde men, and children, and all be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

Rhinocerotis nasum habere, is saied of them that be witte.

Rhinoceros, rōis, m. g. a beaste that hath an horne in his nose, whiche naturally is enemie to the elephant: it is also an oyle vessell, out of the whiche oyle is dropped.

leaves lyke to an almonde tree, but greater, & fatte seedes, open lyke an horne, whiche hath in theyn woulle lyke purple silke, a longe roote, salte in taste, it groweth in watry places, commonly called Meander.

Rhodomeli, honny and the iuce of roses boyled together, called commonly Mel rosatum.

Rhodon, a rose.

Rhodonia, α, f. g. a gardeyne of roses.

Rhodophone, that parte of Syria, that goeth off vnder the mountaine of Taurus.

Rhodope, a mountayne in Thracia.

Rhodopeus, a, um, pertaynyng to that mountayne of Rhodope, or of Thrace.

Rhodos, a famous harlotte of Thrace, of excellent beautie, and wonderfull ryche.

Rhodora, rā, f. g. an herbe, whiche hath a stalk with knottes and iointes, and a leafe lyke a nettle, white in the middes, and in continuance waxeth all redde.

Rhodos, a famous yle in the sea called Carpathum, lyng beyond Eadp, hangyng on the north the countrey called Lycia: on the southe Egypte. In this yle were bozne many excellent philosophers and Rhetoricians: it was sometyne puissant and ryche.

Rhodostacti, idem quod Rhodomeli, all be it some dooe put a difference betwene them, sayyng, that Rhodomeli hath three partes of the iuce of roses, and one parte of honny: and that Rhodostacti hath two partes of the iuce, and one of honny.

Rhoras, whan the corners of the eyes are open, so that there dooeth spyl from theyn continual droppinges.

Rhoræus, & Rhoræus, for Troianus.

Rhoras, a mountayne of Troie, where Hecuba (Chelamonius was buried.

Rhoiton, i, n. g. wyne made of pome granates.

Rhombus, bi, m. g. a figure foure square, hauing the sydes equall, the corners crooked.

It is also a fische (as some thynke) called in English a birte: it is called of the frenche mē a Turbot, whether it be the same, whiche we cal a Turbot, I cā not tel. also a spinning wheele or turne.

Rhomphæa, α, f. g. a twoorde.

Rhonicionus, n, m. g. he that routeth of noyseth, also a mocker.

Rhonychus, chi, m. g. a routyng whan one dooth scape.

Rhonychus, aui, are, to route of noyseth.

Rhopalon, a water litle, called commonly Nenuphar.

Rhoxia, a countrey by Polonia.

Rhoxolani, people on the north parte of the ryuer of Danubius or Donow.

Rhus, is that, whiche apothecaries dooe call Sennach. Manardus libro primo, epistola quarta, saith, that it is also called Ros Syriacus.

Rhuteni, a people in France called Rhodens.

Rhymnus, a ryuer.

Rhyndacus, a ryuer whiche renneth into the sea called Pontus.
 Rhynicalcus, a man of Thyrace.
 Rhynion, a certayne comicall poete.
 Rhyparographus, phi, m. g. a painter of trifles, a fapner.
 Rhytion, ri, n. g. a beffell lyke to a moone.
 Rhythmus, mi, m. g. noumbe of harmonie in fpeakynge. it is alfo called ryme.
 Rhythmicus, a, um, that fpeaketh of fyntheth in noumbe, harmonie of proportion.
 Rhytus, a certayne cuppe, in facion of an hohne.

R ANTE I

Rica, ca, f. g. a garment of purple, hrmmed of purfled. alfo a kerchiefe, whiche wome men doe weare.
 Ricina, an ile by Irelande.
 Ricinus, ni, m. ge. and Ricinium, or Ricinum, ni, n. g. a fclcke, wherof parte was caste ouer a mannes fhoulders. it is alfo cury garmente that is foure fquare.
 Ricinus, ni, mafc. gene. a dogge tyke. it is alfo that whiche the apothecaries doe call Cherua, wherof is made an oyle, that ferueth to dyuers vfes, fo Agricola. but Ruellius maketh no mention of Cherua, but fayerh, that the Greeces byd call it Cici, and fome apothecaries doe name it Cataputta maior: and that the apothecaries of Fraunce doe call it Palma Chrifti.
 Rictus, us, m. ge. the panyng of gapyng of the mouthe: alfo a grinnyn of fcornefull opening of the mouthe. alfo the foume of the vilage, whan a man grinneth, or a dogge narreth.
 Rictus ad aures deliciens, when one gapeth fo wyde that his mouthe fcometh to reche from one eare to an other.
 Diducere rictum, to gape.
 Ricula, la, f. g. a handkerchiefe.
 Ridens, entis, laughynge.
 Rideo, risti, ridere, to laughe. alfo to fcorne of moche.
 Aliquem ridere, to mocke one.
 Ridibundus, a, um, that laugheth muche.
 Ridica, ca, f. g. a proppe, wherewith a vine or other lyke thyng is holden vp.
 Ridiculum, li, n. g. a moche, a foolifhe thyng, a thyng to be mocked and fcornd.
 Ridiculus, li, mafc. ge. a man, who ne men doe moche of laugh at, a reftyn ftocke, a laughynge ftocke.
 Mili folæ ridiculo fuit, he was a laughynge ftocke to me onely.
 Ridiculum eft iftud me admonere, it is a foolifhe thyng that you fhoulde tell me this.
 Iacere ridiculum, to fpeake a mery thyng to be laughed at.
 Ridicularius, a, um, idem quod Ridiculum.
 Ridiculè, foolifhly, in mockage.

Rigatio, onis, f. g. a watrynge.
 Rigeo, gui, gère, to be feruently colde. alfo to be harde of fteffe.
 Rigerè gelu, to be harde frozen.
 Rigenis, entis, om. ge. colde, harde of fteffe fog colde, that can not bowe.
 Rigenes oculi, eyes whiche doe neuer moue.
 Rigeo, fere idem quod Rigeo, to warr hard, or to waxe colde.
 Rigide, fteffely, fharpely, cruelly.
 Rigilacum, a, certayne etee.
 Rigidor, aris, ari, to be made fteffe or fharke.
 Rigidus, a, um, colde, harde, fteffe, fharp of eruell.
 Rigidus leo, a cruel and fierce lyon.
 Homo rigidus, a rigorous and harde perfon.
 Rigo, aui, are, to make weate, or to water a gas dyne of fiede.
 Rigor, oris, m. g. a belement colde, hardneffe, fteffeneffe.
 Rigor neruorum, fteffeneffe of the finewes.
 Rigor iuris, the rigour of extremite of the lawe.
 Rigor naturæ, rigoroufneffe & hardneffe of nature, rudeneffe.
 Riguus, a, um, that mate be cafly weate or wattered.
 Rima, mæ, f. g. a chynke of clefte in woodde of fione, whete it is not clofe topned.
 Rimas agere, to be clouen or chynked, as timbre of boudes are with lypge in the wynde.
 Rimam inuenire, to fynde an exyle of meane to efcape.
 Rimarum plenus fum, I am full of chynkes of holes: by trāffacion I hope no fclence of counfayle.
 Rimor, aris, ari, and Rimo, aui, are, to fceche diligently, to fceche in euery corner of hole. alfo to cleaue as tymber is clouen.
 Rimofus, a, um, full of cleftes of chynkes.
 Rimula, la, f. g. a littell chynke of clefte.
 Ringo, inxi, ringere, or Ringor ringeris, to gryppe or fhewe the teethe, as a dogge dooth whan he wyl bark or byte. alfo to be inwards dely angry, to braule.
 Ripa, pæ, f. g. a water banke.
 Ripariefes, certayne fouldours amonge the Romaynes, whiche laie in the borders of theyr countrey to kept out theyr ennemies.
 Ripa, iæ, f. g. a byde, whiche bredeth in water bankes.
 Riparius, a, um, that abydeh on the water banke.
 Ripæ, feu Ripei, mountaynes in Arcadia.
 Riphei, mountaynes in Scythia, where as is continuall winter, and fnows with huge windes.
 Ripheus, one of the Centaures.
 Ripula, la, f. g. a littell banke.
 Riscus, ci, m. g. a cofer couered with leather. alfo a littell wyndowe, or a hole in a wall.
 Rifibilis, le, that whiche can lawgh.

Rifio

Rifnum, a citee of Alburenia.
 Rifio, onis, f. g. a laughynge.
 Rifus, oris, m. g. a laugher.
 Rifus, us, m. g. laughter.
 Rifus fardonius, a laughter without mirth, as of them that bee madde or cruell. fuche as fepfmen vfe whan they be angry.
 Rifum concitare, to make one to laughe.
 Rifum captare, to dwe a thyng whiche caueth men to laughe.
 Rifum adere, to laughe.
 Excipere aliquid rifu, to laugh at a thyng.
 Rifus hominū de te erat, men laughed at the.
 Rifum tenere, to foybeate laughynge.
 Rite, directly, truly, euen as it fhulde be, well, conueniently, accordyngly.
 Rites, tis, m. g. idem quod Ritus.
 Ritius, a citee of Crete.
 Riualis, le, perteynyng to rites or customes.
 Riuales, bokes, wherein the foume of ceremonies and olde maners and customes are wryten.
 Ritus, us, m. g. an appoynted cufome, a rite.
 Ritū natura, the courfe of ordie of nature.
 Riualis, lis, m. g. he that loueth the fame woman that an other dooth. Riualis be alfo they, whose landes be diuided by a riuer or broke. alfo they that dwell vpon riuers.
 Sine riuale diligere, spoken prouerbiaily, of one that is foolifhly in loue with a thyng that no other man can phantafie.
 Riualitas, atis, f. g. enuie or ofseruance betwene the louers of one woman, riualitee.
 Riuius, ni, m. ge. a woar, idem quod Riualis.
 Riuis, ui, m. g. a riuer or brooke.
 Riuius, li, m. g. a littell brooke.
 Riuiolos coniectari, fontes rerum non videre, to fpeake thynges of fmall effeete, & omitte the chiefe poynte of the matter.
 Rixa, æ, f. m. g. a brawlynge contention, a fcollynge, a chynge.
 Rixor, aris, ari, to contende with brawlynge, to fcolde, & is moft commonly referred to women.
 Rixantur inter fe, they brawle and chynge one with an other.
 Rixofè, fcolldingly, with brawlynge or chynge.
 Rixofus, a, um, that brawleth or chyngeh.

R ANTE O.

Rob & Robur, names barbarous, fignifying uice of herbes or frutes defecate: rede more in Sapa.
 Robigalia, the ceremonies perteynyng to Robigus, the prefecutour of corne.
 Robiginofus, a, um, muche blafted.
 Robigo, ginis, f. ge. was honoured of the Romaynes for a goddeffe, whom they fupposed thought prefecue their corne from blaftynge. it is alfo that vice in corne called blaftynge.
 Robigus, the old Romaynes named the god that prefecued corne from blaftynge.

Robor, or Robur, róboris, n. g. harde oke. it is alfo ftrength & hardneffe of the body or mynde. fomytne the ftrength or hardneffe of any thyng generally. alfo a ftocke in prifon, or place wher men were put to execution.
 Tenere firmitatem & robur in virtute, to be firme and ftrong in vertue.
 Roboraria, places whiche are paled about.
 Robórneus, a, um, of an oke.
 Fruges roburnæ, oken mafte or acornes.
 Róboro, aui, are, to fortifie, to make ftronger.
 Robóreus, a, um, of oken tymbre.
 Robofes, the olde wryters vied for Robur, an oke.
 Robus, bi, m. g. olde wryters called redde of colour. alfo all maner of matter, which had many redde byrnes, was called Robus. it is alfo a kynde of wheate, that yeldeth fapre meale, whiche we call now redde wheate.
 Robuftus, a, um, that is made of oke, oken.
 Robuftus, a, um, ftronge and harde, fturdie.
 Rodo, fi, dere, to gnawe as a moufe or other lyke beaft dooth. fomytne to detract or backe bite.
 Rodora, loke Rhodora.
 Rodus, a, um, a thyng vnperfected or rude, but polifhed, vnwrought.
 Rogalis, le, of a great fyre.
 Rogamen, gaminis, n. g. a defyre.
 Rogatari, notaries, which requied the parties, that eche of them fhoulde prompfe.
 Rogatio, onis, was among the Romaynes, whan the Tribunes, whiche were the heade officers of the people, were contente, that any acte fhoulde paffe, whiche was made by the fenate, or by the fame Tribunes dyuided, an interrogacion, a demaundynge. alfo a lawe, an ordinaunce, a priuilege.
 Ferre rogationem ad populum, to demaunde and afke of the people, whether they be content to admytte a lawe or ordinaunce.
 Ferre rogationem per vim, to caufe the people to receiue a law or ordinaunce agaynst the mynde of al other magiftrates, or any that do refifte it.
 Accipere rogationem, to receiue or admytte a lawe or ordinaunce.
 Rogator, oris mafc. ge. a beggar from doore to doore, a praier, a defyre.
 Rogator comitorum, he that demanded the peoples mynde in admytting any ordinaunce or lawe.
 Rogatiacula, la, f. m. gen. a littell requete or demaunde.
 Rogatus, a, um, afked, demaunded, praied, defyred.
 Rogatus, us, m. g. a defyre, a requete.
 Rogitatio, onis, f. g. a law, an ordinaunce of the people.
 Rógito, aui, are, to intreate, to defyre, to demaunde, to enquire often, to afke for a thyng.
 Rogo, aui, are, to require, to praie, to enquire, to afke.

Rhyndacus, a ryuer whiche renneth into the sea called Pontus.
 Rhynitalcus, a man of Thrace.
 Rhinton, a certayne comicall poete.
 Rhyparographus, plu, m. g. a painter of trifles, a flayner.
 Rhytion, tij, n. g. a beffell lyke to a moone.
 Rhythmus, mi, m. g. nymbze of harmonie in speakeyng. it is also called ryme.
 Rhythmicus, a, um, that speaketh of singeth in nymbze, harmonie of proportion.
 Rhytus, a certayne cuppe, in facion of an hohne.

R ANTE I

Rica, ca, f. g. a garment of purple, henned or purfled. also a kerchiefe, whiche women doe weare.
 Ricina, an ile by Irelande.
 Ricinus, ni, m. ge. and Ricinium, or Ricinum, ni, n. g. a cloke, wherof parte was caste ouce a mannes shoulde. it is also curry garmente that is foure square.
 Ricinus, ni, m. g. a dogge tyke. it is also that whiche the apothecaries doe call Cherua, wherof is made an oyle, that serueth to dyuers uses, to Agricola. but Quellius maketh no mention of Cherua, but saith, that the Greeces byd call it Cici, and some apothecaries doe name it Cataputia maior: and that the apothecaries of Fraunce dooe call it Palma Christi.
 Rictus, us, m. ge. the panyng or gappage of the mouth: also a grinning or scozefull opening of the mouth. also the fourme of the visage, whan a man grinneth, or a dogge narreth.
 Rictus ad aures delitens, when one gapeth so wyde that his mouth seemeth to reche from one eare to an other.
 Diducere rictum, to gape.
 Ricala, la, f. g. a handkerchiefe.
 Ridens, entis, laughyng.
 Rideo, risti, ridere, to laughe. also to scozne or moche.
 Aliquem ridere, to moche one.
 Ridibundus, a, um, that laugheth muche.
 Ridica, ca, f. g. a pyppe, wherewith a vine or other lyke thyng is holden vp.
 Ridiculum, li, n. g. a moche, a foolyshe thyng, a thyng to be mocked and scozned.
 Ridiculus, li, m. g. a man, who ne men dooe moche or laugh at, a scyng stocke, a laughyng stocke.
 Mihi solæ ridiculo fuit, he was a laughyng stocke to me onely.
 Ridiculum est istud me admonere, it is a foolyshe thyng that you shoulde tell me this.
 lacere ridiculam, to speake a mery thyng to be laughd at.
 Ridicularius, a, um, idem quod Ridiculum.
 Ridicule, foolisshely, in mockage.

Rigatio, onis, f. g. a wateryng.
 Rigeo, gui, gere, to be feruently colde. also to be harde of stiffe.
 Rigere gelu, to be harde frozen.
 Rigens, entis, om. ge. colde, harde of stiffe for colde, that can not bowe.
 Rigentes oculi, eyes whiche doe neuer moue.
 Rigeo, scere idem quod Rigeo, to waxe hard, or to waxe colde.
 Rigide, stiffe, Marpely, cruelly.
 Rigtacum, a, certayne citee.
 Rigidor, aris, ari, to be made stiffe or starke.
 Rigidus, a, um, colde, harde, stiffe, Marpe or cruell.
 Rigidus leo, a cruell and fierse lpon.
 Homo rigidus, a rigorous and harde persone.
 Rigo, aui, are, to make weate, or to waxe a gars bene or stiffe.
 Rigor, oris, m. g. a belement colde, hardnesse, stiffenesse.
 Rigor nervorum, stiffenesse of the sinewes.
 Rigor iuris, the rigour or extremite of the lawe.
 Rigor naturæ, rigoroussnesse & hardnesse of nature, rudenesse.
 Riguus, a, um, that mafe be easly weate or wadered.
 Rima, mæ, f. g. a chinke or cleft in woodde or stone, where it is not close topned.
 Rimas agere, to be clouten or chinked, as timber or boardes are with lynge in the wynde.
 Rimam inuenire, to fynde an excule or meane to escape.
 Rimarum plenus sum, I am full of chynkes or holes: by traslation I hope no silence or counselle.
 Rimor, aris, ari, and Rimo, aui, are, to serche diligently, to serche in euery corner or hole. also to cleaue as timber is clouten.
 Rimofus, a, um, full of clefts or chynkes.
 Rimula, la, f. g. a littell chynke or cleft.
 Ringo, rinxi, ringere, or Ringor ringens, to gryppe or shewe the teethe, as a dogge dooth whan he wyl bark or bite. also to be inwardly dely angry, to brawle.
 Ripa, pæ, f. g. a water banke.
 Riparifes, certayne contibours amonge the Romaynes, whiche laie in the borders of theyr enemyes.
 Ripa, iæ, f. g. a byde, whiche byedeth in water bankes.
 Riparius, a, um, that abydeh on the water bankes.
 Ripæ, seu Ripei, mountaynes in Arcadia.
 Riphei, mountaynes in Scythia, where as is continuall winter, and snowe with huge windes.
 Ripheus, one of the Centaures.
 Ripula, la, f. g. a littell banke.
 Riscus, ci, m. g. a coffer couered with leather. also to a littell wyndowe, or a hole in a wall.
 Risibilis, le, that whiche can laugh.

Rist

Risum, a citee of Alburnia.
 Riso, onis, f. g. a laughyng.
 Risor, oris, m. g. a laugher.
 Ritus, us, m. g. laughet.
 Ritus fardonius, a laughet without mirth, as of them that bee madde or cruell. Suche as Trismen use whan they be angry.
 Rissum concitare, to make one to laughe.
 Rissum captare, to dme a thyng whiche causeth men to laugh.
 Rissum adere, to laughe.
 Excipere aliquid risu, to laugh at a thyng.
 Rissus hominū de te erat, men laughd at the.
 Rissum tenere, to forbeare laughyng.
 Rite, directly, truly, such as it shulde be, well, conueniently, accordyngly.
 Rites, tis, m. g. idem quod Ritus.
 Ritius, a citee of Erete.
 Ritualis, le, perteynyng to rites or customes.
 Rituales, bores, wherein the fourme of ceremonies and olde maners and customes are wyiten.
 Ritus, us, m. g. an approued custome, a rite.
 Ritu natura, the course or orde of nature.
 Riualis, lis, m. g. he that loueth the same woman that another dooth. Riualis be also they, whose landes be diuided by a riuer or byoke. also they that dwell vpon riuers.
 Sine riuale diligere, spoken prouerbially, of one that is folysshely in loue with a thyng that no other man can phantasie.
 Riualitas, aris, f. g. enue or obseruance betwene the louers of one woman, riualitee.
 Riuius, ni, m. ge. a woar, idem quod Riualis.
 Riuis, ui, m. g. a riuer or brooke.
 Riuius, li, m. g. a littell brooke.
 Riuiolos coniectari, fontes rerum non videre, to speake thynges of small effecte, & omite the chiefe poynte of the matter.
 Rixa, æ, f. m. g. a brawlyng contencion, a scoldyng, a chiding.
 Rixor, aris, ari, to contende with brawlyng, to scold, & is most commonly referred to women.
 Rixantur inter se, they brawle and chide one with an other.
 Rixose, coldlyngly, with brawlyng or chidinge.
 Rixofus, a, um, that brawleth or chideth.

R ANTE O.

Rob & Robur, names barbarous, signifying iure of herbes or feuites defecate: rede more in Sapa.
 Robigalia, the ceremonies perteynyng to Robigus, the preseruator of corne.
 Robiginofus, a, um, muche blasted.
 Robigo, ginis, f. ge. was honoured of the Romaynes for a goddess, whom they supposed thought preserue their corne from blasting. it is also that vice in corne called blasting.
 Robigus, the old Romaynes named the god that preserued corne from blasting.

Robor, or Robur, rōboris, n. g. harde oke. it is also strength & hardnesse of the body or mynde. somtyme the strength or hardnesse of any thyng generally. also a stockes in prison, or place where men were put to execution.
 Tenere firmitatem & robur in virtute, to be firme and strong in vertue.
 Roboraria, places whiche are paled about.
 Roborneus, a, um, of an oke.
 Fruges roburnæ, oken masse or scoznes.
 Roboro, aui, are, to fortifie, to make stronger.
 Roboreus, a, um, of oken lymbze.
 Robores, the olde wryters bled for Robur, an oke.
 Robus, bi, m. g. olde wryters called redde of colour. also all maner of matter, which had many redde beynes, was called Robus. it is also a kynde of wheate, that yeldeth saye meale, whiche we call now redde wheate.
 Robustus, a, um, that is made of oke, oken.
 Robustus, a, um, stronge and harde, sturdie.
 Rodo, si, dere, to gnawe as a mouse or othere lyke beast dooth. somtyme to detract or bache a byte.
 Rodora, loke Rhodora.
 Rodus, a, um, a thyng vnperfected or rude, vnpolysht, vnwrought.
 Rogalis, le, of a great fyre.
 Rogamen, gaminis, n. g. a desyre.
 Rogatarij, notaries, which requyred the parties, that eche of them shoulde promyse.
 Rogatio, onis, was among the Romaynes, whan the Tribunes, whiche were the heade officers of the people, were contente, that any acte shoulde passe, whiche was made by the senate, or by the same Tribunes dyuisd, an interrogacion, a demaundyng. also a lawe, an ordinaunce, a priuilege.
 Ferre rogationem ad populum, to demaunde and aske of the people, whether they be content to admytte a lawe or ordinaunce.
 Ferre rogationem per vim, to cause the people to receiue a law or ordinance agaynst the mynde of al other magistrates, or any that do resiste it.
 Accipere rogationem, to receiue or admytte a lawe or ordinaunce.
 Rogator, oris m. g. a beggar from doore to doore, a paiser, a desyre.
 Rogator comitorum, he that demanded the peoples mynde in admytting any ordinaunce or lawe.
 Rogatiuncula, la, f. m. gen. a littell requeste or demaunde.
 Rogatus, a, um, asked, demaunded, paised, desired.
 Rogatus, us, m. g. a desyre, a request.
 Rogatio, onis, f. g. a law, an ordinaunce of the people.
 Rogito, aui, are, to intreate, to desyre, to demaunde, to enquire often, to aske for a thyng.
 Rogo, aui, are, to require, to paise, to enquire, to aske.

aske of one, to inarte.

Rogare plebem, to enquire of the commons, if they bee content that a lawe shall passe: or as in our parliament, to goe to the question.

Rogare aliquem sententiam, to demaunde of one what his opinion is.

Rogare sacramento, to sweare one, or to geue to hym an othe.

Rogare auxilium, to desyre one to helpe vs.

Ab amico argentum rogare, To desyre ones frende to lende hym money.

Vasa inspicienda rogare, to desyre one to lend certaine vessel onely to see theym.

Roget quis, one perchaunce wyl demaunde of me.

Suplice voce rogare, to desyre one humbly.

Occidere aliquem rogando, to intreate one importunately.

Rogus, gi, m. g. a great fyre, wherin deade bodies were burned.

Roma, the citee of Rome.

Romanensis, he that cometh from an other countrey, and dwelleth at Rome.

Romania, is a countrey called Thrace.

Romanus, a Romayne.

Romanus, a, um, of Rome.

Romandues, called nowe Veromandi, Veromandois.

Romula, a tree, vnder the which Romulus, and Remus were founde.

Romuleus, a, um, of Romulus.

Romulide, Romaynes.

Rumulus, li, the fyrste kynge of Romanes.

Romulus, a, um, of Romulus.

Ronchisso, like Rhonchisso.

Ronchus, like Rhonchus.

Ronchifonus, like Rhonchifonus.

Roralis, le, of dew, dewy, that maie bee spynned like dew.

Rorans, antis, that mowsteth with a dew.

Rorarij milites, men, whiche beynge lyght armed made the fyrst begynninge in battaile.

Rorarium vinum, wyne that was geuen to the souldiours called Rorarij.

Roratio, onis, for. ge. a fallynge downe of dew. also a disense in vines, by the occasion whereof the chiefe grapes doe fall awaie.

Roresco, scere, to be washed with dew.

Rorifacio, feci, cere, to spynle.

Roro, aui, are, to dew or droppe downe lyke dew.

Rorare aliquem cruore, to spynle one with bloude.

Rorat, the dew falleth.

Rorifer, rifiera, rum, that byngeth dew.

Rorulentus, a, um, full of dew.

Ros, roris, m. g. dew.

Ros syriacus, that whiche is called of the apothecaries Sunach.

Rosa, a, m. ge. a rose: sometyme used for the oyle of roses.

Rosa mea, my sweete one.

Rosaceus, a, um, of roses.

Aqua rosacea, rose water.

Rosago, idem quod Cisthus.

Rosacina, idem.

Rosalia, garlandes of roses.

Rosarium, ri, n. g. a garden of bedde of roses, or many roses sette together, a rosier.

Roscidus, a, um, that is wetted or moisted with dew.

Nox rosida, a dewy nyght.

Roscius, a Romayne, and a plaier in comedies, whom for his excellencye in pronunciation and lecture, the noble Cicero called his iewel, and to muche delighted in him, that he contended with hym, whether Roscius coulde sette forth the one sentence in mo facions of gesture and countenance, or he expresse the same sentence in a more dyuerstie of eloquent wordes. The excellency of this man in his arte, howe it was esteemed and fauoured of all the Romaynes, it appeareth well, in that they gaue to hym for a continuall stipende, one thousande of theyr groates for every daye: whiche amounteth of our money to sixtene pounde, thertene shyllynges and foure pence. and Lucius Sylla beyng Dictatour, gaue to hym a ryng of golde, whiche was the token of a knyght at that tyme, as a colar of chayne of golde is at this tyme.

Rosetum, ti, n. g. a garden of roses.

Roseus, a, um, of a rose, or of the colour of a rose.

Dea rosea, the mornynge.

Rosidus, a, um, looke Roscidus.

Rosio, onis, f. g. gnawynge.

Rosmarinum, ni, neu. gen. of Rosmarinus, ni, ma. gen. rosemarie.

Rosmaris, a certayne tree.

Rostellum, li, neu. gen. a littell beake of bill of a byrde, or a littell snowte.

Rostra, strorum, rostris, was a place in Rome afore the courte called Hostilia, wherein was a pulpitte, in whiche the oratours of Rome were wont to stande, whan they preached to the people, or declared any matter: of the whiche place this woorde Pro rostris, in the pulpitte, or at the barre.

Rostratus, a, um, that hath a bill a beake or a snowte. also that is armed with a stemme, as a myppe.

Rostrata naues, myppes haupnge pikes of yron without the stemme.

Rostro, aui, are, to thrust in the beake of bill.

Rostrum, stri, n. g. a beake of a byrde, a snowte of a beast of fyre. also the stemme of a myppe or bote.

Rostrum canis, a dogges mousyll or nose.

Rostrum delphini, a delphins beake.

Suis rostrum, a sowes snowte.

Rota, a, f. gen. a whele. also a kynde of fyrethe.

also a kynde of gotes.

Rorans, antis, turnynge or swynge about.

Roratus, a, um, swynge or tourned rounde.

Rothomagus, the citee of Roan in Normandy.

Roto, aui, are, to tourne a thynge lyke a whele, to swynge about.

Roula, la, f. g. a littell whele.

Rotella, idem.

Rotundatio, onis, roundenesse.

Rounde, roundely, aptely, elegantlye, handsomely, propely in wordes, copately, in god orde.

Rotunditas, atis, f. g. roundenesse.

Rotundo, aui, are, to make rounde.

Rotundare caput, to haue a rounde head, or to growe with a rounde heade, as popie dooeth.

Rotundus, a, um, rounde. sometyme well compparte of factioun.

Ore rotundo loqui, to expresse muche in fewe wordes.

Rotundus orator, id est, elegans & coposus.

Roxana, the daughter of Darius, and concubine of Alexander, whiche beynge greatte with childe, was drowned by hir sister Satyra.

Roxicum, a citee of the yle of Corsica, called somtyme Rogela.

Rubecula, la, f. g. a robben redbreast.

Rubedo, dinis, rednesse.

Rubefacio, befasis, feci, facere, to make redde.

Rubescio, fieri, to be made redde.

Rubefactus, a, um, made redde.

Rubella, redde grapes.

Rubellio, onis, a fysh called a rochette.

Rubellianus, a, um, somewhat redde.

Rubellianæ vites, idem quod Rubellæ vites.

Rubellus, a, um, somewhat redde.

Rubellæ vites, vines, the woodde whereof is redde.

Rubellum vinum, clarette wyne.

Rubens, entis, om. g. ruddie.

Rubeo, rubui, bere, to be redde.

Rubesco, scere, to waxe redde, to be made redde.

Ruber, bra, brum, redde.

Rubetra, a, f. g. may be used for that byrde which we call a buntynge.

Rubeta, a, f. g. a tode that breedeth chieflie amonge bymblies and byters, and is of colour somewhat redde.

Ruberarius, ri, m. g. a kynde of haukes, whiche we call a hen harroer.

Rubetum, ti, n. g. a busshy close.

Rubeus, a, um, redde. Hermolaus Barbarus denieth it to be latine. it is sometyme used for Spineus, a, um.

Rubi, borum, a towne in Campania.

Rubia, a, f. g. called of the apothecaries Rubra maior, & Rubra tinctorum, or Rubea tinctoria.

rum, an herbe, wherewith they colour woul of skynnes, madder.

Rubia sylvestris, woodrough.

Rubicilla, la, a byrde of the biggenesse of a sparowe, haupng a veray shoyte bill and broade, a broade tonge. &c. we call it a bulfinche.

Rubicon, conis, a river in Italic, whiche diuideth Gallia from the parte of Italic, now called Romandiola, and in olde tyme Flaminea.

Rubicundulus, a, um, somewhat ruddy.

Rucundus, a, um, ruddy or veray redde.

Rubidus, a, um, a swarte redde. also rough or course, as byrde haupng muche branne.

Rubigalia, drum, feastis ordeyned for the prestes uacion of coze from blasynge.

Rubigino, aui, are, to ruste.

Rubiginosus, a, um, rustie.

Rubigo, ginis, f. g. ruste. also the blasynge of coze.

Rubor, boris, m. g. rednesse.

Rubrica, ca, f. g. redde chalyce, or ruddell, wherewith sheepe are marked.

Rubriceta, a, f. g. roseate colour, suche as women vse to painte theym with.

Rubricofus, a, um, redde.

Rubricatus, a, um, a ryuer in Spayne called Rubiez gat.

Rubricatus, a, um, coloured with redde, or ruddis, as sheepe are.

Rubrus, a, um, redde.

Rubus, bi, m. or for. ge. a bymble, a bushe, the blache berpe tree.

Rubus caninus, the wyld eglantyne byer.

Ructator, onis, m. g. he that belcheth.

Ructatrix, the femmine.

Ructatrix herba, an herbe that maketh one to belche or byrke wynde upwarde.

Ructans, a, um, that is belched vp.

Ructito, aui, are, to byrke wynde often.

Ructo, aui, are, to belche or byrke wynde upwarde.

Ructor, tari, idem.

Ructare crapulam, to sauour of to muche byrke.

Ructatio, onis, idem quod Ructus.

Ructuosus, a, um, that belcheth muche.

Ructus, us, m. g. belkynge or byrke wynde upwarde.

Rudens, entis, om. g. byrpnge lyke an asse.

Rudens, tis, m. & f. g. a cabell of a myppe.

Ruderarium cribrum, a rangeynge sieue.

Ruderatio, onis, f. g. a layng of rubbisthe.

Ruderatus, a, um, where muche rubbisthe lyeth.

Rudero, aui, are, to laie on olde stones and rubs bell. also to daube or laie on morter.

Rudetum, ti, n. g. a place where lyeth muche rubs byrke or ruddell. also lande, whiche hath lyeen lye, and is newely put in replthe.

Rudix, diarum, an olde towne in Apulia, where the poete Ennius was borne.

Rudarius, ri, masc. ge. he whiche is discharged of fyghtynge with a swoorde. also a bodger, or a mender of olde garmentes, and a sluter of mad her of sicures.

Rudicula, lā, f. g. a pottle sticke, wherewith men sturre thynges that are sodde ouer the fyre.
Rudimentum, ri, neu. gene. the fyrste teachynge of childzen, a rudiment, the fyrste instruction of beginnyng.
Rudimentum lucis, the beginnyng of the lyfe.
Rudimentum ponere, to begynne to learne,
to practise fyrste.
Rudimenta tyrocini deponere sub aliquo, to learne or be fyrste instructed of one in feates of armes or any other thyng.
Radio, diui, dire, to teache one, whiche is vnder learned.
Rudis, dis, fā. g. a rodde or yerde, whiche was geuen to swoorde plaicrs, whan they came to lx. peres olde, in token that they were set at lye bertec: sometyme lybertec from labour. Iam pidius writeth, that swoorde plaicrs did playe with suche rodde.
Rude donari, to be discharged of attendaunce, pro
priely in swoorde playnge or in the warres.
Rudem accipere, hath the same signification.
Rudis, de, rude, ignoraunte, vnlearned, vnder taught, that knoweth nothyng, not exercised or traded in a thyng, nothyng experte or coun nyng. also rusticall.
Rudis in iure ciuili, ignoraunte in the lawe civile.
Rei militaris rudis, nothyng experte in feates of armes.
Rudis rerum omnium, that knoweth nothing.
Rude carmen, a grosse verse, a rough verse, an vnfacioned verse.
Ad seditiones rudis, that can not tell howe to gouerne and rule in the tyme of sedition and businesse.
Rudus, rudis, n. g. sheldes or pieces of stones broken and scattered, rubbell or rubbyshe of olde houses.
Ruditas, āris, f. g. rudenesse, lacke of learnynge, or witte, dulnesse of witte.
Rudo, rudi, rudere, to brate lyke an asse. it is sometyme spoken of a man. sometyme of a wo man: sometyme of Lions.
Rufeo, fes, and Rufesco, scere, to be somewhat redde, to ware redde.
Rufinus, the name of certayne Romaynes.
Ruso, aui, are, to make redde.
Rufimaceria, a towne of Lampayne.
Rufuli, certayne capitaynes made by the consull, who afterwarde were called Rufuli.
Rufulus, a, um, somewhat redde.
Rufus, a, um, idem.
Rufum ne illam? What that redde headed wenche?
Rufus, the name & surname of diuers Romaynes,
Ruga, gā, f. g. a wrinkle or plait.
Rūgio, gini, gire, to rote lyke a lyon.
Rugitus, us, m. g. a rotyng.

Rugo, aui, are, to be plaited or wrinkled.
Rugo, xi, gere, to belke.
Rugosus, a, um, full of playtes or wrinkles, w thered or riuelled.
Ruidus, or Ruuidus, a, um, adiectiuum.
Ruidum pilum, a pestell that hath no prong as the ende, and is rough and not plained.
Ruuidus panis, bread that is not thorough bak ked, and is therfore rough in eatynge.
Ruina, nā, f. g. ruine, extreme decay.
Subdere caput ruinae, to put his lyfe in dan ger.
Neronis ruina, the death or decay of Nero.
Caeli ruina, thunder.
Ruinosus, a, um, ruinous, in decay, lyke to fall.
Rulla, lā, f. g. the staffe, wherewith the ploughman clenseth the culter, or rather the prong that is set on the staffe.
Rullus, a Romayne, which brought fyrst a whole boze to the table in seruice.
Ruma, mā, f. g. was of the olde wyters called a teate. it is also the throte bolle.
Rumborinus, idem quod Rumpotinus.
Rumen, minis, n. g. the drawlappe of a beaste.
also a place in the beap, a panche, also a teate.
Rumentum, ri, n. g. a bastyng out, an impos tume that bastyeth out of the fleshe.
Rumex, rumicis, f. g. sorrell. also a weapon lyke to a speare.
Rumia, a goddesse, whom the painims supposed to be beneficiall to womens brestes, and to suckynge childzen.
Rumifero, aui, are, to carry abroade a rumour.
Rumigare, to chewe the cudde.
Rumigero, aui, are, to carry idynges.
Rumigerulus, a letter of idynges.
Ruminales hostie, sacrifices of those beastes,
whiche chewe the cudde.
Ruminālis ficus, a figge tree, vnder the whiche it is supposed that a wolfe gaue sucke to Romu lus and Remus.
Ruminatio, ōnis, f. g. a chewynge of the cudde,
as a beaste dooth. also deliberation or aduise ment, a callynge of a thyng to remembraunce, or considerynge and recoulyng of a thyng in the mynde.
Rumino, aui, are, & Ruminor, aris, ari, to chewe
the cudde. also to call eiesoonces to remem brance, to weygh and consider in the mynde.
Rumis, mis, a teate.
Rumito, aui, are, to beare idynges.
Rumo, aui, are, to geue the teate to a chyld. also idem quod Rumino.
Rumor, ōris, m. g. idynges, rumour, or brylle.
Parua aura rumoris, the least brylle of rumors that can be.
Rumor ait, the repozte of brylle is.
Disferre rumorem, to spreade a rumour.
Rumores excipere, to hearken or knowe what rumour goeth abroade.
Rumpi, porum, transomes.

Rum

Rumpo, rupi, rumpere, to bzeake, to make weary.
Rumpere moras, to make haste.
Rumpere silentium, to kepe no longer silence,
to speake at length.
Vt me ambulando rumperet, that he wolde make me sturke wepy with walkynge.
Adius rumpere, to bzeake in.
Patientiam rumpere, to ware angrie.
Fidem rumpere, to bzeake promise.
Vocem rumpere, to speake at the last with dignation.
Me rupi currendo, I haue weied my selfe
with runnyng.
Rumpi malis, & non moueri, contrarie.
Rumpotinum, a bush, which groweth in France, of whiche Columella writeth, that no coze shoulde be sowne within twente foote thereof.
Rumpotinetum, the place where suche bushes dooe growe.
Rumpotinus, the name of the poplar tree amonge them that dwell beyonde the riuer Po in Italy.
Rūmula, lā, f. g. a littell teate.
Rumusculus, li, m. g. a littell rumour or brylle.
Runa, nā, fā. gen. a weapon sometyme vfed in Fraunce.
Runca, cā, f. g. vfed of olde wyters for Run cina.
Runcatio, ōnis, f. g. weedynge.
Runcator, ōris, a weeder.
Rūncina, nā, f. g. a whiplawe, wherewith tymber is sawed. it is also a bussheshe or byll to cutte bushes. Runcina is also the goddesse of wea dynge. it cometh also after some, to be a great plane, that topyners vse.
Rūncino, aui, are, to sawe timber.
Runco, aui, are, to weede or pull vpp by the rootes.
Runfor, ōris, one of the names of Pluto, called god of hell.
Ruo, rui, ruere, to fall, to rushe or bzeake out downe violently, to renne headlyng and with violence, to goe hastily, to poure out, to be de ceyued, to subuerie, to ouerthrow or cast downe violently, to plucke vpp, to digge vpp out of the grounde, to bzeake asunder, to throwe downe.
Quo moriture ruis maioraq; viribus audes?
Whither rennest thou headlyng to be slayne, and attemptest thynges aboue thy puissance: also to lyte vpp.
Et ruit aram ad cælum picea crassus caligine nubem, and beyng thicke, it listeth vpp to hea uen a cloude as blacke as pitch. sometyme it signifieth to make a great noyse.
Ruit arduus æther, the high firmament rum bled or made a great noyse.
Ruit imbris cælum, it rayned sore, or it ray ned as heauen wolde haue fallen downe.
Ruit dies, id est, oritur, the day cometh on.
Sol ruit, id est, discedit, the son goeth downe.
Ruit ver, id est, in finem vergit, the sprynge tyme bzeaweth towarde an ende.

Flumina ruunt per campos, the ryuers renne swiftly or with great violence throughe the fi eldes.
Vide sis ne quid imprudens ruas, id est immo deste agas, see ye plaie no weyde touche ere ye be ware.
Portis ruunt, thei rushe or renne violently out at the gates.
Ruere ad interitum voluntarium, to renne headlonge to present deathe willingly.
Pari emptorem ruere, id est, decipi, to suffre
the byer to be deceiued and begyled.
Cæteros ruereim, the other I woulde cast head longe downe to the grounde.
Illum ruere nuntiant, they saie that he cometh with all haste and speede that can be possible.
Rupes, pis, f. g. a hill, a banke, or roche so to kepe downe, that no man maie clymme it.
Rupicapra, a, f. g. a wyld goat.
Repicias, for damnum dederis, thou shalt paze or yelde damages.
Ruptor, ōris, m. g. one that bzeaketh or vbiol
teth.
Ruptus, ta, tum, broken or baste, weied, toze or rente.
Rurālis, le, rusticall or of the village.
Rurestris, stre, of the countrey, not of the citee or towne.
Ruricola, lā, com, g. an husband man, he that laboureth or tyllith the earthe.
Rurigena, boyne in the countrey out of a citee or great towne.
Ruro, aui, are, and Ruror, aris, ari, to dooe af ter the countrey facion, to dwell in the countrey or out of the citee.
Rursus, & rursum, eftsoones or backwarde,
on the other parte, agayne.
Rus, iuis, n. ge. the countrey out of the citee,
where as husbandry is vfed and exercised.
Ruscum, ci, n. g. of Ruscus, ci, m. g. rede Bruscum.
Ruscium, Rusilion or Perpignan in Fraunce.
Ruspor, aris, āri, to serche diligently. it is pro priely to shape as an henne dooth when she se keth for meate.
Rustatus, a, um, idem quod rufus.
Rustus, & Rusteus, a, um, redde.
Rūstica, cā, f. g. a birde lyke a partridge, but he hath a longe byll.
Rusticanus, a, um, rusticall, or of the countrey or village.
Rusticius, a, um, pertynyng to one of the countrey, or to husbandry.
Falces rusticarū, hedgering billes.
Rusticatio, ōnis, f. g. a bydynge in the countrey.
Rustice, rusticall, vncurrently, rudely.
Rusticūm, idem, churlyshly, after the facion of the countrey.
Rusticitas, tātis, f. g. churlishnesse, sometyme scarefulnesse, rusticite, rudenesse.

Et si

Et si rusticitas non verat, ipsa rogat, and yet that foolish the bascheafelneſſe let her not, she may her requeste.

Rusticor, aris, ari, to dwell in the countrey, or exercise husbandrie.

Rusticulus, a, um, somewhat rude or rusticall.

Rusticus, a, um, rusticall, uplandshe, homely, without courtelie.

Rusticus, ci, m. g. one of the countrey, an husb band man.

Rusticus, is also the propre name of a man.

Ruta, ræ, f. g. rewe, called also herbe gracie.

Ruta & cæsa, Marcus saith, that in Rutis, & cæsis, are those thynges, that be not fast in the grounde, nor are any parte of the buildyng, or the covering of a house: they bee properly all those thynges that a man causeth either to bee digged out of the grounde, or to bee cut downe for the use of his householde, as grauell, sande, chalker, woodde, tymbre, coles.

Ruta, orum, n. g. Plu. is amonge the lawiers all thynges digged out of the grounde, as stone, sande, grauell, chalker, leade, and other metatalles.

Rutabulum, li, n. g. a cole rake to make cleane an ouen.

Rutaceus, a, um, of or pertaining to rewe.

Rutatus, a, um, made of rewe.

Rutellum, li, n. g. a littell mattocke.

Rutheni, people beyond Liouonia, of whome the countrey is now called Russia, there bee also people in Fraunce about Towres so called.

Ruticilla, a little birde called a red tayle.

Rutillatus, a, um, that is stained with a bryghte redde.

Rutilesco, scere, to waxe somewhat ruddie.

Rutilius, the name of diuers Romaynes.

Rutilo, aui, are, to shine.

Rutilus, a, um, that is shynyng redde.

Rutuli capilli, yelow heare.

Ruto, aui, are, a frequentatiue of Ruo.

Rutrum, ri, n. g. a mattocke.

Rutuba, olde wyters used for Turbatio.

Id postea viderimus, nunc sumus in rutuba, we will afterwarde see, now we be in trouble.

Rutuba, a ryuer in Liguria, rennyng from the mountayne called Appenninus.

Rutuli, an aunciente people in Italie, of whom Turnus was kynge, whome Aeneas vanquished.

Rutulus, a, um, of the people Rutuli.

Rutulli, a mans name.

Rutupia: an haven in Kent called Sandwich.

Rutupinus, a, um, of that haven.

Rutupinum promontorium, a goze or elbowe of lande in Englands, lying into the sea about Sandwiche.

ABA, or Sabe, a great cite in Ethiopia, also the chief cite of the people called Sabæi in Arabia.

Saba, significeth a mistere.

Sabæa or Saba, a countrey in the middell of Arabia towards the east, inuironed about with great rocks, wherein is a great wood of precious trees, some of Sinamum and Cassia, some hyngyng forth frankensence and myrr. The length of that woodde is twentie of the myles called Schoeni, which comprehendeth of Italian myles, one hundred and fiftie, Plin. li. 12. Theophrastus li. 9. de hist. plant. Solinus writeth, that the region hyngyng forth frankensence is from a towne there named Atramitæ. viii. manions whiche in derde containeth. 224. miles, Mansio of Strabon beyng of. 28. Italian myles. the chief cite of that realme is called Sabota.

Sabæi, people of the realme of Sabæa.

Sabaoth, in the plural nūbre, in the hebrew tonge, significeth of hostes or armys, or powers.

Sabatharius, ri, m. g. and Sabatharia, æ, fæ. g. he or she that keepeth the Sabboth daie.

Sabath, a propre name, wherof cometh Sabadie, ni, the name of a people.

Sabbathismus, a vacacion after labours.

Sabbathizare, to kepe Sabboth daie.

Sabbatum, thi, n. g. was amonge the iewes accustomed the seventh daie, in the which they fasted, in remembrance of the .vii. daies, in the which they were fatigat goyng fastyng in the desert of Arabia, ere they came to the mount of Sinai. Sainte Augustine vpon the psalmes writeth, that Sabbathum is taken thre maner of waies: for the .vii. daie is called by that name, in the which almighty god rested after his worke of .vi. daies. Sabbathum is also eternall quietnesse. moreover Sabbathum is the conscience of a quiet mynde, aduanced by hope of the tyme to come, not beyng shaken or vexed with stormes of thynges present.

Sabæus, a, um, of the people Sabæi.

Sabacus, a tyng of Ethiopia.

Sabata, Sabatia, or Sabatum, a cite of Liguria, a, called Sauona.

Sabara, a certaine poete.

Sabe, in the tongue of Syria, is the moneth of Februarie.

Sabelli, people dwellinge in the mountaynes betwene the Sabines and Marsy in Italie.

Sabellus, and Sabellus, a, um, of the people Sabini in Italy.

Sabidius, a Romayne, which was a notable glutton.

Sabim, amonge the Arabians doeth signifie god.

Sabina, næ, f. g. a weapon lyke to a boie speare, it is also the herbe called Saune.

Sabini, people in Italie, betwene Latini & Vmbri.

Sabinus, a, um, of the Sabines.

Sabiusa, a gate at Rome, out of the which men went to the Sabines.

Sabota, a cite of Traby.

Sabrina, a creeke of the Britayne sea.

Sabrina, a great riuer in Englands called Seracene, whiche renneth in to the sea by Wyke.

Pytholomeus calleth it Sabriana.

Sabucus, like Sambucus.

Sabuleum, ri, n. g. a grauell pitte.

Sabulum, li, n. g. grosse sande, or grauell.

Sabulosus, a, um, grauell, full of grauell.

Sabura, ræ, a mans name.

Saburi, a tynde of sacrifice.

Saburra, ræ, fæm. g. laggage or bale, wherewith shippes are euen popled, to go vpright, whiche is commonly of grauell.

Saburratus, a, um, loded with grauell or other lyke erthe, baled, and by translation, full.

Saburro, aui, are, to bales a shippe.

Sabyllus, a tynde of a cite in Sicile called Gela.

Sacæ, people of Ethiopia.

Sacæ, a tynde of ambre founde in Egypte.

Sacrum, a countrey of Asia beyond the sea called Caspium, the people wherof haue no houses, but dwell in Laues.

Saccaria, æ, fæm. gen. marchandise of sakes or bagges.

Saccarius, a, um, that beareth a sache.

Saccatus, a, um, that is put in a sache.

Saccharum, ri, or Sacchar, ris, n. g. sugar.

Saccellare, to appaile and amende wynges put into saches.

Saccipium, ri, n. g. a pouche.

Sacconia, æ, fæm. ge. a clothe to wype a thyng with, a naphen. also a territorie, or rather (if the place of Vitruuius be not corrupted) the tongue of a balance.

Saccularius, ri, m. g. a crafty decepuer, whiche in sellyng of grapne out of saches, will couer away part, it is also a purse cutter.

Sacculus, li, masc. gen. a littell sache, a bagge or purse.

Saccus, ci, m. g. a sache.

Sacellum, li, n. g. a chapel or littell church.

Sacer, cra, crum, holy, consecrate: somtyme cursed, detestable.

Sacer locus, a place consecrate or dedicate.

Sacer morbus, the falling sicknesse.

Sacer mons, an hill dedicate to Jupiter. iii. miles fro Rome, beyond the riuer called Anien: an other by Gallatia, wherin gold is found.

Sacrum est ritu, it is a holy and laudable custome, that can not be let passe.

Sacer ignis, a sicknesse, wherin is vehement inflammation and burning of the body some doe suppose it to be saint Antonies fire.

Sacerdos, dôris, com. g. a prieste.

Sacerdotissa, a woman prieste.

Sacerdotialis, le, belongyng to a prieste.

Sacerdotium, ri, n. g. priesthod, somtyme a be-hefice or spirituall promotion.

Sacra via, a strete in Rome, wher peace was made betwene Romulus and Taciuss, and through the which the vanquishers passed with theyr triumphe to the Capitol.

Sacoma, comatis, neu. ge. that is put in the balance to make euen weight, the tongue of the balance.

Sacramentum, ri, n. g. an othe: amonge vs christen men it significeth a holy signe, or a signe of an holy thyng, wherin is conteyned a diuine mistere, and is called a sacrament.

Sacramentum militare, the othe that souldiours make.

Sacramenta, is taken for men of warre.

Sacramentum, as Marro writeth, li. 2. de lingua latina, was a gage in money laied by the parties, whiche contended together: so that he whiche recouered in iudgement, shulde take as gayne his gage, he that was condemned, shulde lose his gage, which was brought to the comon treasure, and this was called Sacramentum.

Sacramento iusto contendere, to gage suite, as is before written.

Sacramento rogari, souldiours swoyne not to depart untill the warres were all finished.

Sacramento teneri, to be swoyne.

Sacraui, certayne people in Italie.

Sacrarium, ri, n. gen. a scetie or bestie, wherin are kepte thynges halowed and reliques. also a chapel or oratory in an house or other place.

Sacratio, ônis, f. g. a consecration.

Sacratus, more holy.

Sacrator, ôris, m. g. he that doeth consecrate.

Sacratus, a, um, sacrate, holy, consecrate.

Sacrata: leges, lawes, in the which it is enacted, that who so dooeth offende against them, is accursed.

Sacres porci, weaned pigges that were sacris ficed.

Sacrifer, crifera, rum, that beareth holy thynges.

Sacrificalis, le, belongyng to sacrifice.

Sacrificatio, ônis, f. g. a sacrificyng.

Sacrificium, ci, n. g. sacrifice.

Sacrifico, aui, are, to doe sacrifice, to consecrate, to aske forgiveness of god.

Sacrificulus, li, m. g. a priest.

Sacrificus, ci, m. gen. he that doeth the sacrifice, a priest.

Sacrificus, a, um, that is used in sacrifice.

Sacrilegium, gi, n. g. thefte, or takyng awaie of thynges halowed, called sacrilege: and by translation, any haynous or detestable offence.

Sacrilegus, sacrilegi, m. g. he that violently taketh awaie or stealeth thynges halowed, or thynges unhalowed out of a holy place.

Sacrilegus is used for impius, nepharius, scelerosus.

Hunc perterrebo sacrilegum, I will make this wicked felow throughly aserde.

Paulus lurecon. Sunt autem sacrilegi, qui publica sacra compilarint.

 Sacrum, m., neu. g. muste of newe wyne that was gotten in sacrifice to Bacchus.
 Sacrificerius, m., g. he that keepeth the hinges letters of Records concerning the crowne, or booke of great appoyntment.
 Sacrum, a hynde of aumbe, whiche cometh out of Seythia.
 Sacro, au, are, to dedicate, to halow. sometyme to curse a man and all his goddes.
 Sacrare foras, id est, sancire.
 Sacrare caput cum bonis, among the Romans were olde lawes, that for a certayne offence it was lesell for any man, whiche did mete with the offender, to sea hym as a sacrifice vnto the infernall Jupiter: and his goddes were dedicate to the diuilles of hell: and this was called Sacrare caput cum bonis.
 Templum sacrare, to dedicate a churche.
 Vota diis sacrare, to make vowes to the goddes.
 Sacrosanctus, a, um, consecrate or halowed, that whiche mought not be touched but reuerently, or was sure from all iniurie, that might not be hurt on peyne of life and death.
 Sacrosancta potestas, was properly attributed to the authorites of the Tribunes, called Tribuni plebis, it is now most convenient for the authorites of the catholike churche.
 Sacrum, cri, n. g. any thyng dedicate to god, also so sacrifice, solemnitee vnto sacrifice, comes tyme a temple or churche: also Sacra doe signifie holy wordes, also charmes.
 Placulare sacrum facere, to make sacrifice for purgynge of a naughty offence.
 Socialia sacra, wedlocke.
 Stata sacra, ordinarie solemnitees, that be kept perely.
 Inter sacrum & saxum stare, proverbiially to be in daunger.
 Sacrum promontorium, a great mountayne or rocke in the south west parte of Spayne, lyng on the sea called now Cape saint Vincent.
 Seduceri, were men of a certayne secte amonge the Iewes, who helde opiniõ, that the soule was mortall, and that it dyed with the body, they were diuers in maners and cruell to strangers.
 Sadyattes, the sonne of Medys, whiche reigned after his father in Lydia.
 Saculum, is properly the space of an hundred yeres: it is commonly taken for a space of time, wherein one faction of the worlde hath continued, loke Seculum.
 Sape, often tymes, diuers tymes, more then ones or twyle.
 Sapienimero, Sapiuscule, Sapiule, idem.
 Sapius, more often.
 Sapiissime, very often.
 Sapium, a citee of the Samnites.
 Sauius, uiui, and un, uiue, to be verie angrie, to be valiantly, to be fierse or cruell, to exercise tyranny, to be eager, to shewe rigour, to rage.

 Scutiter, rudely, cruelly, fiercelly.
 Magis cogito scutiter, blanditerne alloquar, I thinke more whiche I may speake to hym rudely or gentilly.
 Scutia, a, f. g. crueltee.
 Adhibere scutiam, to be crueltee.
 Scelus, a, um, cruell, horrible, sometyme angrie, infeste, fierse, valiant, mightie, rough, tiranouse.
 Sculissima hyems, a meruailous colde winter.
 Saga, a, f. g. a wyse or subyle woman, also a wyche or sorceresse. Saga, is also a certayne garment, a cassake.
 Sagacuculla, the hode of a cloke.
 Sagacitas, a, is, f. g. wyttinesse, or sharpnesse of wyte, quicknesse of spirite and perceyving of a thyng.
 Sagaciter, wittily, finelly, with great sharpnesse and quicknesse of wyte.
 Sagax, acis, om. gen. wyttie, hauing the senses sharpe, that perceyuet of forseeeth a thyng quickly before it come.
 Sagaces canes, houndes or spannielles.
 Palatum sagax in gustu, that quickly perceiuet the good or ill taste of any meate.
 Sagaperium, m., n. g. a gumme or rosen that tenech out of a brye or tree called Ferula.
 Sagaria, a, f. g. the craft to make clothes to weare vpon hatynge, or to make cassakes.
 Sagarius, m., n. g. a seller of such clothes.
 Sagaris or Sagarus, a riuer.
 Sagatus, a, um, apparaped in a souldiours cloke, or in a cassake.
 Sagda, dæ, f. g. a greene stone, which the Caldeis haue made faste to thepp handes.
 Sagena, a, f. g. a great net to take fysh.
 Sagimen, giminis, n. g. nourishynge, after Callepine, but the place in Columella, for Sagimine, hath Sanguine.
 Sagina, a, f. g. meate, wherewith all thyng is fattened, sometyme superfluous fatte or greace.
 Sagina dicendi, id est, lubertas.
 Saginarius, m., n. g. a place wherein any thyng is franched or made fat, a coude or a pen. also an oxe stall.
 Saginarius, a, um, that is franched or made fat.
 Saginatio, omis, f. g. a fattynge or crammyng.
 Saginatus, a, um, fattened, crammed.
 Sagino, au, are, to make fat, to franchise.
 Sagio, is, iui, ire, to percepe quickly, or sharpely, to smell a thyng quickly.
 Sagitta, a, f. g. an arrowe, also the top of a twyg or rod, also a signe in the firmament, and a certayne herbe called of the greckes Pislana.
 Sagitta uagula, a quarell.
 Sagittarius, m., n. g. an archer. It is also one of the xii. signes among the sterres. also a toyne of the Persians.
 Sagittarius, a, um, that belongeth to arrowes, mete to make arrowes of.
 Sagittifer, ra, rum, that beareth arrowes.

Sagite

Sagittipotens, that is of great power, or that can doo muche with his arrowes.
 Sagitto, au, are, to shote.
 Sagma, a, f. g. of Sagma, sagmatis, n. g. a packe saddle or sumpter saddle. also an heape. also a packe. also Sagmata be certayne opyntmentes.
 Sagmen, sagminis, n. g. grasse plucked by root the earth, whiche in the olde tyme the ambassadors of Rome did, when they denounced warres to other people.
 Sagra, a riuer in Italie.
 Sagona, a riuer in France called the Sone.
 Sagulum, i, n. g. a litle cloke, or cassocke.
 Sagum, i, n. g. a souldiours cloke, or a cassocke.
 Sagunna, a citee of Spayne.
 Saguntus, vel Saguntum, a citee in Spayne beyond the riuer of Iberus, about one myle fro the sea, the people thereof beyng in amity with the Romaynes, were of such faithfulness, that when Annibal had long besieged them, and brought them at the poynnt to be famished: the chiefe of the citee made great fires, and let cast into it thepp treasure, and many of them entred into the fyre, and were wyfully burned. all the residue foughe and were slayne, so that none escaped, wherof came this proverbe Saguntina fames, applied to a great and horrible famine. in the place where this citee stode, is now the towne called Moruetrum.
 Saji, a people of Thace.
 Sais, a citee in Egypt, where is one of the entres into the ryuer of Nilus, the entree of poyte is called Saiticum.
 Sal, alis, m. & n. g. salte, sometyme it is put for wyledome, mythe, pleasaunte wittinesse in wordes, or pleasaunt faction, merie conceites bothe in wordes and otherwyse, pleasantnesse, grace, propre feature. sometyme it signifyeth the sea.
 Sal, is sometyme a faute in precious stones.
 Sales, quike or sharpe sentences, jestinges, merie conceites, pleasaunt and delectable communication, that make cause the hearers to laugh, and is somewhat sharpe and biting with all.
 Nulla est in tam magno corpore mica salis, there is not one crumme or drope of good faction in that great roiles bodie.
 Sala, a towne and riuer in Mauritania. also a towne of Egyptia, Panonia, and Armenia, and a ryuer of Germania.
 Salabria, a citee of Cappadocia.
 Salacia, the goddesse of water, sometyme it is taken for water.
 Salacitas, a, is, f. g. an instinction or tynge to lecherie.
 Salacones, men that doe lyue alwaie in excedynge pleasures, and dooe thinke that all men dooe desire in that whiche lyeth thepp appetites.
 Salamadra, a, f. g. a beast in figure lyke to a Asperde, full of spottes, whiche beyng in the fyre dooth extingue it, and is not burned.

Salamin, Salamis, or Salamina, an yle by Athens.
 Salaminus, Salaminicus, and Salaminus, a, um, of that yle.
 Salamina nauis, a shippe of Salamin.
 Salomoniacus, a kynde of false founde vnder stande, whiche is lyke to alume, and is medicinal, in dissolving and purgynge of acume.
 Salanga, a promontorie of Irelande.
 Salanga, a verie hygge hill betwene great Britayne and Irelande, nowe called our ladies hill.
 Salapia, a towne in Apulia.
 Salapulus, maie be called a mery lechuge boy, it was a name geuen to Salus an oza our, whiche beyng of a childes personage, used muche lechynge and taunting merrily.
 Salarum, m., n. g. wages geuen to seruantes.
 Salaris, m., n. g. a salter, which sellet all thing that is salte.
 Salarius, a, um, pertainyng to salte.
 Salaria via, an high waie, by the which salte was caried to Rome.
 Salasin, people by the Insulitens.
 Salax, acis, om. g. lecherous, geuen to lecherie or luste of the body.
 Aquar salaces, water rising out of the springe.
 Salaces cibi, meates that stee to lecherie.
 Salebra, arum, f. g. plu. places whiche are not playne, but goynge by and downe, that a man can not passe, but as it were leapyng and hoppyng.
 Salebra, is sometyme used in singular nũbre.
 Salebrosus, a, um, vnplayne, where a man can not goe excepte he leape.
 Salentia, the citee of the Messapians.
 Salentinum, a countrey in Italie.
 Salentinus, a people in Italie.
 Salernum, a towne in Italie.
 Salgama, orum, n. g. thynges condite or consecrated, as pears, figges, grapes, and other lyke.
 Salgamarius, m., n. g. he that dooth condite or consecre thynges.
 Salia, a ryuer of Spayne.
 Sali, a kynde of birdes, whiche be great breeders: aspartiches or hennes, I suppose them to be heath cockes.
 Saliaris, re, pertainyng to the priestes of Mars.
 Saliaris cagna, a banquet or supper made by the priestes of Mars, a costly or sumptuous supper.
 Salares virgines, mardens, whiche were with the priestes of Mars, and did sacrifici with the bishoppes, wearyng on thepp rote armours, and bishopps miters on thepp heades.
 Salicestrum, stri, n. g. a kynde of wyde wyne, reynyng vpon yllowme trees.
 Salicetum, ti, n. g. and by incorporation Salicium, ti, n. g. a place where willowes growe.
 Salientes, the cockes or pyres of condites, out of the whiche water spouteth.
 Saligneus, and Salignus, a, um, of yllow or withy.

withy.
 Salij, the priestes of Mars in Rome, which daunce about the citie bearyng tergates called Ancilia. Salij be also people of Germanie, called Franci, and their countrey Franconia.
 Salillum, li, n. g. a litle saltcellar.
 Salina, na, f. g. a place where salte is made.
 Salinum, ni, n. g. a saltcellar. also any other besell that a poore man useth.
 Salinae, narum, a citie in Sicile.
 Salinátor, the name of a noble man of Rome.
 Salio canus, an haven in France called Sancte Paulus.
 Salio, lili, lire, to salte or powder.
 Salio, lili, li, or salui, lire, to leape, to daunce, to hoppe, to leape as the male dooeth the female in tyme of generacion.
 Salit mih cor, my herte leapeth for ioy.
 Salitra, a, f. g. poudering or salteng.
 Salius, a, um, salted, poudered.
 Salua, ua, f. g. and Saluum, ui, n. g. Spectill.
 Salua is also taken for ioyce. also for the wine called Chium.
 Salua lachrymationum, the water that dropeth out of ones eyes in weping.
 Salua syderum, the tely of hymne that falleth of sterres.
 Saluarius, a, um, that is clammy and thycke like Spectill.
 Saluarius, rij, m. g. he that geueth a dzenche to hoxses or other beastes.
 Saluofus, a, um, that hath the smache or taste of Spectill.
 Saluo, aui, are, to spette or make Spectill. also idem quod Saluo, to geue a dzenke to hoxses or other beastes.
 Saluarius herba, reade Pyrethrum.
 Salij, people of the Alpes, confynes to the Swyzers, and the people called Boij.
 Salianca, called also Nardus Celtica, an herbe haung a verie thoste stalke, and a blew flower, somewhat longe lyke spihe, and hath a verie pleasant sauour, it is not our spihe, whiche because it is lyke in sauour, is called Pseudonardus.
 Salix, salicis, f. g. a wylow or wythe.
 Salix amerina, in Dioscorides, is the tree called also Vitex and Agnus castus, a kynde of wylow, of some called parkelaues.
 Salix equina, idem quod hippuris.
 Salio, lili, ire, to salt.
 Sallo, falli, lere, idem.
 Salustius, a, notable historiographer, whiche wrote of the conspiracie of Catiline, and of the warre agaynst Jugurtha.
 Salmacia, a praye gotten without labour.
 Salmacidas, a, um, of the fountayne Salmacis.
 Salmacis, a fountaine in Laria, where a nymphe spynnyng Hermaphroditus, the sonne of Heraclius and Venus naked, the embrazing hym, despyed of the goddess, that of them two myght be made one body, and so it happened. also the people of Laria be sometyme called Salmatij.

 Salmatica, a towne of Idorigall.
 Salmo, onis, m. g. a fishe called Salmon.
 Salmones, trisyllabum, the kynde of Elders, whiche takege footchylde upon hym to haue diuine honours done vnto hym, and wouder seeme to caste lightninges lyke vnto Jupiter, beynge uerthowen with lightning, was cast into hell.
 Salmonis, nidis, Patronymicum forminum.
 Salmacidus, a, um, that which is salte in taste, after Calpeine, but the place in Sicile hath Salmacidus.
 Salmicrum, salte peter, whiche is put into gunne powder.
 Salo, a river called also Bibilis, wherewith yron is tempred and made stronger.
 Salomon, & Solomon, onis, is interpreted peacable, the name of a kynde of the iwes, the son of kyng David, who excelled all men in wisedome & knowledge, and neuerthelesse was by dotage on women, brought vnto idolatrie.
 Salomoni, a, um, of Salomon.
 Salon, a countrey of Bithynia, veray commodious for the feedyng of cattage.
 Salone, a citie in Liburnia, betwene Dalmatia and Illiria.
 Saloninus, the sonne of Pollio.
 Salopia, a towne and countrey in Englande called Shrewsburie.
 Salpa, pa, f. g. a fishe that wyll not be laden, except it be beaten, a Rockefishe: This fishe is wonderfully perynted with golde scales from the necke to the taylor.
 Salpiz, a towne of Apulia.
 Salpinx, is bled of some for Solpuga.
 Salpiza, a, f. g. a kynde of emories or ppsmers, that be venemous.
 Salsamentarius, rij, m. g. he that selleth sawce, that selleth salt spise, or any other salte thyng.
 Salsamentarius, a, um, pertyng to sawce, salt fishe, or any thyng that is salte.
 Vas salsamentarium, a vessel, wherinto sawce is put.
 Salsamentum, i, n. ge. sawce, any thyng that is salted, as saltfishe and such lyke.
 Salte, wittily, wylfely, pleasantly, merrily, with a grate.
 Salsedo, sedinis, f. g. salteneffe.
 Salsicortex, corticis, f. g. a tree that beareth maske, whiche nothyngge wyll take, excepte os nely swyne.
 Salsilago, laginis, & Salsago, inis, f. g. a salte lycoure.
 Salsitudo, inis, f. g. a bypne lycoure that is salte.
 Salsura, a, f. g. idem quod Salsamentum.
 Salsus, a, um, salte in taste: also mery, pleasant, wittie, Marpe or bypunge in woordes or other wyse.
 Salsuse, a fountayne of salte water of Barbone in Fraunce.

Salta

Salabundus, a, um, that whiche leapeth or daunceth.
 Salatio, onis, f. g. a dauncyng.
 Salator, oris, m. g. & Saltatrix, icis, f. g. a dauncer.
 Salatorius, a, um, pertyng to dauncyng.
 Ludus saltatorius, a schoole of dauncyng.
 Salcius, us, in. g. dauncyng.
 Saltem, at the lyste waye, if it wyll be none other waye.
 Salix, people togyng to the sea called Pontus Euxinus.
 Salim, vel Saluatim, by leapes.
 Saluatim scribere, to leape from one matter to another in wrytyng.
 Salito, aui, are, to daunce, to leape often.
 Salto, aui, are, to daunce, to leape.
 Laudes alicuius saltare, to syng ones praises in dauncyng.
 Saluarius, re, that daunceth with the stroke of the instrument.
 Saluarius, ij, m. g. a keeper of a wod or forrest, a wodwarde.
 Saluofus, a, um, full of wodes.
 Salura, a, f. g. idem quod Salatio.
 Salus, us, m. g. a thicke wodde, or after some, a place voyde of trees, as a laune in a parke or forrest. also a leape.
 Saluator, oris, m. g. a sauiour, he that kepeth or saueth a thyng from destruction or losse.
 Saluber, bris, bre, or hic & hac Salubris, & hoc salubre, wholesome, whole.
 Salubre corpus, a bodie that is in helth.
 Salubrior, ius, Saluberrimus, a, um, moze holsome, moze holsome.
 Salubritas, atis, f. g. helth.
 Salubritas cali, aque temperies, an holsome and temperate ayre.
 Salubriter, holsomely.
 Salue, verbum defectiuum, god speede you, you be welcome, sometyme contrarie, farewell, god be with you.
 Salueo, is bled of Plautus, for Saluus & sanus sum.
 Saluebis a meo Cicerone, my sonne Cicero commendeth hym vnto you.
 Salue .S. Satis est mihi tua salutis, nihil moror, non salueo, god speede. It sufficeth me that you are in helthe: but in fewe woordes I am not well at ease.
 Dionysium saluere iubeas, haue me commended to Dionysius.
 Salua, a, f. g. an herbe called sauge.
 Saluatum, i, neu. gen. a dypnke for an hoxse or other beaste.
 Saluifico, aui, are, to make saule, or to saue.
 Saluo, aui, are, to geue the dzench called Saluasum, to hoxses or beastes.
 Salen, i, n. g. the sea.
 Salio, aui, are, to saue, the better printes haue alway seruo.

Salus, a litle birde, whiche hath deadly hatred toward the asse, because that if he here the asse crye, he casteth his egges before ym.
 Salus, liris, health, saltee, the good state of a mans condition or lyfe.
 Nosce omnia hac salus est adolescentulis, to know all these thynges, is the verie saulegarde of yong men, and that kepeth them from all pueil, or their singular profite.
 Saluti esse alicui, to helpe one, to saue his life.
 Dare salutem, to saue.
 Consulere salutem, to prouide or dooe for his health or sauegarde.
 Salutem dicere, to salute, also to hyd farewell, to take his leaue.
 Salutem dicere foro, & curiae, To take his leaue of the court or common place, to medle no moze in matters of the common weale.
 Dic a me illi salutem, haue me commended vnto hym.
 Impetire aliquem salutem, and alicui salutem, to salute one.
 Mittere salutem, to sende commendations.
 Referre salutem, to haue one commended, to beare salutations agayne.
 Salutem mihi verbis tuis nuntiavit, he saluted me in your name.
 Salutaris, are, holsome, comfortable.
 Salutares litterae, comfortable letters.
 Salutaris littera, the letter, A.
 Salutare laxamentum ad confirmandos animos dare, to geue a comfortable release or bread thyng tyme, to sette the hertes in full courage.
 Salutaris digitus, the finger.
 Salutariter, in health, comfortably.
 Salutariter recipere me possum, saule and sounde, without hurte.
 Armis salutariter vi, To the health and conseruation of the people, for their advantage or profite.
 Salutariter dantur in vino, they be verie holsome or medcinable to be ministred vnto sicke men in wyne.
 Salutatio, onis, f. g. a salutation, a bydyng good speede, good morowe, or good euen.
 Saluator, oris, m. g. a saluter.
 Salutatorium, ij, a place where one standeth to salute men.
 Saluatorius, a, um, that belongeth to saluting or prayng to god.
 Saluatorium cubiculum, a chaumbre where men doe stande or abyde to salute a prince or a noble man in authoritee, called now a chamber of presence.
 Salutarifer, ifera, rum, wholesome, that byngeth helth or sauegarde.
 Salutiger, i, or Salutigerulus, li, masc. gene. he that byngeth recommendations from an other persone.
 Salutem, in olde tyme was bled for saltem.
 Saluto, aui, are, to salute, as well at commynge as at as at departing, to sende commendacions, to byd good morowe, good even or good speede, to bydde fare well, to take his leaue, to dooe reue-rence, also to honour.

Cur sternutamentis salutatur? why doe men
saie Chyft help when we neede?
Palmites salutentur, id est, seruentur. ac-lumes; nec refecentur, Let them be refectued and kept.

Salutare conuiuas, to say to them at the table,
muche good doe it you.

Saluto te priusq; eo, I take my leaue of you, or
I bydde you farewell before I go.

Salutant, ad cenam vocant, they byd me good speede, and desyre me to come to supper.

Domus te tota nostra salutat, at my house send deth you commendacions.

Deum salutare precibus, To praye, to doe his deuotions to god.

Saluus, a, um, saulfe, whole, sounde, without daunger or harme.

Salua res est, the matter is come well to passe.

Saluo capite, without daunger of lyfe.

Saluus sis, god speede.

Saluus sum liquidem, &c. I am saulfe and out of daunger, if. &c.

Satin' salua, is all well? or howe go all your matters? well?

Te saluum venisse, that you be come saulfe and sounde and in good helthe.

Galea mihi oportuna esset, salua si foret, if it were not losse, if I had it agayne.

Quæsiuit saluus ne esset clypeus, he asked wher ther his target were saulfe, and not taken of his enemies.

Salua lege, without any breaking of biolatynge of the law.

Vasa salua, vessels saulfe and sounde, not broken, not cracked.

Salua fide, without breaking of his promise or allegiance.

Saluo iure nostræ amicitie, so that we hurt not or appaie not our frendshipp, or doe no thyng agaynst the law of frendshyppe.

Sam, for Eam.

Samara, an hill in the east oceane sea, at the further ende of the mountayne Caucasus.

Samara, is also the seede of an elme.

Samaria, a countrey and citee in Syria, loynng to Iudæa, whiche was the chiefe citee of the tribes of Israell, who beyng taken prisoners by the kynge of Syria, and ledde awaye captiue, thether were sent paynmes for them to inhabyte the countrey, whiche were after called Samaritani, and they myxt the lawe of Moys-es with idolatrie, the citee was afterwarde called Sebaste.

Samarobrini, people in France about Cambrye.

Sambicus, a mans name, whiche was for spoy-lynge of Dianas temple, tourmented a whole yerp most greuously, and so died.

Sambuca, a, f. g. an instrument of musike, now called doucimers, also an ingyne of warre, wherewith fortresses were assaulted.

Sambucina, a, f. g. a woman that playeth on doucimers.

Sambucus, a, um, of elber or elder tree.

Sambucistris, idem quod Sambucina.

Sambucus, i, f. g. an elder tree.

Same, an ile in the sea Jonium.

Samera, a, f. g. the seede of an elme.

Samio, aut, are, to make sharpe.

Samiolus, a, um, made of steele.

Vasa samiola, earthen vessels made in Samos.

Samium, ij, n. g. an earthen pottle.

Samius, a, um, of the ile of Samos, the old writers bydde bte it for sharpe and Samiare, to whette or make sharpe.

Samnites, people of Samnium, a countrey in Italie called now Aprucium.

Samonium, a promontorie of Crete, ouer against the Rhodes.

Samos, the name of two illes in the sea called Aegeum, one by Thracia, & therefore it is called Samothracia, the other lyeth against Ephesus.

Samofara, a tree of Asia by Euphrates.

Sampsuchinus, a, um, of matozam.

Sanfuchum, chi, or Sanfuchus, ci, an herbe, called matozam.

Samia, sampla, or Samia, a, f. g. the stone of an Olyue.

Samsychon, idem quod Samsuchus.

Sanabilis, le, curable, that may be healed.

Sanares, people dwelling about Rome.

Sanatio, onis, f. g. an healing or curing.

Sancio, sui, or sanxi, itum, or sanctum, ire, to consecrate, to confirme vnder a certaine peine, to ratifie, to establish, to ordeyne, to forbydde
by ordinance or lawe.

Sancire leges, to constitute lawes.

Fœdera sanxit, he ratified or confirmeth the leages or couenantes.

Sanxerunt ne quis emeret, &c. they ordeined that no man shoulde by, or ther forbydde by a lawe, that no man shoulde vie. &c.

Sanxit edicto, ne quis ex Asia frumentum ex-portaret, he forbydde by proclamation, that any man shoulde carie or conuey the coine or grapes out of Asia.

Dubia sancire, to confirme possessions that be doubtfull, with a certaine lawe.

Fidem dextra data sancire, to geue his hands to one, and promise by his faith and trouthe, that a thyng shall be sure or ratified.

Fide sanxerunt, they plighted their faith and trouthe.

Fœdus sanguine alterius cum aliquo sancire, to conclude a pease with one on condition that a certaine person be put to death.

Iureiurando sancire, to confirme with an othe.

Qui capite sanxit, which ordeyned vnder payne of death.

Mula

Mula sanxit, he made many ordinaunces.

Sanctum est lege, ne, &c. it is defended or forbydden by a lawe, that. &c.

Sancte, fymely, holily, deuoutly.

Sancte adiua non posse, he sweareth a great othe, and confymeth that he can not.

Sanctificatio, onis, f. g. hallowynge.

Sanctifico, aut, are, to hallow.

Sanctitas, atis, Sanctitudo, inis, f. g. holinesse, deuoutnesse, honestie.

Sanctio, onis, f. g. a lawe, a thyng decreed and established, an ordinaunce that forbyddeth a thyng vnder a certaine penaltie.

Sanctimonia, idem quod Sanctitas.

Sanctimoniales, Plunnes.

Sanctimonium, ij, neu. g. the profession of religious persons.

Sanctor, onis, m. g. he that maketh an ordinaunce or lawe.

Sanctuarium, ij, n. g. a place consecrated or halowed, a church, a chapell.

Sanctum, a secret thyng not to be reueled.

Sancti Iacobi herba, Ragge woozte.

Sanctus, a, um, holic, inuolable by a lawe, cons-firmed by a lawe, pure and cleane, vncorrupted, without spotte of vice.

Vir sanctus, a blessed man, a perfect honest mā.

Sancta ad vos anima, &c. id est, incorrupta, nothyng faulre or gyltie.

Ornatus sanctus, honest and not dissolute or lyght apparell.

Sanctissima testimonia, most entirc and bus corrupt witness.

Sancus, one of the names of Hercules.

Sandalarius, a name of Apollo.

Sandaligerulus, a, um, that weareth a slipper.

Sandalides, a kynde of palme or date trees.

Sandalionis, an ile called now Sardinia.

Sandalium, in, neu. g. a slipper, also a kynde of wheate or meale.

Sandalus, a spice called sanders.

Sandaracha, a, f. g. a colour founde in mynes of syluer and golde, yelow oker.

Sandarachatus, a, um, that is myngled with yellow oker.

Sandarachinus, a, um, coloured with yelow oker.

Sandastros, a precious stone, haung in it a bright colour, yelow speckes, and is called also Gara-mandira.

Sandix, sandicis, m. g. is a powder made of Ceruisa, burned till it was red, as Dioscorides, Galen and Arius dooe write other dooe saie, that it is made with Ceruse and red chalker, called Rubrica, mixte together. it was also called Siron, or Syicon. it is also a certayne herbe, and a kynde of redde colour.

Sandicinus color, idem.

Sane, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth, ye, or cer-tainely, truly, in dedde, on gods name.

Bellum sane difficile gessit, he fought a verie daungerous battaile.

Sane vt vis, be it as thou wilt.

Sane quam vtile, surely verie profitable.

Sane quidem, ye hardily.

Nempe ergo aperte vis qua restant me lo-qui? D. Sane quidem, but wilt thou then that I shall tell plainly all the rest? D. ye hardily what else? Tulerit sane filius merito pœnas, id est, esto tulerit, fac tulerit, admitte that his sonne was woorthly punished.

Sit sane vt vis, well, be it as ye will your selfe.

Habeat sane, well go to on gods name, admitte that he hath it.

Sane, for valde: as, Bellum gessit sane diffi-cillimum. Sane bene, for Bene quidem.

Sane si placet, ye sir, I am well content if it please you.

Sane quam sum gauisus, truly I was verie topous and giadde.

Recte sane, ironice, it is very well said of you.

Sane quia vero ha mihi semper patent fores, truly because these doores, &c.

Sanesco, scere, to be of ware whole.

Sanga, a river in Portugall.

Sangaris, a ruuer of Galatia, whiche runnynge through Phrygia, falleth into the sea Propontis, it is commonly called Zagare.

Sanguarius puer, Ganymedes.

Sanguiculus, li, m. g. the bloudd of a kynde of swyne made into meate.

Sanguinaria, and Sanguinalis, an herbe that stoppeth bloudd, like Polygonum.

Sanguinarius, a, um, cruell, blouddy, despyous of bloudd.

Sanguinarius homo, a cruell person delityng in bloudshedynge.

Sanguinaria sententia, a blouddy sentence, that condemneth a man to die.

Sanguinalis, le, perterpnyng to bloudd.

Sanguinalis herba, idem quod Sanguinaria.

Sanguineus, a, um, full of bloudd, also cruell, some tyme of sanguine or blouddie colour.

Sanguinolentus, a, um, full of bloud, blouddy.

Sanguino, aut, are, to bleede.

Sanguis, guinis, maf. gen. and of olde writers,
Sanguen, guinis, neu. g. bloudd, kynde, toric, parentage, liniall descent, generation. it is somtyme taken for life, also strength in poe-tes often tymes for death, murder or slaughter.

also a tree, the barke whereof is of the colour
of bloudd.

Sanguine mittere, & detrahere, to leat bloud.

Sanguis ararij, the substance of money of the common treasourie.

Vitiosus sanguis, corrupt bloudd.

Facere sanguinem, to make effusion of bloud, to kyll men.

Sine sanguinem, to thirst bloudd, to be despyrous of murther or slaughter.

Troiano e sanguine duci audierat, he hadde hearde, that he defended of the Troians.

Claro sanguine genitus, descended of a noble
Rrr bloudd

Stendde of hynde.

Chari sanguinis vincula, id est, consanguinitas. Gradu sanguinis propior, necesse hyne. Consors sanguinis, a brother. Attingere aliquem sanguine, coherere alicui sanguine, and Coniungi sanguine, to be hyne to one.

Amifimus succam & sanguinem ciuitatis, the vigour, strength and force.

Sanguis draconis, a certayne gumme, dropys pring out of a hynde of trees, growyng in the ile of Medera: the fruite of whiche trees is lyke cherries, of colour somewhat darker, but muche moze pleasant in taste.

Sanguisorba, bar, f. g. the herbe called burnet.

Sanguisuga, ar, f. g. a worme, which is in stanzdyng waters, and dooeth sucke the bloude of men or beastes that come into it. It is also called Hirudo, a leche, a bloude sucker.

Sanicula, an herbe, called Saniculum.

Sanies, ei, f. ge. matter comyng of putrifaction, corrupted bloud, sometyne poison.

Sanies olea, id est, fex, the dregs of groides.

Sanidus, a, um, full of matter or corrupted bloude.

Sanna, ar, f. g. a scozne or mocke.

Sanna, ois, a disorde in a plate or disguysing: also he whiche in countenance gesture and maners deuydeth and mocketh other.

Sanitas, ais, f. ge. helth, the good state of ones mynde or wyte, foundentle of memoze.

Reddere sanitatem veram, to make one throughe ly whole, without any grudge or feeling of the sicknesse.

Sannaus, a river or poze in Asia.

Sano, au, are, to heale, to cure.

Sanare vulnera reipublice, To amende the hurtes and displeasures that the commo weale hath receiued.

Sanguis, lis, after some the hynde of egles called Olsiniaga.

Sansa, the stone of an Olive.

Sanfucus, maioram.

Sanfucinus, a, um, of maioram.

Sanctum, a certayne precious woodde, that cometh out of Indie, whereof be thre kyndes, white, redde, yelow.

Santerna, na, f. g. soulder, wherewith golde is souldered.

Santonies, & Santoni, people of a countrey in Fraunce called Antongue.

Santonium, or Santonica herba, an herbe, called Lauander cotton.

Santonum portus, Rochell in Fraunce.

Santonum promontorium, a promontorie in Fraunce called Slape.

Sanus, a, um, whole, holsome, not sicke, vncorrupted: by translation of sounde memoze, well in his wyte, wyse.

Sanum fieri ex morbo, To be made or waxe whole after a sicknesse.

Sanus sim, an ne insaniam, whether I bee wel in my mynde or halfe madde.

Satin' sanus es & sobrius: art thou well in thy wyte, and well aduised?

Pro sano aliquod facere, to dooe a thyng as it becometh one that is wel aduised or in his right mynde. Sanus & curiosus, contrarie.

Maie sanus, halfe besyde him selfe, madde, not well in his wyte.

Vix cum sanæ mentis existimem, I woulde scantly iudge hym to be in his right mynde, or well in his wyte.

Sana & salua respublica, the common wealtly safe and sounde, or in good state or condicion, not corrupted with misorder.

Sapa, ar, f. g. newe wyne hopyed to the thirde part of the measure: if it be to the halfe deale, it is named Defrutum, as Idine wyteth, lib. 14. and if there be but one part consumed, it is then called Calceum, as Ant. Musa affirmeth. Sapa is also called sometyne Syreon, sometyne Hepsima and Hepsion of Galenus in Meth. and of Nonius Mellacum.

Saperda, de, one that is wyse and wittie. also a certayne shell fyfthe, whiche hath a veray symyng fauour. it is sometyne vsed for a dounge hill.

Sapidus, a, um, saourie, well seasoned, that hath a good tast or saour.

Sapiens, tis, om. g. wyse.

Sapienter, wysely.

Vitam sapienter instituit, he appoynted his life wysely.

Sapientia, ar, f. g. the knowlage of thynges detyne and humane, wysedome, sapience.

Doctores sapientie, philosophers.

Sapientipotens, of great power by his wysedome.

Sapio, piui, pij, or sapiui, sapitum, or sapitum, pere, to haue taste or fauour, to feele, to bee wyse, to haue a right opinion.

Rein meum sapio, I knowe what I haue to dooe.

Sapiunt male, they be ill aduised.

Sapit hic pleno pectore, he is mcrayleous wyse.

Sapit plus, he hath moze wyte.

Sapit satis, he is wyse enough.

Sapis multum ad genium, thou knowest how to make good chere.

Iucundissime sapit, it hath a verie pleasant taste or saour.

Ei non sapit palatum, his mouth is out of tast.

Sapit mare, it hath a taste, smache of saour of the sea.

Magis sapuisset, he had been wyser, he hadde dwen moze wysely.

Qui sibi semita non sapient, alteri viam monstrant, they whiche knowe not whiche way to goe them selfes. &c.

Si recta saperet Antonius, if Antony were wyse, or of a right mynde or opinion in the matter:

matter: or if Antonie intended nothyng but that is right and honest.

Hic plane nihil sapit, this felowe hath no witte at all.

Sapinus, ni, f. g. the lower parte of the firre tree, that hath no knottes. it is sometyne taken for the whole firre tree.

Sapineus, a, um, of the firre tree.

Sapiri, people by Pontus.

Sapis, a ryuer of Italie.

Sapo, ponis, m. g. sope.

Saponaria, reade Struthio.

Sapor, poris, m. g. a saour, a taste: by translation pleasauntnesse, or wittinesse in woordes.

Sapphicus, a, um, of Sappho.

Sapphiratus, a saphire full of spottes.

Sapphirinus, a, um, of a saphire.

Sapphirus, ri, f. g. a stone called a saphire.

Sappho, a woman of the ile of Lesbos, a great poetesse, who made verses called Lirici: at the last she was taken with the loue of a ponge man called Idhao, who rennyng awaie from hir, she not suscepyng the anguyshe of loue, thyrwe hyr selfe downe from an hill into the sea.

Sappinus, looke Sapius.

Saprophagus, he that receiucth the poise or drinke called Saprum.

Saprum, pri, n. g. a drinke made with salte and the fruite called Sorba, which helpeth men that haue the colicke.

Sapros, binewed.

Sapsa, of olde wyters was vled for ipsa, or seipsa.

Saraca, a towne of Media.

Sarace, a citee in Colchis.

Sarcarius, a ryuer of Phrygia.

Sarcasmos, a maner of iesting or scoffyng bityngs ly, a nyppling taunt.

Sarcimen, ciminis, n. g. a seame.

Sarcina, na, f. gen. a trusse or packe, a fardell. sometyne it is taken for an vnprofitable bourd dyng.

Sarcinas colligere, is propely of me of warre, when they remoue or departs from thepp campe.

Sarcina, all stufte that is closed or shut by in cofsets.

Sarcinas, atis, n. g. for Sarcina.

Sarcinarius, a, um, pertyng to packes or fardelles.

Sarcinaria iumenta, packehorses or mules.

Sarcinator, oris, m. g. a bodger of garmentes, one that mendeth or repaireth.

Sarcinatrix, tris, the feminine.

Sarcinatus, a, um, laded with fardels or packes.

Sarcinula, la, f. g. a littell packe or fardell.

Sarcino, au, are, to lade: sometyne to sowe.

Sarcio, fars, circ, to make whole agayne, to amende a thyng decayed or appaired, to make amendes, to recompence, to patche, to botche.

Non video mihi sarcire posse ades meas, I can not see how my houses may be repaired.

Damna sarcire, to make reparation, to make amendes.

Dum sarcire acceptum detrimentum volunt, while they couet or go about to amende the hurte or losse that they had receiued before.

Infamiam sarcire, to put awaie an infamie or sklander, and to recoure his good name againe.

Sarcion, a stone of carnation colour.

Sarcito, paie the domages or costes.

Sarcocolla, a gumme of a tree in Persia, lyke to the poulder of incense, somewhat redde and bitter: some is white of colour, whiche is muche better than redde.

Sarcophagus, gi, m. g. a sepulchre, a tumber. also a certayne stone.

Sarculatio, a webpyng.

Sarculo, au, are, to take, or rather to weede by.

Sarculum, li, n. g. a rake. also an instrument to weede sozne: in some places husbandmen vse it in tilling the grounde.

Sarda, a redde stone, wherein scales are grauen.

Sardanapalus, a kyng of Assyria, monstrous in all kynde of lecherie.

Sardanis, a man of Lydia, whiche moued Cressus to make warre agaynst the Persians.

Sardemisus, a promontorie of the mountayne Taurus.

Sardi, people of Sardinia.

Sardinia, an yle in the sea called Ligusticum by Greke, not passenge. vii. myles from Corsica. also a certayne fische.

Sardinensis, se, Sardus, and Sardous, a, um, of Sardinia.

Sardis, a citee in Lydia.

Sardo, au, are, for intelligo, to vnderstande.

Sardoa, or, f. g. an herbe lyke to smallage, which groweth in Sardinia, whereof if a man dooe eate, he shall grenne and make countinaunce of laughing, and so die.

Sardonici, certeine hilles of Lyburnia, called Maranai.

Sardonius risus, a greennyng or laughing without cause, a longe laughter.

Sardonichatus, haupng apparaple garnished with the stone called Sardonix.

Sardonychus, chi, idem quod Sardonix.

Sardonix, onychis, m. & f. g. a stone of the colour of a mans niple.

Sarepta, a towne in Syria, where Hely the prophet was bozne.

Sareptanus, a, um, of Sarepta.

Sargaca, people in the nothe part of the world, ioyning to the great mere of Meotis.

Sargapises, the son of Comitis, taken by kinge Egeus.

Sargus, i, m. gene. a fische beyng in the sea of Egypte.

Sari, an herbe, growyng in waters, haupnge an harde roote, & woude, necessary for smythes.

Sarissa, ar, f. g. a longe speare.

Sarmata, a man of Sarmatia.

Sarmatia, a countrey of Europe, whiche bordereth on the northe upon the sea called Sarmaticum: on the weste upon the ryuer Vistula, and Germanie: on the south upon Sibenburgh, Dacia, and Mysia inferior: on the east upon that Sarmatia, whiche is in Asia, the ryuer Tanais, & the marshy Meotis: vnder this be many countreies cōtēned, Polonia, Rhusia, Prussia, Lithuania, Liouonia, Moscouia, &c. the greater parte of this countrey is now vnder Sigismundus kinge of Pole.

Sarmaticus, a, um, of Sarmatia.

Sarmatice, lyke one borne in Sarmatia.

Sarmatus, tidis, f. g. of Sarmatia.

Sarmatus, a gentill man of Rome, in the tyme of Augustus, whiche was a great scoffer.

Sarmentum, ri, n. g. a twigge of shroube of a tree cut of: sometyme a vine braunche growng on the tree. Sarmenta bee also the littell busshes stalkes, wherof the grapes do hange in clusters. Syluiscere sarmentis dicitur vitis, when it mōteth by plentifully, or bringeth many brāches.

Sarmentarius, a, um, made of twigges of smalle boowes

Sarmentosus, a, um, that hath many shredde of boowes cut of.

Sarnus, a ryuer in Campania.

Saronicus, a bosom of the sea agaynst Athynus.

Sarpa, a vine when it is cutte of shredde.

Sarpodon, the kynge of Licia, whiche came to the ayde of the Troians agaynst the Grekes. also a promontorie of Licia.

Sarpo, pere, to cōfesse or make cleane.

Sarraceni, a people of Arabia.

Sarra, a citee in Phenicia, called somtyme Tyzus.

Sarranus, a, um, of that citee.

Saraballa, plu. nu. a woode of Balbey, signifiyng brāches.

Sarraca, the name of two citees, whereof the one is in Media, the other in Arabia felici, or the ryche Arabia.

Sarracum, ci, n. g. a certayne carre, wherein wood or stones be caried.

Sarranæ vestes, garmentes of purple.

Sarrastes, people in Campania.

Sarrio, riui, rre, to weede coine.

Sarritio, onis, f. g. and Sarritura, ra, f. g. weedyng of coine.

Sarritor, toris, m. g. a weeder of coine.

Sarsina, an olde citee in Italie, where Plautus the writer of comedies was borne.

Sarta recta, winde tight and water tight, when houses be letten to certain persons to kepe them alway repaired sufficiently, for a certayne tyme of money. Sarta recta locare, to let out houses at a price certayne to be repayed.

Sarta recta exigere, to charge a man with reparations. or to see that the houses bee kepte in due reparations by them that haue take the charge so to doe.

Sartum rectum habere, to kepe whole and founde, or vntorrupted or hurt.

Sarta recta tua praecepta pater vsq; habui, as ther I haue ben alway moste obedient to your commaundementes in euery point: or I dyd neuer one iote contrary to your will and commaundement in any thyng.

Sarta recta conducere, to undertake at a certayne price to kepe houses in due reparations.

Vt Marcum Curium sartum & rectum conserues, that you wolde kepe and defende Marcus Curius from all harme or daunger.

Dicimus interdum cum coniunctione,

Sarta recta, & Sartum & rectum.

Sartago, taginis, f. g. a fryng panne.

Sarte, whole.

Sarticum, an entree into the ryuer of Nilus.

Sartor, oris, m. g. an harrower or weeder of coine,

also a bodcher or mender of garmentes.

Sartus, a, um, amended, bodched.

Sartura, a, f. g. a weddyng of coine.

Sartuillus, i bodie of a swine stuffed with meale.

Sas, olde wyters vsed for Suas, or eas.

Sasone, an ile fīue miles from the citee of Brundisium, in the realme of Naples.

Sat, for Satis, enough, sufficient.

Quantum sat est, as muche as is sufficient.

Sat habet, it is sufficient, he desireth no more.

Sat scio, I knowe well enough.

Non sat commode diuisa sunt tibi temporibus haec, these thynges are not appointed in theyr tymes halfe handsomely, or to the poynte.

Sat est testium, there is witness sufficient.

Sat fecit officium, he dyd his dutie sufficiently.

Sat habet, si tum recipitur, he is contented, or he despyeth no more, if he more than be receiued into your house.

Quaeso vt sat habeas pater, quod. &c. I praye you father, that you woulde content, your selfe with this, or thinke this sufficient that. &c.

Sata, vsed substantiuely for coine.

Satagira, people, in the countrey now called Cartharis.

Satago, satēgi, gere, to bee diligent, to doe with speede, to be busy about a thyng, to be greatly occupied, to haue as muche as he can to doe, to haue busynesse or matters enough to doe: and it is sometime construed with a gerundiu: sometimes it is set absolutely without any case.

Suarum rerum satagit, he hath enough to doe about his owne matters.

Nunc satagit, adducit domum. &c. now he is becom diligent, or maketh speede in the matter. &c.

Consulibus de vi ac multitudine hostium satagentibus, id est, soliciis.

Satan, is interpreted an aduersarie, by the whiche name the diuill was called, because he was aduersarie to Chryste. also what to euer is contrary to peace, is called Satan.

Satarchae, people in Scythia, whiche excluded from them the vse of golde and silver,

Satae

Satates, a Persian, the sonne of Teaspes.

Satelles, tellius, m. gen. one retained to garde a mannes person. also a sergeant, a catchpoll or bailiffe, that doeth attache men. also an armiger.

Satelles louis, an eggle.

Satellitum, ti, n. g. a garde: the office of such a person or officer.

Saterona, a beast, whiche dooeth lye, sometyme in water, sometyme on lande.

Satias, ari, f. g. satietie, fulnesse or werynesse in muche vsing of a thyng. sometyme it signifieth abundance.

Hi salubus occupatis externorum agros inuasere, frumentum ex inopia graui, satias facta, after that they had gotten the wooddes of forests, they inuaded the landes of them that were borderers, and from scarcitie of coine they happened to haue their fil of abundance.

Vbi satias copiosi fieri, commuto locum, when I begynne to be werpy, either of the one or of the other, I change my place.

Satiabilis, le, that whiche may be easily satisfied.

Satiatus, a, um, filled, satisfied.

Somno satiatas, that hath slepte sufficiently.

Saties, for Satietas.

Satietas, ari, f. g. satietie or fulnesse, lothsome-nesse or werynesse.

Rerum omnium satietas, tediousnesse of all thynges.

Sicubi eum hominum satietas ceperat, if he were at any tyme werpy of the company of men.

Satietas nostri, and Desyderium, contrary.

Satin, for Satis.

Satin' sanus es? art thou well in thy wittes?

Satin' salua? be all thynges well?

Satin' id tibi placet? doeth that please thee?

Satin' habes? si. &c. is this sufficient for you?

or will this content you, if. &c.

Satin' sic est? is it well, if it be thus?

Satio, onis, f. g. sowpyng of coine.

Satio, aui, are, to satiate or fill, whiche hath relation not onely to the body and senses, but also to the mynde, to satiffie.

Satiare cupiditatem, to satiffie his appetite, to haue as muche as he can desyre. Satiari, to haue enough.

Satiator, & hoc satius, oris, better.

Satis, enough, as muche as dooeth neede, sufficient, verie well.

Satis iam verborū est, thou hast said enough: we haue talked enough of the matter now.

Satis habere, to be content, to desyre no more.

Satis habeas, nihil me etiam tecum de tui fratris iniuria conqueri, be content, or content your selfe with this, that I haue not also laide to your charge, the wrong that your brother hath dooen me.

Quot sunt satis? howe many will be sufficient?

Satis certo scio, I knowe surely.

Satis credo tibi, I beleue well, I thinke well.

Satis cum periculo, with great daunger.

Satis

Satis diu hoc iam saxum voluo, I haue laboured about this now long enough, if that in good.

Satis multa me scripsisse arbitror, I thinke that I haue written enough.

Vt non est satis aestimare, that one can not well iudge or esteeme.

Non enim satis intelligebam, for I dyd not perceiue the matter verie well.

Ne satis habeas, doe ye not thinke it enough.

Non satis me pernosti qualis sim, you doe not know me thoroughly what maner of man I am.

Oculis non satis prospicio, I doe scant see from me, my syght doeth somewhat faile me.

Plurquam satis opus est, more than needeth.

Satis recte mones, thou dooest aduertise me rightly well.

Satis purabat se tempore veterum, he thought he shoulde come tyme enough, or in good season.

Satis superis, enough and to muche.

Satisfactio, onis, f. g. a couenaut, whereby a man is bounden, and sureties with hym, a taking of sufficient sureties.

Satisfactio, cepi, cipere, to take sufficient sureties.

Satisfactio, onis, f. g. the suretie or bonde, whereby men are bounden for an other, for performāce of couenaut, or the couenānt and sureties with hym, a putting in of sufficient sureties.

Satisfactum, ti, neu. gen. a bonde, when one hath put in sufficient sureties for performāce of a thyng.

Satisfactor, oris, m. g. he that is bounden or hath putte in sufficient sureties for performāce of couenaut.

Satisfactio, dedi, dare, to put in sureties for performāce of couenantes. also to be bounden with sureties for performāce of couenantes.

Satisfactio, satisfactis, feci, cere, to satiffie, to excuse, to content, to make satisfaction, to paie debtes, to purge.

Satisfacere suis, to cōtēt or paie his creditours.

Satisfacere de visceribus suis, to paie debtes with his owne money.

Quam vt mandatis tuis satisfacerem, than that I might doe your commaundement in euery thyng.

Vt mihi satisfieri paterer a te, that I shoulde here your excuse, or what ye coulde saye for your selfe.

Officio erga aliquem in re aliqua satisfacere, to doe his dutie thoroughly.

Satisfacere immortalitati laudum alicuius, to make one haue immortall praises.

Non satisfacere alicui, not to doe that one woulde haue hym.

Alicui disputationi satisfacere, to handle a matter as it shoulde be.

Satisfactio, onis, f. g. satisfaction, contentyng, purgypng, excusyng.

Satisfactio, aui, are, idem quod Satisfactor.

Satius, the comparatiue of Satis.

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis diu hoc iam saxum voluo, I haue laboured about this now long enough, if that in good.

Satis multa me scripsisse arbitror, I thinke that I haue written enough.

Vt non est satis aestimare, that one can not well iudge or esteeme.

Non enim satis intelligebam, for I dyd not perceiue the matter verie well.

Ne satis habeas, doe ye not thinke it enough.

Non satis me pernosti qualis sim, you doe not know me thoroughly what maner of man I am.

Oculis non satis prospicio, I doe scant see from me, my syght doeth somewhat faile me.

Plurquam satis opus est, more than needeth.

Satis recte mones, thou dooest aduertise me rightly well.

Satis purabat se tempore veterum, he thought he shoulde come tyme enough, or in good season.

Satis superis, enough and to muche.

Satisfactio, onis, f. g. a couenaut, whereby a man is bounden, and sureties with hym, a taking of sufficient sureties.

Satisfactio, cepi, cipere, to take sufficient sureties.

Satisfactio, onis, f. g. the suretie or bonde, whereby men are bounden for an other, for performāce of couenaut, or the couenānt and sureties with hym, a putting in of sufficient sureties.

Satisfactum, ti, neu. gen. a bonde, when one hath put in sufficient sureties for performāce of a thyng.

Satisfactor, oris, m. g. he that is bounden or hath putte in sufficient sureties for performāce of couenaut.

Satisfactio, dedi, dare, to put in sureties for performāce of couenantes. also to be bounden with sureties for performāce of couenantes.

Satisfactio, satisfactis, feci, cere, to satiffie, to excuse, to content, to make satisfaction, to paie debtes, to purge.

Satisfacere suis, to cōtēt or paie his creditours.

Satisfacere de visceribus suis, to paie debtes with his owne money.

Quam vt mandatis tuis satisfacerem, than that I might doe your commaundement in euery thyng.

Vt mihi satisfieri paterer a te, that I shoulde here your excuse, or what ye coulde saye for your selfe.

Officio erga aliquem in re aliqua satisfacere, to doe his dutie thoroughly.

Satisfacere immortalitati laudum alicuius, to make one haue immortall praises.

Non satisfacere alicui, not to doe that one woulde haue hym.

Alicui disputationi satisfacere, to handle a matter as it shoulde be.

Satisfactio, onis, f. g. satisfaction, contentyng, purgypng, excusyng.

Satisfactio, aui, are, idem quod Satisfactor.

Satius, the comparatiue of Satis.

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satis

Satius, a, um, that mate be or is sowed, set or planted.
Satium tempus, see de tyme.
Satnois, a, rupe in Phrygia.
Sator, oris, m. gen. he that soweth cozne, he that setteth or planteth, also a begetter, a father.
Smor mundi, Janus.
Diuum sator, Jupiter.
Sator lucis, he that causeth contention or variance.
Satorius, a, um, belonging to hym that soweth.
Satraz, people of Grece, by the sea syde of Thrace.
Satrapia, or Satrapes, pæ, among the Persians was as a duke and an erle is here, a great ruler, a peere of a realme. it is also a capitayn or lieutenant: as the capitayne of Berwike, the lieutenant of Irelande.
Satrapia, æ, f. g. a prouince, duchie or countie.
Satullo, aui, are, idem quod Saturare, to satiate or fill superfluously.
Satum, ri, n. g. a measure of the Hebrewes, which recepueth of wyne. 33. li. and 4. vneces: of oyle 30. li. of honny 50. li. it is of our measure stans derde. ii. gallons and a quart: and byng a measure of drie thynges, it is our pecke, and the. iii. parte of a pecke.
Satur, satura, rum, full fedde, sometyme abundant or plentiful.
Rus saturum, a plentifull or fertile piece of grounde.
Saturatus, a, um, filled, satisfied.
Satureia, æ, f. g. an herbe called sauerie.
Saturio, onis, m. gen. he that hath eaten enough and to muche.
Saturitas, aris, f. g. fulnesse, saturitie, fertilitie or plentifulnesse. also abundance in excesse.
Saturitas ponitur aliquando pro excrementis ventris.
Saturnalia, orum, neu. gen. plur. fine dates assigned to Saturne in December, wherein men vsed to feaste one another, and to sende mutuall presentes.
Saturna colonia, a towne of Tuscan.
Saturnalius, a, um, pertaining to the feast of Saturne.
Saturnia, was the name of a towne. also high places were called Saturnia.
Saturnius, a, um, of Saturnus.
Saturniniani, were heretikes, whiche affirmed, that onely. vii. angels made the world agaynst the consience of god the father.
Saturnius, a mountayne at Rome, which was afterwarde called Carpeus.
Saturnus, one of the. vii. planettes. also a god of the painfulls, sonne of Cælus and Vesta, and father of Jupiter.
Saturo, aui, are, to saturate or fill with any thyng superfluously, most commonly in eatyng.
Stercore saturare terrā, to dounge the ground sufficiently.

Satureianus, a, um, of Saturnus.
Saturum, & Satyrum, a citee of Calabria, not farre from Tarentum.
Satus, a, um, sowed or begotten.
Satus Anchisa, haupng Anchisa to his father Anchisa sonne.
Stirpe diuina satus, haupng some god to his father.
Satus, us, m. gen. sowyng, plantyng, also ferde, generation, begettyng.
Iouis satus edius, begotten of Jupiter, haupng Jupiter to his father.
Sata, vsed substantiuely for cozne.
Satyræ, ræ, f. g. a poeple rebukyng vices sharply, not regarding the persons.
Satyrus, and Satyrus, a, um, belonging to satyres, or that writeth suche poesies of verses.
Satyræ, a, a crowe.
Satyræum, an image of Priapus.
Satyræsis, sis, f. g. a sickness, whereby the members of a man standeth alwaie without appetite or dilectation.
Satyræica, was a comedie, wherein satyres were brought in.
Satyræicæ, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth sharply and with reproche.
Satyrus, a beast, haupng the head of a man, the bodie of a goate, the pottes vse Satyræ, for gods of the wooddes.
Satyræum insulæ, three illes by India, the inhabitauntes wherof haue caples lyke to the monstrous beastes Satyræ.
Satyræion, rij, n. ge. an herbe, haupng leaues lyke a lillie, but smaller, a knappe with many smalle purple floures, and a roote lyke the gentiours of a man.
Saucio, aui, are, to wounde, to hurte.
Ferro, sauciare, to cutte.
Sauciatio, onis, a woundyng.
Sauciatus, a, um, wounded, hurte.
Saucius, a, um, cutte, wounded. sometyme weyr with labour.
Sauior, aris, ari, to lyffe sweetely.
Sauium, ur, n. g. loke Suauium.
Sauo, a rupe in Campayne.
Sauona, a rupe of Liguria called Sauon.
Saura, ræ, f. g. a lparde, whiche lyeth in hedges.
Saurites, tæ, m. ge. a stone, whiche is founde in the bealy of a greene lparde.
Sauromata, people called also Sarmata, Russes, Tartaryns, Moscovites. &c.
Saurus, a notable image maker.
Saxetanus, a, um, that breedeth among stones.
Saxatilis, le, stonie.
Pisces saxatiles, fyshes breed among stones.
Saxetum, ti, neu. gen. a place full of rocks or stones.
Saxeus, a, um, stonie, or of stone.
Saxiphagon, or Saxiphages, in greke, or Saxifraga in latin, Dioscorides and Plinie doe call it also Empetron, whiche in derde is the herbe called called Sampyre, vsed for a saure and in fadletes: and therfore is boyled and kepte in byne.

Anton. Musa denieth, that Saxifraga, and Empetron be one. Ruellius descriueth Saxifraga with littell braunches, growyng on stones, haupng small stalkes, not vnyke to Euphymus, but that they are blacke and shorte, and hath leaues lyke to maidenhaire, but that they be greater, or to Polypodi, on the toppe bushy, but out of order, haupng nether floure nor ferde, and a superfluous roote. He also saith, that it is founde in olde buydnges, in the topes of the stones. In an other place he nameth that kynde of maydenhaire, whiche is called Adiantum Saxifraga. Our Saxifraga I neede not to describe, it is so commonly knowne, and groweth in suche aboundance, whiche is not lyke to any of the other: nor yet to that, which in Fraunce (as Ruellius writeth) is called Saxifraga maior, whiche he affirmeth to bee Sefeli Massiliense: nor to that, whiche he supposeth to be a kynde of Napli. Some thynke Saxifragum to be the herbe called Wintwoorte.
Saxificus, a, um, that tourneth into stones.
Saxoforatum, a towne in the confines of Vmbria and Picene.
Saxones, the people of Saxonia.
Saxonia, Saxonia.
Saxosus, a, um, full of great stones or rocks.
Frutex saxosus, an herbe or shrub, that groweth among stones.
Saxulum, li. n. g. a littell rocke or stone.
Saxum, i, n. g. a rocke. sometyme a stone. sometyme an hyll.
Signare carmine saxum, to write an Epitaphie vpon a tumber.
Saxu voluere, to tourne the stone, a prouerbe, applied to them that bee fatigate or wearied with continuall and vnprofitable labours.

Scabellum li, n. g. a fote stoole or low sette.
Scaber, bra, brum, rusky, rough, sometyme filthy.
Dentes scabri rubigine, the teeth being filthy, as it were with rust, when they bee not washed.
Pecus scabrum, hoc est scabiosum.
Scabies, ei, f. g. a scabbe.
Scabile, lis, n. g. idem quod Scabellum.
Scabiola, an herbe, rebe Psora, scabiose.
Scabiolus, a, um, scabbed.
Scabo, bi, bere, to rubbe or scratche.
Scabratus, a, um, made rough or rugged, as it were a thyng that is scalde.
Scabrèdo, brédinis, fæ. gen. a roughnesse of the skinne, as when it dooth wynde.
Scabrè, roughly, not playne or smoth.
Scabritia, æ, and Scabrities, ei, fæ. g. rustinesse, filthyne, roughnesse.

Scabro, onis, a woyme, which is engendred of the carragins of a dead horse.
Scabrosus, a, um, idem quod Scaber.
Scabrum, bri, n. g. idem quod Scabritia.
Scæa, an haue at Æolie, where as was the sepulchre of Laomidon.
Scæi, people in Thracia.
Scæna, næ, f. g. a place, whiche serueth onely for enterludes or comedies to bee played in, whiche was in the fourme of a halfe circle. it is also where trees or bushes are cut and laied ouer the head, in such forme as men may vnder them walke or sitte in the shadowe. it is also where a vice or offence is openly detected, in suche wyse as men dooe erie out, or wounder at it. looke Scæna.
Scænaicus, vel scænailis, for a plaier in comedies or enterludes.
Scænicula, a diminutive of Scæna.
Scænicus, a, um, pertaining to enterludes.
Scænicus, a place in enterludes.
Scænitæ, people of Ærabie, whiche dwell alwaie in tentes, couered with the heares of goates: among whom yf a swine or hogge be brought, it dieth.
Scænoma, nômatis, n. g. a tente, also a bagge.
Scænopegia, orum, n. g. the feast of the tabernacles, wherein the Jewes dyd set by tabernacles or tentes in similitude of thepm, wherein they dwelled when they came out of Ægypte.
Scæua, uæ, f. g. the left hande. also he that plyeth the left hande for the ryght.
Scæuus, a, um, ill. sometyme it signifieth good: as, Scæuum omen, good lucke or chaunce.
Scæuola, a noble man of Rome.
Scala, læ, or scala, scalarum, f. g. a ladder. also a payre of Staires. some put this difference, that Scala, læ, is a ladder, and Scala, arum, a payre of Staires.
Scalabilis, a citee of Portugall, called somamonly Erugillo.
Scalde, a river in Fraunce.
Scalmus, mi, m. g. a littell piece of wood, wherewith to thymmen dooe bynde theyr oyes, to rowe the more easly.
Scalpellum, li, n. ge. or Scalpellus, li, m. ge. a penne knife. also an instrument or fine knife, that surgeons vse to leat bloude with.
Scalper, pri, m. g. any instrument of yron, wherewith incision is made, as a lancette, cissors, or such other.
Scalpo, pli, pere, to scratche, to clawe, to scrape, also to graue in metall or stone.
Scalprum, pri, n. g. an instrument, wherewith any thyng is scraped, or ripped: also a surgions instrument, wherewith he taketh corrupte fleshe from the bones. it is also a grauing iron, a thapnyng knyfe. also a knyfe, wherewith they cutte bynes.
Scalprum librarium, a penne knyfe.
Scalprum sutorium, a shoemakers paring knife, Rrr iiii of Mas

of haupng knife.

Scalptor, oris, m. g. a grauer.

Scalptura, ræ, f. g. graupng in mettall.

Scalpturatum pauimentum, a pauement made with stones of diuers colours ioynged together, haupng ymages of beastes made in them.

Scalpturio, or Scalpturio, riui, riræ, to scrape as a cothe dooth of other foules.

Scalpturo, aui, are, to ingraue.

Scalpurigo, riginis, f. g. a clawng.

Scamander, dri, a ryuer of Troie descendng from the mountayne Ida.

Scamandria, a towne by the hauen of Ilium, not farre from Troie.

Scamandrus, the soonne of Hector and Androz mache.

Scamium, ni, n. ge. a benche of fourme. also a steppe of grice, whereby a man goeth vp into a hygh bedde. also a balke vntilled betwene two sowowes: by a metaphore a barre of shelle in the sea.

Scamna, bee sometyme taken for boughes of trees.

Scamonea, or Scamonia, æ, or Scamonium, ni, an herbe, the iupe whereof is vfed in medicine to pouerge cholere vehementely. All be it that it is venomous, and leaueh worse matter behynde, than it doeth expell.

Scandalides, a hynde of batce.

Scandalizo, aui, are, to offende.

Scandalum, li, n. ge. occasion to synne, geuen by an other to hym that synneth: any thyng that one is offended in.

Scandiana mala, a certayne hynde of appula.

Scandiana, an yle in the northe Ocean sea, the quantite wherof was neuer founde.

Scandix, dicis, f. g. an herbe lyke to cheruill, but it is sweeter, and hath a white flower, and a litte tell roote, wylde cheruill.

Scandō, didi, dere, to clymme.

Scandor, scanderis, the passiue.

Scandulaca, ex, f. g. an herbe, whiche renneth bypon cozne, as yue dooth on trees.

Scandula, læ, fæ. gen. a shingle, whiche is a tyle of woodde, wherwith dyuers churches bee coered.

Scandularii, they do couer houses with shingle.

Scandulum contractū, a house couered with shingle of woodden tiles.

Scandilis, le, that which maye be climmed or gone by on.

Scansio, onis, f. g. a climmyng by.

Scapha, phæ, f. g. a bote made of a whole tree, or a shyppe bote.

Scapharius, rij, m. g. a bote man.

Scaphium, phij, n. g. a basen or vessel to receiue brine or oyldure. Also a drinkeing pottle. Sometyme a spade or lyke toole to digge with.

Scapilum, li, n. g. the space betwene the shoul: ders: also the backe.

Scapensula, a place in Macedonia, where Iulus was digged.

Scapia, an olde citee in Italie, wherof came Scapia tribus.

Scapula, læ, f. g. the hynder parte of the shulders.

Scapularis, re, perteyning to the shulders.

Scapularis vestis, a garment, whiche couereth onely the shulders.

Scapularis, a bope of wenche, which is often beate about the shulders.

Scapus, i, mæl. g. the body of a pillour, betwene the chapitre and the base. also an instrumente that weauers vse: after Buellius, it is a Ralke, whiche riseth bolte vpright: some doe call it a knappe, wherein seedes are contained, as a poppie: some doe so name the huske of a grape. also the greene skinn of a silbarde, acorne, walla nutte, or such lyke. also a beane Ralke.

Scapi candelabrorum, the parte of a candill Ralke betwene the base of foote and the nose, the shanke.

Scapus cardinalis, the chiefe poste of a gate, wherunto the hynges bee fastned, and wherby in some places the gate is turned in a suchet as boue and beneth, the head of a gate.

Scapus trutinæ, the tongue of the balance.

Scapus in chartarum ratione, a reame of a quere of paper.

Scarabæus, bæi, m. g. a fle with a blacke shell or huske, called a bitell, whiche byedeth and feredeth in cowe shardes, and is blacke. also there is a hynde of them, whiche hath hoynes lyke to an hare.

Scarabæus aquilam, a prouerbe, applied to such as induoure them selfe to do displeasure to those that be more puissant then they are.

Scardona, a citee of Liburnia called Scardo.

Scarificatio, onis, f. g. launcyng.

Scarifico, aui, are, to launce or open a soze, that the corrupte matter maye issue out.

Scarites, æ, m. g. a pyrcious stone.

Scarium, rij, a certayne measure of cozne, how much it conteyneth I know not.

Scarus, a fische, whiche doeth thewe lyke a beaste: some me suppose it to be a gylt head or goldnie

Scatebra, bræ, fæ. g. the bollng of risng by of water out of a spring, or a surge of water.

Scateo, scatuī, tere, to renne or braste out, as water doeth out of a narrow or street place, to renne ouer, to be full, to haue exceedyng great plentie.

Scaturiginosus, a, um, that bursteth out of renneth ouer.

Scaturigo, riginis, f. g. brastyng out of water, or other thyng in like maner.

Scaturio, scaturis, riui, riræ, to renne out of a byode. also to springe of growe abrode plenis fully, as some herbes doe.

Scaurus, ri, m. ge. he that hath his toes swollen, or his anckel crooked, that he maye not goe faste. it was also an honorable house of the Ro: maynes.

Scaus

Scaurus, a certayne fische.

Scazon, tis, m. g. a hynde of meeter.

Scelerate, mischeuouely, naughty, wickedly.

Sceleratus, a, um, he to whom a mischeuous dede is doone: or that dooth a mischeuous dede, mischeuous, naughty, lewde. also noysome, hurtfull.

Sceleratum frigus, id est, nocens.

Smapis scelerata, sharpe and bytyng mustarde seede.

Malta scelerata, proscription and open sellng of meunes goddes against realon and honestee.

Sceleratus campus, a fiede at Rome, where the nunnes of Alesia were buried quiche, if they were founde to lyue incontinently.

Scelero, aui, are, to pollute, to defyle.

Scelerosus, a, um, that hath done an vngacious or mischeuous dede, full of mischiefe, a mischeuous and a naughty knaue.

Scelerate, vngaciousely, mischeuouely, wickedly.

Scelustus, a, um, vngacious, full of unhappinesse, mischeuous, vengeable.

Scelus, sceleris, n. ge. a mischeuous dede. also an vngacious persone, a naughty felowe.

Abesse ab aliquo scelere, not to be gilty in any mischeuous acte.

Astringi scelere, to be culpable of faulte.

Scena næ, fæ. g. a pavilion or haule, also a scaf: folde. also a place couered with bowes of trees, growng one within an other, and geuyng a shadow. the shadow of an hyl, woodde or other lyke thyng: like Scena.

Scena totius rei hæc est, this is the some and argument of the whole matter.

Seruire scenæ, to doe accordyng to the present tyme and occasion.

Scena minore, id est, minore apparatu & ostentatione.

Scenalis, le, perteyning to a scaffold, or stage.

Scenice, lyke to them that plaie on scaffoldes in comedies, or tragedies.

Scenicus, a, um, belonging to the playng of tragedies or comedies, or one that plaioth in a tragedie or comedie.

Scenitz, people of Arabia felix.

Scenofactorius, a, um, that belongeth to the making of tentes, pavilions, scaffoldes, arbors or other shadowed places.

Scenographia, æ, fæ. ge. is an adumbration or lyght descripcion of the front and sydes of a house, where the lynes do answer to the compasse and centre of euery parte.

Scenoma, nomatis, n. ge. a pavilion, a sacke.

Scenopogia, orum, n. g. plu. the feast of tabernacles or tentes.

Scenonon, ni, n. g. a coueryng.

Scepis, a citee in Phrygia.

Sceptici, were a secte of philosophers, which affirmed nothyng, the chiefe of that secte was Pyrrho and Terillus.

Sceptica, æ, fæ. m. ge. the secte of these philoz sophers.

Sceptrum, tri, a princes sceptre.

Potiri sceptris, to be hynde of ruler.

Reponere aliquem in sceptrum, to restore one to his kingdome agayne.

Sceptrifer, ra, ruri, that beareth a sceptre.

Sceptrichus, ci, m. g. he that holdeth a sceptre.

Sceda, æ, fæ. g. a leafe of paper, a scrowe, a scedule. sometyme a booke. it was vfed in olde tyme for writyng tables.

Schedia, orum, n. g. a thyng lyke to a bypde with trees pinned together, wheron thynges are ca: ried in the water, in the stede of a barge, as it maye be seene on diuers great riues in Germania. also a bote or littell shippe.

Schedia, orum, n. g. plu. verses made without meditation or studie.

Schedia, chippes that carpenters make in hewyng of tymber.

Schedion, di, n. g. any thyng sodapnely made, and without much labour, as a bypde or other thyng.

Schedula, læ, fæ. gen. a littell scrowe or leafe of paper.

Schema, ætis, n. g. and Schema, mæ, f. g. an ornament specially in speche. also Schema, mæ, is vfed for a garment.

Schesis, where a multitude of wordes are brought in together vniopnged: as, Nubila, nix, grandis, procellæ, flumina, venti, cloudes, snowe, hayle, showres, fluddes, wyndes.

Schilchi, amonge the tewes was a weyghte of foure ounces.

Schinis, the name of a notable and cruell robber, that was slayne by Theseus.

Schinos, the tree, out of the whiche renneth Phas: tre. rde Lentiscus.

Schinusa, one of the yles called Sporades.

Schisma, schismatis, n. g. a diuision specially in the churche.

Schistum, ti, n. g. the milke that remaineth after that the milke is sodden, whiche is called well roundes: after Budanus it is creame.

Schæneus, called also Jæneus a hyng of Arcadie, father of Alalanta.

Schæneus, a, um, of Schæneus.

Schæneis, idis, patronymicum femin.

Schœnicule, harlottes, whiche dresse them selves with stinkyng opmentes.

Schœnismos, a measure of grownde.

Schœnobates, he that goeth on a roide.

Schœnobaticus, a, um, perteyning to him that goeth byon a rope.

Schœnobaticam facere, to exercise the feat of walkyng on roides.

Schœnoplotos, ci, m. g. a ropar

Schœnos, or Schœnum, a roide. also that which is called luncus odoratus: Sclisus calleth it luncus rotundus: the apothecaries call it Squinatum.

Schœnus, nuntis, a ryuer by Athens: also an os: they ether in Arcadia.

Schenus, a space of ground, containing .60 furlonges, whiche is scuen miles, and an halfe.
Verbum egyptium.

Schola, l. e. g. a schoole, a college. also a place in a bapne, where men did abide, whyles other were bained. Iphewse in a porche, wherein men varied for answers. Schola, are taken for disputacions betwene the master and his scholars. Scholam explicare, id est, præcepta doctrinæ vel sectæ alicuius exponere.
Pomeridianis scholis Aristoteles. &c. Art. stote in his disputacions at after noone. &c.

Scholâris, re, pertainyng to schooles.

Scholasticus, ci, a scholar.

Scholasticus, a, um, scholasticall.

Schôlium, li, n. g. a shorte or compendious exposition.

Sciamachia, x, for. g. a priue exercise, a shadowe or image of contention or fighing.

Sciâter, teris, m. g. an instrument of Astronomic, that men used in choosynge situations of cities.

Sciâtericon, ci, m. ge. a diall set upon a wall to knowe by the soonne what is a clocke.

Sciathos, a, certayne ple.

Sciens, entis, knowyng, wityng.

Sciens feci, I dyd it wityngly.

Nunc adeo ut tu sis sciens, and nowe I wolde thou shouldest knowe.

Ut sis sciens, that you may not bee ignorant of the matiere.

Te science faciam quidquid egero, thou shalt be of counsaile what so ever I shall dooe: or I will dooe nothyng without your counsaile.

Sciens non faciam, I will not dooe it wityngly.

Sciens latinæ linguæ, one that is skilful in the latyne tongue.

Sciens citharæ, counnyng on the harpe.

Scienter, counnyngly, wityngly.

Scienter feci, I did it counnyngly.

Scientia, x, f. g. counnyng, knowlage, science.

Iuris civilis scientia, knowelage of the ciuile lawe.

Scilicet, as who sayeth, it is as muche, that is to witte, surely, mozeouer, yea what els, sometyme it implieth a negatiue.

Id populus curat scilicet, yea the people careth muche therfore, as who sayeth, they care nothing for it.

Scilicet equidem istuc factum ignosciam, yea may that is well said, ye I will pardone the anone: or thyngest thou that I will pardone this deede of thyne?

Scilicet expectemus illud quinquennium, ye marie it is best that we tarye yet untill the fift yeres be passed, as who mought saye, I will not tarye so longe.

Scilicet grauiorem dolorem tibi patri tui mors attulit, quam C. Graccho fratris, mate that be true, that the death of thyne vncle grees ued the more, then greened Gracchus the death of his brother.

Scilicet ita res est, truly it is as I tell you.

Non vides? P. videas obsecro quem? Ph. hunc scilicet, seeke thou not? See, I praye the whom? Id h. hym I tell the.

Fratris igitur Thais tota est? C. scilicet, yea it is euen so.

Alterum quod iam diu fuit scilicet consulare, iam perdidistis, that is to wit, that is to saye.

Scilla, l. e. g. a certayne herbe, whiche hath a roote lyke an opynon, growyng bothe on the lande and in the sea: some call it Squilla.

Scillinus, a, um, and Scillitius, a, um, made of Scilla.

Scillites, ra, m. g. a kynde of wyne made with Scilla.

A cetum scillites, vinegre, hangyng the rootes of Scilla stiped in it.

Scimpodium, di, n. g. a littell couche or benche.

Scincus, a kynde of small crocodiles in the riues of Nilus.

Scindo, scidi, scindere, to cutte, to diuide, to rent, to teare.

Scindere sententiam, to diuide his opynon.

Humum scindere vomere, to plough the grounde.

Nebulas scindere, to goe through the cloudes.

Penulam scindere, prouerbiaily, to force or holde one to tarye.

Ne scindam ipse dolorem meum, that I maie not refreshe or renewe myne owne sorowe or greefe.

Scinditur incertum studia in contraria vulgus, hoc est, it in diuersas sententias tanq partes.

Scindidi, is, vñd of Plautus for Scidi.

Scintilla, l. e. g. a sparke of fyre, such as is striken out of a flint.

Scintilla belli pro reliquijs.

Ve nequa scintilla terribili belli relinquitur, that no sparke of that most cruell warre be left.

Scintillatio, ônis, a sparkelyng by of fyre: also a sparkelyng by as newe wyne dooeth in the cuppe.

Scintillo, aul, to sparke.

Scintilla, l. e. g. a little sparke.

Scio, sciui, scire, to knowe.

Scire fidibus, to be perfecte in playng on instruments.

Scire scissere, to ordaine and make, as it is in our parliament.

Scire omnes linguas, to speake all languages.

Scit fidibus, he can playe on the harpe.

Latine vel grace scire, to vnderstande of bo counnyng in greche or latine.

Sciens non faciam, I will not dooe it wityngly.

Scio vi foro, I knowe what I haue to dooe, also I can accomodate my selfe to other mens maners, & to the condicions of the tyme and place place present.

De argento ni mater tua sciat, ut factum sit, if your mother knowe not what is become of the money.

Scire certum velim, I wolde know the truthe.

Non venerat quod sciam, he came not as farre as I knowe.

Sciri, the pastue.

Scin, for Scisne.

Scibitur, the impersonall.

Scibo, for Sciam.

Sciome, a towne of Macedonie.

Sciolus, li, m. ge. he that knoweth somewhat, a smatterer in any knowlage.

Sciomania, a parte of nichromancie, wrought by shadowes.

Sciopodes, people, whiche lyng byright, dooe shadowe them selves with their feete: all be it euer one man hath but one legge, yet see they wonderfull wyse.

Sciotericon, loke Sciatericon.

Sciopada, and Scipionida, they whiche were of Scipiones progenie, the noble capitaynes of Romayns.

Scipio, the surname of diuers noble Romayns, of the whiche. iiii. were most excellent, as well in martiall prowesse, as in other most notable vertues. The one, called Scipio Nasica, sonne of Gneius Scipio, who had ben bothe Consul and triumphed: and being a very pong man, was demed of al the people of Rome to bee the beste man in that cite. Two other were byrtherne, & sonnes of Publius Scipio. The one of them, L. Scipio, for the subduyng of Asia, was called Scipio Asiaticus, & other, P. Cor. Scipio, for vanquishyng Anniball, and the people of Africa, was named Scipio Africanus Maior, this Publius Cor. Scipio, from his chyldhode was of a wonderfull towardnesse: for byng but xvi. yeres olde, in a great battaile by Narue in Lombardie, he rescued his father being enuironed with enemies, and in danger to be slayne. Also after the discomfiture at Cannas, where the moze parte of the flour of chualtrie was slayne, because the residue of the yong men concluded to haue forsaken Italie, this Scipio dyeme out his sword, and compelled them to fwere, that they shuld not leaue the cite, but defende it. After that his father and vncle were slayne, all men fearyng to be Capitaynes in so dangerous warres, he stept forth with a noble courage, profering hym selfe to take that charge in hande, wherunto the Senate and people consented, he being then but 22. yeres olde, they beholdyng in his personage and visage a beautie incomparable, his countenance meere and gentill, and in his gesture and pace to be a wonderfull maiestee, whiche was had in suche admiration, throug out all the worlde, that after he had dyed Anniball out of Afrique, subdued the cite of Carthage, and constrained the great kynge Antiochus to despye peace of the Romayns, the warres being ceased, men came out of all countreis to Rome, onely to see and honour hym, as one excedyng the state of mortalitee, wherby suche enuie was stirred toward hym, that he was accused for deteynyng of cessayne treasure, whiche shulde haue ben brought into the common Treasurie: but he with a noble and valiant courage came before the people, and remembryng what he had done for the weale publike, required them to go with hym to the Capitoll to geue thanks to god for his victorie: and so departyng; all the people followed hym, and left the iudges alone. But not withstanding he so greuouly toke the indignitee of the Senate and people, that he aban-doned all common affayres, and went out of the cite of Rome to a manour place, whiche he had at Linternum, and there ended his life, when he had lued lxx. yeres. A notable rethens bzaunte to them that dooe trust on fortune or fauour of the people. The fourth was Scipio Africanus Minor, sonne of Paulus Aemilius: he subuerted Carthage and Numantia.

Scipio, ônis, m. g. a staffe to walke with. also the staffe of a grape.

Sciron, a notable robber, whose bones beyng caste into the sea, were turned into great rockes: loke Scyron.

Scirôma, tis, n. ge. hardnesse. also an infection or a disease of the huer that can not bee healed.

Scironia saxa, rockes in the sea by Athenes.

Scirpea, x, for. ge. a dounge potte or colne made with rodde, or rushes.

Scirpeus, a, um, that is made of bull rushes.

Scirpicula, l. e. g. a littell booke, wherewith rushes or any thyng is cutte of in byndyng of thynges.

Scirpiculum, li, n. ge. a basket or hamper made of wyppes or rushes.

Scirpiculus, li, a littell bull rushe.

Scirpi, subtile and capcious sentences.

Scirpus, pi, m. g. a bull rushe.

Scirpium, in scirpo quære, to sche for a knot in a rushe, is a prouerbe, wherby is signified, to sche to diligently for a thyng that maie not be founde, or to make doubte of a thyng, whith is a playne. Scirpi in Aul. Gellius, are capcious arguments, subtile saynges, darke questions, riddles.

Scirrus, or Scirron, ri, neu. ge. is an hardnesse growen in the fleshe within the skynne, or in some other parte within the body, a kercell.

Scirrhosis, sis, f. ge. a disease in the cite, compyng of a longe inflammation, fleshe growyng in the somewhat blew.

Scirta, a kynde of opynions growyng in wynter called scaltions.

Sciscitor, âris, ari, to demaunde, to aske, to inquire, to endeavour to knowe a thyng, to wathe to the intent to knowe.

Libet

Libet sciscitari, I haue a fantasy to inquire, I haue a great desyre to aske, that I maie knowe.
 Sciscito, is vsed of Plautus actiuelly.
 Scisco, sciui, sciscere, to knowe. also to deterne or geue sentence, to make ordinaunce of lawes, to ordeine.
 Accurro vt sciscam, quid velit, I renne to him to knowe what he wolde haue.
 Scisilis, le, that is of maie be cutte.
 Scissura, re, f. g. and Scissus, us, m. g. a cutte, a chappe, a clesse.
 Scissus, a, um, cutte, diuided, clesse, rent, tozre.
 Scita, people in the north part of Asia, whiche were cruell and harde to be vanquished, thei be now called Russians, Moscouites, and Tartarians.
 Scire, counnyngly, craftily, preatly, wittily, gately.
 Scitamenta, drum, neu. gene. pleasantnesse, by translatione such thynges, as one perswadeth hym selfe to be wittie or subtil in his communication, fine and wittie thynges set to adorne an oracion.
 Scitor, aris, ari, to demande or inquire thynges secrete or unknownen.
 Scitum, ti, n. g. a decree or statute, an ordinaunce.
 Scitum facere, to make an ordinaunce or decree.
 Scitulus, a, um, preatp, featc.
 Sciut, a, um, wise or wittie, also propre or featc.
 Hoc sciut est, this is a goodly wise sayng.
 Sciurus, ri, m. g. a squyrell.
 Sciut, a, um, that knoweth a thyng.
 Sclerialis, sis, f. g. a swellng of the ele liddes, with pepne and rednesse.
 Sclerophthalmia, x, f. g. where the ele liddes bene harde, and waxe heauy with ache.
 Scopus, pi, m. g. a towne, whiche is made with puffng of the chikcs.
 Scobina, na, f. g. an instrument that bowlers vse to shoue their bowes with, called a grauer.
 Scobino, aui, are, to wounde, to shoue of.
 Scobs, scobis, f. g. that which cometh of swyng, thauyng, filyng, or bozng of woodde or mettal, sawe duste, pyne duste and such like, also grete of stoncs, wherewith metall is scoured.
 Scodra, a citee of Liburnia, called nowe Scutara.
 Scolicia, x, f. g. a hynde of rust or canker.
 Scolicum, cu, a certayne wourme.
 Scolopendra, dra, a fyfthe that hath many teete, whiche begng taken with an angle, casteth out all his bowelles, untill the hooke be out, and sucketh them in agayne.
 Scolopendria, x, f. g. ge. the herbe called hart's tongue.
 Scolopendria, an herbe called also A splenon, it groweth on finte walles, where the son cometh neuer or seldom, and hath leaues lyke Polypodium, somewhat pelyow by the grounde and rough, and aboue greene, hauyng neither stalke, floure, nor teete. it is not hartes tongue, whiche is commonly called Scolopendria, but it is that whiche the apothecaries dooe call Cetrac, rede before in Hemionitis, & Phillis.

 Scolopendra, ra, f. g. a littell wourme, with many legges, wherewith he goeth like to a barge with many oyes.
 Scolus, a village in Asopia, vnder the mountaine Cithierone, a place vnpleasant, vnfruitfull, untilld and rough: Stephanus boundeth it in Scotia.
 Scolymos, mi, m. g. a thistle nowe called wilde Arichoke: of some men it is tak for the thistle, whiche beastes doe eate, called cowthistle.
 Scombrus, or Scomber, bri, m. g. a fishe, a certayne hynde of Tunny.
 Scommas, scommaris, n. gen. a scoffe or sentence spoken in mirth, whiche fowndeth otherwise then is ment of hym that speaketh.
 Scopar, arum, f. ge. plu. a bryowme or besome to sweepe houses.
 Scopas manuales camomeli, handfules of the cresses of camomile.
 Scopas dissoluta, p. proverbially, dissolute men without wittie or counsaile.
 Scopas dissolue, to saie or doe a thing without any purpose or reason, to make a thyng vnpofitable, that it wyl serue to no vse.
 Scopa regia, an herbe called Whistyle.
 Scopa regia, called also Bunium, an herbe hauyng a stalke lower square, a leafe like percel, a flower like dill, and a swete sode.
 Scopas, the cresses of herbes of trees.
 Scoparius, rij, m. g. and Scoparia, x, f. g. he or she that sweepeth the house.
 Scopas, a mannes name, a notable graue.
 Scopel, men of littell stature.
 Scopos, certayne birds.
 Scopelon, li, neu. ge. an high place, where men stande to beholde or espie.
 Scopi, be grapes, after that the wyne is pressed out, after Alepine.
 Scopo, aui, are, to sweepe.
 Scopula operta, two bones, whiche come from the necke to the shuldres.
 Scopula, la, f. gen. a bysthe, such as painters and petgettours doe vse.
 Scopulosus, a, um, rocky or full of rockes.
 Scopolus, li, ma. gen. an high rocke, by translatione that wher at a thyng taketh great hurte or perissheth. Sometime it is taken for Scopus, a marke to shoote at.
 Ad scopulum ire, to renne on a rocke, to perishe or be destroyed.
 Ad coldem scopulos nauem appellere, To renne on the same rocke: by translatione, to take hurte or displeasure by the same matter that a nother hath done.
 Gestare scopulos in corde dicitur, when one is moued with no pitee or compassion.
 Scopus, pi, m. gene. a marke wher at men doe shoote, a butte, a pyche. Sometime it signifyeth any thing, wherunto that which is spoken, hath appyned.

apprincipall respecte, the ende or marke, wherunto a mannes purpose is directed. also the chike and butty stalke, that grapes bee on in clusters.
 Scordion, di, n. g. an herbe that hath leaues lyke to germander, but muche larger, and the stalke four square, and hath some parte of the sauour of garlyke: whiche fourme declareth it to bee neither ransome, nor yet saue alone.
 Scordotis, idem. it is called water german's der.
 Scordona, an ile lying towards Dalmacia, called commonly Malconseglio.
 Scoria, x, f. g. the refuse of metall tried out by fyre, dyosse.
 Scordon, di, n. g. garlyke or cressis.
 Scorpæna, a fishe, whiche keepeth his selfe to one make.
 Scorpoides, the herbe called also Scorpis.
 Scorpis, onis, m. g. or Scorpis, pi, m. g. a venomous wourme, called a scorpion, which hath bit. teete, and stretcheth with his tayle, and neuer ceaseth to scarche, where he may haue occasion to strike. also a signe in the firmament, it is also an instrument of warre lyke a scorpion, that shooteth small arrowes, some take it for a crosse bowe, some for a faction of fingers. Also a whype hauyng plummettes of leade at the ends of the cordes. it is also an herbe, whiche hath seedes lyke to a scorpions tayle, and beray fewe leaues, this herbe is diuersely described.
 also a certayne fishe.
 Scorpionarn, they whiche dooe shoote in crosse bowes.
 Scorpites, m. g. a stone of the colour of a scorpion.
 Scorpionron, ri, ne. g. called also Heliotropion hauyng the name of the lyphensic of a scorpions tayle, whiche is in the flowers.
 Scortator, oris, m. g. he that haunteth harlottes.
 Scortes, the robbe of a man or beaste.
 Scorteus, a, um, that is made of skynnes or leathers.
 Scortillum, li, n. g. a diminutive of scortum.
 Scortor, aris, ari, to haunte or companie with harlottes.
 Scortum, ti, n. ge. the hyde or skynne of a beaste. it is also a comon harlot or strumpet, a queane, a dyabbe.
 Scotia, Scotlande, the parte of Britannia from the ryuer of Tweede to Latanes.
 Scoti, scottes or scottishe men, of whome sainte Hierome writeth in this wise: Quid loquar de ceteris nationibus, quum ipse adolescentulus in Gallia viderim Scotos, gentem Britannicam humanis vesci carnibus, & quum per sylvas porcorum greges & armentorum, pecudum reperiant, pastorum nates, & formidarum papillas solere abscindere, & has solas ciborum delicias arbitrari: what shall I speake of other nations, sens that when I was a boy,

I sawe in Fraunce scottes, a people of Brittainne, eate menues fleshe: and when they founde in the forrestes herdes of swine, beastes and cattall, they woulde cutte of the buttoches of the boyes, whiche kepte them, and also the womens pappes, and toke that to be the moste deintie and delicate meate.
 Scotos, in greche, darke nesse: it is moze aptely called in the northerne tongue mirbe.
 Scotoma, maris, n. g. dymnesse of syght, or a dazelyng of the eyes.
 Scotusa, a citee of Chessalie.
 Scrateu, rei, n. g. a skynne, wherin arrows are putte, it maie be called a theffe.
 Scrapia, a wourme, whiche is founde in leaues, also a vile and stinkynge harlotte, a duielynge queane.
 Screabilis, le, that whiche maie bee spette or retched out of the longes or stomache.
 Sreator, oris, he that retcheth or spetteth.
 Sreatus, us, m. g. a spettyng or retchynge to spette.
 Sreatio, onis, idem.
 Sreco, aui, are, to reache in spettyng.
 Scriba, x, m. g. a secretarie, a notarie, a scribe, a clerke of an officer.
 Scribanus, us, m. g. the office of a clerke or scribe.
 Scribello, aui, are, the olde wryters used for scribo.
 Scribigo, ginis, f. g. an untrue forme of speakeyng or wrytyng, called also Solecismus.
 Scribita, x, f. g. a delicate meate made of paste, stouffed and wounden lyke a rope, I thinke it be such as fettes of Portugall are, after some it is a tart.
 Scribo, scripsi, scribere, to write: also to make, as one maketh a booke or ether woork. Some tyme to pepnet.
 Scribere seruo libertatem, to geue freedome to a bonde man in his testament.
 Scribere nummos alicui, to delpuer monye by exchange or out of the hande.
 Supplementum legionibus scribere, to prepay fourme of make by the legions with the iuste numbre of souldiours.
 Scribere mea, tua, sua manu, non autem propria manu: nusquam enim apud bonos autores reperitur.
 Ad me scripsit, quemadmodum. &c. he wryote to me how. &c.
 Hec igitur pluribus scripsi, therefore I haue wrytten these thynges moze at large.
 Nons scribere, to wryte in rhyphers.
 Scribe salarem patri meis verbis, write commendacions to your father in my name.
 Leges scribere, to make lawes.
 Aliquem heredem scribere, to make one his heire: to appoint or ordeyne one to be his heire by testament.
 Dicam alicui scribere, looke Dica.
 Scripta illa sunt in animo, those thynges are wrytten written or printed in my mynde.

 Scripte & Apolline & Dianam, id est pinxit.
 De bonis gravis male scripta launce, booke translated into ill latyne, that were before in the greke tongue eloquent and good.
 Scribiarius, rij, m. g. a keeper of secreete letters.
 Scribolum, li, n. ge. a hacket or fozlar, a gardis uiance.
 Scrium, nij, n. ge. a coffre or other lyke place, wherein Jewels or secret thynges are kept, as es uidences and recozdes of iudgements or in rollementes.
 Scriptio, onis, f. g. an inscription or any other writing. also the acte of writing.
 Scriptio, auis, are, to write often.
 Scriptor, oris, mas, f. g. a writer, an authour, one that maketh a booke, epistol, or any other worke written. sometime a secretarie or scribe.
 Scriptorem legum, a maker of lawes.
 Scriptorius, a, um, apte for writing, or that be longeth to a writer.
 Atramentum scriptorium, writing ynke.
 Scriptum, ti, n. g. that whiche is written.
 Tradere aliquid scripto, to put a thyng in wri
 tynge.
 Scriptum facere, to gette ones lyfynge with wrytynge, to be a secretary or clerke.
 De scripto dicere, to rede a thyng vpon this paper: to pronounce a thyng that was penned before.
 Scriptura, re, f. g. wrytynge. sometime style, al so the rente of common fermes. also a rekenyng of a common bailiffe, whiche byeth and selleth cattall, or hath the lettyng of common pastures:
 or of hym whiche oughte to paie certayne reues newes for that whiche he hath hired, as custod mers, or they that haue in ferme colles and o ther common duties.
 Reliquum scripturæ consumetur in exem
 plis, the residue that is to be written. &c.
 Genus hoc scripturæ, for this kynde of wry
 tynge.
 Magister scripturæ, he that hath the lettyng of common pastures, and kepeth the registers and accounptes of the bailiffes, or them that haue in ferme the common colles, cottomes and other duties and payementes.
 Scripturarius, rij, m. ge. he that writeth thynges that be commonly done, or booke of rekenyng for bailiffes and reues, a clerke: idem quod magister scripturæ.
 Scripturio, riui, rite, to be with childe to be wri tynge, to longe or haue a great desyre to be wri
 tynge.
 Scriptus, a, um, written.
 Scriptus, us, m. g. a wrytynge.
 Scrobiculus, li, m. g. a littell dicke or furrowe.
 Scrops, scrobis, f. & m. g. a dicke or furrow.
 Scrobis, is sometime vfed in the nominatiue case.
 Scrobulus, a littell dicke or furrow.
 Scrofularia, re, f. g. some thyng it to be the blinde netstill, other the herbe called of Dioscorides Chelidonium minus.

 Scrophia, or Scrofa, re, f. g. a sowe that hath had pigges more then ones.
 Scrophiscus, ci, m. g. one that feedeth swyne, a swyne herde.
 Scrofula, re, f. g. a littell sowe pigge. also the dis ease called Struma.
 Scrotum, ti, n. g. the codde or skinne, wherein be the stones of a man. Scrota be also litle images made of paste, whiche are wont to be geuen to children.
 Scrupus, a, um, of littell stones.
 Scrupulus, a, um, full of littell grauell stones.
 Scrupularum, by small pieces.
 Scrupulose, curiously, anxiously, scrupus lously.
 Scrupularis, re, that belongeth to the copie of mo ny called scrupulus, or that is the thirde parte of a diamme in weight.
 Scrupulatum, by littell peaces.
 Scrupulositas, atis, fce. ge. anxietee, or curiositee nesse of conscience, scrupulositee, spied conscia ence.
 Scrupulosus, a, um, full of littell grauell stones, scrupulous, curious or doubtfull in lighte thyng
 ges, sometime it signifyeth diffide or difficulte.
 Scrupulosa res, a thyng wherein there seemeth to be some difficultee.
 Scrupulus, li, m. g. a littell sharpe stone, whiche sometime happeneth to fall into a mannes shoe and hurt his foote. it is also taken for muche sollicitude: also for difficultee or spied conscia ence. also a payre, whiche is the thirde parte of a diamme, and then it is also written with a, y, as Scrypus. it is more ouer a certayne meas sure of grounde, containyng. 100. foote square, that is. 10. in brydth, and as many in lengthe.
 Scrupulum iniicere, to bynge into a mannes mynde doubt, carefulnesse, or thought.
 Scrupulum eximere, to put awaie doubt or care.
 Inieci scrupulum homini, I haue geuen hym a bone to gnawe vpon.
 Qui sit in hac res scrupulus? what doubt is in this matter.
 Vnus mihi scrupulus etiam restat, qui me male habet, I haue one gnawing bone of doubt left yet, whiche troubleth me curiously.
 Scrupus, pi, m. g. a littell sharpe stone, or pece of a stone: after come it is a doubt or intricate sen sence that vexeth a mannes mynde.
 Scruta, drum, ne. ge. plu. olde garmentes, hofes shoes, and suche other baggage, solde for nes cessitee. also littell images made in paste, solde to the people.
 Scrutaria, re, and Scrutatio, onis, f. g. a scrute
 yng. also a sellpyng of olde stuffe.
 Scrutariam facere, to get ones lyfynge by sel
 lpyng of olde stuffe.
 Scrutarius, rij, m. g. he that selleth olde stuffe, or maketh

maketh suche images.
 Scrutatio, onis, f. g. a scruteyng.
 Scrutator, oris, m. g. a searcher.
 Scrutellus, li, m. ge. the bealy of a swyne farced or stuffed.
 Scruto, auis, are, and Scrutor, aris, ari, to scrute, to inquire diligently.
 Vestigia scrutari, to trace out by the steppes.
 Scrutinium, nij, n. g. a scrute, a scrutinie.
 Scrutum, ti, n. g. the singular numbze of Scruta.
 Sculina, olde wyters vfed for Sequester, an ar butour.
 Sculpo, pli, pere, to carve images in stone. some tyme to graue in metall.
 sculponia, re, f. g. a wollen socke.
 Sculponatus, a, um, that doothly weare wollen
 sockes.
 Sculpilis, le, that is carued or grauen.
 Sculptor, oris, m. g. a grauer, a caruer.
 Sculptrix, trices, a woman of that occupation.
 Sculptura, re, f. g. grauyng or caruyng.
 Sculptus, a, um, graued, carued.
 Scungum, a citee of Germanie.
 Scura, re, f. g. a railer, a scoffer.
 Scurras, anus, playng the scoffer or iester.
 Scurilis, le, perteynyng to railyng, scoffyng, or dishonest tellyng.
 Scurilitas, atis, f. g. railyng, scoffyng, immoder ate tellyng.
 Scurriler, in railyng or scoffyng facion, saucily,
 malapertly.
 Scurror, aris, ari, to plaie the scoffer or railer.
 Scutale, lis, n. g. the leather of a syngge.
 Scutarius, rij, m. g. a buckelar maker, or a ma ker of tergates.
 Scutinus, ria, rium, perteynyng to shieldes or tergates.
 Scutinus, a, um, armed with a shield or tergate.
 Scutella, re, f. g. a saucer.
 Scutica, re, f. gen. a whyppe made with leather thonges.
 Scuticulus, li, m. g. a custrell or page, whiche beareth his maisters shield or buckelar.
 Scutulum, li, n. gen. that is leane and hath no thyng but skynne vpon it.
 Scutiscum, ci, n. g. a kynde of vessel.
 Scutula, re, a rounde figure, suche as spynners or spiders doe woofe. also a vessel, whiche con teyneth. but. ounces. also a staffe, wherewith flaxe is beaten. also a certayne serpent. more ouer a littell rounde pece cut out of the bark of a tree in the kynde of graffynge, called Inocula
 tio. also a staffe or pade that the Lacedæmonis mas vfed in wrytynge their priue letters, whiche is more truly called Scytala, loke there.
 Scutularis, a, um, rounde and wrought in the fourme of a copwebbe.
 Scutulata vestis, a garment of silke, wherein be wrought figures like to round copwebbes.
 Scutulatus color, is a colour, I suppose wat chet.

Scutulum, li, n. g. a littell shield or scouchin.
 Scutum, ti, n. g. a tergate or shield, a bucklar.
 Scythos, an ile and a towne in the sea Aegeum.
 Scylace, a citee in Grecia.
 Scylaceum, a towne in the furthermoste parte of Italie, firste builded and inhabited by men of Athenes.
 Scylarium, a citee of the Byzantians, called com monly Schulazo.
 Scylax, a musician.
 Scylla, a dangerous rocke in the sea by Sicile.
 also a lady, daughter of Atlas, king of Megar ensis, whiche for loue of Minos, hir fathers enemye, stole a purple heare from hir fathers head, whiche caused hym to be hanged. But the byng forsaaken of Minos, threwe hir selfe into the sea, and was trañsfourmed into a birde of hir name. it is also a kynde of fishe in the ri
 uer of Liris in Campania. it is also an herbe, whiche hath a roote lyke to an opion, and is of the apothecaries called Squilla.
 Decidit in Scyllam cupis vitare Charybdim, prouerbially, to fall into one daunger while he coueteth to eschew another.
 Scyllus, a, um, of Scylla.
 Scylliticus, a, um, of the herbe Scylla.
 Scyllera, places wherein is taken the fishe, called Scylla.
 Scyllæum, a promontorie or hill in the parte of Grecia, now called Morea, also a towne of the Byzantians in Italie.
 Scyllias, or Scyllis, the name of a greke, whiche swymyng vnder water, did cut in sunder the cables of the Persians shippes.
 Scyllus, lunis, a towne in Achaia.
 Scylurus, the name of a man that had 80. sonnes, who whan he died called them afore hym, & de liuered to eueryche of them a sheffe of arrowes, commandyng them to breake the sheffes incons titut: whiche when they mought not doe, he toke out of the sheffes one arrow after an o ther, & brake them all lightly, declaring that by vnto his sonnes, that if they continued & agreed well together, they shulde be puissant: and if they varied and were dissuaded, they shulde be feble and shortly destroyed.
 Scymnus, ni, m. ge. the whycalpe of a lion. also a mannes name.
 Scynifes, bytynge gnattes.
 Scyphus, pli, m. g. a great cruse or iugge: some take it for a bason.
 Scyriades, women of the ile Scyros.
 Scyricum, ci, neu. gen. a blonket colour or light watchet.
 Scyria, people in India, whiche haue no noses, but in the fide of a nose, they haue two holes in their visage.
 Scyrius, and Scyrius, a, um, of Scyros.
 Scyron, a thefe in the countrey of Arica, who wolde sitte on an high rocke, and compell them that came by to walke his fete, or els to honoure
 hym:

hym: and when they had so doone, he threwe them downe into the sea. Finally he was slaine by Theseus, and it was furnished, that his bones were turned into rocks, which of him were named Scyronia: and they be betwene Attica and Megaris, wherby the passage is harde.

Scyron, a certayn wynde, whose hurtfull blast, is of all Grece knowen, onely to them of Athens. Scyros, an ile in the sea called Aegeum, stony and unfruitfull, where Achilles was hidde by his mother in a womans apparail, to the intent that he shulde not go with the grekes against Troye.

Scyrpus, pi, loke Scirpus.

Scytala, la, or Scytale, les, for. ge. a littell fild mouse, called also Mus araneus, some suppose it to be an ermine, some, a shewe, also a kynde of serpentes, whiche hath a backe of mercuriours glistering and beautifull colour.

Scytale laconica, a littell round staffe, that the Lacedemonians used to write their letters by, and therfore that kinde of letters be called Scytala, loke Bellius the. 17. booke and. 9. chaptre.

Scythia, a man or woman of Scythia. also hies rules sonne.

Scythies, one of Scythia. also Jupiters sonne, whiche first invented bowe and arrowes.

Scythia, a great countrey, whiche is divided with the river Tanais, and stretcheth into the east. so that one parte therof is in Europa, the other in Asia, and hath on the south part Sacos and Sogdianos, people under the kyng of Persia: and on the north part be countreies unknownen and desert: and is now under the dominion of the great Kane of Cataie.

Scythicus, and Scythius, a, um, of Scythia.

Scythia, patronymicum, form.

Scythion, a mans name, whiche whan he listid was man or woman.

Scythopolis, a citee of Decapolitana in Syria.

Scythiourai, people of Scythia, whiche sacrifice straungers that come thither.

S. ANTE E.

Se, a pronowne, the accusative case of Sui, and signifieth hym or hir.

Se, a preposition, used atwaie in composition, and noeth a separation, division, or negation: as, Separo, seduco, securus.

Se, a syllable in composition, signifieng dimidiū: as, selibra, semodium, semuncia.

Sebaste, a citee in Syria, called before Samaria. Sebastopolis, a citee in Pontus, called saincte Gregories.

Sebennyum, a citee in Egypt.

Sebesten, is that fruite, whiche Dioscorides callith Myxa.

Sebethis, bechidis, f. g. of Sebethos.

Sebethos, a fountaine at Naples, whiche seructh the citee, rennyng throught the citee.

Sebinus, a poole, that the river Tullius maketh. Sebra, or Sebre minor, is (as Antonius Gula saith) our Estula, or Spurge.

Sebrita, a people sometyne called Sembrita.

Sebum, bi, n. g. idem quod Seum.

Sebo, au, are, idem quod Seuo.

Secale, lis, neu. g. a certayne grayne, whiche serveth onely to put awaie hunger.

Secamentum, ti, neu. gen. that is cutte of or dyed.

Secanabin, amonge the Arabians is our Oxy-mel, amonge the Latines it is called Actum multum.

Secarius, a, um, that wherein sheddies are put.

Secedo, secessi, dere, to goe backe, or to goe out of company, to goe a parte from other, to goe awaie, to goe to plaie or sporte from labour.

Secede huc, come a syde hyther.

Ad stylum secedere, to geue hym selfe to writing and exercysing of his style.

Secerno, secerni, secernere, to diuide or lare one from an other, to putte a funder or a parte, to seuer, to separate from other, to chose from among other, to late or put by it selfe.

Secespsita, ta, for. ge. a cutting knyfe, wherewith the painymys diuided theyr sacrifice. Some take it to be an hatchet or axe of brasse, used for that purpose.

Secessio, onis, for. g. a departing from other, a separating of ones selfe from others company, a forsaking.

Secessionem facere, to forsake other and goe apart by them selves.

Secessus, us, m. g. a departing, a variation from busynesse, a secrete place.

Secuium, uij, n. g. a cake of brasse cutte in sacrifice, some call it secium.

Secius, later, lesse.

Nec eo secius, neuer the later.

Nihil eo secius, idem.

Secludo, si, dere, to shutte out, to shutte aparte from other.

Secludite curas, put away care and heavines of mynde.

Vitam corpore secludere, to hyll hym selfe.

A communi luce seclusum, To be kepte in a doungeon or prison, that he can not see light.

Seculum, for Seculum, the space of one hundred yeres.

Seclusorium, rij, n. g. a place, wherein any thyng is shutte up aparte from other.

Seclusus, a, um, shutte, or kepte up aparte from other.

Seclusa sacra, ceremonies that be secretly used, to be had in the more reverence.

Seco, secul, care, to cutte, to cutte of, to cutte a funder.

Viam secare, to leade the wate, to goe on forwarde.

Campos salis are secare, To saile on the sea with shippes that haue stemmes of brasse.

Pabu-

Pabulum secare, to mowe grasse to make hey for bestes.

Spem secare, id est, tenere, habere, to haue a certayne hope, to be in hope.

Secors, dis, om. ge. herlesse, apt to no purpose, profitable neither to him self, nor to any other.

Secordes agni, lambes late eaned or fallen.

Secordia, and Sordidia, a, f. g. sluggishnesse, luthfulness, vnaptnesse, foolishnesse.

Secreto, onis, form. ge. a separating of setting aparte from other.

Secreto, priuily, secretly, a parte from other. Loqui cum aliquo secreto, to speake with one priuily or apart from other.

Secretum, ti, neu. ge. a secrete place awaie from company. also a secrete thyng that one discloseth to no man or to very fewe.

A secretis, of the priuie counsaile.

Secretus, a, um, secrete, apart from other, farre of, separate.

Consultant secreta, they consulte aparte by them selves.

Secta, ta, f. ge. a diuerse consent in sundry wylfull opinions, a secte of philosophers, a secte of heretikes, a certayne maner of teachenge, a forme of lyfe.

Sectacula, la, for. g. a diminutive of Secta, a forlowing, an offsping, a sequele.

Sectarius, a, um, that other doe folowe.

Sectarius vernux, the bell weather, that goeth before the froche.

Sectator, oris, m. g. a folower, he that imitateth an other, to the intent to learne.

Sectilis, le, that whiche is of maie be cutte, or that whiche is cutte, cropped or lopped to the vse of men. also that maie be taken one piece from an other.

Imagunculae sectiles, images, wherof one piece maie be taken from an other.

Sectio, onis, form. ge. a cutting, a diuision, the partenge of a prae in takinge of a towne. also all that is taken in prae at the wyppenge and sackyng of a towne, the forfait of ones goodes or penaltie, all that is forfeited or taken to the kynges vse.

Sectinus, a, um, that is often cutte, idem quod Sectilis.

Sectium porrum, vnsette leches.

Sector, aris, ari, to folow, to renne after one. also to folow in maners and forme of speaking or typpng, also to hunte or chase a beaste.

Sectari leporem, to hunt the hare.

Sectari iusti, I bad hym folowe my facion or trade of typpng, and learne at me.

Sector, oris, m. ge. one that cutteth or loppeth, also an accuser that tellyth prosyte, he that prosyteth by the condemnation of other, also a byer of forsapted gooddes, one that by faulse complayntes causeth men to be put besydes all that they haue, to the intent to haue the prosyte in the sale of the gooddes.

Pabu-

Sectura, a, for. ge. a cutting. also a caue or myne vnder the earth.

Sectus, a, um, dypped, cutte.

Secubitus, us, m. g. a lying a parte fro the other.

Secubo, cubui, are, to lye aparte or a funder fro other.

Secula, la, form. gene. a sythe, wherewith hepe is mowen, a hoke.

Secularis, re, that is renewed euery hundred yeres.

Seculum, li, n. g. some dooe suppose it to bee the space of one hundred yeres, some of one thousand yeres, other of thysie yeres, sometyne it is taken for tyme.

Seculum sterile, a barren tyme.

In multa secula, for a longe tyme, for many hundred yeres.

Aliquot seculis post, certayne hundred yeres after.

Seculum, or Seclum, is used often of Lucretius, for Genus.

Secum, the ablative case of sui, with the preposition cum, with hym.

Secundæ, arum, pluraliter tantum, the thynne that the chyld of other younge thyng is wrapped in whan it is brought forth. it is also called Secundina.

Secundanus, a, um, of or belonging to the secunde.

Secundani milites, souldiours of the seconde legion.

Secundarius, a, um, of the seconde sorte.

Panis secundarius, thet bread, browne bread.

Secundarium, for Secundum, or Proximum, the seconde, the next.

Secundo, an aduerbe, the seconde tyme or place, also esteemes.

Secundo, au, are, to prospeere or make prosperouse, also to make better or amende a thyng, sometyne for Obscundari, to obey.

Vento secundante, the wynde blowing prosperously.

Secundum, a preposition, signifieth nigh or by.

Secundum auram, by the eare, also next after.

Secundum patrem, next after my father, some tyme, for.

Secundum te liem do, I iudge the matter for the, or on thy parte, also in.

Secundum quietem, in rest, in ones slepe, also to vpon.

Secundum ea, thereupon.

Secundum Platonē, after the sayng of Plato.

Secundum Pythagoram viuo, I lyue lyke to Pythagoras.

Secundum flumen, a long by the riuers syde.

De absentē secundum presentem iudicare, to geue iudgement on his part that is present, against one that failed at the daie appointed.

Secundum hunc diem, after this daie.

Secundum ea quæ, seruatis in eo fidem, id est, Postea, præter hæc, further more, moreouer than this.

Multa secundum causam nostram disputavit, he spake many thynges for our mattier, of that concerned of touched our matter.
 Secundum eum fieri, to be done for his profite.
 Secundus, a, um, seconde of next to the fyrst, also prosperouse.
 Secunda fortuna, good of prosperouse fortune, prosperitee.
 Res secundæ, that whiche dooth folowe our desire of appetite, good fortune, prosperitee.
 Secundo flumine nauigat, he goeth of sailth, of roweth with the streame.
 Secundus ventus, a good wynde.
 Secunda mensa, the laste course, wherein cometh fruite and conserues.
 Secundo populo, with the peoples good will of fauour.
 Secunda prælia, battailes prosperously fought.
 Secundo lumine, the nexte daie.
 Cæsaris interdicta, si re secundo lumine hic offendero, respuentur, if I fynde the here the nexte daie, I wyl let litle by Cæsars commaundement.
 Secundus panis, browne breade.
 Pasti siliquis & pane secundo, fed with beane huskes, and browne breade.
 Nulli virtute secundus, inferiour to no man in vertue.
 Secundus a rege, next to the kyng.
 Secundis admurmurationibus senatus illum accusauit, the senators spake softly on my part whan I accused hym.
 Secundis auribus aliquid accipere, to heare a thyng gently, gladly, of fauourably.
 Secundis aubus, happily, with good fortune.
 Secunda existimatio, good fame and estimation.
 Maxime, thierst, Secundo loco, next, Tertio, thierdely, Nota secunda vites, id est, bonitatis, præstantie. Oratio secunda, id est, grata, plausibilis.
 Me in tuis secundis rebus respice, looke on me, of helpe me nowe in your prosperitee and good fortune.
 Si mihi secunda res de amore essent, if I had good fortune, of if all were well concernynge my loue.
 Secundus rumor, gladd tydynges.
 Secunda autoritatis homo, he that is in better auctoritee than an other.
 Secunda in aliquem voluntas, the godd will of fauour towards a man.
 Secunda voluntate hominum, with the good wyl and fauour of all men.
 Prælium secundum fecit, he fought prosperously, he hadde the victorie, of had good fortune in that battaile.
 Secundus, a philosopher of Athens.
 Secure, quietly, surely, in sauegarde.
 Securula, a, f. gen. a swallowes tale, of a doue tale in carpenters worke, whiche is fastynge of two pieces of timbe or bourdes, so strongly together, that they can not awaie.

 Securicula, a, f. g. an hatchet.
 Securidaca, a certayne weede, that hurteth the pulse, called Linthea.
 Securifer, and Securiger, rigera, um, that beareth an axe.
 Securis, ris, f. g. an axe, somtyme it is taken for an officer that hath auctoritee to committe men to the execution of death.
 Infigere, of Inijcere Securim, by standacion, to hurt soze.
 Securitas, atis, fœm. g. quietnesse, lache of care, suretie, negligence.
 Securus, a, um, sure, quiete, without care, assured, carcles, negligent, fearynge nothing.
 Securus admodum de bello Romano, fearynge of mistrustynge nothing at all, that the Romans would make any warre.
 Testamentum securum, a sure testament, that needeth not to be feared.
 Securus tam parua obseruationis, nothing at all regarding so small a matter.
 Securi animi homo, one that feareth nothing.
 Ab omni afflicto securus, that feareth not the wynde.
 Securus viuut, he spueyth at hertes ease.
 Secus, a preposition, by or nyghe to.
 Secus flumen seruntur salices, nyghe to the ryuer willowes are set.
 Secus, an aduerbe, otherwyse.
 Non dixi secus ac sentiebam, I said none of therwyse than I thought.
 Quid diximus tibi secus quam velles? what said we vnto the otherwyse than thou woldest haue vs saie?
 Nisi quid secus tua sententia est, excepte your mynde of opinion be otherwyse.
 Secus quam, Secus ac, Secus aque, otherwyse than.
 Longe secus, farre otherwyse.
 Sed, bur.
 Sed autem, yea but.
 Sed quid hoc, admirantis, but what meaneth this.
 Sed videon' ego Philosophum? but is not that Philosophus that I see?
 Sed enim, for Certe.
 Sed & nostrorum gloriam percontamus, id est, quin etiam.
 Tuus deus non digito vno redundat, sed capite, collo. &c. id est, verum etiam, thy god hath not onely a finger to muche, but also an head and a necke. &c.
 Hem, sed mane, concrepuit. &c. but hark, tarpe. &c.
 Sedate, without trouble, quietly, patiently.
 Sedatio, onis, f. g. a mitigation, a qualifing.
 Sedatus, a, um, appeased, mitigated, qualifed, also sobze, temperate, quiete.
 Sedacula, a, f. g. of Sedicula, a littell seate.
 Seden-

Sedentarius, rij, m. g. he that woozeth sittynge, as a shoemaker or tayler.
 Sedenim, all bee it.
 Sedentarius, a, um, that is done sittynge.
 Sedeo, sedi, sedere, to sitte, to bee idle and dooe nothing, to content of please, with a batiue case, to tarie or abide, to take counsaile.
 Si sedet hoc animo, if it please you so to doo.
 Sedentiuus, the snowe abideth of tarieyth longe.
 Ad latus alicuius sedere, to sitte harde by ones syde.
 Ad gubernacula reipublicæ sedere, to be occupied in the gouernance of the comon weale.
 Sedere iudicem in aliquem, to sitte in iudgement vpon one.
 In equo sedere, to sitte on horse backe, to ryde.
 In ouis sedere, to sitte abroode on egges.
 Post aliquem sedere, to sitte behynde one.
 Animo sedet fixum, id est, statui, I haue purposed of determined with my selfe.
 Adeone penitus sedet hic tibi morbus? is this disease so deeply rooted in the?
 Nunc mihi parū sedet iudiciū, now my iudgement is not constant and firme.
 Ita sedet melius toga, so his gowne dooth sit better on his backe.
 Quam bene humeris tuis federet imperium, how mete of apte ye were to haue the soueraigne rule.
 Passer sedet in lecto, the sparowe sitteth on the house.
 Si essent venti, nos Corsyra non federemus, we would not abyde of tarie at Corsyra.
 Arre sedendi egerat, id est, cunctatione, by deliberation, taking of counsaile of good aduisement.
 Sedeo, was somtyme used of olde wryters to consider, to take counsaile.
 Sedeor, deris, deri, the passiue.
 Sedes, dis, f. g. a seate of place to sitte on, also a mansion house, a place to abyde of dwell in, a resting place, somtyme a sepulchre. somtyme all that parte of the bodie, wheron one dooth lyttle.
 Sedicula, læ, f. g. a settle.
 Seditus, the name of Volcatus, a noble poete, whiche had .vi. fingers on one hande.
 Sedile, lis, n. g. a bench of other place to sit on, a settle.
 Seditum, ti, n. g. a sinking downe to the bottoome.
 Seditio, onis, f. g. a sedition and disorde among the people.
 Seditiohem comprimere, to suppress of quize a sedition.
 Seditioarius, a, um, a seditious persone.
 Seditiosè, seditiosely, contentiously.
 Seditiosus, a, um, seditious, contentious, that souerly sedition and debate.

Sedo, aui, are, to mitigate, to pacifie, to asswage, to reitregne, to extincite.
 Animū sedare, to swage of quiete ones minde.
 Bellum sedare, to quiete of finishe a warre.
 Flammam sedare, to quenche of put out the flame of fyre.
 Sedare infamiam, to ease the yll byuite that goeth on a man.
 Vt matris iram esse sedam sciat, that he may knowe that my mothers anger is asswaged.
 Vt sedes lassitudinem, that you maie ease your selfe of this weynesse.
 Seduco, duxi, cere, to leade a fyre of leade away, somtyme to deceiue, to separate of diuide.
 Animum a corpore seducimus, whā we with drawe our mynde from thynkinge on worldly matters.
 Etiam nunc me seducere, of (after some pyntes) subducere istis dictis postulas, thou woldest yet again deceiue me with these flatterynge woozders.
 Seducere arrogantiam, to laie aparte pryde.
 Seductilis, le, that maie be deceyued.
 Seductio, onis, a deceuyng of beggynge, a lea dyng abyde of apart.
 Seductus, a, um, ledde apart, ledde asunder one from an other. also seduced of beggled. somtyme for Distinctus, of Discretus.
 Seductus, us, m. g. a vnde place from company.
 Seduculum, li, neu. g. a certayne scourge of whip that one is beaten with.
 Sedule, idem quod Sedulo.
 Sedulitas, atis, f. g. diligence with muche care.
 Sedulo, in dede, diligent, without feignynge.
 Faciam sedulo, I wyl doe it with a good wilt, I wyl doe the best I can.
 Sedulus, a, um, he that plainely without craft dooth a thyng diligently, diligent.
 Sedum, di, an herbe called singene or houseleke.
 Seges, segetis, f. g. corne whan it standeth: somtyme the grounde sallowe and redie to receiue corne. somtyme it is spoken of pulse.
 Segetes quæ interquieuerunt. &c. those landes that haue lyne fallow.
 Seges scelerum.
 Segesta, an olde towne in Sicilie, also the name of a goddesse.
 Segestanus, a, um, that dwelleth in the citee Segesta.
 Segestia, the goddesse called also Segesta.
 Segestria, was the strawe that was leied in a lictor, wherin great men were bozne by their seruantes.
 Segmen, inis, n. g. idem quod Segmentum.
 Segmenta, bee certayne lynes imagined, by the whiche Cosmographers doe deuyde the worlde into porcions, whiche bee called also Paralleli, wherby the distaunce of places be founde.
 Segmentarius, he that maketh garmentes of cloth of golde.
 Segmentatus, a, um, maie be saied of any thyng, that that hath borders of trayles, fynely wrought with small pieces fastened thereon, be it of metall or of tymbre.

Segmentata vestes, garded or purfled garments.

Segmentum, ti, neut. ge. a littell piece of paring cut of from any thyng, bee it metall or stone. It is also a bee, colar or ouch, which is about a womans necke. Some doe take it for the purfle of a womans gowne, it maie as well bee taken for a garde or border aboute any garment.

Segnis, ne, neutri. gene. slowe or dull witted, battayne. Haud segnis, quicke or with spyrte and lyfe.

Segniores ad imperadum posthac ceteri sint, other mai not be so halpy to be in auctoryte or to beare rule.

Segnis ad credendum, harde of beliffe.

Non segnior discordia domi, there was no lesse variance or discorde at home in the citee.

Segnis animus, a fepnte and bafe courage.

Segnipes, segnipedis, that goyth slowly.

Segnitas, aus, pro Segnitia, slouthfulness.

Segniter, slowly.

Segnitie, ei, or Segnitia, x, f. g. downesse, dullnesse, great negligence, also barainnesse.

Segodunum, Rhodes in Fraunce.

Segodunum, is also a noble citee in Almaine, now called Aurenberge.

Segobrida, a towne in the parts of Spaine, whiche is now called Byskape.

Segrego, aui, are, to fence or separate from other company, to segregate.

Segregare suspiciones, to put away suspicion.

Segregare sermonem, to speake no wordes.

Siquis ibi est odiosus, ab eo domum, sermo nem segrego, if any man be there, who I loue not, I get me home, and speake neuer a worde.

Segrega sermonem, taces, holde thy peace, I am werte, or it trketh me to heere the.

Ne abs te hanc segreges, that you woulde not put this woman from you.

Vt culpam ab se segreget, that they maie put awaye the faulte from them, or shewe that they be not faultie.

Seque gregari, pro Segregarij. Vt segregaret pugnam eorum, that he myght breake their arraye in battayle.

A numero civium segregare, to disfranchise and make no citizin.

Segrex, gregis, om. g. solitarie, aparte fro other.

Segullum, li, ne. ge. a beyne of earth in mynes, whiche declareth that therein golde maie bee founde.

Segor, a citee, which was preserued by the praiser of Mothe, whan Sodome was destroyed by the vengeance of god.

Segusiani, or Segutiani, Bresse in Fraunce.

Segusium, the parte of the Alpes called mount Sion.

Seia, the goddess called Segesta.

Seianus, a mannes name.

Seir, a mountayne in the countrey of Edom, where Esau, the brother of Jacob the patriarch dwelled.

Seiugi, & Seiuges, a teeme of fyre hoxes.

Seiugo, aui, are, idem quod Seiungo.

Seiunctio, onis, f. g. a separatynge or puttyngge a sundre.

Seiunctus, a, um, separated, put asundre.

Seiungo, nxi, ere, to separate, to put a sundre, to take from an other.

Seius, a mans name.

Selagio, laginis, f. g. a certayne herbe.

Selctio, onis, f. g. a chosynge out from other.

Selectus, a, um, tholen from amongst other, picked, also chiefe amonge other.

Selecti iudices, amonge the Romaynes were iudges appoynted of the state of gentlemen called Ordo equestris.

Selenetes, tis, m. g. a stone, wherein is a white, whiche decreaseth and increaseth as the moone dooth.

Seleucia, the principall citee of Syria, whiche is 30 furlonges from Babylonia.

Seleucides aues, certayne birbes, which helpe the inhabitants of the mountayne Casius to kyll the Locustes, that often tymes doe swarme there. and destroye theyr coigne: from whence they come, or whither they go, it is vncertaine.

Seleucus, a kynge of Syria, nexte after Alexander the great.

Selibra, x, f. g. halfe a pounce.

Seligo, liginis, a certayne herbe.

Seligo, legi. seligere, to gather a parte of the chiefe thyng amonge many.

Selinis, the name of three ryuers in Grece.

Selinis, a ryuer by Lilybaum.

Selinon, an herbe called also Apium, whereof be dyuers kyndes, as Hippocelinon, Petroselinon, seeke for theym in their places. this herbe

Selinon is of some take for smalage. loke Apium.

Seliquastra, x, f. g. a stoole to lye on.

Selis, a stoole, that was wonte to stande in the fore parte of the shippe.

Sella, x, f. g. a stoole, chaire, or seate.

Sella curulis, a chaire, wherein the chiefe officers of Rome sate in a chariot, and were to carryed whan they came from theyr houses. some doe suppose that it was called Curulis, because the seate were trodd, the iudgement thereof I remitte to the readers.

Sellaria, x, f. g. a place, wherein were fourmes and stooles for men to sit on.

Sellariolus, a, um, that belongeth to sitting.

Sellularius, a, um, that worketh sitting.

Sellularij opifices, artificers, whiche wrought sitting.

Selymbria, a citee in Propontis, nere to Byzance.

Sembella, x, f. g. halfe a pounce.

Semel, once: also at one tyme, mostly, by itselfe.

summarily, once for all together.

Semel anno, once in a yere.

Semel ac iterum, once or twyse.

Semel ac vities, one and twentie tymes.

Pharmacum semel totum hauriendum est, the drynke must be syp by all at once.

Semel ait se in vita perituisse, he saied he was once fore awayde in all his life, and neuer elles.

Semel a condito xuo, neuer but once sente the worlde beganne.

Vt semel finiam, finally, that I maie once make an ende.

Semele, the daughter of Cadmus and mother of Bacchus.

Semeleus, a, um, of Semele.

Semen, seminis, n. g. seede, a kernell, somtyme setts of young trees, or narssegardaynes, somtyme the kynde, or generation: by translation the chiefe autour and begynner or causer of a thyng, also that, where by a thyng is nourished and mainteyned.

Deponere semina, to plante.

Huius belli semen tu fuit, thou wast the verte cause of begynner of this warre.

Abire in semen, to seede as herbes dooe.

Sementicus, a, um, that maie be sown.

Sementinus, a, um, belonging to sowynge.

Sementina feria, holy daies ordained to pray that coigne begyn sown, mought come forth and encrease.

Sementina pyra, peares that haue many kernelles, or that continue tyll grassynge tyme.

Dies sementina, a feast kepte after seede sowynge.

Sementis, is, form. g. the acte of sowynge, some tyme seede that is sown, somtyme coigne, also seede tyme.

Sementem facere, to sowe coigne.

Prima sementis, id est, primum tempus sationis, the begynnyng of seede tyme.

Sementem malorum facere, to sowe mischief.

Sementim, was used in the accusatiue case.

Semento, aui, are, to byngge forth seede.

Semestris, tre, of fyr monethes.

Semestre regnum, a kyngedome that contyneth but halfe a yere.

Semestre aurum, money to proude bitaile for halfe a yere.

Semestus, a, um, halfe eaten.

Semet, hym selfe, the accusatiue case of Suimet.

Semi, indeclinabile, halfe.

Semianimis, halfe quicke halfe deade, almoste deade.

Semianimus, idem.

Semiapertus, a, um, halfe open.

Semiasus, a, um, halfe rostid or broyled.

Semibos, mibous, that is halfe an oxe, halfe an other beaste.

Semicadium, dii, n. g. halfe a barrell.

Semicacus, a, um, halfe blynde.

Semicaper, i, that is halfe a gote and halfe an other beaft.

Semicinctum, ii, a certaine garment, that cometh no further than the beale, or that cometh onely from the beale downewarde.

Semicircularis, re, that hath the forme of halfe a circle.

Semicirculus, i, m. g. halfe a circle.

Semicoctus, a, um, halfe sodden.

Semicoctus, a, um, halfe eaten.

Semicosumptus, a, um, halfe consumed or wasted.

Semicrematus, a, um, halfe burned.

Semicremus, idem.

Semicrudus, a, um, halfe rawe.

Semideus, a, um, halfe a god, or belongynge to halfe goddess.

Semidoctus, a, um, meanely learned.

Semiermis, me, halfe armed.

Semifactus, halfe made.

Semifera animalia, beastes engendred betwene a wilde beaste and a tame, as betwene a woulfe and a dogge, or betwene a wilde boare and a tame swyne.

Semiferus, a, um, somewhat wilde, halfe wild.

Semiformis, me, that hath halfe a forme or fashion, vnperfect.

Semifultus, a, um, halfe vnderlet or stayed by.

Semigermanus, an halfe brother.

Semigræcus, a, um, halfe a greke.

Semigrauis, ue, halfe dyowful or heauie.

Semigro, aui, are, to goe to dwell in an other place.

Semihomo, halfe a man.

Semihora, x, halfe an houre.

Semilugrum, i, n. ge. halfe as muche lande as contepneth 120. foote in length, and halfe as muche in breadeth.

Semilacer, a, um, halfe tozney or rent.

Semiliber, a, um, halfe free.

Semiliffula, & Semilixula, a littell cake, made with meale chefe and water.

Semilix, x, masc. gene. a vile felowe, a scolian or dyudge.

Semimadidus, a, um, halfe wette.

Semimares, they whiche are not perfecte men, as those whiche are gelded.

Semimarinus, belongingge partly to the sea, partly to the lande.

Semimas, aus, m. g. any beaft that is gelded.

Ovis semimas, a wether.

Semimortuus, a, um, halfe deade.

Seminâlis, le, that belongeth to sowynge.

Seminânis, ne, halfe voyde or emptye.

Seminarium, ii, n. g. a place, from whence settes and plantes be translated or removed, also a tree, of the whiche settes be taken, by translation, the fyrst begynnyng or chiefe cause of any pill or good.

Seminatio, onis, f. g. sowynge.

Seminator, onis, m. g. a sower.

Seminicis, ci, cem, ce, halfe slaine.

Seminium, nij, n. g. seede, also the gaine of seede.

Sémino, aui, arc, to sowe.
 Seminudus, a, um, halfe naked.
 Semibolus, the twelue the parte of a Greeke diamme.
 Semipaganus, a, um, halfe an housebandeman; halfe a carle of the countrey.
 Semipater, tris, halfe a father.
 Semipedalis, le, halfe a foote in quantitee of height.
 Semipedaneus, a, um, idem.
 Semipes, mipedis, m. g. halfe a foote.
 Semiplacentinus, halfe a placentine, partly of the cite of Placentia.
 Semiplagium, ij, n. g. a littell nette.
 Samplenus, a, um, nor full, halfe full.
 Semiploria, were those that couered but halfe the foote, whiche the Romaines byd weate on whan they went on hunting.
 Semiputatus, a, um, halfe curte, halfe vneutte, not all cut.
 Semiquinarius, a, um, that whiche is halfe fine in numbre.
 Semiramis, mis, and idis, the wyfe of hngy Ninus that made the cite of Babylon, and conquered many countreys.
 Semiratus, a, um, halfe shauen or scraped.
 Semirefectus, a, um, halfe refrected.
 Semirutus, a, um, partly decayed, halfe destroyed or cast downe.
 Semis, halfe.
 Semisenex, & Semiseneus, after olde wytters, halfe olde.
 Semisepultus, a, um, halfe buried.
 Semisextula, lae, the .xii. parte of an ounce. also a measure of grounde. 10. foote broade, and 20. in length: that is, 200. fote square.
 Semisomnis, ne, & Semisomnus, a, um, halfe a sleape, halfe in a slumbr, halfe sleppinge halfe waking.
 Semisomnarius, he that plaicth on a tymbyell.
 Semisopitus, a, um, halfe slepyng halfe waking.
 Semisoporatus, a, um, idem.
 Semispathium, a thorte swoorde.
 Semisis, is, m. g. halfe of any thyng, halfe a cut bute. it is also the halfe pounde weyght, or 6. ounces. also a certaine piece of money, whiche was halfe the Romaine coine called Aureus.
 Semisis homo, a byle persone.
 Semisis vsura, the gain of xij in an hundred.
 Semisapius, a, um, halfe bypight.
 Sémita, x, f. g. a pathe, also a foote wate.
 Semitarius, a, um, that haunteth pathe wates.
 Semitarius mæchus, a vile knaue and lechour that haunteth quenes in the hygge wates.
 Semitatus, a, um, deuided in pathes.
 Sémito, aui, arc, to make pathes, or to deuide in to pathes or wates.
 Semitogatus, & Semitogatus, he that weareth a thorte gowne.
 Semitogium, gij, neu. gener. a thorte gowne, a pyettes cloke.

Semitraxon, vel Hemitraxon, a feuer, the whiche is a tercian and a halfe, and of .48. houres, and verryeth one .36. houres.
 Semitritus, a, um, halfe brayed or pouned, halfe brused, not all thersed.
 Semiuiculus, a, um, somewhat foste.
 Sémiuri, miuri, m. g. an vnperfecte man, halfe a man, also an effeminate person.
 Semiuuius, a, um, halfe alque.
 Semiuulandus, a, um, to be halfe burned.
 Semiuulatus, a, um, idem quod Semiuulatus.
 Semiuustus, a, um, halfe burned.
 Semimodius, ij, m. g. halfe a bushell.
 Semotus, a, um, remoued, put asyde.
 Semoueo, semoues, moui, ere, to moue or goe awaie, to remoue awaie, to put asyde.
 Semper, euer, alwaies, continually, from tyme to tyme.
 Semperlaetitas, atis, f. gen. accustomed gentleness of mildnesse, continuall gentleness.
 Semperuiuum, i, n. g. an herbe called Ségreene.
 Sempiterno, an aduerbe, euer, alwaies.
 Sempiternus, a, um, euertastng.
 Sempronius, a senator of Rome.
 Semuncia, x, f. g. halfe an ounce.
 Semuncia terra, a platte cotempng. 1200. fote 30. fote broade and 40. longe.
 Semuncialis, le, of halfe an ounce.
 Semunciarius, a, um, idem.
 Sena, a cite in Tuscaue, called Senes, whiche is an hundred myles from Rome, sometyme it is witten Sena, in the plural numbre.
 Senaculum, li, n. g. a counsaile hous, a counsaile chambr, also a littell senate.
 Senarius, a, um, that is of the numbre of xij.
 Senarij versus, & Senarioli, verses hauing xij feete, properly lambici, or Trochaici.
 Sanator, oris, m. g. a senatour, a counsaillour.
 Senatorius, a, um, pertaining to senatours.
 Senatus, us, m. gen. a senate or counsaile, also a place where the counsaile is holden.
 Cogere, couocare, or vocare senatum, to call a senate, to assemble a counsaile or parliament.
 Habere senatum, to hold a counsaile.
 Dare senatum alicui, to cause ones matter to be heard before the senatours or counsaillours.
 Extinguere senatum, to abolythe the auctoritee of the senate.
 In senatum aliquem legere, to chosse of electe one to be a senatour.
 Mitti vel dimitti senatus dicitur, whan the senate is dissolued, whan the prator geueth licence to departe.
 Mouere senatu, to put out of the senate.
 In senatum venire, to be made a senatour.
 Frequentem senatum efficere, to make a great assemble of the senatours.
 Senatus discedit, the senatours departe and goe home to theyr houses.
 Senatum cooprare, to chosse counsaillours.
 Senatus consultum, ti, an acte of counsaile, or an ordy ordynance made by the senate.

 Seneca, x, the name of two great learned men.
 Senecio, onis, an herbe, whiche groweth on walles and tiles, and is hore in sommer, and hath redde stalkes, called groundswell.
 Senecta, x, f. g. olde age.
 Senectus, uris, f. g. age.
 Adipisci senectutem, to become olde.
 Confectus senectute, beie olde.
 Obrepit non intellecta senectus, age crepeth on a man et he be ware.
 Desipere senectute, to dote for age.
 Senectus orationis, id est, maturitas.
 Senectus, is also an adders skinne, whiche he casteth of in the spyng tyme.
 Senectus, a, um, olde.
 Seno, & senesco, scere, to waxe olde, to growe in age.
 Fama senescere dicitur aliquis, when his byte or renoume decayeth.
 Ne cunctando senescerent consilia, lest by longe delaynge theyr counsaile shulde come to none effecte.
 Hyems senescit, id est, declinat, wisther draweth towarde an ende.
 Littera senescunt, learning or knowlage of good letters beginneth to decaye.
 Luna senescens, the moone whan it is in the wane.
 Morbus senescit, whan it beginneth to weare awaie.
 Pugna senescit, the battaile beginneth to quail, or to drawe towards an ende.
 Senescit laus, whan ones prayse beginneth to decaye.
 Senex, senis, com. gen. an olde man or wooman. it is sometyme taken for Rugosus, withered or riuclod.
 Seni, x, na, xij.
 Senio, onis, m. g. a spece of numbre of xij marked in the dice.
 Senior, oris, m. g. a beaie auncient persone, a graue father or counsaillour.
 Senior, & hoc senius, elder.
 Senilis, le, belongng to an olde man.
 Seniliter, lyke an olde man.
 Senium, nij, n. g. olde age. Somtyme an olde man. sometyme sadnesse, heauinesse and mourning.
 Senium luna, the later parte of the wane of the moone.
 Ut illum dii, deaque senium perdant, I praye god and all the saintes in heauen byngge that olde charle to a mischiese.
 Sennar, the fildes, where the toure of Babylon was builded.
 Senogallia, a cite in Itale.
 Senones, people in Fraunce.
 Senia, the senes or those thynges, whiche we doe meane.
 Sensibilis, le, that maie be felte, or that can feele, sensible

Sensculus, li, the diminutue of sensus, a smolthe or trifelyng sense.
 Sensifer, sifera, rum, that bringeth sense or feeling.
 Sensificus, a, um, that caueth feeling.
 Sensilis, le, that maie be felte.
 Sensim, littell and littell.
 Sensim & repente, contrarie.
 Sensus, us, mal. ge. sense, feeling or perceiuing, sometyme that one thinketh or hath conceiued in his mynde. also the sense or meanng of any wytyng.
 Nullus in te sensus est humanitatis, there is no sparke of gentleness in the.
 Ego illius sensum pulchre calleo, I knowe the mans mynde or fantasie iolily well.
 Suffugere sensum res dicitur, whan it can not be felte or perceiued.
 Ostendere sensum suum, to shewe his mynde.
 Exponere sensum, to shewe or utter that he hath conceiued in his mynde.
 Sensus communis, the common sense, experiance & perceiuing of thynges, y is in euery man.
 Sensus, si, neu. g. that one hath conceiued in his mynde.
 Sena, was called Fauna or Bona dea, the good goddess.
 Sententia, x, f. g. sentence, iudgement, opinton or counsaile spoken or witten concernynge the lyfe of man.
 Contrariam sententiam accipere, to haue the cause iudged agaynst hym.
 Sententiam dicere, to shewe his opinton.
 Sententiam facere, to geue sentence or iudgement.
 Sententia, arum, graue and moxall sentences of counsaile, or any vertuous matter.
 Si sententia est, yf your mynde or purpose be.
 Esapiunt mea quidem sententia, and in faith after myne opinton and iudgement they dooe wpsely.
 Quantum intellexi senis sententiam, as muche as I perceiued by the olde mans mynde or woordes.
 Mouere aliquem sententia, to cause one to change his sentence or opinton.
 Mihi per alium ostendit suam sententiam, he sheweth me his mynde vnder the colour or presence of an other.
 Ponere suam sententiam, to wyte his owne opinton.
 In ista sum sententia, I am in this mynde, I thynke this, this is myne aduise or opinton.
 Eorum magis sententia sum, I incline moze to theyr sentence or opinton.
 Sic sententia est, I haue to be determined with myselfe.
 Sententijs omnibus hostis iudicatus est, he was iudged an enemye of the common weale by euery mans voice and consent.
 Sententiola, lae, f. g. a littell or thorte sentence.
 Sententiose, sententiousely.

Sententiōsus, a, um, sententious, full of shoyte sentences.
 Senticca, a towne of Spayne called Simancas.
 Senticetum, ti, n. g. a place full of byers.
 Senticōsus, a, um, sharpe as a byer, full of byers.
 Sentina, nre, f. ge. the pumpe of a shippe, a place where all filthe is receiued, a sinke: sometye a lakes: and by translation a place, whither all naughty people resorte, or a company of naughty parties, or lewde & mischeuous felowes: also the lowest & most bale estate of the comō weale.
 Sentinaria, a countrey in Italie.
 Sentino, aui, are, to auoide peryll. also to pumpe by water out of a shippe, to labour harde to auoide daunger.
 Sentinum, a towne in Italie called nowe Saxo-ferratum.
 Sentio, sens, sentire, to perceiue, to vnderstande, to feele, to iudge, to suppose, to knowe, to be of opinion.
 Aliud sentire, aliud loqui, to speake one thyng and thinke an other: to beare two faces in one hooide: to speake otherwise than he thinketh.
 Sentio tecum, I am of thine opinton.
 Sentio sonitum, I heare a noyse.
 Famein sentire, to suffer hunger, to be hungry.
 Sentire sum, to be hoze.
 Sentire medicinam, to be somewhat better after the receyuing of a medicine.
 Celeriter senticariem, it is quickly rotten.
 Si me senserit eum quatuor, if he perceiue that I doe seke hym.
 Recte sentire, to thinke well, or be of a good opinion.
 Ille cui ipse sentiet posterius, that marchaunt of yours shall feele it hym selfe an other daie.
 Ille haud mecū sentit, this man is not of myne opinion.
 Sentire grauius de aliquo, id est, ei male cupere, to wish euill to a mā, to desyre some great displeasure to come to hym.
 Male sentire de aliquo, to haue an yll opinion of one.
 Sentire qui vir siem, he shall knowe what a fellowe I am.
 Sentis, is, m. g. a byre or byemble.
 Sentis canis, dogge byre.
 Sentisco, scire, to begyne to knowe or perceiue.
 Sentis, a, um, heary, rough.
 Seorsum, an aduerbe, a parte, a sinder, one from an other. also namely, specially.
 Omnibus gratiam habeo, & seorsum tibi praterca Demca, I thanke you all, but names by the Demca.
 Seorsum ate sentio, I am of an other opinton then thou artt.
 Seorsus, idem quod Seorsum.
 Separ, separis, vnlyke, vnequall, diuers.
 Separabilis, le, easy to be diuided or separated.
 Separatē, aparte, separately.

Separatio, ōnis, separation, setting aparte, putting one from an other.
 Separatim, aparte, seuerally.
 Separatus, a, um, separate, or diuided from an other thyng.
 Séparo, aui, are, to put aparte or departe one from an other, to separate.
 Separatus, a, um, of talowe, or made of talowe.
 Candela separata, talowe candles.
 Sépedes, emotes.
 Sepelibilis, le, that is or may be buried.
 Sepelio, sepelis, liui, lire, to burie, to interre, to lay in the earth.
 Sepelire se vino & epulis, to geue hym selfe to drunkenesse, and banquetting.
 Sepes, of seps, seps, f. g. a hedge.
 Præterendere sepem, to make a hedge before a place.
 Sepia, x, a fische white of colour, but it hath a blacke toppe, it is called a cuttill.
 Sepiola, x, f. g. a diminutiue of Sepia.
 Sepimentum, ti, n. g. an inclosure or hedge.
 Sepio, sepiui, sepitum, or sepsi, septum, sepire, to hedge or inclose.
 Sepiuns, piuntis, Sipus, puntis, & Sipunum, a citee in the realme of Naples.
 Sepiarius, a maker of soote oymentes.
 Sepidicium, or Sepiasia, a shoppe where sweete oymentes are solde. it was a strete in the citie of Capua, wherein were diuerse delicate oymments.
 Spono posui, ponere, to put or lay aparte.
 Saponere pecuniam in edificacionem, to lay by money to builde with.
 Saponere sibi tempus ad rem aliquam, to reserue or kepe a tyme of leysure to dooe any thyng in.
 Sepositus, put or laid aparte. sometye for Res motus, that dwelleth farre of.
 Seps, seps, m. g. a venomous wounde, of whose stroke or byng the fleshe rotteith.
 Seps, seps, f. g. a hedge.
 Sepia, ōrum, n. g. the generall name of all places inclosed, looke Septum.
 Septangulus, a figure hauing seven corners.
 Septem, adiectiuum indeclinabile, plur. nū. seven.
 September, bris, m. g. the moneth of September. it is sometye vsed adiectiuely.
 Septemfluus, a, um, that floweth in seuen partes.
 Septenipeda, a place in Italie called Sancte Desuerne.
 Septempedalis, le, of seuen fete, seuen foote longe.
 Septemgeminus, a, um, seuen tymes double.
 Septemplex, plicis, seuen folde.
 Septemuir, uiri, m. g. an officer in Rome, where seuen were of lyke authoritee.
 Septemuiralis, le, belonging to those officers.
 Septemuiratus, us, m. g. the authoritee or dignitie of those officers.

Sep

Septendecim, seuentene.
 Septeni, na, na, seuen.
 Septennis, ne, of seauen yeres.
 Septennium, the space of seuen yeres.
 Septentrio, ōnis, the northe cost. also the northe pole.
 Septentrionalis, le, northerne, or towards the northe.
 Septentriones, the seuen sterres, which are scene by Charles wayne, or Vrfa maior.
 Septiana mala, a kynd of rounde apuls graffed firste by one Septius.
 Septicollis, by that name Rome was called, because of the seuen hilles, which were in it, Palatinus, Quirinalis, Auentinus, Caelius, Viminalis, Esquilium, and Ianiculum.
 Septicus, a, um, putrefactive, or corrosiue.
 Septies, seuen tymes.
 Septisariam, seuen maner of facions, or wates.
 Septisarius, a, um, seuen dyuers.
 Septimum, the seuenth tyme.
 Septimana, na, f. g. a weeke.
 Septimatus, was an holy daie, kepte the daie following the firste Idus of euery moneth.
 Septimantium, a place hauing seuen hilles.
 Septimus, a, um, the seuenth.
 Septingentarius, a, um, that conteyneth seuen hundred.
 Septingeni, and Septingenti, seuen hundred.
 Septingentes, seuen hundred tymes.
 Septingentesimus, a, um, the seuen hundredth.
 Septingentuplus, a, um, seuen hundred folde.
 Septimius, a Romaine, of whome Catullus writteth.
 Septuagenarius, a, um, thre score and ten yeres olde.
 Septuagenus, a, um, the seuenteth.
 Septuages, thre score and ten tymes.
 Septuaginta, thre score and ten.
 Septum, ti, n. g. euery place inclosed, as the place of exercise at Rome, in the fildes called Marsius, a close or leuwe hedged about, sometye a folde for sheepe. also an hedge: more ouer a cause or locke in a riuer, either to stoppe or let go the water, made of stone, timber or other matter.
 Septum transversum, the middest, whiche diuideth the stomacke from the lower bowelles.
 Septuosc, darkely, obscurely.
 Septuncialis, le, of seuen unces.
 Septunx, uncis, m. g. a poise of seuen unces. also a measure of lande conteyning in bredth and lengthe. 16800. fote, and is halfe the measure called iugerum, and a. 12. parte.
 Septunx, seuen partes of any hole summe or measure: as, Septunx vini, a cuppe conteyning seuen partes of the measure Sextarius. i. Septem Cyathos, and euery Cyathus is two ounces. so that Septunx vini is. xiiii. ounces, but after phisicians, taking Cyathus to be an ounce and an halfe, Septunx is but. 10. ounces, and an halfe.

 Vñra ex septunce, the vñrie of vii. in the hundred.
 Septus, a, ii, inclosed, hedged, or compassed about, fenced.
 Sepulchralis, le, belonging to a sepulchre or graue.
 Sepulchretum, ti, n. g. a solemnitie kepte about a graue or tumber, a buriall.
 Sepulchrum, chri, n. g. a sepulchre or tumber, a graue.
 Sepultura, ra, fce. g. an interment, a sepulchre or burying. sometye for sepulchrum.
 Sepulus, a, um, buried or hidde. also lyke as it were dead.
 Sepulus sum, I am but a dead man, I were as good be buried, I am utterly badde of all awaie.
 Sepum, pi, n. g. talow.
 Sequana, a riuer in France called Sein.
 Sequani, burgonions of high Bourgoyne.
 Sequax, acis, om. g. that whiche foloweth, pliant. also clammy, that sticketh to ones fingers lyke birdelyme or pitche.
 Sequax bynumen, the clammy claie or tyme called Bynumen.
 Hederæ sequaces, puie that groweth and spreadeth abroade on walles.
 Sequela, la, f. g. the acte of folowynge, sequele.
 Sequester, is, tre, and Hic & hac sequestris, & hoc sequestris, or Sequester, stra, strum, m. different to bothe partes, with whom money is left, or in whose handes any thyng is putte by agreement of bothe the partes that be at controversy. also he that at the election of officers receiued money to make friendes, and sollicite the people to geue theiſe voyces: or one that is byped to corrupte a iudgement, or vnderstandeth to byng any naughty matter to passe for money. In Quintilian Sequester is taken for hym that is instructed of the partie that seareth, and informeth the aduocate or attourney, a solicitor.
 Pax sequestra, a truce or league.
 Sequestrarius, a, um, an adiectiue.
 Actio sequestraria, an action in the law, when one is frowed to deliuer a thyng that was left in his handes.
 Sequestro, aui, are, to laie or sette a thyng indifferently, or in the keeping of an indifferent person.
 Sequestro, an aduerbe, a parte.
 Sequis, for Secius.
 Sequor, sequeris, sequi, to folowe, to goe after, to ensue, to seeke for.
 Sequi lites, to seue at the lawe.
 Sequi quod assequi non queas, to labour to haue that thou canst not attaine.
 A tergo sequi, to follow one at the backe.
 Amicitiam populi Romani sequi sumus, we haue alwaie sought the frendship of the Romaines.
 Amicum sequi, to doe as his frende dooth, to obey obey his friends.

Quicunq; ex fuga Pompeium sequerentur, all that dyd flee and folow Pompey.

Feras sequi, to hunt beastes.

Cæsaris fidem sequutus, belcuyng or trustyng to the promyses of Cæsar.

Imperatū hortetur, vt fidem populi Romani sequantur, he chargeth hym to exhort them to be faithfull to the Romayns: or to take parte with the Romayns and sticke to them.

Compendia temporis sequi, to auoyde the spending and losse of tyme, to bestow or spend as littell tyme as one can about a thyng.

Gratiam Cæsaris sequi, to seke Cæsar's frendship or fauour.

Intervallo magno sequi aliquem, to folow one a louse of, or a great waie after.

Sequi matrimonium diuitis, to desire the marriage of some ryche persone.

Sequi naturam ducem, to folow nature in euery thyng as a gouernesse and leader.

Officium sequi, to endeavour to doe his duttle, or that reason and honestie moueth hym to doe. Credo illos sequutos oportunitatem loci, I thynke they had respecte to the oportunitie of the place.

Pedibus sequi, to goe after on foote.

Promissa alicuius sequi, to truste ones promyses.

Disparis mores disparia studia sequitur, thei that be vnlike in maners, haue vnlike affectis one, and delite in contrary thynges.

Utilitatem sequi, to seke or loke for profite.

Vestigis sequi, to folowe by the trace, to folow steppe by steppe.

Sequitur, oris, m. g. one that foloweth.

Sequitus, a, um, that foloweth.

Die sequito, the nexte daie folowyng.

Sera, an aduerbe, idem quod Sero.

Sera, a citee of Asia.

Sera, ræ, f. g. a locke.

Serauus, the surname of a noble Romayne, which was set from the plough and made Dictatour.

Serapias, an herbe called also Orchis, and hath leaues lyke to leeke blades, and a roote lyke to a mannes stones.

Seraphim, angels.

Serapion, an opatour of Alexandria, which wrote to Adrian the emperor: an other was bishop of Antioche, in the tyme of Commodus: an other was a notable painter.

Serapis, or Seraphis, idis, a serpente, whiche the Egyptians worshipped for a god.

Serenitas, atis, f. g. faynes of weather, dytche, also quietnesse.

Serenissimus, a, um, is a terme appoynted nowe adates to kinges onely, and is vsurped for most famous, or most renowned.

Serenum, ni, n. g. fayre weather.

Sereno, aui, are, to make fayre and clere.

Serenus, a, u, faire, clere, without flowers or vaine,

Cælum serenum, fayre weather.

Tranquilla & serena fronte, a glad and mery countenance.

Seres, a people in Asia, hauing great plenty of silke.

Sericus, a, um, of the people Seres or of silke.

Serice vestes, silken garmentes.

Seresco, or serenesco, scere, to be fayre and dye, also Seresco, is to turne into whey.

Sergestus, one of Aeneas shipmen.

Sergia, a hynde of olives.

Seria, a citee of Spayne.

Seria, earnest, graue and sad woordes.

Seria, æ, f. g. a wyne vessel, whiche is longe.

Sericarius, ri, m. g. a weauer of silke.

Sericatus, a, um, apparayled in silke, or he that weareth a garment of silke.

Sericum, ci, n. g. silke.

Sericus, a, um, of silke.

Series, ei, fæ. g. an order or proceste in any matier, when a thyng hangeth well together.

Serilla, botes or shippes calked with tow.

Seriola, a diminutiue of Seria.

Serio, in good earnest.

Seriphus, a, um, of Seriphos.

Rana seriphia, spoken prouerbiually of theym that be as they were dumme, or can say nothing in any matier.

Seriphos, an yle by Grecia, in the sea called Aegæum, where the frogges that there breede, are dumme.

Seriplum, phi, n. g. a hynde of wourme woode, growyng in the sea.

Seris, is, f. g. is the generall name of all cichoye & endiue, rebe lutybus.

Serius, a citie of France.

Serius, a, um, earnest, graue, of importance, that is doone or spoken earnestly.

Sermo, sermonis, m. g. a speche, a fourme of speakyng. Sometime an oration. also communication. also sermo is a brute of a rumour: as sermo datus per ciuitatem, a brute spredded ouer all the citee.

Erat in sermone res, there was a rumour.

Quum mihi in sermone inieceris, when he had caste out a worde to me in communication, Eccum tibi lupum in sermone, prouerbiually, see, here cometh the man that we spake of.

Sermonis caput & pes, the beginnyng and ende of ones communication.

Latialis sermo, the latine tongue.

Obsceni sermones, rebauldyng.

Oriosi sermones, idelt talke.

Patrius sermo, our mother or natie tongue.

Pedestris sermo, id est, humilis.

Abrumpere sermonem, to byche of communication or talke of a matier.

Conferre sermonem cum aliquo, to commun or talke with one.

Delabi in sermonem, to fall by chaunce into communication of any matier.

Diulgare sermonibus rem aliquam, by communimunication and talke to sprede a matier abroad.

Dare sermonem alicui, to cause one to speake of us.

Habere sermonem de re aliqua, to speake of a matier, to intreate of a matier, to handle a matier.

Incidit sermo de. &c. we chaunced to commen of. &c.

Sermo est de te, we talke of you.

Sermo est eum. &c. the brute of sayng is, or men saie that he. &c.

Primus annus habuit plurimū sermonis, there was muche talke or speakyng of this matier the first yere.

In sermone, as we talked together.

In sermone omnium esse, to be in euery mans mouthe, to be talked or communed of of euery man.

Percrebuit omnium sermone, idem.

Instituere sermonem cum aliquo, to beginne to talke with one.

Multus est sermo te. &c. it is a great brute or sayng abroad: or men talke muche abroad, that you. &c.

Muli sermonis sunt ista, these thynges requite many woordes, or to be communed of at large.

Sermocinatrix, tritis, fæ. g. she that instructeth to speake.

Sermocinor, aris, ari, to talke, to commune.

Sermunculus, li, m. g. a littell talke or communication.

Sernula, a citee of Macedonia.

Sero, aui, are, to quite or locke.

Sero, seui, satum, serere, to sowe, to plante, to ingendye, to sprede abroad a brute or rumour.

Manu serendum non corbe, ye must cast your seede by litle & litle with your hand, & not in heapes with the hole basket: for he that so doth by ouer muche hast leseth all his thysse: hast maketh wast.

Serere bella, to moue or reise warre.

Bella sermonibus serere, to sprede abroad rumours of warre.

Inculcauerat bella ex bellis feri, he laied to thei charges, that they reised warres vpon warres.

Serere certamina, to moue disencion and debate. also to fight.

Leuia certamina serere, to shyrmishe.

Secreta colloquia serere cum aliquo, to talke or commune secretly with one.

Crimina serabant in Senatum, they spake or reported ill abroad of the senators, and blasmed them for diuers thynges.

Discordias or lites serere, to sowe or make debate or discorde.

Mentionem alicuius rei serere ad vulgus, to talke common or babble abroad amonge the people of any matier.

Prælia serere, to fight, to shyrmishe.

Sermones serere, to commune or talke.

Aliquid serere oculis sermonibus, to sprede a thyng abroad in priue communication.

Mihi istic nec seritur nec metitur, that is no thyng for my profite, I haue no thyng to dooe with it.

Sero, an aduerbe, significth late, to late, after the tyme that it ought to be, also in the cunyng.

Longe absum, audio sero, I am farr off, it is long ere I here any thyng.

Sero enim est, for it is to late.

Venit sero, he came late in the cunyng.

Sero venisti, thou comest to late, thou comest when the feast is done: or in an other sens, after meate mustred.

Sero, serui, seruum, serere, to put to, to laie on, also to set or laie in order, as men doe floures in a garden.

Serouin, idem quod Serotum.

Seropia, a citee in Phœnicia.

Serōtinus, a, um, that whiche is in the cunyng. Sometime late, or latewarde.

Serōtini fructus, latewarde frutes.

Serpens, entis, om. gen. creepyng or procedyng forwarde, augumentyng or spreadyng abroad by littell and littell.

Serpens, penis, m. & f. g. a serpente, the generall name of all beuine that crepe as serpentes dooe.

Serpentiger, tigera, rum, that beareth a serpent.

Serpentigena, ingendyng of serpentes.

Serpentaria, æ, f. g. an herbe, called dragons.

Serperastum, a swathyng or swadlyng band, or rather a thyngs bounde to chyldrens knees to make thei legges straight.

Serphus, a littell beaste, not vnlike an ampt or pismere.

Serpillus, li, m. gen. or serpillum, li, neu. gen. an herbe, whiche groweth on old walles about welles or poudes: and in some places it smelleth lyke tyme, and in some places lyke to sauoury: some doe take it for the common sauoury.

Serpo, pli, pere, to creepe, to pzyede or goe forwarde by littell and littell, to go or hyde vpon the bealy, as peles and serpentes do, to sprede abroad by littell and littell as herbes doe growyng harde by the grounde.

Serpis amicitia per omnem vitam, frendship & amitie spreadeth it self in the life of all men.

Serpis consuetudo, when it is taken vp by littell and littell.

Ad alios etiam hæc res serpit, this matier extendeth it self, or apperteyneth or belongeth to other also.

Serpis cura, it encreseth and waxeth more and more. likewise Serpis malum.

Serpis rumor, this rumour increaseth and goeth abroad.

Serpula, læ, f. gen. of olde writers was vsed for Serpens, a serpente.

Serpyllus, li, loke Serpillus.

Serra, ræ, fem. gen. a sawe. also an instrument, that men were timented with by drawing of oren. also a kinde of sea fische, and the name of the river Epher.

Serra præliari, is to fight in battayle, somtyme marchyng forwarde, somtyme reculyng, as a sawe goeth, whan it is drawen.

Serrata, an herbe, whiche is called Germander.

Serracula, læ, the herbe Betayne.

Serratus, a, um, like a sawe. also sawed.

Serrati dentes, teeth standyng a funder like the teeth of a sawe.

Serrati, a certayne cogne, which had the pinte of a sawe in it.

Serro, aui, are, to sawe.

Serrula, læ, f. g. a littell sawe.

Sertor, ôris, m. ge. he that soweth seedes of setz teth herbes.

Sertorius, a Romayne, whiche rebelled agaynst his countrey.

Sertum, ti, n. g. a garlande.

Sertus, a, um, set with floures, as in a garland.

Serti flores, floures set in a garlande.

Sertula campana, an herbe called Bellilote.

Seruabilis, le, that maie be kepte.

Seruatus, ôris, m. g. he that preferueth of delz uereth one from harme.

Seruatrix, tris, the feminine.

Seruatus, a, um, kept, preferued, saved.

Seruia, æ, f. g. a garlande of floures.

Seruilis, le, perteynyng to seruantes, scrulle.

Bellum seruile, warre, whiche the seruantes of the Romayns made agaynst their lordes.

Seruiler, lyke a bondman of slaue.

Seruo, uiui, uire, to serue, to geue all ones indouour and diligence to a thyng, to labour of doe the beste he can to helpe a thyng of persone.

Seruire auribus, to flatter.

Seruire alicui rei, to intende vpon any thyng, to geue his whole diligence to a thyng.

Aetati seruire, to accomodate hym selfe to the age of one.

Petitioni seruire, to doe nothyng els but attende to the suite and labouryng for an office.

Scenæ seruire, to doe accordyng as the scene requyeth.

Rumori seruire, to go about to get a great name.

Valitudini seruire, to prouide for his helthe, to haue regarde to his health.

Ne apud lenonem hunc seruam, that I maie not serue this baudie.

Vi huic bello seruient, that they shulde attēde and geue their hole diligence to this warre.

Quam maxime seruire vestris commodis, to doe all diligent seruice that I can for your profites.

Summa fedulitate cultura seruati, lette hym geue all diligence possible to husbandrie and culyng of the grounde.

Cupiditatibus seruire, in all thynges to obey his sensuall appetites.

Nisi tunc existimacioni seruisset, if he had not doone his endeuour to helpe of saue your existimacion.

Gloria seruire, to be desirous of conuious of gloste, to dooe all that he can to attēte gloste, or for glorie sake.

Defensionis patriæ seruire, to defend of helpe to magnetyne his countrey.

Matrimonio puellæ seruire, to doe all that he can to helpe of prouide a mayden to be married.

Posteritati seruire, to geue all his diligence to please of to doe good to his posteritee.

Rei familiari seruire, to be busy and occupied about his houtholde affaires, to attēde to his houtholde busynesse.

Seruire seruitutem, to be in bondage.

Seruitur, the impersonall.

Seruiro, of Seruiam, in the future tense.

Seruior, uiris, uiri, the pastue, to be serued.

Seruitium, ti, n. gen. seruice, also the multitude of seruantes, the meyn.

Genitus in seruitio, a seruant of bondeman boyne.

Seruitia, ôrum, plu. seruantes of bondmen.

Seruitus, tûris, f. g. bondage, seruage, seruitude.

Asserere in seruitutem vrbis, to byng cities in bondage and subiection of tyannes.

Pati seruitutem, to be in bondage.

Seruius, a surname among the Romayns.

Seruo, aui, are, to kepe, to preferue, to possede, to dwell in a place, to walche diligently and carefully, to take good herbe, to obserue.

Seruare fidem, to kepe touch, to be feithfull, to kepe promyse, to do that he promised.

Seruare de celo, to awaite what weather shall come, to obserue tokens or signes in the heauen or firmament.

Omnia integra principis seruare, to reserue the whole matter vnto the pince.

Modum seruare, to kepe a meane.

Seruare obsecro hac nobis bona, kepe of continue vs in this good fortune, felicity, of prosperitee I beseeche the.

Ad reditum seruare, to kepe till ones comyng agayne.

Concentum seruare fides dicitur, To be in tune.

Seruare consuetudinem, to kepe a custome of fashion.

Seruare quod deceat, to dooe that is comely and sityng.

Seruare fidem veritatis, to write simply as the trueth is.

Seruare officium aduersus inimicum, to doe his duety, of that honeste requyeth euen to his enemye.

In vultustem seruare vinum, to kepe wyne a longe tyme.

Seruare suum, is used in the lawe, for Recusperare, to recour.

Seruare

Seruaueris, beware what ye dooe, take hede what ye dooe.

Serum, ri, n. g. the laste parte of the date, the escentyde. it is also whey of milke.

Rem in serum trahere, to prolonge the matter vntill it be night.

Pasci sero pingui, to be fedde with fat whey.

Liquidum serum, clere whey.

Quia serum erat dici, because it was in the escentyng.

Serus, a, um, late, somtyme great: somtyme greuous of heauy, that is longe a comyng.

Sera arbor, a tree whiche byngeth footye leaues veray late.

Serum lumen, almost night.

Sera frondes, leaues whiche fall veray late.

Sera omnia, all full of sorowe of heauinesse.

Sera rosa, for serotina.

Serumbellum, great and greuous warre.

Quid tam sera aduenis? why comest thou so late?

Serum est, it is to late.

Seruula, læ, f. g. a wenche of woman seruant.

Seruulus, li, a diminutive of seruus.

Seruus, a, um, that is in bondage of subiection.

Seruus, ui, m. g. a seruant, properly whiche is compelled to serue, as bondmen of apprentices doone.

Seruum pecus, a prouerbe, applied to hym, which in speaking or writing, dare not digresse from an other mans steppes or course of writing.

Seruus ordinarius, a chiefe seruant, that hath the ouersight of other.

Seruus vicarius, an vnder seruant.

Seruus mediastinus, a mongerell.

Seruua, uæ, f. g. a wenche of woman seruant.

Sesama, mæ, f. g. & sesamum, mi, n. g. a white greayne, whiche groweth in India, wherof oyle is made, whiche is called oleum sesaminum.

Sesaminus, a, um, of sesama.

Sesamoides, an herbe, which purgeth melancoly.

Sesamus, a cite of Paphlagonia.

Sescentialis, le, of an vnce and an halfe.

Sescentia, cuncis, m. g. and Sescuntia, æ, f. g. an vnce and an halfe.

Sescentium, pli, neu. ge. the whole and the halfe parte.

Sese, the accusatiue case of Sui.

Seselis, lis, f. g. an herbe, called also Siler.

Sesostris, a kyng of Egypte, whiche intended to make a ryuer betwene the redde sea and the ryuer of Nilus.

Sesqui, as muche and halfe as muche, 'logned to an other woorde, it signifyeth halfe as muche moze.

Sesquialtera, so muche and halfe so muche, a proportion in musike.

Sesquihora, an houre and an halfe.

Sesquidgerum, an aker and an halfe.

Sesquilibra, bræ, fæ. ge. a pounce and an halfe.

Sesquimensis, a month and an halfe.

Sesquibolus, a poise containyng three partes of a scruple: it maie bee vsed of vs for three farthynges.

Sesquioctauus, a, um, the eight and a halfe.

Sesquimodius, a bussell and a halfe.

Sesquiperera, ræ, f. g. one tourney in tillage and a halfe.

Sesquiplaga, æ, f. g. a stroke and a halfe.

Sesquipes, pedis, m. g. a foote and a halfe.

Sesquipedalia verba, great and vnde woordes, as some noble men dooe speake to thepp inferiours, when they are displeased.

Sesquipleus, idem quod Sesquialter.

Sesquibulum, li, n. g. a benche to sitte on, a sette, a couche.

Sesilis, le, that sitteth or seemeth to sitte.

Tergum sesile, a backe wheron one may sit.

Sesilis lactuca, lettise that groweth harde by the grounde, so that it seemeth to sitte.

Sesio, ônis, f. g. a sittynge.

Sesito, aui, are, to sitte often.

Sestans, antis, m. g. a certayne cogne, lesse than that whiche is called Quadrans, by the thirde parte, and containeth it. vnces: after some it is also called obolus, the sixte parte of a diamme: after some other, it is the sixte parte of a poide.

Sestans, the sixte parte of any somme, measure, or quantitee, which is diuided into twelue partes: as, Sestans vini, the sixte parte of sextarius, that is, fower vnces of wine.

Exsesante heredem facere, to make an heire of the sixte parte.

Vsura exsesante, two in the hundred: as in a hundred pounce. 40. Millinges.

Sestans agri, the sixte parte of iugerum, contentyng. 4800. foote.

Sestantarius, a, um, that is the weighte of Sestans.

Sestertius, seu Sextarius nummus, was a siluer cogne of the Romaynes, wherof Denarius contained foure: so that when viii. grotes english made an vnce, then was Sestertius our english peny: and it was called Sestertius, as it were Semitertius: for it contained. ii. and a halfe of the brassen coigne called As, and therefore it is written with this figure LSS, whiche signifyeth. ii. ii. and dim. Sestertium, in the neutre gender, signifyeth a thousand Sestertij, that is. ii. ii. and an halfe of the Romaynes called libra, or pondus, in value. 25. crownes frenche, v. li. sterlyng.

Decem sestertia, and Decem millia Sestertia, idem, 250. crownes frenche. 50. li. sterl.

Dicimus autem mille sestertij, Mille nummi, mille sestertium, mille nummum, and Mille sestertium nummum, 25. crownes frenche, v. li. sterlyng.

Decies sestertium, idem quod decies centena millia sestertium. 25. thousande crownes frenche. 5000. li. sterl.

Mille sestertia, idem.
 Sestertium, tij, n. g. a certayne lewse garmente that men vsed to cast about them lyke a sheete.
 Sestertium, li, n. g. adiminitive of Sestertium.
 Sestria aqua, certayne water in the pproince of Marbon.
 Sestiana mala, a certayne kynde of apuls, named of one Sestius.
 Sestios, a citee in Thracia.
 Seta, tx, f. g. a byrdill of bygge heate.
 Serabis, a river in Spaine.
 Seria, a citee in Campania.
 Sériger, ra, rum, that beareth of hath byrdills on his backe.
 Setinum vinum, wyne made about the citee of Setia.
 Setim, a tree, lyke to white thorne, whiche doeth neuer rotte: wherof was muche of the tymber in the temple of Salomon.
 Setosus, a, um, full of byrdills.
 Serubia, a towne of Spayne.
 Setuose, lōke Septuose.
 Setuosus, a, um, olde wynters vsed for obscurus, darke.
 Seu, for siue, either, or.
 Seuer, seuerely, with grauitie. also Marpely, cruely rigorously.
 Seueriter, idem.
 Seueritas, tatis, f. g. grauitie, constantnesse, ppropiety in ministeryng iustice, seueritee, rigour, Marpenesse, streitnesse, hardenesse.
 Adhibere seueritatem, to vse seueritee or grauitie.
 Seueritas animaduersionis, streitnesse, rigour, or seueritee in punisshyng.
 Seueritudo, dinis, f. g. idem quod Seueritas.
 Seuerus, a, um, graue, constant, cruell, sharpe, dangerous to meddill with, seuer, harde, streite, rigorous.
 Acerbe seuerus in filium, very cruel and harde towarde his sonne.
 Seuerus, the name of diuers men. also an hill in Italie, after Seruius.
 Seuooco, aui, are, to call aparte or awaite, to call aside from other.
 Animum ab omni negotio seuoicare, to withdraue the mynde from cogitation of all maner of businesse.
 Seuoicare se a corporibus, to withdraue hym selfe from cogitation of corporall and worldly matters.
 Seuo, aui, are, to make candills of talow.
 Seuosus, a, um, greatly lyke talow.
 Seuum, ui, n. g. talow of beastes.
 Sex, lyke in numbre.
 Sexageni, na, na, sixtete.
 Sexageni dies, thre scoze daies.
 Sexagies, thre scoze tymes.
 Sexaginta, thre scoze.
 Sexangulus, a, um, haungng six corners.
 Sexcentismus, a, um, the six hundred.

Sexcenties, six hundred tymes.
 Sexcentenus, and Sexcenus, a, um, six hundred.
 Sexcenti, tx, ta, idem.
 Sexcentoplagus, he that receiveth six hundred stripes.
 Sexcuplus, a, um, six double, or six tymes so muche.
 Sexdecies, thre scoze tymes.
 Sexennis, ne, of six yeres olde.
 Sexennium, nij, n. g. the space of .vi. yeres.
 Sexies, six tymes.
 Sextans, and Sextarius, looke Sestans, and Sestarius.
 Sextarius, is a measure, wherby all other measures made be made: it containeth two measures called Heminae of Cotila: and .vi. sextarii dooe make one Congium: and .viii. Congia dooe make Amphorin: ff. Amphora, one Culeum, notwithstanding there is Sextarius Romanus, and Sextarius Atticus. Romanus containeth the weighte of oile. xlii. vneces: of wyne. x. vneces: of honny. x. vneces. Atticus receiveth the weighte of oile. xv. vneces: of wyne a pounce. iii. vneces, x. diagma, and one scruple: of honny. ii. pounce and one vneces. This far Beliothe. But after Budei, Glarian, and mooste certaine triale by weight and measure, Sextarius Romanus containeth of wine or wheate, ii. pounce Romane, that is. xiiii. ounces, a pounce and an halfe of habber de poyle weighte, lesse then the pinte of Parise by eighte ounces. ye may trie it by making a measure. liii. inches longe by squere, iii. inches deepe, and as many broade, whiche is the true sextarius. According to this compe sextarius is one pinte & an halfe. for in our pint (as I haue proued) is but .16. ounces, I meane a wyne pinte: The phisicians do assigne but .18. ounces to sextarius, and then is it but .ii. ounces moze then our pinte.
 Sextiana pyra, a certayne kynde of peares.
 Sextilis, the moneth nowe called Auguste.
 Sextus Caballus, the name of a notable scotter or rapler.
 Sexula, tx, f. g. the sixte parte of an vnce: whiche is a dramme and a scruple. also a measure of lande, containyng .400. foote.
 Sextus, a philosopher, Plutarchus nephew, and instructour of Marcus Antonius the emperour.
 Sextus, a, um, the sixte.
 Sextum, the sixte tymes.
 Sextum consul, the sixte tymes consull.
 Sexus, ur, or Iexus, i, after Hippoclan, m. g. a kynde.
 Sexus virilis, the male kynde.
 Sexus muliebris, the woman kynde.

S I, if, although, I wolde god.
 Si dis placet, if god will, or on gods name: or in the name of god: a woorde spoken either in disdeigne or in mockage, for any thyng not well done.
 Etiam latini, si diis placet, hoc biennio magistri dicendi extiterunt, yea and also the latters, on goddis name, haue ben these two yeres masters of eloquence.
 Quin etiam, si diis placet, nephas aiunt consulem plebeium fieri, they saie also, on goddis name, that it is vnlesfull for a commoner to be made consull.
 Si sapis, if thou be wise.
 Si nihil aliud, saltem vt. &c. if he coude do nothyng els, at the least wise that he might. &c.
 Si modo senescere datum est, if it be my fortune or destenie to lye tyll I be an olde man.
 Si non perfectio, at conatus tamen, if there be no perfection, at the leaste wile there is an endeavour.
 Praesentibus amicis, si tamen illa non grauantur, id est, si modo.
 Magnus orator est, si non maximus, he is a great oratour, if he be not excellent and passyng all other.
 Non si capiudos mihi sciam inimicos omnes homines, no though I knewe I shulde haue the displeasure of all men luyng.
 Non si me obsecret, no, not though he wolde desyre me.
 Si for Esti, as, Nam si ego digna hac contumelia sum maxime, at tu. &c. id est, est ego. &c.
 Hec si redierit, id est, quum, or Postq.
 Solui, si quid ad me literarum, nihil erat, id est, viciam si, that I might see or know, whether there were any letters to me.
 Visam si domi est, id est, an, I wyll go see whether he be at home.
 Si est vt velit, if it be so that he will.
 Si concessa peto, si dant ea inania parca, id est, siquidem, for.
 Si nunc se nobis ille aureus arbore ramus ostendat. &c. I woulde to god, or that god wolde.
 Si te in germani fratris dilexi loco, If you know that I haue. &c.
 Siambis, an ile in the Whittish the ocean sea, on the north parte.
 Sibaris, or rather Sybaris, an olde towne. xlii. miles from Rome. also a citee in Calabria. sometyme it is taken for delicate and wanton luyng.
 Sibariticus, or rather Sybariticus, a, um, wanton or delicate.
 Sibi, to hym selfe.
 Sibimet ipsis concitare mortem, to kill them selves.
 Sibilo, aui, are, to whistill, to hysse.
 Sibulus, li, maf. gen. pluraliter. m. & neu. ge. a whistlyng, a hysyng, in poetes the blowynge of wynde.

 Sibilo signum dare, to whistle when one shuld dooe a thyng.
 Edere sibilum, to hysse, to whistle.
 Sibilo confectari aliquem, to hysse at one.
 Sibulus, a, um, that hysseth or whistleteth.
 Sibus, of olde wynters was vsed for Calidus, or Acutus.
 Sibyllinus, a, um, of Sibylla.
 Sibylla, tx, form. ge. a generall name to all women, which had the spirite of prophetic of them (as Marro and Lactantius dooe write) were ten: the firste called Persica, the second Libyca, the thirde Delphica, the fourth Cumana, the fift Erythrea, the sixte Samia, the seuenth Cumana, the eight Hellespontia, the nynthe Phrygia, the tenth Tyburtina, euery one of these (as Lactantius saith) wyate of the incarnation of Christe.
 Sic, so, in likewise, accordyngly, so lightly, in this wise, after this facion.
 Mirabar, hoc si sic abiret, I wolde haue me vnappled, if it shulde haue passed so lightly.
 Sic ago, so I am wonte to dooe.
 Sic sum, such a one am I, suche is my facion.
 Sic est, sic est factum, sic est res, sic res habet, so it is as I tell you, the truthe is so, it is true that I tell you, it is euen so.
 Sic cogitabam, I thought this or in this wise with my selfe.
 Sic satis, so so, indifferently.
 Sic est ingenium, suche is my nature, disposicion or facion.
 Sic est vulgus, this is the facion, maner or trade of the common people.
 Sic vita erat, suche was his nature, suche was his life or facion.
 Nihil sic celere est, id est, tam, nothyng is so swifte.
 Sic vt quimus (aiunt) quando vt volumus non licet, as we maie (accordyng to the olde prouerbe) when we can not as we wolde.
 Sic salutas quasi, ye doe salute me after that facion as though.
 Sica, tx, f. g. a thorte swoorde.
 Sicambri, the people of Sackau and Hellen in Germany.
 Sicani, people of Sicillie, whiche came out of Spayne.
 Sicania, the ile of Sicillie.
 Sicanus, and Sicanus, a, um, of Sicillie.
 Sicarius, rij, m. g. a murderer.
 Siccaneus, or Siccaneus, a, um, drie of nature, that hath no riuers or springes to water it.
 Siccatus, a, um, dried vp.
 Siccus, dryly, without godd moysture.
 Siccifico, scere, to drie, to ware drie.
 Siccine? of that facion? in suche facion.
 Siccine tu illam? Siccine nos habes ludibrio omnes? wylt thou handle hir of that facion? wylt Wylt thou in such facion moche vs all?

 Siccine est sententia? be you of that mynde of opinion? be ye so mynded?
 Siccitas, aris, farm. ge. drynesse, drythe, lacke of moysture.
 Sicco, aui, are, to drie of make drie.
 Siccoculus, a, um, that hath drie eyes.
 Siccus, a, um, drye, wythered, without moysture of iuyce. also sobze.
 In sicco, out of the water on the lande.
 Sicclion, an herbe, that groweth commonly in bynepardes.
 Sicclis, sicclidis, of Sicilie.
 Sicclides musæ, the muses of Sicilie.
 Sicendus, a lake in Thessalie, where the frogges bee dumme.
 Sicera, æ, f. gen. all maner of drynke, wherewith one maie be made drunke.
 Sichæus, Didos housbande.
 Sicileo, siciles, cilui, cilere, of Sicilio, liui, lire, to cut agayne that whiche was not well cut before, properly graffe in a meadowe.
 Sicilia, a noble ile first called Trinacria, afterwarde Sicania, and at the laste Sicilia, it is in foure thre corners, and therfore hadde the name of Trinacria, The one corner called Pachynus, extendeth towarde the parte of Grece, whiche was called Peloponnesus, nowe Mo-rea: The second corner called Pelorus, lyeth towarde Italie: The thyrde called Lilyæus, is extended towarde Affrica: of the whiche Pe-lorus extendeth in the temperance of the earth, for with no weate there maie be any myze, nor by any drythe dult. This ile contyneth in circuite (as Solinus writeth) thre thousande furlonge, whiche is of Italian myles .375. as Diodorus Siculus writeth. 4360. but Phi-nus saith, that the thre corners be disaunt, from Pelorus to Pachynum by lande. 166.
 myles: from thens to Lilyæum. 200. myles:
 from thens to Pelorus. 170. myles. and saith also, that Agrippa affirmed it to be in circuite 618. myles, whiche dooe not agree with Solinus nor Diodorus, whiche maie happen to be by the diuersitee of furlonges. Reade therof in Stadium. The fertilitie of this ile in al grayne, beaultie of meadowes, delicatenesse of waters colde and hote, mountains and caues miraculous, and other thynges there exceeding notable, many autours haue written and wondred at, bothe Greeces and Latines.
 Sicilicum, ci, of Sicilicus, ci, a people of weyght weyghynge two drammes, and is the fourth parte of an ounce. also a measure of grounde, 20. fote broade, and .30. longe, that is, a platte contynyng 600. fote.
 Sicilices, the broade heades of iaculins.
 Sicilienses, people dwellynge in Sicilie, whiche were bozne els where.
 Sicliensis, e, that is in Sicilie.
 Sicilimentum, i, n. g. that is cut or mowed after

It hath bene yll mowed before.
 Siciliso, aui, are, to speake the language of Sicilie.
 Sicimia, after come, a kynde of trees growynge in Palestine, but after Hierome, it is a kynde of bypers that bynge forth berries.
 Sicinius dentatus, a valiant warriour.
 Sicinnium, ni, n. ge. of Sicinnis, is, farm. gen.
 a kynde of dauncyng, wherein they that daunced didde syng, as they do in Christmas whan they syng carrolles, and as maydens dooe nowise to dooe in the stretes.
 Siclus, cli, ma. gen. called also Tetradrachmum, and Stater argenteus, is as well a coyne as a weyght, beyng halfe an ounce in wyght, and in value about. iiii. grotes. some write, that amog
 the Hebrewes it is an ounce, among the Greeces and Latines, onely the fourth part of an ounce,
 it. drammes.
 Sicoris, a ryuer in Spayne.
 Sicula, the herbe called bete.
 Sicubi, where so euer, it in any place, it at any tyme.
 Sicubi eum satietas hominum ceperat, if he were wey of mens company in any place.
 Siculi, men of Sicilie.
 Siculus, a, um, of or belongyng to Sicilie, or that dwelleth in Sicilie.
 Siculum mare, the sea by Sicilie.
 Sicunde, if from any place.
 Sicunde potes eruere, if you can pull it out of any place.
 Sicut, & Sicuti, as, lyke as, euen as.
 Sicut dicis, as you saie.
 Sicut, for Vt.
 Sicut solebat Antiochus, as Antiochus was wont.
 Sicut, for Tanquam.
 Sicut in aram confugit in huius domum, he fledde for succour into this mans house, euen as it had ben to an altar.
 Sicynus, one of the isles called Sporades.
 Sicyon, onis, of Sicyonia, æ, farm. gen. a citee in Achaia, not farre from Corinth, called now Clarentia, where is greaite aboundaunce of mettall.
 Sicyonis, of Sicyonia, an ile in the sea Aegeum.
 Sicyonii, the inhabitants of Sicyon.
 Sida, a towne of Pamphilia.
 Sidens, entis, synkyng, fallynge downe.
 Siderites, is, mal. gen. an herbe, whiche groweth on yles and olde walles, walle sage or stone sage. also a kynde of diamandes. also a stone lyke pyron, whiche hath the nature to cause riance betwene men.
 Sidicinum, ni, n. g. a towne of Italie.
 Sidicinus, a, um, of Sidicinum.
 Sido, sedi, sidere, to settle, to synke to the bot-tome, to lyght downe as byrdes dooe on trees
 after they flyght.
 Sidere ad ima vasis, To synke downe to the bot-

bottom of the vessel.
 Sidon, a citee in Phoenicia, vpon the sea syde, so called for the plentie of fische there beyng taken,
 there was glasse fyrst made.
 Sidones, people of Thace by Hebrus. also people of Scythia.
 Sidonij, people of Sidon.
 Sidonis, is, f. g. a woman of Sidon.
 Sidonius, a, um, of the citee Sidon.
 Sidrona, a citee of Dalmatia, where saint Hies-come was bozne, called commonly Sdrigna.
 Sidus, eris, lwek Sydus.
 Sibilare, blor of olde wyters for Sibilare.
 Sibilator, oris, for Sibilator.
 Siga, a citee of Mauritania Casariensis.
 Sigæum, a great mountaine in the sea by Troy.
 Sigæus, and Sigæus, a, um, of Sigæum.
 Sigillaria, orum, plur. certain stetes in Rome, also certain daies added to the feast called Saturnalia, on the whiche men dyd sende littell images for gettes one to an other.
 Sigillaria opera, woorkes, wherein were sette small images.
 Sigillaris, re, belongynge to scales of lytell
 images.
 Sigillatim, one after an other, lwek Singillatim.
 Sigillatus, a, um, scaled, that hath littell images set on it.
 Sigillo, aui, are, to scale, sometime to close or shut,
 to set a littell image vpon a thyng.
 Sigillum, li, n. g. a littell image, also a scale.
 Sigillum Solomonis, an herbe, reade Corri-giola.
 Sigma, aris, n. g. a littell table, wherat six men
 maie sitte.
 Signaculum, li, n. g. a scale.
 Signatorius, a, um, that scaleth, or that is used to scale with.
 Signatorius annulus, a signet, a ryng with a scale.
 Signator, oris, he that scaleth testamentes.
 Signatus, a, um, scaled, marked, also notable.
 Signata virgo, a pure maiden of notable charitee.
 Signia, a citee in Campania, after come an hill, at the fote wherof standeth Apamia.
 Signifer, feri, he that beareth a standard or banner in a fyelde. it is sometime taken for the circle in the firmament, called also Zodiacus, wherein bee the xii. signes.
 Significans, antis, that significeth, that declareth a thyng playnly.
 Verba significantia, woordes declarynge well
 the thynges that they be spoken of.
 Significanter, plainly, that it maie be well vnderstande.
 Significatio, onis, f. g. a signification, a declaryng, a notifyng.
 Significatio virtutis, a token and signification of vertue.
 Ne qua ei' aduetus significatio fiat, that there myght be no token of sygne of his comynge.

 Significatio, is sometime taken for a message or tydynge.
 Significans, us, m. g. a signifyng, a declarynge,
 a betokenynge.
 Significo, aui, are, to signifie or geue knowlage,
 to doe to witte, to notifye, to shewe.
 Significare per literas, To geue knowlage by letters.
 Ut significantiures venerint, that they might geue some token or warnynge if theaues dyd come.
 Signini, people of Italie.
 Signinus, a, um, an adiectiue.
 Signinum vinum, wyne made by the people Signini.
 Signinum opus, a woork made with shelles and moxer, or tiles and moxer.
 Signo, aui, are, to make a signe, to signe or scale, to signify of them by a signe or token, to write.
 Argentum signare, to make or coyne money.
 Locum signat, he sheweth the place, or poynt eth to the place.
 Signare numeris, to write or declare in verses.
 Ex auro denarium signare, to coyne a piece of golde.
 Ut proxime vniu'sq; differentiam signem, that I maie note, declare or signifie the difference of them both, as nere as can be possible.
 Signum, i, n. g. a signe, a token, a marke, a miracle signifyng a thyng to come. also an image or figure of a beaste or other thyng, also a standard or streamer, a signe of herces in the fir-mament. sometime a scale, a signet, a signe ma-nuell, a signe that hangeth at mens doores.
 Signum dare milibus, to cause the trumpet-tes to blowe, that the souldiours maie prepare them to battaile, or to assemble theym selves
 together.
 Signa ad salutem, tokens of health.
 Clarum signum, a manifeste token or argumente.
 Coniecturam facere ex signis, to coniecte by signes and tokens.
 Id erit signi me inuitum facere, that shall be a signe or token, that I do it against my will.
 Adulterina signa, countrefaite scales.
 Imprimere signa pecori, To marke the cattle.
 Signis aspera pocula, id est, sigillata, cuppes
 hauyng littell images grauen about them.
 Exculpere signum, to graue an image.
 Signis collatis, tosynge in battaile.
 Prospera signa, lucky tokens and signes of thynges to come.
 Multa signa dederat, quamobrem responsurus non videretur, he hadde shewed many signes or tokens. &c.
 Sil, filis, neu. ge. certaine ethy pelowe of colour,
 founde in the mines of golde and siluer.
 Sila, au helmette.

Silaceus color, a yelowe colour.
 Silanius, an hygge hyll in Irelande.
 Silago, an herbe, whiche Brunellius supposeth to be common crowsote.
 Silarus, or Silaris, a riuer of Lucania, which touneth boowes, twygges and leaues into stones, and yet is the water holefome to be drunke.
 Silatrum, vfed of olde wyters for ientaculum.
 Silaus, an herbe called commonly Crefcio.
 Sile, lis, neu. g. an herbe, called also Secelis, the seede wherof was wont to be steeped in wyne that men dranke in the mornynge, and therfore Silatrum was vfed for a breakefastte.
 Silens, entis, om. ge. hyll, hepyng silence, without nyste or trouble.
 Silencia loca, quiete places, wherin is no nyste.
 Caelum silens, a faire or calme weather.
 Dies silens a ventis, a calme daye without wynde.
 Spiritus silentis dies, idem.
 Flos silens, a floure that is not full spredde.
 Luna silens, the wane of the moone, or the tyme betwene the olde moone and the new whan the myneth not.
 Surculi silentes, shotes that doe not yet burge.
 Venu silentes, still and calme wyndes.
 Vineae silentes, vines that do not yet burge.
 Silentiarius, n. m. g. an emprouer seruauit in his palaice.
 Silentium, n. n. ge. silence, quietnesse.
 Silentio aliquid facere, to take a thyng pactly enty, without speakeinge any woorde, or making any nyste.
 Silentium noctis, mydnight whan all thynges be at quiete.
 Agere silentiū de aliquo, not to speake of one.
 De omnibus atais suae oratoribus silentium egit, he spake no whit of any of the oratours that were in his tyme.
 Dissimulare silentio, to leat a thyng passe as though he knewe it not.
 Rumpere silentium, to speake after long silence.
 Silentium facere, to cause men to kepe silence.
 In silentium descendere, to holde his peace and saie nothyng.
 Silentium est causarum & iuris, whan there is no pleadyng of causes, nor ministryng of iustice in the common place.
 Tenuere silentia cuncti, they all kepte silence or helde theyr peace and saied nothyng.
 Transmittere aliquem silentio, to leat a man passe and speake not of hym. Likewyse, Transire quippiam silentio.
 Silentio, aduerbially, styly, patiently, without nyste.
 Silenus, the foster father of Bacchus.
 Sileo, lui, lere, to kepe silence, to speake nothyng.
 Siletur, the impersonall.
 De iurgio siletur, they speake nothyng of the variuance betwene them.
 Sileatur ille, leat hym not be spoken of.

Silent musæ Varronis, Harro wytteth no more.
 Silent inter arma leges, in the tyme of warre lawes be not exercised, or be of none authority or force.
 Sileo verbum facere, I holde my peace.
 Siler, leris, n. gen. a hynde of wyllowe or withy growyng in water, commonly called Shier.
 Siler, or Silerus, a riuer in the royaume of Naples, some write it Silarus.
 Sileco, scere, to be in silence or quiete.
 Silex, icis, m. g. a flinte stone.
 Silex, is vfed of Virgile in the. f. g. Stabat acuta silex. &c.
 Silia, a riuer in Asia, in the which (after some authors) nothyng doeth swimme, but sinketh to the bottome.
 Silicatus, a, um, made with flinte stones.
 Silicernium, ni, n. g. a certayne puddyng, eaten onely at the tyme of funerals, some doe take it for a feast or diner made at the funerals of a man or woman, a dirge feast.
 Silicerniū, is vfed of Terence, for an old creple that is ready to haue such a diner made for hym.
 Siliceus, a, um, of a flinte stone.
 Silicia, siue Silicula, an herbe called fengreche.
 Silicius, ci, m. g. seemeth in Plinie to be a part of a carued or ioynd bed.
 Siligineus, a, um, made of the wheate called Siligo.
 Siligineus panis, manchet or fine breadde.
 Siligo, ginis, f. g. a hynde of wheate haugng an vpreight stalbe, and the coze verie whyte, and therof is made the finest breadde and most principall, as Galenus wytteth. it was also called Olyra, of some Typha.
 Siliginarius, n, one that sellet or distributeth the fine wheate called Siligo.
 Siliqua, a, f. g. the huske or codde of any thyng, also a certain tree called of the Grekes Ceratonia, also the fruite of the same tree, which is in length of a mans synger, and brode, and comes what hooked, the weyght of fyre of them made the people called Scrupulus, wherof they dooe make a dramme, it is now called a carate, and is vfed amonge finers of golde and siluer, and also copeners in the fynyng and alayng therof.
 Siliqua, is also a tree, whiche the Jones dooe call Cerauma, diuers from the other before mentioned.
 Siliqua, is sometyme taken for Fornugracum,
 Siliqua Aegyptia, is casia fistula.
 Siliquastrum, i, n. ge. an herbe called rosmarie, or alle quooke.
 Siliquor, aris, ari, to growe in huske or codde.
 Silis, a riuer by Venice.
 Silla, idem quod Silia.
 Silli, tauntes, froffes.
 Sillura, an ile in the Britaine sea.
 Silo, lonis, he that hath great browes, or after some, he that hath a nose crookynge upwarde.
 Silon, an ile of Andie, where the trees neuer lose theyr their leaues.

 Siloson, the brother of Polycrates, the tyrante of Samia.
 Silosontis chlamis, is spoken in a proverbe, of hym that boasteth hym selfe of rich garments.
 Silphū, proprie of Libya.
 Silphium, n, an herbe, wherof cometh the gum called Beniton. Some learned men thinke Silphium to be a hynde of Laserpium.
 Silarius, i, a fische called a Sturgio, or rather a fish muche lyke to a Sturgio, which is chiefly founde in the ryuer of Nilus.
 Sius, li, m. g. a ramolied nose, or a nose that is tourned upwarde.
 Simbella, a, f. g. halfe a pounce, also a paire of golde balauice.
 Simethis, a nymphe.
 Simethius, a, um, of Simethis.
 Simia, a, f. ge. & Simius, n, m. g. an ape, and by translation, he that imiteth, counterfeiteth or endeuoreth to be lyke an other in any thyng.
 Simichida, the name of a sheepeherde in Theros ritus.
 Simila, a, f. g. fine meale of cozne, or floure.
 Similagineus, a, um, made of fine floure.
 Similagineus panis, manchet breadde.
 Similago, ginis, f. g. idem.
 Similax, idem quod Smilax.
 Similis, le, lyke. dyuers grammarians haue noted, that when similis governeeth a gentiue, it becometh lyke of inners or conditions: as, Domini similis es, suche master suche man. Tui similis est probe, he is verap lyke vnto the in conditions. whan it governeeth a dative case, than it doeth betoken lyke in fauour: as, Fratris similior quam patri, moze lyke in fauour to his brother, than to his father. But this obseruation is not alwaies true: for Plautus saith, Nec aqua aquae, nec lac lacu vnquam similis, quam hic tui est, tuque huius, sprache of the lykenesse in fauour. and Lucero. Non video cur non potuerit patri similis esse filius, speaking of the lykenesse of the witte, nature and manners. Similis veri, and vero est, it is moze veritable or lyke to the trueth.
 Similes inter se, one lyke an other.
 Similes sunt, vch qui dicant gubernatorem, &c. they be lyke to them that late. &c.
 Nil in his simile, as lyke as an apple is to a nutte, or as womeale to grene chese.
 Similes habent labra lactucas, a proverbe applyed to them that begyn of lyke pill roundis one, be matched together, as a lewde seruauit with an ill master, an vnruy people, to a neglygente gouernour, a shrewed wyfe, to a froward husbande. &c. lyke master lyke man, lyke wyll to lyke.
 Simile gaudet simili, lyke wyll to lyke.
 Simile, an aduerbe, lykewise.
 Similius, aus, f. g. lykenesse.

Similiter, lykewise: also after the same fecton.
 Similiter facis, ac si me roges cur &c. you doe even as though you should demaunde of me whye. &c.
 Similiter atq; ipse eris, even as I was my selfe.
 Similitudo, inis, f. g. lykenesse.
 Simillimus, a, um, most lyke.
 Similo, auis, are, to be lyke.
 Simiolus, li, m. g. a little ape: also he that counseth a man somewhat.
 Simitu, pro simul, together.
 Simius, looke Simia.
 Simmias, a phisosopher, of Thebes.
 Simoecius, a Troiane.
 Simois, moentis, a ryuer by Troy.
 Simon, the name of diuers learned men, and also of a notable heretike, surnamed Magus, who was wooshipped in Rome for a god.
 Simonia, a, f. g. symonie.
 Simonides, a poete of Grece, bothe in the ile called Cece, who was the fyrste that inuented the verses called Lyrici, and was excellent in prouoking of teares, and in that hynde of wytyng, there was in hym a wonderfull grace. It is written, that Pausanias kynge of Lacides montans, at a banquet, despyed instantly of hym, that he woulde than speake some thyng notable, and that saucour of wisdome, Simondes therat symplynge, remembre saied he, that thou arte a mā Pausanias toke & scornful ly, and esteemed it nothyng. afterwards Pausanias beyng putte in prison in Chalcedon, and there beyng famished he dyed, remembre the sayng of Simonides, & with a lowde and lamentable voice, saied: O my frende of Laus, thy wordes were of great importance, but I for madde pryde esteemed them not thyng.
 Simples armaturæ, hostyng harnesses, so called because they that weare it, haue but single alowauance.
 Simplicia, or rather Simplicaria, simple thynges or of little value.
 Simplicarius, a, um, belongynge to a thyng that is but once, or that hath a thyng but once.
 Simplicia venditio, whan the seller byndeth hym selfe to rendre onely the pryce, and not the double or triple.
 Simplex, icis, is not double, sincere or plaine, without deceptes, of one sort, vnmyxt.
 Anni simplices, qui simplici numero efferuntur, all the yeeres vntill xi.
 Cibus simplex, pure meate without sauce or other delicate dyschynge.
 Homo simplex, an honest plaine man, without fraude or guyle.
 Simplicius, aus, f. g. plainnesse, simplicitie.
 Simpliciter, plainly, simple.
 Simplicius, for Simpliciter.
 Simplus, a, um, single in nombre, one onely.
 Simpliciter, women dedicate to diuine thynges.
 Lii q Simpu

Sirènes, were three daughters of Achelous and Caliope, whiche dwelled in an ile betwene Italic and Sicile, who with thei sweete synnginge drowe suche unto them, as passed that sea, and than slewe theym. As it happened to Ulysses to sayle that waie, he stopp'd the eares of all his company, to the entent they shoulde not heare the songes of Sirènes, and caused hym selfe to be bounde to the masse of the ship, and so escaped. Sirènes sorowed so much, that they were disapoynted, that they threwe them selves into the sea, whom poetes feygned to be mermaidens.

Siri, pittes, wherein cozne was layed to be pzeferu'd.

Sirialis, a sickness of trees, whereabout the tyme of the canicular daies, by the excedynge heate of the soonne, the trees be bzent and doe sterue. It is also a sickness in the heades of childrene, pzoecdyng of the inflammation of the bzayne.

Siringa, gr. f. g. a pipe, recorder or flute: somes tyme a reede of the fennes: somtyme a reede or other thyng, through the whiche any thing is blowen or caste, pzoopely a trunk of a squite.

Siris, the name of the ryuer Nilus amonge the Aethiopians.

Sirius, a sterre in the middell of the firmament, unto the whiche whan the soonne cometh, the feruentesse of heate is doubled, whereby the bodies of men become sicke with heate. This sterre is also called Canicula: and the daies, wherein it appeereth, be called Caniculares, whiche doe begynne the vii. daie of Iulie.

Sirion, a citee of Dannonia inferior.

Sirpea, x. f. g. a matre of other thyng made of rushes.

Sirpeus, a, um, made of rushes.

Sirpices, were instrumentes made with teeth like to a sawe, whiche beynge drawen with oxen, plucked vp by the rootes flagges, & great weeds, whiche grew in meadowes.

Sirpical, falces, hookes, wherewith vines are cutte.

Sirpiculum, a littell baskette.

Sirpo, aut, are, to bynde or wynde with rushes or otiars, or other lyke thyng.

Sirpus, pi, m. ge. a rushe, like Scirpus.

Sirpi, be also wozkes of verses, which be verie harde to understande.

Sirus, a caue vnder the ground, in the which men kept wheate.

Sis, olde writers used for Si vis.

Sisacthea, x, a rangyng sieue.

Sisacthea, a lawe of the Athenientes, made by Solon, for the mitigation of debtes of money owed.

Sisama, x, f. m. gen. a maner of pulse or cozne. It is also that, whiche the apothecaries doe call Sefama.

Sisamus, a citee of Daphlagonia.

Sisapo, a towne of Spaine.

Sisara, rā, f. c. ge. after Marro is a tree, wherof the bees doe gather liqvide honny. Plinius calleth it Sifarum, it is supposed to bee that, whiche Dioscorides calleth Ericem, not muche vnzlyke to Tamarix: the Athenientes (as Plinie writeth) call it Tergalicem.

Sisaron, or Sifarum, rī, idem quod Sifer.

Sisenna, a mans name in Horace, whiche was a great detracter.

Sifer, a delicate roste to be eaten, which some men doe suppose to be yelow sarrettes.

Siscia, a citee of Dannonia, called now Lublana.

Sisigambis, kyng Darius wyfe.

Sisto, sistis, stere, to make to tarte or stande still, to reteine or kepe backe, to stoppe, to appeere, as a man doorth beynge sued in the lawe, also to staie, to confirme, to make moze strong.

Sistas tu, appeere thou.

Ore sistere. Eminor, interminorq; ne quis mihi obstitit obuiam: nam qui obstitit, ore sister, I thyetten, and I menare, that no man leat me of my waie: for who so euer letteth me, shall hyffe the ground. Likewise Sister capite quemcuq; offendero.

Sistere vadimonium, to bynne in suretie.

Sistere gradum, to stoppe, to stande still, to goe no further.

Siste lachrymas, cease your wepyng, weep no moze.

Sistere sanguinem, to stent bleedynge.

Aluum sistere, to stoppe or bynde the bray.

Hic rem Romanam magno turbante tumultu

sister eques, id est, corroborabit, confirmabit.

Sistere fugam, to cause men to stoppe, that be fleeing or rennyng awaie.

Templum eisdem vestigiis sistere ut, id est, conderetur.

Vas factus est alter sistendi eius, the other be same suretie for his apparance.

Ego illam huc tibi sistam in via, I wyll byng hie hyther in to the strete before you.

Ecce me sisto, Lo I appeere here personally.

Rempublicam sistere negat posse, id est, conderetur.

Ruinas sistere, To do reparacions, and make that the house fall in no further ruine and decaye.

Sistrum, stri, neut. gener. an instrument lyke a hozne, which was used in battaile in the stede of a trumpet. also a bzasen tymbyrell used in olde tyme.

Sisymbrium, an herbe, wherof bee two kyndes, the one is called Sisymbrium alone, whiche is also called Thymbrea, in englishe water mynter: the other is called Sisymbrium Cardamine, whiche in englishe is watercresses.

Sisyphus, a, um, of or belonging to Sisyphus.

Sisyphus, a great thefe, which was slayne by Theseus, of whom it is feign'd, that in hel he turemeth a stone vp to a great hill topp: but whan it is it is at the topp, it falleth downe agayne, and reneweth his labour.

Sitanius, a, um, made of newe cozne.

Sitanius panis, breadde of newe wheate.

Sitarchia, a bagge of gardiniandes, wherin meate is putte.

Sitella, x, f. c. ge. a diminutue of Situla, a littell potte, wherinto lottes were put.

Sithonis, nidis, f. g. the that is of Sithonia.

Sithonia, a countrey in Macedonia vpon the sea syde.

Sithonius, a, um, of Sithonia.

Sitibundus, a, um, verie thyrstie.

Situen, circinis, he that did blowe in a trumpet whan men were buried: or he that singeth at mens burialles.

Situculus, a, um, that is alwaie a thyrstie, very thyrstie, drye, lackyng moysture.

Situculosa loca, drye places.

Situen, entis, om. ge. that is a thyrstie, thyrstie, drye, that coueteth of desyreth any thyng.

Sitienter, thyrstily, greedily.

Sitientia, drye places.

Sitis, is, f. c. g. thyrstie or desyre to dypnke, and by translation a great appetit of greedye desyre of any thyng.

Concipere sitim labore, to become thyrstie with labour.

Compescere, depellere, restinguere, explete sitim, to quench ones thyrst.

Sitim sedare, leuare, to asswage ones thyrst.

Consumi siti, to be almost dead for thyrst.

Excessit sitim potio, he drank moze than he needed.

Sistere, and Alere sitim, contrary.

Facere alicui sitim audiendi, to make desyrus or greedye to here.

Sitocomia, an officer or magistrate, which hadde the pzoouision of graphe or vitayle.

Sitta, x, a little birde called a nuttobber, whiche clymeth often on trees, and eateth nuttes, brezkyng them with his bill.

Situla, lā, f. g. a littell coffet, wherin lottes were putte at the choosyng of officers. also a bucket to drawe water.

Situs, a, um, of Sino, suffred, permitted.

Accusare non est situs, he was not suffred to accuse hym.

Situs, a, um, put of set, situate, placed.

Res omnis in incerto sita est, the whole mattis er is in doubte.

In res omnis sita est, all our hope lieth of resteth in you.

Si in te solum sit situm, if it rested onely in you, if it were onely in your handes or power to do it.

Huiusce rei potestas omnis in uobis sita est, all the doryng of this mattis is in your handes, or you haue full power and auctorite to do in this mattis as ye wyll.

Ara sita Druso, id est, constituta, aut posita, was made of sette by.

Hic siti sunt Acarnanes. &c. here lie buried the men of Acarnania. &c.

Situs, us, m. ge. epithynesse gathered of moysture by lacke of clenspyng. also of sturynesse, hozennesse, duste. also the settyng or standynge of a place, which is now called the syte or situation of a manour or countrey.

Ducere situm, to wake hope and epithy, to be foule with dust.

Sine, either, or if, whether.

Sine me amas, sine odisti, non magni aestimo, whether thou hate me or loue me, I do not greatly passe.

Postulo, sine aquum est, te oro Daue, I requie, or if it be mete, I praye the Daues.

S Maragdinus, a, um, of an emeraude. Smaragdus, di, m. g. a pzoerious stone called an emeraude.

Smegma, mais, n. g. sope, and all other thyngs that doorth parte awaie spots of brulennesse.

Smegticus, a, um, that hath the strengthe of efficacy to purge or clense.

Smerdis, the brother of Cambyses kyng of Persia.

Smilax, smilacis, a tree, called of the latines Taxus. also an herbe, which hath leaues lyke an iup with bearies, and a white flour, and smelleth lyke a lilly, and renneth vp vpon trees. Duidis us feigneth it to be a wenche, which dypnge for the loue of a younge man, called Crucius, was transfourmed into the saide herbe.

Smilium, li, n. g. a shoemakers paring knyfe. also to a knife or instrument that surgians vse to cut woundes with.

Smytheus, one of the names of Apollo.

Smyrna, a citee of Ionia in the lesse Asia, whiche was supposed of some to be the countrey of Homerus.

Smyrneus, a, um, of Smyrna.

Smyrnium, an herbe, whiche Critius Corobus supposed to be the commune Angelica. Marnardus epist. li. 12. epist. 4. interpreteth it to be Olus arum, in englishe Milander. Quelius affirmeth it to be that herbe, whiche in Fraunce is called Leneche, I suppose in englishe Louage: which saith moste truly I referre to the reader.

S Oana, a ryuer in the ile Caprobana.

Soanes, people of Asia, dwelling about the extreme parte of the mountayne called Caucasus.

Soboles, lis, f. ge. issue or succession of childzen, offsprynge.

Sobolesco, scere, to increase people.

Sobrie, sobriety, abousidly, prudely, temperately.

to disquiete or make sozie, to vex, to trouble, to make heauy, solicitouse or carefull, to make penitue, to solite, to procure, to prouoke and tie instantly vpon one, and entyce him to dooe a thyng.

Cur me sollicito huius amentia? why doe I trouble and vex my selfe with this mannes madnesse.

Quid te sollicitat autem? what thyng troubleth your mynde?

Nulla spe, nullo timore sollicitor, I am not moued either with any hope or with any feare. Siccine me arq; illam operata tua miseros sollicitarier? is it well done, that bothe I and she vnhappie bodie, be thus brought in hope and feare by thy meanes? or thus vexed, troubled and disquieted by thy meanes?

Amicos ad perniciem alicuius pecunia sollicitare, to egge or entise ones frendes with money and rewardes to slea hym.

Ferro sollicitare humum, to labour or tye the grounde.

Remis sollicitauit aquas, he rowed with ores on the water.

Arca sollicitare feras, to hunt wyld beastes with the bowe.

Quod me sollicitauit ad emendū, which thyng moued me to by it.

Sollicitare pacem, to labour or sue for peace.

Forem sollicitare, to open the doze.

Sollicitare ad se aues, to allure byrdes vnto hym.

Sollicitudo, dinis, care, heauinesse, penituenesse, trouble and vexation of mynde.

Abstrahere se a sollicitudine, to withdraue his mynde from care and heauinesse.

Afferre sollicitudinem, to make solicitouse and carefull.

Exedi sollicitudine, to bee consumed with care and penituenesse.

Sibi struere sollicitudinem, to wooke or purchase carefullnes & trouble of mind to him selfe.

Conficere alicui sollicitudines, to bynge one in care and heauinesse.

Ex te duplex nos afficit sollicitudo, we bee in double care and heauinesse of mynde, by your meane or for your sake.

Esse sollicitudini alicui, to cause one to be full of trouble and care.

Esse sollicitudini dicitur res aliqua, whē it vexeth and disquieteth the mynde.

Esse magna sollicitudine, to be veray solicitous and carefull.

Sollicitus, a, um, careful, solicitouse, penitue, and disquieted in mynde, busy, much occupied, that hath as much to doe as he can turne him to. Omnes sollicitos habui, I had all my matyn as busy as they coude be to serue them.

Vt meam, non modo reipublice vicem videretur sollicitus, that he seemed to be carefull not onely for the comon weale sake or misfortune, but for myne also.

Sollicitū habere, to vex, to disquiete, to make solicitouse and carefull.

Sollicitum tenere hostem ad lucem, to kepe the enemies solicitouse and carefull vntill it were daie.

Res sollicita, a thyng full of care and disquietnesse of mynde.

Solidago maior, wall woste.

Solidarij, they that doe sell in grosse.

Solidē, whole, perfectly.

Solidescō, scere, to close together as a wounde doeth when it healeth, to waxe sounde and whole.

Solipes, that hath fecte hole without toes.

Soliditas, asis, f. g. massuenesse, foundenesse.

Solido, aui, are, to make fynde, to consolidate, to make sounde & massue, to make whole and stronge.

Soliduri, or rather Solduri, were men of warre in Fraunce in the tyme of Julius Cæsar, which beyng once retayned with any people or captyayne, were so addicted vnto them, that in their quarrells they would die: or if victorie inclined on the other parte, they would slea theym selfe ues.

Solidus, a, um, whole, sounde, continuall, not holowe, not broken or cutte, massy.

In solidum, wholly.

Solida terras spectauit imagine luna, with her full bodie.

Corpus solidū & succi plenū, a bodie sounde, lustie, and nothyng decayed, but full of good bloude and holisome humours.

Decem annos solidos, ten whole yerres.

Solida felicitas non est, that felicitie is not whole and perfecte.

Solida columna, massy & made all of one matstier.

Non satis visum hoc solidum est gaudium? byd nor this ioye seeme to the to be full and persferte enough.

Inibis a me solidam & grandem gratiam, thou shalt get earnest and great thanks of me.

Solidum suum cuiq; reddere, to paie to every one that he oweth full and wholly.

Solidus, was amonge the Romaynes diuerse ly taken, somtyme for a coyne of byasse conteynyng .xii. small coynes. Sometime it was taken for Dragma in Cilicet, as primi Esdræ. 8. & secundi eiusdem capite. 7. in Paralipomenō, capite. 29. Some were of the value of Dragma, as in the tyme of Alexander the emperour.

Solidus aureus, was in the tyme of his same emperour two draymes of golde. After in the tyme of Justinianus. vi. of them made one ounce, they beyng the twight of our olde nobles.

Soliferreum, rei, a weapon made all of yron.

Solifuga, a, f. g. a hynde of venemouse pismyres, which hepeh hym selfe out of the sunne or flecth from the heate of the sunne,

Soli-

Solipunga, a, f. g. a flie, whiche in the heate of the sunne pricketh most sharply.

Soliloquium, cōmunicacion, which a man being alone, hath with god in contemplacion.

Soliloquus, he that talketh beyng alone.

Solunt, for Solent, they are wont.

Solstitium, i, n. g. a hynde of dauncyng among the diuinours called Augures, or a diuinacion taken by the fallenge of byade on the ground, whiche was geuen to chichens.

Solitanus, a, um, an adiectiue.

Solis insula, an ile in the Indian sea.

Solis ostia, places in Indie, where Alexander was in great daungier by reason of great heate.

Solis mensa, a place in Æthiophe, where the tables be alwayes full of good meate and readie for them that will come and cate it.

Solitarus, a, um, solitarie, alone without company.

Cochlea solitaria, whiche be founde in Æfriche.

Solitautilia, orum, n. g. plu. an offering of three thynges of sundrye kyndes, as a bull, a ramme, and a boye.

Solito, the ablatiue case vsed aduerbially.

Solito magis, more then he was wont.

Solito, aui, are, to be wont often.

Solitudo, inis, f. m. gen. desert, where no man dwelleth.

Solitudo puerorum, when they haue neyther father nor mother.

Solitudo hominis, when one hath no man to defende and helpe hym.

Solitudo ante ostium, there was no man before the doze.

Solitus, a, um, of Soleo, wont, accustomed.

Solitus sum, I was wont.

Solitus, a, um, of Solus, alone.

Solituagus, a, um, that wandreth alone.

Solium, li, neu. gene. a place of estate, where a hynde sitteth. it is also a great vessell that seruerth to diuers vses, as to translate lycour from one to an other, to walche linnen clothes, and for men and women to be bathed in, whiche was sometyme among the Romans made of spluer. it signifyeth also a cospyne, wherein deade bodie be put.

Solo, aui, are, to make desolate and without company.

Solo, in the oske tongue, signifyeth all.

Solæ, a cite of Cilicia, the people wherof be called Solenses.

Solacismus, i, m. ge. a vice in speakyng, wherein the true congruence and right speache is peruerted, incongruite.

Solacophanes, a figure: as, Præneste sub ipsa.

Solfuga, gæ, a hynde of pismires, called also Solifuga.

Solon, a noble man of Athens, whiche by his another finally descended from Xodrus the last hynde of Athens: he was a man of excellent witte, and called one of the seven wise men of Grece, and was in such authozite in that cite, that he made and gaue to them lawes, whiche were neuer repelled: not withstandyng whan Æristrat? (his kinsman) went about to chaunge the fourme of that comon weale, whiche was popular, into a monarchie, he willingly went in exile, and so died: A cade of him in Cræsus. whan he was writing of his lawes, Anacharsis the philosopher said, that Solons lawes shulde be lyke to copwebbes, that littell flies shuld be fast tied with the, but great flies shulde make holes and breake through them.

Solor, aris, ai, to recreate, to comforte, to solace, to make pastime.

Solox, locis, m. g. course woull or lockes. also the beaste that beareth course woull.

Solsequium, an herbe, whiche hath ben long taken for marigoldes. but Ruellius nowe doeth denie it, not withstandyng I am not so scrupulous, but that I am content with the olde opinion, the description of Heliotropium not much abhorryng it, as me seemeth.

Solstitialis herba, an herbe, whiche doeth beare flowers onely at the tyme, when the sonne is at the hyzhest: or as some men suppose, but one daye.

Solstitialis, le, belongyng to the tyme, when the sonne is at the ferthest.

Solstitialis vita, a life, whiche dureth but a littell space.

Solstitialis morbus, a sickenesse, whiche helseth men shortly.

Solstitialis agritudo, is of some men taken for the burnyng feuer, which happeneth about the canicular daies, of excedyng heate of the aie.

Solstitium, ti, u. ge. the state of the sonne, when he can not be either higher or lower, whiche is twice in the yere, in wynter the eight Calendes of January, and is called Solstitium hyemale, in sommer the eight Calendes of July, and is called Solstitium æstiuale.

Solum, li, n. ge. the soyle or grounde. sometyme lande. generally it signifyeth all thyng, whiche doeth susteine or beare any other thyng on it, and is spoken sometyme of the sea. it is also the sole of the foote. also the sole of a shoe.

Natale solum, a mans naturall countrey.

Solum vertere, to make bankrupte, to forsaake his owne countrey.

Solum fossa, the bottum of a ditche.

Stellarum solum, the firmament.

Solum aquæ, the vpper parte of the sea, wheron shippes doe saile.

Bonitas soli, good nature of the grounde or soyle.

Aquare solo magistratum, to pull downe the authozite of any magistrate or officer.

Solum, an aduerbe, alone.

Solummodo, idem.

Soluo, solui, uere, to lewse, to paie, to recompense,

penne, to putte awaile, to deliuer, to resoluē of mette, to open.

Soluere fidem, to breake promise.

Soluere venas, to open the veynes.

Soluere votum, to persourne an auowe.

Aluum or vitem soluere, to make one laske, to lesse the bealy.

Soluere viam, to sea one.

Soluere ebrietatem, to make one sobze, to put awaie drunkenesse.

Soluere legibus, to dispence with one, to geue hym a placarde.

Obsidione and obsidionem soluere, to reise a siege.

Soluere morem, to breake a custome.

Morbo solutus, dead.

Soluere, to make satisfaction.

Solue lachrymas, wepe no more.

Soluite corda metu, put all fence out of your hertes.

Ego vos solui curis ceteris, I haue deliuered you from all other cares.

Soluere nauem, to weigh by the anchoys and set forwarde, to take the sea.

Soluere foras, to breake the league.

Soluit Alexandria, he departed fro Alexandria.

E porta soluere, to departe out of the haue and take the sea.

Nives soluantur, the snowe is resolued and melted.

Mimus qui pro vectura solueret, we sent one to paie for the cariage.

Verbis soluere, to make amends in woordes.

Neg. in verbis vnquam solues, quod mihi re malefeceris, thou shalt neuer make me amends in woordes & purge thy selfe of that, which thou hast done me displeasure in in dede.

Soluere iusta funeri, to dooe all thynges that apperteyne to burials or intermentes.

Suprema alicui soluere, idem.

Solutar acris hyems, The bitter and colde wynter is relented.

Soluendo non erat, he was not able to paie his debtes, he had not wherewith to paie his debtes.

Ad denarium soluere, to paie euery grote : or after some, to paie for the lone of euery grote.

Solus, alone, one onely, solitarie.

Solus omnium, ex omnibus, or inter omnes, onely amonge all other.

Solis erratis in agris, id est, desertis.

Locus solus, a deserte place.

Mihi sole ridiculo fuit, he was a laughynge stocke to me onely.

Solis tribus ictibus, at thre strokes onely.

Solute, wantonly, incontinently, lewscly.

Solutilis, le, that will bee some leused or vndone, or that is leused and not sure fastned.

Solutio, onis, a lewspng, a pateryng.

Solutus, a, um, lewscd, or loute. also paied.

Solutus risus, a great laughter.

Belli cura solutus, fearng warre no more,

Iureiurando solutus, discharged of his othe.

Somno solutus, fast a slepe.

Vino solutus, drunke.

Cetero soluto discedunt, they breake companie and departed.

Optio eligendi soluta, free choyse.

Soluta oratio, contrarie to meter, prose.

Solyma, plur. the citie of Hierusalem, an other citie in Aethia.

Solymi, people by Aethia.

Somnians, antis, om. g. one that dreameth.

Somniator, oris, a dreame.

Somniculose, dreampngly, negligently.

Somniculosus, a, um, sleapy, drowly, sluggish: sometyne that maketh drowly or desirous of slepe.

Somnifer, ra, rum, that induceth or byngeth slepe.

Somnificus, a, um, idem.

Somniosus, a, um, that dreameth often, that is troubled with dreames.

Somnio, aut, are, to dreame.

Somniare aliquem, to dreame of one.

Vti somniis iucundissimis, to dreame very pleasant thynges.

Somnium, ni, n. ge. a dreame, by translation a vayne thynge not like to be true.

Somnolentus, a, um, disposed to slepe, drowly, sleapy.

Somnolentus, a, um, of olde wyters was bled for any thyng that was seene in a dreame.

Somnus, ni, m. g. slepe. Sometyne night.

Somnum hac nocte oculis non vidi meis, I slept not one wyntle all this night long.

Datur in somnum eunubus, it is geuen to the that go to slepe.

In somnis, in the night, in his slepe.

Benignus somni, qui bene dormit.

Frigidus somnus, death.

Abrumpit somnos cura, care waketh men out of theys slepe.

Si somnum possem capere, if I coude slepe.

Carpere somnos, to nappe.

Arctior quam solebat somnus complexus est, I slepte more soundly then I was wont.

Conciliare somnum, to make one slepe.

Somno se dare, to lie downe to slepe.

Ducere somnos, to byng a slepe. also to slepe.

Excitare e somno, to waken, to stee one out of his slepe.

Somnum facere, to make to slepe.

Animalia somnus habebat, brastes were a slepe.

Somnum perere, to go to bedde.

Somno priuare, To make that one can not slepe.

Repetere somnum, to fall a slepe agayne.

Sonabilis, le, that soundeth.

Sonans, antis, soundng.

Sonandus, a, um, to be spoken or pronounced.

Sonchos, an herbe, which Lordus taketh for Cicero.

Cicerbita, whiche is our Southstiff. But Hieronymus Tragus taketh it to bee the ragged lettuce, whiche cometh vp in the begynnyng of the yere.

Sonipes, pedis, m. g. a lyght or swift horse.

Sonito, to sounde often.

Sonitus, us, m. g. a sounde.

Soniuit, for Sonuit.

Soniuius, a, um, for Sonans, antis.

Sono, sonui, are, to sounde or make a noyse.

Cuius vox auribus sonat procul, whose voice dooe I here a farre of.

Vox hominem sonat, his voice sheweth him to be a man.

Idem sonant hac verba, id est, significant.

Quid sonet hac vox voluptatis, what this woorde voluptas dooeth signifie.

Sonor, oris, m. g. a great sounde or noyse.

Sonore, Mill or louder.

Sonoritas, ais, a thynesse or loudnesse.

Sonorus, a, u, lowde or making a great sounde, Mill.

Sons, tis, om. ge. gillie.

Sonatus, a, um, noysome, hurtfull. Sometyne iuste.

Sonicus morbus, in the Pandectes of the civil lawe, is taken of Celsus and Venuleius, for any continuall sicknesse, whereby one is lette to dooe his necessarie businesse, and therfore in the tyme of warre, they whiche were in that maner sicke, were discharged of their othes.

Sextus and other interpreters of the twelve tables, toke it for a vehement and verap great sicknesse, it may be taken for the falling sicknesse.

Sontica causa, was expounded in Aetio for a iust and lausfull cause.

Sonus, ui, m. g. a towne, a voice, a noyse.

Fundere sonum, to singe, to speake aloude.

Elicere sonum nervorum, to strike the stringes, and make them to sounde.

Sophaci, people of Aethia.

Sophena, people of Armenia.

Sophia, x, f. g. wisdom.

Sophilus, a Theban poete.

Sophisma, matis, n. g. a craftie and deceitfull sentence, an oration of inuencion, whiche seemeth to be true, when it is false.

Sophista, and Sophistes, x, m. ge. a dissembler of wisdom, a disceuer vnder an eloquent or crafty speakng, he that professeth philosophie for lucre or vainglorie.

Sophistice, ces, the parte of logike, which is capacious and subtil, sophistrie.

Sophocles, a writer of tragedies. also the name of diuers other lerned men.

Sophocleus, a, um, of Sophocles.

Sophos, or Sophus, a wyse man.

Sophron, phronis, m. g. a temperate persone.

Sophronia, a matrone of Rome in the tyme of Augustus the emperour.

Sophrone, nes, f. ge. temperance, whereby carnall appetites and lustes be restrained.

Sopio, pui, pue, to set at rest, to bynge a sleape.

Sopitas, a, um, brought a sleape or to rest, or in a towne with a sodaine stroke, astonished.

Ignis sopitus, fire couered with ashes or other thyng, that it shewe not.

Leto sopitus, lyng a slepe in his bedde.

Sopor, oris, m. g. dead sleape.

Collocare aliquem in soporem, to bynge a sleape.

Profligatus remulento sopore, lyng drunk and fast a sleape.

Perpetuus sopor vrget illum, he is faste a sleape.

Soporatus, a, um, faste a sleape, brought a sleape, that hath rested or taken quiete.

Soporifer, ra, rum, that byngeth sleape, that induceth or causeth sleape.

Soporo, aut, are, to byng or induce sleape.

Sora, a towne of the Molians in Campanie.

Sorani, people, called also Hirpini.

Soranus, a physician of Ephesus, whiche lured at Alexandria.

Soracte, tis, n. g. sorax, ractis, and Soractes, tis, f. g. an hyll twentie myles from Rome.

Sorbeo, but, sorbitum, or sorpsi, sorptum, bere, to suppe as one suppeth pottage.

Odia sorbere, to susteine displeasure patiently.

Quid cum non sorbere animo censens? what naughtynesse thinke you dooeth he not conceiue and imagine in his mynde?

Sorbilis, le, that may be supped.

Quam sorbile, a rare or soft egge.

Sorbillo, aut, are, to suppe, to suppe often.

Sorbillum, li, n. g. pottage or other liquide meates ordained to suppe, whiche women be wonte to call a littell supping, when they do exhorde a sicke man to eate.

Sorbilio, onis, supping. also a supping or broth.

Sorbites, ei, idem.

Sorbiculula, a thynne brothe.

Sorbus, bi, for. g. a tree, which is longe, and hath a straight steepe and a thynne bark, somewhat fatty, and firste yelow, and after whitish, a leafe lyke to a laurell, but that it is thinner and lesse, and crested by the edges, which hangeth by a longe stalk: also white floures in a cluster, and beareth fruite, whiche is in foume of an egge, and in a cluster: in frenche it is called Cornier, in Englyshe, as some iudge, the seruis tree.

Sorbum, bi, ne. ge. the fruite of Sorbus, whiche hath no stones, and they whiche growe in woodes haue a more sauour then those whiche be in gardens, in fraunce it is called Corme.

Sordeo, dui, dere, to bee foule or vncleane, to be filthy.

Sordere alicui dicitur res aliqua, when one iudgeth it vile and nothing woorth, when he dooeth nothing esteeme or regarde it.

Sordebat ille suis, his countret men, seruantes or subiectes did contemne hym or sette naught by hym.

Sordes, dis, f. g. filthe or vnclannesse, the sweaping of houses and canels. Sometyme vilenes, couctousnesse.

Sordem vrbis, Cicero called naughtyp persons, or the common people, and the rallall or vile sorte of men.

Inculcas eius sordes, laiyng to hys charge his dishonest couctousnesse.

Propter hominis sordes, for the couctousnesse and dishonest facion of the man.

Sordes, is sometyme bybes or gesses that officers receiue.

Sordesco, scere, to waxe filthy or fluttische moze and moze.

Sordiditas, a, um, fluttischely arraid, vilp apparrailed for h. auincelle of mynde, as a persone as raimed or arraid.

Sordide, vnclannely, fluttischely, couctousely, fr's thily, dishonestly, with takyng bybes in dishonest matiers.

Sordidulus, a, um, somewhat fluttische, or filthy, somewhat couctous, dishonest or vile.

Sordidissime, molte vnclannely, verap couctously and dishonestly.

Sordido, au, are, to make foule, to arraid filthi-ly and fluttischely.

Sordidus, a, um, filthy, vnclane, fluttische, vile, couctous, of no estimation.

Sordidus color, a naughtyp, vnpleasant, or ill fauoured colour.

Sordidus homo, a pinche penie, a greby gutte, that mindeh nothig but hurdyng by of money,
a vile persone that doeth all thyng for moncy.

Sordido loco natus, descended of a base linanage.

Sordida lingua, a naughtyp and lipnge tongue.

Nihil illo confuso sordidius. i. corruptius.

Sorduido, dinis, filthynesse, fluttischynesse.

Sorex, sôricis, m. g. a ratte or a filde mouse.

Sorech, the Jewes doe call vines, whiche cons-tinually doe bynge forth most pleasant and dis-lectable fruite.

Soriantes, swozne bretherne.

Soriceus, a, um, and Soricius, a, um, of or pers-teyng to a ratte.

Soriculatus, a, um, an adiectiue.

Soriculata vestis, a garment of changeable silke.

Sorilla, shippes, whiche are calked or stopped with hempe or flaxe.

Sorita, re, f. g. a subtile and capcious fourme of arguyng.

Sorita, people whiche are diuided from India by the ruer called Arabis.

Soriant, is propriety of maidens bycastes, when they beynne to be imbold.

Soror, ris, f. g. a sister.

Sororia, maidens pappes.

Sororiantes manunula, maidens pappes rounds and harde, set out to the shewe.

Sororicide, da, he that hath killed his sister.

Sororius, a, um, of or belonging to a sister.

Sororius, rij, m. g. my sisters husbunde.

Sorracus, ci, m. g. a coffar or bakket, wherein are caried the instrumetes or apparayle, scrupge for comedies or enterludes.

Sors, sortis, f. g. chance, lotte, fortune, portion in inheritance, patrimony, the whole summe in a common banke or kocke, wherein many haue parte. It is also the principall summe of money borrowed. It is also destenie, iudgement, farrall necessitee: Sometyme the free grace of god. also charge, office, state.

Sortes, be also oracles, or the rolles, wherein the answers of idols were written.

Quod non sua sortis id negotium erat, bes cause that matter of businesse pertained nothing to his charge, or was no parte of his office.

Sors tua mortalis, thy state or condition is mozarall, or thou arte a man mortall.

Saturni fors ego prima fui, I was the firste childe that Saturnus had. the woordes of Juno.

Hei mihi etiam de forte nunc venio in dubium, alas wretched fellow that I am, now I am in doubte, whether I shall haue that money, whiche I laied out for hir.

Fancinae sortes, oracles that tell mennes destinies.

Sortem trahere, to take the lotte out of the pote.

Hic exiuit illum forte tulit, by fate or destenie.

Sorti, an aduerbe, by lotte.

Sorticula, lx, f. g. the scrow, wherein the lotte is written.

Sortilegi, be they, whiche doe tell mennes destinies by takyng of lottes or verses of holy scripture.

Sortilegium, gij, n. g. a diuination by lottes.

Sortio, tiris, tiri, to make lottes, to take or haue any thyng by lotte or chaunce. also to dispose or order.

Sortiri prouinciam, to receiue the rule of a coun-tre by lottes. It is vsurped to haue autozites by election.

Sortiri aliquibus, to make lottes for men.

Consules sortiri vter dedicaret, the consule did caste lottes, whiche shulde dedicate the temple.

Dicas sortiri, looke Dica.

Sortitio, ônis, f. g. castyng of lottes, a chosyng by lottes.

Sortitio prouinciarum, a poptyng of the prouinces by lotte.

Sortitio iudicum, a chosyng of the iudges by lotte.

Sortitor, ôris, m. g. he that casteth lottes.

Sortitio, an aduerbe, signifyng by lot or chaunce.

Sortitius, us, m. g. a castyng of lottes.

Sortitius, a, um, taken by lotte. also chauncyng to haue a thyng.

Sorti-

Sortitij vices, and euery one of vs, haupnge his charge appoynted hym.

Sortiti remos, they had euery one their charge appoynted them by lotte in rowyng.

Sos, olde writers vied for eos.

Solia, a mans name.

Solij, certayne boke sellers.

Sospatra, a prophete of Libya, the wife of Desdicius the sophist.

Sospes, sospitis, com. g. whole or saufe. also he that geueth healtie.

Sospita, re, f. g. he that geueth helthe or pres-erueth.

Sospitalis, le, that is cause of helthe, that preser-ueth out of dangier.

Sospito, au, are, to hope in healtie, to preserue out of danger.

Sostratus, a mans name, whiche builded the towne in the ile Pharos.

Sorades, the name of a lasciuious and wanton poete.

Sotateum, a kynde of metter consistyng of fise feete, the two first Ionici, the other three Trochai: after other it is a meter of. vii. feete. Ioh.
Aldus.

Soter, tiris, masc. gen. a sauour, he that geueth healtie.

Soteria, re, helthe, saluacion.

Soterea, gram, gesses sent to men that be reco-uered from sicknesse, by their frendes.

Sotericus, a poete whiche wrote Diocletians paisses.

Soticensa, one of the names of Juno.

S. ANTE P.

SPaco, hynges Lyrus nurse, and signifieth in the tongue of Spedes a dogge.

Spadicus, a, um, of skarlet colour.

Spadix, dicis, masc. gen. a date with the bzanche plucked from the palme tree. It is also a skarlet colour. It is sometyme taken for the colour of an hoxe, called a bright baie. It is also an instrument of musike.

Spado, dônis, m. gene. a geldyng, be it man or beaste, also a bzanche that byngeth no fruite.

Spadonia, a kynde of laurell.

Spargonon, the roote of an herbe, called Lins quefoyle.

Spargapifes, the sonne of Chomiris, the queene of Phagages.

Spargo, si, gere, to scatter or caste abyode, to cast here and there, to spynkle, sometyme to diuide into diuers partes.

Spargere bellum, to make warre in sundry partes of a countrey.

In brachia ramorum spargitur, it spreadeth or groweth abyode in bzanches.

Spargit se in amnem Mosam, it renneth by di-uers heades into the ruer Mosam.

Sparsi per agros, scattered abyode in f. fieldes.

Spargite humum folijs, stawe the ground full of leaues.

Spargere semen, to sowe.

Spargere in vulgus, to sprede or sow abyode
among the common people.

Spargite me in fluctus, caste me peremele into the sea.

Spargere corpus aqua, to spynkle water vpon
the body.

Sparsim, here and there.

Sparsus, a, um, scattered abyode, spardled here and there one.

Spasis pellibus albo, haupng the shynue speckled with white, or haupng white spottes on their shynues.

Sparta, re, or Sparte, tes, the chiefe citee of Lacedemonia: it was also called Lacedæmon and Theramne.

Spartam nactus es, hanc orna, a prouerbe, sig-nifyng, the adate or office whiche thou hast, order or apply it well.

Spartacus, was a famous swoorde plaier, whiche gathered an host of slaues, and made battaile against the Romans, and was vanquished by Crassus.

Spartarium, rij, neu. gen. a place where bzooome groweth or the shubbe Spartum.

Sparteum, rei, n. g. a money bagge.

Sparticus, a, um, of the shubbe Spartum, of bzooome.

Spartiata, re, and Spartanus, one of Sparta.

Spartum, ti, n. g. a shubbe or herbe, wherof they kfed to make bondes to tie vines: also to make cabuls & ropes for shippes. Dioscorides saith, it is the same that Genista is: but Fuchsius de-niet it: for so muche as Genista hath leaues, this hath none. It is a kynde of bzooome.

Sparum, ri, n. g. a littell dart.

Spara, be calked caitropes, sown in tyme of bat-talle to wounde the feete of men and hoxes.

Sparus, ri, m. g. a clubbe.

Spasmus, mi, or Spasima, spasmatis, n. ge. a sic-kenesse of the synewes and muskles, calked also Convulsio: it happeneth sometyme of repletion, sometyme of inanition or lacke of noutys-shement. Sometyme of gricfe, as in the pyching of a sinewe, otherwhyle of colde, as by berie colde ayer, or cold water. It is named in englysh the crampe.

Spasticus, a, um, out of the whiche any thyng is plucked.

Spatha, re, f. g. a two handed or basterd swoorde.
It is also an instrument of the hychen to turne meate that is fried, a thiffe.

Spathalum, n. ge. an oznamet perteynyng to women. It is also a bzanche of palme with dartes hangyng on it.

Spathe, thes, a certaine tree, also the bzanche of a date tree.

Spathula, re, f. g. a diminutiue of Spatha.

Spatians, antiis, that spreadeth abyode.

Spat-

Spatiator, óris, To walke for Errator, a wand-derer.
Spáticus, a, um, bered with an ill spirite.
Spátior, áris, ári, to walke abroad.
Spatioſe, & Spatioſius, largely, more largely.
Spatioſus, a, um, large, ſpacious, ample.
Bellum ſpatioſum, a longe warre.
Spátium, ij, n. gen. *a ſpace, as well in tyme as in place, lapſure, a courſe or ſwate in walking the length of any place, a place of rennyng or exerciſe.
Sometime the meature or quantitee in a foote of meter.*
Pari ſpatio diſtate vtrinq, to be in the myddes and equally diſtant from bothe partes.
Reliſto ſpatio ſequi aliquem, to ſolowe one a loufe of.
Spátium vnum baſilicæ, one courſe or ſwate in walking by and downe the palace.
Duo aut tria ſpatia facere, To walke by and downe once or twice.
Spátium vitæ, the courſe or tyme of ones life.
Euanefcit dolor ſpatio, ſorrow baniſſeth away in continuance of tyme.
Mihi ſi ſpátium fuerit, if I haue leiſure heres after.
Spátium hominis a veſtigio ad verticem, the length of a man.
Vitæ ſuæ ſpátii daretur, *that is anger myght
haue a delate.*
Hoc interim ſpatio, in this meane tyme.
In medio ſpatio, in the mydde waie, in the myddle of his life.
Brevi ſpatio erravit, he wandred within a lit-tell roume, a little circuit of compaſſe.
Specialis, le, ſpeciall, peculiar, propre.
Specialiter, idem quod Speciatim.
Speciatim, ſpecially, particularly, proprely.
Spécies, ei, fæ. ge. *a figure or image, a fourme, kinde, libeneſſe, ſimilitude, poſtature, phynomme, beautie, fauour, it is diſtined by logicians, to be that which is ſaid of many thynges varying in numbꝛe: as, Homo, which is ſpoken of Socrates, Plato, Licerio, which do not vary in figure but in numbꝛe, ſometime Species, do ſignify ſpices, alſo it is apparance, a colour, a ſhadowe, a preſence, alſo a ſight or thing ſcene.
Per ſpeciem legationis, In a ſham ablegatus eſt, vnder the colour of ambaffade, he was baſ-niſhed into Asia.
In ſpeciem eſſe, to be to the honour.
Preſentare ſpeciem alicuius rei, to reſemble or be lyke a thyng.
Species, viſions in the nyght.
Speciem habet hominis, it hath the poſtature or lykenneſſe of a man.
Specie ouorum, lyke eggges.
Species vrbis, The forme and ſituation of a cittie.
Praeter ſpeciem ſtulus es, *thou art more foolyſhe than one woulde iudge by thy countinace or phynomic.

Speciem boni viri prae se ferre, to resemble a be lyke an honest man.
Oris species, the forme or faction of the visage.
Species, was of ancient lawyers taken for Calus.
In specie huiusmodi, in such a case as this, or whan it chaunceth thus.
Specie rixa, as though they didde chide together.
Præclara classis in speciem, a goodly naueto fleet.
In speciem modo, onely for a colour or faction.
Quæ speciem habent magnæ coniunctionis, that haue a colour or resemblance of great friendship.
Speciem pugnantium præbere, to appeare as it were men that did fyght.
Specie quidem blanda, faire to see to at the syght.
Quæ habent speciem gloriæ, which haue an appearance of shadowe of glorie.
Specificæ, particular.
Specificus, a, um, particular.
Specillum, li, n. g. a small instrument, wherewith surgeons doe scerhe the dependance of woundes and sores, called a probe. also to annoynt sores etc. it is also a spectacle to looke with. also an eare pickar.
Specillum oricularium, a toly pickar.
Specimen, specimenis, n. g. an example, a profe,
a sale, a token, a pattern, also beutie.
Specimen edere, or dare, to shewe a proffe of a mans cunningg.
Sumere, and capere specimen, to take a proffe or sale.
Specimen innocentie, an ensample of patience of innocencie.
Specio, spexi, spicere, vfed of olde writers for videre, or inspicere.
Speciosè, beautifully, gayly, goodly to see to.
Speciosus, a, um, beautiful, faire, goodly to see to, well fauoured, honest.
Specito, aui, are, the frequentatiue of Specio.
Specium, ij, n. ge. a little instrument, wherewith surgeons scerhe woundes, a probe.
Spectabilis, le, woorthy to be seene, of great re-nowme, notable.
Spectaculum, li, n. g. a thyng to be seene or looked on, a sight, a pageant, a plaie, sometyme the selfe beholding. also the place from whence men dooe beholde thynges, a scaffold.
Spectamen, aminis, n. g. idem quod Specimen.
Spectamen bono seruo, id est, qui rem herilem procurat, videt, collocat, it is a token of a good seruant, whiche attendeth about his masters businesse, and dooth suruey all thynges and set it in order.
Spectare, happily, goodly, faire to see.
Spectatio, onis, f. g. a triall or proffe of money,
also a viewyng, a consideryng.
Spectatiuus, a, um, that belongeth to speculation.
Specta-

Spectator, oris, masc. gener. a beholder, a titler of money.
 Quam elegans formarum spectator sim, how well shilled I am in faire womā, or how deuitie or fyne a felowe I am in choyng faire women.
 Spectatrix, icis, the feminine of Spectator.
 Spectatus, a, um, approued, well tried and considered.
 Spectatus & honestus vir, an honest man, wel known and tried.
 Femina spectatissima, a beaite faire & godly woman, a woman of greatte honestee and well knowne.
 Specto, aui, are, to beholde, to loke vpo, to viem, to cie a man, to consyder, to haue regarde, to approue, to tende to some conclusion or ende, to compare, to iudge, to esteeme.
 Qua spectat Africam, on the syde towarde Afrique.
 Ne me spectes, doe not cie me so.
 Spectat orientem, it lreth towarde the east.
 Aurum spectatur in ignibus, id est, probatur.
 Spectare aliquem, to haue regard to one.
 Spectare aliquē ex bona vita, to esteeme what a man is by his good lyfe.
 Animum alterius spectare ex suo, to esteeme an other mans mynde by the exaample of his owne.
 Si ad vitulum spectes, if you consider the calfe.
 Victoriam spectet, let hym loke for victorie, or haue desyre of victorie.
 Voluntatem spectet eius, let hym consider his wyll diligently.
 Quorū hac spectat oratio? to what ende doe ye speake this?
 Consilium eius ad bellum spectat, his purpose or entent is to haue warre.
 Omnia vtriusq; consilia ad concordiam spe-ctauerunt, all the counsailes and deuises of the bothe were to make peace and concord.
 Spectat ad rebellionem res, a rebellion is lyke to ensue.
 Spectandum, we must beware of take heede.
 Spectatur, the impersonall.
 Spectrum, tri, n. g. an image or figure in a mans imagination.
 Spēcula, æ, f. ge. an hyghc hyl or toure, wheron thynges be elyped fyre of. also litle hope, a diminutiue of Spes.
 Speculabundus, a, um, looking about, spyng.
 Speculāris, ris, specularis, and Specularium, rij, n. gen. idem quod Speculum, also a glasse wyndow. sometyme the coucring of a walke in a gardegne.
 Specularia, spectacles.
 Speculāris, re, any thyng whereby a man maie see the better, persepnyng to tryng or spyng.
 Specularis significatio, a geupng of a signe or token to other out of an hygh toure.
 Lapis specularis, a cleare and bright stone that they vsed in olde tyme in steede of glasse.

Specularius, rij, m. g. he that maketh glasse windows of Spectacles, a glasier.
Speculatio, ónis, f. g. a spying, a watchyng in an hygh toure oꝝ other place.
Speculátor, óris, m. gen. an espiall in warres, a thoutewatche.
Speculatrix, icis, the feminine.
Speculatórius, a, um, belongyng to a spie.
 Speculatoria nauigii, shippes of espiall.
Speculátus, us, m. g. spying.
Spéculor, áris, ari, to see farre, to consider, to espye, to scrche out, to watche in an hygh toure, oꝝ other lyke place.
Spéculum, li, n. g. a looking glasse.
Specus, us, and ci, m. & f. g. oꝝ Specus, oris,
 neu. g. a denne. Lectum, est hac Specu, x, hoc Specum, ci, & hoc Specu indeclinabile.
Spelta, reade Zea.
Spelæum, lai, n. g. idem quod Spelunca.
Spelunca, x, f. m. g. a denne oꝝ hole in a rocke, a caue.
Spespondi, foz Spospondi, I haue promysed.
Sperabilis, le, that maie be hoped foz.
Sperátus, a, um, hoped oꝝ looked foz.
 Sperata virgo, a maiden asked in marriage.
Sperchias, adis, f. g. Patronymicum fæmininum, of Sperchius.
Sperchionides, Patronymicum masculinum.
Sperchius, a river of Thessalie.
Speres, ris, olde wyters vsed foz Spes, hope.
Sperma, aís, n. gen. seede, most commonly vsed foz the naturall humour, whereof all huyngs thynges be engedred and fourmed. also spawne of fshes.
Spermatia, x, f. g. the melon.
Spernax, spernacis, that contemeth oꝝ despiseth.
Spernendus, a, um, to be despised.
Sperno, spreui, spernere, to despice, to disdain, to set naught by.
Spero, aui, are, to hope, to trust, to haue a good hope, to looke foz, to feare.
 Si potui tantum sperare dolorem, id est, timere.
 Spero confore, I trust it will come to passe.
 Iubeo te bene sperare, haue a good hope at my woorde. Vt spero, as I trust.
 Bene de aliquo sperare, to haue a good hope
 of one.
 Sperabam iam deferuuisse eius adolescentiæ,
 I hoped that the rage of his youth had ben past oꝝ well rooted.
 Non vsu veniet spero, it shall not chaunce I truste.
Spes, spei, f. m. ge. hope, trust, lokyng foz any thyng to come.
 Spem abicere, to dispaire.
 Spem alere, to make one hope and looke still foz a thyng.
 Spem fallere, to disapoint one.
 Plenus spei bonæ, thar hath a great hope of a
 thyng.

Pertenuis spes ostenditur, there appeareth but herie littell hope in the matter.
 Ad irritum spes cadit, our hope is disapointed,
 and cometh to naught.
 Abscissa omnis spe, put cleue out of hope, all hope beeng cleane taken awate.
 Adducere nos in spem dicuntur literæ, whan
 they put vs in hope to haue a thyng.
 Spe deuoratum lucrum, a gaine that a man hapeth earnestly for, and doeth in a maner assure him selfe of it afore hande.
 Adduci spe mercedis, To be meued or induced with the hope of some rewarde, to dooe a
 thyng.
 Facere and Dare spem, to put in hope.
 Ex illo fluere spes illorum cepit, after that their hope beganne to wauer or be doubtfull.
 Spes cum frustrata est, he is disapointed of that he hoped for.
 Spem mihi afferebat summæ probitatis, he caused me to conceiue a great hope, that he would be a right honest man.
 Spem pretio non emo, I had liether haue one byrd in hand then two in the bush.
 Impulerunt in spem certissimam consilatus,
 They caused hym to conceiue a sure hope to be consull.
 Inducor in spem, I conceiue an hope.
 Infringi spes dicitur, whan one begynneth to mistrust or despayre.
 Inijcere spem, to put in hope.
 Agitare spes, to wauer in hope.
 Hac spe lapsus, despayning to bring this to passe.
 Capere spem de aliquo, to conceiue a great hope
 of one.
 Spe qua iubet nitemur, we will stickle or trust thereto, as you bydde vs.
 Occidit spes nostra, our hope to dooen.
 Tua profectio spem mihi debilitat, your goyng forth causeth me to hope the lesse.
 Hac illi spe hoc inciperunt, on this hope, or hereto they trustyng, beganne this enterpryse.
 Ponere spem in aliquo, To put his whole hope and confidence in a thyng.
 Sed id quidem in optima spe pono, but I haue herie good hope of that matter.
 Spes est, & hunc aliquando. &c. we trust or hope. &c.
 Spes est de argento, I haue a good hope to get this money.
 Præcidere vel incidere spem alicui, to putte out of hope.
 Spem auferre, adimere, eripere, idem.
 Ea spe istum fuisse prædium, that he had suche an hope.
 Rapi ad spem immortalitatis, to conceiue an es-nest and great hope of immortallitee.
 Deserit me spes, I am cleane out of hope.
 Exardere ad spem libertatis, id est, incitatus esse.
 Vna hæc spes est, there is no hope but this.
 In spem tamen venio, yet I hope or trust,

Plus habent spei hæc quam timoris, there is moze hope in these thynges to come to passe, than feare of the contrary.
 Spes, in the plural numbze is sometyme bled.
 Spem vultu simulat, id est, latitiam.
 Spemici panes, loaves of breade made in haste, or that be quickly made and baked.
 Speusippus, a noble philosopher cousin to Plato.
 Sphæra, a, fæ. g. a kynde of cakes made of bizuers rounde pieces.
 Sphærica, a, fæ. gen. a figure in all partes equally rounde, a sphere, a circle, a boule.
 Sphærica, a, fæ. g. a kynde of cakes made of biz-
 uers rounde pieces.
 Sphæricus, a, um, in the forme of a sphere, round.
 Sphæristærium, ij, n. g. a rounde place in a bayne where men are exercised, a tennis plaie.
 Sphæromachia, a, f. g. playng at tennis.
 Sphagnos, a certaine gumme: loke Pl. li. 12. ca. 23.
 Sphæselus, an herbe, somewhat differenge from sauge. it is also a sickness, that cometh of to muche weynesse. Theophrastus writeth, that in the roote of plantes happeth suche a discaie.
 Hesychius saith, that euery greuous maladie
 maie bee called Sphæselus.
 Spheninda, a bal made of lether or cloth, greater ter than a tennis ball.
 Sphinx, gis, or spingos, f. g. a monster, whiche had the head & handes of a mayden, the body of a dogge, wynges lyke a byrde, naples lyke a lyon, a tayle like a dragon, the voyce of a man, whiche proposed to men subtyll questions. it is also a beaste like an ape, but moze rough, & hath a tayle, I suppose it to be a munker or babion.
 Sphirena, a beate of the sea.
 Sphondylium, li, n. ge. or Spôndylus, or rather Spondilium, a ioynte or knotte of the backe bone. xii. of them dooe make the chyne, and the spue respydue dooe make the lynes. it is also a certaine fytthe, which Aristotle calleth Sphon-dilena. also a braten thyng that the Atheniens used in geuyng voyces. also a wheele to set on a spyndell.
 Sphragide, es, m. g. a stone which printeth yfely
 Sphygmus, the pulse.
 Sphyrana, a, fæ. g. a certaine fytthe, called also cestra, or Sudis.
 Spica, a, f. g. & Spicus, i, m. g. and Spicum, i,
 neu. gene. the care of coyne, properly whan it begynneth to come out of the hole. also a spice called spikenarde. also a signe of sterres and a cloue of garlyke.
 Spica nardi, a spice called spikenarde.
 Spica musca, an care of coyne hauing no ward.
 Spicatus, a, um, eared, or in care as coyne is.
 Spicatum vinguenum, a sweete oyle made of spikenarde.
 Spiceus, a, um, that which hath eares like coyne, or that is made of cares of coyne.
 Spicifera, the surname of Ceres, called goddess of coyne.
 Spicifer, ra, rum, that beareth cares.

Spici-

Spicilegium, ij, n. g. gleyng of coyne, gathering of eares of coyne, leasyng of coyne.
 Spicilegium facere, to glene, to leaue coyne.
 Spicio, spexi, etc, to looke, to beholde.
 Spico, aui, are, to shooe out in care.
 Spiculatores, they whiche be called of the kinges garde, some dooe take Spiculator to bee an hangeman, or other persone which putteth men to deathe, by execution of the lawes.
 Spiculo, aui, are, to make any thyng sharpe at the poynt, to poynt.
 Spiculum, li, n. g. a dart, also an narrowe, it is moze properly an narrowe heade.
 Spilumenes, a flutthe dyabbe.
 Spina, a, fæ. minini generis, a thorne, also the backe bone. sometyme the stinge of a bee. also a pickle, suche as is on hedghogges and cer-tayne fytthes.
 Spinam facere, to grow and beginne to haue thornes or pickes.
 Spina Aegyptia, is of John Agricola supposed to bee that, whiche of some apothecarises is called Sucalia or Bedeguar. also that it is the tree, whereof cometh the fruite called Acacia.
 Spina alba, our ladies Chistle.
 Spina acuta, the Berbery tree.
 Spinacia, spinache.
 Spinoli, a wynde fruite called sloes.
 Spinetum, i, n. g. a place where thornes growe.
 Spineus, a, um, of thornes.
 Spinifer, ra, rum, that beareth thornes or pick-es.
 Spinosus, a, um, full of thornes, by translation,
 difficulte, harde, crabbed.
 Spinter, eris, n. g. a pinne, also a tache, sometime a brachlet.
 Spintharus, a notable carpynter, whiche builded the temple of Delphos.
 Spinturnix, icis, f. g. a byrde, which was wonte to come to the altars and catie awate a burnyng sole, whiche was taken for an vn lucky byrde.
 Spinus, i, f. g. a sloe tree. also a birde, loke ligurio.
 Spio, onis, idem quod Nympha.
 Spionia, a certaine kynde of vines called also Spinea.
 Spionicus, of that vine.
 Spira, a, fæ. g. an ornamet of a womans head, also the tournyng of cables or ropes, whan they be wounde vpp. also a bande of lace, wherwith a cappe or hatte is made faste vnder a mans chinne. also the base of a pyllar. also a cake made lyke a trendell. also a multitude of people.
 Spira, thynges whiche dooe tourne and winde in diuers circles lyke a trendle or adder linge rounde. Spira, by translation, difficulte and harde thynges.
 Anguis colligit se in spiram, the adder wrap-peth hym selfe rounde.

Spirabilis, le, lyuely, or that wherby we liue.
 Spiraculum, li, n. g. idem quod Spiramentum, out of the whiche the ayer or breath passeth.
 Spiramen, raminis, ne. ge. that wherby ayer or breath issueth.
 Naris spiramina, the holes of the nose.
 Spiramentum, i, n. g. that wherby breath, ayer, or smoke issueth.
 Spirans, auis, om. g. breathyng, lyuyng. also that causeth a sauour of smell.
 Spirantia signa, images so liuely made, that they seme to breathe.
 Spirantia consilii extra, beeng as it were yet as lyue and mouyng.
 Aura spirans, qua spiramus & viuimus, lyues
 ly, that geneth lyfe.
 Spirarchus, a capitaine in the forwarde.
 Spirillum, a gotes bearde.
 Spirituâlis, le, or Spiritalis, le, that breatheth, lyuely. Spiritales aura, id est, vitales.
 Spiritus, us, m. g. spirite, breath, wynde, sauour smell, sometyme aier, also stomache, hautaesse of courage, fiercenesse.
 Angustus spiritus, a thozte breath.
 Spiritus fædi odoris, a stinking breath.
 Reddere spiritum, to breathe out.
 Ducere spiritum, to fetch the breath, also to lyue.
 Communi spiritu frui, to lyue among men.
 Extremum spiritum alicuius excipere, to kisse
 one whan he is dyng.
 Patriæ reddere spiritum, to die for his countrey. Spiritum trahere, to lyue.
 Vno spiritu, at one brette.
 Auferre spiritum alicui, to kyll.
 Euadit spiritus per angustias, the breathe to meth sooth by narrowe passages.
 Tranquillum & otiosum spiritum ducere, to lue quietly and without trouble or busines.
 Miserum spiritum trahunt, they lyue wretchedly.
 Suspendere spiritum in lectione, to pause.
 Ac mihi nescio quos spiritus arulerunt, and I can not tell how they haue caused me to haue an haute and lofty stomache.
 Ingentis spiritus vir, a man of great courage and of a lofty and haut stomache.
 Vnguenti spiritus, the sauour of sweete smell of the ointment.
 Placidi spiritus dies, a calme day without great wynde.
 Spiro, aui, are, to breathe, to blowe as winde doo-eth, to sende forth our oure, to lyue.
 Spirula, a, f. g. a littell rounde compasse, the base of a pyllar.
 Spissamentum, i, ne. g. any thyng that is put in oymntes to make them thicke. also harte, coston, woll, or any lyke thyng, wherwith a clefte or hole is stopped.
 Spissatus, a, um, made thicke.
 Spisse, an aduerbe signifying thicke, sometyme slowly, grossely.

Vvv ij

Spisse

Spisse calcatis carbonibus, the coles being trod den downe harde together.
Spissius virens gemma, hauing a thicke greene colour.
Spisse arare, to care thicke together.
Spisse atq; vix, slowly.
Spissesco, scere, to waxe thicke.
Spissigradior, gradi, to go thicke or make many stepe.
Spissigradus, di, m. g. he that goeth thicke.
Spissitas, atis, f. g. thickenesse.
Spissitudo, inis, idem.
Spisso, aui, are, to make thicke.
Spissus, a, um, thicke, slow.
Spissum verbum, a longe woorde.
Spissum opus, a woorde longe in dooyng, or whiche requirerth longe tyme.
Spissus tactus, when one fealeth a thynge mas-syue.
Spissa theatra, id est, repleta spectantibus.
Tardum & spissum.
Pro spisso euenit, it cometh slowly.
Spissa & solutioris humi regio, contrarie,
harde and compacte.
Spithama, x, f. g. called also Dodrans, is the meas-sure betwene the thumbe & the litle finger, ther both beyng stretcht forth, and contenteth .ix.
ynches, or .xii. fingers breadth, a spanne.
Splen, enis, m. g. the splene.
Splendeo, dui, dere, to shyne, to be beautifull.
Splendescio, scere, to shyne, to waxe fayre and beautifull.
Splendide, an aduerbe, signifying clere or bright.
also ryche, honorably, beautifull, goodly.
Splendidus, a, um, brighte, cleare, goodly, beautiful, famous, notable, excellēt, that hath great buite and renoume, he whiche bleth to haue his house richely decked, with abundance of all thynges is called Splendidus, contrarie to Sordidus, and Auarus.
Splendor, oris, m. g. light, brightnesse, sometime honor, noblenesse in luyng, glorie, excellencie, buite, renoume.
Splendor & dignitas, glorie and honoure.
Imperii nostri splendor, the brightnesse, noblenesse or maiestee of our empyre.
Ad gloriam & splendorem, to glorie and renoume.
Splendor nominis, honorable fame and re-
noume, glorie.
Summo splendore præditi, men of excellent renoume and glorie.
Harum rerum duarū splendor omnis & am-plitudo, all the excellencie and great worthines of these two thynges.
Spleneticus, a, um, that is sicke in the splene.
Splenarius, a, um, wrapped in a plaister of cloth or other thyng.
Splenion, the herbe commonly called heetes tongue.
Splenium, nij, n. g. a plaister of clothe or lether, made to late to the bodie of him whiche is sicke.

Spodium, dii, n. ge. that whiche cometh of leade, lyke to soote whiche is about vessels of brasse that dooe hange ouer the fyre.
Spoleium, a citee in Italie.
Spoleitini, people of the citee Spoleium.
Spoliarium, ij, n. g. a place where men be robbed and spoiled.
Spoliatio, oris, a spoilinge or robbing, a taking from one.
Spoliator, oris, m. g. a spoler, a robber.
Spoliatrix, the feminine.
Spoliatus, a, um, spoiled, deppriued of that he had.
Spolio, aui, are, to robbe and despoyle, to pill.
Spoliare fama, to take awaie a mā's good name from hym.
♣ Alium spoliari, vialium dicit, he robbeth
Peter and pateth Paule.
Provincia spoliare aliquem, to take the gouernaunce of a prouince from one.
Spolare vira, to kill.
Pampinis vitem spoliare, to pull leaues or braunches from a vyne.
Spoliare auxiliis, to take awaie the ayde or assistance that was leste to defende one.
Spolior, aris, ari, to be robbed, sometime to robbe.
Spoliari forunis, to haue his goodes or substance taken from hym.
Spoliarius, a, um, that whiche receiveth spoyle of thynges taken by robbrie.
Spolium, in, n. g. spoyle taken of enemies.
Ampla spolia referre, to gette great spoyle.
♣ Alienis spoliis alios augere solet, he is wonte to robbe one and geue to an other: he is wonte to robbe Peter and pateth Paule.
Sponda, x, f. g. the fyde of a bedde stede.
Spondalium.
Spondalicus, belongynge to the foote called Spondeus.
Spondeo, spondendi, ere, to promise freely, and with a good wyll.
Spondere pro aliquo, to undertake for one.
Spondere puellam dicitur pater, to promise to geue her in marriage.
De quo tibi homine hæc spondeo, of whome
I promise you this muche.
Spondax, daci, m. g. a foote in meter of two longe syllables.
Spondylis, lis, f. g. a kinde of Serpentes.
Spondylium, in, n. g. a certayne herbe lyke Feru-la, or rather Ferula it selfe, loke Sphondylium.
Spondylus, li, masc. gene. a wheerue, whiche is a rounde thyng of stone, woodde or leade, put on a spindell to make it renne rounde. it is als so a white harde thyng in an oyster, whiche is couered with the fische. also a torne of knotte of the backe bone, a braken thyng that the thenienles bled in geuyng bogges, a fische of the sea. Marcell blith it for the bone of a fische.
Spongia, x, f. g. a sponge, or that wherewith any

any thyng is wyped.
Spongiare, to wpye cleane with a sponge.
Spongiola, lx, f. g. gene. a littell sponge. also that whiche the apothecaries call Bedaguar, that that groweth on a swete briar and other trees lyke a sponge. also the roote of the herbe Asparagus.
Spongioli, mushrooms.
Spongiolus, a, um, lyght and full of holes lyke
a sponge.
Spongites, m. g. a stone lyke a sponge.
Sponia, fa, f. g. gen. a woman spoused or assianced.
Sponsalis, le, perteynyng to spousage.
Sponsalia, drum, neu. ge. plur. the spousage or betrothyng of a man and woman befoze that they be wedded.
Sponsio, oris, f. g. gen. a promyse, a bargayne, an agreement, a couenaunte, euery promyse made by the demaunding or ashyng of an other. also a certayne suite or wager in the lawe, where by the prouyng of one part, a certayne summe of money was pauned to abyde the trial of the matter: and was forfaited of hym, whiche was condemned in the suite.
Sponsio voti, a vowe, a promise made to god.
Sponsione lacerare, and prouocare, to will one to abyde the trial of a matter with him vnder the peyne that he whiche is condemned shall lose a certayne summe of money, whiche was pauned downe for that intent.
Sponsione certare, or sponsionem facere, to laye a wagier.
In sponsionem deponere, To laye downe in wagier whiche man to lese, whiche be overcome.
Quanti placet sponsionem facere, how muche will you lay.
Sponsus, us, idem quod Sponsio.
Sponsus, si, m. g. the man to whom a woman is betrothed, the hyde grome.
Sponso, aui, are, to affianse or betrothe, to pro-myse.
Sponsor, oris, m. ge. he that promyseth or bargyneth. sometime a suretie, whiche undertaketh an other man's acte, he that betrotheth or promyseth his daughter in marriage.
Sponsus, a, um, promysed, affianced, betrothed.
Sponsalis, le, voluntarie.
Sponsatus, a, um, that doeth or is done willyngly, naturally, without constrainte or helpe.
Sponte, the ablatiue case, naturally, willyngly, of his free will.
Paxq; fuit non sponte ducum, and peace was made against the capitaines willes.
Sponte natura, naturally, of nature.
Homo suæ spontis, a man that is at his free libertee to dooe what he wyll.
Sponte, an aduerbe, willyngly.
Sporades, ites in the sea called Hegeum.
Sporta, tx, f. g. a basket or maunde.
Sportula, lx, f. g. money or meate distributed by princes vnto the people, a littell gaste or almshouse, a small banket or drynking, that the riche maies made to them that came to satiate them, the proper value of Sportula, whiche the ancient Romans bled to geue, was .x. festerij, that is .x. d. sterling, or our common shilling.

also lucre of courte was called Sportula.
Sportella, le, f. g. gen. a kynde of tartes or tunkettes.
Spreto, oris, m. gen. he that contemnerth or despyseth.
Spreus, a, um, contemned, despised.
Spuma, mæ, f. g. the some or froth of any thyng liquide.
Agere spumas, to some.
Spumatus, us, m. g. fomyng.
Spumatus, a, um, couered with froth or some.
Spumescio, scere, to begynne to some.
Spumens, a, um, fomyng or frothy, that hath the ro-ture of some.
Spumifer, and Spumiger, ia, rum, that beareth some.
Spurio, aui, are, to some or gather vnto some.
Spumulus, a, um, that wherof cometh a some,
fomy, full of some.
Spuo, spui, spuer, to spette.
Spurce, vncleane, filthy, dishonestly, villan-ously.
Dicere in aliquem spurce, to speake dishonestly and villanously against one.
Spurcidus, a, um, that speaketh dishonestly or vncleane, filthy.
Spurcidus, a, um, that maketh thynges vncleane or filthy.
Spurcitas, x, and Spurcites, ei, f. g. vnclean-nesse, filthy, dishonest, villanie.
Spurco, aui, are, to defyle or make vncleane, to bedurte, to dishonest.
Spurcus, a, um, vncleane, filthy, vnpure, stin-kyng, bloudie, dishonest, vile.
Spurcum vinum, wyne myngled with water.
Tempestas spurcissima, a foule and greates tempest of stoure.
Spurcus ager, a baragane and dyce ground vns
housebanded.
Spurcus gladiator, a cruell & bloudy swoorde player or souldier.
Spurcissimus helluo, a vile and styngynge glutton.
Spurina, a capitaine of the Parthians, whiche slew Crassus the Romane.
Spurius, a, um, bozne of a common woman, that knoweth not who is his father, bafe bozne.
Spurius verus, verbes feygued, the authoure
beyng falsly named or vnknewen.
Spurius, rij, m. g. a bastarde. also it was the surname of diuers Romans.
Spurior, oris, m. g. one that speteth.
Spurio, aui, are, to spette.
Spurium, ij, n. g. spurill.

Squala, olthe wyrters vſed for ſqualida.
 Squalens, enis, beynge ſoule filthy of ſute fiſhe, all couered with any thyng.

Squalens auro, id eſt, fulgens, all ſhynynge with golde.
 Squaleo, or ſqualleo, lui, lere, to be filthy, ſute in the, ſoyled or ſtained with ſome vnclene thyng, to be ſoule or out of ſacion for lacke of cleynng.

Squalent arua, the fieldes are full of weedes and ſoule for lacke of huſbandynge.
 Arma ſqualent rubigine, the harnes & weapons be all ſoule with ruſte.

Squalide, ill fauouredly, nothyng clenly.
 Squalidus, a, um, ſuttlyſhe, filthy, cauſynge one to abhorre the ſight therof. ſometyme it ſignis-fieth ſpotted. alſo carraie leane, nothyng beaus-tifull or faire, vnpleaſant.

Squalida res, thynges vnpleaſant.
 Squalidus ager, grounde out of tilthe.

Squalor, oris, m. ge. ſuttlyſheſſe, filthineſſe, vncleneſſe, the deſoyntee of any thyng for lacke of trimmyng.

Squalus, a fiſhe.

Squama, mæ, fæ. gen. the ſcale of a fiſhe. alſo a maile in haberdoun, or a littell plate in a coate of ſence.

Squama æris, the flower or offall of braſſe, that is blowen from it in melting, or that is beaten from it after it is coled in the water.

Squamatum, in the ſacion of ſcales, like ſcales.
 Squameus, a, um, full of ſcales.

Squamiger, ra, rum, that hath ſcales.
 Squamigerum genus, fiſhe.

Squamofus, a, um, ſcaly, full of ſcales.
 Squamofum pecus, Plautus vſeth for fiſhe.

Squarofus, a, um, rough and warpe, lyke to a thyng which is ſcaly.

Squatina, næ, fæ. ge. a ſole fiſhe with a rough ſkynne, wherewith ſetchers dooe make their arrows ſmoother.

Squilla, læ, f. g. a fiſhe called a ſhympe. alſo an herbe, reade Scylla.

Squintij, people in Italie, called alſo Sabelli and Samnites.

S ANTE T.

ST, a voyce of hym that commaundeth ſilence, as we ſaye in engliſhe, huſhe, whan we woulde haue one to holde his peace.

Stabilimen, liminis, and Stabilimentum, ti, n. g.
 that whiche heperh a thyng ſtedfaſt, that ſtabilmeth or confirmeth.

Stabilio, ſtabilis, liui, lire, to make ſtedfaſt or ſtable.

Stabilire rempublicam, to confirme and make ſtable and ſtrong the common weale.

Stabilis, le, ſtable or ſtedfaſt, firme, ſtat, durable.
 Stabile eſt me patri aurum reddere, I haue ſurely determined to geue my father the money.

ney agayne.
 Incertum & ſtabile, contrary.
 Stabilis & firmus animus, a firme and con-ſtant mynde.

Imperium ſtabilius, an empyre or dominion that continueth longer.

Mala ſtabilia, appals that fall not from the tree.
 Stabiliras, aïs, fæ. g. ſtableneſſe, firmeneſſe, conſtancy, continuance.

Stabulariæ mulieres, women whiche kepe bitalynge houſes, for to reſerue waitfaring men.

Stabularius, rij, m. gen. an inholder, an hoſtler, alſo he that hath the charge of the houſe where cattell is kepte.

Stabulatio, onis, ſtandynge or lyng of cattell, as bydynge in a ſtable or houſe, as beaſtes doe in the wynter tyme, alſo harbyourynge of lodgyng of deere.

Stabulo, aui, are, to ſtande as cattall doeth in a ſtable.

Stabulare pecus, to put beaſtes into the ſtable.
 Stabulari damas aut ceruos, ſalowe deere or red deere to be lodged or harbyoured.

Stabulum, li, n. g. an inne, where men doe lodge or baite. alſo it is the general name of the place, where cattall doeth abide, whan they come from theyr paſture. alſo a ſtable, wherein hoxes or mules are kepte. alſo a ſolde for ſheep.

Stabulum pauonum, a place where peccocks are kepte.

Stabulum confidentiæ, ſagittij, nequitie, a place of refuge or ſuccour.

Stachys, a certayne ſhrubbe, lyke to Marrubium, but hauynge ſomewhat longer leaues. ſome thinke it to be that, whiche apothecaries call Ambroſiam.

Stacte, res, fæ. m. g. is that, whiche is called commonly Storax liquida, the ſoure of Myrrhe, or the fatneſſe that ſpitt diſtilleth out of it.

Stacteus, a, um, that byngyth out the gumme ſtacte.

Stadiodromus, mi, m. gen. he that renneth in a courſe of rennyng. alſo the rennyng place.

Stadium, di, n. g. a place, wherein rennyng is exerciſed, as well of men as of hoxes. Stadium is alſo a quantitee of meaſure of ground, wherof (as Lenoxinus wyrteth) were the ſortes: the one was of Italic, & that contained 625. fectes, whiche is 125. paces: The ſecond was called Olympicum, and that was of 600. fectes, that is 120. paces: The thyrde was called Pythicum, whiche conteyned 1000. fectes, whiche is 200. paces. whiche parauenture was forgotten of Plinius and Solinus, whan they wote the deſcription of Sicilia: whiche maketh the variance betwene them and Diodorus Sicu-lus. Of the Stadia called Italic, or of Ita-lie. viſt. dooe make an Italian mile, conteynyng a thouſande paces, euery pace byng ſixe fectes:
 we haue none other name to geue it but a ſure
 longe.

Stagno,

Stagno, aui, are, is properly of water: to ſtande and not to flowe.
 Stagnare terra dicitur, whan water ſtandeth on it, and is not ſucked in.

Stagnum, ni, n. g. a ſtanding water, a poole. alſo ſothe deepeſt parte of the ſea.

Stalagma, lagmatis, n. g. a certayne ointemente.
 Stalagnum, ni, n. g. a certayne oznamēt that men vſed to weare in their eares.

Stamen, ſtaminis, n. g. the henge of flaxe ſette on the diſtaffe to ſpinne. alſo clothe whan it is in the lome of frame. alſo a threede.

Stamina trahere, or ducere, to ſpinne.
 Leuia ſtamina ducere, to ſpinne ſine.

Sollicitat ſtamina docto pollice, the ſpinneſh cunningly.

Torquere ſtamina digitis, and Solicitare ſta-mina pollice, idem.

Stamina, be alſo in woodde or herbes as it were ſmall thredes.

Stamina, be alſo the chieues of littell thynges ſtandynge out lyke thredes in the middes of floures, as in a lillie, a honny ſuckle, and ſuche other.

Stamineus, a, um, that hath in it as it were littell thredes.

Stanneus, a, um, of tinne.

Stannum, ni, n. g. mettall called tinne.

Stapedes, ſtreppes.

Staphis, phidis, f. g. called alſo Staphis agria, pi-tuitaria, and pedicularis, a kynde of vyces, whiche hath a blacke ſtemme and ſtrepghte, and hath a ſeuite moze lyke to a littell bladder, than to a grape, whiche is greene, within the whiche is a kernell thre coynered.

Staphilinus, ni, m. g. a wyde parſeneye, or rather carrets.

Staphyle, a vyne, or grape that reaſons bee made of.

Staphilodendron, a tree growynge beyonde the Alpes, like to Acer, and beareth a frute in rods des taſtynge lyke a ſilberde.

Staphylus, he that dyd ſprike mingle water with wyne.

Starchaterus, a kynde of the Danes.

Statanus, a god, whiche the painims ſuppoted to haue the gouernaunce of chyldren.

Statarus, a, um, ſtable, quiete, without ſterng.

Statarij milites, ſouldiours that abyde ſtill in one place.

Stataria comædia, a quiete comedie without ſte-rnyng and buſyneſſe.

Stater, tæris, m. g. a certayne coynes, whiche was in value foure dynammes, or foure groſes. bill.
 to an ounce.

Statéra, ræ, f. g. golde ſmithes balance.

Statice, ces, f. g. a certayne herbe.

Staticulum, li, n. g. a certayne wanton meynge in daunſinge. ſometyme a littell carre.

Statilinus, was called a priuate god, whiche men ſuppoted to be alwaie with them.

Statim, anon, conſtantly, continually, by and by,
 without tariyng, ſootythwith.

Statim a radice, harde by the roote.

Statim atq; negauerit, by and by as ſoone as he ſhall denie it.

Statim, quàm vrbem egreſſi fuerint, ſootyth with as ſoone as they ſhall bee departed out of the citee.

Statim ut literas tuas legeram, incontinentie as ſoone as I had readde your letters.

Statio, onis, fæ. g. a place, where either men of warre or ſhippes doe abide or reſt for a certayne tyme. alſo a common place, where muche people dooeth reſorte to here matters decided.

Statio nauium, a rode for ſhippes.

Stationem vitæ peregiſſe, to haue paſſed the walke of this lyfe.

Stationalis, le, that ſtandeth faſt or abyde.

Stationarius, a, um, that is appointed to abyde in
 any place.

Stationarij milites, ſouldiours assigned to abide ſtill in one place to kepe a towne or fortreſſe, or the marches of a countrey.

Statua, orum, or Statuæ, arum, a certayne place fortified, where men of warre laie at the ſiage of a fortreſſe.

Statua caſtra, idem.

Statuicula, læ, f. g. a littell reſtyng place.

Statuus, a noble porte.

Statuus, a, um, that belongeth to reſtyng or abid-yng.

Stator, oris, m. g. a ſeruant, whiche is alwaie reas-dy attendynge about an officer, to be at commadement: wherefore in that woode bee included perſeuaires, poſtes, ſergeantes, bailiffes, and cathepolles. alſo Jupiter was called Iupiter ſtator of Romulus, becauſe he ſuppoted, that he made the Romaines to ſtarie when they fled, the Samnites perſuayng them.

Statua, æ, f. g. an image of mettall, vpon, ſtone, or tymber.

Statuaria, æ, f. g. the craſte of grauyng or peyntyng of images.

Statuarius, rij, maſc. ge. he that carueth or peynteth
 images.

Statuarius, a, um, perteynyng to images.

Statim, minis, ne. ge. that whiche is ſet by to ſuſtayne or beare a thyng, a proppe, ſoppe or other lyke.

Statimino, aui, are, to proppe by, to vnderſet, to make ſure.

Statuminare lapidibus, to vnderſette with ſtones, to vnder pinne.

Statuo, tui, tuere, to ordeyne, to determine, to appoynte, to deſpene, to iudge or eſtyme, to thynghe or iudge for a ſuretye, to ſet faſt, to ſet by, to ſtable a thyng, to purpoſe ſurely, to geue iudgement of ſentence againſt one, to dedicate, to beate one thyng agaynſt another.

Statuere ex æquo & bono, to iudge or determine accordyng to equitee, leſſe then the rigour of the lawe wolde require.

Statuere precium, to set a price on thynges vendible.

Sublimem illum arriperem, & caput primum in terram statuerem, vt cerebro dispergat visum, I wolde lifte hym vp alofte, and firste of all dalt he his head to the grounde, that I mought scatter his bryne abrode in the strete.

Apud animum statuere, to determine in his mynde, to purpose & determine with hym selfe. Exemplum statuere in aliquo, to punishe one in such wise, that other maie take example there by.

Statuere in aliquem exemplum, idem.

Statuere in aliquem, to make an ordinaunce agaynst one.

Mercedem statuere, to assigne to one what wages he shall haue.

Modum statuere, to appoynte a rule.

Statuite quantum hoc putatis, & quam multo redemisse, thynke you what it is woorth, or of what value it is.

Statuere de se, to hylt hym selfe, not looking for the iudgement of any officer agaynst hym.

Statuere summum bonum non dolere, to determine and iudge with hym selfe, that it is the chiefest felicitye, to haue no sorowe or payne.

Cum animo statutum ac deliberatum habere, to haue thoughtly purposed & determined with hym selfe.

Statues ex nostra dignitate, per vultu determine the matter so, as shall be for myne honoure.

Ve in posterum documentum statuere, ne quis &c. tant I might geue an example in time to come that no man &c.

Statuum statuere alicui, to set by ones image.

Exemplum statuere in me, shew you an example by me.

Vix statuere apud animum meum possum, I can scarce define or determine with my selfe.

Hanc legem mihi statuo, I prescribe this lawe to my selfe.

Locum colloqui statuere, to appointe a place where they shall common together.

His stipendium de publico statuit, he assigned or appointed them to haue wages of the common treasure.

Vibem præclarâ statui, I haue builded a goodly citie.

Craterasq; duos statuam tibi, id est, deducabo.

Senatus statuit, the senate hath ordeined.

Statura, a, fem. ge. the stature or bignesse of the bodie.

Statura humilis, a dwarfish lowe stature.

Statura arboris, the bignesse and height of a tree.

Status, us, m. g. state, fourme, facion or gesture of the bodie, the condition or state of ones lyfe or other thyng, it is amonge oratours the principall poynte, wherein all the controuersie consisteth, called of Cicero, Constitutio causa, the issue.

Collocare aliquem reipublicæ statum, to estas blisse and set the common weale in some good state or fourme.

Collocare in statu amplissimo, to auance or set in some high degree or honour.

Concidere ex amplo statu, to fall from high degree or great auctoritie.

Conuellere reipublicæ statum, to trouble the quietnesse or good order, state, and poise of the common weale.

Conuellere de statu, to trouble and byng one out of his purpose.

Declinare de statu, to doe some thinge that apperteyneth not, or doeth not agree to the accustomed state and forme of his lyfe.

Deducere aliquem de statu vitæ suæ, to cause one to dooe a thyng that he was not wonte to doe, or that is contrarie to his accustomed trade and faction.

Denegare aduersarium de statu, to make our aduersarie that he can not tell what to saie.

Deterere aliquem de statu suo, to make one astrayde to continue in his purpose. To scape from his purpose or enterpryse.

Status corporis rectus, standyng vpryght with the bodie.

Status, a, um, firme, that chaungeth not, ordinarie, certayne.

Statui dies, dapes appoynted, daies ordinarie, dapes in banke for apperance, or for the parties to pleade.

Statia sacrificia, sacrifices customably doone at certayne daies of an olde ordinarie, ordinarie.

Statæ matris simulachrum, an image set up by the people in euery strete at Rome.

Stati redditus, rentes certayne.

Statyelli, a people of Liguria.

Steatites, m. g. a precious stone lyke to fallowe.

Stentōma, a gathering of greace or fat in some place against nature.

Stechades, thye little itles by Marfiles.

Stega, a, f. g. a cabin of a shippe. also a cote or cottage.

Stegnus, a, um, idem quod Strictus.

Stegnae fabres, seuers, in the whiche a man may haue nether sieg nor vrine, nor sweatte nor none other euacuation.

Stela, a, f. g. a little pyllar, a crosse or other lyke monument set up by the high waie, for the memorie of any thyng.

Stella, a, f. g. a sterre. also a fische. also the name of a poete.

Stella crinita, a blasphem sterre.

Stellæ traectio, shoryng of a sterre.

Stellans, anis, thynyng lyke a sterre.

Stellans volans, a shoryng of a sterre.

Stellatura, a, f. g. was an excozcion of capitains in takyng from fou'diours the portions of vi'sailes appoynted vnto them by the emperour, or rather rather a certayne quantitie of vi'sailes appoynted to fou'diours.

Stellatus, a, um, full of sterres. replenished or garnished with sterres.

Stellifer, and Stelliger, ra, rum, that beareth sterres in it.

Stellio, onis, m. g. a beast lyke a lpsarde, hauing on his backe sportes lyke sterres.

Stellionatus, us, m. g. a deceite in dissemblyng a thyng to take profite of an other vniuersity, or els by counterfayting of merchandise.

Stellus, a kynde of birdelyme made in Eubœa.

Stelio, aut, are, to shine or glister lyke sterres, or to be made lyke sterres. also to enue.

Stemina, stemmaris, n. g. a garlande of floures. also the stocke or bloude of a gentle house. some tyme the degrees of kynred. also an inscription grauen in a stone, sometime a great acte of enterprise.

Stemo, was sister to Medusa.

Stennio, the daughter of Phorcus.

Stenobœa, the wyfe of Pæteus kinge of Ephirte, who loued Bellozophon, that vanquished the monster Chimæra.

Stentor, oris, a Greeke, whiche had a voyce as loude as fistic men.

Stephanice vites, a certayne kinde of vyces, made rounde lyke garlandes.

Stephanoma, euery herbe that serueth for garlandes.

Stephanonia, the herbe called also Lorus Aegyptia.

Stephanoplocos, a maker of garlandes.

Stephanus, in grecke is a crowne or garlande.

Stercoratio, onis, f. g. a dongynge.

Stercorarius, a, um, pertaynyng to dunge or mucke.

Stercoratus, a, um, danged, mucked or comf passed.

Stercoreus, a, um, of donge or mucke.

Stercoro, aut, are, to dunge or compasse.

Stercorosus, a, um, full of donge or mucke.

Stercus, oris, ne. ge. donge, mucke, compasse, ordure.

Stercore saturare agrum, to dunge the field.

Stercutius, the sonne of Hannus, he firste founde and vsed dongyng of the grounde.

Steresis, pzuacion.

Stegeton, the herbe called Sedum maius.

Sterilia, olde wyters used for Sterilis.

Sterilefco, lefcere, to be or wape barraine.

Sterilia, for Sterilitas.

Sterilis, le, barraine.

Sterilis amator, a loue that lacketh money.

Sterililas, aut, barraynesse, sterilitie.

Sternax, acis, om. g. that flyngeth or casteth.

Sternax equus, a plūging hors that casteth his spdar.

Sterno, straut, ere, to throwe downe, to spreade, to couer, to laie the table, to make playne, or smoothe, to lye downe to rest.

Sternere lectum, to make a bed redie.

Sternunt se somno, they laped theyn downe to sleape.

Sternere equum, to saddle and make redie an horse.

Sternere mensam, to laie the table.

Iuuenet cæsi strauere terram, id est, operuerunt, couered the grounde.

Veni phidici strauerunt aquora, id est, plana fecerunt.

Humi sternere aliquem, to stryke one to the grounde.

Floues humi sternere, and Sternere humum floribus, to strawe floures on the grounde, to couer the grounde with floures.

Sternitur omne solum iaculis, all the grounde was couered with dartes.

Sternere locum saxi, to pauce.

Viros sternere cæde, to kyll men.

Segetes sternuntur, the coigne was moshed and cut downe.

Sternuo, nui, ere, to snee.

Sternutamentum, i, n. g. sneynge. also a medicine that prouoketh sneynge.

Sternutamenta euocare, to prouoke sneynge.

Sternutatio, onis, f. g. sneynge.

Sternuto, aut, are, to snee often.

Sterquilinum, ni, n. g. a dounge hylt or mixen.

Terence calleth a vaude by that name, as one wolde saie, vile and stynkinge hnaue.

Sterrogoma, a kinde of frankensence, called comus monti Thora am, in latine Thus masculus.

Sterto, rui, ere, to route when one sleapeth.

Steibrocus, the sonne of Epaminondas duke of Thebes.

Stelichonites, the numbre of eight in disc, so called of the sepr thye of Stelichorus the poete, made in figure lyke to eight dice.

Stelichorus, a famous poete, of whome it is writen, that when he was an infanc in his cradell, a nightingale sat on his mouth and did singe, signifyinge that he shoulde be the sweetest poete that euer was afore him: he found first linging of songes in a daunce.

Stelixa, a woman of excellent beautie, whome Aristides and Themistocles loued.

Stesimbrotus, an historiographer.

Stenelus, the sonne of Capaneus and Euadne: an other the sonne of Perseus.

Steneleus, a, um, of Stenelus.

Sthenobœa, the wyfe of Pæteus.

Stibadium, dn, n. ge. a chaire or cotche made of herbes wounde together: some dooe call it an herbe or summer parlour also a littell parlour, where it was writen how many guestes it wolde receiue.

Stibium, bi, ne. g. a white stone founde in siluer mynes, which stoppeth the rennyng of eyes, and dooeth make them seme very fayne.

Stibon, idem quod Antinonium.

Stichas, chados, loke Stechas.

Stichos, a verse of an order in a thyng, a lyne.
 Stigma, matis, n. g. a marke made with fire, of a hotte yron. Sometime it signifieth infamie and reproche objected openly.
 Stigmaticus, a, um, infamed, notably taken for a naughty persone, marked with a hotte yron.
 Stigmatus, a, um, idem.
 Stigo, aui, are, to pycke footthe, to stee forwarde.
 Silico, a noble man in the tyme of Honorius the emperor.
 Stilla, la, f. g. a droppe.
 Stilians, antis, droppingg.
 Stillatio, onis, f. g. a droppingg.
 Stillarius, a, um, that droppeth.
 Stilbo, a philosopher, vide Stilpo.
 Stilbon, bonus, the sterre of Mercurie.
 Stillicidium, di, n. g. the droppingg of an house, the caues of the house, a littell gutter or sinke.
 Stillo, aui, are, to droppe.
 Stilobata, looke Stylobata.
 Stilpo, ponis, a philosopher, bozne in the cite of Megara in Grece, whiche (his countrey being burned, and his wyfe and children losse in the fyre) escaped onely, and departyng alone, the kyng Demetrius asked of hym, if he had losse any thyng, he answered: I haue lost nothing: for all that is myne I carie with me, meanyng thereby, that vertue, (whiche is onely the pryncipal goddes of a wise man, and can not be taken from hym) he toke awaie with hym.
 Stipones, dwarfes.
 Stimicon, a shepherdes name in Virgill.
 Stimmi indeclinabile, idem quod Stimium.
 Stimulatio, onis, f. g. a prickyng of feruent mouyng to doe a thyng.
 Stimulator, oris, m. g. he that pricketh or stereth one forwarde to doe a thyng.
 Stimulatrix, the feminine.
 Stimuleus, a, um, that is done with prickyng.
 Stimulo, aui, are, to pycke, to moue, to stee forwarde, to greue.
 Stimulare ad arma, to stee to warre.
 Stimulus, li, m. g. a gode, wherewith oxen are diuen, a pycke: by translation euery thyng that stereth or moueth one to doe a thyng.
 Admonere alicui stimulos, to pycke, to stee or moue one to doe a thyng.
 Veneris stimuli, incensynges to fleschly appetites.
 Stingo, & stinguo, stinxi, guere, to putte out lyght.
 Stipa, for Stupa, towne.
 Stiparius, a, um, pertainyng to stoppyng or bearyng harde together.
 Stipatio, onis, f. g. a bolsteryng or holdyng vp on euery syde.
 Stipatores, they whiche dooe fraite a thynge, or late in such fardels or bourdeynes, as are to be carried. Also they whiche be of a kynges garde, alwaie aboute his persone.

Stipatus, a, um, inuironed with men to bee defended, as princes are with their garde.
 Stipendialis, le, pertainyng to wages.
 Stipendiarius, a, um, whiche payeth tribute, of some called contributores to the spendyng of an armie or defence of a countrey.
 Populi stipendiarij, people that paie certayne tribute.
 Stipendiarium vectigal, a certayne and ordinarie tribute.
 Stipendiatius, he that taketh wages.
 Stipendiosus, a, um, that hath ben often tymes hired or retained in warres.
 Stipendor, aris, ari, to be hyred or retained in warres.
 Stipendium, di, n. g. wages properly geuen to souldiours. also subsodie paid to princes.
 Confectis stipendiis, when the tyme of theyr seruice was out.
 Stipendiis duobus, two the firste yeres that he was in wages.
 Stipendia facere, to serue in warres as a souldiour.
 Facere stipendia pedibus, to bee a foote man in warres.
 Decernere stipendium, to appoynte wages for souldiours.
 Emeritis stipendiis libidinis, ambitionis, contentionis, when he can for age no longer geue hym selfe to lecherie, ambition, contention.
 Stipes, stipitis, m. g. a logge that is set fast in the grounde, a stake. also a stick: by translation a fool, a dull head, one that hath no witte.
 Stiphelus, one of the Lapithes.
 Stipo, aui, are, to stoppe chynkes or cleftes, properly in shippes or bootes with towne and pitch, also to inuiron to the intent to defende one.
 Stips, vel stipis, pis, f. g. wages to men hyred, also money geuen to beggars.
 Stipem confert, it bringeth in gayne.
 Stipem spargere, to sowe money amonge people, to geue a largesse.
 Stipticus, a, um, that stoppeth.
 Stiptica medicamenta, which they that dooe bynde or restrayne.
 Stipula, la, f. g. holme, erige or strawe, apte to thatch houses, it is of some taken for y hush that closeth in the straw. also stubble of strawe lyes in the fildes after the coyne is reaped.
 Stipulatio, onis, a solemne covenant or greement made with wordes ordinarie and accustomed in the law: wherein he that is demaunded of an othe, answereth, that he well dooe or geue the thyng whiche is required, a bargayne or promise of obligation to paie money, or to paye fourme a thyng, whiche is required.
 Acceptam ferre stipulationem, to acquite or discharge one of a promise or couenaunt made to vs.
 Stipulatio nuda, a diminutive of Stipulatio.

Stipu-

Stipulator, oris, m. g. he that byndeth an other by requyryng or ashyng a thyng of hym: or he, of whom a thyng is required.
 Stipulatus, us, m. g. idem quod Stipulatio.
 Stipulor, aris, ari, to require or demande a thyng to be geuen to hym, or doone for hym, with the ordinarie and accustomed wordes of the law, to require afoze by couenaunt, to make a bargayne, to promise effectually that whiche he is required to dooe. it hath bothe the actiue and passiue signification. Stipulor abs te, I require of the, or I am required of the.
 Stiria, a, f. g. an isle of droppe of ise.
 Stiria, a countrey ioynyng to Austria and Carinthia in the east parte of Germanie, full of mountaynes, sayng a littell parte bozdyng on Thracia: the people be rude, and the women haue so great thotes by the corruption of the water and airc, that not onely they speche is let thereby, but (as some doe write) wher they geue sucke to their children, some be sayne to cast the bagges, whiche doe hange vnder their chynne, ouer their shoulders. In that countrey is plenty of iron and siluer, if the negligence of people dyd not let the spendyng thereof.
 Stircidium, di, n. g. the droppingg of a house.
 Stirpesco, scere, to growe to a stemme, to spryng vp.
 Stirpices, weeders in gardens.
 Stirpitus, an aduerbe, vp by the roote.
 Stirpo, aui, are, to pull vp by the roote.
 Stirps, stirpis, in the feminine gender, signifieth a stocke in kynrede: being the masculine gender, it signifieth the stemme of a tree or herbe.
 Stirpes, be also thowes that spryng or grow out of the rootes.
 Stirps quæstionis, id est, origo, fundamentum.
 Stirpe ad eum bona redierunt, the gooddes be fallen to hym, for that he is nexte of his kynne.
 Stiva, ux, f. g. is that in a plough, whiche the plough man holdeth when he doeth earre, the plough taylor.
 Stlara, la, f. g. gen. a bode shippe or bote, called an hulke.
 Stelarius, rij, m. g. he that conueigheth or carieth in such a vessel, or he that maketh them.
 Stelarius, a, um, that is brought or caried in such a vessel.
 Stilembus, bi, m. g. slow and heauy.
 Stilem, olde wyters used for stilem, variance.
 Stilitibus iudicandis, for stilibus iudicandis.
 Stilopus, pi, m. g. a soune made with the mouth when the thiches are blown.
 Siliotium, for lotium.
 Stio, steti, stare, to stande on the feete, it is also spoken of such thynges as haue no life, as shippes, riuers, &c. also to endure or abide, to continue in ones opinion, to take parte with one, to mainteyne ones quarell, to obey.
 Stare promisso, to abide by his promise, to kepe promise. to be full.

Stat ager sentibus, the fildes is full of brymbles.
 Iam puluere cælum stare vident, nowe saw they the skie full of duste. Also to be immouable or alwaie certayne.

Sic stat sententia, so the sentence abydeth immouable, or it is determined, or I am utterly determined appoynted or mynde.

Also stat, my mynde is.

Stat conferre manum Aeneæ, my mynde is to fight with Aeneas, or I am determined or appoynted, &c.

Stat, is set.

Omnis in Ascanio chari stat cura parentis, all the care of the tender lounge father was set on Ascanius.

Also stare, to cooke.

Neg ipse hoc periculum ignoro, expertus non leui documento, quæd steterit mihi, quod semel imparata non feci, neither am I ignorant of that daunger, haueyng experience of no light warnyng, howe muche it cooke me that I dyd not those thynges that I was commaunded.

Stare firmum, to stande faste.

Stat per me, per te, per illum, when I or any other is the cause that a thyng is not done.

Si poterit fieri, ut ne pater per me steterit credat, quo minus hæ fierent nuptiæ, volo, if it might be brought to passe, that my father maie thynke, that it was not long of me, that this marriage toke none effecte, I wolde it were so.

Stat a me, he is of myne opinion.

Stat apud te fides parum, thou art of a small credence, thou hast not kepte promise, or thou hast not done that thou promisedst.

In acie stare, to be in the fildes of cape redy currey boue to fight.

Statur, I stande here.

Stare & fugere, contrarie, to stande by it and flee awaie.

Stat a causa bonorum, he defendeth the quartell of godd men, or taketh parte with godd men.

A se potius quam ab aduersariis stare, to take parte with hym rather then his aduersaries.

Si steterit idem, if he dooe abyde still in the same mynde and purpose.

Quod non in æquo illis stemus, because we were not equall with them.

Siamus animis, yet we haue good courage, and doe not feare or despayre.

Animo stare and Decipere, contrarie.

Quo satis certo auctore stetur, to whom a man might truste, or whom a man might beleue as a sure and credible author.

Conditionibus & conuentis stare, to kepe all conditions and couenantes.

Cum is contra populi studium steterit, when he had withstand or resist the peoples purpose or mynde.

Stare a mendacio contra verum, to mainteyne a false lie against the trouthe.

Cum

Cum illo hand stares, thou woldst not take part with hym or defende hym.

Decreto senatus stare, to obey the ordinaunce of the Senate.

In inde non stetit, he kept not promise.

Ad finem stare, id est, durare, to continue to
the ende.

Stare tabulae dictus, when it doneth please the audience.

Inductio alicuius stare, to sticke to ones iudge-ment, to beleeue one more then other.

Melior loco stare, to be in better state and condicion.

Et omnes stant sententia, they all be of that opinion, or bide and sticke to that opinion.

Magno mihi stetit, it coste me much, I bought it deere.

Quam in senatu pulcherrime staretur, when the matter went very well with vs in the senate.

Stebe, bes, f. ge. a certayne herbe, whiche hath stake and leaues pricked, and groweth onely in watric groundes.

Stoeades, thre likes in the frenche sea agaynst Languedocke.

Stoeas, cadis, an herbe and flour, commonly called stendos.

Stoeas Arabica, commonly called of apothecaries Stucades Arabica, the one and the other prefereth clothes from mothes, if it be laied among them.

Stokes, lyke a stroke.

Stoici, a secte of philosophers, whiche affirmed, that no greife might happen to a wise man, &
that felicitie was onely in vertue.

Stoici, a, um, of the stoikes.

Stola, f. ge. a womans gowne. it was also a long garment, which the princes of Persia did use: and was the onely garment of honour, as we see call such apparate a robe.

Stolatus, a, um, that weareth such a robe, also it maie be called honourable, also honest, or that becometh an honest matrone.

Stolidus, foolishly, lewedly.

Stolidus, a, um, foolishly, lewde of condicions, odious.

Stolo, a citeyn of Rome.

Stolo, onis, m. ge. a branche, whiche spryngeth out of the stemmes or rootes of trees.

Stomaca, ex, f. m. gen. a well in Germanie, or rather a disease, that the drynking of that water breedeth.

Stomachus, antis, om. gen. angrie, moued, furmyng.

Stomachicus, a, um, that is sicke in his stomake.
also that hath the nature of strengthe to open.

Stomachor, aris, m. ge. to haue indignation, to be wroth in mynde, to be angrie and moued, to be in a great fume.

Mecum stomachabar, I was angrie, or in a fume with my selfe.

Stomachose, angrely, hatefully, disdainfully.

Stomachosus, a, um, disdainous, soone moued to indignation and displeasure, that is quickly
angrie.

Res stomachosa, a thyng that breedeth anger and despite.

Stomachus, chi, m. gen. the pipe, whereby meate goeth downe. it is also that whiche is called Ventriculus, wherunto we haue none other name but the stomake. Somtyme it signifieth indignation, vehement wrath, hatred, and abhorring of a thyng that liketh vs not. Somtyme facilitie or gentleness, the mynde, will, or apapetite of a man, that abhorreth or detesteth in a thyng.

Stomachi dissolutio, vomite.

Resolutio stomachi, when the stomake letteth the meate passe without concoction and nourishing of the body.

Laborare stomacho, to bee diseased in the sto-mache.

Mei stomachi haec est natura, this is the nature of my mynde, appetite or facion.

Ludi apparatissimi, sed non mi stomachi, but not such as you woulde haue: but such as you doe not desire in.

Stomacho suo viuere, to liue after his owne fantasie or mynde.

Argumentum huius stomachi mei habebis,
of myne honestie or gentleness of mynde.
Bonum stomachum, Marialis pro aequitate animi posuit.

Ex bono sane stomacho contenti sunt, and they be contented with the good will of mynde of the persone.

Ve scires me in stomacho solere ridere, To laugh when I am displeased and wrath.

Epistola plena stomachi & querelatum, a lettre full of indignation and complaints of quarrelling.

Stomachum facere and mouere, to moue, to make angrie and wrath, to doe a despite.

Stomacho esse dicuntur aliqui, that maketh one moued and wrath.

Ne in me stomachum euipant, that they maie not utter theyr malice and anger agaynst me.

Stomatikus, a, um, that hath a soze in the mouth.

Stomoma, matis, neu. ge. a hynde of powder or dust, that cometh from braille in meltinges and tryng.

Storax, racis, a sweete intence of gumme, whiche is also called Syrax, wherof be two kyndes:
the one is called Storax calamita, the other Storax liquida.

Storea, x, f. g. any thyng that is spreadde on the grounde. it is also a matre.

Strabo, a learned man, whiche wrote of Geographie.

Strabo, bonis, m. ge. he that toketh a squinte, or gogle eie.

Strag

Strages, gis, f. g. a daughter of men, or a discom-fure, a multitude of men slayne.

Strage dare & edere, to see a great multitude of men.

Stragona, a cite of Germanie.

Stragula, lx, f. g. and Stragulum, li, n. g. euerp ouermost garment, any couering that is layed vpon a bedde, horse or other thyng, a counterpoint.

Stragula vestis, a counterpointe, a countied.

Stranen, straminis, n. g. strawe, litter.

Stramentum, ti, n. g. idem.

Stramentarius, a, um, that is made of strawe.

Stramineus, a, um, of strawe.

Strangulatio, onis, f. g. stranglyng, choklyng, stoppyng.

Strangulatus, us, m. g. idem.

Strangulatus, a, um, strangled, choked.

Strangulo, aui, are, to strangle, to choke, to thrattill.

Strangulare segetes dicitur terrae latria.

Stranguria, x, f. g. difficultie to pisse, the strangurie.

Strategema, or Strategema, matis, n. g. a polis-tic or wise counsell in warres.

Strategia, a capitaine shippe, a gouernynge of soules diours.

Strategus, gi, m. g. a generall capitayne of an armie.

Stratiotes, tis, masc. ge. a man of warre. also an herbe, whiche John Agricola saith, is our mil-foyle of parowe.

Stratioticus, a, um, warrelike, pertainynge to warres.

Stratus, a, um, idem.

Stratus, the name of one of Restors sonnnes.

Stratiphocles, a mannes name.

Strato, the name of diuers noble lerned men.

Strator, oris, m. g. he that helpeth his maister to horsebacke, yroman of the scroppe.

Stratum, ti, n. g. any thyng that is strawed. also a bedde.

Strata, all that is laied on the bedde. also a horse
harnes, a strete or causey paved with stone.

Stratimino, aui, are, to pause.

Stratura, x, f. g. pauping of causes or waies.

Stratus, a, um, spread abode, couered, paved.

Via strata, a causey.

Strebula, in the olde tongue of Ambry, was a peece of the fleshe, that was offered in sacrifice.

Strena, nx, f. g. a newe pices geste or present.

Strenue, baliantly, quickly, boldly, with a cour-rage, manly, with great diligence.

Strenuitas, atis, f. g. actiuitie.

Strenuus, a, um, baliant, prompt, actiue, bolde, lieger, doughty, stout.

Strenuum hominem praeiuit, he plaied the hardy man, he shewed him selfe a man.

Facies strenua, a manly and baliant countenance.

Strépiro, aui, are, to make a noyse often, to make a great noyse.

Strépius, us, m. g. a noyse made with the handes or feete, a creakyng, a crashyng. also the trayne or company that goeth with a noble man.

Streptus vitæ, portynesse of lyfynge.

Strepo, pui, pere, to make a great noyse, propied ly in goyng or clappynge of handes: somtyme generally: somtyme to mutter or murmur.

Strephiceron, certayne beastes in Africke, hauinge croked hoznes.

Seria, x, f. ge. a rebbat or small furrow made in stone or tumber, chamferynge: after Vitruuius description Seria seemeth to bee the boltell of thyng that riseth vp betwene the two chanelles, and Strix the chanel it selfe of chamferynge.

Striatius, a, um, chamfered, chanelled, wrought inwarde.

Striata frons, a frownyng forehead.

Striatifolia, leaues, in which creases or small lines are seen.

Stribligo, lignis, f. g. a vicious fourme in spearlyng, where the wooddes agree not, and the partes of speche be out of order.

Striblita, headde made lyke to ropes or cordes wounden.

Strichnos, called also Solanum, the herbe called night shade or petie morell.

Stricte, strictly.

Strictim, thortely touched one after an other in few wooddes.

Strictim referre, to reposer muche in fewe
wooddes.

Strictim attondere, to clippe all at ones.

Strictior, tius, more stricte.

Strictissimus, a, um, most stricte.

Strictinella, a foule ill fauoured harlotte.

Strictius, a, um, that is gathered or cropped of
with the hande.

Strictius olea, olives gathered with mans hande.

Strictura, ra, f. ge. a sparke, whiche dooeth issue from mettall, when it is taken out of the fyre and beaten with hammers. also yron ooze.

Strictus, a, um, stricte. also drawen out as a twoorde is.

Strictus gladius, a twoorde drawen.

Stridens, entis, makynge a noyse

Strideo, dui, dère, & Strido, dis, dère, to crash or make a noyse lyke to cordes, whan they be drawen.

Stridon, a towne in Dalmatia, where sancte Ihsu-crome was bozne.

Stridor, oris, m. g. a noyse, a crashyng, a gnashing.

Stridor pennæ, the flutteryng of a feather.

Stridulus, a, um, that maketh a crashyng or noyse.

Striga, gæ, f. g. a rewe of thynges when they be laied in lengthe. Also a ridge of lande, wherof cometh Strigatus ager.

Striges, gis, a kynde of corne.

Strigia, wyde garments made of leather, bled in warres

warres.
Strigilis, li, f. g. an hore combe. also a lyke in strumment made of golde, syluer, yron or stone, that men used in bairnyng to rubbe filthe from their bodies, as they doe now kerchiefes. also a thynge, wherewith wastlers bairde their bodies, when they had wastled. also a certayne vessel. Strigiles, were rubbing robes made of sweete woadde, wherewith in India the men were rubbed for an exercise. Also kerchiefes, wherewith wastlers after their labours wiped their bodies. also pieces of fine golde foude in mines vnnurte with any other matter. also herell fishes, most commonly taken in winter tyme. also chanelles in imbowed woikes.

Strigilecula, a diminutiue of Strigilis.

Strigilo, aut, are, to streigne harde.

Strigium, gij, n. g. a spanishe garmente.

Strigimentum, ii, n. g. filthynesse, whiche cometh from a mans body, when he is washed. it may be used for a trussing poynte.

Strigimentum olei, the filthe of oyle rubbed or scraped of wastlers bodies, wherewith they were annointed.

Strigmenta, bee sometyne the parynges of cuttymbers of such lyke fruite.

Strigo, gónis, m. g. a well pight man, or well compacte and stronge.

Strigósus, a, um, carraigne leane, it is properly spoken of hoxes or routhier beastes.

Strigosus orator, a barraine orator, that hath no pleasantnesse of grace in his style, or that is void of all god matter or pleasant eloquence.

Strimon, onis, a river in Thracia.

Stringo, strinxi, gere, to streigne or wyngge, to trusse. also to strike, to make thynne in cutting, to gather, to shawe, to wounde.

Stringere ensen, to draw a twoorde.

Stringe me, trusse me.

Denus stringunt frondes, id est amputant, rursus refaciunt.

Stringere arbores, to prune trees.

Stringere lauri baccas, to plucke or gather with the handes.

Stringere ripas, to touche in passing or flowing by, to beate againste.

Hunc primum leuis hasta strinxerat, id est, vulnerauerat.

Strio, aut, are, to make rebattes, chanelles or hamferwynges in stone or ymber. also to make furrowes. it is also when beastes in earpyng at the ende of a furrowe turne to make a new furrowe: some dooe call it, to wynde.

Stritauus, olde wyters used for Tritauus, my grandfatheres grandfather.

Stritocellus, a sparroe, whiche haunteth the sea coste.

Strix, strigis, f. g. a sphecoule, a witch that chaungeth the fauour of children, the hegge or fairie. also a chanel in rabatpyng of pillours, also Striges are grosse herbes or wooytes.

Stróbilus, li, f. g. a pyne appull. sometyne the kernelles of fruite. also a hynde of wyld pine trees. also a certayne thistle, which hath a head or knappe in facion lyke a pyne appull. also Stróbilus in latine, signifieth Cochlea.

Strobilus, bl, f. g. a tree, wherof perfumes were made, mixte with the wyne of dates, whiche perfume was sweete, but it made the heade brayn, albe it without any pyne.

Stroma, strómaris, neu. ge. tapestry, any thyng spread on the grounde, or vnderneath a thyng.

Strombon, a kinde of Labdanum.

Strombus, br, m. g. a shell fysh of the sea, which haue a tug, whom they follow: it was thought sometyne, that he whiche had seen that fysh, shoulde haue good lucke in his affaires.

Strongyle, les, and Strongylos, an ile in the sea Aegeum, now called Axos: sometyne it was called Dia.

Strophia, phia, f. g. subtilitee in arguynge, a wayly deccite.

Strophas, a whetlyng or sodaine turning.

Strophades, two illes in the Greke sea.

Strophariarius, ri, he that maketh garlandes.

Strophium, phii, n. g. a garlande, which pillers were wont to weare: a maidens neckerche of linnen particlete.

Stropholum, li, n. g. a littell garlande.

Strophius, a hyng of Phoris.

Strophos, freetyng in the bowels.

Strúctilis, le, made of many peeces, or of diuers thynges.

Strúctiles columnæ, pillours made of diuers peeces.

Structor, óris, m. ge. a caruer or sewer at the table, or rather a maister cooke. also a builder, a carpenter or mason.

Strúctura, ra, f. g. buildyng, setting of thynges in good order.

Strúctus, a, um, set in order, builded, made.

Strues, is, f. g. a pile of woadde. also a cake.

Strufectari, to carie cakes to the temple to be offered, as they dooe now carie the holy lofe on the sondaye.

Strufetarij, they that did sacrifice at the trees that were burneth with lightninge.

Strufetani, they that brought meale to be offered.

Struices, an ordynance of many thynges to gether.

Struma, a mans name in Latullus.

Struma, ma, f. ge. a swellinge within the throte whiche is gathered matter and bloudde. Some thinke it to be that, whiche is called the hynges euell.

Strumea, an herbe, whiche beggars vse to make their fleshe rawe. it is the fourth hynde of Ranunculus.

Strumósus, a, um, that hath the kynges euell.

Strumum, a medicine or plaister for the kynges euell.

Struo, struxi, struere, to sette in order, facion or arrae, to builde, to make a frame: by translation,

tion, to imagine or go about to do a thyng.

Aggeres struere, To make canals or buld warres.

Fercula luxuriose struere, to make sumptuous feastes.

Mendacium struere, to forge a lye.

Orationem solutam struere, to write in prose.

Verba struere, to set his woordes in order.

Num me sefellic hosce id struere, was I deceyued when I saide these felowes went about such a thyng.

Struebantur qui monerent perfugere, id est, instruebantur.

Aciei struere, to set souldiours in arrae of bataille.

Conuulsa struere, to make feastes.

Crimen alicui struere, to imagine some great fault to laie to ones charge: to go about to accuse one falsely of some hagnous offence.

Insidias alicui struere, to laie an ambushment to attrappe one: by translacon to go about to deceyue, to wooke wiles with one.

Medicina struitur dolori, a medicine, or remedy is prepared for that greefe.

Odium struere in aliquo, to go about to bring one in hatred and displeasure of men.

Opes struere, to heape by riches, to gather riches.

Perculum ruinæ struere, to wooke meanes to make one haue a fall.

Bellum struitur, prouision is made for warre.

Consilia struere, to consulte and take aduises ment.

Struere ignem, to make a fire.

Strupearia, holy daies amonge the people called Phalisci, at the whiche daie the people doe go with garlandes on their heades.

Struppum, is a lyke holy dape amonge the people called Tusculani.

Struppi, were littell wythes made of leaues, put on the heades of images in the temples, as now superstitious foolles dooe set on images heades in the churches.

Struthus, the priute membe of a man.

Struthia mala, and Struthiomela, a certayne hynde of quinces.

Struthio camelus, li, m. g. an ostriche.

Struthio, onis, idem.

Struthion, an herbe and roote, called of apothecaries Condisi.

Struthium, thij, a sparoe.

Struthopus, a round fote like a sparoe.

Struthopedes, they which haue littell round feet.

Strychnus, an herbe, which maketh men madde that eat of it.

Strychnum bibit, a pourcebe, signifiyng the man is madde.

Strychnon, ni, n. g. an herbe, called nightshade, rebe Solanum and solarium.

Strymon, strýmonis, a ryuer of Thrace.

Strýmonius, a, um, of that ryuer.

Studeo, dui, dère, to studie, to applie the minde, or care for a thyng, to endeuour, to fauour, to desyre, to geue his diligence, to geue his mynde or affection to a thyng, to goe about, to haue a desire or mynd, to phantasie.

Studit Catiline, he fauoured Catiline, or toke part with Catiline.

Dum studeo verba dare nobis, while thou dost endeuour or goe about to beggyle vs.

Studeo ex te audire, I wold faine here of you.

Studet meus audire Cicero, my Cicero hath a great mynde, desyre, or phantasie to here.

Nouis rebus studebat, he induciore or went about to trouble the common weale: or to haue a mutation or alteration of the common weale.

Studet elegantia, he inducioreth to be nete and minion, he geueth his mynde to be trimme and clemp.

Artibus & literis studere, to geue his studie and mynde to learning.

Laudi & dignitati studere, to couette pryse and honour.

Studere pecuniæ, to geue his mynd to get money.

Student magis mellificiis, they labour more to make honny.

Minus has res studeant, they woulde desyre or couette those thynges the lesse, they woulde fantasie these thynges the lesse.

Vnum sentitis omnes, vnum studetis, you all be of one mynde, you desyre all one thyng.

In id solum student, they labour or induciore this onely.

Studiose, studiously, despyously, diligently, with diligence and affection of the mynde.

Studiofus, a, um, studious, diligent, constant, aduice or frequently disposed. also that fauoureth or toucheth, that setteth or geueth his mynde to a thyng, despyous of learning, that hath a great desyre of a thyng.

Studiofus literarum, a studious person and geuen to learning.

Studiofa quaestio, id est, literata & docta.

Studiofus laudis, despyous of pryse.

Studiofus Caesaris, Caesars friende, one that fauoureth or loueth Cesar.

Pila studiofi, that haue a great desire to plaie at the ball.

Venandi studiofi, geuen to hunting.

Tui similibus studiofi sunt, they fauour and loue such men as you be.

Mei studiofissimus, my great friende, and that loueth me exceedingly.

Nobilitatis studiofus, that fauoureth the part of the nobilitie.

Studium, dii, n. g. an earnest bendyng or setting of the mind on a thyng, a great affection or desire that one hath to do a thyng good or ill, as die: sometyne exerceffe, endeuoir, will or appetite, fantasie, desire, diligence, labour, fauour, loue. sometyne a thyng that one fantasie.

Scin-

Scinditur incertum studia in contraria vulgus, the vnstedfast people was diuided in diuers opinions.

Viris esse aduersas æque studium est, they all haue lyke desyre of delite to ouerthwarte theyr husbandes.

Tantum fuit in militibus studium, the souldiers had so great an affection of desyre.

Quibus militia in studio est, which haue a desyre of delite to exercise them selfe in warre.

In quibus est studium, which haue a desyre to lerne.

Studium tuum in me, your good will of affection towards me.

Quam meum studium fuerit dignitatis tue tuenda, how great an affection of desyre I had to maintaine your honour.

Tui vnus studio me esse qui posse confido, I truste surely that I maie attaine it by your ones ly diligence and labour.

Quo studio vitam transegerit, in what occupation of exercise he hath ledde his life.

Verfari in studio literarum, to be exercised of occupied in the studie of lernynge.

Efferor studio videndi, I haue a verie earnest desyre to see.

Studio accusari, to accuse of blame of affectio. Quam iniquus es præ studio? howe vncasable pe are for affection.

Studio reipublicæ dixisse, that he spake it of a good affection, fauour, of loue that he bare towards the common weale.

Acquirere studia vulgi, to gette the fauour of the common people.

Disimili studio est, his mind affection of fantastic is geuen to other thynges.

Studione id sibi habere, hath he a delite of pleasure in it is it a pleasure to hym?

Stulte, foolishly, vnwisely.

Stulte arrogans, foolishly proude.

Stultiloquus, a, f. m. g. and Stultiloquum, qui, neu. gen. a foolishly babbling, foolishly talker.

Steniloquus, he that talketh of speaketh foolishly.

Stulticia, a, folle, foolishnesse.

Stultus, a, um, that dooeth a thyng vnadvisedly or without discrecion, foolishly.

Stultior Morichio, he that neglecteth his own busynesse at home, and applyeth other mens as brode. it is also a prouerbe, touchynge them, which doe thynges that cause them to be laughed to scorn.

Stultior Chorocho, a prouerbe, applyed to folles, which wil assaie to do a thyng that is aboue their wit of lernynge, for Chorocho was a folowe, that assaied to numbre the waues of the sea, whan he hym self coude not tell any numbre aboue five.

Stultorum feria, was a tyme in the moneth of februarye, that folles kepte holy, folles holy base.

Stupa, or Styra, pa, f. m. gen. towe, of hydes, the course parte of flore.

Stuparius, a, um, belongynge to tow.

Stuparius malleus, the hammer, wherewith calshars doe beate tow into shippes of boies.

Stupéficio, pefacis, feci, facere, to make asstonied, or to cause to meruaile, or be abashed.

Stupéfactus, a, um, astonied.

Stupéfio, I am astonied of abashed.

Stupens, entis, astonied, amazed, in great admiration.

Stupéo, pui, pere, to be astonied, to be amazed of dismaied. Sometime to meruaile at, to be in a great admiration.

Stupere aliquem, to wonder at one, to haue one in great admiration.

Stupentia vel stupida membra, the members which haue losse all their sense of feeling.

Stupesco, scere, to become astonied of amazed.

Stupeus, a, um, of hydes, of tow.

Stupiditas, áris, f. g. idem quod stupor.

Stupidus, a, um, dismaied, abashed, astonied: also to he that feeleth nothyng, or lacketh his senses. Sometime foolyshe, he that perceyueh nothyng that is doen.

Stupor, pōris, ma. ge. abasement, the lodeyne priuation of sense of feeling, astonyng of the mynde, that one perceyueh not what is doen.

Suprator, óris, m. g. an aduoutier.

Supre, dishonestly, shamefully.

Supro, aui, are, to commit auoutrie of rape, or to deflowre a virgin.

Suprosus, a, um, corrupte, geuen to aduoutrie and hoordome.

Suprum, pri, n. ge. auoutrie of defozation of a virgin, hoordome.

Facere stuprum cum aliqua, to committe auoutrie with one.

Inferre stuprum virgini, to rauish a maiden.

Illicere in stuprum, to intice to naughtynesse.

Stura, an ile against the mouth of Cyber.

Sturnus, ni, m. ge. a hynde of byrdes that lye in flocks, called a sterling, or a flare.

Styga, a fenne in Egypte not farre from the citee of Memphis.

Stygus, a, um, perceyng to Styx, the greate fenne.

Stylis, lis, a littell pillour.

Stylóbata, bax, f. m. gener. a trowe of tymbre, wherin water renneth, or is conueighed into a cistene.

Stylus, li, m. gene. a pillour sharpe towards the toppe, also an instrumente to write in tables.

Also a style, which is qualitee of woordes in speakynge. Sometime harde, sometime easie, sometime in a meane: also an elegant fourme of order in writynge or speakynge. Also any thyng made of iron, tymbre, or other matier, sharpe lyke a pillour.

Stylus, is sometime used for Stolo, a shoote, that that spryngeth out of a tree.

Symma, matis, n. g. the grosse of thiske mattlee of any openement.

Symphalides aues, byrdes supposed to bee so bigge, that they shadowe all the conne beames, whiche wasteth the countrey of Arcadie.

Symphalius, a, um, of Symphalus.

Symphalus, a riuier of poole of Arcadie.

Symphalum, a towne by the said poole of Arcadie.

Syrax, ácis, mascu. gene. a soote gumme called Storax, wherof be two kyndes, the one is called Storax calamita, the other Storax liquida, whiche is Staete. also a tree, out of the whiche that gumme issueth.

Sytx, signifyeth sorowe of heavynesse, poetes doe feygne, that it is a fenne of riuier in hell, by the whiche the goddes used to sweare: in dede it is a well of Arcadie, the water wherof is a verie stronge popson, so extreme colde, that nothyng can conteepe it, but the house of a mule.

S Vada, a, f. m. gen. called in Greke Pitho, was called the goddesse of eloquence of disertable speche.

Suadela, la, f. g. persuasion, faire speche.

Suadeo, si, dère, to speake faire, to treatate with fayre woordes, to endeuoure to induce a man into our opinion, or to beleue vs, to exhort, to counsaile.

Legem suadere, to shewe reasons to men why they shoulde admytte a lawe.

Pacem suadere, to exhort to peace.

Sualternicum, ci, n. g. a hynde of amber, which is pelowe, wherof beades be made, and is called laumbe.

Suamet, the ablative case of Sua, with the addicion met.

Suapte, of his owne nature.

Suarius, ri, m. g. a swyne herbe.

Suarius, a, um, belongynge to swyne.

Suasibilis, le, that maie be persuaded.

Suasibiliter, an aduerbe, significyng in maner to persuade.

Suasio, ónis, f. gen. an exhortation, a motion of persuasion.

Suasor, fóris, masc. gen. he that dooeth exhort, he that indouoreth to induce an other to his opinion.

Suasorius, a, um, that petteineth to exhortynge or counsaile.

Suasum, si, n. ge. every colour, that maie be turned into an other colour.

Suauē, idem quod, Suauiter.

Suauitatio, ónis, a sweete lyfynge.

Suauitator, óris, m. g. he that lyfeth sweetely.

Suauidicus, a, um, that speaketh pleasantly.

Suauiloquētia, a, f. m. g. sweets and pleasaunte speache.

Suauiloquium, qui, n. g. a sweete speche.

Suauiolum, li, n. g. a littell lyffe.

Suauilaquus, a, um, and Suauiloquens, entis, that speaketh sweetely.

Suatum, lyke a fowle.

Suuior, áris, ari, to lisse sweetely, or for ioye.

Suauis, suauē, sweete in taste, soote in odour of smell: in a man it signifyeth gentyl of course taste, pleasaunt.

Suauitas, áris, f. g. sweetenesse, pleasauntnesse.

Suauiter, sweetely.

Suauitudo, dins, f. g. idem quod suauitas.

Suauium, or Suuium, ui, n. g. a wanton lyffe.

Suauium dare, to lyffe.

Suauium sumere, to lyffe.

Suauium facere, idem.

Suauium, and Suuium, sweete herbe.

Sub, vnder, by, or about.

Sub idem tempus, in the same tyme, or about the same tyme.

Sub horam pugna, about the tyme of the battaile.

Sub eas autem redditæ sunt, for they were deuolued after them.

Sub sarcinis, with the trusses, fardels or carriage.

Sub vesperum, in the tyme lyght.

Sub vesperum Cæsar portas claudi, milites ex oppido exire iussit, in the tyme lyght Cæsar commanded the gates to bee shutte, and the men of warre to depart out of the citee.

Sub Alexandro, in the tyme of Alexander.

Sub aduentu or aduentum, at the tyme of at the poynt of his arrivall or comynge.

Sub exitu vitæ, at his deathe, a littell before his death.

Sub manu, at hande.

Sub oculis, in his presence.

Sub vrbe, harde by the citee.

Sub lucem, at the breake of daye, by daye lyght.

Sub finem, at the ende.

Potes sub ipsos, afore the postes.

Sub manu habere, to haue in hande.

Sub manu esse, to be at hande or redy.

Sub manu, after hand, forthwith.

Sub manus, easily, handesomely.

Bono animo es, negotium omne iam succedit sub manus, he of god there, all the matier cometh to passe handesomely.

Lepide hoc succedit sub manus negotiū, this matier cometh well and easily to passe.

Sub iugum mitti, to bee subdued. It was prophely whan a battaile was banquished, the vanquishers caused thre speares to be set by lyke a galowes, and constrained them that were banquished to goe vnderneath it, in token that they were subdued: which was the greatest reproche that might be deuised.

Sub postquam literas ad te dedi, id est, statim postquam, by and by after, incontinent as.

Xxx Sub

Sub ea conditione, on that condition.
 Sub dio, abzode in the ayre, without couert.
 Sub ipsa die, about the same date.
 Sub specie pacis, vnder the colour of pretence of peace.
 Non itatim sub mentionem, not incontinent, or by and by after it was spoken of.
 Subabsurdus, a, um, somewhat absurde or contrarie to reason.
 Subabsurde, somewhat absurdely, somewhat for itself.
 Subaccuso, aui, are, to accuse or blame some what.
 Subacidulus, a, um, a littell sower.
 Subacidus, a, um, somewhat eyger or sower.
 Subactio, ónis, f. m. gen. exercise, labouring of a thyng.
 Subactus, a, um, constrained, subdued, byuen vnder, kneaded or wrought with handes, as dowe is laboured, exercised.
 Subactum ingenium, a witte well exercised.
 Subatus, us, m. ge. idem quod Subactio, ónis, the appetite of steering to generation in twine.
 Subaratus, a, um, that whiche is brasse within and other metall without.
 Subaratum aurum, brasse within and golde without.
 Subatro, aui, are, to myngle with brasse.
 Subagito, aui, are, to sollicite, also to grope or be busie with one, to haue to doe with a woman.
 Subagito blandis & benedictis verbis, I sollicitated with saype and well spoken wordes.
 Subagrestis, re, somewhat rude, or vncurteise, lacking civilltee.
 Subaláris, re, that whiche is vnder the winges.
 Subalbicus, aui, are, to be somewhat white.
 Subalbidus, a, um, somewhat white.
 Subalpinus, a, um, that is vnder the Alpes.
 Subalpini, people vnder the mountaines Alpes called Decemmontanes.
 Subalternatio, a succession by tourne.
 Subalternus, aui, are, to succede by tourne.
 Subamarus, a, um, somewhat bitter.
 Subaquatus, a, um, & Subaqueus, that whiche lyeth vnder the water.
 Subaquilus, a, um, somewhat byowen of colour.
 Subare, is spoken of women, whiche are as filthy as swyne in the acte of lecherie.
 Subareo, & Subarefco, fere, to be or waxe some what drie.
 Subargutus, a, um, somewhat subtile, somewhat shytle.
 Subaratio, ónis, f. g. an earpyng vnderneath.
 Subarator, óris, m. g. he that eareth vnderneath.
 Subaro, aui, are, to care vnder.
 Subarrogans, anis, somewhat arrogant or proud.
 Subarroganter, somewhat proudly.
 Subasper, somewhat sharpe.
 Subaudito, tui, ire, to heare or perceiue a littell.
 Subausculto, aui, are, to heken a littell.
 Subbasilicanus, a, um, that walketh vnder the place where iudgements are practised.

 Subbibo, bibi, bibere, to drinke a littell, to suppe.
 Subbutco, a handle of halles, called a ringe taile.
 Sublandior, iris, iri, to flatter a littell.
 Subcaulus, a, um, somewhat blew.
 Subcalidus, a, um, somewhat hotte, warme.
 Subcandidus, a, um, somewhat white.
 Subcenturio, ónis, f. g. a pette capitaine.
 Subcernicula, lx, f. ge. a fine boulder, wherewith the flour is leuered from the branne.
 Subcerniculum, i, n. g. a rapenynge sieue.
 Subcineritius, a, um, rosted or baken vnder the ashes or embers.
 Subcingulum, li, n. g. a braspynge gyddle.
 Subcilius, a, um, idem quod Succilius.
 Subcilia tempora, tymes borrowed or spared from serious busynesse.
 Subcilia opera, workes done at tymes stolen from ordinarie busynesse or labours necessarye.
 Subcerno, aui, are, to make a short supper, also to suppe vnder.
 Subcollo, laui, lare, to late a thyng vnder ones necke.
 Subcontumeliose, somewhat dispittfully, somewhat tauntingly, or rigorously.
 Subcontumeliosus, a, um, somewhat spitefull and outrageous in wordes.
 Subcrefco, idem quod Succrefco.
 Subcrispus, a, um, that hath a head somewhat curled.
 Subcrūdus, a, um, halfe rawe, not throughtly boiled.
 Subcruentus, a, um, somewhat bloddie.
 Subcurator, óris, m. g. he that hath the charge of a thyng vnder on other.
 Subcustos, rōdis, m. g. an vnder keeper.
 Subcuratus, a, um, that whiche is within the skynne, betweene the skynne and the fleshe.
 Subdebilitatus, a, um, somewhat weakened.
 Subdelego, aui, are, to committe to an other any matter, whiche is committed vnto vs by the kyng or prince.
 Subdialia, places to walke in without any coueryng.
 Subdialis, le, abzode in þ ayre, without the house.
 Subdiales inambulationes, open walkes.
 Subdifficilis, le, somewhat difficulte or harde.
 Subdio, that is not in a house or vnder couerynge.
 Subditarius, a, um, whiche is not properly his or hers, whose it is leigned to be, a changelynge, that is put or laced in the place of an other.
 Partus subditarius or subditus, a birth leigned of an other mans child.
 Libri subditij, booke with false titles of countrefaite auctours.
 Subditus, a, um, idem quod Subditarius.
 Subditus, a, um, subiect, put or set vnder, countrefaite or set in the place of an other.
 Subditus index, a iudge that is set in the place of a iudge that is departed.

Subdin,

Subdin, in the date tyme.
 Subdo, didi, ere, to put vnder, to adde, to putte in the place of an other, to put in leoperdie or daunger.
 Subdere in locum alterius, to remoue one, and put an other in his place.
 Calcitra subdere, to thruste to the spures.
 Puerum subdere, to change a childe, whiche childe is called commonly changelinges.
 Subdere spiritus, to geue one courage, or to make one proude or stately.
 Stimulos subdere, to pricke forward.
 Subdere sub solum, to put or burie vnder the grounde.
 Subdere boues iugo, to yoke oxen.
 Ignem ac materiam seditionis subdere, to encrease, augment, and set forward a sedition.
 Reum subdere, to accuse.
 Subdoceo, subdoces, cul, ere, to teache some what, to teache meanelly.
 Subdole, craftily, cautously, wilyly, disceitfully.
 Subdolos, a, um, that deceiveth craftily, cautouse, full of disceites and wyles, deceitfull.
 Subdubie, somewhat doubtfully.
 Subdubitanter, idem.
 Subdubitatio, ónis, f. g. a littell doubt.
 Subdubito, aui, are, to doubt somewhat, to be halfe in doubt.
 Subdubius, a, um, somewhat in doubt or vncertaine.
 Subduco, duxi, ere, to take awaie, to plucke or drawe awaie, to remoue, to lifte vp, to drawe vp, to geue or steale awaie priuily, to conuiege awaie priuily, to put vnder, to pull backe, to drawe backe, to deceiue, to steale.
 Etiam nunc me subducere istis dictis postulas and yet nowe witte thou goe about with these wordes to deceiue me?
 Tempus est subducere hinc me, it is tyme to get me hence.
 Vires subducere, to make weake or feeble.
 Scillinc subducet, he will get awaie, or conuiege hym selfe from thence.
 Voluptatum calculis subductis, praelium incunt? do they reckon or cōpt how much plasure they shall haue whan they enter into battaile?
 Quae subducere colles incipiunt, where the hills beginne to wape lower.
 Lac agnis subducere, to steale the milke from the lambes, to milke the goewes before the lambes doe sucke.
 Cibum subducere, to kepe one from meate, or to take ones meate from hym.
 Subducere numerum stellarum, to number the sterres.
 Subducere copias in collem, to bynge the hoste by to the hill.
 Naues subducere, to draw ships to the lande.
 Aliquem subducere dictis, to deceiue one.
 Subducere se custodiæ, to steale out of prison.
 Succum subducere spiritu, to sucke or draw vp.

Subductū omnibus ventis ædificium, the house is set for all maner of wyndes.
 Subducere rationes, to examine the charges with allowances in accompt.
 Subducere summa, to make a rekenyng, or to cast the summe in an accompt or rekenyng.
 Subductarius, a, um, that wherewith any thyng is lifted or haunced vp.
 Subductio, ónis, f. ge. a drawynge by of a shippe out of the water, deduction or allowaunce, an accompt, a byngynge by to an high place.
 Subdulcis, ce, somewhat sweete.
 Subdūro, aui, are, to make somewhat harde.
 Subduror, subdurari, to bee made somewhat harde.
 Subedo, edi, edere, to weare away, to eate away vnderneath, as the water consumeth awaie the foote of a roche or stone walle.
 Subeo, iui, ire, to enter, to suffere or suffeigne, to enterpryse, to goe vnder or in, to take, also to succede, to come in the place of an other, to resiste, to clyme or mounte by, to ascende by, also to take charge of any thyng, also to growe or sprynge by, to come to remembraunce, to put vnder, to answer.
 Qui retinendi officij causa cruciatus subierit vitro, he that will for the accomplisment of his duittie, suffere tourmentes willingly.
 Quis enim curæ tuæ molem sponte subeat? who woulde willingly take on hym the greates weight of thy charge?
 Sera pœnitentia subiit regem, late repentance came to the kynges remembraunce.
 Aeneas subiit mucronem, ipsūq; morando sustinuit, Aeneas put vnder his swoorde, and taryng lifted hym vp.
 In quarum locum subierunt inquilinae, impietas, perfidia, impudicitia, in whose place succeeded new inhabitants, contempte of vertue, disloyalte, lecherie.
 Hemi excelsas sex millibus passuum subitur, the height of the mountaine of Iemus, is the med of mounted in six thousande paces.
 Tectum subire, to enter or come into the house.
 Subire ad montes, to goe from the vale by to the hills.
 Vultu alicuius subire, to come before ones face.
 Spes animū subibat, I or he trusted or hoped.
 Subeunt morbi, sicknesses doe come.
 Subire aliquid, to take charge of any thyng.
 Cōditiones pacis subire, to accorde vnto peace.
 Deditionem subire, to render by a garrison besegged.
 Fortunam subire, to abyde the aduerture, or put all in an hasarde.
 Labores subire, to take paine.
 Per vices subire, to come in place nowe one and than an other, by turne.
 Cruciatu subire, to suffere or endure tourmentes.
 Aleam subire, to put hym selfe in daunger.

Subire crimen, to susteine blame.
 Incommoda subire, to be endamaged.
 Subire infamiam, to be dishonoured.
 Iudicium alicuius subire, to abyde the iudgement of one.
 Nomen exilis subire, to be a banished man.
 Subire penam, to be punished.
 Supplicia subire, idem.
 Tela subire, to receiue strokes.
 Verbera subire, to be beaten.
 Ne subeant herbe, that the weedes ouergrowe not.
 Cogitationi nostræ nunquam subiit, it neuer came in our thought.
 Subit antiquitate mirari, it cometh to my remembrance to wonder at men of the olde tyme.
 Subit recordatio, I remembre well.
 Subit cognatio, I haue be thought me, I begyn to confider of thynke.
 Subit animus, I dooe remembre, it cometh to my mynde of remembrance.
 Calamitatem subire, to haue a greatte losse.
 Subire mortem, to receiue death.
 Periculum subire, to putte hym selfe in teoſperdie.
 Subire sermonem, to cause hym selfe to be spoiled of.
 Minus sermonis subiissem, men woulde not haue spoken so much agaynst me, of there shulde not haue ben so great an infamie of obloquie of the people agaynst me.
 Tempeſtates subire, to put him selfe in danger.
 Turpitudinem subire, to renne in ſclander.
 Subire vim, to put hym selfe in ſcopercie to bee ſlayne.
 Subeunt in hac reputatione, nowe cometh to remembrance.
 Subit regem verecundia, the hyng was aſſamed.
 Fallendus est iudex & variis artibus ſubeundus, the iudge muſte be wonne by pryie meanes, that he maie not perceiue.
 Subit ille loquentem talibus, he answered hym in this wiſe.
 Subaſſe eam in cælum, that it aſcended by hygh into the ayre.
 Cuius nunc ſubeunda deſenſio eſt, whom I muſt now take vpon me to deſende.
 Dextra alæ ſiniſtra ſubiit, the left wyng came in place of the ryght.
 Ne famam ſubeam crudelitatis, that I maie not be called cruell.
 Triftitium illorum temporum non ſubiissem, I ſhulde not haue abiden the ſadnelle of heauynelle of that tyme.
 Subire tractum religionē, that a certayne feare of conſcience cometh vpon them.
 Subire aliquem humeris, to beare of ſtate one vp with his ſhoulders.
 Suber, ſuberis, m. of f. g. but moſt cōmonly, n. g. cozke.

Suberulus, a, um, of cozke.
 Suberro, aui, are, to wander vnder, to wander ſomewhat.
 Suberth, is a barbarouſe worde pertaining to phyſicke, and ſignifieth a deepe ſleepe not naturall, proceeding of groſſe vapours, ingendred of ſtume, beyng in the principall members, reſolued and aſcendynge into the foze parte of the heade, and cauſynge oppilation in the ſelles of the bryppe.
 Subferuēſio, ſis, fieri, to be made ſomewhat hot or ſcaldyng.
 Subferuefactus, a, um, made ſomewhat hotte.
 Subſibulum, li, n. g. was a white ornament foure ſquare, and longe, whiche the nunnas called Veſtales, ware on theyr heades when they dyd ſacrifice. alſo a tache.
 Subſtigidus, a, um, ſomewhat colde, halfe colde, Subſtigidē, ſomewhat cooſey.
 Subgrandis, de, ſomewhat bigge of great.
 Subgrauis, e, ſomewhat heauy, greuouſe of vnpheasant.
 Subgrunda, æ, the caues of the houſe.
 Subgrundatio, ōnis, f. g. the makinge of the caues of the houſe.
 Subgrundia, ōrum, n. g. plur. the caues of an houſe.
 Subhaſto, are, to ſell any thyng in tyme of warres that was praiſed. Haſta, is a garde, whiche was deliuered to hym that was appointed to ſell any thyng that was taken in warres.
 Subhōrridus, a, um, ſomewhat hydious of horribly to ſee to.
 Subiaceo, ſubiaces, iacui, ēre, to lie or be vnderneath, to be ſubiecte.
 Appennino ſubiacent, they ſtande or bee ſituate at the foote of the mountayne Appenninus.
 Subiaſto, aui, are, to caſt by as cozke is when it is ſanned.
 Subicito, aui, are, to cōpany often with a woman.
 Subiculum ſagri, a beating ſtocke.
 Subiectio, ōnis, a caſtynge of puttynge vnder, an addynge to.
 Subiectio teſtamentorum, a byngynge in of falſe teſtamentes.
 Subiecto, aui, are, to caſte vnder often.
 Subiectare ſtimulos, to pryke of ſturre forwarde.
 Subiectior, ōnis, m. g. a forger of teſtamentes, of he that byngeth ſoothly one teſtamente for an other.
 Subiectus, us, m. g. a caſtynge vnder.
 Subiectus, a, um, put vnder, ſubiecte, obedient, lyng vnder.
 Subiecta eſt ſpes illi, id eſt, Inieſta.
 Subiecti oculis imperatoris, befoze the capytaines face that he maie ſee them.
 Subiectus animus, an obedient mynde.
 Subigo, egi, igere, to conſtreigne or ſubdue, to dzyue vnder, to whette, to beate of ſlame: ſometyne to eate or tye truly, to digge, to meddle with a woman. ſometyne to liſt vp.

Necceſſe

Necceſſitas me ſubigit vt rogitem, necceſſite conſtreigneth me to aſke you.
 Subigit fateri, he conſtreigneth me to confeſſe.
 Ad deditiōem ſubegit, he conſtreigned them to yelde.
 Subigere nationes, to ſubdue countreis.
 Subigere terram, to labour & tye the grounde.
 Subigere in cote ſecures, to make ſharpe the axes with a whetſtone.
 Subigere terga equorum, to rubbe the hoxſes backes.
 Scrobem ſubigere, to digge a dyche.
 Ratem conto ſubigere, to ſhooue ſoothly the ſhip with a longe pole.
 Subigere gypſum, to worke playſter as pargetters doe with their truell.
 Subigere farinam, to make dowe, to kneade.
 Subigere terram, to make moyſer of ditte.
 Subigatrix, icis, a woman that conſtreigneth one by force.
 Subicio, ſubijcis, iēci, iēcere, to putte vnder, to make ſubiecte, to byng in mynde, to byng in remembrance, to aſſure, to ſhew or tell a reaſon or reaſe, ſometyne to caſte vp, to reherſe. alſo for ſubmittere, of ſubornare, to ſende in priuile to deceiue men.
 Subicere ſe periculo, to put him ſelfe in perile.
 Si meministi quod olim dictum eſt, ſubijce, if thou doeſt remembre what once was ſpoken, eherſe it of byng me to remembrance.
 Oua gallinis ſubiicere, to ſette egges vnder the hennies to be hatched.
 Spem ſubiicere, to put one in comfort.
 Aliquid oculis ſubiicere, to make a thyng to plaine that a man maie perceiue it as well as if he ſawe it.
 Exemplum ſubiicere, to put or ſhew an exaple.
 Subiicere ferro terram, to till the lande.
 Subiicere ſenſibus, to purpoſe a thyng euidently.
 Crimini ſubiici, to be put i fault, to be blamed.
 Faces ſubiicere, to byng one moze in hatred, to intence of ſette forwarde a matter moze.
 Teſtamentum ſubiicere, to byng ſoothly a falſe teſtament.
 Vis ſubiecta voci, the ſignification and impportance of a woorde.
 In equum ſubiecit, he ſet him by on horſebacke.
 Subiecit ille, he answered & ſaid after y other.
 Securi ſubiici, to be putte to death, to bee beheaded.
 Prælo ſubiicere, to putte vnder the preſſe, to preſſe. alſo to prynte.
 Ignem ſubiicere, to put vnder fyre.
 Pedibus ſubiicere, to caſt vnderfoote, to conſtemne, to ſet naught by.
 Tutela alicuius ſubiici, to be in ones tuition or ſubiection.
 Subiiciunt ſe homines imperio alicuius, men ſubmit them ſelfes to the rule of gouernance of any man.
 Quæ ſubiiciebantur oculis, whiche we ſawe with our eyes.

 In locum eorum ſubiecit, he ſet in their place.
 Cauſam ſubiicere, to ſhew or tell a cauſe.
 Subiicere pullos, id eſt, ſupponere, ſubdere. Voci præconiſ ſubiicere, to cauſe a thyng to be cryed and ſolde.
 Odio ciuium aliquid ſubiicere, to make a thyng to be hated of the people.
 Huic verbo, voluptatis, duas res ſubiiciunt, they ſaie that this worde. voluptas, hath double ſtrength of ſignification.
 Subiicere iudicem, to ſende in priuile a falſe ſelowe to diſcouer a matter.
 Subimpetro, aui, are, to entreate ſomewhat for a thyng.
 Subimpudens, entis, ſomewhat vnſhamelaſt of ſauice.
 Subinānis, ne, ſomewhat vaine, of no great impportance.
 Subinde, mozeouer, ſoothly with or anon, oftentaymes, euer nowe and than, nowe and than as monge, euer amonge.
 Subin, idem.
 Subinſuo, fluxi, ere, to ſlowe in vnder.
 Subingere arietem, to deliuer a ſhepe to be killed for hym that dooeth ſacrifice.
 Subis, a bird, whiche breedeth the egges.
 Subinſuſus, a, um, ſomewhat ſwoly, halfe vnsauourie, that hath no great grace.
 Subinuſus, a, um, ſomewhat hated of; maligne;
 Subinuito, aui, are, to aſſure of prouoke ſomewhat.
 Subiraſcor, ſus ſum, iraſci, to be ſomewhat mozed, to be halfe angrie or diſpleaſed.
 Subito, ſodemly, incontinent.
 Subito quum mihi dixiſſet, &c. incontinently as ſoone as he had ſaid. &c.
 De ſubito, ſodemly.
 Subitaneus, & Subitarius, & Subitus, a, um, ſodemly.
 Subitum eſt ei remigrare, it is to ſome for him to come againe.
 Subingālis, le, vted to the poke.
 Subingū, ōrum, thonges or bondes wherewith the pokes were faſtned to the oxens neckes.
 Subingis, ge, idem.
 Subingo, are, to make ſubiecte, to ſubdue, to byng in ſubiection.
 Subingo, ianxi, ere, to adde and ioyne to.
 Oratori omnes artes ſubingere, to put all artes and ſciences vnder the profeſſion of an orator.
 Subingere vibem ſub imperium Romanū, to byng a citie vnder the Romaine empire.
 Sublabor, bēris, plus ſum, labi, to ſlippe awaie priuile, to fall of ſtyde vnder, to fall downe of deſcende by little and little.
 Sublabro, aui, are, to put vnder the lippes.
 Sublate, hauſtly.
 Sublate de ſe dicere, to make great auant of hym ſelfe, to ſpeake gloriouſly of hym ſelfe.

Xxx in

Subla

Sublato, sublates, sublatus, tere, to be hyd vnder a thyng.
 Sublatio, onis, fcm. gen. a lityng vp, a taking awate by stelyhe.
 Sublatus, a, um, lityed vp, mounted, addaunced, also stolen, taken awate.
 Sublego, aui, are, to substitute.
 Sublego, legi, ere, to steale, to passe ouer a thyng quickely, to steale a thyng that is hyd, to ge the effectoonces, also to choose an other into the place of hym that is dead.
 In locum demortui sublegere, idem.
 Sublegere sermonem. Clam nostrum hunc illas sublegerunt sermonem, priuily they herkened, and bare awate all that we communed.
 Sublellus, a, um, feeble, feynt, light, of no force or value, an olde woojde.
 Subleuo, aui, are, to helpe or aide, to succour, to defende, to litye vp, to susteyne.
 Subleuare & ledere, contrarie.
 Inopiam subleuare, to helpe one in tyme of pouertee and neede.
 Laborem subleuare, to ease ones labour.
 Res aduersas alicuius subleuare, to helpe one that is in aduersitee.
 Subleuare testamentum alicui, to discharge one by testament.
 Sublica, eae, fcm. g. a proppe, a thore, a post, or other litye thyng, to susteyne or litye a thyng vp: a pylle driuen into the grounde for building or other lyke purpose.
 Sublicium, ch, n. g. idem.
 Sublicius, a, um, that is made of pylles or postes of tymbre.
 Sublicius pons, a byrge at Rome, made on pylles.
 Subligaculum, li, n. g. a nether cosse or breeche, moit proppey a trusser or breeche, whiche onely couereth the priue membris, and that extendeth no farther upwarde nor downward.
 Subligar, garis, n. g. idem.
 Subligo, aui, are, to vnderbynde.
 Subligare enssem latere, to hange his sword by his syde.
 Sublime, on hygh.
 Sublimis, me, hygh, that whiche is aboue vs.
 Sublimem hunc intro rape, hoyle me by this felow a litye and carie hym in.
 Sublimem medium arripere, I wolde take hym by the middell and hoyle hym alofte.
 Sublimem rapi, to be hoyle vp on hygh, to be hoyle into the ayre.
 Sublimem abire, to ascende by into heauen, to mounte by into the ayre, or by an hygh hill.
 Iacens in sublimi, castyng it by alofte.
 Sublimitas, atis, f. g. hyghth.
 Sublimiter, hyghly, on hygh.
 Sublimo, aui, are, to sette on hygh, to extolle.
 Sublino, leui, lini, liti, linere, to annoynt or rouche, to pepene or stayne, to smere somewhat.
 Os sublinire, to deceyue.

Sublito, onis, the grounde colour, wherof the perfecte colour is laied, in clothe dyed it is called graslyng.
 Subliundus, a, um, halfe blacke and blew.
 Sublucanus, a, um, of or pertynyng to the moonyng.
 Sublucanum tempus, the springe of daie.
 Sublucio, lices, luxi, cere, to shene somewhat, or to geue a littell lycht.
 Sublucide, somewhat bryghtly, or cleerely.
 Sublucidus, a, um, somewhat lycht.
 Sublucio, aui, are, to vnder the adde bowes, that the lycht maie come vnder the tree.
 Subluo, lui, luere, to vnder washe, as water, whiche renneth lowe vnder a banke of hill, and washteth the foote therof. also to washe somewhat cleane.
 Sublucidus, a, um, somewhat pale or wanne of colour.
 Sublustris, stre, that hath some lycht.
 Sublustris nox, a nyght that is somewhat bryght with the sterres.
 Subluies, ei, fcm. g. a disease of cattell, whiche is betwyxe the eies of the pfecte. also litye, or dure.
 Submergo, messi, mergere, to deepe or plunge vnder the water, to drowne.
 Submerum, almost pure.
 Submina, e, f. g. a womans garment, I suppose a kytell.
 Subministro, aui, are, to dooe seruice vnder one, to geue or deliuer any thyng that is asked for.
 Tela subministrare, to reache one weapons or dartes.
 Aquam radicibus subministrare, to water the rootes.
 Pecuniam subministrare, to find one money.
 Subministrare vires, to strengthen.
 Subministrato, onis, m. ge. an vnder seruant, he that deliuereth any thyng that is called for, one that ministrerth to a man that he nedeth or lacketh.
 Submissus, & submissim, softly, proppey in speakeyng. also humbly, lowly.
 Submisle supplicare, to make humble intreacye.
 Eo se gerat submissius, so muche the moze lowly ought he to behaue hym selfe.
 Submisle dicere, to pleade temperately with out great vehemence.
 Submisle loqui, to speake low or softly.
 Submisle se gerere, to behaue hym self gently.
 Submissio, onis, f. gen. a submission, a putting vnder, an humblyng.
 Contentio & submissio vocis, contrarie, streking of the voice and temperate speakeyng.
 Elatio & submissio, contrarie.
 Submissus, a, um, humble, put vnder, brought in subiection, put downe, lowe.
 Submissa voce loqui, to speake lowe.
 Submissa oratione loqui, to vse temperate and gentill woojdes.

Submitte

Submitto, missi, mittere, to sende pziuly or by selfe, to plante or sette in the grounde, to sende or byngne in the meane tyme. also to putte or sette vnder, proppey as a calfe, a lambe or a sole is sette vnder the damme to sucke. also to bowe downe.
 Submittere se, to humble hym selfe.
 Submittere capillum, to let heare to growe.
 Submittere barbam, to let his bearde growe.
 Pratum submittere, to dimitt the price.
 Submittere alicui, to sende one to succede a ma in the gouernance of any prouince or office.
 Fasces lictorios submitit, he dyd reuerence by holding downe the bundles, that the sergantes or officers bare before hym.
 Submittere pampinum vitis, to plante a vine bryanche, or set it in the grounde to grow.
 Submittere prata in forum, to husbnde and dresse by the meddowes to byngne soothly he.
 Submittere tauros, poke pour open, or put the bulles to the byne.
 Genua submittere, to make courttesie, to bowe the knees.
 Ne animo submitterent, that they heretes or courage shoulde not faile them.
 Non decet periculo vilo submittere animum, it is not seemly for vs to bee asfere or abashed for any perill.
 Submittere factum matribus, to put the ponge to the dammes to be nourished.
 Ad mensuram discens se submittere, to accommodate hym selfe to the capacitee of the schoolar.
 Ad matrem submittebat, he sente pziuly to his mother.
 Submitte me & suplicaui, I submitted or humbled my selfe.
 Submittere se in humilitatem causam dicentium, to humble or submitte hym selfe to the low state or viltie of persones attained or accused.
 Submittere alicui delatores, to sende pziuly false accusers to apperhe one.
 Submolesus, a, um, somewhat greuous or displeaunt.
 Submolesce, somewhat greuousely or displeasfauntly.
 Submoneo, submoneo, monui, nere, to warne one pziuly, to put one in mynde of a thyng, to geue hym warnyng, to geue a bie warnyng, to geue halfe a warnyng, to geue a watche word: Comptyme to geue halfe a checke, to giue a priue checke or taunte.
 Submordeo, dere, to bite softly, or pziuly.
 Submorosus, a, um, somewhat crabbed or frostwarde, somewhat harde to please, somewhat rigorous.
 Submoueo, submoueo, moui, uere, to remoue or carie a thyng farre of. also to dnyue out of a place: also to discharge a man of his office, to depose.
 Submoue turbam, cause the people to make waite, make theym auoyde of geue place.

 Magnitudine pena maleficio submoueri, to be kepte from dooyng euell by the greuousnesse of punysshment.
 Germaniam ab Italia submouent, id est, separant.
 Aliquem submouere a consulari, to depose, to discharge.
 Submotia concione, the assemblee begyn disolued or departed.
 Descendunt in foru gladio submouetur, they made rowme of place before hym with a sword, as he wente towarde the common place.
 Submotor, onis, m. g. one that putteth asyde or maketh rowme.
 Subnasco, natus sum, nasci, to growe or spring vp vnder thynges that be growen by already.
 Subnecto, nexui, tere, to binde to, or hang to. also to subscribe, to adde or ioyn to after other.
 Subnego, aui, are, to denie somewhat, to denie halfe.
 Subnerno, aui, are, to cutte sinewes.
 Subnexio, onis, f. g. a byndyng or hangyng to.
 Subniger, gra, grum, somewhat blacke.
 Subnitor, nixui sum, niti, to leane or state again a thyng, to be fastened by.
 Subnixus victoria, trustyng to his victorie.
 Subnodo, aui, are, to make a knotte vnder a thyng.
 Subnoto, aui, are, to note or marke, to subscribe, to halfe note, to note after a facion.
 Subnubilus, a, um, somewhat cloudy, halfe ouercast with cloudes.
 Subo, aui, are, to grunte as the some dooth when they despyeth the boze to doe their bynde.
 Subobscenus, a, um, somewhat vnhyonst or vnchaste.
 Subobscurus, a, um, somewhat obscure or darke, somewhat harde to vnderstande.
 Subodiosus, a, um, somewhat odious.
 Suboffendo, di, dere, to offende somewhat or a littell.
 Suboleo, suboles, olui, lere, to sauour or smell a littell, to haue halfe the sauour of a thyng, to haue some perceyving of the matter.
 Nunquid patri subolet? doth my father perceiue any thyng of the matter.
 Subobro, aui, are, to desire a littell.
 Subordior, diris, diri, to begynne.
 Suborno, aui, are, to pzepe or honoure. also to suborne or byngne in a false witness, or messenger, or feigne one person for an other to deceiue with, to sende one pziuly and instructe hym to dooe or faie a thyng, to deceiue men.
 Subornare oratorem, to make out a spoker man in the behalfe of other.
 Subornare falsum testem, to suborne or sende in a false witness.
 Subornatus criminibus, pziuly instructed with fautes to laie to ones charge.
 Suborior, riris, riri, to begyn to springe or arise.

Subpallidus, a, um, somewhat pale, halfe pale.
 Subpinguis, gue, somewhat fatte, fatte a littell.
 Subpudet, I am halfe ashamed of it.
 Subrancidus, a, um, somewhat hoze and stinking.
 Subraucus, a, um, somewhat hoarse.
 Subrectus, a, um, lifted vp a littell and littell, halfe upright.
 Subremigo, aui, are, to rowe vnder.
 Subrepro, pli, pere, to steale away or renne away priuily.
 Subrepere animo, to enter sodainly or priuily into the mynde.
 Subrepere se alicui, to steale away priuily fro one.
 Subrepsit hanc appellatio paulatim, it came by littell and littell to bee called by this name at lengthe.
 Obluionem cibi subrepere aiunt, they saie that he forgetteth his meate.
 Subrepticius, a, um, stolen or falsely come by.
 Subreptiue litteræ, letters stolen out by a false suggestion.
 Subreptus puer, a stolen childe.
 Subreptio, ònis, f. g. a stealinge awaye, an obtayning of a thyng by false suggestion.
 Subrideo, rides, risi, ridere, to smile or laugh priuily, to make countenance of laughyng.
 Subridiculè, somewhat merily, somewhat mockingly, or scoffyngly.
 Subrigo, rexi, rigere, to heaue or lifte vp by littell and littell.
 Se paulatim subrigens, liftyng vp hym selfe by little and little.
 Subriguus, a, um, idem quod irriguus.
 Subripio, pui, pere, to steale, to take awaye secretly, sometyme to lifte vp hastily.
 Subrisio, & Subrisus, a, smilinge.
 Subrogo, aui, are, to substitute or subrogate, to make a deputie in an office, to put in an other mans roome.
 Subrostrarius, a, um, vnder the place called rostra: or one that vseth to sit vnder that place.
 Subrubeo, subrubes, bui, bère, to bee somewhat redde.
 Subrubundus, a, um, somewhat ruddy.
 Subrûsus, a, um, somewhat redde.
 Subrumus, mi, m. g. a lambe that doeth sucke.
 Subrumor, aris, ari, to be suckeled, or put to sucke, as calues, lammes. &c.
 Subruo, rui, ruere, to enter with force, or priuily by littell and littell, also to digge the erth, to cast downe to the grounde.
 Subrusticus, a, um, somewhat rusticall or rude.
 Subrutilus, a, um, somewhat shynyng or bright lyke the colour of golde.
 Subruius, a, um, destroyed, caste downe to the grounde.
 Subsalus, a, um, somewhat salte in taste.
 Subsanno, aui, are, to scozne or mocke.
 Subsannatio, ònis, f. g. a moche with bendyng the browes, and snuffyng vp of the nose.

Subsannator, òris, m. g. a mocker.
 Subscribo, scripsi, scribere, to write vnder, to subscribe, to fauour a matter, to assigne a cause why, to affirme, to note certayne thynges in wytyng, at a sermō or other place. Also to beginne or moue a suite in the lawe. olde lawyers used it for that they saie now, Adlungere se, which Cicero speaketh oftentimes in this wyse, Accedere ad causam, descendere in causam, Incumbere in eandem causam, & dimittere se in causam, to ioyne or take parte with other in any accusation, suite or variance in the lawe.
 Vt subscribere audia piget, that it shoulde loth you to write those thynges that you here.
 Scis te mecum non subscripsisse, id est, mecum quærelam non esse expertum, that you haue not subscribed in the lawe against me, or entered any bill of complainte or action against me.
 In aliquem subscribere, to subscribe to ones accusation, to ioyne or take parte with other against one.
 Causam vel causæ subscribere, to subscribe or take parte with other in any quarrell, suite or contention of the lawe.
 Causam subscribere, to subscribe or adde a reason why he dooeth a thyng.
 Si voto fortuna subscripserit, if fortune fauoure me so muche, as to dooe that I require, if fortune fauour my desire.
 Subscripsit orationi eius, id est, fuit.
 Voluntati alicuius subscribere, to graunte that one requireth.
 Odus alicuius subscribere, to aide or helpe one to be reuenged on his enemye.
 Subscriptio, ònis, f. g. a leanyng to or a partaking with the accusar or plaintiffe, a subscripsion, a wytyng vnderneath.
 Subscriptio censoria, reformation made by the Censors.
 Subscriptor, òris, m. g. he that in causes subscrit all dooeth fauoure the parte of the accusar or plaintiffe.
 Subscus, Subcus, and Sucus, cûdis, f. g. called also Seruicla, a fastnyng of boardes or tymber together, one within an other, in ioyners craft or carpentrie, called of the frenche men, for the likenes of the thyng, a swallowes tale, and in englyshe a doufe tale.
 Subseco, secui, care, to cutte vnder, or cutte a littell.
 Vngues ferro subsecare, to pare ones nyles.
 Subsecundarius, a, um, idem quod succursus.
 Subsecundaria tempora, tyme spared from of ther necessary busynesse.
 Subsellum, li, n. g. a benche, fourme or stoule vnder other.
 Subsellia, amonge the Romans were benches or seates, wheron men saie in the Theatre to beholde sightes and places. also wheron iudges saie in diuers courtes and places of iudgement, and is sometyme taken for iudges.

A Sub

A subsellis in rostra rem deferre, to byng the matter from the iudges into the common place before the people.
 Subsentio, sensi, sentire, to perceiue somewhat, to haue somewhat an ingling of a matter.
 Subsequor, sequeris, sequi, to folowe shortly with.
 Subsequi aliquem, to studie to folow ones masters.
 Iudicium alicuius subsequi. Subsequenti anno, the next yere.
 Subsero, seui, serere, to sowe or sette vnder a thyng.
 Subseruio, uiui, uire, to serue, to accorde, to agree.
 Subseruire orationi alterius, to helpe forwarde ones tale.
 Subfesta, æ, f. g. an ambushement, whereby hostes of men are intrapped as they passe.
 Subfessor, òris, m. g. he that lyeth in waite to take one and kyll hym.
 Subsideo, subsides, sedî, sidere, to sitte vnder, to laie in awaite for one, to reste in the bottom, as dyegges or groundes dooe in a vessel, to tari behynde.
 Subsider pecunia apud eum, the money remaineth in his handes.
 Si quæ facies in fundis vasorum subsederint, if any dyegges or lies reste in the bottom of the vesselles.
 Quæ in castris subsederunt, whiche remained or taried behynde in the campe.
 Subsedi in ipsa via, I rested or taried by þ way.
 Subsidiarius, a, um, that is sente or geuen to the aide of other, that cometh to aide other.
 Subsidiarius palmes, a vine byanchy nourished to mainteine the vine.
 Subsidium, di, n. ge. aide in an extreme poynte, helpe, succour.
 Currere alicui subsidio, to renne to helpe one.
 Innocare subsidium, to desyre aide or helpe.
 Subsidium nostræ senectutis, the helpe or resceue of our olde age.
 Subsidiior, aris, ari, to stande by to the intent to aide and succour if nede be.
 Subsidio, sedî, sidere, to fall downe, to sinke downe, to descende downe to the bottom. sometyme to sitte and hyde hym selfe in a place.
 Subsider and Confutgere, contrarie.
 Subsider dicitur formula in conu.
 Subsider regnum mundi, id est, inuadere.
 Subsider in loco aliquo, to abide or tari in a place.
 Subsigno, aui, are, to subscribe or write vnder, to confirme with his signe manuall.
 Subsimilis, le, halfe lyke, somewhat lyke.
 Subsilio, subsilis, liui, and lui, lre, to leape a littell, to hoppe.
 Subsiles, littell plates belongyng to sacrifice.
 Subsimus, a, u, þ hath somewhat a samoyse nose.
 Subsipere, to fauour somewhat.
 Subsisto, stui, sistere, to resiste, to abyde, to withstande, not to geue place, not to recule and geue backe, to stande still, to stoppe. sometyme to double.

 Substiter eferas, to resiste and withstande the violence of wyde beastes.
 Pergami subititi, I dyd abyde or tari at Pergamum.
 Substiter & expectare.
 Substiter sumptui, to beate or mainteine the coste or charge.
 Lingua subtitit timore, his tongue stopped for feare, or he coude not speake for feare.
 Substitit vnda, the water standeth.
 Substitunt opes Romanorum apud eos, the money or riches of the Romans remaineth or is still with them.
 Substitit proceritas balsami intra bina cubita, the balmie tree is neuer aboue two cubites high.
 Subsolâus, ni, m. g. the east wynde.
 Subsortior, iris, uri, to choose by lotte after there hath ben other chosen before.
 Iudices subfortiri, to choose iudges by lotte, to fulfill the numbre of them that were before refused.
 Subsortitio, ònis, f. g. the choosyng by lotte to fulfill the places of them that were refused after they were first chosen by lotte.
 Subsortitus, a, um, chosen by lotte in the place of other.
 Substantia, æ, f. gen. substance: also matter: sometyme goodes, which is also commonly called substance.
 Substerno, strâui, sternere, to strawe or laie vnder any thyng, as rushes, carpettes, and floweres.
 Nidos quàm molliissime substernunt, they make their nestes as soft in the bottom as can bee.
 Substernabat animo omnia, he made all thynges subiecte or inferiour to the mynde.
 Substernere alicui pudicitiam suam, to abashe done hir selfe to any man.
 Substillum, li, n. g. a ryme or fallenge miste, or a droppe before and after rayne. it is also a sickness, when a man maie not pisse well.
 Substiuo, tui, tuere, to substitute or ordeine one in the place of an other.
 Substitutio, ònis, f. g. an appointyng or ordeinyng of one in the place of an other.
 Substo, substitui, stare, to susteine or abyde constantly.
 Substraho, toke Subtrahio.
 Alum subtrahere, to purge the bealy.
 Substrâmen, minis, n. ge. litter of any thyng laied vnder hoyses or other beastes.
 Substratus, a, um, strawed vnder or laied vnder.
 Substratus, us, m. g. a spreadyng or layyng vnderneath. sometyme litter or other thyng laied vnder beastes.
 Substrepo, strepere, to make a littell noyse.
 Substrictus, a, um, straigned or bounde harde vnder, stricte.

Sub

Substringo, strinxi, stringere, to binde stricte vnderneath, to streigne harde, to gyde vnderneath.
 Substruo, struxi, struere, to vnderpinne, to builde vnder, to make a foundation vnder.
 Substructio, ónis, f. m. ge. an vnderpinning or groundfelling of a house, a building vnderneath, or making a foundation vnder a house.
 Substupo, and Substupesco, scere, to be somewhat dismayde.
 Substupidus, a, um, somewhat foolishlike or doltishlike, halfe astonied, as it were one that laced his senses.
 Subsulco, aui, are, to iumpe, to hoppe.
 Subsultum, by iumpes.
 Subsuo, fuere, to fowe vnderneath.
 Subsum, subesse, to be vnder or within.
 Subest intra cutem vulnus, the wounde is vnder the skinne.
 Causas subesse oportet eadem, there muste be the same causes or reasons.
 Si villa spes salutis subesseret, if there were any hope of lyfe.
 Ne subesser suspicio, that there might be no suspicion in the matter.
 Suburdus, a, um, halfe desse. also that is scant hearde, or maketh almoste no noise.
 Subtal, talis, n. g. the holownesse of the foote. also to the palme of the hande.
 Subtegmen, minis, n. g. the thecde, whiche in weayng is called the wouffe.
 Subregulanea, órum, places vnder the ciues of houses.
 Subtendo, tendi, tendere, to extende or stretche abroad vnder or beneath.
 Subtento, aui, are, to espye, to attempt or assaie prylyly.
 Subtenuis, tenue, somewhat thynne or skilender.
 Subtēpeo, pere, to be somewhat warme.
 Subtēpidus, a, um, somewhat warme, like warme.
 Subter, vnder,
 Subter humum, vnder the grounde.
 Subter densa testudine, poſtice.
 Incisus as vero habent subter, sine casu.
 Subterclado, clusi, cludere, to shutte vnder.
 Subterduco, duxi, cere, to withdawe, to escape awaie, to scale awaie prylyly.
 Subterducere se alicui, to conueigh him selfe as wate prylyly out of ones companie.
 Subterfluo, fluxi, fluere, to renne or flow vnder a thinge, as water vnder a brydge.
 Subterfugio, subterfugis, fugi, fugere, to escape, to escape awaie prylyly, to eschew.
 Subterfugere crimen, to auoide the daunger of a thinge laied to his charge.
 Miliciam subterfugere simulatione infaniae, to escape gonyng to warre by feignyng him selfe madde.
 Subtergredior, di, to go vnderneath.
 Subterlabor, laboris, lapsus sum, labi, to escape or slippe awaie quickly, to renne or flowe vnderneath.

Subtermeo, aui, are, to renne vnder,
 Subterlino, lini, lini, and leui, linere, to annointe or smere vnderneath.
 Subterro, triui, terere, to bryste or weare, to breake in pecces.
 Boves subterunt pedes, the oxen breake or weare out their houses.
 Subterraneus, a, um, that is vnder the ground.
 Subterraneo, aui, are, to consume or weare vnderneath, or on the nether parte.
 Subterexo, texui, texere, to weaue to after, to loigne to after other, to speade in the ende or after of other thinges.
 Subterceo, subterces, cui, cere, to answer nothing to that whiche is spoken, to holde his peace, to speake neuer a woorde.
 Subterfesco, scere, idem.
 Subtilis, le, subtilis, littell, small.
 Subtilitas, atis, f. g. subtilitee, sharpnesse of wit or reasonyng.
 Subtiliter, subtilly, fynely.
 Subtimeo, subtimes, timui, timere, to be somewhat afterde, to be halfe afterde.
 Subtondeo, dere, to slippe vnder.
 Subtraho, traxi, trahere, to take awaie, to steale, to withdawe.
 Subtrahere se, to dawe vnto quietenes, also to withdawe him selfe from other.
 Subtrahere famam, to withdawe from bryte, to hepe or let one to haue any bryte of fame.
 Subtrahere alicui inuidiam, to bryng one out of hatred and displeasure of the people.
 E pondere subtrahere, to take somewhat from the wright.
 Aliquid subtrahere alicui, to take or steale awaye a thinge from one.
 Collum iugo subtrahere, to get his necke out of the yoke.
 Subtrahere se labori, to withdawe him selfe fro labour, to eschewe labour and paine.
 Aliquem bello subtrahere morbus dicitur, to let or hepe a man that he can not go to warre.
 Subtristis, ste, somewhat heauy or sadde, somewhat soye, halfe in a dume, not halfe iocunde.
 Subtrundo, subtrudi, tundere, idem quod Tundo.
 Subturpiculus, a, um, a littell dishonest.
 Subturpis, pe, somewhat foule, in parte foule or dishonest, the matter of thinge dishonest couered with cleane woordes.
 Subtus, vnder.
 Subucula, lae, f. g. a shyte. Suetonius seemeth to take it for a pety cote. also a rake.
 Subucularis, a, um, that weareth a shyte.
 Subueho, vexti, vehere, to beaue, to extolle, to carie vp, to carie or conueigh in a shippe or wayne.
 Subuectio, ónis, f. g. a conueighyng or carying.
 Subuecto, aui, are, to beare or carie often.
 Subuectus, us, idem quod Subuectio.
 Subuenio, subuenis, ueni, uenire, to helpe, to aide, to succour.

Subuenite inopi, helpe me pooze man that am succourlesse.
 Erroribus subuenire, to defende and make playne the truthe.
 Subuentaneus, a, um, wyndic, or of the wynde, or conueied of the wynde.
 Subuentanea oua, idem quod Hyponemia.
 Subuento, aui, are, to come to one often.
 Subuerbusta, ra, f. m. ge. meate burned on the spitte.
 Subueror, ueritus sum, uereri, to be somewhat afterde, to be halfe afterde.
 Subuerso, aui, are, to subuerse often.
 Subuersus, a, um, turned vpside downe, caste to the grounde, destroyed.
 Subuerto, uertit, tere, to tourne vpside downe. also to destroye, to subuerse, to raise one awaie by false accusation.
 Subuexus, a, um, bowed vpwarde lyke an arch the rouffe.
 Subuiridis, de, somewhat greene of colour.
 Subula, lae, f. gen. an aulle, that coyners dooe vse for a boddyn.
 Subulcus, ci, m. g. a swyneherde.
 Subulo, ónis, m. g. an harre haupng hoznes with out tyres, called (as I suppose) a Spurrarde: in the byetruscan tounge it is a minstrell.
 Subuolo, aui, are, to flee awaie, to flee a littell, to flee vpwarde.
 Subuoluo, uolui, uoluere, to tumble vnder, to rolle vnder.
 Subur, a towne in Spayne, called commonly Lusbelles.
 Suburbanitas, atis, f. g. the neighbourhode of them that be in the suburbs, in respecte of the that dwell in the citie.
 Suburbanum, ni, n. g. a manour or farme without the walles of a citie.
 Suburbana, órum, suburbs, houses and villages nere the citie.
 Suburbānus, a, um, nere the citie, of or pertainyng to the suburbs.
 Suburbia, órum, n. g. plu. the suburbs of a citie or towne.
 Suburra, ra, f. g. a strete in Rome.
 Suburrana regio, the strete in Rome, where the brothell houses were.
 Suburo, uisi, urere, to burne somewhat of a littell.
 Subuulcurius, a, um, that whiche appprehendeth men like as rauens dooe carraie.
 Succedaneus, a, um, that succedeth, that cometh in place or stede of an other.
 Succedo, cessi, cedere, to succede, to appoche or come to, to come in the place of an other, to go well forwarde, to haue good successe, to prosper or come to effecte, to entre, to go in, to go vnder, sometime to chaunce.
 Muris succedere, to appoche vnto the walles.
 Et nostris succedere penatibus hospes, and enser thou my frende into my house.

Hac non successit, alia aggrediemur via, It dooth not prosper or come to effecte this waie, we will assaie an other.
 Anro successimus, we be come or entred into the denne or caue.
 Tectis succedere, to entre or go into the house.
 Succedere in locum vel vicem alterius, to succede or come in the place or stede of an other.
 Integri & recentes defatigatis succedunt, the lusty and freshe souldiours come in place of them that be wepy.
 In orbem succedere praelis, to come in & fight by course one after an other rounde about.
 Eques in pugnam succedit, the bande of horse men entred in to geue bataille or fight.
 In paernas opes succedere, to possesse the riches that his father had befor hym.
 Succedam ego vicarius tuo muneri, I will succede you, or take vpon me your office and charge.
 Actas succedit ætati, one age foloweth an other.
 Negotium omne iam succedit sub manus, all the matter prospereth or goeth well forwarde with vs.
 Parum successit, it came but easly to passe.
 Si minus succedit, if it dooe not prosper, or come to god effecte.
 Succedit ex sententia, it cometh to passe or goeth forwarde euen as we wolde haue it.
 Quod si successerit alienari mente. &c. If it chaunce or fortune. &c.
 Succendo, di, ere, to inflame, to burne.
 Succenso, ui, ere, to be angry for a god cause.
 Succensus, a, um, inflamed, burned.
 Succento, tonis, was a certaine garment, whiche onely hozes did weare.
 Succento, aui, are, to syng a base.
 Succentor, óris, m. g. he that syngeth a base.
 Succenturius, a, um, that made vp the numbre of the bend of men that lacked, that is set in the place of hym that is dead or absent.
 Succenturio, aui, are, to make vp the numbre of an hundred souldiours, or of that copanie that is called Centuria.
 Succerda, a, f. m. ge. swynedounge, a pygges tourde.
 Succerno, creui, cernere, to raunge meale in a spere, to separate or take from other.
 Successio, ónis, f. g. succession, commyng in place of other.
 Successor, óris, m. g. a succour, one that cometh in the place of an other.
 Successorem dare vel mittere alicui, to depose one out of his office, and sende an other to succede hym.
 Successus, a, um, that whiche prosperously hapneth or spedyeth well, that cometh to effecte.
 Successus, us, m. g. successe, be it god or ill.
 Successus prosperos dare, to prosper, to geue prosperous successe.

Scedida, a, f. g. woull newe thorne, but washed.
Succidaneus, a, um, that whiche foloweth the firste. also that cometh in the place of an other,
 that succedeth.
Succidanea hostia, beastes for sacrifice, whiche the were killed in the seconde place, or nexte to the firste.
Succidia, a, f. g. a piece of arche of bakon salted.
 also larde.
Succido, succidis, succidere, to fall vnder, to fall downe as one doeth vpon his knees.
Succido, cidi, idere, to fell or cut downe.
Segetes succidere, to mowe or reape downe cozne.
Succidius, a, um, lowe, redie to fall.
Succidus, a, um, mofte of full of iugre.
Succingo, xi, gere, to gyde. also to enuironne, to compasse.
Frustra se terrore succinxit, qui septus cha-ritate non fuerit, armis enim arma irritantur, in bayne shall he enuirone hym selfe with terro-rience, whiche is not walled about with the loue of his contry: for with violence, violence is spured.
Succingere se armis, to arme hym selfe. also to haue men of armes alwaies about hym for his defence.
Succincte, compendiously.
Succinatorium, a shorte iacket of ierker.
Succinatus, a, um, gyrt, compassed, enuironed,
 also prompt, in a redinesse, apt.
Succinctus cultro, ferro, pugione, that hath a knife, sworde, or dagger about hym.
Urbs succincta portibus, a citie haupnge has uens on euery syde.
Succincta oratio, a compendious or shorte
 oration.
Succingulum, li, n. g. a sworde gyrdle.
Succino, succinui, ere, to make a fofte noise, to syng a base or tenour.
Succinum, ni, n. g. aumber, wherof some beade stones are made.
Succinus, a, um, of aumber.
Succisus, a, um, that is cut or drawen from other.
Succissum tempus, tyme that a man spareth from other busynesse.
Succissus opere, thinges that a man doeth by tymes when he leauech of necessarie busynesse.
In succissum esse, spoken of fieldes or landes when they be mensured, where some parte res-mayneth aboute the measure.
Succipio, succipis, succipi, cipere, idem quod Excipio.
Succlamatio, onis, a crying to.
Succlamio, aui, are, idem quod Acclamo.
Succlamari, to be commended and talked of of all men.
Succollo, aui, are, to put vnder the necke or shoulders, to beare a thyng, to beare vp with the shoulders, as they doe that carie men in liters.

Succo, trilla, a small boye and a myll.
Succosus, a, um, full of iugre or moisture.
Succresco, scere, to growe vnder of lowe, of a little and little, to encrease and waxe more and more.
Succubi, diuels, which in the likenesse of women
 dooe companie with men.
Succuba, an harlot that lyeth with an other womans housbande.
Succubo, aui, are, to lye vnder.
Succulentus, & Succipiens, a, um, full of iugre.
Succumbo, cubui, ere, to be subued, to be tor-ned to, to fall or lye downe vnder, to fayle for feblenesse, to faunte in courage, to lese his courage, to be overcome or overcharged with any
 thyng.
Succumbere oneri, to fall downe vnder a burden, not to be able to sustayne a burdine.
Animo succumbere, to faunte in courage, to become feble or faunte herted.
Ne labori succumbant, that they be not overcome with labour.
Precibus alicuius succumbere, to be overcome with intercepy or desyre that a man maketh.
Succumbere viro dicitur mulier.
Succumbere doloribus, to be overcome with sorowe and paine.
Fortuna succumbere, not to be able to sustayne aduersitee.
Senectuti succumbere, for age to be able to dooe no more.
Succuro, curri, currere, to helpe, to aide, to succour, to come in mynde or remembrance.
Ut infamie communi succurrere, that I might helpe to put awaye the infamy, that goeth in generall vpon all.
Ut vitæ & pudicitie sororis succurreret, that he myght helpe to saue the lyfe and chastitee of his syster.
Succurrere celeriori via, to helpe by a more reddie waye or meane.
Neg mihi succurrerant verba, quæ &c. neisther did I remembre the wordes whiche &c.
Succus, i, m. ge. iugre or humour, whiche the bodie receyuech of meate and drynke. also generally all manner of iugre.
Succus ciuitatis, the vigour or strength of the citie.
Succus lactis, whepe.
Succursarius, ij, m. g. a trotting hofse, an hofse that often casteth his rider.
Succuso, idem.
Succussatio, onis, Succussura, a, & Succussatura, a, f. m. gen. a trottinge or shakinge of an hofse.
Succusso, aui, are, to shake as an hofse dooth when he trottech. also to trot.
Succussor, oris, m. ge. a trotting hofse. also an hofse that often casteth his rider.
Succussus, us, m. g. a shaking, a trotting.

Succ

Succutio, succutis, cusi, tere, to shake a thyng, to iogge by, to lyke as the hofse that trottech harde lyfeth one at curre steppe in the saddle.
Sucula, a, a fowe pigge. also a certaine inner garment. also a certaine company of scerres, called the .vii. scerres, whiche doe appere the .xii. calendes of June, and bee called Suculae, & Hisada. Sucula, is also an instrument of ingia to drawe with, whiche is made of one longe and rounde poste, hauing certaine barres in the midsdes to turne it with all. Of it bee .iii. fortes, one lying betwene two postes lyke the barrell of a well: an other standeth vpright, and is draw-en about with strength of men shooing with thep beates against the barres in the middes:
 the thyrde forte is that, whiche they vse to lifte
 by the water pile fledge, in makinge bridges.
Sucus, us, m. g. a sucking.
Sudabundus, a, um, sweatynge.
Sudarium, rij, n. g. a naphyn, a handkerchife.
Sudatio, onis, a sweatynge.
Sudatorium, rij, n. g. a stowe or hofte house.
Sudatorius, a, um, that belongeth to sweatynge.
Sudator, oris, m. ge. a great sweater, one that sweateth.
Sudatrix, triciis, f. g. the feminite.
Sudatus, a, um, besweated, all weatte or moisted with sweatte.
Sudes, dis, f. g. a certaine speare, whiche is burned at the ende, a stake.
Sudis, is, f. g. a certaine fische, called also Sphyrrana.
Sudo, aui, are, to sweate, to labour soze, to haue muche to dooe.
Sanguine sudare, to sweate bloudde.
Sudare mella, to sweate out honny.
Satis sudabis si cū illo incorpas homine, thou shalt haue enough to dooe. &c.
Sudor, oris, m. g. sweate. also labour.
Sudor remittit se, the sweatte beginneth to leaue.
Sudum, di, n. g. the clere parte of the firmament betwene cloudes. also the clere swament with out cloudes. sometime faire weather after rayne.
Sueo, sueui, ere, to be wonte, to accustome, an olde woorde.
Suefacio, feci, facere, to byng in vse of custome, to accustome.
Suesco, sueui, suefcere, to bee wonte, to take a custome.
Suessia, a towne of Lampaie.
Suessiones, people of France.
Sueus, a, um, accustomed, brought in vse.
Sueui, people in high Germanie.
Sueua, the chiefe countrey of Germanie in scythlere, hollomeneffe and beautifull personages, it hath on the easte Hauere, on the weste Wal-late, and the ryper of Rhene, on the southe the mountaynes Alpes: on the north Franche lande:
 It was sometime called Alemania, wherof all Germanie was called Almagne, in duche it is nowe called Swaue.

Suffarcinatus, a, um, laded, trussed, stuffed by.
Vidi Cantharam suffarcinaram, I sawe the olde woman Canthara haupnge hir lappe trussed vp about hir.
Suffarcino, aui, are, to lade or burdeyne, to trusse by, to stuffe by.
Suffarctatus, a, um, that carieth meale or flour to any place to sell in littell quantitee.
Suffectus, a, um, that is sette in the place of an officer, whiche is remoued or dead.
Suffenus, a poetes name in Catullus, of all othes most foolyshe.
Suffero, sustuli, sufferre, to susteine, to put vnder, to suffre, to take vpon hym.
Nunq̃ sufferre eius sumptus posset, he coude neuer be able to beare or susteine the sumptus or charges of hym.
Plus oneris sustuli q̃ ferre possum, I haue taken a greater burdine vpon me then I am able to beare.
Supplicium sufferre, to suffre or abyde punishment.
Suffertus, a, um, stuffed, filled, replenished.
Suffraueo, terui, uere, to be somewhat hotte.
Sufferuacio, feci, facere, to make to sicke or to be somewhat hotte.
Suffes, suffes, m. g. was amonge the Carthagianenses as the Consul was at Rome.
Suffibulum, li, n. g. an attire, which the nunn-es of Cisterdyen weare on thep heades when they did sacrifice.
Sufficio, sufficis, feci, ficere, to suffice, to be sufficient or enough, to content, a set of chose one in the place of an other, to indure, to minstre, to substitute, to staime.
Sufficit, it sufficeth.
Labouribus sufficere, to bee able to endure last hours.
Sufficere tibi debet, si. &c. it oughte to suffice or content you, if &c.
Nec obniti contra sufficimus, neither be we able to withstande or resist them.
Nec sufficit vinbo istibus, the shield or buklar is not able to abide or beare the strokes.
Non sufficiensibus iam viribus, his strength failynge hym.
Sufficit humorem, it ministrerth moisture.
Ne sufficiat consul non timent, they feare not that he shall be made consul in the other mans place.
Suffectus in Lucretij locum Horatius, Horatius beyng chosen or set in the place of Lucretius.
Large sufficiens pradium annuis victibus, a ferme or maner able abundantly to finde a man his luyng.
Animo sufficere, to gyue courage.
Suffigo, fixi, figere, to fasten or nail by.
Suffigere cruci, or in cruce, to hange by one on a gibbet.

Suffi

Suffimen, minis, and Suffimentum, cl, n. g. pers fume of fumigation.
 Suffio, hui, hirc, to perfume.
 Sufficus, ci, m. g. the codde of a ramme, whiche was made for a purse to conieine money.
 Sufficio, onis, a perfumyng of fumigation.
 Suffitor, onis, m. g. he that bloweth the fyre, he that maketh a pe-fume.
 Suffitus, a, um, perfumed.
 Suffitus, us, m. g. a perfumyng.
 Suffilamen, minis, n. g. that wherewith a whele is receined or stopp'd of his course.
 Suffilamino, aut, are, to sturke of holde backe with the instrument called Suffilamen.
 Suffilatio, onis, f. g. a blowing.
 Sufflator, oris, m. g. he that bloweth.
 Sufflatus, a, um, blown.
 Sufflatus, us, m. g. idem quod Sufflacio.
 Suffilatus, a, um, somewhat yelow.
 Suffilo, aut, are, to blowe.
 Sufflare buccas, to puffe up the chekes.
 Sufflaui nescio quid vxori, he hath whispered somewhat in his wyfes eare what to eue it is.
 Suffocatio, onis, a stranglyng, a cholyng, a stifelyng.
 Suffocator, oris, he that stranglyeth or stifelyth.
 Suffoco, aut, are, to stoppe the bryche, to strangle, to stiflie.
 Suffocare vibem fame, to destroye a citie with hunger.
 Suffodio, suifodis, dere, to digge vnder, to make hollow vnderneath.
 Suffodere equos, to thruste horses through.
 Suffosio, onis, a diggng vnder, a myning.
 Suffossus, a, um, digged vnder, caste downe, des tropp'd, also stumblng as an horse doeth.
 Suffossus equus, a stumblng horse.
 Suffragatio, onis, f. g. a declaration of a consent or fauour, a geuyng of a mans voice or fauour in election.
 Suffragator, oris, m. g. a supporter or mainteyner, one that helpeth or aideth with his good woorde or voice.
 Suffragatorius, a, um, that pertaineth to fauouryng with voice in election, that helpeth a man with his good woorde.
 Suffragium, gn, n. g. the voice of people assembled in geuyng their consent. also helpe of succour. also a wreche in the sea.
 Suffraginosus, a, um, that is diseased or prined in the houses or ioyntes of the hinder legges.
 Suffraginosi equi, horses whiche haue the peines or scratches.
 Suffrago, ginis, f. g. the ioyntes of the hinder legges of a beaste, called the hough. sometyme it doeth signifie the pasterne. it is also the pong sprynge of a vine.
 Suffragor, aris, ari, to beare fauour, to fauour, to helpe one, to speake on his parte fauourably, to geue one his good woorde.
 Nullis suffragantibus meritis meis, without any merites or desertes on my parte.

 Alicui ad consulatum suffragari, to helpe one to be consul.
 Fortuna suffragante, by the good helpe of Fortune, if Fortune fauour be.
 Suffragatio, onis, a kinde of buildng, whiche fastneth the stones in the walle.
 Suffrago, fricui, care, to rubbe of.
 Suffrigidus, a, um, halfe colde.
 Suffringo, fregi, fringere, to bryake in the midde, to bryake somewhat, to bryake vnder.
 Suffrio, aut, are, to bryake in small pieces, to crumme small.
 Suffrutex, icis, that thyng whiche groweth, haueing the fourme meane betwene an herbe and a shrubbe.
 Suffuerar, olde wyters vscd for sub eodem testio fuerat.
 Suffugio, cusugis, fugi, fugere, to flee awaie pryly.
 Suffugium, gn, n. g. a place of refuge.
 Suffulcio, ciui, ciuium, of sulli, sulum, cire, to sturke of holde up, to susteine or beare up.
 Suffulus, a, um, staid up.
 Suffumigo, aut, are, to make smoke vnderneath, to make a fumigation.
 Suffundatus, a, um, laied vnder.
 Suffundo, sudi, dere, to caste downe or poure licour on a thyng, to cast abrode.
 Suffendere aciem oculorum, to trouble of confounde the eie sight.
 Vt cibos suffundamus vires a fortiori, that with meate we maie geue them strength, or cause them to haue strengthe to generation.
 Suffuror, aris, ari, to steale pryly.
 Suffusio, onis, a webbe in the eie, also a spreadng abrode, a pouyng vpon.
 Suffusus, a, um, sprinkled, indented, that hath any thyng poured on it.
 Suffusus rubor alicui dicitur, when one blusheth.
 Suffusi ciuote oculi, the eies beynge bloudded shotte.
 Suffusus maleuolentia animus in ceteros, a mynde full of enuour or malice towards other.
 Sales suffusi felle, mercuriallages full of byting tauntes.
 Suggesto, gessi, gerere, to minister or geue a thyng, to sende forth the thynges, wherof are plentie, to put in mynde, to prompte. also for Refero, to shewe or tell.
 Tellus suggerit alimenta, the grownde geueth foode or nourishment.
 Bruto statim Horatius suggerunt, footthe with they chose Horatius in Brutus place.
 Tuum est vi suggeras, it is your parte to put me in mynde of it, or tell me of it, or to put me in remembrance of it.
 Suggestere sumptus, to allowe expences.
 Res suggerit, the matter requirith.
 Suggestus, us, m. g. of Suggestum, ti, n. g. a pulpitte or high place, out of the whiche orators teurs or capstaynes made propofitions vnto the people. Suggestus is also a suggestion, a reporte.

 Sugillo, or after some, Suggillo, aut, are, to make a blacke spotte in the skynne with beapng. it is also to coigne, to detract or infame, to reppoure, to condemne, to nyppe, to taunte.
 Sugillatio, onis, f. g. a marke in the visage, blacke or blew, made by some stroke, a moche a detractiō, an infamacion behynde one, a condemnation.
 Sugillatus, a, um, spotted, mocked, detracted, infamed, condemned.
 Sugo, suxi, sugere, to souke.
 Suggestior, gressus sum, gredi, to go by steth or pryly.
 Suggrunda, æ, f. g. of Suggrundia, orum, n. g. the causes of a house, whiche defendeth the walles from rayne.
 Suggrundaria, burialles of younge infantes, whiche werenot aboue. xi. daies olde.
 Suggrundatio, onis, f. g. gen. the causyng of a house.
 Sui, pronomen reciprocum, of hym selfe.
 Vt se dimitterem, that I wolde dismyss hym, or leat hym departe.
 Vt veniam ad se rogat, he despyeth me that I wolde come to hym.
 Sibi, is sometyme fopgned with suo, without any signification.
 Sui sibi hunc gladio iugulo, I kyll hym with his owne swoorde, I confounde hym with his owne argument.
 Suile, lis, n. g. a swynes stie.
 Suilla, læ, f. g. swynes fleshe, porke.
 Suillus, and Suinus, a, um, of a swyne.
 Sulcātim, in furrowes, furrow by furrow.
 Sulcator, oris, m. g. one that maketh furrowes, one that roweth in a boate on the water, because he cutteth it as the earth with a ploughe.
 Sulcatus, a, um, made in furrowes.
 Sulco, aut, are, to fawowe, to make furrowes.
 Sulculus, li, m. g. a littell furrow.
 Sulcus, ci, m. g. a furrow. also a longe range or trench like a furrowe to plante vines or other trees in, tilling, labouryng of the ground.
 Serere tertio, quarto, quinto sulco, to sowe in the thirde, the fourth, the fiftte fawowe. sometyme it is put for a dyche. also any maner of cuttyng of the earth: properly it signifyeth any thyng, that is long and sharpe edged. Bifalcum animal, a beaste that hath the feete clowen with two talons.
 Insindere sulcos telluri, to till the ground.
 Aquarius sulcus, a furrow to dyagne water by.
 Syllanus, a, um, for Syllanus.
 Syllaturire, for Syllaturire.
 Sulmo, monis, a towne in the countrey of Bellis gna, where Ouidius the poete was borne.
 Sulmonensis, one of the citee of Sulmo.
 Sulphur, sulphuris, n. g. bymstone.

Sulphuraria, æ, f. g. a place where bymstones is bogled.
 Sulphurata, orum, neu. gen. matches made with bymstone.
 Sulphuratus, a, um, dressed with bymstone.
 Sulphuratum ramentum, a matche.
 Sulphureus, a, um, of bymstone, like bymstone in colour, or that fauoureth of bymstone.
 Sulpitius Gaiba, the name of a Roman.
 Sultanus, a soudan, whiche was the name of a kyng of Egypt and Syria.
 Sultis, for Si vultis.
 Sumach, in the Arabic tongue is that, which Dioscorides calleth Rhus. It is also called Ros syriacus, Manardus, lib. 1. epist. 4.
 Sumanus, he that alwaies taketh.
 Sum, es, fui, to be, with a genitive of an ablative case to be of value: with a dative, for Habeo, to haue.
 Sum amphitritonis, I am Amphitritons seruāt.
 Sunt mihi bis septē prastanti corpore nymphae, I haue foytene maydens of excellent beaultie.
 Sum in mora illi, I make hym to tarie.
 Sum in metu, I am aserde.
 Sum in noxia, I am put in the blame.
 Sum, olde wyters vscd for eum, hym.
 Sit vestra benignitas ad audiendum: pleaseth it you to here?
 Sunt septem dies, it is seuen daies agone.
 Esse desyderio, to be despyed.
 Quæ esui potuiq; non sunt, which serue not for meate and drinke, or be not eaten or drunken.
 Hoc mellis est, this is pleasant and swete.
 Indis est magno precio, among the Indians it is greatly esteemed, or of great value.
 Esse in sermonibus, to be much communed or talked of abrode.
 Est, for Licet. Quæ verbo obiecta verbo negare sit, suche thynges as bee laied to ones charge in woordes, a man maie denie with woordes.
 Est adolescens esca maximæ, he is a veray great eater.
 Magni sunt oneris, they cary a great burdein.
 Mentiri non est meum, it is not my propertie to lie.
 Non est nostrum onus, it is no part of our charge.
 Iudicabunt nihil æque dissoluendæ religionis esse, they will thynke that nothing shall so sone dissolue honest religion.
 Quanti est sumito, receyue as muche as it is worth.
 Est festerijs tribus modius, a bushell is solde for thre festerij.
 Quis pluris fuit Annebale, cōsilio, virtute, &c. who was better, &c.
 Magni apud aliquem esse, to be much set by of any man, to be in great fauour or estimation.
 Sum domi meæ, tuæ, vestræ, &c.

Est derisui omnibus, he is a laughing stocke to euery man, euery man mocketh him a foole.
 Mihi magna molestia fuit, it greued me soze.
 Quanto sumptu fuerim tibi, how great charge I haue ten to you.
 Est mihi melius, it is better with me, I am better.
 Ni mihi tecum minus esset, if I were not lesse acquainted or familiar with you.
 Amori esse, to be loued.
 Odio esse, to be hated.
 Cui bono fuerit, to whom it shall bee profitable.
 Crimini esse, to be laied as a faule to ones charge.
 Tibi gloria esse putasti, thou thoughtest it to be a glorie or praise to the.
 Factum illud inuidia ei fuit apud patres, he was hated of the senatours for so doyng.
 Esse miraculo dicitur res, whan men dooe mers uale at it, as a thyng wonderfull and straunge.
 Qui oneri ferendo essent, whiche were able to beare the burden of charge.
 Prædæ esse, to be a piae of bootie.
 Præsidio esse, to aide or succour.
 Quæ signo sunt omnia, all whiche thynges dooe signifie.
 Testimonio alicui esse, to beare one witnesse.
 Vtui esse, to be expedient or profitable.
 Sum, is eloquently used with certayne prepositions.
 Vide ne hoc totum sit à me, but consider, wher ther this whole matter make not for me.
 Id est ad lateris dolorem, that is holosome of mes-dicinable for the peyne in the syde.
 Ad vibem esse, for in vire.
 Fac apud te lies, see that thy wittes be thine owne.
 Ad eam partem quæ est ad Hesperiam, whiche lieth towarde Hesperia.
 Etiam ex his qui cum imperio sunt, whiche be in autoritee, whiche beare a rule or stroke in the common weale.
 In deliciis alicui esse, to be once dearilyng.
 In animo est, I am aduised or mynded, I haue determined, my fantasie is.
 Et est hodie in bonis, and he is now in possession of the gooddes.
 Cuius in ditione sunt, in whose autoritie or power they be.
 Est in exemplis, it is witten.
 In expectando sum, id est, expecto.
 In infamia esse, to be defamed, to haue an ill name.
 In mentem mihi fuit, I was mynded.
 In meis intimis est, he is one of my neresst and especiall friends.
 Esse in oculis hominibus, to be loued of men.
 In pabulo esse, to be good to cate.
 Esse in noxia, to be faultie.
 In publico esse non audent, he dares not come abrode.
 In quaestu lingua est, he getteth his liuing by his tongue.

Magna esse in spe, that men haue a great hope of it.
 Quandiu vos eritis in spe, as long as ye haue any hope.
 Multum fuit in venationibus, he used hunting muche.
 Esse in vita, to liue.
 In usu esse, to be used or occupied.
 Pro nobis sunt, they be on our parte.
 Esse in procuracione regni, to haue the charge or gouernaunce of the common weale.
 Iam ego hic ero, I will be here by and by.
 Vbi illic dies est complures, whan he had been or taried there a good space.
 Male sit tibi, the deuill take the.
 Bono animo es, be of good cheere.
 Est mihi nomen, my name is.
 Nomen Mercurij est mihi, my name is Mercu-curie.
 Est, onely in the thirde person, for conuenit.
 Non est inter patrem & filium. &c. id est, non conuenit.
 Fuit quoddam tempus, the tyme was once.
 Est quod gaudeas, thou hast a cause to re-ioyce.
 Non est quod. &c. there is no cause whie.
 Erit ubi te vicissar, I shall once haue a tyme to be reuenged on the.
 Sin' est ve vclis, but if it be so that ye will.
 Est mihi iter Lemnum, my iourney is to Lemnos.
 Est ubi damnum præstet facere quam lucrum, it chaunceth or cometh to passe sometye, that it is. &c.
 Quæ huius loci esse videbuntur, whiche shall seeme to be popte, conuenient of agreing for that place.
 Non tam facile his opitulari est, it is not possible to helpe them so easily: for it is not so easie a matter to helpe them.
 Ut hic sitis hodie, that you woulde tatie here to daie.
 Esto, be it, I am content.
 Quod si vi es, cessabis, lacesam, if thou plaie the flougarde, as thou art wont, I will prouoke the of here the by.
 Sumenalia, loke Summanalia.
 Sumen, suminis, n. ge. is made of the pappes of a sowe, cut from hir the daie after she hath calrowed, and powdered with salt.
 Summa, æ, f. ge. a collection of thynges or word-des, also the principall poynt of a matter, the conclusion of a thyng.
 Quanta istæ hominum summa est, how great is the nombre.
 Summani promissi sui complere, to persoune me and accomplishe his promise.
 Victoria summa in eo constat, the chiefe poynt of the victorie consisteth in that.
 Ne summa rei periculum faceret, that he should not haufarde or put the whole matter in advent.

in aduenture.
 Summa quadrans, loke Quadrans.
 In summam belli profectum foret, he had atchued and finished the whole warre.
 In summam proficit, it cometh at lengthe to perfection.
 Summa illa sit, for a conclusion, to conclude, to make thoyte and speake it in fewe wordes.
 Summa fuit, the summe of the whole matter was thus.
 Summa est in testibus, the chiefe or principall poynt of all the matter is in the witnesses.
 Deceder nihil de summa, there shall nothing of the summe be diminished.
 Subducamus summam, let vs cast the whole summe.
 De summa detrahere, to debate of the summe.
 Decessionem facere de summa, idem.
 Summam conficere, to somme.
 Hanc summam orationis habuit, all his word-des came to this poynte.
 Ad summam, to be thoyte.
 Summanalia, æ, f. ge. a great cake made lyke a whele, such as is made at bydales and church goinges.
 Summanus, a god, whom the painymys thought to haue preheminance in the nyght, some take it for Pluto.
 Summarius, ij, n. g. an Epitome, or bydgemēt.
 Summarius, rij, chiefe or principall aboue other.
 Summates, tum, the chiefe persons of a realme or citee, peeres or great men.
 Summatim, compendiously, by euery parte of the matter, summarily.
 Summatim, of Summus, by the toppes or highest partes.
 Summatius, us, m. g. empyre, soueraignete, dominion, chiefe rule.
 Summe, excellently, chiefly, as riche as is possible, very greatly.
 Summergo, meris, gere, to plunge vnder water, to drowne.
 Summissi, murmurcs.
 Summissim, & Summisse, softly, not lowde.
 Summissus, a, um, bafe, lowely.
 Summissa voce, with a softe voyce, sometye with humble wordes.
 Summitas, atis, f. g. heghst, or heghnesse, & tope.
 Summitto, misi, ere, to conuey in priuily, also to suffer to grow.
 Summittere barbam, to let the bearde growe.
 Summo, aui, are, to summe or make an accompt.
 Summonianæ vxores, whores kept in the stede of wiues.
 Summoneum, nij, n. gen. a place where bandys was kept without the walles of a towne.
 Summoneus, a, um, that whiche is vnder the walles.
 Sumoneo, summones, nui, ere, loke Submoneo.
 Summopere, aduerbium, very diligently. Cic.
 de inuent. 37.

Summoueo, summones, mui, ere, to put as waie, to set a parte, to laie asyde.
 Summus, a, um, hyghest, extreme, greatest or very commendable, excellent, sometye very deepe.
 Summum, at the most.
 Summo iure agere, to take the rigour or extremite of the law in suite, to vse extremitee.
 Summum fastigium imponere, to finish the a-thyng perfectly, to byngge a matter to a poynte.
 Summam manum addere, idem.
 Summum & profundum, contrary, the toppe and the bottome.
 Vixit ad summam senectutem, he liued vntill he was a verie aged man, or as longe as any man could liue.
 Amicus summus meus, my great and especiall friende.
 Summa aqua, the toppe of the water.
 Actas summa, the last age.
 Aestas summa, the last ende of summer.
 Summo artificio facta, metuailously cunningly wrought.
 In summa desperatione, whan there was no hope in the worlde, whan all hope was past.
 Summa fide, without any fraude or gyle, very sincerely and truly.
 Summa forma, excellent beaultie or fauour.
 Infinita summa, extreme folly or ignorance.
 Summo loco natus, descended of a noble linage.
 Ad summam magnitudinem peruenire, to come to the greatest, to be as bygge as euer they will be.
 Omnia summa in eo sunt, all excellent vertues that can be in a man, are in hym.
 Summus maior, great beauntesse.
 Summa quaestio, the principal point or questio.
 Summa voce pronunciare, to speake aloude.
 E summo puteo, out of the very deepe pitte.
 Summutio, aui, are, to change one for another.
 Sumo, sumpli, ere, to take bypon one, to take generally, to byze, to consume, to borrowe. Also to spend or bestow on one, to receiue, to chiose, also to take sayge and softly. it differeth frō Rapio.
 Quoad enim peruentum, quo summa nauis est, non domini nauis est, sed nauigantium, vntill they come to the place whither the ship was byged, the shippe is not the owneer, but theppes that be passengers.
 In mala vxore atque inimico, si quid sumas, sumptum est, on a shewde wife and an ene-mie, what so euer thou bestowest is wast.
 Sumere aquam de puteo, to draw water out of the well.
 Sumere confidentia, to trust, to take courage.
 Sumere murum, to borrowe.
 Sumere obsequium animo, to liue after his owne phantasie or pleasure.
 Sumere operam frustra, to labour in vaine.
 Sumere optionem, to chioose.

Sumere personam, to counterfaite an other.
 Sumere supplicium, to punishe.
 Mihi non sumo tantum, I doe not make my booke that I can dooe so muche.
 Mihi non sumo, vt meum consilium valere debuerit, I doe not attribute so muche vnto my selfe, as to thinke that my counsaile ought to haue bene folowed.
 Hoc mihi sumpti, vt id a te peterem, I was so bolde as to despye that of you.
 Mihi pro meo iure sumo, I claime this by good ryght.
 Sumere alicunde, he shulde borrow it of some body. Sumere in re aliqua, id est, impendere, to bestow.
 Sumat sibi aliquem iudicem, id est, eligat, let hym choose of take to him a iudge.
 Bellum sumere, to begyn of enterprise warre.
 Sumere, for Consumere, to spende.
 Diem sumere, to take a daie to dooe a thyng.
 Hilarem sumamus hunc diem, leat vs spende this daie merrily.
 Exordium, or Initium sumere, to begynne.
 Tentaculum sumere, to brycke his fast.
 Cibum sumere, to eate.
 Imperatorias sibi partes sumere, to take on hym the office of a capitaine.
 Spatium ad cogitandum sumere, to take leas- sure to muse on the matter.
 Tantos sibi spiritus sumptierat, he became so haue mynded and proude.
 Sumptificio, feci, ere, to spende.
 Sumptio, onis, f. g. a taking.
 Sumptio, aui, are, to take often.
 Sumptuarius, a, um, that pertaineth to expenses.
 Sumptuariae leges, lawes made for restray- ning of outragious expenses.
 Sumptuose, sumptuously, chargeably.
 Sumptuosus, a, um, sumptuous, costly, that spen- deth muche or outragiously.
 Domus sumptuosa, a costly house or family, wherein is muche superfluitee of expenses.
 Sumptuosa cena, a sumptuous and costly supper.
 Sumptus, us, m. g. expense, cost, charge.
 Effusus sumptus, riotte, superfluous expense.
 Dare sumptum, to geue money to spende or be- stowe.
 Ne sumptui reipublicae essent, that they might not be chargeable to the common weale.
 Prouinciam sumptui exhaustire, to overcharge the countrey with exceeding cost and expenses.
 Facere sumptum in aliquem, to spende or be- stowe cost on one.
 Aduetus noster ne minimo quidem sumptui vobis fuit, was no charge at all to you.
 Nullus teruntius sumptus factus est, there was not one farthyng spent or bestowed.
 Facere amplius sumptum, to spende or be- stow largely.
 Impendunt infiniti sumptus in hos exerci-

tus. &c. these armies will stande by in infinite charge.
 Inferre sumptus ciuibus, to putte the citizing to cosse.
 Infumere sumptum magnum in rem aliquam, to spende verie muche vpon a thyng.
 Ponere sumptum, to bestowe cost.
 Minuere sumptum in aliquem, not to spende or bestowe to muche on one.
 Ne extra modum sumptui prodeas, that you spende not beyonde measure.
 Sumptus suppeditare, to fynde ones cosses and charges.
 Sinium, a promontorie or elbow of the countrey of Sicilia, also a village there.
 Suo, sui, ere, to sowe, to iogane or make fast together.
 Suere aliquid capiti, to get a shewd turne.
 Videat ne quid suo suat capiti, let hym take heed lest he geue hym selfe a shewd turne, or lest he make a rodde for his owne taile.
 Metuo lenonem ne quid suo suat capiti, I am aserde of the haude, lest he procure or get hym selfe a shewd turne.
 Suapte ingenio, of his owne pproprie witte.
 Sup, for Super, aboue.
 Supellectilarius, rij, m. g. a bondeman or slaue, whiche is accompted for chatell.
 Supellex, lectilis, or Hic & hac Supellectilis & hoc supellectile, household stuffe, all thynges moueable within the house.
 Super, vpon, aboue, beyonde, mozeouer, also of, sometye for Prater, beynde.
 Super Garamantas & Indos proferet impe- rium, he shall abuance his empye beynde the Garamantians and Indians.
 Super cenam, at supper tyme.
 Super hac, mozeouer.
 Super Euclionis filiam, of Euclions daughter.
 Super Priamo, super Hector, of Priamus, of Hector.
 Hac super re scribam ad te, of that matter I wryte vnto the.
 Super, for Propter.
 Nec super ipse sua molitur laude laborem, nor he taketh the pyme for his praise.
 Super, for Valde, His accensa super, with those wordes she beynge greatly inflamed or stirred.
 Studui super mediam noctem, or media no- cte, half the night and moze, or til it was past mydnight.
 Erant super mille, they were aboue a thous- sande.
 Super veteres amicos & familiares, beynde his olde friends and familiars.
 Super bellum, annona pramente, ouer and beynde the warre, being in great distresse for lacke of vitallies.
 Gratias aliis super alias epistolis agit, he ge- ueth me thankes in many letters one after an other.
 Super

Super vinum & epulas, at the tyme when they were drynking and making mery.
 Super se collocare aliquem, to place one aboue hym selfe.
 Super gratiam esse, id est, maius esse, vince- re. Satis superq, enough and to muche.
 Et super e vallo prospectant, id est, desuper.
 Superquam quod, for Praterquam quod.
 Super somnum seruus, a chamberlayne.
 Super, sometye for Insuper.
 Supera, for Supra.
 Supera, orum, is used substantiue for heauen.
 Superabundo, aui, are, to abounde, to be super- fluous.
 Superaddo, didi, ere, to put to, or adde to moze- ouer.
 Superalligo, aui, are, to binde vpon another thyng.
 Superamentum, i, that is superfluous or ouer- pluss.
 Superbe, proudly, stately, loftely.
 Suberbiter, idem, used of feruus.
 Superbius aliquem appellare, to speake to one proudly and disdainfully.
 Superbia, a, f. g. pride, loftynesse of mynde, ar- rogancie.
 Superbibito, perbibito, bire, to drinke after, to drinke moze than neede is.
 Superbificus, a, um, that doeth a thyng proudly.
 Superbiloquens, & Superbiloquus, he that spea- keth proudly or haughty.
 Superbiloquencia, a, f. g. proude or haute way- des, proude and arrogant speaking.
 Superbio, bini, ire, to be proude, to be high min- ded, to haue a lofty stomache, to goe stately and arrogantly.
 Superbus, a, um, proude, sometye magnifice or noble. Also high, sumptuous, ornate or garnis- shed, riche, wicked.
 Superbos, olde wryters used for Mortuos, be- cause of the pompe which was at the burynge.
 Faciam ego hodie te superbum, nisi hinc abis, I wyl hylt the, if thou get the not hens.
 Superbum bellum, vniuers, vnhappy, or wicked warre.
 Populum late regem belloq, superbum, id est, excellentem, nobilem.
 Tyburq, superbum, magnifice, builded high.
 Postes spolijs superbi, id est, ornati.
 Superbas aures habemus, when we disdeigne to heare one speake.
 Superbum est, it is a proude acte.
 Supercalco, aui, are, to treade vpon, or rather to laie ouer with tyme.
 Supercerno, creui, ere, to sytte or raigne vpon.
 Supercido, percido, ere, to fall on.
 Supercilius, a, um, fower in countenance.
 Supercilius, ij, n. g. the ouer browe, sometye it significeth pride, grauitee. It is also the hantc, whiche is ouer the dooze.
 Supercilii salit, spoken prouerbiaily, why one hath a good hope & a thyng wyl come to passe.

 Supercilium attolere, to be stately or proude.
 Supercilii ponere, to laie aparte pride or states- ly countenance.
 Supercilium contrahere, to lowre.
 Supercilium remittere, contrarie.
 Seueri supercilij matrona, a sadde housewife or a fower dame.
 Supercilium montis, the ridge of an hyll.
 Supercilium, is sometye used for Natus, a becke.
 Supercongo, texi, gere, to couer ouer.
 Supercorro, ui, ere, to fall downe vpon.
 Supercresco, creui, scere, to ouergrowe.
 Supercubo, cubui, are, to lie vpon, to slepe vpon.
 Supercurro, curri, ere, to ren vpon, to ren aboue.
 Supercurrere ager dicitur vestigali, qui ha- bet ampliore prouentum, to be better than the rent.
 Superdico, dixi, ere, to saie mozeouer, to adde to in wordes.
 Superdo, perdedi, ere, to laie vpon, to put vpon.
 Superduco, duxi, ere, to bynge beynde them has- be brought alrede, to couer ouer or laie vpon.
 Superedo, credis, edi, ere, to eate after a thyng.
 Superemineo, minui, minere, to be higher than other, to be aboue other.
 Supererogo, aui, are, to geue mozeouer, to geue ouer and aboue that was geuen alrede.
 Superexto, stiti, tate, to remaine ouer.
 Superfero, fers, perituli, ferre, to bear ouer.
 Superficiarius, a, um, that hath an house of his owne, builded on an other mans grounde, and paireth therefor a quyte rente.
 Superficiariae aedes, houses builded on the lade of an other man than builded them.
 Superficies, ei, f. g. the ouermost parte of any thyng.
 Superfit, for Superest.
 Superfloresco, florui, scere, to bud or spring ouer.
 Superfluus, superfluousely.
 Superfluitas, atis, f. g. superfluitie.
 Superfluo, fluxi, ere, to abude or be superfluous.
 Superfluius, a, um, superfluous.
 Superfuro, aui, are, when beastes after theye first conception conceiue an other yonge.
 Superfulgo, fulsi, fulgere, to shyne, or caste a great lycht vpon.
 Superfundo, fudi, ere, to poure vpon.
 Superfusus, a, um, poured vpon, tped or spread abode.
 Superfusius Tyberis, the ryuer of Tyber ouer flowing.
 Superfundens se latitia, exceedenge great ioye coming vpon a man.
 Superfusa gens montibus, spread abode vpon the mountaines.
 Supergero, gessi, gerere, to caste or heape vpon.
 Supergradio, or Supergrédior, gredi, to goe vpon.
 Supergradi omnem laudem, to passe or excell all praise.

Superi, thei whiche be in heauen.
 Superiatio, superiatis, ieci, ere, to caste vpon of laie vpon. also to adde to.
 Superiatio, aui, are, to caste vpon often, to passe ouer of beyond, to leape ouer.
 Superiectus, us, m. g. a cappug as an hofe doth a mare, a casting vpon.
 Superilligo, aui, are, to bynde vpon.
 Superillano, lni, lni, linere, to anointe of smere
 vpon.
 Superincido, incidi, ere, to fall on.
 Superimpedens, entis, om. g. hangyng ouer.
 Superimpono, posui, ponere, to put vpon, to charge moreouer.
 Superinduco, duxi, ere, to laie vpon, to couer.
 Superinduo, indui, ere, to put vpon.
 Superingero, ingessi, ingerere, to cast of heape
 vpon.
 Superinicio, iniicis, ieci, icere, to caste vpon of laie vpon, also to adde to.
 Superintego, texti, ere, to couer ouer.
 Superintono, ui, tonare, to thunder from aboue,
 to make a great noise from an high place.
 Superinungo, unxi, ere, to anoint vpon.
 Superior, & hoc superius, hygher.
 Superior ætas, the tyme of age passed.
 Accumbit superior, he sitteth hygher.
 Tota domus superior, all the upper parte of the house.
 Superioribus temporibus, in tyme past.
 Superiores, auctores, seniores, they that liued before our tyme. also thei y excell of passe.
 Superiorem esse largitione, to excell of passe
 one in liberrall geuyng.
 Superlachrymo, aui, are, to wepe of droppe vpon.
 Superlatio, ðnis, f. g. a bearyng ouer.
 Superlatius, superlatiue.
 Superlatus, a, um, that is set to augment the mate-
 tier.
 Superliminare, âris, n. g. the transome of lintell
 ouer a doore.
 Superlitus, a, um, smered ouer.
 Supermando, mandî, ere, to eate ouer an other
 thyng.
 Supermeo, aui, are, to goe ouer, to stippe ouer, to renne of flowe ouer.
 Supermico, aui, are, to excell of passe.
 Supernas, âtis, f. g. that is aboue.
 Supernato, aui, are, to swimme vpon.
 Supernatus, a, um, that is bozne of growen bes-side other.
 Supernati, they that haue the hynder parte of the p. thyghes nexte the buttoches cut away.
 Superabilis, le, that maie be passed of overcome.
 Superne, a high, aboue, from aboue.
 Supernia, the inwarde and hindermost part of the thyghes nexte the buttoches cut of.
 Supernus, a, um, hygh of ouer, that is aboue.
 Suprema regio, the hygher countrey.
 Supero, aui, are, to goe ouer, to surmount, to excede, to passe, to overcome, to excell, to bounde, to bee lesse, to remaine, also to banquish the of overcome. also to ouerlure, some tyme to kill.

 Quod superat, whiche is more, of is lesse in a surplusage.
 Aqua vix superat genua, the water scanty commeth aboue the knees.
 Si quantum sumptus superat, if his expences be greater than his gaires, if he spends more than he getteth.
 Hæc superat ipsam Thaidem, this passeth
 Thais his selfe.
 Adamantè superare duritia, to be harder than the Diamonde.
 Cursu superare canem, to renne swifter of faster than a dogge.
 De eo quod ipis superat, of that thyng whiche they haue to muche of.
 Si quid æri meo alieno superabi, if I shall haue any thyng lesse whan my debtes be paid.
 Multa die superante, before it was night by a good while.
 Superaine & vescitur aura, he is healtie. &c.
 Aliquem ferro superare, to kill one.
 Superobruo, obrui, tuere, to ouerwhelme of cast vpon, to couer quite and cleane.
 Superpendeo, pendi, pendere, to hange ouer.
 Superpondium, ij, n. g. ouerweight, that whiche is added to the last weight.
 Superpono, sui, ere, to put ouer of to set vpon.
 Superrado, rasi, ere, to strape vpon, to shane the upper parte.
 Superfando, scandi, ere, to clyme by vpon.
 Superfcribo, scripsi, bere, to write vpon of ouer.
 Superfedeo, supersedes, sedi, ere, to omitt of leaue to dooe a thyng, to leaue of.
 Superfedere pugna, to geue ouer battaile, to feate from battaile.
 Superfedas hoc labore limeris, take not the payne to come nowe, of forbeare the payne tak-yng in this tourney.
 Superfede istis rebus, let these thynges alone.
 Superfede istis verbis, let these wordes passe, holde thy tongue.
 Superfedi scribere, I forbare to write, I lesse to write.
 Verborum multitudine superfedendum est,
 we must not be many wordes.
 Superfiliio, superfiliis, filui, & filui, lire, to leape of hoppe vpon.
 Superfargo, of spergo, spersi, spergere, to sprinkle of cast vpon.
 Superfagno, aui, are, to ouerflowe.
 Superferno, strati, ere, to strawe of couer ouer.
 Superfites, perstitis, om. g. a surmount, he that ouerlureth of remaith alpe after that other be deade. also alpe, some tyme presents, olde wifters called Superfites, witnesses.
 Superfites tibi conuiuio, he that riseth lesse from the table.
 Superfitem alicui & vitæ alicuius esse, to lue
 after after an other.

 Superfites Sylla vixit vsque ad Antonium, he liued after Sylla, euen to Antonius tyme.
 Multi superfites bellorum, infamia. &c. mas-ny escappng and luyng after the warres. &c.
 Se superfitem gloria suæ superfite, to lue and remaine after the tyme of his glorie.
 Superfitem reipublica viuere, to lue after the common weale is directly destroyed.
 Superfites, he that is late.
 Deos quæso vt sis superfites, I beseeche god
 saue you, longe mought you lue. also present.
 Superfite vitamq; mori, ne inuisi abirent,
 I aduised them bothe being present, that they shoulde not depart before they were bedden.
 Superficio, ðnis, f. g. a superfluous of vaine reslition of deuotion, an honouryng of that which ought not to be honoured, a vaine recurrence of feare towards that thyng, wherein is no ef-ficacie of power, but by the illusion of the deuill, as diuination by the sleeping and cryng of byrdes, obseruation of tymes and dyames, and other lyke vanities. finally, cury vnderfete of vneasonable deuotion of religion, maie be called superficion.
 Superficiose, superficiously, vaine, scrupus-lously, curiously.
 Superficiofi, they whiche be timorous without cause, fearyng that God is displeased wher-none offence is don, they were at the fyrste called, because they continually prayd and offered to the goddes, to preserve their chyldren, that they myght ouer lue them.
 Superficiofus, a, um, superstitious.
 Superficio, aui, are, to make whole, of recouer from death. also to lue after other.
 Superficio, stiti, are, to stande vpon.
 Superficio, struxi, ere, to builde vpon.
 Superficio, perfui, esse, to abounde, to remaine, to banquish, to be superfluous, to endure, to be alpe after other.
 Superficio, for supererit, shall lue of be lesse on lue.
 Superficio, he luetly, of is on lue.
 Superficio, there is plentie, more than enough.
 Aliis quia desit quod amant agre est, tibi quia superficio, dolet, some because they lacke the thyng that they loue be discontent, and thou art forie that thou hast more than thou needest.
 Porro alicuius quod superficio fallax, but yet heare what was the residue of that craftie of des-ceite, of heare that is behinde more of that sub-tiltye of falshode, to defend of plecte for one.
 Cunctari se, ne si superficio, eriperet legibus reum, he woulde tarie, lesse if he came & spake for hym, he shoulde deliuer an offender.
 Quod superficio, for the rest, of that is behinde, to conclude.
 Tu superficio vitæ, to lue after the.
 Tu plane superes, non ades, id est, superfluous es.

Superesse labori, to overcome the labours.
 Superesse and desesse, contrarie.
 Modo vita superest, if my life shal me not, if god sende me lyfe.
 Superuacaneus, a, um, superfluous, that serueth for nothyng.
 Superuacuo, an aduerbe, in vaine.
 Superuacuos, a, um, not necessary, superfluous,
 in vaine, that serueth to no vse.
 Dicere superuacuum habeo, I coumpte it in vaine to t. l.
 Superuado, uadi, ere, to go vpon, to clyme vpon,
 to go ouer.
 Superuadere omnes asperitates, to goe & passe ouer all harde and dangerous places.
 Superuaguantis, was of the diuinours of south cawes called that birde, whiche cryed from the toppes of any thyng.
 Superuagor, aris, ari, to wander abrode more than needeth: in trees to haue no bowes than needeth, to extende of growe abrode superfluous outly.
 Superuacho, uexi, uelere, to carle by vpon.
 Superuenio, peruenis, ueni, uenire, to come vnto looked for, to come vpon of after an other thyng, to come vpon suddenly, to ascende aboue, to leape vpon, as the male dooth the female.
 Huic latuit Quintus superuenit, in ths great tope Quinius came vpon them suddenly.
 Si quis eam superuenit humor, if any moyssure come vpon it.
 Taurus ubi iuuenium superuenit, The bull
 whan he leape on a bullocke.
 Matrem stupro superuenit, he hadde to dooe with his owne mother.
 Si superuenit iugum, if it grow vpon the
 rable of frame.
 Superuentus, us, mas. gen. a comyng vpon one suddenly.
 Superuenio, stui, stire, to ouercome, of to shew outwards.
 Superuuo, uixi, uiuere, to recouer from peryll of death, of whan a man seemeth to be dead.
 Superungo, aui, ungere, to annoint vpon.
 Superuolito, aui, are, the frequer. of Superuolo.
 Superuolo, aui, are, to flee ouer.
 Superuolo, uolui, uoluere, to rolle of tumble
 vpon.
 Superus, a, um, the hygher of ouermost.
 Superum mare, the sea, whiche is called Hadricum, wherein standeth the citie of Venice.
 Ex supero, for Superne.
 Supinatus, a, um, laied vpright.
 Supine, negligently.
 Supino, aui, are, to lue vpright, of the bealy vprward. also to goe stately and arrogantly, holdyng the nose by into the wynde.
 Supino, aui, are, the passue.
 Supinus, a, um, vpright, the bealy vprward.
 Sometime it signifyeth on an hill of high place.
 also idell.

Supina aure audire, to geue a dull eare, to here negligently.
 Cursus supinus, id est, qui retro sit, whan a ryuer runneth backwarde towarde the head agayne.
 Manus supinas ad cœlū tendere, to lifte vp the hādes to heauen, as men doe in prayng to god.
 Animus supinus, a slouthful mind of courage.
 Supinus iactus, a casting upwarde.
 Tibur supinum, standyng on a hylly syde.
 Supinis manibus excipere aliquem, to receyue one willingly whan he cometh.
 Suppar, paris, maf. gen. almost euen, one almost equall of euen.
 Supparator, aris, ari, to folowe of flatter for a mans dinner.
 Supparium, ri, n. g. a clothe of courtaine hanged by where enterludes were plaied.
 Supparus, ri, m. g. vel supparum, ri, neu. ge. a smocke, it is also a topsaile of a shippe.
 Suppedaneum, nei, n. g. a foote stowe, any thing that is sette vnder the foote.
 Suppedito, aui, are, to geue of minister sufficiēly. also to be enough of sufficient. sometyme for Suppeto. also to oppresse, to endure.
 Ac stomacho non queo labori suppeditare, my stomache wil not leat me endure the labour.
 Also to furnishe the expenses, to geue as muche as a man wolde haue.
 Nam si illi pergā suppeditare sumptibus Me- nedeme, mihi illac vero ad rastros res redit, surely Menedem, if I wold geue him as much as he wold spende, that thyng wold byng me to the point to rake for my luyng.
 Suppeditare, to subdue of treade vnder.
 Nunc video, in iudicio meū contendere non vis, vbi suppeditari turpissimū, superare pulcherrimum est, now I perceiue thou wilt not contende with me before iudges, where it were a great shame to be subdued, and very muche honestie to haue the better.
 Ut sit vnde suppeditentur sumptus necessarii, that we maie haue wherewith to maintaine our necessarie charges.
 Testes suppeditare, to furnishe one with witnesses.
 Non suppeditat mihi charta, I haue no paper, I lacke paper.
 Quæ suppeditant & ad victum & ad cultum, that bee sufficiente for meate and drinke and clothynge.
 Vix in fundamenta suppeditauere, they were scant enough to make the foundations.
 Si vita suppeditasset, if he had liued.
 Suppedito, aris, ari, the deponent.
 Suppeditatio, onis, f. g. a findyng geuyn of misteryng of thynges that one lacketh.
 Suppendo, pendi, pendere, to hange.
 Suppetas & Suppetias, aide, succour, helpe.
 Suppetias ire, to goe to the succour of aide of one. Suppetias mihi, bynge to me succours, Suppetias venire, to come to succour.

 Suppetias occurrit, he came forthwith to the succours.
 Suppetias adueni, come and helpe me.
 Suppetias ferre, to aide of succour.
 Suppetior, aris, ari, to succour of aide.
 Suppeto, tui, tere, to aske priuily of crastily.
 Suppetit, it is in a crastinelle, whan one hath enough of a thyng that he maie vse and occupie it.
 Cui abunde suppetunt facultates, whiche hath riches enough.
 Cui rerum suppetit vsus, whiche hath all thing that he needeth.
 Suppetere and deesse, contrarie.
 Dum vires suppetunt, while we be of power of strength.
 Si vita suppetet, if he liue.
 Lingua non suppetebat libertati, he coulde not utter and speake his woordes freely & boldly.
 Ut vita tua suppetes suppetat, that he maie out liue you.
 Suppetunt dictis data aut facta.
 Non suppetunt dictis data, he performeth not that he promised, of he hath not geuen that he promised.
 Vtinā quæ dicis dictis facta suppetunt, would god thou woldest doe as thou saiest, or would god thy deedes did agree with thy woordes.
 Suppetit lucrum, there is gaine sufficient.
 Res ita suppetit, the matter so requirith.
 Suppilo, aui, are, to steale vnder hande of craftily, to robbe, to pylt.
 Supplanto, aui, are, to putte vnder the foote, to ouerthrowe, to supplante, of deceiue in pteuents thyng one to his hyndrance of damage, to vnderplante of sette a tree of vine.
 Supplaudo, si, dere, to reioyce priuily.
 Supplementum, ti, n. g. that supplieth of maketh by that which lacketh in quantitee of numbere.
 Suppleo, pleui, plere, to make by that which lacketh, to make euen, to fill the place of hym that lacketh, sometyme to fill vp.
 Si fortuna gregem suppleuerit, if he haue as many lambes as sheepe.
 Remigio naues supplere, to furnishe his ships with rowars.
 Remis zephiros supplere, to helpe the winde with oars, to dyue forward the shippe.
 Librum imperfectum supplere, to make perfect a booke.
 Exercitum supplere, To furnishe an armie where some of the numbere lacked.
 Bibliothecam supplere, to furnishe a librarie with bookes there as it lacketh.
 Vsum prouincie supplere, to geue one that is necessarie to spende in the tyme that he is in the prouince.
 Supplex, supplicis, om. g. that despyeth any thing kneelyng of prostrate, suppliant.
 Veniam supplex poposci, I desired you for geue geuenesse humbly vpon my knees.

 Libelli supplices, requestes, supplications.
 Supplices venerunt pacem petentes, they came crouching and kneelyng, desirynge peate.
 Verbis supplicibus orare, to intreate one humbly.
 Supplicatio, onis, f. g. a prayer, a requeste, a proccedion.
 Supplicasis pro supplicaueris.
 Supplicans, tis, he that despyeth a thyng.
 Suppliciter, humbly kneelyng.
 Suppliciter loqui, to speake humbly.
 Literas suppliciter mittere, to sende letters to one in manner of supplication.
 Supplicium, cij, peine, tourment, of execution of death. Contume supplicia, are prayers, supplications.
 Supplicia pendere, to be put to execution.
 Dabis ei viro supplicium, thou wilt be content to be punished at his hande.
 Afficere supplicio, to punishe.
 Perire supplicio, to be put to death.
 Sumere supplicium, to punishe.
 Supplico, aui, are, to beseeche humbly, to make requeste.
 Deo thure & vino supplicare, to make sacrifice to god with incense and wine.
 Supplodo, ū, dere, to stampe of make noise with the feete, also to reiect of caste away.
 Supplōdo, onis, f. g. a stampenge of noise made with the feete.
 Suppōnit, it somewhat repenteth, it halfe repenteth.
 Suppono, sui, nere, to put vnder, to put into the place of an other, to set a false of feigned thyng in the place of that whiche is the very true thyng.
 Oua supponere gallinis, to set egges vnder an henne.
 Tumulo supponere aliquem, to burie one.
 Supposuit exemplum epistolæ Domiti, he wrote vnder. &c.
 Supponere se reum criminibus pro aliquo, to take vpon hym to answere to the fautes that are laied to an other mans charge.
 Supponere vicarium, to set an other vnder hym.
 Testamentum supponere, to byngne a forged testament of wyl.
 Supporto, aui, are, to byngne of carie priuily, to conueigh vnder.
 Suppositio, onis, f. g. the puttyng of setting of a false of feigned thyng in the place of the thinge selfe, as one childe for an other.
 Suppositivus, a, um, that is set in the place of an other.
 Suppositus, and suppositus, a, um, put of sette vnder, put falsely in the place of an other.
 Suppositus parus, when the chyld of one woman is laied with an other woman, whiche is not the veray mother, as though she had borne it, a charyngelyng.

 Suppositor, onis, m. g. he that priuily conuasieth a mans childe to an other as his owne.
 Supprædes, countrefetters, they whiche are bounde to the succours, to saue them harmeles.
 Suppressio, onis, f. g. suppressyng.
 Nocturnæ suppressiones, when in the night a mans breathe and voice is stopped, whiche the common people beleue to be hegges.
 Suppressas, a, um, drowned, beaten vnder, suppressed, kepte vnder, acpie downe, hidde, concealed.
 Victi Persi naues confugerūt, ex quibus multe suppressæ, multe captæ, the Persians fledde vnto their shippes, wherof many were drowned, and many taken.
 Voce suppressa loqui, to speake lowe.
 Supprimo, pressi, primere, to kepe downe, to kepe secrete, to kepe in silence.
 Impetum suppressere, id est, reprimere, to stoppe the violence.
 Famam rei suppressere, to stent the fame of bruit of a thyng.
 Nummos vel pecuniam suppressere, to reiecte of kepe money with hym secrete, of by crafte, of by vnlauffull meanes.
 Suppressere iter, to stae of omittre a iourney.
 Supprōmo, promissi, nere, to draw out drinke.
 Supprōmus, mi, m. g. a butlar.
 Bono cella supprōmo credita, the cellar of buttrie was committed to a good butlar.
 Suppudet, I am half ashamed, thou art half ashamed, of he is half ashamed.
 Suppudet mei illius rei, I am half ashamed of that matter.
 Suppuratio, æ, f. g. matteryng of a soze.
 Suppuratum, ti, n. g. that is growen to an impostume.
 Suppuratio, onis, f. g. an impostume of soze that hath matter.
 Suppuratio rupta, an impostume of soze broken.
 Suppuratorius, a, um, that whiche pertaineth to impostumes, of to make a soze to matter.
 Suppuro, aui, are, to matter of be an impostume.
 Supputo, supputas, aui, are, to prync of cut trees sleightly. also to cast accompte.
 Supra, about of ouer.
 Supra tres cyathos, about three cuppes.
 Supra modum, beyond measure.
 Nihil supra, nothinge can passe it of be more excellent.
 Supra for Ante of Superius.
 Supra demonstrauimus, we haue shewed before.
 Suprag for Suprad quod.
 Supradictus, a, um, spoken before.
 Suprapositus, a, um, put of set before.
 Supra scriptus, a, um, written before.
 Supremo, highest of all, laste of all.
 Supremus, a, um, the highest of greatest of all other.

Suprema desperatio, utter despayre, whē there is no hope at all, when one can not tell what to dooe.

Supremis suis annis, in the later ende of his lyfe.

Iter supremū carpere, to passe out of this life. Manum supremam imponere, to archieue, to finish, to make perfect.

Officia suprema, funerals obsequies, solemnities kept at a mans interment.

Sole supremo, at the sonne goyng downe.

Supplicium supremum, extreme punishment.

Circa suprema Neronis, about Neroes later daies.

Ordinare suprema sua, to make his testament or last will.

Germanici suprema desleuerat, he bewailed the death of Germanicus.

Supus, olde writers vsed for Supinus.

Sura, a, f. ge. the cause of the legge. Somtyme the whole thanke of legge from the knee downe.

Sura, he also vsed for botas.

Surculaceus, a, um, lyke a sette, grasse, or ponge spryng.

Surcularis, re, that whiche byngeth sooty ponge fettes or sprynges of trees.

Surcularius, a, um, belonging to shootes sprynges or grasse.

Surculo, aui, are, the cutte of shootes or sprynges from trees, to ymune trees.

Surculose, from shoote to shoote, one spryng of shoote after an other.

Surculosus, a, um, full of slippes, shootes or sprynges.

Surculus, li, m. g. a ponge sette or slippe. also a slippe of a tree or ponge grasse, a science.

Surdaster, a, um, that is somewhat deffe, and can not here, halfe deffe.

Surde, deafely.

Surdeo, dui, dēre, to be deafe.

Surdesco, scere, to ware deafe, or to be deafe.

Surditas, atis, f. g. deafenesse.

Surdo, aui, are, to make deafe.

Surdus, a, um, deafe. also that whiche hath no sauour. also that speaketh not, that towneth not, that maketh no noise.

Ictus surdi, strokes that make no sounde, that be not heard.

Ad munera furdus, that is not moued with gettes or bydes.

Buccina furdā, a trumpet that is not heard.

Non erit officij gratia furda tui, I wyl not for get to thāke you for the great pleasure that you haue doone me.

Herba furdā, herbes that be nothyng notable or spoken of.

Locus furdus, a place that rendzeth not the sounde of a voice.

Nomen furdum, id est, ignobile, not famous or notable.

Posteritas furda, that speaketh nothyng of a man when he is dead.

Surdus color, a darke colour.

Surdus veritatis, that herkeneth not to the truth, that regardeth not the truth.

Surgo, surrexi, surgere, to arise, to growe or spryng.

Surgere a lecto, mensa, &c.

Surgere de cathedra, sella, &c. to rise out of a stoole or chaire.

Surgere cubitu, to rise from bedde.

De nocte surgere, to rise in the night.

In somnium surgere, to rise vp that he may goe to slepe.

Aedificia surgere dicuntur, when they be builded vp.

Aequora surgunt, the seas arise and begyn to be troublous.

Surgentibus astris, when it began to be night, Surgens in cornua ceruus, an hart beginning to haue hornes growyng.

Homo surgere dicitur, quando crescit.

Surgere dicuntur venti, when they begynne to blowe.

Luna surgit, the moone riseth.

Rumor surgit, a bruit of fame begynneth.

Surrexe, for surrexisse.

Surpiculus, li, m. g. a basket, a hamper, a panier.

Surrentum, a towne in Campania.

Surrentinus, a, um, of that towne.

Surregit, olde writers vsed for Surgit, wherof cometh surrectio, a rising.

Surrepo, repsi, repere, to strepe vnder, looke Subrepo.

Surreptitius, a, um, that which is doone by stealth, that none other man knoweth it.

Surreptus, a, um, taken or stolen awaie.

Surrigo, rexi, gere, to lise vp.

Surrigere aures, to laie his care to a thyng to hearken.

Surripio, surripis, pui, pere, to steale or take away priuily, also to lise vp on high, to pzeuent.

Cupio illam operam seni surripere, I woulde faine pzeuent the olde man in that matter.

Surpice for surripice.

Surpuerā for surripuerat.

Surripere operam. Clanculū abij a legione, operam hanc surripui tibi, I departed priuily from the hoste, this tyme I haue boyowed to dooe you pleasure.

Surripere se, to steale awaie.

Vt surripuisti te dudum mihi de foro, I how dyddest thou steale away from me late out of the market.

Surrogatio, ōnis, a substitution.

Surrogo, aui, are, to substitute or put in an other mans place.

Sursum, upwarde.

Ne sursum deorsum cursites, that thou shouldst best not tenne vp and downe.

Sursum versum, upwarde.

Surus, a stake.

Sus for sursum.

Suscep deq̄ fero, & suscep deq̄ habeo, I force not, I reche not, I care not muche, I littell passe.

Sus, suis, com. g. a sawe or hogge, a swyne.

Sus Mineruam, a pzoerbe applied vnto hym, whiche pzfumeth to teache or correcte one, of whom he rather ought to be taught or corrected.

Susa, x, and Susa, ōrum, the chiefe towne of Persis.

Susceptio, ōnis, f. ge. an enterpryse, a taking of a thyng in hande.

Susceptum, ti, a thyng that one hath vnderaken or enterprised.

Susceptus, a, um; vnderaken or enterprised, receiued, begotten as a childe is.

Soboles mihi suscepta de te, I haue had issue of you.

Filius patri de nouerca susceptus, the father had a childe of the stepmother.

Suscio, scire, for, scio, to know.

Suscipio, suscipis, cēpi, pere, to take on hym, to admitte, to receiue.

Suscipere liberos, to gette chyldzen and synde them, to haue chyldzen by a woman.

Suscipere fidem, to promise.

Quas partes impleturum te secundum suscepam fidem confido, whiche parte I truste thou wilt performe, accordyng to the promise that thou haue made.

Consilium suscipere, to take counsaile or aduise.

Poenam dignam scelere suscipere, to bee punished accordyng to his merites.

Simulacres suscipere, to bee at debate or variance with one.

Deo vota pro aliquo suscipere, to make forlemne bowes and prayers to god for one.

Aes alienum amicorum suscipere, to take vpon hym to pay the debtes of his friends, to charge him selfe with his friends debtes.

Aliquem suscipere & tueri, to receiue a man in to his protection and defence.

In amicitiam suscipere, to admitte one for his friende.

In ciuitatem suscipi, to bee made a citisen of bourgeois of any place.

Bellum suscipere, to enterpryse warre.

De his rogo vt cogitationem suscipias, that you woulde muse or thinke on these matters, or that ye woulde consider and caste these matters in your mynde.

Consuetudo suscipit, the custome or facion of men hath receiued it.

Crimen aliquod suscipere, id est, agnoscere, to acknowlage or confesse. also to take on hym to defende a thyng that is laied to ones charge.

Crimen culpa suscipere, to take the blame.

Exercitationem corporis laboriosa suscipere, to exercise his bodie in some painfull labour.

Casum suscipere, to put hym selfe in dangier, to auenture, to hasard.

Inimicitiam suscipere, to put hym selfe in the enmittee and displeasure of men.

Inimicum aliquem suscipere, to renne in ones displeasure, and haue hym his enemie.

Offensas suscipere, to renne in displeasure of men.

Vt susciperem partes suas, that I should take his charge vpon me, or dooe as he had done befor me, or plate the parte that he had played.

Patrocinium rei alicuius suscipere, to take vpon hym to defende a matter.

Periculum pro salute alicuius suscipere, to put hym selfe in dangier to saue an other mans life or good estate.

Personam boni viri suscipere, to counterfaite hym selfe to be an honest man.

Protectionem suscipere, to take a iourney or boiage.

Vigilias suscipere discendi causa, to watche.

Suscito, aui, are, to awake one out of his sleape, to call one to his warke, to rise vp, to stirre or pzoouoke.

Somno and somno suscitare, to awake or raise one out of his sleape.

Ignem extinctum suscitare, to make the fire that is out burne againe.

Crepitum suscitare pede, to make a noyse with his foote.

Suscitare aliquem ad suum officium, to exhorte or stirre one to doe his duetie.

Suscitabulum, li, a pzoouocation or stirring, an exortinge.

Suscus, looke Subscus.

Susiana, na, or Susiane, nes, a pzoouince of Asia.

Susinus, a, um, made of liles

Suspecto, aui, are, to beholde aboue, to loke vp often. also to suspecte. somtyme to see beneth, or to looke downe.

Suspectio, ōnis, idem quod Suspicio.

Suspectus, us, m. g. a looking or beholding vpwarde. also high: somtyme admiration.

Suspectus, a, um, suspected, mistrusted.

Suspectus super aliquo scelere, suspected of some lewde or naughty arte.

Suspectus in aliqua virgine, mistrusted to bee so familiar with a maiden.

Falso incestu suspecta, falsely suspected of incest.

Hoc mihi suspectum est, this is the thyng that I dooe suspecte, or this matter I dooe suspecte.

Locus suspectus, id est, altus, cluofus.

Suspendeo, di, dēre, to be hangd ouer or on hye, also to appere a littell.

Suspendiosus, a, um, that is hangd.

Suspendium, di, n. g. a hangyng.

Suspendia saua cogitabas, thou didst thinke cruelly to hang thy selfe.

Suspendo, di, dēre, to hang vp, to delaie, to deferre, ferre, to make doubtfull or uncertayne.

Ex ceruice suspendere, to hange at ones necke.
Acclisium suspendere, to bulde vpon arches.
Fluctiones oculorum suspendere, id est, cohibere, siterere.

Suspendere se e sico, to hange hym selfe on a figge tree.

Suspendere in arbore or arbori, to hange on a tree.

Medio responso rem suspendunt, with a doubtfull answer they delayed or soded footly the matter.

Ita mihi suspendit animu, it maketh my minde so doubtfull or carefull.

Spiritu suspendere inter legendu, to pause, reste or kepe his pointes in redyng.

Suspendere animos expectatione, to make men loke for a thyng.

Naso aduoco suspendere aliquem, prouerby ally to scorne or mocke.

Suspensura, ra, f. g. a hanging vp.

Suspensio, onis, f. g. a hanging vp. also doubt or uncertayne of the mynde.

Suspensus, a, um, hanged vp. also uncertayne, doubtfull, carefull, that can not tell what to dooe.

Suspensa manu scribere, id est, dubitanter.

Suspensa gradu incedere, to goe a stallynge pace.

Hac ubi ego audiui ad fores suspensa gradu placide ire perexi, when I heide those woordes, I went to the doore faire and softly.

Suspensus animo, haunge doubte, or beyng abjadde.

Necte suspensum tenebo, I wyll not kepe the any longer in doubte.

Animus suspensus, a mynde solicitous and carefull, or so in doubte, that he can not tell what to dooe.

Suspensus somnus, a slumbe, an vnquiete slepe.

Auribus suspensis bibere, to heere diligently.

Suspensissimum palinatum, a place which after it is delued, is neuer troden downe with the fete, nor beaten or pressed downe with a rammer or rolle, but is lesse light and hollow.

Si terram suspensam relinquo, if ye dooe not treade downe the grounde or presse it downe with a rollar.

Suspicans, antis, that hath suspition, suspecting.

Suspica, acis, that suspecteth or demeth.

Suspicio, onis, f. g. suspition.

Absolue suspicione, to put out of suspition.

Absesse a suspicione, to be out of suspition.

Adduci in suspicionem, to bee brought in suspition.

Aspergere suspicione, to make one suspected.

Assequi suspicione, to suspecte as the matter is.

Dare locum suspitioni, to geue occasion to suspecte.

Sic suspicio est, this euery man suspecteth.
Suspicio mihi nunc est, now doe I suspecte.
Expurgare suspicionem, to put awaie suspition.

Importat suspicionem hac res, this thyng maketh hym suspected.

De me suspicio incidit, they suspected me.

Inicere suspicionem alicuius rei, to make a thyng suspected.

Suspiciose, suspiciosely.

Suspiciosus, a, um, suspicious.

Suspiciosa mula, a mule that feareth sodaynly and staggereth in the waie.

Suspicio, suspicis, spexi, spicere, to loke vp. also to honour, to answere, to meruaile, to haue in admiration, to be in loue with a thyng. also to suspecte.

Suspiciere caelum and in caelum, to looke vp to heauen.

Suspiciere aliquem, to haue one in admiration.

Suspicio, aris, ai, to haue suspition, to suspecte, also to suppose, to deeme.

Suspicio fore, I thynke it will come to passe.

Suspiciens, antis, om. g. sighyng.

Suspiciatio, onis, f. g. a sighyng.

Suspiciatus, us, m. g. a sigh.

Suspicium, i, n. ge. a sigh. also the discaie of drawyng or fetchyng the breathe stricke.

Petere and ducere suspicium, to fetch a sigh.

Rumpere suspicia in vocis, after great sighyng to breake out and speake.

Suspiciolus, a, um, drawing or fetchyng the breath stricke, mozte wynded, or he wholy tetheth his breath pincully.

Suspicio, au, are, to sigh. also to desyre feruently.

Ab imo pectoris suspicare, to fetch a sigh from the bottom of his herte.

Ad honores suspicare, to haue a great desyre to come to honour and promotion.

Suspiciat matrem, he sigheth after his mother, or for desyre of his mo. her.

Suspici deque habere, to passe nothyng whether the matter go vp or downe, to be nothyng solicitous or carefull how the matter goeth.

Suspici deque habeo, loke before in sus.

Suspicio, lire, for Subsilio.

Sustendo, stendi, stend. re, to goe about a thyng to dectie one.

Sustendere insidias, to laie watche.

Sustentaculum, that whiche sustineth or beareth vp a thyng.

Sustentatio, onis, f. g. a stayyng vp, a delaiyng.

Sustento, au, are, to sustaine or beare vp, to aide, to helpe, to nourishe, to feede, to mainteyne, to endure, to suffer, to abide patiently.

Schola se sustentauit, he founde hym selfe woly teachyng a schoole.

Solus omnem familiam sustentat, he onely findeth and nourissheth all the householde.

Alere & sustentare.

Aliorum opibus casus meos sustentabam, I dyd

dyd proude for myne owne necessites by the helpe of other.

Ipsa spes inopiam sustentabat, the hope that they had did helpe or ease theyr neede.

Laborem spe om sustentat, he dooth susteine or endure labour on hope of quietnesse.

Sustentare aliquem suis officiis, To helpe or ayde one with all the frendly pleasures that he can doe hym.

Ex meis angustiis illius sustento tenuitatem, with my small substance I helpe his pouertie or neede.

Sustenta te mea Terentia vi potes, succour or help your selfe my deare Terentia in these iuelles, as well as you can.

Tua virtute te sustentas, comforte your selfe in the consyderation of your owne vertue.

Præclara conscientia sustentor, I comforte my selfe with the testimonie of my good conscience.

A edificacionem ad tuum aduentum sustentari placebat, id est, differri, to be deferred or delayed untill your coming.

Sustentare maiorem, id est, perferre, to endure or abyde.

Sustentatum est, the impersonall.

Aegre eo die sustentatum est, they had muche adoe to resiste or withstande theyr enemies that daie.

Sustineo, sustines, nui, nêre, to holde vp, to sustayne, to suffer, to endure, to forbeare, to desende, to mainteyne, to supporte, to fauour, to stop, to staye, to holde backe, to defer, to feede, to refrayne, to beare of.

Quantum malarum rerum sustineam, howe muche euill I doe susteyne or abyde.

Meq sustinebam, and I did refraine my selfe.

Sustinere se a respondendo, to refrayne from answering.

Non sustineo, id est, nequeo, non possum, nō audeo, nolo, I can not, I dare not.

Nec iam suspendere stium sustinet, neither can the now forbeare wepyng.

Non sustinui inducere in animum, I coulde not thinke or perswade my selfe.

Qui spectare sustinuisse, whiche had beholds it.

Rem in noctem sustinere, they deferred the matter, or medled not with the matter untill it was night.

Apuleium tua autoritate sustinere debes, you ought with your authoritie to defende helpe and supporte Apuleius.

Artus infirmos baculo sustinere, to staie vp his weake lymmes with a staffe.

Cuius mortis causam fugiui sustinent, of whose death certaine vagaboundes and renegates beare all the blame.

Nonne furor eius omnem causam sustinet, ought not all the blame to be laied on his furie.

Causam publicam sustinere, To defende the quarell of the comie weale.

Possunt hoc cibo sustineri, they maye be fedde or nourished with this meate.

Crimen sustinere, id est, defendere, to excuse, to defende.

Maximam sollicitudinem curamque sustineo, I am in greate sollicitousnesse and care, I am verie solicitous or carefull.

Curam sustinere, id est, retinere, to stop.

Dignitatem & decus ciuitatis sustinere, to defende or mainteyne.

Equos incitatos sustinere, to stoppe or holde backe.

Sustines non paruum expectationem, men haue no small expectation of the.

Sustinui gradum, I stopped or stode still.

Impetum sustinere, to abyde or beare of.

Manum suam sustinere deus dicitur, quando retrahit.

Sumptum sustinere non possem, I could not beare the charges.

Vultum alicuius sustinere, to abide ones loke.

Milites pisce & herbis sustinebantur, the soules diours were furnished with fishe and herbes.

Sustinere & tueri expectationem sui, to kepe and mainteine the good estimation that men haue of hym.

Onus magnum sustinere, to susteyne a great charge or burden.

Sustollo, tuli, lere, to lifte vp high.

Sustollere animos, to be proude or to haue an high courage.

Sustollere a alienum, to paye debtes.

Sustollere puerum, to byng vp a childe.

Sustulit, is propriety of the father, as P eperit is of the mother.

Sustuli, I haue had, I haue brought vp, I haue lyfte vp.

Metum sustollere, to take away feare.

Libertatem sustollere, to take awaie libertie.

Conuiuium sustollere, to take vp the table.

Vrbem fundius sustollere, to destroye a citee utterly.

Virginem sustollere, to rauishe a mayden.

In equum sustollere, to lifte vp on horsebacke.

Susum, vide wipers used for Sursum.

Susurratio, onis, f. g. a whisperyng.

Susurro, au, are, or Susurror, aris, ari, to whispyr, to mutter.

Aures susurrare, to whisper in ones eare.

Susurro, onis, a whisperer. also he that with false and secreete repoyte, maketh dissencion betwene men, a tale bearer.

Susurrus, i, m. gene. a whisperyng or softe murmur, of such nople as trees doe make with the wynde, or a riuer when it tenneth, or byrdes when they chatter.

Susurrus, a, um, that whispereth or muttereth.

Sutâris, a steamster or theapster, one that alway soweth.

Sutela, æ, f. ge. subtylter, or crafty warpyng, a craftie

quarell of the comie weale.

Possunt hoc cibo sustineri, they maye be fedde or nourished with this meate.

Crimen sustinere, id est, defendere, to excuse, to defende.

Maximam sollicitudinem curamque sustineo, I am in greate sollicitousnesse and care, I am verie solicitous or carefull.

Curam sustinere, id est, retinere, to stop.

Dignitatem & decus ciuitatis sustinere, to defende or mainteyne.

Equos incitatos sustinere, to stoppe or holde backe.

Sustines non paruum expectationem, men haue no small expectation of the.

Sustinui gradum, I stopped or stode still.

Impetum sustinere, to abyde or beare of.

Manum suam sustinere deus dicitur, quando retrahit.

Sumptum sustinere non possem, I could not beare the charges.

Vultum alicuius sustinere, to abide ones loke.

Milites pisce & herbis sustinebantur, the soules diours were furnished with fishe and herbes.

Sustinere & tueri expectationem sui, to kepe and mainteine the good estimation that men haue of hym.

Onus magnum sustinere, to susteyne a great charge or burden.

Sustollo, tuli, lere, to lifte vp high.

Sustollere animos, to be proude or to haue an high courage.

Sustollere a alienum, to paye debtes.

Sustollere puerum, to byng vp a childe.

Sustulit, is propriety of the father, as P eperit is of the mother.

Sustuli, I haue had, I haue brought vp, I haue lyfte vp.

Metum sustollere, to take away feare.

Libertatem sustollere, to take awaie libertie.

Conuiuium sustollere, to take vp the table.

Vrbem fundius sustollere, to destroye a citee utterly.

Virginem sustollere, to rauishe a mayden.

In equum sustollere, to lifte vp on horsebacke.

Susum, vide wipers used for Sursum.

Susurratio, onis, f. g. a whisperyng.

Susurro, au, are, or Susurror, aris, ari, to whispyr, to mutter.

Aures susurrare, to whisper in ones eare.

Susurro, onis, a whisperer. also he that with false and secreete repoyte, maketh dissencion betwene men, a tale bearer.

Susurrus, i, m. gene. a whisperyng or softe murmur, of such nople as trees doe make with the wynde, or a riuer when it tenneth, or byrdes when they chatter.

Susurrus, a, um, that whispereth or muttereth.

Sutâris, a steamster or theapster, one that alway soweth.

Sutela, æ, f. ge. subtylter, or crafty warpyng, a craftie craftle decepte, a caullation inuented to breake a couchaunt.

Suterna, x, f. g. shoemakers crafte.
Sutis, le, that whiche is sewed.
Sutor, oris, m. g. a shoemaker.
Sutorius, a, um, perceyning to a shoemaker.
Sutorium aramentum, souters bleche.
Sutrina, x, f. g. a shoemakers shop.
Sutrinum, i, n. g. a shoemakers crafte.
Sutrinus, a, um, of shoemaking.
Ars sutrina, shoemakers crafte.
Sutrium, avery auncient towne of Hetruria. xliiii.
mples from Rome.
Sutura, x, f. g. a seame, a fastnyng together.
Suturnum, ij, n. g. an ewer of labour.
Suas, a, um, his of hers. also for Proprius, his owne. but how this woorde shalbe moste aptly and conveniently used, Reade Italia of Bubeis commentaries. for it is more abundantly and properly declared of them, then can be expressed in English.
Suus cuq; mos, euery man hath his facion.
Suo sibi telo, for suo telo, with his owne weapon.
Suus, for eius.
Lege collega sui non tenebatur, he was not subject to the lawe of his companion in office.
Sua concio i; the hominem, his owne assemblie of companie laughed at hym.
Quid quisq; habent sui, what euery man hath of his owne.
Ne suum adimerem alteri, I wolde not take from an other that is his owne.
Semper erit in disputando suus, he shall neuer nede in reasoning to vse other mens argumens tes, but his owne.
Sua sponte, of his owne accord, motion of nature.
Vi sua vnus in his gratia esset, to the ende that he onely myght haue the thanke.
Suapte culpa, id est, propria, by his owne faute.
Suapte ingenio, of his owne wit of nature.

S, ANTE Y.

SYades, sterres, called also Hyades, seuen in numbre.
Syagros, a wyld boze.
Sybaris, a towne. xii. mples from Rome, an other in Grece. also a riuer of Calaber.
Sybarita, x, a man of that citee.
Sybaritanus, a, um, of Sybaris.
Sybariticus, a, um, of Sybaris, also sumptuous, deintie, wanton.
Sybaritica mensa, a prouerbe, applied to feasts and banquettes, whiche dooe excede in delicatenesse.
Sybaritici libelli, wanton bokes.
Sebaritici ludi, playes whiche are wanton and collyp.

Sybariticum carmen, a verse of poeme, conteynngng wanton matter.
Syboti, people in the north part of the worlde.
Sycaminus, a mulberie tree.
Sycheus, a mans name.
Sycion, he that firste founde garlandes.
Sycómorus, or as samme write it Sicomorus, for. ge. a great tree lyke a fig tree, whiche hath abundance of mylke, whose fruite cometh not out at the toppes of the bowes as fygges do, but out of the same bowes, and sweete lyke to a wyld fygge. The grapes thereof be lesse then the grapes of fygges, and they be neuer ripe, except they be scraped with an instrument of wd.
Sycon, oide writers called a figge.
Sycophanta, x, m. ge. he that falsly accuseth an innocent, also a bearer of tales, or a complainer, a Sycophant.
Sycophantia, x, f. ge. a false accusation, deceipt.
Sycophantias struere, to deuis of inuente fals schode.
Sycophantiose, decessfully, by craft.
Sycophantor, aris, ari, to accuse falsely.
Sycophantissio, idem.
Sycosis, f. ge. a disease in the fundament, whiche maketh a warre lyke a fygge.
Sycosis, where within the cieted groweth a little wart of other lyke thynge.
Syderalis, le, belonging to planettes or sterres.
Syderatio, oris, f. gen. a disease when a man is benommed of taken, striking with a planette, in trees it is taken for blaspnge.
Syderatus, a, um, blasted, stricken with a planette, taken, benomed.
Sydereus, a, um, of planettes or sterres, also high,
shynnyng of byghht.
Syderis, a, riuer, where the sea Hircanum taketh his name first.
Syderor, aris, ari, to be blasted of stricken with a planette.
Sydia, the ryndes of pomegranades.
Sydus, syderis, n. g. a sterre, a signe of sterres, a planet. also idem quod syderatio.
Regina syderum, the moone.
Ferre sydera vertice, to touche the skye.
Ferre ad sydera nomen alcinuis, to extolle and praise one exceddingly.
Tangere sydera vertice, to be in heauen, to be verie blessed and happy.
Sydus, somtyme the sonne, somtyme the moone.
Genus suæ sydus, id est, Decus, ornameum.
Sublime sydus, the north pole.
Volantia sydera, mooyng sterres.
Syene, a citee in the confines of Egypte and Aethi-thiope.
Sygeum, a promontorie of Troye.
Syla, a mountaine in Lucania, and a wodde in it.
Sylla, a great tyrant of Rome, whiche was of an unsatiabie crueltie.
Syllaba, x, f. g. a syllable.
Syllabatiū, by syllabes.

Sylla-

Syllabicus, a, um, pertainyng to syllabes.
Syllanion, a famous maker of images, whiche was neuer taught.
Syllanus, a, um, of Sylla.
Syllaurto, syllaturis, rite, to haue an appetite of desyre to follow Sylla: to haue a desyre to proscribe, banishe and murder men.
Syllepsis, sis, for. ge. a figure, where the singular numbre and the plural be ioyned together, as Socii & rege recepro.
Syllogismus, m, m. g. a perfecte argumente,
whiche hath a necessary conclusion.
Sylolon, the brother of Polycrates, the tyrant of Samia.
Sylphium, reade Lascipitium.
Sylua, x, f. g. a woodde, or a place ouer growen with wooddes. it is somtyme spoken of her-bes, somtyme of vyces. also any matter hastily written without studie.
Syluanus, ni, m. g. the god of wooddes.
Syluaticus, a, um, pertainyng to wooddes.
Syluestro, scere, to waxe or growe into wooddes or bushes.
Syluester, nis, tre, or hic & hac Syluestris, & hoc Syluestre, of woodde or forest, wooddie, wyld, vplandishe, of the ficke of countrey.
Arbor syluestris, a wilde tree.
Materia syluestris, timber of trees, taken out of the wooddes.
Musa syluestris, an vplandishe songe.
Locus syluestris, a place full of trees or wood-des.
Syluestria tecta, houses in the woodde, villas
ges in the countrey.
Sylua, the name of Ilia Romulus mother. Syluia, is Eriachus, as Gafa tranlateth.
Syluicola, x, m. g. he that dwelleth in a forest or woodde.
Syluicularix, icis, for. ge. the that dwelleth in the wooddes.
Syluifragus, a, um, that breaketh wooddes.
Syluiger, ra, rum, that beareth wooddes.
Syluius, the name of Beneas sonne, of whom all the kynge of Albania wer called Sylui.
Syluosis, a, um, full of wooddes or trees.
Syluula, x, f. g. a little woodde.
Syma, a citee in Asia.
Symbola, x, is read in Plantus, for Symbolum.
Symbolum, li, ne. ge. a collation, a shotte. Also a token geuen by one to an other, vppon certayne apointmentes, a seale in a ringe, generally a signe of marke to knowe a thynge by. it is als to the money that dyuers persons laie together, as in a common purse, to make good there with-all, and such bankettes be called Collationes.
De symbolis quid actum est? what is doone with our bankettyng money.
Symbolus, li, m. g. a signet of seale, or a signe manuell.
Symbolus, m. g. a wise and good equitallous.
Syme, an ile betwene Rhodes and Eubus.

Symethus, a ruler of Sicilie, not farre from Aetna.
Symmachia, x, f. ge. aide in battayle, or leagus made amonge men of sundrie countreies, to fght against the other parte,
Symmachus, a mans name.
Symmetria, x, f. g. is a conuenient agreement be-twene the members of partes of any thynge and swertyng in euery parte separate vnto the proportion of the whole figure. as in the arme, the hande, the legges, the finger, the foote and other members haupng respect to the whole bodie, and semblably in all other thynge.
Symmist, a secretarie of one of the priuie counsaile.
Symmoniaichum trifolium, a certayne herbe.
Sympachia, x, f. g. a mutuall combination of thins ges natural in the operation of thir powers and qualities. as water in coldenesse doeth partiscipate with earth, in moisture with the aire, the aire with the fyre in heate, with the water in moisture.
Symphonēsis, f. g. collisyon of vowels.
Symphonia, x, f. g. a consent in tune, also harmonie.
Symphonia cantus, the consent and harmonie of diuers playng of singyng together.
Symphoniaca, or Symphonia, an herbe, whiche as Appuleius saith, is henbane, called Hyosciamus.
Symphoniachus, a, um, delongyng to consent of musike or harmonie.
Symphoniaci serui, were they whiche in ships pees dooe somtyme with singyng, and somtyme with playng on drummes and tyfes, fire vp the souldiours to fight more egerly.
Symphonia, aul, arc, to agree or accord in one.
Symphreantides, or rather Symphreantes, they that resorte to the same pices for water.
Symphiton petraum, an herbe called bagle.
Symphitum, reade Consolida maior.
Symphitum magnum, comfrey.
Sympinaricæ, women addicte to ceremonies of deuotion.
Sympinium, a cuppe seruyng for wyne in sacris fice.
Symplator, a friend of him that is married, whiche accompanieth hym to feastes.
Symplega, a warre wherein wretchers & thet whiche doe contende in fightyng are beholden.
Symplegades, two isles in the grekische sea.
Symplegas, symplegadis, f. g. an embracynge of clippynge together.
Symplegma, plégmatis, n. g. an embracynge together.
Symposiastes, he that maketh a feast or bankette.
Symposium, sn, n. ge. a banquet of assemblie at dinknyng.
Symptoria, x, f. g. a woman that keepeth compasny at dinknyng.
Symptalma, a concorde in singyng.

Sym-

Symptoma, a greke worde used amonge phisicians, for lacke of a latine woorde for the thyng which it signifyeth, it is a certayne effecte followinge sickenesse, lyke as cause doeth produce, or is before sickenesse it is a sensible griefe toynd with the sickenesse.

Syn, a greke preposition signifying Simul.

Synada, a citee in Asia.

Synerefsis, a contraction of .ii. woordes, as Bigre, for Bilinga.

Synagoga, a, f. g. a congregacion especially of Jewes.

Synalephe, a collision of vowels.

Synanche, ches, f. ge. a sickenesse in the throte called the squince, of barbarouse men Squinania.

Synecategorema, id est, consignificans.

Synceraltum, ti, n. g. all kinde of meate.

Sincere, purely, uncorruptely.

Sinceritas, atis, f. g. puritee, syncerptee, integrittee.

Sincerner, idem quod Sincere.

Sincerus, a, um, sincere, pure, uncorrupted, simple, without dissimulation.

Synchirsis, a comparison of contrarie thynges of persons.

Synchronos, of one tyme.

Synchysis, confusion.

Synceput, synceputis, n. g. the foreparte of the heade, also a swynes heade fowled.

Syncope, a, or Syncope, es, f. ge. a figure, where a letter or syllable is taken awaie in the middes of a woorde, as Cōpostus, for Compositus, it is also a soundyng for debilitie of the vitale spirites.

Syndict, two, three, or moe, which haue charge to defende the matters of a commune weale as gapynste and foren prince or people.

Syndicus, i, m. g. an aduocate or attourney in defending a common cause.

Syndipnium, ii, n. g. a suppyng together.

Synecdoche, ches, f. ge. a figure where parte is used for the whole, or the whole for parte.

Synechon, continence.

Synedrus, dri, a counsellour, a senatour.

Synephebi, pong hien or striplynges of one age.

Synephires, a stone, whiche is called also Leucogria.

Synefius, a christyan philosopher of the citee Penzapolis in Aethiopia.

Syngrapha, a, f. ge. Syngraphus, i, m. ge. & Syngraphum, phi, n. g. the wytynges or dede made or assigned with the hande of hym that maketh a bargayne or couenant.

Synochites, a stone, wherewith nigromancers doe call by spirites.

Synodia, drum, consent of musike.

Synodus, dontis, a certayne fische.

Synodus, di, f. g. an assemble of men or generall counsaile, a synode.

Synonima, drum, plur. woordes signifying one thyng, as Ensis, Gladius, bothe doe signifie a swoorde.

Occidit, Interfecit, Necavit, doe signifie he killed.

Synopsis, synoper, or red leade.

Syntrationes, companions together in warre.

Synagma, tagma, is, n. g. a treatise or ordinaunce.

Syntaxis, eos, order in construction. it is also a tribute or summe of money to be distributed to sundry companies. it is also a volume gathered of diuers workes.

Syntecticus, a, um, that towneth often.

Syntectis, the pure parte of conscience.

Syntexis, is, f. ge. lacke, or weakenesse, whiche happeneth by longe sickenesse, townyng

Synthema, atis, n. g. a token geuen to souldiours, a watche woorde.

Synthesis, thecos, f. g. a figure, when a nowne collective singular, is ioined to a verbe plural, as Pars in frustra secant. Also a certayne garment of diuers colours, that the noble men of Rome used in the feastes called Saturnalia. Als so the paymente, or changinge of apparell, in a presse or wardrope is called Synthesis. It is also a kinde of earthen vessel, or platters and dishes so made that one is put within another, it may be used for a garnish of vessel.

Syntomon, for Circumcissum.

Syphar, the dyne skinne, that the adder or other serpent casteth of once a yere.

Sypharium, rij, n. g. a courtayne hangyng before minstrelles when they syng.

Syphax, acis, a kynge of Numidia.

Syracusa, arum, a citee in Sicile, now called Sarragosa, in the olde tyme of a mercurialous reuoume in strength & richesse. moreover it is situate, that all the daie longe the sonne is neuer out of sight by no cloude that couereth it.

Syracusanus, Syracusanus, or Syracosius, a, um, of that citee.

Syreum, a decoction made of figges.

Syria, a great realme in Asia, whiche hath on the east the ryuer of Euphrates, on the weste the middell sea, and the realme of Egypte, on the north the Cilicia and Cappadocia, on the south the Arabia.

Syria, called also Assyria, a great country in the east, haupng on the north parte Armenia, on the weste Mesopotamia, on the south Susiana, on the east Media. it also containeth Phoenicia, Palestina, and Babylonia.

Syriacum, a kinde of sweete radish.

Syriacus, a, um, of Syria.

Syrianus, a philosopher of Platons secte.

Syriasis, an inflammation in the partes about the hayne and the panicles, whiche happeneth to infants.

Syricte, people, whiche receiue theyr meate in open reedes.

Syricum, ci, n. g. a colour mixt with sinoper and ruddell,

Syricus,

Syricus, Syrus, and Syrius, a, um, of Syria.

Syrica mala, certayne appuls, which at the first came out of Syria.

Syringites, a stone like the parte of a wheate straw betwene the knottes, and is holowe throughe.

Syrinx, syringis, a pipe or recorder, like Syringa.

Syrinx, a nymphe of Aetadie, whiche was turned into a reede or cane.

Syris, corne hepte in holes in the grounde, and couered with chaffe.

Syrissus, a, um, of Syria.

Syrites, a stone founde in the mawe of a woulfe.

Syritha, the daughter of Syplaudus kynge of Danes.

Syrium, wyne boyled to the thyrde part.

Syrius, a, um, of Syria: as, Syria pyra, pearces of Syrie.

Syrius, a sterre in the mouth of the signe Canis, whiche whan he riseth, causeth most commonly pestilence.

Syrma, atis, n. g. the trayne of a womans gown, also a garment that plaicrs in tragedies used.

Syrnia, a thyrce oule.

Syrophœnix, one that dwelleth on the sea coast of Syrie.

Syrigambis, kynge Darius mother.

Syrites, quicke sandes or shelles in the water, made by the dyfte of sande or grauell: they be properly places in the borders of Aethiopia toward Egypte.

Syrticus, a, um, of the places called Syrtis.

Syrus, a, um, of Syria.

Syrus, ri, m. ge. a caue vnder the grounde where wheate is hepte.

Syrus, an ilande belongyng to Grece.

Syrupus, a syrype.

Sysimbrium, I suppose to be hyscemynte.

Sysimbrium cardamine, water cresses.

Sysitia, feastes & copanies assembled at feastes.

Sysitos, a fellow.

Systole, a figure, whan a longe syllable contrary to his nature is made shorte.

Syzigia, sinewes, whiche doe come fro the hayne to the eyes, so that he whiche cometh from the lefte syde, goeth to the right eye: and that, which cometh from the right syde, goeth to the lefte eye: so that the sinewes doe crosse eche other.

ABAE, arum, a citee of Lattia.

Tabanus, ni, m. gen. a flie, which hath foure wynges, and biteth a man or beast, that the blood followeth.

Tabefacio, befacio, feci, facere, to corrupte.

Tabella, la, f. ge. a littell table. it is sometyme taken for a pistoll. sometyme a table, wherin the name of iudges were wryten.

Tabellarius, rij, maf. gen. a carrier of letters, an auditour.

Tabellarius, a, um, belongyng to carriers of auditours.

Tabellio, onis, m. gene. a scriuener that wryteth common instrumentes and dedes. also a carrier of letters.

Tabeo, bui, bere, idem quod Tabesco.

Taberni, people of Calips.

Taberna, na, f. g. a little hous or lodgeryng made of bourdes. also a shoppe or tauerne, where wares be solde, and all thyng that is vendible, as wyne, oyle, &c. a warehous.

Taberna meritoria, an inne.

Tabernaculum, li, n. g. a pavilion, tente or hale.

Tabernarius, rij, m. g. he that selleth any maner of wares. also a tauerne, a vintner.

Tabernarius, a, um, belongyng to tauerne, shoppes, or warehous.

Tabernaria fabula, a comedie or enterlude, wherin are base personages, and no persones of dignitie or state.

Tabes, bis, f. g. corruption in the body. also extreme leanenesse, by a longe consuming sickenesse. it is also matter and corrupt bloud mixt together. also the impostume of the longes, proceeding of humours descendyng from the head into the stomake, and so woundyng and corruptyng the longes. sometyme the strength to rotte or putrefie.

Tabesco, bui, scere, to languishe or consume, to be extremely leane, to be corrupted.

Otio tabescere, to corrupte with idelnesse, to consume or weare awaie with idelnesse.

Desyderio aluius tabescere, to languishe for the desyre of any mans companie.

Tabidus, a, um, corrupted, consumed.

Tabida nix, snow well nere all melted, lyke to dryte or digges.

Tabificabilis, le, that may be corrupted or fall in to a consumption.

Tabificus, a, um, that maketh one corrupted, or consumeth the body, or bringeth in a consumption.

Tablinum, ni, neu. ge. a winter parlour, wherin were primed tables and booke of histories, a place to kepe common registres, letters and wytynges in.

Tabo, a consumption, wastyng, or putrefaction of thynges.

Tabor, a mountaine in the countree of Galilea, where Christ was transfigurate.

Tabraca, a towne of the leste Aethiopia.

Tabula, la, f. g. a table, a bourde, a planke. Also a booke of common places made for the memorie of thynges, called Diarium, or Ephemeris, in the plurall numbze Tabule dooe signifie a testament, instrumentes, obligations, letters, common wytynges. also Tabula is a table to plaie on with disc or chesse men.

Tabulae nouae, were whan debtors were not content constrained to paye their debtes, that they did owe, and the olde obligations were dissolved, and newe were to bee made for that whiche shoulde newly be borrowed.

Tabulae pictae, painted tables.

Tabula ceriala, a table couered with waxe, that men used to write on.

Tabulae accepti & expensi, a rekenyng booke, wherein a man keepeth accompt, what he hath laid out and received.

Tabularii, they that keepe testaments, recordes, or deedes.

Tabularia, certaine instrumentes.

Tabularis, re, of or belongyng to tables.

Tabularium, n, n. ge. a chest, in the whiche evidences, recordes or registers are put.

Tabulatum, n, neu. gener. a flooze boured or paved, in a solar, chambze or other upper parte of the house.

Tabularia in arboribus, be the great bowes in trees & bushes, whiche doe grow straight forth in briedth, and not upwarde.

Tabulatio, onis, f. g. a ioyngyng or cloyng of boudes together, a building made of boudes or plankes, a flooze boured.

Tabulatus, a, um, made of boudes.

Tabulo, ui, are, to make a thing with boudes, or to ioygne boudes together, to bource a flooze.

Taburnus, an hill in Eſſapania, wherein doe grow many olive trees.

Tacapa, a citee in Aſſike, called comonly Capte.

Taceo, ui, cere, to kepe silence, to be in rest, to be quite, to be sure, to kepe secreete thynges of counsaile.

Potui' est hic tacere? can this felowe concele any secretes, or kepe any counsaile?

Taceo & continuo optime, I holde in and kepe secreete very well. where note, that Taceo and Continuo be taken for one thyng, and the one dooth expowne the other.

Tace, egomet conueniam iam ipsum, lette alone, be in rest, holde thy peace, I my selfe will commune now with hym.

Quum tacet omnis ager, when there is no noyse in all the feelde.

Tacitum est, neuer a woꝛde was spoken of it.

Taceantur, let them not be spoken of.

Tacens, centis, om. ge. speakyng nothyng, still, quite, without noyse.

Oratio tacens, an oration that is not pronunſed, an oration wryten.

Tacendus, a, um, not to be spoken.

Tacite, without speakyng one woꝛde, pryncly, quietly, without makyng noyse.

Tacite dare potestatem, to geue power pryncly or couerly without speakyng.

Habere aliquid tacite, to kepe a thyng secreete and make no woꝛdes of it.

Tacite execrari, To curse one in our mynde without woꝛdes that we bee not hearde, or softly that the person here vs not,

Taciturnitas, tatis, f. g. silence.

Taciturnulus, a, um, a diminutive of Taciturnus.

Taciturnus, a, um, that naturally keepeth silence, that is no babler of thynges that is told hym, that maketh no noyse.

Tacitus, a, um, that holdeth his peace, and is secrete, still, without noyse. also passively, that is not spoken of, that is kepte secrete, that is lette passe without any mention.

Tacito pede, softly, by stealth.

Tacitus citius audies, holding thy peace thou shalt here it the sooner.

Abi tacitus tuam viam, goe on thy waie and saie nothyng, or make no noyse or woꝛdes.

Suspendas potius me, quam tacita hanc auferas, thou maist as soone hange me, as make me to kepe these thynges secrete.

Corripuit se de repente tacitus ad filiam, so degnely without speakyng any woꝛde.

Tacita corporis figura coniectura asserthominibus, men mate coniecte by the proportion or figure of his body without any speakyng.

Tacita maestitia, still sorowe that a man biteth not in woꝛdes.

Tacitum os praeberet alicui, to offere his face to one and saie nothyng.

Tacita inimicitia, enmittee that is not blithered in woꝛdes.

Voce tacita aliquid dicere, to whisper, to speake softly.

Tachoniso, an ilande in the riuer Nilus.

Tacitus Cornelius, a notable historiographer.

Tacola, a marie towne of India.

Tactio, onis, f. g. a touchyng.

Tactus, us, m. g. the sense of touchyng or feelyng.

Tactus, a, um, touched.

Tactus est vel de callo, strephen with lightnyng, burned, blasted.

Tactus spiritu diuino, inspired.

Tactus fulmine, burned or blasted with lightnyng.

Tada, loke Teda.

Tadet, it werryeth me, it pꝛyeth me, I am werry of it.

Tadet sermonis tui, I am wery of thy communication or talke.

Tadet vitae, I am wery of my lyfe.

Tadet harum quotidianarum formarum, I am wery of these that amonge vs are called and taken for faire women.

Tadium, di, neu. gener. werryneſſe or heauyneſſe of mynde.

Adducere, afferre, & parere tadium, to bring or cause werryneſſe.

Capere tadium, to become werry.

Effugere tadium varietate, to eschewe werryneſſe with varietee and change.

Leuare tadium lectionis, to make that a man be not so wery of redyng.

Tadulus, an old dootard, of who all me be wery.

Tanarus, a barke place at the foote of the hill called called Malea, by the citee of Sparta, which was supposed to be an entrie into hell.

Tanarius, a, um, of that place.

Tenaris, ris, f. g. of Tanarus.

Tania, a, f. g. the edge of a fillet. also a womans fillet, or that which now they call rolles, properly it is a kercheife, whiche maidens do weare on their heades, or a wollen ornament that men weare on their heades. also a white stone, which in the water sheweth long lyke a kercheife. it is also a village betwene Hircanas and Copinthus, also a certaine fische.

Taniola, la, f. g. a little fillet or other like thing.

Tatemeus, one that came to aide the Troians.

Tanon, a citee in Laconia, an other in Aetia.

Tagasta, a citee in Aſſike.

Tagax, acis, m. g. a felon, whiche happeneth on a mans finger.

Tages, he that taught first the Thulesans the craft of divination, called Aruspicium.

Tago, gi, gere, olde wryters used for Tango.

Tagus, an hill in Portugall, where marcs do conieue of the wynde.

Tagus, a river in Spaine, whiche diuiderth Castile from Portugall, wherein hath ben founde grauell of golde.

Taigne, one of the seven sterres, whiche so appeereth, as it maie scanty be perceiued. it is also called Maia, and Electra.

Talaon, the son of Iulius, hyng of Argos.

Talaria, n. g. plu. were shoes, whiche Mercurius did weare, wheron were sette wynges.

Talaria induere, pꝛouerbielly spoken of hym, that preparerth to renne awate.

Talaris, re, that cometh downe to the anclep.

Togatalaris, a long gowne to the anclep.

Talaris, a, um, perrepyng to disc, as Lex talaris, a lawe against disc playng.

Talasio, or Thalasio, a songe conteyned in certaine verses, songen at weddinges. also an exclamation or crye used at marriages, & beginning wherof was, when Romulus & the Romans rauished the maydens of the Sabines, among whom was one of excellent beaute, whom whā many of the Sabines would haue rescued, the whiche caried hir toward Romulus, to the extent that the child not be taken from them, cried Talasio, which was the name of a noble prince of the Sabines, as if they would haue brought hir to hym: and by that meane they escaped, and brought hir to Romulus, and afterwarde they used at marriages to crye Talasio.

Talca, a, f. g. m. g. a stroke set in the earth, wher on men dooe graffe. also a trunchcon, a staffe, a billette. Also a certaine stake used for an inſigill of warre.

Talentum, ti, n. g. was accounted sometyne for a poſſe or weyght, wherof were sundry sortes: one called Atticum minus, or Comune, which comprended 60. poundes of Aſſenſe weyght called Mina, or Min, whiche is of Troie weyght

62. pounde and an halfe. An other was called Talentum Atticum minus, whiche comprehended 80. Minas: of Troie weyght 82. li. and 4. ounces: and that was also called Euboicum. An other was called Talentum Habraicum, which comprehended 100. Minas: of Troie weyght 104. li. and two ounces. An other, called Talentum Syrium, whiche was but of 15. Minas: of Troie weyght 15. li. 7. ounces and a halfe. Diodorus wryteth, that the commune Talent was but 40. li. and nameth three sortes: The one called Philolomaicum, whiche comprehended 272. li. The seconde comprehended 125. li. The thyrde 100. li. Talentum was also accounted in valuation, Atticum minus vel commune, to the value of 60. Minae, whiche of our money (as counting) 100. grotes to euery Mina) is 100. li. sterling, euery pound being of 60. grotes. Notwithstandinge the iust value of Talentum is more or lesse after the fineness, baseness or weyght of the engliſhe grotes. Talentum atticum minus, was accounted to be 132. li. 6. s. 6. d. Talentum Habraicum sanctuarium, contained 100. Minas Habraicas, wherof euery one was 60. sili, euery Silius being 4. sterling grotes: so that Talentum was of our money sterling 500. li. Talentum Habraicum vulgare, halfe so muche. whom maister Achore folowed in this distribution and valuation of Talentum I knowe not: but sure I am, that in diuers thynge he swarthyeth from Sudei and of ther learned men, whiche thynge I can not in this place dispute. It shall be sufficient to know that Talentum atticum minus is most wryten of, and contained 60. Minas, euery Mina containing an. 100. Drachmas or Denarios, and euery Denarius being a groate sterling, so that the value of Mina is 33. s. iii. d. or after Constantinall 120. l. sterling.

Talia, the swelling of the goute about the ancleis.

Talia, the blade of an opinion, or a chiboll.

Talio, onis, f. g. an equall payne in recompence of an hurt, as for the cutting of a mans hande, to lose an hand, and for putting out of an eye, to lose an eye.

Talipedo, ui, are, to go on the pasternes, to go as one dyd drawe his feete after hym for febleynesse or weakenesse.

Talis, le, suche.

Aliquid tale, some suche thyng.

Honos talis paucis delatus est ac mihi, suche honour was geuen to serue as to me.

Talis qualis, suche as.

Taliter, in suche wyſe, after suche facion.

Talitrum, tri, neu. gen. a fillyp geuen with ones finger or niple.

Tallus, was used of the Sabines for a forename.

Talpa, a, f. & m. g. a mole, a woant.

Talpa, a, f. & m. g. a mole, a woant.

☞ Talpa cecior, blinder then a mole, a prouer to be applied to them that lacke iudgement in thynges that are plaine.

Talchibius, Agamemnonis erier or publisher of thynges in the Greke armie at Troie.

Talus, li, m. g. the ancle about the foote. it is also y<sup>e</sup> pasterne bone of a beast. also a die, or dice. Talum reponere, to reforme that whiche was negligently done, with moie diligence.

Talus, a man made of brasse (as it is feigned) by Vulcan, and sent for a present to Minos, to defende the ile of Crete.

Tam and Quam, aduerbes v<sup>s</sup>ed with the positive, comparatiue and superlatiue degree, also well, also as, so.

Quam plurimum ederit, tam citissime sanus fiet, the moie that he shall eate, the sooner he shall be whole.

Parmenonis tam scio esse hac technam quam me viuere, I know as well as that I am aliue, that. &c. Tam ego homo sum quam tu, I am as muche a man as thou.

Non tam perscribere possum q<sup>u</sup> mihi gratum feceris, &c. I am not able to write how great a pleasure you shall dooe for me, if. &c.

Tam consimilis est atque ego, he is as muche like hym as I am.

Tam cito, so quickely.

Tam vesperi, so late in the euening.

Tam ob paruulam rem, for so small a matter.

Tam bonus, as good.

Tam sum amicus reipublice, q<sup>u</sup> qui maxime, I am as friendly, or as muche friend to the publicke weale, as he that is most.

Tam magis, for Tanto magis.

Tama, whan with muche trauaile, or goyng, the bloude cometh downe to the legges, and causeth it to swell.

Tamaris, a riuer of Spaine, of whiche the people there be called Tamarici.

Tamerita, people in Asia, not farre from the sea called Caspium.

Tamarix, icis, or Tamarice, es, f. ge. a tree but rarely called Tamariscus, rede Myrice. some cal it white beame, the french me cal it Briaria.

Tamen, notwithstandinge, also yet. sometyme it signifyeth forthwith, at the last, so that.

Si tamen, for Si modo.

Si tamen illi non grauantur, if they doe boue the safe, or be not discontented with it.

Libertas quae sera tamen respexit inertem, which beyng longe a comyng, yet at the last regarded me.

Tamen a malicia non discedis? yet wilt thou not depart from thy malice? or leaue thy naughty stinnes.

Quod potero faciam, tamen vt pietatem colam, I will do what I maie, so that notwithstandinge I ompt not my dutie to my father.

Tamerindi, a fruite growyng in India, the tree whereof is like to a palme or date tree, the fruite lower like greene damascus, whiche is medecable in asswageyng the heate of choler.

Tamesis, the noble riuer of Tampe in England.

Tameris, all be it, although.

Tameris, for Tamen.

Tameris hoc verum est, and yet this is true.

Taminea vna, Dioscorides, lib. 4. saith, that it is the herbe, whiche is called Brionia nigra. Cornelius Celsus, lib. 3. saith, it is that, which of the Greekes is called Staphis agria, which is thought to be false. for Plinius, lib. 26. cap. 1. supposeth, that it is wilde vine, called Labrusca, the same is affirmed by Ruellius.

Tamne, old wyters v<sup>s</sup>ed for Eoufy, vntill that.

Tanager, a riuer in Lucania, betwene Campania and Calabria.

Tanagra, a towne in Boetia.

Tanagrus, a, um, of Tanager.

Tanais, a great riuer in the northe parte of the worlde, whiche diuideth Europa from Asia.

Tanas, a towne not farre from Tana, vnder the Venetians dominion.

Tanaquil, the wyfe of Tarquinius Priscus, the kynge of Romans.

Tanaus, was kynge of Syria.

Tandem, at the last, sometyme at the least way, also v<sup>s</sup>eth, notwithstandinge.

Quam obrem tandem? and why so I praie you.

Tandem, Expletiva particula, as Quousque tandem abutere Catilina, &c.

Itane tandem quaslo Menedemus? &c. in whis the examples, it semeth that Tandem, hath a certaine earnest behementie, and requirith a spee dy answer.

Itane tandem vxorem duxit Antipho iniussu meo? I praie you, and hath Antipho married a wife contrary to my commandement in dedes? Tandem aliquando, once at the length.

Vt hircam in parte aliqua tandem apud Thaidem, id est, saltem, that I maie bee an hanger on with Thais at the least wyfe on one parte or other.

Nunc tandem, now at length and neuer before.

Tandiu, so longe.

Tandiu dum lego, so longe as I reade.

Tanes, a Persia, one of king Darius capitaines.

Tango, teugi, gere, to touche, to moue, to vnderstande, to perscure, to come, to deceyue, to quippe, to raunt, to take vp, to write, to speake or mention of thyng.

Tangere vlcus, to rubbe on the galled place, to speake to one of a thyng that greatly hym to heare.

Tetigit aures meas, it came to mine eares.

Vbi primum terram tetigit, as soon as we arrived.

Simul ac tetigit prouinciam, as soon as he arrived in the prouince.

Qui Tyberim fere omnes tangunt, all whiche well nere, touche or ioyne hard to the riuer of Tyber, Quo pacto Rhodium tetigerim in con-conuiuio, how I toke vp or taunted the felow of Rhodes at the table.

Tangere ferro arbores, to prune or cut trees.

Leuiter vnumquodq<sup>ue</sup> tangere, to touche or mention euery thynge briefly.

Tetigit rem acu, prouerbiaily, he hit the naile on the head, he hath hit the very matter.

Quem nisi crudelem non tangat laesonis aetas, id est moueat.

Hac mediocriter me tangunt, these thynges moue me but little, or doe not greatly moue me.

Tetigit animum memoria earum rerum, the remembrance of those thynges moued of his red my mynde.

Si uestri nulla cura tangit, if you be nothyng careful for your selfe, or if you feare nothyng for your owne partes.

Si te cura pomorum tangit, if you haue an affection of desyre to haue apples.

Vbi Aristoteles ista tetigit? where dyd Aristotle mention these thynges?

Te istam ob rem tetigi triginta minis, for this thyng I haue deceiued the of. xxx. li.

Tangor, tangaris, the passiue, to be touchd, to be moued, to be pricked.

Tangor parris desyderio, I fele the lacke of myffe of my father.

Tanis, the principall citee of Egypte, where Moyse did shew meruailes.

Tanos, a stone of the kinde of Emerald, greene and blacke.

Tanquam, as it were, lyke.

Tanquam, with Sic, for Quemadmodum.

Tantaleus, and Tantalius, a, um, of Tantalus.

Tantalides, the progenie of Tantalus.

Tantalus, Tantalidis, the daughter or wife of Tantalus.

Tantalus, the sonne of Jupiter and Dione, kynge of Phrygia, of whome the poetes dooe write, that because he disclosed the counsaile of the gods, he is in hell tourmented in this wise. he standeth by a saye ryuer, hauyng before hym a tree laden with pleasant apples, and yet he is alwaies thursty and hungry, for as often as he stowpeth to drinke, or holdeth vypp his handes to gather the apples, bothe the water and the tree dooe withdrawe them so from hym, that he can not touche them.

Tantali horti, a prouerbe, signifyng good thynges to be at hande, which not withstandinge a man maie not vse.

Tantidem, for so muche, at that price.

Tantillus, a, um, a diminutiue of Tantus, so litle.

Haud tantillum dederis verborum mihi, thou shalt not deceiue me thus muche.

Tantillum, an aduerbe, so litle.

Tantisper, so longe, and requirith after hym Dum, Quandiu, Quoad.

Tantisper dum, so longe as.

Tantid, an aduerbe, signifyng so muche as.

Tanto magis, so muche moie.

Tanto peior, so muche worse.

Quinque tanto amplius, fyue tymes so muche moie.

Tantopere, so muche, so behemently, so earnestly.

Ne seui tantopere, leaue your rage, bee not so fierce, be not so angrie.

Quoniam tantopere dissentiant, because they disagree so muche, or because there is so great variance of diuersitie betwene them.

Tantulus, a, um, so litle, so small.

Tantuli doni causa, for so small a gyfte.

Non tantulum intermitit tempus, quin cum nominet, he nameth hym continually.

Tantulum, an aduerbe, so litle, neuer so litle.

Tantum, onely, so muche.

Tantum abest, it is farre from, or so vnlyke: it is almost of the same strengthe that Non solum non est, is. Tantum non, almost, welnere, lastyng but litle.

Tantum sat habes? art thou content with that, or thinkest thou that enough?

Tantum interest, there is this onely difference.

Et tantum non circuniri a dextro cornu, and to be almost inuironed, or that there lacketh but litle, but that they were compassed of enclosed of the right wyng.

Tantum nam, for Etiam.

Addas huc licet tantumnam, quae inter hyc mem & astarem, you maie adde therto also, those that be betwene. &c.

Tantum est, that is all, it is euen so muche as I haue tolde you and no moie.

Tantum mihi confido, I haue so muche confidence in my selfe.

Tantum, quantum, so muche, as.

Si graderet tantum quantum loquere, if thou didst goe as fast as thou talkest.

Tantum abesse dicebat, vt consentaneum esset, vt maxime etiam repugnaret, he saied that it was not onely not conuenient or mete. &c.

Tantum abfuerunt, vt perturbarentur, vt incensu potius. &c. they were not onely nothing aserde or abashed, but rather inflamed. &c.

Tan undem, euen so muche.

Tantundem periculi, so great daungier.

Tantundem argenti quantum debuit, euen so muche money as he ought.

Tantundem est quasi sit signum pictum. &c. it is eue as much to me as it were an image painted.

Tantundem ego, euen so much do I & no moie.

Tantus, a, um, so muche, so geat, luche.

Vicies tanto addito aquae, twenty tymes so muche water beyng put to it.

Tanti, for so muche, this worde doeth pertaine to bynge and sellyng.

Tanti estimo, facio, pendo, I set so much by, or I so muche esteeme it.

Tantus nauis, so aged, beyng so olde.

Sexcenta tanta, six hundred tymes so muche or so many.

An tantus quantus videatur, or so great, or of that bignesse as it dooth appere.

Tantus homo, id est, tanti preij, so woorthy a person, so great a man.

Est alienum tanto viro vt tu es, it is not fittynge for so noble a man or so great a persone as you are.

Tribus tantis illi minus reddit, it yeldeth to hym thise for muche lesse.

Tantamne rem tam negligenter agere, was it mete to dooe so great a matter, or a matter of so great importance so negligently.

Tanti non fuit Arfacem capere, it was not so great a matter to take Arfaces, or the takyng of Arfaces was not a matter of so great value or importance.

Tanti fuit mihi crede, it was well woorth be- leue me, or y matter was wel of so great value.

Est mihi tanti huius inuidie tempestatem subire, dummodo. &c. I esteeme the matter wel woorthy to putte my selfe in daungier of this storme of enue and hatred, so that. &c.

Nihil mihi tanti fuit, there was nothyng that I esteemed of so great value.

Nihil tanti fuit, quo fidem venderemus, there was nothyng of so great value or estimation, as that we shoulde sell our trueth and honestie for it, and become bonde.

Taos, a stone of the colour of a peacocke.

Tapetia, hāgng of houses, or clothes where with pāmentes are couered.

Tapetum, i. n. g. Tapete, tis, n. g. and tapes, & tis, māl. gene. tapetric or clothes wherein are wrought diuers pictures with thyedes of sondy colours.

Taplia, certayne isles by Grecia.

Taplusia, a place by Leucades.

Taplinis, a cite in Egypt, the people whereof were called Taphnei.

Taphos, in greche is a sepulchre or a tombe.

Tapinosis, f. g. a fygure, whereby a great thyng is basely described.

Taposiris, a cite in Egypte.

Taprobaue, an ile in the Indian sea, and was of some olde wryters supposed to be in the contrarie parte of the worlde agaynst vs, and therfore they called it an other worlde. it lyeth in the pointe betwene east and weste, the quantite thereof is diuersly described by lūdyr authours. for Strabo writeth, that it is in lengthe. viii. thousand furlonges, whiche is a thousand miles. Plinius, Marciānus and Solinus doe affirme it to be in lengthe. vii. thousand furlonges, whiche is. viii. .C. lxxv. myles, in breadth 5000. furlong, which is. 625. miles: parte of it extendeth beyonde the equinoctiall line moze south, and hath on the northeast, the lesse Inde. it is nowe called Samora, and is vnder the dominio of the great Cam, and is gouerned by 4. hynges in an exquisite foume of iustice, not withstandynge that the people bee idolatours, they hunt Cygers, Olyphantes, and Pantheres, of the whiche there is great plentie. also, there be founde Carbuncles, Saphyres, Jacinctes, Topazes, Rubies, & Granates, in great numbes. there groweth Linamome, Canell, Ben ioune and other sweete trees in great abundance, and they haue money of golde, syluer, & brasse, of the same weight and value, that the ancient coine of the Romines was. there is also founde den great plentie of orient perles.

Taplagum, a towne in the countrey Cirenaiia.

Taplus barbatus, an herbe, reade Phlomos and Verbalcus.

Taplus, an ile by Sicile, not farre from Siracusa.

Tapula, a lawe made for seafes.

Tapyr, people in Parthia, which vse to geue their wyues in marriage to other men, after that they haue had foure or fyue chyldren by them.

Taraconia, the thynde partie of Spayne, on the north it hath the sea called Cantabrum: on the west Portugall, and Granate: on the southe the sea Ibericum: on the east the mountaynes Pyrenei. it dooth nowe contene thise thynges domes, Castyle, Gallie, Nauarre, Arragon.

Taracon, the chiefe cite thereof.

Tarandrus, a beaste in bodie lyke to a great ore, haapng a head lyke to an harte, and hoynes full of braunches, the heare rough and of the colour of a beare, I suppose it to be a raine deer.

Tarandulus, māl. gene. the beaste called a buffe, whiche is lyke an ore. but that he hath a bearde lyke a goate.

Tarratula, a hynde of beastes called Stelliones, lyke to a Asparde, of whose bypnyng no man dyeth, onely it astoneth hym that is bitten.

Taras, the sonne of Neptuneus, who builded Tarentum.

Tarrantara, a voice feigned lyke the sowne of a trumpet.

Taraxacon, an herbe called sowthistle, reade Cicerbita and Sonchus.

Taraxis, whan the eyes do bolne out muche and be redde.

Tarbeli, the cite of Carbes in Galroine.

Tarchesius, a mischynouse hyng of the people called Albaniens.

Tarchon, a duke in Hetruria, whiche was also a great diuiner of southsaie. also the herbe called Cerrogane.

Tardatio, ōnis, f. g. a cartynge.

Tardatus, a, um, hyndyed, tardid.

Tardē, slowly, late.

Triennio tardius, thre yeres later.

Tarde & orius, contrary.

Tardesco, scere, to waze slowe or slacke.

Tardigradus, a, um, that hath a slowe pace, or that goeth slowly.

Tardiloquētia, r. f. g. a slowe speache.

Tardiloquus, he y draweth his speache in length.

Tardipes, pēdis, that goeth slowly, that halcieth.

Tarditas, ōnis, f. g. slownes.

Moram

Moram & tarditatem afferre bello, to hindre the warre, to cause the warre to be prolonged.

Tarditas ingenij, slownes or duinesse of wit.

Tardities, s. f. g. olde wryters used for Tarditas.

Tarditudo, dinis, f. g. idem.

Tardiūcule, somewhat slowly.

Tardiūculus, a, um, somewhat slowe or dull.

Tardo, aui, are, to tarte, to be slowe, to hyndre, to make longe a comyng, to kepe backe.

Gratia ab officio quod mora tardat abest, dooth kepe backe.

Impetum inimici tardare, id est, reprimere, to lette, to stoppe.

Tardare & frānare.

Vereor ne tardē studia multorum, I fere lest I quide let or hyndre the studies of many men.

Tardare & procrastinare negotium aliquod, to hyndre or kepe backe a matter, and diue it of from date to date.

Tardus, a, um, slow, dull, long in comyng, rude:

sometyne well durynge, also thycke or grosse.

Vt ceteri sint ad iniuriam tardiores, that of ther mai not be so redy to dooe iniurie and wyngre.

Ad referendam gratiam tardiores esse, to be slacke in requyting a good courne or pleasure.

Aut sunt tardissimi, or els they be verap dull witted.

Noctes tardæ, nyghtes verte long a comyng.

Vomens tardum fumum, grosse and thycke.

Vt ea res tardior spe fuerit, howe that thyng came moze slowly to passe than we thought.

Taracina, a towne in Lāpania, called also Anxur.

Tarentinus, a, um, of the cite Tarento in Cal-labria.

Tarentum, and Tarentus, a noble cite in Calas-bia, called Tarento.

Tarichus, is taken for saltē fische, byine, gneil, corrupt fische, and powdered. sceth.

Tarmes, a worme, whiche eateth fleche, a magot.

Tarna, the cite of Sardie.

Tarpeia, the daughter of Carpelus, whiche be-traied the Capitoll to the Sabines.

Tarpeius, an hill at Rome.

Tarquiniū, orum, an olde towne of Campagne.

Tarquiniense, the lande of Tarquines.

Tarquinius Superbus, the laste hyng of Romaine, whiche was expelled out of Rome for his pryde and crueltie. it is also the name of di-uers other Romains.

Tarraco, a cite of Spaine, of the whiche that parte is called Tarraconia.

Tarfenis, se, of Tarsus.

Tarsis, a region in Iudea, to the whiche Ionas saied he woulde goe.

Tarsus, the chiefe cite in Cilicia, where saint

Paul was borne.

Tartaria, is a countrey of incomparable greates-nesse, it boundeth on the west vpon Russia, and extendeth into the east, after the description of the laste charte, aboue. 1600. duche miles & whiche is of Italian miles. 6400. and moze: the bredth from the south into the north, is moze vncertaine: it marcheth on the south vpon Persia, and India. The north is muche part deserte, for the coldnesse and barrennesse therof. The people haue no citees or townes, or els ver rare fewe, but they lie in paulions, and vnder theyr cartes, whiche they doe remoue into sundrie partes, as the tyme of the yere dooth requyre, buyng their cattaille with them, of whiche they doe eate the fleshe muche parte raw, and dooe drinke the mylke and bloud of them. The people bee fierce and cruell, and therewith bile and beastly in their luyng. they be all vnder the dominion of the great Cam, yet haue they many puissant princes, which do vse a wonderfull obedience towards their emperour. They beleue in one god, creatour of all thynges, but they be not christened. They are so populous, hardie and fierce: that the great kinges, which do march vpon them, haue muche to do to resist them, as the great hyng of Russia, and the hyngs of Persia Sophi. Also one of theyr princes toke in plain battaille Pazageses, the great Turke, whom being bounden with chaines and giues of golde, & enclosed in a cage of pyon, he caried about with him till he died: and there were slaine in that battaille. 200000. Turkes, the capitaine of the Tartarians was named Camberlane. Their emperour Chaam, besides Tartaria hath also subiecte vnto hym the lesse India, and all the realme and isles in the east and south east part of the worlde: he nameth hym selfe in his stile, the sonne of god. Heade moze in Chaam. Whiche of Tartaria was that countrey, whiche was sometyne called Strythia.

Tartareus, a, um, of hell, also terrible, stronge.

Tartari, people of Tartaria.

Tartarum, the lees of wyne.

Tartarus, & plu. tartara, ōrū, a depe place in hell.

Tartessij, people in Iberia, among whom be cates of exceeding greatesse.

Tartessiacus, & Tartessius, a, um, of Tartessus.

Tartessus, a cite in the bittermost part of Spain, on the sea side by Gades, nowe called Cales, where Columella (the most eloquent & perfect husbande) was borne, it was called also Gadix and Carteia.

Taruanna, Cerouenne in Fraunce.

Taruedum, a promontorie in Scotland.

Taruntius, the name of an excellent philosopher and Astronomer.

Taruscum, a towne in France, called Tarascon.

Tascanium, a white clare of marle.

Tasimenes, seu Tasmenes, one of the sonnes of duke Restor.

Tata, dadie, whiche chyldren calle their father.

Tata, a wanton woozde, wherewith one answereth to an other.

Tareus, a kinde of saltē, whiche cometh out of Zzz iij p̄p̄p̄

Phrygia, and is medicinable for the clew.
Tatius, a duke of the Sabines.
Tatianus, a mans name.
Tatua, a water of naturall salt in Cappadocia.
Taua, Cymmouth in Englands.
Tauchira, a citee of the Barcians.
Taulanij, people of Illiria.
Taura, a barrayne cowe.
Taurarij, people in Scythia.
Taurea, a man of notable strength in the armie of Anniball.
Taurea, a, for. ge. a buckler of tergate made of a bulles hide.
Taurus, the name of Neptune.
Taurus, a, um, of a bulle.
Tauria, a scourge made of netes lether.
Taurica Gherfonelus, a countrey in the north parte of Europa, whiche is almost compassed with the meeres of Mæotis, Cimmerius Bosphorus, and the sea Euxinum, it is now called of some the lesse Tartarie.
Tauri, people of cruell manners in the north part of Europe, that offered straungers in sacrifice to Diana.
Tauri, and Taurilia, plates made in the honour of infernall goddes.
Tauricus, a, um, of the people Tauri.
Taurianum, a towne in Italie.
Taurini, people at the foote of the Alpes towards Italie.
Taurifer, ra, rush, that beareth bulles of nete.
Tauriformis, me, lyke a bulle.
Taurinus, a, um, of a bulle. also of the people Taurini.
Taurominianus, nij, neu. ge. a towne in Sicilie, so called for the plentie of nete, whiche fedde there about. also there was by it a citee of the same name.
Taurominianus, a, um, of the citee Taurominianum.
Taurosceytha, people of Scythia, dwelling by the mountaine Taurus.
Taurubula, an ile by Naples.
Taurunum, of Taurunum, a citee of Hungarie, called Alba Græca.
Taurus, ri, m. g. a bulle. sometye a strong ore. it is also one of the xii. celestiaall signes: sometye the roote of a tree.
Adiungere tauros aratro, to poke oxen into the ploughe.
Taurus Beritius, a philosophers name.
Taurus, a great and famous mountaine, whiche begynneth at the Indian sea, and rising into the north, passeth by Asia unto the fenne of mere called Mæotis, and bordereth upon a great nombre of royalmes. also the hill called Caucasus is parte therof.
Taurus avis, a little birde, whiche hath a voyce muche like an ore.
Tautologia, a, f. g. a figure, where one thyng is twyfe spoken.

Tax, n. ge. the founde of a stroke with a whippe, a clappe, a ierke.
Taxa, a kynde of baies of laurell, wherewith theyrs beers are made.
Taxatio, ónis, f. g. a setting of a targe of subtilie.
Taxator, óris, m. ge. he that rebuketh or taxeth an other.
Taxeus, a, um, of pewee.
Taxilia, a great towne of India.
Taxim, softly, faintly touched.
Taxis, olde wyters used for Tetigeris, they halt touche.
Taxillus, li, m. g. a small bre.
Taxo, onis, a gray or broche, a badger.
Taxo, au, are, to touche often. also to take of lesse a thyng at a certaine value, also to reppone one an other.
Taxus, i, a tree lyke to firre, whiche beareth brasties, wherein is moztall poppon. it is also the tree called pewee.
Taygeta, of Taygetus, an hill, vnder whiche be sette the citees of Sparta and Ample.
Taygete, one of the sisters, called Pleiades.

T, a syllable togged to pronownes.
Teanum, the name of two citees in Italie.
Tearco, a famous kyng of Bethiope.
Tearus, a ruler of Ethiopia, at the head wherof Darius, kyng of Persia, when he went into Scythia, fight his pavillions, and there abode three daies, And deliuyng at the most pleasant water of that river, he set in the same place a pillour grauen with letters of Greke, declaring his being there, with commendation of the water.
Tearea, a citee in Italie, called commonly Tieri.
Techna, naz, form. ge. a crafte, a wyle of subtilie meane, a crafty imaginacion.
Techynes, were they, which also were called Corybantes, and were feigned to be the sonnes of Minerva and Soi.
Technicus, a, um, artificiall, inuentiue.
Technides, a crafter man.
Technophyon, a settinge forth of crafte.
Tecolithus, thi, m. g. a certayne stone, whiche is medicinable to breake the stone in the body.
Tecte, an aduerbe, covertly.
Tector, óris, m. g. a pargettour, a plaistier.
Tectoriolum, li, a diminutiue of Tectum.
Tectorium, rij, n. ge. the plaistering of pargettyng of walles.
Tectorium opus, pargettyng of plaistering woorkes.
Tectorius, a, um, pertainyng to couering of pargettyng.
Tectosage, Cholose in Fraunce.
Tectosagi, people of Colose.
Tectosages, Languedocke in Fraunce.
Tectum, ti, n. g. the roufe of an house, sometye all the all the house. also a certaine kynde of sheepe.

Tectus, a, um, couered, hidde, kepte close.
Tecum, with the.
Tecum oro & quas, I praye and beseeche the.
Tecum sentio, I am of thyne opinion.
Tecum simul, together with you.
Teda, a, f. g. a tree, out of the whiche issueth a litte cour more thynne then pitch, improperly it is taken for all woodde, which being dyessed with rose of ware, will burne bright lyke to a torch: it is sometye taken for a torch, sometye for a wedding, or a longe songen at a wedding.
Teda pinea, the kernell of a pine appull.
Tedifera dea, Ceres, whose sacrifices were done in the night by torche light.
Tegea, a citee in Arcadia.
Tegeus, and Tegeaticus, a, um, of Tegea.
Tegeaticus deus, Pan.
Tegeus, of Tegeaticus volucer, Merturis.
Tegeates, men of Tegea.
Teges getis, f. g. a course blankette or couered, whiche lieth on poore mennes beddes. it is also a matte.
Tegericula, la, f. g. a diminutiue of Teges, a littell matte.
Tegillum, li, n. g. a littell coueryng.
Tegimen, minis, n. g. a coueryng or couer.
Tegimen, minis, and Tegmentum, ti, n. g. idem quod Tegimen.
Tego, texti, tegere, to couer, to hyde, to cloke, to kepe close or secrete, to defende.
Caput texti galca, he put his basnet on his heade.
Sepulchro tegi, to be buried.
Latibulis se tegere, to hyde them selves in their caues.
Vultu dolorem animi tegere, with his countenance to dissemble and hide the sorow or greue of his mynde.
Rem turpissimam tegere honesta præscripti- one, with an honest title to couer or hyde a matier most vile and dishonest.
Sententiã suam tegere, to kepe close his owne opinion.
Tegere & tueri, to fende and saue harmelesse.
Tegere & nocere, contrarie.
Tegula, la, f. g. a tyle.
Tegulum, li, n. g. a coueryng or rather a tyle.
Tegumen, minis, and Tegmentum, ti, n. g. a coueryng, a couer of hidde.
Teium, a citee in Daphlagonia, where Anacreon the poete was borne.
Teij, the people of Teium.
Teius, a, um, of Teium.
Tela, la, f. g. the webbe of clothe.
Telam exordiri, to begynne any businesse.
Telamon, the son of Neacus, the father of Uliar.
Telamones, images, whiche dooe beare up pilours or pilles.
Telamonides, the sonne or nephew of Telamon.
Telchius, and Amphitus, the chariotte men of Cassoz and Dollur.

Teleboæ, people in Grece.
Teleboas, one of the Centaurs.
Telegonus, the sonne of Ulixis by Circè the witch, who solowynge his father into Itahæa, slew hym by wytyng.
Telemachus, the sonne of Ulixis and Penelope.
Telemus, the sonne of Curmus, a southsaier as amonge the Cyclops.
Téléphion, ij, n. g. an herbe, which Leonicenus supposeth to bee that, whiche the Arabians call Cali, but Ant. Musa supposeth it to bee rather a kinde of Anthyllis: but Dioscorides doeth describe it to haue a stalke, and leaues lyke to purselane, euery leafe hauing lyke two winges, wit. or. but. branches, coming from one roote full of blew leaues, which are thicke and tender, and hath floures yelow or white. wherfoze Ruellius supposeth it to be that herbe, whiche some dooe name faba inuetera, some Crassula minor.
Telephus, the sonne of Hercules, which was nourished with an hynde. an other of that name was a grammarian of Pergamum.
Telepnium, an herbe in Ætolie called Opyn.
Teleco, a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Cethys.
Telephilla, a woman excellent in poetrie.
Telethusa, the wyfe of Actus mother of Iphis.
Telecardios, a precious stone of the colour of an herbe.
Telina, a certayne garment.
Telinum, an ointment greatly commended of the phisicians.
Tellen, tellinis, a foolish the poete and mynstrell.
Tellias, a southsaier amonge the people called Phocenses.
Tellus, li, a mans name, whom the wyfe Solon iudged to be more fortunat then the ryche kyng Cræsus.
Tellus, lûris, f. ge. the earth. also a goddesse amonge the painims.
Telo, lónis, an instrumente of warre, whiche is in this wise: a great poise and high is set faste, then ouer it cometh a longe beame, whiche renneth on a pynde, so that the one ende hath vnyge more poise then the other, causeth the lyghter ende to ryse. with such, beere brewers in London dooe drawe vp water, they call it a swerpe.
Telonarius, rij, m. g. a collectour or gatherer of tributes or tolles.
Telónes, nis, of Telon, ónis, m. g. idem quod Telonarius, also a polle to drawe water out of a well.
Telónium, nij, n. g. the place where taskes or tributes are paid and tolles taken.
Telos, in greke, is an ende, honour, a legion, a tribute or pension. it is also the name of an yle, where the ointment called Telinum, is made.
Telephusa, a citee in Arcadia.

Telphusium, a towne in Boecia.
Telum, li, n. g. all thyng, whiche maye be thowen or caste with the hande, be it stone, woodde or yron, a dart, an arrowe, a quarell. it is also the generall name of al that wyer with a man doeth fight, called a weapon. sometyne it is taken for a swoord, &c.
Tela, artillery.
Depromere tela pharetris, to take arrowes out of quivers.
Iacere tela, to cast darts.
Custos telorum, a quier.

Teliphonon, idem quod Aconitum.
Tembris, a river by Pontus.
Temerarius, a, um, more hardy then needeth or wisdom requireth, foolhardy. sometyne dycefull, or to be dyade, rashly, vnadvised, without iudgement, without consideration, vnderstande, hardy.

Temerator, oris, m. g. he y violateth or breaketh.
Temeratus, a, um, violateth, broken.
Temere, vnadvisedly, folishly, aduenturously, rashly, without consideration, without regard, without grounde, at ouers, at al aduentures, vnderstande, hardy. sometyne it signifieth almost. also without cause.
Temere non est, it is not without a cause, it is not without a consideration.
Non hac temere transire potest, id est, sine periculo.
Haud temere vnq̄ peruenit ad frugem, it nez uer almost cometh to good profite.
Nec temere rumpuntur, they be neuer broken lightly.

Temeritas, atis, f. g. rashnesse, foolhardinesse, vnadvisednesse, vnderstande, hastinesse.
Temeritudo, dinis, f. g. idem.
Temeriter, idem quod temere.

Temero, aut, are, to violate. also for stuprare.
Temesa, a towne of the Brutians, some write it Temesa.

Temeseus, a, um, of Temesa.
Temetum, ti, n. g. wyne.
Temno, temph, temere, to set littell by, to contemne, to despise.

Temno, monis, m. g. the beame of the wyne, or the draught tree, wheron the polie hangeth: sometyne a stake or polie lated ouerthwart.

Tempe, a place in Thessalia wonderfull pleasant, hauing trees and meadows meynapulous delectable, wherein byrdes of dyuers kyndes doo syng continually with excellent melody: there of al pleasant wooddes haue y name of Tempe.

Temperamentum, ti, n. g. a moderation, a temperature.
Temperans, antis, temperate, moderate.
Temperanter, temperately, moderately.

Temperantia, a, f. g. temperance, moderation, whiche is a firme and moderate gouernaunce of reason agaynst sensualite, and other vicious affections of the mynde.

Temperantia, a, f. g. temperance, moderation, whiche is a firme and moderate gouernaunce of reason agaynst sensualite, and other vicious affections of the mynde.

Temperantia, a, f. g. temperance, moderation, whiche is a firme and moderate gouernaunce of reason agaynst sensualite, and other vicious affections of the mynde.

Temperantia, a, f. g. temperance, moderation, whiche is a firme and moderate gouernaunce of reason agaynst sensualite, and other vicious affections of the mynde.

Temperate, temperately, moderately.
Temperatio, onis, f. g. a moderation, a tempering.

Temperator, oris, m. g. he that tempereth or moderateth, he that knoweth how to rule or order.

Temperatus, a, um, temperate, moderate, without excess, heppng mean.

Temperatura, ra, f. g. temperature or moderation in the mingling of thynges together.
Temperatura calis, id est, temperies, temperatenesse of the aire.

Temperies, ei, f. g. temperatenesse, propriety in heate or colde. sometyne it is vsurped for temperamentum, and for temperantia. also conuenient tyme or occasion to dooe a thyng.

Tempero, aut, are, to temper or moderate in order or measure, to rule, to gouerne, to order, to forbear, to absteyne, to refrayne.

Temperamus styllum, calamus, appetitum, when we kepe in our wytyng a meane forme, or dooe cate no more then nede.

Temperare alicui, to spare one, or forbear him.
Si vnq̄ cuiquam temperauit, if he did euer forbear doing wronge or iniurie to any man, if he dyd euer spare. &c.

Temperare animis, to moderate affections, to refrayne the doyng of a thyng.

Vix temperare animis, they dyd scantly forbear or refrayne.

Cadibus temperare, to refrayne from mans slaughter.

Victoria temperare, to be neuer the poudre for his victorie.

Ciuitates temperare, to rule or gouerne cities.
Iram temperare, to moderate anger.

Lympha temperat merum, water dooeth alaie wyne.

Vestigalia temperare, to moderate or diminish tributes or payntes.

Aetati iuuenum temperare, id est, moderari iuuenibus.

Verum etiam hostibus superatis temperauit, but also he spared or intreated gently his enemies that he had overcome.

Non potuit tibi temperare, he coude not refrain.

Lingua tempera, bable not so muche, leaue thy ill wordes.

Manibus temperare, to forbear stryngs or fighting.

Vino temperare in vnum diem, to forbear wyne for one daies space.

A lachrymis temperare, to forbear weeping.
Quā in amore temperes, seing thou dost loue moderately, or seing thou dooest vnderstande racion in thy loue.
Temperare latitiae, to vse moderation in his mythe.

Maledicere huic temperabis si sapias, thou wilt leaue thy caplyng agaynst this man, if thou bee wise.

wise.
Temperatum est, the imperfonall, they dyd spare, or they dyd forbear and absteyne from.

Temperare vrbibus oppugnandis, to absteyne or forbear laying siege to cities.

Tempestas, atis, f. g. signifieth sometyne the same tyme, sometyne a tempest or storme, sometyne a fapre weather. also tyme conuenient by translacon a great trouble and ruffling in the common weale, a great daungier or perill.

Ea tempestate, at that tyme.
Inuidia tempestas, a storme of enue.

Tempestiue, in season or tyme conuenient.
Tempestiuitas, atis, f. g. season or tyme conuenient, oportunitie.

Tempestiuus, a, um, that is doone in conuenient tyme, doone in season.

Tempestum, olde wyters vled for Tempestium.

Tempestuosus, a, um, tempestuous or stormie.

Templum, pli, n. g. a temple of churche: some tyme it signifieth heauen. also the principall beame of a house. also a sepulchre.

Mentis templa, ferete thoughtes of the minde.

Temporalis, le, that whiche dureth vntill a certayne tyme, tempoall.

Ingenia temporalia, vnconstant and mutable wytes.

Temporaneus, a, um, that is doone sodainly and at a tyme.

Temporarie, for a tyme.

Tempori, aduerbium, in a tyme, at the houre appointed.

Temporarius, a, um, that dureth or continueth for a tyme. also that whiche pertaineth to tyme.

Temporius, an aduerbe, signifieth in tyme, or by tyme, or rather before tyme, sooner than needeth.

Templa, a citee of the Brutians.

Tempus, poris, n. g. tyme. also the state of tyme, commoditie of the presente tyme, oportunitie, season. sometyne the power or authorite, that a man beareth at any tyme, when he is in great esteemacion. sometyne the temples of the heade.

Illa oratio potius temporis mei q̄ iudicii fuit, I spake those thynges rather for the cause that I then presently defended, then of any veray iudgement.

Vbi tempus promissa iam perfici, when tyme cometh that al promisses shulde be kepte.

Ab aeterno tempore, from the beginninge of all thynges.

Ad tempus, for a tyme.
Ex eo tempore, from the tyme.
Ex tempore viuunt, they liue but from hand to mouth: or they bee not carefull for the morrowe.
In sempiternum tempus, for euer and euer.
Atque cum ipsum nobis obuiam in ipso tempore, and to ponder he cometh to mete vs as well as can be.

Obedire tempori, to doe accordyng to the necessitee of the tyme present.

Per idem tempus, about the same tyme.
Id temporis, idem.

Actum tempus, the tyme that is past.

Alienum tempus, an vnconuenient and vnmet tyme to doe a thyng.

Dextrum tempus, contrarie.

Tempus arduum, alperum, difficile, dubium, durum, triste, graue, turbulentum, miserum, luctuosum, a dangerous and perillous tyme, a tyme full of trouble or aduersitee.

Tempori amicorum seruire, to doe all the diligence we can to helpe our frendes in their necessitee and trouble.

His temporibus extremis, in this moste dangerous tyme, at this tyme of my greatest aduersitee.

Genitale tempus, the tyme of ones natiuitee.

Leuum tempus, id est, importunum.

Maximis reipublice temporibus, in the tyme of the greateste busines of the common weale, or when the common weale is in moste trouble, and hath most cause to be holpen.

Nocturnum tempus, the night tyme.

Vacuum tempus habere, to haue leisure.

Temporibus illis, in those daies, at that tyme.

Arripere tempus, to take occasion.

Summo tempore, at the beste occasion that coude be, at the best and most conuenient tyme that coude be.

Vno tempore, at ones.

Assentiri tempori, to rule hym selfe accordyng to the tyme present.

Dare tempus alicui rei, to bestowe the tyme vpon a thyng.

Quam egeam tempore, how I lacke tyme, how muche I haue to dooe.

Vbi tempus tibi erit, when you shall haue sure.

A quo tempore capti sunt, from the tyme that they were taken.

Temulenter, drunkenly.
Temulentia, a, f. g. drunkennesse.
Temulentus, a, um, drunken, cupthotte.
Tenacitas, atis, f. g. hardenesse in sparing of expences, nigardship, perseuerance, retynge of keepng.
Tenaciter, fastly, surely.
Tenaxius, mi, m. g. a desyre to go often to the scoole, and maie dooe nothing, with a burning, and sometyne a bloudy siege.
Tenax, naxis, om. g. that which holdeth faste as glewe, clammy, glewyshe, sometyne sparing or nigarde, to muche constant, harde to be moued.
Equus tenax, a horse that is stiffe necked.
Memoria tenax, a good and sure memoize.
Morbus tenax, a harde sicknesse, that one can not overcome.

Tenax iuris suū dominus dicitur, when he will remitte no parte of his right.
Tenax propositi, constant, that continueth still in his purpose.

Tendacula, f. g. a nette or snare to take birdes or beastes in. also a teinter, and a tent that bryes thereers wooglie on.

Tendines or Tendones, the great sinewes of corpes of the bodie.

Tendo, tetendi, tendere, to stretche out, to laie a snare, to dwell, to goe, to goe forwarde, to goe on, to endeuour, to pzofoe, to reche, to pzeare. also to liste vp, to pzetende, to pitch pavillions, also to assaie, to holde vp. Paruumq; patri tendebat lulum, he helde vp littell Julius vnto his father.

Tendere alicui insidias, to lie in awaite to hurt one, to laie waite to deceiue one.

Tendere plagas, to pitch the haies of nettes.

Tendere aduersus, to repugne.

Quum aduersus tendendo nihil moueret socios. &c. when that he nothyng moued his feloswes with resistyng or withstandyng they mynde des. &c.

Tendere ad altiora, to assaie to clymme hygher Tendunt in aduersum sententia, the opinions be repugnant one to an other, or they be of contrarie opinions.

Tendere ad consulatum, to endeuour or labour to be consull.

Contra tendere, to withstande, to resiste, to repugne.

Tendere aduersus auctoritatem senatus, to go about to doe any thyng agaynst the auctoritee of the senate.

Manibus tendit diuellere nodos, he assaieth with his handes to vndoe the knottes.

Perinaciter tendere, to goe forwarde with his purpose obstinately.

Tendere summa ope, to indeuour with all diligence, to labour all that one can.

Salapia tendit, he goeth towarde Salapia.

Ad naues Romanas tendit, he goeth towarde the Romanes shippes.

Tendere ad reliqua, to pzofoe the residue.

Tendere cursum aliquo, to renne towarde any place, to goe streight to a place.

Tendit palmes sursum, the vine bzanche groweth, springeth or riseth bywarde.

Gressum tendit ad maria, he goeth toward the walles.

Lumina tendens ad caelum, lifyng by his cies towarde heauen.

Manus supplices in caelum tendere, to liste by the handes to heauen, as men dooe in praynge

Tendit ad stomachum, vel in ventrem, to extend or stretche downe to the stomache or bealy.

Tendures, olde wyters called them, whiche had great teethe.

Tenea, a certayne village nere to Corinthe full of woodde, and delectable.

Tenebrae, arum, f. gen. plu. the lacke of lyyght, darkenesse.

Obsundere tenebras alicui rei, to obscure or make darke a thyng.

Obducere tenebras, idem.

In tenebris ruere, to renne headlonge in the darke.

laccere in tenebris, to lie in the darke, to be by known.

Trahere vitam in tenebris, to leade his lyfe without renoume or fame.

TenebreSCO, scere, to be darke.

Tenebricor, aris, ari, to make darke.

Tenebricofus, a, um, that maketh darke, or that is darke.

Tenebricus, a, um, darke, obscure.

Tenebrio, onis, m. g. a lyeer and a craftie knaue, also he whiche wyl not be scene abyde by daie tyme.

Tenebrosus, a, um, very darke.

Tenedius, a certayne lpyng, who made a lawe, that the man and woman, taken in aduoutrie shulde bee cutte a funder with an axe: whiche lawe he executed on his owne sonne.

Tenedius, a, um, of Tenedos.

Tenedos, an yle in the sea Aegeum, betwene Melene and Hellespont, not farre from Troie.

Tenedia bipennis, aut securis, a quicke or sharpe axe. A pzouerbe applied to iudges, whiche be hasty and cruell in theyr sentences.

Tenellulus, a, um, a diminutive of Tenellus.

Tenellus, a, um, tender.

Teneo, tenui, tenere, to holde, to appzehende, to possede to hold, or kepe in, to couer, to vnderstande, to kepe backe, to pzofoyme, to hinder, to lette, to make to tarie, to kepe in remembrance, to remembre: Teneri, to be let or hindered.

Tenes quid dicam? vnderstandeste thou, or perceiuest thou what I saie?

Tene tibi, take thou that.

Per duas noctes ac diem vnum tenuit, it durred one daie and two nightes.

Verecundia teneri, to be ashamed.

Tenere se loco, not to departs out of that place.

Argumentis & testibus teneri, to be vanquished bothe with reasons and witnesses.

Tenere consilium, to doe by counsaile.

Præcipe, vt teneat consilia nostra, geue hym aduise, that he doe after our counsaile.

Proposuit tenere, to haue his intente or purpose.

Tenet me cunctatio, I am in doubt.

Ad horam quartam diei sequentis tenuit, it indured tyll .iij. a clocke the nexte daie.

Tenuit consuetudo, the custome toke place or was vfed.

Tene tene, tary tary.

Redi, quo fugis nunc? tene tene, tarne againe, whither rennest thou nowe? tarie tarie.

Tenere consensu, to agree or consēt vnto other. Tene

Tenet me amor, loue moueth me muche, I am in loue.

Tenere insaniam, to be madde, to be out of his witte.

Tenere ius, to know the lawe.

Tenere legem aliquam, to be vnder a lawe.

Legi teneri, to be subiect or in danger to the law.

Tenere memoria rem aliquam, and memoriam alicuius rei tenere, to remembre a thyng.

Tenere medium, to kepe a meane.

Tenere modum, to kepe measure.

Tenere aliquem manifestum mendacij, to take one manifestly with a lie.

Tene tibi, take it as thyne owne.

Tenere causam, to vanquish or reconer agaynst one in a matter.

Teneri desiderio, to desyre muche or frequently, to haue a great desyre.

Teneri ludis, to take pleasure in beholding plaies and lightes.

Teneri furti, to be gilty of felonie.

Tribus rebus animantium vita tenetur, the life of all creatures is mainteyned and nourished with three thynges.

Manu tenere indicia mortis, to know surely and manifestly.

Tener se trans Tyberim in hortis, he dwelleth or abydeth beyonde Tyber in his orcheyarde or gardeyne.

Multa dotibus tenebantur, many thynges were possessed by doweries.

Tulliam mecum teneo, I kepe Tullia with me.

Nisi quid te tenuit, excepte some thyngs did let or hynde you, or cause you to tarie.

Ne diutius teneam, to make shorpe.

Non tenebo te pluribus, I will not holde you with many wordes, I will tell you briefely.

Teneo melius ista quam in eum nomen, I remembre these thynges. &c.

Amore alicuius magno teneri, to be greatly in loue with one.

In armis milites tenuit, he kepte the souldiours ready armed.

Complexu suo tenere, to embrace.

Consuetudinem tenere, to kepe a custome.

Tania cupiditas tenebat dimicandi. &c. he had so great a desyre. &c.

Cursum tenere, to kepe on the course or viage that he hath begonne, to continue on.

Delectum rerū tenere, to haue choise of thynges. Sed tenendus dolor est, but I must refraine my sorowe.

Dominatu alterius teneri, to be in subiection or vnder the rule of an other.

Expectatio me tenet, I loke for.

Fama tener, the fame is, the repute of men goeth.

Fœderibus alienis teneri, to be bounde to kepe the leagues & couenantes that other haue made.

Gratiam alicuius tenere, to be in fauoure with one.

Gratitatem tenere, to kepe a grauttee.

Gubernacula reipublicæ tenere, to haue the gouernance of the common weale.

Imperium tenere, to be a ruler or gouernour.

Imperio Romano teneri, to be in subiection of the Romayne empire.

Irretitum teneri, to be intangled or snared.

Lachrymas tenere, to forbear weeping.

Risum tenere, to refrayne laughyng.

Mare tenere, id est, occupare.

Metu teneri, to be let or hindered with feare.

Morbis eum tenuit, he was sicke.

Tenere in oculis, to loue exceedingly.

Quos tantū odium ordinis vestri tenet, which do so extremely hate your order or estate.

Tenent omnia, they haue all in their power.

Oratebant, they kept silence, they spake no thyng.

Palmam tenere, to haue the victorie.

Quum tenuerit planta, when the plante shall haue taken roote.

Ea pœna tenentur, they be in danger of that punishment.

Portum tenere, to argue.

Principatum tenere, to be thiefe.

Sententia principatum tenet, he pronounceth his sentence or sheweth his opinion first.

Promissum tenere, to kepe promise.

Religione teneri, to haue a conscience or religion in booyng of a thyng.

Ab improbis res publica tenetur, naughty persons be maisters of the common weale, or beare greatest twynge, stroke, or rule in the common weale.

Se in silentio teneri, to kepe silence.

Se se castris tenebant, they came not out of their campe.

Se domo tenere, to kepe him selfe at home and not to come abyde.

Tenere se non potuit, he coude not refrayne, he coude not forbear, he coude not holde his peace.

Tenuit sententia altera, the other opinion was taken and allowed.

Hanc ego quum teneam sententiam, seyns that I am of this opinion.

Spem tenere, to hope.

Magna me tenet spes, I haue a good hope.

Teneo manifesto furē, I haue taken or couyned the thefe manifestly, that he can not awate.

Tenetur manifesto auaritia hominis, the mans couetousnesse is manifestly knowne or pzooued.

Teneri vero, to be bound to fulfill his bove.

Teneor, veris, neri, to be bounden, to be beholden to one.

Tener, ra, rum, tender, ponge, gentill, softe, merzifull, also gelbed.

Tenera ætas, youthe, infancie, babchyp.

Teneris annis, in his youth.

Tener puer, an infant, a babe.

Tener animus, a gentill mynde, easily intusced.

sed to a thynge.
 Equus tener, a ponge boyse.
 A tenero, a teneris, sens he was a babe of ponge childe.
 Tenere, & Teneriter, tenderly, lounngly.
 Teneresco, or Tenerasco, to become tender and softe, to waie mercifull and gentill.
 Teneritas, atis, f. g. tendernesse.
 Teneritudo, dinis, idem.
 Tenia, loke Tania.
 Tenitæ, were called goddesses of lottes.
 Tenni, olde wyters vled for Tenui.
 Tennis, or Tenum, a cite of Aetolia.
 Tennites, or Tennites, one of Tennis.
 Tenotes, the great and strong sinewes, whiche doe kepe the necke bright, also a bynde sinewe, which goeth from the hamme downe to the hyle.
 Tenor, noris, m. g. an order, a continuance of a thynge, forme, faction.
 Idem tenor vitæ, the same faction or trade of luyng.
 Tenore vno rem peragere, to doe the thynge all at one tyme without stoppynge or interuspcion.
 Vno tenore in dicendo esse, to haue one manner of speakynge, to speake througely all after one facion, not chaungynge the forme of his stile.
 Tenos, an ile in the greke sea, one of them which are called Cyclades.
 Tensus, a, um, stretched out.
 Tentandus, a, um, sayng, proung.
 Tentamentum, ti, n. g. temptation, assaung.
 Tentatio, onis, f. g. a proufe, a saie, temptation,
 Tentator, oris, m. g. a temptour.
 Tentatus, a, um, tempted.
 Tentigo, ginis, a stiffenesse.
 Tentipellum, a, those with an iron sole, wheron
 the ouerleather is stretched.
 Teno, aui, are, to handle or feele often, to tēpte, to assaie or proue, to tempte one to doe euell.
 Morbo tentari, to be vexed with sickenesse.
 Caput tentare, to trouble the head.
 Tentare pedes dicitur vinum, when it maketh men so drunke, that they can not well go.
 Vt eius tentarem sententiam, that I might as-saie or proue what his mynde was.
 Ciuitatem animos literis nuntiisque tentauit,
 he did assaie or proue by letters & messengers, whether he coude wyne the hartes of the cities there aboutes.
 Animos hominum spe & metu tentare, to proue what he can make men dooe bothe with hope and feere.
 Experientia tentare, to make a proufe, to assaie.
 Tentoriolum, li, neu. ge. a diminutiu of Ten-torium.
 Tentorium, ri, n. g. a tente or pavilion.
 Tentum, a mans pziue membe.
 Tensus, a, um, stretched out.
 Tenteria, a people dwellng in an ilande with in the riuer of Nilus, whom the crocodyll so much feareth, that he can not abyde their boyse.

 Tentyra, orum, a cite in Egypte.
 Tenuatus, a, um, made thynne, slender, or leane.
 Tenu & tenuiter, poorly, simply.
 Tenuiculus, a, um, very simple or littell in estmation, slender of thynne.
 Tenuis, nue, littell or simple in estimation, small in quantitee, poorly, thynne, leane.
 Tenui filo, with a small threde, applied to a style in writing, whiche is not eloquent, but playne.
 Aër tenuis & crassus, contrarie.
 Aqua tenuis, id est, modica.
 Argilla tenuis, id est, sine humore.
 Cælum tenue, a clere and pure aier, not grosse and corrupted.
 Cultu tenuissimo viuere, to liue sparsngly, in hope no great pozte.
 Discrimen tenue, littell difference.
 Dubitatio tenuissima, the leaste doubt in the woꝛlde.
 Homo tenuis, a poore man.
 Tenui loco ortus, descended of a poore kyn-dede, luyng poore people to his father and mother.
 Oratio tenuis, a playne and easy style.
 Pecunia tenuis, littell money, small richesse.
 Tenuis pluuiæ, littell rayne.
 Præda tenuis, a littell praye, a small botle.
 Suspicio tenuissima, the leaste suspicion in the woꝛlde.
 Vicus tenuis, slender and poore luyng.
 Tenuis viribus, weakke, of small force.
 Vita a filo tenui pendet, our life hangeth by a small threde.
 Tenuis fortuna, lowe degree, slender habilit-tee, low state.
 Tenuitas, atis, f. g. smalnesse, pouertee, thynnesse, slenderenesse.
 Cauda in tenuitate desinens, sharpe and small towarde the ende.
 Tenuitas fugit aciem, it is so small of thynne,
 that it can not be seen.
 Tenuitas ararij, pouertee and lacke of richesse in the common Chetaurie.
 Tenuiter, scantly, poorly, barely, thynnelly,
 slenderly.
 Tenuo, aui, are, to make small, to make leane or feeble, to make thynne or slender.
 Tenuis, us, m. ge. a snare, Seruius iudgeth it to be the nothes or endes of a bowe.
 Tenuis, a preposition, significth highnesse, or bad till a thynge, vnto or vntill.
 Titulo tenuis, in a title onely or in woꝛdes without effecte.
 Credito tenuis, to the whole summe that he lente.
 Ore tenuis, by so the month.
 Tenuis urbem tendit, it extendeth vnto the citee, or no further then the ciite.
 Capulo tenuis, euen to the haffe.

Porta

Porta tenuis, euen to the gate.
 Tauro tenuis, to the mountaine Taurus and no further.
 Vno tenuis, to the quicke.
 Teos, a cite of Ionia: an other of Septhia, by the whiche is a ponde of fishe, whiche, in faire weather make so muche oyle, that it maye be scommend of the water.
 Tepefacio, pefacis, feci, facere, to make warme.
 Tepelo, fieri, to be made warme.
 Tepens, entis, warme.
 Tepeo, repui, pēre, to be warme or hotte.
 Tepesco, scere, to warre hotte or warme.
 Tephites, a stone, whiche hath the fygure of a new moone, in colour blacke, or as the colour.
 Tephnia, a kynde of marble.
 Tepidum, ri, n. ge. a vessell, wherein water is made temperate. also a chambie, wherinto men dooe goe out of a baine, a hotte house or baine.
 Tépidus, aui, are, to become hotte, or to make warme.
 Tépidus, a, um, meane betwene hotte and colde, warme. also cooled from heate. sometyne nois full of vnprofitable. sometyne for Calidus, hotte.
 Tepidum lac, milke hotte from the cowe.
 Sol tepedus, the hotte sunne.
 Hic homo factus est tepidior, this mā is war-ed somewhat colde in his matter.
 Tepor, oris, m. g. & tepidus, tatis, form. gen.
 warmthe or warmenesse.
 Teporatus, a, um, made somewhat warme.
 Ter, thise.
 Ter millies, thre thousande tymes.
 Ter centum, thre hundred.
 Tercenteni, plur. tantum adiect. idem.
 Tercento petor, thre tymes to pyl.
 Ter & vicies, thre and twenty tymes.
 Ter ternus, thise thre.
 Ter quatuor, twelue.
 Terapne, nes, or Terapne, arum, plu. a countrey in Lacedemonia, where the faire Helaine was boꝛne. also an ilande now called Corfica.
 Terapneus, a, um, of Terapne.
 Terdenus, a, um, the therteth.
 Terebellum, li, n. g. a pectee.
 Terebinthina resina, the right turpentine.
 Terebinthus, thii, f. g. a tree, the woodde wherof is blacke, and harde lyke boꝛe: out of this tree dooeth renne a gumme, called commonly Turpentine: albe it the common Turpentine is not it, but an other, whiche is as clere as glasse, and is a soueraigne medecine to cleanse the sto-mache of putrified humours.
 Terebratio, onis, f. g. a boꝛng with a wimble or auger.
 Tébra, bræ, f. g. an agger or wimble, wherwith holes are boꝛed. also an instrument, wherwith men graue in stones.
 Terebris, a ruer of Spayne.
 Técrebrum, bri, n. g. idem quod Terebra.

Técrebro, aui, are, to boꝛe or make an hole with a wimble or auger.
 Teredo, dinis, f. g. a littell wourme that eateth woodde. sometyne a mothe that eateth garmentes.
 Tereniabin, is Hanna, whiche cometh out of Arabia.
 Terentia, Liceros wife.
 Terentianus, a, um, of Terence.
 Terentinus, a, um, of Terentius.
 Terentini ludi, plaies kepte euery hundredth yere, thre daies and thre nyghtes continually together.
 Terentius, the most eloquente wyter of comedies.
 Terentus, a place in the fielde by Rome, called Campus Martius, wherem is an altar of Iulius to and Proserpina.
 Teres, teretis, om. ge. longe and rounde, lyke a tree or a pillar.
 Oratio teres, an oration flowng pleasauntly,
 without great ornament of eloquence.
 Plagæ teretes, nettes made of rounde cordes.
 Teretum, tri, ne. ge. an instrument, wherewith a thynge is made rounde.
 Tereus, a kynde of Wyre, the housbande of Progne.
 Terenini, thre chyldeꝛen boꝛne at one bours dyne.
 Tereninus, a, um, triple.
 Tergeste, a cite in Itale.
 Tergestum, a towne in Slauony, nowe called Trieste.
 Terginus, a, um, that is made of a beastes hide.
 Terguersatio, onis, f. g. an noniute in the law.
 when the plaintife geueth ouer his suite, haff-yng, ouerthwartynge.
 Terguersator, onis, m. g. an haffter, an ouerthwarter, one that renneth backe, and yet wyl not geue ouer.
 Terguersor, aris, ari, to turne backe, to denie in the lawe it significth to bee noniute. also to haffte, to ouerthwarte, to renne awaie and fight byll.
 Te:guersari contra aliquem, to haffte as they dooe, that wyl in no wise come to reason or any honest point.
 Tergo, or Tergio, teisi, térgere, to wype or make cleane.
 Tergere fossas, to scoure ditches.
 Tergoio, aui, are, to put on a thynne, hyde, or coueryng.
 Tergum, gi, n. ge. the backe of a man or beaste, or of any other thynge. sometyne it significth
 the hyde of a beaste, sometyne a tergate.
 Tergadare and vertere, to renne awaie pro-pely in battaile, to flee.
 Recurum tergum, a croked backe.
 Tergum collis, the hynder parte of backespyde of a mountayne or hyl.
 Scriptus a tergo, written on the backespyde.
 Tergibus, is rebbe in Lucretius in the datine safe

case plural.
Tergus, térgoris, m. g. a hyde of a beaste.
Terma, matus, n. g. the extremitie, the ende of a thyng. also the sole of the foote.
Termentarium, a linnen clothe, wherewith the boz dy is couered.
Termentum, ti, n. g. for Detrimentum.
Termera, a citee in Atria, so called of Termero.
Termerium, a place in Laria, betwene Melus and Malicarnadus, whiche tyrannes vied for a prison.
Termeria mala, extreme euels, Vide adag.
Eraf.
Termes, térmiris, m. ge. a branche plucked of a tree with the fruite on it. also a wourme, whiche eateth fleshe. it is also a mountaine in Bria.
Termes is also a towne in Spayne.
Termillum, li, n. g. a pottle for wyne, which was alwaie sette on the table, that euery man might take as much wyne as he wolde.
Termita, a people in Lycia.
Terminalia, órum, ne. ge. plu. a certayne holy daie, at the later ende of the yere, to the god Terminus.
Terminalis, le, belongyng to boundes.
Terminalis lapis, a mere stone, laied of pyght at the ende of sundry mennes landes.
Terminatio, o, is, f. g. a boundyng.
Terminatus, a, um, bounded.
Termino, aui, are, to ende of finishe, to bound, to appoynte the boundes of marches in any place.
Terminare bona voluptate, to define, that the ende of all goodnesse is pleasure, or that nothing is good but pleasure.
Sententiam terminare, to ende his sentence.
Imperium terminare oceano, to make the ocea tran sca the boundes of his impire.
Terminare modum aliculus artis, to appoint an ende of any arte.
Terminus, i, m. ge. a signe, whiche declareth one mans lande from an others, or one countrey of territorie from an other. A pectinet or limitte. Also it signifieth the buttynge, the ende of euery thyng.
Terminus deus, an idole, which was supposed to haue the pzeeminence ouer boundes of lande, whose temple had euer an hole in the rouse, for as muche as they thought it vnlesfull, that boundes of landes should be couered of hid.
Termino, onis, olde wyters vied for Terminus.
Ternarius, a, um, of thye.
Ternarius numerus, the numbre of thye.
Ternupdenum, the thyrtyenth.
Ternus, a, um, thye.
Tero, triui, ere, to rubbe, to bzeake of bzuise, to crome in pieces.
Terere iter, to go his wate.
Terere tempus, to consume the tyme.
Terere otium, to lye idly.
Terere mola, to grynde.

Sermonibus tempus terere, to passe the tyme in talkyng.
Terpandrus, dri, an olde musician, who added vii. stringes to the harpe.
Terpnus, an harper in the tyme of Aro.
Terpsichore, one of the nyne muses.
Terra, a, f. g. earth: Sometime all the world, also a prouince of territorie, a countrey, lande, grownde.
Ardua terrarum, mountaines.
Bonitas terra, good nature of y ground of colle.
Ora terrarum, regions, countreys. also the bestermost borders of bankes toward the sea.
Tremor terra, an earth quake.
Viscera terra, the innermost parte of the earth.
Quoties terra mouisset, as often as there was any earthquake.
Premere terras, to gouerne the world.
Terra defossim habes, pproutably spoken of him that hydeth his giftes, and doth not excrete them to the vse of other.
Terram video, I see lande, pproutably vied when one noteth the ende of some great labours to be at hande.
Aut terra aut mari, by one meanes or an other.
Terra filius, he that is commen by of naughte, and no man knoweth his byred. a persone of little reputation, or whose stocke is wyne out by longe continuance of tyme.
Terraceus, a, um, of earth.
Terramotus, us, m. g. an earthquake.
Terranum, i, n. g. a fiede, lande.
Terranus, a, um, on earth of luyng on earth, earthy, that is doen on the earth in the crith.
Terrani colles, hills that bee not stowle, nor full of rocks.
Terranum iter, a iourney by lande.
Terrameola, a, a byde lyke to a larch, whiche we call a buntynge.
Terrefacio, terrefacis, feci, ere, to make as ferde.
Terreo, rui, rere, to make aserde.
Terrestis, stre, earthy, that lyueth on the earth.
Iter terrestre, a iourney by lande.
Præsidium terrestre, an ayde by lande.
Terreus, a, um, of earth, made of earth.
Vas terreum, a vessel of earth.
Terribilis, le, terrible, that which is to be feared, dzeadfull, horrible.
Terricola, a, cō. g. he that dwelleth on the lade.
Terricre pus, a, um, that rebuketh one terrible.
Terricula, a, f. g. is sometime vied for Terriculum.
Terriculamentum, i, ne. ge. a feare of a fearefull thyng.
Terriculum, li, n. g. a thyng that putteth a man in great feare of dzead.
Terrifico, aui, are, to make aserde.
Terrificus, a, um, terrible, or that whiche indz ceth feare.
Terrigenus, a, um, begotten on the earth.

Terri-

Terriloquus, that speaketh terribly, and dzead fully.
Terriones, ploughmen.
Terripodium, & Terripudium, for Tripudium, daunsyng.
Terrifonus, a, um, that souneth terribly.
Territo, aui, are, to make aserde, to put in a feare of dzeade.
Territorium, ri, neu. ge. the fiedes of countrey luyng within the iurisdiction of boundes of a citee, a territorie.
Territus, a, um, made aserde.
Terror, óris, m. g. feare, terrour, dzeade.
Miros terrores ad me attulit, he brought me woode of wonderfull great feare that they were in.
Terfus, a, um, cleane, pure.
Terfus dies, of olde wyters was taken for a fage daie.
Tertiani, orum, souldiours of the thye troupe, bande of company.
Tertiānus, a, um, of the thye daie, or of the thye orde.
Tertiana febris, a feuer tertian.
Tertiārium, a mixt mettall, wherein are. ii. partes of leade and one of tyne. Also a thirde deale, a thirde parte.
Tertiarius, a, um, of the thirde parte.
Tertiata verba, wordes not perfectly pronouncsed, as when one is in dzead of feare of hym, to whom he speaketh, and trembyng in speche, vneth pronounceth the thye woode that he wolde saie.
Tertiāno, ónis, f. g. the dooyng of a thyng the thye tyme.
Tertio, aui, are, to dooe a thyng the thye tyme, or to make the thirde tylthe in sayng.
Tertio, the thye tyme.
Tertio consul, where two haue ben consules before hym. Tertium consul, he that hath been thye cōsull, so that Tertio signifieth the thirde in orde and place, two goyng afoze: I certum signifieth the tyme, where twyle goeth before. the lyke is of Secūdo, Quarto, & other nūbz.
Tertio pedato, at the thye retorne of company agayne.
Tertius, a, um, the thye.
Tertio quoq; die, euery thye daie.
Tertio quoq; verbo, at euery thye woode.
Tertius decimus, the thyrtyenth.
Tertullianus, a great lerned man of Carthage, the sonne of a capitaine of the Romans, was in his tyme a verry excellent man in witte and lersyng, and wrote many faire wothes in defence of christendome, but beyng in his myddle age made a priest, verryd with sundry wrynges and dispicalures, by the enue of the clergie of Rome: he (as it were inforced) at the last fell into the heresie of Apontanus, which heresie he did enterlaie with his bookes that he wrote, and liued till he came to extreme age. he flous rished about the yere of our loyde. 210. sainte Epyrian, whan he lusted to reade Tertullians woopathes, he wolde byd his seruantes byng hym his master.

Terruncium, n, n. ge. and Teruncius, n, m. ge. a poyse of coine of thye ounces, idem quod quadrans, lyke there.
Tesqua, places harde and difficulte to come by to, where the Romans did practise theyr diuinaa tions by sleepyng of byrdes, called Buguria.
Tesselia, a, f. g. a diminutive of Tessera, small pteces that men make checker woode with, on tables and bourdes.
Tessellatus, a, um, that whiche is wrought with smal pteces of stone, wood or bone, as in playngs tables of counter bourdes.
Pauimentum tessellatum, a floore paved with fouresquare tyles.
Tessera, a, f. g. that whiche is in euery parte square as a die. Also it is a die, moreover a wate che woode of priue token geuen to souldiours. also a token of leade, leather or other thyng, geuen to people at doles, or a han they receiue coine of the hynges atmes. also a taile, wheron is scored or marked the numbre of thynges receiued, whiche is called also Tessera.
Tessera hospitalis, a token geuen to guesstes, wherby men did knowe alwaie after, that they were theyr olde guesstes and frendes.
Tesseram hospitalem confregisse dicebatur, whiche had broken the lawe of hospitalitee and olde friendshippe.
Tessera nummaria, tokens geuen to men to receiue a summe of money by.
Tessera frumentaria, a token geuen to a man in leade or other lyke, by the whiche he shall receiue a certayne measure of coine.
Tessera, is also a figure of geometric, called Cubus.
Tesseradecas, cadis, f. g. a curteyne.
Tesserarius, ri, he that geueth the watche woode.
Tesserarius, a, um, belongyng to dice.
Tesserula, la, f. g. a littell paung tyle. also a taylor or scoie.
Tesso, fsi, fse, to despoyle or pull of a garment or harnais by violence.
Testa, a, f. g. a marde of a pot or tyle. Also a piece of a bone broken. also an earthen pot. also all maner of shell fysh, and the shell of euery thyng. Sometime Testa be taken for the lottes that the grekes call ostraci.
Testa ouis, an egge shell.
Testa limacis, a shell of a snayle.
Testaceus, a, um, that hath a shell, or that is made of hardes or of earth baked, also baked under a panne.
Testaceum flagellum, a prouerbe applied to sodeyn alteration of thynges, or of banysment vnlooked for.
Opus testaceum, any thyng made of earth new led with the fyre.

Testa

Testacea pyra, a certayne kynde of pearce.
Testamentarius, ij, mafe. gen. a forger of testaments. also a wyter or maker of testaments, a notarie.
Testamentarius, a, um, pertaininge to testaments.
Testamentum, i, n. g. a testament or last will.
Testamento tutorem institui, I have appointed him by my last will, to be tutour or gardian.
Relinquere testamento, to leaue to one by his testament or last will.
Supponere & Subicere testamentum, to byng forth a falshe testament or will.
Testamum, in pieces or shaydes.
Testatio, onis, f. g. wynnelle bearyng.
Testato, an aduerbe, making his will or testament.
Denunciare alieni testato, to shewe one expressly and plainly.
Testator, oris, m. g. he that maketh a testament.
Testatus, a, um, that is dead and hath made a will, also openly knownen of all men or proued, sure, certayne, and as it were tried by wynnelle.
Monumentis testatum relinquere, To leaue wrytten in recorde.
Clara & testata res, a thyng manifest & openly knowne of all men.
Relinquere apud aliquem testatum, to proue a thyng certaynely to one.
Relegione testatum, id est, approbatum, approued, allowed, confirmed.
Redigere in testatum, to make registers or wrytynge of recorde.
Testiculator, aris, ar, to putte the male to the test male. Testillor, idem.
Testiculus, li, m. ge. the stone of a man or beast.
Testificatio, onis, f. g. a wynnelle bearyng, a prouyng by wynnelle.
Testificator, & Testificatrix, he or she that beareth wynnelle.
Testificatus, a, um, witnessed, testified.
Testificor, aris, ar, to beare wynnelle, to confesse, to testifie.
Deum testificari, to take god to wynnelle.
Testimonium, ij, n. g. wynnelle bozne of a thyng doon, testimonie, deposition, euidence.
Dicere testimonium, to beare wynnelle.
Perhibere testimonium, and Reddere testimonium, idem.
Quod testimonio sit, that maie be a wynnelle or euidence.
Dicere pro testimonio, to depose or beare wynnelle before a iudge or examinaour.
Testis, is, com. gene. he that beareth wynnelle, a wynnelle, a testis, a gurer of euidence.
Sine teste dolere, to bee sorowfull without semblant, to sorow inwardly, making no shew of it.
Testes, be also a mans genitours.
Teste Herodoto, as Herodotus witnesseth.
Oculus testis, a wynnelle that hath seen the

thyng.
Religiosus testis, a seythfull and sure wynnelle.
Citare testes, to alledge wynnelles.
Dare testes, to byng forth wynnelles.
Placum facere testibus, to make the matiere plaine by wynnelles.
Testor, aris, ar, to beare wynnelle, to call to wynnelle, to praye god, to shew or declare manifestly, to denounce, to tell openly, also to make his testament or last will, to asseure, to avouch.
Deum testor, I take god to wynnelle.
Nunc illud testabor, now I will tell you this plainly.
Te per superos omnes testatur, the beseecheth the for gods sake and all the fountes in heauē.
Testatur per edictum, declaring by a proclamacon.
Testu, olde wrytters used for Testa.
Testuaceum, ei, n. g. that whiche is boyled in an erthen pott.
Testudineatus, a, um, holowe or bowyng lyke a vault, or lyke the shell of a tortoise.
Testudinatum tectum, a rouse whiche is how low in foure partes vaulted.
Testudineus, a, um, belonging to the tortoise or snayle, also made holow with a rouse.
Testudineus gradus, a slow pace.
Testudo, tudinis, f. ge. a shayle, or rather a tortoise, also an engin of warre, to beate downe walles, whiche was made of boardes & covered with lether or other thyng that would not burne, within it was a piece of tymber, that hadde a great hole of pyon at the ende, whiche piece might be pulled backe, and put forth with the strength of men, and therewith plucke stones out of the walles of towncs besieged. also it is the holdyng of the fouldours tergates close toges ther once their heades like a rouse in appoching to the walles or gates. it is also the rouse or vault of an house, also a bealy or body of a lute, or other lyke instrument. it is vsed for a lute.
Testudine facta, holdyng their tergates close ouer their heades.
Prius testudo leporem prauenterit, ge. shall as soone catch an hare with a tabbar.
Testus, us, m. ge. a part, vnder the which tartes and other lyke thynges of past, are baken, some vse it for an oven.
Tetanicus, a, um, that hath the disaile, called Tetanus.
Tetanicus morbus, idem quod Tetanos.
Tetanos, whan the sinewes are styfe, so that a mā can not bowe some parte of his body.
Tetrandria, a, medice, wherewith the face of a man or womā is made smoth without wynnles.
Tetara, foure.
Tetartus, a, um, of the fourth.
Tetartemoron, rij, neu. gener. the fourth part of the Zodiake circle, wherin ar the xii. signes: it is also that whiche astronomers call the quadrante aspecte of the planettes, also the cōyne called called Quadrans.

Tete, the selfe.
Teter, tra, trum, foule, spyngng, cruell, horrible, naught, mischeuous.
Nullum genus hominum tetrius, no sorte of men moze mischeuous.
Teterrimus hostis, an enemy most cruell.
Tetra belua, an horrible and cruell beast.
Cadavera tetra, foule and stynkyng carcases.
Colores tetri, foule and stynkyng colours.
Odor teter, a foule stynkyng sauour.
Facinus tetrum, an horrible and mischeuous acte.
Teterrima hyems, a veray harde and sharpe wynter.
Teterrime, most abominable, most cruell.
Tethys, thys, and thysos, the wife of Neptuneus, called goddess of the sea, sometyme it is taken for the sea.
Tetineris, for Tenueris.
Tetinus, for Tenus.
Tetra, foure.
Tetracinus, a cōyne, whiche was in value foure dragma, or olde popye grotes of viii. to the ounce.
Tetracolon, a sentence haung foure membris.
Tetracordium, dij, neu. ge. an instrument with iiii. stringes.
Tetradoron, of. iiii. hande bredth.
Tetradragma, mæ, f. g. of Tetradragma, m, n. gen. a cōyne of the value of. iiii. grotes.
Tetragnathus, thij, a certayne scorpion.
Tetragonus, a, um, that hath foure corners.
Tetragrammaton, the name of god, whiche the Jewes dooe call ineffabile, that is to saie, vnspeakeable.
Tetragrammaton, in greke signifieth of foure letters.
Tetrametrum, tri, n. gen. a kynde of metre, haung but foure fecte.
Tetrao, onis, the birde called a bustarde or a bystarde.
Tetrapharmakon, a kynde of meate made of foure deintie thynges.
Tetrapolis, the countrey of Antioche, wherin be foure notable citices.
Tetrapodium, ij, neu. gene. a nounce that hath foure cascs.
Tetrarcha, cha, m. gen. the ruler or gouerner of the fourth part of a royaume.
Tetrarchia, a, f. g. the gouernance of the fourth part of a prouince.
Tetrasticon, a sentēce concluded in foure verses.
Tetrasyllabum, of foure syllables, as Imperator.
Tetre, sharpely, cruelly, wickedly.
Tetricas, aris, f. ge. sowerneffe or sadnesse of countinaunce.
Tetricus, a sower fellow and alwaie vnpleasant.
Tetricus, or Tetrica, a rough hill in Italic, full of rockes, and harde to go on.
Tetrimno, au, are, to swymme lyke a duche.

Tetrius, moze sharpe or cruell.
Tetrix, idem quod Tetrao.
Tetro, au, are, to make foule, to pollute, to make bitter.
Tetrobolum, li, neu. gene. a cōyne being .iiii. Oboli, lacking the thirde parte of Drachma in value. ii. d. ob. q.
Tetulit, for Tului.
Tetigometra, the mother of damme of grasses hoppers.
Tetius Caballus, a scoffer in the tyme of Nestor.
Teuca, a quene of Illiria, which liued euer chaste, and vanquished many noble capitaines, and diuers hostes of the Romans.
Tencer, or Tencrus, cri, the name of a kynde of Troians. also of the sonne of Telamon the basiliant greke.
Teucer, cra, crum, idem quod Troianus, of Troie.
Teuchitis, a certayne rushe.
Teuchos, a vessell, an instrumente, a volume.
Teucium, an herbe, whiche Ant. Musa supposeth to be Hippicilla.
Teudamedus, the father of Pelasgus.
Teuderium, a citie of Germanie, called commonly Wadbozne.
Teumesius, a littell hill in Scotia.
Teumesius leo, a lion, which Hercules didde slea whan he was a chyld, and of his skynne made hym a coate.
Teurion, the herbe, called also Tripolium.
Teutates, was in olde tyme amonge the frenche men taken for Mercurius.
Teutha, idem quod Teuca.
Teuthalis, lidos, an herbe, called also Polygonon, Polygonon, Centinodia, Sanguinaria, and Geniculata, because it is full of knottes.
Teuthania, a piece of the countrey of Troie.
Teuthis, a noble man, whiche went with the greskes towardes Troie.
Teuthrania, the farthest parte of Mysia.
Teuthras, thrantis, a kyng of Mysia, the son of Pandion.
Teuthraeus, a, um, of Teuthras.
Teuthrion, an herbe, called also Poligon.
Teutonicus, a, um, of the Almagns.
Teutones, Teutoni, or Teutonici, people called Almagns.
Texo, texui, or texti, texere, to weaue or wynde threede, also to make, to builde, to write, to gazther, to ornate.
En tela textitur, prouerbially, thei labour about that.
Texuit basilicam, he builde a palace.
Nauium texere, to make a shippe or bote.
Epistolam texere, to write or drawe out a letter.
Plagas texere, to knitte nettes.
Texta, an hearelace, wherewith the heare is bounde by.

Textile, lis, a thyng wouen.
Textilis, le, that is weaved or wounden.
Textilia ferta, garlandes made of dyvers floures.
Textilis pictura, tapestrie.
Textilis umbra palmis, the shadow of a vine laid in ordre vpon a frame.
Textim, an aduerbe, signifying in weauing or wynding vp.
Textor, oris, m. g. he that weaueth or wyndeth, a weauer.
Textina, nae, f. g. a weauers shop, or the gaffe of weauing.
Textinum, ni, n. g. a weauers shoppe.
Textrix, trices, and Texticula, lae, f. gen. a woeman, whiche woorketh in a frame or stoole.
Textum, ti, n. g. a thyng that is wouen.
Textum viminum, a panner made of twigs ges of osiers.
Textum orationis, id est, stylus.
Textura, ra, f. g. weauing.
Textus, us, m. g. the arte of weauing.
Textus, a, um, wouen, platted, or wounden in and out.

T, ANTE H.

Thabis, a mountaine of Scythia.
Thais, the name of an harlotte.
Thalamus, mi, m. g. a chambze, where the houthande and the wife doe lie together.
Thalamus, is sometyne used for an hyue for bees.
Confors thalami, an houthande or wife.
Thalasio, vide Talasio.
Thalassicus color, a colour like the waues of the sea, a blew colour.
Thalassinus, a, um, of the sea colour or blew.
Vestis thalassina, a garment of blew colour.
Thalassomeli, a licour made of hony, salte water, and raine water, and is put into a vessell rased with pitch.
Thales, a philosophier, one of the seuen wyse men of Grece, also a poete of Landy.
Thalestria, a queene of Amazones, the whiche came to hyngge Alexander with 300. women with hir, to the intent to haue issue by hym and his men, and whan she perceyued, that she and hir ladies were spedde, they departed home agayne.
Thalia, one of the graces, whiche the aunient poetes did suppose to be one of the daughters of Jupiter, and geuers of delectable speche and pleasant pronounciation.
Thalictum, an herbe, haung leaues lyke coriander, but somewhat grosser, more fatie, and a stalke lyke poppie.
Thalli, the pyllynges of an opnyon or garlyke: or rather the middell stalkes betwene the blades and the head or roote. Sometyne it is used for the budde of a tree.

Thalus, a man of exceeding swiftenesse, whom poetes feigne that Jupiter made with brazen feete.
Thamnos, in latine Arbustum, a mybbe.
Thamyras, was he, whiche first plaied on an harpe, without synging thereto.
Thanatos, mors in latine, death.
Thaphia, an herbe like to fenell, and hath a yelow floure, and a statte rounde seede.
Tharia, pickell, wherein fish is salted and kepte.
Thaisus, a citee in Cilicia.
Thafia, an aluande.
Thafia nux, called also Graca.
Thaisum, a certaine wine, whiche is in Egypt.
Thain, people dwelling in the ile Thalus.
Thasus, a towne: & also an ile in the sea Egeum.
Thassus, saith Eraf. is an ile nere to Thace, nor ble and ferule.
Thassus bonorum, a prouerbe applied to them that promyse great thynges, as a man woulde saie, a worlde, a countrey of welthe. in Lambidge the vulgar woorde is, a myne of golde.
Thauna, in greche, is a meruayle or miracle.
Thaumantias, Iris, the daughter of Thaumas and Electra.
Thaumantis, tidis, idem.
Theca, a nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Theagenes, the name of thre diuers men of Athens.
Theano, a woman of the secte of Pythagoras, excellently learned in philosophie and poery.
Theanum, a towne of Apulia.
Theatralis, le, and Theatricus, a, um, that perteyneth to Theatrum.
Spectacula theatrica, plaies exercised in the Theatre.
Theatridium, di, neu. g. a diminutiu of Theatrum, a little Theatre.
Theatrum, tri, n. g. a Theatre, a place made halfe rounde, wherein the people assembled to beholde plaies and sundrie exercises. Sometyne it signifieth the multitude, that beholdeth: Sometyms the sight or plaie sette forth in that place.
Versari in Theatro, to lye or bee in an open place, where euery man dooth beholde hym.
Nullum theatrum virtuti conscientia maius est, there is no place where vertu is more seen and better beholde, than in a mans owne conscience.
Theatra tota reclamant, all the people that beholde the sightes, cry out against it.
Magnum theatrum habet ista prouincia, this prouince or charge hath many that dooe beholde it.
Magno theatro spectata familiaritas, id est, permultis comperta, wellknownen or proued of many men.
Theba, people of the citee of Theba in Egypte.

Theba,

Theba, arum, Theba, ba, and Thebe, bes, the name of cities, wherof one was in Egypt, builded by Bulimbres: an other in Bacotia, builded by Ladmus: an other in Licia, where Andromaches, the wyfe of Hector, was borne.
Thebaica, and Thebaides dates of the best sort.
Thebe, a maidens name, out of whose bosome sue two culuers: one to the fountaine of Hammon, an other to the wood Dodonan, where they gaue answeres.
Thebais, idis, and idos, a countrey of Egypte. It is also the name of a booke made by Status the poete.
Thebanius, a, um, of Thebes.
Theca, ca, f. g. a case, a sheeth or scaberde, a box.
Grani theca, the huske of wheate.
Theca calamaria, a pennar.
Theca nummaria, a purse or dagge for money.
Theca vasorum, cases that plate is kepte in.
Theibencane, a citee in the countrey of Babylon, called now Maraga.
Theleboz, people of an yle called Lappex, whiche lyeth agaynst Saples.
Theleboij, idem.
Thelephus, a hyngge that came in the aide of the Troians, and was slayne by Achilles.
Thelphusia, a citee in Arcadia.
Thelphusium, or Thelphosion, a citee in Beaotia, where Pendarus preped Bacchus.
Thelygonum, ni, ne. ge. an herbe, whiche hath beeties lyke to an oliue.
Thelyphonon, ni, n. g. an herbe, the roote wherof dooth kill scorpions.
Theliptris, ris, f. g. the ferne, or the female ferne.
Thema, mais, n. g. a thyng proposed to be disputed or reasoned. It is also a figure, wherein astronomers dooe write the state of heauen, in placeynge or setting the planettes in such signes and degrees, as they bee in at the tyme of a manes natyuite, or whan any thyng shal happen that they seerche for.
Themachia, a countrey called also Pemeca.
Themes, an olde towne in the ile of Egypt, where Brasse was first founde.
Themillas, lae, a mans name in Airgill.
Themis, mis, midis, or mistis, a goddesse, one of the sisters of Jupiter, on who he begat Minerva, she which commanded men to aske that which was lesat: some take hir for iustice. There was an other woman called Themis, named also Carmentis: it was sometyne taken for Fas, lefull.
Themiscyra, a citee in Lappadocia, called afterwarde Exsaria.
Themisones, people by Alycia.
Themista, idem quod Themis, iustice and pfectiuent of counsailes.
Themistius, a philosophier, whiche wrote commentaries on Aristotles woorkes.
Themistocles, a noble capitayne of the Atheniens, whiche beynge expelled out of his countrey, & commen to Ereces hyngge of Persia, was sent by hym with a great armie agaynst the Athensiens: but whan he perceiued his countrey in peryll to bee destroyed, he dranke poison, and chose rather to die, then ether to be vnfeithfull to Ereces, or els to destroy his countrey, although it were vnhynde toward him.

Themistogenes, a historiographier in Syracuse.
Thenia, sa, f. g. a halowed carre or chariote.
Theoclimenus, a southsaier, whiche tolde Penclope of hir houthande Alfisses retourne.
Theocritus, a poete of Syracuse, whiche wrote Bucolica, or the contention of herde men.
Theodomas, the father of Hyla.
Theodomanteus, a, um, of Theodamas.
Theodectes, a oratour of Licia, Platos scholer.
Theodorus, a famous philosophier, also a notable earuer.
Theodofia, a citee of Chironesus, called now Sapha.
Theodofius, an emperour. also the name of dyuers learned men.
Theodorus, the instructour of the last Philosomus.
Theognis, a poete of Grece.
Theogonia, a, the beginning of the goddes.
Theologia, a, f. g. diuinitie.
Theologus, gi, f. g. a diuine.
Theombrotion, an herbe that magiciens doe vse.
Theomedes, a precious stone, whiche putteth as waie iron, lyke as the lode stone draweth it.
Theomenia, the wyathe of god.
Theon, the name of diuers learned men.
Theoninus, a, um, of or lyke Theon, whiche is an horrible railer and carper of other mennes dooynge.
Theonino dente rodere, to rebuke a man shamefully.
Theophilus, deuoute, louyng God, also the name of diuers bishoppes.
Theophrastus, a noble philosophier, and of excellent eloquence.
Theopompus, an historiographier after the tyme of Herodotus and Eucidides. also an aunient poete, and a hyngge of Aacedemonia.
Theopolis, the chiefe citee of Syria, called also Antiochia.
Theoréma, matis, n. g. speculation.
Theorética ars, a science that nedeth no practice, but onely speculation.
Theoria, rix, f. g. speculation, vnderstandyng.
Theos, in greke is god.
Theotocos, the mother of god.
Thera, a citee by Athens. also one of the isles called Cyclades.
Theramne, a towne of the Sabines.
Theramenes, a philosophier of Athens.
Theramneus, a, um, idem quod Sabinus.
Therasia, an ile by Cubra.
Theriaca, ca, or Theriaca, ces, triacle.
Theridamas, anis, a dogges name in Quide.

AAaa ij

Therid

Therimachus, a famous peincter.
Therisma, atis, ne. ge. a soze of the paitie members, wherby al the partes there about are corrupted, and therof issueth blacke and stinkynge humour.
Theorionachus, one of Hercules sonnes.
Theorionarchia, a certayne heibe that stonethly serpentes.
Therionophion, phij, n. g. a place where wilde beastes are kepte, as a forest or parkie.
Theristrum, stri, a thynne veile, whiche the women of Palestina did weare.
Thermaxum, fe. g. plu. bathes of hotte water,
 also a towne of Sicilie.
Thermefacio, feci, facere, to chaufe or make one hotte with outrageous eatynge and drynkyng of hotte thynges.
Tharmodoon, a ryuer of Thrace.
Thermodontius, teus, and tiacus, a, um, perteyn-yng to that ryuer.
Thermopolium, lij, n. ge. a place, where meates and drynkes were solde, wherwith men were made hotte or warme in colde weather.
Thermopoto, ani, are, to drinke hotte or warme
 drynke.
Thermopyla, a mountayne whiche passeth thro-rough Grece, haupnge a narowe entrie or passage, where .2000. Lacedemonians, with their capitayne Leonidas, fought agaynst five hundred and .xxviii. thousande Persians, and resisted theym two daies, untill the said Lacede-monians were all slayne.
Thermos, the herbe called lupine.
Thero, a mans name in Spadarus.
Therodamas, or Therodamon, a kynge of Scy-thia, whiche fedde lions with mennes bloudde Therpsichore, one of the muses.
Therfander, the sonne of Polynices.
Thersilochus, a mans name in Virgill.
Thersites, a prince that came with the Grekes to the sieg of Troie, whiche in person and conditions was of all other most deformed.
Theaurarius, a, um, belonging to treasure.
Theaurizo, aut, are, to gather treasure.
Theaurus, ri, m. g. treasure. Sometime abundance.
Theaurum, ri, n. g. idem.
Theseus, the sonne of Aegeus kynge of Athens, a stronge & valiant man, the companion of Hercules, and in famous actes nexte vnto hym, which was much defaced by beakyng his feith, whiche he had promysed to Ariadne the daughter of Minos kynge of Crete, whom he lefte in a deserte ile called Naxos, for the whiche (as Virgill wyrteth) he is perpetually tourmented on a whele in hell.
Theseus, a, um, of Theseus.
Thesides, the sonne or nephew of Theseus.
Thesiphon, tis, a citee in Parthia, not farre from Seleucia the great citee of Assyria.
Thesis, a clause in wyrtynge of speakynge, whiche conteyneth a sentence.

Thesmophoria, the ceremonies of Ceres the gods-desse of greyne.
Thesmophoros, a name of Ceres.
Thespia, a free towne in Bactria.
Thespius, and Thespiacus, a, um, of Thespia.
Thespiades, the muses abiding about Thespias.
Thespis, a towne in Bactria, by the hill called Heslicon, also the name of an auncient poete and certayne other men.
Thesproti, people of Epire.
Thessalia, a region in Grece, called also Aemonia, sometyme Pandora, sometime Pyrrhea, of some Pelagia, or Homere Argopelagicon, it is inuironed with four greate and famous hylls. on the east, the mountayne of Pelion & Ossa. on the north with Olympus. on the west with Pindus. on the south with Othys. it marcheth on Macedonia on the east: the people were valiant men on horse backe and in-uincible in battaile, as Polybius wyrteth, but very vntrust of theyr promysse, the women there beynge wonderfull witches, transfourmed men into the fygure of beastes.
Thessalicus, a, uni, and Thessalus, a, um, of Thessalie.
Thessalonica, a citee in Macedonia.
Thessalis, lidis, a woman or maiden of Thessalia.
Thessalonicensis, people of Thessalonica.
Thestius, the sonne of Parthaon.
Thestor, thestoris, the father of Ladas the southster.
Thestorides, dis, m. g. the sonne or nephew of Thestor.
Thetilis, a womans name in Virgill.
Thera, a greke letter, whiche amonge the Grekes in iudgement was a letter of condemnation, as,
 T. was amonge the Romans.
Thetis, tidis, the mother of Achilles.
Theutius, a rustie growynge in Babachia, whiche hath the taste of sharpe wyne.
Theotias, for Sodalitas.
Theutones, & Theutonici, people in Germanie called duchemen.
Thiasias, he that is burst or broken in his bones.
Thideus, the father of Diomedes.
Thieum, for Succinum, Gumbe.
Thimbra, x, f. g. lauerie.
Thimissa, the citee of Tuncie in Efrisie.
Thiodamas, the sonne of Melampus.
Thirromachus, one of the sonnes of Hercules by Megara.
Thisbe, a mayden of Babylon.
Thisbeus, a, um, of Thisbe.
Thissas, an auncient wyter of Sicilie.
Thlaspi, or after some Thlaspidion, an herbe called also Nasturcium, Scordum, Capsella, and Scandulacium, of some Bursa pastoris: it hath a smache of mustarde seede, and is therfore called Sinapi rusticum.
Thoanteus, a, um, of Thoas.
Thoas, atis, the name of .ii. kynges, one of Taurica,

Taurica, and an other of Lemnos.
Thoe, one of the nymphes.
Thoes, bee weulstes of Bethiops, Serianus dweth call them Cygys in India.
Tholos, li, m. f. gene. a scotchen or smal tergate, also the sildynge of holow rouse of an house, or a rounde house.
Thomices, liches of hempe, wherwith balsters be made, they be also luttell bolsters, whiche men do weate whan they carie burthens, for frettynge their neckes or shoulders with cordes or ropes.
Thon, nis, he that fyrst brought physicke into the fourme of a science amonge the Egyptians. an other was kynge of Lanopus.
Thonis, a citee nere to Zephyrium.
Thonius, one of the Centaures.
Thoon, a Troiane name of Mises.
Thoor, the daughter of Phorcus, on whom Hesptunus gate Polyphemus.
Thootes, a mans name in Homere.
Thoraca, x, idem quod Thorax.
Thoracatus, a, um, that weareth currettes or best plates.
Thorax, a mountayn by the citee Magnesia, where Daphnia the gramarian was hanged on a gybs bet for makynge verses agaynst kynge, wherof cometh this prouerbe, Caue à Thorace. Ste-phanus saith Thorax is a citee of Betolia, and also of Magnesia.
Thorax, acis, m. ge. is properly the whole bulke of a man from the necke to the middle. it is also currettes or best plates, also a stomacher or plascarde. Sometime it signifieth a toure.
Thous, a duke of Croie.
Thoxeus, the sonne of Eurithus and brother of Jotes. also the sonne of Chetius.
Thrace, es, Thraca, x, and Thracia, x, a region in Europa, on the north it is bounded with the lower Mysia, on the west with the higher: on the south with the sea Aegeum, on the west with Bosphorus Thraci & Propontis, therein is the citee of Constantinople, sometime called Bizantium.
Thraceas, vel Thracias, a north west wynde.
Thracius, Thracius, and Thracius, a, um, of Thrace.
Thracissa, or Thraissa, a woman of Thrace.
Thrasibulus, a noble man of Athens, whiche put downe the tyrannes.
Thrasillus, or Thracius, he that taught Eurypis to offere his guesstes to Jupiter, to the entent to obteyne raine, and was fyrst hym selfe killed in sacrifice.
Thrasimachus, the scholar of Socrates.
Thraso, a shouldriuer name in Cerence. also a peincter that Strabo mentioneth.
Thrasymedes, the sonne of Nestor.
Thrasymenus, a riuer in Italy nigh to Perusia.
Thrax, acis, a man of Thracia.
Thraulon, one kynde of the gumme called Ammoniacum, loke Pli, lib. 12. cap. 23.

Threces, idem quod Gladiatores.
Threnodia, a mourning songe.
Threnos, a lamentation that was vsed at burials.
Thressa, or Thressia, a woman of Thrace.
Thridax, idem quod Lactuca.
Thria, the leaues of a figge tree.
Thrix, the threer nurces of Apollo.
Thrips, saith Erasmus, is a very littell birde, loke the prouerbe, Aquila Thripas aspiciens. He saith againe in the prouerbe Mali Thripes, that Thrips is a littell worme, that breedeth in tymber, and annoyeth it.
Throni, is one of the .ix. orders of angelles.
Thronus, ni, m. ge. the seate or chaire of an em-perour or kynge, a thone.
Thrulla, lx, f. g. a truell, whiche masons, tylars and pargettours doe vse for layng of moister.
Thrullisso, au, are, to laie on moister.
Thryallis, lis, f. m. gener. an herbe, called rose campane.
Thryps, pis, m. g. a mothe.
Thryus, a riuer of Elis, whiche renneth into Alpheus.
Thucydides, a notable historiographer.
Thucididius, a um, that foloweth Thucydides, or of Thucydides.
Thule, les, the name of two isles, one beyonde
 Scotlande, an other ouer against Carthage.
Thunnus, a fische, called Tunc.
Thureus, a, um, of frankensence.
Thuriatus, a certayne sea fische.
Thuribulum, li, n. g. a censur.
Thuricremus, a, um, that beareth frankensence, or wheron frankensence is broken.
Thurifer, ra, rum, that beareth frankensence.
Thurisco, au, are, to make a perfume or to fence.
Thuri, Thuria, and Thuriion, a citee of Calabze.
Thurilegus, a, um, that gathereth frankensence.
Thuringia, Thurin in fraunce.
Thurini, a people of Italie.
Thurinus, a, um, of Thuri.
Thurium, a towne of Italie where Herot? died, and was buried in the hygh strete.
Thurius, a, um, of infence.
Thus, xis, n. g. frankensence, some wyte it Tus.
Thuscana, a citee in Italie.
Thusculani, a people by Rome.
Thusculanum, a place not farre fro Rome, where Cullius, Lato, Marro, and diuers other noble senatours of Rome, had manour places.
Thusculum, li, n. ge. a diminutive of Thus, also a citee in Latium.
Thyamis, a riuer that diuideth Chelbotes from Lestrina.
Thyamon, an hill in Thrace.
Thyas, adis, a woman that offereth sacrifice to Bacchus.
Thyasus, fi, a daunce dedicated to Bacchus.
Thybris, one of Aeneas companions.
Thyella, a Rome.
Thyestes, the son of Pelops and Hippodamia, AA 22 ij who

who aspiring to the kyngdome of Mycenæ, commist auourie with the wife of his elder brother Atreus, who therfore slew the children of Thyestes, and causing them to be cooked, made his brother to eat them vnwares.

Thyestes, a, um, of Thyestes.

Thyle, the yle, called Iselande.

Thymbra, an herbe, called sauerie, also a place nere Troie, where muche sauerie groweth.

Thymbreus, the name of Apollo.

Thymele, les, a woman, which first taught dauncing in open places.

Thymelici, players of enterludes: hereby wolde the place bee corrected in the digestes, L. de his qui notantur infamia, where, for Thymelici, wolde be putte Thymelici. they bee also common dauncers called moirice dauncers.

Thymiama, aris, n. g. a faire perfume.

Thymion, the warre, called also Thymum, like there.

Thymites, a wyne made with thyme.

Thymius, a, um, made with thyme.

Thymosus, a, um, full of thyme.

Thymus, m, m. g. of Thymum, n. g. an herbe called thyme.

Thymum, is also a warre, which is as great as a beane.

Thynia, an yle by Bithynia.

Thynus, a, um, called Cante.

Thynus, a, um, of Thynia.

Thynos, a towne of Cilicia.

Thynous, trysylla, a name of Bacchus.

Thyre, a citee of the Grecians.

Thyrea, an yle of Deloponcus.

Thyridion, ridn, n. g. a litle of litle doze.

Thyros, a citee vnder Persia's dominion.

Thyrigeta, people of Scythia, which liue onely by hunting.

Thyrus, h, m. gene. the stalk of lettise or other herbes, which may be eaten, some take it for a speare with a sharpe head, which had boowes and leaues of iue wrapped about it. Such speares did Bacchus, and his flocke of drunken harlots beate about in theyr handes. Lucrētius the poete, taketh Thyrus for furie of an ardent motion. some doe name it to be a longe steme and strenght, such as is of a tessel, or such as doe growe in fennes, hauing blacke knaps and rounde.

Tlāra, x, f. ge. a round ornament, which the women of Persia did weare on their heades, and it conueied onely the hinder parte of their heades, princes and priestes vsed also to weare it.

Tiatura, a citee in the countrey of Assyria.

Tibareni, people of Scythia, beyn in Asia.

Tiberias, tiberiades, a citee in Galilea.

Tiberis, or rather Tyberis, a riuer called Tiber in Italie, which comyn from the mountayne Apenninus, diuideth Euhria from Vmbria. Tiberius, the name of an emperour of Rome.

Tibia, x, f. ge. the legge, properly the shank of a synbone. it is also an instrument called a shalme, a pipe, a flute.

Tibialis, le, pertaining to shalmes, belonging to the legges, meete to make pyppes of.

Tibiale, is, n. g. plu. tibialia, legge harnesses called greues, also the nether stockes of hoes.

Tibicen, tibicinis, m. gen. that bloweth a trumpet, or playeth on a shalme, it is taken for any manner minstrell.

Tibicen, is also that, whereby any thyng is susteyned, a shode or propp.

Tibicina, x, f. ge. a woman that playeth on a recorder or other pypp.

Tibin, a baketh of coften made of wickers or bulrushes or barks of a tree, in such one was Moses se founde by Pharaos daughter.

Tibilustria, were daies, when men went with trumpettes as it were in procession aboute their lambes.

Tibini, tunes made with shalmes.

Tibiscus, a riuer of Dacia.

Tibisis, a riuer in Scythia.

Tibullus, a poetes name.

Tibur, like Tybur.

Tiburtes, people in Italie, ngye to Rome.

Ticinum, a citee in Libardie, called now Paula.

Tiferius, a riuer of Italie.

Tigillinus, a Romaine in the tyme of Nero, of his liuing most filthy and corrupte.

Tigillum, li, n. g. a raster.

Tignarius, a, um, of or belonging to carpentry.

Tignarius faber, is a carpenter that maketh an house of tymber.

Tignus, ni, m. g. & Tignum, ni, n. g. a logge, a beam, a raster or an house that beareth yroue. it is also generally all the tymber that serueth to an house, also euery thyng that a vyne is vnder sette with, as proppes, fozles, stakes.

Tigrana, a towne in the countrey of Media.

Tigranes, the propre name of a kyng of Armenia the greater.

Tigrinus, a, um, of or lyke a Tigre.

Tigris, a beaste of a wonderfull swyftnes, it is also one of the foure riuers, which come out of paradise called Gion, it passeth thowowe Armenia and Media.

Tigullia, a citee of Liguria.

Tigurini, people of Germania, which doe inhabit the fourth parte of Heluetia or Switzerlande.

Tile, like Thule.

Tilia, x, f. ge. a tree, which some suppose to be byrche, not withstanding our byrche doeth not beare fruite as great as a beane, rounde and longe, and lyke to pype beares, in the which are seedes lyke to arage seeds, as Theophrastus writeth. some call this tree tiste.

Tiliaceus, a, um, of the tree called Tilia.

Tilium, a citee in the weste parte of Sardinia on the sea syde called nowe, S. Repera.

Tilos, an yle in the sea, wherein is plenty of pears and trees of dyuers frutes, and the leaues of trees there growyn, do neuer fall. Also wolde groweth on trees there, which doe beare gourdies of the greatnesse of quinces, and being ripe, doe open, in the which doeth appere the woulle, wherof he made fyne and precious clothes. about that place doeth begyn the mountayne of Caucasus, which doeth passe thowowe a great parte of the worlde.

Tilphosa, a well at the foot of the mountayne Tilphosium.

Timeus, a noble philosophier of Pythagoras secte.

Timagines, a famous writer.

Timagoras, a noble man of Athens.

Timalos, an herbe and shoure growing in waters, called commonly of Apothecaries Nenufer.

Timanthes, a famous painter.

Timanus, a ryuer in Italie besydes Aquilia.

Timarchides, a notable grauer.

Timens, entis, he that feareth for a tyme.

Timeo, ui, ere, to feare of drede.

Timeo te, I feare the as mye enemye, lest thou wylte doo me harme.

Timeo tibi, I am asfere on thy behalfe as my frende, lest thou shouldest haue any harme.

Timeo mihi abs te, I am asfraid that thou wylte doo me harme.

Timeo furem poms, I am asfraid that one wylle steale mye apples.

Timeo moriatur, I am asfraid that he wylle die. Ue republica valde timeo, I am greatly asfraid of solicitous for the common weale, lest it shoulde take any harme.

Timeo ne non impetrem, I feare lest I shall not obtene it.

Timide, fearfully, shamefastly, timorously, bashfully, nothing boldly, with a faine courage.

Timiditas, aris, f. g. feare.

Timidus, a, um, that alwaie feareth, called timorous, fearefull, false herced.

Timidus ad mortem, asfere to die.

Timiopola, ingrossers or regraters of markettes, which doe bie muche coyne of bitaile together to make it scarce and deere.

Timocles, a poete of Athens.

Timolaus, a learned man of Larissa, who wyate of the warre of Troie.

Timoleon, a duke of Lozinth.

Timon, a man of Athens, notable for his inhymante, and hatynge of the company and societie of men.

Timor, oris, m. g. feare of some euill coming.

Afficere timore, to make asfere.

Timorem incutere, conferre, & facere, idem.

Magno timore de nobis afficiuntur, they be soze asfraid for vs.

Timor meus de te, the feare that I haue lest you shoulde take any harme.

Magno timore sum, I am greatly asfere.

Timore percussus, stricken with a sodayne feare.

Timotheus, the name of a noble capitayne of the Atheniens, who for the good fortune that he had in battayle, was permitted to lye a slepe, and haung by him a nette pitched, wherein fortune was taken. also a counnyge musician, which was to sake of his scholars, which had learned before; double salarie, that he toke of others, which neuer learned, saynge, that he toke with them double labours, that is to saie, to make them to forget that, which they had learned as fore, and then to teache them perfectly.

Tin, olde writers vsed for Eum.

Tina, a ryuer in Englaunde called Tine.

Tina & tina, a great bolle, which beynge full of wyne, euery man myght drinke thereof as muche as he lysted.

Tinca, x, f. g. a littell fresh water fishe.

Tinctilis, le, that wherewith any thyng is dyed.

Tinctor, oris, m. g. a dyer.

Tinctura, x, f. g. dyng.

Tinctus, us, m. g. idem.

Tinctus, a, um, dyed.

Tinea, x, f. ge. a mothe. Tinea, be also woundes in the body: also woundes breedynge in beestalles.

Tineosus, a, um, full of mothes or woundes.

Tinge, a promontorie or elbowe of Africke.

Tingiana, a parte of Mauritania or Barbaria, called Spayne.

Tingo, xi, ge. e, to depece a thyng into lyeout, to die colours.

Tingere conchilio, to die violet.

Tinia, looke Tina.

Tinimentum, ti, n. g. the ringynge in the eare of a man.

Tinnio, niui, nire, to ryng or make a towne as metall dooth, or as a mannes heade dooth sometyme.

Tinnius, us, m. g. a ringynge lyke golde, syluer, or other metall.

Tinnulus, la, lum, sharpe in towne, ringynge, so that which is made by bearyng on metall.

Orator tinnulus, an orator with a sharpe ringynge voyce.

Tinnabulum, li, n. g. a littell bell.

Tinnaculus, li, m. g. he that beatech with rods des a transgreiour of the lawe, he that maketh a ringynge.

Tinnio, niui, nire, and Tintino, aui, are, to ryng lyke a bell.

Tinnaculus, a bird, which maketh a sharpe ringynge noyse, and is of the kynde of haukes, and in some place doth breede in houses, which with his voyce driueth away other haukes, and therefore the byrdes of hym are kepte in ertlyen pottes couered with claie, and hanged in doue houses, which causeth coluers meruallously to loue theyr house, it is called a kistrell, or a kistrell, or a stringall.

AAAA iij

Tipala, a citee in Mauritania, called nowe Tenece.
Tiphernum, a towne in Italie.
Tiphis, an excellent carpenter, whiche founde firste the meane to gouerne a shippe: it is also a rother.
Tipula, he, f. g. a wourme lyke a spider, whiche renneth on the water, as other wourmes dooe on the lade, and hath fyre teete, a water spider.
Tiresias, a poete of Thebes, who for strykinge two adders, whiche he founde ingendrynge together, was fourthwith tournd into the forme of a woman. Seven yeres after he lyke wise spyndyng two serpentes together, strake also them, and became eftesoones a man. Jus piter and Iuno contending together, whether the man or the woman was more prone vnto lecherye, they chose Tiresias arbiter, whiche had experience in bothe kyndes, who gaue sen tence on Jupiters parte: wherewith Iuno be yng angrye, toke his sight from hym. But Jus piter, to comforte hym in his byndenesse, gaue to hym that parte of diuinitye, to know all that was doone or shoulde happen: by reason wher of he was had in great honour, and his aun swers were esteemed equal to them of Apollo.
Tirins, tintis, m. g. a ryuer in Grecia: Tirins, rintis, f. g. the countrey where Hercules was borne in Deloponeffe, nowe called Morea.
Tirynthius, was a surname of Hercules.
Tirynthis, a famous olde citee in Grecia.
Tiriscum, a citee of Dacia, nowe called Gros coma.
Tirihenus lapis, a stone, whiche beyng whole, swimmeth though he be great, but being bry
ken, euery pece synketh.
T's, for tui, the gentiue case of tu.
Tirannus, a ryuer of Septhia.
Tillas, the name of Cozar scholar.
Tisiphone, one of the furies of hell, whiche was supposed to torment homicides, or slayers of men.
Tissa, a citee of Sicile, called Tis.
Titanis, nidos, the daughter of Titan, called als
so Latona, it is taken also for the moone.
Titan, and Titanus, the brother of Saturne, and is taken for the sonne.
Titanus, and Titanicus, a, um, of Titan.
Titanus, a ryuer of Acolus, and a citee of the same name.
Tiaretius, a ryuer rennyng into Peneus, and yet is not the water mixed with it, but renneth lyke oyle in the middes of the other ryuer.
Tichonus, the brother of Laomedon, whiche be gatte Hemmon vpon Auroza: an other of that name was sonne to Laomedon.
Tichonius, a, um, of Tichonus.
Tithymalus, an herbe called spurge, wherof bee
vn. sozres, all hauing milke sharpe and byting, rede in Cataputia, Lathiris, and Ricinum,

Titianus, an oratour of Grece.
Titi, prestes of Apollo.
Titillatio, onis, f. g. a tickelng, a sterpge.
Tutillanus, us, m. g. idem.
Tutillo, aui, are, to tickle, to prouoke or meue pleasantly.
Tutio, onis, m. g. a fyre bynde of wodde, whiche hath ben in the fyre.
Tutillurium, ri, n. g. a byle thyng of no value.
Tutorus, an herde man, whiche contended with Philo the wrestler, and ouercame hym.
Tutubanter, stammeryng, stuttyng, vncon stantly.
Tutubantia, a, f. g. stammeryng, stuttyng, tripp
yng in a mans woordes.
Tutubatio, onis, idem quod Tutubantia.
Tutubatus, a, um, tripped, stumbled.
Tutubo, aui, are, to stagger in speakyng or going, as a man beyng drunke or sicke, to stumble, to trippe, to fayne in his woordes.
Si verbo tutubant, if they trippe or fayne in
a woorde.
Si tantulum tutubatum sit, if they faile or tripe in any thyng be it neuer so littell.
Titulus, li, masc. gen. the tytle or inscripcion of a warke or acte: sometime dignitee, pryce, honor, also a monument or other remembrance, some tyme a pretence.
Tutulo tenus, no further then his title.
Titus, the name of a man.
Titus Luuius, the most excellent histon of wy ter of stories, in whom was the fountaine of the milke of pure eloquence.
Tityrus, a shepheardes name in Virgill.
Tityus, the sonne of the Erithr, whom poetes feigned to be slayne by Apollo, because he wold haue rauished Latona his sister. and therfore lieth in hell, hauyng an egre alwaie catynge his lyuer. And it is also sayed, that his bodie was in length nyne furlong: witnes Tibull, which was a poete, and also a great loue, and ther fore coulde not lie.
Tlepolemus, Hercules sonne, a kynge of Rhodes, whiche came to the battaile of Troie with nyne shippes.

TMefis, f. g. a fygure when one woorde is diuided, & an other of two set betweene:
as, Septem subiecta trioni, for Septen tioni.
Tmolus, a mountayne in Lydia, wheron dyd growe great plenty of saffron and vynes. it is also a littell bush, whiche beareth floures of saffron colour.

TOdi, littell byrdes, I supplie it to be the birde called a tumouse.
Toga, gæ, f. g. the common garment of men and women, called a gowne. and because the Romaines dyd specially weare that gar ment in the tyme of peace, Toga was taken for peace, as Arma was for warre. Toga was als to amonge the Romains the propre garment of them, whiche wente to salute the great magis trates, or were attendant to bynge them forth and whome.
Toga prætecta, a garment, whiche the Ro mains dyd weare afore that they were of the age of xvi. yeres: afterwarde it was woyn of them, whiche were in authoritee.
Toga polymita, a garment, made with thre dres of sondry colours, as motely or baudhyn.
Toga candida, was a garment whiche they dyd weare, that sued for any great office in the citee of Rome: and therfore were called Candidati.
Fusa toga and restricta, contrarie, loose about a man, and gytt to hym.
Toga pura, a gowne that oratours ware whan
they pleaded first in the common place.
Toga pista, a gowne of robe that onely the chefe magistrates in Rome vsed, and receiued it at the Capitoll or phalaice.
Pulla toga, a mournyng gowne, vsed in fune rals.
Atollere togam, to holde byppe his gowne as they doe, whiche goe in longe gownes for rai sng of them.
Colligere togam, to gather his gowne about hym and holde it vp as prestes doe.
Togam dimittere, to let downe his gowne about hym.
De toga ad pallium, he is promoted out of the haule into the kitchin, from a furd gowne to a Jerken.
Togatus, a, um, that weareth a gowne.
Togata comædia, a comedie of enterlude, wherin the maners of the Romaines were ex pressed.
Togara Gallia, the countrey now called Lums bardie.
Togara opera, is vsed of Parciall for the of fice and attendance of them, whiche waited on the great men of Rome footthe to the common countsaies and home againe: and therfore be called Togati.
Togátulus, a, um, a diminutiue of Togatus.
Tógula, la, f. g. a littell gowne.
Tolentum, a citee of Italic, the people wherof be called Tolentines.
Tolerabilis, le, that maye be suffered or abyden, tolerable, indifferant.
Tolerabiliter, tolerably, patiently, also easily.
Toleranter, patiently.
Tolerantia, a, f. g. sufferance.
Tolerans, antis, sufferyng, abydyng.
Penuria tolerantissimus, that can abide or en dure hunger very well.

Toleratio, onis, f. g. sufferyng, abydyng.
Tolero, aui, are, to suffre, to endure, to beare, to liue poorly or nyghly, to nourishe, to main teine or susteine hardly.
Tolerare vitam, to liue, or mainteine his lyfe.
Pallus centum sexaginta tolerare, to be able to renue, or goe the space of .160. pases.
Tolarare se, to liue, to mainteine and fynde hym selfe poorly and hardly.
Equitatem tolerare, to finde and nourishe his hoysmen.
Tolerare sua pecunia milites, to fynde souldi ours of his owne cost.
Nihil erat, quo famem tollerarent, they had nothyng wherewith to susteine their hunger, they had nothyng to cate.
Impensas autsumptus tolerare, to beare costes or charges.
Inopiam, laborem, sitim, tolerare, to abyde,
to susteine, to indure.
Tolerare vitam colo, to get hir lyuyng with
spynnyng.
Toleratu difficilis, harde to be suffered.
Tolétum, a citee in Spaine called Toledo.
Toles, or Tolles, a warpyng kernell.
Toliapis, the ile of Tenet by Kent.
Tollenon, an ingin to drawe vp water, whiche hath a great poise at the one ende, a swepe.
Tollo, sustuli, or reuli, tollere, to lyfte vp, or set vp, to take awaie, to hylt, to dispatche out of lyfe, to nourishe, to byng by, to deferre or prolonge, to haue a chyld: by a woman.
Tollere clamorem, to crye out.
Tollere custas, to set vp the cresse, applied to them that bee proude or arrogant, and dooe stretche vp theyr browes with a disdigne full countenance.
Tolle digitum, holde vp thy finger, confesse thy selfe vanquished.
Tollere gradum, to set footthe or to marche footthe.
Tolle hanc patinam, take awaie this dishe.
Verum quod erit natum tollito, what so euer is borne, put it to nourisng.
Omnes tollito ex hoc die in alium diem, I put them all of from one daie to another.
Tollere minas, to threten or menace.
Animos tollere, to be proude.
Cachinnum tollere, to laugh out of measure.
In celum fama or laudibus aliquem tollere,
to pryse excedyngly.
Aliquid oneri tollere, id est, suscipere.
Tollere supercilia, to caste vp the browes.
Tectum altius tollam, I will make my house hygher.
Tollere de terra lapides, to take byppe stones from the grounde to caste.
A terra se tollere altius, to growe higher, to spynge vp as herbes and trees dooe.
Animos tollere, to waite proude & high myn
ded,

ded. also to make proude and arrogant.
 Clamor tollitur in celum, they made a great shoute of crye.
 Tollam ego te in collum, I wyll take the vp vpon my necke.
 In crucem tollere, to hange vpon a gibbette.
 Hinnium tollit equa, the mare neigheth.
 Humo se tollere, to ryse from the grounde, to sprynge vp, and by translation, to get honour of a great name.
 Risum tollere, to beginne to laugh, to talie vp a laughter.
 Tollere aliquem, to take one with him in tourney to kepe hym compaigne.
 Sustulit hic matrem, sustulit ille patrem, this man killed his mother, the other bare his father on his backe, spoken of Nero and Seneca.
 Tollere & interficere.
 Aes alienum tollere, to paie ones debtes, to discharge one of his debtes.
 Anchoras tollere, to weigh the anchours.
 Sublatum est conuiuium, the table was taken vp.
 De medio tollere, to kylle.
 De oratione sua aliqui tollere, to name of mention a man no more, to speake no more of hym.
 De foro aliquem clamore tollere, to crye so at one, that he is faine to auoide the comon place.
 Veneno tollere, to payson.
 Legem tollere, to fordoe a lawe.
 Inductas tollere, to breake the truce.
 In sublime tollere, to lifte vp on high.
 Manu tollere, to take with the hande.
 Tollere moram, to make hasty of speede.
 Quarelas tollere, to complaine no more.
 Spem aliquid facienti tollere, to put one cleue out of hope to doe a thyng.
 Testimonio aliquem tollere, to conuince with witness, that he shall bee punished and forbidden the comon place.
 Tollere liberos, to haue & nourishe childzen.
 Corpora in altum tolluntur potius q̃ in latū, bodie are stretched on lengthe rather then on bredthe.
 Tolosa, a cite in France called Colouse. wher of grew a pourcebe, Tolosanum aurum.
 Tolaminius, a diuinour.
 Tolutarius, a, um, and Tolutaris, re, amblyng, that ambleth.
 Tolutarius equus, an amblyng horse.
 Tolutiloquētia, a swyfte of fast speche.
 Tolum, with an amblyng pace, roundely.
 Tulum loqui, to speake faste one woorde after an other.
 Tomaculum, li, or Tomaculum, cli, n. g. Tomacula, la, or Timacina, na, f. g. a certayne sorte of puddinges, properly swynes puddinges.
 Tomarus, a mountayne of Betolia.
 Tomentum, ti, ne. ge. flore, whiche is shorne of wollen clothe. also lockes clipped of white wolle. also any hynde of floze, wherwith beades be stuffed.

 Tomex comicis, f. g. a hempen corde. also a collar, which is put on cartie horses for buryng of theire neckes.
 Tomitanus, a, um, of Tomos.
 Tomos, a cite of Pontus.
 Tomus, mi, m. ge. a tome, a volume, where diuers woordes of one authoure be scattered in sundry partes.
 Tomiris, a noble queene of Scythia in Scythia, agaynst whome when Cyrus the great kynge of Persia came, and had slayne her son, she by her policy trapped hym into such straits, that he slewe hym and all his horse, and causynge a great vessel to bee filled with the bloude of Cyrus and of the other Persians, did cast his head therinto, sayng: Bloude thou hast thirsted, and nowe drinke thereof thy fill.
 Tonation, a certayne shalme with a soft towne, the whiche in the olde tyme some opatours used to haue to plaie by the when they pleaded, that by the tunes of y<sup>e</sup> shalme, the opatour mought moderate and order his pronounciation.
 Tondeo, to tondre, to drec, to clippe of sheare.
 Tondere prata, to mowe the medows.
 Brachia arborum tondere, to loppe trees.
 Tondere duncta dicuntur iuenci, id est, pascere, to cate of bite of the toppes.
 Tondere herbas, to cutte herbes.
 Tondere aliquem auro, to strale all the money that one hath from hym.
 Tonesco, tonui, tonescere, to thunder.
 Tongri, the duchie of Zabab.
 Tonimus, for Tonamus.
 Tonitruo, aui, are, to thunder.
 Tonitrus, us, m. g. Tonitruum, trui, and Tonitru, indeclinabile, n. g. thunder.
 Tonitrus mouere, to make thunder.
 Calum tonitru contremis, it thundreth veray soze.
 Tono, naui, and tonui, nare, to thunder, to make a great sound of noise, to speake loude.
 Tonare laudes alicuius, to speake ones praises with a loude voice.
 Tonsa, fa, f. g. a sheepe, whiche is shorne of clipped. also an oze of a boie of shippe.
 Tonsilis, le, that whiche is shorne of clipped, that is lopped, that is rounded.
 Tonsilla, a, f. g. a poste haupng one ende armed with ppon, whiche is pitched into the grounde, to the ende that shippes of boies maie bee tyed therat.
 Tonsillæ, plurali. a disease within the chokes and mouth, lyke to great hernelles.
 Tonsito, aui, are, to clip often.
 Tonso, aui, are, the frequentatiue of Tondeo.
 Tonfor, oris, m. g. he that clippeyth of shereyth, a barbour.
 Tonforius, a, um, pertaininge to clippyng, belonging to a barbour.

Tonforius culter, a rasour.
 Tonstrina, a, f. g. a place where they dooe sle to clippe, a barbour shoppe.
 Tonstrix, icis, for. g. a woman barbour. Tonstricula, idem.
 Tonsura, a, f. g. clippyng, pollyng, roundyng.
 Tonfus, a, um, shorne of clipped, polled, rounded, lopped, shred.
 Tonsimontes, hylls without wooddes.
 Homo tonsus, a man that is rounded of polished, notted.
 Tonus, ni, m. ge. a tune of accent. also the space of distance, whiche is betwene the erthe and the moone.
 Toparcha, m. gen. he that hath the gouernaunce and charge of one onely countrey.
 Toparchia, a, f. g. the rule of one countrey.
 Topazion, & Topazius, zi, m. gen. a precious stone of the colour of goulde, a topaze.
 Topazos, or zios, an ile in the redde sea.
 Tophaceus, and Tophinus, a, um, of the stone Tophus.
 Tophus, phi, m. ge. a stone, whiche is soone resolved into sande.
 Topiarius, i, n. g. a worke made of trees, bushes, byers of herbes for pleasure, and conteyned places to sit or walke in, as it is used now with box, eglantyne, iacimpe, and other lyke trees of thornes, that be flexible & wil be wounden, the making of images in herbes or trees.
 Topiaria, a, for. g. the feat of making of images of herbours in herbes or trees.
 Topiarius, he that maketh suche woordes.
 Tópica, workes in that parte of logike, whiche declareth the places, out of the whiche argumētes may be inuented, that moste properly pertaineth to opatours.
 Tópice, es, f. gen. the crafte of inuentyng argumētes by places.
 Tópicus, a, um, pertaininge to places of inuention.
 Topium, i, idem quod Topiarius.
 Topographia, a, f. ge. the description of a place, as of a countrey or cite.
 Topper, the olde writers used for soone, shortly, or quickely.
 Topos, a place.
 Toral, ralis, & Torallium, li, n. g. euery thyng that lyeth on the bedde, as sheetes, blankettes, and couerledes. In olde tyme it were certeyn flowers and sweete herbes wounden together in ropes and haged before the place where men dyd lye, lyke as now they vse in London at myddomer, to hange before the p<sup>er</sup>sones.
 Torcular, aris, & Torcularē, ris, & Torculum, li, & Torcularium, rij, n. ge. a presse for wyne, tyder of veruice.
 Torcularius, a, um, belonging to a presse.
 Torcularius, rij, m. g. a presse.
 Torculus, a, um, of a presse.
 Tordile, lis, the feede of Sefelis.

Torcuma, atis, & Torcumatum, i, n. ge. worke imbored in mettall or stone, plate chased or engraued.
 Toréutes, is, m. g. a grauer.
 Toréutice, es, f. g. the crafte of grauyng.
 Tori, the bawnes of the armis and legges, of the fleshe myte with sinewes and greiskles.
 Tormina, minum, n. g. plura. treating of tourmentes in the bealie of guttes.
 Torminalis, le, that treateth the guttes of bowelles.
 Tormentum, i, n. g. tourment, or an enginne to tourment men: generally all ordinance pertaining to warre.
 Torminosus, a, um, that hath tourmentes or frettinges in the guttes.
 Tornacum, a towne called Courney.
 Tornauilis, le, that which is turned with a whele, or that is made with a whele of turne.
 Torniamen, maie be taken for a tournement or iustes.
 Torno, aui, are, to tourne or worke with a whele, as tourners doe, to tourne rounde.
 Tornus, ni, m. gen. the instrument of whele, a turne.
 Torosus, a, um, mighty or stronge in bawnes of the legges and armes.
 Torpédo, pédinis, ferm. ge. sloutfulness also a fittie, whiche in the taking maketh the handes of them that doe drawe, to be astonied or dead for the tyme.
 Torpeo, ui, ére, to be astonied or slowe, to be a slepe, as partes of the bodie often tymes be, to be dull or heauie.
 Torpere metu, to be astonied with feare, that he can scant stire.
 Torpescere, scere, to become slowe or heauie, to ware a slepe or deade, that it can not stire.
 Tórpidas, a, um, slowe, dull, a slepe, drouisie, astonied.
 Torpor, oris, m. g. a debilitation of febling of minde, an vnaptnesse to doe any thing, a slouthfull heauinesse as one were astonied.
 Torpéro, aui, are, to astonie or make astonied.
 Torquatus, a noble man of Rome.
 Torquatus, a, um, that weareth a collar of chaine.
 Torquati equites, knyghtes.
 Torquatus palumbus, a tyng dous, a stocke dous.
 Torquilla, idem quod Lynx.
 Torqueo, torfi, quere, to wyeste, to wythe, to bowe, to turne rounde, to wynde in, to whirle about lyke a whele, to susteyne or beare vp, to tourment, to venge, to greue, to spinne, to flyng or caste furthe violently, with the arme or with a flyng. sometyme to drawe.
 Torquere telum, to throwe or caste a dart of iavelin that he reme rounde.
 Torquere saxa, to tourne or drawe stones.
 Oculum torquere, to loke asyde.
 Torquentur in arcus, they be bowed compasslyke

T ANTE O.

lyke a bowe.
Capillos torquere ferro, to crosse the heate with an iron pen.
Torquere manu alicuius, to wrest of wyng out of ones hande.
Fufos torquere, to turne rounde of whyle as about the spindles.
Iter torquere, to go a lyde out of the waye.
In orbem torquere, to bowe rounde.
Stamina torquere police, to spinne.
Torquere ius, to wrest of peruer the lawe.
Atlas axem humero torquet, id est, sustinet.
Eculo torqueri, to be racked.
Expectatione torqueri, to be greued with the expectation of longe loking for a thyng.
Torqueri dies & noctes, to be tourmented daye and nyght.
Vesquatur quocumq; torqueas, id est, trahas, whither so euer ye drawe it, or turne it.
Torquere dictoria in aliquem, to taunt one.
Torques, quis, m. & f. ge. a colar, chayne or bee of golde or syluer, suche as is wyne by knyghtes of esquieres about their neckes.
Torrefacio, feci, cere, to bryle of roste by the fyre, or by the heate of the sunne.
Torrens, entis, maf. gen. a stream that cometh downe from hilles, whiche is caused by muche rayne or snowe.
Torrens, an adiectiue, signifieth flowynge with a great swype, vehement, rennyng violently.
Torrentior, more flowynge, with a greater violence.
Torreo, rui, ere, id est quod Torrefacio, to toste or burne, to parche, to roste.
Frigore torret, it is stiffe for colde.
Solis ardore torrere, to burne with the vehement heate of the sunne.
Ex viscera torrent, and they toste the fleshe of bowelles.
Torrens, entis, of Torreo, bournynge, parchynge, tostyng, rostyng.
Torresco, scere, to be bryoled, rosted or dyed.
Torridus, a, um, drye or burned.
Torrída Zona, are two gyddles imagined in the firmament, on every side of the equinotiall lyne, vnder the whiche gyddles, the people that inhabite there, are burned with the feruent heate of the sunne, because the sunne abydeyth longest in those two places, and are also named Tropicus Canceri, & Tropicus Capricorni.
Torrída gelu membra, frozen.
Torris, is, m. g. a spyckande.
Torsio, ónis, f. gen. a whyspynge, a tournynge, a wythynge, a wrestynge, a tourmentynge or puttyng to payne.
Tersio, ónis, Theobozus Gaza and Longolius supposed to be a sturgion. Paulus Jovius is of a contrary opinion.
Torté, an aduerbe, crouchedly, as it were bent awye.
Tortilis, that is bent or bowed, wrested, wythed,

T ANTE O.

Tortius, a, um, that is pressed out laste, that is wronge harde out.
Tortium vinum, wyne of the laste presse.
Torto, auí, are, to tourment vehementlye.
Tortor, tóris, m. g. a tourmentour, or he that useth a stone with a spynge.
Tortum, i, neu. ge. an ingine to throw great stones with.
Tortuosus, a, um, wounden or tourmed many wayes, croked.
Tortuosus amnis, a croked riuer, wyndynge many wayes.
Tortuosum disputandi genus, an intricate, confuse and harde maner of reasonynge.
Tortuosa vrina, whan one pisseth with great payne, so that his vyne goeth from hym crokedly.
Tortus, us, m. g. a bendynge croked.
Tortus, a, um, croked, bowed, wrested, wrong, tourmented, greued.
Tortus verberibus, tourmented with stripes, beaten.
Torue, torua, properly in beholdynge, sowerly, grymmely, lowynge, awye.
Toruitas, átis, f. g. sowerness, lowynge, crabsbed loking, croked frowynge.
Torruiter, idem quod Torue.
Torruinus, an appaile of a womans head.
Torulus, li, m. g. a little bedde.
Torus, ri, m. g. a bedde. it was sometyme made with herbes wounden together.
Socia of consors tori, a wife.
Tori, the byawnes of the armes and legges, of the fleshe mixte with sinewes and gristiles. it is spoken also of the begyns, when they be thyche or bigge swellenge in any place. lykwise of vines.
Torium, sowerly, lowynge, ruggedly, terridly, grymmely.
Toruus, a, um, cruell and sturdy in lokinge, grymm, terrible.
Facies torua, a grymm and sower loke.
Frons torua, a frowynge forehead.
Toruo vultu inucri, to loke vpon one sowerly and grymmely.
Toryna, a thyng perteynyng to the hechyn, wherewith the potte is remoued. Craf.
Tostus, a, um, tosted, rosted.
Tot, as many.
Tot quot, so many as.
Toties, so many tymes.
Toties quoties, as oftentymes as.
Totidem, so many, euen as many.
Bis totidem, twyse so many.
Totidem verbis quot Stoici, euen in as many wordes as the stoikes, and no mo.
Totus, a, um, all the whole, euery whittle.
Ossa atque pellis totus est, he is nothyng but skynne and bone.
Ego mihi totus displiceo, I am very angry, or greatly displeased with my selfe.

Toman

T ANTE R.

Totum me futurum suum, that I wyll bee his wholly, or in all that euer I can doe.
Aedes tota, the whole house.
Totis aribus, in all the house ouer and ouer.
Totum triduum, whole thre daies.
Quem ego toto non vidi die, whom I sawe not all this daie longe.
Toto corpore atq; omnibus vngulis, prouerbially, with all strengthe and endeuour.
Tota erras via, thou arte cleane out of the way, thou arte utterly deceiued.
Tota mente incumbere in hanc curam, applie your mynde wholly to this matter.
Totis viribus, with all force and endeuoir.
Toxicum, ci, n. g. venym, poyson.

T ANTE R.

Trabalis, le, perteynyng to a beame.
Trabales clauí, a certayne torment.
Trabalis clauus, an yron pyne, or a great nayle, wherewith beames are made faste to the rafters.
Hausta trabalis, a great speare almoſt lyke a beame.
Trabea, a, f. g. a kytell woynge by kynges vnder theyr mantilles of estate.
Trabiatus, a, um, that weareth suche a kytill.
Trabicus, a, um, that is made of beames or rafters.
Trabica naui, a shippe made with great beames.
Trabs, trabis, and trabes, bis, f. ge. a beame of a house. it is sometyme taken of poetes for a shippe.
Tracallus, an oratour in the tyme of Domitian.
Trachal, the ouer parte of a fesse called Murex, of whom purple colour is made.
Trachea, or Trachia, the weson or pype of the lunges, the wynde pype.
Trachelum, li, n. g. or Trachelus, li, m. g. the middell parte of the saple of a shippe.
Trachelus, the chyne of a man or beaste, from the head to the haunches.
Trachida, trachina, and trachurus, I suppose is a banstle.
Trachina, a towne of Campayne.
Trachinia, a kynde of roses not perfectly redde, lyke to them that we call frenche roses.
Trachyna, a citee of Thessalia, whiche was of Hercules called Heraclia.
Trachynus, or Trachynius, a, um, of Trachyna.
Trachoma, matis, n. g. a roughnesse within the eye liddes.
Trachonitis, a countrey in Syria, toynge to Arabia.
Tractabilis, le, tractable, that maie be intreached, that maie be handled.
Non tractabile caelum, a rough and stormie weather.
Pelagus tractabile, a sauleme sea, pleasant to sayle on.

T ANTE R.

Tractatio, ónis, f. g. handlyng, manuryng.
Tibiarum tractatio, the playng on flutes.
Tractatus, a, um, intreached, handled.
Male tractatus, yll handled.
Tractatus, us, m. g. a handlyng, a description, a parte of a booke, wherin any thyng is intreated of.
Tractim, on lengthe a longe tyme or space, by drawynge out alonge.
Tracto, auí, are, to intreate, to handle, to touche, to vse of exercise, to order of gouerne.
Hac arte tractabat virum, he handled the man craftly.
Tractare rationes, to meddell with reckenynges, to be accomprable.
Manu tractare, to touche.
Si quis recte aut commodè tractaret, if a man dyd intreate or handle hym well, and as he shoulde be.
Durius tractare aliquem, to intreate one shewydly, to handle hym cruelly.
Qui artem tractant musicam, whiche exercise mulike of poetrie.
Tractare se recte in munere aliquo, to behaue and gouerne hym selfe wisely in any office, or charge, that he hath taken vpon hym.
Tractare bibliothecam alicuius, to haue the charge and keepynge of ones librarie.
Tractatorium, in, neu. ge. a wyndlas to drawe vpon heauy thynges.
Tractus, a, um, drawen.
Tractus, us, m. g. a drawynge, a space, a countrey, a region, a coaste. also for Tractatus, a handlyng or descrybing of a thyng.
Trado, didi, dere, to deliuer. also to teache, to committe in truste to an other man, to geue, to yelde, to put in wytyng.
Mores opibus tradere, to set more by his riches then by his honour.
Per manus tradere, to leaue it from one to an other, to teache to other that they maie deliuer it.
Prouinciam tradere alicui, to geue one the charge.
Huic nostro tradita prouincia, the matter was committed to this our seruant here.
Memoria tradere, to put in wytyng.
Ventis tradere, to forget and put out of minde.
Ad supplicium tradere, to deliuer one to be punished.
Consecudini laina tradere, to translate into latyne.
In custodiam tradere, to committe to prysen.
Custodia tradere aues, to put byrdes to be kepte in a cage.
Effectum tradere aliquid, to bynge a thyng to passe.
Fama traditur, the olde sayng or reperte is.
Inimicitias posteris tradere, to leaue enmittees and hatred to his posteritee to be reuenged.
Traditus mos est, the facion was lefte amonge them, them.

 Palmam alicui tradere, to geue one the pryce.
 Traduntur per successiones morbi, sicknesses go from the fathers to the sones such as due heritage.
 Tradere puerum preceptor, to put a childe to a maister to be taught.
 In disciplinam tradere, to comitte to one to bee instructed and taught.
 Santam testam ad eum tradere, to kepe the house in due reuerence, to kepe it wynde tyeht and water tight.
 Tradere se dicitur miles, to selde.
 Se libidinibus constringendum tradere, to abandone and geue hym selfe to his sensuall lustes and appetites.
 Quiet se tradere, to lie downe to slepe.
 Totum me ei tradidi, I yelved my selfe wholly to him, or applied my selfe wholly to his minde.
 Traditur vel traditum est, it is written, it is lesse in writing.
 Tradidit Cicero, Cicero lesse in writing.
 Artem dicendi tradere, to teache rhetoricke.
 Traditio, onis, a tradicion, a deliuerynge, a doctryne, a teachynge.
 Traditus, a, um, geuen, deliuered.
 Neci traditus, put to death.
 Traditio, duxi, ducere, to bynge or conueighe from one place to an other, to bynge ouer, to translate out of one language into an other, to shlander, to defame, to passe ouer as a man doth eth the tyme, to bynge in infamie and obloquie of the people, to dishonour.
 Traducere tempus, to passe the tyme.
 Traduc & matrem & omnem familiam ad nos, byng hys mother and all his familie home to our house.
 Copias flumen traducere, to byng or conueighe the armie ouer the ryuer.
 Ad magnam admirationem traducere, to bynge into a great admiration, to make one to meruaile muche.
 Animum a re aliqua ad aliam traducere, to bynge, turne, or withdrawe the mynde from one thyng to an other.
 Aliquem a seueritate ad hilaritate traducere, to turne one from his seueritie and sadnesse, and cause hym to be moze mery or pleasant.
 Vt summa modestia hoc munus traducamus, id est, administremus.
 Adolescentiam ad rei militaris scientiam traducere, to passe at the tyme of his yowthe in exercise of warre.
 Traducere vitam otiosam, to leade an idel life.
 Vitam sine vilo corporis langore traducere, to lyue all his lyfe without sicknesses of the body.
 Traductio, onis, for. g. a defamyng, a shlanderynge, a byngynge to an other place, a passynge ouer.
 Traductio temporis, a passynge forth of tyme,

Traductor, oris, m. g. he that byngeth from one place to an other.
 Tradux, traducis, when the bowes of many trees be bounde together, that a vine maie runne as longe vpon them.
 Tragacantha, a thyng lyke to a gumme, whiche vulgarly they call Diagaganthum.
 Trachelaphus, a beast in parte lyke an harte, in parte lyke a gote.
 Tragemata, banquettyng dishes, iunkettes.
 Tragia, one of the isles called Sporades.
 Tragicus, a, um, belonging to a tragedie.
 Tragice, cruelly, in the maner of a tragedie, with great busynesse and strepyn.
 Tragicum tueri, to loke grimly.
 Tragicus, ci, m. g. a writer of tragedies.
 Tragion, gn, n. g. an herbe, growynge onely in Sicilia, haupng bowes, leaues, and seede lyke to iuniper.
 Tragicodia, a, for. g. a tragedie, whiche is an ensceclude, wherein the personages doe represent some historie or fable lamentable for the crueltie and miserie therein expressed.
 Tragicus mouere, prouocbially, to make a great stee of busynesse.
 Tragicus, di, m. g. he that exerciseth some parte in a tragedie, a player in a tragedie.
 Tragonis, siue Tragion, a tree growynge in Candia, lyke to iuniper, theiwise whereof is lyke to milke, and waxeth thicke lyke gumme.
 Tragonia, a, f. g. an herbe now called Caragon, late seene in this realme, whiche hath a tast lyke ginger: whiche herbe laied to the left syde, coo sumeth the spleene.
 Tragopa, a bird in Ethiopia, greater than an eagle, and hath on his head hoynes lyke a gote.
 Tragopogon, an herbe, vled in salletes, called of some Hirci barbula, of some Coma.
 Tragopogus, a fische called a barbell.
 Tragonigon, an herbe, whiche I suppose to be called pennyroll, growynge wilde.
 Tragos, a gote. also a certayne herbe, and a shell fische that hath an ill sauour.
 Tragula, la, f. g. a saulyn with a barbed head: also a certayne wette, a dyasse.
 Triangulum iniicere, to practyse descerte, to goe about some descerte.
 Tragum, is lyke a tyzan made of wheate. it is also a fische nette called a dyasse.
 Tragurium, an yle in the sea called Hadriaticum.
 Tragus, gi, m. g. a certayne shell fische. also a certayne hynde of spoynges.
 Traha, ha, f. g. a dyce or sledded drawn without wheeles.
 Trahax, acis, om, g. a couetous person, whiche draweth all thynges vnto hym.
 Traho, traxi, trahere, to drawe, to leade, to deserre, to deiate, to prolonge, to dwele of, to sende, to remoue, to tarte, to lyue, to prouoke, to intice.
 Atque egomet me adeo cum illis vna ibidem traho, traho, and I my selfe tarte as longe there with them.

 Ervos vt tutam tranquillamq; fortunam traheretis, mea perfecti vigilantia, and by my vigilantie I haue brought to passe that you myght liue in a sure and quiete prosperite.
 Trahere diem, noctem, tempus, to passe the daie, the nyght, or the tyme.
 Rubiginem trahere, to ware rustie.
 Pallorem trahere, to be pale.
 In diuersum trahere, to bynge in doubt.
 Trahere in religionem, to make conscience of a thyng.
 Trahere amiculum, to let his garment draz on the grounde after hym.
 De medio aliquem trahere, to take one out of the place or companie.
 Trahere pueram, to leade a childe that can scantly goe.
 Bellum trahere, to prolonge the warre. lighthysse conuiuium trahere.
 Parrem diei ad se trahunt, they cause me to be slow parte of the daie with them.
 Trahere ad defectionem, id est, incitare.
 Maternum trahere alimentum dicitur agnus, to sucke the damme.
 Parnam trahere, to prolonge ones payne or punishment.
 Trahens alium, id est, extendens, stretchynge out.
 Animum in spe trahere, to liue in hope.
 Cariem trahere, to moulde of waxe moulde.
 Nomen ab aliquo trahere, to be named after one.
 Cognomen ex contumelia traxit, he hadde that surname geuen hym in despite or reproche.
 Colorem rubicundum trahere, to ware ruddy.
 Consilium & rationem trahere, to take counsaile, to consult.
 Contagia trahere, to be infected.
 Dictum aliquod trahere ad voluntatem suam, to interpret a thyng that is doubtfully spoken, as he woulde haue it.
 Trahere aliquem in disceptationem, to begynne to reason of contende with one.
 In altitudinem trahere, to stretch by in height.
 In diuersum trahit me hac res, this maketh me to doubt, or to be vncertaine what to folowe.
 In diuersum auctores trahit, authors doe write diuersely, or be of diuerse opinions.
 Fata me trahant in pnam, fate of destenie lede or dwele me to punishment.
 Obsidionem in aduentum principis trahere, to prolong the siege vntill the comynge of the prince.
 Noctem per pocula trahere, to spende the night in dnyng.
 Originem a rege trahere, to discende finally of a kyng.
 In serum rem trahere, to prolonge the matter vntill it be late.
 Trahere rubiginem, to rust.
 Spes eo trahit, hope leadeh him to go thither,

Spirita trahere, to fetch breath.
 Suspiria trahere, to sigh.
 Senium trahere luctu, to spende his olde age in wepyng and mourning.
 Nomen trahere e re aliqua, to be named of a thyng.
 Traiana, a cite of the Picenes, called nowe Potentia.
 Traianus, the name of a noble emperour.
 Traiectio, onis, f. g. a passynge ouer, a conueigynge or carryng ouer.
 Traiectiones stellarum, shopynges of sterres.
 Traiectitia pecunia, money caried ouer the sea.
 Traiectus, a, um, caried or conueighe ouer, thys through.
 Traiectus, us, masc. gen. a passage, idem quod Traiectio.
 Traicio, trajici, icci, icere, to leade ouer, to carie or conueighe ouer, to bynge ouer, to strike through.
 Traicere classe in Italiam, to sayle or passe ouer into Italie with a nauie of shippes.
 Annem vado trahere, to go ouer the riuer on foote.
 Traicere Cyprum, to sayle into Cyprus.
 Traicere exercitum Rhodanum, to conueygh the armie ouer the riuer of Rhone.
 Si se Alpes traiecerit, if he passe or come ouer the Alpes.
 Traiciunt in alia vasa, they poure it into other vessels.
 Traicere culpam in alium, to caste or transfeere the fault to an other.
 Rem ad nouos magistratus traicere, to resferre or put the matter to newe magistrates to be decided, or to deferre the matter till newe magistrates be chosen.
 Latus dextrum lancea traicitur, his right syde is striken through with a saulyn.
 Tralatio, loke Translatio.
 Tralatiuus, and Tralatus, loke Translatius & Translatus.
 Tralli, a people of Illiria.
 Trallis, a cite of Lydia, an other in Phrygia.
 Trallianus, a, um, of that cite.
 Traluceo, lucces, luxi, lucere, to shyne through.
 Tralucidus, a, um, clere, that a man maie loke through.
 Trama, a, f. g. the woufe in weayng, also a garment made of course clothe.
 Trames, itis, m. g. a crosse waie, a crosse path.
 Tramito, loke Translato.
 Tranio, a seruantes name in Plautus.
 Trano, aui, are, to twymme ouer, to tyme to flee ouer, to passe ouer or by, Tranato, idem.
 Tranor, the pastue.
 Tranquille, festly, without noyse, quietly.
 Tranquillitas, avis, f. g. tranquillite, rest, quietnesse, caulmenesse.
 Tranquillo, an aduerbe, at a quiete tyme, in a saulne weather.

T ANTE R.

Tranquillo, aui, are, to make quiete of caulme.
Tranquillus, a, um, quiete, in reste, peassible, caulme, without surges.
Tranquillum est, it is saype & calme weather.
Tranquillus locus, a good place to rest in, a place of quietnesse.
Tranquillum ex irato facere, to appeale, to qualitie.
Trans, ouer from one place to an other.
Transabeo, transabis, iui, ire, to go awate by any place, to go beyonde.
Transactio, onis, an agreement vpon communizacacion, a dispatching, a finisshyng.
Transactor, onis, m. g. he that dispatcheth, finissheth, or bypnyeth a matter to a poynt.
Transactus, a, um, passed longe agone, atchieued, finisshed, brought to a poynt.
Facta transacta omnia, all thynges be dooen and cleane dispatched.
Transadigo, adégi, adigere, to thrust of strike throughe.
Iuuenē transadegit costas, he strake the ponge man throughe the cydes.
Transalpina Gallia, Gallia on the other syde of the mountaynes, whiche is now the realme of Fraunce.
Transalpinus, a, um, ouer the mountaines Alpes.
Transcendo, di, ere, to go ouer, to clyme ouer, to excede, to passe.
Transcendo, scidi, ere, to cut in fundre.
Transcribo, pli, ere, to write out a copie, comes tyme to translate, to geue, to transference, to geue his right to an other, to transpoise from one to an other, to put ouer from one to an other, also in rekenyng booke, Transcribere, is whan ones name is put out of the booke, & the charge or dette is sette on an other mans heade.
Turne tot in cassum fufos parere labores, & tua Dardaneis transcribi scepra colonis t' uylt thou Turne suffer thy labours to be lost, and thy realme to be geuen to the inhabitants of Troie?
Transcribere aliquem auiorem, To take of transference out of any authour, that whiche is for our purpose.
Eodem pretio mulier transcriberet viro, id est, iure cesso traderet, shoulde geue ouer, or deliuer hir right and title.
Nomina transcribere, to sette one mans debt vpon an others head.
Transcriptio, onis, f. gen. an excuse, a ppetense, alleggyng of a thyng for ones selfe.
Transcurro, curri, ere, to renne footly, to renne ouer quickly, also to wander.
Præter oculos alicuius transcurrere, to passe befoze ones sight.
Transcurrere, to touche bysely, or to passe ouer and not to speake of.
Transcurrit ætas, the sommer is past.
Transcursu, us, m. g. a course, a rennyng ouer quickly.

T ANTE R.

In transcursu, in passyng footly.
Transdo, transdidi, are, to geue ouer from one to an other.
Transduco, duxi, ere, to leade ouer.
Arbores transducere, to transpoise of remoue trees from one place to an other.
Transenna, æ, f. g. a loupe to looke out at, also a wyndowe of casement, also a rope stretched out, a snare of trappe, a latise.
Per transennam aspicere, prouerbielly, to se a thyng lightly, and passyng by.
Transio, iui, ire, to go footly, to passe ouer, to passe, to leaue vntouched, to shpype ouer, to leasse and not speake of, not to mention.
Transire domum, to go home.
Ad te continuo transio, by and by I come ouer to the.
Transire equum cursu, he ouercometh the horse.
Omnis mentis transit, the whole moneth is passed.
Silencio aliquid transire, to passe ouer a thyng, and not speake of it.
Transire quædam in legendo, to shpype ouer or leat passe some thyngs in readyng.
Neronem transio, I leat passe Nero & speake not of hym.
Transire ad partitionem, to leaue the present matter and begynne to speake of partition.
In sententiam alterius transire, to assent to an other mans opinion.
Ad hæredem transire, to come to the possession of the heyre.
Violentam transit in iram, he beganne to be sperce and angrie.
Transiit hasta duos, the speare ran throughe two of them.
Facile transire mala, to passe ouer lightly and not care for them.
Modum transire, to passe measure, to goe beyonde measure.
Legem transire, not to passe of care for, to neglecte.
Linias transire, to passe the boundes of lyf mittes.
Vitam silentio transire, to passe ouer their lyfe without fame or renowne, or doo noblyng notable or woorthy memorie.
Transero, scui, ere, to take out of one place, and plant of grasse in an other.
Transunter, passyng by or ouer.
Transero, tuli, ferre, to carie of bynge from one place to an other, to transference, to translate from one language to an other, or from ones possesion to an others.
Ad se transference, to bynge home into his counntry, or home to his house.
Se ad aliquid faciendum transference, to leane of one thing and geue his minde to do an other.
Transference amorem suum alicui, to sette his loue some other where, or vpon some other person.

Oculos

T ANTE R.

Oculos transference ad aliquid, to looke vpon a thyng.
Animum ad aliquid transference, to geue his minde to dooe a thyng.
Culpam in alium transference, to cast of late the faulte vpon some other.
Sermonem alio transferamus, let vs common of some other matter.
Iudicia transference, to transference of remoue matters out of one court into an other.
In linguam latinam transference, to translate into latine.
Transfere verbum aliquod dicimur, whā we turne it somewhat from the signification.
Transfigo, xi, gere, to thrust throughe, to styche throughe.
Transfiguro, aui, are, to transfoyme, to tourne into an other figure.
Transfiguratio, onis, f. g. transfiguration, changing from one fourme to an other.
Transfixus, a, um, styched throughe, thrust throughe.
Transfluio, uxi, ere, to leake of to renne out, as water out of a broken pichar, to passe of flowe ouer of thourough.
Dies transfluxere, The daies bee passed and gone.
Transfodio, transfodis, di, ere, to dysge thosough, to styche of thrust throughe.
Transformis, me, that is transfoymed or chāged.
Transformo, aui, are, to transfoyme, to change into an other foyme.
Transforo, aui, are, to make an hole throughe.
Transfossus, a, um, digged of styken throughe.
Transfretatio, onis, f. g. a passage ouer the sea.
Transfretio, aui, are, to passe ouer the sea.
Transfuga, æ, m. g. gen. he that fleeth from his owne people or capitaine to the parte of the enemies, or of them that are suspected in tyme of treue.
Transfugio, transfugis, fugi, ere, to flee from place to place, to forsake his owne capitaine, and people, and goe to theyr enemies.
Transfugere ad hostes, is to goe and helde hym to the contrary parte.
Transfugium, n, neu. g. peldyng to ennemys, a forsaking of rennyng awate from his owne capitaine to the contrary part.
Transfulgeo, si, ere, to shpyne throughe.
Transfumo, aui, are, to smoke throughe.
Transfundo, fudi, ere, to poure out of one vessel into an other, to translate from one to an other.
Suas laudes ad alterum transfundere, to attrioute and geue his own praifes to an other man.
Amorem in aliam transfudit, he hath set his loue wholly vpon an other and forsaken hir.
Transfusio, onis, f. g. a pouryng out of one vessel into an other.
Transgredior, deris, di, to passe of goe ouer of beyonde, to excede of transgrese a law of commaundement.

T ANTE R.

Transgredi aliquem, to passe of excell one.
Transgressio, onis, f. g. a figure of Rhetorike, where a man leaue the principall matter, and entrey into an other thyng, and after retourneth to his matter, we commonly call it a digression, also a passyng of goyng ouer.
Transgressus, us, m. g. passyng ouer.
Transigo, egi, igere, to dyue footly, to treat a matter, to agree, condescende or come to a poynte, to fall at agreement, as hapneth betweene men, whiche dooe contende for somes what, to perfoyme, to thurst throughe, to perse throughe, to make an ende of, to dispatche, to finissh, to atchiue.
Auum transigitur venicibus, all their life is spent in huntynge.
Transigit pectora mucro, id est, penetrauit, it perced.
Hanc fabulam dum transigam, while I plaie this comedie to an ende.
Transigere vitam, to passe his of their life.
Gladio seipsum transigit, he thrust hym selfe throughe with a sword.
Incus transigetur, the matter shall be finished and made an ende of within.
Multitudinem rerum vno tempore transigere, to dispatche many matters at once.
Cum aliquo transigere, to fall at a poynt of agreement with one.
Non poterat transigi minori pecunia, the matter could not be ended, or we could come to no maner of poynt, for lesse money.
Transactum est, it is dooen of dispatched.
Transiatio, transiatis, ieci, ere, to caste ouer of throughe.
Transiectio, onis, f. g. idem quod Traiectio.
Transiectus, a, um, idem quod Traiectus.
Transilio, transilis, liui, ire, to leape ouer, to leape beyonde, to shpype, to passe and not to speake of.
Transilis, le, that groweth ouer other.
Transilvania, a countrey beyonde Hūgarie, where of the people were sometyme called Geta.
Transilio, onis, f. g. a passyng ouer, a goyng footly.
Ad hostes transio, a rennyng awate to the contrary parte.
Transitorius, a, um, that whiche shortly passeth by.
Transitus, us, m. g. a passyng, a changeyng from one place to an other.
In transitu, id est, obiter, lightly passyng by.
Transungo, iunxi, ere, to remoue an oxe of horse from one parte to an other.
Transuabor, laberis, labi, to styde of renne ouer.
Transuatio, onis, f. g. a transuasion of byngyng from one place to an other.
Criminis transuatio, a reiectyng of the faulte from one to an other.
Transuatiuus, a, um, that is transferred from one to an other.
Transuatiuus, a, um, idem, also bulgare, comon, BB bb of the of the meane sorte, not excellent.

Translative, negligently, negligly, with littell diligence.

Translator, or Tralator, oris, m. g. he that translates lateth or conueglyth from one to another.

Translatus, a, um, transferred, or conueghed from one to another.

Translego, legi, ere, to trade ouer.

Translucere, luxi, ere, to shyn through, to shyn bright.

Translucidus, a, um, that shyneth through, bright through.

Transmarinus, a, um, that cometh from beyonde the sea, that is brought from beyonde the sea.

Transire, aui, are, to passe or goe beyonde.

Transmigration, onis, f. g. a going or departing from one place to dwell in another.

Transmigro, transmigras, aui, are, to goe further, to dwell further of, to transpose my dwelling, to go to dwell further of, or in another place.

Transmissio, onis, f. g. a going or sending further or ouer.

Transmissus, us, m. g. a passage, or the space of any passage betwene place and place.

Transmitto, misi, ere, to sende from one place to another, to go or come quickly, to sende shortly or quickly, to passe ouer a water, to put or cast through, to let goe through.

Transmittere mare, to passe ouer the sea.

Transmittere tempus, to passe the tyme, to spende the tyme.

Transmittere discrimen, to escape a danger.

Tectum lapide transmittere, to throwe a stone ouer the house.

Bellum transmittere alicui, to committe the charge of battaile to one.

Transmittere literas papirus dicitur, where paper sokeith in puche, that the letters maie be seen on the other syde.

Transmittere exercitum, to suffice an army to haue passage through.

Transmittere vitam per obscurum, to passe his lyfe without renoume or fame.

Transmittit cuspidem pectus, he thrust a taulen through his breast.

In Africam transmittere velis, to sayle ouer into Afrique.

Transmittere cursu campos, to renne ouer the fieldes quickly.

Quatuor menses transmittere in specu, to tarie or abyde foure monethes continually in a denne.

Transmontanus, a, um, that dwelleth beyonde the mountaynes.

Transmouus, a, um, moued from one place to another.

Transmoueo, transmoues, ui, ere, to remoue from one place to another.

Transmutatio, aui, are, to chaunge from one place to another.

Transnato, aui, are, to swymme ouer, to swymme beyonde.

Transno, aui, are, idem.

Transnominatio, aui, are, to chaunge his name, to geue one name for another.

Transnumero, aui, are, to ouernumbe.

Transpadanus, a, um, beyonde the riuer, called Padus in Italie.

Transpicio, xi, ere, to looke through, to loke beyonde.

Transpectus, us, m. g. a looking ouer or beyonde.

Transpono, posui, ponere, to transpose or remoue from one place to another.

Transporto, aui, are, to carie or conuegh from one place to another, to carie ouer.

Transquies, a, um, in quiete or rest from hence forth, verie quiete.

Transrhodanus, a, um, that is beyonde the riuer Rhene.

Transstra, orum, neu. gene. plur. transstrones, whiche dooe go ouerthwart an house, also the seates, wheron they doe sitte that row in a ship, bote or galie.

Transstyberinus, a, um, that is or dwelleth beyonde the riuer of Tyber.

Transuado, aui, are, & Transuador, aris, ari, to wade ouer a shalow place of a riuer.

Transuadatio, onis, f. g. a conueghing or carying ouer, also a mustering of men of warre.

Transuado, uexi, ere, to carie or conuegh ouer, also to muster.

Transuerbero, aui, are, to strike through.

Transuersarius, a, um, that is set ouerthwart.

Transuersus, a, um, ouerthwart, not straight or directe.

Transuersum agere, to turne hastily awaie fro the purpose, whiche a man went about.

Transuersum unguem non discere, not to goe a naple byedh from it, a prouerbe, signis signis a little distance.

Transuersum digitum, idem.

Transuersa tueri, to loke away.

Transuerto, uerti, tere, to tourne awy, or out of the right faction or waie.

Transuideo, uidi, dere, to see through a clere thyng.

Transulto, aui, are, to leape ouer.

Transumo, sumpsi, sumere, to take of or from another, to remoue from one to another.

Transumptum, that which is written out of a record, and appoynded under the hynge scale, or the signyn of a iudge. In the common lawe they call it an exemplification, some do also call it a Transumpt.

Transumptio, onis, f. g. a figure, called also Metalepsis, whereby one signification is gathered of another: as, of Nox atra, a blacke night is gathered, Nox tenebrosa, a darke night.

Transuo, sui, ere, to sowe through.

Transuolito, aui, are, to flee ouer often.

Transuolo, aui, are, to flee or leape ouer, for to goe

Trapes, trapetis, m. g. or Trapetum, ti, n. ge. a mylle, wherin oyle is made.

Trapetus, ti, m. g. idem quod Trapes.

Trapeza, za, f. ge. a table, wheron an exchanger dooth tell money.

Trapezophoron, ti, ne. ge. a certayne prieste of Phincrus. also an Image that beareth by a table of dyesser.

Trapezita, ta, mascul. gene. an exchaunger or bancker.

Trapezus, zuntis, a citee in the countrey of Pontus.

Trapezuntius, a man of that citee.

Trapit, olde writers used for Verit.

Tratibulus, a duke of Athenes, whiche deliuered the citee from xxx. tyrannes.

Tratimenus, a, ruuer by Perusium in Italie, where Anniball slewe Flaminius the consull of Rome, and xxi. thousande Romans, and toke 6000. prisoners.

Tratimenus, a, um, of that poole or riuer.

Traston, a certayne resine of gumme, the beste of that whiche is called Gummiham oniacum.

Trauo, aui, are, to passe or goe through or beyonde.

Traulus, li, m. g. he that speaketh with great diffculty, one that stuteth orammereth.

Trans, a people adioynning to Thrace.

Trebatius, a lawier veray familiar with Cicero.

Trebia, a riuer in Italie by Placentia. also a citee in Spayne.

Trebellicum vinum, or tribulanum vinum, wyne growynge aboute the citee Trebia, in Spayne.

Trebonius, a Romayne that conspyred with Brutus and Cassius in Asia.

Trebuli, an olde towne nigh to Rome.

Trebulani, men of that towne.

Treca, trecarum, a citee in Campagne.

Trecenti, na, na, three hundred.

Trecenti, ta, ta, idem.

Trecentenus, a, um, the three hundredth.

Trecentesimus, a, um, idem.

Trecenties, three hundred tymes.

Tredecim, thirtene.

Tredecies, thirtene tymes.

Trechidipnum, ni, n. g. a certayn garment, which shoulde be rather witen Rechedipnum.

Treis, the accusative case plurall for trees.

Tremebundus, a, um, that trembleth muche, fearefull.

Tremefacio, mefacis, feci, facere, to make to tremble or quake.

Tremesco, scere, to tremble.

Tremendus, a, um, to be feared or dredded.

Tremens, entis, that trembleth.

Tremo, tremui, mere, to quake as one dooth in a feuer, to tremble, to feare.

Animo tremere, to be soze aserde in his mind.

Tremor, oris, m. g. quakyng, trembling, also feare.

Tremulus, a, um, that quaketh for feare, that trembleth or shaketh.

Trepidans, ansis, trembling, fearng.

Trepidanter, fearefully, with trembling and quakyng.

Trepidatio, onis, trembling, feare.

Trepide, hastily, as one weare in a great feare.

Trepido, aui, are, to feare, to tremble for feare, to make haste, to be asonied or amaled.

Trepidulus, a, um, somewhat aserde.

Trepidus, a, um, fearefull, trembling for feare, asonied, amaled for feare. also he that dooth a thyng hastily.

Trepiditer, suarum, fearnge what wold come to passe of theyr matters.

Trepando, undecynged, three pounde weight.

Tres, & haec tria, thre.

Trium literarum homo, id est, fur.

Tres viri, thre men in lyke authoritee.

Tresby, idem quod Trochilos.

Tresis, sis, that is the weyght of thre the poppes called Es, thre pounde. looke the prouerbe Tresis homo.

Treua, a citee in Almaine called Hamburgh.

Treueris, a citee in Germanie called Treire.

Treueri, people called Treues.

Triambi, were they whiche spake together in a tragedie.

Triangularis, re, haupng. iii. corners.

Triangulus, li, mascul. ge. a figure that hath thre corners.

Triarchus, a master of a shippe with thre toppes, or of a galie that hath thre orders of oyes.

Triarij, soldidours, he sette alwaies in the rears warde, which were the strongest men, they fought euer standynge, bowynge theyr knes, as they woulde rather die than remoue from theyr places.

Triarius, ij, m. g. a famous oratour.

Triatus, a festiual date, kepte after the thirde Idus of euery moneth.

Tribaces, they whiche be woyn with stripes.

Triballi, people of the countrey beyonde Hungarie, now called Serua.

Triboci, people of the countrey of Alsate.

Tribacus, a foote in metre of. iii. foorthe syllables.

Tribulatio, a place where suche instrumentes be set.

Tribulis, lis, mascul. ge. a kynseman that cometh of the same stocke that I do, one of the same tribe or warde.

Tribulo, aui, are, to bzeake with a carre, flayle, or other lyke instrument.

Tribulor, aris, ari, to be troubled with heauynesse of mynde.

Tribulus, li, m. g. a bremble, also a caltroppe.
Tribunalis, n, g. the place where a iudge siteth in iudgement.
Tribunatus, us, m. g. the office of dignitie of a Tribune.
Tribunianus, a mans name in the tyme of Iustis man, a contemner of god and all religion, and specially of Christianitye.
Tribunicius, a, um, pertaining to the Tribunes.
Tribunus, ni, m. gen. an officer amonge the Romanes, hauinge chiefe iurisdiction amonge the commons.
Tribunus militum, a capitayne in warres, hauinge authoritie ouer souldiours, to viue and see that they were well armed and exercised. it may be now used for the marshall of the fildes.
Tribunus celerum, an officer in Rome, before the kynge were deposed, whiche was chiefe of the horsemen.
Tribuni Ararii, generall receiueurs, to whom money was deliuered to paye the souldiours.
Tribuo, ui, ere, to geue, sometye to set muche by. also to fauour, to impute, to attribute.
Beneuolentia eius tribuendum est, it must be imputed to his good will of loue towards vs.
Quibus ille plurimum tribuebat, whom he did greatly esteeme of set by.
Quod illi tribuebatur ignauia, for so muche as it was counted a poynte of cowardise in hym.
Fidem sensibus tribuere, to beleue the senses.
Gratiam tribuere, to thanke.
Honorem tribuere, to honour.
In duas partes vim loquendi tribuere, id est, distribuere.
Misericordiam tribuere, to shewe pittie.
Tribuere officium, to doe a frendely pleasure to one.
Tribuenda est opera rei publicae, I muste doe my diligence to serue the common weale.
Palram mensuram alicui pisci tribuere, to compute it to be the moste excellent fische that is serued to the table.
Primus tribuere, to geue prycke and pryce, to compute most excellent.
Priores tribuere, to preferre.
Pramia tribuere, to paye wages.
Tributum est, it is geuen.
Tribus, us, f. g. a Crpybe, a warde, a part of the people, sometye diuided in thre partes. it seemeth that it was sometye taken for a family or particular iurisdiction amonge the people: and therof cometh Tribulis, & therfore the partition of the people of Israel were into .12. Tribes. hereof be sundry opinions, reade Calpene.
Tributarius, a, um, that payeth tribute.
Tributum, by sundry families or partes of the people, by euery tribe or warde.
Tributio, onis, a geuyng.
Tributum, ti, n. g. tribute.
Tributus, in the masculine gender, is sometye read for Tributum.

Trica, after Thi. li. 3. cap. 11. was sometye a towne of Apulia. Stephanus saith, it was a towne of Thessalie, so named of Trica, Demetrius daughter.
Trica, arum, f. g. plu. heare or feathers wrapped about the feete of thyphens and pigeons, whiche dooe let them to goe, and therfore all thynges that dooe leaue a man, are called Trica, also vaine trifles be called Trica.
Tricastini, people of France ne. e the ruere Dias entia.
Tricena, come:h of Triginta, thirtie, it is somes tyme taken for Tricentena.
Tricenarius, a, um, belonging to thre hundred.
Tricenaria vicia, when an acre yeldeth thre hundredeth of the measures called Amphora.
Tricentum, a, a, thre hundredeth.
Tricenties, thre hundredeth ymes.
Tricentuplus, a, um, thre hundred folde.
Triceps, cipitis, omnis. generis. haung thre heades.
Triceberus, a great hell hounde.
Tricesimus, the thirtithe.
Tricelsis, the weight of. 30. ponde.
Trichapum, a garment, which was to fyne, that it seemed to be made of small heares.
Trichia, be fishes called Sardines.
Triculum, li. n. ge. a vessell haung thre lauers, out of the whiche water is poured.
Trichitis, ius, a kinde of alumie.
Trichomanes, an herbe called maidē heare, whiche groweth by welles and springes, and is a litle herbe, in factio lyke to fernes, the leafe thers of beyng rounded as it were the backsyde forwarde, and is narrowe. The bryanches whers on the leaues be, doe glyste and be very small, browne in colour and bitter in taste: it is of a good temperance betwene hotte and colde, reade Adianon.
Trichrus, chui, a certayne pious stone.
Tricies, thirtie ymes.
Tricinus, a, um, an adiective of Tricas.
Triclinaris, re, belonging to a parlour.
Triclinarium, idem quod Trichium.
Triclinarius, a seruant that dooeth serue in the parlour.
Triclinarius, a, um, pertaining to the parlour or dining chaumbre.
Triclinium, nij, n. g. a parlour to suppe in, whers in were thre tables of thre beddes, for in o:de tyme they used to lie when they did eate.
Trico, onis, m. g. a saddle or solen person, fower, that doeth almost neuer laugh, after some contentious, euer busie in suite and streyfe, also a picker of quarrelles.
Tricoccus, ci, a kinde of the herbe called Helios tropium.
Tricolon, haung thre members.
Tricones, are they that carie men with trifles.
Tricongius, was one whiche dranke of he ressed thre thre measures of wyne, called Congii, whiche was as I suppose thre gallons and a ppyte of our measure, wherfore Tiberius the emperour promoted hym to honour, and at the laste made hym consull of Rome.

Tricor, aris, ari, to triffe, to dallye.
Tricornis, & hoc tricornis, idem quod Tricornium.
Tricornium, ij, n. g. that hath thre hoznes.
Tricornpor, oris, that hath thre bodies.
Tricubitalis, le, of thre cubites in measure.
Tricubitus, a, um, idem.
Tricus, a stone, whiche although it be blacke, yet sheweth he at the roote blacke, in the middle sanguine, and at the toppe white.
Tricuspis, cupidis, that hath thre pognetes.
Tridacna, opsters so greatte, that a man muste make. iii. moystelles of one.
Tridens, entis, om. g. euery weapon, tole, or instrument haung thre teeth.
Tridentifer, and Tridentiger, the surname of Aspranus.
Tridentum, a citie in Italie called Trent.
Triduanus, a, um, of thre daies continuance.
Triduum, i, n. g. the space of thre daies.
Triennis, ne, of thre yeres olde.
Triennium, ij, n. g. the space of thre yeres.
Triens, entis, m. g. a cogne, which is the thyrde part of the peere of money called As, more tha halfe the cogne called Obolus, in value about our farthyng. It is also the thirde parte of any thyng whiche is diuided, as Triens vini, the thirde parte of Sextarius, whiche is. liii. Cyathii, or viii. ounces of wine.
Ex triente haredem facere, to make heyre of the thirde parte.
Vsura ex triente, when in the hundred. liii. is gaped, as in a hundred pound loun. iii. poid.
Trientalis herba, an herbe, whiche hath leaues as great as the cogne called Triens, that is four inches broad.
Triental, als, neu. gen. a vessell conteyning the thirde parte of that measure, which was named Sextarius.
Trientarium fornus, loke Fornus.
Trierarchus, the capitaine of a shippe, whiche is called Trieris, the master of a galie that hath thre orders of oars.
Trieris, ris, f. g. a great shippe, which hath thre oars on euery seate.
Trieteticus, a, um, for Triennalis, that is doon euery thyrde yere.
Trieteticus, teridis, f. m. gen. the space of thre yeres.
Trifarum, in thre partes, or thre maner of waies.
Trifarius, a, um, that is of thre sortes of fashions.
Trifaux, aucis, omnis generis, that hath thre mouthes.
Trifax, & Triforum, a weapon of thre cubites

longe.
Trifer, of Triferus, a, um, that byngeth fruite thise in a yere.
Trifera, is a medicine and other delicate spices to expulse casilie corrupt humours.
Triidus, a, um, diuided into thre partes.
Trifinium, the buttynge of thre fieldes, whiche toppe together.
Trifolium, li, n. g. maie be taken for a generall name of all herbes haung thre leaues, how be it there is one herbe so called properly.
Triformis, me, that hath thre fourmes or fashions.
Trifur, furis, om. ge. more than a thefe, thre tyms worse than a thefe, semblably Tri, ioygned with any thyng, signifieth more.
Trifurcifer, a verie naughty knaue or vilaine, a starke and arrand thefe.
Trifurcus, a, um, that hath thre forkes.
Triga, a, f. m. gene. a carte, drawen with thre hoyses.
Trigamus, mi, mascu. gene. that hath had thre wyfes.
Trigarium, rij, n. ge. a certain course with suche cartes called Trige, also a place at Rome by Campus martius, where they exercised renyng with suche cartes.
Trigarius, rij, m. ge. a cartter that driueth a carte with thre hoyses.
Trigemini, thre children at one birth.
Trigemina porta, a gate in Rome, out at the whiche the thre bycherne called Horatii, went to fight their challenge.
Trigeminus, a, um, idem quod tres, thre.
Trigemmis, mis, m. g. a plant of flippe, haung thre topnetes and thre buddes.
Trigeminus, a, um, the thirtithe.
Trigesies, thirtie ymes.
Triginta, adiect. plu. num. indeclin. thirtie.
Trigla, a fische, I suppose it to be a foze mullette, such as are taken in Deuonshire and in Exorwall.
Triglies, a stone, which is of the colour of a foze mullette.
Trigo, au, are, to bynde or to drawe a thyng close together.
Trigon, gonis, a balle. also a tutill. also a fische called a thornbacke.
Trigonalis, le, that is thre cornerde, haung thre lines.
Trigonia, a, f. g. the thyrde age.
Trigonus, ni, m. gene. a triangle that hath thre corneres.
Trilibris, bre, that is thre ponde weyght.
Trilinguis, gue, that speaketh thre languages.
Trilix, liciis, a garment with thre byuers thredes, or that is made of thre thredes of diuers colours.
Trimacrus, a foote in meter, consistyng of thre longe syllables.
Trimatus, us, masc. gen. the tyme of age of thre yeres.

Trimembris, bre, haupng three membris.
 Trimestris, stre, of three monethes.
 Trimetrum, metri, neut. gener. a verse of three feete.
 Trimma, a wyne made with spices, as that which is called pycras.
 Trimodia, α, a measure, whiche conteyneth three busshells.
 Trimodium, dij, idem.
 Trimorion, is named of three signes in heauen, whiche conteyne. lxxx. degrees of poysons. Wherefore Trimorion is in calculation of natiuities from the time of the byrth or conceypt, the. lxxx. and tenth part of three degrees.
 Trimus, a, um, of three peeres.
 Trimulus, a, um, the diminutive of Trimus.
 Trimyxos, a lampe of candlesticke, bearynge three lightes.
 Trinacria, the ile of Sicilie.
 Trinacris, cre, of Trinacria.
 Trinacrius, a, um, of Sicilie.
 Trinepos, potis, m. g. he whiche is three discens tes lincall from my childes childe.
 Trineptis, a woman in lyke degree of bloudd as Trinepos, potis.
 Trinitas, aus, fœm, gen. a trinitee, the numbze of three.
 Trinoctialis, le, belongng to three nyghtes.
 Trinoctium, tr, n. g. three nyghtes.
 Trinodis, de, that hath three knottes.
 Trini, for Terni.
 Trinundinum, or Trinumundinum, the thirde faire or markette, whiche was wont to be proclaymed, to the entent it shoulde bee the better remembred: after some it is thre daies space assigned to chofe officers.
 Trinus, a, um, thre.
 Triobolus, re, vile, of small estimation, little woorth he.
 Triobolum, li, n. g. a cogne of thre halfpence, called Oboli, & is halfe the Athenies Drachma, whiche is of lyke value as Denarius Romanus, whiche of our money is a grote, so that Triobolum is. u. d. some called it a Dandippar.
 Triobolo homo, a man woorth the thre halfe pence, of luttell value, scant woorth a Dandippar.
 Triones, plough oxen. also they be seuen sterres, bepyng in the north.
 Triophthalmus, a little stone, haupng in hym the figure of three eyes.
 Triorches, chis, m. gen. a kynde of haukes, haupng three sterres. also a kynde of the herbe called Centaurie.
 Triparcus, a, um, berie sparyng of niggishye.
 Tripartito, tri, to diuide in three partes.
 Tripartito, and Triperito, an aduerbe, signifying in three partes.
 Tripartitus, a, um, diuided into three partes.
 Tripatinum, ni, n. g. the last and chiefe dishe in banquetting.
 Tripectus, pectoris, that hath three bycastes.

Tripedalis, le, that is thre foote longe.
 Tripedaneus, a, um, haupng thre feete, thre foote longe.
 Tripes, pedis, m. ge. with thre feete, that hath thre feete.
 Triphillon, thre leaved grasse.
 Triplaris numerus, when one numbze is founde thise in a bigger numbze.
 Triplex, plicis, om. g. thre folde, treble, a table with thre leaues. sometyme for thre.
 Triplicitas, atis, f. g. treble.
 Tripliciter, thre folde.
 Triplico, aui, are, to dooe of folde a thyng thre tymes.
 Triplum, a vessell like a basket.
 Triplus, a, um, treble, idem quod Triplex.
 Tripoda, α, fœ. ge. a stoole of boude that hath thre feete.
 Tripolis, a countrey in Afrike, an other in Syria, the thirde in Idharnia.
 Tripolitana regio, idem quod Tripolis.
 Tripolium, lij, n. ge. an herbe, wherof the roote is of some men supposed to be Tumbit.
 Tripodium, dij, n. g. thre pounce weight.
 Tripontium, a towne in Sicilia in Italic, so called, because it hath thre bridges.
 Triptolemus, a man, whiche founde the yle of greape in the countrey of Athenes.
 Triptodum, a noun that hath thre cases.
 Tripudium, dij, n. g. dauncyng.
 Tripudia solistima, a diuination, taken by bread fallng to the ground, that was caste to chikens.
 Tripudio, aui, are, to daunce.
 Tripus, podis, m. ge. euery thyng that hath thre feete, a thre footed stoole.
 Tripodes, were also tables of golde in the temple of Apollo.
 Triquetra, trx, f. g. of Triquetrum, tri, n. gen. a figure thre cornerde. It was also a name of the ile of Sicilie.
 Triquatus, a, um, haupng thre corners.
 Trivemis, mis, f. g. a galie, haupng thre orders of oars, of thre oars on euery seate.
 Tris, the accusatiue case plurall for tres, thre.
 Trisago, saginis, a certeyne herbe, called of the grekes Camedris, germander.
 Trisippium, a rowell, with whiche beeryng made horte, they vse to marke an horse on the iawe bone.
 Trissis, thre pounce weight.
 Tristega, orum, neu. g. plu. a house, that hath thre loftes.
 Tristiculus, a, um, somewhat sadde or heauy.
 Tristicus, a, um, that maketh sadde or heauy.
 Tristis, ste, heauy, sadde, full of discomforte, sorrowfull, cruell, of muche graunter, bitter, more difficulte or harde: sometyne angrie.
 Tristis, against his will, not well content.
 Accipio tristis, I take it with a sadde countenance.
 Inuitat tristis, he badde hym wellcome agaynst his his will.

 Mihi erit tristior, he will be somewhat angrie or displeased with me.
 Absynthium triste, bitter wormode.
 Sapor tristis, an vnpleasent and bitter taste.
 Tristis iudex, a seuer and rightfull iudge.
 Tristo, aui, are, to make heauy or sorrowfull.
 Trisulcus, a, um, haupng thre edges.
 Trisulcum telum, a weapon haupng thre edges.
 Trisyllabus, a, um, haupng thre sillables.
 Tritanus, a notable wrestler of sword playe.
 Tritauia, α, fœ. g. my great graundfathers moother.
 Tritauus, ui, maf. gen. my great graundfathers father.
 Triteas, a people of Grece.
 Trithales, an herbe, whiche hath thise in the yere flowers.
 Triticus, a, um, of wheate.
 Triticum, ci, n. g. wheate.
 Tritium Metallum, a citee of Spayne called now Casalla.
 Triton, aui, are, to bzeake or beate small.
 Triton, onis, one called god of the sea, the sonne of Neptuneus, it is also a ryuer in Africa.
 Tritonia, the name of Minerua.
 Tritonis, nidos, f. g. of Minerua.
 Tritoniacus, a, um, of Minerua.
 Tritonice, a towne of Pontus.
 Tritor, oris, m. gen. he that weareth or breaketh awaie a thyng: he that breaketh or crummeth small.
 Trituro, aui, are, to thershe cozne.
 Tritura, re, f. g. thershyng, breakyng or crumshyng.
 Trituratio, onis, idem.
 Tritus, a, um, woyned, broken, wasted, muche vscd.
 Trius, us, m. g. the acte of breakyng or thershyng.
 Triuencica, a great foxcrosse.
 Triueri, Erier in Almayne, whiche now is vnder a bishoppes.
 Triuia, a name of Diana.
 Triuialis, le, commune or of small estimation, vscd or taughte in high waies: also rude, not elegant.
 Triualis lingua, a homely forme of speche.
 Triualiter, communely, in the vulgar or homely fashion.
 Triuinitum, by euery thre men.
 Triuium, uij, neu. ge. a place where thre sundry waies doe mete. also where common recourse of people is.
 Trium literarum homo, was spoken in scole of hym, that woulde seeme to bee a gentill man, where he was none: whiche woode was made by this occasion, that among the olde Romans gentill men vscd to wyte thei names with the letters, as Q. F. M. for Quintus Fabius Maximus.

imus. also this pzonerbe was spoken of them whiche were theues, because that Fur, conuyned but thre letters.
 Triumphalis, le, belongng to triumphes.
 Triumphalis uir, he that hath triumphed.
 Currus triumphalis, a chariotte, in the which he rode that triumphed.
 Pronincia triumphalis, for conquerng or subduyng wherof, the capitayne triumpheth.
 Triumphalia, orum, triumphyng, or a triumph.
 Triumphator, oris, m. g. he that triumpheth, or hath triumphed for banquishyng his ennemies.
 Triumphatus, a, um, of the whiche one hath triumphed.
 Triumphatus, us, m. g. a triumph.
 Triumphatio, onis, idem.
 Triumpho, aui, are, to triumph, to reioyce excedyngly.
 Triumphauit Achæos, he hath triumphed for his victorie ouer the people Achæi.
 Id vero serco triumphat, for that in dede he is exceedingly gladd, or he triumpheth of reioiceth greatly.
 Triumphus, phi, m. ge. a triumph, whiche is a solenne pompe or ceremonie, where a prince, a constable, or principall capitayne of an armie, hath had victorie of the enemies of his countrey: and therefore is brought home and receiued with all reioysyng and honour that maye be deuised of the people. the order and fourme therof ye may see in Titus Liuius, Spianus, and Julius Caspitolinus.
 Agere triumphum, to triumph.
 Qui tot habuit triumphos, whiche hath triumphed so often tymes.
 Triumphum agere ex inimicis, to triumphe ouer their ennemies.
 Deportare triumphum, to obtayne suche victorie on his ennemies, that he maye triumphe for it.
 Ducere aliquem in triumpho, to bypunge one captiue or prisoner in his triumph.
 Triumuir, uiri, m. g. one of them that is in an office, wherof thre be in lyke authoritee.
 Triumuiralis, le, pertynyng to an office or authoritee, wherin be thre personnes.
 Triumuiatus, us, m. g. an office in the publyke weale, wherin thre men haue equal iurisdiction together, it is also the office of autowites of Triumuir.
 Triuncis, ce, that is of thre vnce weight.
 Triuncium, ci, n. g. a thyng that is thre ounces.
 Trixago, ginis, f. g. an herbe called germander, rebe Camedris.
 Trixialis, a, um, a wourme lyke to that whiche is called Locusta, but he hath no wynges.
 Troas, adis, the countrey about Troie, called the lesse Phrygia.
 Trochæus, chæi, m. ge. a foote in meter, whiche is of two sillables, the fyrste longe, the seconde shorte.

Trochilos, a littell birde, whiche is called kynge of bydes, a wyenne.
Trochiscus, ci, m. g. a littell whele. also Trochisci bee of physicians called littell balles, that at bothe endes, whiche be made of sundrie pouders.
Trochlea, x, f. g. a poley, wherein the corde runneth, whereby any thyng is drawen vp. it is also to the gin, whiche is called a crane.
Trochulus, li, m. g. a littell rope.
Trochum, chi, n. g. a certayne stoole of chaire, whiche will be turned about.
Trochus, chi, m. g. a toppe, wherewith children doe plaie. Trochus, is also a fische, whiche doeth cutteth of it selfe.
Troezen, zenis, or Troezen, nes, a citee in the parte of Grece called Peloponnesus. it is also a countrey in the lesse Asia, wherof the people are called Troezenii.
Troezenius, a, um, of Troezen.
Troglodites, people in the furthest parte of Africa, beyond Ethiopia, whiche dwell in caues, and doe eate the fleshe of serpentes.
Troglodites, a certayne birde, whiche by the description of Aetius is a hedge sparowe.
Troia, a citee of Troie. also the countrey wherin Troie stode. also a plaie that children vied on horse backe.
Troianus, a, um, of Troie.
Troianus ludus, a plaie of children on horses backe.
Troicus, a, um, of Troie.
Troilus, the sonne of Pryamus and Hecuba.
Troius, a, um, of Troie.
Troiugena, one boyne at Troie.
Tropes, pel, mas. ge. he that doeth a shewede turne, and renneth awaie when he hath done.
Trophæum, phæi, n. g. a marke or token of times ber of stone, set vp in the place, where enemies were vanquished or put to flight, wheron was sette the harnois or other spoyle taken from the enemies. Sometime it is taken for victorie.
Trophonius, a notable mason.
Tropice, figuratiuely.
Tropice, ces, a kynde of bull rushes, the seede wherof will make one to sleepe.
Tropicus, a, um, figuratiue.
Tropei venti, wyndes, whiche doe come from the sea.
Tropis, pis, fa. ge. the bottum of the keele of a shippe.
Tropologia, x, f. g. a figuratiue speaking.
Tropus, pi, m. g. a figure, a maner of facion, an alteraciō of a woorde or sentence from his propre significacion.
Tros, woos, or trois, a troian. also the name of a kynde of Troians, sonne of Erichonius.
Trossulum, a citee in Italie.
Trossulus, in the olde tyme was taken for a horesman, or a man of armes, it is also a persone delicate, well fedde of fleshe.

Troximi, grapes to be eaten.
Trua, x, f. g. idem quod Trulla.
Trucidatio, onis, a kyllynge, a sleynge, murder, rynge.
Trucido, aui, are, to slea cruelly, to murder.
Trucidatrix, the that kylleth one.
Truculenter, cruelly.
Truculentia, x, f. g. crueltee.
Truculentus, a, um, cruell in countinaunce or menacepynge.
Truculus, li, m. g. a diminutiue of Truncus.
Trudes, dis, f. g. a certaine instrument.
Trudo, trusi, trudere, to thurst out with violence.
Truella, a vessell, wherewith water is thowen in to the synke.
Truentum, a citee in Italie called Tronio.
Trulla, la, f. g. a trep, wherein meate is put when it is roasted or sodden. it is also a pispoite: of some it is taken for a great cuppe, byde and deepe, such as great masters were wonte to be.
Trulla, a truell, wherewith masons, tylars, and pargettours doe laie moxer.
Trullum, a bolle, a bason.
Trullisso, aui, are, to pargette.
Truncatio, onis, a cuttyng of a thyng shoyter, a mathemynge, a manglynge.
Truncator, oris, m. g. & Truncatrix, tris, f. g. he or she that cutteth in pieces.
Truncatus, a, um, cutte in pieces, mathemed, mangled, cutte of shoyter.
Trunco, aui, are, to cutte shoyter, to cut in pieces.
Truncus, ci, m. g. the stumpe of sticke of a tree, when the bowes are cutte awaie.
Truncus atq; stipes, a dull persone, a blocke heade.
Truncus, a, um, cutte of, that is cutte shoyte of mangled.
Truo, onis, a birde, called also Onacroialus, and is lyke to a swanne.
Trusailis, le, that whiche maie be tourned and byuen about with a mannes hande.
Trusailis mola, a querne, such as maie be ground in, or mustarde is made in, and is turned with ones hande, a hande mylle.
Trucina, na, f. g. a weighynge balance. after Loxynus, it is taken for the hole, where the tounge of the balance goeth.
Trutino, aui, are, to weigh or examine.
Trutinor, aris, ari, the deponent, idem.
Trux, truxis, oim, g. cruell, horrible, dyedebull.
Trux tactu herba, an herbe rough in handes lynge.
Vultu truci, with a fierre and cruell countinaunce.
Trychnon, a certayne herbe called also Strichnon, some take it for Alchaquengi.
Triginon, a kynde of bleche or ynke.
Tringa, a littell birde not muche bigger then a thruste, which lieth about mores and dikes: some take it to be a water hen, or a moxer hen.

Tryphiodorus, a poete of Egypte.
Tryphon, a grammartian of Alexandria.
Tryxalis, a vermin lyke a Locuste, lackynge wynges.

T*V, tui, vel tis, tibi, thou, of the, to the.
Tibi est domi, for you he is at home.
Tutemet, you your selfe.
Tuasis, the ryuer of Twide in Scotlande.
Tuasim, after thy facion or custome.
Tuba, ba, f. g. a trumpet.
Tuba ductilis, a byaten trumpet.
Tuber, beris, n. g. a puffe growing on the ground lyke a musherome or sponge. it is also generally euerie swellynge in a mannes body or visage. it is also in a tree lyke to a great knot. also a herbe called Cyclaminos, and Panis porcinus.
Tuberculum, li, n. g. a littell swellynge or puffe.
Tubero, a Romayne.
Tubero, aui, are, to swell.
Tuberum, a ruet in India.
Tubicen, cinis, m. g. a trumpettour.
Tubulatus, a, um, made holowe lyke a pype.
Tubulus, a littell pype, wherin water renneth from a springe. it is also a reede.
Tuburcinor, aris, ari, to eate hastily.
Tubus, bi, m. g. a pype, wherin water is conueiged to a cundite. it was also a thyng, wherewith they made walles hotte before there were chimneys.
Tucetum, a meate made with chopped fleshe like to a pigot oralow.
Tucia, a virgin deale, that boze water in a sieue.
Tucris, a ryuer of Spayne.
Tuder, a towne of Umbria.
Tudicula, la, fa. gen. a labill, a printynge iron, wherewith bevell is marked. also a littell beryll, wherewith they beate olives.
Tudiculo, aui, are, to seere, to pryncle a marke.
Tuditantes, they that traueyle in busynesse.
Tuduanus, the name of a man, so called because he had a head as bigge as a beetyll.
Tudius, a mallette.
Tudio, aui, are, to labour for auantage.
Tucis, the ryuer called Twede, whiche diuideth Englande from Scotlande. it is also the towne called Berwyke.
Tueor, tatus vel tuitus sum, tueri, to defende, to kepe, to preserue, to mainteine.
Aedificia tueri, to kepe a house in reueraciō.
Dignitatem alicuius tueri, to maynteyne ones honour.
Mediocrisatem tueri, to kepe a meane.
Munus tuum tueri, continue still in doyng your dutie and office.
Tugurium, ri, ne. ge. a house of husbandrie, a house in the countrey, a cotage.
Tugurium, li, n. g. a cotage.
Tuipic, thou thy selfe.

Tuitio, onis, a safe keepynge, a defence.
Tuliphurdum, a towne in Germanie called Lottingen.
Tulic, he brought.
Tulifurgium, a Brunelwike a citee in Almayne.
Tully, some suppose the to be ryuers, some flowes of bloud out of sundry members of iustices.
Tullianum, a doungeon within the common prison of Rome.
Tullius, the name of a noble Romayne of excellent wisdom, learning and eloquence, rebe in Cicero.
Tullus Hostilius, the thyrd kynde of Rome.
Tum, than: when it goeth before Cum, or Tum, it signifyeth as well, on the one syde.
Tum autem, for Et, also for Præterea.
Tum autem hoc timeret, and moze ouer, or furdhermoze the feareth this to.
Tum verum, for Deinde, then after, and furdhermoze, and moze ouer.
Tum demum and um deniq;, finallie, then at length and not afore.
Tumba, ba, f. g. a holow place in the grounde, a sepulcher.
Tumens, entis, swellynge, rising.
Tumefacio, feci, facere, to make to swell.
Tumeco, tumei, tumere, to swell, to be puffd vp, to wate proude.
Tumescio, scere, to swell, to rise, to be puffd vp, to wate proude or stately.
Tumidus, a, um, swollen, puffd vp.
Tumulosus, a, um, full of hilles or knappes.
Tumor, oris, m. g. swelling, puffing vp, rising.
Tumulo, aui, are, to make the grounde holow, to burie.
Tumulator, aris, ari, to be buried.
Tumultuariē, in haste, without muche aduiseament.
Tumultuarius, a, um, that is doone without aduiseament or in haste, that is doone sodainly or with muche feare.
Tumultuarii milites, men of warte, whiche in the tyme of a sodaine rebellion, or other sodaine daunger, were taken without any mulcters or other election.
Opus tumultuarium, a woork done or rusted led vp in haste.
Tumultuatio, onis, a troubleynge or busynesse, a rustelinge or stirryng in a sodaine feare.
Tumultuo, aui, are, to make rumour, to make a rustelinge and busynesse, to trouble.
Tumultuor, aris, ari, the Deponent, idem.
Tumultuose, troublously, or without studie, with busynesse or rustelinge, in haste.
Tumultuosus, a, um, troublous or maynge rousour, full of busynesse stirryng or rustelinge, he that maketh busynesse and trouble, that causeth the people to sedition.
Nuntius tumultuosus, tydnges that causeth busynesse and stirryng.
Somnia tumultuosa, troublous dreames.

Tumultus, tus, m. g. a rumour, a commotion of people, sedition, insurrection, tumultie, trouble, businesse, sterpyng, rustelyng, that riseth of some sodayne and great feare.

Tumulus, li, m. g. a littell hill of barowe. sometyme a tumber of sepulchre.

Tunc, than.
Tunc temporis, at that tyme.

Tundo, tundi, tundere, to smyte, to bzaie of beate, as in a moxter, to thumpe, to knoche.

Tundere aures alicuius, id est, obrundere.
Tundere eandem incudem assidue, to labour continually with great diligence about one thyng.

Tunetum, a citee in Africa, called now Tunice.

Tungo, gere, olde writers used for Nosco, noscere, to knowe.

Tunica, ca, a kynde of Gyloufers.

Tunica, ca, f. g. a iackette, a coate: sometyme a sherte of petite robe, also a womans kytell of gowne.

Tunica pallio propior, my iackette is nerer the my gowne, a prouerbe applied where we wyl signifie that all frendes are not to be lyke clymed or made of.

Tunica molesta, a kynde of punishment.

Tunica oculorum, the eyeliddes.

Tunica arboris, the rynde of barked of a tree.

Tunicatus, a, um, that weareth a iackette of coate.

Tunici, an herbe, whiche some dooe suppose to be that, whiche bringeth forth Gyloufers.

Tutico, aui, are, to put on a iackette of coate.

Tunicula, la, f. g. a ierken of littell iackette.

Tuor, tueris, tutum vel tutum, tui, and tueri, to beholde: all be it that woorde is not in vse.

Turarius, a strete in Rome.

Turba, ba, f. ge. a multitude or assembly of people. also trouble, debate, businesse, rustelyng. Quæ illæ turba est? numnam ego perij? what great trouble or adoore is there? am not I vndoores for euer?

Propter eam hæc turba atq; abito euēnit, for his sake is all this trouble of dissencion.

Ingens turba, a great cable of woere.

Rarefit turba, the multitude washt less.

Turbamentum, ti, ne, g. a disturbyng of troubling.

Turbare, with trouble of businesse.

Turbatio, onis, f. g. trouble.

Turbator, oris, m. g. one that troubleth, a troubler.

Turbatus, a, um, troubled, sterb, moud.

Turbatum est, impersonale.

Nescio quid profecto absente nobis turbatum est domi, there hath I wot not what trouble chanced at home in myne absence.

Turbasis, sterche.

Turbella, la, f. g. a littell trouble of businesse.

Turbide, troublousely.

Turbidus, a, um, troublous, not clere.

Aqua turbida, water that is troubled and soule

Turbidū cælum, soule stormy weather, cloud by weather.

Tempus turbidum & tranquillum, contrarie.

Turbinario, onis, the faction of a thyng bode about and small beneth.

Turbinatus, a, um, rounde and sharpe like a top, bode about and small beneth.

Turbineus, a, um, of a stoppe of blusterenge wynde.

Turbino, aui, are, to make sharpe at the ende.

Turbistum, is a thyng mixt with the licour, wherewith woulle is died, whiche maketh the die to synke into the woulle, wherby the colour is made perfecte.

Turbis, a thyng muche used now a daies to purge steume, and yet men be uncertayne what verp Turbis is. Attuarius saith, it is the roote of Pityusa. Spanardus affirmeth, that Turbis, wherof Mesue maketh mention, is the seconde kynde of Tithymalus, called of Dioscorides Myrsinnes: but that Turbis, wherof Serapio maketh mention, is thought of some men to be Tripolim, after the description of Dioscorides.

Turbo, aui, are, to trouble, to stirre, to make vnquiete.

Turbo, binis, m. gen. a boystous wynde, whiche dooth blow downe trees and houses, also a top, wherewith chyliden doe plaie. it is generally all thyng, whiche is rounde and bode about, and sharpe beneth. also the violence of a greater steame. sometymes roundelles of wyndynges of serpentes. also a littell vessel, wherein they beled to sende plummes and quinces one to another in the seastes called Saurmalia: by translation, that whiche disturbeth or troubleth.

Turbulente, and Turbulenter, troublously, with trouble and sterpyng.

Non turbulente pati, to suffer patiently.

Turbulentus, a, um, troublous, angric, full of contention, full of trouble and sedicion.

Conciones turbulentæ, assemblies full of trouble and sedicion.

Turbulento, aui, are, to trouble, to disturbe.

Turca, people called Turkes, whiche inhabited the countrey ioyning to the sea Aspium, & the hill Capadocia, some of them were accompted as amonge the people of Syrya, of whom Hérodus Mela maketh mention: whiche about 725. yerres passed, wanderyng about as vacabunde robbers, wasted and destroyed diuers contraires but afterwarde by the valiant prowesse of christian princes, in the tyme of Godfray de Bos loigne, and after, their puissance was abated. But afterwarde in the yere of our lord 1100. one Othomanus, the tenth from Solymanus, whiche nowe is the great tyran of the Turkes, a plough mans sonne, valiant and subtil of witte, gatherenge a great armie of vacabundes, wanne a great countrey in Asia the lesse: and so successiuelly euery one sens hath increassed their dominion: hauing nowe vnder their subiectis, all Asia the lesse, Syria, Media, Mesopotamia, Egypt, Grecia, Illiria, eueryche of these conteyning many great and famous royalmes: besydes Hungarie, the ile of the Archades, and many other illes sometyme christened. They dooe nowe call Turchia properly that, which was named Asia minor: and some dooe name it Natolia.

Turde, a citee in Italie, called now Tudertum.

Turdetania, a countrey now called Granado.

Turditani, and Turduli, people of that countrey.

Turdulus, li, a diminutive of Turdus.

Turdus, di, m. g. a kynde of birdes, of the which Aristotle saith, that there be thye sortes: one is of the greatnesse of a Pic, and is called in greke Ixioboron, or Ixiophagon, as it were an eater of miselden, which were call a thurst. In other is lesse, and is in greke called Trichas, a throstell, or mauis. The thirde is very littell, and in greke is called Tyla, as Athenens writeth a wingethurst. Plinius saith, that Turdus is in sommer somewhat reade, and in wynter waspeth blacke: also that in sommer his necke is of a diuers colour, in wynter of one colour: and that he maketh his neste with clate on the toppes of a tree. Some suppose it to be the birde, which is called an outell or blacke birde. Turdus is also a fisme, called in greke Cichle, liuyng among stones & rocks, and is not a foote long, and hath .iiii. synnes, besydes the hyndermoste synne: and is in figure like to a tenche, in colour rustette, and hath on his bealie spotted of purple and white.

Turdus cacat sibi malum, he hath made a rod for his owne taile: a prouerbe applied to hym that is in use of his owne cuill.

Tureus, a, um, loke Thureus.

Turgeo, turfi, gère, to be swollen, to swell vp, to burgen, also to swell for anger.

Turgere alicui, to bee angric and mouded with one.

Turgesco, scere, to swell of rise vp, to burgen.

Turgidulus, la, lum, somewhat swollen or boined out, somewhat inflat of puffed vp.

Turgidus, a, um, swollen, puffed vp, risen, inflat, bigge, stroutyng out.

Turia, idem quod Duria.

Turiasso, a citee in Spayne.

Turicremus, loke Thuricremus.

Turio, onis, f. g. the tendrell of yonge branch of a tree.

Turma, mæ, f. g. a compante of souldiours, conteyning .32. horse men, a troupe: and their capitaine is called Decurio.

Turmalis, le, of the same troupe or bande.

Turmarium, in order of bataille, by companies of bandes.

Turnus, the name of a capitaine slaine by Beneas.

Turonos, people in Freauce by the riuer Air.

Turonica, Cours in Freauce.

Turpiculus, a, um, somewhat filthy, dishonest or vnclane, somewhat ill fauoured.

Turpificatus, a, um, made filthy or vnclane.

Turpis, pe, soule, dishonest, cruell, also great.

Fuga turpis, a dishonest flight.

Turpe caput, a soule great head.

Turpiter, shamefully, dishonestly, filthily, villasously.

Turpitud, dinis, f. g. dishonestie, villanie, desformitee, ill fauourednesse: sometyme rebuke.

Turpo, aui, are, to defile, dishonest, of byng out of good faction.

Turricula, la, f. g. a littell toure, also a bore, out of the whiche dice are throwen.

Turris, ris, fæ. gen. a toure, or any thyng made like to it.

Turris bisonis, a citee of Sardinia, now called Sardos.

Turriter, and Turriger, ra, rum, that beareth a toure, as an elephant.

Turritus, a, um, highe: also toured, or full of toures.

Elephanti turriti, elephants bearyng toures on their backs.

Tursi, onis, a certaine fische like a delphin.

Turulis, a riuer of Spayne.

Turtur, turis, m. and sometime f. g. a birde called a turtill. it is also a fisme called Trigon.

Turunda, da, fæ. gen. a pellicette of breadde or paste, wherewith capons or other foules are cramed: after some it is a cake used in sacrifice, also a taint of linte, which surgeons dooe put into a wounde.

Tus, turis, n. ge. frankincense. it is also written with h, as Thus.

Tuscania, a towne of Tuscia.

Tuscia, a countrey in Italie, wherin be the citees of Florence, Sene, Luca, and Pise.

Tusci, people of Tuscane.

Tusculanensis, fe, of Tusculum.

Tusculum, a littell pice of frankincense. also a citee by Rome sette on an hill.

Tusculanus, a, um, of that citee.

Tusculanum, was the territorie about Tusculum, where Licero, Clarro, and diuers other noble men dwelled.

Tusculus, a, um, of Tusculum.

Tuscus, a, um, of the countrey of Tuscia.

Tuscus, a strete in Rome.

Tussedo, dinis, f. g. the cough.

Tussicula, la, f. g. a littell cough.

Tussilago, ginis, f. ge. an herbe, whiche putteth awaie the cough. some men suppose it to be coldeste fote of horse hofe, or sole fote, called of the apothecaries Vngula caballina, it hath leaues like iunie, but somewhat biggar, with many corners, the upper parte of the leafe greene, the nether whittishe, the stalk an handfull bygh, and beareth a pale floure.

Tussio, fiat, fire, to cough.

Tussis, sis, f. g. the cough.

T ANTE V.

Tutamen, minis, and Tutamentum, ti, n. gen. a defence, a safegarde.
Tutanus, was supposed to bee a god, whiche had the custodie of men.
Tute, thou thy selfe.
Tute tibi imperes, dooe you gouerne of rule your selfe.
Tute, aduerbium, safely, without daunger or perill.
Tutela, la, f. ge. the wardshipp of custodie of infantie, a safe keeping, a defendyng, a fence or hedge about a ground.
Factus lux tutela pupillus dicitur, whan he is no more vnder the tuition of a creansour or gardian.
Tutelais, re, perteynyng to a creansour or gardian.
Tutelaris diuus, the saincte whom we doe take for our speciall aduocate to god.
Tutelarius, idem quod adilis, one that hath the custodie of the temples or common houses.
Tutia, is called of the grekes Ἰσφολία, the thirde parte thereof is Spodium.
Tutilla, a goddesse, vnder whose custodie was come in barnes and rikis.
Tutissime, most surely.
Tutius, more sure.
Tuto, without perill or punishment.
Tuto, aut, are, to defende.
Tutor, tatis, tati, to defende, to maintayne, to hepe safe.
Tutor, oris, m. gen. a gardian, he that hath the warde of an infant, a creansour.
Tutorius, a, um, perteynyng to a gardian.
Tutulius, a top of the heare wounden with a purple lace on the crowne of a womans head, whiche was onely woone of hir that was wife to the great priest at Rome, called Flamen Dialis.
Tutus, a, um, sure, safe, defended from perill, out of daunger.
Tutus a calore, defended from the daunger of the heate.
Ad omnes ictus tutus, that can not be hurted with any stroke.
Locus tutus, a sure place, where one needeth to feare no daunger.
Tuus, a, um, thyne.
Tuum est, it is your parte, duitie, or office.
Tuo arbitratu, after your owne fantasie and pleasure.
Tergine tui quicquam didde I touche any thyng that is yours?
Tui studiosus, that loueth you well.
Tui charitas, the loue that I beare toward you.
De tuis vnus, one of your friendes.
Pro amicitia tua, for the loue and friendship that I owe you.

T ANTE Y.

Yana, a citee of Cappadocia.
Tyancius, a, um, of that citee.
Tyber, bris, a great riuer by Rome.
Tyberinis, nidis, patronymicum femin. of Tyber.
Tyberinus, a, um, of Tyber.
Tyberinus, the god of the riuer Tyber.
Tyberius, the name of an emperor of Rome.
Tybur, ris, n. g. a citee by Rome.
Tyburinus, a, um, of the citee Tybur.
Tyburs, burris, om. ge. and hic & hac Tyburis, & hoc Tyburte, of Tybur.
Tyca, a nymphe.
Tyche, ches, a citee in Sicilie.
Tychius, a mans name in Homere.
Tydeus, Bissyl, the father of Diomedes the notable capitaine, whiche wounded Aeneas & Hars at the battaile of Troie.
Tydidies, the sonne or nephew of Tydeus.
Tyle, called also Thule, an ile within one daies iourney of the frozen sea.
Tylus, a woueme, whiche lieth vnder stones and tiles, that haue lien longe on the ground, and is somewhat blacke and scaled, and hath many legges: whiche being touched, closeth hym selfe rounde as a pease, and is most commonly called a chescliffe.
Tymber, a mans name, also a riuer.
Tymbra, a great fiede in the countrey of Troie, through whiche the riuer of Tymber runneth into the riuer of Stramander.
Tymbus, bi, a tumber or monument.
Tymetes, one of the sonnes of kyng Phlamus.
Tymolus, idem quod Imolus.
Tympanicus, a, um, he that is diseased with a tympanie.
Tympanista, a, m. g. he that plaicth on a drumme lade or tymbrell.
Tympanistria, a, f. ge. a woman that plaicth on a tymbrell.
Tympanites, a kinde of dysprie, wherein the beale swelleth great, whereof wynde is the chiefe occasion, a tympanie.
Tympanizo, aut, are, to play on a tymbrell, tabbour or drumme.
Tympanotriba, idem quod Tympanista.
Tympanum, ni, neu. g. a tymbrell, a tabbour or drumme. Seruius calleth it a couered chariot or carte: other suppose it to be the strike of a carte wheele: I thinke it maie be taken for the coxe of a chariot or horse litter, made with bairles or boardes ioynted, whiche is not muche from the opinion of Seruius.
Tympanum, is also a great wheele, wherein men doe goe to drawe by thynges of great waight. It is also a platter, whiche serueth for meate, also so an ingen to draw water with.
Tympei, people in Cholia, whiche is in Grecia.
Tyndareus, a, um, of Tyndarus.
Tyndarida, Lastro and Polur.
Tyndaris, daridis, the daughter or nece of Tyndarus.

T ANTE Y.

datus. Tyndaris was also a citee of Sicilie.
Tyndarus, the father of the sage Delene, for whom Troie was destroyed, and also of Lastro and Polur.
Typha, groweth in fennes, with a longe & smothe stalk, hauping on the top a floure, whiche fleeth away like the floure of a thistill.
Typha carenkis, is a hynde of corne, lyke to our rie, by Theophrastus description: and I suppose it is that, whiche we call rie.
Typhis, a carpenter, whiche first founde the waie to gouerne a shippe.
Typhoeus, trissylla, a great giant, the sonne of Titan. Typhon, idem, also a great puissant wynde, a whyle wynde.
Typhoeus, and Typhosus, a, um, of Typhoeus.
Tephona, be certaine impressions in the airc, like globes of fyre or daies.
Typhus, hautesse of wynde, pride, arrogancie.
Typus, pi, m. g. a figure, an exemple, or a forme, a likenesse of a shadow of a thyng.
Tyra, a riuer nere Itier.
Tyrambe, a citee of Sarmatia.
Tyrannice, cruelly, tyrannously.
Tyrannicida, da, m. g. he that sleeth a tyranne.
Tyrannicidium, the kylling of a tyranne.
Tyrannicus, a, um, of a tyranne.
Tyrannus, nidis, f. g. a cruel or violent rule or gouernaunce for a priuate commodite, and not for a publike weale, tyrannie.
Tyrannion, a lerneid ma in the time of Pompet.
Tyrannoctanus, ni, masc. gene. he that killeth a tyranne.
Tyrannus, the name of a sophister.
Tyrannus, ni, m. ge. a tyranne, also a birde called of some a nyu murder.
Tyras, a riuer of Sarmatia.
Tyranthina, a garment of purple colour.
Tyrianthinus color, purple colour.
Tyres, a citee of Syechia.
Tyridates, a kyng of Armenie.
Tyrinthia, a citee by Argos, where Hercules was nourished.
Tyrinthius, a, um, of Tyrinthia.
Tyrius, a, um, of the ile called Tyrus, also violet or purple colour.
Vestes tyria, garments of purple colour.
Tyro, onis, a ponge souldiour, a man of armes, also he that first entrecth into the experience of any arte, science, or exercise.
Tyro vsu forens, one that is newly exercised in pleadyng.
Tyro ac rudis in re aliqua, one that is but a ponge begynner and yet ignorant in a thyng.
Tyrocinium, nij, neu. ge. the first exercise in any thyng.
Ponere tyrocinia, to be first exercised.
Deponere rudimenta tyrocinij, idem.
Tyrocinio atatis lapsus, by reasons of his youth, or for ignorance, lacke of experience, or knowlage.

V ANTE A.

Tyrocinium nauium the firste tyme that one maketh any viage on the sea.
Tyrocinium oratorum, the firste exercise of ponge orators being admitted to pleade in the common place.
Facere tyrocinium, to bee firste exercised or addid.
Tyrocinium animi, simplicitie, lacke of perfectie vnderstandyng, or good iudgement.
Tyro, a mans name, by whom Lutero dyd sette so muche store.
Tyros, a citee in Phoenicia, also an yle where the colour purple was first founde.
Tyrotirichus, tirichi, m. g. a sauce made with cheese.
Tyrrheni, the people of Cuscane.
Tyrrhenus, a, um, of or by Cuscane.
Tyrinus, the sheperdes name in whose house Lauinia was brought a bedde.
Tyris, the circle without the walles of a towne, wherein men maie walke for their solace.
Tyrtus, a grecke poete.
Tyrunculus, i, m. g. a verie ponge souldiour or ponge lerner.
Tyrus, a citee by the mountayne Libanus.
Tyllas, a, he that firste murthered Rheoripe.
Tyrtigias, the name of a notable thefe and robber, whiche therby grew ryche.

V ANTE A

VACANS, ANTIS that is at leysure, that hath nothinge to doe.
Vacat, it serueth to no purpose, it is superfluous: also so it signifieth, I am at good leysure, or without busines. Sometyme it signifieth to care or force.

Et cui esse dicerto vacat and who careth to be well spoken or eloquent?
Vacatio, onis, f. g. vacation of tyme whan a man is out of his comon businesse, ceasing, leysure, exemption, immunitie.
Vacatio militie, truce.
Vacatio adolescentie, excusacion of youth.
Legis vacatio, dispensacion of the law.
Dare vacationem militie, to geue by warre for a space, to make truce.
Omnium munerum vacatio, the beyng with out any administration, gouernaunce, office or charge.
Vacatio rerum gestarum, immunitie from labour and businesse that one hath deferred for the good seruice he hath dooen to the common weale.
Habere vacationem, to cease or bee vacante from labour, to be without businesse.
Dare vacationem rerum omnium, to exempt or discharge from all maner businesse.

Vit vacacione, to vse his priuilege of exemption.
 Vacanter, at good leysure, with leysure enough, as though he had nothyng to doo.
 Vacanter hoc etiam cumulatit & inaniter, he added to this in vayne, and to no purpose.
 Vacca, a, f. ge. a cowe, also a citie in Numidia, also a tyeur in Portugall.
 Vaccii, a people of Spayne.
 Vaccinus, a, um, of a cowe.
 Vaccus, a capitaine of the people called Fundant.
 Vacerra, a, m. gen. a madde person without wit.
 also a perclose of railes made of tymber, with in the whiche some thyng is closed. also a stake of poste, wherunto hoxes are tied in a stable.
 Vacillans, anis, om. g. wauerynge, waggyng, mouyng, vnconstant.
 Vacillantes literæ, letters wrytten crokedly, or out of oide, some hygher and some lower, as where ones hand trembleth for weakenesse.
 Vacillans testis, a witness whiche vnconstantly doeth varie in repoyte and deposition.
 Vacillatio, onis, f. g. a waggynge or wauerynge, an inconstant meynge, lewkenesse, inconstancie, waggynge now to one parte, now to an other.
 Vacillo, auis, are, to moue inconstantly, to wagge or wauer, to bee vnstable or vn sure, to be vnconstant, to be lewse.
 Vacillare ex vino, to haue drunke so muche wyne, that he ropleth or staggeth.
 Vacillans clauis, the nayles be lewse, or dooe wagge.
 Vacillare alternis tibijs, to weale with our legges, setpyng now the one befoze, now the other.
 Tota domus superior vacat, all the upper part of the house is voyde, and hath nothyng in it.
 Tellus vacillat sub pedibus, the grounde mooueth or trembleth under vs.
 Vacinia, a, a certayne tree.
 Vacuum, ij, n. ge. a floure, whiche is also called Hyacinthus, & hath longe leaues, a rounde roote, a statke of a spenne longe and moze, haupyn on it many purple floures, wherewith in some places they doe die purpall.
 Vaco, auis, are, to applie witte and studie, to be at leysure, to attende and geue his mynde or diligence to a thyng.
 Vaco sapientia, I applie my studie to haue wise doine.
 Vaco rei diuinæ, I applie my witte to goddes seruice: also to be emptye or voyde.
 Fac vacent aedes, cause the house to be voyded.
 Vacat occupatione, he is without occupation, he is idle, he hath nothyng to doo. somtyme it signifyeth to be superfluous or vnprofitable.
 Quantum temporis vacabit ab officio publico, durynge the tyme that I shall be at leysure, as longe as I shall haue leysure.
 Nullum tempus ei vacabat a cogitando, he neuer uer ceased to thynke, he was alwaies musynge or thynkynge on the matter.

 Vacare ab omni administratione rerum, to medle with nothyng.
 Vacabam culpa, I was nothyng gylty.
 Si vacat, yf you be at leysure, if ye haue nothing to doo.
 A metu vacare, to be out of feare.
 Populo vacare, to take no hede or regarde what the people saith.
 Vacat mihi esse disertio, I haue so litle to doo that I haue good leysure to shewe myne eloquence, or to shew how eloquently I can speake in the matter.
 Philosophia vacare, to studie philosophie.
 Corpori vacare, id est, curare corpus, to cherishe the body.
 Vacare postulationibus, to heare and dispatche suites and requestes.
 Sermoni alicuius vacare, to herben to ones wordes, or what he saith.
 Vacant agri, the fieldes bringe forth the nothing, or be not husbanded or occupied.
 Cum a scribendo vacaret, when he was at leysure and not let with wrytynge.
 Nullum est tempus quo iusticia vacare debet, there is no tyme wherein iustice shoulde not be ministered and exercised.
 Vacare omni vento, to haue no wynde at all.
 Vacare animo, not to thynke or muse in his mynde of any thyng.
 Vacabat lamentis mors eius, his death was not bewailed.
 Vacorium, a citie in Roysie called Villacum.
 Vacuofacio, feci, facere, to emptye or make void.
 Vacuo, auis, are, idem.
 Vacuitas, auis, f. g. emptinesse, voidenesse.
 Vacuna, a goddesse, vnto whom housebandmen after haruest was cleue dooen, did sacrifice, as to the goddesse of quiernesse after labour.
 Vacuus, a, um, voyde, empty, or without a thyng.
 Vacuæ aures. Dare mihi vacuas aures dum eloquor, geue your eares onely to me whyle I speake, or here nothyng els.
 Vacuus animus, a mynde without care or sollicitude.
 Animo vacuo, at leysure.
 Vacuus equus, a spare horse that hath no man on hym.
 Vacuus a periculo, out of daunger.
 Si es animo vacuo, yf ye bee not let with some earnest cogitation of businesse, if ye bee at leysure.
 Vacuus a re aliqua, deliuered of any thyng.
 Vacuos dies habere, not to be let with any occupation or businesse.
 Gladius vagina vacuus, a naked sword.
 Hora nulla vacua fuit, there is no houre voyde wherein he doeth not commit some robbery.
 Lectus vacuus, an empty bedde.

Locus

Locus vacuus a turba, a place where is no company of people.
 Prædia vacua, fermes and manours voyde, that no man is in possession of.
 Vacuum tempus ne quod dem mihi laboris, that I maie not suffre myself to haue any time vacant or voyde of labour.
 Vacuum ab omni molestia esse, to be cleane without all trouble or griefe.
 Nulla pars Gallia ab exercitu vacua, there is no coast of France, that hath not an armie in it.
 Vacuum a defensoribus oppidum, a towne without a garrison of men to defende it.
 Animi vacuus, fearefull, timorous.
 Vacui ab omni sumptu, that be not contributory to any thyng.
 Timore vacuus, without feare.
 Virium vacuus, feeble, without strength.
 Vacuus ad narrandum aliquid, at leysure to shew or tell a thyng.
 Vadens, entis, om. g. goyng.
 Vadimonis lacus, a certayne poole, wherein be fandes that swymme and moue with the water.
 Vadimonium, ij, n. g. a promyse or bonde to appeare at a daie appoynted.
 Vadimonio obstrictus, let to bayle or mainpryse, when a man is bounde to appeare at a daie assigned by a iustice.
 Vadimonium obire, to appeare at a daie assigned.
 Vadimonium deferere, to make default at the daie and not to appeare.
 Vadimonium missum facere, to discharge recognisance or sureties that were bounden.
 Vadimonium differre, to geue a longer daie of appearance.
 Vadimonium promittere, to promyse or binde hym selfe to appeare at a daie appoynted.
 Ad vadimonium venire, to appeare at the daie appoynted.
 Vadimonium constituere, to appoynt a daie of appearance.
 Vadis, & vas vadis, m. gen. he that undertaketh for an other, a suretie for ones appearance.
 Vades deferere, not to appeare at the daie appoynted, he so to leaue the sureties in daunger.
 Dare vades, to put in sureties.
 Vadium, ij, idem quod Vadimonium.
 Vado, vasis, ere, to goe, to goe footth.
 Vado, auis, are, to wade, to wade ouer.
 Flumen facile vadari potest, the riuer maie bee easily waded throughe.
 Vador, aris, ari, Verbum commune, to bynde hym selfe to appeare in iudgement, or to bynde an other to appeare.
 Vadosus, a, um, full of fourdes or shalow places, that one maie wade ouer.
 Vadum, i, neu. g. a fourde or shalowe place in a water, where men and beastes maie go ouer, it is somtyme taken for the sea.

Res est in vado, the thyng is well, or the matter is in suretie, or out of danger.
 Tentare vadum, prouerbiaily, to aduenture or assaie a thyng.
 Va, an interiection, wherewith we doe curse.
 Va misero mihi, wo be to me wretched felow that I am.
 Vaneo, vanui, nire, I like Veneo.
 Vasanus, a, um, I like Vasanus.
 Vafellus, he that is somewhat craftie.
 Vaser, fra, frum, subtile, craftie, sly, wily.
 Vafamentum, subtiltie or craftie, finelie.
 Vafre, craftily, deceitfully, wilyly.
 Vagabundus, a, um, that wandreth about.
 Vagans, antis, wanderyng.
 Vagatio, onis, f. g. a wanderyng.
 Vagationes militum, when souldiours wander about of straie abode from their campe or garrison.
 Vagæ, abode, wanderyng here and there, nowe to one parte, now to an other.
 Vageni, a people dwelling amonge the mountaynes, called Alpes.
 Vagina, a, a sheeth of a scabbarde, a heueryng.
 Vagina frumenti, the huse that coyne shotteth out of.
 Vaginula, a, f. g. a litle sheeth of scabbarde.
 Vagio, gini, ire, to crie as a childe.
 Vagito, auis, are, the frequentatiue of Vagio.
 Vagitus, us, m. g. the crying of a childe.
 Vago, auis, are, idem quod Vagor.
 Vagor, aris, ari, to wander, to strae abode, to goe from coast to coast.
 Vagatur animus, the mynde wandreth &c.
 Vagor, oris, m. ge. idem quod Vagitus.
 Vagus, a, um, wanderyng and abedyng in no place.
 Vaga iuuentus, that resteth in no place.
 Nomen herbe vagum, the name of an herbe that is uncerteine, or wherof be dyuers opinions.
 Errans & vaga sententia, an vnconstant or waueryng opinion.
 Vah, an interiection, wherein we wonder at a thyng, also of reioysynge, also of scornynge.
 Vaha, an interiection of reioysynge or laughing.
 Vaiedabber, an Hebrew word, whiche in latine is Numeri, one of the five booke of Moyse.
 Valasca, a queene of the Scemes, whiche conspired with certayne other women, to haue dyuen out the men, and to haue had a gouernance of women lyke the Amazons.
 Valde, verie muche, greatly.
 Quicquid vult, valde vult, what so euer he willeth, he willeth it earnestly.
 Valde recusat, he dooeth greatly refuse.
 Valde grauer, verie greuouesly.
 Tam valde, so greatly.
 Nihil est tam valde vulgare, nothyng is so common.
 Valde quam paucos habet, he hath verie few.

Valdius,

Valdius, the comparatiue, farre moze.
Valens, entis, om. g. puissant, whole, stronge, in good helth, that can doe muche.
Valentius ad omnia, of moze force, strength and vertue.
Cum valentiore pugnare, to fyghe with one that is stronger then hym selfe.
Valentes cibi, meates that nourishe muche.
Adiumentum valentissimum, a sure helpe of great efficacie and strength.
Postulario valentior, a request moze lyke to obteyne.
Argumenta valentia, argumentes of moze force.
Valenter, puissantly, strongly, mightily, with force.
Valentia, the first name of Rome, also a citee in Spayne called Valence.
Valentia, a, for. gen. puissaunce, power, might, strength, habilitie.
Valentulus, a, um, somewhat stronge.
Valéo, valui, lere, to be able, to be whole, to be in helth, to be of authoritie, also to be woorth, to be stronge or puissant, to make doe, or be of force or power.
Nep sum tam imperita, vt quid amor valeat nesciam, I am not suche a foole, but I knowe what loue maie doe, or of what force loue is.
Male valeo, I fare ill, I am ill at ease.
Valere ab oculis, to be whole of the disease of the eyes.
Valere a pecunia, to haue money enoughe.
Non tantum valeo, he is not of suche puissaunce or power.
Valuit autoritas, his authoritie was great.
Valeramicis, he hath many frendes.
Corpore valere, to be stronge, to be in helth.
Curtu valere, to renne well.
Valere gratia apud senatum, to be in fauour or credite with the senators.
Valere opibus & potentia, to be riche and puissant.
Valere stomacho, to haue a good stomache.
Valere viribus, to haue muche strength, to be stronge.
Valere apud aliquem, to be muche with one.
Valere in id, it is good therefore, or for that purpose.
Longum vale, fare well for euer and a daie.
Valere iulsi, I bade hym farewell and toke my leaue of hym.
Valer sceleris vicenis, it is woorth. xx. pence.
Valere a morbo, to be recovered from sycknesse.
Valeat, farewell he, I care not for hym.
Imo habeat, valeat, viuat cum illa, well leat hym wedde hir, I care not for hym, muche good doe it hym with hir: or leat hym haue hir, god be with hym, leat hym make merie with hir.
Si deus talis est, vt nulla gratia, nulla hominum charitate teneatur, valeat, if god be suche one, that he hath neyther fauour nor lone to mankynde, I care not for hym.

Valeant qui inter nos dissidium volunt, they that will haue vs at variance, lette them get them hence, or god bee with them.
Ne valeam, I praye god I neuer be in helth, I praye god I die.
Rei augenda parum valet, it is of small force to augment the matter.
Valeo autoritas illius apud plebem, his authoritie maie doe muche with the people.
Valeo apud eum veritas, he setteth muche by the truely, or greatly esteemeth the truth.
Si quid in arte valet, if you can doe any thyng in your science or feate.
Valeo hanc res in causis, this thing is of force in defendyng or pleadng causes.
Valeo vix, it is euen of as muche force as a law.
Valeo, sometye for significat.
Vale, farewell, god be with you, god keepe you in helth.
Eodem valet, it is good and holisome for the same thyng.
Valeria, a towne in Spayne, the people wherof be called Valerientes.
Valeria, the sister of Messala, wyfe to a noble man called Seruius, who being dead, when she was asked, why she didde not marie againe, she aunswere, that Seruius hir housebnde was still aliue with hir. it is also a countrey by Hungarie, now called Stiria.
Valeriana, an herbe, called Valerian, rede or yhu.
Valerius, a mans name.
Valeo, scere, idem quod Valeo.
Valeus, for Valerius.
Valeudinarium, a, um, now and then sicke, often tymes sicke, sickely.
Valeudinarium medicus, a physicion that cureth sicke men.
Valeudinarium, a place where men doe lye when they be sicke.
Valetudo, dinis, f. ge. sometye signifieth sicknesse, sometye helth.
Valetudini operam dare, & Seruire, to haue regarde to his helthe, to cherishe hym selfe.
Longa & pertinax valetudo, a long and continuall sicknesse.
Amittere valetudinem, to fall sicke.
Quodam valetudinis genere tentari, to be assayed with a certayne sicknesse.
Infirmas valetudinis, sicknesse.
Incommodum valetudinis, idem.
Commodioris valetudinis factus, recovered to helth, wared whole againe.
Valetudo mala, incommoda, infirma, sicknesse.
Tenui valetudine homo, a sickely person.
Constitari iniqua valetudine, to bee soe sicke.

It in

It in melius valetudo, he begynneth to recover, he waxeth better and better.
Ferre valetudinem, to suffer sicknesse.
Grauescebat valetudo Augusti, Augustus waxed sickely.
Valgium, an instrument to make stozes smooth.
Valgulario, a question in rebuke of one.
Valgustus, a crooked staffe.
Valgus, a, um, that hath the legges bowed inward narrow at the knees, and the seete outward a funder.
Valide, valiantly, myghtily, puissantly.
Validé cupere, to desire a thyng greatly.
Validissime fauere alicui, to fauour one very earnestly, to beare one very great fauour.
Validius costa beta, becomes moze throughtly sodden.
Validus, a, um, valiant, myghtie, puissant, stronge.
Validus facundia, that is very eloquent, that can doe muche with his eloquence.
Validus ex morbo, stronge and well recovered after his sicknesse.
Opes validæ, id est, magnæ, great riches.
Te aduenisse saluum atq; validum, that you be come safe in good helth and stronge.
Vrbs valida muris, a citee strongly walled.
Validior, validius, moze myghtie.
Vallaris, re, percrepnyng to a trenche in a fiede.
Vallaris corona, a garlande given to hym, whiche first entred into the trenche of his enemies campe.
Vallecula, or vallicula, a, f. g. a litle valey.
Valleis, olde writers used for perierit, he is lost or perished.
Valles, lis, or Vallis, lis, f. g. a valey or dale.
Valli, are pales made sharpe aboue.
Vallo, aui, are, to inclose, to fortifie, to make a trenche about, to strengthen, to make a fence or fortifie.
Vallonia, was called the goddess of Valcis.
Vallum, li, neu. gene. and sometye Vallus, li, mafe. gen. a trenche, whiche is made in a fiede to defende an host, within the whiche pavilions are pitcht.
Vallus, li, m. ge. a stake or post, wherunto vines are bounde.
Valor, oris, m. g. value or price.
Valuarum, f. g. plu. tantum, doores or gates, whiche be shute on two partes.
Valuulus, li, m. g. the codde of a beane or pease, or other lyke thing: or rather the holownesse of a beane or pease codde, wherein the beanes or peasen be.
Vanans, olde writers used for fallens, decreasyng.
Vandali, people of Mandalia.
Vandalia, a countrey in the north part of the worlde.
Vane, vanyely, foolisshely, tyngly.
Vanisco, scere, to vanysh, to be brought to naught, to come to naught.

In auras vanescere, to vanysh awaye in the ayre.
Vangiones, people in Germanie of a citee, called woormes.
Vanidicus, a, um, a liar or tellar of foolishe tales.
Vani loquax, a, um, idem.
Vani loquidors, idem.
Vani loquencia, a, f. m. g. vayne speeche, vayne babling.
Vanitas, atis, for. ge. vanities, lightnesse, leasynge, folg, vncertaine.
Vanitas, dinis, f. g. idem.
Vanno, aui, are, to vayne coigne.
Vannus, ni, f. g. a vayne or a great sicke, wherewith they wyenow coigne.
Vanus, a, um, voyde or emptye. also foolishe, vayne, that beliethe in trifles, enuidous, a maker of lies, that hath a pleasure to tell lies, that careth not what he dooth affirme, only to get to no purpose.
Vana fides, false trust or belefe.
Vanus ingenio, that beliethe thynges quickely, lyghe of belefe.
Inceptum vanum, a vayne enterpryse that cometh to none effecte.
Vapidus, a, um, that hath a great taste.
Vapidè se habere, to be sicke or in ill case.
Vapor, and sometye Vapos, oris, m. ge. a vapour or hot breath issuing out of a thyng: some tyme it is taken for heate.
Vaporarium, ri, n. g. a place made hotte to sit in in the wynter tyme, a stowe.
Vaporatio, onis, a castyng up of vapours or hotte breath.
Vaporescerus, a, um, making or steryng by vapours.
Vaporo, aui, are, neuterally, to sende out vapours, to breath out: actiue to heate or make warme a place, to perfume, also to make vnye, or to sucke out vapours.
Vappa, pæ, f. g. wyne that hath lost the verdure, it is sometye taken for a man, in whom is no witte or perfect reason.
Vapo, onis, a beast that breath.
Vapularis, re, that is beaten.
Vapulo, aui, are, to be beaten.
Varar, Dunbar in Scotlande.
Variabilis, le, variable.
Varduli, a people of Spayne.
Varians, atis, om. g. diuers, of diuers colours or factions.
Varians cœlum, changeable weather, now faire, now foule.
Variatum, diuersely, after diuers factions.
Variola, a diminutive of Varix.
Vari, spotes in the face.
Varico, aui, are, or Varicor, aris, ari, to transgress, to passe ouer a thyng negligently. also to goe crookedly with the seete bendyng inward and the knees farre a funder.

CC cc

Vari

Varicosus, a, um, that hath the veynes swollen.
Varicus, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth stryding.
Varicus, a, um, that goeth with great strides.
Varia, for Pantheræ, beastes of diuers colours.
Varie, diuersely, after diuers facions or sortes.
Varie valui, I was nowe well now ill: sometimes sicke, sometime in good helth.
Varie agere, to haue a matter nowe after one facion, now after another.
Varie discernere, to geue diuers sentences of a thyng.
Variegatus, a, um, peincted or garnished with sundrie colours.
Varietas, aris, f. ge. varietee, diuersitee in thynges, diuersitee in colours.
Vario, auis, are, to make diuers, to chaunge, to varie, to square, to disagee
Otiū variare labore, sometime to labour, sometime to be idell.
Variare voluptatem, to change the kynde of pleasure.
Sententiam variare timor, feare caused them to haue diuers opinions.
Variant graecorum exempla, the grecke examples be diuers.
Violæ, meafils.
Varius, a fische, called a troute.
Varius, a, um, diuers, unlike, vnconstant, variabile, changeable, of diuers colours or facions.
Varia fortuna, chaungeable fortune, now good now badde.
Varix, ricis, m. g. a disease, a veine swellingfull of melancolie bloodde, either in the temples, bealy, or legges.
Varolus, a certayne fische.
Varro, onis, a noble Romain, of all other most excellently lerned.
Varus, a, um, that hath the legges crooked with the fecte inwarde, that hath spotted in his face.
Varæ manus, crooked handes.
Varum brachium, a crooked arme.
Varus, ri, m. g. a spotte in the face.
Varus, a riuer, which diuideth the parte of France called Barbonensis, from Italy. also it was the name of a poete.
Vas, vadis, m. ge. a suretie, that undertaketh for an other man. also a pledge.
Vas, vasis, n. g. a vessell.
Vasa conclamare, to crie to trusse by cartage & baggage, as whan an arme doeth remoue.
Vasarium, rij, neu. g. a cupbourde of plate. also that money that was geuen to magistrates, whan they wrote sooth into prouinces.
Vascones, people in the parte of Spayne, called Caracensis.
Vascularius, a pottar.
Vascularius, rij, m. g. a goldsmith, which maketh plate.
Vasculum, li, n. g. a small vessell.
Vastario, onis, f. g. a destroyng.
Vastator, oris, mascul. gene. one that destroyeth or spoylth.

Vastatus, a, um, destroyed, spoyled.
Vaste, bjoede.
Vaste diducere verba, to speake bjoede.
Vasterna, an horse litter, or any thyng borne by two horses.
Vasticus, a, um, that strogeth and despoyleth.
Vastitas, aris, f. ge. greatnesse. also destruction, destroyng.
Vastities, ei, and Vastitudo, dinis, f. g. idem.
Vasto, auis, are, to wast or destroy.
Vastus, a, um, great beyonde measure, heuge, sometime desolate.
Vasum, si, n. g. a vessell.
Vates, tis, com. ge. a prophete, a poete.
Vatescant, olde wuters used for inhorrescant.
Vatesco, scere, to be destroyed, to be dyed vp, to be forsaken.
Vaticanus collis, an hill in Rome, where now is the churche of saint Peter.
Vaticinatio, onis, a southsaing, a foretelling.
Vaticinator, oris, m. ge. a prophete, a teller of thynges before they come.
Vaticinium, nū, n. ge. a prophete, a coniecture, a foretelling.
Vaticinius, or Vaticinus, a, um, belonging to diuincurs.
Vaticinor, aris, ari, to prophete or tell what shal happen, to coniecte, to diuine.
Vaidicum, for Propheticum, that is spoken in a prophete.
Vaiinus, a Romaine, so greatly hated of the people, that therof grew a puerbe, Odiū vaiinū.
Vaius, rij, m. g. idem quod valgus, he that hath crooked legges outwarde.
Vatrax, acis, om. g. & Varicosus, a, um, that hath ill legges from the knee downwarde.
Vaunia, a citee in Italye nere Venice, called commonly Lauino.

Vber, vberior, vberimus, fertile, fruitfull, fatte, plentifull, abundant. it is also written Huber.
Vber, vberis, in. ge. a womans breast, an bdder.
Vide Huber.
Admouere vbera alicui, to geue one sucke.
Vbera dare, to geue the dugge.
Vbertas, aris, f. m. gen. fertilitie, fruitfulness, abundance.
Vbertim, abundantly, plentifully.
Vbi, where, in what place. sometime whan, after that.
Vbi te non inuenio, whan I coude not finde you.
Hæc vbi filio nuntiata sunt, after that these thynges were tolde my sonne.
Vbi primum poterit, as soone as he can.
Vbiubi est, where so euer he be.

Vbi,

Vbi, for in quibus rebus. Huiusmodi res semper comminiscere, vbi me excarnifices, thou doest alwaies deuise and inuent suche thynges for me, to tourment or bere me with all.
Vbiubi est gentium, where so euer he bee in the worlde.
Vbiubi erit inuenta, id est, statim vt, incontinent, as soone as.
Vbi loci, in what place. also in what state or condition.
Vbi terrarum esses, where ye were.
Vbinam gentium sumus? in what countrey be we?
Vbiuis, in any place, in what place ye wyll.
Vbicunq; visum, where so euer he thought good.
Vbicunq; factum est, improbe factum est, what place so euer it was dooen in. &c.
Vbi, people in Germanie, dwelling in Lolaine and the partes adioynng.
Vbiq; in all places, euery where, in all.
Vbiq; gentium, terrarum, locorum, in all countreys, in all places of the worlde, euery where.
Vbiq; loci, in euery place.
Vbiliber, where ye wyll.
Vbicunq; in euery place.
Vbicubi, idem.
Vcalegon, a Tropane name.
Vcia, a citee in Spayne, some wyte it Vria.

VDO, ONIS, a certayne garment.
Vdus, a, um, moyse, twette.

VE, a conjunction disiuunctiue, signifyingng aut. also it is put for vel or que.
Bis tæue, twyse of thyse.
Næue in hoc, næue in alijs queris, neither in this matter, nor in other thynges.
Vecordia, x, f. g. madnesse or trouble of mynde.
Vecors, dis, om. gene. madde, troubled in his mynde, out of his witte.
Vestabulum, li, n. g. wherein any thyng is caried, a waggon, a wayne.
Vestarius, a, um, that carieth.
Equus vestarius, a pake horse.
Vestarius, rij, m. gen. he that turneth the wyne presse or any ingin with barres.
Vesticularia vita, the lyfe of the that with pryon barres breake through walles to robbe mens houses.
Vesticulariam vitam viuere, to haue muche to daie and nothyng to morowe, sobrenely riche, and as sobrenely poore.

Vestigal, galis, n. g. a tribute, a pension, a rent, a peryle reuenue.
Imponere vestigal, to set a pension or tribute to be paid.
Pendere vestigal, to paie rent or tribute.
Exercere, and exigere vestigal, to take vp the common tributes and reuenues.
Leuare agrum vestigali, to set a lesse rent vpon a piece of grounde.
Vestigalis, le, that paieth tribute, pension or rent.
Vestigalis & immunis, contrarie.
Equi vestigales, horses set out to hire.
Pecunia vestigalis, money that cometh of ones reuenues.
Vestigales facere, to make tributarie.
Vectio, onis, a cariing.
Vectis, is, m. g. a barre. also a leauer, wherewith thynges bee lifed or borne by men. it is also the name of an ple in England called the ple of Wight.
Vecto, auis, are, to carie. Vectito, auis, are, idem.
Vectones, people of Spayne.
Vector, oris, m. g. he that is caried. sometime he that carieth.
Vectorius, a, um, apte to carie.
Vectoria nauigia, hulkes or great shippes for cartage.
Vectura, ræ, f. g. cartage. also the hyre, or money geuen for cartage.
Facere vecturam, to bee a carier, to get his liuing by cartinge or conueighinge by water or lande.
Vectus, a, um, caried, conueighed.
Vedra, the ruar of Wrec in wales.
Vegeo, gut, gère, to be in helth.
Veget, getis, idem quod vegetus, a, um, Veget, for Vegetat.
Vegetatio, onis, a comfortyng or making stronge.
Vegeti, people of Asia.
Vegetius, a noble man that wrote of martiall doctrine.
Vegeto, auis, are, to recreate, to quicken, to comfort, to comfort, to geue strength, to perfectue in helth.
Vegetus, a, um, whole, stronge, in helth, quicke, sounde, lustie.
Vegetus pulsus venarum, a stronge pulse, beating vehemently.
Vegradis, de, great & plit fourmed: after some, small or littell.
Veha, x, f. g. for via, a waie.
Vehere, olde wyters used for Vehere.
Vehemens, tis, om. g. vehement, great, vrgent, fierie, sharpe.
Vehemens in vitamq; partem nimis es, thou arte to behemente, to affectionate, or to hostile bothe in the one parte, and in the other.
Litteræ vehementes, sharpe and crosse letters.
Vehementia, x, f. g. vehemencis, might.
Odoris vehementia, strong sauour.
Vehementer, vehemently, sharply, mightly,

CCcc ij great greatly.

Admirari vehementer, to meruaule greatly.
Id mihi vehementer dolet, for that I am very sore.

Credere hoc mihi vehementer velim, I wyl in any wyse that you beleue me and truste me in this poynte.

Vehes, his, or Vehis, his, f. ge. a carre or wayne lode of any thyng, sometyne a wayne.

Vehes fœni, a lode of hie.

Vehes steroris, a lode of dounge.

Vehia, in the olde Tuscan tounge was a carre.

Vehicularis, re, belongng to a carre.

Vehicularis equus, a carre horse.

Vehicularius, ri, a carter.

Vehiculum, li, n. g. a generall name to all thyn-ges, which serue for cartage, a carre, a waine, a waggon or chariote.

Veho, vxi, vehere, to carie by water, to carie on horse backe or in a carre.

Ventrem grauem vehere, to haue a great beas-ty, to be with childe.

Veia, a certayne forceresse.

Veiatura, for Vectura, cartage.

Veiens, entis, of Veios.

Veientanus, a, um, of the citee Veios.

Veientes, people, with whome the Romaines had longe tyme warres.

Vei, the people of Veios.

Veios, a citee in Veturia.

Veious, a god, whiche hadde no power to dooe good, but onely harme.

Vel, or, sometyne also, chesely, namely, at the least Vel hoc quis non credat. &c. euen this thyng also, who woulde not thenke or beleue. &c.
Si nullo alio pacto, vel scire. &c. id est, fal-sem, at the least wyse.

Vel maxime videtur sapientis, it doeth chiefl-ly seme to be the parte or office of a wyse man.

Nervorum vel minimum, as littell force or pythe as can be.

Velabrensis, se, belongng to the place called Velabrum.

Velabrum, bri, neu. g. a place in Rome. it male bee also called a tente, or bouth, whiche cras-tes men doe set vp, where they haue no houses, to be in steede of theyr shoppes.

Velamen, minis, and Velamentum, ti, n. g. a coueryng, any thyng that couereth.

Velaria, clothes, wherewith tentes are made. also the same tentes.

Velaris, re, belongng to a veyle.

Velatura, a frapete.

Velatus, a, um, apparailled, couered, hysed.

Capite velato, with the head couered.

Velanda corporis, the priue partes of the bodie.

Velauni, Velay in Fraunce.

Ves scurra, a common crosse of ictter.

Ves, velitis, m. g. a souldiour that weareth
lyght harnesse.

Velia, a fen in Italie in the countrey of Calabria.

Velates, people of Liguria.

Velina, a strete in Rome by the hyll called Mons Palatinus.

Velifer, ra, rum, that beareth a sayle.

Velificatio, onis, f. g. a setting of hoysng by of the sayle.

Velifico, aui, are, or Velifico, aris, ari, to hoys by the sayles, and saile forth.

Velificus, a, um, that is doon with sailes.

Velificus cufus, a viage on the sea.

Velitaris, re, that belongeth to the souldiours in lyght harnesse.

Velitaris pugna, battayle doon by them that are lyght harnessed, a skirmishe.

Velitum, by lepes or shippes.

Velitor, aris, ari, to striue, to skirmishe, to fight one against an other, to bzaill, to chide, to con-tende one with an other in woordes.

Velitatio, onis, f. ge. skirmishing by leaping in and out, bzaulyng, contention in woordes.

Velitræ, arum, plu. a citee in Italie. ff. miles from Rome.

Velivolus, a, um, that whiche goeth with a saile, or is occupied with sailes.

Velivolantes naues, shippes vnder sayle.

Vella, x, f. g. olde wyters vso for Villa.

Vellaturam facere, to lye by carrying from one towne to an other.

Vellicatim, by pluches.

Vellicatus, us, m. g. a plucking.

Vellico, aui, are, to pinche, to pluche, sometyne to rebuke, to byte, to rent, to speake of, to carpe, to detracte.

Absentem vellicare, to speake ill of one that is absent.

Vello, velli, and vullsi, ere, to pluche by, to pull a thyng.

Radicius & cum radice vellere, to pluche by
by the roote.

Comam vellere, to pull one by the heare.

Vellere sepulchra, to pull downe the monu-mentes and tombes of other.

Vellocasses, a people of the countrey of Lions in Fraunce.

Vellus, leris, n. g. a wyse.

Velo, aui, are, to couer or hyde, to hynde, to ap-parayle. Caput velare, to couer the head.

Velocitas, atis, f. g. swiftnesse.

Velociter, swyftely.

Velox, ocis, om. g. swift, quicke.

Velum, li, n. g. a saile, a curtayne or a veile.

Retrorsum vela dare, to change his purpose or hynde of lyfe.

Facere vela, and Dare vela, to hoysse vpland spreadye the sayles.

Obtendere velis rem aliquā, to couer, to hyde.

Permittamus vela ventis, let vs venter of hasarde the matter.

Velis equisq; with all diligence & endeavour.

Velis remisq; idem.

Contrahere vela, to styke sayle.

Velut,

Velut, veluti, lyke, lyke as.

Vena, x, f. g. a veyne.

Pulsus venarum, the pulse or beatyng of the veynes or arteries.

Ferire & incidere venam, to lette bloudd.

Vena auri vel argenti, a veyne of golde or siluer in the earthe.

Venas cuiuscunq; generis hominum tenere, to knowe the naturall disposition and faction of
all men.

Peioris venæ æuum, id est, ferreum seculum.

Venabulum, li, n. g. an huntynge staffe, a weapon
vso in huntynge.

Venacrum, a citee of Champagne, where is great plentie of oliues.

Venacranus, a, um, of that citee.

Venalis, le, that is sette to sale, also courtous, dishonest, that selleth hym selfe for money.

Venalis ascriptor, one that is corrupted with money. Venales, seruantes set to be solde.

Venaliarius, ij, m. g. he that selleth slaues.

Venalicium, ij, n. ge. a place where any thyng is solde, the selling it selfe, or the body that is solde.

Venalius, ij, m. g. he that selleth men or chyliden.

Venalius, a, um, set to be solde.

Venaria, an ile where in bee many veynes of mettall.

Venaticus, a, um, pertainyng to huntynge.

Venaticus canis, an hounde.

Venatio, onis, an huntynge.

Venator, oris, m. g. an hunter.

Venatorius, a, um, idem quod Venaticus.

Culter venatorius, a wodde knife.

Venatrix, icis, f. g. a woman hunter.

Venatus, us, m. g. huntynge.

Vendax, acis, om. g. that gladly selleth.

Vendibilis, le, easie and redie to bee solde.

Vendicatio, onis, f. g. a claime.

Vendico, aui, are, to vendicate, to claime.

Vendicare a labore, to deliuer from labour.

Vendicare sibi, to claime of calenge as his owne.

Venditarius, a, um, that is wont to sell.

Venditatio, onis, auantynge, boastynge, crachynge, ostentation.

Venditio, onis, a sale, a sellynge.

Vendito, aui, are, to sell often, to haue to sell, to set to sale, to baunt, to crake, to bzagge.

Venditor, oris, m. g. a sellar.

Vendo, vendidi, vendere, to sell.

Male vendere, to sell a thyng ill and nothyng to is profyte.

Bene vendere, contrarie.

Qui Casaris beneficia vendebant, whiche toke bybys for such pleasures as Cesar dyd theue.

Magno vendere, to sell deare, or at a greatte price.

Non plus vendo, I sell it no deare.

Veneficium, ij, neu. gener. the arte or crafte of poysynng.

Veneficus, i, m. g. and Venefica, x, fœm. g. he or she that poyseneth, or that blythly sojourneth with cheraffe.

Veneficus, a, um, venemous, that poyseneth.

Venenaria mulieres, womē that doe sell poysens.

Venenarius, ij, m. gen. he that maketh or proudeth poysen.

Venenatus, a, um, poysened.

Venenifer, ra, rum, that beareth poysen.

Veneno, aui, are, to poysen.

Venenosus, a, um, venemous, full of poysen.

Venenum, ni, neu. ge. poysen, it is the generall name of all that dooeth after the nature of colour of that thyng, wherwith it is mixt. Sometime with cheraffe of sojourn, sometyne colour.

Venenum deprahendere, to proue manifestly that one wolde haue poysened him.

Expugnare venenum, to ouercome poysen.

Inficere veneno, to poysen.

Facere malum venenum, to geue one poysen.

Venenum alicui infundere, to put poysen in ones dyshe.

Venenum alicui parare, to goe about to poys-son one.

Venco, niui, and sometime Venij, nire, to be sold.

Vendim ire, to be solde.

Venum ibit, it shall be solde.

Dare venum, to be solde.

Venerabilis, le, woorthy to be honoured, woorthy reuerence, woorthyfull.

Venerabundus, a, um, that dooeth woorthy any thyng.

Venerandus, a, um, to be woorthy.

Veneranter, reuerently.

Veneratio, onis, f. ge. honour, reuerence, woorthy shippynge.

Venerator, oris, m. g. one that doeth reuerence or woorthy.

Veneratus, a, um, humbly praised vnto. sometime reuerende.

Veneror, aris, ari, to reuerence, to woorthy.

Venerens, a, um, disposed to sercherie. Venereus, is also a cast at the dyce.

Veneris portus, a towne, in the mountains p-reni.

Venetia, arum, the citee of Venice.

Veneti, Venes in Vytaine, also the people of Venice.

Venetus, a, um, of Venice. also the colour of lyght blew or blunckt.

Venia, x, f. g. pardon, forgiveness, licence, leane.

Tua venia, by your licence, by your leane.

Cum bona venia audire, to heare one paciently.

Bona venia me audies, you shall not be displeased with that I shall saie.

Veniam petere, to aske pardon or forgiveness.

Veniam transfugiendi petit, he desired license to goe to the enemies campe.

CCcc iij

Venia

Venia sit dicto, I speake it not to auant of boast my selfe, be you not displeased with that I saie.
Venialis, le, woorthy pardon or forgiveness.
Venibo, auncient writers used for Veniam.
Venio, veni, ire, to come, to springe, to growe, to be brought or conueighed to a place by one, also to chaunce.
Venire in mentem, to come to remembrance.
Venit in mentem Platonis, I remembred Plato.
Venitur ad me, they come to me.
A Roma venire, to come from Rome.
Supplicem venire ad aliquem, to come to one and make lough curtisie, intreatyng hym for somewhat.
Illic veniunt felicius vnae, grapes or viues doe
growe and proue better.
Arbores quidam veniunt sua sponte, some trees grow naturally without plantyng.
Eius quae ex Africa venit, of that whiche cometh, or that is brought out of Afrike.
Dum tibi litera mea veniunt, vntill my letters come or be brought vnto you.
Post istuc veniam, after I will speake of this matter.
Ad Archesium veniamus, let vs come nowe to Archesia, or let vs speake now of Archesia.
Alicui venire aduersum, to mete with one.
Ad extremum ventum foret, it had come to the last point.
Quae sub aspectum veniunt, whiche may be seene.
In amicitiam alicuius venire, to become ones frende, to make alliance with one.
Ad aures alicuius venire, to bee hearde, to come to ones eares or hearings.
Quicquid in buccam venerit, what so euer cometh in the mynde without meditation.
Venire ad internecionem, to be slayne and not one left aloue.
Venire ad nomen, to come whan one is called by his name.
Ad passionem venire, to be accorded to come to some point or agreement.
Ad vadimonium non venire, not to appeere at the daie appoynted.
In eum casum veneram, I was come to that pointe or state.
In certamen iudiciumq; veniunt, they sue and contende in the law.
Venire in colloquium, to come to speeche or communication with one.
Si in Caesaris complexum veniret, if he might be loued of Cesar, if he might come in Cesars
fauour.
In confessum venit ea res, that thyng is manly fessly knowne and confessed.
In conspectum venire, to present hym selfe to one that he may see hym.
Ad me in conspectum venire prohibui, I forbade hym to come in my sight.

In consuetudinem venire, to come in use and cus-
tome.
In contemptum venire, to be dispised, to come in contempt.
Hera in crimen veniet, my maistres shall be blas-med, or it shall be laied to hir charge.
In deditionem venit, he yelded.
In deliberationem venire, to be consulted of.
In desyderium venire dicitur res aliqua, to be desired or wished for.
Venire in disceptationem, to come in controuersie, to be reasoned or disputed of.
In discrimine existimationis venire, to be in daunger to lose his good renoume or estimation.
In disquisitionem venire, to bee searched or sought for, to be reasoned or disputed of.
In dubium venire, to come in daunger.
Venire in diuitias, to become riche.
In dubium venire de ciuitate, to be in doubt whether he be a citizen or no.
Venire in fidem alicuius, to geide hym selfe to ones merite and assurance.
Ad finem venit, it is at an ende.
Feliciter hac res tibi venit, this thyng chaunceth to the happily.
Sub iactum telorum venire, to come in daunger of shotte.
Qua de causa huic inimicus venias, why ye be his enemye.
Ex gratia in inuidiam venit, he is fallen out of fouour into hatred and displeasure of men.
Venire in locum summum, to come to great estate and honour.
In manus hominum libros venire dicimus.
In notitiam venire, to be knowne.
In numerum oratorum venire, to be reckoned or compted an oratour.
In oblivionem venire, to be forgotten.
Quum in otium veneramus, whan we shall once haue leisure.
In partem impensae venire, to paie parte of that whiche is laied forth.
Eo venire mores, the fashions or manners of men came to that point.
In ora virum venire, to become famous and renowmed.
In possessionem reipublicae venire, to haue the rule, or to be maister of the whole common-weale.
Quo proprius spem venerant, the moze hope that they had.
In prouerbium venire, to bee taken by, and used for a prouerbe.
Nonnullam in spem veneram, I hadde a good hope.
In suspicionem venire, to be suspected.
In tutelam venire, to be vnder the tuition or protection of one.
In vitam venire, to be bozne.
In vnitatem venire, to bee vnited, to become one.

one.
Mors summus venit ad eum morte fratris, he is in great sorrow of heavinesse, for the death of his brother.
Vinum tadio venit ei, he hateth wyne.
Sivus veniat, if it come to passe, yf any nede be.
Venila, for vnda, water in a ryuer.
Venor, aris, aris, to hunt, to get a thyng craftily, to seeke or ppolle after a thyng.
Venari laudem, to goe about to get praise.
Pisces venari, to fische.
Venari apros in mari, prouerbiially, to lose ones labour.
De verbis meis venator, hearken diligently to my wordes: or watche of make well what I saie.
Venosus, a, um, full of beines, or that hath great beynes.
Vena, an haue in Englande called Bistowe.
Ventanea, thynges that seme to bee dangerous, and yet therin is no danger.
Venter, tris, m. g. the bealy or panche, sometyme
it is taken for the stomache.
Ventrem facere dicitur paries, whan it is olde,
and bendeth our the foundation redy to fall.
Ventrem perferre, to be with chylde.
Sistere ventrem, to stoppe the laske.
Mollire ventrem, to lose the bealy.
Vacare ventri, to geue hym selfe to bealy there.
Crepit mihi venter, my bealy crotleth.
Ventilabrum, i, n. g. a fanne or shabell, whers with wynde is made.
Ventilatio, onis, a fannynge or winnowyng.
Ventilator, oris, m. g. a faner or wynnower of corne.
Ventilator natura, he that searcheth with great studie the causes of thynges naturall.
Ventilatores, iuglars or traffic deceyners.
Ventilo, aui, are, to gather wynde, to fanne or wynnow corne, to tourne out of one hande into an other.
Frumentum ventilare, to wynnower corne.
Vinum ventilare, to let the wyne take ayre.
Ventito, aui, are, to come often.
Ventro, aui, are, to come often.
Ventrositas, atis, f. g. wyndynesse.
Ventrosus, a, um, wyndy, also lyght.
Gloria ventosa, bayne gloire.
Homo ventosissimus, a bayne and lyght pees-son, that boasteth hymselfe outragiously.
Ventosa regio, a wyndy countrey.
Ventosus follis, a belowe that bloweth wynde.
Ventulus, li, m. g. a littell wynde.
Ventulum sic facio, fanne or make wynde on this facion.
Ventus, ti, m. g. wynde.
Ventus operam dat, the wynde bloweth a good roole.
Vento viuere, to liue by the wynde, a pro-uerbe, applied to them, whiche haue no substance to lyue on.

Reti ventos venatur, he endeuoreth to catche an hare with a taber.
Venus popularis, bayne gloire, ppeple of the people.
Venus popularem querere in rem aliqua, to seeke for the praise of the people in doynge a
thyng.
Ocyor uentis, swifter then the wyndes.
Secundus ventus, a prosperous wynde.
Abire in ventos, to banishe awaie.
Bacchans ventus, a ragynge wynde.
Committere vitam ventis, to saile on the sea,
to take the sea.
Concipere ventum, to gather wynde.
Nascitur ventus, the wynde ryseth.
Cum ventu posuere, whan the wynde was laied.
Folle premere ventos, to blowe wynde with the belowes.
Vita recessit in ventos, he died.
Saut mare ventis, the sea is troublous by reason of the great wynde.
Sinit venti, the wyndes be laied.
Secundante vento, with a prosperous wynde.
Spirabit ventus, the wynde will blowe.
Ventrale, lis, n. g. a stomacher, an apyon, or of ther garment, that couereth the bealy.
Ventriosus, ventricosus, and Ventrosus, a, um, that hath a great bealy or panche.
Ventriculus, the stomache.
Ventulus, the ambassadour that Turnus sent to Diomedes.
Venum, is bled for the syppe of Venio.
V. num ire, to be sold.
Venundo. venundedi, dare, to sell.
Venundatio, onis, byng and sellynge.
Venus, veneris, called goddess of loue: some-tyme teacherie, also carnall appetyte, also beau-tie, by whiche a man is lered to loue.
Veneris dicendi, eloquence or grace in wytyng or speakynge.
Venus, is sometyme taken for a caste at dise.
Venusia, a towne in Apulia.
Venustas, atis, f. g. beaultie, ppeple of women:
sometyme a dilectable pronunciation of speeche, a grace and pleasantnesse in speakynge.
Venuste, ppeple, pleasantly, amiably.
Venustus, a, um, somewhat fayre.
Venustus, a, um, faire, delectable, pleasant.
Venusto, aui, are, to ornate or make beautifull.
Veprecula, la, f. g. a littell byemle.
Vepres, pris, m. & f. g. a brier.
Vepretum, ti, n. g. a place full of byers.
Ver, veris, n. g. the springe of the yere.
Primo vere, and Vere nouo, in the beginning of the springe.
Veracitas, atis, f. g. truthe in speeche.
Veratrum, tri, n. g. an herbe, called also Belles-borus.
Verax, acis, om. g. that saileth truthe.

Verbalis, le, that descendeth of a verbe.

Verbasum, ci, neu. ge. an herbe, wherof be two kyndes: of which one is supposed to bee Phos in o<sup>r</sup> longe wo<sup>r</sup>te: the other is supposed to bee that, which is called primrose. Some doe thinke it to be rosescampin.

Verbenaca, ca, Meruin.

Verbena, na, f. g. an herbe called Meruin: some tyme Verbenæ are all leaues sodainely plucked vp, to garnish the houses of churches, or to make garlandes.

Verbenarius, was one of the ambasadours, sent from the Romans vnto the<sup>r</sup> enemies, which ware on his heade a garlande of Meruin.

Verbigerō, aui, are, for Verba facere, to talke.

Verber, beris, m. g. a small longe stick of yarde, a wanne to beate with.

Verbera, be sometye taken for stripes.

Castigare verberibus, to chastise, to beate.

Lingua verbera, chydynge, ratyng wo<sup>r</sup>des.

Verberalis, le, wo<sup>r</sup>thy to be beaten.

Verberatio, onis, f. g. and Verberatus, us, m. g. a beating.

Verberatus, is taken sometye for a persuasio<sup>n</sup>, motion of sterpyng: as,

Tuo verberatu, by the persuasion.

Verberatus, a, um, beaten, striken, hurte.

Vinea verberata grandine, vines beaten and hurte with hagle.

Verberatus, a, um, wo<sup>r</sup>thy to be beaten.

Verberito, aui, are, to beate often.

Verbero, aui, are, to beate, to punish, some tyme to chyd.

Verberare cogitationis conuicio, to blame or rebuke one in his mynde.

Ora verberat manu, he dasheth hym about the mowthe of face with his hande.

Verbero, onis, m. ge. a person wo<sup>r</sup>thy punishement, the reprobhe of all scravautes.

Verbose, an aduerbe signifying with many wo<sup>r</sup>des, at large.

Verbositas, atis, f. g. muche talkyng or speaking.

Verbosus, a, um, full of wo<sup>r</sup>des, that hath many wo<sup>r</sup>des, a great tangle of talker.

Verbosus ad te scripsi, I wryte to you at lengthe or moze largely.

Verbulum, li, n. g. a littell wo<sup>r</sup>de.

Verbum, bi, n. g. a wo<sup>r</sup>de. also a whole sentence or sayng, a prouerbe.

Verba ad rem conferre, to doe as he saith.

Verba mortuo facere, to speake to a deade man, a prouerbe when a man loseth his labour.

Verba dare, to dectue.

Verbi causa, as by example.

Verbi gratia, idem.

Verba istæ sunt, these are but wo<sup>r</sup>des.

Verbis meis salutem dico, salute hym in my name.

De exclusione verbum nullum, there is not one wo<sup>r</sup>de spoken of the shuttyng out.

Si verbo tritauerit, if he trippe or faple in one wo<sup>r</sup>de.

Magnifica verba, topall and losse wo<sup>r</sup>des, bragging wo<sup>r</sup>des.

Abstine verbo invidia, without disdeigne be it spoken.

Cogere verba in pedes, to wryte verses.

Conferre verba in pauca, to tell briefely of in fewe wo<sup>r</sup>des.

Quid opus est verbis? What nedeth many wo<sup>r</sup>des?

Exprimere de vel e verbo, to translate wo<sup>r</sup>de for wo<sup>r</sup>de.

Perdere verba, to speake in wayne.

Reddere verbum verbo, or verbum pro verbo, to translate wo<sup>r</sup>de for wo<sup>r</sup>de.

Eisdem verbis reddere quod cogitauimus, to recite a chynge by the same wo<sup>r</sup>des that we diuised in our myndes.

Vtinam istud verbum ex animo & vere diceres, wolde god thou didste speake this thinge wryth thynne herte and vnfeignidly.

Quid istuc verbi est? what meane these wo<sup>r</sup>des? what meaneth he by to sayng?

Bona verba quæso, ye woll not doe as ye saie I truste: be good vnto vs I praye you: geue vs faple wo<sup>r</sup>des I beseeche you.

Vercellæ, a citee in Liguria, nigh to the mounstapnes called Alpes.

Vere, truly, in dedde.

Hoc ibi fit, vbi non vere viuunt, this happeneth amonge them that lyue not without dissimulation.

Verecunde, shamefastly.

Verecundia, æ, f. g. shamefastnesse, bashfulness, demurenesse, modestie.

A verecundia, hoc est, præ verecundia.

Verecundia in rogando, bashfulness in desyring.

In verecundiam adducere, to make abashed, or ashamed, to put out of countenance.

Verecundor, aus, ari, to be ashamed, to bee bashfull or modest.

Verecundus, a, um, shamefast, demure, full of reuerence, bashfull, modest.

Verba parum verecunda, wo<sup>r</sup>des dishonest and vncleanly.

Verecunda translatio, a translation not to farre sette.

Veredarius, rij, m. ge. a messenger that rideth by poste.

Veredus, di, m. g. a lyght horse, a huntynge nag, a swifte geldynge.

Verenda, orum, ne. ge. plu. places in a man and woman, whiche without shame maie not be named.

Verendus, a, um, to bee feared or dyedde, to bee reuerenced.

Verens, entis, that feareth or dyedeth.

Vereor, reris, reri, to feare as the chylde dooth the father with loue: Timere, to feare as the slave of hote dooth his maister, without loue.

Vereor dicere, I dare not tell.

Vereor abs te, I am asfede of the, lest thou wylte doe me some displeasure.

Quum huic veritus est optimæ adolescenti facere iniuriam, sens he hath taken remoyse. æ.

Conspicuum patris vereri, to bee asfede to come in his fathers sight.

Vos mihi veremini, you be asfede on my behalf.

A quo supplicium verebatur, of whome he feared lest he should be punished.

Vereriannonæ caritatem, to feare dearthe of coyne.

Vereor vt placari possit, I feare that he can not be pleased or qualified.

Dies hic mihi vt sit satis ad agendum vereor, I feare this whole daie wyl not bee enough for me to dispatche this matter in.

Veretrum, tri, n. g. a mans yarde.

Vergilia, the seven sterres, called also Pleiades.

Vergo, versi, or verxi, vergere, to deelyne or boowe downe, to bende towarde.

In meridiem vergit, it lieth towarde the south.

Ad imum vergere, to synke to the bottom.

Vergente iam die, id est, inclinatio, in the after noone when it dyewe towarde night.

Vergobretus, ti, a maiestrate amonge the people called Herdi in Fraunce.

Veridicus, a, um, that telleth truth.

Verifico, aui, are, to verifie, as lawiers do saie, to auerre.

Veriloquium, quii, n. ge. the true interpretation of a wo<sup>r</sup>de.

Verimonia, æ, idem quod veritas, an olde wo<sup>r</sup>de.

Verisimilis, le, lyke to be true.

Mihi quidem non sit verisimile, I thinke it not lyke to be true.

Verisimiliter, lykely.

Veritanus ager, a fiede diuided amonge the people, so that euery man maie haue a porcion.

Veritas, tatis, f. g. trouthe, veritee.

Ex veritate, accorpyng to the truth.

Cultor veritatis, a magntener of the truth.

Veriuerbium, a true tale.

Vermiculatim, an aduerbe, signifying in small pieces.

Vermiculatio, onis, f. g. a corrupcion with wo<sup>r</sup>mes, wo<sup>r</sup>me eatynge or byedding of wo<sup>r</sup>mes in frutes or trees.

Vermiculus, li, m. g. a littell wo<sup>r</sup>me.

Vermiculator, aris, ari, to bee full of vermine or wo<sup>r</sup>mes, to bee wo<sup>r</sup>me eaten: to make thecker wo<sup>r</sup>ke with small pieces coloured vpon tables, bordes or pauementes.

Vermiculata opera, wo<sup>r</sup>kes whiche are of small pieces of diuers colours, wherein are set out sundry pictures, lyke as we see in tapestrye tables or counters.

Vermina, orum, n. ge. plu. prickynge in the bo<sup>r</sup>die, that is someth wo<sup>r</sup>mes were cutte a fundre,

Vereor

Verminalio, onis, f. g. the disease of the wo<sup>r</sup>mes propely in cattell: also a disease in the heade, when one thynketh his byame is gnawen with wo<sup>r</sup>mes. also the greefe of pegne in the bodie.

Vermino, aui, are, to haue wo<sup>r</sup>mes. also to be pruned in the bealie.

Verminosus, a, um, full of wo<sup>r</sup>mes, or that wherein wo<sup>r</sup>mes are.

Vermis, is, m. g. a wo<sup>r</sup>me, also it is a fische in the ryuer of Ganges, whiche is in lengthe. lx. cubites, and is blew in colour, whiche hath suche strength, that when Dypphanes come to the water to drinke, he wyl take one of them by the nose, and plucke hym into hym.

Verna, æ, com. gen. a bonde man or bonde woman, boyn in the house of the lord, of his bondman or bondwoman.

Vernaculus, i, um, that is boyn at home in ones owne house, all that taketh begynnyng in ones owne countrey, as,

Vernacula lingua, the countrey language, the comon speeche, peculiar of propye to a countrey or house.

Vernaculi, be also men of yll maners and language, whiche vse to flatter, or to speake in rebuke.

Vernacula putatio, cuttynge of byncs in the spyngne tyme.

Vernacula volucres, birdes that bee in ones owne countrey.

Vernaculus mos, the fashion of ones countrey or citee.

Vernalis, le, pertainyng to the spyngne of the yere. also scutle.

Vernaliter, lyke a slave or bondman.

Cælum vernans, a pleasant and goodly ayer.

Vernatio, onis, f. g. the olde skynne of an adder, it is sometye taken for age.

Vernilis, le, scutle, saucie, malaperte.

Vernilias, atis, f. g. flatterie, scowynge.

Verniliter, lewdly, flatterynghly, scowynghly.

Vernilitas, olde writers vied for a flatterer.

Verno, aui, are, to spyngne as herbes dooe, also to lyngne as birdes doe.

Vernula, æ, f. g. a diminutue of Verna.

Vernus, a, um, of the spyngne tyme, iustie, fresh as the spyngne tyme.

Vernum tempus, the spyngne tyme.

Vero, truly, verily, sometye it doeth affirme that whiche foloweth, also but y<sup>t</sup>.

Vero, is moste commonly saynged with these wo<sup>r</sup>des, Neg, Nec, Tum, Age, Sane, iam, enim, At, Quasi, Scilicet, Nunc.

¶ In vero, a manner of answerynge, and signifieth Protesto, aut certe.

Ego vero ita facio, truly I doe euen so in dedde.

Ego vero memini, in dedde I do remembre it.

Est vero ita, it is euen so in dedde.

Et illi ostendisti & vero etiam mihi, and to me also.

¶ Iam

Iam vero & prouincias, yea and nowe also the prouinces.

Id vero pernegat, that he denieth plainely.

Ille vero, for lmo vero, or ille etiam.

Ille vero non modo loquentur sed. &c. they doe not onely speake, but. &c.

Sane vero, or lta vero, lronice.

Vero, is also a riuer in Wiskeap.

Vero, aui, are to saie trueth, to verifie.

Veromandui, Vermandore in Fraunce.

Verona, a noble citee in Italie in the countrey called Marchia Carulina, not farr from the mountaines, where Catullus the poete, and Plinius were bozne.

Verones, people dwelling nigh to the ryuer of Nero.

Veronensis, se, and Veronius, a, um, of Verona.

Verpa, Marcell bseth for Mentula.

Verpus, i, m. g. he that hath no thimne. it is also the middle finger.

Verpi, be also iwes.

Verra, an alter at Rome, wherat they praied that children shoulde not be wponge bozne

Verrea, orum, n. g. plu. feastes ordeigned by Cierres

Verres, a Romayne, whom Cicero accused.

Verres, ris, m. gen. an hogge vngelded, a raine boze.

Verricula, olde wpters bled for Articulat.

Verriculatus, a, um, made lyke a dragge nette.

Verriculum, li n. g. a nette called a dragge.

Verrinus, a, um, of a boze.

Verro, verri, and verri, verere, to drawe awaie, also to make cleane, to swepe awaie.

Verruca, a, f. ge. an hyllocke or knappe on an hill, also a wart, olde wpters toke it for an high place.

Verrucaria, a, f. g. wartwozt.

Verrucosus, a, um, one that hath wartes.

Verrucosifoloz, roouge places, full of hils lockes.

Verrucula, la, f. g. a littell warte, also an hils locke.

Verranco, aui, are, to toune of change a thyng into better.

Versatilis, thynges that are tourned or wounden one aboute an other, as two cordes or two stiches wounden together. also pylars made of the same facion.

Versatilis, le, that turneth or that maie be turned.

Versatilis mola, an hande myll.

Ingenium ad omne versatilis, a witte redy and prompt to be applyed to all maner of thynges.

Versatio, onis, a turnyng.

Versatus, a, um, turned, stered.

Verficolor, oris, om. gene. changeable, or that chaungeth colour. also of sundye colours.

Verficolores maculae, spoites of dyuers colours.

Verficolorius, a, um, any thyng turned out of his naturall colour. also that is of dyuers colours mixt together.

Verfculus, i, m. g. a littell verse, also a lyne.

Verfificatio, onis, a makynge of verses.

Verficator, oris, a verfifier.

Verfifico, aui, are, to make verses.

Verfificus, a, um, that maketh verses.

Verfipellis, le, that chaungeth his skynne often tymes, also a craftie felowe that wylt toune as often as he listeth.

Verfo, aui, are, to turne, to turne often, to delude, to trouble, to disquiete, to steere as one steereth lycour in a pott.

Verfar animum cupido regni, he studieth, thinketh or deuiseh how to be kynge, or he is verie sollicitous of carefull to opteine the kingdom.

Animum muliebrem versare in omnes partes, to tempte the womā by all maner of waies.

Authores versare, to reade often good and thours.

Dolos versare, to deuise howe to deceiue one.

Versare in corde, to thynke, to imagine, to deuise of cast in ones mynde.

Oves versare, to pasture sheepe.

Versare diu, quid terre reculent, to thynke longe what they wylt refuse of susteyne.

Versare testes, to examyne witnesses in diuers maner of waies.

Quomodo me versauisti? how hast thou deuised me?

Animos militares versabat, he affited of proued the coulidiours myndes diuers waies.

Consilia noua versare pectore, to imagine of inuent in his mynde newe deuises.

Versare se, querit quid agat, he tourneth hym selfe in and out. &c.

Terram versare, to labour the grounde.

Secum in animis versare, to caste of considre in his mynde.

Verba versare, to consydre and scanne the woordes.

Pecunias non ex fide versare, id est, non fideliter tractare.

Verfor, aris, ari, to haunte, to be oftentymes in a place, to be conuersant, or occupied in a thyng or matter.

Mihi ante oculos dies noctesq; versaris, I thinke vpon you daie and night, or me thinketh I see you bothe daie and nyght.

Versatur circa res omnes rhetorica, Rhetorike medleth with euery thyng.

In acie versari, to be in battayle.

In discrimine versari, to be in dainger.

In munere suo versari, to bee busie in his office.

In re aliqua versari, to treate of some matter.

Inter manus versari, to be often tymes handled.

Cuius in animo versatur, in whose minde it is.

In artibus ingenuis versari, to exercise hym selfe muche in the studie of liberal sciences.

In errore versari, to be in an error.

In errore verborum versari, to erre and faple

In woordes, abusyng one for an other.

Difficili in loco versor, it is an hard or difficile matter that I am in hand with, or that I entreate of.

Nescis quantis in malis versor miser, you knowe not in howe great troubles I am scely poore creature.

In mente & cogitatione aliqua versari, to cast and reuolue thynges in his mynde.

In ore vulgi atq; in communibus prouerbiis versatur, all the people speake of it, and haue it in a prouerbe.

In questione aliqua versari, to entreate or speake of any question.

In suis summis versatur, he hath muche moneys of his owne, and oweth nothing.

In timore versari, to be asfere.

Verforia, the nedle of a compasse vscd in a ship, to know the coastes.

Verforiam capere, to retorne.

Versura, a, f. g. a turnyng, it is also whan a mā bozoweth of one to paie his debtes to an other.

Versuram facere, to bozowe a greater summe of one, to paie to an other a lesser.

Versura, is also the corgne or corgner of an house or walle wherat men dooe turne. it is also whan the hoxes or oxen doe tourne in a carte or plough.

Versuram soluere, to change creditours, as to bozow of one to paie an other, some dooe reade, Versura soluere, id est, Versura facta, as alienum soluere.

Versus, a, um, of Verro, byrshed, swepte, drawn.

Versus, a, um, of Verto, turned.

Versus, us, m. g. a verse. Sometyme an order. also a longe, sometyme a lyne.

Facere & conficere versus, to make verses.

Versus remorum, an order of oyes.

Versus arborum, a rewe of trees.

Versus, is also in lande, an hundreth foote euery waie.

Versus, a preposition, towards.

Brundisium versus, towards Brundise.

Versus, is sometyme ioygned with an other preposition: as, ad occidentem versus, towards the west.

Versus, is sometyme an aduerbe: as, Sursum versus, bywarde,

Quoquo versus, euery waie.

Vtroq; versus, on bothe the sydes.

Vndiq; versus, on euery syde.

Versute, wplyt, subtilly.

Versutia, a, f. g. wyltnesse.

Versutiloquus, a, um, a craftie speaker.

Versutus, a, um, mutable, variable, often turnyng, wply, craftie, quickly turned to lxxvss nesse, experte.

Verragus, i, m. g. an hounde that wylt hunte by hym selfe, and byng home his gaine.

Vertebra, a, f. ge. of Vertibulum, li, neu. gen.

a place of ioynte in the body, where the bones dooe not mete, but are knit together in such wise with sinewes, that they maie turne the more lgghtly.

Vertebratus, a, um, made in foyme of suche places of ioyntes.

Vertex, & Vortex, icis, m. ge. a whylewende, also a whylepole in a water, the crowne or top of the head, the topp of euery thyng.

A vertice ad calcem, from the top to the toe, from the hyghest to the lowest, from the begynnyng to the endyng.

Vertex arboris, the top of a tree.

Vertices, be also poles imagined in the firmament, also the hookes that doozes hange vpon.

Verticula, a, f. ge. called also Vrtica.

Vertibulum, idem quod Vertebra.

Verticilla, a, f. ge. of fies.

Verticillatus, a, um, knit together as the ioyntes of the body be, apte to turne.

Verticillum, li, n. ge. of Verticillus, li, m. gen. a little wherue.

Verticosus, that turneth rounde lyke a whylewende.

Verticulum, li, n. g. a wherue, whiche is a round thyng set on a spyndell to cause it to turne.

Vertiginosus, a, um, gyddie bzaied.

Vertigo, ginis, form. gener. a sickness of the head, wherein it seemeth to a man, that he seeth thynges turnyng, a whylewende, a turnyng rodd, gyddiness.

Vertigus, us, m. g. a whylewende about.

Vertius, a man of great strength.

Verto, ti, tere, to turne, to drawe, to translate or interpret out of one tongue into an other, to consydre, also absolutely to chaunce, to come to passe or effecte.

Vertere terga, to rene awaie, to flee in battayle.

Vertere solum, to goe from one countrey in to an other to dwell.

Vertere, for Versuram facere.

Vertere stulticia, to repute foly in a thyng.

Vertere vitio, to put the blame in one.

Quis erit vitio qui id non vertat tibi? who is it that will not blame the for that.

Agram vertere, to till the grounde.

Bene tibi vertat, god speede you well.

Dij bene vertant, I praye god tourne it to good.

In crimen vertere, to blame a thyng.

In discrimine verti dicuntur res, whan they be in daunger.

In fugam vertere, to put to flight.

In rem suam vertere, to turne it to his profit.

In religionem vertere, to be scrupulous.

Male vertit res pecuaria mihi, I am an ill marchant of cattell, or I am vnlucke in buyng of cattell.

Omnia vertere, id est, euertere, to tourne by sette downe.

Ad luxuriam vertere vsum alicuius rei, to abuse a thyng to voluptuousnesse and pleasure.
Si res melius vertisset, if the thyng had come better to passe.

In crimen vertere, quod gloriæ esse debet, to blame one for that he ought to be praised.
Ad se vertere parte alicuius rei, to take parte of the thyng to his owne use.

Spes ciuitatis in eo vertitur, all the hope that the cite hath, resteth in this poynte.

In sese faciem alterius vertere, to disguise him selfe lyke an other man.

Stylum in tabulis vertere, to cancell or strike out that is writtten in his rekenyng booke or register.

Vertere Platonem, Aristotelem, &c. to translate. &c.

Vertunt res male, the thynges come ill to passe.

In perniciem alicuius vertere dicitur res aliqua, when it turneth to his great displeasure.

In contumeliam suam vertere, quod alius gesserit, to interpret a thyng that an other man hath doen to be in the dyspote of him.

In dorsum vertere, to turne on the backe, to late wyght.

In lapos vertere homines, to transfourme men into woulfes.

Vertere aliquid in locum, to turne a thyng to a ieste, to make a sporte or game of it.

In inuidiam vertit se gloria, glorie and praise begynneth to turne into hate and riuie.

Vnius potestate vertentur omnia, all thynges shall be ruled and ordered by one man.

In priuatum vertere pecuniam, to turne money to his owne ppyrte use.

Tribus in rebus veritur omnis virtus, all vertue consisteth in three thynges.

Iram in aliquem vertere, to tourne his displeasure toward one, to be angrie with one.

In voluntate Philippi id totum vertitur, all that matter consisteth in the will or pleasure of Philipp.

In se oculos omnium vertere, to cause all men to looke on hym.

Quo me vertam nescio, I can not tell whither to turne me.

Quoquo reverteris, whiche wate so euer ye turne you.

In eo res veritur, the whole matter consisteth in this poynte.

Vertere sententiam retro, to change his opinion.

Salus mea in eo vertitur, my lyfe or safegarde consisteth in this poynte.

Vertorriga, a towne of Spayne.

Vertumnalia, the solemnities of Vertumnus, which was kept in Octobre.

Vertumnus, a god, supposed of the painims to haue the gouernance of mens myndes, or after some of byng and sellng.

Iniquo vertumno natus, he that knoweth not how to gouerne or rule him selfe.

Veru, n. gen. indeclinabile in singulari, in plurali, hæc verua, a spytte or broche. also a wasp on lyke a broche.

Veruactum, i. n. g. lande that hath lien long, turned or salowed in the springe tyme.

Veruat, for Circundat, it compasseth.

Veruculum, li. n. ge. a littell broche, also an instrument of golde smithes, like a little broche.

Verueccus, lyke a wreather.

Verueccius, a, um, of a wreather.

Veruex, ecis, m. g. a wreather shepe.

Veruina, a longe darte or iauelyne.

Verulani, a people in Itale.

Verum, a conjunction, but yet.

Verum etiam, but also.

Verum enimvero, but yet truly.

Veruntamen, yet not withstandng.

Verus, a, um, true, substaual, vncoorupted, god, iust, profitable.

Verum vis dicam: wyl ye that I shall tell you truly?

Verum modo, so that it be true.

Verum, or Verum id est, it is true.

Color verus, a good naturall colour.

Nuptiæ veræ, true marriages, that be not feigned.

Verum? Iridentis interrogatio, is it true that ye saie?

Veri similitudo, likely hode of truth.

Simile vero videbatur, it seemed to be true.

Verutum, i. n. g. a casting darte with a fringe.

Verutus, a, um, armed with dartes.

Vesania, æ, f. g. furie, wodnesse, lacke of reason.

Vesania, vesanis, nini, ire, to be in a furie, to be madde, to rage.

Vasiente vento, when the wynde began to rage, or blow.

Vesanius, a, um, cruel, furiose, wood, madde out of his wytte.

Vescor, sceris, sci, to eate, to vse, Actius vseth it to see.

Vesci ex manu, to take meate out of ones hande.

Aura vesci, to lye by the aper.

Vix sunt vescendo, men maie scantly abyde to eate them.

Tui oculi vescuntur, id est, vident.

Vesca, browffe, leaues wheron brades be fed in wynter.

Vesculus, a, um, berate leane, ill kept.

Vescus, a, um, all thyng that maie be eaten, also little or leane.

Vesceus, an hill by Naples, out of the whiche is such alwaies fyre and smoke lyke Actna.

Vesica, æ, f. g. a bladder.

Vesicaria, an herbe, whiche apothecaries dooe call Alhakengie.

Vesicula, æ, f. g. a little bladder.

Vespa, æ, f. g. a waspe.

Vespa;

Vespa, thet whiche dooe burie dead corpes.

Vespasianus, the name of an emperour of Rome.

Vesper, speris, or Vesperus, i, m. g. and once in Itale, f. g. the euening of euentyde, also the euening sterre.

Primo vespere, as soone as euening came.

Vesper, a, um, of the euening.

Vespera, æ, f. g. idem quod Vesper.

Vesperascit, it waxyth night.

Vesperis, or Vesperis, an aduerbe, signifying late, at the ende of the daie, in the euening.

Vesperies, a towne in Spayne.

Vesperalis, le, of or belonging to the euening.

Vesperalis plaga, id est, occidentalis.

Vesperina, æ, f. g. olde wyters used for Cana, supper.

Vespero, aui, are, to be euening.

Vespertilio, onis, m. g. a remouse or bathe.

Vespertinus, in the ablative case, aduerbially, in the euening.

Vespertinus, a, um, that whiche is dooen in the euening.

Vesperugo, inis, f. g. idem quod Vesper, the sterre called also Venus.

Vespices, places thicke of bushes.

Vespilo, onis, m. g. he that carrieth dead bodics to be buried.

Vestones, Campayne in Fraunce.

Vesta, the mother of Saturnus, also his daughter, whiche for hir chastite was honoured for a goddess. Sometyme it is taken for pure fyre.

Vestalis, le, pertaining to Vesta.

Vestales, were virgins that ministred to Vesta, whiche were chosen betwene the age of .vi. and .x. yeeres, and .xxx. yeeres they remayned virgins, afterwarde it was leasull for them to marie.

Vester, a, um, pours.

Vestiarium, i, n. ge. a warderob or presse where garments be laied. Sometyme it is taken for the garment selfe.

Vestiarus, i, m. ge. the peoman of the robes, or he that kepeth the warderobe, also he that maketh or sellet garments.

Vestiarus, a, um, belonging to garments, or wherein garments are kepte.

Vestibulum, li, n. g. a bodie place without the doze, where men doe tarie while they koecke, and vntill the doze be opened, a porche.

Vestibulum templi, the church porche.

Vestibulum sepulchri, the entrie into the sepulchre.

Vestibulum Sicilia, id est, ingressus.

Vestibulum artis ingredi, to begyn to learne any arte or science.

Vesticeps, cipis, m. g. a ponge man, whiche becsynneth to haue a bearde.

Vestigabundus, he that seeketh muche.

Vestigator, oris, m. g. he that seeketh for a thyng, a hunter, one that traceth by the steppes.

Vestigium, i, n. ge. the printe of a mans foote in the grounde, a foote steppe, a trace or tracke.

Sometyme the sole of the foote. it is taken also for the signe or token of any thyng that is doen.

A vestigio ad vericem, from the sole of the foote to the crowne of the heade.

Vestigium equi, an horse shoe.

Vestigium corporis, the printe where the body hath lien.

Consequi vestigijs, to folowe one foote by foote.

Vestigium facere in loco aliquo, to enter into, or to goe in a place.

Fallere vestigium dicitur locus lubricus, to make ones foote to slippe.

Harere in vestigio, to stande still in a place, and not to moue his foote.

Vbi vestigium impresserit, where he doeth set his foote, or make the printe of his foote.

Curfus sui vestigia nunq insecuntur, they neuer turne backe, but goe on forth straight.

Ingressi vestigijs patris, to folowe his fathers steppes.

Insistere in vestigio, to stande in a place.

In quo vestigio postemum insinisset, where he stood or had set his foote laste.

Quibus vestigijs primum insitit, in the place where I sette my foote fyrst, or where I began fyre to stande.

Mouere vestigium, to departe, to goe awaie.

Occubere in vestigio, to die in the place where he standeth.

Persequi vestigia alicuius, to folowe or trace one by the printe of his foote, to pursue and folowe foote by foote.

Persequi aliquem vestigijs ipsius, to folowe ones steppes, and goe the same way that he did.

also to accuse one by tokens or wytynges, that he hath leste behynde hym.

Vbicunque posuit vestigia, where so euer he set his foote, by all the waie that he passed.

Premere vestigia leuiter, to sette his fecte so softly that the printe maie scant be seene.

Relinquere vestigium auaritiæ, to leaue a token of his couctousnesse.

Spargere vestigia fugæ, to flee toward dyuers coastes, that they maie not be easly pursued.

Tenere vestigia inconcussa, by translation to abyde firmly by his opinion.

Omnibus vestigijs indagare, to serche with all diligence to know the truth of a matter.

Nullum vestigium ciuitatis est, there is no signe or token of a cite or common weale.

Vestigo, aui, are, to seke, to seke out by the print of ones foote, to trace, to serche diligently.

Odore vestigare, to smell out.

Vestimentum, ti, ne, ge. a vesture or garment: it containeth also counterpoyntes, carpettes, thesses, &c.

Vestio, people in Itale.

Vestio, iul, ire, to apparell, to adorne, to heur.

Pilo vestiri, to be couered with heare.

Hyems

V ANTE E.

Hyems vestit montem gelu, the wynter tyme concreth the hyl wth froste.
Vestiplica, a maiden, whiche laieth up hyr maye stresse garmentes.
Vestis, is, f. g. a besture, a garmente. sometyme it is put for a bearde.
Aurea vestis, a golden bearde.
Induere vestem, to put on a garment.
Vestis stragula, a couered, counterpoynte, or suche lyke.
Resolacere cinctas vestes, to vndoe his clothes.
Concinuare vestem, to make a garment mete for one.
Vestispicus, ci, m. g. & Vestispica, ca, f. ge. he or she, whiche kepeth theyr maisters, or waite stresse apparayle.
Vestissimus, a, um, best apparyled, best clad.
Vestitus, a, um, apparayled, cladde, arraied.
Male vestitus, ill arraied.
Mediocriter vestitus, meancly apparayled.
Genas vestitus, haupng a bearde.
Montes vestiti syluis, hilles couered with woodden.
Vestitus, us, m. g. apparayle, raimet. also apartaining, trim yng, the ornament of any thing.
Vestrapie, & vestropie, of your owne.
Vestras, trais, yours.
Vesulus, a mountayne in Liguria by the Alpes, at the roote wherof the ryuer called Padus, or Po, springeth out.
Vesunius, or Vesenus, an hille in Campania, four myles from the cite of Naples, wheron groweth plentie of vines and olives: but the toppe therof is barrayne, by reaso of fyre, whiche sometime clyeth out of the earth. it is also called Vesulus.
Vetans, anis, lettyng, forbidding, defendyng.
Vetacio, onis, a lettyng, a forbidding.
Vetacurus, non vetiturus.
Veter, veteris, om. g. olde. Veterior, veterius, elder. Veterimus, a, um, eldest.
Veteramentarius sutor, a cobler or bodcher.
Veteranus, a, um, auncient, olde.
Veteranus hostis, an auncient enemye. Milites veterani, olde souldiours, whiche hadde been twenty yeres full exercised in the warres.
Veteranus, sometyme signifyeth hym that had serued a whole yere in the citee. Sometime hym, that had longe continued in warres, an olde souldiour.
Veterana mancipia, slaves or bonde men, that haue serued in the citee a yere or more. Nouitia, they that haue not serued a yere full.
Veterasco, scere, to waxe olde.
Veterator, oris, m. gen. a craftie beggler, a false deceituer, a subtil knaue, that hath longe practised falschod.
Veterator aduocatus, a crafty attourney, whiche by longe vse and practise, knoweth all the wyles and shiftes in the lawe.
Veteratorie, crafty, wily.

V ANTE E.

Veteratorius, a, um, craftie, subtil, wily, de-ceitfull.
Veteres, men of olde tyme passed.
Veterinus, a, um, that brately or caryeth bouz deys.
Veterina animalia, bestes, whiche doe serue for bourdeyne, as hoxes, mullettes, and asses.
Veterinarius, ri, m. ge. he that lettech hoxes or mules to hye, a muletour, a hoxe colter, a hachenev man.
Veterinarius, a, um, belongenge to hoxes and mules.
Veterinarius medicus, a hoxe leche or ferrouer.
Veterinaria medicina, the scasse of science of hoxe leches.
Veterus, ni, m. g. a disease, ingendrynge in the body, a continuall desyre of slapyng, by reason of to muche rest & idleness. also slouthfulness, suggishness, drowynesse, to muche slepe.
In veterno pinguefuit, in longe and continu
all slepe they waxe fatte.
Veterus ciuitatem occupauit, the citee was all geuen to slawthe and idleness.
Veterosus, a, um, that slepeth to muche, sug-gish, slouthfull, drowne, that hath no taste to bestere hym, but rather to sit still, as opprest with continuall slumbye.
Vetere, au, are, to make olde.
Veto, taut, ratum, and Vetui, vetitum, tarc, to prohibite, to forbidde, to commaunde that a thyng be not done. also to litle.
Vetare & prohibere.
Quid vetat? what letteth?
Vetitus, a, um, forbidden, fofended.
Vetum, ti, n. g. a thyng forbidden.
Vetones, people in Spayne, whiche fyrst founde
the herbe called Betonica.
Vetonica, an herbe called Betayne.
Vetulonia, a place in Tuscina, called also Viterbo.
Vetulus, a, um, a dimin. of Verus.
Equis vetulus, an olde hoxe.
Vetus, teris, om. g. olde, auncient. it is somestyme referred to rebuyng and reproung.
Vetus verbum, and Vetus adagium, an olde prouerbe.
Vetus, is sometyme vled for cariosus, olde and stinkyng.
Vetus poeta, the olde rusty and rotten poete.
Veteres nostri, for maiores nostri. Plin. lib.
20. 36. cap. 7.
Vetustas, atis, f. g. auncient, oldenesse, antiquitee.
Ex vetustate verba sumere, to vse auncient
wordes.
Vetustate abiit memoria, it is so longe agone that it is out of remembrance.
Vetustate possessionis se defendunt, they let for them selfe that they haue had so longe possession of it.
Vetustas & consuetudo, olde acquaintance and familiaritee.
Vetuste, aduerbium, vetustius, vetustissime, auncie

V ANTE I.

aunciently, more aunciently, most aunciently.
Vetustissime in vsu sunt, they bee in vse and haue bene a very great or long tyme.
Vetustus, a, um, olde, auncient.
Vetusta amicitia, olde amitie and frendship.
Mos vetustus, an auncient facion or custome.
Vetustissimus, a, um, the eldest, most olde or auncient.
Vetustissimus liberorum, id est, natu maxi-mus, the eldest.
Veuina, a longe darte.
Vexabundus, a, um, that troubleth or vexeth
other.
Vexatio, onis, vexation, grece, tourmente, trouble.
Vexator, oris, maf. gene. he that vexeth or troubleth other.
Vexatus, a, um, vexed, troubled, greened.
Vexillarius, ri, maf. gen. the baner or standerde bearer.
Vexillatio, onis, for. gen. a companie of men of warre vnder one enseigne, after some a wyng of hoxemen.
Vexillum, li, neu. ge. a baner, standerde, or ens-seigne.
Vexo, au, are, to vex or trouble, to tolle & turmole hyther and thither, to afflict, to doe all mischiefes that can be possible, to tourment greuously.
Populari & vexare, to spoyle and destroye.
Agros vexare, to destroye the countrey.
Contumeliis & probris vexare aliquem, to scape and speake spitefull wordes agaynst one.
Vitia vexare nos dicuntur, to trouble and disquite the mynde.
Vfens, vferis, a riuier in Pontus.

V, ANTE I.

Via, e, f. ge. a waite, a iourney. sometyme a crete, a causey. also a passage: the maner or meane, custome, trade, facion.
Via militaris, the brode hyghe waite for hoxe men and foote men.
Angusta viarum, narrow passages.
Via publica, the common hyghe waite.
Via priuata, pathes or waies throughe any mannes groundes, that he maie stoppe whan he will.
Vicinales viae, common pathes lesfull for eues-ry man to goe in.
Strata viarum, the pauementes and causeis of streetes.
Viae vrbis, streetes in a citee.
Quod de via languerem, because I was weyry of iourneyng, or feint with goyng.
Video quot dierum via sit, I see howe many daies iourney it is.
Si qua via est, if it maie bee doone by any meanes.
Aperta via, an open and plaine waite.

V ANTE I.

Alia aggrediemur via, we will goe about it an other waie.
Aliquoru dierum viam in Macedoniam per-rexi, I went towarde Spacedonie two or thre daies iourney.
Facilis via, an easie waite.
Via trita, a waite muche haunted.
Apetire viam alicui, to make a waite for one.
Via lechi, death.
Celerare viam, to make speede on his waite.
Dare viam alicui, to geue one licence to passe.
In viam se dare, and committere se viae, to take a iourney.
De via decedere, to tourne out of the waite.
Tanquam aliquam viam longam confeceris,
as though thou hadde gone some great iourney.
Deserere viam virtutis, to forsake the waite of vertue.
Si qua viam fortuna dederit, if fortune will helpe vs to byngie it to passe by any meanes.
Longam viam ire, to goe a great iourney.
Tota erras via, thou arte farre out of the waite, thou arte bitterly deceiued.
Habere docendi viam, to haue a maner, way,
or trade of teachyng.
Inchoare viam, to go before.
Viam inuenire, to fynde a waite to escape.
Viam munire, to make or prepare a waite, to fynde a sure waite for one to dooe a thyng.
Ne quam viam patefaceres, that he shoulde open no gappe.
Teutanda via est, I must assaie some waite or meane.
In via esse, to be on the waite in his iourney.
Pergere viam, to go on his waite.
Via perculgata patrum, after the common cus-tome and facion of fathers.
Viam ligandi tradere, to teache one the manner how to pleade.
Via, a riuier of Spaine.
Vians, anis, om. g. that goeth by the waite.
Viarus, a, um, prertyng to waies.
Viaticor, a, is, au, to prepare victayles necessarie for iourney.
Viaticulum, li, n. ge. a diminutiu of Viaticum.
Viaticum, ci, n. ge. all thyng necessarie for iour-ney, be it in victayles or other thyng, preparation for iourney, coflage.
Viaticus, a, um, prertyng to iourney, or traduyllyng by the waite.
Viatica cena, a banquet geuen to a man at his departyng on his iourney.
Viator, oris, m. g. a reauailer by the way, a way faryng man. also he whiche warneth men to assemble to counsaile, and serueth officers to call men to them, a common messenger.
Viatorius, a, um, prertyng to the waite.
Viatoria vasa, vessels whiche dooe serue for iourney.
Vibex, bicis, f. ge. a spot remainyng in the skyn after beatyng.

Vibon,

Vibon, a towne in the countrey of the Spaniards.
Vibrans, anis, om. g. brandishing. also tremis-bling, quauering.
Vibrans sonus, a quauering sounde of voyce
 percing the eares.
Sententia vibrans, id est, incitata.
Vibratio, onis, a brandishing.
Vibratus, a, um. brandished, shaken, sometyme curled or crisped.
Crines calido ferro vibrati, heares crisped of curled with a hott iron of pygne.
Vibrissa, or Vibrici, heares in a mans nose.
Vibrissio, auis, are, to quauce in singing.
Vibro, auis, are, to make a thyng, or to make a thyng to make of quauce, to brandish.
Vibrare dicitur mare, id est, micare & intre-miscere, to glisterne and quauce with a certaine brightnesse.
Vibrant fulmina, lightnynges glisterne and shine.
Vibrare, neutrum, id est, trepidare.
Viburnum, ni, n. ge. the spryge, whiche cometh out of the roote of a tree.
Vicanus, ni, m. ge. one that dwelleth in the village. also Vicanus is taken for ignobilis.
Vicarius, a, um, that is in the stede of place of an other. also the seruante of hym, whiche is a seruante, that doeth the office of an other.
Vicarium operam impendere, to execute an other mans office, to dooe that an other man shulde haue dooen.
Dare vicarium, to put one in his place to doe his duie.
Succedere vicarium muneri alterius, to come in the place of an other and doe that he dydde.
Vicia mors, when one dieth in the stede of
 an other.
Talis illi vicarius meus, doethou helpe hym
 in my stede.
Vicium, in villages or stretes. also stete by stete, or village by village.
Vicenarius, a, um, the twentieth.
Vicentia, a citie in Aenenia, betwene Verona and Padua.
Vicinus, a, um, twentie.
Vicissima, mæ, f. g. a certaine pencion of tribute gathered of euery thousande.
Vicissimarius, a, um, belongng to that pencion of tribute.
Vicissimus, a, um, the twentieth.
Vicissis, the weight of. xx. pounce.
Vicia, æ, f. g. a certaine graine, whiche lyke to a vine tenneth vpon the stalkes of herbes, which doe grow bygh.
Vicarium, ri, n. g. the sowynge of suche graine, or the place wher that graine is sowed.
Vicarius, a, um, belongng to that graine.
Vicies, twentie tymes.
Vicinalis, le, belongng to neighbours.
Vicina, æ, f. ge. neighbourhood, the place next to us, whiche corruptly we call Vicinicum.

Vicinitas, aris, f. ge. neighbourhood, hyghness sometyme the multitude of neighbours, the dwelling of men nere together.
Versari in vicinitate, to be very nere a thyng.
Vicinitas nominis, when two names be ly-ke, that one is taken for the other.
Vicinium, ni, n. g. hyghness, neighbourhood.
Vicinus, ni, m. g. and Vicina, æ, f. g. a neighbour, one that dwelleth nere a mans house.
Vicinus, a, um, nere, next to, harde by, not farre of.
Vicinium malum, a mischance of ill turne nere at hande.
Vicina ad parandum, nere hie time of traual.
Vicinus illi, very lyke to hym.
Vicis, vich, vicem, vice, course, time, stede, place.
Vices, is sometyme used for Vis, force, tightynge, battaile: as, Vices eius memorat, & ci-cauites denudat, he telleth of the battailes that he hath fought, or dangers that he hath been in. &c.
Vices, is also used for punishmentes, misfortunes, mischances, discomfortes, displeasur-es, aduersities.
Menedemi vicem miseret me, I haue pite on the ill chaunce of Menedemus.
Per multas vices, and multis vicibus, many tymes. Vnica vice, ones.
Reipublica vicem dolebo, I will be soye for the hurte of misfortune of the common weale.
Nec tela nec vllas vitantisse vices Danaum, dangers, teperidies.
Vices quæ superbe te manent ipsum, punyshementes, displeasures, aduersities.
Vicibus recidere, by course, by turne.
Alius alia vice, one at one tyme, an other at an other: or the one one waye, the other an othe-waye.
Stata vice, at a tyme ordinarie and certaine.
Suam cuiusque vicem, euery one his turne of course.
Seruare vices, to kepe their courses.
Alternis vicibus, per vices, and vicibus, by course, one after an other.
Et vice versa, and contrary wyse.
Vicibus annorum, the peryle course.
Vice pro loco accipiunt.
Vice pedum, in stede of feete.
Vicem solis supplet, it is in stede of place of
 the sonne.
Pro vice, Plautus ferè posuit vbiq. vicem.
Heri vicem mei, in stede of my maister, or for my maister.
Nostrum amborum vicem, in stede of place
 of vs twayne.
Et suam iam vicem magis anxios, and byng as than moze sollicitous of carefull for theyr owne part.
Ut meam vicem sollicitus videretur, for me,
 for my sake, for my misfortune.
Vice mundi, id est, ad similitudinem mundi.

even as the woylde doeth.
In vicem, in the stede.
Cedere in vicem alicuius rei, to serue in stede of place of an other thyng.
Fungi alienavice, to dooe a thyng in an other mans stede, to supplie an other mannes roume.
Præstare vicem alterius, idem.
Viar vice cotis, I will vse it in stede of a whetstone.
Veri vicem obtinet, it serueth in stede of true
 eth it selfe.
Carina vice inuictæ, id est, in modum.
Reddam vicem, I will doe as muche againe for you.
Vicissim, idem quod vicissim, an olde woord.
Vicissim, by turne, by course, interchangeable, now one, now an other: sometyme it signifyeth on the other parte, againe for his parte: sometyme semblably.
Vicissitas, aris, f. g. idem quod vicissitudo, an olde woord.
Vicissitudo, dinis, f. g. the turne, now one, now an other, chaunge by course, alteration.
Omnium rerum vicissitudo est, the woylde changeth euery date, the woylde abydeyth not in one state alwaie, thynges doe alter dailie, euery thyng hath his course.
Victimæ, mæ, f. ge. the beast that is kylled in sacrifice for victorie.
Victimarius, ri, m. ge. the minister that serueth to the sacrifice. also he that solde beastes for the sacrifice.
Victor, auis, are, to lide by eatynge certayne meate.
Bene victitare, to make good there, to fare well.
Victor, oris, m. gen. he that vanquisheth, a vic-tour, a conquerour.
Victoria, æ, f. m. gen. victorie, conquest, vanquishynge.
Adipisci, and consequi victoriam, to obtaine victorie.
Aedere victoriam, to vanquish, to overcome.
Habere victoriam in manibus, to be sure of the victorie.
Nascitur, or Oritur victoria ab ea parte, they began to vanquish or overcome on that syde.
Parare victoriam, to vanquish.
Reportare victoriam, to haue the victorie.
Multorum sanguine ea stat victoria, that bistorie coste many mens liues.
Victoriatu, ti, m. ge. a certaine cognie, wherin was the image of victorie.
Victoriosus, a, um, accustomed to haue victorie, that hath attayned many victories, that hath often conquered, victoriosis.
Victrix, plurali victricia, perteynynge to bistorie.
Victrix, tris, f. m. gen. a woman that bans quisheth.
Victurus, the participle of the future tense as well of viuo as of vinco.

Victus, tus, and Victus, m. g. sustinance of feed-dyng, also a hynde of fourme of hyng.
Victus & vestitus, meate & drynke and clothe.
Victus, a, um, vanquished, overcome, conuenced.
Vicus, ci, mælu. gene. a stete in a towne. also a billage.
Viculus, li, m. g. a little stete or village.
Videlicet, as who saith, that is to witte, that is to saie, and is often used in derision and scofdyng. sometyme it signifyeth surely.
Huic tu molestus videlicet esse noluisti. &c.
 you wolde not trouble him, or be very earnest on hym by tekephode. &c. spoken scornfully.
Videlicet de palatia hac audiuit, surely, or vnsdoubtably he hath heard. &c.
Caste iubet lex adire deos, animo videlicet.
 &c. that is to witte in the mynde. &c.
Video, di, dere, to see. it is sometyme applied to other senses: as, Vide qualis est sonus, here what a noyse it is.
Vide quid oleat, smell wherof it sauoureth.
Vide quam durum sit, feele howe harde it is.
 also to forsee, to percerue, to understande, to be wakyng, to take heede or consider, to be ware, to prouide.
Vide tibi, prouide for thy selfe.
Tu videris, loke therto: well, take good heede, for I care not for it.
Videro, I will prouide or see to the matter.
Videor, I remember me well.
Videre video, me thyngeth I see.
Videntur mihi, me seemeth.
Viden? for Videsne? dost thou not see?
Somnum hac nocte oculis non vidi meis, I slept not one wyne all this nyght.
Videre animo, to forsee a thyng in ones mi-befoze it come.
Somnia videre, to dreame.
Plus spei video quam volo, I see moze hope in the matter then I wolde haue.
Iamq. vident sanguineis frontem. &c. beynge wakyng.
Me vide, trust to me, I warrant you.
Nisi aliquid video, ne. &c. excepte I fynde some meanes. &c.
Nihil vides, nihil senis amicos. &c. except thou take good heede. &c.
Nisi vident niquod lubet, they regarde not thyng but that them selfe lust.
Vide quid agas, take heede or beware what ye dooe.
Ego istac recte vt fiant videro, I will see to these matters, that they bee dooen as they shoulde be.
Viderit Epicurus de hac re, I referre you to Epicure for this matter: or let Epicure an-swere for this matter if he will.
Postea videro, I will consider or take aduisement of this matter after.
Videor, to seeme, to appere.
Videre verum dicere, you seeme to saie true.

Videor, for videtur mihi quod.
Mihi videbor restitutus, I shall thinke my self to be restoyed.
Mihi ira videtur, so me thynketh, so it seemeth to me.
Tibi ira videtur, you thynke so.
Vi videmur, as we seeme to dooe.
Si tibi videbitur, if it please you, or if ye shall thynke it good.
Quibus tibi videbitur, to whom that ye shall thynke good.
Facies quod tibi visum fuerit, dooe ye euen as ye shall thynke good.
Caclitibus nō ira visum, it pleased not god so to haue it.
Visum est, vt te facerem certiorē, I thought it best to geue you knowlage.
Videri pro nilulo, to be iudged or esteemed of no value or nothyng woorthie.
Videri licet, a man maie see.
Vidua, a, f. g. a widowe.
Viduatus, a, um, depriued, left alone.
Regna viduata lumine, id est, Tartara.
Viduitas, aris, f. g. calamitie or miserie.
Viduitas, aris, f. g. widowhead, lacke of thynge necessarie.
Vidulum, li, n. gen. wherin any thyng is kepte, a boogey.
Viduo, aui, are, to be diuide or take awaie, to leaue alone, to separate.
Vrbem viduare ciuibus, to hylt the citisins.
Viduus, a, um, diuide, alone, depriued.
Ager viduus pecudibus, a fiede that hath no cattyll in it.
Noctes viduas exigere, to slepe alone without a mate.
Viduus vir, a widower.
Viduum solum arboribus, a ground that hath no trees.
Vienna, a citie in Austria, an other in Dolphyn.
Vico, cui, ēre, to bende, to bynde tabbes or other vesselles with twiggēs or osiars.
Victor, oris, m. g. a couper, whiche with hoopes byndeth vessels.
Vicius, a, um, softe, weakē, bendyng, lanke, limce or lither of bodye, feynē, drowpynge, without any strength, lackyng naturall strengthe.
Mala vicia, id est, flaccida, rugosa, withered.
Victus, a hoope or strake of a carte.
Vigeo, gui, gēre, to me, to be stronge, to bee of strengthe or power, to bee in his chiefe strength and force, to flourish, to be lustie, to thryue in growyng.
Vigere animo, to haue a liuely and quicke spirite.
Memoria vigere, to haue a sure and good memory.
Purpura vigeat eo tēpore, at that tyme purple was muche used or set by.

Vigent leges Lycurgi, the lawes of Lycurgus be in force, or strength.
Viguit vsque ad nostram aetatem, it continued or indured euen to our tyme.
Vigens, vigentis, that is in his chiefe force or strength, flourishyng.
Vigescere, scere, to wake of strength or force, to be gyne to flourish or wake lustie.
Vigesima, mae, f. m. gene. a kynde of tribute or pension.
Vigesimalium aurum, idem.
Vigesimus, a, um, the twentieth.
Vigescis, sis, m. g. of. xx. punde.
Vigil, lis, m. g. a watche man.
Vigil, vigilis, om. g. watchefull, vigilant.
Vigilans, tis, om. ge. vigilant, wakyng, watches full, diligent, circumspecte.
Vigilanter, watchefully, diligently, vigilantly, circumspectely, with great diligence, without slepyng.
Vigilantia, a, f. ge. ge. vigilancie, diligence, watchefulnesse.
Vigilarius, rij, m. g. a watche man.
Vigilax, laxis, om. g. vigilant, watchefull.
Vigilia, a, f. m. gene. watchyng, absteinyng from slepe.
Vigilia, is also the eue before any solene feast.
Vigilias suscipere, to take peines in watchyng.
Vigilie, arum, f. ge. plu. watches as well by daye as by night. Sometyme the men whiche doo watche.
Vigilo, aui, are, to wake or watche, to be vigilant or verie diligent. also to here diligently. also to take payne.
Vigilare decet hominem, qui vult sua temporis conficere officia, a man must take paine, that will finish his businesse in tyme conuenient.
Vigilior, aris, ari, to be watched.
Viginti, twentie.
Vigintuarii, officers in Rome, where. xx. were of lyke authoritie.
Vigintuarius, us, m. g. the office of those men.
Vigilonus, a byooke by the cite of Padus.
Vigor, goris, masc. ge. strength, force, vigour, lustinesse.
Vigorousus, a, um, stronge, firme.
Vilefco, scere, to be vile or of small value or of none estimation, or price.
Vilis, le, vile, of no value, little worth. also good chepe, of littell price. Sometyme abundant.
Vilis & pretiosus, contrarie.
Annona vilis, coyne of vitaple good chepe.
Vili vendere, to sell good chepe.
Vilitas, aris, f. m. gene. good chepe, contrarie to dearth.
Vilito, aui, are, to make chepe.
Villa, la, f. ge. a manour out of a cite or towne. also a village, a ferme, to haue housbandrie occupied in.
Villa rustica, that parte of the house, wherein the farmer dwelleth that kepeth the house, and there there maketh or kepeth all maner instrumentes apperteyning to his husbandrie, as cozne, cartes, poles for oxen. &c.

Villa urbana, that part of the manour or ferme, where the lord or owner hym self doeth lie, and was in all pointes as goodly, and as well appointed as becomed a house standinge with in the cite to bee, and was moze pleasauntly builded, and moze goodly decked and furnished then for an house in the countrey.
Villanus, ni, m. g. a man of the village, one that kepeth a ferme.
Villaris, re, and Villaticus, a, um, pertynyng to the village or ferme in the countrey.
Villica, ca, a farmers or husband mans wyfe.
Villicatio, onis, accusation aboute housbandrie. also the rule of husbandrie vnder the owner.
Villico, aui, are, and Villicor, aris, ari, to be occupied aboute housbandrie, to haue the rule of housbandrie. also to goe to abyde in the countrey.
Villico, onis, m. g. idem quod villicus.
Villicus, ci, m. ge. a battiffe of housbandrie, he that hath the keepyng of a ferme.
Villosus, a, um, full of heares.
Cauda villosa, a busshy tayle.
Villula, la, f. g. a littell village, a littell ferme or manour place.
Villum, li, n. g. a small wyne.
Villus, li, m. g. a beare.
Vimen, minis, n. g. a rodde, a wither, an osiars of twigge, whiche well wynde legghly, wherof baskettes are made.
Lentum vimen, a twigge or osiars, that is pliant.
Vimineus, a, um, of withers, wyndyng rodde, or osiars.
Viminalis, le, apt to wynde or bynde, pertynyng to osiars or twiggēs.
Viminalis collis, a little hill at Rome.
Vinacea, or Vinacia, orum, neu. gen. plu. hermeselles of grapes, either before they be pressed or after.
Vinaceus, cei, m. g. the keenell of a grape.
Vinaceus, a, um, of wyne or of grapes.
Vinago, ginis, f. m. gener. a kynde of stocke & doones.
Vinale, lis, n. g. the vintage.
Vinalia, drum, n. ge. plur. a certayne feast the tenth calendes of Maie, made for tastyng of wyne.
Vinari, us, m. g. a vintner, a tauerne, one that selleth wyne, also a bynkard, one that bynkehth ouer muche wyne.
Vinari, a, um, pertynyng to wyne.
Taberna vinaria, a wyne tauerne.
Vinea, a, f. g. is supposed to be that herbe which Dioscorides calleth Camædaphnes, we call it Laureole.
Vincia, olde wynters used for Continens.
Vincibilis, le, easie to be banquished.

Vincio, vixi, vincire, to bynde, to tie.
Locum praefidiis vincire, to kepe a place with a garrison.
Vinco, vici, vincere, to banquish, to wyne, to ouercome, to gette victorie, to passe, to excell, to proue or conuince by reason.
Vincere certum casu, to renne swifter than an harte.
Vince virum bonum esse Oppianicum, go to, proue that Oppianicus, is an honest man.
Gibum vincere, to digest meate.
Expectationem vincere, to doe moze or muche better than was looked for.
Licitatione vincere, in cheryng to bidde moze for a thyng, to ouerbidde.
Vincere numero, to be mo in numbrie.
Opinionem omnium vincere, to dooe better than men woulde haue thought.
Vicinus, we haue that we wolde haue, or we haue wonne the wager.
Vince & vale, I praye god sende you victorie, with longe lyfe and good helth.
Viceris, goe thy waye, thou hast wonne the wager, or hast opteyned thy cause.
Vincere aciem ferri, to be so hard, that it can not be cut with yron.
Fata sua vincere, to lyue longer than fate or deestemeth hath appoynted hym, to lyue aboute the course of nature.
Terra magnitudinem vincebant, they were bigger then the earth.
Scipium vincere, to passe or excell hym selfe.
Hec vicit sententia, this sentence toke place.
Difficulates loco, um vincere, to passe the darre grouse and harde places.
Vno te vicimus, in one thyng we passed the.
Vinctura, a, f. g. a bindyng.
Vinctus, us, m. g. idem quod Vinculum.
Vinctus, a, um, bounden, harde laced, straitlytydd, also constrained. Sometyme it significeth a prisoner.
Vinculum, li, n. g. a bonde. also Vincula, plur. is taken for a prison, charynes, gages, bondes.
In vinculis esse, to lie in charynes in prison.
Habere in vinculis, to kepe one in prison.
Vindelici, people called Mandales.
Vindelicia, a countrey, wherein is the cite of Augusta called Aufburg, on the west it hath the rpyer Lycus, and Rhætia: on the north the rpyer Danawe: on the east, the rpyer Oenus, and Noricum: on the north it hath the Alpes.
Vindemator, and Vindemitor, oris, idem quod Vindemitor.
Vindemiar, a, f. g. the tyme of gatheryng grapes to make wyne, it sometyme significeth the gatheryng of other thynges, as honny and syder.
Vindemialis, le, & Vindemiatorius, a, um, pertynyng to gatheryng of grapes or frutes.
Vindemiatio, onis, f. ge. a gatheryng of grapes to make wyne, also a makyng of honny.
Vindemiator, oris, m. ge. he that dooth gather grapes.

grapes to make wyne, also a signe of sterres, that appereth the thynde Nonas of Marche.
Vindemio, aui, are, to gather grapes of type suite.
Vindemiola, la, a diminutive of Vindemia.
Vindemij flum ostia, a towne in Irelande called Drubagh.
Vindex, dicis, m. ge. a reuenger of wronges, a redresser of thynge, a defender, he that setteth at libertee of out of daunger. Sometime it signifieth a p[ro]curator or attorney, whiche p[ro]fesseth cuteth an other mans cause. also he that deliuereth hym selfe out of bondage. Sometime a keeper of possession.
Vindex rerum capitalium, the minister of execution, commonly called the hangman.
Vindicatio, onis, f. ge. a reuenging, a taking of punishment, a deliuering out of daunger.
Vindicta, arum, f. g. plur. assertion of libertee of freedom.
Vindicias secundum libertatem dare, to graunt that one maie be free of at his libertee, untill a certayne tyme, that sureties and p[ro]fessors maie be brought in, to declare that he is not bounde.
Decernere vindicias secundum seruitutem, to geue sentence, that one is bonde.
Postulare vindicias secundum libertatem, to require a tyme to answer and bynge p[ro]oues that one is not bonde.
Lis vindiciarum, is a suite of contention in the lawe, for a thynge that is not certainly knowne whose it is, in whiche plea, the demaunders daunt was bounde in a certayne summe of money to be forsaith, if the thynge were not his that he claymed, and the partie that hadde it in possession, was bounde with sureties, not to appaie the thynge that was in suite.
Vindico, aui, are, to reuenge, to punish, to defende of deliuer a man from iniurie of danger, to restore to libertee, to demaunde by action, Dolus malus erat legibus vindicandus, decessfull dealing shoulde haue been punished by the lawe.
Peccatum in altero vindicare, to punish a fault in an other man.
Mortem alicuius vindicare, to reuenge ones death.
Vindicari, to be reuenged, to take punishment.
Vindicare se ab aliquo, to be reuenged on one.
Vindicatum est in ciues militibus, the killings and souldiours were punished.
A labore vindicare, to exempt from labour of p[er]pene.
Que nos a supplicio vindicent, whiche maie deliuer vs from punishment.
Ab obliuione hominum vindicare, to make that a thynge be not forgotten of men.
Alique a viris omnibus vindicare, to auouch one to be without all faulte.
In libertatem vindicare, to set at libertee.
Libertatem vindicare, to defende the libertee tee, to set theyn selfe at libertee.

Vindicare data, id est, compensare.
Vindicta, a, f. g. vengeance, reuengement, punishment, sometime libertee, also a rodde whiche the lord deliuered to his bonde man, when he enfranchised hym.
Vindius, an hyl in Spayne.
Vinea, a, f. ge. a vinegarde of a vyne. it is also an ordinaunce of warre made of timber and hurdles, vnder the whiche men went surely to the walles of a towne that was besieged.
Vinealis, le, apte of p[er]teyning to a vinegarde.
Vinearius, a, um, idem.
Vineaticus, a, um, p[er]teyning to vines.
Falces vineaticae, hookes to cutte vines with.
Vinetum, i, n. g. a vinegarde.
Viniporor, oris, m. g. one that drinketh wyne.
Vinitor, oris, m. g. he that ordereth the vines garde.
Vinitorius, a, um, that belongeth to hym that keepeth the vinegarde.
Violentia, a, f. g. drunkennesse, ouer much drinking of wyne.
Violentus, a, um, drunken with wyne, a great drinker of wyne.
Vinosus, a, um, that loueth to drinke wyne, also drunken.
Vintium, a, a cite by the Alpes called Mount Vintol.
Vinulus, a, um, delicate, he that becometh hym selfe wantonly of tenderly.
Vinum, ni, n. g. wyne.
Plenus vini, drunken.
Album vinum, white wyne.
Austerum vinum, greene wyne.
Vinum vetustate edentulum, a wyne so olde that it hath lost his verbeare.
Dolcare vinum, wyne kepte in vessels.
Molle vinum, ripe wyne.
Ferre vetustatem dicuntur vina, to continue longe.
Vinum agrotis adhibere, to geue sicke men wyne.
Vio, aui, are, to goe a iourney.
Viola, a, f. g. a violet.
Viola matronalis, a sicke gilflower.
Violabilis, le, that is apte to be violated, that maie be violated.
Violaceus, a, um, of violet colour.
Violaris, re, idem.
Violarium, i, neu. ge. a place where violettess growe.
Violarius, rij, m. g. he that dieth violet colour.
Violatio, onis, a violatyng, a breakyng.
Violator, oris, one that violateth, corrupteth, or suspendeth.
Violatus, a, um, broken, violated, deflowered.
Violens, entis, om. g. violent.
Violenter, violently, perforce, maugre his head, cruelly, vnpatiently.
Tolerare violenter, to take a thynge vey vnpatiently patiently, to abyde a thynge against his will.

Violentia, a, f. g. violence, force, vehemence.
Violentus, a, um, violent, forcible.
Violo, laui, are, to violate, to corrupt, to defile, to defoure, to breake as a man dooth a law.
Amicitiam violare, to dooe against friends shippe.
Existimacionem alicuius violare, to diminish ones estimation of credence.
Fidem coniugij violare, to breake wedlocke.
Fœdus violare, to breake league of alliance.
Hospites violare, to doe iniurie to strangers, that come into our countrey of citee.
Parentes violare, to dooe vnnaturally to his parentes.
Voce aliquem violare, to raise of speake our tragouly against one.
Syluam violare securi, to cut downe trees.
Vion, Valentia, a citee in Apulia.
Vipera, a, f. g. a hynde of adders.
Viperinus, and Vipereus, a, um, of an adder.
Vipiones, ponge cranes.
Vir, viri, masc. gene. a man. it is also an houses bande, it significth also one of a good courage, a valiant man.
Vir es, thou art a valiant man.
Virago, ginis, f. ge. a woman hauing the courage of a man, a woman of a stoute and manly stomache.
Virbius, ij, m. gene. twyse a man, whiche name was geuen to Hippolitus, the sonne of Theseus, after that Aesculapius hadde brought him agayne to life.
Virectum, et, n. g. a grene place, a place where is much greene grasse.
Virco, onis, m. gene. a certayne bynde, called of Aristotle and Plinie Chlozion, a witwell.
Vireo, uir, are, to be grene, to be more lustie.
Vires, virium, take vis.
Viresco, scere, to wake greene, to begynne to flourish.
Viretum, i, n. g. a greene place.
Virga, a, f. g. a rodde of yerde.
Virga pastoris, an herbe, called taspelle, rebe Labrum veneris.
Virgator, oris, m. g. he that beateth with rodde.
Virgatus, a, um, that hath rodde of longe bristles in it lyke rodde.
Vestis virgata, a garment after some of purple, after other of clothe, hauing longe strikes in it lyke rodde, a raigne of coat.
Virgetum, i, n. g. a place where vines growe.
Virgeus, a, um, of rodde.
Virgi, a towne of Spayne.
Virgilius, the most famous poete of Apantia.
Virginalis, le, & Virginarius, a, um, of a virgin, that p[er]teyneth to a mayden.
Virgindemia, a gathering of rodde, to make oars of twiggess.
Virgineus, a, um, idem quod Virginalis.

Virginias, aui, f. ge. virginitee, chastitee, mayden head, pusillage.
Virgo, inis, com. g. a virgine of mayden.
Virgulara, seu virgata vestis, a raigne.
Virgula, a, f. g. a littell rodde of yerde.
Virgulum, i, n. g. a ponge shoote of springe, that groweth out of the grounde.
Virguncula, a, f. g. a pong mayden.
Virga, of Viriola, a, fem. gene. an ornament to weare about the necke, hauing greene pretious stones in it.
Viridatus, a, um, stronge, a woozde out of use.
Viridula, little strength.
Viriculum, li, n. ge. a wynde of perfer, or rather a certayne hynde of daetes.
Viridans, antis, om. g. that whiche is greene.
Viridarium, i, neu. gen. a greene place enclosed, wherein beastes and foules are kepte.
Viridarius, a, um, belongeth to a garden of greene place.
Viridarij serui, seruantes that kepe an orchard of garden.
Viride, an aduerbe, greenely, somewhat with a greene colour.
Viridia, a greene, of place set with greene trees for pleasure.
Viridicatus, a, um, made greene.
Viridis, de, greene.
Viriditas, aui, fem. ge. greenesse, also force, strength, manlynesse.
Virido, aui, are, to make greene.
Virilia, hum, n. g. plu. tantum, the priute members of a man.
Virilis, le, of a man, also manly of valiant.
Virilis toga, was a garment of the Romans, whiche they began to weare at xvi. yeres of age.
Virilis animus, a valiant and stoute courage, manly stomache.
Sexus virilis, the male hynde.
Parum virile est, it is not comely for a man, it is no manly parte.
Pars virilis, the p[er]tion of parte that a man hath.
Pro virili parte, with all my force and diligence, as much as I can.
Verilias, aris, f. gen. the priute partes of a man, manlynesse.
A demptæ virilitatis homo, a gelded man, an Eunuche.
Exciſa virilitate, being gelded.
Viriliter, manly, valiantly, with a manly stomache.
Viriplaca, a goddess, in whose temple women were reconciled to their husbands.
Viripotens, potentis, om. g. marriage able.
Viritanus ager, a fiede diuided amonge the people.
Viritim, of every man, also one man with an of ther, man by man.
Viritim pugnare, to fight man to man.
Viritorium, a citee in Germanie.

Viro, aul, are, to fortifie.
Virosus, a, um, of Virus, of ill sauour of taste, sometyme stronge, also full of popson.
Virosus, a, um, of Vir, desirous of man.
Virosa mulier, a woman desirous of the company of man.
Virtus, tuis, f. ge. vertue, strength, puissance, valiantnesse, manlinesse, manhode, prowesse, sometyme power, also helpe, merite, of desert.
Tua virtute, by thy good helpe or ayde.
Virusta, a cite of Spayne, called commonly Whitesta.
Virulentus, a, um, venemous, full of popson.
Virus, neu. gen. indeclinabile, venim, popson, a vehement ranche and rammythe sauour, as vnder a mans armepittes, also bitternesse of tast, lightnesse in colour, sometyme the humour of generacion, properly in beastes, also naturall vertue of power, auncient writers vsed Hoc virus, huius Viri, and Lucretius, hath Viro in the ablatiue case.
Virus paludis, the stinckynge sauour of a fen or dyche.
Amatorium virus, popson.
Malum virus, popson, venim.
Aspergere virus alicui, to popson one.
Virus aquæ marinæ, the bitter taste of the sea water.
Virus, is sometyme vsed for greenenesse, or green geallie.
Vis, huius, vis, vim, vi, f. m. gen. power, puissance, strength, myght, possibilitie, abundance, violence, compulsion, multitude, vertue, effeate, effecte, sometyme sightynge.
Vis, is redde in Salust, in the accusatiue case, plural.
Nostri omnis vis, all our might, vertue or strength, or all that we be able to doe.
Qui vim tantam in me & potestatem habet, am tanta altitue, That haue within me so great myght and habilitie, to worke so great a substatie.
Satis habet animi, sed vires deficient, he hath courage enough, but his legges faileth hym, spoken mockynge to him that attempteth more then he is able to doe.
Frigoris vis, vehemente of colde.
Vis verborum, the vertue and signification of wordes.
Vis celestis, heavenly power.
Maximis viribus homo, a man of great might and force.
Summa vi, with all endeouour.
Abstinere vim ab aliquo, not to laie violent handes vpon one.
Vim mihi intulit, he laied violent handes on me, and fought with me.
Vim asserere maximam ad, &c. to bee of great efficacie, to helpe very muche. &c.
Agere pro viribus, to doe as muche as he can, to doe the uttermost of his power.

Concipere vires, to waite stronge, of of more force and violence.
Defici viibus, to become weak of fainte.
Experire vires, to proue what he can doe.
Habere vires, to be of force of might.
Intendere vim, to encrease his myght of power.
Fit via vi, they make a waie with plague force and violence.
Vis pelagi, the violence of the sea.
Vis maior, is taken for a great tempest of storme.
Vis diuina, idem.
Asferre vim mulieri, to rauishe a woman.
Adhibere vim, to vse compulsion, to enforce.
Vim sibi intulit, he hyllid hym selfe.
Reponunt vim suam aquora, the seas waite calme.
Vi superum, by the enforcement, violence, compulsion, or power of the goddes.
Vi rapere, to take away by stronge hande.
Vis militum, a great multitude of souldiours.
Vis frumenti, great abundance of corne.
Magna vis auri & argenti, great abundance of a vertie great summe of golde and siluer.
Viscatus, a, um, dyssed with byddelme, also his med or taken with byddelme.
Viscra munera, id est, hamata, gyftes or presentes geuen to the entent to haue greater profyte.
Viscera, scerum, bowelles, the intrelles, also all betwene the thyrne and the bone, fleshe.
Visceribus taurorum vescitur, he eateth the fleshe of oxen or bulles.
Disipiunt aude viscera nostra feræ, our child or children.
Spumantibus visceribus ardens, vertie angrie, greatly mouded.
Visceratio, onis, a distribution of fleshe raw.
Visceratini, by the bowelles.
Visceror, ari, to distribute what that is boyled or rosted.
Viscosus, a, um, clammy of cleaupng lyke byddes lyke.
Viscum, i, n. ge. mysciden or myscello, whiche commonly groweth in crabbe trees and wyld pearre trees.
Viscus, i, m. g. and Viscum, i, n. gen. byddelme, sometyme it is taken for a net of hope.
Viscus, sceris, n. g. all that is betwene the bones and the fleshe - it is also some parte of the inwardes of a man or beaste, as the herte, the spleene, the longes, the lyuer, the bladder or any one bowell or gutte: loke Viscera.
Visendus, a, um, woorthy to be seen, to be marvailed or wondered at.
Visibilis, le, that maie be seen.
Visio, onis, a vision, a fantasie.
Visitatio, onis, visitynge, or visitacion.
Visito, aui, are, to visite often, to come to see.
Viso, visi, ere, to go or come to see, also to see. Id viso

Id viso, for that cause I come to see.
Visam si domi est, I will goe see if he bee at home.
Ad eam visam, I will go to his house and see.
Venio visere, I come to see.
Vifendi causa, to see.
Vifontium, a cite in Spayne called commonly Vifcum, or Vifco.
Vifor, oris, m. g. a messenger sent to bidde or see a thyng, a spie.
Vifula, a river of Sarmatia.
Vifule vites, a certayne kynde of bynne.
Vifum, si, n. g. a dreame, a fantasie, also a thyng that one hath seen.
Referre visa, to tell of threwe thynges that one hath seen.
Vifurgis, a river of Germanie.
Vifus, us, m. g. sight.
Oribus vifus, bynde.
Acer vifus, quicke sight.
Deprehendere aliquid visu, to see a thyng.
Ducere vifus per omnia, to loke rounde about vpon euery thyng.
Vt vifum saliant, that they can not see seen.
Premere vifus alicuius, to close ones eyes.
Vifus, is sometyme taken for that, whiche is seen, a sight.
Vifus, a, um, seen.
Vifus sum, me thought.
Vita, ra, f. g. lyfe.
Vita functus, dead.
Vitam agere, ducere, exigere, to lyue, to leade his lyfe.
Vitam adimere, to steale.
Vitam traducere, to passe his lyfe tyme.
Exiguum curriculum vite, a short tpace of lyfe.
Mea vita, blandientis vox, myne owne lyfe or dearyng.
Precaria vita, looke precaria.
Abire, discedere, migrare e vita, to die.
Commutare vitam cum morte, idem.
Dare and Concedere vitam alicui, to graunte one his pardone, to graunt hym his lyfe and not to kyll hym.
Edere vitam, to hse.
Expellere aliquem vitam, to kyll one.
Vita frui, to lyue.
Pacifici vitam cum hoste, to gelde to his enemye, on condition to saue his lyfe.
Profundere vitam pro re aliqua, to die of geue his lyfe for a thyng.
Sic vita est, such is the lyfe or facion of men.
In vita mea, in all the tyme of my lyfe.
Vita, in the plurall numbre, is sometyme taken for the facions or maners of men.
Tenuis sine corpore vita, id est, anima.
Vitabundus, a, um, that escheweth a thyng.
Vitalis, le, that lyueth, that hath lyfe or geueth lyfe, lyuely, that pertaineth to the magnteynnaunce of lyfe.
Auxilium vitale, that magnteyneth of succour.

reth a mans lyfe.
Calor vitalis, lyuely, that geueth lyfe.
Sanguis vitalis, wherein lyfe is contained.
Vitalis factus, that is alpye.
Vitalia capitis, the bryayne.
Vitaliter, with lyfe, lyuely.
Vitalitas, acis, f. g. lyfe, lyuelynesse.
Vitatio, onis, f. g. an eschewynge, a boldynge, a shynynge.
Vitellus, li, m. g. the polke of an egge.
Vitellinus, a, um, of or belonging to the polke of an egge.
Viteus, a, um, of or belonging to a vine tree.
Vitex, viticis, a kynde of wylly: rde Agnus castus.
Vitium, rij, n. ge. a place, wherein ponge bynne are sette.
Vitatio, onis, a ranshemment, a corruption of bedourynge.
Vitator, oris, m. g. a corrupter, a ranshemmer.
Vitatus, a, um, corrupted, bedoured.
Vitata mulier, a woman ranshemmed or bedoured.
Vitacula, le, f. g. a little vine.
Vitculum, li, n. g. the Moore of a vine.
Vititer, ra, rui, that beareth vynes.
Virginus, a, um, that cometh of a vine.
Virginus, a, um, of a vine.
Vitigo, gnis, f. g. a foulnesse of all the bodie, hangynge byttes of sondre colours.
Vitilis, le, any thyng that maie be woonden, pliant, flexibie, more to bynde with.
Vitiligator, oris, m. ge. a detractour of backes butter, an hafter.
Vitiligo, aui, are, to backebite or detracte a man or woman, to hafter.
Vitio, aui, are, to corrupte or vitiate, to dysple, to detracte, to bedourne, to bedoure.
Virginem vitare, to bedoure a maiden.
Vitiose, pil, corruptly.
Vitiose facinus, we committe a faulte or doo amysse.
Vitiose concludere, to make a false conclusion.
Vitiosus, acis, f. g. vice, corruption, an vicious stant affection in all a mans behauiour.
Vitiosus, a, um, vicious, or full of errors, faultie, sick, corrupt.
Vitiosus magnificus, officers not ryght constitture or made.
Ovis vitiose, rotten or scabbed sheepe.
Suauium vitiosum, id est, corruptum.
Corpus vitiosum, a body not sounde.
Vitiosa nux, a worme eaten nutte.
Vita vitiosa, a naughty lyfe.
Vitis, us, f. g. a vine. also a thyng, whiche a raptayne in warres did beare in his hande.
Vitis alba, an herbe, whiche renneth vp in heddes, and wyndeth about the ferres, haughe a leafe lyke a vine leafe, but rougher, and a red beaste - it is also callid Brioma, and in englysh thide byne.
Vitis nigra, a lyke wynde, whiche comonly groweth amonge amonge herbes, and byndeth theym together, haupng a leafe in facion lyke to iap.

 Viufaror, oris, m. g. he that setteth vines.
 Vitifco, fere, to fpyngge vnto a vyne.
 Vitium, m, n. g. vice, contrarie to vertue. also a faute of errour, a thyng to be blamed of reproch. also sickness, an impediment, a blemishe, also imperfection, corruption.
 Vitium offerre virginu, to defaure a virgin.
 Vitio dare, to blame of reprobous.
 Vitio vertere, to dyspreffe, to facke.
 Meum vitium fuerit, it shall be my faute.
 Vini vitio fecit, the wyne was in faute that he dyd it, or dyspleasance caused hym to dooe it.
 Vito, au, are, to eschewe, to beware of, to avoyde.
 Mortem fuga vitare, to faue his lyfe by fflyght.
 suspiciones vitare, to avoyde suspicion.
 Vitreolum, an herbe growynge on walles, wherewith vessell beyng scoured, is made wonderfull bright.
 Vitreus, a, um, of glasse, clere lyke glasse, also bychle.
 Vitrarius, ij, m. g. a glasse maker, or a glasiar.
 Vitrius, a, um, of glasse.
 Vitricus, i, m. g. a father in lawe or a stepfather.
 Vitrolum, li, n. g. a diminutive of Vitrum.
 Vitrosus, a, um, whiche hath plentie of glasse, full of glasse.
 Vitrum, i, n. g. glasse.
 Vita, æ, f. g. a fillet or hedbande. sometime a garlande.
 Vittatus, a, um, bounde with a fillet or bonde.
 Vitula, æ, a heffer or ponce cowe.
 Vitulatio, onis, f. g. cecyng.
 Vitulinus, a, um, of a calfe.
 Caro vitulina, beale.
 Vitulor, aris, ai, to cecyge.
 Vitulus, i, m. g. n. calfe, not onely of a cowe, but also of an oliphant, and of great fishes. it is also a fische called a scale.
 Vitumnus, a God, whom the painims supposed to geue lyfe.
 Vituperabilis, le, woorthy blame, to bee blamed.
 Vituperatio, onis, fæ. g. a rebuke geuen, a blamyng, a dyspreysing.
 In vituperationem venire, to be blamed.
 Vituperator, oris, m. g. he that rebuketh or blameth an other, he that dyspreiseth or discormendeth.
 Vituperium, ij, n. g. a rebuke, discommendacion, defacyng.
 Vitupero, au, are, to rebuke, to blame, to dyscommende, to dyspreffe.
 Vituperones, rebukers.
 Vitacitas, atis, naturall strength or liness.
 Viuarium, n, ne. ge. a place where wyld beastes, byrdes and fishes be kepte, it maye be called as well a ponde as a parke, a connygar, a walke for byrdes.
 Viuax, acis, om. g. lively, stronge of nature, that lyueth longe.

Viuerra, æ, f. g. a fireet.
 Viuidus, a, um, lively, quicke, full of strength or liness.
 Viuior, & viuisimus, olde wyters bled for mozt living or mozt lyving.
 Viuiradix, icis, fæ. ge. a ponce vyne set with the roote. it is also euery plant, wherof the roote is quicke, though the stem or fpyngge be dead or corrupted, a quichefet.
 Viuisco, viuisce, or Viuesco, viuescere, to begynne to fpyngge or take lyfe.
 Viuo, vixi, ere, to lyue, to haue a mery lyfe.
 Viuere in diem, to lyue without any prouision or store.
 Bene valete & viuite, fare you well, and god sende you to lyue a mery lyfe.
 Acetate viuere, to leade his lyfe.
 Annis vel annos centum viuere, to lyue an hundredth yeres.
 Beatissime viuere, we should leade a blessed and mery lyfe, we should lyue lyke saptes.
 Viuere, is sometime taken for Secundum virtutem viuere, to lyue after an honeste trade or facion: and Vita, for actus & mores, as who should faie, the lyfe actus of morall and virtuous.
 Quibuscum conuictissime vixerat, with who he had great familiaritee and friendshippe.
 Cum aliquo familiariter viuere, to lyue with one as his familiar frende.
 In laude viuere, to lyue in pryse and renowne.
 Parce viuere, to lyue sparingly and rigardly.
 Delicate & molliter viuere, to leade a wanton and delicate lyfe.
 E natura viuere, to lyue accordyng to nature.
 Viuere ex more alterius, to lyue as an other man woulde haue hym, or efter an other mans mynde or pleasure.
 Viuere studius, to set all his pastyme on learyng and studie, to leade all his life in the studye of good letters.
 Ne viuiam si scio, I praye god I die, if I knowe it.
 Viuit tanquā Delum nauigans, he is nothing solicitous or carefull for his living: he thynketh god neuer sent the mouth but he sent the meate for it.
 Viuendo vincere aliquem, to ouer lyue one.
 Viuitur, the impersonall.
 Quid agitur? T. viuitur, howe is the matter?
 C. I lue as well as I maye.
 Viuus, a, um, that lyueth, also quicke, naturall, stronge, bechment of great.
 Viua sepes, a quiche hedge.
 Viua aqua, rennyng water, water that fpynggeth naturall out of any place.
 Ad viuum refecare, to cutte to the quiche, to touche or discusse a matter exactly.
 Vix, vixit, scantly, hardely.
 Vix dum, scantly as yet, scantly at length.
 Vix tandem, in conclusion.

Vix,

Vix, for Non.
 Vix Priamus tanti totaque Troia fuit, hyngge Priamus and all Troie, was not so muche woorthye.
 Vix, with muche a dooe.
 Si idem istuc imitatur, ita tandem vix viuimus, although we doe the lyke: yet with muche adoe we lyue.
 Vix ægre, verie hardely.

Vlceraria herba, herbes that make blysters.
 Vlceratio, onis, fæ. ge. a blyckynge out in scabbes and sores.
 Vlcerio, au, are, to make full of sores or scabbes, also to exasperate or make grieue.
 Vlcerosus, a, um, full of sores or scabbes.
 Vlceror, fceris, fci, to bee reuenged, to avenge, to take reuengement, to punish.
 Vlcescar te, I will reuenge my selfe on the, I will requite the, or I will bee reuenged on the.
 Vlcescentur illum mores sui, his owne manners will byngge hym to be punished for his naughtynesse.
 Mortem alicuius vlceisci, to reuenge ones death.
 Vlcius, vlceris, n. ge. an hyd mischief. it is also corrupte matter gathered within the skinne, and couered with a scabbe. it is any manner of soze where the skinne is broken, a boyle, a soze, a botche.
 Vlcius tangere, to rubbe on the gall, to speake of a thyng, whiche is displeasent to one to haue remembred.
 Vlculum, a soze of scabbe.
 Vllex, licis, an herbe lyke to rosemarie, whiche dyaweth to it golde.
 Vlginosus, a, um, toke with longe abode of water, alwaie moyst.
 Vlgo, mis, f. g. naturall moysture of the earth alwaie remainyng.
 Vlilus, the name of Apollo.
 Vlo, olde wyters bled for Vlilus fuero, I shall be reuenged.
 Vlilus, a, um, any.
 Vlmarium, n, n. g. a groue of elmes.
 Vlms, mi, f. g. a tree called an elme.
 Vlmeus, a, um, of elme.
 Vlma, æ, a fathom, also an elle, after Suetonius, it is onely a cubite.
 Circundare aliquem vlis, to emb race one in his armes.
 Vlpius, a famous lawier.
 Vlpicum, i, n. g. great garlyke.
 Vls, of whom cometh Vlra, and Vlismus, Cato useth it for Vlro.
 Vltior, vlcius, further, more beyonde.
 Quis est vltior? who is that further beyonde?
 Cupidus vltiora audiendi, despyse to hear: those thynges that were beynde.

 Vlmo, an aduerbe, at the last.
 Vlimum, æ, aduerbe, the last tyme.
 Vlimum illum vlimus, that shoulde neuer see hym after.
 Vlismus, a, um, last, sometime it signifieth first.
 Vluma platea, at the ende of the streete.
 Vlumis in ædibus, on the backe syde of the house, in the uttermost parte of my house.
 Vluma inopia, extreme pouertie and nede.
 Denunciare necessitate vlumam, to thynke ten that he woulde hyl one.
 Vluma pena, extreme punishment, payne of death.
 Vlimum bonum, the chiefe felicitye of goodnesse.
 Vluma experiri, to vse the extreme remedie.
 Vluma pati, to suffer extreme punishment, to suffer the greatest mischief that can be.
 Vluma in malis hanc sunt illi, these thynges seme to hym to bee the extreme and greatest euyls, that can chaunce to a man.
 Vlimum principium, the first begynnyng.
 Vlro, onis, f. g. vengeance, reuengement, in byng of punishment.
 Vlor, oris, m. g. he that taketh vengeance.
 Vlra, beyonde, more, moztouer, sometime threwedly and frowardly.
 Vlra modum progredi, to passe measure.
 Vl sustineri vlra non possent, that they could not be withstanded any longer.
 Ne quid vlra requiratis, that you myght requyre no more.
 Vlrix, icis, the that taketh vengeance.
 Vlro, willingly, without dyspye or compulsion, also moztouer, of the owne accord, or voluntarie wyll.
 His lachrymis vitam damus & miserecimus vlro, and moztouer take pite on hym.
 Vlro ad eum venies, thou wylt come vnto hym of thyne owne accord or mynde, or vnto sent for.
 Vlro citroque verba facere, to talke and reasoun one to an other.
 Vlro citroque cursare, to ren in and out from one to an other, to renne by and downe, to ren forwarde and backwarde, to renne hither and thither.
 Nuntius vlro citroq; missis, messengers being sente from one to an other on bothe the partes.
 Vlronus, willingly, with a free wyll.
 Vlra, æ, f. g. reke or webes of the sea.
 Vlbra, a village or small towne in Italie, where Augustus was nourished.
 Vlula, æ, f. g. a spiche owle.
 Vlulatus, us, m. g. an howlyng, lamentyng or cryyng out.
 Vlulatus, a, um, that hath howled.
 Vlulo, au, are, to howle as a dogge or moule dooth.
 Vllysses, the sonne of Laertes and Antholia, kinge of

Y ANTE M.

of the isles of Ithaca, and Dulichium, a man excellng all other Grekes, whiche came against Troie, in eloquent and subtiltie of witte, who after the subuersion of Troie, when he hadde wandred .x. yeeres on the seas and marches therof, and had seen many countreys, finally returned home, and there a good space of tyme remained unknowne, and suffered many displeasures of the woars of his wife the chaste Penelope, whom by the helpe of Thelemachus his sonne and his squire herdes, he at the last slew. not withstanding afterwarde, his hym selfe was slayne by Thelegonus, his bairde sonne with an arrow, not beyng knowen of the same Thelegonus.

Vlyssipona, the chiefe citee of Portugal called Lisbonne.

Y ANTE M

Vmbella, a, f. g. a littell shadow, also a littell rounde thyng, that gentiwomen beare in theyr handes, to shadowe them from the soonne. also the rounde suite of head of fencell, wheron the seedes grow.

Vmber, one of the countrey of Umbria.

Vmbilicatum, in the facion of a nauill.

Vmbilicatus, a, um, that hath an nauill, or any thyng made lyke a nauill.

Vmbilicus, ci, m. g. the nauill, also the middre of any thyng, also a litle circle made in the ground, to knowe whiche wate the wynde standeth. also it is an ornamente made of stone, tymbre, or horne lyke to ones nauill. a bullid, such as is set on the backe of a bulke. Vmbilici, be also small stoues rounde and smothe.

Ad vmbilicum adducere, to bryng to a point. Dies ad vmbilicum iam est, it is noone. Peruenimus vsq; ad vmbilicos, we haue finisshed our made an ende.

Vmbro, onis, m. gene. the boffe of a buckler or shield. it is sometyme taken for a buckler.

Vmbra, a, f. g. a shadow, it was also that whiche was called the gost of a man beyng dead, whiche not onely pagynims, but also christians did suppose to appere visibly vnto men. also an vnbiden gyste, that accompanieth one that is bidden to a feast or dince.

Facere aut efficere vmbra, to caste a shadow. Vmbra arborum amputare, to cut of bowes of trees that cast shadow.

Suum ipsius vmbra metueret, spoken prouersbielly of timorouse persons, whiche feare where none occasion is.

Vmbra & imago, cui opponitur, solida & expressa effigies.

Vmbra luxurie, id est, signum, vestigium.

Vmbra veritatis, a certayne apperaunce of likeyphode of truelyth.

Vmbraculum, i, n. g. a place where men might be out of the soonne, or that whiche made shadow, an herbe, a bowe, also the instrument, wherewith women shadowe theyr faces from the soonne.

Y ANTE M.

Vmbraticus, a, um, lyke a shadowe, or of a shadowe.

Vmbraticus homo, a man liuing at ease, and out of all labour or businesse.

Vmbratilis, le, that is doen in the shadow, or as it were with ease, and without any swaite or payne.

Vmbratiles res, trifflinge thynges, or trifles.

Vmbratilis pugna, exercise of feates of warre out of battaile, as in an house.

Vmbri, people of Italie now called Spoletani.

Vmbria, a parte of Italie.

Vmbrifer, a, um, makinge shadowe, as a great wood dooth.

Vmbriana and Vmbra, a fische, which by the description of Paulus Iouius, seemeth to me to bee an halibutte, for the greynesse and delicacie of the head, and similitude of a surgon.

Vmbro, aut, are, to shadow.

Vmbro, onis, a ryce in Lombardie, called also Amber.

Vmbrosus, a, um, haupng muche shadowe, that casteth a great shadowe.

V, ANTE N.

VNā, together.

Vna cum Cicerone, together with Cicero.

Vna mecum, together with me.

Vnanimis, me, & vnanimus, a, um, of one mind and wyll.

Vnanimus consensus, one whole consent.

Vnanimitas, aus, f. g. concorde of myndes, vnanimitie.

Vncia, a, f. g. an ounce, also an puche.

Vncia agri, a measure of lande, the .xii. parte of iugerum, containinge 2400. foote, that is 40. foote byroade and 60. longe.

Vncialis, le, of or belongynge to an ounce or puche.

Vncialis altitudo, an puche length.

Littere vnciales, letters an inch longe.

Vnciarius, a, um, of an ounce.

Vnciaria stips, the .xii. parte of a pounce.

Vnciaria vites, bynes so planted, that one is from an other the .xii. parte of iugerum.

Vnciaria vsura, vel scenus vnciarius, when in the hundred one is gained, as in a hundred pounce. .xx. shillings, for the peere lone.

Vuciaum, puche by puche, puche meale.

Vncinatus, a, um, hooked or crooked, armed with hookes.

Vcinus, a littell clubbe or batte, crooked at the ende.

Vnciola, a, f. g. an puche.

Vnctio, onis, anointyng.

Vnctiusculus, a, um, that is somewhat anointed.

Y ANTE N.

cted, also fatted, oyle, vnctious.

Vncto, aut, are, to anointe often.

Vnctor, oris, m. g. a nointer.

Vnctorius, a, um, belongynge to anointyng.

Vnctorium hypocaustum, a place nyghe to the stowe or hote house, where men bee anointed after they haue swaite.

Vnctum, the leafe of an hogge, whiche is the fattede that lieth by the backe and ribbes, whiche houzsebawdes vse to rolle by and kepe to make saulces, or clote fre meate, as fritours and pancakes.

Vnctura, a, f. g. anointyng.

Vnctus, a, um, of Vngor, eis, anointed or greased.

Vncus, i, m. gen. a batte or crooked clubbe, also any thyng that is crooked at the ende.

Vncus, a, um, crooked.

Vnda, a, f. gen. water, properly a waue, a surge, sometyme by translation, steryng or businesse, also a great multitude of men.

Vnda prima prae, that oyle that cometh firste out of the presse.

Innatate vndam, to swymme in the water.

Vnda conuictorium, great businesse and steryng at the assemblies of people, the great disorder of opinions, the troublous groupynge of sentences.

Vndabundus, a, um, makinge great or many waues.

Vndans, antis, om. ge. waupng or mouyng lyke the waues.

Aetna vndans, casting out flames, lyke waues of water.

Vnatum, lyke to waues of the sea.

Vndaus, a, um, made lyke waues.

Vnde, from whence, wherto, wherby, wherof, wherfore, what to doe, from whiche thyng, of whom, how, by what meanes.

Vnde gentium, idem.

Vnde is? from whence comest thou?

Vnde aduenis? idem.

Tot res vnde emergi non potest, from the whiche a man can not escape.

Puer hic vnde est? Whose childe is this?

Whose house came this childe?

Si habuerit, vnde tibi soluar, if he haue any thyng wherwith to paye you.

A praedonibus vnde emerat, of the whiche he bought hir.

Vnde tantum virium caeco? wherto hath a blynde man so great strength.

Vnde id scis? how knowest thou that?

Vndeunde, of what place so euer it be, or from whence so euer it come.

Vndecumq; idem.

Vndecim, a leuen.

Vndeceni, a, na, a leuen.

Vndecimus, a, um, the eleuenth.

Vndecentum, 99.

Y ANTE N.

Vndecies, a leuen tymes.

Vndeciremis, is, a galley haupng a leuen oydres of oyes, or a leuen oyes in euerie leate.

Vndecumq; fro what to euer place.

Vndenus, a, um, the leuenth.

Vndeliber from whence thou wilt.

Vnde octoginta, lxxix.

Vnde quadraginta, xxxix.

Vnde quinquaginta, lxx.

Vnde lxxviii, a, um, lxxviii.

Vnde lxxviii, a, um, the nynthent.

Vnde lxxviii, xix, lackyng one of .xx.

Vnde lxxviii, idem quod vndeliber.

Vndicola, he that dwilleth on the water.

Vndiq; on euer spde, from all partes.

Vndique uersum, on euer spde, rounde about.

Vndifonus, a, um, that maketh a noyse lyke the waues, when they rse and fall in the water, or dooeth roye as the water dooth at a great floudde.

Vndiuonius, a, um, that casteth out water from hym.

Vndo, aut, are, to rise in waues, to make waues or surges.

Vndofus, a, um, full of waues or surges.

Vndofum mare, a troublous sea and full of waues.

Vndularus, a, um, made lyke waues of the water.

Vndula a vestis, chaster, or a garment wrought as it were with riuers.

Vndula, la, f. g. a litle waue.

Vnedo, vnediis, f. m. g. a kynde of wilde frute lyke apples, whiche is bitter, and hurteth both the head and the stomacke. Some vse it for a crabbe.

Vnguentum, u, n. gen. idem quod Vnguentum.

Vngo, vxi, vngere, to anoint, to grease, to smere.

Vngi ex cerussa, to be anointed with Ceruse.

Vnguentum, u, n. g. oymment, or any thyng made of fatte.

Vnguentarius, ri, m. g. of Vnguentaria, f. g. he or she that maketh sweete oyles.

Vnguentaria, a, f. m. g. the craft to make sweete oyles.

Vnguentarius, a, um, belongynge to oymmentaries of sweete oyles.

Vnguentatus, a, um, anointed with sweete oyle.

Vnguentum, ti, n. g. a sweete oymment: it is used for euer oymment.

Vngues, musthyla.

Vnguicula, la, f. g. a littell softe nayle.

A teneris vnguiculis, from his tendre pouth of infancy.

Vnguinosus, a, um, vnctious, that made be anointed with.

Vnguis, guis, m. gen. a nayle of the fyngers of toes, as well of a man as of a byrde or beaste.

sometyme the house of an oxe or cowe. also a littell brynche of a ponge shoute of a vine. it is also

V ANTE N.

V ANTE N.

also a disease, whiche at length couereth all the eie with fleische in the corner of the eie. it is in an horse taken of therocks for an haw in the eie.
 Vngues arrodere, to gnawe on his nables, a prouerbe, applied to them, which are in a studie, how they shal after suche thynges as they dooe repent them of.
 Vngues ferrei, certayne instrumentes to gas
 ther grapes.
 Vnguem lacum non discedere, not to depart a nagle bryethe out of his place, prouerbi ally bled, not to dissent or disagree from one, the leaste thyng in the worlde.
 Medium vnguem ostendere dicitur, whiche doeth vterly contemne or despyse on other.
 Ad vnguem, perfectly.
 Vnguis, in a rose, is the white and thirke part of the floure next the topp of the stalk.
 Vnguilla, la, f. g.
 Vngula, la, fem. gene. the house of an horse or other beaste.
 Omnis vngulis, with all might and power,
 with toothe and nagle, with hande and foote.
 Vngularius, a great nagle and ragged.
 Vngularus, a, um, that hath foule great nables.
 Vngulum, li, n. g. of olde writers was taken for a ryng, or a thimble to sow with.
 Vngustus, a crooked staffe, or suche as commonly men dooe call a crooke, wherewith they drawe to them any thyng.
 Vnicaleum frumentum, wheate whiche hath but one reede growyng out of the rote.
 Vnicialis, le, that hath but one stalk without any branch.
 Vnicis, onely, especially, singularly.
 Vnicis illum diligit, he loueth hym as his onely deere chylde.
 Vnicolor, oris, om. g. of one colour.
 Vnicornis, nis, m. gen. of Vnicornius, nij, mas.
 gen. and Vnicornium, nij, neu. ge. a beaste, called an vnico;ne.
 Vnicornis, ne, that hath but one horne.
 Vnicuba, a woman, whiche lieth or companieth but with one man.
 Vnicus, a, um, one alone.
 Vnigenitus, ti, m. g. one childe without mo.
 Vnigua vinea, vines, in the whiche vpon the proppes beyng set vp, sundry rayles are laied on the one syde onely.
 Vnimanus, a, um, that hath but one hande.
 Vnio, iui, ire, to ioyne together, to vniite.
 Vnio, onis, f. g. conioyde.
 Vnio, onis, m. g. a pette. also an oynion.
 Vnioculus, li, m. g. he that hath but one eie.
 Vnipes, pedis, m. g. haueyng but one foote.
 Vnistipis, pe, that hath but one stemme.
 Vnitas, aris, f. g. vniite, vniyng or ioynyng of two thynges or mo together.
 Vniter, together in one.
 Vnitio, onis, a ioynyng together.
 Vnitus, a, um, ioynd together in one.

Vniuersalis, le, vniuersall, belongyng to all.
 Vniuersa, vniuersally, generally.
 Vniuersipotens, he that hath power ouer all.
 Vniuersipotentia, power ouer all.
 Vniuersitas, aris, t. g. vniuersitee, generalitee.
 Vniuersus, a, um, vniuersall, all without excep tion. sometyne it signifyeth the whole.
 Mare vniuersum, the whole sea or all the sea.
 Vniuersus exercitus, the whole armie.
 Vniuersi, all together.
 In vniuersum, in general.
 Vniuersum in partes diuidere, to diuide the whole into partes.
 Vniuersa vita, the whole life.
 Vniuersa, a woman haueyng but one husbnde.
 Vniucocus, a, um, that signifyeth but one thyng.
 Vniucoc, of the same signification.
 Vniuismodi, of one sorte or fashion, like.
 Vnuculus, loke Vnioculus.
 Vnosc, olde writers used for Simul, together.
 Vnni, hungarians.
 Vnquam, any tyme, euer.
 Vnquam gentium, idem quod Vnquam.
 Vt nemo vnquam, as neuer man was in the worlde.
 Vnus, na, num, one. also alone.
 Vnis adibus, in the same house.
 Vno animo, of one accord, with one mynde or consent.
 Vnus quis, who so euer thou wilt.
 Vno ictu, at one stroke.
 Vno verbo, at one woode.
 Vnum, one thyng.
 Vnus ex multis, Vnus ex omnibus, one ad
 lone onely.
 Vnus tum domi eram, I was then at whom alone.
 Vnus omnium, onely or alone amōg all other.
 Illum curo vnū, I passe of care for hym alone.
 Ad vnum, at ones.
 Caluitium vni tantum animalium homini, a man is balde and no beaste els.
 Vnus & alter, two, one of two.
 Vno aut altero die, in a daie of two onely.
 Vnus atq; idem, the selfe same persone.
 Vnus de septem, one of the seuen.
 Dum rure absum vnos sex dies, while I haue ben in the countrey but one poore six daies.
 Vno exemplo omnes viuunt, they liue all as ter one fashion.
 Vnus ē vulgo, one of the common people.
 Te vnum ex omnibus amat, he loueth you onely amonge all other.
 Vnis moribus viuunt, they kepe the same fas tions or maners in their luyngs still.
 Vna harum quatuor causa, any one of all these reasons or causes.
 Vno quoq; gradu, at euerie steppe.
 Vna hac spes est, there is no hope but this.
 Vno verbo eloquere, tell me at a woode, tell me at ones.

Hic

V ANTE O.

Hic vnus, this man onely.
 Hoc ego scio vnum, I knowe this one thyng.
 Vnusquisque, quæque, quodq; vel quidq; eue ry one.
 Vnusquisq; optimus, euerie honest man.

V, ANTE O.

Voberca, a towne by Sylbo in Spayne.
 Vocabulum, li, n, g. the denomination of any thyng, a woode, a name.
 Vocalis, le, londe. also that whiche hath a voice.
 Vocalitas, aris, f. g. a tune or sound of a voice.
 Vocamen, minis, n. g. the name of a thyng.
 Vocamen trahere de re aliqua, to haue the name of a thyng.
 Vocatio, onis, a calling.
 Vocatus, a, um, pertainyng to calling.
 Vocator, oris, m. ge. a caller, one that is sent to bidde men to suppar or dinar.
 Vocatus, a, um, called, bidden.
 Vocatus, us, m. g. a calling vpon, a praiyng.
 Vociferans, aris, crying out, praiyng.
 Vociferatio, onis, a crying out.
 Vociferator, oris, m. g. he that crieth out.
 Vociferor, aris, ari, to crie out, to crie londe, to braie.
 Vocifero, idem.
 Vocito, aui, are, to call often.
 Voco, aui, are, to call, to bidde, to aske, to geue
 a name.
 Me ad Democritum vacas, thou doest allege Democritus, and wouldest haue me to beleue
 hym.
 Ad calculos vocare, to call to accompte.
 Ad computationem vocare, idem.
 Ad exemplar alterius vocare, to exhorte one to folowe the example of an other man.
 In discrimen vocare, to put in daunger.
 In ius vel iudicium vocare, to accuse one openly to tryge an action agaynst one.
 Vocare ad cenam, to bidde to suppar.
 Conuiuium vocare, idem.
 Vocauerat me in hunc diem, he bade me come as this daie.
 Vocare clamoribus hostem, to prouoke the enemies to battayle with cryyng to them.
 Vocare deum clamore, to call vpon god.
 Nomine vocare aliquem, to call one by name.
 Vocat pluuiam cornix, the crowe signifyeth by his cryyng that we shal haue rayne.
 In crimen vocare, to accuse, to blame, to laie to ones charge.
 In dubium vocare, to doubt of.
 Ad exitium & vastitatem vocare, to waste and destroy utterly.
 Ad libertatem seruos vocare, to manumite or make free.
 In luctum vocare, to make heauy or sorrowfull,
 to cause to moune.
 In odium vocabatur, it was hated.

V ANTE O.

In partes mulieres vocat sunt, the women were made partners, or willed to bee parte ta kers.
 In periculum vocantur, they are brought in daunger.
 In suspicionem vocare, to suspecte.
 Ad procuracionem rei alius vocari, to bee willed to take the charge of a thyng vpon hym.
 Ad testimonium vocare, to call one to beare witnesse.
 Ad vitam vocare aliquem, to bidde one bee good there, and put hym in hope of lyfe: or courage or exhorte hym to lyue.
 In inuolacionem proborum vocare, to ac cuse one, or laie certayne reprochfull thynges to his charge.
 Voconia, a kynde of peeres.
 Vocontij, people of Barbon in Fraunce.
 Vocula, la, f. g. a littell voice. sometyne obloqui also a littell woode.
 Vogelus, a helyn in the marches of Angrece in Fraunce.
 Vola, la, fem. ge. the middes of the hande or the foote. it is taken for the sole of the foote, the palme of the hande.
 Volans, aris, om. g. fleyng, rynnng swiftly.
 Volantia sedatur, he endeuourith to catche an hare with a tabber.
 Volantes, substantiue, birdes.
 Volaterra, a towne in Hetruria.
 Volaticus, a, um, that fleyth or goeth awaie soe demely, fflyyng, vncoustant.
 Volatilis, le, that fleyth or can fley.
 Volatura, ra, f. g. idem quod Volatus.
 Volatus, us, m. g. a fleyng.
 Volca, Languedoche in Fraunce.
 Volcaius, the name of diuers Romans.
 Volema, orum, neu. gene. plu. a great peare, a wardyn.
 Volens, entis, om. g. willing.
 Volens animo, willingly, with a willinge mynde.
 Volgiolum, li, neu. ge. an instrument of houes bandyng.
 Volgiagus, looke Vulgiagus.
 Voliba, a towne in Loznewaple called Bodwyn.
 Volito, aui, are, to fley often, to renne in and out often.
 Cupiditate glorie volitare, to auance hym
 selfe greatly with the desyre of glorie.
 Volo, aui, are, to fley, to renue or goe quickly or fast.
 Volant literæ, letters be carried with greatte speede.
 Volat nauis, the shippe sailleth very swiftly.
 Fama volat, fame is spreade abroad quickly.
 Volat aras, our tyme or age passeth a pace.
 Volant tela, daries be hurtled, or fley one at an other.
 Volo, vis, volui, velle, to wylle, to be willing,
 to wylle.

Volo

Volo tuam gratiam, I desyre your fauour.
Volo te, I wolde speake with the.
Volo te paucis, and Tribus verbis te volo, I wolde speake with you a woordes of two.
Velit uoluit, whether he wyll or no.
Rhodium volo pueri causa, I wyll goe to Rhodes for the chyldes sake, or because of the childe.
Ne quid emisse velit, let him not bie any thing: or let hym see that he bie no thyng.
Quem locum uolo tibi notum, whiche place I wolde ye dyd know.
Leuiter bene uelle alicui, to owe one lyttell good wyll.
Volo omnia tua causa, id est, bene tibi cupio, I wyll doe all for your sake that I can possibie, I owe you very good wyll, I desire to do you any pleasure that I can possibie.
Valde eius causa uolo, I wolde beate saue: or I desyre greatly to dooe hym pleasure.
Per eos, qui nostra causa uolunt, by theem, whiche desyre or couet to dooe vs pleasure.
Eum honorem deum tibi fortunare uolo, I praye god prospere you in that honour or dignitee.
Volo defensam, id est, cupio defendi.
Quibus me vehementer excusatum uolo, to whom I desyre greatly to haue my selfe excused.
Volo oratum a uobis rem istam, I wolde desyre you this thyng.
Vos oratos uolo, I wolde desyre you.
Nunc ut ueniret uelim, nowe I wolde to god he wolde come.
Quid sibi uult istud? what meaneth or signifiseth this?
Volones, were bonde men at Rome, whiche in the warres of Carthage, whā there lached 130000000, offered theem selues to fyght for theem masters: and because they dyd it willingly without constraint, they were called Volones.
Volsci, an auncient people of Italie.
Volcella, he, f. g. an instrument to plucke heares from the body of face, pinners.
Volturnum, a towne of Tuscan called now Balsena.
Volsus, a, um, for Versus, a, um, or Vulsus, a, um.
Voluta, a, f. g. for Voluta.
Volubilis, le, that is of maie be easily turned or tumbled.
Fortuna volubilis, vnconstant fortune, that neuer abyde in one state.
Volubilis, is an herbe, which renneth vp by trees, hauing red branches, & the leaues bying and blisterynge the tounge.
Volubilitas, a, is, f. g. the turnyng of any thyng.
Volubilitas fortunæ, the vnconstantnesse of fortune.
Volubilitas linguæ, the mouyng or waggynge of the tounge, quicke speakyng.
Volubilitas verborum, quicke pronuncyng of woordes: or the fallng of measure of woordes in speakyng.

Volubiliter, with a certayne measure, numbre, or fallng in woordes.
Volucer, cris, cre, any thyng that fleeth, swift, llyght.
Aquæ volucres, riuers.
Fortuna volucris, wauerynge and flitting fortune.
Volucra, cræ, f. g. a vermine, whiche eateth the tender vines.
Volucris, cris, f. g. all thyng that dooth flee, as a byrde, a fye, a waspe, &c.
Volucrum, the after birthe in a woman.
Voluens, entis, participiū, or a nowne of a pectiple, turnyng, wrappynge, or rennyng rounde, thynnyng in the mynde.
Plaustra voluētia, id est, volubilia, that turne and renne rounde.
Sensus varios voluens, myndyng diuers thinges: or, pondering sondy thinges in his mind.
Volumen, minis, n. g. a booke. Sometime parte of a booke, called a volume.
Impendere tota volumina in disputationem, &c. to spende or consume whole bookes in disputyng and reasonyng a matter.
Voluntarie, and Voluntario, redly, willingly, promptly, with a ready mynde.
Voluntarius, a, um, voluntarie, willing.
Voluntaria herba, an herbe that groweth naturally without sowynge.
Auxilia voluntaria, succours sente of a mans owne accord.
Mors voluntaria, voluntarie death.
Voluntarius adest, he is there ready with a franke or free courage.
Oblivio voluntaria, whan one forgetteth a thyng willingly.
Voluntas, a, is, f. g. ge. wyll, affection.
Voluntas erga aliquem, the good affection or wyll toward one.
Si voluntate nolet, if he wyl not freely without compulsion.
Id voluntate impetret, let hym obteyne that of you wyth your good wyll.
Omnium voluntate, with the good wyll and fauour of all men.
Ex voluntate alicuius aliquid facere, to dooe a thyng accordyng as one wolde haue hym.
De sua voluntate erga Cæsarem, of his good wyll that he had to dooe pleasure or seruice to Cæsar.
Mutua voluntas, mutuall loue and good wyll one to an other.
Voluntas eius a me sine causa abhorret, he hateth me without a cause.
Voluntas vestra si ad poetā accesserit, if you dooe fauour, &c.
Voluo, volui, vere, to wrappe, to turne, also to caste or thynke in the mynde.
Libros voluere, to turne bookes, to rede booke kes diligently.

Cogitationes voluere, to thynke or caste many thynges in his mynde.
Secum aliquid voluere, to cast in his mynde, to thynke.
Voluere cum animo, idem.
Voluox, uocis, masc. gen. a little wourme with many legges, whiche eateth the leaues of vines and of other trees.
Volup, or Volupe, delectable, pleasant.
Voluptia, the goddesse of voluptie, or pleasure.
Volupabilis, le, that reioyseth, acceptable, pleasant.
Voluptarius, a, um, pleasant, that bringeth pleasure. also geuen to pleasure.
Homo voluptarius, a man geuen to pleasure.
Voluptarius sensus, a sense that taketh great pleasure in thynges that it blyeth.
Voluptaria loca, places of pleasure.
Voluptas, a, is, f. g. an inordinate reioysyng or delectacion in thynges worldly or carnall, voluptee, pleasure, delite, sensualitee.
Voluptatem magnam nuntas, thou tellest me very good tidings.
Spero fore nobis hanc cōiunctionem voluptati, I trust that this aliaunce shalbe to our comfort.
Voluptatem eius capio, I take great pleasure in hym.
Voluptate capi, to be delited.
Esse voluptati, to be pleasant or acceptable.
Mea voluptas, my onely pleasure, my solace, my delite.
Cum voluptate legere, to take great pleasure in readyng.
Semper est in voluptate, he liueth in perpetual pleasure.
Dolere, and In voluptate esse, contrary.
Voluptuarius, and Voluptarius, a, um, that is geuen to carnall delectacion.
Voluptuosus, a, um, voluptuous, vnfaciable in carnall pleasure or delectacion.
Voluptuosares, a very pleasant thyng.
Volusius, a poete of Naue.
Voluta, a, is, f. g. that whiche heruers and peines doe call drapery and ctery, wrought like clothe, or leaues turned diuers waies.
Volutabrum, bri. neu. gen. a place where swyne doe walowe.
Volutabundus, a, um, walowynge, turnyng, tossing in the mynde.
Volutatio, an aduerbe, signifing estroones tossing in the mynde, with tumblyng and rollyng.
Volutatio, onis, a rollyng, a tumblyng.
Volutus, us, m. g. idem.
Volutus, a, um, that hath rolled or tumbled in a place.
Volutus, a, ui, are, to tourne lyng, to walowe, to reuolue and tosse in the mynde, to tumble.
In luto volutare, to tumble in the mire.
Animum cogitationibus volutare, to thynke on diuers thynges, or to cast diuers thynges in his mynde.

Secum volutare aliquid, and in animo volutare, idem.
In omni genere scelerum volutare, to walow or liue continually in all kindes of naughtynesse.
In secreto cum amicis aliquid volutare, to talke or common of a thyng secretly with his friends.
Vomer, eris, m. g. the culter of a ploughe.
Vomica, ca, f. g. a rotten impostume, out whereof matter renneth. Plautus blyeth it for a purse full of money.
Vomitio, onis, f. g. a vometyng or perbakyng.
Vomitor, oris, m. g. he that vomiteth.
Vomitorius, a, um, that hath the strength or nature to make one vomite.
Vomito, aui, are, to vomite often.
Vomitus, us, m. g. a vometyng.
Varius vomitus, whan the vomite is of dyuers colours.
Vomo, mui, mere, to vomite or perbake.
In gremio suo vomere, to spue in his owne lappe.
Vomer, vomeris, the passive.
Vopiscus, sci, masc. gen. where two children are conceived, and one of them is aboyte, he that cometh to perfect birth is called Vopiscus. it was also the name of one that wyate the lues of emperours.
Voracitas, a, is, f. gen. gluttony, deuourynge, & cessive eatyng.
Voraciter, like a glutton.
Voraginosus, a, um, full of gulfs or swallowyng pittes.
Vorago, ginis, f. gen. a swallow of gulfe, a quauie mire.
Vorago patrimonij, a deuourer of a riotous spender of his patrimony.
Voratio, onis, a deuouryng.
Vorax, acis, om. gene. a glutton, a rauenour, a great eater of deuourer, a gourmandour.
Voro, aui, are, to swallow downe meate ere it be chewed. also to cate greedily.
Viam vorare, to reneue a pafe.
Vorsura, for Versura.
Vorsuram soluere, a prouerbe applied to theim, that so discharge theim selues of one busynesse, that they enter into an other more paynfull or dangerous.
Vortex, for Vortex.
Vorto, for Verto.
Vortumnalia, a solenne feast to the god Vortumnus.
Vos, vestrum, vel vestri, you.
Vosmetipsi, or Vosipii, you your selfe.
Votius, a, um, that is bowed. also desyred.
Votua verba, votiuæ preces, woordes and prayers, wherein we desyre somewhat.
Votiuæ aures, eares whiche desyre to here somewhat.

V ANTE R.

Legatio votina, looke Legatio.
Ludi votui, plaies that one hath vowed.
Voto, & votito, to make a vow.
Vorum, ti, n. g. a vow. sometime a desyre. some-tyme plaier.
Voti compos, that hath that whiche he wished of desyred.
Vota publica suscipere, to make generall prayer, solemnities of supplication.
Facere vota, to make vowes. also to wishe of praise god, to desyre.
Reddere vota, to accomplishe that he vowed.
Liberi voti, to be discharged of quite of his vow.
Implere votum alicuius, to fulfill ones desyre.
Melior fingi ne voto, quidem potuit, a man coude not wishe hym to be better.
Votus, a, um, bowed.
Voueo, ui, uere, to vowe or make a vowe.
Votum vouere, to make a vowe.
Vouere caput pro salute patrie, to put his life in daunger for safegarde of his countrey.
Vox, vocis, f. g. a voyce, a towne. sometime
a woorde.
Voce assa, with the voyce onely of a man, without any instrument of musike.
Absonus voce, he that hath an untunable voyce.
Canora vox, a lowde and shrill voyce.
Clara & suavis vox, a clere and sweete voyce.
Contentio vocis, lowde speaking.
Remissio vocis, temperate and low speaking.
Intentio vocis, streingnyng of the voyce.
Mollis vox, a womanlyke voyce.
Hac vna vox omnium, all the woerde accordeth in this, or sayeth this.
Vna voce, all with one accorde.
Hac vox, this sayng of woorde.
Vocem excitare, to speake hygher and hygher
by little and little.
Glutire vocem, to cattyll in the throte as one were choled, to make a noyse lyke a raupn.
Iacere vocem, to spread a rumour, to speake,
to cast out a woerde.
Vocem mittere contra aliquem, to speake as gainst one.
Vox de questura nulla missa est, there was no woorde spoken of the questourschippe.
Vocem pro aliquo mittere, to speake for one.
Rumpere vocem, to speake out after longe silence.
Mittere liberam vocem, to speake frankly and freely.
Latina voce loqui, to speake latine.

V, ANTE P.

V Pilio, onis, m. g. Virgill hath for Opilio.
Vpupa, vpupa, f. g. a birde, no bigger then a thynth, and (as Plinie saith) hath a cresse from his bill to the vitermost part of

V ANTE P.

his heade, whiche he strouteth by of holdeth downe according to his affection, wherefore it can not be our lapwing, as it hath ben take for, it is rather called a houpe. Plautus vlyeth this woyde for an harlot.

V, ANTE R.

V Rania, x, f. g. of Vranie, et, f. g. one of the muses, which is president of Muses noimie.
Vragus, of olde wyters was used for Orcus, death.
Vranoscopos, a certaine fylthe haupng one cle in his head.
Vranus, the fathoe of Saturnus, called also Caelum.
Vrbancum, lyke a gentillman, curteously, graciously.
Vrbane, curteously, with a good grace, pleasantly.
Vrbancani milites, souldiours of the citee.
Vrbancitas, atis, f. g. curtesie, good maner, gentile-nesse in speache, ciuilitie: also scoffng, isling.
Vrbancus, a, um, of the citee, that dwelleth in the citee, ciuile, curteously, gentill in speache and lecture.
Arbor vrbana, cui syluestris opponitur.
Mus vrbancus, a townis moule.
Serui vrbani, that serue in the towne or citee.
Pradia vrbana, houses, either in the citee or countrey, wher gentillmen lie.
Vrbicula, x, f. g. a little citee or towne.
Vrbicus, a, um, of the citee, that dwelleth in the citee or towne.
Vrbina, x, f. g. a certaine weapon.
Vrbinum, a towne in Umbria, the people wherof be called Vrbincates.
Vrbo, aut, are, to cast a mere with a ploughe.
Vrbs, vrbis, f. gen. a walled towne, also a citee, sometime it is taken for Ciuitas, the multitude of ciuizins.
Vrce, a towne of Spayne, called now Aquila.
Vrceolaris, an herbe, whiche is called peltopie of the wall.
Vrceolus, li, m. g. a little water pytcher.
Vrceus, ei, m. g. a pytcher pot, wherin water is caried.
Vredo, inis, f. g. the fault in corne of trees, whan they be blasted. it signifyeth also an pyche and burnyng in the skynne.
Vrens, entis, om. g. burnyng.
Vreteres, vrines in the body, by the whiche the vrine descendeth to the bladder.
Vrgens, entis, om. g. forcyng, streingnyng, cal-lyng earnestly vpon.
Vrgeo, vris, vrigere, to prouoke, to hast forth, to streigne, to enforce, to presse, to call earnestly on, to be streit or earnest vpon one. sometime to rouer, to oppresse, to bere, to infect, to molest.
Angustis vrgeri, to be in a narrow streit, to be hard streigned.

Fame

V ANTE R.

Fame ferroq; vrgeri, to be pressed of soye great
ued. ff.
Quanto maiore vrgeat vides, with how great forow of heauynesse I am molested or greued, you see.
Literis vrgeri, to be earnestly called vpon in letters.
Somnus vrgebat, I of he had muche a dooe to forbeare sleape.
Circiter horas duas graui praelio vrgerunt, about two houres they fought verye eagerly, or pressed vpon their enemies verye soye.
Vrgent tamen & nihil remittunt, and yet they be earnest vpon men. ff.
Illud vrgeam, I maie be earnest vpon you in this point to answer me.
Ius Crassus, equitatem Antonius vrgebat,
Crassus alleged earnestly the rigour of the lawe,
Antonius equitee.
Quin tu vrges istam occasionem? whye doe
you not pursue this present occasion?
Proposui vrgeri, to continue and go forth warde in his purpose.
Male administranda prouincia vrgebatur, he was earnestly accused or called vpon, for misgo-uernyng of the prouince: of the misguidyng of the prouince was earnestly layed to his charge.
De xditione tua Cyrum vrgeri non cesso, to sollicite or call earnestly vpon.
Vri, orum, wylde beastes lyke oxen, called buz-gles, or buffes.
Vrica, x, f. g. an hurt that cometh to come by blastyng.
Vriculum, li, any thyng that is holow.
Vrigo, ginis, idem quod Vredo.
Vrina, x, f. g. vrine or pyss.
Vrina genialis, the seede of man or beaste.
Mouere vrinam, to prouoke vrine.
Ciere & concitare vrinam, to make one to pyss.
Vrinam tardare & citare, contrary.
Facere or reddere vrinam, to make water.
Vrinare difficultas, paine in pyssyng.
Vrinator, oris, m. g. one that diueth of swym-meth vnder the water.
Vrinatrix, tricis, a birde, called a douker, or disdapper.
Vrino, aui, are, to make water.
Vrino, aui, are, and Vrinor, aris, ari, to dyue of swymme vnder the water.
Vrinum ouum, an egge, that proueth not vnder an henne or other vyde.
Vrion, or Vrium, ri, a certayne kynde of earth.
Vrion, aui, are, to burne soye or vehemently.
Vrium, a citee of Spayne.
Vrina, x, f. g. a measure of thynges liquide, conteynynge xliiii. Sextarios. And it is the halfe deale of Amphora, and is of our measure two gallons. and one pottell. it is also the generall name of a water pytcher or pottle. also a pottle, wherinto the Dractoz put the names of iudges, whan they shoulde be chosen.

V ANTE S.

Vrnalis, le, belonging to a pytcher or pottle, of that conteyneth the measure called Vrina.
Vrnarium, n, n. g. a bourde in a kitchen, wheron water pottes be sette.
Vrnula, x, f. g. a little water pytcher or pottle.
Vro, vris, ere, to burne, to tourment or bere.
Vrere, is also to byte as froste doeth the grasse.
Vro hominem, I haue geuen hym a cosse, I nettle hym or byte hym by the stomache. I bere
hym.
Vrolanium, a towne in Englande, called sainte Aibans.
Vropigium, or Oripigium, gii, neu. gene. the lowestest and narrowest part of the chynne, next to the fundament, the rumpe.
Vror, cris, vri, to be burned.
Vri, to burne in loue.
Vri virgis, to be beaten or scourged.
Vri viridis, m. g. an instrument belonging to householdrie.
Vriscum, i, n. g. the lowest parte of the eare of some, next to the straw.
Vrifa, x, two fygures of sterres, the one called Vrifa maior, and the other Vrifa minor.
Vrifa Bania, the citee of Disenes.
Vrifa, x, f. g. a she beate.
Vriferus, a, um, of a beate.
Vrifulus, or Vriscellus, li, m. gen. a little of ponge beate.
Vriferus, i, m. g. a male beate.
Vrtica, x, f. gen. a nettle. also the tickling of les-cherp, also a fylthe, whiche, as Paulus Iouius wytteth, is of the quantitee of a walnut, and the licuering of hum, is betwene a shell and an hard skynne, and is somewhat redde, and the fylthe of hym is harde. Aristotile de paribus anima-lium, lib. 4. saith, Vrtica hath no shell, but is cleane out of a shell, and is of that sort of fyre whiche be of an vncertaine nature, betwene plant and a liuyng creature.

V, ANTE S.

V Sia, for Essentia, or Substantia.
Vtio, onis, f. g. idem, quod vsus.
Vsiare, after the accustomed facion, as they be commonly.
Vsiatio, onis, an vsage.
Vsiator, aris, ari, to vse often.
Vsiatus, a, um, muche accustomed, muche used.
Vsiata consuetudo, the common custome, the accustomed facion.
Honos vsitatus, a dignitee or honoz accustomed by gotten.
Tempus vsitatum ad aliquid faciendum, the accustomed tyme for any thyng to be doen in.
Vsitatum est, it is a common custome, it is of ten tymes used.
Vsiatum, in any place, to some place, any where,
also in any thyng.
Num me expertus vsipiam? dydest thou cure
EEcc proue

Veni, for Quam ob rem, why?
 Vt Dicarcho visum est, after the opinion of Dicarchus.
 Orationem salutarem vt in tali tempore habuit, in respect of that time.
 Vnde, how so euer.
 Vt erat, howe so euer the matter was.
 Vt, as will as.
 Vt vales? R. Vt Queo, howe farest thou & I, as well as I maie.
 Vt, beholde how.
 Vt sapie summa ingenia in occulto latent, bez holde howe that oftentimes mozte excellent wittes doe lye hyd in a corner.
 Vt, admitte it, or set the case, or put the case.
 Legem illam appellare fas non est, & vt sit lex non debemus illam Hinc legem putare, it is not conuenient that we call it a lawe, and admit that it be a lawe: we shulde not yet suppose it to be diuine lawe.
 Et enim vt circumspiciamus omnia, quae populo grata atq; iucunda sunt, nihil tam popolare, quam pacem, quam concordiam, quam otium reperiemus, for although we consider and viewe all thynges, or be it that we consider all thynges that bee plesant and delectable to the people: we shall nothyng fynde, that they so muche desyre, as peace, as concord, as vacation from labour.
 Vt est dementia, see the mans folly, such is his madnesse.
 Vt istum dii, deary omnes perdant, I beseeche god and all halowes, sende hym a mischysse.
 Vt, for postquam.
 Nam vt illos de republica libros edidisti, nihil ate postea accepimus, for after that, or sence yest forth your booke of the weale publike, I neuer after receiued any thyng from you.
 Vt in limine audir, for ita vt, or itaquam &c. he was as well heard, as if he had been within.
 Vt, so that.
 Olent, falsa sunt, tangere vt non velis, they be so false & strynges, that thou wouldest be loth to touche them.
 Vt, so that.
 Operam vt det, so that he doe his endeuour, or so that he wyl hearken to me.
 Vt ad paucos redeam, to make a shorte tale.
 Vt ne ddam, to be shorte.
 Vt cumq; in what manner or fashion so euer, how so euer, accordyng as, euen as, so so, after a softe, meretly so.
 Sed nostrum est intelligere, vt cumq; & vbi cumq; opus est obsequi, but it is our parte to knowe in what facion, and where so euer we shall geue our attendance.
 Vt cumq; erit, how so euer it shall happen.
 Vt cumq; est ventus exin velum voritur, accordyng as the wynde is, &c.
 Vt cumque, for aliquantum, or aliquo modo, somewhat.

Vtensilis, le, necessary to be used, any thyng that is for our vse or occupying.
 Vter, tris, m. g. a bottle.
 Vter, teri, or Vterus, ri, m. g. a wombe or bray.
 Vterum gerere, to be great with chylde.
 Vtero grauis, great with chylde.
 Vter, tra, trum, whiche of the two, whether?
 Vter alteri dixerit nescio, whiche of the two tolde it to the other, I can not tell.
 Vter viri insidias fecerit, whiche of the two laid waite for the other.
 Vterculus, or Vtriculus, m. g. a littell wombe.
 Vtercumq; whether of the two ye wyl.
 Vterlibet, whiche ye wyl of the two.
 Vtriam, whiche of the two.
 Vterque, traque, umque, bothe, bothe the one & the other.
 Vterque vtrique est cordi, they lyke well the one the other, eche loueth other.
 Vterque alterum verberauit, the one beate the other, eache dtd beate other.
 Vterque vtrique est exercitus in conspectu, eache armie might see other.
 Hoc beneficio vterque ab vtriusque deuincimur, by the god helpe of this thyng, ye be bounde eche to other.
 Vtrinys, a, um, bozne of the same mother or darum.
 Vtrius, whiche of them thou wilt.
 Vtrius, i, looke Vter, teri: vtrius, is sometyne taken for Fortus.
 Vt, for Vt, that, to the ende.
 Vtica, a citee in Africke, where Cato did lye hym selfe, and therfore was afterwarde called Cato Vticensis.
 Vtilis, le, for Vtilis, profitable.
 Vtilitas, aris, for Vtilitas, profite.
 Vtilis, le, profitable, conuenient, good, expedient, necessarie.
 Neutro pede satis vtilis, that hath neuter a good foote.
 Bis vtilis arbor pomis, a tree that bringeth fruite twyse in a yere.
 Vtilis laboribus, apte to labour.
 Vtilis ad bellum, able to dooe good seruice for warre.
 Vtilitas, aris, f. g. profite, vtilitee.
 Fructum vtilitatis alicui asserre, to bynge one great profite.
 Habere vtilitatem, to be profiteable.
 Seruire vtilitati alicuius, to haue regarde of respect to ones profite.
 Omittre suas vtilitates, not to regarde his owne profite.
 Vtiliter, profiteably.
 Vtiliam, wolde to god.
 Vtilium, a towne in Italie.
 Vtique, lyke as, verily.
 Vtor, teris, ti, to vse, to be connectant of familiar with othe, to occupie, to take profite of.
 Vtere vt vis mea opera, take my seruice at your pour commandement.

 Da mihi operam amabo. M. Tua est, vtere atque impera si quid vis, a good felowshippe lende me thy helpe. It is ready for the, haue here, commaunde what thou wilt.
 Nihil te vtor, I will haue nothyng to doe with the.
 Vtor, hath sometyne an accusatiue case.
 Cetera quae volumus vti, other thynges that we wyl vse.
 Trebonio vtor valde familiariter, I vse Trebonius, as my veray familiar frende, or I haue greatte familiaritee of acquaintance with Trebonius.
 Vti aliquo plurimum, to vse ones helpe, or seruice very muche, to bee very familiar with one.
 Placuit vti vtor, they be pacified or qualified to wardes me, or we be agreed.
 Vti aliquid contra te, to vse a thing to his owne hurts.
 Qui image amico vtuntur gnato, whom my son doeth loue more, or whiche hath my sonn more fauourable of louyng.
 Benignus vti aliquibus, to fynde men courtly and lyberall to hym.
 Vti eodem vti consilio, that they folowyn the same counsaile.
 Defensore aliquo vti, to haue one his defender or helper.
 Vix equo propter aetatem poterat vti, he was so olde that he coulde scant ryde.
 Quam me vis vtor a quo, how indifferente or reasonable a person you shall haue me.
 Horis suis vti, to spende his conuenient tyme in doyn a thyng.
 Hortatione vti, to exhorte.
 Tuo iudicio vtere, folowe your owne iudges ment. Libera itate modice vti, to vse a meane in liberalitee, not to geue to lyberally.
 Vti necessitate, to doe that necessitee forceth or contreyneth.
 Potestate vti ad quæstum, to abuse his auctoritee or power, to his owne profite.
 Simulati one tuncis vti, to make semblaunt as though he went vis waie.
 Hoc solano vtor, this thyng doeth comforte me, or I haue this comforte.
 Vti aliqua arbor carboni, to vse a tree to make coles of.
 Duplici spe vtor, I haue two strynges to my bow, I haue two waies, wherby I hope to bynge my matter to passe.
 Ad speciem vti re aliqua, to haue or vse a thyng onely for a shewe.
 Voce vti, to speake.
 Ad furia vti aliquo, to vse ones helpe or seruice in robbery or stealing.
 Vento vti dicuntur naues, to haue a prosperous wynde.
 Vti familiariter amicitia alicuius, to vse one as his frende familiarly.

Vti, sometyne signifieth to haue.
 Et te vti iniquiore, & meus me ordo irridet at, bothe I shall haue the warre toward me, and my compaigne maie mocke me.
 Mihi si vti quum filius erit, ille facili me vtiur patre, if euer I haue a sonne, he shall haue me a gentil father: or I wyl bee a very gentle and gracious father to hym.
 Vti amore, to loue.
 Vti amicitia, to fauour or be in amitie.
 Amore vti subreptio, to loue pryuy.
 Vti eadem disciplina, to be of the same leaenyn.
 Vti oculis, to see perfectly or well.
 Maris causa hercle hoc ego oculo vtor mihi me, In god sepe the sea maketh that I see not well with this eye, or I see not a wyte with this eye.
 Vti officio, to doe the office or parte.
 Vti valetudine firma, to be in health.
 Vti valetudine minus commoda, to be sicke.
 Vti foro, to take the market as it cometh, a prouerbe applied to them, whiche can take the state of euery tyme and chaunce, as it cometh. also it maie signifie, to applye hym selfe to the facions and condicions present.
 Vti pote, because as, for so muche as.
 Romanus auxit animum & turbavit vultus vtiote capta vrbe cui adferendam open veniant, and no meruaile: or, and not without a cause, sence of conspyenge, that the citee was taken &c.
 Vti puta, for quemadmodum, as.
 Vtiarius, ri, m. g. he that fetcheth water in bouges, a water laggere.
 Vtiularius, ri, m. ge. he that ppyeth in a bagge ppye.
 Vniculus, li, m. ge. the place in a woman, wher in the chylde lieth. also the huske or hull of all seedes.
 Vtriusque, on the one parte and the other, of the one and the other, on bothe sydes.
 Vtro, towards whiche parte.
 Vtrobique, in the one place and the other, on the one syde and the other, on bothe partes.
 Vtrouque, to the one place and the other, to bothe places.
 Vtrouque versum, towards bothe partes, both towards the one parte and the other.
 Vtrum, whether.
 Vtriusque a vestra, an nostra culpa est: is that your fault or ours?
 Vtr, how so euer it be, in what facion so euer.
 Hæc adeo mea culpa fateor fieri, non me hanc rem pati, vtur erat gesta indicasse, I confesse all this happened by my default, that I ther was doore.
 EEcc iij

Vva, uæ, f. g. a grape. Sometime an other beary: sometime a vyne. It is also that, whiche is in the rouse of a mans mouthe, which sometime will smell, and is called Vuula. It is also a swarme of bees, hangng rounde.

Vua passia, a great reysen.

Vuesco, uescere, to wake moyste, or be moyste.

Vucus, a, um, of a grape.

Vucus succus, wyne.

Vuidus, a, um, moiste, wette.

Vulcanalia, orum, n. g. plu. feastes dedicate to Vulcan.

Vulcanus, Jupiters smith. also it is taken for fyre.

Vulcanius, a, um, of Vulcane.

Vulga, gæ, f. g. a sharpe or sachel. sometime a womans bealy.

Vulgaris, re, commune, muche vsed, vulgar, belonging to the common people, base.

Vulgar est, it is a commune thyng.

Vulgares artes, handy craftes.

Commendatio non vulgaris, no small praise or commendacion.

Sermo vulgaris, the common speche.

Viam vulgarem ingredi, to dooe as he was commonly wont to doe.

Singularia sint an vulgaria, whether they be rare or common.

Forma vulgaris, a beaultie that is not excellent.

Vulgariter, commonly, vulgarly.

Vulgatus, a, um, commonly known or vsed, published abroad.

Vulgatus cibus, common meate, that is basely vsed.

Vulgata verba, common wordes vsed of euery man.

Vulgatio fama est, the moze common sayng or bynde is.

Vulgator, oris, m. g. he that publisheth or telleth thynges abroad.

Vulgiuagus, a, um, idem quod plebeius.

Vulgo, abroad, amonge all men, commonly, in heapes or companies, in euery parte.

Vulgo conceptus, whose father is not certayne.

Vulgo dicitur, or dici solet, it is a commune sayng, or it is commonly spoken.

Vulgo audieram, I hearde it commonly spoken of euery man.

Vulgo loquuntur, the commune bynde of sayng is.

Vulgo homines illud requirunt, the moste parte of men demaunde that.

Vt homines vulgo impune occiderentur, that men shuld be hyde commonly befoze the face of the worlde, and yet no punishmente done on the murderers.

Vulgo, aui, arc, to publishe, to manifeste, to make commune, to set abroad, to noyse, to bynde.

Famam vulgare, to spreade a rumour or bynde.

Morbos vulgare, to make diseases common as monge the people.

Librum vulgare, to publishe or set forth a booke.

Vulgare corpus suum dicitur meretrix, to abandon hit selfe to euery man.

Vestra voce vulgatum est, it was published by you.

Vulgi, m. g. or n. g. the common people.

In vulgi probari, to be allowed and approued of the commons.

Commendatio in vulgi, the praise of the common people.

Gratum in vulgi, acceptable to the common people.

Vulgi seruorum, the common sorte of seruantes.

Celebratum in vulgi, muche spoken of among the common people.

In vulgi emanare, to come to the knowledge of the people, and be talked of abroad.

Ego tribuo nonnulli in vulgi, I dooe often tymes bende my will to the mindes of the common people.

Vulnerarius, rij, m. g. a surgeon.

Vulnerarius, a, um, belonging to woundes.

Vulneratio, onis, a woundng, a hurtng.

Vulnero, aui, arc, to wounde, to hurte.

Vulnerare aliquem voce, to speake spitefully agaynst one, to hurte one with his wordes.

Vulnificus, a, um, that woundeth or maketh woundes.

Vulnus, neris, n. g. a wounde: sometime greke, displeasure.

Accipere vulnus, to be hurte.

Imponere vulnus, to hurte or wounde.

Sanare vulnus iniuria, to heale the wounde of a wrong doone.

Onustus vulneribus, haunge as many woundes as one can geare awaie with all.

Saucius vulneribus, wounded in diuers places.

Vulneribus confectus, slayne.

Confodere aliquem vulneribus, to geare one in and geare hym many woundes.

Integrare vulnera, to reneue sores of greke.

Vulpes, pis, f. g. a foxe.

Vulpecula, æ, f. g. a cubbe or a ponge foxe.

Vulpinor, aris, ari, to be wply, to plate the foxe or ragnarde, to deceiue with crafty lies and deccites.

Vulpinus, a, um, of or belonging to a foxe. also craftie, wily, subtile.

Vulsella, læ, f. g. a pynners or any lyke instrument.

Vulsini, a towne in Tuscane destroyed with lightng.

Vulsinensis, se, of Vulsini.

Vulsinus, a ruuer in Italie.

Vulsinienses, people dwellng about the ruuer of Vulsinus.

Vulsura, ræ, f. g. a pullng, a pluckng.

Vul-

Vallus, a, um, plucked or pulled.

Vulculus, li, m. g. a pteape countinaunce, a litle tell disage.

Vultorii, certayne dice.

Vultuosus, a, um, heauy, sorowfull of countenance.

Vultuose, disdeignefully, heauyly, with frowngng countenance, with gesture agreable vnto the matter.

Vultur, turis, Vulturis, ris, and vulturis, rij, m. g. a byrde, of whom Aristotle saith, there be of scried of any. Aristotle saith, there be of other two byndes, the one litle and geare, the other greater and moze barbable. Plinie saith, the blacke be of mozte estimation: no man mare come to theyr neckes, for they be made in the mozte highte rockes: they haue not passenge carapn, yet wply they not feede on a deade birde.

I suppose it to be the great bynde of Raupns, wherof is moze numbre seen in this realme, the in any other countrey.

Vultur, a byll of Apulia.

Vulturinus, a, um, of a Vultur.

Vulturinus homo, id est, rapax, an extorcioner.

Vulturum, a towne in Campania.

Vulturus, the north east wynde.

Vulva, Aurrectus vsed for the plurall numbre of Vultus.

Vultus, of olde wyters is taken for wply, a Volendo.

Vultus, m. g. a countinaunce or there, a loke, a visage.

Vulua, uæ, f. g. the wombe or mother of any fes mall bynde. It is also a meate vsed of the Romans, made of the bealy of a cowe, either that hath farowed, or is great with farow.

Vuula, a litle piece of fleshe in the rouse of ones mouthe, whiche sometime wellet, and geeteth one very muche.

VXama, a towne of Spayne.

Vxella, Eoekernewell in Denonshyre.

Vxellum, a citee in Englande called Westchester.

Vxor, oris, f. g. a wyfe.

Ducere vxorem, to marie a wyfe.

Missam facere vxorem, to be deuoyed from his wyfe.

Vxorcula, læ, f. g. a pteape wyfe.

Vxorius, rij, m. g. he that docteth on his wyfe: he that is vnder obedience of his wife.

Vxorius, a, um, of or belonging to a wyfe.

ANTHA, a nymphe.

Xandii, a people in Asia, whose citee beyng besieged of the capytayne of Egiptus,

they brought into the castles les their wyfes, seruantes, and gooddes, and puttyng

thervnto fire, burned all together: and afterwarde issuing out of the citee, fought vntill they wer all slayne.

Xanthenes, a certayne precious stone.

Xanhippe, the wyfe of wyse Socrates the philosopier.

Xanthippus, a capytayne of the Lacedemonians, whiche fought agaynst Lucianus the Romaine:

whiche amonge the Jewes was the moneth of Apryll.

Xanthium, an herbe, whiche beareth the litle burr.

Xantho, a nymphe.

Xanthos, a precious stone of a bygyt below colour.

Xanthus, a, um, below.

Xanthus, a ruuer of Croie, wherof if therpe byd bynke, the flese became below. It was also the name of Hector's hoise.

